(b) If the applicant is a person claiming actual or potential injury by reason of actual or contemplated importations of copies of eligible works, a statement setting forth the circumstances of such actual or potential injury;

(c) The name and principal address of any foreign person or business entity authorized or licensed to use the copyright, and a statement as to the use authorized;

(d) The foreign title of the work, if different from the U.S. title; and

(e) In the case of protection claimed under section 9(c) of the Copyright Act, by virtue of the Universal Copyright Convention, a statement setting forth the name of the author and his citizenship and domicile at the time of first publication, and a description of the work, including its title, and a statement that all copies bore the Universal Copyright Convention notice from the date of first publication.

(f) In the case of an application to record a copyright in a sound recording, a statement setting forth the name(s) of the performing artist(s), and any other identifying names appearing on the surface of reproduction of the sound recording, or on its label or container. [TD 77-201.]

§ 133.33 Documents and fee to accompany application.

(a) Documents. The application for recordation shall be accompanied by the following documents:

(1) An "additional certificate" of copyright registration issued by the U.S. Copyright Office, except for unregistered Universal Copyright Convention works as described in § 133.32(e) of this subpart. If the name of the applicant differs from the name of the copyright owner identified in the certificate, or from the name appearing in the Universal Copyright Convention notice referred to in § 133.32(e), the application shall also be accompanied by a certified copy of any assignment, exclusive license, or other document recorded in the Copyright Office showing that the applicant has acquired an ownership interest in the copyright.

(2) One thousand photographic or other likenesses reproduced on paper approximately 8″ × 10 1/2″ in size of any copyrighted work. An application shall be excepted from this requirement if it covers a work such as a book, magazine, periodical, or similar copyrighted matter readily identifiable by title and author or if it covers a sound recording. One thousand likenesses of a component part of a copyrighted work, together with the name or title, if any, by which the par depicted is identifiable, may accompany an application covering an entire copyrighted work. [TDs 73-174, 77-201.]

(b) Fee. Each application shall be accompanied by a fee of $190 for each copyright to be recorded. A check or money order shall be made payable to the United States Customs Service. (Sec. 501, 65 Stat. 290; 31 U.S.C. 483a) [TD 75-160.]

§ 133.34 Effective date, term, and cancellation of recordation.

(a) Effective date. Recordation of copyright and protection thereunder shall be effective on the date an application for recordation is approved, as shown on the recordation notice issued by the United States Customs Service instructing Customs officers as to the terms and conditions of import protection appropriate.

(b) Term. The recordation of a copyright shall remain in force until the ownership interest of the recordant in the copyright expires. Unless such ownership interest expires sooner, the recordation shall remain in force until the end of the initial 28-year term of copyright, or, if the recordation is renewed in accordance with § 133.37, until the end of the renewal term of the copyright.

(c) Cancellation. Recordation of a copyright with the United States Customs Service shall be canceled upon request of the recordant, or if the registration in the U.S. Copyright Office is finally canceled or revoked.

§ 133.35 Change of ownership of recorded copyright.

(a) Application. If the ownership of a recorded copyright is transferred and the owner wishes to continue the recordation with the United States Customs Service, he shall make written application to the Commissioner of Customs as follows:

(1) Comply, as appropriate, with § 133.32; and

(2) Describe any time limit on the rights of ownership transferred.

(b) Document and fee. The application shall be accompanied by:

(1) A certified copy of any assignment, exclusive license, or other document recorded in the U.S. Copyright Office showing the applicant has acquired an ownership interest in the copyright; and

(2) A fee of $80, which covers all copyrights included in the application which have been previously recorded with the United States Customs Service. A check or money order shall be made payable to the United States Customs Service. (Sec. 501, 65 Stat. 290; 31 U.S.C. 483a) [TD 75-160.]

§ 133.36 Change in name of owner of recorded copyright.

If there is a change in the name of the owner of a recorded copyright, but no transfer of ownership, written notice specifying the change shall be given to the Commissioner of Customs accompanied by the following:

(a) A certified copy of any document recorded in the U.S. Copyright Office showing the change in the name of the owner; and

(b) Payment of a fee of $80, which covers all copyrights included in the application which have been previously recorded with the United States Customs Service. A check or money order shall be made payable to the United States Customs Service. (Sec. 501, 65 Stat. 290; 31 U.S.C. 483a) [TD 75-160.]

§ 133.37 Renewal of copyright recordation.

(a) Application for renewal. To continue uninterrupted Customs protection for a recorded copyright, the copyright owner shall make written application to the Commissioner of Customs to renew Customs recordation not later than 3 months from the date of expiration of the term of the copyright. An application to renew a Customs recordation shall include the following:

(1) An "additional certificate" of the renewal registration issued by the U.S. Copyright Office showing that a claim to renewal copyright in the name of the applicant or his predecessor in interest has been registered;

(2) A statement describing any change of ownership or name of owner, in compliance with § § 133.35 and 133.36 and any change of address of the owner; and

(3) Payment of a fee of $80. A check or money order shall be made payable to the United States Customs Service. [TD 75-160.]

(b) Delayed application. Upon request made during the grace period of 3 months afforded by paragraph (a) of this section, a copyright owner whose application for renewal of recordation is unavoidably delayed may be afforded a reasonable extended period within which to comply with the requirements of paragraph (a) of this section. The request shall be in writing, addressed to the Commissioner of Customs, and shall set forth the circumstances due to which application is delayed.

(c) Untimely application. Failure of the copyright owner to submit a renewal application within the 3-month grace period afforded in accordance with paragraph (a) of this section, or within an extension of time granted in accordance with paragraph (b) of this section, shall deprive the copyright owner of the renewal process. A delinquent applicant will be required to apply anew to record the renewed copyright in accordance with the procedures and requirements of § § 133.22 and 133.33. (Sec. 42, 60 Stat. 440, sec. 501, 65 Stat. 290; 15 U.S.C. 1124, 31 U.S.C. 483a)

Subpart E—Importations Violating Copyright Laws

§ 133.41 False notice of copyright.

(a) Importation prohibited. The importation of articles bearing a false notice of copyright is prohibited. Books, periodicals, newspapers, music, moving picture films, and other articles which bear words indicating they are entitled to copyright protection in the United States, when in fact they are not so entitled, bear a false notice of copyright.

(b) Seizure and forfeiture. All articles bearing a false notice of copyright shall be seized and forfeited, except when imported in the mails. Such articles imported in the mails shall be returned to the postmaster for return to the sender as nondeliverable. (Secs. 106, 108, 61 Stat. 663, 664; 17 U.S.C. 106, 108)

(a) Definition. Piratical copies are actual copies or substantial copies of a recorded copyrighted work, produced and imported in contravention of the rights of the copyright owner.

(b) Importation prohibited. The importation of piratical copies of works copyrighted in the United States is prohibited.

(c) Seizure and forfeiture. The district director shall seize and forfeit an imported article which he determines constitutes a piratical copy of a recorded copyrighted work. The district director shall also seize and forfeit an imported article if the importer does not deny a representation that the article is a piratical copy as provided in § 133.43(a). (Secs. 106, 108, 61 Stat. 663, 664; 17 U.S.C. 106, 108)

§ 133.43 Procedure on suspicion of piratical copying.

(a) Notice to the importer. If the district director has any reason to believe that an imported article may be a piratical copy of a recorded copyrighted work, he shall withhold delivery, notify the importer of his action, and advise him that if the facts so warrant he may file a statement denying that the article is in fact a piratical copy and alleging that the detention of the article will result in a material depreciation of its value, or a loss or damage to him. The district director shall also advise the importer that in the absence of receipt within 30 days of a denial by the importer that the article constitutes a piratical copy, it shall be considered to be such a copy and shall be subject to seizure and forfeiture.

(b) Notice to copyright owner. If the importer of suspected piratical copies files a denial as provided in paragraph (a) of this section, the district director shall furnish the copyright owner a representative sample of the imported articles, together with notice that the imported articles will be released to the importer unless within 30 days from the date of the notice the copyright owner files with the district director:

(1) A written demand for the exclusion from entry of the detained imported articles; and

(2) A bond in the form and amount specified by the district director, conditioned to hold the importer or owner of such imported articles harmless from any loss or damage resulting from Customs detention in the event the Commissioner of Customs or his designee determines that the article is not a piratical copy prohibited importation under section 106 of the Copyright Act (17 U.S.C. 106).

(c) Result of action or inaction by copyright owner. After notice to the copyright owner that delivery is being withheld for imported articles suspected to be piratical copies of his recorded copyrighted work, the district director shall proceed in accordance with the applicable procedure set forth below:

(1) Demand and bond filed. If the copyright owner files a written demand for exclusion of the suspected piratical copies together with a proper bond, the district director shall promptly notify the importer and the copyright owner that, during a specified time limited to not more than 30 days, they may submit further evidence, legal briefs, or other pertinent material to substantiate the claim or denial of piratical copying. The burden of proof shall be upon the party claiming that any article is in fact a piratical copy. At the close of the period specified for submission of evidence, the district director shall forward the entire file in the case, together with a representative sample of the imported articles and his views or comments, to the Commissioner of Customs or his designee for decision of the disputed claim of piratical copying.

(2) Piracy disclaimed or unsupported. If the copyright owner disclaims that the specific imported article is a piratical copy of his recorded copyrighted work, or concedes that he possesses insufficient evidence or proofs to substantiate a claim of piracy, the district director shall release the detained shipment to the importer, and shall release any further importations of the same article, by whomever imported, without further notice to the copyright owner.

(3) Failure to file demand or bond. If the copyright owner fails to file a written demand for exclusion and bond as required by paragraph (b) of this section, the district director shall release the detained articles to the importer, and notify the copyright owner of the release. The district director shall withhold delivery of all further importations of the same article by the same importer, and shall notify the copyright owner of each such subsequent shipment as provided in paragraph (b) of this section.

(4) Withdrawal of bond. At any time prior to transmittal of the case to the Commissioner of Customs or his designee for decision, the copyright owner may withdraw a bond filed in accordance with paragraph (b) of this section. Prior to returning the bond to the copyright owner and release of the detained articles, the district director shall require the copyright owner and the importer to file written statements agreeing to hold the United States Customs Service and the district director harmless for any consequence or return of the bond and release of the detained articles. After the withdrawal of a bond, the district director shall release importations of the same article by the same importer without further notice to the copyright owner.

(a) Claim of piracy sustained. Upon determination by the Commissioner of Customs or his designee that the detained article forwarded in accordance with § 133.43(c)(1) is a piratical copy, the district director shall seize and forfeit the imported articles in accordance with Part 162 of this chapter, and shall return the bond to the copyright owner.

(b) Denial of piracy sustained. Upon determination by the Commissioner of Customs or his designee that the detained article forwarded in accordance with § 133.43(c)(1) is not a piratical copy, the district director shall release all such detained merchandise and transmit the copyright owner's bond to the importer. (Secs. 106, 108, 61 Stat. 663, 664; 17 U.S.C. 106, 108)

§ 133.45 U.S. manufacturing requirements for books and periodicals.

(a) Importation prohibited. Books and periodicals manufactured abroad contrary to the terms of the "American manufacturing clause" of the Copyright Act (17 U.S.C. 16) which requires manufacture in the United States may not be imported during the existence of the U.S. copyright unless:

(1) The importation is permitted under one of the limited exceptions in 17 U.S.C. 107;

(2) The importation is entitled to U.S. copyright protection under the provisions of 17 U.S.C. 9(c) by virtue of the Universal Copyright Convention (see paragraph (c) of this section); or

(3) The importation is permitted by an ad interim copyright (see paragraph (b) of this section).

(b) Release under ad interim copyright. Upon compliance with the usual Customs requirements, the district director may release up to 1,500 copies of a book or periodical covered by an ad interim copyright when imported pursuant to the quantitative exception in 17 U.S.C. 16 if:

(1) There is presented with the entry an "Import Statement" issued by the Register of Copyrights authorizing the importation of a number of copies not in excess of 1,500 copies; and

(2) The copies are otherwise admissible.

(c) Release under Universal Copyright Convention—(1) Determination of eligibility. The district director shall release books under the Universal Copyright Convention without an "Import Statement" and in unlimited quantities upon a determination that either:

(i) The book was first published in a Convention country other than the United States, and the author was not a citizen or domiciliary of the United States at the time of first publication; or

(ii) The book was first published abroad, and at the time of first publication, the author was a citizen of a Convention country other than the United States and was not domiciled in the United States.

(2) Information required. Prior to releasing the books, the district director shall require the importer to supply the following information in writing:

(i) The country in which the book was first published;

(ii) The country of which the author was not a citizen at the time of first publication; and

(iii) Whether the author was domiciled in the United States at the time of first publication. (Secs. 9, 16, 107, 61 Stat. 655, as amended, 657, as amended, 663; 17 U.S.C. 9, 16, 107)

§ 133.46 Demand for redelivery of released articles.

If it is determined that articles which have been released from Customs custody are subject to the prohibitions or restrictions of this subpart, the district director at the port of entry shall promptly make demand for redelivery of the articles under the terms of the entry bond in accordance with § 141.113 of this chapter. If the articles are not redelivered to Customs custody, a claim for liquidated damages shall be made in accordance with § 141.113(g) of this chapter. [TDs 73-175, 74-227.]

Subpart F—Procedure Following Forfeiture or Assessment of Liquidated Damages

§ 133.51 Relief from forfeiture or liquidated damages.

(a) Petition for relief. The importer may petition in accordance with Parts 171 and 172 of this chapter for relief from, or cancellation of, a forfeiture incurred for violation of the trademark or copyright laws, or a claim for liquidated damages for failure to redeliver released merchandise incurred under the provisions of § 133.24 or § 133.46.

(b) Conditioned relief. In appropriate cases, except for articles bearing a counterfeit trademark, relief from a forfeiture may be granted pursuant to a petition for relief upon the following conditions and such other conditions as may be specified by the appropriate Customs authority: [TD 79-159.]

(1) The unlawfully imported or prohibited articles are exported or destroyed under Customs supervision and at no expense to the Government;

(2) All offending trademarks or trade names are removed or obliterated prior to release of the articles:

(3) In the case of books or periodicals manufactured abroad contrary to the terms of the "American manufacturing clause" of the Copyright Act (17 U.S.C. 16):

(i) Satisfactory evidence is submitted that a statement of abandonment has been filed and recorded in the Copyright Office by the copyright owner in accordance with the procedures of the Copyright Office; and

(ii) The notice of copyright is completely obliterated prior to release of the books or periodicals.

§ 133.52 Disposition of forfeited merchandise.

(a) Trademark (other than counterfeit) or trade name violations. Articles forfeited for violation of the trademark laws, other than articles bearing a counterfeit trademark, shall be disposed of in accordance with the procedures applicable to forfeitures for violation of the Customs laws, after the removal or obliteration of the name, mark, or trademark by reason of which the articles were seized.

(b) Copyright violations. Articles forfeited for violation of the copyright laws shall be destroyed.

(c) Articles bearing a counterfeit trademark. The Commissioner of Customs or his designee shall dispose of forfeited articles bearing a counterfeit trademark after obliteration of the trademark, where feasible, in the following manner:

(1) Government use. By delivery to any Federal, State, or local government agency which, in the opinion of the Commissioner or his designee, has established a need for the article.

(2) Gifts to charities. By delivery to any charitable institution which, in the opinion of the Commissioner or his designee, has established a need for the article.

(3) Sale. If more than 1 year has passed since the forfeiture, the article may be sold at public auction by the Commissioner or his designee. Prior to sale, the Commissioner or his designee shall determine that a need for the article has not been established by any eligible government organization or charitable institution under paragraph (c)(1) or (c)(2) of this section.

(4) Destruction. If the article is unsafe or a health hazard, it shall be destroyed. (Sec. 42, 60 Stat. 440, sec. 108, 61 Stat. 664, 15 U.S.C. 1124, 17 U.S.C. 108). [TD 79-159.]

§ 133.53 Refund of duty.

If a violation of the trademark or copyright laws is not discovered until after entry and deposit of estimated duty, the entry shall be endorsed with an appropriate notation and the duty refunded as an erroneous collection upon exportation or destruction of the prohibited articles in accordance with § 158.41 or § 158.45 of this chapter. (Sec. 558(a), 46 Stat. 744, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1558(a)) [TD 73-175.]

This part sets forth regulations implementing the country of origin marking requirements and exceptions of section 304 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1304), together with certain marking provisions of the Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202). The consequences and procedures to be followed when articles are not legally marked are set forth in this part. The consequences and procedures to be followed when articles are falsely marked are set forth in § 11.13 of this chapter. Special marking and labeling requirements are covered elsewhere. [TDs 72-262, 81-290.]

Subpart A—General Provisions

§ 134.1 Definitions.

When used in this part, the following terms shall have the meaning indicated:

(a) Country. "Country" means the political entity known as a nation. Colonies, possessions, or protectorates outside the boundaries of the mother country are considered separate countries.

(b) Country of origin. "Country of origin" means the country of manufacture, production, or growth of any article of foreign origin entering the United States. Further work or material added to an article in another country must effect a substantial transformation in order to render such other country the "country of origin" within the meaning of this part.

(c) Foreign origin. "Foreign origin" refers to a country of origin other than the United States, as defined in paragraph (e) of this section, or its possessions and territories.

(d) Ultimate purchaser. The "ultimate purchaser" is generally the last person in the United States who will receive the article in the form in which it was imported. It is not feasible to state who will be the "ultimate purchaser" in every circumstance. The following examples may be helpful:

(1) If an imported article will be used in manufacture, the manufacturer may be the "ultimate purchaser" if he subjects the imported article to a process which results in a substantial transformation of the article, even though the process may not result in a new or different article.

(2) If the manufacturing process is merely a minor one which leaves the identity of the imported article intact, the consumer or user of the article, who obtains the article after the processing, will be regarded as the "ultimate purchaser."

(3) If an article is to be sold at retail in its imported form, the purchaser at retail is the "ultimate purchaser."

(4) If the imported article is distributed as a gift the recipient is the "ultimate purchaser."

(e) United States. "United States" includes all territories and possessions of the United States, except the Virgin Islands, American Samoa, Wake Island, Midway Islands, Kingman Reef, Johnston Island, and the island of Guam.

(f) Customs territory of the United States. "Customs territory of the United States," as used in this chapter includes the States, the District of Columbia, and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.

Articles not marked as required by this part shall be subject to additional duties of 10 percent of the final appraised value unless exported or destroyed under Customs supervision prior to liquidation of the entry, as provided in paragraph (c) of section 304, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1304(c)). The 10 percent additional duty is assessable for failure either to mark the article (or container) to indicate the English name of the country of origin of the article or to include words or symbols required to prevent deception or mistake.

§ 134.3 Delivery withheld until marked and redelivery order.

(a) Any imported article (or its container) held in Customs custody for inspection, examination or appraisement shall not be delivered until marked with its country of origin, or until estimated duties payable under 19 U.S.C. 1304(c), or adequate security for those duties (see § 134.53(a)(2)), are deposited.

(b) The district director may demand redelivery to Customs custody of any article (or its container) previously released which is found to be not marked legally with its country of origin for the purpose of requiring the article (or its container) to be properly marked, a demand for redelivery shall be made, as required under § 141.113(a) of this chapter, not later than 30 days after—

(1) The date of entry, in the case of merchandise examined in public stores and places of arrival, such as docks, wharfs, or piers; or

(1) The date of examination, in the case of merchandise examined at the importer's premises or such other appropriate places as determined by the district director.

(c) Nothing in this part shall be construed as excepting any article (or its container) from the particular requirements of marking provided for in any other provision of law. [TD 80-88.]

§ 134.4 Penalties for removal, defacement, or alteration of marking.

Any intentional removal, defacement, destruction or alteration of a marking of the country of origin required by section 304, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1304), and this part in order to conceal this information may result in criminal penalties of up to $5,000 and/or imprisonment for 1 year, as provided in section 304(e), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1304(e)).

Unless excepted by law, section 304, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1304), requires that every article of foreign origin (or its container) imported into the United States shall be marked in a conspicuous place as legibly, indelibly, and permanently as the nature of the article (or container) will permit, in such manner as to indicate to an ultimate purchaser in the United States the English name of the country of origin of the article, at the time of importation into the Customs territory of the United States. Containers of articles excepted from marking shall be marked with the name of the country of origin of the article unless the container is also excepted from marking.

Articles of foreign origin imported into any possession of the United States outside its Customs territory and reshipped to the United States are subject to all marking requirements applicable to like articles of foreign origin imported directly from a foreign country to the United States.

§ 134.13 Imported articles repacked or manipulated.

(a) Marking requirement. An article within the provisions of this section shall be marked with the name of the country of origin at the time the article is withdrawn for consumption unless the article and its container are exempted from marking under provisions of Subpart D of this part at the time of importation.

(b) Applicability. The provisions of this section are applicable to the following articles:

(1) Articles repacked in a bonded warehouse under § 19.8 of this chapter;

(2) Articles manipulated under section 562, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1562), and § 19.11 of this chapter;

(3) Articles manipulated, but not manufactured, in a foreign-trade zone under § 146.32 of this chapter.

§ 134.14 Articles usually combined.

(a) Articles combined before delivery to purchaser. When an imported article is of a kind which is usually combined with another article after importation but before delivery to an ultimate purchaser and the name indicating the country of origin of the article appears in a place on the article so that the name will be visible after such combining, the marking shall include, in addition to the name of the country of origin, words or symbols which shall clearly show that the origin indicated is that of the imported article only and not that of any other article with which the imported article may be combined after importation.

(b) Example. Labels and similar articles so marked that the name of the country of origin of the label or article is visible after it is affixed to another article in this country shall be marked with additional descriptive words such as "Label made (or printed) in (name of country)" or words of similar meaning. See Subpart C of this part for marking of bottles, drums, or other containers.

(c) Applicability. This section shall not apply to articles of a kind which are ordinarily so substantially changed in the United States that the articles in their changed condition become products of the United States. An article excepted from marking under Subpart D of this part is not within the scope of section 304(a)(2), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1304(a)(2)), and is not subject to the requirements of this section.

Subpart C—Marking of Containers or Holders

This subpart includes only country of origin marking requirements and exceptions under section 304(b), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1304(b)), for containers or holders. Special marking may be required by the Internal Revenue Service on alcoholic beverage bottles and other requirements may be imposed by reason of the nature of the contents by other Government agencies.

§ 134.22 General rules for marking of containers or holders.

(a) Contents excepted from marking. When an article is excepted from the marking requirements by Subpart D of this part, the outermost container or holder in which the article ordinarily reaches the ultimate purchaser shall be marked to indicate the country of origin of the article whether or not the article is marked to indicate its country of origin.

(b) Containers or holders treated as imported articles. Containers or holders for imported merchandise subject to treatment as imported articles within the purview of general headnote 6, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), shall be marked to indicate clearly the country of their own origin in addition to any marking which may be required to show the country of origin of their contents.

(c) Containers or holders bearing a U.S. address. Containers or holders of imported merchandise bearing the name and address of an importer, distributor, or other person or company in the United States shall be marked in close proximity to the U.S. address to indicate clearly the country of origin of the contents with a marking such as "Contents made in France" or "Contents Product of Spain."

(d) Exceptions. Containers or holders of imported articles are not required to be marked if:

(1) Excepted articles. They are containers or holders of articles within the exceptions set forth in paragraph (f), (g), or (h) in § 134.32.

(2) Excepted containers or holders. The container or holder itself is within an exception set forth in Subpart D of this part.

(3) To be filled by the importer. The container or holder is within the exception set forth in § 134.24(c).

§ 134.23 Containers or holders designed for or capable of reuse.

(a) Usual and ordinary reusable containers or holders. Containers or holders designed for or capable of reuse after the contents have been consumed, whether imported full or empty, must be individually marked to indicate the country of their own origin with a marking such as, "Container Made in (name of country)." Examples of the containers or holders contemplated are heavy duty steel drums, tanks, and other similar shipping, storage, transportation containers or holders capable of reuse. These containers or holders are subject to the treatment specified in headnote 6(b)(ii), Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202).

(b) Other reusable containers or holders. Containers or holders within the purview of headnote 6(b)(iii), Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), must be individually marked to clearly indicate their own origin with a marking such as, "Container made in (name of country)." Examples of the containers contemplated are mustard jars reusable as beer mugs; shaving soap containers reusable as shaving mugs; fancy cologne bottles reusable as flower vases, and other containers which have a lasting value or decorative use.

(a) Containers ordinarily discarded after use. Disposable containers or holders subject to the provisions of this section are the usual ordinary types of containers or holders, including cans, bottles, paper or polyethylene bags, paperboard boxes, and similar containers or holders which are ordinarily discarded after the contents have been consumed.

(b) Imported empty. Disposable containers or holders imported for distribution or sale are subject to treatment as imported articles in accordance with general headnote 6(a), Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), and shall be marked to indicate clearly the country of their own origin. However, when the containers are packed and sold in multiple units (dozens, gross, etc.), this requirement ordinarily may be met by marking the outermost container which reaches the ultimate purchaser.

(c) Imported to be filled—(1) If unmarked. When disposable containers or holders are imported by persons or firms who fill or package them with various products which they sell, these persons or firms are the "ultimate purchasers" of these containers or holders and they may be excepted from individual marking pursuant to 19 U.S.C. 1304(a)(3)(D). The outside wrappings or packages containing the containers shall be clearly marked to indicate the country of origin.

(2) If marked. If the disposable containers or holders are marked with the country of origin at the time of importation and the marking will be visible after they are filled, the marking shall clearly indicate that the container only and not the contents were made in the named country. For example, bottles, drums, or other containers imported empty, to be filled in the United States, shall be marked with such words as "Bottle (or container) made in (name of country)."

(d) Imported full—(1) When contents are excepted from marking. Usual disposable containers in use as such at the time of importation shall not be required to be marked to show the country of their own origin, but shall be marked to indicate the origin of their contents regardless of the fact that the contents are excepted from marking requirements.

(2) Sealed containers or holders. Disposable containers or holders of imported merchandise, which are sold without normally being opened by the ultimate purchaser (e.g., individually wrapped soap bars or tennis balls in a vacuum sealed can), shall be marked to indicate the country of origin of their contents.

(3) Unsealed containers. Unsealed disposable containers of imported merchandise normally unopened by the ultimate purchaser, may be excepted from marking if the article is so marked that the country of origin is clearly visible without unpacking the container. However, if the container is normally opened by the ultimate purchaser prior to purchase, only the article need be marked.

Subpart D—Exceptions to Marking Requirements

§ 134.31 Requirements of other agencies.

Nothing in this subpart shall be construed as excepting any article (or its container) from the particular requirements of marking provided for in any other provision of any law, such as those of the Federal Trade Commission, Food and Drug Administration, and other agencies.

§ 134.32 General exceptions to marking requirements.

The articles described or meeting the specified conditions set forth below are excepted from marking requirements (see Subpart C of this part for marking of the containers):

(a) Articles that are incapable of being marked;

(b) Articles that cannot be marked prior to shipment to the United States without injury;

(c) Articles that cannot be marked prior to shipment to the United States except at an expense economically prohibitive of its importation;

(d) Articles for which the marking of the containers will reasonably indicate the origin of the articles; [TD 74-122.]

(e) Articles which are crude substances;

(f) Articles imported for use by the importer and not intended for sale in their imported or any other form;

(g) Articles to be processed in the United States by the importer or for his account otherwise than for the purpose of concealing the origin of such articles and in such manner that any mark contemplated by this part would necessarily be obliterated, destroyed, or permanently concealed;

(h) Articles for which the ultimate purchaser must necessarily know the country of origin by reason of the circumstances of their importation or by reason of the character of the articles even though they are not marked to indicate their origin;

(i) Articles which were produced more than 20 years prior to their importation into the United States;

(j) Articles entered or withdrawn from warehouse for immediate exportation or for transportation and exportation;

(k) Products of American fisheries which are free of duty;

(l) Products of possessions of the United States;

(m) Products of the United States exported and returned;

(n) Articles exempt from duty under § § 10.151 through 10.153, 145.31 or 145.32 of this chapter; and [TDs 73-135, 73-175.]

(o) Articles which cannot be marked after importation except at an expense that would be economically prohibitive unless the importer, producer, seller, or shipper failed to mark the articles before importation to avoid meeting the requirements of the law.

Articles of a class or kind listed below are excepted from the requirements of country of origin marking in accordance with the provisions of section 304(a)(3)(J), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1304(a)(3)(J)). However, in the case of any article described in this list which is imported in a container, the outermost container in which the article ordinarily reaches the ultimate purchaser is required to be marked to indicate the origin of its contents in accordance with the requirements of Subpart C of this part. All articles are listed in Treasury Decisions 49690, 49835, and 49896. A reference different from the foregoing indicates an amendment.

(a) Exception for repacked articles. An exception under § 134.32(d) may be authorized in the discretion of the district director for imported articles which are to be repacked after release from Customs custody under the following conditions:

(1) The containers in which the articles are repacked will indicate the origin of the articles to an ultimate purchaser in the United States.

(2) The importer arranges for supervision of the marking of the containers by Customs officers at the importer's expense or secures such verification, as may be necessary, by certification and the submission of a sample or otherwise, of the marking prior to the liquidation of the entry.

(b) Liquidation of entries. The liquidation of such entries may be deferred for a period of not more than 60 days from the date that a request for repacking is granted. Extensions of the 60-day deferral period may be granted by the district director in his discretion upon written application by the importer.

An article used in the United States in manufacture which results in an article having a name, character, or use differing from that of the imported article, will be within the principle of the decision in the case of United States v. Gibson-Thomsen Co., Inc., 27 C.C.P.A. 267 (C.A.D. 98). Under this principle, the manufacturer or processor in the United States who converts or combines the imported article into the different article will be considered the "ultimate purchaser" of the imported article within the contemplation of section 304(a), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1304(a)), and the article shall be excepted from marking. The outermost containers of the imported articles shall be marked in accord with this part.

(a) Processed articles capable of marking. An article which is to be processed in the United States by the importer or for his account shall not be considered to be within the specifications of section 304(a)(3)(G), of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1304(a)(3)(G)), if there is a reasonable method of marking which will not be obliterated, destroyed, or permanently concealed by such processing.

(b) Articles or container bearing misleading markings. An exception from marking shall not apply to any article or retail container bearing any words, letters, names, or symbols described in § 134.46 or 134.47 which imply that an article was made or produced in a country other than the actual country of origin.

(a) Suggested methods of marking. Section 304 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1304), requires that the marking of the country of origin be legible, indelible, and permanent. Definite methods of marking are prescribed only for articles provided for in § 134.43 and for articles which are the objects of special rulings by the Commissioner of Customs. As a general rule, marking requirements are best met by marking worked into the article at the time of manufacture. For example, it is suggested that the country of origin on metal articles be die sunk, molded in or etched; on earthenware or chinaware be glazed on in the process of firing; and on paper articles be imprinted.

(b) Degree of permanence and visibility. The degree of permanence should be at least sufficient to insure that in any reasonably foreseeable circumstance, the marking shall remain on the article (or its container) until it reaches the ultimate purchaser unless it is deliberately removed. The marking must survive normal distribution and store handling. The ultimate purchaser in the United States must be able to find the marking easily and read it without strain.

§ 134.42 Specific method may be required.

Marking merchandise by specific methods, such as die stamping, cast-in-the-mold lettering, etching, or engraving, or cloth labels may be required by the Commissioner of Customs in accordance with section 304(a), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1304(a)). Notices of such rulings shall be published in the Federal Register and the Customs Bulletin. [TD 74-38.]

§ 134.43 Methods of marking specific articles.

(b) Watch, clock, and timing apparatus. The country of origin marking requirements on watches, clocks, and timing apparatus are intensive and require special methods. (See § 11.9 of this chapter and schedule 7, part 2, subpart E, headnotes 4 and 5 of the Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202)).

§ 134.44 Location and other acceptable methods of marking.

(a) Other acceptable methods. Except for articles classifiable under an item specified in § 134.43 of this part or the subject of a ruling by the Commissioner of Customs, any method of marking at any location insuring that country of origin will conspicuously appear on the article shall be acceptable. Such marking must be legible and sufficiently permanent so that it will remain on the article (or its container when the container and not the article is required to be marked) until it reaches the ultimate purchaser unless deliberately removed.

(b) Articles marked with paper sticker labels. If paper sticker or pressure sensitive labels are used, they must be affixed in a conspicuous place and so securely that unless deliberately removed they will remain on the article while it is in storage or on display and until it is delivered to the ultimate purchaser.

(c) Articles marked with tags. When tags are used, they must be attached in a conspicuous place and in a manner which assures that unless deliberately removed they will remain on the article until it reaches the ultimate purchaser.

§ 134.45 Approved markings of country name.

(a) English language. The markings required by this part shall include the English name of the country of origin, unless other marking to indicate the English name of the country of origin is specifically authorized by the Commissioner of Customs. Notice of acceptable markings other than the English name of the country of origin shall be published in the Federal Register and the Customs Bulletin.

(b) Abbreviations and variant spellings. Abbreviations which unmistakably indicate the name of a country, such as "Gt. Britain" for "Great Britain" or "Luxemb" and "Luxembg" for "Luxembourg" are acceptable. Variant spellings which clearly indicate the English name of the country of origin, such as "Brasil" for "Brazil" and "Italie" for "Italy," are acceptable. [TD 74-42.]

Cross Reference: For a ruling on an acceptable variable spelling of "Denmark", see T.D. 74-42, 39 FR 2471, Jan. 22, 1974.

(c) Adjectival form. The adjectival form of the name of a country shall be accepted as a proper indication of the name of the country of origin of imported merchandise provided the adjectival form of the name does not appear with other words so as to refer to a kind or species of product. For example, such terms as "English walnuts" or "Brazil nuts" are unacceptable.

(d) Colonies, possessions, or protectorates. The name of a colony, possession, or protectorate outside the boundaries of the mother country shall usually be considered acceptable marking. When the Commissioner of Customs finds that the name is not sufficiently well known to insure that the ultimate purchasers will be fully informed of the country of origin, or where the name appearing alone may cause confusion, deception, or mistake, clarifying words shall be required. In such cases, the Commissioner of Customs shall specify in decisions published in the Federal Register and the Customs Bulletin the additional wording to be used in conjunction with the name of the colony, possession, or protectorate. [TD 74-208.]

Cross Reference: For a ruling on products imported from the French islands of Amsterdam, St. Paul and Kerguelen, see T.D. 74-208, 39 FR 27648, July 31, 1974.

§ 134.46 Marking when name of country or locality other than country of origin appears.

In any case in which the words "United States," or "American," the letters "U.S.A.," any variation of such words or letters, or the name of any city or locality in the United States, or the name of any foreign country or locality other than the country or locality in which the article was manufactured or produced, appear on an imported article or its container, there shall appear, legibly and permanently, in close proximity to such words, letters or name, and in at least a comparable size, the name of the country of origin preceded by "Made in," "Product of," or other words of similar meaning.

When as part of a trademark or trade name or as part of a souvenir marking, the name of a location in the United States or "United States" or "America" appear, the article shall be legibly, conspicuously, and permanently marked to indicate the name of the country of origin of the article preceded by "Made in," "Product of," or other similar words, in close proximity or in some other conspicuous location.

Subpart F—Articles Found Not Legally Marked

§ 134.51 Procedure when importation found not legally marked.

(a) Notice to mark or redeliver. When articles or containers are found upon examination not to be legally marked, the district director shall notify the importer on Customs Form 4647 to arrange with the district director's office to properly mark the article or containers, or to return all released articles to Customs custody for marking, exportation, or destruction.

(b) Identification of articles. When an imported article which is not legally marked is to be exported, destroyed, or marked under Customs supervision, the identity of the imported article shall be established to the satisfaction of the district director.

(c) Supervision. Verification of marking, exportation, or destruction of articles found not to be legally marked shall be at the expense of the importer and shall be performed under Customs supervision unless the district director accepts a certificate of marking as provided for in § 134.52 in lieu of marking under Customs supervision.

(a) Applicability. District directors may accept certificates of marking supported by samples of articles required to be marked, for which Customs Form 4647 was issued, from importers or from actual owners complying with the provision of § 141.20 of this chapter, to certify that marking of the country of origin on imported articles as required by this part has been accomplished. [TD 73-175.]

(b) Filing of certificates of marking. The certificates of marking shall be filed in duplicate with the district director, and a sample of the marked merchandise shall accompany the certificate. The district director may waive the production of the marked sample when he is satisfied that the submission of such sample is impracticable.

(c) Notice of acceptance. The district director shall notify the importer or actual owner when the certificate of marking is accepted. Such notice of acceptance may be granted on the duplicate copy of the certificate of marking by use of a stamped notation of acceptance. The district director is authorized to spot check the marking of articles on which a certificate has been filed. If a spot check is performed, the approved copy of the certificate, if approval is granted, shall be returned to the importer or actual owner after the spot check is completed.

(d) Filing of false certificate of marking. If a false certificate of marking is filed with the district director indicating that goods have been properly marked when in fact they have not been so marked, a seizure shall be made or claim for forfeiture value reported under section 592, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1592). In addition, in cases involving, willful deceit, a criminal case report may be made charging a violation of section 1001, title 18, United States Code, which provides for a fine up to $10,000 and/or imprisonment up to 5 years for anyone who willfully conceals a material fact or uses any document knowing the same to contain any false or fraudulent statement in connection with any matter within the jurisdiction of an agency of the United States.

(e) Authority to require physical supervision when deemed necessary. The district director may require physical supervision of marking as specified in § 134.51(c) in those cases in which he determines that such action is necessary to insure compliance with this part. In such cases the expenses of the Customs officer shall be reimbursed to the Government as provided for in § 134.55.

§ 134.53 Examination packages.

(a) Site of marking—(1) Customs custody. Articles (or containers) in examination packages may be marked by the importer at the place where they have been discharged from the importing or bonded carrier or in the public stores.

(2) Importer's premises or elsewhere. If it is impracticable to mark the articles (or containers) in examination packages as provided in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, the merchandise may be turned over to the importer after the amount of duty, estimated to be payable under 19 U.S.C. 1304(c) has been deposited to insure compliance with the marking requirements and the payment of any additional expense which will be incurred on account of Customs supervision. (See § 134.55.) The district director may at his discretion accept the entry bond as security for the requirements of 19 U.S.C. 1304 (c) and (d).

(b) Failure to export, destroy, or properly mark merchandise in examination packages. If the articles (or containers) in examination packages are not exported, destroyed, or properly marked by the importer within a reasonable time (not more than 30 days), they shall be sent to general-order stores for disposition in accordance with Part 127 of this chapter, unless covered by a warehouse entry. If covered by a warehouse entry, they shall be sent to the warehouse containing the rest of the shipment for marking prior to withdrawal. [TD 78-99]

(a) Demand for liquidated damages. If within 30 days from the date of the notice of redelivery, or such additional period as the district director may allow for good cause shown, the importer does not properly mark or redeliver the merchandise previously released to him, the district director shall demand payment of liquidated damages incurred under the bond in an amount equal to the entered value of the articles not properly marked or redelivered, plus any estimated duty thereon determined at the time of entry. [TD 79-159.]

(b) Failure to petition for relief. A written petition addressed to the Commissioner of Customs for relief from the payment of liquidated damages may be filed with the district director in accord with Part 172 of this chapter. If a petition for relief from the payment of liquidated damages is not filed or payment of the liquidated damages is not made within a period of 60 days after the demand for payment, or if the liquidated damages are not paid within 60 days after the denial of the petition for relief, the district director shall in accord with Part 172 of this chapter report the matter to the U.S. attorney for collection.

(c) Relief from full liquidated damages. Any relief from the payment of the full liquidated damages incurred will be contingent upon the deposit of the marking duty required by section 304(c) of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1304(c)), and the satisfaction of the district director that the importer was not guilty of negligence or bad faith in permitting the illegally marked articles to be distributed, has been diligent in attempting to secure compliance with the marking requirements, and has attempted by all reasonable means to effect redelivery of the merchandise.

(a) Time for which compensation is charged. The time for which compensation is charged shall include all periods devoted to supervision and all periods during which Customs officers or employees are away from their regular posts of duty by reason of such assignment and for which compensation to such officers and employees is provided for by law.

(b) Applicability—(1) Official hours. The compensation of Customs officers and employees assigned to supervise the exportation, destruction, or marking of articles so as to exempt them from the application of marking duties shall be computed in accordance with § 19.5(b) of this chapter when such supervision is performed during a regularly scheduled tour of duty.

(2) Overtime. When such supervision is performed by a Customs officer or employee in an overtime status, the compensation with respect to the overtime shall be computed in accordance with § 24.16 of this chapter.

(c) Expenses included. In formulating charges for expenses pertaining to supervision of exportation, destruction, or marking, there shall be included all expenses of transportation, per diem allowance in lieu of subsistence, and all other expenses incurred by reason of such supervision from the time the Customs officer leaves his official station until he returns thereto.

(d) Services rendered for more than one importer. If the importations of more than one importer are concurrently supervised, the service rendered for each importer shall be regarded as a separate assignment, but the total amount of the compensation, and any expenses properly applicable to more than one importer, shall be equitably apportioned among the importers concerned.

This part sets forth general requirements and procedures for the entry of imported merchandise, except entries under carnet, and entries for transportation in bond or exportation, for foreign-trade zones, or for trade fairs, which are covered in Parts 114, 18, 146, and 147 of this chapter. More specific requirements and procedures in addition to those in this part are set forth in Parts 143, 144, and 145 of this chapter for consumption, appraisement and informal entries, for warehouse entries, and for mail entries. [TD 73-175.]

Unless the context requires otherwise or a different definition is prescribed, the following terms shall have the meanings indicated when used in connection with the entry of merchandise:

(a) Entry.—"Entry" means that documentation required by section 142.3 of this chapter to be filed with the appropriate Customs officer to secure the release of imported merchandise from Customs custody, or the act of filing that documentation.

(b) Entry Summary.—"Entry summary" means any other documentation necessary to enable Customs to assess duties, and collect statistics on imported merchandise, and determine whether other requirements of law or regulation are met.

(c) Submission.—"Submission" means the voluntary delivery to the appropriate Customs officer of the entry summary documentation for preliminary review or of entry documentation for other purposes.

(d) Filing.—"Filing" means:

(1) The delivery to Customs of the entry documentation required by section 484(a), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1484(a)), to obtain the release of merchandise, or

(2) The delivery to Customs, together with the deposit of estimated duties, of the entry summary documentation required to assess duties, collect statistics, and determine whether other requirements of law and regulation are met, or

(3) The delivery to Customs, together with the deposit of estimated duties, of the entry summary documentation which shall serve as both the entry and the entry summary.

(e) Presentation. "Presentation" is used only in connection with quota-class merchandise and is defined in § 132.1(d) of this chapter.

(f) Entered for consumption.—"Entered for consumption" means that an entry summary for consumption has been filed with Customs in proper form, with estimated duties attached.

(g) Entered for warehouse.—"Entered for warehouse" means that an entry summary for warehouse has been filed with Customs in proper form.

(h) Entered under a temporary importation bond.—"Entered under a temporary importation bond" means that an entry summary supporting a temporary importation under bond has been filed with Customs in proper form.

Subpart A—Liability for Duties and Requirement To Enter Merchandise

§ 141.1 Liability of importer for duties.

(a) Time duties accrue. Duties and the liability for their payment accrue upon imported merchandise on arrival of the importing vessel within a Customs port with the intent then and there to unlade, or at the time of arrival within the Customs territory of the United States if the merchandise arrives otherwise than by vessel, unless otherwise specially provided for by law.

(b) Personal debt of importer. The liability for duties, both regular and additional, attaching on importation constitutes a personal debt due from the importer to the United States which can be discharged only by payment in full of all duties legally accruing, unless relieved by law or regulation. It may be enforced notwithstanding the fact that an erroneous construction of law or regulation may have enabled the importer to pass his goods through the customhouse without such payment.

(c) Prior claim against importer's estate. The Government's claim for unpaid duties against the estate of a deceased or insolvent importer has priority over obligations to creditors other than the United States.

(d) Lien against merchandise. The liability for duties also constitutes a lien upon the merchandise imported which may be enforced while such merchandise is in the custody or subject to the control of the United States.

(e) States and their instrumentalities. Neither the States nor their instrumentalities are entitled to any constitutional exemption from the payment of Customs duties.

(f) Unordered merchandise. There shall be no liability for the payment of duties on the part of anyone to whom merchandise is consigned without his authority, if he refuses it. Such merchandise shall be treated as unclaimed (see Part 20 of this chapter). (R.S. 3466, 3467, as amended; 31 U.S.C. 191, 192)

§ 141.2 Liability for duties on reimportation.

Dutiable merchandise imported and afterwards exported, even though duty thereon may have been paid on the first importation, is liable to duty on every subsequent importation into the Customs territory of the United States, but this does not apply to the following:

(a) Personal and household effects taken abroad by a resident of the United States and brought back on his return to this country (see § 148.31 of this chapter);

(b) Professional books, implements, instruments, and tools of trade, occupation, or employment taken abroad by an individual and brought back on his return to this country (see § 148.53 of this chapter);

(c) Automobiles and other vehicles taken abroad for noncommercial use (see § 148.32 of this chapter);

(d) Metal boxes, casks, barrels, carboys, bags, quicksilver flasks or bottles, metal drums, or other substantial outer containers exported from the United States empty and returned as usual containers or coverings of merchandise, or exported filled with products of the United States and returned empty or as the usual containers or coverings of merchandise (see § 10.7(b), (c), (d), and (e) of this chapter);

(e) Articles exported from the United States for repairs or alterations, which may be returned upon the payment of duty on the value of repairs or alterations at the rate or rates which would otherwise apply to the articles in their repaired or altered conditions (see § 10.8 of this chapter);

(f) Articles exported for exhibition under certain conditions (see § § 10.66 and 10.67 of this chapter);

(g) Domestic animals taken abroad for temporary pasturage purposes and returned within 8 months (see § 10.74 of this chapter);

(h) Articles exported under lease to a foreign manufacturer (see § 10.108 of this chapter); or

(i) Any other reimported articles for which free entry is specifically provided.

§ 141.3 Liability for duties includes liability for taxes.

The importer's liability for duties includes a liability for any internal revenue taxes which attach upon the importation of merchandise, unless otherwise provided by law or regulation.

§ 141.4 Entry required.

Entry, as required by section 484(a), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1484(a)), shall be made of every importation, whether free or dutiable and regardless of value, except for:

(a) The intangibles listed in general headnote 5, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202); and

(b) Articles specifically exempted by law or regulations from the requirement for entry. (Sec. 498, 46 Stat. 728, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1498)

§ 141.5 Time limit for entry.

Merchandise for which entry is required shall be entered by the consignee within 5 working days after the entry of the importing vessel or aircraft or report of the vehicle, or after the arrival at the port of destination in the case of merchandise transported in bond, unless a longer time is authorized by law or regulation, or by the district director in writing. Merchandise for which timely entry is not made shall be treated in accordance with § 4.37 and Part 127 of this chapter. (R.S. 251, as amended, sec. 624, 46 Stat. 759 (19 U.S.C. 66, 1624)) [TD 77-12.]

Subpart B—Right To Make Entry and Declarations on Entry

§ 141.11 Evidence of right to make entry for importations by common carrier.

(a) Merchandise not released directly to carrier. Except where merchandise is released directly to the carrier in accordance with paragraph (b) of this section, one of the following types of evidence of the right to make entry shall be filed in connection with the entry of merchandise imported by common carrier:

(1) A bill of lading or air waybill, presented by the holder thereof, properly endorsed when endorsement is required under the law. A nonnegotiable bill of lading, or air waybill, may not be endorsed by the named consignee to give someone else the right to make entry. If the person making entry intends to use the original bill of lading or air waybill to obtain a duplicate bill of lading, duplicate air waybill, or carrier's certificate from the carrier, the exchange shall be made before the entry is filed, and the duplicate bill of lading, duplicate air waybill, or carrier's certificate shall be used to make entry in accordance with subparagraph (3) or (4) of this paragraph. For purposes of this part, the rights of the consignor relating to an air waybill as prescribed by the Warsaw Convention (49 Stat. 3017) shall be protected. [TD 78-394]

(2) An extract from a bill of lading or air waybill certified to be genuine by the carrier bringing the merchandise to the port of entry. District directors shall not certify extracts from bills of lading or air waybills. [TD 78-394]

(3) A certified duplicate bill of lading or air waybill, with the carrier's certificate being in substantially the following form:

Duplicate Bill Of Lading or Air Waybill Certificate

———————, 19—

The undersigned carrier, bringing the within-described merchandise to this port, hereby certifies that this signed copy of the bill of lading or air waybill is genuine and may be used for the purpose of making Customs entry as provided for in section 484(i), Tariff Act of 1930. [TD 78-394]

(Agent)

(4) A carrier's certificate, which may be executed on the official entry form, on Customs Form 7529, or, in appropriate cases, by means of a rubber-stamped or typewritten combined carrier's certificate and release order with one signature on a copy of the bill of lading, airway bill, shipping receipt, or other comparable document. The rubber-stamped or typewritten certificate shall be in substantially the following form, which may be varied to include any of the qualifications on release shown in § 141.111(d):

Date ———————

The undersigned carrier, to whom or upon whose order the articles described herein or in the attached document must be released, hereby certifies that the consignee named in this document is the owner or consignee of such articles within the purview of section 484(h), Tariff Act of 1930. In accordance with the provisions of section 484(j), Tariff Act of 1930, authority is hereby given to release the articles covered by the aforementioned statement to such consignee.

(Agent)

(5) A blanket carrier's certificate on an appropriately modified Customs Form 7529, covering any or all shipments which will arrive at the port on the carrier's conveyance during the period specified in the certificate.

(6) A shipping receipt or other document presented in lieu of a bill of lading or air waybill shall be accepted as authority for making entry only if it bears a carrier's certificate in accordance with subparagraph (4) of this paragraph, or if entry is made by the actual consignee in person or in his name by a duly authorized agent. [TD 78-394]

(b) Merchandise released directly to carrier. Where, in accordance with subsection (j) of section 484, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1484), merchandise is released from Customs custody (either under immediate delivery procedures in accordance with the provisions of Part 142 of this chapter, or after an entry has been made and estimated duties deposited, where appropriate), to the carrier by whom the merchandise was brought to the port, the delivery of the merchandise by the carrier to the person making entry and depositing the estimated duties shall be deemed to be the certification required by subsection (h), section 484, Tariff Act of 1930. Customs responsibility under this optional entry procedure is limited to the collection of duties, and constitutes no representation whatsoever regarding the right of any person to obtain possession of the merchandise from the carrier. Consequently, no Customs official shall be liable to any person in respect to the delivery of merchandise released from Customs custody in accordance with the provisions of this paragraph. (Sec. 484, 46 Stat. 722, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1484)

§ 141.12 Right to make entry of importations by other than common carrier.

When merchandise is not imported by a common carrier, possession of the merchandise at the time of arrival in the United States shall be deemed sufficient evidence of the right to make entry.

§ 141.13 Right to make entry of abandoned or salvaged merchandise.

Underwriters of abandoned merchandise or salvors of merchandise saved from a wreck who are unable to produce a bill of lading, air waybill, certified duplicate bill of lading or air waybill, or carrier's certificate, shall produce evidence satisfactory to the district director of their right to act. [TD 78-394]

§ 141.14 Deceased or insolvent consignees and court-appointed administrators.

The executor or administrator of the estate of a deceased consignee, the receiver or other legal representative of an insolvent consignee, or the representative appointed in any action or proceeding at law to act for a consignee shall not be permitted to make entry unless he produces a duly endorsed bill of lading or air waybill, a carrier's certificate, or a duplicate bill of lading or air waybill, executed in accordance with subsections (h) or (i) of section 484, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1484), showing him to be the consignee for Customs purposes. [TD 78-394]

§ 141.15 Bond for production of bill of lading or air waybill.

(a) When appropriate. If the person desiring to make entry is unable to present a bill of lading, air waybill, or other evidence of right to make entry in accordance with § 141.11, the district director may accept a bond for the production of a bill of lading or air waybill under the provisions of section 484(c), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1484(c)). The bond shall be for the production of a bill of lading or air waybill, unless the person making entry intends to produce a carrier's certificate or certified duplicate bill of lading or air waybill. In that case, no bond is required because section 484(c) does not apply to entries made on a carrier's certificate or certified duplicate bill of lading or air waybill. If the district director is in doubt as to the propriety of accepting entry on a bond for the production of a bill of lading or air waybill, he shall request authority to do so from the Commissioner of Customs. [TD 78-394]

(b) Form. The bond shall be on Customs Form 7581 and shall run in favor of the district director personally and as district director.

(c) Documents acceptable to satisfy bond. A bond given for the production of a bill of lading or air waybill shall be considered as canceled upon production of a bill of lading or air waybill, and may be considered as satisfied but shall not be canceled upon the production of a carrier's certificate or certified duplicate bill of lading or air waybill. [78-394]

§ 141.16 Disposition of documents.

(a) Bill of lading or air waybill. When the return of the bill of lading or air waybill to the person making entry is requested in accordance with section 484(j), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1484(j)), the district director shall obtain a receipt showing sufficient data from the bill of lading or air waybill to completely identify it and enable the auditor to verify the production of proper evidence of the right to make entry. The receipt shall also show any freight charges and weights that appear on the bill of lading or air waybill. The district director shall then return the bill of lading or air waybill to the person making entry with a notation thereon to the effect that entry has been made for the merchandise. [TD 78-394]

(b) Other documents. When any of the other documents specified in § § 141.11(a) (2) through (6) is used in making entry, it shall be retained by the district director as evidence that the person making entry is authorized to do so.

§ 141.17 Entry by nonresident consignee.

A nonresident consignee has the right to make entry, but any bond taken in connection with the entry shall have a resident corporate surety or, when a carnet issued under Part 114 of this chapter is used as an entry form, an approved resident guaranteeing association.

§ 141.18 Entry by nonresident corporation.

A nonresident corporation (i.e., one which is not incorporated within the Customs territory of the United States or in the Virgin Islands of the United States) shall not enter merchandise for consumption unless it:

(a) Has a resident agent in the State where the port of entry is located who is authorized to accept service of process against such corporation; and

(b) Files a bond having a resident corporate surety to secure the payment of any increased and additional duties which may be found due.

§ 141.19 Declaration of entry.

(a) Declaration by consignee. The consignee in whose name an entry is made under the provisions of section 484, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1484), shall execute the declaration specified in section 485(a), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1485(a)) on:

(1) The entry summary for merchandise entered for consumption, for warehouse, or for temporary importation under bond, or

(2) The rewarehouse or the bonded manufacturing warehouse entry.

The declaration need not be under oath. * * *

(b) Declaration by agent of consignee—(1) Authorized agent with knowledge of the facts.—When entry is made in a consignee's name by an agent who has knowledge of the facts and who is authorized under a proper power of attorney by that consignee to make declarations in accordance with section 485(f), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1485(f)), a declaration on the entry or entry summary executed by that agent is sufficient and no bond to produce a declaration of the consignee is required.

(2) Other agents.—When entry is made in a consignee's name by an agent who does not meet the qualifications in paragraph (b)(1) of this section either:

(i) A declaration of the consignee on Customs form 3347-A shall be filed with the entry documentation or entry summary or

(ii) A charge for the production of the declaration shall be made against the entry bond. [TD 79-221.]

(3) Nominal consignee. A nominal consignee who makes entry in his own name is not considered an agent within the purview of section 485(c), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1485(c)), and he shall execute a declaration in accordance with paragraph (a) of this section.

(c) Books, newspapers, and periodicals. In the case of successive importations of books, magazines, newspapers, and periodicals within the scope of section 485(b), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1485(b)), one declaration filed at the time of arrival of the first importation will be sufficient. (Secs. 485, 486, 46 Stat. 724, as amended, 725, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1485, 1486)

(a) Filing—(1) Declaration of owner.—A consignee in whose name an entry summary for consumption, warehouse, or temporary importation under bond is filed, or in whose name a rewarehouse entry or a manufacturing warehouse entry is made, and who desires, under the provisions of section 485(d), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1485(d)), to be relieved from statutory liability for the payment of increased and additional duties shall declare at the time of the filing of the entry summary or entry documentation, as provided in section 141.19(a), that he is not the actual owner of the merchandise, furnish the name and address of the owner, and file with the district director within 90 days from the time of entry (see sec. 141.68) a declaration of the actual owner of the merchandise acknowledging that the actual owner will pay all additional and increased duties. The declaration of owner shall be filed on Customs form 3347. [TDs 74-212, 79-221.]

(2) Bond of actual owner.—If the consignee desires to be relieved from contractual liability for the payment of increased and additional duties voluntarily assumed by him under the single-entry bond which he filed in connection with the entry documentation and/or entry summary, or under his term bond against which the entry and/or entry summary is charged, he shall file a bond of the actual owner on Customs form 7601 with the district director within 90 days from the time of entry. [TDs 74-212, 79-221.]

(b) Appropriate party to execute and file. Neither the declaration of the actual owner nor the bond of the actual owner shall be accepted unless executed by the actual owner or his duly authorized agent, and filed by the nominal consignee or his duly authorized agent. [TD 74-212.]

(c) Nonresident actual owner. If the actual owner is a nonresident, the actual owner's declaration shall not be accepted as compliance with section 485(d), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1485(d)), unless there is filed therewith the owner's bond on Customs Form 7551 or 7553, with a resident corporate surety thereon, in lieu of a bond on Customs Form 7601.

(d) Filing of declaration of owner for purposes other than relief from liability. Nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent the nominal consignee from filing the actual owner's declaration without the superseding bond for purposes other than relief from statutory liability for the payment of increased and additional duties under the provisions of section 485(d), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1485(d)). (Secs. 485, 623, 46 Stat. 724, as amended, 759, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1485, 1623) [TD 74-212.]

§ 141.31 General requirements and definitions.

(a) Limited or general power of attorney. A power of attorney may be executed for the transaction by an agent or attorney of a specified part or all the Customs business of the principal.

(b) Sealed instruments. If a power of attorney is for the execution of sealed instruments, it shall be under seal.

(c) Minor agents. A power of attorney to a minor shall not be accepted.

(d) Definitions of resident and nonresident. For the purposes of this subpart, "resident" means an individual who resides within, or a partnership one or more of whose partners reside within, the Customs territory of the United States or the Virgin Islands of the United States, or a corporation incorporated in and jurisdiction within the Customs territory of the United States or in the Virgin Islands of the United States. A "nonresident" means an individual, partnership, or corporation not meeting the definition of "resident."

§ 141.32 Form for power of attorney.

Customs Form 5291 may be used for giving power of attorney to transact Customs business. If a Customs power of attorney is not on a Customs Form 5291, it shall be either a general power of attorney with unlimited authority or a limited power of attorney as explicit in its terms and executed in the same manner as a Customs Form 5291. The following is an example of an acceptable general power of attorney with unlimited authority:

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS, THAT

______________________________,

______________________________,
(State legal designation, such as corporation, individual, etc.) residing at ______ ______________________ and doing business under the laws of the State of ______________, hereby appoints

as a true and lawful agent and attorney of the principal named above with full power and authority to do and perform every lawful act and thing the said agent and attorney may deem requisite and necessary to be done for and on behalf of the said principal without limitation of any kind as fully as said principal could do if present and acting, and hereby ratify and confirm all that said agent and attorney shall lawfully do or cause to be done by virtue of these presents until and including ________________, (date) or until notice of revocation in writing is duly given before that date.

§ 141.33 Alternative form for noncommercial shipment.

An individual (but not a partnership, association, or corporation) who is not a regular importer may appoint another individual as his unpaid agent for Customs purposes by executing a power of attorney applicable to a single noncommercial shipment by writing, printing, or stamping on the invoice, or on a separate paper attached thereto, the following statement:

is hereby authorized to execute, as an unpaid agent who has knowledge of the facts, pursuant to the provisions of section 485(f), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, the consignee's and owner's declarations provided for in section 485 (a) and (d), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, and to enter on my behalf or for my account the goods described in the attached invoice which contains a true and complete statement of the facts concerning the shipment.

Date ________________, 19—.

§ 141.34 Duration of power of attorney.

Powers of attorney issued by a partnership shall be limited to a period not to exceed 2 years from the date of receipt thereof by the district director. All other powers of attorney may be granted for an unlimited period.

§ 141.35 Revocation of power of attorney.

Any power of attorney shall be subject to revocation at any time by written notice given to and received by the district director.

§ 141.36 Nonresident principals in general.

A power of attorney filed by a nonresident principal shall not be accepted unless the agent designated thereby is a resident and is authorized to accept service of process against such nonresident.

§ 141.37 Additional requirements for nonresident corporations.

A power of attorney executed by a nonresident corporation shall be supported by filing the following documents which, except for the certificate of incorporation, shall be certified as correct by the secretary of the corporation under its corporate seal:

(a) A certificate from the proper public officer of the country showing the legal existence of the corporation;

(b) A copy of that portion of the charter or articles of incorporation which shows the scope of the business of the corporation and the governing body thereof; and

(c) One of the following proofs of the grantor's authority to grant power of attorney for the corporation:

(1) If the authority of the grantor is derived from the charter or articles of incorporation, a copy of that portion thereof which contains such authority; or

(2) If the authority of the grantor is derived from the governing body, a copy of the bylaws or other documents which authorizes the governing body to designate others to appoint agents or attorneys, together with a copy of the resolution, minutes, or other document by which the governing body conferred the authority on the grantor.

§ 141.38 Resident corporations.

A power of attorney shall not be required if the person signing Customs documents on behalf of a resident corporation is known to the district director to be the president, vice president, treasurer, or secretary of the corporation. When a power of attorney is required for a resident corporation, it shall be executed by a person duly authorized for such purpose, and shall be supported by a certificate showing the authority of such person to execute the power of attorney. The certificate of authority shall be executed under seal by the secretary, assistant secretary, or other corporate officer, but not by the same person executing the power of attorney, and shall be in the following form: [TD 77-288.]

Certificate

I, ________________, certify that I am the ________________ of ________________, organized under the laws of the State of ________________; that ________________, who signed this power of attorney on behalf of the donor, is the ________________ of the said corporation; and that said power of attorney was duly signed, sealed, and attested for and in behalf of said corporation, by authority of its governing body as the same appears in a resolution of the Board of Directors passed at a regular meeting held on the ________ day of ________________, now in my possession or custody. I further certify that the resolution is in accordance with the articles of incorporation and bylaws of said corporation.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said corporation, at the city of ________ ________ this ________ day of ________________, 19______.

In the event that the resident corporation is a single officer corporation, where such corporations are permitted by state law, the single officer shall indicate that fact on the power of attorney, instead of completing the certificate of authority.

§ 141.39 Partnerships.

(a) General. A power of attorney granted by a partnership shall state the names of all members of the partnership. One member of a partnership may execute a power of attorney in the name of the partnership for the transaction of all its Customs business, except the execution of sealed instruments. If the power of attorney is for the execution of sealed instruments, it shall be signed and sealed by each partner.

(b) Change in partners. When a new firm is formed by a change in membership, no power of attorney filed by the antecedent firm shall thereafter be recognized for any Customs purpose.

A trustee may execute a power of attorney for the transaction of Customs business incident to the trusteeship.

§ 141.41 Surety on Customs bonds.

Powers of attorney to sign as surety on Customs bonds are subject to the requirements set forth in Part 113 of this chapter. [TD 74-227.]

§ 141.42 Protests.

Powers of attorney to file protests are subject to the requirements set forth in § 174.3 of this chapter.

§ 141.43 Delegation to subagents.

(a) Resident principals. Except as otherwise provided for in paragraph (c) of this section, the holder of a power of attorney for a resident principal cannot appoint a subagent except for the purpose of executing shippers' export declarations. A subagent so appointed cannot delegate his power.

(b) Nonresident principals. Except as otherwise provided for in paragraph (c) of this section, an agent who has power of attorney for a nonresident principal may execute a power of attorney delegating authority to a subagent only if the original power of attorney contains express authority from the principal for the appointment of a subagent or subagents. Any subagent so appointed must be a resident authorized to accept service of process in accordance with § 141.36.

(c) Customhouse brokers. A power of attorney executed in favor of a licensed customhouse broker may specify that the power of attorney is granted to the broker to act through any of its licensed officers or authorized employees as provided in Part 111 of this chapter.

§ 141.44 Designation of Customs districts in which power of attorney is valid.

Unless a power of attorney specifically authorizes the agent to act thereunder in all Customs districts, the name of each district in which the agent is authorized to act thereunder shall be stated in the power of attorney. The power of attorney shall be filed with any district director, in a sufficient number of copies for distribution to each district in which the agent is to act, unless exempted from filing by § 141.46. The district director with whom a power of attorney is filed, irrespective of whether his district is named therein, shall approve it, if it is in the correct form and the provisions of this subpart are complied with, and forward any copies intended for other districts to the appropriate districts.

When a power of attorney which is not limited to transactions in a specific Customs district has been filed and it is desired to use it in another district, the district director with whom it is filed, upon request of the district director of the other district or upon request of the person or firm which executed the power, shall forward a certified copy thereof to the district director of the second district. Any expense in connection with the preparation of such documents shall be borne by the parties in interest.

Before transacting Customs business in the name of his principal, a customhouse broker is required to obtain a valid power of attorney to do so. He is not required to file the power of attorney with a district director. Customhouse brokers shall retain powers of attorney with their books and papers, and make them available to representatives of the Department of the Treasury as provided in subpart C of Part 111 of this chapter.

Subpart D—Quantity of Merchandise To Be Included in an Entry

§ 141.51 Quantity usually required to be in one entry.

All merchandise arriving on one vessel or vehicle and consigned to one consignee shall be included in one entry, except as provided in § 141.52.

§ 141.52 Separate entries for different portions.

Separate entries may be made for different portions of all the merchandise arriving on one vessel or vehicle and consigned to one consignee under any of the following circumstances, if the district director is satisfied that there will be no prejudice to the revenue or to the efficient conduct of Customs business:

(a) Each portion of a consolidated shipment addressed to one consignee for various ultimate consignees may be entered separately under the procedure set forth in § 141.54.

(b) One or more of the enclosed packages in a packaged package may be entered separately under any appropriate form of formal or informal entry. No entry is required for an enclosed package which contains merchandise unconditionally free of duty and not exceeding $250 in value. A packed package is an outer package in which are contained inner packages addressed for delivery to two or more different persons, as described in section 484(f), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1484(f)). Each outer container shall be marked to indicate that it is a packed package.

(c) The consignee desires to enter different portions under different forms of entry, for transportation to different ports of entry, or for warehousing in separate warehouses.

(d) Appraisement is being withheld upon merchandise of the class or kind for which a separate entry is tendered.

(e) The several portions of the consignment for which separate entries are tendered are covered by separate bills of lading.

(f) The consignment consists of different classes of merchandise which are to be processed by different Customs commodity specialist teams.

(g) The consignment contains merchandise subject to entry under bonds given to assure accounting for final disposition, such as a temporary importation bond.

(h) The consignment consists of different importations which arrived under a consolidated entry for immediate transportation made pursuant to § 18.11(g) of this chapter.

(i) A special application is submitted to the Commissioner of Customs with the recommendation of the district director concerned and is approved by the Commissioner.

§ 141.53 Procedure for separate entries.

When separate entries for one consignment are made in accordance with § 141.52 (b) through (i), the following procedures shall apply:

(a) The entries shall be presented simultaneously when practicable.

(b) A separate consignee's declaration shall be filed for each entry.

(c) Each entry shall cover whole packages or not less than 1 ton of bulk merchandise, except when a portion of the merchandise is entered under a temporary importation bond in accordance with schedule 8, part 5C, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202).

(d) When separate entries are made for merchandise covered by a single bill of lading or air waybill, the provisions of § 141.54 shall be complied with, except that the endorsement on the bill of lading or air waybill required by § 141.54(b) shall read as follows: [TD 78-394]

> As portions of the within-described merchandise will be covered by separate entries, the undersigned consignee expressly waives the right granted by section 484(j), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, to have this bill of lading or air waybill returned.

§ 141.54 Separate entries for consolidated shipments.

When separate entries for consolidated shipments are made in accordance with § 141.52(a), the following procedures shall apply except where the merchandise is released directly to the carrier in accordance with § 141.11(b):

(a) Deposit of evidence of right to make entry. The nominal consignee of a consolidated shipment covering merchandise for various ultimate consignees who desire to make separate entries shall deposit with the district director evidence of the right to make entry as set forth in § 141.11(a), and such evidence shall be permanently retained by the district director.

(b) Waiver of right to have bill of lading or air waybill returned. If a bill of lading or air waybill is filed, it shall contain the following endorsement signed by the consignee named therein: [TD 78-394]

> As the within-described merchandise belongs to various ultimate consignees who desire ake separate entries therefor, the undersigned consignee thereof hereby expressly waives the right granted by section 484(j), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, to have this bill of lading or air waybill returned.

(c) Certificate by nominal consignee. Except when an authority to make entry for a portion of a consolidated shipment is executed on the entry form in the space provided, at the time of depositing the bill of lading, air waybill, or other document, the named consignee shall produce a certificate prepared and signed by him for each portion of the shipment for which separate entry is desired. The authority to make entry carried by such a certificate may be transferred by endorsement. The certificate shall be in the following form: [TD 78-394]

(d) Verification of certificate. When a certificate on a separate document as described in paragraph (c) of this section is presented, it shall be compared with the supporting document and after being initialed by the ministerial clerk shall be returned to the consignee for transmittal to the person who will make entry. When an entry is received having executed in the space provided thereon an authority to make entry for a portion of a consolidated shipment, such authority shall be compared with the supporting document.

§ 141.55 Single entry for shipments arriving under one transportation entry.

Except in the case of merchandise subject to a quantitative or tariff-rate quota, district directors are authorized to accept one entry summary for consumption or for warehouse for the entire quantity of merchandise covered by an entry for immediate transportation after the arrival of any part of the merchandise at the port of destination or at a place of deposit outside the port as may be authorized in accordance with section 18.11(c) of this chapter. [TD 79-221.]

§ 141.56 Single entry summary for multiple transportation entries consigned to the same consignee.

(a) Requirement.—District directors may accept one entry summary for consumption or for warehouse for merchandise covered by multiple entries for immediate transportation, subject to the requirements of section 142.17(a) of this chapter, provided the merchandise covered by each immediate transportation entry is released at the port of destination under a separate entry, in accordance with section 142.3 of this chapter.

(b) Limitation.—A single entry summary for multiple transportation entries shall not be accepted for any merchandise listed in section 142.17(b) of this chapter.

[1] Insert "bill of lading," "air waybill," "certified duplicate bill of lading," "certified duplicate air waybill," "carrier's certificate," or "shipping receipt."

(c) Information on the entry summary.—Each entry for immediate transportation shall be identified separately on the entry summary by the immediate transportation entry number and the corresponding entry number.

Subpart E—Presentation of Entry Papers

§ 141.61 Completion of entry and entry summary documentation

(a) Preparation.—(1) Entry and entry summary documentation shall be prepared on a typewriter, or with ink, indelible pencil, or other permanent medium. The entry summary shall be signed by the importer (see sec. 101.1(k)). Entries, entry summaries, and accompanying documentation shall be on the appropriate forms specified by the regulations and shall set forth clearly all required information. All copies shall be legible.

(2) An importer may omit from the entry summary for consumption, Customs form 7501, the warehouse entry summary, Customs form 7502, or the warehouse withdrawal for consumption, Customs form 7505 or 7519, the marks and number previously provided for packages released or withdrawn. [TD 79-221.]

(b) "Signing of the entry".—The signing of the consignee's declaration on the entry summary for merchandise entered for consumption, for warehouse, or for temporary importation under bond, in accordance with section 141.19, shall be regarded as the "signing of the entry" required by section 484(d), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1484(d)). For a rewarehouse or a bonded manufacturing warehouse entry, the signing of the consignee's declaration on the entry documentation shall satisfy 19 U.S.C. 1484(d). [TD 79-221.]

(c) [Reserved] [TDs 75-209, 79-221.]

(d) Customs form 5101.—An Entry Record, Customs form 5101, shall be prepared by the importer, in triplicate, with carbon paper left in, and shall be filed with each consumption or warehouse entry summary and with each appraisement, vessel/aircraft repair, or drawback entry. The importer number shall be reported as follows: [TDs 74-72, 79-221.]

(1) Generally.—Except as provided in paragraph (d)(2) of this section, the importer number of the importer of record and of the ultimate consignee shall be reported for each consumption or warehouse entry summary and for each appraisement, vessel/aircraft repair, or drawback entry. When the importer of record and the ultimate consignee are the same, the importer number may be entered in both spaces provided on Customs form 5101, or the importer number may be entered in the space provided for the importer and the word "same" may be entered in the space provided for the ultimate consignee.

(2) Exception.—In the case of a consolidated entry summary covering the merchandise of more than one ultimate consignee, the importer number shall be reported on Customs form 5101; and the notation "consolidated" shall be made in the space provided for the importer number of the ultimate consignee.

(3) When refunds, bills, or notices of liquidation are to be mailed to agent.—If an importer of record desires to have refunds, bills, or notices of liquidation mailed in care of his agent, the agent's importer number also shall be reported on Customs form 5101. In this case, the importer of record shall file, or shall have filed previously, a Customs form 4811 authorizing the mailing of refunds, bills, or notices of liquidation to the agent.

(e) Statistical information—(1) Information required on entry summary or withdrawal form.—(i) Where form provides space—(A) Single invoice. For each class or kind of merchandise subject to a separate statistical reporting number, the applicable information required by the General Statistical Headnotes, Tariff Schedules of the United States Annotated ("TSUSA"), shall be shown on the appraisement entry. Customs Form 7500; the entry summary, Customs Form 7501 or 7502; the transportation entry and manifest of goods, Customs Form 7512, when used to document an incoming vessel shipment proceeding to a third country by means of an entry for transportation and exportation, or immediate exportation; the rewarehouse entry, Customs Form 7519; the manufacturing warehouse entry, Customs Form 7521; the withdrawal form, Customs Form 7505 or 7506; or the record of vessel/aircraft foreign repair or equipment purchase, Customs Form 226, in the space provided.

(B) Multiple invoices. If a class or kind of merchandise from the same country of origin subject to the same statistical reporting number is included in more than one invoice, the importer may, at his option (1) list each invoice separately on the appropriate form listed under paragraph (e)(1)(i)(A) of this section and for each class or kind of merchandise within each invoice subject to a separate statistical reporting number, report the applicable information required by the General Statistical Headnotes, Tariff Schedules of the United States Annotated (TSUSA); or (2) combine the information for each class or kind of merchandise and report it under one statistical reporting number for all invoices. When consolidating information from several invoices under one reporting number, a worksheet itemizing the entered value of the merchandise from each invoice in the manner prescribed in paragraph (f)(2)(ii) of this section shall be attached to the appropriate form. [TDs 73-312, 79-221, 81-260.]

(ii) Where form does not provide space.—In addition to the information required by paragraph (e)(1)(i) of this section, statistical information for which spaces are not provided on the appropriate form, shall be shown as follows:

(A) The name, the abbreviated designation or four digit code of the country of registry (flag) of the vessel expressed in terms of annex 8, TSUSA, shall be placed in the block on the entry document for the name of the importing vessel or carrier.

(B) The notation "related" or "not related", as appropriate, shall be placed at the top of columns 3, 4, and 5 of Customs forms 7501, 7502, 7505, 7506, and 7521, and in the top right hand portion of Customs form 7519, to identify the transaction as one between a buyer and a seller who are related in any manner specified in section 402(g)(2), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1401a(g)(2)), or as one between a buyer and a seller who are not so related.

(C)(1) The transaction value, charges, and equivalent value shall be listed on Customs forms 7501, 7502, 7505, 7506, and 7521 in column 4 immediately below the TSUSA reporting number. These amounts shall be identified by placing (in the following order) PEXT (port of exportation transaction value), CHGS (aggregate cost of freight, insurance and all other charges), and EPEX (equivalent port of exportation value) in column 3 immediately below the entered value and to the left of each statistical value and charge.

(2) The transaction value, charges, and equivalent value shall be listed on Customs form 7519 in the rate column with the descriptions (PEXT, CHGS, EPEX) immediately to the left of each statistical value and charge.

(3) In the case of related parties, if the district director is satisfied that the person filing the form cannot reasonably ascertain or estimate the equivalent port of exportation value (EPEX) that would exist had the transaction occurred between parties who were not related, he may permit that person to use the entered value adjusted, if necessary, to the port of exportation value, as provided for in subparagraph (xv), general statistical headnote 1(a), TSUSA, or any other value the district director considers appropriate. However, if the transaction value between related parties is higher than the entered value, the transaction value shall be used.

(e)(2) Responsibility.—The person filing the form is responsible for providing the information required by paragraph (e)(1) of this section. If the information required by subparagraph (xiv), (xv), and (xvi) general statistical headnote 1(a), TSUSA, cannot be obtained readily, the person filing the form shall provide reasonable estimates of the required information. The acceptance of an estimate for a particular transaction does not relieve the person filing the form from obtaining the necessary information for similar future transactions. The district director may require additional documentation to substantiate the statistical information required by paragraph (e)(1) of this section. The importer shall give an appropriate bond for the production of the required documentation, as follows:

(i) Except for merchandise entered for warehouse, the documentation shall be produced within 50 days after the entry summary (or the entry, if there is no entry summary) is required to be filed.

(ii) If merchandise is entered for warehouse, the documentation shall be produced within 2 months after the date of withdrawal, except that if an invoice is part of the documentation, the invoice shall be produced within 50 days after the entry summary for warehouse is required to be filed.

The district director may grant a reasonable extension of time to produce the required documentation for good cause shown. (See sec. 141.91(d) for bond requirements relating to failure to produce an invoice.)

(3) Estimates of statistical information.—When the person filing the form estimates any of the values or charges, as provided for in subparagraph (v), general statistical headnote 1(b), TSUSA, except Canadian rail and truck charges, he shall place either "(estimate)", "(est)", or ("E") after the amount of each value or charge.

(4) Rejection of form.—The district director shall reject a form for failure to provide required statistical information if the information is omitted or if the information provided clearly appears on its face, or is known to the Customs officer, to be erroneous.

(5) Penalty procedures: when not invoked.—Penalty procedures relating to erroneous statistical information shall not be invoked against any person who in good faith attempts to comply with the statistical requirements of the General Statistical Headnotes, TSUSA. [TD 79-221.]

(f) Value of each invoice.—(1) Single invoice.—If the entry, entry summary, or withdrawal documentation, as specified in paragraph (e)(1)(i) of this section, covers a single invoice, the invoice information shall be restated to show:

(i) Gross amount of the invoice;

(ii) Deduction of the aggregate amount of any nondutiable charges involved in the amount;

(iii) Further deduction of the aggregate of any deductions from the invoice values to make entered values; and

(iv) Addition to the aggregate of any dutiable charges not included in the gross amount of the invoice and of any other additions to the invoice values to make entered values. The final amount in the summary computations shall represent the aggregate of the entered values of all the merchandise covered by the invoice. The required information shall be shown on a worksheet attached to the form or placed across columns (2a) or (2b) on Customs forms 7501 and 7502, and in the same general location on Customs forms 7505, 7506, 7519, and 7521. [TDs 75-307, 79-221.]

(2) Multiple invoices. (1) If the importer or his agent elects the first option specified in paragraph (e)(1)(i)(B) of this section, the information required to be restated by paragraph (f)(1) of this section for a single invoice shall be restated for each invoice. The required information shall be shown on a worksheet attached to the form or placed across columns (2a) or (2b) on Customs Form 7501 and 7502, and in the same general location on Customs Forms 7505, 7506, 7519, and 7521.

(ii) If the importer or his agent elects the second option specified in paragraph (e)(1)(i)(B) of this section, the information required to be restated by paragraph (f)(1) of this section for a single invoice shall be restated for each invoice. The final amount in the summary computation shall represent the aggregate of the entered values of all the merchandise on each of the multiple invoices. The required information shall be shown on an attached worksheet.

(iii)The worksheet also shall contain:

(A) A statistical reporting number restatement for the merchandise from each invoice subject to the same statistical reporting number from the same country of origin, and

(B) An aggregate total value which represents the entered value.

(iv) To permit the identification of the merchandise entered under each reporting number, each class or kind of merchandise, from one country reported under a single statistical reporting number shall be coded identically on each invoice and on the worksheet. [TD 79-221, 81-260.]

§ 141.62 Place and time of filing.

(a) Place.—An application for immediate delivery and entry, entry summary, or withdrawal documentation shall be filed at the customhouse or at any other Customs location approved by the district director in the district where the merchandise is to be or has been released. [TDs 77-241, 79-221.]

(b) Time.

(1) Normal business hours.

(i) Except as provided in paragraph (b)(2) of this section, an application for immediate delivery or entry documentation shall be filed when the customhouse is open for the general transaction of business, or when Customs has established a regular tour of duty in accordance with section 101.6(f) of this chapter.

(ii) Except as provided in paragraph (b)(2) of this section, entry summary or withdrawal documentation shall be filed when the customhouse is open for the general transaction of business, as provided in section 101.6 of this chapter.

(2) Overtime services.

(i) Generally.—Except as provided in paragraph (b)(2)(ii) of this section, an application for immediate delivery or entry documentation may be filed when the customhouse is not open for the general transaction of Customs business and no regular tour of duty has been established; and entry summary or withdrawal documentation may be filed when the customhouse is not open for the general transaction of business, if—

(A) The person desiring to transact business has applied for and received authorization for overtime services on a reimbursable basis, as provided for in § 24.16 of this chapter, and

(B) Overtime services of Customs officers are available.

(ii) Quota-class merchandise.—Overtime shall not be authorized for the presentation of entry summary documentation which serves as both the entry and entry summary or withdrawal documentation, for quota-class merchandise without headquarters authorization. If headquarters authorization is granted, the time of delivery of the entry summary or withdrawal documentation, with the estimated duties attached, shall be the time of presentation for quota purposes. However, if an entry summary or withdrawal for quota-class merchandise is delivered inadvertently during overtime hours without headquarters authorization, the time of presentation for quota purposes shall be the opening of business on the next business day. [TD 79-221.]

§ 141.63 Submission of entry summary documentation for preliminary review.

(a) Before arrival of merchandise.—Entry summary documentation may be submitted at the customhouse for preliminary review, without estimated duties attached, within such time before arrival of the merchandise as may be fixed by the district director—

(1) If the entry summary documentation will be filed at time of entry to serve as both the entry and the entry summary, as provided in section 142.3(b) of this chapter, or

(2) In the case of quota-class merchandise, if the entry summary for consumption will be presented at time of entry, as provided in section 132.11a of this chapter.

Estimated duties shall not be accepted before arrival of the merchandise within the port limits.

(b) After arrival of merchandise.—Entry summary documentation may be submitted at the customhouse for preliminary review without estimated duties attached, within such time after arrival of quota-class merchandise as may be fixed by the district director, if the entry summary for consumption will be presented at the opening of the quota period, as provided in section 132.12(a) of this chapter. Estimated duties shall not be accepted before the opening of the quota period. [TD 79-221.]

§ 141.64 Review and correction of entry and entry summary documentation.

Entry and entry summary documentation shall be reviewed before acceptance to ensure that all entry and statistical requirements are complied with and that the indicated values and rates of duty appear to be correct. If any errors are found, the entry and the entry summary documentation shall not be considered to have been filed in proper form and shall be returned to the importer for correction. [TD 79-221.]

§ 141.66 Bond for missing documents.

Unless otherwise prescribed in these regulations, an appropriate bond may be given for the production of any required document which is not available at the time of entry. (See § 141.91 for the procedure applicable to incomplete or missing invoices.) (Secs. 490, 623, 46 Stat. 726, as amended, 759, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1490, 1623)

§ 141.67 Recall of documentation.

The importer may recall the entry and entry summary documentation at any time before the effective time of entry set forth in section 141.68. The entry shall be considered canceled, and documents shall be returned to the importer. [TD 79-221.]

§ 141.68 Time of entry.

(a) When entry documentation is filed without entry summary.—When the entry documentation is filed in proper form without an entry summary, the "time of entry" shall be:

(1) The time the appropriate Customs officer authorizes the release of the merchandise or any part of the merchandise covered by the entry documentation, or

(2) The time the entry documentation is filed, if requested by the importer on the entry documentation at the time of filing, and the merchandise already has arrived within the port limits, or

(3) The time the merchandise arrives within the port limits, if the entry documentation is submitted before arrival, and if requested by the importer on the entry documentation at the time of submission.

(b) When entry summary serves as entry and entry summary.— When an entry summary serves as both the entry documentation and entry summary, in accordance with section 142.3(b) of this chapter, the time of entry shall be the time the entry summary is filed in proper form with estimated duties attached.

(c) When merchandise is released under the immediate delivery procedure.— The time of entry of merchandise released under the immediate delivery procedure shall be the time the entry summary is filed in proper form, with estimated duties attached.

(d) Quota-class merchandise.— The time of entry for quota-class merchandise shall be the time of presentation of the entry summary or withdrawal for consumption in proper form, with estimated duties attached, as provided in section 132.11a of this chapter.

(e) When merchandise has not arrived.— Merchandise shall not be authorized for release, nor shall an entry or an entry summary which serves as both the entry and entry summary be considered filed or presented, until the merchandise has arrived within the port limits with the intent to unlade.

(f) Informal mail entry.— The time of entry of merchandise under an informal mail entry, Customs form 3419 or 5110-A, is the time the preparation of the entry documentation by a Customs employee is completed.

(g) Withdrawal from warehouse for consumption.— The time of entry of merchandise withdrawn from warehouse for consumption (the process preparatory to the issuance of a permit for the release of the merchandise to or upon the order of the warehouse proprietor) is when:

(1) Customs form 7505 is executed in proper form and filed together with any related documentation required by these regulations to be filed at the time of withdrawal, and

(2) Estimated duties, if any, required to be paid at the time of withdrawal have been deposited.

Unless the requirements of this paragraph and section 315(a), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1315(a)), including the deposit of estimated duties, if any, are completed within 60 days from the date of presentation of Customs form 7505, the request for withdrawal shall be considered abandoned.

(h) Appraisement entry, informal entry, combined entry for rewarehouse and withdrawal for consumption, and entry under carnet.— The time of entry of merchandise under an appraisement entry, Customs form 7500, an informal entry, Customs form 5119-A (or other form prescribed in section 143.23 or elsewhere in the chapter for use as an informal entry), a combined entry for rewarehouse and withdrawal for consumption, Customs form 7519, or an A.T.A. carnet issued under part 114 of this chapter, shall be the time the specified form is executed in proper form and filed, together with any related documents required by these regulations, and estimated duties, if any, have been deposited. If merchandise eligible for informal entry is released under a special permit for immediate delivery and Customs form 5119-A or 7501 is filed in accordance with section 142.23 of this chapter, the time of entry shall be the time Customs form 5119-A or 7501 is filed in proper form, together with any related documents required by this chapter, and estimated duties, if any, have been deposited. However, if merchandise eligible for informal entry is released under the entry documentation set forth in section 142.3(a) of this chapter and Customs form 5119-A or 7501 is filed in accordance with section 142.23, the time of entry shall be in accordance with paragraph (a) of this section. (Sec. 315, 46 Stat. 695 as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1315) [TD 79-221.]

The rates of duty applicable to merchandise shall be the rates in effect at time of entry, as specified in section 141.68, except as otherwise specifically provided for by Executive Order, and in the following cases:

(b) Merchandise entered for immediate transportation. Merchandise which is not subject to a quantitative or tariff-rate quota and which is covered by an entry for immediate transportation made at the port of original importation, if entered for consumption at the port designated by the consignee or his agent in such transportation entry without having been taken into custody by the district director for general order under section 490, Tariff Act of 1930, as diate transportation entry was accepted amended (19 U.S.C. 1490), shall be subject to the rates in effect when the immediate transportation entry was accepted at the port of original importation.

(c) Overcarried merchandise returned to port of entry. If merchandise which has been entered for consumption, but not yet released from Customs custody, is removed from the port or place of intended release because of overcarriage, inaccessibility, strike, act of God, or unforeseen contingency, and is returned to such port or place within 90 days after removal, such merchandise shall be subject to the rates in effect at the time of the original entry, provided the merchandise is identified with the original entry by the usual Customs examination and by any documentary evidence as to its movement between its removal and return which the district director may reasonably require. A new entry shall be required, unless the original entry has not been liquidated and the consignee at the time of original importation and at the time of return is the same person. (Sec. 315, 46 Stat. 695, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1315)

§ 141.81 Invoice for each shipment.

A special Customs invoice, a special summary invoice, or a commercial invoice shall be presented for each shipment of merchandise at the time the entry summary is filed, subject to the conditions set forth in these regulations. Except in the case of installment shipments provided for in § 141.82, an invoice shall not represent more than one distinct shipment of merchandise by one consignor to one consignee by one vessel or conveyance. [TD 78-53, TD 79-221.]

§ 141.82 Invoice for installment shipments arriving within a period of 10 days.

(a) One invoice sufficient.— Installments of a shipment covered by a single order or contract and shipped from one consignor to one consignee may be included in one invoice if the installments arrive at the port of entry by any means of transportation within a period of not to exceed 10 consecutive days. [TD 75-27.]

(b) Preparation of invoice.— The invoice shall be prepared in the manner provided for in this subpart and, when practicable, shall show the quantities, values, and other invoice data with respect to each installment, the date of shipment of each installment, and the car number or other identification of the importing conveyance in which it was shipped.

(c) Pro forma invoice.— If the required invoice is not filed with the first entry of an installment series, a pro forma invoice shall be filed with each entry made before the required invoice is produced, and in accordance with section 141.91 a bond shall be given, or charge against a term bond made, for the production of the required invoice. Liquidated damages will accrue in the case of each entry if more than 6 months expire without the production of an invoice for such entry.

(d) Informal entry.— Any bona fide installment valued at not over $250 may be entered on an informal entry in accordance with subpart C of Part 143 of this chapter, in which case such installment need not be considered in connection with invoice requirements for the balance of the series.

(e) Special summary invoice.— The provisions of this section shall not apply if a special summary invoice is required by § 141.83(b). [TD 78-53.]

§ 141.83 Type of invoice required.

(a) Special Customs invoice.— A special Customs invoice (Customs Form 5515) shall be filed for each shipment of merchandise (1) which is subject to a rate of duty dependent in any manner on value (including such merchandise entered under a conditionally free provision when all free entry documents and evidence required to establish the exemption from duty are not produced at the time of filing the entry summary), and (2) which is determined by the district director to have an aggregate purchase price over $500, including all expenses incident to placing the merchandise in condition packed ready for shipment to the United States, or in the case of merchandise not imported in pursuance of a purchase or agreement to purchase, an aggregate value over $500 as determined in accordance with section 152.21 of this chapter. However, a special Customs invoice is not required for merchandise which is excepted from the requirements for both a special Customs invoice and a commercial invoice by paragraph (c) of this section. In the case of merchandise entered under a conditionally free provision which is ordinarily subject to a rate of duty dependent on value, and which is not exempted from invoice requirements under paragraph (c)(4) of this section because the free entry documents and evidence are not produced at the time of entry, the bond obligation to produce a special Customs invoice shall be canceled without the payment of liquidated damages if such documents and evidence are produced within 6 months after entry. [TD 79-221.]

(b) Special summary invoice.—A special summary invoice shall be presented for each shipment of merchandise described in § 141.89(b). The district director may waive production of a special Customs invoice (Customs Form 5515) if a special summary invoice is required. [TD 78-53.]

(c) Commercial invoice.—(1) A commercial invoice shall be filed for each shipment of imported merchandise not required by paragraph (a) to have a Special Customs Invoice and not exempted by paragraph (d) from both a Special Customs Invoice and a commercial invoice. The commercial invoice shall be prepared in the manner customary in the trade, contain the information required by sections 141.86 through 141.89, and substantiate the statistical information required by sec. 151.61(e) to be given on the entry, entry summary, or withdrawal documentation.

(2) The district director may accept a copy of a required commercial invoice in place of the original. A copy, other than a photostatic or photography copy, shall contain a declaration by the foreign seller, the shipper or the importer that it is a true copy. [TDs 78-53, 79-221.]

(d) Special Customs or commercial invoice not required.— A Special Customs Invoice or a commercial invoice shall not be required in connection with the filing of the entry, entry summary, or withdrawal documentation for merchandise listed in this paragraph. The importer, however, shall present any invoice, memorandum invoice or bill pertaining to the merchandise which may be in his possession or available to him. If no invoice or bill is available, a pro forma (or substitute) invoice, as provided for in section 141.85, shall be filed, and shall contain information adequate for the examination of merchandise and the determination of duties, and information and documentation which verify the information required for statistical purposes by section 141.61(e). The merchandise subject to the foregoing requirements is as follows: [TDs 78-53, 79-221.]

(1) Merchandise having an aggregate purchase price or value, as specified in paragraph (a) of this section, of $500 or less.

(2) Merchandise not intended for sale or any commercial use in its imported condition or any other form, and not brought in on commission for any person other than the importer.

(3) [Reserved.]

(4) [Reserved.]

(5) Merchandise returned to the United States after having been exported for repairs or alteration under item 806.20 or 806.30, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202).

(6) Merchandise shipped abroad, not delivered to the consignee, and returned to the United States.

(7) Merchandise exported from continuous Customs custody within 6 months after the date of entry.

(8) Merchandise consigned to, or entered in the name of, any agency of the U.S. Government.

(9) Merchandise for which an appraisement entry is accepted.

(10) Merchandise entered under a temporary importation bond or a permanent exhibition bond.

(11) Merchandise provided for in section 465 or 466, Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1465 or 1466), which pertain to certain equipment, repair parts, and supplies for vessels.

(12) Merchandise imported as supplies, stores, and equipment of the importing carrier and subsequently made subject to entry pursuant to section 446, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1446).

(13) Ballast (not including cargo used for ballast) landed from a vessel and delivered for consumption.

(14) Merchandise, whether privileged or nonprivileged, resulting from manipulation or manufacture in a foreign trade zone.

(15) Screenings contained in bulk importations of grain or seeds.

(a) Entries at one port. If by reason of accident or short shipment a portion of the quantity covered by one invoice fails to arrive, or if for any other reason only a portion of the quantity covered by one invoice is entered under one entry, a photocopy of the original special Customs invoice or commercial invoice used in connection with the first entry, covering the quantity to be entered under another entry, may be used in connection with the subsequent entry of any portion of the merchandise not cleared under the first entry.

(b) Entries from foreign-trade zone at one port. A photocopy of the invoice filed with the first entry for consumption from a foreign-trade zone of a portion of the merchandise shown on the invoice will not be required for any subsequent entry for consumption from that zone at the same port of a portion of any merchandise covered by such invoice, if a pro forma invoice is filed and identifies the entry first made and the invoice then filed.

(c) Entries at different ports. When portions of a single shipment requiring a special Customs invoice or a commercial invoice are entered at different ports, the importer may submit to the district director where the original invoice or latest photocopy of the original invoice is on file, two photocopies of the latest of such invoices to be certified as to merchandise previously received, and the official seal affixed thereto.

(d) Pro forma invoice. In a case in which a portion of the shipment is entered at the first port on a pro forma invoice, an entry at a subsequent port may be made by means of a new pro forma invoice which may cover only the merchandise then entered.

(e) Photocopy to satisfy bond for invoice. A properly certified photocopy of a special Customs invoice or a commercial invoice presented within 6 months after the date of entry may be accepted to cancel the bond given for the production of a special Customs invoice or commercial invoice.

§ 141.85 Pro forma invoice.

A pro forma invoice submitted in accordance with any provision of this chapter shall be in substantially the following form:

§ 141.86 Contents of invoices and general requirements.

(a) General information required by Tariff Act. Each invoice of imported merchandise, except the Special Customs Invoice (Customs form 5515) (see para. (j) of this section), shall set forth the following information:

(1) The port of entry to which the merchandise is destined;

(2) The time when, the place where, and the person by whom and the person to whom the merchandise is sold or agreed to be sold, or if to be imported otherwise than in pursuance of a purchase, the place from which shipped, the time when and the person to whom and the person by whom it is shipped;

(3) A detailed description of the merchandise, including the name by which each item is known, the grade or quality, and the marks, numbers, and symbols under which sold by the seller or manufacturer to the trade in the country of exportation, together with the marks and numbers of the packages in which the merchandise is packed;

(4) The quantities in the weights and measures of the country or place from which the merchandise is shipped, or in the weights and measures of the United States;

(5) The purchase price of each item in the currency of the purchase, if the merchandise is shipped in pursuance of a purchase or an agreement to purchase;

(6) If the merchandise is shipped otherwise than in pursuance of a purchase or an agreement to purchase, the value for each item, in the currency in which the transactions are usually made, or, in the absence of such value, the price in such currency that the manufacturer, seller, shipper, or owner would have received, or was willing to receive, for such merchandise if sold in the ordinary course of trade and in the usual wholesale quantities in the country of exportation;

(7) The kind of currency, whether gold, silver, or paper;

(8) All charges upon the merchandise, itemized by name and amount including freight, insurance, commission, cases, containers, coverings, and cost of packing; and if not included above, all charges, costs, and expenses incurred in bringing the merchandise from alongside the carrier at the port of exportation in the country of exportation and placing it alongside the carrier at the first United States port of entry. The cost of packing, cases, containers, and inland freight to the port of exportation need not be itemized by amount if included in the invoice price, and so identified. Where the required information does not appear on the invoice as originally prepared, it shall be shown on an attachment to the invoice; and [TDs 73-312, 79-221.]

(9) All rebates, drawbacks, and bounties, separately itemized, allowed upon the exportation of the merchandise.

(b) Nonpurchased merchandise shipped by other than manufacturer. Each invoice of imported merchandise shipped to a person in the United States by a person other than the manufacturer and otherwise than pursuant to a purchase or agreement to purchase shall set forth the time when, the place where, the person from whom such merchandise was purchased, and the price paid therefor in the currency of the purchase, stating whether gold, silver, or paper.

(c) Merchandise sold in transit. If the merchandise is sold on the documents while in transit from the port of exportation to the port of entry, the original invoice reflecting the transaction under which the merchandise actually began its journey to the United States, and the resale invoice or a statement of sale showing the price paid for each item by the purchaser, shall be filed as part of the entry, entry summary, or withdrawal documentation. If the original invoice cannot be obtained, a pro forma invoice showing the values and transaction reflected by the original invoice shall be filed together with the resale invoice or statement. [TD 79-221.]

(d) Invoice to be in English. The invoice and all attachments shall be in the English language, or shall have attached thereto an accurate English translation containing adequate information for examination of the merchandise and determination of duties.

(e) Packing list. Each invoice shall state in adequate detail what merchandise is contained in each individual package.

(f) Weights and measures. If the invoice or entry does not disclose the weight, gage, or measure of the merchandise which is necessary to ascertain duties, the consignee shall pay the expense of weighing, gaging, or measuring prior to the release of the merchandise from Customs custody.

(g) Discounts. Each invoice shall set forth in detail, for each class or kind of merchandise, every discount from list or other base price which has been or may be allowed in fixing each purchase price or value.

(h) Numbering of invoices and pages.

(1) Invoices. When more than one invoice is included in the same entry, each invoice with its attachments shall be numbered consecutively by the importer on the bottom of the face of each page, beginning with No. 1.

Inv. 1, p. 1.
Inv. 2, p. 3.

(i) Information may be on invoice or attached thereto. Any information required on an invoice by any provision of this subpart may be set forth either on the invoice or on an attachment thereto.

(j) Special Customs Invoice.—Each Special Customs Invoice, Customs form 5515, required by section 141.83(a) shall set forth the following information:

(1) Names and addresses of seller, consignee, and buyer (if other than consignee);

(2) Origin of goods;

(3) Terms and conditions of sale, payment, and discount;

(4) Currency used, and exchange rate (whether fixed or agreed);

(5) Date order was accepted for purchased goods;

(6) Marks and numbers on shipping packages, number of packages; full description of goods, and quantity;

(7) Home market unit price, invoice unit price, and invoice totals;

(8) An explanation if the production of the goods involved furnishing goods or services to the seller and the value is not included in the invoice price, if previously requested by the district director as provided for in section 141.88;

(9) Packing costs, ocean or international freight charges, domestic freight charges, insurance costs, and other costs;

(10) Declaration of seller/shipper (or agent). [TD 79-221.]

§ 141.87 Breakdown on component materials.

Whenever the classification or appraisement of merchandise depends on the component materials, the invoice shall set forth a breakdown giving the value, weight, or other necessary measurement of each component material in sufficient detail to determine the correct duties.

§ 141.88 Cost of production statement.

When the district director determines that information as to the cost of production or constructed value is necessary in the appraisement of any class or kind of merchandise, he shall so notify the importer, and thereafter invoices of such merchandise shall contain a verified statement by the manufacturer or producer as to the cost of production or constructed value, as defined in section 402a(f) or 402(d), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1402(f) or 1401a(d)).

(a) Invoices for the following classes of merchandise shall set forth the additional information specified: [TDs 75-42, 75-239, 78-53.]

Aluminum and alloys of aluminum classifiable under items 618.02, 618.04, 618.06, or 618.10, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202) (T.D. 53092, 55977, 56143)—Statement of the percentages by weight of any metallic element used as an alloy in the articles.

Ball or roller bearings classifiable under item 680.35, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), (T.D. 68-306)—(1) Type of bearing (i.e., whether a ball or roller bearing); (2) if a roller bearing, whether a spherical, tapered, or other than a spherical or tapered bearing; (3) whether a combination bearing (i.e., a bearing containing both ball and roller bearings, etc.); and (4) if a ball bearing (not including ball bearing with integral shafts or parts of ball bearings), whether or not radial, the following: (a) Outside diameter of each bearing; (b) net weight of each bearing; and (c) whether or not a radial bearing (the definition of radial bearing is, for Customs purposes, an antifriction bearing primarily designed to support a load perpendicular to shaft axis).

Colors, dyes, stains and related products classifiable under the provisions of schedule 4, part 1C, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), except item 406.80 (T.D. 53593, 53688, 56223)—The specifications set forth in "Schedule A" of § 152.42(c) of this chapter are required to be furnished with each invoice of these products on separate sheets of paper under the conditions which follow and with the exceptions noted:

(a) The information is not required for second and successive shipments of identical merchandise of the same name and strength if a reference is given to the date and the port of entry of the first shipment.

(b) The information specified in items 10 through 15 is required only when the Schultz number, item 7, the colour index number, item 8, and U.S. standard number, item 9, are not given.

(c) The following is substituted for items 4 and 5:

4. Name(s) under which sold in country of production.

5. Name(s) of comparable American made product with name of U.S. manufacturer (if none or unknown, so state).

Copper, articles classifiable under the provisions of schedule 6, part 2C, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), (T.D. 45878, 50158, 55977)—A statement of the weight of articles of copper and a statement of percentage of copper content by weight of articles dutiable on their copper content.

Copper bearing ores and concentrates classifiable under items 602.25, 602.30, 602.31, 603.50, 603.55, or 603.65, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), (T.D. 45878, 50158, 55977)—Statement as to the weight of the article and the weight of the copper content.

Cotton fabrics classifiable under the following items of the Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202); schedule 3, part 1A—Cotton: items 301.60 thru 301.98, and items 302.—, and 303.20; schedule 3, part 3A—Woven fabrics of cotton; all items except item 332.10 and 332.40; schedule 3, part 6A—Handkerchiefs; items 370.24 thru 370.68; schedule 3, part 6B—Mufflers, etc.; item 372.15; schedule 3, part 6C—Hosiery; item 374.40, schedule 3, part 6E—Underwear; item 378.15 (T.D. 49803, 55977)—(1) Marks on shipping packages; (2) Numbers on shipping packages; (3) Date of acceptance of the order by the seller; (4) Customer's call number, if any; (5) Manufacturer's marks, numbers, or symbols under which the merchandise is sold in the home market; (6) Exact width of the merchandise; (7) Detailed description of the merchandise; trade name, if any; whether bleached, unbleached, printed, dyed, or colored; if composed of cotton and other materials, state chief value first and given percentage (value) of each component; (8) Number of single threads per square inch (All ply yarns must be counted in accordance with the number of single threads contained in the yarn; to illustrate, a cloth containing 100 two-ply yarns in 1 square inch must be reported as 200 single threads); (9) Exact weight per square yard, in ounces; (10) Average yarn number (Use this formula:

Number of single threads per square inch × 24/Number of ounces per square yard × 35 = Average yarn number);

(11) Yarn size or sizes in the warp; (12) Yarn size or sizes in the filling; (13) Number of colors or kinds (different yarn sizes or materials) in the filling; (14) How the cloth was woven (if on plain loom without attachment, indicate (plain); if with eight or more harnesses (0/8H), if with Jacquard (Jacq), if with Swivel (Swiv), if with Lappet (Lpt)). Customs Form 5519 is acceptable for furnishing the additional information required above.

Cotton raw—See § 151.82 of this chapter for additional information required on invoices.

Cotton waste (T.D. 50044)—(1) The name by which the cotton waste is known, such as "cotton card strips"; "cotton comber waste"; "cotton lap waste"; "cotton silver waste"; "cotton roving waste"; "cotton fly waste"; etc.: (2) Whether the length of the staple of the cotton from which any cotton card strips covered by the invoice were made is less than 1 3/16 inches or is 1 3/16 inches or more; (3) Whether the length of the staple of the cotton from which any cotton comber waste covered by the invoice was made is less than 1-3/16 in or is 1-3/16 inches or more.

Dairy products from France, the United Kingdom, West Germany, Luxembourg, Ireland, the Netherlands, Denmark, Italy, and Belgium, classifiable under schedule 1, part 4, subparts A, B, C, and D, and item 184.75, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202)—(1) In the case of cheese, the generic name of the cheese or, if processed, grated, or powdered, the name or type of cheese from which it was derived, and in the case of other dairy products, the name and/or description of the product which corresponds to the description of the product as it is set forth in the Common Customs Tariff of the European Communities; and (2) the 6-digit code number which corresponds to the description for the product in the Common Customs Tariff of the European Communities and is published from time to time in the Official Journal of the European Communities in matters pertaining to the export refund.

Earthenware or crockeryware composed of a nonvitrified absorbent body (including white granite and semiporcelain earthenware and cream-colored ware, stoneware, and terra cotta, but not including common brown, gray, red, or yellow earthenware), embossed or plain; common salt-glazed stoneware; stoneware or earthenware crucibles; Rockingham earthenware; china, porcelain, or other vitrified wares, composed of a vitrified nonabsorbent body which, when broken, shows a vitrified, vitreous, semi-vitrified, or semivitreous fracture; and bisque or parian ware (T.D. 53236)—(1) If in sets, the kinds of articles composing each kind of set, and the quantity of each kind of article in each set in the shipment; (2) the exact maximum diameter, expressed in inches, of each size of all plates in the shipment; (3) the unit value for each style and size of plate, cup, saucer, or other separate piece in the shipment.

Fish or fish livers imported in airtight containers classifiable under schedules 1, part 3C, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202) (T.D. 50724, 49640, 55977)—(1) Statement whether the articles contain an oil, fat, or grease which has had a separate existence as an oil, fat, or grease; (2) The name and quantity of any such oil, fat, or grease.

Flax, hemp, and ramie fabrics and articles classifiable under the following items of the Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), 335.80, 335.90, 355.55, 356.25, 356.70, 356.80, 363.35, 366.30, 366.33, 366.36, 366.48, 366.81, 370.72, 370.76, or 370.80, and tablecloths, table scarves, and table doilies classifiable under items 366.51, or 366.84 (T.D. 50083, 55977, 56503)—(1) Customer's call number, if any; (2) Manufacturer's name and the manufacturer's marks, numbers, or symbols under which the merchandise is old in the home market; (3) Exact width of the merchandise if in the piece, otherwise the size; (4) If composed of cotton and other materials, state chief value first and give percentage (value) of each component. State also the finish of the fabric or article, e.g., "loom state," "bleached," "commercial or vat dyed"; (5) Actual number of threads contained in the fabric per square inch, in condition exported. Each thread is counted as one whether or not such thread contains two or more single strands of yarn twisted to make a complete thread. To illustrate, a cloth containing 100 two-ply yarns per square inch must be reported as 100 threads; (6) Exact weight per square yard, in ounces; (7) Whether "hand hemmed," "machine hemmed," "unhemmed," or "in piece." Customs Form 5519 is acceptable for furnishing the additional information required above.

(12) Gender as listed below:

(a) Footwear for men.

(b) Footwear for youths and boys.

(c) Footwear for women.

(d) Footwear for misses.

(e) Footwear for children.

(f) Footwear for infants.

(13) Type as listed below:

(a) Athletic footwear.

(b) Work footwear.

(c) Ski boots.

(d) Casual footwear.

(e) Other types of footwear.

(14) Height of footwear:

(a) Oxford height.

(b) Other height.

(15) The number of pairs of each number shipped.

(16) The unit price per pair in the currency of purchase.

(17) The total value for quantity invoiced. Discount, if any, may be deducted at foot of invoice.

(18) If such (the same) or similar merchandise is sold, at wholesale, for home consumption, the current unit price in home currency.

Customs Form 5523 may be used for furnishing the additional information required above.

Fur products and furs (T.D. 53064)—(1) Name or names (as set forth in the Fur Products Name Guide (16 CFR 301.0) of the animal or animals that produced the fur, and such qualifying statements as may be required pursuant to section 7(c) of the Fur Products Labeling Act (15 U.S.C. 69e(c)); (2) a statement that the fur product contains or is composed of used fur, when such is the fact; (3) a statement that the fur product contains or is composed of bleached, dyed, or otherwise artificially colored fur, when such is the fact; (4) a statement that the fur product is composed in whole or in substantial part of paws, tails, bellies, or waste fur, when such is the fact; (5) name and address of the manufacturer of the fur product; (6) name of the country of origin of the furs or those contained in the fur product.

Glassware and other glass products classifiable under schedule 5, part 3C, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202, when imported in sets (T.D. 53079, 55977)—Statement of the separate value of each component article in the set.

Grain or grain and screenings (T.D. 51284)—Statement on Customs invoices for cultivated grain or grain and screenings that no screenings are included with the grain, or, if there are screenings included, the percentage of the shipment which consists of screenings commingled with the principal grain.

Hats or headwear classifiable under item 702.37 or 702.40, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), (T.D. 52114, 55977)—Statement as to whether or not the article has been bleached or colored.

Iron or steel, articles of, classifiable under schedule 6, part 2B, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), (T.D. 53092, 55977)—Statement of the percentages by weight of any metallic element used as an alloy in the articles.

Iron oxide (T.D. 49989, 50107)—For iron oxide to which a reduced rate of duty is applicable, a statement of the method of preparation of the oxide, together with the patent number, if any.

Jewelry (T.D. 51678)—(1) Design or motif; (2) component material of chief value; (3) whether or not the metal in the article is plated with platinum, gold, or silver, or is colored with gold lacquer.

Lumber, rough, dressed, or worked, classifiable under schedule 2, part 1B, Tariff Schedules of the United States, and dutiable on the basis of board measure (T.D. 50498, 51906, 55977)—Quantity in board feet of the rough lumber before dressing.

Machine parts (T.D. 51616)—Statement specifying the kind of machine for which the parts are intended, or if this is not known to the shipper, the kind or kinds of machines for which the parts are suitable.

Madeira embroideries (T.D. 49988)—(1) With respect to the materials used, furnish: (a) Country of production; (b) width of the material in the piece; (c) name of the manufacturer; (d) kind of material, indicating manufacturer's quality number; (e) landed cost of the material used in each item; (f) date of the order; (g) date of the invoice; (h) invoice unit value in the currency of the purchase; (i) discount from purchase price allowed, if any; (2) with respect to the finished embroidered articles, furnish: (a) Manufacturer's name, design number, and quality number; (b) importer's design number, if any; (c) finished size; (d) number of embroidery points per unit of quantity; (e) for each item, the cost of embroidery labor and the cost of sewing, if any, per unit of quantity; (f) total for overhead and profit added in arriving at the price or value of the merchandise covered by the invoice.

Metal-Working Machine Tools classifiable under items 674.32 and 674.35, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), (T.D. 70-1)—Type of machine tools in accordance with the following definitions:

Numerically controlled machines are machines whose motions are controlled by devices such as tape, computers, or punched cards.

Drilling machines are machines designed for the primary purpose of cutting an initial hole in a workpiece using a rotation tool.

Radial drilling machines consist of a base, vertical cylindrical column, radial arm, and spindle headstock. The radial arm supports the spindle headstock which can be positioned at varying distances from the column; the arm can be moved up or down on the column and rotated around the column.

Upright single-spindle drilling machines consist of a base, table, vertical column, and spindle head. The spindle head is mounted on the column and moves only in the vertical direction. The worktable and/or base is located below the spindle.

Milling machines are machines designed for the primary purpose of removing metal by multiple tooth cutters mounted on rotating arbors or spindles.

Profile and duplicating milling machines consist of any milling machine equipped with a tracing device for controlling the path of the milling cutter.

Knee-type milling machines consist of a base, vertical column, knee, horizontal table, and spindle. A spindle driving the cutter is mounted horizontally or vertically in or on the column. A horizontal movable table which holds the workpiece is mounted on a knee, which projects from the column. The knee can be raised or lowered on the column.

Bed-type milling machines consist of a base (bed), vertical column, horizontal, or vertical spindle and table. The table moves horizontally on the bed. The spindle is fixed or moves vertically on the column.

Boring machines are machines designed for the primary purpose of enlarging or finishing an existing hole in a workpiece by means of a rotating single-point tool.

Vertical boring machines, including vertical turret lathes consist of one or two ram (or turret) heads mounted on a cross rail supported by a column or columns. The cutting tool or tools traverse against the work as the work revolves on a circular table. One or two horizontally opposed side heads are also provided.

Combination boring, drilling, and milling machines, horizontal spindle, consist of a vertical column mounted on a solid bed or movable base. The column supports a horizontally mounted headstock containing the spindle that feeds various tooling into the workpiece. The work is held on a movable table supported by the bed or is mounted on floor plates. Feed motions of the headstock and/or table are longitudinal, transverse, and vertical.

Combination boring, drilling, and milling machines, vertical spindle, consist of a vertical column mounted on a solid bed or movable base. The column supports a vertically mounted headstock containing the spindle that feeds various tooling into the workpiece. The work is held on a movable table supported by the bed or is mounted on floor plates. Feed motions of the headstock and/or table are longitudinal, transverse, and vertical.

Metal-cutting machine tools are metal-working machine tools which shape or surface-work metal by removing metal either in the form of chips, dust, swarf, or similar forms, or by electrical or chemical erosion techniques.

Engine lathes consist of a bed, headstock, tailstock, and carriage. The workpiece is held between a center on the tailstock and an appropriate work-holding device on the headstock spindle. The tool is secured to a cross slide which is mounted on a carriage that moves longitudinally along the bed of the machine.

Turret lathes consist of a bed, headstock, cross slide, and turret. The workpiece is held in the collet, chuck, face plate, or fixture which is attached to the spindle. The tools on the turret are positioned and fed into the workpiece.

Single-spindle automatic bar or chucking machines consist of a bed, headstock, cross slides, and turret. The workpiece is held in the collet, chuck, face plate, or fixture which is attached to the spindle. The tools on the turret are positioned and fed into the work-piece. All machining motions are preselected and are automatically controlled.

Multiple-spindle automatic bar or chucking machines have two or more drive spindles in order that two or more workpieces can be rotated simultaneously. Automatic units are designed to hold the workpiece in each of a number of spindle collets or chucks, which index clockwise from station to station in order to present the workpiece successively to a series of cutting tools. All machining motions are preselected and are automatically controlled.

Grinding machines are machines other than honing or lapping machines designed for the primary purpose of removing metal from a workpiece with abrasives.

External cylindrical grinders consist of a base, table, headstock, footstock, and wheelhead. The table is mounted on the base. The headstock and footstock are mounted on the table and are used to support and rotate the workpiece. The rotating abrasive wheel is mounted on the wheelhead spindle. The wheel is fed against the rotating workpiece.

Internal cylindrical grinders consist of a base, table wheelhead, and headstock. The table is mounted on the base. The headstock is fixed to the base. The wheelhead is mounted on the table. The rotating abrasive wheel is mounted on the wheelhead spindle and is fed into the workpiece bore which is also rotating.

Surface (flat) grinders consist of a base, table, column, and wheelhead. The table is mounted on the base. The wheelhead is attached to the column. The axis of the wheelhead spindle is horizontal. The workpiece which is mounted on the table reciprocates under the rotating abrasive wheel which is mounted on the wheelhead spindle.

Sawing machines are designed primarily for parting or cutting-off operations by a tool referred to as a saw, which could be in the form of a blade, band, or disc.

Electrical discharge machines are machines designed to remove metal by means of an electrical discharge spark erosion.

Metal-forming machine tools are metal-working machine tools other than metal-cutting machine tools.

Punching and shearing machines pierce, blank, notch, or shear workpieces by utilizing a power-driven ram to force punches or blades through work that is supported by the table of the machine.

Mechanical presses, open back inclinable consist of a base (legs), "C" frame, and ram. The C frame is mounted on a pivot point connected in the base (legs). The ram is mounted in the C frame. The principal identifying characteristic of the press is its ability to tilt back on its base (legs).

Needlework tapestries classifiable under schedule 3, part 5C, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), (T.D. 50369, 55977)—A statement of the separate cost of each fiber used.

Newsreel films (T.D. 44703, 44938, 55977)—(1) Statement of footage and title of each subject; (2) declaration of shipper, cameraman, or other person with knowledge of the facts identifying the films with the invoice and stating that the basic films were to the best of his knowledge and belief exposed abroad and returned for use as newsreel; (3) declaration of importer that he believes the films entered by him are the ones covered by the preceding declaration and that the films are intended for use as newsreel.

Oils or products of such oils, classifiable under schedule 4, part 8A, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), and subject to a specific rate of duty (T.D. 49640, 55977)—State if the article is derived from coconut, palm-kernel, palm oil, or other.

Paper and paper products (other than books, newspapers, and periodicals which are not fashion periodicals) bearing printing of any kind, whether or not the printing was done by a lithographic process (T.D. 53056)—Statement of the process employed in printing the paper or paper products.

Screenings or scalpings of grains or seeds (T.D. 51096)—(1) Whether the commodity is the product of a screening process; (2) if so, whether any cultivated grains have been added to such commodity; (3) if any such grains have been added, the kind and percentage of each.

Sugar in liquid form, and articles composed in part of beet or cane sugar (T.D. 49400)—(1) Statement for each lot of sugar in liquid form showing the percentage by weight of total soluble solids (or Brix) and the percentage by weight of total sugars; (2) statement for each kind or class of articles composed in part of cane or beet sugar showing the percentage by weight of total sugars derived from sugar beets or sugarcane.

Sugar, manufactured, articles containing 10 percent or more by weight of, as defined in section 4502(3) of the Internal Revenue Code (26 U.S.C. 4502(3)), (T.D. 49867, 50106)—(1) If it is conceded that the component material of chief value in an article is manufactured sugar, a statement to that effect should be made on the invoice with a statement of the percentage of total sugars in the finished product; (2) if manufactured sugar is not conceded to be the component material of chief value, the invoice must be accompanied by a statement in the following form containing the data indicated therein in accordance with the appended instructions:

United States Customs Service

Information as to commodities containing 10 percent or more by weight of manufactured sugar, as defined in section 4502(3) of the Internal Revenue Code (26 U.S.C. 4502(3)), for use of U.S. Customs authorities.

Instructions for compiling data to be shown on form:

1. Describe the product in terms used on invoices, giving name, brand, quality, number, etc. Use a separate form for each kind.

2. Show quantity produced in one typical batch or lot, recently manufactured, as to which cost records have been maintained.

3. Manufactured sugar is defined in section 4502(3) of the Internal Revenue Code (26 U.S.C. 4502(3)), as follows: The term "manufactured sugar" means any sugar derived from sugar beets or sugarcane, which is not to be, and, which shall not be, further refined or otherwise improved in quality; except sugar in liquid form which contains nonsugar solids (excluding any foreign substance that may have been added or developed in the product) equal to more than 6 per centum of the total soluble solids and except also sirup of cane juice produced from sugarcane grown in the continental United States. The grades or types of sugar within the meaning of this definition shall include, but shall not be limited to, granulated sugar, lump sugar, cube sugar, powdered sugar, sugar in the form of blocks, cones, or molded shapes, confectioners, sugar, washed sugar, centrifugal sugar, clarified sugar, turbinado sugar, plantation white sugar, muscovado sugar, refiners' soft sugar, invert sugar mush, raw sugar, sirups, molasses, and sugar mixtures.

4. It is preferable to show each kind of material used in addition to manufactured sugar. Several materials of relatively insignificant value may be grouped together, such as "Flavoring materials," "Coloring materials," "Seasoning materials," or "All other."

A. Show unit in pounds, as well as total quantity.

B. "First Cost" is the full cost of the material laid down at the manufacturing plant, at current domestic prices, without any deduction for any drawback or refund of import duties which may have been allowed or may be allowable. The amounts of any drawback or refund of import duties which have been allowed or which are allowable by reason of exportation should be stated separately.

C. "Additional costs" include all costs of storing, examining, handling, and preparing, up to the point where the materials are ready to be combined in the manufacturing process. Manufacturing costs and general expenses, occurring thereafter, should not be included, nor should profit.

D. "Total cost" is the total of "first cost" ex-factory and "Additional costs."

5. When the additional information outlined above has been furnished once by an importer with an invoice of a recognized brand or brands of merchandise, it need not be furnished again for shipments entered by him for consumption or for warehousing at the same port in the same calendar year under the same brand name, provided the formula or method of manufacture of the brand has not changed. An invoice not accompanied by such additional information should identify the last shipment entered at that port by the importer for which such additional information was furnished. If the additional information was furnished in connection with any entry at one port, and the importer can secure from the district director at such port a certified copy of the invoice and additional information there filed, he may file to fulfill the additional invoice requirement elsewhere. However, district directors shall not furnish copies of invoices except to, or with the consent of, and at the expense of the importer or his authorized agent.

Textile fiber products (T.D. 55085)—(1) The constituent fiber or combination of fibers in the textile fiber product, designating with equal prominence each natural or manufactured fiber in the textile fiber product by its generic name in the order of predominance by the weight thereof if the weight of such fiber is 5 per centum or more of the total fiber weight of the product; (2) The percentage of each fiber present, by weight, in the total fiber content of the textile fiber product, exclusive of ornamentation not exceeding 5 per centum by weight of the total fiber content; (3) The name, or other identification issued and registered by the Federal Trade Commission, of the manufacturer of the product or one or more persons subject to section 3 of the Textile Fiber Products Identification Act (15 U.S.C. 70a) with respect to such product; (4) The name of the country where processed or manufactured.

Tobacco (including tobacco in its natural state) (T.D. 44854, 45871)—(1) Specify in detail the character of the tobacco in each bale by giving (a) Country and province of origin, (b) year of production, (c) grade or grades in each bale, (d) number of carrots or pounds of each grade if more than one grade is packed in a bale, (e) the time when, place where, and from whom purchased, (f) price paid or to be paid for each bale or package, or price for the vega or lot if purchased in bulk, or if obtained otherwise than by purchase state the actual market value per bale; (2) If an invoice covers or includes bales of tobacco which are part of a vega or lot purchased in bulk, the invoice must contain or be accompanied by a full description of the vega or lot purchased; or if such description has been furnished with a previous importation, the date and identity of such shipment; (3) Packages or bales containing only filler leaf shall be invoiced as filler; when containing filler and wrapper but not more than 35 percent of wrapper, shall be invoiced as mixed; and when containing more than 35 percent of wrapper, shall be invoiced as wrapper.

Toys classifiable under item 737.25 or 737.30, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), (T.D. 49859, 50107, 52160, 55977)—Specify the actual overall height of each stuffed figure of an animate object not having a spring mechanism.

Watch movements, and time-keeping, time-measuring, or time-indicating mechanisms, devices, and instruments, having 17 or less jewels, and dutiable under schedule 7, part 2E, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), but not including movements designed for clocks and so stated on the invoice unless and until such time as the Commissioner of Customs issues a decision applicable to such movements (T.D. 54286, 55977, 56468)—For all commercial shipments of such articles, there shall be required to be shown on the invoice, or on a separate sheet attached to and constituting a part of the invoice, such information as will reflect with respect to each group, class, category, type, or model of instrument in the shipment, the following:

(A) The commercial description (ebauche calibre number and ligne size) and style of each class of watch movement, time-keeping mechanism, device, or instrument covered by the invoice.

(B) The name of the manufacturer or assembler of the exported articles, and also the name of the supplier when the manufacturer or assembler is not the supplier.

(C) As to watch movements, time-keeping mechanisms, devices, or instruments, after the complete instruments were first assembled:

	Yes	No
(1) Were they tested or observed at different temperatures?	....	....
(2) Were they tested or observed for uniformity in rate as the mainspring runs down?	....	....
(3) Were corrections made to eliminate or reduce the differences in rates revealed by the tests in (1) and (2)?	....	....
(4) Were they tested or observed for 24 hours or more in more than two positions and was there a prescribed tolerance of not more than 15 seconds of perfect time in 24 hours in such positions?	....	....
(5) Were they marked with a number of position adjustments different from the number of positions (at least three) in which so tested or observed and in which a tolerance of not more than 15 seconds of perfect time in 24 hours was met?	....	....

(D) If the answers are "yes" to questions (3) or (5), under (C) immediately above, and the instruments are marked unadjusted, or are marked with a lesser number of position adjustments than the number of positions in which tested for 24 hours or more, and in which a tolerance of not more than 15 seconds of perfect time in 24 hours was met, explain in detail. However, when the foregoing information has been filed once directly with the United States Customs Service, Washington, D.C. 20229, in quadruplicate, with one additional copy for each port of entry at which entries may be filed, invoices covering shipments of that item to the ports named in the original statement or in subsequent statements filed for additional ports need only identify the item and the statement already filed. This information will then be acceptable until the facts about the item change, at which time a new statement is necessary.

Wool, boiled classifiable under item 307.30 or 307.18, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), (T.D. 69-236). A certification in the following form signed by a government official of the country of exportation having actual knowledge of the pertinent facts:

I hereby certify that the wool in the shipment described below consists of wool fibers recovered by means of a sulfuric acid boil from (raw) (tanned) (raw and tanned) sheepskin scrap.

Wool products, except carpets, rugs, mats, and upholsteries, and wool products made more than 20 years before importation (T.D. 50388, 51019)—(1) The percentage of the total fiber weight of the wool product, exclusive of ornamentation not exceeding 5 per centum of said total fiber weight, of (a) wool; (b) reprocessed wool; (c) reused wool; (d) each fiber other than wool if said percentage by weight of such fiber is 5 per centum or more; and (e) the aggregate of all other fibers; (2) the maximum percentage of the total weight of the wool product, of any nonfibrous loading, filling, or adulterating matter; and (3) the name of the manufacturer of the wool product, except when such product consists of mixed wastes, residues, and similar merchandise obtained from several suppliers or unknown sources.

Wool and hair—See § 151.62 of this chapter for additional information required on invoices.

Woven fabrics of man-made fibers, colored, classifiable under item 338.30, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202): (1) Whether the merchandise is yarn dyed, and (2) The thread count per inch (treating ply yarns as single threads) in the wrap and in the filling.

(b) Special Summary Steel Invoice. (1) A Special Summary Steel Invoice (Customs form 5520) shall be filed in duplicate at the time of filing the entry summary for each shipment which is determined by the district director to have an aggregate purchase price of $10,000 or over or, if from a contiguous country, of $5,000 or over, including all expenses incident to placing the merchandise in condition packed ready for shipment to the Untied States, and which contains any of the articles of steel listed in paragraph (b) (2) of this section. In addition to the information required by section 141.86, the Special Summary Steel Invoice shall set forth the following: [TDs 78-53, 79-79, 79-221, 81-291.]

(A) The date price terms were agreed upon (the date of agreement on the final sales price for the shipment).

(B) Description and cost of extras (a description of, and the additional price charged for, extras, other than width and length, with extras described in terms understood in the United States market).

(C) American Iron and Steel Institute (AISI) category.

(D) Base price (the base price for each steel category on which the total sales price was based).

(E) The name of the producer, the importer, and the price paid by the first unrelated purchaser in the United States, if that price is available at the time of filing the entry summary. One or more continuation sheets may be used to supply this information, if necessary. [TD 79-221.]

(2) The following articles of steel are subject to the special invoice requirements of § 141.89(b)(1):

(i) Category Numbers and Products:

(1) Ingots, blooms, billets, slabs, etc.
(2) Wire rods.
(3) Structural shapes, plain 3 inches and over.
(4) Sheet piling.
(5) Plates.
(6) Rail and track accessories.
(7) Wheels and axles.
(8) Concrete reinforcing bars.
(9) Bar shapes under 3 inches.
(10) Bars, hot rolled, carbon.
(11) Bars, hot rolled, alloy.
(12) Bars, cold finished.
(13) Hollow drill steel.
(14) Welded pipe and tubing.
(15) Other pipe and tubing.
(16) Round and shaped wire.
(17) Flat wire.
(18) Bale ties.
(19) Galvanized wire fencing.
(20) Wire nails.
(21) Barbed wire.
(22) Black plate.
(23) Tin plate.
(24) Terne plate.
(25) Sheets, hot rolled.
(26) Sheets, cold rolled.
(27) Sheets, coated including galvanized.
(28) Sheets, coated, alloy.
(29) Strip, hot rolled.
(30) Strip, cold rolled.
(31) Strip, hot and cold rolled—alloy.
(32) Sheets other, electric coated.

§ 141.90 Notation of tariff classification and value on invoice.

(a) To be approved by district director. The entered tariff classification, rate of duty, value, and estimated duties shall be as approved by the district director.

(b) Classification and rate of duty. The appropriate item number of the Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), and the rate of duty shall be noted by the importer in the left-hand portion of the invoice, next to the articles to which they apply.

(c) Value. The importer shall show in clear detail on the invoice or on an attached statement the computation of all deductions from total invoice value, such as nondutiable charges, and all additions to invoice value which have been made to arrive at the aggregate entered value. In addition, the entered unit value for each article on the invoice shall be shown where it is different from the invoiced unit value.

§ 141.91 Entry without required invoice.

If a required invoice, other than a special summary invoice, is not available in proper form at the time the entry or entry summary documentation is filed and a waiver is not granted in accordance with section 141.92, the entry or entry summary documentation shall be accepted only under the following conditions: [TDs 78-53, 79-221.]

(a) The district director is satisfied that the failure to produce the required invoice is due to a cause beyond the control of the importer;

(b) The importer files—

(1) A written declaration that he is unable to produce such invoice, and

(2) Any seller's or shipper's invoices available to him or, if none are available, a pro forma invoice in accordance with § 141.85;

(c) The invoices and other documents contain information adequate for the examination of merchandise, the determination of estimated duties, if any, and statistical purposes; and

(d) The importer gives an appropriate bond for the production of the required invoice, which must be produced within 6 months after the date of the filing of the entry summary (or the entry, if there is no entry summary) documentation, unless the invoice is needed for statistical purposes. If needed for statistical purposes, the invoice shall be produced within 50 days after the date the entry summary (or the entry, if there is no entry summary) is required to be filed, unless a reasonable extension of time is granted by the district director for good cause shown. [TD 79-221.]

§ 141.92 Waiver of invoice requirements.

(a) When waiver may be granted. The district director may waive production of a required invoice, except a special summary invoice required by § 141.83(b), when he is satisfied that either:

(1) The importer cannot by reason of conditions beyond his control furnish a complete and accurate invoice; or

(2) The examination of merchandise, final determination of duties, and collection of statistics can be effected properly without the production of the required invoice. [TD 79-2210]

(b) Documents to be filed by importer. As a condition to the granting of a waiver, the importer shall file the following documents with the entry or entry summary:

(1) Any invoice or invoices received from the seller or shipper;

(2) A statement pointing out in exact detail any inaccuracies, omissions, or other defects in such invoice or invoices;

(3) An executed pro forma invoice in accordance with § 141.85; and

(4) Any other information required by the district director for either appraisement or classification of the merchandise, or for statistical purposes.

(c) Satisfaction of bond liability. The liability under the entry bond for the production of a correct invoice shall be deemed satisfied when a waiver has been granted pursuant to this section.

Subpart G—Deposit of Estimated Duties

§ 141.101 Time of deposit.

Estimated duties shall be deposited with the Customs officer designated to receive the duties at the time of the filing of the entry documentation or the entry summary documentation when it serves as both the entry and entry summary, except in the following cases:

(a) Merchandise released under entry documentation.—In the case of merchandise released under the entry documentation listed in section 142.3 of this chapter before filing of the entry summary, deposit of estimated duties shall be made at the time the entry summary is filed unless the merchandise is entered for warehouse. If the merchandise is entered for warehouse, estimated duties shall be deposited in accordance with paragraph (b) of this section. [TD 79-221.]

(b) Warehouse entry. In the case of merchandise entered for warehouse, deposit of estimated duties shall be made at the time the withdrawal for consumption is presented.

(c) Informal mail entry. In the case of merchandise entered under an informal mail entry, duties shall be paid to the postal employee at the time he delivers the merchandise to the addressee (see Part 145 of this chapter).

(d) Appraisement entries. In the case of merchandise entered under an appraisement entry, deposit of estimated duties shall be made immediately after notification by the appropriate Customs officer of the amount of duties due.

(e) Entry for transportation or under bond. No deposit of estimated duties is applicable in the case of merchandise entered for transportation or under a temporary importation bond, permanent exhibition bond, trade fair bond, or other similar bond.

Entry or withdrawal for consumption in the following situations may be made without depositing the estimated Customs duties, or estimated taxes, or both, as specifically noted:

(a) Cigars and cigarettes. A qualified dealer or manufacturer may enter or withdraw for consumption cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes without payment of internal revenue tax in accordance with § 11.2(a) of this chapter.

(b) Bulk distilled spirits transferred to the bonded premises of a distilled spirits plant. An importer may transfer distilled spirits in bulk to the bonded premises of a distilled spirits plant under the provisions of section 5232(a), Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended (26 U.S.C. 5232(a)), and the regulations of the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms (27 CFR Part 251), by filing an approved original copy of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms form 2609 (5110.16) with the entry or withdrawal for consumption, instead of depositing taxes. [TD 78-329]

(c) Deferral of payment of taxes on alcoholic beverages. An importer may pay on a semimonthly basis the estimated internal revenue taxes on all the alcoholic beverages entered or withdrawn for consumption during that period, under the procedures set forth in § 24.4 of this chapter.

(d) Government entries. If a shipment is entered or withdrawn for consumption by a U.S. Government department or agency, or an authorized representative thereof, no deposit of estimated Customs duties or taxes shall be required if a stipulation is furnished in lieu of any bond provided for in Part 113 of this chapter. The proper department or agency will then be billed after liquidation of the entry for any duties or charges due. The stipulation shall be in the following form: [TD 74-227.]

§ 141.111 Carrier's release order.

(a) When required. Except where release is made directly to the carrier in accordance with § 141.11(b), no merchandise shall be released from Customs custody until a release order has been executed by the carrier, or, in the case of merchandise in a bonded warehouse, by the warehouse proprietor.

(b) Form of release. The release order may be executed on any of the following documents:

(1) Customs Form 7529, if a carrier's certificate is used in making entry;

(2) The official entry form;

(3) A combined carrier's certificate and release order issued in accordance with § 141.11(a)(4); or

(4) If a certified duplicate bill of lading or air waybill is used for entry purposes in accordance with § 141.11(a)(3), the carrier's release order may be endorsed thereon in substantially the following form: [TD 78-394]

In accordance with the provisions of section 484(j), Tariff Act of 1930, authority is hereby given to release the articles covered by this certified duplicate bill of lading or air waybill to: ————————————————.

(c) Blanket release order. Merchandise may be released to the person named in the bill of lading or air waybill in the absence of a specific release order from the carrier, if the carrier concerned has filed a blanket order authorizing release to the consignee in such cases. The release order at the bottom of Customs Form 7529 may be modified and executed to make it a blanket release order for the shipments covered by a blanket carrier's certificate issued under § 141.11(a)(5). [TD 78-394]

(d) Qualified release order. In the case of merchandise which is entered for warehousing, for transportation in bond, or for exportation, the release order may be qualified as follows:

(1) "For transfer to the bonded warehouse designated in the warehouse entry," if the merchandise is entered for warehousing;

(2) "For transfer to the bonded carrier designated in the transportation entry," if the merchandise is entered for transportation in bond; or

(3) "For transfer to the carrier designated in the export entry," if the merchandise is entered for exportation.

§ 141.112 Liens for freight, charges, or contribution in general average.

(a) Definitions. The following are general definitions for the purposes of this section:

(1) Freight. "Freight" means the carrier's charge for the transportation of the goods from the place of shipment in the foreign country to the final destination in the United States.

(2) Charges. "Charges" means the charges due to or assumed by the claimant of the lien which are incident to the shipment and forwarding of the goods to the destination in the United States, but does not include the purchase price, whether advanced or to be collected, nor other claims not connected with the transportation of the goods.

(3) General average. "General average" means the liability to contribution of the owners of a cargo which arises when a sacrifice of a part of such cargo has been made for the preservation of the residue or when money is expended to preserve the whole. It only arises from actions impelled by necessity.

(b) Notice of lien. A notice of lien for freight, charges, or contribution in general average pursuant to section 564, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1564), shall be filed with the district director on Customs Form 3485, signed by the authorized agent of the carrier and certified by him.

(c) Preliminary notice of lien for contribution in general average. When the cargo of a vessel is subject to contribution in general average, a preliminary notice thereof may be filed with the district director and individual notices of lien filed thereafter. Upon receipt of a preliminary notice, the district director shall withhold release of any merchandise imported in the vessel for 2 days (exclusive of Sunday and holidays) after such merchandise is taken into Customs custody, unless proof is submitted that the claim for contribution in general average has been paid or secured.

(d) Merchandise entered for immediate transportation. A notice of lien upon merchandise entered for immediate transportation shall be filed by the carrier with the district director at the destination.

(e) Limitations on acceptance of notice of lien. A notice of lien shall be rejected and returned with the reason for rejection noted thereon if it is filed after any of the following actions have been taken concerning the merchandise:

(1) Release from Customs custody;

(2) Forfeiture under any provision of law;

(3) Sale as unclaimed or abandoned merchandise under section 491 or 559, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1491 or 1559); or

(4) Receipt and acceptance of a notice of abandonment to the Government under section 506(1) or 563(b), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1506(1) or 1563(b)).

(f) Forfeited or abandoned merchandise. The acceptance of a notice of lien shall not in any manner affect the order of disposition and accounting for the proceeds of sales of forfeited and abandoned property provided for in subpart D of Part 127 and § § 158.10 and 162.51 of this chapter. [TD 74-114.]

(g) Bond may be required. When any doubt exists as to the validity of a lien filed with the district director, he may exact a bond of indemnity to save him harmless from any personal liability which may result from withholding the release of the merchandise.

(h) Satisfaction of lien. The district director shall not adjudicate any dispute respecting the validity of any lien, but when the amount of such lien depends upon the quantity or weight of merchandise actually landed, the district director shall hold the lien satisfied upon the payment of an amount computed upon the basis of the official Customs report of quantity and weight. In all other cases, proof that the lien has been satisfied or discharged shall consist of a written release or receipt signed by the claimant and filed with the district director, showing payment of the claim in full. (Sec. 564, 46 Stat. 747, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1564)

§ 141.113 Recall of merchandise released from Customs custody.

(a) Merchandise not legally marked. Certain merchandise is required to be marked or labeled pursuant to the following provisions:

(1) Section 304, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1304), pertaining to marking with country of origin;

(2) Textile Fiber Products Identification Act (15 U.S.C. 70);

(3) Wool Products Labeling Act (15 U.S.C. 68);

(4) Fur Products Labeling Act (15 U.S.C. 69); and

(5) Schedule 7, part 2E, headnote 4, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), pertaining to special marking for watch and clock movements, cases, and dials.

If such merchandise is found after release to be not legally marked, the district director may demand its return to Customs custody for the purpose of requiring it to be properly marked or labeled. The demand for marking or labeling shall be made not later than 30 days after the date of entry in the case of merchandise examined in public stores, and places of arrival, such as docks, wharfs, or piers. Demand may be made no later than 30 days after the date of examination in the case of merchandise examined at the importer's premises or such other appropriate places as determined by the district director.

(b) Other merchandise not entitled to admission. If at any time after entry the district director finds that any merchandise contained in an importation is not entitled to admission into the commerce of the United States for any reason not enumerated in paragraph (a) of this section, he shall promptly demand the return to Customs custody of any such merchandise which has been released.

(c) Request for samples or additional examination packages not complied with by importer. If the importer has not promptly complied with a request for samples or additional examination packages made by the district director pursuant to § 151.11 of this chapter, the district director may demand the return of the necessary merchandise to Customs custody.

(d) Demand to importer of record or actual owner. A demand for the return of merchandise to Customs custody shall be made on the importer of record, except that it shall be made on the actual owner if an actual owner's declaration and superseding bond have been filed in accordance with § 141.20 before the date of the demand.

(e) Form of demand. A demand for the return of merchandise to Customs custody shall be made on Customs Form 4647 or other appropriate form, or by letter. One copy, with the date of mailing or delivery noted thereon, shall be retained by the district director and made part of the entry record.

(f) Time limitation. A demand for the return of merchandise to Customs custody shall not be made after the liquidation of the entry covering such merchandise has become final.

(g) Demand not complied with. When the demand of the district director for return of merchandise to Customs custody is not complied with, liquidated damages shall be assessed, except in the case of merchandise entered under schedule 8, part 5C, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), in an amount equal to the value of the merchandise not returned, as determined at the time of entry, plus the estimated duties and taxes, if any. The amount of liquidated damages to be assessed on merchandise entered under schedule 8, part 5C, Tariff Schedules of the United States, are set forth in § 10.39(d)(3) of this chapter. (Secs. 499, 623, 46 Stat. 728, as amended, 759, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1499, 1623) [TD 74-227.]

This part sets forth requirements and procedures relative to (a) the entry of merchandise, as authorized by section 484, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1484), and (b) special permits for immediate delivery of merchandise, as authorized by section 448(b), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1448(b)). [TD 73–175.]

§ 142.1 Definitions.

For definitions of "entry", "entry summary," "submission", "filing," "presentation", "entered for consumption", "entered for warehouse", and "entered under a temporary importation bond", as these terms relate to the entry of merchandise, see § 141.0a of this chapter.

§ 142.2 Time for filing entry.

(a) General rule: After arrival of merchandise. Merchandise for which entry is required shall be entered by the consignee within 5 working days after the entry of the importing vessel or aircraft, report of the vehicle, or arrival at the port of destination in the case of merchandise transported in bond, unless a longer time is authorized by law or regulation, or by the district director in writing.

(b) Before arrival of merchandise—(1) Entry. The entry documentation required by § 142.3(a) may be submitted before the merchandise arrives within the limits of the port where entry is to be made, in which case the time of entry shall be the time specified in § 141.68(a).

(2) When entry summary serves as entry. The entry summary when it will be filed at time of entry to serve as both the entry and the entry summary, as provided in § 142.3(b), may be submitted for preliminary review in accordance with §§ 141.63(a) and 142.12(a)(2).

§ 142.3 Entry documentation required.

(a) Contents. Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, the entry documentation required to secure the release of merchandise shall consist of the following:

(1) Entry. Customs Form 3461 (appropriately modified), except that Customs Form 7533 (appropriately modified), in duplicate, may be used in place of Customs Form 3461 for merchandise imported from a contiguous country. The form used shall be prepared in accordance with § 141.61(a)(1) of this chapter.

(2) Evidence of the right to make entry. Evidence of the right to make entry, as set forth in§ 141.11 of this chapter.

(3) Commerical invoice. A commerical invoice, except that in those instances listed in § 141.83(d) of this chapter where a commerical invoice is not required, a pro forma invoice or other acceptable documentation listed in that section may be submitted in place of a commercial invoice.

(4) Packing list. A packing list, where appropriate.

(5) Other documentation. Other documents which may be required by Customs or other Federal, State, or local agencies for a particular shipment.

(b) Entry summary filed at time of entry. When the entry summary is filed at time of entry, in accordance with § 142.12(a)(1) or § 142.13.

(1) Customs Form 3461 or 7533 shall not be required, and

(2) Customs Form 7501, 7502, or 3311, as appropriate (see § 142.11), shall serve as both the entry and the entry summary documentation if the additional documentation set out in paragraphs (a)(2), (3), (4), and (5) of this section and § 142.16(b) is filed.

(c) Extra copies. The district director may require additional copies of the documentation.

(a) Request and authorization. Upon the written request of an importer or broker, the district director shall assign sufficient entry numbers for use by the importer or broker at any port within the district during the fiscal year. Numbers shall be assigned in blocks of not less than 100, unless the district director determines that an assignment of a block of less than 100 is warranted. Additional requests and assignments may be made during the fiscal year if additional numbers are needed.

(b) "Fiscal year" defined. For purposes of this section, the initial "fiscal year" shall begin on October 1, 1979, and end on September 30, 1980. Thereafter, each fiscal year shall begin on October 1 and end on September 30.

(c) Assigned entry number and its use. The assigned entry number shall be a six-digit number preceded by the last two digits of the fiscal year and a space: for example, 79 100001. The importer or broker shall place the assigned entry number on the entry and the corresponding entry summary documentation. The number shall be preprinted, stamped, typed or written legibly. Each number shall be used only once.

(d) Report. Within 30 days after the end of the fiscal year, each importer or broker to whom entry numbers have been assigned shall account in writing to the district director for each entry number which has not been used. Entry numbers assigned but not used during the fiscal year shall be cancelled.

(e) Refusal to assign entry numbers; cancellation. The district director may refuse to assign entry numbers to an importer or broker, or may cancel entry numbers previously assigned and remaining unused, if the importer or broker:

(1) Fails to account satisfactorily to the district director for any numbers assigned but not used, or

(2) Misuses numbers which have been assigned to him.

(f) Alternative procedure. If an importer or broker does not request assignment of entry numbers, of if the district director, in accordance with paragraph (e) of this section, refuses to assign entry numbers, or cancels entry numbers, previously assigned, the importer or broker shall obtain an entry number at the customhouse before his merchandise may be released. The entry number so obtained shall be placed on the entry and the corresponding entry summary documentation.

§ 142.4 Bond requirements.

(a) At time of entry. Except as provided in § 10.101(d) of this chapter, merchandise shall not be release from Customs custody at the time Customs receives the entry documentation or the entry summary documentation which serves as both the entry and the entry summary, as required by § 142.3, unless one of the following types of bonds, executed by an approved corporate surety, or secured by cash deposits or obligations of the United States, as provided for in § 113.39(a) of this chapter, has been filed.

(1) Single entry bond. A single entry bond on Customs Form 7551, with the amount of the bond determined in accordance with § 113.14(g)(1) of this chapter. When any of the imported merchandise is subject to a tariff-rate quota and is to be released at a time when the applicable quota is filled, the full rates shall be used in computing the estimated duties to determine the amount of the bond. [TDs 74-227, 77-23.]

(2) Term bond. A term bond on Customs Form 7553, with the amount of the bond determined in accordance with § 113.14(g)(2) of this chapter. [TD 74-227.]

(3) General term bond. A general term bond on Customs Form 7595, with the amount of the bond determined in accordance with §§ 113.14(s) and 113.62 of this chapter.

(b) If entry summary is filed after entry. (1) Except as provided in § 141.102(d) of this chapter, if the entry summary is filed after the entry, bond filed at the time of entry, as required by paragraph (a) of this section or by § 142.19, shall continue to be obligated unless a superseding bond is filed, as provided in § 141.20 of this chapter, or unless a bond of the type described in paragraph (a) of this section is filed under the circumstances described in paragraph (b)(2) of this section. If a superseding bond is filed, or if a bond is filed under the circumstances described in paragraph (b)(2) of this section, the obligations of the initial bond shall be terminated as to any liability which may accrue after the superseding or other bond becomes effective.

(2) If entry is made in the name of an agent, supported by the agent's bond, or in the name of a principal, supported by the principal's bond, and the entry summary thereafter is filed in the name of other party, the party named in the entry summary shall file one of the bonds enumerated in paragraph (a) of this section. In this circumstances, the bond obligation of the party in whose name entry was made shall be terminated, as to liability which may accue after the bond filed by the party name in the entry summary becomes effective, and the party filing the entry summary need not file the separate declaration of the actual owner and the superseding bond otherwise required under § 141.20 of this chapter.

A bond rider in the following form shall be executed and attached to any entry bond provided for in § 142.4, utilized by an importer who makes entry under the provisions of section 484, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1484):

Rider "R"

(To be attached to all entry bonds)

Whereas certain merchandise which is referred to in a bond dated________________, in the amount of________________, executed by ________________, as principal, and________________, as surety, to which this rider relates has been imported at the port of ________________, and entered at said port on entry No. ________________, dated ________________ 19_____, or the principal expects to enter merchandise during the period covered by a term bond to which this rider dated________________19_____, in the amount of________________, executed by________________, as principal, and________________, as surety.

Whereas the merchandise, in whole or in part, may be entered under the provisions of section 484 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1484), and duties deposited under the provisions of section 505(a) of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1505(a)).

It is hereby expressly agreed by the principal and surety on the bond referenced above that the following condition, in addition to the conditions appearing in the bond, shall apply: And if where entry is made pursuant to section 484 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1484), the bounded principal, within the time prescribed in the Customs Regulations, shall file with the appropriate Customs officer the documentation required by the Customs Regulations to enable Customs to (1) determine whether the merchandise may be released from Customs custody, (2) properly assess duties on the merchandise, (3) collect accurate statistics wtih respect to the merchandise, and (4) determine whether applicable requirements of law or regulation are met; and if the bounden principal, within the time prescribed in the Customs Regulations, shall deposit the duties and taxes imposed upon or by reason of importation estimated to be due thereon; or if, in the even of failure to file the documentation or to deposit duties and taxes, he shall pay to the district director of Customs as liquidated damages an amount equal to the value of the merchandise as to which there shall have been default, plus the duties and taxes thereon (it being understood and agreed that the amount to be collected shall be based upon the quantity and value of the merchandise as determined by the district director, and that the decision of the district director as to the status of the merchandise, whether free or dutiable, together with the rate and amount of duties and taxes, also shall be binding on all parties to this obligation).

(a) Contents. The commercial invoice, or the documentation acceptable in place of a commercial invoice in those instances listed in § 141.83(d) of this chapter, shall be furnished with the entry and before release of the merchandise is authorized. The commercial invoice or other acceptable documentation shall contain:

(1) An adequate description of the merchandise.

(2) The quantities of the merchandise.

(3) The values or approximate values of the merchandise.

(4) The appropriate five-digit item number from the Tariff Schedules of the United States. If the importer is uncertain of the appropriate tariff item number, Customs shall assist him at his request. The district director may waive this requirement if he is satisfied that the information is not available at the time release of the merchandise is authorized.

(b) Information not required when filing entry. In addition to the information specified in paragraph (a) of this section, the commerical invoice or substitute document filed with the entry documentation also may include any other invoice information required by §§ 141.86 through 141.89 of this chapter. However, if this information does not appear on the invoice or substitute document filed with the entry documentation, it shall be included in the invoice or substitute document delivered at the time the entry summary documentation is filed.

No merchandise for which the entry documentation required by § 142.3 has been filed shall be released until it has been examined, or until adequate samples have been taken in the case of merchandise which is to be classified and appraised by means of samples, unless this requirement is waived by the district director in accordance with section 499, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1499).

142.8 Failure to file entry timely.

Merchandise for which timely entry is not filed as required by § 142.2 shall be treated in accordance wtih § 4.37 and Part 127 of this chapter.

§ 142.11 Entry summary form.

(a) Customs Form 7501. The entry summary shall be on Customs Form 7501 unless a different form is prescribed elsewhere in this chapter. Customs Form 7501 shall be used for both merchandise formally entered for consumption, and formally entered under a temporary importation bond under § 10.31. The entry summary for merchandise which may be entered free of duty in accordance with § 10.1(g) or (h) of this chapter may be on Customs Form 3311 instead of on Customs Form 7501, and the entry summary for warehouse entries shall be on Customs Form 752. For merchandise entitled to be entered under an informal entry, see § 143.23 of this chapter.

(b) Extra copies. The district director may require additional copies of the entry summary.

§ 142.12 Time for filing or submission for preliminary review.

(a) At option of importer—(1) Filing. Except as provided in § 142.13, the importer may file the entry summary documentation at the time of entry in which case the entry summary, with estimated duties attached, shall serve as both the entry and the entry summary.

(2) Submission for preliminary review. If the importer intends to file the entry summary documentation at the time of entry, he may submit the entry summary documentation for preliminary review before arrival of the merchandise, in accordance with § 141.63(a) of this chapter. After preliminary review is completed, the entry summary shall be returned to the importer for filing in accordance wtih paragraph (a)(1) of this section.

(b) When required. If the importer is not required to file the entry summary documentation at the time of entry under the provisions of § 142.13, or if he does not elect to do so, the entry summary documentation shall be filed, with estimated duties attached, within 10 working days after the time of entry.

(c) Estimated duties. Estimated duties, if any, shall be deposited in accordance with the provisions of Subpart G of Part 141 of this chapter.

§ 142.13 When entry summary must be filed at time of entry.

(a) Authority of district director. The district director may require that the entry summary documentation be filed and that estimated duties, if any, be deposited at the time of entry before the merchandise is released if the importer:

(1) Has failed repeatedly to file timely entry summary documentation without justification,

(2) Has not taken prompt action to settle a claim for liquidated damages issued under § 142.15 for failure to file entry summary documentation timely. "Prompt action" means that the importer, within the time specified in a claim for liquidated damages, shall petition for relief or pay the amount, claimed and, in appropriate cases, file the entry summary documentation and deposit estimated duties, if any, or

(3) Has repeatedly delivered entry summary documentation, which is incomplete or which contains erroneous information.

(b) Authority of regional commissioner. The regional commissioner may require that the entry summary documentation be filed and that estimated duties, if any, be deposited at the time of entry before the merchandise is released if the importer is substantially or habitually delinquent in the payment of Customs bills. See § 142.14.

(2) Other classes of merchandise. Entry summary documentation, with estimated duties attached, or a withdrawal for consumption with estimated duties attached, shall be filed at the time of entry before release of any other merchandise of a class designated by Headquarters.

(d) Brokers; restriction. A broker shall not circumvent an action taken under this section by applying for release of the importer's merchandise in the brokers's name and under the broker's bond.

The following procedure shall be followed if an importer is substantially or habitually delinquent in the payment of Customs bills:

(a) Notice. The importer shall be advised in writing by the regional commissioner of Customs for the region in which he is substantially or habitually delinquent that he shall file the entry summary documentation with estimated duties attached, before his merchandise may be released from Customs custody in that region. The notice shall state the reason for the action and advise the importer that if payment of all his delinquent Customs bills is not made within 10 working days from the date of the notice, he shall be required to file the entry summary document with estimated duties attached, before his merchandise may be released in any Customs region. In either case, the entry summary shall serve as both the entry and the entry summary.

(b) Removal or requirement by region. If the importer pays all his delinquent Customs bills within 10 working days after the date of the notice, the requirement shall be removed, and the importer need file only the entry documentation specified in § 142.3 to secure release of his merchandise.

(c) Removal of requirement by Headquarter. If the importer has not paid all his delinquent Customs bills within 10 working days after the date of the notice, he also shall be required to file the entry summary documentation, with estimated duties attached, in each Customs region. In this case, the entry summary shall serve as both the entry and the entry summary. This requirement shall remain in effect in each port of entry until notification is received from Headquarters that the requirement is removed and that the importer need submit only the entry documentation listed in § 142.3 to secure release of his merchandise.

If the entry summary documentation is not filed timely, the district director shall make an immediate demand for liquidated damages in the entire amount of the bond in the case of a single entry bond. When the transaction has been charged against a term bond, the demand shall be for the amount that would have been demanded if the merchandise had been released under a single entry bond. Any application to cancel liquidated damages incurred shall be made in accordance with Part 172 of this chapter.

§ 142.16 Entry summary documentation.

(a) Entry summary not filed at time of entry. When the entry documentation is filed before the entry summary documentation, one copy of the entry document and the commercial invoice, or the documentation filed in place of a commercial invoice in the instances listed in § 141.83(d) of this chapter, shall be returned to the importer after Customs authorizes release of the merchandise. The importer may use these documents in preparing the entry summary, Customs Form 7501, and shall file them with the entry summary documentation within the time period stated in § 142.12(b). The entry summary documentation also shall include Customs Form 5101 and any other documents required for a particular shipment, such as a Special Customs Invoice, Customs Form 5515, unless a bond for missing documents is on file, as provided in § 141.66 of this chapter.

(b) Entry summary filed at time of entry. When the entry summary documentation is filed at time of entry, the documentation listed in § 142.3 shall be filed at the same time, except that Customs Form 3461 or 7533 shall not be required. The importer also shall file Customs Form 5101 and any additional invoice required for a particular shipment, such as a Special Customs Invoice, Customs Form 5515.

§ 142.17 One entry summary for multiple entries.

(a) Requirements. Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, the district director may permit the filing of one entry summary for merchandise the subject of separate entries if:

(1) The merchandise has the same country of exportation, and the same country of origin,

(2) The merchandise arrives by land, by the same vessel or by the same air carrier,

(3) The merchandise is consigned to the same consignee,

(4) The time between the date of the first entry and the date of the last entry does not exceed 1 week,

(5) The entry summary document is filed within 10 working days from the date of the first entry, and

(6) Each entry is identified separately by entry number on the entry summary.

(b) Merchandise not eligible. One entry summary shall not be used for multiple entries of the following:

(1) Quota-class merchandise,

(2) Prohibited merchandise,

(3) Merchandise subject to restrictions which required processing and documentation more frequently than on a weekly basis,

(4) Merchandise for which liquidation has been withheld, and

(5) Merchandise classifiable under the same Tariff Schedules of the United States item number having different rates of duty for which entries or immediate transportation entries have been filed. However, this provision is not applicable in the following circumstances:

(i) Entries. Entries may be consolidated if the time of entry is—

(A) Before the date of change in rate of duty, or

(B) On or after the date of change in rate of duty.

(ii) Immediate transportation entries. Immediate transportation entries may be consolidated if the date of acceptance is—

(A) Before the date of change in the rate of duty, or

(B) On or after the date of change in rate of duty.

(c) Entry documentation not in proper form. If an entry summary covering multiple entries refers to entry documentation which is not in proper form, the entry summary and the entry documentation shall be returned for correction.

§ 142.17a One consolidated entry summary for multiple ultimate consignees.

(a) Applicability. The district director may permit a broker as nominal consignee to file a consolidated entry summary in his own name under his own bond covering shipments of like or similar merchandise consigned to various ultimate consignees provided that all the merchandise is—

(1) Imported on the same day,

(2) Itemized as to each category of merchandise by Tariff Schedules of the United States Annotated statistical reporting number, and

(3) Released on the same day, either under the entry documentation specified in § 142.3, or under a special permit for immediate delivery. A consolidated entry summary may be filed for merchandise arriving by land, by the same vessel, or by the same air carrier.

(b) Information required on the entry summary—(1) Separate listing according to ultimate consignee. The broker shall list separately on the face of the consolidated entry summary the merchandise for each ultimate consignee, together with the appropriate entry or special permit numbers.

(2) If different land carriers are involved. If merchandise arriving by different land carriers is included on one entry summary, necessary information pertaining to each carrier shall be shown on the face of the entry summary, related to the applicable shipment.

§ 142.18 Entry summary not required for prohibited merchandise.

(a) Exportation or destruction of prohibited merchandise. If merchandise released at time of entry is later found to be prohibited, the district director shall demand its return to Customs custody in accordance with § 141.113 of this chapter, and an entry summary and the deposit of estimated duties, if any, shall not be required provided:

(1) An entry for exportation, Customs Forms 7512, or for application to destroy the merchandise under Customs supervision is made within 10 days after the time of entry, and the exportation or destruction is accomplished promptly, or

(2) An entry for transportation and exportation, Customs Form 7512, is made within 10 days after the time of entry and domestic carriage of the merchandise does not conflict with the requirements of another Federal agency.

(b) Procedures for exportation or destruction. The exportation or destruction of prohibited merchandise as required by paragraph (a) shall be in accordance with §§ 158.41 and 158.45(c) of this chapter.

Merchandise, for which an entry summary serves as both an entry and an entry summary, shall not be released from Customs custody until an appropriate bond has been filed, or the entry has been liquidated, as follows:

(a) Bond. Merchandise not designated for examination may be released to, or upon the order of, the carrier if an entry bond is filed on Customs Form 7551, 7555, 7595, in an amount determined in accordance with Part 113 of this chapter. Merchandise designated for examination may be released under the entry bond after examination has been completed if:

(1) It has been found to be truly and correctly invoiced,

(2) It is entitled to admission into the commerce of the United States, and

(3) Its release is not precluded by any law or regulation. If merchandise is entered by or on behalf of a United States Government department or agency, the stipulation prescribed in § 141.102(d) of this chapter shall be accepted in place of a bond.

(b) After liquidation. If a bond has not been filed in accordance with paragraph (a) of this section, the merchandise shall not be released before:

(1) The entry has been liquidated and the full amount of all duties and taxes due, including dumping or other special duties and charges, has been paid, or the right to free entry established.

(2) The district director determines that the merchandise may be admitted into the commerce of the United States, and

(3) All documents relating to the merchandise which are required by law or regulation have been filed.

Subpart C—Special Permit for Immediate Delivery

§ 142.21 Merchandise eligible for special permit for immediate delivery.

Merchandise may be released under a special permit for immediate delivery, in accordance with section 448(b), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C.1448(b)), in the following circumstances:

(a) Contiguous countries. At the discretion of the district director, merchandise arriving by land from Canada or Mexico may be released under a special permit for immediate delivery provided the importer has on file one of the types of Customs bonds described in § 142.4. An entry summary shall be filed in accordance with § 142.22(b)(1), and estimated duties, if any, shall be deposited, within the time period specified in § 142.23 for all merchandise from contiguous countries released under a special permit except for fresh fruits and vegetables for human consumption released under the provisions of paragraph (b) of this section. [TD 76-220, 76-246.]

(b) Fresh fruits and vegetables. (1) An application for a special permit for immediate delivery may be made for the transportation of fresh fruits and vegetables for human consumption arriving from Canada or Mexico to the importer's premises within the port of importation, but removed from the area immediately contiguous to the border.

(2) The application shall be supported by a term bond on Customs Form 7553, or a general term bond on Customs Form 7595 as prescribed in § 142.4, to which a rider in the following format has been added:

Immediate Delivery of Fresh Fruits and Vegetables Arriving from Canada or Mexico—to be added to Customs Form 7553 and 7595.

In addition to the conditions appearing in the bond dated________, in the amount of________, executed by ________, as principal and ________, as surety, to which this stipulation relates. It is hereby expressly agreed by the principal and surety thereon that the following additional condition shall apply:

If, pursuant to section 448(b) of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C.1448(b)), and § 142.21(a) of the Customs Regulations, fresh fruits and vegetables have been released for immediate delivery from________ to the importer's premises at________, the produce shall be transported and stored in accordance with the regulations, and may be examined and disposed of according to § 158.11(b) of the Customs Regulations; the balance of the produce shall be entered for consumption, entered for transportation and exportation, or transported in bond under an entry for immediate transportation without appraisement. In the event of failure to make an appropriate entry or deposit the estimated duties due, when so required, the above bounden principal shall pay to the district director of Customs as liquidated damages an amount equal to the value of the merchandise plus the charges and duties thereon (it being understood and agreed that the amount to be collected shall be based upon the quantity and value of such merchandise as determined by the district director of Customs, and that the decision of the district director of Customs as to the status of such merchandise, whether free or dutiable, together with the rate and amount of duties, also shall be binding on all parties to this obligation,

(Corporate Seal)

(To be used when no power of attorney has been filed with the district director of Customs)

(3) The fresh fruits and vegetables shall be transported to the importer's premises in the vehicles in which they crossed the border or, if transshipment is necessary in vehicles provided by the importer. The fresh fruits and vegetables may be examined at the importer's premises. These portions without commercial value may be disposed of in accordance with the provisions of § 158.11(b) of this chapter, and the balance shall be entered for consumption or transported in bond under an entry for immediate transportation without appraisement or under an entry for transportation and exportation.

(c) Agency of U.S. Government. Merchandise may be released under the immediate delivery procedure if the shipment is consigned to or for the account of any agency or office of the United States Government, or to an officer or official of any such agency in his official capacity, as provided in § 10.101 of this chapter.

(d) Articles of a trade fair. Articles for a trade fair may be released under the immediate delivery procedure, as provided in § 147.13 of this chapter.

(e) Quota-class merchandise.—(1) Tariff-rate. At the discretion of the district director, merchandise subject to a tariff-rate quota may be released under a special permit for immediate delivery provided the importer has on file one of the type of bonds enumerated in § 142.4. An entry summary, with estimated duties attached, shall be presented within the time specified in § 142.23, or within the quota period, whichever expires first. If the entry summary, with estimated duties attached, is presented after the tariff rate quota is filled, the merchandise shall not be entitled to the quota rate of duty, and the importer shall deposit duties at the over-quota rate.

(2) Absolute. At the discretion of the district director, perishable merchandise of a class approved by Headquarters which is subject to an absolute quota may be released under a special permit for immediate delivery for removal to the importer's premises, or to any other location approved by the district director, until an entry summary, with estimated duties attached, is presented. An entry summary, with estimated duties attached, shall be presented for merchandise so released within the time specified in § 142.23, or within the quota period, whichever expires first. If the absolute quota is filled before the importer has presented an entry summary, with estimated duties attached, he either may present an entry summary for warehouse or, under Customs supervision, export or destroy the merchandise.

(f) Release from warehouse followed by warehouse withdrawal for consumptiion. Merchandise may be released from warehouse under a special permit—

(1) At the discretion of the district director when

(i) The warehouse is located a considerable distance from the customhouse and actual release of the merchandise from the warehouse may not be effected within the next full business day after the day of the payment of duty, and

(ii) The district has sufficient manpower to permit such practice;

(2) The importer shall have on file one of the types of Customs bonds provided for in § 142.4; and

(3) The immediate delivery permit shall be annotated to state that a warehouse withdrawal for consumption will be filed for this merchandise. [TD 81-260.]

(g) When authorized by Headquarters. Headquarters may authorize the release of merchandise under the immediate delivery procedure in circumstances other than those described in paragraphs (a), (b), (c), (d), (e), and (f) of this section provided an appropriate bond is on file.

[1] May be executed by the secretary, assistant secretary, or other officer of the corporation.

§ 142.22 Application for special permit for immediate delivery.

(a) Form. An application for a special permit for immediate delivery shall be made on Customs Form 3461 supported by the documentation provided for in § 142.3, except that a commercial invoice shall not be required. Instead of a commercial invoice, the importer may deliver to Customs a pro forma invoice, waybill, or other document setting forth an adequate description of the merchandise and the quantities, together with the values or approximate values when values are needed for the purpose of examination. If the merchandise is to be released under a term special permit, the documentation also shall show the term special permit number, as provided for in § 142.24.

(b) Customs custody. Merchandise for which a special permit for immediate delivery has been issued under § 142.21 of this part shall be considered to remain in Customs custody until the filing of one of the following:

(1) An entry summary for consumption, with estimated duties attached, an entry summary for warehouse, or an entry summary for entry under a temporary importation bond, which may be filed in any of the circumstances under § 142.21 of this part except for merchandise released from warehouse under § 142.21(f) of this part;

(2) A withdrawal for consumption, with estimated duties attached, which shall be filed only for merchandise released from warehouse under § 142.21(f) of this part;

(3) An entry for transportation and exportation, immediate transportation without appraisement, or direct exportation, which shall be filed in those circumstances under § 142.21(b) and (e)(2) of this part; or entry for transportation and exportation, or direct exportation, which shall be filed in the circumstances under § 142.28 of this part or

(4) An application to destroy, which shall be filed in those circumstances under § § 142.21(b) and (e)(2), and § 142.28 of this part. [TD 81-260.]

§ 142.23 Time limit for filing documentation after release.

The applicable documentation described in § 142.22(b) shall be filed, and estimated duties, if any, shall be deposited, within 10 working days after the merchandise or any part of the merchandise is authorized for release under a special permit for immediate delivery or, for quota class merchandise, within the quota period, whichever expires first.

(a) Conditions for issuance. At the discretion of the district director, a term special permit for immediate delivery may be issued on Customs Form 3461, appropriately modified, for a class or classes of merchandise particularly described in the application for the permit, to be imported during a period not to exceed 1 year from the date of the permit.

(b) Notation of value for each shipment. When applying for the release of a shipment of merchandise under a term special permit for immediate delivery, the importer shall note a value for the shipment on the documentation presented. The value so noted shall not be less than the invoice value.

(a) Authority of district director. The district director may discontinue immediate delivery privileges if the importer:

(1) Has failed repeatedly to file the applicable Customs documentation set forth in § 142.22(b) timely without justification, or

(2) Has not taken prompt action to settle a claim for liquidation damages issued under § 142.27 for failure to file the application Customs documentation set forth in § 142.22(b) timely. "Prompt action" means that the importer, within the time specified in a claim for liquidated damages shall petition for relief or pay the amount claimed and, file the applicable documentation and deposit estimated duties, if any.

(3) Has repeatedly delivered documentation required by § 142.22(b) which is incomplete or which contains erroneous information.

(b) Authority of regional commissioner. The regional commissioner may discontinue immediate delivery privileges if the importer is substantially delinquent in the payment of Customs bills. See § 142.26.

(c) Brokers; restriction. A broker shall not circumvent an action taken under this section by applying for the immediate release of the importer's merchandise in the broker's name and under the broker's bond.

The following procedures shall be followed if an importer is substantially or habitually delinquent in the payment of Customs bills: [TD 76-78.]

(a) Notice. The importer shall be advised in writing by the regional commissioner of Customs for the region in which he is substantially or habitually delinquent that his immediate delivery privileges have been suspended in that region. The notice shall state the reason for the action and advise the importer that if payment of all his deliquent Customs bills is not made within 10 working days from the date of the notice, the importer's immediate delivery privileges also shall be suspended in all Customs regions. [TD 76-78.]

(b) Reinstatement of privileges by region. If the importer pays all his delinquent Customs bills within 10 working days after the date of the notice, the suspension shall be removed, and the importer's immediate delivery privileges shall be reinstated. [TD 76-78.]

(c) Reinstatement of privileges by Headquarters. If the importer has not paid all his delinquent Customs bills within 10 working days after the date of the notice, his immediate delivery privileges shall be suspended in all Customs regions. This suspension shall remain in effect in each port of entry until notification is received from Headquarters that the suspension is removed and that the importer's immediate delivery privileges have been reinstated. [TD 76-78.]

§ 142.27 Failure to file documentation timely.

If the applicable Customs documentation set forth in § 142.22(b) is not filed within the time provided in § 142.23, the district director shall make an immediate demand for liquidated damages in the amount of the bond in the case of a single entry bond. When the transaction has been charged against a term bond, the demand shall be for the amount that would have been demanded if the merchandise had been released under a single entry bond. Any application for cancellation of liquidated damages incurred shall be made in accordance with Part 172 of this chapter.

§ 142.28 Withdrawal or entry summary not required for prohibited merchandise.

(a) Exportation or destruction of prohibited merchandise. If the merchandise released under a special permit for immediate delivery later is found to be prohibited, the district director shall demand its recall in accordance with § 141.113 of this chapter (applicable to the recall of merchandise released from Customs custody), and withdrawal or entry summary documentation and the deposit of estimated duties, if any, shall not be required provided:

(1) the merchandise is exported or destroyed under Customs supervision within the time limit for entry specified in § 142.23, or

(2) An entry for exportation or for transportation and exportation on Customs from 7512, or an application to destroy the merchandise, is made within the specified time limit, and the exportation or destruction is accomplished promptly.

(b) Procedures for exportation or destruction. The exportation or destruction of prohibited merchandise required by paragraph (a) of this section shall be under the same procedures as exportation or destruction of prohibited merchandise covered by a consumption entry with remission or refund of duties. See §§ 158.41 and 158.45(c) of this chapter.

(c) Notation on exportation entry. An entry for exportation or for transportation and exportation of prohibited merchandise for which no entry summary for consumption has been filed shall be stamped or imprinted conspicuously with the legend:

Prohibited Merchandise, No Other Entry Filed

§ 142.29 Other procedures applicable.

Merchandise released under a special permit for immediate delivery shall be subject to the same procedures applicable to all other imported merchandise, unless specific procedures are set forth in this subpart.

This part sets forth requirements and procedures for the clearance of imported merchandise under consumption, appraisement, and informal entries, which are in addition to the general requirements and procedures for all entries set forth in Part 141 of this chapter. More specific requirements and procedures are set forth elsewhere in this chapter; for example, in Part 145 for importations by mail, and in Part 10 for merchandise conditionally free of duty or subject to a reduced rate. [TD 73-175.]

Subpart A—Consumption Entry

[Reserved]

Subpart B—Appraisement Entry

§ 143.11 Merchandise eligible for appraisement entry.

(a) Without Commissioner's approval. An application for entry by appraisement may be approved by the district director without securing the approval of the Commissioner of Customs for any of the following merchandise:

(1) Merchandise damaged on the voyage of importation, by fire or through marine casualty or any other cause, without fault on the part of the shipper;

(2) Merchandise recovered from a wrecked or stranded vessel;

(3) Household effects used abroad and personal effects, not imported in pursuance of a purchase or agreement for purchase and not intended for sale;

(4) Articles sent by persons in foreign countries as gifts to persons in the United States;

(5) Tools of trade of a person arriving in the United States;

(6) Personal effects of citizens of the United States who have died in a foreign country; and

(7) Any of the following articles, which are deemed in accordance with section 498(a)(10), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1498(a)(10)), to be articles the value of which cannot be declared:

(i) Articles which are secondhand;

(ii) Articles which have become deteriorated or damaged before importation otherwise than as specified in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph;

(iii) Articles which are not the subject of a commercial transaction; and

(iv) So-called overages or dock accumulations which cannot be identified with any particular shipment.

(b) With Commissioner's approval. Entry by appraisement for merchandise not provided for in paragraph (a) of this section shall be allowed only with the approval of the Commissioner of Customs. Each request for such approval shall be filed in triplicate with the district director and shall state in detail the reasons for the request for entry by appraisement.

(c) Merchandise not eligible. An application for an entry by appraisement shall not be approved after the merchandise has been appraised or released from Customs custody, nor for damaged merchandise when the damage occurs after importation.

Application for an entry by appraisement shall be made in triplicate on Customs Form 7500.

§ 143.13 Documents to be presented with entry.

The importer shall in all cases present:

(a) Any bills or statements of cost relating to the merchandise which may be in his possession; and

(b) A declaration that he has no other information as to the value of the articles and is unable to obtain such information or to determine the value of the articles for the purpose of making formal entry thereof.

§ 143.14 Payment of additional expenses.

Any additional expenses for cartage, storage, or labor occasioned by reason of an entry by appraisement shall be borne by the importer.

§ 143.15 Deposit of estimated duties and taxes.

Estimated duties shall be deposited in accordance with subpart G of Part 141 of this chapter before the merchandise is released from Customs custody.

§ 143.16 Substitution of warehouse entry.

The importer may substitute an entry for warehouse at any time within 1 year from the date of importation, provided the merchandise has remained in continuous Customs custody.

Subpart C—Informal Entry

§ 143.21 Merchandise eligible for informal entry.

The following types of merchandise are among those which may be entered under informal entry:

(a) Shipments of merchandise not exceeding $250 in value;

(b) Any installment, not exceeding $250 in value, of a shipment arriving at different times, as described in § 141.82 of this chapter;

(c) A portion of one consignment, when such portion does not exceed $250 in value and may be entered separately pursuant to § 141.51 of this chapter;

(d) Household or personal effects or tools of trade entitled to free entry under schedule 8, part 2A, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202);

(e) Household effects used abroad and personal effects whether or not entitled to free entry, not imported in pursuance of a purchase or agreement for purchase and not intended for sale;

(f) Household and personal effects described in paragraph (e) of this section when entered under item 806.20, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), and the value of the repairs and alterations thereto does not exceed $250;

(g) Personal effects not exceeding $250 in value of citizens of the United States who have died abroad;

o (h) Books and other articles classifiable under item 270.25, 273.10, 273.35, 765.03, 850.10, or 851.10, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), imported by a library or other institution described in item 850.10 or 851.10, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202); [TD 76-145.]

o (i) Theatrical scenery, properties, and effects, motion-picture films, commercial travelers' samples and professional books, implements, instruments, and tools of trade, occupation, or employment, as set forth in § 10.68 of this chapter, and

o (j) Merchandise which, upon written application to the Commissioner of Customs, is determined to be so unique in character or design that the value thereof cannot be declared and which is not intended for sale or imported in pursuance of a purchase or agreement for purchase. [TD 75-41, 40 FR 6646, February 13, 1975, 75-241, 82-116.]

§ 143.22 Formal entry may be required.

The district director may require a formal consumption or appraisement entry for any merchandise if he deems it necessary for the protection of the revenue. Individual shipments for the same consignee, when such shipments are valued at $250 or less, may be consolidated on one such entry.

Except for the types of merchandise listed below which may be entered on the forms indicated, merchandise to be entered informally shall be entered on a Customs Form 5119–A, or, if authorized by the district director, upon the presentation of a commercial invoice which contains the following declaration, signed by the importer or his agent: [TD 75-105.]

> I declare that the information on this invoice is accurate to the best of my knowledge and belief; that the invoice quantities are true and correct manifest quantities; and that I have not received and do not know of any invoice other than this one.

(a) Articles in passengers' baggage which may be cleared on a baggage declaration in accordance with subpart B of Part 148 of this chapter;

(b) Products of the United States being returned for which clearance on Customs Form 3311 is prescribed by § 10.1 of this chapter;

(c) Personal effects and tools of trade for which clearance on Customs Form 3299 is prescribed by § 148.6 of this chapter; and

(d) Shipments not exceeding $250 in value which are either (1) unconditionally free of duty and not subject to any quota or internal revenue tax, or (2) conditionally free (other than shipments of merchandise provided for in paragraph (g) of this section) and all conditions for free entry are met at the time of entry, which may be released upon the filing by the importer on Customs Form 7523, in duplicate, supported by evidence of the right to make entry. [TD 80-10.]

(e) Merchandise for which informal entry can be made on a different form as prescribed elsewhere in this chapter.

(f) Merchandise released under the immediate delivery procedure or the entry documentation required by section 142.3(a), and entry is made on Customs form 7501, annotated "Informal entry" in the upper right hand corner. [TDs 76-213, 79-221.]

(g) Merchandise, regardless of value, which is imported for noncommercial purposes, which qualifies for entry free of duty under the Generalized System of Preferences (see § 10.171–10.178 of this chapter), and for which informal entry may be made on Customs Form 7523, in duplicate. [TD 80-10.]

§ 143.24 Preparation of Customs Form 5119–A and Customs Form 7501.

(a) Customs Form 5119–A. The nonserially-numbered Customs Form 5119–A may be prepared by importers or their agents or by Customs officers when it can be presented to a Customs cashier or acting cashier for payment of duties and taxes and for numbering of the entry before the merchandise is examined by a Customs officer. Where there is no Customs cashier or acting cashier, serially-numbered forms must be used, and they shall be prepared by a Customs officer unless such forms can be prepared under his control by the importers or their agents for immediate use in clearing merchandise under the informal entry procedure. The conditions for the preparation of non-serially-numbered Customs Form 5119–A by importers or their agents, as described in the first sentence of this section, do not apply to the acceptance of these entries for shipments not exceeding $250 in value released under a special permit for immediate delivery in accordance with Part 142 of this chapter. [TD 76-213.]

Each Customs Form 5119–A or, where used, Customs Form 7501 shall contain an adequate description of the merchandise and the item number of the Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), under which the merchandise is classified. [TD 76-213.]

No special Customs invoice is required for merchandise entered informally but, in the case of merchandise imported pursuant to a purchase or agreement to purchase or intended for sale, the importer shall produce the commercial invoice covering the transaction or, in the absence thereof, an itemized statement of value.

§ 143.28 Deposit of duties and release of merchandise.

The estimated duties and taxes, if any, shall be deposited at the time the entry is presented and accepted by a Customs officer, whether at the customhouse or elsewhere. If upon examination of the merchandise further duties or taxes are found due, they shall be deposited before release of the merchandise by Customs. When the entry is presented elsewhere than where the merchandise is to be examined, the permit copy shall be delivered through proper channels to the Customs officer who will examine the merchandise.

This part contains regulations pertaining to the entry and withdrawal of merchandise under the provisions of section 557, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1557), which among other things provides that articles subject to duty may be entered for warehousing and deposited in a bonded warehouse at the expense and risk of the owner, importer, or consignee, and withdrawn from warehouse for consumption upon payment of duties and charges. The requirements and procedures set forth in this part are in addition to the general requirements and procedures for all entries set forth in Part 141 of this chapter. Regulations pertaining to manipulation in warehouse, manufacturing warehouses, and smelting and refining warehouses are set forth in Part 19 of this chapter. [TD 73-175.]

§ 144.1 Merchandise eligible for warehousing.

(a) Types of merchandise. Any merchandise may be entered for warehousing except for perishable merchandise, explosive substances (other than firecrackers), and unconditionally free merchandise. Dangerous and highly flammable merchandise, though not classified as explosive, shall not be entered for warehouse without the written consent of the insurance company insuring the warehouse in which the merchandise is to be stored.

(b) Conditionally free merchandise. Conditionally free merchandise, for which the right to free entry has not been established because of the absence of required documents or other cause, may be entered for warehouse and be withdrawn under the appropriate provision of law within the warehousing period.

(c) Merchandise previously entered. If merchandise has been entered under other than a warehouse entry and has remained in continuous Customs custody, a warehouse entry may be substituted for the previous entry. If estimated duties were deposited with the superseded previous entry, that entry shall be liquidated for refund of the estimated duties without awaiting liquidation of the warehouse entry. All copies of the warehouse entry shall bear the following notation: This entry is in substitution of ______________ entry No. ________, dated ______________.

The importer of merchandise entered for warehouse is liable for the payment of all unpaid duties not only as principal on the entry bond, but also by reason of his personal liability as consignee. Under the conditions of the warehouse entry bond, the sureties on the bond shall be held liable for the payment of duties and Customs charges not paid by the principal on the bond, whether such duties and charges are finally ascertained before the merchandise is withdrawn from Customs custody or thereafter. Liability may be transferred in part along with the right to withdraw the merchandise, in accordance with Subpart C of this part.

No abatement or allowance of duties shall be made on account of damage, loss, or deterioration of the merchandise while in warehouse, except as provided for by law (see Part 158 of this chapter). (Sec. 563, 46 Stat. 746, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1563)

§ 144.4 Allowance for abandoned, destroyed, or exported merchandise.

Allowance in duties shall be made for merchandise in warehouse which is abandoned or destroyed in accordance with § 158.43 of this chapter or exported in accordance with § 144.37.

§ 144.5 Period of warehousing.

(a) Generally.—Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, merchandise shall not remain in a bonded warehouse beyond 5 years from the date of importation.

(b) Exception.—For merchandise remaining in a bonded warehouse on October 3, 1978, the date of enactment of Public Law 95-410 (92 Stat. 888), any period of time the merchandise was in a bonded warehouse before that date shall be disregarded and the 5-year period shall commence on that date. [TD 79-221.]

§ 144.7 Disposition of merchandise after expiration of warehousing period.

Merchandise remaining in a bonded warehouse after the expiration of the warehousing period shall be disposed of in accordance with section 127.14 of this chapter. [TDs 78-199, 79-221.]

(a) Entry.—The documentation required by section 142.3 of this chapter shall be filed at the time of entry. If the warehouse entry summary, Customs form 7502, is filed at time of entry, it shall serve as both the entry and the entry summary, and Customs forms 3461 or 7533 shall not be required. If the warehouse entry summary is not filed at the time of entry, it shall be filed within the time limit prescribed by section 142.12 of this chapter. If merchandise is released before the filing of the warehouse entry summary, the importer shall have a bond on file, as prescribed by section 142.4 of this chapter. [TDs 73-312, 76-82, 79-221.]

(b) Customs form 7502.—The entry summary for merchandise entered for warehouse shall be executed in triplicate on the Warehouse or Rewarehouse Entry, Customs form 7502, appropriately modified, and shall include all of the statistical information required by section 141.61(e) of this chapter. The district director may require an extra copy or copies of the Warehouse or Rewarehouse Permit, Customs form 7502-A, for use in connection with delivery of the merchandise to the bonded warehouse. [TD 79-221.]

(c) Designation of warehouse.—The importer shall designate on the warehouse entry summary, Customs form 7502, the bonded warehouse in which he desires his merchandise deposited and the bonded cartman or lighterman by whom he wishes the goods transferred. [TD 79-221.]

(d) Specification list.—When packages which are not uniform in contents, quantities, values, or rates of duties are grouped together as one item on an entry summary, a specification list (original only) shall be furnished with the entry summary, showing separately opposite the marks or numbers of each package, the quantity of each class of merchandise, the entered value of each class, and the rates of duty claimed for each. However, a specification list is not needed if one withdrawal is to be filed for all the merchandise covered by the entry summary. [TD 79-221.]

§ 144.12 Contents of entry summary; estimated duties.

The entry summary, Customs form 7502, shall show the value, classification, and rate of duty as approved by the district director at the time the entry summary is filed. However, no deposit of estimated duties shall be required until the merchandise is withdrawn for consumption. [TD 79-221.]

§ 144.13 Bond requirements.

(a) Entry summary not filed at time of entry.—A bond on Customs form 7551, 7553, or 7595 shall be required when the entry documentation is filed if the entry summary documentation is not filed at that time. When the entry summary is filed thereafter, as prescribed in section 142.13 of this chapter, a bond on Customs form 7555 or 7595 shall be required if a bond on Customs form 7551 or 7553 is on file in support of the entry documentation. If a bond on Customs form 7595 is on file in support of the entry documentation, that bond shall be sufficient to support the entry summary. [TD 79-221.]

(b) Entry summary filed at time of entry.—If the entry summary is filed at time of entry, the entry summary shall serve as both the entry and the entry summary, and a bond on Customs form 7555 or 7595 shall be required. (Sec. 623, 46 Stat. 759, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1623) [TD 79-221.]

§ 144.14 Removal to warehouse.

When the entry summary, Customs form 7502, and the appropriate bond have been filed, the merchandise shall be sent to the bonded warehouse, except for:

(a) Merchandise for which an immediate dock withdrawal is filed, or [TD 79-221.]

§ 144.15 Entry and withdrawal from Customs bonded warehouses of distilled spirits.

(a) Distilled spirits entered in warehouse under section 5066(a), Internal Revenue Code—(1) General rule. Except as otherwise provided in this section, distilled spirits entered into Customs bonded warehouse in accordance with section 5066(a), Internal Revenue Code, as amended (26 U.S.C. 5066(a)), shall be treated in the same manner as any other merchandise entered for warehouse. [TD 78-298.]

(2) Withdrawal from warehouse for domestic consumption. Distilled spirits entered in warehouse under this paragraph may be withdrawn from warehouse for domestic consumption under section 5066(c), Internal Revenue Code, as amended (26 U.S.C. 5066(c)). In this case, the distilled spirits shall be subject to duty as American goods exported and returned under item 804.20, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202).

(3) [Deleted]. [TD 78-298]

(b) Distilled spirits transferred from a manufacturing warehouse to a storage warehouse under section 311, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended—(1) Prohibition on withdrawal from warehouse for domestic consumption. Domestic distilled spirits which have been transferred from a Customs bonded manufacturing warehouse, Class 6, to a Customs bonded storage warehouse, Class 2 , in accordance with section 311, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1311), may not be withdrawn under section 5066(c) of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended (26 U.S.C. 5066(c)), for domestic consumption. [TD 80-271.]

(2) Procedure governing transfer of distilled spirits from manufacturing warehouse to storage warehouse. For procedure concerning the transfer of such distilled spirits from Customs bonded manufacturing warehouse, Class 6, to Customs bonded storage warehouse, see § 19.15(g)(2) of this chapter.

(c) Distilled spirits entered under section 5214(a)(9), Internal Revenue Code—(1) General rule. Distilled spirits may be entered into a Customs bonded storage warehouse under section 5214(a)(9), Internal Revenue Code, as amended (26 U.S.C. 5214(a)(9)), in the same manner as any other merchandise is entered for warehouse, unless otherwise provided in this section.

(2) Withdrawal only for exportation. Distilled spirits warehoused under section 5214(a)(9), Internal Revenue Code, may be withdrawn only for the purpose of exportation, either directly or after rewarehousing at the same or another port. The distilled spirits may not be withdrawn for domestic consumption.

(d) Modification of warehouse entry bond. The recital clause of the warehouse entry bond, Customs Form 7555, the general term bond, Customs Form 7595, or other appropriate bond form, shall be modified prior to its approval by the addition of the following condition: "Or, if said articles shall be withdrawn in accordance with section 5066(b), 5066(c), or 5214(a)(9), Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended (26 U.S.C. 5066(b), 5066(c), or 5214(a)(9)), there shall be compliance with these and all other applicable statutes and regulations, or in default thereof, if the obligors shall pay to the appropriate Customs officer as liquidated damages an amount equal to the aggregate sum of double the duties plus the internal revenue tax assessable on the merchandise not so withdrawn." [TD 78-298]

Under the provisions of section 557(b) Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1557(b)), the right to withdraw all or part of merchandise entered for warehouse may be transferred by appropriate endorsement on the withdrawal form, provided that the transferee files an appropriate bond. Upon the deposit of the endorsed form, properly executed, and the transferee's bond with the Customs officer designated to receive such form and bond, the transferor and his sureties shall be relieved from all undischarged liability for the payment of Customs duties and taxes, charges, and exactions with respect to the merchandise transferred, but shall remain bound by all other obligations of their bond which are not assumed in the bond filed by the transferee.

Transfer of the right to withdraw merchandise entered for warehouse shall be established by an appropriate endorsement on the withdrawal form by the person primarily liable for payment of duties before the transfer is completed, i.e., the person who made the warehouse or rewarehouse entry or a transferee of the withdrawal right of such person. Endorsement shall be made on whichever of the following withdrawal forms is applicable:

(a) Customs Form 7506 for merchandise to be withdrawn as vessel or aircraft supplies and equipment under § 10.60(b) of this chapter;

(b) Customs Form 7512 for merchandise to be withdrawn for transportation in accordance with § 144.36; or

(c) Customs Form 7505 for all other merchandise.

If the transferor wishes to do so, he may endorse the withdrawal form to authorize the right to withdraw the merchandise specified thereon but leave the space for the name of the transferee blank. A holder of a withdrawal form so endorsed and otherwise fully executed may insert his own name in the blank space, deposit such form and his transferee's bond with the Customs officer designated to receive such form and bond, and thereby establish his right to withdraw the merchandise.

A transferee's bond shall be on Customs Forms 7555, 7595, or other appropriate form, and shall include an obligation to pay, with respect to the merchandise the subject of the transfer, all unpaid regular, increased, and additional duties, all unpaid taxes imposed upon or by reason of importation, and all unpaid charges and exactions.

§ 144.25 Deposit of forms.

Either the transferor or the transferee may deposit the endorsed withdrawal form and transferee's bond with the Customs officer designated to receive such form and bond.

§ 144.26 Further transfer.

The right of a transferee to withdraw the merchandise may not be revoked by the transferor but may be retransferred by the transferee.

§ 144.27 Withdrawal from warehouse by transferee.

At any time within the warehousing period, a transferee who has established his right to withdraw merchandise may withdraw all or part of the merchandise covered by the transfer by filing any authorized kind of withdrawal from warehouse in accordance with subpart D of this part.

(a) Entries on or after January 12, 1971. A transferee of merchandise entered for warehouse on or after January 12, 1971, shall have the right to file a protest under section 514, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1514), to the same extent that such right would have been available to the transferor.

(b) Entries prior to January 12, 1971. A transferee of merchandise entered for warehouse prior to January 12, 1971, shall have no right to file a protest, except under the conditions set forth in section 557(b), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1557(b)), prior to the amendments made thereto by Public Law 91-685, effective January 12, 1971 (T. D. 71-55).

Withdrawals from bonded warehouse may be made only by the person primarily liable for the payment of duties on the merchandise being withdrawn, i.e., the importer of record on the warehouse entry, the actual owner if an actual owner's declaration and superseding bond have been filed in accordance with § 141.20 of this chapter, or the transferee if the right to withdraw the merchandise has been transferred in accordance with subpart C of this part. No new declaration of the consignee or agent is required.

§ 144.32 Statement of quantity.

(a) On each withdrawal. Each withdrawal filed shall have indicated thereon, preferably in the lower part of the left-hand margin if there is no space designated on the form for such information, a summary statement of the account to which it is related. The statement shall indicate: (1) The quantity (i.e., the number of outer containers, or tons, etc.) in the warehouse account before the withdrawal; (2) the quantity being withdrawn; and (3) the quantity remaining in warehouse after the withdrawal. The quantity in each instance may be shown as a cumulative total event though it may include a group of varied units such as boxes, cases, or cartons, and may consist of more than one commodity, such as distilled spirits, chinaware, etc.

(b) Transferred merchandise. When all or a portion of an original lot has been transferred to a new owner in accordance with subpart C of this part, each withdrawal by the transferee shall show only the quantity on hand in the transferee's name before the withdrawal, the quantity being withdrawn by the transferee, and the transferred quantity remaining in the warehouse after the withdrawal. The quantity retained by the original importer and the quantity transferred shall be treated as separate accounts.

Unless by special authority of the Commissioner of Customs, merchandise shall not be withdrawn from bonded warehouse in quantities less than an entire bale, cask, box, or other package, or, if in bulk, in quantities less than 1 ton in weight or the entire quantity imported, whichever is smaller. (Sec. 562, 46 Stat. 745, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1562)

§ 144.34 Transfer to another warehouse.

(a) At the same port. With the concurrence of the proprietors of the delivering and receiving warehouses, merchandise may be transferred from one bonded warehouse to another at the same port under Customs supervision and at the expense of the importer upon his written request to the district director, who shall issue an order for such transfer on Customs Form 6043. All charges shall be paid before merchandise is transferred from a warehouse of class 1 (see § 19.1 of this chapter for classes of warehouses).

(b) At another port. Merchandise may be transferred to a warehouse which is under the jurisdiction of another port by withdrawing the merchandise for transportation in accordance with § 144.36 and entering it for rewarehouse in accordance with § 144.41 upon arrival at destination. All charges shall be paid before merchandise is transferred from the warehouse of class 1 (see § 19.1 of this chapter for classes of warehouses).

Supplies and equipment for vessels and aircraft may be withdrawn from warehouse under the procedures set forth in this subpart and in § § 10.59 through 10.65 of this chapter.

§ 144.36 Withdrawal for transportation.

(a) Time limit. Merchandise may be withdrawn from warehouse for transportation to another port of entry if withdrawal for consumption or exportation can be accomplished at the port of destination before the expiration of the warehousing period, including any lawful extension thereof.

(b) Physical deposit in warehouse not needed. All or any part of the merchandise covered by an entry summary, Customs form 7502, may be withdrawn for transportation without deposit in a bonded warehouse and may be permitted to remain on the vessel or other vehicle or on the pier in a constructive warehouse status pending examination. When any such merchandise not deposited in a warehouse is not forwarded under the withdrawal for transportation on account of damage or other cause, the importer shall be required to withdraw such merchandise immediately for consumption or exportation, or designate a warehouse to which it may be sent and, upon his failure to do so, it shall be treated as unclaimed.

(c) Form. A withdrawal for transportation shall be filed on Customs Form 7512 in five copies, accompanied by Customs Form 7512-C in duplicate. An extra copy or copies of the Customs Form 7512 may be required for use in connection with the delivery of the merchandise to the bonded carrier and, in the case of alcoholic beverages, two extra copies shall be required for use in furnishing the duty statement to the district director at destination.

(d) Information required. In addition to the statement of quantity required by § 144.32, the Customs Form 7512 shall show the following information for the merchandise being withdrawn:

(1) The original entry number, date of entry, date of entry summary, and port at which filed; [TD 79-221.]

(2) The name of the consignee at the port of destination; [TD 79-221.]

(3) Any ascertained weight, gauge, or measure; [TD 79-221.]

(4) The entered value of the merchandise; [TDs 73-312, 79-221.]

(5) Estimated duties, if any; [TDs 713-312, 79-221.]

(6) A statement that the merchandise is or is not admissible for consumption and the reason for non-admissibility, if applicable; and [TDs 73-312, 79-221.]

(7) The statistical information required by section 141.61(e) of this chapter. [TD 79-221.]

When the withdrawal is made after the merchandise has been rewarehoused, the rewarehouse entry number, date, and port at which filed also shall be shown. [TD 79-221.]

(e) Duty on samples withdrawn. The duty on any samples withdrawn at the original port from a shipment covered by a withdrawal for transportation shall be collected at such port and a notation thereof made on the withdrawal form. No separate invoice or extract from the original invoice shall be required to cover such samples.

(f) Forwarding procedure. The merchandise shall be forwarded in accordance with the general provisions for transportation in bond (§ § 18.1–18.8 of this chapter).

(g) Procedure at destination. Upon arrival at destination, the merchandise may be:

(1) Entered for rewarehouse in accordance with § 144.41;

(2) Entered for combined rewarehouse and withdrawal for consumption in accordance with section 144.42;

(3) Exported in accordance with paragraph (h) of this section; or

(4) Forwarded to another port or returned to the port of origin in accordance with § 18.5 (c) or (d) of this chapter.

(h) Exportation. A consignee of merchandise withdrawn for transportation who desires to export the merchandise upon arrival at destination shall so advise the district director at destination in writing. The district director shall then permit the exportation of the merchandise under Customs supervision in the same manner as a withdrawal for indirect exportation under § 144.37.

(a) Form. A withdrawal for either direct or indirect exportation shall be filed on Customs Form 7512 (Transportation Entry and Manifest of Goods Subject to Customs Inspection and Permit) in 5 copies or on Customs Form 7506 (Warehouse Withdrawal Conditionally Free of Duty, and Permit) in 3 copies for merchandise being exported under cover of a TIR carnet, accompanied by Customs Form 7512-C (Transportation Entry and Manifest of Goods) in duplicate. Customs Form 7512 or Customs Form 7506 shall contain all of the statistical information as provided in § 141.61(e) of this chapter. The district director may require an extra copy or copies of Customs Form 7512 or 7506 for use in connection with the delivery of merchandise to the carrier. [TD 73-312.]

(b) Procedure for indirect exportation.

(1) Forwarding. Merchandise withdrawn for indirect exportation (transportation and exportation) shall be forwarded to the port of exportation in accordance with the general provisions for transportation in bond (§ § 18.1–18.8 of this chapter).

(2) Splitting of shipments. If any part of a shipment is not exported or if a shipment is divided at the port of exportation, extracts in duplicate from the manifest on file in the customhouse shall be made on Customs Form 7512 for each portion, one copy to be sent to the discharging inspector and the other to the lading inspector to be used as report of exportation. The splitting up for exportation of shipments arriving under warehouse withdrawals for indirect exportation shall be permitted only when various portions of a shipment are destined to different destinations, when the export vessel cannot properly accommodate the entire quantity, or in other similar circumstances. In the case of merchandise moving under cover of a TIR carnet, if the merchandise is not to be exported or if the shipment is to be divided, appropriate entry shall be required and the carnet discharged. The provisions of § § 18.23 and 18.24 of this chapter concerning change of destination or retention of merchandise on the dock shall also be followed in applicable cases.

(3) Conversion to withdrawal for consumption. A withdrawal for indirect exportation may be converted to a withdrawal for consumption upon request to the district director at the port where the withdrawal for indirect exportation was made.

(c) Exportation by mail. Merchandise may be withdrawn from warehouse for exportation by mail in accordance with the provisions of Subpart F of Part 145 of this chapter.

(d) Marks on packages. The exportation shall be made under the original marks of importation. Port marks may be added by authority of the district director under Customs supervision. The original and port marks shall appear in all Customs papers pertaining to the exportation.

(e) Weight, gauge, or measure. Merchandise in bulk and packaged articles which are customarily bought and sold by weight, gauge, or measure may be withdrawn for exportation or transportation only at the actual quantities ascertained at the time of the original entry for warehouse, except as otherwise provided for by law. In any case, the district director may require a special report of weight, gauge, or measure of the merchandise being exported if he deems it necessary. [TD 80-142.]

(f) Merchandise not laden. Merchandise withdrawn for exportation but not laden shall be sent to general order unless other disposition is prescribed by the district director. (Sec. 562, 46 Stat. 745, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1562)

§ 144.38 Withdrawal for consumption.

(a) Form. Withdrawals for consumption of merchandise in bonded warehouses shall be filed on Customs Form 7505 (Warehouse Withdrawal for Consumption-Duty Paid), in triplicate, and shall contain all of the statistical information as provided in § 141.61(e) of this chapter. [TD 73-312.]

(b) [Reserved] [TD 78-329]

(c) Information to be shown on withdrawal. Each withdrawal shall show all information for which spaces are provided on the withdrawal form, and shall also show the separate value of each package and the total dutiable value of the merchandise being withdrawn. In the case of merchandise in packages which are uniform in kind, quantity, value, and duty, the number of each package to be withdrawn need not be shown on the withdrawal if the lowest and highest numbers in the number series of such packages are shown. In the case of merchandise subject to quota, or textiles and textile products subject to levels of restraint, the description shall reflect any correction thereof reported after the filing of the warehouse entry. Additionally, on each withdrawal of cigars, cigarettes, or cigarette papers or tubes subject to internal revenue tax, the statement for tax purposes required by § 275.81 of the regulations of the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, and Firearms (27 CFR 275.81) shall be made on the withdrawal form. [TD 78-329]

(d) Deposit of estimated duties. Estimated duties on the merchandise being withdrawn shall be deposited in accordance with subpart G of Part 141 of this chapter. The district director may increase or decrease the amount of estimated duties to be deposited on the final withdrawal to bring the aggregate amount of duties deposited into balance with the amount which he estimates will be finally due upon liquidation.

(e) Permit for release of merchandise. When the duties and other charges have been paid, a permit on Customs Form 7505-A shall be issued and delivered to the person making the warehouse withdrawal. When the permit is presented to the Customs warehouse officer, he shall release the merchandise to or upon the order of the warehouse proprietor in accordance with § 19.6 of this chapter, unless the person making the withdrawal requests, by endorsement on the permit, that release be withheld until he presents to the Customs warehouse officer an order to release on Customs Form 7505-B, or until the expiration of the warehouse bond period (see § 127.14(c) of this chapter). If partial release is desired, the order may cover only part of the merchandise specified in the permit, but not less than an entire package or, if in bulk, 1 ton in weight. Proprietors may be permitted to make copies of permits and orders to release. [TD 74-114.]

Subpart E—Rewarehouse Entries

(a) Applicability. When merchandise which has been withdrawn from warehouse for transportation to another port has arrived at the port of destination, it may be entered for rewarehouse by the consignee named in the withdrawal.

(b) Form of entry. An entry for rewarehouse shall be made in duplicate on Customs Form 7502 (Warehouse or Rewarehouse Entry) and shall contain all of the statistical information as provided in § 141.61(e) of this chapter. The district director may require an extra copy or copies of Customs Form 7502-A (Warehouse or Rewarehouse Permit) for use in connection with the delivery of the merchandise to the warehouse. No declaration is required on the entry. [TD 73-312.]

(c) Combining separate shipments. Separate shipments consigned to the same consignee and received under separate withdrawals for transportation shall not be combined in one rewarehouse entry unless the warehouse withdrawals are from the same original warehouse entry.

(d) Bond. A bond on Customs Form 7555 or other appropriate form shall be filed before a permit is issued on Customs Form 7502-A for sending the merchandise to the bonded warehouse. However, no entry bond shall be required if the merchandise is entered by the consignee named in the original warehouse entry bond filed at the original port of entry, or if it is entered by a transferee who has established his right to withdraw the merchandise and has filed a bond in accordance with subpart C of this part.

(e) Value and classification. The duties determined at the port where the original warehouse entry was filed shall be the duties chargeable under the rewarehouse entry, except in the cases provided for in § § 159.7 (a) and (b) of this chapter, which pertain to certain classes of merchandise excluded from the liquidation of the original warehouse entry and merchandise on which rates of duty or tax are changed by an act of Congress or by a proclamation by the President.

(f) Examination. Any examination necessary for identification of the merchandise, determination of shortages, or other purposes shall be made.

(g) Failure to enter. If the merchandise is not entered before the expiration of 5 days after its arrival, it shall be sent to the general order warehouse but shall not be sold or otherwise disposed of as unclaimed until the expiration of the original warehouse entry bond period.

(h) Protest. A protest may be filed at the port where the rewarehouse entry is made against a liquidation made at that port under § § 159.7 (a) or (b) of this chapter, or against a refusal of the district director of that port to liquidate pursuant to said sections. In all other cases, any protest shall be filed against the original warehouse entry.

(a) Applicability. If the consignee of merchandise withdrawn for transportation wishes to pay duty and obtain possession of the merchandise immediately upon arrival at destination, he may make a combined entry for rewarehouse and withdrawal for consumption.

(b) Procedure for entry. The procedures set forth in § 144.41 are applicable to this type of entry, with the following exceptions:

(1) Form of entry. A combined entry for rewarehouse and withdrawal for consumption shall be made on Customs Form 7519 (Combined Rewarehouse Entry and Withdrawal for Consumption, and Permit), in 4 copies, and shall contain all of the statistical information as provided in § 141.61(e) of this chapter, one copy to be used as the permit. No declaration is required on the entry; [TD 73-312.]

(2) Extra copy for Internal Revenue. An additional copy of Customs Form 7519, marked or stamped "For Internal Revenue Purposes," shall be presented for each entry of cigars, cigarettes, or cigarette papers or tubes, when the release from Customs custody of those articles is subject to Part 275 of the regulations of the Internal Revenue Service (26 CFR Part 275) and tax is payable to Customs; and

(3) Deposit of duties. Estimated Customs duties, taxes, and other charges, as set forth in subpart G of Part 141 of this chapter, shall be deposited upon presentation of the combined entry. The district director shall then issue a permit for release on Customs Form 7519.

The provisions of this part apply only to mail subject to Customs examination as set forth in this section 145.2. [TD 78-102.]

This part contains regulations pertaining specifically to the importation of merchandise through the mails but does not contain all the regulations applicable to mail importations. Importations by mail are subject to the same requirements and restrictions as importations by any other means, except where more specific procedures for mail importations are set forth in this part.

§ 145.1 Definitions.

(a) Mail article. "Mail article" means any posted parcel, packet, package, envelope, letter, aerogramme, box, card, or similar article or container, or any contents thereof, which is transmitted in mail subject to Customs examination. [TD 78-102]

(b) Letter class mail. "Letter class mail" means any mail article, including packages, post cards, and aerogrammes, mailed at the letter rate or equivalent class or category of postage.

(c) Sealed letter class mail. "Sealed letter class mail" means letter class mail sealed against postal inspection by the sender.

§ 145.2 Mail subject to Customs examination.

(a) Restrictions. Customs examination of mail as provided in paragraph (b) is subject to the restrictions and safeguards relating to the opening of letter class mail set forth in section 145.3. [TD 78-102]

(b) Generally. All mail arriving from outside the Customs territory of the United States which is to be delivered within the Customs territory of the United States and all mail arriving from outside the U.S. Virgin Islands which is to be delivered within the U.S. Virgin Islands, is subject to Customs examination, except—

(1) Mail known or believed to contain only official documents addressed to officials of the U.S. Government;

(2) Mail addressed to Ambassadors and Ministers (Chiefs of Diplomatic Missions) of foreign countries; and

(3) Letter class mail known or believed to contain only correspondence or documents addressed to diplomatic missions, consular posts, or the officers thereof, or to international organizations designated by the President as public international organizations pursuant to the International Organizations Act (see section 148.87(b) of this chapter). Mail, other than letter class mail, addressed to the designated international organization is subject to Customs examination except where the organization certifies under its official seal that the mail contains no dutiable or prohibited articles. Any Customs examination made shall, upon request of the addressee international organization, take place in the presence of an appropriate representative of that organization.

§ 145.3 Opening of letter class mail; reading of correspondence prohibited.

(a) Matter in addition to correspondence. Except as provided in paragraph (e), Customs officers and employees may open and examine sealed letter class mail subject to Customs examination which appears to contain matter in addition to, or other than, correspondence, provided they have a reasonable cause to suspect the presence of merchandise or contraband. [TD 78-102.]

(b) Only correspondence. No Customs officer or employee shall open sealed letter class mail which appears to contain only correspondence unless prior to the opening—

(1) A search warrant authorizing that action has been obtained from an appropriate judge or United States magistrate, or

(2) The sender or the addressee has given written authorization for the opening.

(c) Reading of correspondence. No Customs officer or employee shall read, or authorize or allow any other person to read, any correspondence contained in any letter class mail, whether or not sealed, unless prior to the reading—

(1) A search warrant authorizing that action has been obtained from an appropriate judge or United States magistrate, or

(2) The sender or the addressee has given written authorization for the reading.

(d) Other types of correspondence. The provisions of paragraph (c) shall also apply to correspondence between school children and correspondence of the blind which are authorized to be mailed at other than the letter rate of postage in international mail.

(e) Certain Virgin Islands mail. First class mail originating in the Customs territory of the United States and arriving in the U.S. Virgin Islands, which is to be delivered within the U.S. Virgin Islands, shall not be opened unless—

(1) A search warrant authorizing that action has been obtained from an appropriate judge or United States magistrate, or

(2) The sender or the addressee has given written authorization for the opening.

§ 145.4 Dutiable merchandise without declaration or invoice, prohibited merchandise, and merchandise imported contrary to law.

(a) Subject to seizure and forfeiture. When, upon Customs examination, a mail article from abroad is found to contain merchandise subject to duty or tax, and the package is not accompanied by an appropriate Customs declaration and invoice or statement of value required by § 145.11, or is found to contain material prohibited importation or imported contrary to law, the merchandise is subject to seizure and forfeiture. [TD 78-102.]

(b) Mitigation of forfeiture. Under the authority contained in section 618, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1618), any forfeiture of merchandise subject to duty or tax (other than material prohibited importation) so incurred is hereby mitigated to an amount equal to 10 percent of the loss of revenue which was or might have been sustained, provided there is no evidence indicating to the district director that failure to properly declare the merchandise was due to willful negligence or an intent to defraud the revenue. If there is any such evidence, or if for any other reason the district director believes that it would not be in the interest of the United States to grant this relief, the matter shall be reported to the Commissioner of Customs for instructions.

(c) Collection of mitigated forfeiture. When the shipment does not exceed $250 in value, Customs Form 3419 or 5119-A shall be used for the entry of the merchandise, and the duty, any tax, and the amount of the mitigated forfeiture shall be entered as separate items thereon. If a mail article for which a mail fine entry has been issued in accordance with this paragraph is undeliverable, it will be returned to the district director at the port where the entry was issued, for disposition in accordance with § 145.59 relating to articles subject to seizure. [TD 78-102.]

(d) Petition for relief. The addressee or sender may file a petition with the district director at the port where the mail fine entry was issued in accordance with part 171 of this chapter for relief from the forfeiture incurred and for release of the seized merchandise, or for additional relief from a mitigated forfeiture. (62 Stat. 716, as amended, sec. 618, 46 Stat. 757, as amended; 18 U.S.C. 545, 19 U.S.C. 1618.)

Mail articles which are refused or undeliverable, except mail articles for which a mail fine entry has been issued in accordance with § 145.4(c), will be marked by the postmaster to show why delivery was not made, and will be forwarded to the proper exchange post office for return to the country of origin. Mail entries will be removed from the mail articles and returned to Customs for cancellation. If, for any reason, an undeliverable mail article known or supposed to be dutiable is not returned to the country of origin or forwarded to another country in accordance with the Postal regulations, it will be delivered to Customs for disposition under the Customs laws and regulations governing seized or unclaimed merchandise. [TD 78-102]

Subpart B—Requirements and Procedures

§ 145.11 Declarations of value and invoices.

(a) Customs declaration. A clear and complete Customs declaration on the form provided by the foreign post office, giving a full and accurate description of the contents and value of the merchandise, shall be securely attached to at least one mail article of each shipment, including shipments of special classes of merchandise treated in subpart D of this part. Although a Customs declaration is required to be attached to only one mail article of each shipment, examination and release of the merchandise will be expedited if such a declaration is attached to each individual mail article. [TD 78-102.]

(b) Invoice or statement of commercial value. Each shipment of merchandise shall have an invoice or bill of sale (or, in the case of merchandise not purchased or consigned for sale, a statement of the fair retail value in the country of shipment), giving an accurate description and the purchase price of the merchandise, securely attached to the outside of the mail article, or enclosed therein. If the shipment consists of more than one mail article, a copy of the invoice should accompany each mail article, or else the invoice shall accompany the mail article bearing the declaration, and that mail article shall be marked "Invoice enclosed." [TD 76-103, 78-102.]

(c) Special Customs invoice. A special Customs invoice shall accompany a mail shipment when required by § 141.83 of this chapter. If a special Customs invoice accompanies the shipment, no other invoice or statement of value is required, although a Customs declaration is required in accordance with paragraph (a) of this section. [TDs 73-175, 76-103]

(d) Shipments without declaration and invoice. Shipment of merchandise which are not accompanied by a Customs declaration and invoice in accordance with paragraphs (a)-(c) of this section may be subject to seizure and forfeiture in accordance with § 145.4. (Secs. 481, 485, 498, 46 Stat. 719, 724, as amended, 728, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1481, 1485, 1498).

(a) Formal entries—(1) Discretionary. The district director may require formal entry of any mail shipment regardless of value if in his opinion it is necessary to protect the revenue.

(2) Required. Formal entry at the customhouse shall be required for every importation in the mails whixceeds $250 in value, except for special classes of merchandise which can be released without entry (see subpart D of this part), and except as provided in Subparts B and C of Part 143 and § 10.1 of this chapter. [TD 73-175]

(3) Separate shipments. Separate shipments not exceeding $250 in value, if mailed abroad at different times (as shown by the declaration or other mailing indicia), shall not be combined for the purpose of requiring formal entry, even though they reach Customs at the same time and are covered by a single order or contract in excess of $250, unless there was a splitting of shipments in order to avoid the payment of Customs duty.

(4) Notice of formal entry requirement. When a formal entry is required, the addressee shall be notified of the arrival of the shipment and of the place at which entry is to be made. If the shipment is addressed to a point which is not a Customs port or station, the port of entry specified in the notice shall be the port nearest the destination of the shipment. When a formal entry is filed, it shall contain all the statistical information as provided in § 141.61(e) of this chapter. [TD 73-312]

(b) Mail and informal entries—(1) Preparation of entry form. Except as provided in paragraphs (c) and (e) of this section, Customs officers shall prepare and attach a mail entry (Customs Form 3419) for each shipment not exceeding $250 in value which is to be delivered by the Postal Service, and return the shipment to the Postal Service for delivery and collection of duty. If the addressee has arranged to pick up such a shipment at the Customs office where it is being processed, the Customs officer shall prepare an informal entry (Customs Form 5119-A) and collect the duty in accordance with Subpart C of Part 143 of this chapter. [TD 73-175, 78-394]

(2) Rates of duty. Merchandise released under a mail or informal entry shall be dutiable at the rates of duty in effect when the preparation of the entry is completed by a Customs employee, ready for transmittal with the merchandise to the addressee.

(c) Dutiable shipments not over $250 for Government agencies. When a dutiable shipment not exceeding $250 in value is addressed to a U.S. Government department or agency, the district director may release the merchandise prior to the payment of duties under an entry on Customs Form 5119-A, upon the receipt of a stipulation in the form set forth in § 141.102(d) of this chapter. If the stipulation does not accompany the shipment, the district director shall notify the Government department or agency of the arrival of the shipment and request the stipulation. Upon receipt of the completed stipulation and preparation of the entry form, the district director shall stamp all mail articles in the shipment to show that they have received Customs treatment and shall return the shipment to the Postal Service for delivery, unless the addressee has arranged to pick up the shipment at the Customs office where it is being processed. The proper Government department or agency shall be billed later for any duties and taxes due. [TD 73-175]

(d) Release without entry. Certain types of merchandise may be passed free of duty without issuing an entry (see Subpart D of this part). (Secs. 315, 484, 498, 46 Stat. 695, as amended, 722, as amended, 728, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1315, 1484, 1498.) [TD 78-394]

(1) Mail entry to be attached.—If the requirements of section 148.115(a) of this chapter are met, Customs officers shall prepare and attach a mail entry, Customs Form 3419, for each shipment for which entry is claimed under item 869.10, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), which is to be delivered by the Postal Service, and return the shipment to the Postal Service for delivery and collection of duty. If the addressee has arranged to pick up the shipment at the Customs office where it is being processed, the Customs officer shall prepare an informal entry, Customs Form 5119-A, and collect the duty in accordance with subpart C of part 143 of this chapter if the requirements of section 148.115(a) of this chapter are met. [TD 78-394]

(2) Disposition of Customs Form 255.—The Declaration of Unaccompanied Articles, Customs Form 255, affixed to the shipment shall be removed by the Customs officer and retained for Customs purposes. If a mail entry, Customs Form 3419, has been prepared, the mail entry number shall be noted on the Customs Form 255.

(a) Method of collection. Any internal revenue tax assessed on a mail entry shall be shown as a separate item on the entry, and collected in the same manner as Customs duties.

(b) Release without payment of tax. A mail entry may not be used to release a shipment of cigars, cigarettes, or cigarette papers or tubes for a manufacturer without payment of tax as provided for in 27 CFR Part 275 and § 11.2a of this chapter. If a claim for release without payment of tax is made by the addressee at the time of delivery, the shipment will be returned by the Postal Service to the port of entry or sent to the nearest Customs office at which appropriate release as claimed may be arranged by the addressee. [TD 78-329]

§ 145.14 Marking requirements.

(a) Country of origin. Merchandise imported by mail shall be marked with the country of origin in accordance with part 134 of this chapter. If merchandise without the required marking is to be delivered from the post office where it has been given Customs examination, the Customs officer shall require compliance with the marking law and regulations. If it is to be delivered from another post office, the Customs officer shall place in the envelope containing the mail entry a copy of Customs Form 3475, containing instructions to the postmaster concerning the marking to be required before delivery.

(b) Other marking requirements. Certain types of merchandise are subject to special marking requirements, such as those contained in the Textile Fiber Products Identification Act, the Wool Products Labeling Act, and the Trademark Act. Since there is no provision for post office supervision of these types of marking, the district director shall require compliance with the law and regulations (see parts 11 and 133 of this chapter).

(c) Failure to mark. If the addressee fails to comply with the marking requirements, the package will be treated as undeliverable in accordance with § 145.5.

Subpart C—Administrative Review of Mail Entries

§ 145.21 Administrative review.

Requests for adjustment of the amount of duty assessed under mail entries shall be handled as requests for administrative review in accordance with this subpart.

If an addressee is dissatisfied with the amount of duty assessed under a mail entry, he may obtain administrative review in the following ways:

(a) He may pay the assessed duty, take delivery of the merchandise, and send a copy of the mail entry to the issuing Customs office indicated on the mail entry, together with a statement of the reason it is believed the duty assessed is incorrect. Any invoices, bills of sale, or other evidence should be submitted with the statement. The addressee may show the mail entry number and date on his statement instead of sending a copy of the mail entry, but this may result in delay since a copy of the entry will have to be obtained from the Regional Commissioner of Customs, New York, N.Y., before the entry can be amended.

(b) He may postpone acceptance of the shipment, and within the time allowed by the Postal regulations provide the postmaster with a written statement of his objections. The postmaster will forward the mail entry together with the addressee's statement and any invoices, bills of sale, or other evidence submitted by the addressee to the district director who issued the entry, and retain custody of the shipment until advice is received from the district director as to the disposition to be made. If the addressee is located near one of the ports at which Customs officers are authorized to review mail entries (see 39 CFR 10.5), the postmaster may send the mail entry to that port, together with the addressee's statement and evidence, for reconsideration by the district director. [TD 78-99]

(c) He may pay the assessed duty and take delivery of the merchandise, and file a protest under section 514, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1514), in the form and manner prescribed in Part 174 of this chapter. (Secs. 501, 514, 46 Stat. 730, as amended, 734, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1501, 1514.)

A mail entry may be amended under section 520(c), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1520(c)), only if the addressee requests such amendment within the time limits prescribed therein (see § § 173.4 and 173.5 of this chapter), and the claim is allowable under section 520(c). Requests for adjustment in the amount of duty assessed under mail entries made under § 145.22(a) shall be made in such time that the request can be acted upon by the district director within 90 days after receipt of the package and payment of the duties by the addressee. Protests under § 145.22(c) must be filed not later than 90 days after payment of the duties by the addressee, but may be acted upon after the expiration of that 90-day period. (Secs. 501, 514, 46 Stat. 730, as amended, 734, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1501, 1514)

If the district director is satisfied that the objection is valid and timely, he shall amend the mail entry. If the duty has already been paid, the Regional Commissioner shall issue an appropriate refund of duty.

If the district director believes the duty originally assessed was correct, he shall send the addressee a notice in writing that the request for refund of duty has been denied. If the duty has not been paid, the mail entry shall be returned to the postmaster concerned, together with a copy of the notice sent to the addressee. The postmaster will then collect the duty and deliver the shipment, or, if the addressee refuses to pay the duty, will treat the shipment as undeliverable.

§ 145.26 Rates of duty not binding.

Rates of duty assessed on a mail entry, whether assessed on the original entry or as amendments Part 177, are not binding for future importations. A binding ruling on tariff classification may be obtained in accordance with the procedures set forth in § 152.14 of this chapter. [TDs 73-175, 78-99.]

Subpart D—Special Classes of Merchandise

§ 145.31 Importations not over $5 in value.

The district director shall pass free of duty and tax, without issuing an entry, mail articles containing merchandise having an aggregate fair retail value in the country of shipment of not over $5, subject to the requirements set forth in § 10.151 of this chapter. (Sec. 7, 52 Stat. 1081, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1321.) [TD 73-175, 78-102, 78-394]

§ 145.32 Bona-fide gifts.

The district director shall pass free of duty and tax, without issuing an entry, articles sent as bona-fide gifts from persons in foreign countries to persons in the United States having an aggregate fair retail value in the country of shipment not exceeding $25 ($40, in the case of articles sent from persons in the Virgin Islands, Guam, and American Samoa), subject to the requirements set forth in § § 10.152 and 10.153 of this chapter. (R.S. 251, as amended, secs. 498, 624, 46 Stat. 728, as amended, 759, sec. 7, 52 Stat. 1801, as amended (19 U.S.C. 66, 1321, 1498, 16244)) [TDs 73-175, 75-185, 78-394.]

§ 145.34 Personal and household effects and tools of trade.

(a) U.S. military and civilian personnel returning from extended duty abroad. Section 148.74 of this chapter sets forth specific requirements for exemptions from duty under item 817.00, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), for personal and household effects of military and civilian personnel of the United States returning upon the completion of extended duty abroad. A copy of the official travel orders shall be attached to or enclosed in each mail article, and the outside of each mail article shall be clearly marked to show that exemption from duty is being claimed. [TD 78-102]

(b) Other personal and household effects, and tools of trade. Certain personal and household effects and tools of trade may be passed free of duty without issuing an entry, in accordance with § 148.53 of this chapter.

§ 145.35 United States products returned.

Products of the United States returned after having been exported, which have not been advanced in value or improved in condition while abroad, may be passed free of duty without issuing an entry and without an importer's declaration on Customs Form 3311, provided the shipment is valued at not over $250 and the district director is satisfied that the merchandise is free of duty under item 800.00, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202). (Sec. 498, 46 Stat. 728, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1498.)

Books and other articles classifiable under items 270.25, 273.10, 273.35, 765.03, 850.10, or 851.10, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), imported by and addressed directly to a library or other institution described in item 850.10 or 851.10 may be passed free of duty without issuing an entry, if the district director is satisfied that the merchandise is entitled to free entry. A declaration on Customs Form 3321 may be required in accordance with § 10.43 of this chapter under the procedure specified in § 145.42. (Sec. 498, 46 Stat. 728, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1498.)

§ 145.37 Articles for the U.S. Government.

(a) Mail articles for copyright. Mail articles marked for copyright which are addressed to the Library of Congress, to the Copyright Office, or to the office of the Register of Copyrights, Washington, D.C., shall be passed free of duty without issuing an entry. [TD 78-102]

(b) Books, engravings, and other articles. Books, classifiable under item 270.25, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), and engravings, etchings, and other articles enumerated in item 830.00, shall be passed free of duty without issuing an entry when they are addressed to the Library of Congress or any department or agency of the U.S. Government.

(c) Official Government documents. Other mail articles addressed to offices or officials of the U.S. Government, believed to contain only official documents, shall be passed free of duty without issuing an entry. Such mail articles, when believed to contain merchandise, shall be treated in the same manner as other mail articles of merchandise so addressed. (Sec. 498, 46 Stat. 728, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1498). [TD 78-102]

Mail articles bearing the official seal of a foreign government with which the United States has diplomatic relations, accompanied by certificates bearing such seal to the effect that they contain only official communications or documents, shall be admitted free of duty without Customs examination. (Sec. 498, 46 Stat. 728, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1498.) [TD 78-102.]

§ 145.39 Articles for diplomatic officers, representatives of international organizations, and foreign military personnel.

Free entry of articles in mail articles addressed to diplomatic officers, representatives of certain international organizations, and similar persons is governed by Subpart I of Part 148 of this chapter. [TD 73-227, 78-102.]

§ 145.40 Plant material imported for immediate exportation.

Plant material may be imported by mail free of duty for immediate exportation by mail subject to the following regulations, which have been approved by the Department of Agriculture and the Postal Service. This procedure shall not affect the movement of plant material in the internal mails through the United States:

(a) Permit for entry. Each shipment shall be dispatched in the mails from abroad, accompanied by a yellow and green special mail tag bearing the serial number of the permit for entry for immediate exportation or immediate transportation and exportation, issued by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, and also by the postal form of Customs declaration.

(b) Place of inspection. Upon arrival, the shipment shall be detained by or redispatched to the postmaster at Washington, D.C., Brownsville, Tex., Hoboken, N.J., Honolulu, Hawaii, Laredo, Tex., Miami, Fla., San Francisco, Calif., San Juan, P.R., San Pedro, Calif., or Seattle, Wash., as may be appropriate, according to the address on the green and yellow tag, and there submitted to the Customs officer and the Federal quarantine inspector. The merchandise shall be accorded special handling only at these cities, and under no circumstances shall it be permitted to enter the commerce of the United States.

(c) Special handling. After inspection by the Customs and quarantine officers, and with their approval, the addressee or his authorized agent shall repack and readdress the mail article under Customs supervision; endorse and sign on the mail article a waiver of the addressee's right to withdraw the mail article from the mails; affix to the mail article the necessary postage; and comply with any other mailing and export requirements, after which the mail article shall be delivered under Customs supervision to the postmaster for exportation by mail in accordance with § 145.71. [TD 78-102.]

§ 145.41 Other conditionally and unconditionally free merchandise.

Shipments of conditionally or unconditionally free merchandise not specifically treated elsewhere in this part may be passed free of duty and tax without issuing an entry, if the value is not over $250 and the district director is satisfied that the merchandise is entitled to free entry. (Sec. 498, 46 Stat. 728, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1498.)

§ 145.42 Proof for conditionally free merchandise.

The district director may, at his discretion, require appropriate proof of duty-free status before releasing conditionally free merchandise. This proof may be obtained by either of the following methods:

(a) Retain shipment and request proof. The shipment may be retained by the district director while the necessary proof is requested from the addressee. If the requested proof is not received within 30 days, a mail entry shall be issued at the ordinary rate of duty which would apply if the merchandise were not conditionally free, and the mail entry shall be forwarded with the shipment for collection of duties.

(b) Send shipment with form and entry. If the only proof required for free entry is a declaration signed by the addressee, the district director may issue a mail entry at the ordinary duty which would apply if the merchandise were not conditionally free. The shipment shall then be forwarded together with the mail entry, a copy of the appropriate declaration form, and instructions to the postmaster to deliver the shipment free of duty if the importer executes the declaration, and to collect the full duty shown on the mail entry if the importer does not execute the declaration.

Unaccompanied tourist shipments for which entry is claimed under item 813.31, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), may be passed free of duty and tax if the requirements of section 148.115(a) of this chapter are met. The Declaration of Unaccompanied Articles, Customs Form 255, shall be removed by the Customs officer from the shipment and retained for Customs purposes. [TD 78-394]

Subpart E—Restricted and Prohibited Merchandise

§ 145.51 Articles prohibited by section 305, Tariff Act of 1930.

(a) Types of articles. Various articles, as described in section 305, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1305), and in part 12 of this chapter, are prohibited from importation. This prohibition includes the owing types of articles:

(1) Obscene matter;

(2) Articles for causing unlawful abortion (see § 145.52 for the treatment of literature pertaining to such articles);

(3) Matter advocating treason or insurrection against the United States or forcible resistance to any law of the United States;

(4) Matter containing any threat to take the life of or inflict bodily harm upon any person in the United States; and

(5) Lottery matter.

(b) Disposition of articles. Mail found to contain lottery matter shall be disposed of by the Postal Service under the postal laws and regulations. Mail found to contain any of the other prohibited articles described in paragraphs (a)(1) through (a)(4) of this section shall be given appropriate treatment by Customs under the Customs laws and regulations (see § 12.40 of this chapter). (Sec. 305, 46 Stat. 688, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1305.)

§ 145.52 Literature concerning devices for unlawful abortion.

Mail articles containing literature or advertisements concerning devices to produce unlawful abortions, are prohibited from the mails by 18 U.S.C. 1461, and shall be retained by, or delivered to, the Postal Service for disposition under the postal laws and regulations. If the Postal Service determines in any case that it is proper to release the material to the addressee, it shall be submitted for Customs treatment before delivery. [TDs 78-99, 78-102.]

Importations of firearms, munitions of war, and related articles are subject to the import permit requirements and other restrictions set forth in 27 CFR parts 47, 178, 179. [TD 78-329]

§ 145.54 Alcoholic beverages.

(a) Nonmailable. Alcoholic beverages are nonmailable, with certain exceptions (see 18 U.S.C. 1716 and the postal regulations), and when imported in the mails are subject to seizure and forfeiture under 18 U.S.C. 545.

(b) Seizure. When alcoholic beverages are received in the mails, they shall be seized, and the addressee shall be advised that they are subject to forfeiture and that he has a right to file a petition for their release (see part 171 of this chapter).

(c) Conditions for release. If the district director is satisfied that there was no fraudulent intent involved, he may release the alcoholic beverages to the addressee upon the following conditions:

(1) Applicable duty and internal revenue tax shall be paid.

(2) The addressee shall comply with the alcoholic beverage laws of the State to which the shipment is destined.

(3) Any other conditions the district director may impose under his authority to remit or mitigate fines, penalties, and forfeitures shall be complied with.

(4) The addressee, his representative, or a common carrier shall pick up the merchandise at the Customs office where it is being held. Since the merchandise is nonmailable, it cannot be delivered by the Postal Service (Sec. 618, 46 Stat. 757, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1618.)

§ 145.55 Trademarks, trade names, and copyrights.

Merchandise bearing a trademark or trade name entitled to protection against imports, merchandise bearing a mark or name that copies or simulates such a trademark or trade name, and merchandise which is in violation of copyright law is subject to the restrictions and prohibitions set forth in part 133 of this chapter.

§ 145.56 Foreign Assets Control.

Merchandise subject to regulations of the Office of Foreign Assets Control of the Treasury Department prohibiting or restricting entry of unlicensed importations of articles directly or indirectly from North Korea, North Vietnam, Cuba, or Rhodesia shall be detained until licensed or the question of its release, seizure, or other disposition has been determined under the Foreign Assets Control or Cuban Assets Control regulations (31 CFR parts 500 and 515).

§ 145.57 Regulations of other agencies.

Certain types of plants and plant products, food, drugs, cosmetics, hazardous or caustic and corrosive substances, viruses, serums, and various harmful articles are subject to examination and clearance by appropriate agencies before release to the addressee (see part 12 of this chapter).

§ 145.58 Other restricted and prohibited merchandise.

Other restrictions and prohibitions pertaining to certain types of imported merchandise are set forth in part 12 of this chapter and applicable to importations by mail.

(a) Articles prohibited and contrary to law. All mail shipments containing articles the importation of which is prohibited, or articles imported into the United States in any manner contrary to law, shall be seized or detained as appropriate and held by Customs officers for appropriate treatment, except for certain articles which will be handled by the Postal Service as specified in § § 145.51 and 145.52.

(b) Notification of seizure or detention. In all cases where articles are seized or detained by Customs officers, the addressee shall be notified of the seizure or detention, of the reason for such action, and, if appropriate, of his right to petition for relief (see part 171 of this chapter).

§ 145.71 Exportation from continuous Government custody.

(a) Relief from duties. Merchandise imported into the United States, unless nonmailable, may be exported by any class of mail without the payment of duties, if:

(1) The merchandise has remained continuously in the custody of the Government (Customs or postal authorities); and

(2) The mail articles containing such merchandise are inspected and mailed under Customs supervision.

(b) Waiver of right to withdraw. Waiver of the right to withdraw the mail article from the mails shall be endorsed on each mail article to be so exported and signed by the exporter. [TD 78-102.]

(c) Export entry orhdrawal required. An export entry in accordance with § 18.25 of this chapter or a warehouse withdrawal for exportation in accordance with § 144.37 of this chapter, whichever is appropriate, shall be filed for merchandise being exported under this section, except for merchandise imported by mail which is either: [TD 73-175, 78-102.]

(1) Unclaimed or refused and being returned by the Postal Service to the country of origin as undeliverable mail; or

(2) For which a formal entry has not been filed and which is being remailed from continuous Customs or postal custody to Canada.

§ 145.72 Delivery to Customs custody for exportation.

In certain cases where merchandise has not been in continuous Government custody, delivery to Customs custody is appropriate before exportation by mail, as set forth in the following sections of this chapter:

(a) Section 10.8 (articles exported for repairs or alterations).

(b) Section 10.9 (articles exported for processing).

(c) Section 148.33 (merchandise which was imported free of duty under a personal exemption, found to be unsatisfactory, and is being exported for replacement).

(d) Section 10.38 (exportation of imported merchandise which was entered under a temporary importation bond).

(e) Section 22.33 (exportation of rejected imported merchandise, with drawback of duties).

Policy Statement

Examination of Sealed Letter Class Mail

A. Customs officers and employees shall not open first class mail arriving in the U.S. Virgin Islands for delivery there, if it originated in the Customs territory of the United States, unless a search warrant or written authorization of the sender or addressee is obtained. Customs officers or employees may open and examine all other sealed letter class mail which is subject to the Customs mail regulations (see 19 CFR Part 145) and which appears to contain matter in addition to, or other than, correspondence, provided they have "reasonable cause to suspect" the presence of merchandise or contraband. [TD 78-102]

B. Customs officers and employees shall not open any sealed letter class mail which appears to contain only correspondence unless a search warrant or written authorization of the sender or addressee is obtained in advance of the opening.

C. Customs officers and employees are prohibited from reading, or authorizing or allowing others to read, any correspondence contained in any letter class mail unless there has been obtained in advance either a search warrant or written authorization of the sender or addressee. This prohibition, which will continue to be strictly enforced, also applies to correspondence between school children and correspondence of the blind which are authorized to be mailed at other than the letter rate of postage in international mail.

D. If a violation of law is discovered upon opening any mail article referred to in paragraph C, and it is believed that the correspondence may provide additional information concerning the violation and is therefore needed for further investigation or use in court, a search warrant shall be obtained before any correspondence is seized, read, or referred to another agency. Search warrants shall be promptly sought. Correspondence may be detained while a search warrant is being sought.

E. If no controlled delivery is arranged and correspondence is not to be otherwise seized pursuant to a search warrant (see "F" below), the item which constitutes the violation shall be removed and any correspondence shall be replaced in the wrapper, or in a new wrapper if the original wrapper has been seized pursuant to 19 U.S.C. 1595a. The wrapper shall then be resealed, marked to indicate it was opened by Customs, and returned to postal channels. Appropriate seizure notices shall be sent in accordance with 19 CFR 145.59(b).

F. No mail article may be referred to another agency without a search warrant unless—

(1) Any correspondence has been removed and the mail article is being referred for examination and clearance under 19 CFR 145.57,

(2) Any correspondence has been removed and the mail article has been lawfully seized by Customs,

(3) The mail article is being referred to Postal Service channels to effect a controlled delivery in cooperation with other law enforcement agencies, or

(4) The mail article is being returned to Postal Service channels for normal processing.

G. Whenever sealed letter class mail is opened, the factors giving the Customs officer or employee "reasonable cause to suspect" the presence of merchandise or contraband shall be recorded on the appropriate form and on the opened envelope or other container by means of appropriate coded symbols. Should a seizure result, these factors shall also be recorded on the seizure report.

H. Sealed letter class mail with the green Customs label or a Customs declaration may be opened without additional cause. Correspondence in such mail is subject to the restrictions regarding the detention, reading, and referral of mail to other agencies found in paragraphs C through F.

I. Whenever any sealed letter class mail is opened for any of the reasons set forth in the above paragraphs, a Postal Service employee shall be present and shall observe the opening.

J. Any violation of the Customs mail regulations or any of these policies will lead to appropriate administrative sanctions, as well as possible criminal prosecution pursuant to 18 U.S.C. 1702.

Appendix

A. Scope

The Customs Service is authorized to examine, with certain exceptions for diplomatic and governmental mail, all mail arriving from outside the Customs territory of the United States (CTUS) which is to be delivered within the CTUS, and all mail arriving from outside the U.S. Virgin Islands which is to be delivered within the U.S. Virgin Islands. The term "Customs territory of the United States" is limited to the States, the District of Columbia, and Puerto Rico. Consequently, mail arriving from other U.S. territories and possessions is subject to Customs examination even though it is designated "domestic" mail for Postal Service purposes. Likewise, mail in the APO/FPO military postal system is subject to Customs examination, even though it also is designated "domestic" mail for Postal Service purposes. The Customs Service therefore is responsible for examining all international mail to be delivered in the CTUS and certain limited categories of so-called "domestic mail."

B. Definitions.

Under various international conventions and bilateral agreements, international mail falls within two main classes, Parcel Post and Postal Union mail.

Parcel Post is not permitted to contain correspondence but is to be used for the transmission of merchandise and is fully subject to Customs examination in the same manner as other merchandise shipments (e.g., luggage, cargo, containers, etc.). Postal Union mail is divided into "LC" mail (Lettres et Cartes) and "AO" mail (Autres Objets).

"LC" mail consists of letters, packages paid at the letter rate of postage, post cards, and aerogrammes. The term "letter class mail" as used in the Customs Regulations and in this policy statement means "LC" mail as well as equivalent articles in "domestic" mail subject to Customs examination. Equivalent articles in "domestic" mail would include articles mailed at the letter rate, or equivalent class or category, in the APO/FPO military system or from a U.S. territory or possession outside the CTUS. Since the term "letter class mail" thus includes packages and bulky envelopes as long as they are mailed at the letter rate, or equivalent class or category, the restrictions relating to opening and reading of correspondence apply equally to such packages or bulky envelopes.

"AO" mail is to be treated in the same manner as Parcel Post mail since the Universal Postal Union Convention requires that they "be made up in such a manner that they may be easily examined" and generally are not permitted to "contain any document having the character of current and personal correspondence." Exceptions to the latter requirement exist for matter for the blind and certain correspondence between school children. Because of these exceptions, the prohibition against reading correspondence without a search warrant or authorization of the sender or addressee applies to correspondence of the blind and correspondence between school children contained in "AO" mail. "AO" mail can usually be identified by the following words: "IMPRIME" or "PRINTED MATTER," "CECOGRAMME" or "LITERATURE FOR THE BLIND," "PETIT PAQUET" or "SMALL PACKET" or similar terms or their equivalents.

C. Reasonable Cause to Suspect

Determining whether there is "reasonable cause to suspect" that merchandise or contraband is contained in sealed letter class mail is ultimately a matter of judgment for each Customs official, based on all relevant facts and circumstances. This judgment should be exercised within the framework of the Customs regulation that sealed letter class mail which appears to contain only correspondence is not to be opened unless a search warrant or written authorization from either the sender or the addressee has been obtained in advance of the opening.

Past practice indicates that the following circumstances (which are illustrative and not exhaustive) provide "reasonable cause to suspect" and permit the opening of sealed letter class mail without a search warrant or authorization of the sender or addressee.

1. A detector dog has alerted to the presence of narcotics or explosives in a specific mail article.
2. X-ray or fluoroscope examination indicates the presence of merchandise or contraband.
3. The weight, shape, feel, or sound of the mail article or its contents may indicate that merchandise or contraband (e.g., a hard object which may be jewelry, a stack of paper which may be counterfeit money, or coins) could be in the mail article. Contents of a mail article which feel lumpy, powdery, or spongy may, for example, indicate the presence of narcotics.
4. Information from a source previously shown to be reliable indicates that an identifiable mail article contains merchandise or contraband.
5. The mail article is insured.
6. The mail article is a box, carton, or wrapper other than a thin envelope.
7. The sender or addressee of the mail article is known to be fictitious.

On the other hand, certain facts standing alone generally will not provide "reasonable cause to suspect" the presence of merchandise or contraband and therefore do not permit the opening of sealed letter class mail. For example, sealed letter class mail may not be opened merely because:

1. The mail article is registered.
2. The feel of a letter-size envelope suggests that it contains one or a limited number of photographs.
3. The mail article appears to be part of a mass mailing.
4. The mail article is from a particular country, whether or not a known source country of contraband.
5. A detector dog has alerted to the presence of narcotics or explosives somewhere within a tray of mail (the individual articles of mail must then be examined individually).
6. The sender or addressee of the mail article is known to have mailed or received contraband or merchandise in violation of law in the past.
7. The wrapper contains writing or typing similar to that previously found on articles of mail which contained contraband or merchandise in violation of law.

In cases where any one of the above facts is present, additional evidence must exist which in conjunction with that fact provides reasonable cause to suspect the presence of merchandise or contraband.

Foreign-trade zones are established under the Foreign-Trade Zones Act and the general regulations and rules of procedure of the Foreign-Trade Zones Board contained in 15 CFR Part 400. This Part 146 of the Customs Regulations governs the admission of merchandise into a foreign-trade zone, manipulation, manufacture, or exhibition in a zone; exportation of the merchandise from a zone; and transfer of merchandise from a zone into Customs territory. [TD 70-134.]

Subpart A—General Provisions

The following are general definitions for the purposes of this part:

(a) Act. "Act" means the Foreign-Trade Zones Act of June 18, 1934, as amended (48 Stat. 998–1003; 19 U.S.C. 81a–81u).

(b) Board. "Board" is the Foreign-Trade Zones Board established by the Foreign-Trade Zones Act to carry out the provisions of the Act.

(c) Customs territory. "Customs territory" is the territory of the United States in which the general tariff laws of the United States apply but which is not included in any zone. "Customs territory of the United States" includes only the States, the District of Columbia, and Puerto Rico. (Gen. Hdnote 2, Tariff Schedules of the United States.)

(d) Grantee. "Grantee" is a corporation to which the privilege of establishing, operating, and maintaining a foreign-trade zone has been granted by the Foreign-Trade Zones Board.

(e) Merchandise. "Merchandise" includes goods, wares, and chattels of every description, except prohibited articles.

(1) Domestic merchandise. "Domestic merchandise" is that which has been (i) produced in the United States and not exported therefrom,[1] or (ii) previously imported into Customs territory and properly released from Customs custody.

(2) Foreign merchandise. "Foreign merchandise" is imported merchandise which has not been properly released from Customs custody in Customs territory.

(f) Zone. "Zone" is a foreign-trade zone established under the Foreign-Trade Zones Act.

§ 146.2 Designation of District Director as Board Representative.

The district director in whose district the zone is located shall be in local charge of the zone as the resident representative of the Board.

§ 146.3 Assignment of Customs Officers.

The district director in whose district the zone is located shall assign the necessary Customs officers and guards to maintain appropriate Customs control over merchandise in the zone and to protect the revenue.

§ 146.4 Reimbursement of Customs expenses.

The cost of providing the additional Customs services required under the Act or the regulations in this part shall be reimbursed to the Government by the grantee, payment to be made monthly to the district director.

§ 146.5 Permission of grantee required.

(a) Written concurrence necessary. Applications for permission to transfer merchandise into a zone, to do anything involving merchandise in a zone, or to remove merchandise from a zone shall show the written concurrence of the grantee, except where the regulations in this part provide for the making of applications by the grantee itself or permit the grantee to file a separate specific or blanket approval.

(b) Questioning grantee's concurrence. Government officers acting in their official capacities may question the grantee's concurrence if in their opinion it was improperly given.

The district director may cause any merchandise in a zone to be examined at the time of admission, or at any time thereafter, if the examination is deemed necessary to facilitate the proper administration of any law, regulation, or instruction which the Customs Service is authorized to enforce.

§ 146.7 Transportation of merchandise to a zone.

(a) From outside Customs territory. Merchandise may be brought directly to a zone from any place outside Customs territory.

(b) Through Customs territory; foreign merchandise. Foreign merchandise destined to a zone and transported in bond through Customs territory shall be subject to the laws and regulations applicable to other merchandise transported in bond between two places in Customs territory.

(c) From Customs territory; domestic merchandise. Domestic merchandise may be brought to a zone from Customs territory by any means of transportation which will not interfere with the orderly conduct of business in the zone.

§ 146.8 Use of zone by carriers.

(a) Primary use; lading and unlading. The water area docking facilities, and any loading and unloading stations of a zone are intended primarily for the unlading of merchandise into the zone or the lading of merchandise for removal from the zone. Their use for other purposes may be terminated by the Secretary of the Treasury if found to endanger the revenue or by the Board if found to impede the primary uses of the zone.

(b) Carriers in zone not extent from law or regulation. Nothing in the Act or the regulations in this part shall be construed as excepting any carrier entering, remaining in, or leaving a zone from the application of any other pertinent law or regulation.

§ 146.11 Merchandise permitted in a zone.

Merchandise of every description, including over-quota merchandise, may be brought into a zone unless prohibited by law. A distinction is made between prohibited and conditionally admissible merchandise.

(a) Prohibited merchandise. Prohibited merchandise is merchandise which is prohibited by law on the grounds of policy or morals, such as books or pictures urging treason or insurrection against the United States, obscene books or pictures and lottery matter. District directors are required to exclude this class of articles and shall not permit them to be transferred to a zone if aware of their prohibition status. If there is a question as to whether the merchandise is prohibited, district directors may permit the temporary deposit of the merchandise in a zone pending a final determination of its status. Any prohibited merchandise which is found within a zone shall be disposed of in the manner provided for in the laws and regulations applicable to such merchandise.

(b) Conditionally admissible merchandise. Conditionally admissible merchandise is merchandise which may be imported under certain conditions, for example, articles which are subject to permits or licenses or which may be reconditioned to bring them into compliance with the laws administered by various Federal agencies. The admission of articles of this class into a zone is subject to any requirements of the Federal agency concerned.

§ 146.12 Application and permit for admission of merchandise.

(a) Application on zone Form D and permit. Except in the case of entered merchandise brought into a zone for manipulation (§ 146.13) and merchandise transiting a zone (§ 146.14), merchandise may be admitted into a zone only upon application on zone Form D, Application to Admit Merchandise into Foreign-Trade Zone, and the issuance of a permit by the district director.

(b) Documents in support of application—(1) Merchandise transported through Customs territory. For foreign merchandise arriving at a zone after transportation through Customs territory the application shall be supported by:

(i) Release order. A release order on the application or another document executed by the carrier which brought the goods to the port where the zone is located authorizing the transfer of the merchandise to the zone; and

(ii) Evidence of right to make entry. A document or documents like those which would be required of the applicant as evidence of his right to make entry for merchandise in Customs territory (see § 141.11 of this chapter). [TD 73-175.]

(2) Merchandise unladen directly from the importing carrier. For merchandise unladen in the zone directly from the importing carrier the application on zone Form D shall be supported by an application to unlade on Customs Form 3171 (§ 146.14(a)).

(c) Conditions for issuance of a permit. Merchandise for which an application to admit merchandise to a zone is made shall be admitted when:

(1) The application is properly executed and includes an indication of the desired zone status of the merchandise (i.e., privileged foreign, privileged domestic, nonprivileged foreign, nonprivileged domestic, or zone-restricted merchandise as provided for in Subpart C of this part);

(2) The grantee's approval appears either on the application or in a separate specific or blanket approval (§ 146.5); and

(3) The permit is granted by the district director as the representative of the Board.

§ 146.13 Temporary admission for manipulation.

Imported merchandise for which an entry has been made and which has remained in continuous Customs custody may be admitted temporarily to a zone for manipulation and return to Customs territory under Customs supervision pursuant to section 562, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1562) and § 19.11 of this chapter. Such merchandise shall not be considered within the purview of the Act but shall be treated as though remaining in Customs territory. No zone form or procedure shall be considered applicable, but the merchandise shall remain subject in the zone to such requirements as are necessary for the enforcement of section 562 and other pertinent Customs laws.

The following procedures are applicable when merchandise is to be unladen from any carrier in the zone for immediate transfer to Customs territory, or if it is to be transferred from Customs territory through the zone for immediate lading on any carrier in the zone:

(a) Application. Application for permission to lade or unlade shall be filed with the district director on Customs Form 3171 prior to transfer of the merchandise into the zone.

(b) Permit. The district director shall permit the transfer unless he has reason to believe that the merchandise will not be moved promptly from the zone or made the subject of an application for zone statute on zone Form D in accordance with § 146.12.

(c) Treatment of merchandise. Upon the issuance of a permit to lade, or unlade, the merchandise shall not be considered within the purview of the Act but shall be treated as though the lading or unlading were in Customs territory.

(d) Failure to lade merchandise without delay. Merchandise brought into a zone for lading on a carrier but not laden without a delay which will endanger the revenue must be made the subject of an application for zone status on zone Form D in accordance with § 146.12 or be removed from the zone.

Whenever a certificate as to the arrival of any merchandise in a zone is required by a Federal agency, the district director shall issue the certificate, properly describing and identifying the merchandise involved.

Subpart C—Status of Merchandise in a Zone

§ 146.21 Privileged foreign merchandise.

(a) Merchandise subject to the provisions of this section. Foreign merchandise which has not been manipulated or manufactured so as to effect a change in tariff classification shall be given status as privileged foreign merchandise on proper application to the district director.

(b) Application. Each application for this status shall be made on zone Form B at the time of filing the application on zone Form D (see § 146.12) for admission of the merchandise into a zone or at any time thereafter before the merchandise has been manipulated or manufactured in the zone in a manner which has effected a change in tariff classification.

(1) Evidence of right to make entry. The original of a properly approved application on zone Form B is acceptable as the equivalent of a bill of lading or carrier's certificate to identify the applicant on such Form B as the consignee of the merchandise and its owner for Customs purposes, except that such person may transfer the right to withdraw such merchandise from the zone to Customs territory in accordance with Subpart E of this part.

(2) Preparation, filing, and processing of the entry. The procedure in connection with the preparation, filing, and processing of the entry, including the making of notations on invoices, the designation of examination packages or quantities, and the examination and appraisement of the merchandise shall be the same as that prescribed in the case of an entry for warehouse made in Customs territory (see Part 144 of this chapter), except that no bond shall be required. [TD 75-209.]

(3) Procedure upon acceptance of the entry. Upon acceptance of the entry the district director shall have the merchandise appraised, classified taxes determined, and duties liquidated promptly.

(i) Appraisement and tariff classification. The merchandise shall be subject to appraisement and tariff classification according to its condition and quantity, and to the rates of duty and tax in force, on the date of filing, in complete and proper form, the request for privileged foreign status on zone Form B and the zone Customs entry which is required to accompany it.

(ii) Basis of valuation. The value of the merchandise shall be determined in accordance with sections 402, 402a, and 503 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1401a, 1402, 1503), and related provisions of law. For all Customs purposes, the date of exportation of the merchandise from the country whence it was exported to the United States is the date of its final departure from that country, in accordance with § 152.1(c) of this chapter. [TD 73-175.]

(iii) Amendment of value. The value declared in any zone Customs entry for merchandise may be amended in accordance with the provision of section 487, Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1487), and the regulations thereunder (see § 141.90(c) of this chapter). [TD 73-175.]

(iv) Merchandise subject to tariff-rate import quotas. Entries for merchandise subject to tariff-rate import quotas shall be liquidated only at the higher or non-quota rate.

(v) Determination of taxes. The taxes to be determined are those of the same nature as are indicated in the liquidation of entries of imported merchandise in Customs territory.

(d) Status as privileged foreign merchandise binding. A status as privileged foreign merchandise and the consequent determination of taxes and liquidation of duties cannot be abandoned. The taxes and duties remain applicable to the merchandise even if changed in form by manipulation or manufacture, except in the case of recoverable waste (see § 146.48), as long as the merchandise remains within the purview of the Act. However, privileged foreign merchandise may be exported or withdrawn for supplies, equipment, or repair material of vessels or aircraft without the payment of the determined taxes and liquidated duties, in accordance with §§ 146.41, 146.42, and 146.45(d).

(f) Permission to manipulate, manufacture, or exhibit. Application may be made pursuant to § 146.32 for permission to manipulate, manufacture, or exhibit the merchandise before taxes have been determined and duties liquidated thereon, but in such case the examination for purposes of appraisement must be completed, or the packages or samples required for such examination must be segregated, before the district director approves the application.

(a) Merchandise subject to the provisions of this section. Privileged domestic status may be granted to merchandise:

(1) The growth, product, or manufacture of the United States on which all internal-revenue taxes, if applicable, have been paid;

(2) Previously imported and on which duty and/or tax has been paid; or

(3) Previously admitted free of duty and tax.

(b) Application. Application for privileged domestic status shall be included in the application on zone Form D (§ 146.12) to transfer the merchandise into the zone, but the documents in support of the application described in § 146.12(b) are not required.

(c) Domestic packing and repair materials. If the district director is satisfied that the revenue will be protected, and the rights of importers will not be prejudiced, he may permit the transfer to a zone of domestic packing and repair materials and related articles without requiring an application on zone Form D.

(d) Return of merchandise to Customs territory. Upon compliance with this section and § 146.44, any of the foregoing merchandise may subsequently be returned to Customs territory free of quotas, duty, or tax.

All of the following shall have the status of nonprivileged foreign merchandise:

(a) Foreign merchandise properly in a zone which does not have the status of privileged foreign merchandise or of zone-restricted merchandise;

(b) Waste recovered from any manipulation or manufacture of privileged foreign merchandise in a zone; and

(c) Domestic merchandise in a zone which by reason of noncompliance with these regulations has lost its identity as domestic merchandise and will be treated as foreign merchandise if transferred to Customs territory. Any domestic merchandise shall be deemed to have lost its identity if the district director determines that it cannot be identified positively by Customs officers as domestic merchandise on the basis of their examination of the articles and their consideration of any proof that may be submitted promptly by a party in interest.

All merchandise which could have obtained the status of privileged domestic merchandise but for which no application for such status has been approved (not including any merchandise within the purview of § 146.23(c)) shall have the status of nonprivileged domestic merchandise.

(a) Merchandise subject to the provisions of this section. Articles taken into a zone from Customs territory for the sole purpose of exportation, destruction (except destruction of distilled spirits, wines, and fermented malt liquors), or storage shall be given zone-restricted status on proper application. Such articles may not be returned to Customs territory for domestic consumption except where the Board deems such return to be in the public interest (see § 146.47).

(b) Application. Application for zone-restricted status shall be included in the application on zone Form D to transfer the merchandise into the zone as provided for in § 146.12.

(c) Merchandise considered exported—(1) For Customs purposes. If the applicant desires a zone-restricted status in order that the merchandise may be considered exported for the purpose of any Customs law, all pertinent Customs requirements relating to actual exportations shall be complied with as though the admission of the merchandise into the zone constituted a lading on an exporting carrier at a port of final exit from the United States. Any declaration or form required for actual exportation shall be modified to show that the merchandise has been deposited in a zone in lieu of actual exportation, and a copy of the approved zone Form D may be accepted in lieu of any proof of shipment required in cases of actual exportation.

(2) For other purposes. If the merchandise is to be considered exported for the purpose of any Federal law other than the Customs laws, the district director shall be satisfied that all pertinent laws, regulations, and rules administered by the Federal agency concerned have been complied with before he approves the application on zone Form D.

(d) Merchandise entered for warehousing transferred to a zone. Merchandise entered for warehousing and transferred to a zone, other than temporarily for manipulation and return to Customs territory as provided for in § 146.13, shall have the status of zone-restricted merchandise when admitted into the zone. The application on zone Form D shall state that zone-restricted status is desired for the merchandise.

§ 146.31 Customs control of merchandise in a zone.

(a) No merchandise shall be removed from a zone in any manner or for any purpose except as provided for in the regulations in this part.

(b) If the district director deems it necessary for the protection of the revenue, he may require segregation of any merchandise he determines to be subject to special risks to the revenue.

(c) The grantee shall keep the district director currently informed as to the location of any merchandise in the zone which is not within the purview of paragraph (b) of this section, and shall notify the district director promptly of any loss or damage that may occur to any merchandise in the zone.

§ 146.32 Manipulation, manufacture, or exhibition in a zone.

(a) Application. Permission for manipulation, manufacture, or exhibition of merchandise in a zone may be obtained by filing with the district director an application on zone Form E. No such operation shall be carried on until the district director has approved the application. The application shall include:

(1) A full description of the proposed operation;

(2) A designation of the exact place in the zone where the operation is to be performed;

(3) The identification of the involved merchandise by lot number, marks and numbers of the packages, description, quantity, and zone status; and

(4) In the case of manipulation or manufacture, a statement as to whether articles with one zone status are to be packed, commingled, or combined with articles having a different zone status.

(b) Approval of application. The district director shall approve the application unless the proposed operation would be in violation of the fourth or fifth proviso to section 3 of the Foreign-Trade Zones Act, as amended, 19 U.S.C. 81c, or the place designated for its performance is not suitable for preventing confusion as to the identity or status of the merchandise and for safeguarding the revenue.

(1) Fourth proviso. The proviso reads as follows:

> That under the rules and regulations of the controlling Federal agencies, articles which have been taken into a zone from Customs territory for the sole purpose of exportation, destruction (except destruction of distilled spirits, wines, and fermented malt liquors), or storage shall be considered to be exported for the purpose of—
> (a) The draw-back, warehousing, and bonding, or any other provisions of the Tariff Act of 1930 as amended, and the regulations thereunder; and
> (b) The statutes and bonds exacted for the payment of draw-back, refund, or exemption from liability for internal-revenue taxes and for the purposes of the internal-revenue laws generally and the regulations thereunder.
> Such a transfer may also be considered an exportation for the purposes of other Federal laws insofar as Federal agencies charged with the enforcement of those laws deem it advisable.
> Such articles may not be returned to Customs territory for domestic consumption except where the Foreign-Trade Zones Board deems such return to be in the public interest, in which event the articles shall be subject to the provisions of paragraph 1615(f) of section 1201 of this title: * * *.

(2) Fifth proviso. The proviso reads as follows:

> That no operation involving any foreign or domestic merchandise brought into a zone which operation would be subject to any provision or provisions of section 1807 of Title 26 and chapter 15-17, 21, 23-26, or 32 of Title 26, if performed in Customs territory, or involving the manufacture of any article provided for in paragraphs 367 and 368 of section 1001 of this title, shall be permitted in a zone except those operations (other than rectification of distilled spirits and wines, or the manufacture or production of alcoholic products unfit for beverage purposes) which were permissible under this chapter prior to July 1, 1949: * * *.

(For current reference to title 19 and 26 of the United States Code, see notes following text of 19 U.S.C. 81c)

(c) Appeal of adverse ruling. If the application is denied by the district director for any reason, the applicant or the grantee may appeal the adverse ruling to the Board. If any revenue protection considerations are involved in such an application, the Board shall be guided by the determinations of the Secretary of the Treasury with respect to them.

(d) Records to be maintained—(1) Privileged merchandise. When any privileged merchandise is to be manipulated in any way or manufactured, the person performing the operation shall maintain records containing the following information:

(i) A full identification, as specified in paragraph (a) of this section, of each lot of privileged merchandise used in the operation;

(ii) The unit and total values of each such lot, the values in the case of privileged foreign merchandise to be those declared in the zone Customs entry (§ 146.21(c)), including any amendment thereof;

(iii) The commercial name or description of the product resulting from the operation, or of each such product if there are more than one;

(iv) The quantity of such product or of each such product, as the case may be;

(v) The commercial name or description and quantity of each kind of waste recovered from the operation; and

(vi) The description (i.e., evaporation, leakage, spillage, dust, etc.) and quantity of each kind of loss resulting from the operation.

(2) Nonprivileged merchandise. If any nonprivileged merchandise is to be used in the operation, records shall be maintained containing a full identification, as specified in paragraph (a) of this section, and the unit and total values of each lot of the merchandise used in the operation.

§ 146.33 Destruction of merchandise in a zone.

(a) Application. Each application to destroy merchandise in a zone shall be filed with the district director on zone Form E. The application shall include:

(1) A description of the proposed method of destruction;

(2) A designation of the place where the destruction is to be accomplished; and

(3) The identification of the involved merchandise by lot number, marks and numbers of the packages, description, quantity, and zone status.

(b) Approval of application and procedure for destruction of merchandise. The destruction of distilled spirits, wines, and fermented malt liquors having a zone-restricted status may not be authorized in view of the exception in the fourth proviso to section 3 of the Foreign-Trade Zones Act, as amended (19 U.S.C. 81c). In any other case, if the district director is satisfied that the destruction will be effective and that the revenue will be adequately protected, he shall approve the application. If proper destruction cannot be effectively accomplished within the zone, the district director may permit it to be done elsewhere, in whole or in part, under such conditions as he shall specify for protecting the revenue. Any residue of destruction which is entirely worthless may be removed to Customs territory for disposal.

Regardless of its zone status, any merchandise in a zone may be exported directly therefrom upon compliance with the procedure prescribed in § 146.44 for the transfer of privileged domestic merchandise to Customs territory.

§ 146.42 Supplies, equipment, and repair material for vessels or aircraft.

(a) Applicability. Any article which may be withdrawn duty and tax free in Customs territory under section 309 or 317 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1309, 1317) and § § 10.59 through 10.65 of this chapter may similarly be withdrawn from a zone, regardless of its zone status, under said statutes and regulations. Privileged domestic merchandise is not subject to the provisions of this section and may be withdrawn from a zone in accordance with the provisions of § 146.44.

(b) Articles for delivery within zone where withdrawn. The withdrawal of articles provided for in paragraph (a) of this section for delivery within the zone where withdrawn to a qualified vessel or aircraft, or as ground equipment of a qualified aircraft, shall be on Customs Form 7512 (see § 10.60 of this chapter).

(1) Who may make the withdrawal. The withdrawal of articles composed in whole or in part of privileged foreign merchandise shall be made by the person identified on zone Form B as the consignee (see § 146.21(c)(1)). The withdrawal of all other articles under this section shall be made by the person designated as the consignee by the written authorization of the grantee.

(2) Supporting documents—(i) Description. The withdrawal shall be supported by a description of the articles similar to that provided for in § 146.44(a).

(ii) Bond. A bond on Customs Form 7557, 7559, or 7595 shall be required with the withdrawal.

(3) Release of articles. Upon acceptance of the withdrawal, the district director shall release the merchandise to the grantee for delivery to the qualified vessel or aircraft in the zone.

(c) Articles for delivery outside zone where withdrawn. The withdrawal of articles provided for in paragraph (a) of this section for delivery at a place outside the zone to a qualified vessel or aircraft, or as ground equipment of a qualified aircraft, shall be on Customs Form 7512. (See § 10.60 of this chapter.)

(1) Who may make the withdrawal. The withdrawal of privileged foreign merchandise which has not been mixed, combined, or repacked in the zone or of a product of a manipulation or manufacture in a zone composed of or derived from privileged merchandise only, whether all foreign, or partly foreign and partly domestic, shall be made by the person named on zone Form B as the consignee or by a transferee designated on the withdrawal and approval by the grantee. (See § 146.45(b)(2)). The withdrawal of other articles under this section shall be made by the person designated by the grantee on zone Form C as the consignee. Except for articles described in the first sentence of this paragraph the provisions of § 146.47 (b) through (f) and § 146.48(b) relating to constructive transfer are applicable, whether or not the merchandise is zone restricted.

(2) Bond. The withdrawal shall be supported by a bond on Customs Form 7557, 7559, or 7595.

(3) Acceptance of withdrawal and release of merchandise. Upon acceptance of the withdrawal of the district director shall note thereon the status of the merchandise and shall release the merchandise to the grantee for delivery to the bonded cartman, lighterman, or carrier.

§ 146.43 Transfer of merchandise from one zone to another.

(a) Privileged domestic merchandise. The transfer of privileged domestic merchandise from one zone to another is not subject to Customs control except that the removal of the merchandise from the first zone and its admission into the zone of destination shall be in accordance with § § 146.44 and 146.12.

(b) Other merchandise—(1) Procedure. The transfer of merchandise, other than privileged domestic merchandise, from a zone at one port of entry to a zone at another port shall be by bonded carrier under an entry for immediate transportation on Customs Form 7512. All copies of the entry for immediate transportation shall bear a notation that the merchandise is being taken from the first zone for the purpose of transfer to the second zone. Privileged foreign merchandise which has not been mixed, combined, or repacked in the zone and products of a manipulation or manufacture in a zone composed of or derived from privileged merchandise, whether all foreign, or partly foreign and partly domestic, shall be transferred from the zone in accordance with § 146.45(c) (1)-(4) and admitted to the second zone in accordance with § 146.12. The transfer of other merchandise from the first zone into Customs territory and its admission into the zone of destination shall be in accordance with § § 146.48(b) and 146.12.

(2) Forwarding of history of the merchandise. Upon removal of merchandise as specified in paragraph (b)(1) of this section from the first zone, the district director of the port where such zone is located shall immediately forward to the district director of the port where the zone of destination is located a history of the merchandise as shown by the records of the first zone.

(a) Submission of description of transaction. When privileged domestic merchandise which has not been mixed, combined or repacked in a zone with merchandise having a different zone status is to be transferred from the zone to Customs territory, the grantee shall submit to the district director, in triplicate, a description of the proposed transaction signed by him which shall include:

(1) The proposed date of transfer;

(2) The identification of the carrier;

(3) The destination of the shipment;

(4) Identification of the merchandise by zone storage location, lot number, marks and numbers of packages, description, quantity, and zone status; and

(5) A notation as to any shortage or damage.

If a form of tally prepared by the grantee for its own purposes contains the necessary information, it may be accepted in lieu of the required description.

(b) Permit of delivery. If the transfer is approved by the district director, the original of the description shall be so stamped to serve as a permit of delivery. The original and one copy shall be returned to the grantee. No document other than the permit of delivery shall be required to release the merchandise to the grantee and authorize its transfer into Customs territory.

§ 146.45 Transfer of privileged foreign merchandise into Customs territory.

(a) Merchandise subject to the provisions of this section. The provisions of this section are applicable to privileged foreign merchandise which has not been mixed, combined, or repacked in a zone.

(b) Withdrawal for consumption at port where zone is located—(1) Application for transfer. When merchandise subject to the provisions of this section is to be transferred to Customs territory for consumption, a zone withdrawal shall be made on Customs Form 7505 as an application for the transfer.

(2) Who may make the withdrawal. The withdrawal shall be made by the person identified on zone Form B as the consignee (see § 146.21(c)(1) or by a transferee designated by an endorsement on Customs Form 7505 and approved by the grantee.

(3) Bond. The zone withdrawal shall be supported by a bond on Customs Form 7551, 7553, or other appropriate form. A bond shall not be required when all the merchandise to be transferred to Customs territory has been inspected, examined, and appraised, has been found to comply with all laws and regulations governing its admission into the commerce of the United States, and there have been produced all documents for the production of which a bond is required by law or regulations if not filed at the time of entry.

(4) Payment of duties and taxes. The applicant shall pay the liquidated duties and determined taxes, as assessed in the liquidation of the zone Customs entry (§ 146.21(c)), on the quantity of merchandise to be transferred. If the pertinent zone Customs entry has not been liquidated, estimated duties and taxes shall be deposited.

(5) Release of merchandise. Upon acceptance of the withdrawal, the district director shall release the merchandise to the grantee for delivery.

(c) Withdrawal for transportation to another port for withdrawal for consumption—(1) Application for transfer. When merchandise subject to the provision of this section is to be transferred to Customs territory for transportation to another port for withdrawal for consumption, a zone withdrawal from transportation clearly indicating the status of the merchandise shall be made on Customs Form 7512 as an application for the transfer.

(2) Who may make the withdrawal for transportation. The withdrawal shall be made by the person identified on zone Form B as the consignee (see § 146.21(c)(1)) or by transferee designated by an endorsement on Customs Form 7512 and approved by the grantee.

(3) Certification by district director at zone port. The district director at the zone port shall issue a certificate, in triplicate, describing the merchandise in its present condition and certifying the amount of duties and taxes applicable to the shipment. The duplicate copy of such certificate shall be given to the withdrawer.

(4) Release of merchandise for transportation. Upon acceptance of the withdrawal, the district director shall release the merchandise to the grantee for delivery to the bonded carrier.

(5) Withdrawal for consumption at port of destination. A withdrawal for consumption shall be made at the port of destination on Customs Form 7519 by the person identified on zone Form B as the consignee (see § 146.21(c)(1)) or by a transferee designated on the withdrawal and approval by the grantee. The withdrawal for consumption shall be supported by the duplicate copy of the certificate described in paragraph (c)(3) of this section and also by a bond on Customs Form 7551, 7553, or other appropriate form, when required, pursuant to paragraph (b)(3).

(6) Payment of duties and taxes. The applicant shall pay the liquidated duties and determined taxes, as assessed in the liquidation of the zone Customs entry (§ 146.21(c)), on the quantity of merchandise being withdrawn. If the zone Customs entry has not been liquidated, estimated duties and taxes shall be deposited.

(d) Withdrawal for transfer into Customs territory for exportation. When merchandise subject to the provisions of this section is to be transferred to Customs territory for exportation, a withdrawal for exportation, or for transportation and exportation, shall be made on Customs Form 7512 by the person identified on zone Form B as the consignee (see § 146.21(c)(1)) or by a transferee designated by an endorsement on Customs Form 7512 and approved by the grantee. Upon acceptance of the withdrawal the district director shall note the statue of the merchandise on the document, and release the merchandise to the grantee for delivery to the carrier.

§ 146.46 Transfer of products of manipulation or manufacture of privileged merchandise into Customs territory.

(a) Merchandise subject to the provisions of this section. The provisions of this section are applicable to products of manipulation or manufacture in a zone composed of or derived from privileged merchandise only, whether all foreign, or partly foreign and partly domestic.

(b) Withdrawal for consumption at port where zone is located. When products subject to the provisions of this section are to be transferred to Customs territory for consumption, a zone withdrawal shall be made on Customs Form 7505 as an application for the transfer, and the requirements of this paragraph and of § 146.45(b) shall be applicable.

(1) Documents required in support of the withdrawal—(i) Statement. A statement in the form of an invoice containing the information required by § 146.32(d)(1) shall be filed with the withdrawal.

(ii) Certificate of identification. When necessary to support the withdrawal, application may be made to the district director for a certificate on zone Form F covering identification, as shown by Customs records, of the privileged merchandise used in the manipulation or manufacture.

(2) Conditions for acceptance of withdrawal. The district director shall not accept zone withdrawals for products of manipulation or manufacture of privileged foreign merchandise until he has definitely established that the merchandise actually exists in the zone in its final form as described in the withdrawal and that all other documents required to be submitted with the withdrawal have been received.

(c) Withdrawal for transportation to another port for withdrawal for consumption. When products subject to the provisions of this section are to be transferred to Customs territory for transportation to another port for withdrawal for consumption, a zone withdrawal for transportation clearly indicating the status of the merchandise shall be made on Customs Form 7512 as an application for the transfer. The provisions of paragraph (b) (1) and (2) of this section and the procedure prescribed in § 146.45(c) (2) through (6) shall be applicable.

(d) Withdrawal for transfer into Customs territory for exportation. When products subject to the provisions of this section are to be transferred to Customs territory for exportation, the procedure prescribed in § 146.45(d) shall be applicable.

(e) Articles produced or manufactured in a zone returned to Customs territory after exportation. Articles produced or manufactured in a zone and exported without having been transferred to Customs territory other than for exportation or for transportation and exportation shall, on their return to Customs territory, be subject to the duties and taxes applicable to like articles of wholly foreign origin, unless it is conclusively established that they were produced or manufactured exclusively with the use of privileged domestic merchandise, the identity of which was maintained in accordance with the pertinent provisions of these foreign-trade zone regulations, in which case they shall be subject to the pertinent provisions of schedule 8, part 1 of the Tariff Schedules of the United States.

(a) Types of entry. Zone-restricted merchandise may be returned to Customs territory only for entry for exportation, for entry for transportation and exportation, for destruction (except destruction of distilled spirits, wines and fermented malt liquors), for transfer from one zone to another, or for delivery to a qualified vessel or aircraft or as ground equipment of a qualified aircraft under section 309 or 317 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, unless the Board has ruled that the return of the merchandise to Customs territory for domestic consumption is in the public interest. If the return of zone-restricted merchandise to Customs territory for domestic consumption has been ruled by the Board to be in the public interest, it may be entered for consumption, for warehousing, or for immediate transportation without appraisement, unless the Board has specified which of these forms of entry shall be made.

(b) Application for constructive transfer to Customs territory. When zone-restricted merchandise is to be transferred to Customs territory, the grantee shall file an application with the district director on zone Form C naming the person who will be deemed the consignee of the merchandise with the right to make entry or withdrawal therefor upon its transfer to Customs territory. The application shall include a complete identification of the merchandise as it entered the zone, including lot numbers, marks and numbers of the packages, status of each lot, description, and quantities. If any change in respect of any of these items of identification occurred while the merchandise was in the zone, the current information with respect to each such item shall also be stated. The district director shall not accept a term application on Form C.

(c) Constructive transfer. Upon the approval by the district director of an application on zone Form C, the merchandise shall be deemed to have been transferred to Customs territory but without physical removal from the zone. For all Customs purposes the merchandise shall be considered to have been imported into Customs territory at the time of this constructive transfer. The district director shall note on the application the date of constructive transfer and the zone status of the merchandise. The constructively transferred merchandise shall be marked or labeled with the initials "C.T."

(d) Restoration to zone status. The merchandise may be restored to zone status after it has been constructively transferred to Customs territory and before the expiration of the time within which entry or withdrawal must be made (see paragraph (e)(2) of this section), if:

(1) A new zone Form D is filed and the same procedure followed as if the merchandise had then first arrived in the zone from or through Customs territory (see § 146.12). The zone grantee shall be deemed the carrier which brought the merchandise into the port; or

(2) The applicant arranges for the redelivery to the district director, prior to the filing of a Customs entry or withdrawal, of the grantee's copy of the zone Form C with a request that it be canceled.

(e) Customs entry or withdrawal and time limitation. (1) The original of zone Form C, when approved by the district director and endorsed by him with the date of constructive transfer and the zone status of the merchandise, shall be accepted as the equivalent of a bill of lading or carrier's certificate to identify the person named in such Form C as the consignee of the merchandise and its owner for Customs purposes with the right to make entry or withdrawal.

(2) A Customs entry or withdrawal shall be filed in proper form before 5 p.m. of the second working day after the date of constructive transfer of the merchandise. The time may be extended for such longer period as may be specified in a lay-order issued by the district director upon the filing of a written application on Customs Form 3189 by the grantee, or by the named consignee if approved by the grantee. If a Customs entry or withdrawal in proper form is not filed within the time limit, the merchandise shall be considered as having been returned from constructive Customs territory to the zone.

(3) If the return of zone-restricted merchandise to Customs territory for consumption has been ruled by the Board to be in the public interest, the entry shall be endorsed by the district director to show the authority under which it was made, and that the merchandise is subject to the provisions of schedule 8, part 1 of the Tariff Schedules of the United States. Upon acceptance of an entry or withdrawal for any other zone-restricted merchandise, the entry shall be endorsed by a Customs officer to show that actual exportation of the merchandise is required by the fourth proviso to section 3 of the Act as amended, and the withdrawal endorsed to require delivery to a qualified vessel or aircraft or as ground equipment of a qualified aircraft under section 309 or 317 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended. (See § 146.42.)

(f) Release of merchandise. When a consumption entry is accepted for zone-restricted merchandise the district director shall release the merchandise to the grantee for delivery to the consignee. When any other entry or withdrawal is accepted for such merchandise, the release of the merchandise by the district director for physical removal to the designated destination in Customs territory or for direct exportation shall be in accordance with the Customs Regulations as to merchandise imported into Customs territory, the zone grantee to be considered as the importing carrier.

(1) Articles composed entirely of, or derived entirely from, nonprivileged merchandise, foreign or domestic.

(2) Articles composed in part of, or derived in part from, nonprivileged merchandise, domestic or foreign, and in part of or from privileged merchandise, domestic or foreign.

(3) Recoverable waste resulting from the manipulation or manufacture in a zone of privileged foreign merchandise.

(b) Constructive transfer. When articles subject to the provisions of this section are to be transferred from a zone to Customs territory, the procedure provided for in § 146.47(b) through (f) shall be followed, except that if the entry has not been filed in proper form before the expiration of the time allowed for entry in § 146.47(e)(2), the merchandise shall be deposited in general order storage in Customs territory.

(c) Entry for consumption or warehousing. Articles subject to the provisions of this section may be transferred from a zone for entry for consumption or, except in the case of articles composed of or derived in part from privileged foreign merchandise, for entry for warehousing subject to the treatment specified in paragraph (e) of this section.

(d) Supporting statement and certificate. There shall be filed with each entry for articles described in paragraph (a)(2) of this section a statement in the form of an invoice containing the information specified in § 146.32(d)(1). When necessary to support the entry, application may be made for a certificate on zone Form F covering identification as shown by the Customs records of any privileged domestic or privileged foreign merchandise in the articles.

(e) Appraisement and tariff classification. (1) Merchandise subject to the provisions of this section, upon transfer from a zone and entry for consumption or for warehousing, either immediately or after transportation in bond, shall be subject to appraisement and tariff classification in accordance with its character and condition at the time of its constructive transfer to the customs territory and, except for any different rates applicable to any privileged foreign merchandise therein, to the rate or rates of duty and tax in force at the time entry for consumption or withdrawal from warehouse for consumption is made (see sections 141.68 and 141.69 of this chapter).

(2) The value of the merchandise described in paragraph (e)(1) shall be determined in accordance with sections 402, 402a, and 500, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1401a, 1402, 1500), and the related provisions of law. However, the cost of fabrication or other processing, and the general expenses and profit, related to zone operations shall be excluded when determining the dutiable value of an article produced entirely from nonprivileged merchandise (foreign or domestic), or from a combination of privileged and nonprivileged merchandise (foreign or domestic). All other expenses incurred in the zone incidental to placing the article in condition, packed ready for transfer, and freight, insurance, and similar costs incurred after the article is packed ready for transfer into the customs territory also shall be excluded in determining dutiable value. [TDs 73-175, 80-87.]

(f) Liquidation. The consumption or warehouse entry covering a product provided for in paragraph (a) of this section shall be liquidated in accordance with Part 159 of this chapter, except that in the case of articles described in paragraph (a)(2) of this section adjustment shall be made for that part of the product which consists of or has been derived from privileged merchandise. [TD 73-175]

This part governs the entry of merchandise intended for exhibition or for use in constructing, installing, or maintaining foreign exhibits at trade fairs which have been so designated by the Secretary of Commerce. It also contains provisions concerning Customs supervision of the merchandise, and the disposition of the merchandise after the fair has closed. The entry of articles which may be admitted free of duty under other provisions of this chapter may be governed by those provisions rather than the regulations in this part. [TD 70-134]

Subpart A—General Provisions

The following are general definitions for the purposes of Part 147:

(a) The Act. "The Act" means the Trade Fair Act of 1959. (Secs. 2-7, 73 Stat. 18, 19; 19 U.S.C. 1751–1756.)

(b) Fair. "Fair" means a fair, exhibition, or exposition designated by the Secretary of Commerce pursuant to the Trade Fair Act. (For regulations governing designation as a trade fair, see 15 CFR Part 364.)

(c) Fair operator. "Fair operator" means the party named by the Secretary of Commerce as the operator of the fair.

(d) Port. "Port" means the port at which the fair is to be held, or if the fair is not to be held within the limits of a port, the port nearest to the location of the fair which is in the same Customs district as the fair.

(e) Closing date. "Closing date" means the date designated by the Secretary of Commerce as the date when the fair will close, including any extension granted by the Secretary of Commerce, or, if the fair closes earlier, the date on which the fair actually closes.

(f) Articles for a fair. "Articles for a fair" includes, but is not limited to:

(1) Actual exhibit items;

(2) Pamphlets, brochures, and explanatory material in reasonable quantities relating to foreign exhibits at a fair;

(3) Material for use in constructing, installing, or maintaining foreign exhibits at a fair.

§ 147.2 Articles which may be entered for a fair.

(a) General. Any article imported or brought into the United States may be entered under bond under the regulations of this part for the purpose of exhibition at a fair, or for use in constructing, installing, or maintaining foreign exhibits at a fair, if no duty or internal revenue tax has been paid, and the article is:

(1) In a foreign-trade zone; or

(2) Covered by a Customs exhibition bond provided for in Schedule 8, Part 5B, Tariff Schedules of the United States; or

(3) In continuous Customs custody, including but not limited to articles:

(i) Imported or brought into the United States for the purpose of direct entry at a particular fair;

(ii) In Customs bonded warehouses;

(iii) Unentered under the Customs laws and held in general order pending entry or exportation;

(iv) On exhibition at another fair designated by the Secretary of Commerce.

(b) Exception. Articles which have been entered under Schedule 8, Part 5C, Tariff Schedules of the United States, may not be entered under the regulations of this part.

§ 147.3 Bond required.

The fair operator shall furnish for the approval of the district director a bond in an amount to be determined by the district director. No other bond shall be required at the time of making entry for a fair. The bond shall be in the following form:

Trade Fair Bond

Know All Men by These Presents, That ______________, of ______________, as principal, and ______________, of ______________, and ______________, of ______________, as sureties, are held and firmly bound unto the United States of America in the sum of ______________ dollars ($______), for the payment of which we bind ourselves, our heirs, executors, administrators, successors, and assigns, jointly and severally firmly by these presents.

Witness our hands and seals this ______ day of ______________, 19—.

Whereas, pursuant to the provisions of the Trade Fair Act of 1959, 73 Stat. 18; 19 U.S.C. 1751-1756, the Secretary of Commerce has approved an application by the principal hereon for the operation of a fair to be known as

(Insert exact name of fair)
at ______________________; and
(City and State)

Whereas, pursuant to the foregoing Act, imported articles may be imported or brought into the United States without the payment of duties, taxes, fees, charges, or exactions, for purposes of exhibition at the designated fair, or for use in constructing, installing, or maintaining foreign exhibits at such fair, under such regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe;

Now, therefore, the condition of this obligation is such. That—

(1) If the above-bounden principal shall comply in all respect with the provisions of the foregoing Act and the regulations issued by the Secretary relating to the exhibition or use of any article imported or brought into the United States for the designated fair; and shall receive for exhibition or use at such fair only such articles as may be permitted by law and regulations to be deposited therein; and shall safely keep or use the same therein all in accordance with the purposes authorized by law, and shall not remove, nor suffer to be removed, any article from the fair premises without lawful permit and without the presence of the Customs officer in charge;

(2) And if the above-bounden principal shall pay to the district director of Customs, when demanded by him, all unpaid duties, taxes, fees, charges, or exactions found legally due in connection with all articles entered or brought into the United States for the fair under the provisions of the designated Act and charged against this bond; and if in respect of any of the articles released from Customs custody shall redeliver or cause to be redelivered to the order of the district director of Customs, upon proper demand made at any time, any and all articles found not to comply with the law and regulations governing their admission into the commerce of the United States, and shall, after proper notice, mark, label, clean, fumigate, destroy, export, and do any and all other things in relation to said articles that may be required to secure the protection of the revenue and compliance with the Trade Fair Act referred to in the rectial clause of this obligation and with all applicable Customs and related laws; it being expressly understood and agreed that the liability under this bond shall extend to all cases where any of the articles entered for exhibition or use are lost or stolen, whether or not the said loss or theft shall result from the fault of said principal;

(3) And if the above-bounden principal shall pay on demand to the district director of Customs, the actual and necessary Customs charges for labor, services, and other expenses in connection with the entry, examination, appraisement, release, or custody of the imported articles, together with the compensation of the Customs officers and employees on duty at or assigned to the fair premises in connection with the accounting for, custody of, and supervision over, the articles entered pursuant to the designated Act, including overtime compensation of Customs officers and employees assigned to duty at night or on Sunday or a holiday;

(4) And if the above-bounden principal, when an article is entered from the Fair for exportation, shall cause the said article to be actually exported from the United States and not relanded therein, and if proof of exportation from the United States be furnished to the said district director in the form and within the time required by law or regulations, or within any lawful extension of such time; or in lieu of exportation, if the said article shall be destroyed or abandoned within the period fixed by law, or, in default thereof, if the obligors shall pay to the district director the full amount of duties, taxes, fees, charges, and exactions which may be found legally due on the said articles;

(5) And if the said principal shall deliver to the district director of Customs all the documents and evidence as may be required in connection with the entry of the articles at the designated fair, and in the form and within the time required by law or regulations, or any lawful extensions thereof, and shall comply with all other requirements of law and regulations;

Then this obligation shall be void; otherwise to remain in full force and effect.

(a) Made in name of fair operator. All entries of articles for a fair shall be made at the port in the name of the fair operator which shall be deemed for Customs purposes the sole consignee of the merchandise entered under the Act and responsible to the Government for all duties and charges due the United States on account of such entries.

(b) Merchandise arriving at port other than port of the fair. Articles to be entered under this subpart which arrive at ports other than the port of the fair shall be entered for immediate transportation without appraisement to the latter port in the manner prescribed in Part 18 of this chapter.

(c) Form of entry. Articles shall be entered upon arrival at the port of the fair on a special form of entry to read substantially as follows:

* (May be executed by the secretary, assistant secretary, or other corporate officer.)

§ 147.12 Invoices.

Articles intended for a fair under the provisions of the Act and valued at over $500 are subject to the special Customs invoice requirements if of a class for which such invoices are required under the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, and the regulations in this chapter (see Part 8). The invoice shall be on Customs Form 5515 and shall contain the information prescribed under section 481 of the Tariff Act of 1930. In all other cases the ordinary invoicing requirements apply.

§ 147.13 Transfer to fair building.

(a) Immediate delivery. The provisions governing immediate delivery in Part 142 of this chapter are applicable to articles for a fair. [TD 73-175.]

(b) After entry. Upon the entry being made, a permit may be issued by the district director for the transfer of the articles covered thereby to the buildings in which they are to be exhibited or used, or, in his discretion, to the public stores for examination and subsequent delivery to the buildings in which they are to be exhibited or used.

§ 147.14 Articles not to be immediately entered and delivered to a fair.

(a) Placed in bonded warehouses. If for any reason articles imported for a fair are not to be entered and delivered to a fair upon their arrival, the fair operator should request the district director, in writing, to cause such articles to be placed in a bonded warehouse under a "general order permit" at the risk and expense of the fair operator. If no request is made and the articles remain unentered after 5 days from the date of arrival, they will be placed in general order.

(b) Entry within 1 year. At any time within 1 year from the date such articles are imported or brought in, they may be entered under this part for a fair or entered under the general tariff law, or for exportation.

(c) Abandonment. If not entered within such period, they will be regarded as abandoned to the Government.

§ 147.15 Tentative appraisement.

All articles entered for a fair shall be tentatively appraised prior to exhibition or use.

Subpart C—Requirements of Other Laws

§ 147.21 Marking under the Tariff Act of 1930.

The marking requirements of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, and the regulations thereunder will not apply to articles for a fair, except, when such articles are entered for consumption. When entered for consumption, such articles shall be released from Customs custody only upon a full compliance with these marking requirements.

The packaging, marking, and labeling requirements of the internal-revenue laws, and the Federal Alcohol Administration Act (27 U.S.C. 201 to 212), will not apply to articles entered under this part, but any article failing to comply with such requirements shall be conspicuously marked prior to exhibition "Not labeled or packaged as required by law—not for sale." When any such article is withdrawn for consumption, it shall be released from Customs custody only upon a full compliance with such packaging, marking, and labeling requirements.

§ 147.23 Compliance with Plant Quarantine Act and Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act.

(a) Plant Quarantine Act. The entry of plant material subject to restriction under the Plant Quarantine Act of 1912, as amended (7 U.S.C. 151-164a, 167), shall not be permitted except under permits issued by the Plant Quarantine Division of the Agricultural Research Service, Department of Agriculture, and in accordance with the plant quarantine regulations.

(b) Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act. The entry of food products shall conform to the requirements of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, as amended (21 U.S.C. 301 et seq.), and the regulations issued thereunder.

§ 147.24 Merchandise subject to licensing.

Merchandise, the importation of which is subject to the licensing regulations of any agency of the U.S. Government, may be entered for a fair only upon the presentation of the required license, or a waiver of such license.

Subpart D—Customs Supervision

§ 147.31 Articles to be kept separate.

Articles for exhibit at a fair shall be segregated from domestic articles and from imported articles entered under the provisions of the general Customs laws and released from Customs custody.

§ 147.32 Detail of officers to protect the revenue.

The district director shall detail an officer to act as his representative at the fair and shall station inside the buildings as many additional Custom officers and employees as may be necessary to properly protect the revenue.

All actual and necessary charges for labor, services, and other expenses in connection with the entry, examination, appraisement, custody, abandonment, destruction, or release of articles entered under the regulations of this part, together with the necessary charges for salaries of Customs officers and employees in connection with the accounting for, custody of, and supervision over, such articles, shall be reimbursed by the fair operator to the Government, payment to be made on demand to the district director for deposit to the appropriation from which paid.

§ 147.41 Removal or disposition pursuant to regulation.

Articles for a fair entered under this part shall not be removed from the fair premises, or otherwise disposed of, except in accordance with this subpart.

§ 147.42 Disposition generally.

(a) Kinds of disposition. Any article entered for a fair under this part may be entered for consumption, for warehouse, or under any other provision of the Customs laws, or for another fair, or may be transferred to other Customs custody status or to a foreign-trade zone, or abandoned to the Government, or destroyed under Customs supervision, or exported, at any time before, or within 3 months after, the closing date of the fair.

(b) Appraisement. Upon entry under any provision of the Customs laws, or at the expiration of 3 months after the closing date of the fair in the case of articles not previously entered or transferred, articles entered for fairs shall be appraised. [TD 70-181.]

(c) Period for performance of certain acts. In the case of any article entered under a provision of the Customs laws, or for another fair, or transferred to other Customs custody status, or to a foreign-trade zone, the period prescribed for the performance of any act required by the provision governing the status under which the article is entered, or to which it is transferred, shall be computed from the date of such entry or transfer.

(a) Payment of duties and taxes. Any applicable duties and internal revenue taxes on any article entered under any provision of the Customs laws must be paid on such article in its condition and quantity, and at the rate in effect, at the time of such entry.

(b) Person to make entry. Entry of merchandise under the Customs laws from a fair may be made in the name of any person duly authorized in writing by the fair operator to make such entry.

Articles entered for a fair which are to be entered for another fair under the provisions of this part shall be retained in continuous Customs custody.

§ 147.45 Merchandise from a foreign-trade zone.

Articles entered for a fair from a foreign-trade zone status of "zone restricted merchandise" and afterwards entered for consumption from a fair are subject to the provisions of item 804.00, Tariff Schedules of the United States.

§ 147.46 Voluntary abandonment or destruction.

At any time before or within 3 months after the closing date of the fair any article entered for a fair may be abandoned to the Government or destroyed under Customs supervision, upon compliance with § 158.43 of this chapter. [TD 72-258.]

Any article entered for a fair, and not disposed of under the provisions of this subpart prior to the expiration of 3 months after the close of the fair shall be regarded as abandoned to the Government, and subject to sale or destruction. Proceeds of sale shall be disposed of in the manner provided in sections 491, 492, and 493, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, and the regulations thereunder. (See subpart D of Part 127 of this chapter.) Any duties or internal revenue taxes on such article shall be computed on the basis of its condition and quantity at the time it becomes subject to sale. [TD 74-114.]

Procedures and requirements are also set forth pertaining to registration of articles to be taken abroad, declaration and entry, and examination of baggage, and collection of duties and taxes. [TD 73-27.]

§ 148.1 Registration of effects to be taken abroad.

(a) Persons who may use procedure. Any person, except a nonresident seaman, airman, or person engaged in similar employment, who intends to take effects of foreign origin abroad may register such articles before departure from the United States in order to facilitate their identification on return to the United States. Only articles of foreign origin having serial numbers or other distinctive, permanently affixed unique markings can be registered.

(b) Procedures for registration. Applicants for registration of articles of foreign origin shall present the articles to a Customs officer and at that time, complete a Customs Form 4457. After the Customs officer has examined the articles and verified their description, he shall sign the form and return it to the applicant for presentation on return of the articles. Customs Form 4455 may be required in any case in which Customs Form 4457 will not adequately serve the purpose of registration.

(c) Presentation on return and reuse. The form shall be presented to the Customs officer when the registered articles are returned to the United States. The form shall be valid for reuse as long as the document is legible to identify the registered articles. [TD 82-102.]

§ 148.2 Residence status of arriving persons.

(a) General. Persons arriving from foreign countries shall be divided into two classes for Customs purposes:

(1) Residents of the United States returning from abroad, and

(2) All other persons, hereinafter referred to as nonresidents.

(b) Status as returning resident. Citizens of the United States, or persons who have formerly resided in the United States including American citizens who are residents of American Samoa, Guam, or the Virgin Islands of the United States, shall be deemed residents of the United States returning from abroad within the meaning of "residents" as used in schedule 8, part 2A, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), in the absence of satisfactory evidence that they have established a home elsewhere. For this purpose, the residence of a wife shall be deemed to be that of her husband unless satisfactory evidence is presented that the wife has established a separate residence elsewhere. The residence of a minor child shall be presumed to be that of his parents. [TD 78-394]

(c) Status as nonresident. Any person arriving in the United States who is not a resident of the United States or who, though a resident of the United States, is not returning from abroad, shall be treated for the purpose of these regulations as a nonresident.

(d) Optional claim of nonresident status. Any person arriving in the United States who would otherwise be considered a returning resident, may claim at his option the status of a nonresident if he intends to remain in the United States for only a short period of time before returning abroad. If the status as a nonresident claimed by an arriving person is allowed, the procedures in § 148.8 shall be followed.

Passengers' baggage and effects and purchases of officers and crewmembers landed in the United States from vessels which have transited the Panama Canal are subject to Customs examination and treatment in the same manner as arrivals from any other foreign territory. [TD 79-276.]

§ 148.4 Accompanying articles.

(a) Generally. Articles shall be considered as accompanying a passenger or brought in by him if the articles arrive on the same vessel, vehicle, or aircraft on the same date as that of his arrival in the United States.

(b) Baggage shipped as freight. Articles in baggage shipped as freight on a bill of lading or airway bill shall be considered as accompanying a passenger when the baggage arrives on the conveyance on which he arrives in the United States.

(c) Precleared articles. Articles in baggage, or in baggage shipped as freight, shall be considered as accompanying a passenger if examined at an established preclearance station and the baggage is hand-carried, checked or manifested on the conveyance on which he arrives in the United States.

(d) Automobiles. An automobile which arrives on the same mode of conveyance on the same date as a passenger arrives in the United States shall be considered as accompanying him.

(e) Misdirected baggage. Baggage which arrives on the same mode of conveyance ahead of, or after a passenger, shall be treated as accompanying him if it is fully evident to the examining officer from the circumstances that:

(1) The passenger intended the baggage to arrive with him; and

(2) It was misdirected through no fault of the passenger.

§ 148.5 Regular entry of articles in baggage.

Subject to any applicable exemption from entry requirements, articles imported as baggage but not passed under a baggage declaration or under the procedure provided in § 148.6 for unaccompanied shipments of effects subject to personal exemptions shall be entered in the same manner as a cargo importation of like goods. In making regular entry for articles imported in baggage, the value of articles entitled to free entry under item 810.20 or 813.10, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), shall be disregarded in determining whether formal or informal entry is required.

(a) Declaration to support free entry. When effects claimed to be free of duty under items 810.20, 812.10, 812.20, 812.30, or 313.10, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), do not accompany the importer on his arrival in the United States or are forwarded in bond, a declaration of the importer on Customs Form 3299 shall be required to support the claim for free entry. However, an oral declaration may be accepted in lieu of a written declaration on Customs Form 3299, for effects of a resident which are free of duty under item 810.20 for tools of trade taken abroad or under item 813.10 for personal and household effects taken abroad. Effects of returning residents entitled to free entry under item 810.20 or item 813.10 (except automobiles and other vehicles of residents returning from countries other than Canada or Mexico) need not be itemized if a written declaration is required.

(b) Exemption from entry. If the district director is satisfied that an entry would serve no good purpose, none need be required, but evidence of ownership for Customs purposes, such as a carrier's certificate or properly endorsed bill of lading, shall be required with the declaration. Such exemption from entry may also be applied with respect to household effects or tools of trade entitled to free entry (see § § 148.52 and 148.53 respectively) which are unaccompanied or forwarded in bond.

Articles in passengers' baggage on which duties due are not paid and baggage not claimed within a reasonable time shall be treated as unclaimed and sent to general order.

§ 148.8 Temporary importation by residents arriving for short visits.

A person claiming the status of a nonresident upon arrival for a short visit in the United States before returning abroad may import articles free of duty under items 812.10, 812.20, 812.25, and 812.30, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), in accordance with the following procedure:

(a) The person claiming the status shall agree to export all such articles upon his departure from the United States, except articles imported as gifts under item 812.25, and articles consumed during his visit;

(b) When required to do so, the person claiming the status shall list all articles of substantial value which he is importing on Customs Form 4455, in duplicate, noting thereon the expected duration of his visit. He shall present the completed form to the inspecting officer who will initial both copies and return the duplicate to him;

(c) Upon his departure from the United States at the completion of his visit, the person claiming the status of a nonresident shall present to a Customs officer the duplicate copy of Customs Form 4455, initialed by the inspecting officer, and the articles listed thereon shall be subject to inspection; and

(d) If he decides not to return abroad, the person claiming the status shall immediately notify the district director at the port of entry. The district director will advise him of the amount of duties and taxes due by reason of his failure to return abroad.

§ 148.11 Declaration required.

All articles brought into the United States by any individual shall be declared to a Customs officer at the port of first arrival in the United States, on a conveyance en route to the United States on which a Customs officer is assigned for that purpose, or at a preclearance office in a foreign country where a United States Customs officer is stationed for that purpose.

(a) Generally. Returning residents and nonresidents arriving in the United States may make an oral declaration under the conditions set forth in paragraph (b) of this section. However, written declarations may be required generally or in respect to particular types of traffic at any port if necessary to effect prompt and orderly clearance of passengers and their effects, and may be required in particular cases at any port if deemed necessary to protect the revenue. If an oral declaration is permitted, completion of the identifying information on Customs Form 6059-B may be required.

(b) When permitted. Oral declarations may be permitted under the following conditions:

(1) Residents. A returning resident may make an oral declaration if:

(i) The aggregate fair retail value in the country of acquisition of all accompanying articles acquired abroad by him and of the cost or value of alterations and dutiable repairs made abroad to personal and household effects taken out and brought back by him does not exceed $300, or $600 in the case of direct or indirect arrivals from American Samoa, Guam, and the Virgin Islands of the United States, if not more than $300 shall have been acquired elsewhere than in such insular possessions; [TD 78-394]

(ii) None of his accompanying articles are forwarded in bond; and

(iii) None of his accompanying articles are imported for the account of any other person or for sale.

(2) Nonresidents. An arriving nonresident may make an oral declaration if all the articles he has to declare are:

(i) Entitled to free entry under his personal exemptions (see Subpart E of this part); or

(ii) Eligible for the administrative exemption for articles not exceeding $25 in aggregate value, provided in section 321(a)(2)(B), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1321(a)(2)(B)) (see § 148.51). [TD 78-394]

(c) Memorandum baggage declaration for dutiable articles. When an arriving person is carrying a few dutiable or taxable articles which can be readily identified and segregated from articles entitled to free entry under his personal exemptions, the Customs officer may prepare a memorandum baggage declaration using a cash receipt, Customs Form 5104, for dutiable or taxable articles if he determines that a written declaration by the arriving person is not essential.

§ 148.13 Written declarations.

(a) When required. Unless an oral declaration is accepted under § 148.12, the declaration required of a person arriving in the United States shall be in writing on Customs Form 6059-B.

(b) Completion and presentation of written declarations. The person arriving in the United States shall complete the information required by Customs Form 6059-B and shall list all articles acquired abroad which are in his possession at the time of arrival. Individual items not exceeding $5 per item in fair retail value in the country of acquisition may be grouped on the written declaration as "Miscellaneous" up to but not exceeding a total value of $50. Articles not requiring itemization as set forth in paragraph (c) of this section shall be declared orally to the Customs officer. The form shall be presented to the Customs officer who will inspect the passenger's baggage.

(c) Itemization of certain articles not required. Except as required by § 148.62 or § 148.66 for crewmembers' articles, the following need not be itemized in written declarations:

(1) Effects of a returning resident entitled to free entry under item 810.20, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), for tools of trade taken abroad, or under item 813.10, for personal or household effects taken abroad. However, automobiles and other vehicles of residents returning from countries other than Canada or Mexico and the cost of all repairs or alterations to articles taken abroad must be itemized.

(2) Effects of a nonresident entitled to free entry under item 812.10, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), for wearing apparel and other similar personal effects; item 812.20, for tobacco products and alcoholic beverages; item 812.25, for articles to be disposed of as bona fide gifts; or item 812.40, for articles accompanying a person in transit to a place outside U.S. Customs territory.

(3) Books, libraries, furniture, and similar household effects entitled to free entry under item 810.10, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202).

(d) Value. Opposite the description of each article required to be declared specifically in a written declaration the passenger shall state either:

(1) The price at retail actually paid for the article in the currency of purchase, or its equivalent in U.S. currency; or

(2) The fair retail value in the country of acquisition if the article was not acquired at retail or by purchase, in the currency of the country in which the article was acquired or in U.S. currency.

A family group residing in one household, traveling together, and having the same residence status may be permitted to declare orally articles acquired abroad for the personal or household use of any member of the family if the value of such articles does not exceed the total amount of the exemption to which the family group is entitled. (See § 148.34.) Where a written declaration is required, one member of a family group may declare for all. Servants accompanying a family group shall not be included in the family declaration.

§ 148.15 Inclusion of articles not for personal or household use.

Articles not personal in character, or which are intended for sale or are brought in on commission for another person, may be included in the baggage declaration of a resident or nonresident under the conditions specified in § 148.23(c). If not so included, regular entry shall be required.

(a) Before examination. A passenger shall be permitted to add an article to his declaration if, before examination of his baggage has begun, the fact that the article has not been declared is brought to the attention of the examining officer by the passenger.

(b) After examination is begun. A passenger shall be permitted to add an article to his declaration after examination of his baggage has begun if, before any undeclared article is found, the passenger advises the examining officer that he has such an article and the officer is satisfied that there was no fraudulent intent. Under no circumstances shall a passenger be permitted to add any undeclared article to his declaration after such article has been discovered by the examining officer.

(a) Declaration on incidental arrival. A resident who enters the United States merely as an incident of foreign travel and who will continue his foreign travel before finally returning to the United States from a continuous trip shall declare, but need not clear through Customs, any articles he has acquired or had repaired or altered while abroad. The incidental character of the arrival shall be made known to the Customs officer.

(b) Treatment of articles on incidental arrival. In order that a resident may claim the $300 or $600 exemption upon his final arrival in the United States from a continuous trip, articles accompanying him at the time of an incidental arrival may be exported directly from Customs custody or after transportation in bond, or the articles may be left in Customs custody if the resident upon his final return is to arrive at the Customs facility where the articles are deposited. [TD 78-394]

(c) Failure to advise of incidental character of arrival. If the traveler fails to advise the Customs officer of the incidental character of his arrival, or for other reason declares any articles for allowance of the $300 or $600 exemption, such declaration shall mark the beginning of the respective period or periods during which a further exemption cannot be granted.

§ 148.18 Failure to declare.

(a) Penalty incurred. Except as provided in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section for the remission of the personal penalty and mitigation of the forfeiture in special circumstances, any article in the baggage of a passenger arriving from a foreign country which is not declared as required by this subpart shall be seized if it is available for seizure at the time the violation is detected, and the personal penalty prescribed by section 497, Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1497) shall be demanded from the passenger. If the article is not seized, a claim for the personal penalty shall be made against the person who imported the article without declaration. No duty shall be collected, since undeclared articles are treated as smuggled.

(b) Remission of penalty. When an article not declared as required by this subpart is found in the baggage of a person arriving in the United States, the personal penalty incurred is hereby remitted pursuant to the authority of section 618, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1618), provided it is satisfactorily established that:

(1) The article would have been free of duty and internal revenue tax if it had been properly declared;

(2) Its importation is not prohibited or restricted; and

(3) The failure to declare was not due to willful negligence or fraudulent intent.

(c) Mitigation or remission of forfeiture incurred. In any case in which the personal penalty for failure to declare is remitted in accordance with paragraph (b) of this section, the forfeiture incurred will be mitigated or remitted as follows:

(1) When the article would have been free of duty only because of the provisions of items 810.20, 812.10, 812.25, 812.30, 812.40, 813.10, 813.30, or 813.31, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), or section 321(a)(2)(B), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1321(a)(2)(B)), the forfeiture incurred is hereby mitigated pursuant to the authority of section 618, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1618), to a sum equal to the duty and any internal revenue tax which would have accrued upon the article had it been imported for commercial purposes; or

(2) When the article would otherwise have been free of duty and internal revenue tax, the forfeiture incurred is hereby remitted pursuant to the same authority.

§ 148.19 False or fraudulent statement.

A passenger who makes any false or fraudulent statement or engages in other conduct within the purview of section 592, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1592), whereby a Customs officer is or may be induced to pass an article free of duty or at less than the proper amount of duty, shall be deemed to have violated the said section 592. In any such case the article involved shall be seized only if one or more of the conditions set forth in § 162.41(a)(3) of this chapter are present, if it is available for seizure at the time the violation is detected, and if such seizure is otherwise practicable, unless the article is in the possession of an innocent holder for value who has full right to possession as against any party to the Customs violation. If seizure is not made, the domestic value of the article, determined in accordance with section 606, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1606), shall be demanded from the passenger. Whether the article is seized or the domestic value thereof is demanded in lieu of seizure, the duty estimated to be due thereon shall be demanded of the passenger as soon as possible after the discovery of the violation. Any applicable internal revenue tax shall also be demanded unless the merchandise is to be, or has been, forfeited. [TD 77-136.]

Subpart C—Examination of Baggage and Collection of Duties and Taxes

§ 148.21 Opening of baggage, compartments, or vehicles.

(a) Customs officers not to open. Customs officers shall not open baggage or other containers, nor unlock vehicles or compartments thereof for the purpose of examination, but shall detain them until the owner, his agent, or the person in charge of any baggage, container or vehicle opens or refuses to open them.

(b) Refusal to open—(1) General. If an owner, his agent, or the person in charge of any baggage, other container, or vehicle with a locked compartment refuses to open it, the baggage, container, or vehicle shall be treated as unclaimed.

(2) On arrival from Canada or Mexico. If the owner, his agent, or the person in charge of any baggage, container, or vehicle arriving from Canada or Mexico refuses to open it, it shall be opened in accordance with section 462, Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1462), unless a request is received from him to make other proper disposition. If any article subject to duty, or any prohibited article is found upon opening by a Customs officer, the whole contents and the container or vehicle shall be subject to forfeiture. (Secs. 461, 462, 46 Stat. 717, 718; 19 U.S.C. 1461, 1462)

(a) Examination and surrender of declaration. The baggage of persons traveling by air may be examined and passed in accordance with § 148.23 at places in foreign territory where U.S. Customs officers have been established for that purpose (see § 101.5 of this chapter). When baggage is examined in foreign territory, the baggage declaration shall be surrendered to the Customs officer at the airport of departure for the United States prior to boarding the flight. [TD 77-241.]

(b) Subsequently acquired articles. When a person whose baggage has been examined and passed in foreign territory in accordance with paragraph (a) of this section subsequently acquires additional articles prior to return to the United States, the Customs officer to whom the declaration was surrendered may permit the amendment of that declaration to include the additional articles.

§ 148.23 Examination and clearance of baggage.

(a) Articles free of duty. The inspector, including inspectors on trains or ferries, who examines the baggage of any person arriving in the United States may examine and pass, without limitation as to value, the following articles in such baggage or otherwise accompanying such person:

(1) All articles which are for the personal or household use of the arriving person and are free of duty under schedule 8, part 2A, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), including automobiles and other articles under § 148.32.

(2) Works of art classifiable under item 765.03, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202).

(3) Works of art classifiable under item 765.10, 765.15, 765.20, or 765.25, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), upon compliance with § 10.48 of this chapter.

(4) Works of art produced by American artists temporarily residing abroad provided for in item 765.30, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), upon compliance with § 10.50 of this chapter.

(b) Articles subject to duty. The inspector who examines the baggage of any person arriving in the United States may examine, determine the dutiable value of, collect duty on, and pass articles accompanying the arriving person which are for his personal or household use but are subject to duty, including articles imported to be disposed of by him as bona fide gifts.

(c) Articles not for personal use—(1) Valued at not more than $250. The inspector may also examine, determine the dutiable value of, collect duty on, and pass articles accompanying any person arriving in the United States properly listed on the baggage declaration which are not for the personal or household use of the declarant or which are intended for sale or are brought in on commission for another, provided the aggregate value of such articles is not more than $250.

(2) Valued over $250 but not over $500. Articles in the baggage of or otherwise accompanying any person arriving in the United States which have an aggregate value over $250 but not over $500 and are not intended for his personal or household use, or are intended for sale or are brought in on commission for another, may be examined and entered and cleared on a baggage declaration at the place of their arrival with a passenger if:

(i) The articles are accompanied by a proper invoice if one is required (see section 8.15 of this chapter); and

(ii) It is practicable to appraise the articles at the place of arrival.

(d) Examination of tea for personal use imported in baggage. Tea for personal use in one or more packages weighing not more than 5 pounds each, when imported in a passenger's baggage, may be delivered without examination for purity under 21 U.S.C. 41-50 and without payment of the examination fee prescribed in 21 U.S.C. 46a.

§ 148.24 Determination of dutiable value.

(a) Principles applied. In determining the dutiable value of articles examined under § 148.23, the Customs inspector shall apply the principles of section 402 or section 402a, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1401a, 1402), and shall not regard the declared value or price as conclusive.

(b) Adjustment of value declared. An adjustment shall be made by the Customs inspector whenever the purchase price or value declared differs from the fair retail value, whether by reason of depreciation due to wear or use, circumstances of purchase, or acquisition, or for any other reason. He shall give due consideration to the condition of the articles at the time of importation, but he shall not make any allowance for wear and use in excess of 25 per centum of the declared price or value of a worn or used article. A passenger who desires to claim a larger allowance may arrange for formal entry and appraisement of his goods.

(a) Reexamination. Whenever the Customs officer deems it advisable any or all of a passenger's baggage may be sent to the public stores for examination or reexamination. Passengers dissatisfied with the assessment of duty on their baggage may demand a reexamination, provided the articles have not been removed from Customs custody. In either case, a receipt for the baggage to be examined or reexamined shall be given on Customs Form 6051.

(b) Protest. If the passenger remains dissatisfied with the assessment of duty after reexamination, he shall pay the duty assessed and may protest the decision of the district director in accordance with Part 174 of this chapter.

§ 148.26 Collection of internal revenue taxes.

(a) Cigars and cigarettes. The internal revenue tax on taxable cigars and cigarettes in a passenger's baggage shall be paid to Customs, using the Customs entry form as a return. Any such return shall show the kind, the quantity, and the tax by class on cigars and cigarettes separately from the statement of duty. Unless for the personal consumption of the importer or disposition as his bona fide gift, cigars and cigarettes are subject to the packaging and marking requirements in the regulations of the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, and Firearms.

(b) Alcoholic beverages. The internal revenue tax shall be collected on all wines and liquors in excess of the quantity entitled to exemption as specified in this part. Alcoholic beverages found in passenger's baggage shall be released without the placing of strip stamps on the bottles when it appears from the baggage declaration or otherwise that the liquors are for personal use and not for sale or other commercial purposes.

When duties and internal revenue taxes on articles in a passenger's baggage are collected, a receipt on Customs Form 5104 shall be issued to the passenger if such duties and taxes are paid in cash. If such duties and taxes are paid by personal check, the check shall be the passenger's receipt unless a receipt is requested.

Subpart D—Exemptions for Returning Residents

(a) Exemption. Each returning resident including American citizens who are residents of American Samoa, Guam, or the Virgin Islands of the United States is entitled to bring in free of duty and internal revenue tax under item 813.10 and schedule 8, part 2, headnote 1, Tariff Schedules of the United States, (19 U.S.C. 1202), all personal and household effects taken abroad. To ensure allowance of the exemption, articles of foreign origin should be registered in accordance with § 148.1. Automobiles and other vehicles, aircraft, boats, teams and saddle horses, together with their accessories, may be brought in free of duty if taken abroad for noncommercial use (see § 148.32). [TD 78-394]

(b) Repair or alteration while abroad. If any such personal or household effect taken abroad has been advanced in value or improved in condition while abroad by repairs (including cleaning) not merely incidental to wear or use while abroad, or by alterations (including additions) which did not change the identity of the article, the cost or value of such repairs or alterations is subject to duty unless all or part of such cost or value is covered by an allowance of the $300 or $600 exemption for articles acquired abroad (see § 148.33). An effect taken abroad and there changed into a different article is dutiable at its full value when returned to the United States, unless covered in whole or in part by some provision for free entry. [TD 78-394]

§ 148.32 Vehicles, aircraft, boats, teams and saddle horses taken abroad.

(a) Admission free of duty. Automobiles and other vehicles, aircraft, boats, teams and saddle horses, together with their accessories, taken abroad for noncommercial use and returned by a returning resident shall be admitted free of duty upon being satisfactorily identified.

(b) Identification of articles taken abroad. Upon the request of the owner or his agent, the district director shall cause any article described in paragraph (a) of this section to be examined before it is taken abroad, and shall issue a certificate of registration therefor on Customs Form 4455. On the return of the article, the certificate may be accepted as satisfactory identification of the described article for the purpose of admitting the article free of duty. In lieu of Customs Form 4455, the following may be accepted as satisfactory identification of such articles taken abroad:

(1) For an automobile, the State registration card;

(2) For an aircraft, the certificate of registration issued by the Federal Aviation Administration; and

(3) For a pleasure boat, the yacht license or motorboat identification certificate.

(c) Repairs, alterations, and accessories. Repairs made abroad to articles described in paragraph (a) of this section, if incidental to use abroad, are not subject to duty. Repairs not incidental to use abroad, and alterations and additions made abroad, shall be assessed with duty upon their value at the rate at which the article itself would be dutiable if imported. Accessories for articles described in paragraph (a) of this section which are acquired abroad are dutiable as if separately imported. Any accessories, repairs, alterations, or additions, which accompany the returning resident at the time of his return to the United States shall be included in his baggage declaration.

(d) Entry. Entry on a baggage declaration or regular entry (see § 148.5) shall be required if:

(1) The owner or his agent is unable to produce a proper registration card or certificate to cover the article;

(2) A claim for free entry of repairs, alterations, additions, or accessories is to be made under the $300 or $600 returning resident's exemption for articles acquired abroad; or [TD 78–394]

(3) Duty is to be collected. (77A Stat. 411; 19 U.S.C. 1202, item 813.10, Tariff Schedules of the United States)

§ 148.33 Articles acquired abroad.

(a) Exemption. Each returning resident is entitled to bring in free of duty and internal revenue tax under items 813.30 and 813.31 and schedule 8, part 2, headnote 1, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), articles for his personal or household use which were purchased or otherwise acquired abroad merely as an incident of the foreign journey from which he is returning and which accompany him on his arrival, subject to the limitations and conditions set forth in this section and §§ 148.34–148.38. The aggregate fair retail value in the country of acquisition of such articles for personal and household use shall not exceed $300, or $600 in the case of a resident arriving directly or indirectly from American Samoa, Guam, or the Virgin Islands of the United States, of which not more than $300 shall have been acquired elsewhere than in such insular possession. [TD 78–394]

(b) Application to articles of highest rate of duty. The $300 or $600 exemption shall be applied to the aggregate fair retail value in the country of acquisition of the articles acquired abroad which are subject to the highest rates of duty. If an internal revenue tax is applicable, it shall be combined with the duty in determining which rates are highest. [TD 78–394]

(c) Gifts. An article acquired abroad by a returning resident and imported by him to be disposed of after importation as his bona fide gift is considered to be for the personal use of the returning resident and may be included in the exemption.

(d) Tobacco products and alcoholic beverages. Cigars, cigarettes, manufactured tobacco, and alcoholic beverages, may be included in the exemption to which a returning resident is entitled, with the following limits: [TD 78–394.]

(1) No more than 200 cigarettes and 100 cigars may be included;

(2) No alcoholic beverages shall be included in the case of an individual who has not attained the age of 21; and

o (3) No more than 1 liter of alcoholic beverages may be included unless the individual is arriving directly or indirectly from American Samoa, Guam, or the Virgin Islands of the United States. An individual returning directly or indirectly from these insular possessions shall be entitled to include in the exemption no more than 1 wine gallon of alcoholic beverages, not more than 1 quart of which shall have been acquired elsewhere than in such insular possessions.

(e) Exemption not applicable. The exemption does not apply to articles intended for sale or acquired on commission, i.e., for the account of another person, with or without compensation for the service rendered. Articles acquired on one journey and left in a foreign country cannot be allowed the exemption accruing upon the return of the resident from a subsequent journey.

(f) Remainder not applicable to subsequent journey. A returning resident who has received a total exemption of less than $300 under the $300 exemption, or less than $600 under the $600 exemption in connection with his return from one journey is not entitled to apply the remainder of either amount to articles acquired abroad on a subsequent journey. [TD 78–394]

§ 148.34 Family grouping of exemptions for articles acquired abroad.

(a) Grouping of exemptions. Each member of a family is entitled to the $300 or $600 exemption for articles acquired abroad, subject to the conditions prescribed in this subpart. When members of a family residing in one household travel together on their return to the United States, the $300 or $600 exemption to which the several members of the family may be entitled may be grouped and allowed without regard to which member of the family is the owner of the articles. However, a group exemption shall not include an exemption for a family member not entitled to it in his own right, nor shall a group exemption be applied to any property of such a member. The exemption of a family member who has not attained the age of 21 shall not be applied under the group exemption to alcoholic beverages. No exemptions allowable to a resident servant accompanying the family shall be included in the family grouping. [TD 78–394]

(b) Members of a family residing in one household. The term "members of a family in one household" shall include all persons, regardless of age, who:

(1) Are related by blood, marriage, or adoption;

(2) Lived together in one household at their last permanent residence; and

(3) Intend to live together in one household after their arrival in the United States.

§ 148.35 Length of stay for exemption of articles acquired abroad.

(a) Required for allowance of $300 exemption. The $300 exemption for articles acquired abroad shall not be allowed unless the returning resident has remained beyond the territorial limits of the United States for a period of not less than 48 hours, except in the case of a resident arriving directly in the United States from Mexico. The exemption may be allowed on articles acquired abroad by a returning resident arriving directly from Mexico without regard to the length of time the person has remained outside the territorial limits of the United States. [TD 78-394]

(b) Required for allowance of $600 exemption on return from Virgin Islands. The $600 exemption applicable in the case of the arrival of a returning resident directly or indirectly from the Virgin Islands of the United States may be allowed without regard to the length of time such person has remained outside the territorial limits of the United States.

(c) Computation of time. The 48-hour period a returning resident must have completed abroad to be entitled to an exemption shall be computed exactly. For example, a resident leaving United States territory at 1:30 p.m. on June 1 would complete the 48-hour period at 1:30 p.m. on June 3.

(a) 30-day period. The $300 or $600 exemption for articles acquired abroad shall not be granted to a returning resident who has taken advantage of such exemption within the 30-day period immediately preceding his return to the United States. The date of the returning resident's latest prior arrival on which he declared articles acquired abroad for allowance of the $300 or $600 exemption shall be deemed the date he took advantage of the applicable exemption. [TD 78-394]

(b) Computation of time. The 30-day period immediately preceding the resident's return shall be computed by excluding the day of arrival and counting backward 30 days. For example, in the case of an arrival on May 28, the resident would not be entitled to the $300 or $600 exemption if he had taken advantage of such exemption on or after the preceding April 28.

(a) Free entry of replacement articles. An article furnished by a foreign supplier to replace a like article of comparable value previously exempted from duty under the $300 or $600 exemptions for articles acquired abroad shall be allowed free entry if the original article is found by the importer to be unsatisfactory and the procedures provided by paragraph (b) of this section are followed. In any case in which the importer has failed to follow these procedures, the district director may allow free entry of the replacement article if he is satisfied that the unsatisfactory article was timely exported and that the failure to comply with the procedures of paragraph (b) of this section was due to inadvertence or lack of experience in Customs matters and was without willful intent to avoid Customs supervision. [TD 78-394]

(b) Procedure for replacement. Any article previously exempted from duty under the $300 or $600 exemptions found by the importer to be unsatisfactory shall be returned to Customs custody and exported under Customs supervision at the expense of the importer within 60 days after its importation. A certificate of registration on Customs Form 4455 shall be issued to the importer with instructions as to its use when the unsatisfactory article is exported for replacement under the provisions of item 813.40, Tariff Schedules of the United States. [TD 78-394]

(c) Articles found damaged upon declaration. The requirement that the original article be exported under Customs supervision does not apply when a duplicate article is furnished by a foreign supplier as a replacement for an article declared for entry under the $300 or $600 exemption and found by the Customs inspector or other examining officer to be so damaged as to constitute a nonimportation (§ 158.11 of this chapter). In such a case, Customs Form 4455 shall be issued to the importer at the time the determination of nonimportation is made and the duplicate replacement shall be considered to have been acquired abroad for the purposes of the $300 or $600 exemption provision, provided no charge is made to the importer for the duplicate replacement. [TD 78-394]

An article brought in under the $300 or $600 exemption for articles acquired abroad for personal or household use and subsequently sold is not dutiable or subject to forfeiture by reason of the sale if the returning resident actually acquired and imported the article for his bona fide personal or household use and not for sale. [TD 78-394]

(a) Importation for temporary period. An automobile rented by a resident of the United States while abroad may be brought into the United States by or on behalf of such resident for a temporary period not to exceed 30 days under item 813.25, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), without payment of duty. The automobile shall be used for the transportation of the resident and that of his family and guests, and for such incidental carriage of articles as may be appropriate to his personal use of the automobile. No entry or security for exportation shall be required.

(b) Unauthorized use or failure to export. If any automobile exempted from duty under item 813.25, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), is used otherwise than for the purpose expressed or is not returned abroad within 30 days, without prior payment to a district director of the duty which would have been payable at the time of entry if entered without benefit of the exemption, the automobile or its value (to be recovered from the importer) shall be subject to forefeiture.

§ 148.41 Articles carried through the United States.

An arriving nonresident who is in transit to a place outside U.S. Customs territory may take with him through U.S. Customs territory for carriage to such place articles not exceeding $200 in aggregate value including not more than 4 liters of alcoholic beverages without the payment of duty or internal revenue taxes as provided in item 812.40, and schedule 8, part 2, headnote 1, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202). [TD 78-394]

§ 148.42 Personal effects.

(a) Exemption. A nonresident arriving in the United States, regardless of age, is entitled under item 812.10, and schedule 8, part 2, headnote 1, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), to entry free of duty and internal revenue tax for his wearing apparel, articles of personal adornment, toilet articles, and similar personal effects. "Similar personal effects" include all articles intended and appropriate for the personal use of the nonresident while traveling, such as hunting and fishing equipment, wheelchairs for invalids or crippled persons, pet and hunting dogs, and the like.

(b) Application of exemption. The exemption applies only to articles which were actually owned by the nonresident and in his possession abroad at the time of, or prior to, his departure for the United States. The articles must be appropriate for the personal use of the nonresident, and intended only for such use and not as a gift for another person nor for sale.

(a) For personal use. Fifty cigars, or 200 cigarettes, or 2 kilograms of smoking tobacco, and not exceeding 1 liter of alcoholic beverages may be passed free of duty and internal revenue tax under item 812.20, and schedule 8, part 2, headnote 1, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), when brought in by an adult nonresident for his personal use, and not for commercial use or to be given to another person. This exemption for tobacco products may be applied proportionately. (Sec. 7, 52 Stat. 1081, item 817.00, Tariff Schedules of the United States, 92 Stat. 888 (19 U.S.C. 1202, 1321, SCC. 202 Pub. L. 95-410)) [TDs 78-394, 80-179.]

(b) For gifts. A nonresident who is allowed the $100 gift exemption (see § 148.44) may include not more than 100 cigars under such exemption from duty and internal revenue tax, provided the cigars accompany him and are to be disposed of only as bona fide gifts. [TD 78-394]

(a) Exemption. An arriving nonresident who intends to remain in the United States for not less than 72 hours is entitled to claim as free of duty and internal revenue tax under item 812.25, and schedule 8, part 2, headnote 1, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), articles not over $100 in aggregate value not including alcoholic beverages and cigarettes, but including not more than 100 cigars which accompany him and are to be disposed of by him as bona fide gifts. See § 148.43(b) for limitations on cigars under this exemption. [TD 78-394]

(b) Frequency of allowance. The exemption for gifts may be allowed only if the nonresident has not claimed the exemption within the immediately preceding 6 months.

§ 148.45 Vehicles and other conveyances.

Nonresidents are entitled to entry free of duty and internal revenue tax under item 812.30, and schedule 8, part 2, headnote 1, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), for automobiles, trailers, aircraft, motorcycles, bicycles, baby carriages, boats, horse-drawn conveyances, horses, and similar means of transportation and the usual equipment accompanying them, if such articles are imported in connection with the arrival of the nonresident to be used in the United States only for the transportation of the nonresident, his family and guests, and such incidental carriage of articles as may be appropriate to his personal use of the conveyance.

§ 148.46 Sale of exempted articles.

(a) Sale resulting in forfeiture. The following articles or their value (to be recovered from the importer) upon their sale, shall be subject to forfeiture in accordance with the provisions of schedule 8, part 2A, headnote 1, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), unless the procedure set forth in paragraph (b) of this section is followed:

(1) Any jewelry or similar articles of personal adornment having an aggregate value of $300 or more which have been allowed an exemption under § 148.42, if sold within 3 years of the date of importation.

(2) Any conveyance or its equipment allowed an exemption under § 148.45, if sold within 1 year after the date of importation.

(b) Procedure permitting sale. Articles described in paragraph (a) of this section may be sold if, prior to the time of sale, payment is made to a district director of the duty which would have been payable at the time of entry if the article had been entered without the benefit of the applicable exemption.

(c) Permissible sales. A sale pursuant to a judicial order or in liquidation of the estate of a decedent is not a basis for any liability for duty or forfeiture.

Subpart F—Other Exemptions

§ 148.51 Special exemption for personal or household articles.

(a) Application of exemption. The exemption from duty and internal revenue tax contemplated by section 321(a)(2)(B), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1321(a)(2)(B)), may be applied to articles for his personal or household use including gifts, but not for any business or commercial use, accompanying:

(1) A nonresident arriving in the United States who is not entitled to an exemption for gifts under item 812.25, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202) (see § 148.44); or

(2) A returning resident who is not entitled to the $300 or $600 exemption for articles acquired abroad under item 813.31, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202) (see Subpart D of this part). [TD 78-394]

(b) Limitations. No article accompanying a person arriving in the United States shall be exempted from duty or internal revenue tax under section 321(a)(2)(B), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, if any article accompanying such person is subject to duty or tax by reason of the following limitations on the application of this exemption:

(1) Value of articles. The exemption shall be allowed only when the aggregate fair retail value of all articles not otherwise entitled to an exemption does not exceed $25. [TD 78-394]

(2) Articles subject to internal revenue tax. The exemption shall not be applied to articles subject to internal revenue tax other than: (Sec. 7,52 Stat. 1081, item 877.00, Tariff Schedules of the United States, 92 Stat. 888 (19 U.S.C. 1202, 1321, Sec. 202 Pub. L. 95-410)) [TD 80-179.]

(i) Cigarettes not in excess of 50;

(ii) Cigars not in excess of 10;

(iii) Alcoholic beverages not in excess of 150 milliliters; or

(iv) Alcoholic perfumery not in excess of 150 milliliters; or

(c) Family grouping. Family grouping of the exemption shall not be allowed. (Sec. 7, 52 Stat. 1081, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1321)

§ 148.52 Exemption for household effects used abroad.

(a) Exemption. Furniture, carpets, paintings, tableware, books, libraries, and other usual household furnishings and effects actually used abroad for not less than 1 year by resident or nonresidents, and not intended for any other person or for sale may be allowed entry free of duty and tax under item 810.10, and schedule 8, part 2, headnote 1, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202). Household effects used abroad not less than 1 year by a family of which the importer was a resident member for not less than 1 year during the period of use may be allowed free entry whether or not the importer owned the effects at the time of such use. The year of use need not be continuous, nor need it immediately precede the time of importation.

(b) Proof of use. In order to obtain free entry for household effects under this section, the use of the effects abroad for 1 year must be proven to the satisfaction of the district director. The district director, in his discretion, may require evidence of use other than the declaration provided for in paragraph (c) of this section.

(c) Declaration. When household effects are claimed to be free of duty a declaration of the owner on Customs Form 3299 shall be required to support the claim for free entry. If it is impracticable to produce the declaration at the time of entry, the importer may give a bond on Customs Form 7551 or 7553 for the production of the owner's declaration within 6 months.

(d) Arrival of effects more than 10 years after arrival of importer. As a general rule, household effects arriving more than 10 years after the last arrival of the importer from the country in which the effects were used shall not be admitted free of duty under this exemption unless the district director is satisfied from the importer's explanation that the effects were unavoidably detained beyond the 10-year period. However, in no case shall free entry be allowed under this provision when a period of 25 years or more has elapsed since the last arrival of the importer in the United States from the country in which the effects were used.

§ 148.53 Exemption for tools of trade.

(a) Exemption. Professional books, implements, instruments, or tools of trade, occupation or employment, may be allowed entry free of duty and tax under the provisions of schedule 8, part 2, headnote 1, and item 811.10, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), for such articles owned and used abroad by any person emigrating to the United States, or item 810.20 for such articles taken abroad by or for the account of any person arriving in the United States. The exemption for emigrants under item 811.10 shall not be applied to:

(1) Theatrical scenery, properties, or apparel;

(2) Articles for use in any manufacturing establishment;

(3) Articles for any other person; or

(4) Articles for sale.

(b) Declaration. A declaration of the emigrant or returning individual on Customs Form 3299 shall be required to support the claim of free entry. However, an oral declaration may be accepted from a returning individual in lieu of a written declaration for any such articles claimed to be free of duty under item 810.20, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202).

§ 148.54 Exemption for effects of citizens dying abroad.

(a) Exemption. Articles claimed to be personal and household effects, not stock in trade, the title to which is in the estate of a citizen of the United States who died abroad may be allowed entry free of duty and tax under item 815.00, and schedule 8, part 2, headnote 1, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202).

(b) Entry. Such effects shall be entered in accordance with the provisions of §§ 143.11—143.16 of this chapter, or if the value of such effects does not exceed $250, entry may be permitted under the provisions of §§ 143.21 through 143.28 of this chapter. [TD 78-99]

(c) Statement of facts required. The district director shall require in connection with the entry the written statement of a person having knowledge of the facts or shall otherwise satisfy himself as to the citizenship of the deceased owner of the effects at the time of death.

(a) Application of exemption. An exemption is provided for trademarked articles accompanying any person arriving in the United States which would be prohibited entry under section 526, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1526), or section 42 of the Act of July 5, 1946 (60 Stat. 440; 15 U.S.C. 1124), because the trademark has been registered with the U.S. Patent Office and recorded with Customs. The exemption may be applied to those trademarked articles of foreign manufacture bearing a trademark owned by a citizen of, or a corporation or association created or organized within, the United States when inported for the arriving person's personal use in the quantities provided in paragraph (c) of this section. Unregistered and unrecorded trademarked articles are not subject to quantity limitation.

(b) Limitations.—(1) 30-day period. The exemption in paragraph (a) of this section shall not be granted to any person who has taken advantage of the exemption for the same type of article within the 30-day period immediately prior to his arrival in the United States. The date of the person's last arrival on which he claimed this exemption shall be considered to be the date he last took advantage of the exemption.

(b) Sale of exempted articles. If an article which has been exempted is sold within one year of the date of importation, the article or its value (to be recovered from the importer), is subject to forfeiture. A sale subject to judicial order or in the liquidation of an estate is not subject to the provisions of this paragraph.

(c) Quantities. Generally, each person arriving in the United States may apply the exemption to one article of the type bearing a protected trademark. The Commissioner shall determine if a quantity of an article in excess of one may be entered and, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, publish in the Federal Register a list of types of articles and the quantities of each entitled to the exemption. If the holder of a protected trademark allows importation of a quantity in excess of one of its particular trademarked article, the total of those trademarked articles authorized by the trademark holder may be entered without penalty. [TD 79-159.]

Subpart G—Crewmember Declarations and Exemptions

The following persons arriving in the United States shall not be treated as crewmembers: [TD 76-338.]

(a) Members of the uniformed services of the United States and persons in the civil service of the United States engaged in the operation of a vessel, vehicle, or aircraft owned by, or under the complete control and management of, the United States or any of its agencies.

(b) Persons engaged in the operation of a private or public aircraft.

(c) Persons not connected with the operation, navigation, ownership, or business of a vessel, vehicle or aircraft engaged in international traffic.

§ 148.62 Declaration and entry of articles by crewmembers.

(a) Declaration required. Articles which are to be landed by a crewmember, including any person traveling on board a vessel, vehicle, or aircraft engaged in international traffic who is returning from a trip on which he was employed as a crewmember, shall be declared upon arrival of the vessel, vehicle, or aircraft in the United States. When practicable, the clearance of articles through Customs shall be made and permission to unlade obtained before the articles are taken from the carrier. However, if no danger to the revenue will result, articles may be submitted for examination and clearance to the Customs office on the pier or at the landing place.

(b) Form of declaration—(1) Oral declaration. A crewmember may be permitted to make an oral declaration and entry if all articles he has to declare, in addition to articles for use in port on temporary leave for which no entry is required in accordance with § 148.63, may be admitted free of duty and tax under section 321(a)(2)(B), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1321(a)(2)(B)) (See § 148.64).

(2) Written declaration. A written declaration on Customs Form 5129, Crewmember's Declaration shall be required in any case in which an oral declaration is not permitted. A written declaration may be required in any case if necessary to effect prompt and orderly clearance of crewmembers and their effects or if deemed necessary to protect the revenue. [TD 78-99.]

(c) Transfer without declaration. Articles belonging to a crewmember may be transferred from one carrier to another in international traffic without declaration, entry, or assessment of duty if the transfer is carried out under the supervision of Customs officers, or by a bonded cartman if necessary.

(d) Entry at port where articles to be landed. Articles in the possession of or owned by a crewmember of a character for which entry must be made when they are brought into the United States shall be entered at the port where the articles are to be landed. However, if the crewmember remains on a vessel, vehicle, or aircraft which is to proceed to another port of the United States in a movement in which entry of the vessel, vehicle, or aircraft will not be required, entry of the articles shall be made at the port at which such movement begins.

(e) Collection of duty and taxes. Any duties and taxes found due shall be collected as in the case of arriving passengers.

§ 148.63 Articles for use while on temporary leave.

(a) Exemption. Articles in the possession of and exclusively for use by any crewmember during the trip or voyage, such as necessary clothing, toiletries, and purely personal effects, may be landed by such crewmember for use on temporary leave without a written declaration or entry, and without payment of duty or internal revenue tax under item 814.00, and schedule 8, part 2, headnote 1, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), if the district director is satisfied that:

(1) The articles are reasonable and appropriate for the crewmember's accommodation while on temporary leave, and are to be taken out of the United States, except for articles consumed in use;

(2) The articles are intended exclusively for the crewmember's bona fide personal use;

(3) The quantities are reasonable, depending on the circumstances in each particular case; and

(4) In the case of tobacco products and alcoholic beverages, the containers have been opened and the total quantity landed shall not exceed 50 cigars, 300 cigarettes, or 2 kilograms of smoking tobacco, or a proportionate amount of each, and 1 liter of alcoholic beverages. (Sec. 7, 52 Stat. 1081, item 817.00, Tariff Schedules of the United States, 92 Stat. 888 (19 U.S.C. 1202, 1321, Sec. 202 Pub. L. 95-410)) [TD 80-179.]

(b) Temporary leave. A crewmember is not considered to be on temporary leave from a vessel, vehicle, or aircraft engaged in international traffic or entitled to the exemption under this section upon disembarkation when he is to remain in the confines of a pier, terminal, airport, or area immediately adjacent thereto, in order to timely embark on the carrier in the course of a continuous journey or on a concurrently scheduled arrival and departure.

(a) Application of exemption. The exemption from duty and internal revenue tax contemplated by section 321(a)(2)(B), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1321(a)(2)(B)), may be applied to articles for the personal and household use, including gifts, of a crewmember arriving in the United States who is not entitled to an exemption under item 812.25 or 813.31, Tariff Schedules of the United States (see §§ 148.66(c) and 148.65). The exemption may be applied when the crewmember is entitled to an exemption under item 814.00, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), for articles for use while on temporary leave (§ 148.63).

(b) Limitations. No article accompanying a crewmember arriving in the United States shall be exempted from duty or internal revenue tax under section 321(a)(2)(B), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, if any article accompanying such crewmember is subject to duty or internal revenue tax by reason of the following limitations.

(1) Value of articles. The exemption shall be allowed only when the aggregate fair retail value of all articles not otherwise entitled to an exemption does not exceed $10.

(2) Articles subject to internal revenue tax. The exemption shall not be applied to any article subject to internal revenue tax in addition to any articles allowed an exemption under item 814.00, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), other than: (Sec. 7, 52 Stat. 1081, item 817.00, Tariff Schedules of the United States, 92 Stat. 888 (19 U.S.C. 1202, 1321, sec. 202 Pub. L. 95–410)) [TD 80–179.]

(i) Cigarettes not in excess of 50;

(ii) Cigars not in excess of 10;

(iii) Alcoholic beverages not in excess of 150 mililiters; or

(iv) Alcoholic perfumery not in excess of 150 mililiters.

§ 148.65 Exemptions for resident crewmembers.

(a) Status as returning resident. A crewmember arriving in a vessel, vehicle, or aircraft from a foreign port who is a resident of the United States shall be considered a returning resident qualifying for the exemptions allowed under Schedule 8, Part 2A, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), and Subpart D of this part if he permanently leaves the carrier without the intention of resuming his employment on the same or any other carrier that is engaged in international traffic.

(b) Statement of declaration. A resident crewmember who claims that articles declared by him are entitled to be passed free of duty and tax under the returning resident's exemption, shall include a legible statement on the declaration, Customs Form 5129, of the basis for his claim for entitlement to the resident's exemption. [TD 78–99, 81–218.]

(a) Status as arriving nonresident. A nonresident crewmember will be treated as an arriving nonresident for purposes of claiming the exemptions allowable under schedule 8, part 2A, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), and subpart E of this part when he permanently leaves his employment with a vessel, vehicle, or aircraft at a port in the United States without intention of resuming employment on the same or another carrier in international traffic. However, a nonresident crewmember shall not be treated as an arriving nonresident for this purpose when he departs a carrier for temporary leave but retains his employment with the carrier so that he will be going foreign again in the course of his continuing employment (see § 148.63).

(b) Articles carried through the United States. A nonresident crewmember, permanently leaving a carrier in a U.S. port to travel as a passenger on another carrier which will take him to a place outside the United States, who desires to take with him articles not exceeding $200 in aggregate value (including not more than 4 liters of alcoholic beverages) without the payment of duty or internal revenue tax as provided in item 812.40 (see § 148.41), may be accorded free entry of the articles under the following procedure: [TD 78–394.]

(1) Declaration and supporting statement. The nonresident crewmember shall itemize the articles on his declaration and entry, Customs Form 5129, required by § 148.62(b)(2), and shall state in writing in support of his declaration that: [TD 78–99.]

(i) He has been finally discharged from the carrier, with the date of discharge;

(ii) He intends to depart from the same or another U.S. port as a passenger on another carrier for a place outside U.S. Customs territory; and

(iii) The articles will be taken with him on such carrier and will not remain in the United States.

(2) Allowance by district director. The district director may require verification of the crewmember's discharge and a statement as to the accuracy of the second and third supporting statements of the crewmember from the person in charge of the carrier, the vessel agent, or the port captain. If the district director is satisfied that the crewmember's statements are correct, the articles may be passed free of duty and internal revenue tax under item 812.40, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202).

(c) Articles to be disposed of as gifts. A nonresident crewmember shall itemize on his baggage declaration and entry, Customs Form 5123 or 5129, required by § 148.62, all articles in his possession for which he seeks entry under item 812.25, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), as bona fide gifts. The crewmember must be permanently leaving his employment on the international carrier for a stay in the United States of at least 72 hours before departing for a place outside the United States as a passenger.

(a) Avoidance of inspection. When articles may be presented to the Customs office on the pier or at the landing place for inspection and clearance, if the circumstances under which the articles are landed indicate an attempt to avoid inspection, the penalties prescribed in section 453, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1453), shall be assessed.

(b) Articles landed without declaration. Any article landed without having been properly declared as provided in § 148.62 shall be considered as having been unladen without a permit and the penalties provided in section 453, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1453), or section 1474 of title 49, United States Code, shall be assessed as applicable.

(c) Articles omitted from declaration. If the declaration does not include all the articles landed, the crewmember shall be subject to the penalties prescribed in section 497, Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1497), with respect to the articles omitted. The penalties prescribed in section 453, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1453), shall not be assessed if any, though not all, of the articles are declared, except as provided in paragraph (a) of this section.

Subpart H—Military and Civilian Employees of the United States, and Evacuees.

§ 148.71 Status of persons in service of United States as returning residents.

A person in the service of the United States and members of his family arriving in the United States are ordinarily considered returning residents for the purpose of schedule 8, part 2A, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), except that the following persons are treated as nonresidents:

(a) A wife or husband of any person in the service of the United States emigrating to the United States, and

(b) A child born abroad of any person in the service of the United States who is arriving in the United States for the first time.

§ 148.72 Articles acquired abroad by personnel on Government vessels.

(a) Declaration of dutiable articles by commanding officer. Immediately upon the arrival of any vessel operated by the United States or any agency thereof from a foreign port, the commanding officer shall file with the district director information as to dutiable articles acquired abroad in the following form:

United States Navy Customs Declaration

U.S.S. ______________, Port of arrival ______________

To the District Director of Customs:

Herewith is submitted a list of articles acquired in foreign countries by me and the respective officers and members of the crew under my command, which list is correct to the best of my knowledge and belief.

Owner	Rank	Description of articles	Cost or value

______________ (Name)

______________ (Rank)

______________ Commanding Officer

If there are no articles to be listed, the statement "Nothing to declare" shall be placed on the form. No individual baggage declarations shall be required.

(b) Examination of baggage. Articles listed on the declaration filed by the commanding officer shall be segregated until formally passed by Customs. The listed articles shall be examined and passed in the same manner as the baggage on passenger vessels.

§ 148.73 Baggage on military transports.

(a) Declaration. Commissioned officers and enlisted personnel of the Armed Forces of the United States engaged in the operation of an Army or Navy transport, enlisted men carried as passengers, and civilian officers and crewmembers shall not be required to execute baggage declarations, but all articles acquired abroad by them must be listed on the manifest of the vessel. All cabin passengers shall be required to execute written baggage declarations.

(b) Exemptions applicable. Passengers on transports shall be granted the applicable exemptions from duty provided for in schedule 8, part 2A, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202). Members of the Armed Forces of the United States and personnel in the civil service of the United States engaged in the operation of the vessel shall be accorded the same privilege. Civilian officers and crewmembers not in the service of the United States shall be subject to the provisions of Subpart G of this part with respect to exemption from duty.

(c) Examination of baggage. Baggage on transports shall be examined at the port where landed in the same manner as baggage on commercial vessels.

§ 148.74 Exemption on termination of assignment to extended duty or on evacuation.

(a) Exemption. With the limitation on alcoholic beverages and tobacco products provided in paragraph (c) of this section, entry free of duty and tax under item 817.00, and schedule 8, part 2, headnote 1, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), may be accorded personal and household effects of:

(1) Any person in the service of the United States who returns to the United States upon the termination of assignment to extended duty at a post or station outside the Customs territory of the United States;

(2) Members of his family who have resided with him at such post or station and are returning upon the termination of his assignment; or

(3) Any person evacuated to the United States under Government orders or instructions.

(b) Applicability of exemption. The term "personal effects" as used in item 817.00, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), is not confined to that class of articles described in item 812.10, Tariff Schedules of the United States, nor is any period of use, such as is prescribed by item 810.10, Tariff Schedules of the United States, applicable to household effects entered under item 817.00. The privilege of free entry under item 817.00, Tariff Schedules of the United States, does not apply to:

(1) Articles imported for sale, or for the account of any person not specified in item 817.00, Tariff Schedules of the United States; or

(2) Articles which have not been in the direct personal possession of the claimant, or a member of his household, while abroad.

(c) Limitation on alcoholic beverages and tobacco products. A total of not more than 4 liters of alcoholic beverages and not more than 100 cigars shall be accorded free entry under item 817.00, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), subject to the conditions that: (Sec. 7, 52 Stat. 1081, item 817.00, Tariff Schedules of the United States, 92 Stat. 888 (19 U.S.C. 1202, 1321, sec. 202 Pub. L. 95-41.)) [TD 80-179.]

(1) These articles accompany the person making the claim for free entry upon his arrival in the United States;

(2) Not more than 1 liter of any such alcoholic beverages shall have been distilled or otherwise manufactured and bottled in any place other than the United States or its possessions; (Sec. 7, 52 Stat. 1081, item 817.00, Tariff Schedules of the United States, 92 Stat. 888 (19 U.S.C. 1202, 1321, sec. 202 Pub. L. 95-410)) [TD 80-179.]

(3) Such individual has not concurrently claimed exemptions as a returning resident under items 813.30 and 813.31, Tariff Schedules of the United States; and

(4) Such person, if other than one in the service of the United States, shall have attained the age of 21.

(d) Termination of assignment to extended duty. The requirement of item 817.00 that the person "returns to the United States upon the termination of assignment to extended duty" shall be considered met upon necessary proof being submitted that any one of the following is applicable:

(1) The person is returning upon the termination of a tour of duty outside the Customs territory of the United States of at least 140 days' duration.

(2) The person is returning after the termination of an assignment under permanent change of station orders to duty at a post or station outside the Customs territory of the United States, regardless of the duration of the duty. A crewmember, including a member of a command, serving on a United States naval vessel when it departs from the United States on an intended deployment of 120 days or more outside the Customs territory of the United States and who continues to serve on the vessel until it returns to the United States may be considered as returning after the termination of an assignment of duty under permanent change of station orders.

(3) The person is returning to the United States upon the termination of a tour of duty at any time after leaving the United States for duty of not less than 140 days outside the Customs territory of the United States.

(4) The person, although not returning to the United States, is ordered by the Government agency involved from duty at a post or station outside the Customs territory of the United States to duty at another post or station outside the Customs territory of the United States necessitating the return to the United States of his personal and household effects.

§ 148.75 Persons ineligible for exemption on termination of assignment.

(a) Persons returning from temporary assignment. No person, or member of his family, shall be allowed free entry of personal and household effects under item 817.00, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), where the person returns to the United States pursuant to Government orders or instructions which authorized him initially to proceed to a foreign post or station and return to the United States upon termination of temporary duty, except as it may otherwise be deemed proper in accordance with the provisions of § 148.74(d) or § 148.76.

(b) Persons returning on leave or before termination of extended duty assignment. A person returning on leave, other than on reemployment leave at the termination of assignment to extended duty as defined in § 148.74(d), or otherwise returning before the termination of an assignment to extended duty outside the Customs territory of the United States, with or without orders covering the return, is not eligible for an exemption under item 817.00, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202).

(c) Person returning on temporary duty assignment. A person returning to the United States under orders on temporary duty assignment at the termination of which he is returned to his duty station abroad to resume his regular duties is not regarded as returning to the United States at the termination of extended duty outside the Customs ttory of the United States and is not eligible for an exemption under item 817.00, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202).

In any case in which the limitation on the quantity of alcoholic beverages and tobacco products which may be exempted from duty and tax under § 148.74(c) or the failure of the person to meet the requirements that he be returning upon the termination of assignment to "extended duty," as explained in § 148.74(d), will cause undue hardship to the person through no fault of his own, but rather because of the nature of his assignment or other hardship circumstances, the Commissioner of Customs, upon receipt of a request from the Government agency involved, may waive the limitation or the requirement, as the case may be, if he deems such waiver warranted by the facts.

§ 148.77 Entry of effects on termination of assignment to extended duty, or on evacuation.

(a) General procedure. All articles for which free entry is claimed under item 817.00, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), shall be entered or withdrawn in accordance with the requirements prescribed by the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended. District directors shall be satisfied in all cases that the articles for which free entry is claimed under item 817.00, Tariff Schedules of the United States, are personal and household effects of the importer entitled to the benefits of item 817.00, particularly in those cases where the quantity of effects imported may appear to be unreasonable for personal or household use. No invoice shall be required for articles accorded free entry under this provision.

(b) Declaration and entry—(1) Person entitled to exemption. Declaration and entry for articles claimed to be exempt from duty and tax under item 817.00, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), may be made on Customs Form 6061, or Department of Defense Form (DD) 1252 when entry is made in the name of the person who is entitled to the benefits of the exemption. The date of the person's last departure from the United States shall be indicated on the declaration and entry.

(2) Designated official. Customs Form 6061, executed on behalf of the owner of unaccompanied personal and household effects by either a United States Dispatch Agent or a designated responsible military official in his own name, may be accepted by the Customs officer as the declaration and entry if there is a valid reason evident from the owner's travel orders or information at hand why the United States Government agency concerned is unable to present Department of Defense Form (DD) 1252 or Customs Form 6061 executed by the owner. The date of the owner's last departure from the United States need not be indicated on the form. The following statement shall be added across the face or to the back of Customs Form 6061:

> This form is completed on behalf of ———————, (Name of Government employee). Travel orders and information on hand in this office show that the named person has met all requirements of § 148.74 of the Customs Regulations and is entitled to the benefits of item 817.00, Tariff Schedules of the United States. The shipment imported consists of nothing but personal and household effects of the named person, which effects are not imported for sale or as an accommodation for others.

(c) Verification of claim for exemption—(1) By travel orders. The declaration and entry shall be verified by the Customs officer by an inspection of the owner's travel orders. If the district director accepts an inspection of the owner's travel orders as evidence that the effects were brought into the United States within the requirements of item 817.00, the owner's travel orders shall be identified on the entry, which shall be handled like a free baggage declaration.

(2) By other evidence. The declaration and entry may be verified by other evidence which satisfies the district director that the effects were brought into the United States in connection with:

(i) The person's return to the United States upon the termination of assignment to extended duty, as explained in § 148.74(d);

(ii) The return of members of his family who have resided with him at his post or station upon the termination of his assignment; or

(iii) The evacuation of a person to the United States under Government orders or instructions.

Subpart I—Personnel of Foreign Governments and International Organizations and Special Treatment for Returning Individuals

§ 148.81 General provisions.

(a) Reciprocal privileges. The privileges provided for in §§ 148.81 through 148.86 and § 148.90 of this chapter shall be accorded only if reciprocal privileges are granted by the foreign government involved to U.S. personnel of comparable status. [TD 73-227.]

(b) Baggage and effects. The term "baggage and effects," as used in this subpart includes all articles which were in the possession of a person abroad, and are being imported in connection with his arrival, and which are intended for his bona fide per[illegible]nal or household use. It does not include articles imp[illegible] as an accommodation to others or for sale or other [illegible]rcial use. [TD 73-227.]

(c) Aliens. The privileges p[illegible]d in this subpart shall be accorded only to alien re[illegible]ntatives, officers, employees, and members of th[illegible]med forces of foreign governments and designated [illegible]lic international organizations. [TD 73-227.]

(d) Internal revenue tax. Any article exempted from the payment of duty under this subpart shall be exempt also from the payment of any internal revenue tax imposed upon or by reason of importation. [TD 73-227.]

§ 148.82 Diplomatic, consular and other privileged personnel.

(a) Inviolability of the person of diplomatic personnel. The person of the representatives of foreign governments and members of their families set forth below shall be free from arrest, search, or detention:

(1) Ambassadors, ministers, charges d'affaires, secretaries, counselors, attaches of foreign embassies and legations, and other heads of diplomatic missions or members of the diplomatic staffs of such missions, accredited to the United States or en route between other countries to which accredited and their own countries.

(2) Members of the families forming part of the households of the diplomatic personnel listed in the preceding subparagraph, who are accompanying them or traveling separately to join them incidental to their official travel, excluding those members of families who are U.S. nationals.

(3) Members of the administrative and technical staffs of diplomatic missions accredited to the United States and members of their families forming part of their household, all of whom are not nationals or permanent residents of the United States who are accompanying them or traveling separately to join them incidental to their official travel.

(4) Diplomatic and consular couriers.

(b) Exemption for baggage and effects and admission without entry. The baggage and effects of the following representatives of foreign governments shall be admitted free of duty without the filing of an entry, upon the request of the Department of State and appropriate instructions from the United States Customs Service in each instance:

(1) Ambassadors, ministers, charges d'affaires, secretaries, counselors, attaches of embassies and legations, and other members of the diplomatic staffs of such missions accredited to the United States or en route to or from other countries to which assigned, as well as recognized consular officers, and the immediate families, suites, and servants of all the above under item 820.10, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202).

(2) Members of the administrative and technical staffs of diplomatic missions and members of their families forming part of their households, all of whom are not nationals or permanent residents of the United States under item 820.10, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202). Unless more extensive privileges are provided in treaties or special agreements between the United States and the foreign country concerned, this privilege is limited to baggage and effects imported at the time of first installation.

(3) Consular employees who are not nationals or permanent residents of the United States. Unless more extensive privileges are provided in treaties or special agreements between the United States and the foreign country concerned, this privilege is limited to articles imported at the time of first installation.

(4) Other high officials of foreign governments and such distinguished foreign visitors as may be designated by the Department of State, and their immediate families under item 820.50, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202).

(5) Foreign government personnel entitled to privileges under statutes or treaties under item 820.60, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202).

(6) Diplomatic couriers, limited to accompanying baggage and effects.

(c) Absence of special request. In the absence of special request from the Department of State prior to the arrival of representatives of foreign governments enumerated in paragraph (b)(1) of this section, their immediate families as well as accompanying suites and servants, and diplomatic couriers, their baggage and effects may be admitted free of duty without entry upon presentation of their credentials or other proof of their identity.

(d) Delay in arrival of baggage or effects. If by accident or unavoidable delay in shipment the baggage or other effects of a person entitled to the privileges of this section shall arrive after him upon satisfactory proof of ownership, such baggage or effects may be passed free of duty without entry.

(e) Inspection of baggage—(1) Exemption for representatives of foreign governments. The personal baggage of the following representatives of foreign governments and their families is ordinarily exempt from inspection:

(i) Ambassadors, ministers, charges d'affaires, secretaries, counselors, attaches of foreign embassies or legations, and other members of the diplomatic staffs of such missions, who are accredited to the United States or en route between other countries to which accredited and their own countries and members of their families forming part of their household who are not nationals of the United States.

(ii) Consular officers recognized by the United States and members of their families forming part of their household who are not nationals or permanent residents of the United States, provided the baggage accompanies them.

(iii) Diplomatic couriers, provided the baggage accompanies them.

(2) Conditions permitting inspection. The personal baggage of representatives of foreign governments listed in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph and members of their families may be inspected if there is serious reason to believe that it contains:

(i) Articles other than those for the personal use of such persons or for the use of their establishments or for official mission use.

(ii) In the case of consular officers and their families, articles intended for consumption in excess of the quantities necessary for direct use by the person concerned.

(iii) Articles which are absolutely or conditionally prohibited importation or exportation under the laws or regulations of the United States, or which are subject to the quarantine laws or regulations of the United States.

(3) Presence of foreign representative. When inspection of personal baggage is permitted under subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, the inspection shall take place only in the presence of the affected representative of a foreign government, or his authorized agent.

§ 148.83 Diplomatic and consular bags.

(a) Diplomatic bags. The contents of diplomatic bags are restricted to diplomatic documents and articles intended exclusively for official use and packages constituting the diplomatic bag must bear visible marks of their character. Diplomatic bags shall not be opened or detained nor shall they be subject to duty or entry.

(b) Consular bags. Consular bags must bear visible external marks of their character and their contents are restricted to official correspondence and documents or articles intended exclusively for official use. Consular bags shall not be subject to duty and ordinarily shall not be opened or detained. However, if Customs officers have serious reason to believe that a consular bag contains other than permissible materials, they may request that the bag be opened in their presence by an authorized representative of the foreign government concerned. If this request is refused, the consular bag shall be returned to its place of origin.

(a) Except as otherwise provided by law, an individual returning to the United States from abroad: [TD 76-325, 78-394]

(1) Shall not have his or her baggage and effects admitted free of duty without entry.

(2) Shall not be entitled to expedited Customs examination and clearance of his or her baggage and effects unless the district director finds:

(i) That the individual:

(A) Is seriously ill or infirm;

(B) Was summoned by news of affliction or disaster; or

(C) Is accompanying the body of a deceased relative; or

(ii) That a special circumstance exists which warrants expedited examination and clearance.

(b) For purposes of this section, the term "baggage and effects" means any article which was in the possession of the individual while abroad, is being imported in connection with his or her arrival, and is intended for his or her bona fide personal or household use. This term does not include any article imported as an accommodation to others or for sale or other commercial use.

§ 148.85 Subsequent importations for the personal or family use of diplomatic, consular and other privileged personnel.

The privilege of importing free of duty and without the filing of any entry articles for personal or family use, but not as an accommodation for others or for sale or other commercial use, shall be granted upon the request of the Department of State and upon appropriate instructions from the United States Customs Service in each instance, to the following:

(a) Ambassadors, ministers, charges d'affaires, secretaries, counselors and attaches of foreign embassies and legations accredited to the United States under item 822.10, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202);

(b) Other representatives, officers and employees of foreign governments, under item 822.30, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202); and

(c) Other persons designated pursuant to statute or pursuant to treaties between the United States and the countries which they represent, under item 822.40, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202).

§ 148.86 Articles for official use of representatives of foreign governments.

Office supplies and equipment and other articles for the official use of members and attaches of foreign embassies and legations, consular officers, and other representatives of foreign governments, may be admitted free of duty under item 841.10, Tariff Schedules of the United States, without the filing of an entry, upon the request of the Department of State.

§ 148.87 Officers and employees of, and representatives to public international organizations.

(a) Exemption for baggage and effects. The baggage and effects of the alien officers and employees of, or representatives of foreign governments, to the organizations designated by the President as public international organizations pursuant to section 1 of the International Organizations Immunities Act (22 U.S.C. 288), and the baggage and effects of their families, suites, and servants, shall be admitted free of duty and without entry under item 820.30, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), but only upon the receipt in each instance of instructions from the United States Customs Service issued at the request of the Department of State.

(b) Designated public international organizations. The President, by virtue of the authority vested in him by section 1 of the International Organizations Immunities Act of December 29, 1945 (22 U.S.C. 288), has designated certain organizations as public international organizations entitled to the free entry privileges of that statute. The following is a list of the public international organizations currently entitled to such free entry privileges and the Executive orders by which they were designated: (Sec. 1, 59 Stat. 669 (22 U.S.C. 288)) [TDs 74-21, 74-113, 74-143, 75-220, 78-99.]

§ 148.88 Certain representatives to and officers of the United Nations and the Organization of American States.

(a) Exemption for baggage and effects and admission without entry. At the request of the Department of State and upon appropriate instructions from the United States Customs Service in each instance, the privilege of admission free of duty without the filing of an entry may be extended to the baggage and effects of the following alien representatives, officers, and members of the staff of the United Nations and the Organization of American States, and their personal baggage is ordinarily exempt from inspection, subject to § 148.82(e)(2):

(1) Every person designated by a United Nations member nation as the principal resident representative to the United Nations of such member or as a resident representative with rank of ambassador or minister plenipotentiary and members of their families;

(2) Such resident members of their staffs as may be agreed upon between the Secretary-General of the United Nations, the Government of the United States, and the Government of the United Nations member concerned and members of their families;

(3) Every person designated by a United Nations member of a specialized United Nations agency as its principal resident representative, with the rank of ambassador or minister plenipotentiary at the headquarters of such agency in the United States and members of their families;

(4) Such other principal resident representatives of United Nations members to a specialized United Nations agency and such resident members of the staffs of representatives to a specialized United Nations agency as may be agreed upon between the principal executive officer of the specialized agency, the Government of the United States, and the Government of the United Nations member concerned and members of their families;

(5) The Secretary-General, Under Secretaries-General, and Assistant Secretaries-General to the United Nations and members of their families;

(6) Representatives of members to the principal and subsidiary organs of the United Nations and to conferences convened by the United Nations, while exercising their functions and during their journey to and from the place of meeting, with regard to personal baggage only;

(7) Experts performing missions for the United Nations, the same facilities for personal baggage as are accorded diplomatic envoys;

(8) Any person designated by a member of the Organization of American States as its representative or interim representative on the council of the Organization of American States and members of their families; and

(9) All other permanent members of the Delegation of a member of the Organization of American States and members of their families regarding whom there is agreement for that purpose between the government of the member state concerned, the Secretary-General of the Organization of American States, and the Government of the United States of America.

(b) Absence of special request. In the absence of a special request from the Department of State prior to the arrival of persons of the classes enumerated in paragraph (a) of this section, the privilege of admission free of duty without entry may be extended to their baggage and effects upon presentation of their credentials or other proof of identity.

(c) Importations for personal or family use. Upon the request of the Department of State and appropriate instructions from the United States Customs Service, the privilege of importing without entry and free of duty articles for their personal or family use but not as an accommodation for others or for sale or other commercial use may be granted to persons of the classes enumerated in paragraph (a) of this section except those in paragraph (a) (6) and (7), of this section, under item 822.40, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202).

(d) Personal inviolability. The person of the representatives to and officers of the United Nations and the Organization of American States set forth in paragraph (a) of this section shall be free from arrest, search, and detention except that persons of the rank set forth in paragraph (a) (6) and (7) of this section shall be accorded this privilege only while exercising their function and traveling to and from the place of meeting.

(a) Exemption from duty. Property of designated international organizations listed in paragraph (b) of § 148.87 shall be admitted free of duty and internal-revenue taxes imposed upon or by reason of importation under 22 U.S.C. 288a(d), but such exemption shall be granted only upon the receipt in each instance of instruction from the United States Customs Service issued at the request of the Department of State.

(b) Bond. Any Customs bond which may be required from a designated international organization (see paragraph (b) of § 148.87) in connection with the importation or entry of merchandise into, or the exportation of merchandise from, the United States may be accepted without surety.

§ 148.90 Foreign military personnel.

(a) Exemptions allowed. District directors shall in accordance with the provisions of this section admit the following free of duty and internal revenue tax imposed upon or by reason of importation:

(1) The baggage and effects of persons on duty in the United States as members of the armed forces of any foreign country, and of their immediate families under item 820.40, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202);

(2) Articles entered or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption by a member of the armed forces of any foreign country on duty in the United States, for his personal use or that of any member of his immediate family but not as an accommodation to others or for sale or other commercial use, under item 822.20, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202); and

(3) Articles entered or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption for the official use of members of the armed forces of any foreign country on duty in the United States, under item 841.20, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202).

(b) Reciprocity limitation. When district directors have been advised officially of a finding by the Secretary of the Treasury that a foreign country does not reciprocate to members of the armed forces of the United States on duty in its country and members of their immediate families the privileges accorded its members and their families in the United States, the district directors shall accord to the personnel of such foreign government privileges under the law only to the extent to which the foreign government accords similar treatment to members of the armed forces of the United States and members of their immediate families.

(c) Status of importer questioned. If any question arises as to the status of the importer under item 820.40, 822.20, or 841.20, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), or whether articles entered thereunder are for official use or for personal or family use, but not as an accommodation to others or for sale or other commercial use, the district director shall report the available facts to the Commissioner of Customs for instructions.

(d) Alcoholic beverages for personal or family use—(1) General rule—(i) Limitation stated. Except in the case of exceptional circumstances set forth in paragraph (d)(2) of this section, entry of alcoholic beverages (other than malt beverages) for personal or family use but not as an accommodation to others or for sale or other commercial use under item 822.20, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), is limited to one case each month.

(ii) Advance entry or withdrawal. A maximum of three cases (the initial one plus two cases in advance) may be entered or withdrawn at any one time in a given 3-month period if the district director is satisfied they are for personal or family use but not as an accommodation to others or for sale or other commercial use. Such advance entry or withdrawal shall not be deemed to broaden the one case per month limitation.

(iii) Certification. At the time of each entry or withdrawal, the member of the Armed Forces must certify that since his last entry or withdrawal there have expired a number of months equal to the numbers of cases last entered or withdrawn.

(2) Exceptional circumstances. In exceptional circumstances an additional quantity of alcoholic beverages for personal or family use but not as an accommodation to others or for sale or other commercial use, in excess of the one case per month limitation may be allowed under the following procedure:

(i) A statement signed by the member of the Armed Forces and attached to his declaration for free entry will be submitted to the district director, setting forth the reason for requesting the additional quantity;

(ii) The statement of request must be approved by the officer or person in charge of the Armed Forces involved, or a person specifically authorized by such officer or person to approve such requests; and

(iii) The district director must be satisfied that the need for the additional quantity is justified. Questionable cases shall be referred to the Commissioner of Customs for instructions.

(3) Retention and verification of the warehouse proprietors' records. The warehouse proprietor shall retain all records relating to the entry and withdrawal of alcoholic beverages under item 822.20, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), for 3 years from the date of the entry against which the withdrawal of the alcoholic beverages is charged. Verification of the warehouse proprietors' records shall be at the discretion of the district director. [TD 79-159.]

(e) Entry requirements. The entry requirements prescribed in the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (Title 19, United States Code), and the regulations thereunder are applicable to articles for which free entry is claimed under item 820.40, 822.20, or 841.20, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202). No invoices shall be required.

Subpart J—Noncommercial Importations of Limited Value

Each person, including a crewmember, arriving in the United States who enters articles for his personal or household use, or as bona fide gifts not imported for sale nor for the account of another person, valued in the aggregate at not over $600 fair retail value in the country of acquisition, shall be assessed a flat rate of duty on the articles, as provided in section 148.102. The entry shall be made under item 869.00 or 869.10, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), and is subject to the limitations and conditions in this subpart. Except as provided in section 148.105, the flat rate of duty shall be assessed in place of rates of duty other than free rates of duty. If the dutiable amount of the article(s) is over $600 fair retail value, the flat rate of duty provisions shall apply to the amount not over $600 fair retail value, and the excess amount shall be valued under section 402 or 402(a), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1401a, 1402). The article(s) shall be classified under the appropriate item number of the tariff schedules. For purposes of this subpart, "fair retail value" in the country of acquisition means the price at which the merchandise is freely offered there for sale at retail and "country of acquisition" includes American Samoa, Guam, and the Virgin Islands of the United States. [TD 78-394]

Two examples of the application of this subpart are set forth below:

Example 1—B returned from Europe where he acquired merchandise having a fair retail value of $1,050. Assume for purposes of this example that (1) in addition to the personal exemption of $300, $100 of the merchandise carries a free rate of duty, (2) allowances and exemptions have not been used within the past 30 days, and (3) all articles in excess of allowances and exemptions and duty-free articles are dutiable at rates other than the flat rate.

B presents his baggage to the Customs officer for examination and his declaration for verification. Duty is figured as follows:

	Fair retail value	Duty
(a) The $300 personal exemption	$300
(b) Articles which carry a free rate of duty	100
(c) The $600 flat rate of duty allowance calculated at 10 pct	600	$60
(d) Balance of articles subject to duty at rates other than flat rate	[1] 50	(1)
Total	[1] 1,050	(1)

[1] The articles not covered by exemptions, allowances, and duty-free rates will be valued under sec. 402 or 402(a). Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, and duty calculated at rates other than the flat rate.

Example 2—Mr. and Mrs. B return from the U.S. Virgin Islands. During the trip, they acquired merchandise having a fair retail value of $2,900. Assume for purposes of this example that (1) in addition to the personal exemption of $600 for each returning resident, $100 of the merchandise carries a free rate of duty, (2) allowances and exemptions have not been used within the past 30 days, (3) all articles in excess of allowances and exemptions and duty-free articles are dutiable at rates other than the flat rate, and (4) Mrs. B made $400 in purchases on the trip, none of which carries a free rate of duty.

Mr. and Mrs. B present their baggage to the Customs officer for examination and their declaration for verification. Duty is figured as follows:

	Fair retail value	Duty
(a) The $600 personal exemptions for residents returning from the Virgin Islands are grouped for a total of	$1,200
(b) Articles which carry a free rate of duty	100
(c) The $600 flat rate of duty allowances calculated at 5 pct for persons arriving from the Virgin Islands are grouped for a total of	1,200	$60
(d) Balance of articles subject to duty at rates other than flat rates of duty	[1] 400	(1)
Total	[1] 2,900	(1)

[1] The articles not covered by exemptions, allowances, and duty-free rates will be valued under sec. 402 or 402(a), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, and duty calculated at rates other than the flat rate.

§ 148.102 Flat rate of duty.

(a) Generally.—The rate of duty on articles accompanying any person, including a crewmember, arriving in the United States (exclusive of duty-free articles and articles acquired in American Samoa, Guam, or the Virgin Islands of the United States) shall be 10 percent of the fair retail value in the country of acquisition.

(b) Insular possessions.—The rate of duty on articles accompanying any person, including a crewmember, arriving in the United States directly or indirectly from American Samoa, Guam, or the Virgin Islands of the United States (exclusive of duty-free articles), acquired in these insular possessions as an incident of the person's physical presence there, shall be 5 percent of the fair retail value in the insular possession in which acquired.

§ 148.103 Family grouping of allowances.

(a) Generally.—When members of a family residing in one household travel together on their return to the United States, the flat rate of duty allowance will be grouped and allowed without regard to which member of the family is the owner of the articles. A group allowance shall not include an allowance for a family member not entitled to it in his own right, nor shall a group allowance be applied to any property of that member.

(1) Are related by blood, marriage, or adoption;

(2) Lived together in one household at their last permanent residence; and

(3) Intend to live in one household after their arrival in the United States.

§ 148.104 Frequency of use.

(a) 30-day period.—The flat rate of duty shall not apply to a person who has used the provision within the 30-day period immediately prior to his arrival in the United States. The date of the person's last arrival on which he declared articles for which the flat rate of duty was applicable shall be considered the date that rate was last used.

(b) Computation of time.—The 30-day period immediately prior to the person's arrival in the United States shall be computed by excluding the day of arrival and counting backward 30 days.

(c) Remainder not applicable to subsequent journey.—A person who has received a flat rate of duty allowance of less than $600 in connection with his return from one journey is not entitled to apply the remainder to articles acquired abroad on a subsequent journey.

§ 148.105 Procedure for excluding articles from flat rate of duty.

(a) Generally.—Any person who has information that merchandise is being imported into the United States under the provisions of item 869.00 or 869.10, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), and this subpart which adversely affects the economic interest of the United States may communicate the information in writing to the Commissioner of Customs, Attention: Office of Operations, Washington, D.C. 20229.

(b) Content of communication.—The communication to the Commissioner need not be in any particular form but shall contain the following:

(1) the name of the individual and the person, firm, or association the individual represents, if any;

(2) The nature of the individual's interest in the matter, if any;

(3) A description of the merchandise, which it is alleged affects the economic interest of the United States adversely, including item numbers of the tariff schedules, if known;

(4) The country of acquisition and the ports and dates of entry of the merchandise, if known; and

(5) A statement and supporting evidence as to the manner in which the individual believes the economic interest of the United States is being adversely affected.

(c) Inquiry to be conducted.—Upon receipt of a communication containing the information required by paragraph (b), an inquiry will be conducted.

(d) Negative determination.—If the inquiry results in a finding that no reasonable cause exists to believe that the application of the flat rate of duty provisions to a particular article of merchandise is adversely affecting the economic interest of the United States, the inquirer shall be advised in writing of the finding and the matter shall be closed.

(e) Publication of tentative finding.—If the inquiry results in a finding by the Secretary of the Treasury that reasonable cause exists to believe that the application of the flat rate of duty provisions to a particular article of merchandise is affecting the economic interest of the United States adversely, a notice of the finding will be published in the Federal Register and Customs Bulletin, along with a statement of intent to exclude the articles from application of the flat rate of duty provisions. Interested persons will be given an opportunity to submit written comments on the notice.

(f) Final determination.—Based upon the comments received and the results of any additional inquiry as may be necessary, if it is determined by the Secretary of the Treasury that application of the flat rate of duty provisions adversely affects the economic interest of the United States, a Treasury decision will be published in the Federal Register and Customs Bulletin announcing that the merchandise will be excluded from application of the flat rate of duty provisions. Excluded articles of merchandise shall be listed in section 148.106. If it is determined by the Secretary of the Treasury that a valid basis for excluding the merchandise from the flat rate of duty provisions does not exist, the notice proposing to exclude the article will be withdrawn by publishing a notice in the Federal Register and the Customs Bulletin.

The following articles of merchandise have been found to affect the economic interest of the United States adversely, and they are excluded from the application of the flat rate of duty provisions.

Subpart K—Unaccompanied Shipments from American Samoa, Guam, or the Virgin Islands of the United States

The provisions of this subpart are applicable to articles not accompanying a person, including a crewmember, which are purchased in and shipped from American Samoa, Guam, or the Virgin Islands of the United States. However, this subpart is not applicable to the importation of unaccompanied articles in a manner prohibited by law or regulation (e.g., mail shipments of alcoholic beverages or alcoholic beverages shipped other than by mail in excess of quantities authorized by state laws or regulations). [TD 78-394]

The following is a summary of the procedure to be followed to obtain the benefits of this subpart: A person purchasing articles in American Samoa, Guam or the Virgin Islands of the United States would receive a sales slip, invoice or other evidence of purchase which he would present to the Customs officer along with his baggage declaration, Customs Form 6059-B, and a Declaration of Unaccompanied Articles, Customs Form 255. The latter form is prepared in triplicate for each shipment to follow. The Customs officer would verify the information, indicate on the form whether the article or articles were free of duty, dutiable at the flat rate, or a combination of the foregoing, and validate the form. Two copies would be returned to the traveler, who would send one form to the vendor. Upon receipt of the form the vendor would place it in an envelope, affix it to the outside of the package, clearly mark the package "Unaccompanied Tourist Shipment," and send the package to the traveler, generally via mail, although it could be sent by other means. If sent through the mail, the package would be examined by Customs and forwarded to the Postal Service for delivery. Any duties due would be collected by the mailman. If the shipment arrives other than through the mail, the traveler would be notified by the carrier when the article arrives. Entry would be made by the carrier or the traveler at the customhouse. Any duties due would be collected at that time.

The baggage declaration, Customs Form 6059-B, of a person (the crewmembers declaration, Customs Form 5129, in the case of a returning crewmember) arriving directly or indirectly from American Samoa, Guam, or the Virgin Islands of the United States shall be in writing if it covers articles which do not accompany him and:

(a) The articles are entitled to free entry under the $600 exemption provided by item 813.31, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), or

(b) The articles are noncommercial importations of limited value subject to a flat rate of duty under item 869.10 of the tariff schedules.

§ 148.112 Evidence of purchase.

A sales slip, invoice, or other evidence of purchase, shall be presented with the declaration for all unaccompanied articles.

§ 148.113 Declaration, entry and collection of duty.

(1) Declaration.—A baggage declaration covering articles for which a claim of free entry, in whole or in part, is made under the $600 exemption provided by item 813.31, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), or a baggage or crewmembers declaration covering articles for which the flat rate of duty provision of item 869.10 of the tariff schedules appears to be applicable, shall be accompanied by a Declaration of Unaccompanied Articles, Customs Form 255. Customs Form 255 shall be prepared in triplicate by the vendor or declarant for each shipment of declared articles not accompanying the person. A shipment consists of one or more packages or containers sent as a unit.

(2) Verification.—The Customs officer shall verify the information from the declaration, sales slip, invoice, or other evidence of purchase furnished by the person. The completed Customs Form 255 shall be validated by the Customs officer and two copies given to the person.

(b) Collection of duty.—Duties shall be collected before release of the articles, after their arrival in the United States, as provided in section 145.12 or 148.115.

§ 148.114 Shipment of unaccompanied articles.

One copy of the validated Customs Form 255 shall be returned to the vendor. The vendor shall place the form in an envelope, affix it to the outside of the shipment, and clearly mark the outside of the shipment "Unaccompanied Tourist Shipment."

§ 148.115 Release of shipment.

(a) Release after examination.—Unaccompanied tourist shipments—

(1) To which the personal exemption provided in item 813.31, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), is applicable, or

(2) For which entry is made under the flat rate of duty provisions of item 869.10 of the tariff schedules, or under those provisions in conjunction with the regular rate of duty provision of another item of the tariff schedules, shall be released if:

(i) The shipment is properly marked and accompanied by a validated copy of Customs Form 255,

(ii) The examining Customs officer is satisfied that the contents of the shipment are as stated on the Customs Form 255 and, if applicable, that they are properly classified,

(iii) The declared value conforms to the fair retail value in the country of acquisition, and

(iv) In respect to shipments for which entry is made under item 869.10, any duties found to be due are paid.

(b) Removal of Customs Form 255.—The copy of Customs Form 255 attached to the shipment shall be removed by the Customs officer and retained for Customs purposes.

(c) Missing Customs Form 255.—If a validated copy of Customs Form 255 does not accompany the shipment, entry shall be made under the provisions of part 141 or 145 of this chapter.

(d) Restricted or prohibited shipments.—No shipment containing prohibited or restricted merchandise for which exemption is claimed under item 813.31 of the Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), or for which entry is claimed under item 869.10 of the tariff schedules, shall be released except upon compliance with the provisions of part 12 and sections 145.51 through 145.59 of this chapter, and other applicable laws and regulations.

(e) Verification of claim.—The district director may withhold release of any shipment for which exemption is claimed under item 813.31, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), or for which entry is claimed under item 869.10 of the tariff schedules, to verify the validity of the claim. If he is unable to verify the claim, the merchandise shall be released under the provisions of part 141 or 145 of this chapter.

§ 148.116 Claim for refund.

Any person who has filed a declaration of unaccompanied articles under sections 148.112 and 148.113 and who is dissatisfied with the amount of duty assessed on the articles upon their arrival in the United States may file a claim for administrative review under subpart C, part 145, of this chapter if the articles arrived by mail, or under parts 173 and 174 if the articles arrived other than by mail. Any supporting documents, including a copy of Customs Form 255, should be submitted with the claim.

This part sets forth general provisions governing the examination and sampling of imported merchandise, as well as specific provisions governing the examination, sampling, and testing of certain particular types of merchandise. [TD 73-175.]

Subpart A—General

§ 151.1 Merchandise to be examined.

The district director shall examine such packages or quantities of merchandise as he deems necessary for the determination of duties and for compliance with the Customs laws and any other laws enforced by the Customs Service.

§ 151.2 Quantities to be examined.

(a)(1) Minimum quantities. Not less than one package of every 10 packages of merchandise shall be examined unless a special regulation permits a lesser number of packages to be examined. District directors are specially authorized to examine less than one package of every 10 packages, but not less than one package of every invoice, in the case of any merchandise which is:

(i) Imported in packages the contents and values of which are uniform, or

(ii) Imported in packages the contents of which are identical as to character although differing as to quantity and value per package.

(2) Exceptions to minimum quantities. At ports of entry specifically designated by the Commissioner of Customs, the district director is authorized to release, without examination, merchandise of a character which the district director has determined need not be examined in every instance to ensure the protection of the revenue and compliance with the Customs laws and any other laws enforced by the Customs Service. [TD 81-240.]

(b) Nonprivileged foreign merchandise from foreign-trade zone. When a portion of a zone lot of nonprivileged foreign merchandise covered by one invoice, the contents and value of packages of which are uniform or the merchandise is identical as to character although differing as to quantities and value per package, has been entered and packages or quantities have been examined, the district director may, if he considers further examination unnecessary, permit subsequent entries for consumption from such zone lot of merchandise to be made by the same importer at the same port of entry on the basis of the first examination. Each subsequent portion of such a zone lot of merchandise shall identify the first consumption entry made by the importer of a portion of the lot.

(c) Additional quantities. Paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section shall not be construed to prevent the district director from examining more than the minimum number of packages required if he deems it necessary.

§ 151.3 Disclosure of examination packages.

Information as to the particular packages which will be examined shall not be made available to the importer, his agent, or any person other than Customs officers necessarily concerned, until the merchandise has arrived within the limits of the port of entry.

Imported merchandise shall not be opened, examined, or inspected until it has been entered under some form of entry for consumption or warehouse, except in the following cases:

(a) Official Government examination and sampling. Authorized employees of the Customs Service, Food and Drug Administration, Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, Public Health Service, or other Government agency may for official purposes examine or take samples of merchandise for which entry has not been filed, including merchandise being released under a special permit for immediate delivery.

(b) Perishable merchandise, benzenoid chemicals, and merchandise received without an invoice. An application by the importer to examine merchandise, whether or not covered by an entry for transportation in bond or for exportation, may be granted by the district director, under the conditions listed in § 151.5, in the following cases:

(1) Examination of perishable merchandise is desired solely to determine its condition. This is not limited to a single examination, and there is no objection to incidental display to prospective buyers during the examination.

(2) The importer desires to sample benzenoid chemicals or products in accordance with § 152.35 of this chapter prior to making an entry for consumption or warehouse.

(3) The importer has been unable to obtain the required documents or information to make the necessary entry, and examination of the merchandise is required to obtain information for the preparation of a pro forma invoice to be used in making entry.

(c) Examination of merchandise entered for transportation under bond or for exportation—(1) Examination, sampling, weighing or emergency operation. As a bona fide incident to exportation or further transportation, the importer of merchandise entered or withdrawn for transportation under bond or for exportation may, upon written application to the district director supported by a valid business reason for the request, be permitted to examine, sample, weigh, or subject his merchandise to an operation required by reason of an emergency, provided that any operation performed on the merchandise does not constitute a manufacture, and that § 151.5 is complied with. For conditions governing transshipment and emergency access to the shipment by the carrier, see § 18.3 of this chapter.

(2) Nonemergency operation. In cases not involving an emergency, an operation not constituting a manufacture may be permitted under the conditions listed in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph if neither the protection of the revenue nor the proper conduct of Customs business requires that the operation be done in a Customs bonded warehouse, provided that the importer's written application for such operation is approved by both the district director and the Commissioner of Customs.

Examination, sampling, weighing, or operation upon merchandise at the importer's request prior to entry for consumption or warehouse, as provided for in § 151.4 (b) and (c), shall be subject to the following conditions:

(a) The operation permitted shall be executed under Customs supervision;

(b) If the merchandise is in possession or joint possession of a carrier or container station operator, the concurrence of such carrier or operator shall be obtained; and

(c) The Government shall be reimbursed for the compensation, computed in accordance with § 19.5(b) of this chapter, and other expenses of the Customs officer or employee supervising the action permitted.

§ 151.6 Place of examination.

Inflammable, explosive, or dangerous merchandise, or any other merchandise which cannot be examined conveniently at the public stores shall be examined at the place of arrival, the importer's premises, or other suitable place. All other merchandise shall be examined at the public stores, unless examination at a place other than the public stores is approved in accordance with § 151.7.

§ 151.7 Importer's request for examination at other than public stores.

The importer may request examination at a place other than the public stores, such as at the wharf or other place of arrival or at the importer's premises. The request may be made on the entry or other appropriate document and if approved shall be subject to the following conditions:

(a) Sealing of packages. If examination is to be made at the importer's premises or other place not under control of a Customs officer, the district director may require the packages to be corded and sealed by a Customs officer before the packages are removed from the place of arrival. The packages shall be opened only in the presence of the Customs officer authorized to examine their contents.

(1) At place of arrival within port limits. When the examination is to be performed at the place of arrival, such as a pier, dock, or terminal, within the port limits, the importer shall arrange with the operator of the pier, dock, terminal, or other facility for the opening and closing of examination packages, unless other arrangements satisfactory to the district director are made.

(2) Other. When the examination is to be performed outside the port limits, or at any place within the port limits other than at the public stores or at the place of arrival within the meaning of subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, the importer shall arrange to open and close the examination packages.

(c) Reimbursement of expenses outside port limits. If the place of examination is not located within the limits of a port of entry or a Customs station at which a Customs officer is permanently located, the importer shall pay any additional expense, including actual expenses of travel and subsistence but not the salary of the examining officer. However, no collection shall be made if the total amount chargeable against one importer for one day amounts to less than 50 cents. If the total amount chargeable amounts to 50 cents or more but less than $1, a minimum charge of $1 shall be made.

(d) Bond for removal from Customs custody. Before permitting the removal of merchandise for examination elsewhere than at the public stores, wharf, or other place in charge of a Customs officer, the district director shall require the importer to execute a bond on Customs Forms 7551, 7553, or other appropriate form, containing a condition for the return of the merchandise if demand for return is made after its release from Customs custody upon the completion of examination. The bond shall contain added conditions that:

(1) The importer shall hold the merchandise at the place to which it has been removed for examination until it has been released from Customs custody;

(2) If such merchandise has been corded and sealed, the cords and seals shall be kept intact until removed by Customs officers; and

(3) The importer shall transfer the merchandise at any time before such release to such place as the district director may require.

§ 151.8 Examination after assembly.

(a) Application by importer. Upon application by the importer, machinery, altars, shrines, and other articles which must be set up or assembled prior to examination may be examined at the mill, factory, or other suitable place after being assembled.

(b) Conditions applicable. The importer shall comply with the conditions set forth in § 151.7 (b) through (d). The district director may also require that a deposit be made of the estimated additional expense. The packages need not be corded and sealed in accordance with § 151.7(a), but the district director may make such preliminary examination as he deems necessary to identify the merchandise with the invoice.

Removal of merchandise and notification of assembly. After the bond required by § 151.7(d) has been filed and any necessary preliminary examination has been made, the district director may permit the merchandise to be removed to the place at which it is to be assembled for examination. Within 90 days after such removal, unless an extension has been applied for and granted by the district director, the importer shall notify the district director that the merchandise has been assembled and is ready for examination, whereupon final examination shall be made.

When merchandise covered by an immediate transportation entry has been authorized by the district director to be delivered to a place outside a port of entry as provided for in § 18.11(c) of this chapter, the provisions of § 151.7 shall be complied with to the same extent as if the merchandise had been delivered to the port of entry, and then authorized to be examined elsewhere than at the public stores, wharf, or other place where a Customs officer is stationed.

When deemed necessary, the district director may obtain samples of merchandise for appraisement, classification, or other official Customs purposes. Representative samples shall be selected by an authorized Customs officer, and shall be properly marked to insure identification and retained as long as the district director shall deem necessary.

§ 151.11 Request for samples or additional examination packages after release of merchandise.

If the district director requires samples or additional examination packages of merchandise which has been released from Customs custody, he shall send the importer a written request, on Customs Form 28, Request for Information, or other appropriate form, to submit the necessary samples or packages. If the request is not promptly complied with, the district director may make a demand under the appropriate bond for the return of the necessary merchandise to Customs custody in accordance with § 141.113 of this chapter. [TD 75-152.]

§ 151.12 Benzenoid chemicals and products.

Additional procedures for sampling and testing of benzenoid chemicals and products are set forth in subpart D of Part 152 of this chapter.

Subpart B—Sugars, Sirups, and Molasses

The following are general definitions for the purposes of this subpart in applying schedule 1, part 10, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202):

(a) Degree. "Degree" or "sugar degree" means the percentage of sucrose contained in the sugar as shown by direct polarimetric estimation.

(b) Total sugars. "Total sugars" means the sum of the sucrose, the raffinose, and the reducing sugars.

§ 151.22 Estimated duties on raw sugar.

Estimated duties shall be taken on raw sugar on the basis of not less than 96° polariscopic test unless the invoice shows that the sugar is of a lower grade than that of the ordinary commercial shipment.

§ 151.23 Allowance for moisture in raw sugar.

Inasmuch as the absorption of sea water or moisture reduces the polariscopic test of sugar, there shall be no allowance on account of increased weight of raw sugar importations due to unusual absorption of sea water or other moisture while on the voyage of importation. Any portion of the cargo claimed by the importer to have absorbed sea water or moisture on the voyage of importation shall be weighed, sampled, and tested separately. No such claim shall be considered if made after the sugar claimed to have been damaged has been weighed.

When dutiable sugar is to be imported in bulk, a full description of the facilities to be used in unlading the sugar shall be submitted to the Commissioner of Customs as far as possible in advance of the date of importation, and special instructions will be issued as to the methods to be applied in weighing and sampling such sugar.

No regulations relative to the weighing, taring, sampling, classifying, and testing of imported sugar shall be so construed as to permit mixing together sugar of different classes, such as centrifugal, beet, molasses, or any sugar different in character from those mentioned, for the purpose of weighing, taring, sampling, or testing.

When molasses is imported in tank cars, the importer shall file with the district director a certificate showing whether there is any substantial difference either in the total sugars or the character of the molasses in the different cars.

§ 151.27 Weighing and sampling done at time of unlading.

Sugar, sirup, and molasses requiring either weighing or sampling shall be weighed or sampled at the time of unlading. When such merchandise requires both weighing and sampling, these operations shall be performed simultaneously.

§ 151.28 Gauging of sirup or molasses discharged into storage tanks.

(a) Plans of storage tank to be filed. When sirup or molasses is imported in bulk in tank vessels and is to be pumped or discharged into storage tanks, before the discharging is permitted there shall be filed with the district director a certified copy of the plans and gauge table of the storage tank showing all inlets and outlets and stating accurately the capacity in United States gallons per inch of height of the tank from an indicated starting point. [TD 80-142.]

(b) Settling before gauging. After the discharge is completed, all inlets to the tank shall be carefully sealed and the sirup or molasses left undisturbed for a period not to exceed 20 days to allow for settling before being gauged. When a request for immediate gauging is made in writing by the importer, it shall be allowed by the district director. [TD 80-142.]

§ 151.29 Expense of unlading and handling.

No expense incidental to the unlading, transporting, or handling of sugar, sirup, or molasses for convenient weighing, gauging, measuring, sampling, or marking shall be borne by the Government. [TD 80-142.]

§ 151.30 Sugar closets.

Sugar closets for samples shall be substantially built and secured by locks furnished by Customs. They shall be conveniently located as near as possible to the points of discharge they are intended to serve. They shall be provided by the owner of the premises on which they are located and shall be so situated that sugar, sirup, and molasses stored therein shall not be subjected to extremes of temperature or humidity.

§ 151.31 Review of tests of sugar, sirup, and molasses.

(b) Review of test of raw sugar. If the importer, within 2 days, exclusive of Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays, after notification of a test on raw sugar has been sent to him, claims an error in the test so reported, he may request a review of the average test, submitting such evidence that may be in his possession to support his claim. Settlement tests of the sugar in question together with any other information required by the district director shall be furnished by the importer. The district director shall arrive at a final determination based upon a review of the information available. In no instance shall a request for review be granted when the difference between the Customs average test and the settlement test of raw sugar is less than 0.4° S.

(c) Review and retest of sirup or molasses. If the importer claims an error in the test of sirup or molasses, the review procedures set forth in paragraph (b) of this section shall be followed. If the information in the district director's possession indicates a strong probability of an error, and the difference between the Customs test and the settlement test is not less than 2 percent total sugars, a retest shall be granted. The district director shall arrive at a final determination based upon a review of the information submitted and the retest.

On the entry summary for petroleum or petroleum product in bulk, the importer shall show the API gravity at 60°

Fahrenheit, in accordance with the current edition of the ASTM-IP Petroleum Measurement Tables (American Edition), published by the American Society for Testing and Materials. The appropriate unabridged Table shall be used in the reduction of volume to 60° F. If the exact volumetric quantity cannot be determined in advance, the entry summary may be made for "_______ United States gallons, more or less", but in no case may the estimate vary by more than three percent from the gross quantity unladen. The information required by this section also shall be shown on the entry summary permit if the entry summary is filed at the time of entry, and on each entry summary continuation sheet regardless of when the entry summary is filed. [TD 74-89.]

§ 151.42 Controls on unlading and gauging.

(a) Methods of control.

(1) Each district director shall establish controls and checks on the unlading and measurement of petroleum and petroleum products imported in bulk by vessel, truck, railroad car, pipeline, or other carrier. One of the following methods of control shall be employed:

(i) Customs approved positive displacement meters at installations where provided by the importer;

(ii) Customs approved turbine-type meters at installations where provided by the importer;

(iii) Shore tank gauging; or

(iv) Weighing for trucks and railroad cars.

(2) Vessel ullages shall be taken in every case unless the district director determines that it is impracticable to do so for safety or technological reasons. Ullages may be taken for trucks and railroad cars if weighing or shore tank gauging is not available as a method of control. Vessel ullages will not be used to determine the quantity unladen unless none of the other methods provided for in this paragraph is available or adequate.

(b) Duties of Customs officers. Customs officers shall perform or witness ullaging and gauging as follows:

(1) Opening ullages.

(2) Closing ullages of carriers which have not completely discharged cargo, or if an importer or carrier requests Customs to witness closing ullages because of special problems.

(3) Shore tank guages performed by company or related-party employees.

(4) Between 5 and 10 per cent of shore tank gauges performed by public gaugers.

(5) Shore tank gauges, including those conducted by a public gauger if no carrier ullages are taken.

(c) Manifest discrepancies. Manifest discrepancies (shortages and overages) shall be reported by or on behalf of the carrier in the manner specified in section 4.12 of this chapter. If a reported discrepancy is not explained to the satisfaction of the district director, the master or other person in charge, or the owner of the vessel or vehicle, or any person directly or indirectly responsible for the discrepancy, will be subject to the imposition of the appropriate penalty under section 460, 584, or 592, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1460, 1584, 1592).

§ 151.43 Public gaugers.

(a) Acceptance of quantity reports. Subject to such controls and checks as he may deem necessary, the district director may accept, for shore tank gauging and closing carrier ullages, the reports of quantities of imported petroleum and petroleum products made by public gaugers approved by the Commissioner in accordance with this section, provided—

(1) Customs officers have exercised the supervision required by section 151.42(b) of this part, and

(2) There is no evidence that the public gauger has failed to comply with the provisions of this subject.

(b) Application. Any public gauger desiring approval shall submit an application, which may be in the form of a letter, to the Commissioner of Customs, Washington, D.C. 20229. The application shall contain or be accompanied by the following:

(1) The applicant's name, address, and ownership, and a statement of financial condition.

(2) If a corporation, a copy of its articles of incorporation, a list of its officers and directors, and details of any parent-subsidiary relationship.

(3) A detailedstatement of the applicant's qualifications.

(4) The Customs district(s) for which approval is requested.

(5) A written agreement in the following form to avoid conflict-of-interest situations and to comply with operating requirements prescribed by Customs:

Public Gauger Agreement

As conditions for the approval of this application, I undertake and agree:

(1) To have no financial interest or other connection (except for acceptance of the usual fees for gauging services) with any business or other activity which might be considered to affect the unbiased performance of my duties as a public gauger for Customs purposes, in accordance with the standards and procedures approved by the Commissioner of Customs.

(2) To comply with the requirements of Part 151, Subpart C, Customs Regulations (19 CFR Part 151, Subpart C), and with any procedures prescribed by the Commissioner or district director of Customs pursuant to that subpart.

(3) To notify the Commissioner and district director of Customs in writing within 60 days of any change of name, address, ownership, or financial condition, and, if a corporation, of any change in its articles of incorporation, officers, directors, or parent subsidiary relationship.

(4) To communicate immediately to the Commissioner and district director of Customs notice of any—

(i) Effort to influence, or otherwise impede, the performance of my duties in connection with the proper gauging of petroleum or petroleum products, or

(ii) Attempt to coerce me fraudulently to change or falsify records maintained in the course of my employment.

(6) A bond in the amount of $10,000 to insure that the gauging will be in conformance with the approved standards and procedures, and with such procedures as may be prescribed by the district director pursuant to paragraph (f) of this section. The form of the required bond will be available from any district director.

(c) Investigation of applicant. The Commissioner shall direct the Office of Investigations to determine the applicant's fitness and reputation, and to verify the correctness of the statements made in the application.

(d) Notice of approval, disapproval, suspension, or revocation. When the investigation is completed, the applicant will be advised of the approval of his application, or, if disapproved, of the reasons for such action. An approval may be suspended or revoked by the Commissioner for failure to comply with any of the provisions of this subpart, or liquidated damages may be assessed under the public gauger bond described in section 113.13(b) of this chapter. Notice of approvals or suspensions or revocations of approval will be published from time to time in the Customs Bulletin.

(e) Requirements for operations. To be approved for Customs purposes, a public gauger's operations shall conform to the following requirements.

(1) All measuring, testing, and sampling devices in use shall be maintained in first-class condition. Each device shall be calibrated before the first use, and checked at regular intervals thereafter, against standards whose accuracy is traceable to standards issued by the National Bureau of Standards. In making calibrations and checks, the applicable methods of the American Society for Testing and Materials or the American Petroleum Institute shall be used.

(2) All measuring, testing, and sampling procedures shall be in conformance with published industry standards, such as those of the American Petroleum Institute or the American Society for Testing and Materials, and shall conform to such specific procedures as may be required by the district director in accordance with paragraph (f) of this section.

(3) Each public gauger and each other person authorized to sign gauging reports shall furnish Customs with a written certification that he has a minimum of 6 months on-the-job training and experience.

(4)(i) The public gauger shall investigate promptly any apparent irregularities, procedural difficulties, or indications of systematic bias called to his attention by the district director, or of which he otherwise may become aware, and immediately shall take corrective measures if indicated. The public gauger shall notify the district director of any such matter of which he may become aware.

(ii) The district director shall notify the Commissioner of each such matter that he brings to the attention of the public gauger, or which the public gauger brings to his attention, and of the corrective measures taken.

(f) Procedures precribed by district director. The district director is authorized to prescribe general or specific procedures to be followed by each approved public gauger at each of the discharging facilities in the district.

(g) Recordkeeping requirement. Records of the public gauger of the type normally kept in the ordinary course of business, pertaining to the measurement, gauging, testing, and sampling of imported petroleum and petroleum products, shall be maintained for 5 years in accordance with sections 162.1a and 162.1c of this chapter.

(1) Compliance. To ensure compliance with the provisions of this subpart and accuracy and uniformity in the information submitted by public gaugers, the district director shall verify by integrity checks, audits, and, if necessary, investigations, the gauging operations in his district. Any discrepancy between the quantity reported by the gauger and the quantity found by Customs shall be resolved in favor of Customs unless the gauger produces clear and convincing evidence that Customs is in error.

(2) Sanctions. If a public gauger's reports are repeatly inaccurate to a significant degree, the gauger may be subject to sanctions in accordance with sections 151.43(d) and (i).

(i) Suspension or revocation of Customs approval.—(1) Grounds. Failure to comply with the provisions of this subpart may be grounds for suspension or revocation of Customs approval of a public gauger.

(2) Notice. The district director shall give written notice of the proposed suspension or revocation to the public gauger. The notice shall be in the form of a statement setting forth specific grounds for the proposed action and shall become final unless the public gauger files a written reply in accordance with paragraph (3) of this subsection. An information copy of the notice shall be forwarded by the district director to Headquarters.

(3) Reply. The public gauger may file a written reply with the district director within 10 days following receipt of the notice. An extension of time to reply beyond the 10-day period may be granted for good cause. The reply shall be filed in duplicate and shall set forth the response of the public gauger, including his answers to the allegations and rebuttal evidence, if any. The district director upon request, may allow an oral presentation as to why approval should not be suspended or revoked.

(4) Action on reply. If the district director determines that the allegations set forth in the notice have not been proved, he shall notify the public gauger that suspension or revocation no longer is contemplated, and the case shall be closed. Otherwise, the approval shall be suspended or revoked, in which case the district director shall notify the gauger that he may request review of the suspension or revocation by the Commissioner in accordance with paragraph (6). An information copy of the district director's action shall be forwarded to Headquarters.

(5) Stay of suspension or revocation. The decision of the district director to suspend or revoke approval shall be stayed until the time for the gauger to file a petition for review by Headquarters has passed and no action has been taken on his part or, if a petition for review has been filed in accordance with paragraph (6), until Headquarters affirms the decision of the district director.

(6) Review of suspension or revocation of approval. Petitions for review of suspension or revocation of a public gauger's Customs approval by the district director shall be addressed to the Commissioner and filed in duplicate with the appropriate district director for transmission to Headquarters. Petitions for review shall be filed within 30 days from the date of suspension or revocation of approval and shall state the facts and circumstances relied upon by the petitioner in seeking review of the district director's order. The petition shall be reviewed by the Commissioner or his designee. Upon completion of the review, a written decision shall be forwarded to the district director for delivery to the public gauger.

(7) Publication. Notice of any final action by the district director or the Commissioner suspending or revoking approval of a public gauger shall be published in the Federal Register and the Customs Bulletin.

(j) Penalties. In addition to—

(i) Any penalty otherwise provided by law which may be incurred for failure to comply with the provisions of this subpart, or

(ii) Any sanction which may be imposed against a public gauger approved by Customs under the provisions of this subpart, a monetary penalty also may be assessed under section 592, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1592), if appropriate.

§ 151.44 Storage tanks.

(a) Plans and gauge tables. When petroleum or petroleum products subject to duty at a specific rate per gallon are imported in bulk in tank vessels and are to be transferred into shore storage tanks, both the plans of each shore tank showing all outlets and inlets and the gauge table for each tank showing its capacity in U.S. gallons per inch or fraction of an inch of height shall be certified as correct by the proprietor of the tank. One set of these plans and gauge tables so certified shall be kept on file at the plant of the oil company and shall be available at all times to Customs officers. Another certified set of the shore tank plans and gauge tables shall be filed with the district director for use in verifying the Customs officers' reports. The district director may require such additional sets of shore tank plans, including subsidiary pipeline plans, and gauge tables as he may deem necessary. The storage tank proprietor shall maintain the plans and gauge tables for 3 years after discontinuing use of the storage tanks as bonded warehouses for the storage of imported petroleum or petroleum products. [TD 79-159.]

(b) Tags required on valves. The inlet and outlet valves of each tank shall have tags of a permanent type affixed by the proprietor or lessee indicating the use of the valves.

(c) Verification of gauge tables. Whenever he has reason to suspect their reliability, the district director may require the measurement and calibrations shown on the gauge tables to be verified by a Customs officer. If no qualified Customs officer is available, the district director may accept an independent certification verifying the measurements and calibrations. The independent verification shall be performed at the expense of the storage tank proprietor.

§ 151.45 Storage tanks bonded as warehouses.

(a) Application. Tanks for the storage of imported petroleum or petroleum products in bulk may be bonded as warehouses of class 2 if to be used exclusively for the storage of petroleum or petroleum products belonging or consigned to the owner or lessee of the tank. In addition to the documents and bonds required to be filed with the application to bond (see section 19.2 of this chapter), the certified plans and gauge tables required by section 151.43 shall be filed.

(b) Removal of nonbonded petroleum. If a bonded tank is not empty at the time the first importation of bonded petroleum or petroleum products is to be stored therein, the amount of nonbonded petroleum or petroleum products in the tank shall be withdrawn by the proprietor as soon as possible. The request to withdraw shall be in the form of a letter and no formal withdrawal need be filed. Domestic or duty-paid petroleum or petroleum products shall not thereafter be stored in the tank as long as the tank remains bonded.

(c) Information on warehouse withdrawal. Warehouse withdrawals of petroleum or petroleum products from bonded tanks shall show the information specified in section 151.41, as well as the designation of the tank from which the merchandise is to be withdrawn. Such withdrawals may be made for "_______ U.S. gallons, more or less", but in no case may the estimate vary by more than three percent from the gross quantity unladen.

Allowance for excessive moisture or other impurities in imported petroleum or petroleum products shall be made in accordance with section 158.13 of this chapter for the quantity of water and sediment, established to be in excess of that usually found in such merchandise, as set forth in the following table:

Merchandise	Quantity (percent)
Crude petroleum	0.3
Petroleum products having an API gravity at 60° of less than 22°	0.5
22° to 30°	0.3
More than 30°	0.0

§ 151.47 Entered quantities of petroleum or petroleum products released under entry or immediate delivery.

(a) Optional entry of net quantity. As an alternative to stating on the entry summary the gross quantity of petroleum or petroleum products released under the immediate delivery procedure in § 142.21 of this chapter, or under the entry documentation in § 142.3(a), the importer may file an entry summary for the net quantity of petroleum or petroleum products unladed. The net quantity shall be determined in accordance with section 158.13 of this chapter, with an allowance made for sediment and excessive water present, as prescribed in the table found in section 151.46, and reported in a laboratory test made by an independent commercial laboratory which has been approved by the Commissioner. The commercial laboratory report shall be filed with the entry summary. [TD 79-221.]

(b) Approval of independent commercial laboratories. Applications of independent commercial laboratories for approval of the use of their tests in determining the net landed quantity of petroleum or petroleum products shall be sent to the Commissioner of Customs, Washington, D.C. 20229. For the purposes of this section, the approval of a public gauger by the Commissioner in accordance with § 151.43 shall constitute approval of the commercial laboratories operated by the public gauger as a part of the services rendered by him for his customers.

(c) Use of Customs laboratory tests for liquidation. Where there is a difference between the quantity reported by the Customs laboratory and the quantity reported by the approved independent commercial laboratory, the results of the Customs laboratory test shall be used in the liquidation of the entry and in determining the quantity chargeable against the importer's oil import license, unless the difference is within the limits set forth in paragraph (d) of this section.

(d) Use of commercial laboratory tests for liquidation. The quantity reported by the approved independent commercial laboratory shall be used in the liquidation of the entry and in determining the quantity chargeable against the importer's oil import license if the difference between the commercial laboratory test and the Customs laboratory test do not exceed the differences set forth in the following table (adapted from ASTM Designation D1796, Fig. 3): (Sec. 507, 46 Stat. 732; 19 U.S.C. 1507) [TD 80-142, 45 FR 36384, May 30, 1980]

Subpart D—Metal-Bearing Ores and Other Metal-Bearing Materials

§ 151.51 Sampling requirements.

(a) General. Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, when metal-bearing ores and other metal-bearing materials which are classifiable under schedule 6, part 1, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), are entered for consumption or warehousing at the port of first arrival, they shall be sampled for assay and moisture purposes in accordance with § 151.52. If proper facilities for weighing or sampling are not available at the port of entry, the merchandise shall be transported under bond to the place of sampling. The sampling or weighing of metal-bearing ores or materials at any place other than the port of entry shall be at the expense of the parties in interest.

(b) Ores of low metal content. When, on the basis of invoice information, the nature of any available sample, knowledge of prior importations of similar materials, and other data, the district director is satisfied that metal-bearing ores entered under item 601.66, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), as containing less than 1 percent of metals dutiable under items 602.10, 602.20, 602.28, or 602.30, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), are properly entered, he may liquidate the entry on the basis of the assay information contained in the entry papers. However, the sampling and testing procedures prescribed in §§ 151.52 and 151.54 shall be followed at random intervals for verification purposes.

(a) Commercial samples taken under Customs supervision. Representative commercial moisture and assay samples shall be taken under Customs supervision for testing by the Customs laboratory. The samples used for the moisture test shall be representative of shipment at the time the shipment is weighed for Customs purposes. When a shipment is made up of a number of lots a composite sample of the shipment shall be drawn for assay, providing composite sampling is feasible and assays of the individual lots are not required for tariff classification or other Customs purposes. The composite sample shall consist of proportional parts by weight of the prepared sample drawn from the various lots represented and shall be thoroughly mixed.

(b) Commercial samples furnished by importer. When commercial samples cannot be taken under Customs supervision, the importer shall be required to furnish a verified commercial moisture sample and prepared assay sample certified to be representative of the shipment at the time the shipment was weighed for Customs purposes. The samples shall be in appropriate containers, properly labeled, and shall be accompanied by a statement including:

(1) Entry number,
(2) Lots represented,
(3) Kind of ore or material,
(4) Date and place where sampling occurred, and
(5) The name and address of the sampling concern.

(c) Samples taken by Customs. Where no commercial samples have been taken, the district director shall take representative samples from different parts of the shipment.

§ 151.53 Sample lockers.

A suitable place or containers shall be provided for the safekeeping of all Customs samples under Customs lock or seal.

§ 151.54 Testing by Customs laboratory.

Samples taken in accordance with § 151.52 shall be promptly forwarded to the appropriate Customs laboratory for testing in accordance with commercial methods. The district director may secure from the importer a certified copy of the commercial settlement tests for moisture and for assay which shall be transmitted with the commercial samples to the Custom laboratory. If the Customs tests are not in substantial agreement with the settlement tests, the chief chemist of the Customs laboratory shall review his tests. The Customs tests shall be used in determining the final duties on the merchandise, except that the settlement tests shall be used if, in the opinion of the chief chemist:

(a) The settlement and Customs tests differ by no more than is to be expected between qualified laboratories, and

(b) The use of the settlement test results will not require a different tariff classification or rate of duty than is indicated by the Customs test.

§ 151.55 Deductions for loss during processing.

Deductions for the loss of copper, lead, or zinc content during processing, as authorized by schedule 6, part 1, headnote 4, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), shall be made by the district director in the liquidation of any entry only if the importer has followed the procedures set forth in that headnote. See §§ 19.17–19.25 of this chapter for procedures applicable to bonded smelting and refining warehouses.

Subpart E—Wool and Hair

The following are general definitions for the purposes of this subpart:

(a) Clean pound. "Clean pound" means pound of clean yield as defined in paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) Clean yield. "Clean yield" means the absolute clean content (that is, all that portion of the merchandise which consists exclusively of wool or hair free of all vegetable and other foreign material, containing by weight 12 percent of moisture and 1.5 percent of material removable from the wool or hair by extraction with alcohol, and having an ash content of not over 0.5 percent by weight), less an allowance, equal by weight to 0.5 percent of the absolute clean content plus 60 percent of the vegetable matter present, but not exceeding 15 percent by weight of the absolute clean content, for wool or hair that would ordinarily be lost during commercial cleaning operations.

(c) Sampling unit. "Sampling unit" means all the similar packages covered by one entry or withdrawal containing wool or hair of the same kind or same general condition and character, produced in the same country, packed in substantially the same manner, and entered as or found to be subject to the same rate of entry.

Invoices of wool or hair subject to duty at a rate per clean pound under schedule 3, part 1C, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), shall show the following detailed information in addition to other information required:

(a) Condition, that is, whether in the grease, washed, pulled, on the skin, scoured, carbonized, burr-picked, willowed, handshaken, or beaten;

(b) Whether free of vegetable matter, practically free, slightly burry, medium burry, heavy burry;

(c) Whether in the fleece, skirted, matchings, or sorted;

(d) Length, that is, whether super combing, ordinary combing, clothing, or filling;

(e) Country of origin, and, if possible, the province, section, or locality of production;

(f) If wool, the type symbol by which it is bought and sold in the country of origin and the grade of each lot covered by the invoice, specifying the standard or basis used, that is, whether U.S. Official Standards or the commercial terms to designate grade in the country of shipment; and

(g) Net weight of each lot of wool or hair covered by the invoice in the condition in which it is shipped, and the shipper's estimate of the clean yield of each lot by weight or by percentage. (Sec. 481, 46 Stat. 719; 19 U.S.C. 1481)

§ 151.63 Information on entry summary.

Each entry summary covering wool or hair subject to duty at a rate per clean pound under schedule 3, part 1C, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), shall show as to each lot of wool or hair covered thereby, in addition to other information required, the total estimated or actual net weight of the wool or hair in its condition as imported, its total estimated clean yield in pounds, and the estimated percentage clean yield. (Sec. 484, 46 Stat. 722, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1484). [TD 79-221.]

§ 151.64 Additional documents.

(a) Notice of percentage clean yield and grade of wool or hair. Customs Form 6451, Notice of Percentage Clean Yield and Grade of Wool or Hair, containing the name and address of the importer, shall be filed in duplicate with each entry summary covering wool or hair. [TDs 75-121, 79-221.]

(b) Extra copy of entry summary. One extra copy of the entry summary covering wool or hair subject to duty at a rate per clean pound shall be filed in addition to the copies otherwise required. [TD 79-221.]

§ 151.65 Duties.

Duties on wool or hair subject to duty at a rate per clean pound may be estimated at the time of filing the entry summary on the basis of the clean yield shown on the entry summary if the district director is satisfied that the revenue will be properly protected. Liquidated duties shall be based upon the district director's final determination of clean yield. Estimated and liquidated duties on wool or hair tested for clean yield pursuant to the provisions of § 151.71, and withdrawn for consumption without a change in condition which affects the duties and in a quantity less than an entire sampling unit shall be determined on the basis of an appropriate adjustment of the estimated percentage clean yield shown on the entry summary for the wool or hair included in each of the lots covered by the withdrawal. This adjustment shall be made by increasing or decreasing such estimated percentage clean yield of each lot by the difference between the percentage clean yield of the related sampling unit, as determined by the district director, and the weighted average percentage clean yield for the sampling unit, as computed from the estimated percentages clean yield and net weights shown on the entry summary for the lots included in the sampling unit. [TD 79-221.]

§ 151.66 Duty on samples.

Duty shall be assessed and collected on samples taken pursuant to any provision in this subpart, whether taken by the importer or by Customs, unless and exemption or remission is obtained by compliance with an applicable provision of the law or regulations. The duty shall be assessed upon the samples in accordance with their condition at the time of importation, except in the case of merchandise manipulated in warehouse pursuant to section 562, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1562). The collection of duty on the samples may be postponed when the importation concerned is not entered for consumption until the withdrawal of the merchandise from which the samples are taken, or until an application for the destruction or abandonment of such merchandise has been accepted pursuant to an appropriate provision of the law or regulations.

The importer may be permitted after entry to draw samples under Customs supervision in reasonable quantities from the packages of wool or hair designated for examination, provided the bales or bags are properly repacked and repaired by him. Any samples so withdrawn shall be weighed and a record showing the quantities thereof shall be made and filed with the related entry.

§ 151.68 Merchandise to be sampled and tested by Customs.

The following shall be weighed, sampled, and tested for clean yield, unless such sampling or testing is not feasible:

(a) All importation of wool or hair subject to duty at a rate per clean pound, except importations entered directly for manipulation under the provisions of section 562, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1562), or for manufacture under the provisions of section 311, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1311);

(b) All imported wool or hair manipulated under the provisions of section 562, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1562) and dutiable after manipulation as wool or hair at a rate per clean pound; and

(c) Such other imported wool or hair as the district director may designate.

§ 151.69 Transfer or exportation of part of sampling unit.

(a) Transfer of right to withdraw. When an original sampling unit has been weighed, sampled, and tested in accordance with this subpart and a part of such unit is covered by a transfer of the right to withdraw made pursuant to section 557, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1557), the percentages clean yield of the part covered by the transfer and of the part not so covered shall be computed on the basis of the original Customs weights and test and the invoice data related to the respective parts.

A general sample shall be taken from each sampling unit, unless it is not feasible to obtain a representative general sample of the wool or hair in a sampling unit or to test such a sample in accordance with the provisions of § 151.71, in which case the clean yield of the wool or hair in such sampling unit shall be estimated as provided for in § 151.72. At the request of the importer, two general samples may be taken from a sampling unit if the taking and testing of a second general sample is feasible. If two general samples are taken, one general sample shall be held for use in making a second test for clean yield if such a test is requested in accordance with the provisions of § 151.71(c), or if a second test is found desirable by the district director or the chief chemist.

§ 151.71 Laboratory testing for clean yield.

(a) Test and report by Customs laboratory. The clean yield of all general samples taken in accordance with § 151.70 shall be determined by test in a Customs laboratory, unless it is found that it is not feasible to test such a sample and obtain a proper finding of percentage clean yield. A report of the percentage clean yield of each general sample as established by the test or a statement of the reason for not testing a general sample shall be forwarded to the district director. If the report is not received by the district director within 1 month after the date of entry, the clean yield shall be estimated in accordance with § 151.72 except that in the case of wool or hair received under an entry for immediate transportation, the estimate of clean yield shall be made if the laboratory report is not received by the district director within 1 month from the date on which the last of the merchandise is received. However, the district director may withhold his finding of clean yield until the laboratory report is received and predicate his finding on that report if so requested in writing by the importer. An estimate of clean yield shall be made pursuant to the provisions of this paragraph only when an adequate quantity of the wool or hair is available for examination.

(b) Notification to importer. The district director shall promptly notify the importer by mail on Customs Form 6451, Notice of Percentage Clean Yield and Grade of Wool or Hair, of the percentage clean yield found by him. Where samples of wool or hair have been tested in a Customs Laboratory and the district director has received a copy of the Laboratory Report, Customs Form 6415, a copy of that report shall accompany the notification to the importer. [TD 75-121.]

(c) Importer's request for retest. If the importer is dissatisfied with the district director's finding of clean yield, he may file with the district director a written request in duplicate for another laboratory test for percentage clean yield. Such request shall be filed within 14 calendar days after the date of mailing of the notice of the district director's finding of clean yield. The request shall be granted if it appears to the district director to be made in good faith and if a second general sample as provided for in § 151.70 is available for testing, or if all packages or, in the opinion of the Commissioner of Customs, an adequate number of the packages represented by the general sample are available and in their original imported condition.

(d) Retest procedures. The second test shall be made upon the second general sample, if such a sample is available. If the second general sample is not available, the packages shall be reweighed, resampled, and tested in accordance with the provisions of this section. All costs and expenses of such operations, exclusive of the compensation of Customs officers, shall be borne by the importer, who may be present during such resampling and testing.

(e) Request for commercial test. If the importer is dissatisfied with the results of the second laboratory test, or if a second laboratory test is not feasible, the wool or hair may be retested by a commercial laboratory in accordance with § 151.73.

§ 151.72 Estimation of clean yield by nonlaboratory method.

(a) Estimation by Customs. Shipments of wool or hair specified in § 151.68 which have not been tested by the Customs laboratory under the provisions of § 151.71 shall be examined by the appropriate Customs officer, who shall estimate and report the percentage clean yield of each lot.

(b) Notification to importer. The district director shall promptly notify the importer by mail on Customs Form 6451, Notice of Percentage Clean Yield and Grade of Wool or Hair, of the percentage clean yield estimated by the appropriate Customs officer. [TD 75-121.]

(c) Importer's request for reestimation. If the importer is dissatisfied with the estimation of clean yield, he may file with the district director a written request in duplicate for a new examination of the wool or hair and a reestimation of its percentage clean yield. Such request shall be granted if it appears to the district director to be made in good faith. The importer shall be given an opportunity to inspect those packages which are in dispute.

(d) Request for commercial test. If the importer is dissatisfied with the reestimation of clean yield, he may request a test by a commercial laboratory in accordance with § 151.73.

(a) Conditions for commercial test. If the importer is dissatisfied with the results of a retest made in accordance with § 151.71(c), or a reestimation of clean yield made in accordance with § 151.72(c), he may request that a commercial test be made to determine the percentage clean yield of the wool or hair.

(b) Time for filing request. The importer's request shall be filed in writing with the district director within 14 calendar days after the date of mailing of the notice of the district director's findings based on the retest or reexamination.

(c) Procedures for commercial test. The district director shall cause a representative quantity of the wool or hair in dispute to be selected and tested by a commercial method approved by the Commissioner of Customs. The yield, as determined by such commercial test, shall be suitable adjusted to coincide with the definition of clean yield in § 151.61(b). Such test shall be made under the supervision and direction of the district director at an establishment approved by him, and the expense thereof, including the actual expense of travel and subsistence of Customs officers but not their compensation, shall be paid by the importer.

If the district director is not satisfied with the results of any test provided for in § 151.71 or § 151.73, he may, within 14 calendar days after receiving the report of the results of such test, proceed to have another test made upon a suitable sample of the wool or hair at the expense of the Government. When the district director is proceeding to have another test made, he shall, within the 14-day period specified in this paragraph, notify the importer by mail of that fact.

§ 151.75 Final determination of clean yield.

The district director shall base his final determination of clean yield upon a consideration of all the tests and examinations made in connection with the wool or hair concerned.

(a) Examination for grade. The district director shall cause wool dutiable at a rate per clean pound to be examined for grade. The standards for determining grades of wool shall be those which are established from time to time by the Secretary of Agriculture pursuant to law and which are in effect on the date of importation of the wool, as provided by schedule 3, part 1C, headnote 2, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202).

(b) Notification to importer. If classification of the wool at the grade or grades determined on the basis of the examination will result in the assessment of duty at a rate higher than the rate provided for wool of the grade stated in the entry, the district director shall promptly notify the importer by mail.

(c) Importer's request for reexamination. If the importer is dissatisfied with the district director's findings as to the grade or grades of the wool, he may, within 14 calendar days after the date of mailing of the notice of the district director's findings, file in duplicate a written request for another determination of grade or grades, stating the reason for the request. Notice of the district director's findings on the basis of the reexamination of the wool shall be mailed to the importer.

§ 151.81 Definition of staple length.

For the purposes of this subpart, "staple length" means the length of the fibers in a particular quantity of cotton designated in terms expressing the measurement by the inch or fraction thereof of a representative portion of the quantity in accordance with the Official Cotton Standards of the United States for length of staple, as established by the Secretary of Agriculture.

Invoices of cotton provided for in item 300.10, 300.15, or 300.20, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C.

1202), shall show the following detailed information in addition to other required information:

(a) One of the following statements regarding each lot of cotton covered by the invoice:

(1) This is harsh or rough cotton under 3/4 inch in staple length;

(2) The staple length of this cotton is under 1 1/8 inches. (This statement is not to be used if subparagraph (1) of this paragraph is applicable);

(3) The staple length of this cotton is 1 1/8 inches or more and under 1 3/8 inches;

(4) This cotton is harsh or rough cotton (other than cotton of perished staple, grabbots, and cotton pickings), white in color, and has a staple length of 1 5/32 inches or more and under 1 3/8 inches;

(5) The staple length of this cotton is 1 3/8 inches or more and under 1 11/16 inches; or

(6) The staple length of this cotton is 1 11/16 inches or more.

(b) The name of the country of origin, and, if practicable, the name of the province or other subdivision of the country of origin in which the cotton was grown.

(c) The variety of the cotton, such as Karnak, Gisha, Pima, Tanguis, etc. (Sec. 481, 46 Stat. 719; 19 U.S.C. 1481)

§ 151.83 Method of sampling.

For determining the staple length of any lot of cotton for any Customs purposes, samples of the lot shall be taken in accordance with commercial practice.

§ 151.84 Determination of staple length.

The district director shall have one or more samples of each sampled bale of cotton stapled by a qualified Customs officer, or a qualified employee of the Department of Agriculture designated by the Commissioner of Customs for the purpose, and shall promptly mail the importer a notice of the results determined.

§ 151.85 Importer's request for redetermination.

If the importer is dissatisfied with the district director's determination, he may file with the district director, within 14 calendar days after the mailing of the notice, a written request in duplicate for a redetermination of the staple length. Each such request shall include a statement of the claimed staple length for the cotton in question and a clear statement of the basis for the claim. The request shall be granted if it appears to the district director to be made in good faith. In making the redetermination of staple length, the district director may obtain an opinion of a board of cotton examiners from the U.S. Department of Agriculture, if he deems such action advisable. All expenses occasioned by any redetermination of staple length, exclusive of the compensation of Customs officers, shall be reimbursed to the Government by the importer.

§ 151.91 Brix values of unconcentrated natural fruit juices.

The following values have been determined to be the average Brix values of unconcentrated natural fruit juices in the trade and commerce of the United States, for purposes of the provisions of schedule 1, part 12A, headnote 3, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), and will be used in determining the dutiable quantity of imports of concentrated fruit juices, using the procedure set forth in headnote 4 of part 12A: [TD 74-41.]

Kind of fruit juice	Average Brix value (degrees)
Apple	13.3
Apricot	14.3
Bilberry (Whortleberry, Vaccinium Myrtillium)	13.4
Black currant	15.0
Blackberry	10.0
Black raspberry	11.1
Blueberry	14.1
Boysenberry	10.0
Carob	40.0
Cherry	14.3
Crabapple	15.4
Cranberry	10.5
Dewberry	10.0
Elderberry	11.0
Gooseberry	8.3
Grape (Vitis Vinifera)	18.0
Grape (Slipskin varieties)	16.0
Grapefruit	10.2
Guava	7.7
Lemon	8.9
Lime	10.0
Loganberry	10.5
Mango	17.0
Naranjilla	10.5
Orange	11.8
Papaya	10.2
Passion Fruit	15.3
Peach	11.8
Pear	15.4
Pineapple	14.3
Plum	14.3
Pomegranate	18.2
Prune	18.5
Quince	13.3
Raisin	18.5
Raspberry (Red raspberry)	10.5
Red currant	10.5
Soursop (Guanabana, Annono Muricata)	16.0
Strawberry	8.0
Tamarind	55.0
Tangerine	11.5
Youngberry	10.0

Subpart H—Flat Glass

§ 151.101 Weighing of flat glass.

The net weight of flat glass dutiable on a weight basis under schedule 5, part 3B, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), shall be ascertained by the district director in accordance with § 151.102 or § 151.103 whenever he is not satisfied with the accuracy of the weights shown on the invoice or packing list, and in any event from time to time on a spot-check basis.

The standard method for ascertaining the net weight of flat glass in one case of each size and thickness shall be as follows:

(a) In cases weighing not over 500 pounds each: Weigh the entire amount of glass in the case or obtain the gross weight of the case, remove and weigh all coverings, and subtract the weight of the coverings from the gross weight.

(b) In cases weighing over 500 pounds each: Remove and weigh 20 or more sheets aggregating not less than 100 square feet; divide the weight so found by the total area of the sheets weighed to obtain the weight in pounds per square foot; and multiply this by the total area of the sheets contained in the case. If this is not practicable, caliper the edges of at least five sheets chosen from the case at random, using a micrometer caliper, if available; multiply the average thickness in inches by 13 to obtain the weight in pounds per square foot; and multiply this by the total area of the sheets contained in the case. However, the calipering method, when used for glass weighing 28 ounces or less per square foot, is subject to significant inaccuracies and its use with such glass should be avoided.

The district director may exercise his discretion in ascertaining the net weight of flat glass by other methods, based upon the availability of Customs weighing facilities, provided by importers, availability of personnel, and other considerations.

The net weight ascertained in accordance with § 151.102 or § 151.103 shall be used as a basis to compute duties when it varies by more than 5 percent from the invoice net weight. The invoice net weight shall be used when the ascertained net weight varies from it by 5 percent or less, or when the district director has elected in accordance with § 151.101 to accept the invoice weight without further ascertainment.

Subpart I—Cigars, Cigarillos, and Tobacco

§ 151.111 Cigars, cigarillos, and tobacco of Cuban origin.

The tobacco National Import Specialist at the port of New York shall have general supervision of the examination of (a) all cigars or cigarillos which may be made or derived in whole or in part of Cuban articles, and (b) all tobacco which may be of Cuban origin. [TD 81-189.]

PART 152—CLASSIFICATION AND APPRAISEMENT OF MERCHANDISE

152.0 Scope.

Subpart A—General Provisions

152.1 Definitions.
152.2 Notification to importer of increased duties.
152.3 Merchandise found not to correspond with invoice description.

Subpart B—Classification

152.11 Tariff Schedules of the United States.
152.12 Applicable rates of duty.
152.13 Commingling of merchandise.
152.16 Judicial changes in classification.
152.17 Changes in classification by Congress or by Presidential proclamation.

Subpart C—Appraisement

152.20 Effective date.
152.21 Basis of appraisement.
152.22 Determination of dutiable charges.
152.23 Merchandise imported from intermediate countries.
152.24 American selling price.
152.25 Conversion of foreign currency.
152.26 Furnishing value information to importer.

Subpart D—Benzenoid Chemicals and Products

152.31 Basis of appraisement.
152.32 Unreasonable price not to be used as American selling price.
152.33 Allowances under U.S. value.
152.34 Value information to importer.
152.35 Sampling by importer prior to entry.
152.36 Testing conditions.
152.37 Lists of competitive and noncompetitive articles.
152.38 Importer's request for additions to lists.
152.39 Two or more competitive articles.
152.40 Adjustment for strength.
152.41 Publication of standards of strength for benzenoid colors, dyes, stains, and related products.
152.42 Samples of domestic benzenoid colors, dyes, stains, and related products.
152.43 Testing of imported benzenoid colors, dyes, stains, and related products.

Subpart E—Valuation of Merchandise

152.100 Interpretative notes.
152.101 Basis of appraisement.
152.102 Definitions.
152.103 Transaction value.
152.104 Transaction value of identical merchandise and similar merchandise.
152.105 Deductive value.
152.106 Computed value.

This part contains regulations pertaining to the tariff classification and appraisement of imported merchandise. Other applicable provisions are contained elsewhere in this chapter, such as in Part 10 for articles conditionally free or subject to a reduced rate of duty, and in Part 159 for relief from duties on articles lost, damaged, etc. [TD 73-175.]

Subpart A—General Provisions

The following are general definitions for the purposes of Part 152:

(a) Dutiable charges. "Dutiable charges" means such costs and expenses as are incidental to placing the merchandise in condition, packed ready for shipment to the United States, within the meaning of section 402 or 402a, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1401a or 1402). Such charges must represent the actual cost and be confined solely to merchandise exported to the United States. Any expenses which enter into the value of the merchandise when sold in the ordinary course of trade for domestic consumption in the country of exportation are not charges but become a part of the value of the merchandise.

(b) Nondutiable charges. "Nondutiable charges" means such items of cost and expense as constitute no part of the value of the merchandise when sold in the ordinary course of trade in the country of exportation, and are no part of the expense of placing it in condition, packed ready for shipment to the United States.

(c) Date of exportation. "Date of exportation," or the "time of exportation" referred to in section 402 and 402a, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1401a and 1402), means the actual date the merchandise finally leaves the country of exportation for the United States. If no positive evidence is at hand as to the actual date of exportation, the district director shall ascertain or estimate the date of exportation by all reasonable ways and means in his power, and in so doing may consider dates on bills of lading, invoices, and other information available to him.

If the district director believes that the entered rate or value of any merchandise is too low, or if he finds that the quantity imported exceeds the entered quantity, and the estimated aggregate of the increase in duties on that entry exceeds $15, he shall promptly notify the importer on Customs Form 5561, specifying the nature of the difference on the notice. Liquidation shall be made promptly and shall not be withheld for a period of more than 20 days from the date of mailing of such notice unless in the judgment of the district director there are compelling reasons that would warrant such action.

When any merchandise not corresponding with the description given in the invoice is found by the examining officer, duties shall be assessed on the merchandise actually found. If the discrepancy appears conclusively to be the result of a mistake and not of any intent to defraud, no proceedings for forfeiture shall be taken. When the entire shipment does not agree with the invoice and there is no evidence of any intent to defraud, a new entry shall be required and the estimated duty paid on the original entry shall be refunded on liquidation as in the case of a nonimportation. (Sec. 499, 46 Stat. 728, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1499)

§ 152.11 Tariff Schedules of the United States.

Merchandise shall be classified in accordance with the Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202) as interpreted by administrative and judicial rulings.

§ 152.12 Applicable rates of duty.

Rates of duty shall be based on the detailed instructions in § 141.69 of this chapter, which provides in general that the rates of duty applicable to merchandise shall be those in effect on the date of entry or withdrawal for consumption, except for certain merchandise covered by an entry for immediate transportation or overcarried and returned to the port of entry.

(a) Notice to importer. The district director shall give written notice to the importer as promptly as possible after any commingling is discovered.

(b) Highest rate applicable. Commingled merchandise shall be assessed with duty at the highest rate or rates applicable to any one kind of merchandise included in the commingling, unless:

(1) The quantity and value of each of the kinds so included can be readily ascertained by the usual method of Customs examination or by one or more of the methods specified in general headnote 7(a), Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), or

(2) The conditions specified in general headnote 7(b), (c), or (d), Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), are satisfied.

(c) Time limit. To obtain the benefit of general headnote 7(a)(iii), (b), (c), or (d), Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), the importer shall, within 30 days after the date of mailing or personal delivery of the notice provided for in paragraph (a) of this section, take appropriate action as follows:

(1) File with the district director evidence showing performance of the commercial settlement tests specified in general headnote 7(a)(iii), Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202); or

(2) Perform the segregation under Customs supervision as specified in general headnote 7(b), Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202); or

(3) File with the district director documentary proof which will satisfy him that the merchandise is entitled to the lower rate of duty under general headnote 7(c) or (d), Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202).

(d) Extension of time limit. The 30-day limit for filing the evidence specified in general headnote 7(a)(iii) or for performing the segregation specified in general headnote 7(b), Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), may be extended by the district director for additional periods of 30 days each, but not beyond 6 months from the date of mailing or personal delivery of the notice provided for in paragraph (a) of this section, if the importer makes written application for each extension and gives satisfactory reasons for its allowance. (Gen. hdnote. 7, Tariff Schedules of the United States; 19 U.S.C. 1202)

The following procedures apply to changes in classification made by decision of either the United States Customs Court or the United States Court of Customs and Patent Appeals, except to the extent otherwise provided in a ruling published in the Customs Bulletin pursuant to § 177.10(a) of this chapter: [TD 75-186.]

(a) Identical merchandise under decision favorable to Government. The principles of any court decision favorable to the Government shall be applied to all merchandise identical with that passed on by the court which is covered by unliquidated entries, whether for consumption or warehouse.

(b) Similar merchandise under decision favorable to Government. The principles of any court decision favorable to the Government shall be applied to merchandise, though not identical with the merchandise the subject of the court's decision, if its classification is affected by such principles, provided that it has been entered or withdrawn for consumption after 30 days from the date of publication of the court's decision in the Customs Bulletin.

(c) Higher rate. If a court decision overruling a protest contains a definite statement that a higher rate than that assessed by the district director was properly chargeable, such higher rate shall be applied to all merchandise, whether identical or similar to that passed on by the court, which is affected by the principles of the court's decision and which is entered or withdrawn for consumption after 30 days from the date of the publication of the court's decision in the Customs Bulletin.

(d) American manufacturer's petition upheld. If the court upholds a petition made by an American manufacturer, producer, or wholesaler under the provisions of section 516, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1516), the principles of the court's decision shall be applicable to all merchandise of that character which is entered or withdrawn for consumption after the date of publication of the court's decision in the Customs Bulletin. The liquidation of entries covering merchandise of that character made after publication of the court's decision shall be suspended in accordance with § 159.57 of this chapter pending any rehearing or review, then liquidated, or, if necessary, reliquidated in accordance with the final judicial decision.

(e) Other decisions adverse to Government. Unless the Commissioner of Customs otherwise directs, the principles of any court decision adverse to the Government (except for a decision upholding an American manufacturer's petition as covered in paragraph (d) of this section) shall be applied to unliquidated entries and protested entries which have not been denied in whole or in part and in which the same issue is involved as soon as the time within which an application for a rehearing or review may be filed has expired without such application having been made. See § 176.31 of this chapter for the treatment of entries which are the subject of a court decision.

When a rate of Customs duty or internal revenue tax imposed upon or by reason of importation is changed by an act of Congress or by a proclamation of the President, the new rate shall be applied in accordance with the detailed instructions in § 141.69 of this chapter, which provides in general that the rates of duty applicable to merchandise shall be those in effect on the date of entry or withdrawal for consumption, except for certain merchandise covered by an entry for immediate transportation or overcarried and returned to the port of entry.

The value for appraisement of merchandise exported to the United States before July 1, 1980, or, for articles classified in item 700.60, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), before July 1, 1981, will be determined in accordance with this subpart. [TD 81-7.]

§ 152.21 Basis of appraisement.

(a) Merchandise not on final list. In the case of merchandise which is not specified in the final list (T.D. 54521) published pursuant to section 6(a) of the Customs Simplification Act of 1956, the value for appraisement purposes shall be determined in accordance with section 402, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1401a).

(b) Merchandise on final list. In the case of merchandise which is specified in the final list (T.D. 54521), the value for appraisement purposes shall be determined in accordance with section 402a, Tariff Act of 1930, as redesignated and amended (19 U.S.C. 1402).

(c) Merchandise on final list in terms of value. In the case of merchandise which is described on the final list in terms of unit value, the unit value shall be computed in accordance with section 402a, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, for the purpose of ascertaining whether the merchandise is included on the list. If the value so computed brings the merchandise within the scope of the final list, such merchandise shall be appraised in accordance with section 402a and classified at the rate applicable to such appraised value. If the value so computed places the merchandise outside the scope of the final list, the merchandise shall be appraised in accordance with section 402, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, and shall be classified at the rate applicable to that appraised value.

The district director shall determine the amount of any dutiable charges, as defined in § 152.1(a), which are to be included in the appraised value of the merchandise.

Merchandise imported from one country, being the growth, production, or manufacture of another country, shall for value purposes (see sections 402, 402a, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1401a, 1402) be treated as an exportation of the country from which it is immediately imported. However, if it appears by the invoice, bill of lading, or other evidence that the merchandise was destined for the United States at the time of original shipment, it shall be treated as an exportation of the country from which it was originally exported. The term "country" is to be regarded for the purposes of this section as embracing all the possessions of a nation, however widely separated, which are subject to the same supreme executive and legislative authority and control.

(a) Only for certain merchandise. American selling price, as defined in section 402 or 402a, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1401a or 1402), is not an alternative method of determining value, but is used only when appraisement under American selling price is specified by statute, or by a Presidential proclamation issued under the authority of section 336, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1336). At present, the following classes of merchandise are appraised at the American selling price:

(1) Benzenoid chemicals and products provided for in schedule 4, part 1, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202). (See subpart D of this part.)

(2) Clams in airtight containers provided for in item 114.05, Tariff Schedules of the United States (see schedule 1, part 3E, headnote 1, Tariff Schedules of the United States) (19 U.S.C. 1202).

(3) Certain types of footwear provided for in item 700.60, Tariff Schedules of the United States (see schedule 7, part 1C, headnote 3b, Tariff Schedules of the United States) (19 U.S.C. 1202).

(4) Knit wool gloves and mittens valued at not over $1.75 per dozen pairs provided for in item 704.55, Tariff Schedules of the United States (see schedule 7, part 1C, headnote 4, Tariff Schedules of the United States) (19 U.S.C. 1202).

(b) Alternative value if no American selling price. If no American selling price can be found for benzenoid chemicals and products, appraisement shall be made on the basis of the U.S. value in accordance with schedule 4, part 1, headnote 1, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202) (see § 152.31). If no American selling price can be found for the other merchandise listed in paragraphs (a) (2) through (4) of this section, appraisement shall be made in accordance with section 402(a) or 402a(a), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1401a(a) or 1402(a)).

(c) Determination of American selling price of footwear classifiable under item 700.60, Tariff Schedules of the United States.—(1) Submission of samples, catalogs, and price lists by domestic producers. In order to ensure consideration of their merchandise in making a determination regarding the existence or nonexistence of an American selling price, domestic producers of footwear of the same class or kind as that classifiable under item 700.60, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), shall furnish the Area Director, New York Seaport Area, with all catalogs and price lists covering such footwear. If any catalogs or price lists furnished to the Area Director have been revised or amended, such revisions or amendments shall be forwarded promptly to the Area Director, New York Seaport Area. At the request of the Area Director, New York Seaport Area, domestic producers shall furnish samples of footwear of the same class or kind as that provided for in item 700.60. Accompanying the catalogs and price lists shall be a certification by the domestic producer, in substantially the following form, verifying that the footwear products covered are freely offered for sale for domestic consumption at the prices shown: [TD 76-193.]

Certification

I hereby certify that the enclosed information on production and price of footwear truly and accurately represents a presently produced article, freely offered for sale for domestic consumption to all purchasers at ______________ (place where the greatest number of individual sales takes place), in the ordinary course of trade, in the usual wholesale quantities, without restrictions as to the disposition, use, or resale price of the merchandise by the purchasers.

I further certify that I will submit information regarding any change in the status of this product as it occurs.

The Area Director may, at his discretion, request the Regional Director (Investigations) to verify by investigation all representations made in regard to any samples, catalogs, and price lists submitted.

(2) Submission of samples by importers. Importers of footwear classifiable under item 700.60, Tariff Schedules of the United States, shall furnish the appropriate Customs officer at the port of entry with a sample from the first commercial shipment of each model or style of such footwear imported into the United States. The samples will then be forwarded to the Area Director, New York Seaport Area, for determination of the American selling price.

(3) Notification of Area Director's determination. When the Area Director, New York Seaport Area, has determined the American selling price applicable to a particular sample, or has determined that the footwear is not like or similar to a domestic product and therefore not subject to appraisement on the basis of American selling price, he shall notify the importer and domestic producers of the same class or kind of footwear, or their representatives, of this determination. He shall not provide information with respect to the manufacturer, importer, or price of the imported product.

(4) Examination of samples. Within 30 days of notification of the Area Director's determination in regard to the applicability of an American selling price, the importer and domestic producers (or their representatives) shall have an opportunity to examine representative samples of the footwear submitted by the importer and domestic producers which were considered by the Area Director in making his determination.

(5) Request by importer or domestic producers that the Area Director seek internal advice. The importer or domestic producers may, if they disagree with the Area Director's determination regarding the applicability of an American selling price, request that the Area Director seek internal advice from Headquarters, United States Customs Service, in accordance with the procedures set forth in section 177.11 of this chapter, provided the request by the importer or the domestic producers is received within 30 days of notification of the Area Director's determination. When one party in interest (either the importer or the domestic producers) seeks internal advice from Headquarters, Customs shall notify the other party in interest of that action. (Sec. 336, 46 Stat. 701, as amended, 77A Stat. 332, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1202 (Schedule 7, Part 1A, headnote 3(b), Tariff Schedules of the United States), 1936).)

When foreign currency must be converted for purposes of appraisement, the instructions in subpart C of Part 159 of this chapter shall be followed.

§ 152.26 Furnishing value information to importer.

The district director shall furnish to importers the latest information as to values in his possession, subject to the following conditions:

(a) Before appraisement. Value information shall be given before appraisement only in response to a specific oral or written request by the importer, supported by an adequate reason for the request, or where required by Customs purposes, such as in determining proper estimated duties to be deposited or notification of increased duties in accordance with § 152.2.

(b) Only for merchandise under district director's jurisdiction. The information shall be given only in regard to merchandise to be appraised by, or under the jurisdiction of, the district director who receives the request, and only with respect to merchandise for which there is presented evidence of a firm commitment or intent to import such merchandise into the United States.

(c) Information by importer. Each request shall be accompanied by the latest information as to the values in question which the importer has or can reasonably obtain.

(d) Information not binding. Value information shall be given by the district director only with an understanding and agreement in each case that the information is in no sense an appraisement and is not binding upon the district director's action when he appraises the merchandise.

(e) No reply required after entry. The district director shall not be required to reply to a written request for value information after a value for the merchandise has been declared on entry unless he has information indicating a probable appraised value different from such entered value.

(a) American selling price. Benzenoid chemicals and products which are provided for in schedule 4, part 1, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), and which are subject to an ad valorem rate of duty shall be appraised at the American selling price, as defined in section 402 or 402a, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1401a or 1402), of any similar competitive article manufactured or produced in the United States.

(b) U.S. value. If there is no similar competitive article manufactured or produced in the United States, such merchandise shall be appraised at the U.S. value, as defined in said section 402 or 402a.

(c) Other. If there is no similar competitive article produced or manufactured in the United States, and no U.S. value can be ascertained, the merchandise shall be appraised in accordance with section 402(a) or 402a(a), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1401a(a) or 1402(a)).

When the district director is satisfied after investigation that a similar competitive domestic article is offered for sale at an arbitrary and unreasonable price not intended to secure bona fide sales and which does not secure bona fide sales, such price shall not be considered as the American selling price, and the district director shall use all reasonable ways and means to ascertain the price that the manufacturer, producer, or owner would have received, within the meaning of section 402(e) or 402a(g), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1401a(e) or 1402(g)).

§ 152.33 Allowances under U.S. value.

Where U.S. value is the basis of appraisement, the allowances permitted under section 402a(e), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1402(e)), shall be made on the basis of the factors enumerated therein which actually entered into the price at which such or similar merchandise was being sold in the principal market of the United States at the time of exportation, subject to the limitations as to profits, general expenses, or commission. The allowances permitted under section 402(c), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1401a(c)), shall be made on the basis of the factors enumerated therein which usually entered into the price at which imported merchandise of the same class or kind was being sold in the principal market of the United States at the time of exportation.

Importers may be furnished information as to the American selling price or U.S. value of benzenoid chemicals and products in accordance with the provisions of § 152.26.

§ 152.35 Sampling by importer prior to entry.

Subject to the conditions of § 151.5 of this chapter, prior to entry an importer shall be permitted to take samples under proper supervision from his own importation of merchandise dutiable under schedule 4, part 1, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202).

§ 152.36 Testing conditions.

Tests which are necessary in the appraisement of a benzenoid chemical or product shall be made under conditions approximating as closely as practicable the conditions in which such chemical or product will be actually used in trade or manufacture.

§ 152.37 Lists of competitive and noncompetitive articles.

The Regional Commissioner at New York shall from time to time issue lists of benzenoid chemicals and products which he believes to be competitive and noncompetitive within the contemplation of schedule 4, part 1, headnotes 4 and 5, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), and shall add articles thereto or remove articles therefrom as investigation may justify. This list is advisory only and in no manner relieves district directors from the duty of independent appraisement required by law. The Regional Commissioner at New York shall furnish copies of such lists and amendments thereof to the Customs Information Exchange for circulation to Customs officers, and to the public upon request.

§ 152.38 Importer's request for additions to lists.

An importer having an invoice of an article not listed on either the competitive or the noncompetitive list may request the Regional Commissioner at New York to ascertain on which list the article belongs. The importer shall furnish the regional commissioner such relevant information as may be requested, and may withhold formal entry pending the addition of the article to either list. The regional commissioner shall add the articles to the appropriate list and notify the importer of the action taken.

§ 152.39 Two or more competitive articles.

When two or more domestic articles are considered similar to and competitive with an imported article, the American selling price of the domestic article which accomplishes results most nearly equal to those of the imported article shall be taken as the basis for appraisement.

When an imported article is of different strength from a similar competitive article manufactured or produced in the United States, the value of the imported article shall be adjusted in relation to the selling price of the domestic article in the proportion which the strength of the imported article bears to that of the domestic article.

§ 152.41 Publication of standards of strength for benzenoid colors, dyes, stains, and related products.

Standards of strength for benzenoid colors, dyes, stains, and related products adopted by the Secretary of the Treasury in accordance with schedule 4, part 1C, headnote 6(a), Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), shall be published in the Federal Register and in the Customs Bulletin. Such standards heretofore adopted and published under the authority of paragraph 28, Tariff Act of 1922, or paragraph 28, Tariff Act of 1930, shall continue in force until changed or revoked. The following Treasury Decisions contain standards of strength to which U.S. Standard numbers have been assigned and which have been adopted by the Secretary of the Treasury: 39765, 40192, 40257, 40278, 40293, 40298, 40329, 40340, 40361, 40371, 40396, 40420, 40450, 40472, 40525, 40563, 40596, 40623, 40653, 40922, 40947, 41017, 41061, 41089, 41139, 41162, 41224, 41313, 41380, 41513, 41656, 41756, 41932, 42147, 42420, 42687, 42942, 43255, 43704, 44231, 44924, 45319, 45758, 46012, 46487, 46793, 47186, 47544, 47836, 48361, 48541, 48814, 49137, 49353, 49671, 49790, 50001, 50094, 50199, 50333, 50431, 50556, 50691, 50806, 55432.

(a) Receipt by Chief Chemist in New York. The Chief Chemist, Customs Laboratory, 201 Varick Street, New York, NY 10014, is hereby authorized to receive from domestic manufacturers samples of any benzenoid colors, dyes, stains, and related products which they produce and offer. Each sample so received shall be accompanied by specifications setting forth all the information called for in Schedule A (see paragraph (c) of this section). The sample and specifications shall be examined and appropriately filed by the chief chemist. Samples and specifications shall be removed from, replaced, or added to the file as may be necessary. The Chief Chemist shall inform the Regional Commissioner at New York of those products removed from or added to the file.

(b) Circulation of lists. Based on the information received from the Chief Chemist, the Regional Commissioner at New York shall from time to time prepare a list identifying each such product by the invoice name and, if different, the trade name as described in items Nos. 1 and 2 of Schedule A. The color index number, item No. 8 of Schedule A, shall appear in the list opposite the name of the product. These lists, which are advisory only, shall be furnished to the Customs Information Exchange for circularization to Customs officers, and to the public upon request. Other information in respect to the specifications shall be treated as exempt from disclosure to the public in accordance with § 103.12(d) of this chapter. [TD 81-168]

(c) Schedule A specifications. Each sample submitted in accordance with paragraph (a) of this section shall be accompanied by specifications setting forth all the information called for by Schedule A below. It is essential that the specifications accompanying the sample be set forth in the order and manner specified because the information will be used for comparison with similar data required on importations of foreign benzenoid products:

Schedule A—Benzenoid Colors, Dyes, Stains, and Related Products

1. Invoice name of product________________
2. Trade name of product________________
3. Name of manufacturer________________
4. List other U.S. manufacturers and names under which sold, if known________________

A. Fibrous materials:

(1) Natural: Cotton; silk; wool; hemp; flax (linen); Jute; Ramie; straw and grass; sisal; other animal vegetable fibers.

(2) Synthetic (including regenerated and modified cellulose); Acetate Celanese, Acele, Koda); Rayon-Cuprammonium (Bamberg, Matesa); Viscose (Avisco, Delray); Polyamide (Nylon, Perlon); Acrylic (Dynel, Acrilan, Orlon); vinylidene chloride (Saran, Velon); polyethylene (Wynene, Reevon); polyester (Dacron, Terylene); Protein (Azlon, Lanital, Aralac); Glass; other.

B. Nonfibrous materials: Plastics; leather; paper; cellophane; photographic sensitizers, desensitizers, light filters and tinting film; foodstuffs; biological materials; solutions, analytical; oils, fats, and waxes; soap; gasoline; paints, lacquers, stains, and inks; smoke (signals); aluminum; earthenware; other.

A. Describe the class or classes and subclass to which the product belongs.

Example (1): Monoazo, Gamma-acid coupling.

Example (2): Xanthen—Basic, oxy-carboxy rhodamines.

B. Give any other information which you consider may be helpful in classifying the products.

Example (1): Insoluble azo dye on the fiber. Mixtures of stabilized diazo amino compounds and coupling components for preparation of the dye on the fiber.

Example (2): Anthraquinone—Dispersion type amino-oxy-anthraquinones.

14. If the product consists of a mixture of two or more active ingredients, the information required by the preceding numbered paragraphs shall be given for each active ingredient in the mixture, together with the proportion of each active ingredient in the mixture.

15. In addition to the above specifications, there shall be furnished a color pattern or card showing typical small specimens of the material to which the product has been applied with an indication of the strength and the method of application. However, in those cases where a suitable color card has been filed previously with the New York Customs Laboratory, or where a color card is not used commercially and it is not practical to submit one, it will be considered satisfactory to furnish a statement setting forth the date the previous pattern or card was filed and its identification number, or the reason why one is not submitted.

Any sample of an imported benzenoid color, dye, stain, or related product sent to the Customs laboratory to determine its comparability with a domestic product shall be accompanied by the Schedule A specifications required by § 141.89 of this chapter. The chief chemist shall search the file of domestic samples and specifications referred to in § 152.42(a) and make any necessary tests. If no comparable domestic product is found, the chief chemist shall prepare and submit his laboratory report accordingly.

The interpretative notes set forth in this subpart have been derived from information contained in the Statement of Administrative Action relating to customs valuation, submitted to and approved by Congress along with the Trade Agreements Act of 1979 (Pub. L. 96-39), and will have the force and effect of regulations issued under this subpart. [TD 81-7.]

§ 152.101 Basis of appraisement.

(a) Effective date. The value for appraisement of merchandise exported to the United States on or after July 1, 1980, or, for articles classified under item 700.60, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), on or after July 1, 1981, will be determined in accordance with section 402, Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1401a), as amended by section 201, Trade Agreements Act of 1979.

(b) Methods. Imported merchandise will be appraised on the basis, and in the order, of the following:

(1) The transaction value provided for in § 152.103;

(2) The transaction value of identical merchandise provided for in § 152.104, if the transaction value cannot be determined, or can be determined but cannot be used because of the limitations provided for in § 152.103(j);

(3) The transaction value of similar merchandise provided for in § 152.104, if the transaction value of identical merchandise cannot be determined;

(4) The deductive value provided for in § 152.105, if the transaction value of similar merchandise cannot be determined;

(5) The computed value provided for in § 152.106, if the deductive value cannot be determined; or

(6) The value provided for in § 152.107, if the computed value cannot be determined

(c) Importer's option. The importer may request the application of the computed value method before the deductive value method. The request must be made at the time the entry summary for the merchandise is filed with the district director (see § 141.0a(b) of this chapter). If the importer makes the request, but the value of the imported merchandise cannot be determined using the computed value method, the merchandise will be appraised using the deductive value method if it is possible to do so. If the deductive value cannot be determined, the appraised value will be determined as provided for in § 152.107.

(d) Explanation to importer. Upon receipt of a written request from the importer within 90 days after liquidation, the district director shall provide a reasonable and concise written explanation of how the value of the imported merchandise was determined. The explanation will apply only to the imported merchandise being appraised and will not serve as authority with respect to the valuation of importations of any other merchandise at the same or a different port of entry. This procedure is for informational purposes only, and will not affect or replace the protest or administrative ruling procedures contained in Parts 174 and 177, respectively, of this chapter, or any other Customs procedures. Under this procedure, Customs will not be required to release any information not otherwise subject to disclosure under the Freedom of Information Act, as amended (5 U.S.C. 552), the Privacy Act of 1974 (5 U.S.C. 552a), or any other statute (see Part 103 of this chapter). [TD 81-7.]

As used in this subpart, the following terms will have the meanings indicated:

(a) Assist. (1) "Assist" means any of the following if supplied directly or indirectly, and free of charge or at reduced cost, by the buyer of imported merchandise for use in connection with the production or the sale for export to the United States of the merchandise:

(i) Materials, components, parts, and similar items incorporated in the imported merchandise.

(ii) Tools, dies, molds, and similar items used in the production of the imported merchandise.

(iii) Merchandise consumed in the production of the imported merchandise.

(iv) Engineering, development, artwork, design work, and plans and sketches that are undertaken elsewhere than in the United States and are necessary for the production of the imported merchandise.

(2) No service or work to which subparagraph (1)(iv) of this paragraph applies will be treated as an assist if the service or work—

(i) Is performed by an individual domiciled within the United States;

(ii) Is performed by that individual while acting as an employee or agent of the buyer of the imported merchandise; and

(iii) Is incidental to other engineering, development, artwork, design work, or plans or sketches that are undertaken within the United States.

(3) The following apply in determining the value of assists described in subparagraph (1)(iv) of this paragraph—

(i) The value of an assist that is available in the public domain is the cost of obtaining copies of the assist.

(ii) If the production of an assist occurred in the United States and one or more foreign countries, the value of the assist is the value added outside the United States.

(iii) If the assist was purchased or leased by the buyer from an unrelated person, the value of the assist is the cost of the purchase or of the lease.

(b) Commission. "Selling commission" means any commission paid to the seller's agent, who is related to or controlled by, or works for or on behalf of, the manufacturer or the seller.

(c) Generally accepted accounting principles. (1) "Generally accepted accounting principles" refers to any generally recognized consensus or substantial authoritative support regarding—

(i) Which economic resources and obligations should be recorded as assets and liabilities;

(ii) Which changes in assets and liabilities should be recorded;

(iii) How the assets and liabilities and changes in them should be measured;

(iv) What information should be disclosed and how it should be disclosed; and

(v) Which financial statements should be prepared.

(2) The applicability of a particular set of generally accepted accounting principles will depend upon the basis on which the value of the imported merchandise is sought to be established, and the relevant country for the point in contention.

(3) Information submitted by an importer, buyer, or producer in regard to the appraisement of merchandise may not be rejected by Customs because of the accounting method by which that information was prepared, if the preparation was in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.

(d) Identical merchandise. "Identical merchandise" means merchandise identical in all respects to, and produced in the same country and by the same person as, the merchandise being appraised. If identical merchandise cannot be found (or for purposes of related buyer and seller transactions (see § 152.103(j)(2)(i)(A)), regardless of whether identical merchandise can be found), merchandise identical in all respects to, and produced in the same country as, but not produced by the same person as, the merchandise being appraised, may be treated as "identical merchandise". "Identical merchandise" does not include merchandise that incorporates or reflects any engineering, development, artwork, design work, or plan or sketch supplied free or at reduced cost by the buyer of the merchandise for use in connection with the production or sale for export to the United States of the merchandise, and is not an assist because undertaken within the United States.

(e) Packing costs. "Packing costs" means the cost of all containers (exclusive of instruments of international traffic) and coverings of whatever nature and of packing, whether for labor or materials, used in placing merchandise in condition, packed ready for shipment to the United States.

(f) Price actually paid or payable. "Price actually paid or payable" means the total payment (whether direct or indirect, and exclusive of any charges, costs, or expenses incurred for transportation, insurance, and related services incident to the international shipment of the merchandise from the country of exportation to the place of importation in the United States) made, or to be made, for imported merchandise by the buyer to, or for the benefit of, the seller.

(g) Related persons. "Related persons" means: (1) Members of the same family, including brothers and sisters (whether by whole or half blood), spouse, ancestors, and lineal descendants.

(2) Any officer or director of an organization, and that organization.

(3) An officer or director of an organization and an officer or director of another organization, if each individual also is an officer or director in the other organization.

(4) Partners.

(5) Employer and employee.

(6) Any person directly or indirectly owning, controlling, or holding with power to vote, five percent or more of the outstanding voting stock or shares of any organization, and that organization.

(7) Two or more persons directly or indirectly controlling, controlled by, or under common control with, any person.

(h) Same class or kind. "Merchandise of the same class or kind" means merchandise (including but not limited to, identical merchandise and similar merchandise) within a group or range of merchandise produced by a particular industry or industry sector.

(i) Similar merchandise. "Similar merchandise" means merchandise produced in the same country and by the same person as the merchandise being appraised, like the merchandise being appraised in characteristics and component material, and commercially interchangeable with the merchandise being appraised. If similar merchandise cannot be found (or for purposes of related buyer and seller transactions (see § 152.103(j)(2)(i)(A)), regardless of whether similar merchandise can be found), merchandise produced in the same country as, but not produced by the same person as, the merchandise being appraised, like the merchandise being appraised in characteristics and component material, and commercially interchangeable with the merchandise being appraised, may be treated as "similar merchandise". "Similar merchandise" does not include merchandise that incorporates or reflects any engineering, development, artwork, design work, or plan or sketch supplied free or at reduced cost by the buyer of the merchandise for use in connection with the production or the sale for export to the United States of the merchandise, and is not an assist because undertaken within the United States.

(j) Sufficient information. "Sufficient information" means information that establishes the accuracy of:

(1) Any amount—

(i) added under § 152.103(b) to the price actually paid or payable;

(ii) deducted under § 152.105(d) as profit or general expenses or value from further processing, or

(iii) added under § 152.106(b) as profit or general expenses; or

(2) Any difference taken into account under § 152.103(j)(2)(iv); or

(3) Any adjustment made under § 152.104(d).

(a) Price actually paid or payable—(1) General. In determining transaction value, the price actually paid or payable will be considered without regard to its method of derivation. It may be the result of discounts, increases, or negotiations, or may be arrived at by the application of a formula, such as the price in effect on the date of export in the London Commodity Market. The word "payable" refers to a situation in which the price has been agreed upon, but actual payment has not been made at the time of importation. Payment may be made by letters of credit or negotiable instruments and may be made directly or indirectly.

Example 1. In a transaction with foreign Company X, a U.S. firm pays Company X $10,000 for a shipment of meat products, packed ready for shipment to the United States. No selling commission, assist, royalty, or license fee is involved. Company X is not related to the U.S. purchaser and imposes no condition or limitation on the buyer.

The customs value of the imported meat products is $10,000—the transaction value of the imported merchandise.

Example 2. A foreign shipper sold merchandise at $100 per unit to a U.S. importer. Subsequently, the foreign shipper increased its price to $110 per unit. The merchandise was exported after the effective date of the price increase. The invoice price of $100 was the price originally agreed upon and the price the U.S. importer actually paid for the merchandise.

How should the merchandise be appraised?

Actual transaction value of $100 per unit based on the price actually paid or payable.

Example 3. A foreign shipper sells to U.S. wholesalers at one price and to U.S. retailers at a higher price. The shipment undergoing appraisement is a shipment to a U.S. retailer. There are continuing shipments of identical and similar merchandise to U.S. wholesalers.

How should the merchandise be appraised?

Actual transaction value based on the price actually paid or payable by the retailer.

Example 4. Company X in the United States pay $2,000 to Y Toy Factory abroad for a shipment of toys. The $2,000 consists of $1,850 for the toys and $150 for ocean freight and insurance. Y Toy Factory would have charged Company X $2,200 for the toys: however, because Y owed Company X $350, Y charged only $1,850 for the toys. What is the transaction value?

The transaction value of the imported merchandise is $2,200, that is, the sum of the $1,850 plus the $350 indirect payment. Because the transaction value excludes C.I.F. charges, the $150 ocean freight and insurance charge is excluded.

Example 5. A seller offers merchandise at $100, less a 2% discount for cash. A buyer remits $98 cash, taking advantage of the cash discount.

The transaction value is $98, the price actually paid or payable.

(2) Indirect payment. An indirect payment would include the settlement by the buyer, in whole or in part, of a debt owed by the seller, or where the buyer receives a price reduction on a current importation as a means of settling a debt owed him by the seller. Activities such as advertising, undertaken by the buyer on his own account, other than those for which an adjustment is provided in § 152.103(b), will not be considered an indirect payment to the seller though they may benefit the seller. The costs of those activities will not be added to the price actually paid or payable in determining the customs value of the imported merchandise.

(3) Assembled merchandise. The price actually paid or payable may represent an amount for the assembly of imported merchandise in which the seller has no interest other than as the assembler. The price actually paid or payable in that case will be calculated by the addition of the value of the components and required adjustments to form the basis for the transaction value.

Example 1. The importer previously has supplied an unrelated foreign assembler with fabricated components ready for assembly having a value or cost at the assembler's plant of $1.00 per unit. The importer pays the assembler 50¢ per unit for the assembly. The transaction value for the assembled unit is $1.50.

Example 2. Same facts as Example 1 above except the U.S. importer furnishes to the foreign assembler a tooling assist consisting of a tool acquired by the importer at $1,000. The transportation expenses to the foreign assembler's plant for the tooling assist equal $100. The transaction value for the assembled unit would be $1.50 per unit plus a pro rata share of the tooling assist valued at $1,100.

(4) Rebate. Any rebate of, or other decrease in, the price actually paid or payable made or otherwise effected between the buyer and seller after the date of importation of the merchandise will be disregarded in determining the transaction value under § 152.103(b).

(5) Foreign inland freight. If the price actually paid or payable by the buyer to the seller for the imported merchandise does not include a foreign inland freight charge (an ex-factory price), the foreign inland freight charge will not be added to the price if paid to a unrelated seller. In those situations where the price actually paid or payable for imported merchandise included a charge for foreign inland freight, that charge will be part of the transaction value to the extent it is included in that price.

(b) Additions to price actually paid or payable. (1) The transaction value of imported merchandise is the price actually paid or payable for the merchandise when sold for exportation to the United States, plus amounts equal to—

(i) The packing costs incurred by the buyer with respect to the imported merchandise;

(ii) Any selling commission incurred by the buyer with respect to the imported merchandise;

(iii) The value, apportioned as appropriate, of any assist;

(iv) Any royalty or license fee related to the imported merchandise that the buyer is required to pay, directly or indirectly, as a condition of the sale of the imported merchandise for exportation to the United States; and

(v) The proceeds of any subsequent resale, disposal, or use of the imported merchandise that accrue, directly or indirectly, to the seller.

(2) The price actually paid or payable for imported merchandise will be increased by the amounts attributable to the items (and no others) described in paragraphs (b)(1)(i) through (v) of this section to the extent that each amount is not otherwise included within the price actually paid or payable, and is based on sufficient information. If sufficient information is not available, for any reason, with respect to any amount referred to in this section, the transaction value will be treated as one that cannot be determined.

(3) Interpretative note. A royalty is paid on the basis of the price in a sale in the United States of a gallon of a particular product imported by the pound and transformed into a solution after importation. If the royalty is based partially on the imported merchandise and partially on other factors which have nothing to do with the imported merchandise (such as if the imported merchandise is mixed with domestic ingredients and is no longer separately identifiable, or if the royalty cannot be distinguished from special financial arrangements between the buyer and the seller), it would be inappropriate to attempt to make an addition for the royalty. However, if the amount of this royalty is based only on the imported merchandise and can be readily quantified, an addition to the price actually paid or payable will be made.

(c) Sufficiency of information. Additions to the price actually paid or payable will be made only if there is sufficient information to establish the accuracy of the additions and the extent to which they are not included in the price.

(d) Assist. If the value of an assist is to be added to the price actually paid or payable, or to be used as a component of computed value, the district director shall determine the value of the assist and apportion that value to the price of the imported merchandise in the following manner:

(1) If the assist consists of materials, components, parts, or similar items incorporated in the imported merchandise, or items consumed in the production of the imported merchandise, acquired by the buyer from an unrelated seller, the value of the assist is the cost of its acquisition. If the assist were produced by the buyer or a person related to the buyer, its value would be the cost of its production. In either case, the value of the assist would include transportation costs to the place of production.

(2) If the assist consists of tools, dies, molds, or similar items used in the production of the imported merchandise, acquired by the buyer from an unrelated seller, the value of the assist is the cost of its acquisition. If the assist were produced by the buyer or a person related to the buyer, its value would be cost of its production. If the assist has been used previously by the buyer, regardless of whether it had been acquired or produced by him, the original cost of acquisition or production would be adjusted downward to reflect its use before its value could be determined. If the assist were leased by the buyer from an unrelated seller, the value of the assist would be the cost of the lease. In either case, the value of the assist would include transportation costs to the place of production. Repairs or modifications to an assist may increase its value.

Example 1. A U.S. importer supplied detailed designs to the foreign producer. These designs were necessary to manufacture the merchandise. The U.S. importer bought the designs from an engineering company in the U.S. for submission to his foreign supplier.

Should the appraised value of the merchandise include the value of the assist?

No, design work undertaken in the U.S. may not be added to the price actually paid or payable.

Example 2. A U.S. importer supplied molds free of charge to the foreign shipper. The molds were necessary to manufacture merchandise for the U.S. importer. The U.S. importer had some of the molds manufactured by a U.S. company and others manufactured in a third country.

Should the appraised value of the merchandise include the value of the molds?

Yes. It is an addition required to be made to transaction value.

(e) Apportionment. (1) The apportionment of the value of assists to imported merchandise will be made in a reasonable manner appropriate to the circumstances and in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. The method of apportionment actually accepted by Customs will depend upon the documentation submitted by the importer. If the entire anticipated production using the assist is for exportation to the United States, the total value may be apportioned over (i) the first shipment, if the importer wishes to pay duty on the entire value at once, (ii) the number of units produced up to the time of the first shipment, or (iii) the entire anticipated production. In addition to these three methods, the importer may request some other method of apportionment in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. If the anticipated production is only partially for exportation to the United States, or if the assist is used in several countries, the method of apportionment will depend upon the documentation submitted by the importer.

(2) Interpretative note. An importer provides the producer with a mold to be used in the production of the imported merchandise and contracts to buy 10,000 units. By the time of arrival of the first shipment of 1,000 units, the producer has already produced 4,000 units. The importer may request Customs to apportion the value of the mold over 1,000, 4,000, 10,000 units, or any other figure which is in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.

(f) Royalties or license fees. Royalties or license fees for patents covering processes to manufacture the imported merchandise generally will be dutiable. Royalties or license fees paid to third parties for use, in the United States, of copyrights and trademarks related to the imported merchandise generally will be considered selling expenses of the buyer and not dutiable. The dutiable status of royalties or license fees paid by the buyer will be determined in each case and will depend on (1) whether the buyer was required to pay them as a condition of sale of the merchandise for exportation to the United States, and (2) to whom and under what circumstances they were paid. Payments made by the buyer to a third party for the right to distribute or resell the imported merchandise will not be added to the price actually paid or payable for the imported merchandise if the payments are not a condition of the sale of the merchandise for exportation to the United States.

Example. A foreign producer sold merchandise to an unrelated U.S. importer. The U.S. importer pays a royalty to an unrelated third party for the right to manufacture and sell a product made in part from the imported merchandise. The royalty is based on the selling price of the further-manufactured product in the U.S.

Is the license fee part of the appraised value? No. The license fee is not a condition of the sale of the imported merchandise for export to the U.S.

(g) Proceeds of subsequent resale. Additions to the price actually paid or payable will be made for the value of any part of the proceeds of any subsequent resale, disposal, or use of the imported merchandise that accrues directly or indirectly to the seller. Dividends or other payments from the buyer to the seller which do not relate directly to the imported merchandise will not be added to the price actually paid or payable. Whether any addition would be made will depend on the facts of the particular case.

Example. A buyer contracts to import a new product. Not knowing whether the product ultimately will sell in the United States, the buyer agrees to pay the seller initially $1 per unit with an additional $1 per unit to be paid upon the sale of each unit in the United States. Assuming the resale price in the United States can be determined in a reasonable period of time, the transaction value of each unit would be $2. Otherwise, the transaction value could not be determined for want of sufficient information.

(h) Right to reproduce. Charges for the right to reproduce the imported merchandise in the United States will not be added to the price actually paid or payable. The right to reproduce denotes that an idea or an original work is incorporated in, or reflected by, the imported merchandise, and the right is reserved to reproduce that idea or work in other merchandise by using the imported merchandise. The concept of the right to reproduce relates only to the following classes of merchandise: originals or copies of artistic or scientific works; originals or copies of models and industrial drawings; model machines and prototypes; and plant and animal species.

Example. The importer purchases a painting. By purchasing the painting, the owner possesses the right to resell, lease, or otherwise place it on display. Absent an agreement to the contrary, he does not possess the right to reproduce copies of the painting. Fees paid for the right to reproduce the painting would not be dutiable.

(i) Exclusions from transaction value. The transaction value of imported merchandise does not include any of the following, if identified separately from the price actually paid or payable and from any cost or other item referred to in paragraph (b) of this section:

(1) Any reasonable cost or charge that is incurred for—

(i) The construction, erection, assembly, or maintenance of, or the technical assistance provided with respect to, the merchandise after its importation into the United States; or

(ii) The transportation of the merchandise after its importation.

(2) The customs duties and other Federal taxes currently payable on the imported merchandise by reason of its importation, and any Federal excise tax on, or measured by the value of, the merchandise for which vendors in the United States ordinarily are liable.

Example. A foreign shipper sells a piece of equipment to a U.S. buyer. The total contract price for the equipment includes technical assistance in the U.S. The equipment cannot be purchased without the technical assistance, but the contract provides a breakdown of costs.

Should the appraised value include the technical assistance? No, transaction value does not include any reasonable costs for construction, erection, assembly, maintenance of, or technical assistance for, the imported merchandise after its importation into the U.S., the cost of which can be accurately identified as being separate from the price actually paid or payable for the merchandise to which they relate.

(j) Limitations on use of transaction value.—(1) In general. The transaction value of imported merchandise will be the appraised value only if—

(i) There are no restrictions on the disposition or use of the imported merchandise by the buyer, other than restrictions which are imposed or required by law, limit the geographical area in which the merchandise may be resold, or do not affect substantially the value of the merchandise;

(ii) The sale of, or the price actually paid or payable for, the imported merchandise is not subject to any condition or consideration for which a value cannot be determined;

(iii) No part of the proceeds of any subsequent resale, disposal, or use of the imported merchandise by the buyer will accrue directly or indirectly to the seller, unless an appropriate adjustment can be made under paragraph (b)(1)(v) of this section; and

(iv) The buyer and seller are not related, or the buyer and seller are related but the transaction value is acceptable.

(2) Related person transactions. (i) The transaction value between a related buyer and seller is acceptable if an examination of the circumstances of sale indicates that their relationship did not influence the price actually paid or payable, or if the transaction value of the imported merchandise closely approximates—

(A) The transaction value of identical merchandise; or of similar merchandise, in sales to unrelated buyers in the United States; or

(B) The deductive value or computed value of identical merchandise, or of similar merchandise; and

(C) Each value referred to in paragraph (j)(2)(i)(A) and (B) of this section that is used for comparison relates to merchandise that was exported to the United States at or about the same time as the imported merchandise.

(ii) In applying the values used for comparison, differences with respect to the sales involved will be taken into account if based on sufficient information supplied by the buyer or otherwise available to Customs and if the differences relate to—

(A) Commercial levels;

(B) Quantity levels;

(C) The costs, commissions, values, fees, and proceeds described in paragraph (b) of this section; and

(D) The costs incurred by the seller in sales in which the seller and the buyer are not related that are not incurred by the seller in sales in which the seller and the buyer are related.

(k) Restrictions and conditions on sale. (1) A restriction placed on the buyer of imported merchandise that does not affect substantially its value will not prevent transaction value from being accepted as the appraised value.

(i) Interpretative note. A seller requires a buyer of automobiles not to sell or exhibit them before a fixed date that represents the beginning of a model year.

(2) The transaction value will not be accepted as the appraised value if the sale of, or the price actually paid or payable for, the merchandise is subject to a condition or consideration for which a value cannot be determined.

(i) Interpretative note 1. The seller establishes the price of the imported merchandise on condition that the buyer also will buy other merchandise in specified quantities.

(ii) Interpretative note 2. The price of the imported merchandise is dependent upon the price or prices at which the buyer of the merchandise sells other merchandise to the seller of the merchandise.

(iii) Interpretative note 3. The price of the imported merchandise is established on the basis of a form of payment extraneous to the merchandise, such as where the merchandise is to be further processed by the buyer, and has been provided by the seller on condition that he will receive a specified quantity of the finished merchandise.

(l) Related buyer and seller.—(1) Validation of transaction. The district director shall not disregard a transaction value solely because the buyer and seller are related. There will be related person transactions in which validation of the transaction value using the procedures contained in § 152.103(j)(2), may not be necessary.

(i) Interpretative note 1. Customs may have previously examined the relationship or may already have sufficient detailed information concerning the buyer and seller to be satisfied that the relationship did not influence the price actually paid or payable. In such case, if Customs has no doubts about the acceptability of the price, the price will be accepted without requesting further information from the importer. If Customs does have doubts about the acceptability of the price and is unable to accept the transaction value without further inquiry, the importer will be given an opportunity to supply such further detailed information as may be necessary to enable Customs to examine the circumstances of the sale. In this context, Customs will examine relevant aspects of the transaction, including the way in which the buyer and seller organize their commercial relations and the way in which the price in question was arrived at in order to determine whether the relationship influenced the price.

(ii) Interpretative note 2. If it is shown that the buyer and seller, although related, buy from and sell to each other as if they were not related, this will demonstrate that the price has not been influenced by the relationship, and the transaction value will be accepted. If the price has been settled in a manner consistent with the normal pricing practices of the industry in question, or with the way the seller settles prices for sales to buyers who are not related to him, this will demonstrate that the price has not been influenced by the relationship.

(iii) Interpretative note 3. If it is shown that the price is adequate to ensure recovery of all costs plus a profit which is equivalent to the firm's overall profit realized over a representative period of time (e.g., on an annual basis), in sales of merchandise of the same class or kind, this would demonstrate that the price has not been influenced.

Example. A foreign seller sells merchandise to a related U.S. importer. The foreign seller does not sell identical merchandise or similar merchandise to any unrelated parties. The transaction between the foreign seller and the U.S. importer is determined by Customs to be unaffected by the relationship.

How should the merchandise be appraised?

Transaction value based on the price actually paid or payable. A transaction value between a related buyer and seller is acceptable if the relationship did not affect the price actually paid or payable. This is so even if similar merchandise is being sold at a higher price, which includes a higher percentage for profit and general expenses.

(2) Test values. (i) The importer or the buyer may demonstrate that the transaction value in a related person transaction is acceptable by showing that the value "closely approximates" any one of the test values provided in § 152.103(j)(2)(i). The factors that will be examined to determine if the transaction value closely approximates a test value include:

(A) The nature of the imported merchandise and the industry,

(B) The season in which the merchandise is imported,

(C) Whether the difference in value is commercially significant, and

(D) Whether the difference in value is attributable to internal transport costs in the country of exportation.

(ii) Because these factors may vary, Customs will not be able to apply a uniform standard, such as a fixed percentage, in each case. A small difference in value in a case involving one type of imported merchandise may be unacceptable, although a large difference in a case involving another type may be acceptable, in determining if the transaction value closely approximates any of the test values. Customs will be consistent in determining if one value "closely approximates" another value. The same approach will be taken if Customs considers a transaction value that is higher than any of the enumerated test values as will be taken if the transaction value is lower than any of the test values.

Example. In applying any of the test values, if the transaction value in the sale under consideration is rejected because 95 does not closely approximate 100, then a transaction value for the sale of the same merchandise at 105 occurring at or about the same time likewise would have to be rejected. Similarly, if 103 were considered to closely approximate 100, a transaction value of 97 likewise would closely approximate 100.

(iii) If one of the test values provided in § 152.103(j)(2)(i) has been found to be appropriate, the district director shall not seek to determine if the relationship between the buyer and seller influenced the price. If the district director already has sufficient information to be satisfied, without further detailed inquiries, that one of the test values is appropriate, he shall not require the importer to demonstrate that the test value is appropriate.

(m) Rejection of transaction value. When Customs has grounds for rejecting the transaction value declared by an importer and that rejection increases the duty liability, the district director shall inform the importer of the grounds for the rejection. The importer will be afforded 20 days to respond in writing to the district director if in disagreement. This procedure will not affect or replace the administrative ruling procedures contained in Part 177 of this chapter, or any other Customs procedures. [TD 81-7.]

(a) General. The transaction value of identical merchandise, or of similar merchandise, is the transaction value (acceptable as the appraised value under § 152.103 but adjusted under paragraph (e) of this section) of imported merchandise that is—

(1) With respect to the merchandise being appraised, either identical merchandise, or similar merchandise; and

(2) Exported to the United States at or about the time that the merchandise being appraised is exported to the United States.

(b) Identical merchandise. Minor differences in appearance will not preclude otherwise conforming merchandise from being considered "identical". See § 152.102(d).

(c) Similar merchandise. The quality of the merchandise, its reputation, and the existence of a trademark will be factors considered to determine whether merchandise is "similar". See § 152.102(i).

(d) Commercial level and quantity. Transaction values determined under this section will be based on sales of identical merchandise, or similar merchandise, at the same commercial level and in substantially the same quantity as the sales of the merchandise being appraised. If no such sale is found, sales of identical merchandise, or similar merchandise, at either a different commercial level or in different quantities, or both, will be used, but adjusted to take account of that difference. Any adjustment made under this section will be based on "sufficient information". See section 152.102(j). If in applying this section to any merchandise, two or more transaction values for identical merchandise, or for similar merchandise, are determined, the merchandise will be appraised on the basis of the lower or lowest of those values.

(e) Adjustments. (1) Adjustments for identical merchandise, or similar merchandise, because of different commercial levels or quantities, or both, whether leading to an increse or decrease in the value, will be made only on the basis of sufficient information; e.g., valid price lists containing prices referring to different levels or quantities.

(2) Interpretative note. If the imported merchandise being valued consists of a shipment of 10 units and the only identical imported merchandise for which a transaction value exists involved a sale of 500 units, and it is recognized that the seller grants quantity discounts, the required adjustment may be accomplished by resorting to the seller's price list and using that price applicable to a sale of 10 units. This does not require that a sale had to have been made in quantities of 10 as long as the price list has been established as being bona fide through sales at other quantities. In the absence of such an objective measure, however, the determination of a customs value under the provisions for transaction value of identical or similar merchandise is not appropriate. [TD 81-7.]

(a) Merchandise concerned. For the purposes of deductive value, "merchandise concerned" means the merchandise being appraised, identical merchandise, or similar merchandise.

(b) Merchandise of the same class or kind. For the purposes of deductive value, "merchandise of the same class or kind" includes merchandise imported from the same country as well as other countries as the merchandise being appraised.

(c) Prices. The deductive value of the merchandise being appraised is whichever of the following prices (as adjusted under paragraph (d) of this section) is appropriate depending upon when and in what condition the merchandise concerned is sold in the United States:

(1) If the merchandise concerned is sold in the condition as imported at or about the date of importation of the merchandise being appraised, the price is the unit price at which the merchandise concerned is sold in the greatest aggregate quantity at or about such date.

(2) If the merchandise concerned is sold in the condition as imported but not sold at or about the date of importation of the merchandise being appraised, the price is the unit price at which the merchandise concerned is sold in the greatest aggregate quantity after the date of importation of the merchandise being appraised but before the close of the 90th day after the date of such importation.

(3) If the merchandise concerned was not sold in the condition as imported and not sold before the close of the 90th day after the date of importation of the merchandise being appraised, the price is the unit price at which the merchandise being appraised, after further processing, is sold in the greatest aggregate quantity before the 80th day after the date of such importation. This provision will apply to appraisement of merchandise only if the importer so elects at the time of filing the entry summary.

(d) Deductions from price. The price determined under paragraph (c) of this section will be reduced by an amount equal to—

(1) Any commission usually paid or agreed to be paid, or the addition usually made for profit and general expenses, in connection with sales in the United States of imported merchandise that is of the same class or kind, regardless of the country of exportation as the merchandise concerned;

(2) The actual costs and associated costs of transportation and insurance incurred with respect to international shipments of the merchandise concerned from the country of exportation to the United States;

(3) The usual costs and associated costs of transportation and insurance incurred with respect to shipments of the merchandise concerned from the place of importation to the place of delivery in the United States, if those costs are not included as a general expense under paragraph (d)(1) of this section;

(4) The customs duties and other Federal taxes currently payable on the merchandise concerned by reason of its importation, and any Federal excise tax on, or measured by the value of, the merchandise for which vendors in the United States ordinarily are liable; and

(5) But only in the case of price determined under paragraph (c)(3) of this section, the value added by the processing of the merchandise after importation to the extent that the value is based on sufficient information relating to the cost of that processing.

(e) Profit and general expenses; special rules. (1) The deduction made for profit and general expenses (taken as a whole) will be based upon the importer's profit and general expenses, unless the profit and general expenses are inconsistent with those reflected in sales in the United States of imported merchandise of the same class or kind from all countries, in which case the deduction will be based on the usual profit and general expenses reflected in those sales, as determined from sufficient information. Any State or local tax imposed on the importer with respect to the sale of imported merchandise will be treated as a general expense.

(2) In determining deductions for commissions and usual profit and general expenses, sales in the United States of the narrowest group or range of imported merchandise of the same class or kind, including the merchandise being appraised, for which sufficient information can be provided, will be examined.

(f) Packing costs. The price determined under paragraph (c) of this section will be increased, but only to the extent that the costs are not otherwise included, by an amount equal to the packing costs incurred by the importer or the buyer with respect to the merchandise concerned.

(g) Assists. For purposes of determining deductive value, any sale to a person who supplies any assist for use in connection with the production or sale for export of the merchandise concerned will be disregarded.

(h) Unit price in greatest aggregate quantity. The unit price will be established after a sufficient number of units have been sold to an unrelated person. The unit price to be used when the units have been sold in different quantities will be that at which the total volume sold is greater than the total volume sold at any other unit price.

(1) Interpretative note 1. Merchandise is sold to an unrelated person from a price list which grants favorable unit prices for purchases made in larger quantities:

Sale quantity	Unit price	Number of sales	Total quantity sold at each price
1-10 units	$100	10 sales of 5 units 5 sales of 3 units	65
11-25 units	95	5 sales of 11 units	55
Over 25 units	90	1 sale of 30 units 1 sale of 50 units	80

The greatest number of units sold at a price is 80; therefore, the unit price in the greatest aggregate quantity is $90.

(2) Interpretative note 2. Two sales to unrelated persons occur; in the first sale, 500 units are sold at a price of $95 each; in the second sale, 400 units are sold at a price of $90 each. In this example, the greatest number of units sold at a particular price is 500; therefore, the unit price in the greatest aggregate quantity is $95.

(3) Interpretative note 3. Various quantities are sold to unrelated persons at various prices:

(a) Sales

Sale quantity	Unit price
40 units	$100
30 units	90
15 units	100
50 units	95
25 units	105
35 units	90
5 units	100

(b) Totals

Total quantity sold	Unit price
65	$90
50	95
60	100

In this example, the greatest number of units sold at a particular price is 65; therefore, the unit price in the greatest aggregate quantity is $90.

(i) Further processing.—(1) Quantified data. If merchandise has undergone further processing after its importation into the United States and the importer elects the method specified in paragraph (c)(3) of this section, deductions made for the value added by that processing will be based on objective and quantifiable data relating to the cost of the work performed. Accepted industry formulas, recipes, methods of construction, and other industry practices would form the basis for the deduction. That deduction also will reflect amounts for spoilage, waste, or scrap derived from the further processing.

(2) Loss of identity. If the imported merchandise loses its identity as a result of further processing, the method specified in paragraph (c)(3) of this section will not be applicable unless the value added by the processing can be determined accurately without unreasonable difficulty for either importers or Customs. If the imported merchandise maintains its identity but forms a minor element of the merchandise sold in the United States, the use of paragraph (c)(3) of this section will be unjustified. The district director shall review each case involving these issues on its merits.

Example. A foreign shipper sells merchandise to a related U.S. importer. The foreign shipper does not sell to any unrelated person. The transaction between the foreign shipper and the U.S. importer is determined to have been affected by the relationship. There is no identical or similar merchandise from the same country of production. The U.S. importer further processes the product and sells the finished product to an unrelated buyer in the U.S. within 180 days of the date of importation. No assists from the unrelated U.S. buyer are involved, and the type of processing involved can be accurately costed.

How should the merchandise be appraised?

The merchandise should be appraised under deductive value with allowances for profit and general expenses, freight and insurance, duties and taxes, and the cost of processing. [TD 81-7.]

§ 152.106 Computed value.

(a) Elements. The computed value of imported merchandise is the sum of—

(1) The cost or value of the materials and the fabrication and other processing of any kind employed in the production of the imported merchandise;

(2) An amount for profit and general expenses equal to that usually reflected in sales of merchandise of the same class or kind as the imported merchandise that are made by the producers in the country of exportation for export to the United States;

(3) Any assist, if its value is not included under paragraph (a)(1) or (2) of this section; and

(4) The packing costs.

(b) Special rules. (1) The cost or value of materials under paragraph (a)(1) of this section will not include the amount of any internal tax imposed by the country of exportation that is directly applicable to the materials or their disposition if the tax is remitted or refunded upon the exportation of the merchandise in the production of which the materials were used.

(2) The amount for profit and general expenses under paragraph (a)(2) of this section will be based upon the producer's profit and general expenses, unless the producer's profit and general expenses are inconsistent with those usually reflected in sales of merchandise of the same class or kind as the imported merchandise that are made by producers in the country of exportation for export to the United States. In that case, the amount under paragraph (a)(2) of this section will be based on the usual profit and general expenses of such producers in those sales, as determined from "sufficient information". See § 152.102(j).

(c) Profit and general expenses. The amount for profit and general expenses will be taken as a whole. If the producer's profit figure is low and general expenses high, those figures taken together nevertheless may be consistent with those usually reflected in sales of imported merchandise of the same class or kind.

(1) Interpretative note 1. A product is introduced into the United States, and the producer accepts either no profit or a low profit to offset the high general expenses required to introduce the product into this market. If the producer can demonstrate that there is a low profit on sales of the imported merchandise because of peculiar commercial circumstances, the actual profit figures will be accepted provided the producer has valid commercial reasons to justify them and his pricing policy reflects the usual pricing policies in the industry.

(2) Interpretative note 2. Producers have been forced to lower prices temporarily because of an unforseeable drop in demand, or they sell merchandise to complement a range of merchandise being produced in the United States and accept a low profit to maintain competitiveness. If the producer's own figures for profit and general expenses are not consistent with those usually reflected in sales of merchandise of the same class or kind as the merchandise being valued which are made in the country of exportation for export to the United States, the amount for profit and general expenses will be based upon reliable and quantifiable information other than that supplied by or on behalf of the producer of the merchandise.

(d) Assists and packing costs. Computed value also will include an amount equal to the apportioned value of any assists used in the production of the imported merchandise and the packing costs for the imported merchandise. The value of any engineering, development, artwork, design work, and plans and sketches undertaken in the United States will be included in computed value only to the extent that their value has been charged to the producer. Depending on the producer's method of accounting, the value of assists may be included (duplicated) in the producer's cost of materials, fabrication, and other processing, or in the general expenses. If duplication occurs, a separate amount for the value of the assists will not be added to the other elements as it is not intended that any component of computed value be included twice.

(e) Merchandise of same class or kind. Sales for export to the United States of the narrowest group or range of imported merchandise, including the merchandise being appraised, will be examined to determine usual profit and general expenses. For the purpose of computed value, merchandise of the same class or kind must be from the same country as the merchandise being appraised.

Example. A foreign shipper sells merchandise to a related U.S. importer. The foreign shipper does not sell to any unrelated persons. The transaction between the foreign shipper and the U.S. importer is determined to have been affected by the relationship. There is no identical or similar merchandise from the same country of production. The U.S. importer further processes the product and sells the finished product to an unrelated buyer in the U.S. within 180 days of the date of importation. No assists from the unrelated U.S. buyer are involved, and the type of processing involved can be accurately costed. The U.S. importer has requested that the shipment be appraised under computed value. The profit and general expenses figure for the same class or kind of merchandise in the country of exportation for export to the U.S. is known.

How should the merchandise be appraised?

The merchandise should be appraised under computed value, using the company's profit and general expenses if not inconsistent with those usually reflected in sales of merchandise of the same class or kind.

(f) Availability of information. (1) It will be presumed that the computed value of the imported merchandise cannot be determined if—

(i) The importer is unable to provide required computed value information within a reasonable time, and/or

(ii) The foreign producer refuses to provide, or is legally prevented from providing, that information.

(2) If information other than that supplied by or on behalf of the producer is used to determine computed value, the district director shall inform the importer, upon written request, of

(i) The source of the information,

(ii) The data used, and

(iii) The calculation based upon the specified data if not contrary to domestic law regarding disclosure of information. See also § 152.101(d).

§ 152.107 Value if other values cannot be determined or used.

(a) Reasonable adjustments. If the value of imported merchandise cannot be determined or otherwise used for the purposes of this subpart, the imported merchandise will be appraised on the basis of a value derived from the methods set forth in §§ 152.103 through 152.106, reasonably adjusted to the extent necessary to arrive at a value. Only information available in the United States will be used.

(b) Identical merchandise or similar merchandise. The requirement that identical merchandise, or similar merchandise, should be exported at or about the same time of exportation as the merchandise being appraised may be interpreted flexibly. Identical merchandise, or similar merchandise, produced in any country other than the country of exportation or production of the merchandise being appraised may be the basis for customs valuation. Customs values of identical merchandise, or similar merchandise, already determined on the basis of deductive value or computed value may be used.

(c) Deductive value. The "90 days" requirement for the sale of merchandise referred to in § 152.105(c) may be administered flexibly. [TD 81-7.]

§ 152.108 Unacceptable bases of appraisement.

For the purposes of this subpart, imported merchandise may not be appraised on the basis of—

(1) The selling price in the United States of merchandise produced in the United States;

(2) A system that provides for the appraisement of imported merchandise at the higher of two alternative values;

(3) The price of merchandise in the domestic market of the country of exportation;

(4) A cost of production, other than a value determined under § 152.106 for merchandise that is identical merchandise, or similar merchandise, to the merchandise being appraised;

(5) The price of merchandise for export to a country other than the United States;

(6) Minimum values for appraisement;

(7) Arbitrary or fictitious values.

§ 158.0 Scope.

This part sets forth general rules for granting relief from duties on merchandise which is lost, damaged, abandoned, or exported. [TD 72-258.]

Subpart A—Lost or Missing Packages and Deficiencies in Contents of Packages

§ 158.1 Definition of "permitted" merchandise.

For the purpose of this subpart, merchandise is "permitted" when Customs authorizes the carrier bringing the shipment to the port to make delivery to the consignee or the next carrier and:

(a) These parties in interest, or their agents, make a joint determination of the quantities being delivered, or,

(b) The carrier bringing the shipment to the port, at its option, independently declares the quantities available for delivery by filing with the district director, no later than the close of business on the next working day after a determination of quantities is made, a signed statement that:

(1) An independent determination of quantities of merchandise available for delivery has been made, with the date of the determination shown;

(2) At least 4 days have elapsed since the consignee or his agent was notified that Customs has authorized delivery; and,

(3) The merchandise was and is available for delivery.

§ 158.2 Shortage in packages released under immediate delivery or entry.

An importer may file an entry summary for consumption or an entry summary for warehouse for less than the invoiced and manifested number of packages in a shipment "permitted" and delivered to him or deposited in a bonded warehouse under the immediate delivery procedure in section 142.21 of, or under the entry documentation in section 142.3(a), if he files with the entry summary a Customs Form 5931 in triplicate. The Customs Form 5931 shall be executed by both the importer and the importing carrier or bonded carrier, as appropriate, and shall contain a declaration by the carrier that the missing packages were not available for delivery within the provisions of section 448(a), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1448(a)). [TDs 73-175, 79-221.]

§ 158.3 Allowance for lost or missing packages included in an entry summary.

Allowance shall be made in the assessment of duties for lost or missing packages of merchandise included in an entry summary whenever it is established to the satisfaction of the district director before the liquidation of the entry summary becomes final that the merchandise claimed to be lost or missing was not "permitted." A claim for such allowance shall be made on Customs Form 5931, in triplicate, executed by the importer and the importing carrier or bonded carrier, as appropriate. When the importing or bonded carrier refuses to execute the Customs Form 5931, a claim may be allowed if the importer properly executes the Customs Form 5931 and attaches copies of the dock receipt or other document evidencing nonreceipt of the lost or missing packages.

§ 158.4 Liability of carrier for lost or missing packages.

Upon a joint determination or independent determination of quantity as set forth in § 158.1 (a) or (b) resulting in the merchandise being "permitted," the carrier shall be responsible only for any discrepancy between the manifested quantity and the "permitted" quantity. In the case of an importing carrier, when there is a difference between the quantity shown on the inward foreign manifest and the quantity "permitted," liquidated damages or duties shall be assessed under the provisions of the carrier's bond or under the provisions of section 448, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1448), unless the carrier corrects his manifest (see § 4.12 of this chapter). In the case of a bonded carrier, liquidated damages for lost or missing merchandise shall be assessed in accordance with § 18.8 of this chapter.

§ 158.5 Deficiencies in contents of packages—general.

An allowance shall be made in the assessment of duties for deficiencies in the contents of packages when, before the liquidation of the entry becomes final, the importer files:

(a) In the case of a concealed shortage, a Customs Form 5931, in triplicate, executed by the importer alone, and the district director satisfies himself as to the validity of the claim; or,

(b) In the case of an unconcealed shortage, a Customs Form 5931, in triplicate, executed by both the importer and the importing or bonded carrier, as appropriate.

§ 158.6 Deficiencies in contents of examination packages.

Allowance for deficiency in the contents of any examination package reported to the district director by a Customs officer shall be made in the liquidation of the entry. No Customs officer except one making an examination contemplated by section 499, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1499), shall report a supposed deficiency to the district director unless it is established to the satisfaction of the reporting officer that the merchandise was not imported. (Sec. 499, 46 Stat. 728, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1499)

§ 158.7 Allowance for reduction or loss of merchandise by a natural force or by leakage.

Merchandise subject to ad valorem, specific, or compound rates of duty found at the time of importation to be reduced or diminished by a natural force, such as evaporation, or by leakage, shall be appraised in its condition as imported, with an allowance made in the value, weight, quantity, or measure to the extent of the reduction or loss, except when forbidden by law or regulation. [TD 78-448]

Subpart B—Damaged or Defective Merchandise

§ 158.11 Merchandise completely worthless at time of importation.

(a) Nonperishable merchandise. When a shipment of nonperishable merchandise, or any portion thereof which shall have been segregated from the remainder of the shipment under Customs supervision at the expense of the importer, is found by the district director to be entirely without commercial value at the time of importation by reason of damage or deterioration, an allowance in duties on such merchandise on the ground of nonimportation shall be made in the liquidation of the entry.

(b) Perishable merchandise. In the case of perishable merchandise, an allowance in duties may be made under the following conditions:

(1) An application for such allowance shall be filed with the district director on Customs Form 4315 in duplicate, within 96 hours after the unlading of the merchandise and before any of the shipment involved has been removed from the pier (or other area permitted under § 142.2(b)(2) of this chapter) pursuant to the entry permit. [TD 76-220.]

(2) Should an application filed in accordance with subparagraph (1) of this paragraph be withdrawn, the merchandise involved shall thereafter be released upon presentation of an appropriate permit.

(3) Allowance in duty shall be made in the liquidation of the entry on such of the merchandise covered by the application as is found by the district director to be entirely without commercial value by reason of damage or deterioration. (Sec. 506, 46 Stat. 732, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1506)

§ 158.12 Merchandise partially damaged at time of importation.

(a) Allowance in value. Merchandise which is subject to ad valorem or compound duties and found by the district director to be partially damaged at the time of importation shall be appraised in its condition as imported, with an allowance made in the value to the extent of the damage. However, no allowance shall be made when forbidden by law or regulation; for example, schedule 6, part 2, headnote 4, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), provides that no allowance or reduction of duties for partial damage or loss in consequence of discoloration or rust occurring before importation shall be made upon iron or steel or upon any article of iron or steel.

(b) No allowance in specific duties. In the case of merchandise subject to specific or compound duties and found to be partially damaged at the time of importation, no allowance may be made in the specific duties or in the weight, quantity, or measure (except that an allowance for any excessive moisture or other impurities may be made in accordance with § 158.13). However, any part of the shipment which is totally worthless and can be segregated from the rest of the shipment may be treated as a nonimportation in accordance with § 158.11. (Sec. 506, 46 Stat. 732, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1506)

§ 158.13 Excessive moisture and other impurities.

(a) Application by importer. An application for an allowance in duties under section 507, Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1507), for excessive moisture or other impurities not usually found in or upon such or similar merchandise shall be made by the importer on Customs Form 4315. The application shall be filed with the district director within 10 days after the report of weight or gauge has been received by the district director or within 10 days after the date upon which the entry or a related document was endorsed to show that invoice weight or gauge has been accepted by the Customs inspector or other Customs officer.

(b) Allowance by district director. If the district director is satisfied after any necessary investigation that the merchandise contains excessive moisture or other impurities not usually found in or upon such or similar merchandise, he shall make allowance for the amount thereof in the liquidation of the entry.

(c) Limitations on allowance. Nonallowance under this section shall be made when forbidden by law or regulation; for example, schedule 1, part 6B, headnote 2, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), provides that no allowance in weight shall be made for dirt or other impurities in seed of any kind provided for in that subpart. (Sec. 507, 46 Stat. 732; 19 U.S.C. 1507)

§ 158.14 Perishable merchandise condemned.

(a) Application by importer. When fruit or other perishable merchandise has been condemned by health officers or other legally constituted authorities within 10 days after landing, an importer who desires allowance in duties under section 506(2), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1506(2)), shall within 5 days after such condemnation file with the district director written notice of the condemnation. The date of landing in the case of merchandise forwarded under an entry for immediate transportation is the date of arrival at the port of destination.

(b) Allowance in duties. If the district director is satisfied after any necessary investigation that the claim is valid, allowance in duties shall be made in the liquidation of the entry. Such allowance shall be limited to perishable goods condemned by the health officers or authorities in the original package, unless segregation of the merchandise was under constant Customs supervision at the importer's expense. (Sec. 506(2), 46 Stat. 732, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1506(2))

Subpart C—Casualty, Loss, or Theft While in Customs Custody

§ 158.21 Allowance in duties for casualty, loss, or theft while in Customs custody.

Section 563(a), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1563(a)), provides for allowance in duties upon satisfactory proof of the loss or theft of any merchandise while in the public stores, or of the actual injury or destruction, in whole or in part, of any merchandise by accidental fire or other casualty, while in bonded warehouse, or in the public stores, or while in transportation under bond, or while in Customs custody although not in bond, or while within the limits of any port of entry and before having been landed under Customs supervision. Such allowance is subject to the conditions set forth in this subpart.

An abatement or refund of duties shall be made in the case of injury to, or destruction of, merchandise in a bonded warehouse as a result of accidental fire or other casualty only if the fire or casualty occurs within 3 years from the date of importation.

§ 158.22 Not applicable when allowances made under other provisions.

The procedures in this subpart do not apply in cases where allowances in duties are made under Subpart A or Subpart B of this part, or § 18.6 of this chapter.

§ 158.23 Filing of application and evidence by importer.

Within 30 days from the date of his discovery of the loss, theft, injury, or destruction, the importer shall file an application in duplicate on Customs Form 4315, and within 90 days from the date of discovery shall file any evidence required by § 158.26 or § 158.27.

§ 158.24 Place of filing.

The application and evidence shall be filed with the district director at the port where the loss, theft, injury, or destruction occurred. In the case of total loss of merchandise by fire or other casualty while in transportation under bond, the application and evidence shall be filed with the district director at the port at which the transportation entry was made. In the case of partial destruction of or injury to such merchandise, the application and evidence shall be filed with the district director at the port of destination, except that if the merchandise is returned to the port at which the transportation entry was made, the application shall be filed at that port.

§ 158.25 Partial destruction or injury.

In the case of partial destruction or injury, no application shall be entertained unless the district director shall have had an opportunity to examine the merchandise or the remainder thereof for the purpose of fixing the percentage of injury or destruction. Whether the duty involved is ad valorem, specific, or compound, the percentage of injury for the purpose of the allowance shall be determined by comparing the market value of comparable sound merchandise with the net salvage value of the injured merchandise computed on the basis of the market value of comparable injured merchandise, such comparison to be made as of the time and place of examination.

§ 158.26 Loss or theft in public stores.

In the case of alleged loss or theft while the merchandise is in the public stores, there shall be filed a declaration of the importer, owner, or ultimate consignee that he did not receive the merchandise and that to the best of his knowledge and belief it was lost or stolen as alleged in the application. If the alleged loss or theft consisted of only a part of an examination package and was discovered after the release of the package from Customs custody, the following evidence shall be submitted:

(a) A declaration of each cartman, lighterman, or other carrier handling the package between the public stores and the place of delivery, setting forth the condition of the package at the time of receipt and delivery by him and whether or not there was an abstraction of the merchandise while the package was in his possession.

(b) A declaration of the person who first received the package for the importer, owner, or ultimate consignee as to whether or not he examined the package at the time of receipt, and, if so, as to its condition at that time.

(c) A declaration of the person who opened the package after release from Customs custody that the alleged missing merchandise was not found by him in the package or elsewhere.

§ 158.27 Accidental fire or other casualty.

In the case of injury or destruction by accidental fire or other casualty, the following evidence shall be submitted:

(a) A declaration of the master of the vessel, the conductor or driver of the vehicle, the proprietor of the warehouse, or other person (except a Customs officer) having charge of the merchandise at the time of casualty, stating:

(1) The time, place, and nature of such casualty;

(2) That the merchandise was on board the vessel or vehicle, in the warehouse, or otherwise in his charge, as the case may be, at the time of the casualty; and

(3) That it was totally destroyed and there is no probability of recovering or saving any part thereof, or that it was injured as the result of the casualty.

(b) The bill of lading, the entry, the entry summary (where appropriate), and the invoice covering the merchandise, or certified copies of the foregoing, unless such documents are already in the possession of the district director at the port where the claim is filed.

(c) A copy of the insurance appraiser's report, if any.

The district director may waive the production of any of the evidence required by this subpart if the validity of the claim is otherwise established to his satisfaction.

§ 158.29 Decision by district director.

When the application and evidence have been received and examined by the district director, he shall determine whether the desired abatement or refund of duty shall be made and notify the importer of his decision.

§ 158.30 Review of district director's decision.

(a) Filing of petition. The importer may file with the district director a petition addressed to the Commissioner of Customs for a review of the district director's decision. Such petition shall be filed in duplicate within 30 days from the date of the notice of the district director's decision, shall completely identify the case, and shall set forth in detail the objections to the district director's decision.

(b) Decision by Commissioner. When the petition has been filed, the district director shall promptly transmit both copies thereof and the entire file to the Commissioner, together with a full statement of his views. When the Commissioner's decision is received, the district director shall proceed in conformity therewith.

Merchandise regularly entered or withdrawn for consumption in good faith and denied admission into the United States by any Government agency after its release from Customs custody, pursuant to a law or regulation in force on the date of entry or withdrawal for consumption, may be destroyed under Government supervision. In such case, the destroyed merchandise is exempt from duty and any duties collected thereon shall be refunded. In lieu of destruction, the merchandise may be exported under Customs supervision in accordance with § 158.45(c). (Sec. 558(a), 46 Stat. 744, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1558(a))

§ 158.42 Abandonment by importer within 30 days after entry.

Allowance in duties for merchandise abandoned to the Government in accordance with section 506(1), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1506(1)), shall be subject to the following conditions:

(a) Minimum quantity to be abandoned. The merchandise being abandoned shall represent 5 percent or more of the total value of all the merchandise of the same class or kind entered in the invoice in which the merchandise being abandoned appears.

(b) Application within 30 days. The importer shall file written notice of abandonment with the district director at the port where the entry was filed within 30 days after the date of entry, or, in the case of examination packages, within 30 days after release, whether or not delivery is taken by the importer immediately after entry or release as the case may be.

(c) Delivery of merchandise. Within the 30-day period set forth in paragraph (b) of this section, the importer shall deliver the abandoned merchandise to such place as the district director specifies, unless the district director is satisfied that the merchandise is so far destroyed as to be nondeliverable.

(d) Identification of merchandise. The importer shall identify the abandoned merchandise with that described in the invoice used in making entry to the satisfaction of the district director, who shall make such examination as may be necessary to verify such identification.

(e) Segregation and repacking. When repacking is necessary to segregate the abandoned merchandise from the remainder of the shipment, such repacking shall be done at the expense of the importer and under Customs supervision. (Sec. 506, 46 Stat. 732, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1506)

§ 158.43 Abandonment or destruction of merchandise in bond.

Allowance in duties for merchandise entered under bond destroyed under section 557(c), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1557(c)), or for merchandise in bonded warehouse abandoned to the Government under section 563(b), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1563(b)), shall be subject to the following conditions:

(a) Application by importer. The importer shall file an application for abandonment or destruction of merchandise in bond with the district director on Customs From 3499, with the title modified to read "Application and Permit to Abandon (or Destroy) Goods in Bond." When an application is for permission to destroy, the proposed method of destruction shall be stated in the application and be subject to the approval of the district director.

(b) Concurrence of warehouse proprietor. An application to abandon or destroy warehoused merchandise shall not be approved unless concurred in by the warehouse proprietor.

(c) Abandonment. (1) Costs. When in the opinion of the district director the abandonment of merchandise under section 563(b), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1563(b)), will involve any expense or cost to the Government, or if the merchandise is worthless or unsalable, or cannot be sold for a sum sufficient to pay the expenses of sale, such abandonment shall not be permitted unless the importer deposits a sum which in the opinion of the district director will be sufficient to save the Government harmless from any expense or cost resulting from such abandonment. The sum so advanced shall be placed in a special deposit account and expended to cover the cost of destruction or to meet any deficit should the merchandise be sold and the proceeds of sale be less than the expenses of such sale. After meeting such expenses or deficit, any balance remaining shall be refunded to the importer. However, the applicant may elect to destroy such merchandise under Customs supervision pursuant to the provisions of section 557(c), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1557(c)).

(2) Time period.— The importer may abandon his warehoused merchandise voluntarily to the Government within 3 years from the date of importation. [TD 79-221.]

(d) Destruction. (1) Costs. Destruction of merchandise under section 557(c), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1557(c)), shall be at the expense of the importer.

(2) Time period.— The importer may request destruction of his warehoused merchandise within 5 years from the date of importation. [TD 79-221.]

(e) Action by district director. When the conditions set forth in paragraphs (a) through (d) of this section are met, the district director may grant applications and make an allowance in duties for the merchandise abandoned or destroyed. In any case where doubt exists, the matter shall be referred to the Commissioner of Customs. (Secs. 557, 563, 46 Stat. 744, as amended, 746, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1557, 1563)

§ 158.44 Disposition of abandoned merchandise.

(a) General conditions. The disposition of merchandise abandoned to the Government pursuant to section 158.42 or 158.43, and not retained for official use, shall be governed by the regulations of the General Services Administration applicable to the United States Custom Service.

(b) Sale of merchandise. If the merchandise is cleared for sale, it shall be sold in accordance with the applicable provisions of Part 127 of this chapter, unless it is worthless or it appears probable that the expenses of sale will exceed the proceeds. If the merchandise is sold, no part of the proceeds shall be returned to the importer. [TD 77-12.]

(c) Disposition of worthless merchandise. If the merchandise or any part thereof is worthless or it appears probable that the expenses of its sale will exceed the proceeds, it shall be destroyed or otherwise disposed of as the district director shall specify. The district director shall insure that such merchandise is destroyed or removed from the control of the importer to avoid the possibility of any part of the same merchandise being made the subject of another application. (Secs. 506(1), 563(b), 46 Stat. 732, as amended, 746, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1506(1), 1563(b) R.S. 251, as amended, sec. 624, 46 Stat. 759 (19 U.S.C. 66, 1624))

(a) From continuous Customs custody. Merchandise in Customs custody for which entry has not been completed and merchandise which has remained in continuous Customs custody that is covered by a liquidated or unliquidated consumption entry may be exported under Customs supervision in accordance with § § 18.25-18.27 of this chapter, with refund of any duties that have been paid.

(b) After release from Customs custody. Except as provided for in paragraphs (c) and (d) of this section, no refund or other allowance in duties shall be made because of the exportation of merchandise after its release from Customs custody unless a drawback of duties is expressly provided for by law (see Part 22 of this chapter).

(c) Prohibited merchandise. If merchandise has been regularly entered or withdrawn for consumption in good faith and is thereafter found to be prohibited entry under any law of the United States, it may be exported under Customs supervision in accordance with § § 18.25-18.27 of this chapter, with refund of any duties that have been paid. In lieu of exportation, the merchandise may be destroyed in accordance with § 158.41.

(d) Not legally marked merchandise. When merchandise found to be not legally marked is exported or destroyed under Customs supervision after once having been released from Customs custody, as provided for in section 304(c), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1304(c)), such exportation or destruction shall not exempt such merchandise from the payment of duties other than the marking duties. (Sec. 558, 46 Stat. 744, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1558)

This part sets forth general rules for the liquidation of entries. Certain specific procedures affecting liquidation appear in other parts of this chapter; e.g., Part 158 of this chapter covers allowance for lost or damaged merchandise. [TD 73-175.]

Subpart A—General Provisions

§ 159.1 Definition of liquidation.

"Liquidation" means the final computation or ascertainment of the duties or drawback accruing on an entry.

§ 159.2 Liquidation required.

All entries covering imported merchandise, except temporary importation bond entries and those for transportation in bond or for immediate exportation, shall be liquidated.

(a) Value. In the computation of duty on entries, ad valorem rates shall be applied to the values in even dollars, fractional parts of a dollar less than 50 cents being disregarded and 50 cents or more being considered as $1, with all merchandise in the same invoice subject to the same rate of duty to be treated as a unit. However, the total dutiable value of the invoice shall not be increased or decreased by more than the rounding of the total dutiable value to an even dollar. When necessary, fractional parts of a dollar, whether more or less than 50 cents, shall be dropped or taken up as whole dollars in order to avoid such an increase or decrease. If in such cases it is necessary to drop fractional parts of a dollar amounting to 50 cents or more, the lower fractions shall be dropped, and if it is necessary to take up as whole dollars fractional parts less than 50 cents, the larger fractions shall be taken. In the case of two equal fractions, the one subject to the lower rate of duty shall be dropped or taken up, as the case may be. In determining a rate of duty dependent upon value, fractional parts of a dollar shall be considered.

(b) Quantities subject to specific duty. Except in the case of alcoholic beverages treated under § 159.4, if a rate of duty is specific and $1 or less per unit, fractional quantities, if less than one-half, shall be disregarded, and if one-half or more shall be treated as a whole unit. Subject to the same exception, if a specific rate is more than $1 per unit, duty shall be assessed upon the exact quantity with any fractional part expressed in the form of a decimal extended to two places.

(a) Quantities subject to duties. Customs duties and internal revenue taxes on distilled spirits provided for in schedule 1, part 12, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), and subject to internal revenue taxes shall be collected only on the number of proof gallons and fractional parts thereof, entered or withdrawn for consumption. No internal revenue tax shall be collected on distilled spirits in bulk which have been transferred to Internal Revenue bonded premises in accordance with

§ 141.102(b) of this chapter. Customs duties and internal revenue taxes on alcoholic beverages other than items 167.20 and 167.90, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), and distilled spirits provided for in schedule 1, part 12, Tariff Schedules of the United States, shall be collected only on the number of wine gallons and fractional parts thereof, entered or withdrawn for consumption. [TD 80-271.]

(b) Computation of duties. In the computation of Customs duties on alcoholic beverages provided for in schedule 1, part 12, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), which are also subject to internal revenue taxes, the methods prescribed for the computation of internal revenue taxes on such beverages shall be followed. The following methods apply to the specific beverages shown:

(1) Distilled spirits. The quantity of distilled spirits imported in barrels, kegs, or similar containers shall be ascertained in accordance with the regulations of the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, and Firearms. Where distilled spirits are imported in bottles, jugs, or similar containers, Customs duties and taxes shall be collected on the exact quantity contained in each case or other outer container, fractional parts of a gallon being carried out to three decimal places. [TD 78-329]

(2) Wine. Customs duties and taxes on wines shall be on the basis of a wine gallon of liquid measure equivalent to 231 cubic inches and shall be paid proportionally on all fractional parts of a wine gallon. Fractions of less than one-tenth gallon shall be converted to the nearest one-tenth gallon, and five-hundredths gallon shall be converted to the next full one-tenth gallon.

(3) Beer and similar fermented beverages. Customs duties and taxes on beer, ale, porter, stout, and other similar fermented beverages, including sake, of any name or description containing one-half of 1 percent or more of alcohol by volume, brewed or produced from malt, wholly or in part, or from any substitute therefor, shall be collected in accordance with section 5051(a), Internal Revenue Code of 1954 (26 U.S.C. 5051(a)). (Sec. 315, 46 Stat. 695, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1315)

The internal revenue taxes imposed on cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes under section 5701 or 7652, Internal Revenue Code of 1954 (26 U.S.C. 5701 or 7652), are determined in accordance with section 5703 of that Code (26 U.S.C. 5703) at the time of removal; that is, on the quantity removed from Customs custody under the entry or withdrawal for consumption. The Customs duties, unlike those on alcoholic beverages, do not necessarily apply only to such quantities. (Sec. 315, 46 Stat. 695, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1315)

§ 159.6 Difference between liquidated duties and estimated duties.

(a) Difference under $10 in original liquidation. When there is a net difference of less than $10 between the total amount of duties assessed in the liquidation of any entry (other than an informal, mail, or baggage entry) and the total amount of estimated duties deposited, including any supplemental deposit, the difference shall be disregarded and the entry endorsed "as entered." In the case of an informal, mail, or baggage entry, the amount of duties computed by a Customs officer when the entry is prepared by, or filed with, him shall be considered the liquidated assessment. [TD 78-394]

(b) Difference under $10 in reliquidation. When there is a net difference of less than $10 between the total amount of duties found due in the reliquidation of any entry and the total amount of duties assessed in the prior liquidation of the entry, the difference shall be disregarded except in the following cases: [TD 78-394]

(1) Reliquidation at importer's request. When reliquidation of any entry is made at the importer's request, such as reliquidation following the allowance of a protest under section 514, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1514), or a request for correction under section 520(c), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1520(c)), any refund determined to be due shall be refunded even if less than $10.

(2) Court decision. Any refund or increase determined to be due as the result of the reliquidation of an entry in accordance with a court decision and judgment order shall be refunded or collected as the case may be.

(c) Difference of $10 or more collected or refunded. If there is a difference of $10 or more between the duties assessed in the liquidation of an entry and the total estimated duties deposited, or between the total duties assessed in the reliquidation of an entry and those assessed in the prior liquidation, the entry shall be endorsed to show the difference and bills or refund checks shall be issued. [TD 78-394]

(d) Customs duties and taxes netted for $10 limit. The assessments of Customs duties and internal revenue taxes shall be separately stated on the entry at the time of liquidation, but the amounts of any differences shall be netted when applying the $10 minimum for issuance of a bill or refund check. (Sec. 7, 52 Stat. 1081, as amended, sec. 505, 46 Stat. 732, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1321, 1505) [TD 78-394]

The liquidation of the original warehouse entry shall be followed in determining the liability for duties on a rewarehouse entry, except in the following cases:

(a) Merchandise excluded from liquidation of original warehouse entry. When any of the following types of merchandise are withdrawn from warehouse for transportation to another port, they shall be excluded from the liquidation of the original warehouse entry, and the liability for duties shall be determined by a liquidation of the rewarehouse entry made in the district where the merchandise is withdrawn for consumption or for exportation:

(1) Alcoholic beverages provided for in schedule 1, part 12, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), and subject to internal revenue taxes;

(2) Cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes subject to internal revenue taxes;

(3) Tariff-rate quota merchandise; and

(4) Wool or hair subject to duty at a rate per clean pound under schedule 3, part 1, subpart C, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202).

(b) Reliquidation required by change in rate. When a rate of Customs duty or tax is changed by an act of Congress or a proclamation of the President, any necessary reliquidation of Customs duty or tax on merchandise covered by a rewarehouse entry which may be required by reason of the change in rate shall be made in the district in which the merchandise is held in Customs custody on the effective date of the change.

(c) Shortage, irregular delivery, nondelivery, and other cases. In cases involving shortage, irregular delivery, or nondelivery under the original warehouse withdrawal for transportation, or in other cases when the district director of the port where the merchandise is entered for rewarehouse is of the opinion that circumstances make it inadvisable to follow the liquidation of the original warehouse entry, he shall make an appropriate adjustment in the amount of duties to be assessed under the rewarehouse entry. (Sec. 557, 46 Stat. 744, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1557)

§ 159.8 Allowance for loss, injury, etc.

Allowance in duties for any merchandise which is lost, stolen, destroyed, injured, abandoned, or short-shipped shall be made in accordance with the provisions of Part 158 of this chapter.

§ 159.9 Notice of liquidation and date of liquidation for formal entries.

(a) Bulletin notice of liquidation. Notice of liquidation of formal entries shall be made on a bulletin notice of liquidation, Customs Form 4333 or 4335:

(1) Customs Form 4333. Customs Form 4333 shall be used for the following types of entries:

(i) Dutiable consumption entries;

(ii) Free consumption entries liquidated as dutiable;

(iii) Warehouse entries;

(iv) Drawback entries;

(v) Vessel repair entries;

(vi) Appraisement entries;

(vii) Permanent exhibition entries liquidated as dutiable; and

(viii) Other entries for which a bulletin notice of liquidation is required and for which Customs Form 4335 is not appropriate.

(2) Customs Form 4335. Customs Form 4335 shall be used for free consumption entries liquidated "as entered" and permanent exhibition entries liquidated "Free." When free consumption entries in an unbroken series are liquidated free on the same day, the first and last entry numbers may be shown on the bulletin notice, e.g., "576/863," instead of listing every number in the unbroken series.

(b) Posting of bulletin notice. The bulletin notice of liquidation shall be posted for the information of importers in a conspicuous place in the customhouse at the port of entry (or Customs station, when the entries listed were filed at a Customs station outside the limits of a port of entry), or shall be lodged at some other suitable place in the customhouse in such a manner that it can readily be located and consulted by all interested persons, who shall be directed to that place by a notice maintained in a conspicuous place in the customhouse stating where notices of liquidation of entries are to be found.

(c) Date of liquidation—(1) Generally.—The bulletin notice of liquidation shall be dated with the date it is posted or lodged in the customhouse for the information of importers. The entries for which the bulletin notice of liquidation has been prepared shall be stamped "Liquidated", with the date of liquidation, which shall be the same as the date of the bulletin notice of liquidation. This stamping shall be deemed the legal evidence of liquidation.

(2) Exception: Entries liquidated by operation of law.—(i) Entries liquidated by operation of law at the expiration of the time limitations prescribed in section 504, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1504), and set out in sections 159.11 and 159.12, shall be deemed liquidated as of the date of expiration of the appropriate statutory period.

(ii) The bulletin notice of liquidation shall be posted or lodged in the customhouse within a reasonable period after each liquidation by operation of law and shall be dated as of the date of expiration of the statutory period.

(iii) A protest under section 514, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1514), and part 174 of this chapter shall be filed within 90 days from the date the bulletin notice of liquidation of an entry by operation of law is posted or lodged in the customhouse. [TD 79-221.]

(d) Courtesy notice of liquidation.—Customs will endeavor to provide importers or their agents with Customs form 4333-A; Courtesy Notice, for entries specified in section 159.9(a)(1), scheduled to be liquidated or deemed liquidated by operation of law. This notice shall serve as an informal, courtesy notice and not as a direct, formal, and decisive notice of liquidation. [TD 79-221.]

§ 159.10 Notice of liquidation and date of liquidation for informal, mail, and baggage entries.

(a) Usual date of liquidation. Except in the cases provided for in paragraph (b) of this section, the effective date of liquidation for informal, mail, and baggage entries shall be:

(1) The date of payment by the importer of duties due on the entry;

(2) The date of release by Customs or the postmaster when the merchandise is released under such an entry free of duty; and

(3) The date a free entry is accepted for articles released under a special permit for immediate delivery under Part 142 of this chapter.

(b) Date of liquidation when duty cannot be determined at time of entry. When the proper rate or amount of duty cannot be determined at the time of entry because the merchandise is subject to a tariff-rate quota, because of a missing document which, if for free entry, is not produced prior to the release of the merchandise to the importer, or because of any other reason, the printed notice of liquidation appearing on the receipt issued for any money collected on the entry shall be voided. When the tariff status of the merchandise either as dutiable or free is finally ascertained it shall be noted on the entry. The effective date of liquidation shall be the date of posting or lodging of the notice of liquidation required by paragraph (c)(3) of this section.

(c) Notice of liquidation—(1) Dutiable entries. Where duties are paid on an entry in accordance with paragraph (a)(1) of this section, notice of liquidation is furnished by a suitable printed statement appearing on the receipt issued for duties collected. No other notice of liquidation shall be given, but notice of reliquidation of any such entry shall be given on Customs Form 4333 posted or lodged in the place and manner specified in § 159.9(b).

(2) Free entries. Notice of liquidation is furnished by release of the merchandise under a free entry in accordance with paragraph (a)(2) of this section, or by acceptance of the free entry in accordance with paragraph (a)(3) of this section after release under a special permit for immediate delivery. No further notice of the liquidation of such entries shall be given.

(3) Entries where duty cannot be determined at time of entry. When the proper rate or amount of duty cannot be determined at the time of entry as set forth in paragraph (b) of this section, notice of liquidation shall be given on a bulletin notice of liquidation, Customs Form 4333 or 4335, in the manner specified in § 159.9 for formal entries.

(a) Time limit generally.—Except as provided in section 159.12, an entry not liquidated within 1 year from the date of entry of the merchandise, or the date of final withdrawal of all merchandise covered by a warehouse entry, shall be deemed liquidated by operation of law at the rate of duty, value, quantity, and amount of duties asserted by the importer at the time of filing an entry summary for consumption in proper form, with estimated duties attached, or withdrawal for consumption in proper form, with estimated duties attached. Notice of liquidation shall be given on the bulletin notice of liquidation, Customs form 4333 or 4335, as provided in sections 159.9 and 159.10(c)(3). Customs will endeavor to provide a courtesy notice of liquidation on Customs form 4333-A in accordance with section 159.9(d).

(b) Applicability.—The provisions of this section and section 159.12 shall apply to entries of merchandise for consumption or withdrawals of merchandise for consumption made on or after April 1, 1979, but shall not apply to vessel repair entries or drawback entries. [TD 79-221.]

§ 159.12 Extension of time for liquidation.

(a) Reasons—(1) Extension.—The district director may extend the 1-year statutory period for liquidation for an additional period not to exceed 1 year if:

(i) Information needed by Customs.—Information needed by Customs for the proper appraisement or classification of the merchandise is not available, or

(ii) Importer's request.—The importer requests an extension in writing before the statutory period expires and shows good cause why the extension should be granted. "Good cause" is demonstrated when the importer satisfies the district director that more time is needed to present to Customs information which will affect the pending action, or there is a similar question under review by Customs.

(2) Suspension.—The 1-year liquidation period may be suspended as required by statute or court order.

(b) Notice of extension.—If the district director extends the time for liquidation, as provided in paragraph (a)(1) of this section, he promptly shall notify the importer or the consignee and his agent and surety on Customs form 4333-A, appropriately modified, that the time has been extended and the reasons for doing so.

(c) Notice of suspension.—If the liquidation of an entry is suspended as required by statute or court order, as provided in paragraph (a)(2) of this section, the district director promptly shall notify the importer or the consignee and his agent and surety on Customs form 4333-A, appropriately modified, of the suspension.

(d) Additional extensions—(1) Information needed by Customs.—If an extension has been granted because Customs needs more information and the district director thereafter determines that more time is needed, he may extend the time for liquidation for an additional period not to exceed 1 year provided he issues the notice required by paragraph (b) of this section before termination of the prior extension period.

(2) At importer's request.—If the statutory period has been extended for 1 year at the importer's request, and the importer thereafter determines that additional time is necessary, he may request another extension in writing before the original extension expires, giving reasons for his request. If the district director finds that good cause (as defined in paragraph (a)(1)(ii) of this section) exists, he shall issue a notice extending the time for liquidation for an additional period not to exceed 1 year.

(e) Limitation on extensions.—The total time for which extensions may be granted by the district director may not exceed 3 years.

(f) Time limitation—(1) Generally.—An entry not liquidated within 4 years from either the date of entry, or the date of final withdrawal of all the merchandise covered by a warehouse entry, shall be deemed liquidated by operation of law at the rate of duty, value, quantity, and amount of duty asserted by the importer at the time of filing the entry summary for consumption in proper form, with estimated duties attached, or the withdrawal for consumption in proper form, with estimated duties attached, unless liquidation continues to be suspended by statute or court order. Customs will endeavor to provide a courtesy notice of liquidation on Customs form 4333-A, in accordance with section 159.9(d), in addition to the bulletin notice specified in section 159.9(c)(2)(ii).

(2) Suspension of liquidation by statute or court order.—When liquidation of an entry continues to be suspended beyond the 4-year period specified in paragraph (f)(1) of this section due to a statute or court order, the entry shall be liquidated within 90 days after removal of the suspension.

(g) Notice of liquidation.—If an entry is liquidated after an extension expires or a suspension is removed, notice of liquidation shall be given on the bulletin notice of liquidation, Customs form 4333 or 4335, as provided in sections 159.9 and 159.10(c)(3). Customs will endeavor to provide a courtesy notice of liquidation on Customs form 4333-A in accordance with section 159.9(d). [TD 79-221.]

Insofar as duties are based upon the quantity of any merchandise, such duties shall be based upon the quantity of such merchandise at the time of its importation, except in the following cases:

(a) Manipulation in warehouse. If any merchandise covered by a warehouse entry has been cleaned, sorted, repacked, or otherwise changed in condition under section 562, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1562), withdrawals shall be passed and the entry liquidated on the basis of the weight, gauge, or measure of such merchandise in its manipulated condition with an appropriate notation in the duty statement that the duties are assessed on the basis of the manipulated condition of the merchandise.

(b) Alcoholic beverages. Duties on certain alcoholic beverages are assessed only on the quantities entered or withdrawn for consumption (see § 159.4).

(c) Cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes. Although Customs duties on cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes are assessed on the quantities imported, the internal revenue taxes on such merchandise are assessed only on the quantities entered or withdrawn for consumption (see § 159.5). (Sec. 315, 46 Stat. 695, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1315)

§ 159.22 Net weights and tares.

(a) Determination of net weight. The net weight of merchandise dutiable by net weight, or upon a value dependent upon net weight, shall be determined insofar as possible by obtaining the actual weight, or by deducting the actual or schedule tare from the gross weight. Actual tare may be determined on the basis of tests when the tares of the packages in a shipment are reasonably uniform.

(b) Invoice net weight or tare. When the actual net weight or tare cannot reasonably be determined and no schedule tare is applicable, liquidation may be made on the basis of the invoice net weight or tare.

(c) Schedule tare. The following tares, which, from experience, have proved to be the average for certain classes of merchandise shall be known as schedule tares and shall be applied, except as provided in paragraph (d) of this section:

Apple boxes: Eight pounds per box. This schedule tare includes the paper wrappers, if any, on the apples.

China clay in so-called half-ton casks: Seventy-two pounds per cask.

Figs in skeleton cases: Actual tare for outer containers plus 13 percent of the gross weight of the inside wooden boxes and figs.

Fresh tomatoes: Four ounces per 100 paper wrappings.

Lemons and oranges: Ten ounces per box and 5 ounces per half box for paper wrappings, and actual tare for outer containers.

Ocher, dry, in casks: Eight percent of the gross weight.

Ocher, in oil, in casks: Twelve percent of the gross weight.

Pimientos in tins imported from Spain: The following schedule drained weight shall be used as the Customs dutiable weight in the liquidation of entries, the difference between the weight of the net contents of pimientos in tins and such drained weight being the allowance made in liquidation for tare for water:

Size can	Drained weight
3 kilo	30 lb.—case of 6 tims.
28 oz	36.72 lb.—case of 24 tins.
15 oz	17.72 lb.—case of 24 tins.
7 oz	8.62 lb.—case of 24 tins.
4 oz	5.33 lb.—case of 24 tins.

Tobacco, leaf not stemmed: Thirteen pounds per bale.

Tobacco, Sumatra: Actual tare for outside coverings, plus 4 1/4 pounds for the inside matting and, if a certificate is attached to the special Customs or commercial invoice certifying that the bales contain paper wrappings and specifying whether light or heavy paper has been used, either 4 or 8 ounces for the paper wrapping according to the thickness of paper used.

(d) Actual tare. In the following circumstances, the actual tare shall be ascertained and in so doing the weigher shall empty and weigh as many casks, boxes, and other coverings as he may deem necessary:

(1) If the importer is not satisfied with the invoice tare or with the schedule tare;

(2) If the district director is of the opinion that the invoice or schedule tare does not correctly represent the tare of the merchandise; or

(3) If the weigher has reason to believe that the invoice or schedule tare is greater than the real tare.

(e) Estimated tare. When it is impracticable to ascertain the actual tare, the weigher shall state in his report what, in his judgment, constitutes a fair tare allowance.

(f) Weight for value purposes. In determining the total dutiable value of merchandise which is subject to ad valorem duty and appraised on the basis of weight, liquidation shall be made on the same basis as appraisement. For example, if appraisement is made on the basis of gross weight, the unit value shall be multiplied by the total gross weight in computing the total value even though net weight may be used for other purposes in liquidation, such as in determining total specific duties. (Sec. 507, 46 Stat. 732; 19 U.S.C. 1507)

§ 159.31 Rates to be used.

Except as otherwise specified in this subpart, no rate or rates of exchange shall be used to convert foreign currency for Customs purposes other than a proclaimed rate or certified rate or rates.

§ 159.32 Date of exportation.

The date of exportation for currency conversion shall be fixed in accordance with § 152.1(c) of this chapter.

If a rate of exchange has been proclaimed by the Secretary of the Treasury in accordance with 31 U.S.C. 372(a) for the currency involved, such proclaimed rate shall be used unless it varies by 5 percent or more from the certified daily rate for the date of exportation as set forth in § 159.35. In determining the percentage of variation between the proclaimed rate and the certified rate, the difference between the two rates shall be divided by the certified rate.

§ 159.34 Certified quarterly rate.

(a) Countries for which quarterly rate is certified. For the currency of each of the following foreign countries, there will be published in the Customs Bulletin, for the quarter beginning January 1, and for each quarter thereafter, the rate or rates first certified by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York for such foreign currency for a day in that quarter:

Australia, Austria, Belgium, Brazil, Canada, Denmark, Finland, France, Germany, Hong Kong, India, Iran, Ireland, Italy, Japan, Malaysia, Mexico, Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, People's Republic of China, Philippines, Portugal, Republic of South Africa, Singapore, Spain, Sri Lanka (Ceylon), Sweden, Switzerland, Thailand, United Kingdom, Venezuela.

(b) When certified quarterly rate is used. The certified quarterly rate established under paragraph (a) of this section shall be used for Customs purposes for any date of exportation within the quarter, except in the following cases:

(1) Proclaimed rate. If a rate has been proclaimed by the Secretary of the Treasury under § 159.33 which does not vary by 5 percent or more from the appropriate certified daily rate, notice of such variance shall be published in the Customs Bulletin and the proclaimed rate shall be used for Customs purposes in connection with merchandise exported on such date.

(2) Certified daily rate. If the certified daily rate for the date of exportation varies by 5 percent or more from the certified quarterly rate, notice of such variation and the rate or rates certified for such day shall be published in the Customs Bulletin, and such certified daily rate shall be used for Customs purposes in connection with merchandise exported on such day. [TD 81-117]

The daily buying rate of foreign currency which is determined by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York and certified to the Secretary of the Treasury in accordance with 31 U.S.C. 372(c)(2) shall be used for the conversion of foreign currency whenever a proclaimed rate or certified quarterly rate is not applicable under the provisions of §§ 159.33 and 159.34. If the date of exportation is one on which banks are generally closed in New York City, then the certified daily rate for the last preceding business day shall be considered the certified daily rate for the day of exportation.

The following procedures shall apply when the Federal Reserve Bank of New York certifies two or more rates of exchange (e.g., official and free) for a foreign currency:

(a) Rates to be published. When the Federal Reserve Bank of New York certifies two or more rates of exchange for the currency of any country, those rates will be published in the Customs Bulletin.

(b) Laws of country of exportation followed. When multiple rates have been certified for a foreign currency, the rate to be used for Customs purposes shall be the type of certified rate which the district director is satisfied, from information in his own files, information obtained and presented to him by the importer, or information obtained from other sources, is uniformly applicable under the laws and regulations of the country of exportation to the particular class of merchandise on the date of exportation. In cases where two or more types of certified rates are uniformly applicable on a percentage bases, each type of certified rate shall be used for the percentage of value to which it is applicable. The percentages used shall be those which reflect realistically the percentage for which each type of rate is uniformly applicable under the laws and regulations of the country of exportation on the date of exportation.

(c) Procedure when multiple certified rates not uniformly applicable. If the district director has credible information that a type of rate or combination of types of rates which would otherwise be applicable under paragraph (b) of this section were not required or permitted, as the case may be, under the laws and regulations of the country of exportation to be used uniformly during any period in connection with the payment for all merchandise of the class involved, he shall immediately submit a detailed report to the Commissioner of Customs, and shall suspend appraisement and liquidation as to all merchandise of the class involved exported to the United States during the period involved, until instructions are received from the Commissioner of Customs.

(d) Rate for merchandise different from rate for costs. If the district director has credible information that a type of rate or combination of types of rates not applicable to payment for the merchandise was required or permitted in payment of costs, charges, or expenses, the currency conversions for the exchange covering payment for the merchandise and for the exchange covering such costs, charges, or expenses shall be calculated separately. In deducting nondutiable costs, charges, or expenses, the foreign exchange shall be at the rate or rates actually used in payment of such costs, charges, or expenses, whether or not certified in accordance with § 159.34 or § 159.35. If the costs, charges or expenses are dutiable, they shall be calculated according to the rules set forth in this subpart. In the event that any type of rate uniformly applicable to payment of such dutiable costs, charges, or expenses for merchandise of the class involved was a type of rate not certified in accordance with § 159.34 or § 159.35, the district director shall immediately submit a detailed report to the Commissioner of Customs, and shall suspend appraisement and liquidation as to all merchandise of the class involved exported to the United States during the period involved, until instructions are received from the Commissioner.

Whenever the Federal Reserve Bank of New York advises that its certification of rates for a currency is being suspended pending determination of the question whether it will certify multiple rates for that currency, the following procedures shall apply:

(a) Notification of suspension. Customs field officers will be informed when certification of a currency is being suspended. Currency information received from the Federal Reserve Bank, or otherwise available, which might be helpful in calculating estimated duties during the period of suspension will be furnished to the Customs field officers.

(b) Suspension of liquidation. In any case where for the purposes of the assessment and collection of duties it is necessary to determine the proper rate or rates for a currency during the period when it has been suspended from certification, appraisement and liquidation shall be suspended until resumption of certification.

(c) Resumption of certification. When certification is resumed by the Federal Reserve Bank, the procedures in § 159.36 shall apply.

(a) Manipulation in warehouse. If any merchandise covered by a warehouse entry has been cleaned, sorted, repacked, or otherwise changed in condition under section 562, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1562), withdrawals shall be passed and the entry liquidated on the basis of the weight, gauge, or measure of such merchandise in its manipulated condition with an appropriate notation in the duty statement that the duties are assessed on the basis of the manipulated condition of the merchandise.

(b) Alcoholic beverages. Duties on certain alcoholic beverages are assessed only on the quantities entered or withdrawn for consumption (see § 159.4).

(c) Cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes. Although Customs duties on cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes are assessed on the quantities imported, the internal revenue taxes on such merchandise are assessed only on the quantities entered or withdrawn for consumption (see § 159.5). (Sec. 315, 46 Stat. 695, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1315)

(a) Determination of net weight. The net weight of merchandise dutiable by net weight, or upon a value dependent upon net weight, shall be determined insofar as possible by obtaining the actual weight, or by deducting the actual or schedule tare from the gross weight. Actual tare may be determined on the basis of tests when the tares of the packages in a shipment are reasonably uniform.

(b) Invoice net weight or tare. When the actual net weight or tare cannot reasonably be determined and no schedule tare is applicable, liquidation may be made on the basis of the invoice net weight or tare.

(c) Schedule tare. The following tares, which, from experience, have proved to be the average for certain classes of merchandise shall be known as schedule tares and shall be applied, except as provided in paragraph (d) of this section:

Apple boxes: Eight pounds per box. This schedule tare includes the paper wrappers, if any, on the apples.

China clay in so-called half-ton casks: Seventy-two pounds per cask.

Figs in skeleton cases: Actual tare for outer containers plus 13 percent of the gross weight of the inside wooden boxes and figs.

Fresh tomatoes: Four ounces per 100 paper wrappings.

Lemons and oranges: Ten ounces per box and 5 ounces per half box for paper wrappings, and actual tare for outer containers.

Ocher, dry, in casks: Eight percent of the gross weight.

Ocher, in oil, in casks: Twelve percent of the gross weight.

Pimientos in tins imported from Spain: The following schedule drained weight shall be used as the Customs dutiable weight in the liquidation of entries, the difference between the weight of the net contents of pimientos in tins and such drained weight being the allowance made in liquidation for tare for water:

3 kilo	30 lb.—case of 6 tims.
28 oz	36.72 lb.—case of 24 tins.
15 oz	17.72 lb.—case of 24 tins.
7 oz	8.62 lb.—case of 24 tins.
4 oz	5.33 lb.—case of 24 tins.

Tobacco, leaf not stemmed: Thirteen pounds per bale.

Tobacco, Sumatra: Actual tare for outside coverings, plus 4 1/4 pounds for the inside matting and, if a certificate is attached to the special Customs or commercial invoice certifying that the bales contain paper wrappings and specifying whether light or heavy paper has been used, either 4 or 8 ounces for the paper wrapping according to the thickness of paper used.

(d) Actual tare. In the following circumstances, the actual tare shall be ascertained and in so doing the weigher shall empty and weigh as many casks, boxes, and other coverings as he may deem necessary:

(1) If the importer is not satisfied with the invoice tare or with the schedule tare;

(2) If the district director is of the opinion that the invoice or schedule tare does not correctly represent the tare of the merchandise; or

(3) If the weigher has reason to believe that the invoice or schedule tare is greater than the real tare.

(e) Estimated tare. When it is impracticable to ascertain the actual tare, the weigher shall state in his report what, in his judgment, constitutes a fair tare allowance.

(f) Weight for value purposes. In determining the total dutiable value of merchandise which is subject to ad valorem duty and appraised on the basis of weight, liquidation shall be made on the same basis as appraisement. For example, if appraisement is made on the basis of gross weight, the unit value shall be multiplied by the total gross weight in computing the total value even though net weight may be used for other purposes in liquidation, such as in determining total specific duties. (Sec. 507, 46 Stat. 732; 19 U.S.C. 1507)

§ 159.31 Rates to be used.

Except as otherwise specified in this subpart, no rate or rates of exchange shall be used to convert foreign currency for Customs purposes other than a proclaimed rate or certified rate or rates.

§ 159.32 Date of exportation.

The date of exportation for currency conversion shall be fixed in accordance with § 152.1(c) of this chapter.

If a rate of exchange has been proclaimed by the Secretary of the Treasury in accordance with 31 U.S.C. 372(a) for the currency involved, such proclaimed rate shall be used unless it varies by 5 percent or more from the certified daily rate for the date of exportation as set forth in § 159.35. In determining the percentage of variation between the proclaimed rate and the certified rate, the difference between the two rates shall be divided by the certified rate.

§ 159.34 Certified quarterly rate.

(a) Countries for which quarterly rate is certified. For the currency of each of the following foreign countries, there will be published in the Customs Bulletin, for the quarter beginning January 1, and for each quarter thereafter, the rate or rates first certified by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York for such foreign currency for a day in that quarter:

Australia, Austria, Belgium, Canada, Denmark, Finland, France, Germany, India, Ireland, Italy, Japan, Malaysia, Mexico, Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, Portugal, Republic of South Africa, Spain, Sri Lanka (Ceylon), Sweden, Switzerland, United Kingdom.

(b) When certified quarterly rate is used. The certified quarterly rate established under paragraph (a) of this section shall be used for Customs purposes for any date of exportation within the quarter, except in the following cases:

(1) Proclaimed rate. If a rate has been proclaimed by the Secretary of the Treasury under § 159.33 which does not vary by 5 percent or more from the appropriate certified daily rate, notice of such variance shall be published in the Customs Bulletin and the proclaimed rate shall be used for Customs purposes in connection with merchandise exported on such date.

(2) Certified daily rate. If the certified daily rate for the date of exportation varies by 5 percent or more from the certified quarterly rate, notice of such variation and the rate or rates certified for such day shall be published in the Customs Bulletin, and such certified daily rate shall be used for Customs purposes in connection with merchandise exported on such day.

The daily buying rate of foreign currency which is determined by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York and certified to the Secretary of the Treasury in accordance with 31 U.S.C. 372(c)(2) shall be used for the conversion of foreign currency whenever a proclaimed rate or certified quarterly rate is not applicable under the provisions of § § 159.33 and 159.34. If the date of exportation is one on which banks are generally closed in New York City, then the certified daily rate for the last preceding business day shall be considered the certified daily rate for the day of exportation.

The following procedures shall apply when the Federal Reserve Bank of New York certifies two or more rates of exchange (e.g., official and free) for a foreign currency:

(a) Rates to be published. When the Federal Reserve Bank of New York certifies two or more rates of exchange for the currency of any country, those rates will be published in the Customs Bulletin.

(b) Laws of country of exportation followed. When multiple rates have been certified for a foreign currency, the rate to be used for Customs purposes shall be the type of certified rate which the district director is satisfied, from information in his own files, information obtained and presented to him by the importer, or information obtained from other sources, is uniformly applicable under the laws and regulations of the country of exportation to the particular class of merchandise on the date of exportation. In cases where two or more types of certified rates are uniformly applicable on a percentage bases, each type of certified rate shall be used for the percentage of value to which it is applicable. The percentages used shall be those which reflect realistically the percentage for which each type of rate is uniformly applicable under the laws and regulations of the country of exportation on the date of exportation.

(c) Procedure when multiple certified rates not uniformly applicable. If the district director has credible information that a type of rate or combination of types of rates which would otherwise be applicable under paragraph (b) of this section were not required or permitted, as the case may be, under the laws and regulations of the country of exportation to be used uniformly during any period in connection with the payment for all merchandise of the class involved, he shall immediately submit a detailed report to the Commissioner of Customs, and shall suspend appraisement and liquidation as to all merchandise of the class involved exported to the United States during the period involved, until instructions are received from the Commissioner of Customs.

(d) Rate for merchandise different from rate for costs. If the district director has credible information that a type of rate or combination of types of rates not applicable to payment for the merchandise was required or permitted in payment of costs, charges, or expenses, the currency conversions for the exchange covering payment for the merchandise and for the exchange covering such costs, charges, or expenses shall be calculated separately. In deducting nondutiable costs, charges, or expenses, the foreign exchange shall be at the rate or rates actually used in payment of such costs, charges, or expenses, whether or not certified in accordance with § 159.34 or § 159.35. If the costs, charges or expenses are dutiable, they shall be calculated according to the rules set forth in this subpart. In the event that any type of rate uniformly applicable to payment of such dutiable costs, charges, or expenses for merchandise of the class involved was a type of rate not certified in accordance with § 159.34 or § 159.35, the district director shall immediately submit a detailed report to the Commissioner of Customs, and shall suspend appraisement and liquidation as to all merchandise of the class involved exported to the United States during the period involved, until instructions are received from the Commissioner.

Whenever the Federal Reserve Bank of New York advises that its certification of rates for a currency is being suspended pending determination of the question whether it will certify multiple rates for that currency, the following procedures shall apply:

(a) Notification of suspension. Customs field officers will be informed when certification of a currency is being suspended. Currency information received from the Federal Reserve Bank, or otherwise available, which might be helpful in calculating estimated duties during the period of suspension will be furnished to the Customs field officers.

(b) Suspension of liquidation. In any case where for the purposes of the assessment and collection of duties it is necessary to determine the proper rate or rates for a currency during the period when it has been suspended from certification, appraisement and liquidation shall be suspended until resumption of certification.

(c) Resumption of certification. When certification is resumed by the Federal Reserve Bank, the procedures in § 159.36 shall apply.

§ 159.38 Rates for estimated duties.

For purposes of calculating estimated duties, the district director shall use the rate or rates appearing to be applicable under the instructions in this subpart to the merchandise involved. When it is not yet known what certified rate or rates are applicable or no rate has been certified, the district director shall take into account all the information in his possession and shall use the highest rate or combination of rates (i.e., the rate or combination of rates showing the highest amount of United States money), certified or uncertified as the case may be, which could be applicable.

Subpart D—Special Duties

§ 159.42 Discriminating duties.

The discriminating duties provided for in subsection 1 of paragraph J, section IV, Tariff Act of 1913, as amended by the Act of March 4, 1915 (19 U.S.C. 128, 131), and the discriminating duties and penalties provided for in section 338, Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1338), shall be imposed only in pursuance of specific instructions from the Commissioner of Customs.

§ 159.43 Duties contingent upon foreign export duties, charges, or restrictions.

Schedule 2, part 4, headnote 4, Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202), provides for the imposition under certain conditions of additional duties on merchandise covered thereby. The assessment of these additional duties is dependent upon action by the President, and notice of such action, if taken, will be published in the Customs Bulletin.

Whenever it appears that imported articles may be subject to the special duties provided for in section 802, Act of September 8, 1916 (15 U.S.C. 73), the district director shall report the matter to the Commissioner of Customs and await instructions with respect to the imposition of such duties. (Sec. 802, 803, 39 Stat. 799; 15 U.S.C. 73, 74)

§ 159.45 Additional duty for unauthentic claims of antiquity.

When additional duty is imposed in accordance with § 10.53 of this chapter for an unauthentic claim of antiquity, such duty shall be assessed in addition to any other duty imposed on the merchandise by law.

(a) Based on dutiable value. The marking duty prescribed by section 304(c), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1304(c)), shall be assessed upon the dutiable value as defined in section 503, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1503).

(b) Suspension of liquidation. The liquidation of entries shall not be suspended merely because the merchandise covered thereby is not legally marked, but, upon special application by the importer, the liquidation may be deferred for a reasonable time to permit the marking, destruction, or exportation of the merchandise. (Sec. 304, 46 Stat. 687, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1304)

Countervailing duties shall be assessed in accordance with Part 355, Chapter III, of this title. [TD 80-271.]

Subpart E—Suspension of Liquidation

Liquidation of entries shall be suspended only when provided by law or regulation, or when directed by the Commissioner of Customs. Liquidation of entries shall not be suspended simply because issues involved therein may be before the Customs Court in pending litigation, since the importer may seek relief by protesting the entries after liquidation.

Liquidation of a warehouse or rewarehouse entry shall be suspended until all merchandise covered by the entry has been accounted for within the bonded period by withdrawal, abandonment, or destruction, or until the bonded period has expired if the merchandise has not been so accounted for before that time.

§ 159.53 Proof of duty-free or reduced-duty status.

Various provisions in Part 10 of this chapter provide for suspending liquidation of entries covering certain merchandise entered at a conditionally free or conditionally reduced rate of duty, pending production of required proof. Upon production of the required proof, or upon failure to produce the proof within the required time, the entries shall be liquidated accordingly.

§ 159.54 Open bonds for production of documents.

The liquidation of entries on which bonds are open for the production of documents affecting the rate of duty shall be suspended pending the performance or nonperformance under the bond, unless production of the document is waived in accordance with § 141.92 of this chapter.

§ 159.55 Possible prohibited food, drugs, or other articles.

(a) Suspension of liquidation. The liquidation of each entry covering merchandise the subject of § 12.1 of this chapter (which pertains to certain foods, drugs, cosmetics, economic poisons, hazardous substances, dangerous caustic or corrosive substances, and related items) shall be suspended until it is determined whether admission of the merchandise into the United States is permitted under the law.

(b) Allowance for exportation or destruction. In any case where the admission of such merchandise into the United States is refused and the merchandise is exported under Customs supervision in accordance with § 158.45(b) of this chapter, or destroyed under Customs supervision in accordance with § 158.41 of this chapter, the merchandise is exempt from duty and any duties collected thereon shall be refunded. (Sec. 558, 46 Stat. 744, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1558)

Liquidation of entries for merchandise of the character covered by a decision of the Secretary of the Treasury published in accordance with § 175.24 of this chapter, entered or withdrawn for consumption after the date of publication of a decision of the U.S. Customs Court sustaining in whole or in part the cause of action of an American manufacturer, producer, or wholesaler, shall be suspended until final disposition is made of the cause of action. Upon final disposition, such entries shall be liquidated, or, if necessary, reliquidated in accordance with the final judicial decision. (Sec. 516, 46 Stat. 735, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1516)

(a) Antidumping matters. Upon receipt of notification from the Commissioner, each district director shall suspend liquidation on merchandise entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption, on or after the date of publication of the "Notice of Preliminary Affirmative Antidumping Determination," "Notice of Final Affirmative Antidumping Determination" or "Notice of Violation of Agreement" as provided by Part 353, Chapter III, of this title. Each district director shall immediately notify the importer, consignee, or agent of each entry of merchandise in question with respect to which liquidation is suspended. The notice shall indicate the relevant ascertained and determined or estimated antidumping duty.

(b) Countervailing matters. Upon receipt of notification from the Commissioner, each district director shall suspend liquidation on merchandise entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption, on or after the date of publication of the "Notice of Preliminary Affirmative Countervailing Duty Determination," "Notice of Final Affirmative Countervailing Duty Determination" or "Notice of Violation of Agreement," as provided by Part 355, Chapter III, of this title. Each district director shall immediately notify the importer, consignee, or agent of each entry of merchandise in question with respect to which liquidation is suspended. The notice shall indicate the relevant ascertained and determined or estimated countervailing duty.

161.12 Filing of claim.
161.13 Limitation on claims.
161.14 Payment of claims.
161.15 Informer's name confidential.

Authority: 80 Stat. 379, R.S. 251, as amended, sec. 624, 46 Stat. 759, 5 U.S.C. 301, 19 U.S.C. 66, 1624, unless otherwise noted.

The provisions of this part set forth the authority and responsibility of Customs officers in the enforcement of Customs laws of the United States. Also included are provisions relating to import and export controls enforced for other administering agencies, prosecution for violation of Customs laws, bribery of Customs officers and employees, the compromise of Government claims and informer's compensation. [TD 72-211.]

Whenever any action or thing is required by the regulations in this chapter, or by any provision of the Customs or navigation laws, to be done or maintained under the supervision of Customs officers, such supervision shall be carried out as prescribed in the regulations of this chapter, or by instructions from the Secretary of the Treasury, or the Commissioner of Customs in particular cases. In the absence of a governing regulation or instruction, supervision shall be direct and continuous, or by such occasional verification as the principal Customs field officer shall direct if such officer shall determine that less intensive supervision will ensure proper enforcement of the law and protection of the revenue. Nothing in this section shall be deemed to warrant any failure to direct and furnish required supervision or to excuse any failure of a party in interest to comply with prescribed procedures for obtaining any required supervision. (Sec. 22, 67 Stat. 520; 19 U.S.C. 1646a)

§ 161.2 Enforcement for other agencies.

(a) Laws enforced by Customs Service for administering agencies. Some of the laws enforced in whole or in part by the Customs Service for administering agencies are:

(1) Importations and exportations of arms, ammunition, implements of war, helium gas, and other munitions of war are governed by laws administered by the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, and Firearms and Department of State; [TD 78-329]

(2) Importations and exportations of controlled substances are governed by laws administered by the Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs of the Department of Justice;

(3) [Reserved] [TD 76-21.]

(4) Importations and exportations of atomic energy source material, fissionable material, and equipment and devices for utilizing or producing fissionable material are subject to laws administered by the Atomic Energy Commission; and

(5) The exportation of articles, other than those previously mentioned herein, are subject to requirements of laws administered by the Department of Commerce.

(b) Seizure for violation of law. When articles are imported or are intended to be, are being, or have been exported from the United States in violation of law, such articles and any vessel, vehicle, or aircraft knowingly used in their transportation shall be seized and proceeded against. (Sec. 5(b), 40 Stat. 415, as amended, 62 Stat. 716, sec. 502, 68 Stat. 1140, sec. 1, 40 Stat. 223, as amended, sec. 4, 48 Stat. 340, secs. 4, 7, 60 Stat. 759, 764, sec. 414, 68 Stat. 848, as amended; 12 U.S.C. 95a, 18 U.S.C. 545, 19 U.S.C. 1595(a), 22 U.S.C. 401, 31 U.S.C. 443, 42 U.S.C. 1804, 1807, 22 U.S.C. 1934)

§ 161.3 Prosecution for violation of Customs laws.

When there is a seizure or other violation of the Customs laws which requires legal proceedings by civil or criminal action, the district director or special agent in charge of the area involved shall furnish a report to the United States attorney in accordance with section 603, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1603). Action shall be taken under section 545, title 18, United States Code, only when there is clear indication of a violation of some specific provision of law. (Sec. 603, 46 Stat. 754, as amended, sec. 1, 62 Stat. 716; 18 U.S.C. 545, 19 U.S.C. 1603)

If, upon investigation, it is determined that money or anything of value was given, offered, or promised to a Customs officer or employee with the intent to control or influence such officer or employee in the performance of his official duties, the matter shall be referred to the United States attorney for prosecution under section 201, title 18, United States Code. (Sec. 1, 76 Stat. 1119, as amended; 18 U.S.C. 201)

§ 161.5 Compromise of Government claims.

(a) Offer. An offer made pursuant to section 617, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1617), in compromise of a Government claim arising under the Customs laws and the terms upon which it is made shall be stated in writing addressed to the Commissioner of Customs. The offer shall be limited to the civil liability of the proponent in the matter which is the subject of the Government's claim.

(b) Deposit of specific sum tendered. No offer in which a specific sum of money is tendered in compromise of a Government claim under the Customs laws will be considered by the Commissioner of Customs until due notice is received that such sum has been properly deposited in the name of the person submitting the offer with the Treasurer of the United States or a Federal Reserve bank. A proponent at a distance from a Federal Reserve bank may perfect his offer by tendering a bank draft for the amount of the offer payable to the Secretary of the Treasury for collection and deposit. If the offer is rejected, the money will be returned to the proponent. (Sec. 617, 46 Stat. 757, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1617)

(a) Persons not officers of United States. Any person not an officer of the United States who, in accordance with section 619, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1619), detects, seizes, and reports any vessel, vehicle, merchandise, or baggage subject to siezure and forfeiture under the Customs or navigation laws, or who furnishes original information concerning any fraud upon the Customs revenue or a violation of the Customs or navigation laws perpetrated or contemplated, may file a claim for an award of compensation. Any Customs officer to whom the information is furnished shall advise the informant of his right to claim such an award.

(b) Officer of the United States. Officers of the United States are precluded by section 620, Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1620) from directly or indirectly receiving or contracting for any portion of a compensation award. (Sec. 619, 620, 46 Stat. 758, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1619, 1620)

A claim for an award of compensation shall be filed in duplicate on Customs Form 4623 with the district director, but any Customs officer may receive such a claim for transmittal to the district director. Additional copies of the claim required by the district director shall be furnished on demand. Application may be made directly to the Commissioner of Customs where for any reason a claim has not been transmitted by the district director to the Commissioner. No claim for compensation shall be forwarded to the Commissioner unless a sum of not less than $5 is available for an award. (Sec. 619, 46 Stat. 758, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1619)

§ 161.13 Limitation on claims.

Claimants may be paid 25 per centum of the net amount recovered from duties withheld, or any fine, penalty, or forfeiture incurred, but such amount shall not exceed $50,000 regardless of the number of recoveries growing out of the information furnished. (Sec. 619, 46 Stat. 758, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1619)

§ 161.14 Payment of claims.

No claim under section 619, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1619), shall be paid until the amount recovered has been deposited in the proper account. Claims shall not be paid out of the proceeds of sale. (Sec. 619, 46 Stat. 758, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1619).

§ 161.15 Informer's name confidential.

The informer's name and address shall be kept confidential. No files nor information concerning the informer shall be permitted to get into the possession of unauthorized persons. No information shall be revealed which might aid the offenders in identifying the informer.

This part sets forth the recordkeeping requirements and procedures governing the examination of records and persons in connection with any audit or other inquiry or investigation conducted for the purpose of ascertaining the correctness of any entry, for determining the liability of any person for duties and taxes due or which may be due, for determining liability for fines, penalties, and forfeitures, or for insuring compliance with the laws and regulations administered by Customs. It also contains provisions for the inspection, examination, and search of persons, vessels, aircraft, vehicles, and merchandise involved in importation, for the seizure of property, and for the forfeiture and sale of seized property. It also contains provisions for Customs enforcement of the controlled substances, narcotics and marihuana laws. Provisions relating to petitions for remission or mitigation of fines, penalties, and forfeitures incurred are contained in Part 171 of this chapter. [TDs 72-211, 79-159.]

Subpart A—Recordkeeping, Inspection, Examination, and Search

When used in § § 162.1a through 162.1i, the following terms shall have the meaning indicated:

(a) Records. "Records" means:

(1) Statements, declarations, books, papers, correspondence, accounts, technical data, automated record storage devices (e.g., magnetic discs and tapes), computer programs necessary to retrieve information in a usable form, and other documents which:

(i) Pertain to any importation, or to the information contained in the documents required by law or regulation under the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, in connection with the entry of merchandise;

(ii) Are of the type normally kept in the ordinary course of business; and

(iii) Are sufficiently detailed:

(A) To establish the right to make entry,

(B) To establish the correctness of any entry,

(C) To determine the liability of any person for duties and taxes due, or which may be due, the United States,

(D) To determine the liability of any person for fines, penalties, and forfeitures, and

(E) To determine whether the person has complied with the laws and regulations administered by the Customs Service; and

(2) Any other documents required under laws or regulations administered by the Customs Service.

(b) Third-party recordkeeper. "Third-party recordkeeper" means any Customs broker, attorney or accountant.

(c) Summons. "Summons" means any summons issued under this subpart which requires either the production of records or the giving of testimony, or both.

(d) Technical data. "Technical data" includes records, diagrams, and other data with regard to a business or an engineering or exploration operation, whether conducted inside or outside the United States, and whether on paper, cards, photographs, blueprints, tapes, microfiche, film, or other media. [TD 79-159.]

§ 162.1b Recordkeeping.

(a) Who must keep records. Any owner, importer, consignee, or their agent who imports, or knowingly causes to be imported, any merchandise into the Customs territory of the United States, shall make and keep records as defined in § 162.1a(a).

(b) Domestic transaction excluded. A person ordering merchandise from an importer in a domestic transaction does not knowingly cause merchandise to be imported and is not required to make and keep records unless:

(1) The terms and conditions of the importation are controlled by the person placing the order with the importer (e.g., the importer is not an independent contractor but the agent of the person placing the order); or

(2) Technical data, molds, equipment, other production assistance, material, components, or parts are furnished by the person placing the order with the importer with knowledge that they will be used in the manufacture or production of the imported merchandise. [TD 79-159.]

§ 162.1c Record retention period.

Unless a different period of time is provided elsewhere in the chapter with respect to a specific type of record, any record required or made under § 162.1b shall be kept for 5 years from the date of entry of the merchandise. [TD 79-159.]

§ 162.1d Examination of records and witnesses.

(a) Examination. During the course of any inquiry or investigation initiated:

(1) To determine the correctness of any entry, the liability of any person for duties and taxes due or which may be due, or any liability for fines, penalties and forfeitures, or

(2) To insure compliance with the laws and regulations administered by the Customs Service, any Customs officer, during normal business hours and, to the extent possible, at a time mutually convenient to the parties, may examine, or cause to be examined, any relevant records, statements, declarations, or other documents by providing the person with reasonable notice, either orally or in writing, which describes the records with reasonable specificity.

(b) Summons. During the course of any inquiry or investigation initiated for the reasons set forth in paragraph (a) of this section, the Commissioner of Customs or his designee, but no designee of the Commissioner below the rank of district director (area director in region II) or special agent in charge, upon reasonable notice, may issue a summons to:

(1) Any person who imported merchandise, or knowingly caused merchandise to be imported,

(2) Any officer, employee, or agent of a person who imported merchandise or knowingly caused merchandise to be imported,

(3) Any person having possession, custody, or care of records relating to importations, or

(4) Any other person deemed proper to either produce records or give testimony, or both.

(c) Transcript of testimony under oath. Testimony of any person taken under paragraph (a) or (b) of this section may be taken under oath and when so taken shall be transcribed. When testimony is transcribed, a copy shall be made available on request to the witness unless for good cause shown the issuing officer determines under 5 U.S.C. 555 that a copy should not be provided. In that event, the witness shall be limited to inspection of the official transcript of the testimony. The testimony or transcript may be in the form of a written statement under oath provided by the person examined at the request of a Customs officer. [TD 79-159.]

§ 162.1e Contents of summons.

(a) Summons for person. Any summons issued under § 162.1d(b) to compel appearance shall state:

(1) The name, title, and telephone number of the Customs officer before whom the appearance shall take place;

(2) The address where the person shall appear, not to exceed 100 miles from the place where the summons was served;

(3) The time of appearance; and

(4) The name, address, and telephone number of the Customs officer issuing the summons.

(b) Summons of records. If the summons requires the production of records, the summons, in addition to containing the information required by paragraph (a) of this section, shall describe the records with reasonable specificity. [TD 79-159.]

§ 162.1f Service of summons.

(a) Who may serve. Any Customs officer is authorized to serve a summons issued under this part.

(b) Method of service—(1) Natural person. Service upon a natural person shall be made by personal delivery.

(2) Corporation, partnership, or association. Service shall be made upon a domestic or foreign corporation, or upon a partnership or other unincorporated association which is subject to suit under a common name, by delivery to an officer, managing or general agent, or any other agent authorized to receive service of process.

(c) Certificate of service. On the hearing of an application for the enforcement of the summons, the certificate of service signed by the person serving the summons is prima facie evidence of the facts it states. [TD 79-159.]

§ 162.1g Third-party recordkeeper.

(a) Notice. Except as provided by paragraph (f) of this section, if a summons issued under § 162.1d to a third-party recordkeeper requires the production of records or testimony relating to import transactions of any person other than the person summoned, and the person is identified in the description of the records in the summons, notice of the summons shall be provided the person identified in the description of the records contained in the summons.

(b) Time of notice. Notice of service of summons required by paragraph (a) of this section should be provided by the issuing officer immediately after service of summons is obtained under § 162.1f, but in no event shall notice be given less than 10 business days before the date set in the summons for the examination of records or persons.

(c) Contents of notice. The issuing officer shall insure that any notice issued under this section includes a copy of the summons and contains the following information:

(1) That compliance with the summons may be stayed if written direction is given by the person receiving notice to the person summoned not to comply with the summons.

(2) That a copy of the direction not to comply and a copy of the summons shall be mailed by registered or certified mail to the person summoned at the addresses in the summons and to the issuing Customs officer.

(3) That the actions under paragraphs (c)(1) and (c)(2) of this section shall be accomplished not later than the day before the day fixed in the summons as the day upon which the records are to be examined or testimony given.

(d) Service of notice. The issuing officer shall serve the notice required by paragraph (a) of this section in the same manner as is prescribed in § 162.1f for the service of a summons, or by certified or registered mail to the last known address of the person entitled to notice.

(e) Examination precluded. If notice is required by this section, no records may be examined and no testimony may be taken before the date fixed in the summons as the date to examine the records or to take the testimony. If the owner, importer, consignee, or their agent, or any other person concerned issues a stay of the summons, no examination shall take place, and no testimony shall be taken, without the consent of the person staying compliance, or without an order issued by a U.S. district court.

(f) Exceptions to notice—(1) Personal liability for duties and taxes. This section does not apply to any summons served on the person, or any officer or employee of the person, with respect to whose liability for duties and taxes the summons is issued.

(2) Verification. This section does not apply to any summons issued to determine whether or not records of the import transactions of an identified person have been made or kept.

(3) Court order. Notice shall not be given if a U.S. district court determines, upon petition by the issuing Customs officer, that reasonable cause exists to believe giving notice may lead to an attempt:

(i) To conceal, destroy, or alter relevant records;

(ii) To prevent the communication of information from other persons through intimidation, bribery, or collusion; or

(iii) To flee to avoid prosecution, testifying, or production of records. [TD 79-159.]

§ 162.1h Enforcement of summons.

Whenever any person does not comply with a summons issued under § 162.1d, the issuing officer may request the appropriate U.S. attorney to seek an order requiring compliance from the U.S. district court for the district in which the person is found or resides or is doing business. [TD 79-159.]

§ 162.1i Failure to comply with court order.

(a) Importations prohibited. If a person fails to comply with a court order enforcing the summons and is adjudged guilty of contempt, the Commissioner of Customs, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, for so long as that person remains in contempt,

(1) May prohibit importation of merchandise by that person, directly or indirectly, or for that person's account, and

(2) May withhold delivery of merchandise imported by that person, directly, or indirectly, or for that person's account.

(b) Sale of merchandise. If any person remains in contempt for more than 1 year after the Commissioner issues instructions to withhold delivery, the merchandise shall be considered abandoned, and shall be sold at public auction or otherwise disposed of in accordance with Subpart E of this part. [TD 79-159.]

§ 162.3 Boarding and search of vessels.

(a) General authority. A Customs officer, for the purpose of examining the manifest and other documents and papers and examining, inspecting and searching the vessel, may at any time go on board:

(1) Any vessel at any place in the United States or within the Customs waters of the United States;

(2) Any American vessel on the high seas, when there is probable cause to believe that such vessel is violating or has violated the laws of the United States; or

(3) Any vessel within a Customs-enforcement area designated such under the provisions of the Anti-Smuggling Act (Act of August 5, 1935, as amended, 49 Stat. 517; 19 U.S.C. 1701, 1703-1711), but Customs officers shall not board a foreign vessel upon the high seas in contravention of any treaty with a foreign government, or in the absence of a special arrangement with the foreign government concerned.

(b) Search of army or navy transport. If the district director or special agent in charge believes that sufficient grounds exist to justify a search of any army or navy transport, the facts shall be reported to the commanding officer or master of such transport with a request that he cause a full search to be made, and advise the district director or special agent in charge of the result of such search. If, after the cargo has been discharged, passengers and their baggage landed, and the baggage of officers and crewmembers examined and passed, the district director or special agent in charge believes that sufficient grounds exist to justify the continuance of Customs supervision of the vessel, the commanding officer of the vessel shall be advised accordingly. (Secs. 455, 581, 46 Stat. 716, as amended, 747, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1455, 1581)

A Customs officer may search vessels for letters which may be on board or may have been conveyed contrary to law on board any vessel or on any post route, and shall seize such letters and deliver them to the nearest post office or detain them subject to the orders of the postal authorities. (Secs. 604, 605, 84 Stat. 728; 39 U.S.C. 604, 605)

§ 162.5 Search of arriving vehicles and aircraft.

A customs officer may stop any vehicle and board any aircraft arriving in the United States from a foreign country for the purpose of examining the manifest and other documents and papers and examining, inspecting, and searching the vehicle or aircraft. (Sec. 581, 46 Stat. 747, as amended, sec. 1109, 72 Stat. 799, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1581, 49 U.S.C. 1509)

§ 162.6 Search of persons, baggage, and merchandise.

All persons, baggage, and merchandise arriving in the Customs territory of the United States from places outside thereof are liable to inspection and search by a Customs officer. District directors and special agents in charge are authorized to cause inspection, examination, and search to be made under section 467, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1467), of persons, baggage, or merchandise, even though such persons, baggage, or merchandise were inspected, examined, searched, or taken on board the vessel at another port or place in the United States or the Virgin Islands, if such action is deemed necessary or appropriate. (Secs. 461, 496, 46 Stat. 717, 727, as amended, sec. 11, 52 Stat. 1083, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1461, 1467, 1496)

§ 162.7 Search of vehicles, persons, or beasts.

A Customs officer may stop, search, and examine any vehicle, person, or beast, or search any truck or envelope wherever found, in accordance with section 3061 of the Revised Statutes (19 U.S.C. 482).

Subpart B—Search Warrants

§ 162.11 Authority to procure warrants.

Customs officers are authorized to procure search warrants under the provisions of section 595, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1595). However, a Customs officer who is lawfully on any premises and is able to identify merchandise which has been imported contrary to law may seize such merchandise without a warrant. If merchandise is in a building on the boundary, see § 123.71 of this chapter.

§ 162.12 Service of search warrant.

A search warrant shall be served in person by the officer to whom it is issued and addressed. In serving a search warrant, the officer shall leave a copy of the warrant with the person in charge or possession of the premises, or in the absence of any person, the copy shall be left in some conspicuous place on the premises searched.

§ 162.13 Search of rooms not described in warrant.

When a Customs officer is acting under a warrant to search the rooms in a building occupied by persons named or described in the warrant, no search shall be made of any rooms in such building which are not described in the warrant as occupied by such persons.

§ 162.14 Removal of letters and other documents.

Customs officers to whom a warrant is issued to search for and seize merchandise are without authority to remove letters and other documents and records, unless they themselves are instruments of crime and are seized as an incident to a lawful arrest.

§ 162.15 Receipt for seized property.

A receipt for property seized under a search warrant shall be left with the person in charge or possession of the premises, or in the absence of any person, the receipt shall be left in some conspicuous place on the premises searched.

Subpart C—Seizures

(a) Seizures by Customs officers. Property may be seized, if available, by any Customs officer who has reasonable cause to believe that any law or regulation enforced by the Customs Service has been violated, by reason of which the property has become subject to seizure or forfeiture. This paragraph does not authorize seizure when seizure or forfeiture is restricted by law or regulation (see, for example, § 162.75), nor does it authorize a remedy other than seizure when seizure or forfeiture is required by law or regulation. A receipt for seized property shall be given at the time of seizure to the person from whom the property is seized. [TDs 77-136, 79-160.]

(b) Seizure by persons other than Customs officers. The district director may adopt a seizure made by a person other than a Customs officer if such district director has reasonable cause to believe that the property is subject to forfeiture under the Customs laws.

(c) Seizure by State official. If a duly constituted State official has seized any merchandise, vessel, aircraft, vehicle, or other conveyance under provisions of the statutes of such State, such property shall not be seized by a Customs officer unless the property is voluntarily turned over to him to be proceeded against under the Federal statutes. (R.S. 3061, secs. 581, 582, 602, 46 Stat. 747, as amended, 748, 754, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 482, 1581, 1582, 1602)

(a) General applicability. If it shall appear to any officer authorized to board conveyances and make seizures that there has been a violation of any law of the United States whereby a vessel, vehicle, aircraft, or other conveyance, or any merchandise on board of or imported by such vessel, vehicle, aircraft, or other conveyance is liable to forfeiture, the officer shall seize such conveyance and arrest any person engaged in such violation. Common carriers are exempted from seizure except under certain specified conditions as provided for in section 594, Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1594).

(b) Facilitating importation contrary to law. Every vessel, vehicle, animal, aircraft, or other conveyance which is being or has been used in, or to aid or facilitate, the importation, bringing in, unlading, landing, removal, concealing, harboring, or subsequent transportation of any article which is being, or has been introduced or attempted to be introduced into the United States contrary to law, shall be seized and held subject to forfeiture, and any person who directs, assists financially or otherwise, or is in any way concerned in any such unlawful activity shall be liable to a penalty equal to the value of the article or articles involved.

(c) Common carrier clearance. Unless specifically authorized by law, clearance of vessels within the common carrier exception of section 594, Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1594), shall not be refused for the purpose of collecting a fine imposed upon the master or owner, unless either of them was a party to the illegal act. The Government's remedy in such cases is limited to an action against the master or owner.

(d) Retention of vessel or vehicle pending penalty payment. If a penalty is incurred under section 460, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1460), by a person in charge of a vessel or vehicle and the vessel or vehicle is not subject to seizure, such vessel or vehicle may be held by the district director under section 594, Tariff Act of 1930, until the penalty incurred by the person in charge has been settled.

(e) Maritime Administration vessels; exemption from penalty. (1) When a vessel owned or chartered under bareboat charter by the Maritime Administration and operated for its account becomes liable for the payment of a penalty incurred for violation of the Customs revenue or navigation laws, clearance of the vessel shall not be withheld nor shall any proceedings be taken against the vessel itself looking to the enforcement of such liability.

(2) This exemption shall not in any way be considered to relieve the master of any such vessel or other person incurring such penalties from personal liability for payment. (Sec. 1, 62 Stat. 717, secs. 459, 460, 594, 46 Stat. 717, as amended, 751, secs. 1, 3-8, 49 Stat. 517, 518, 519, as amended, 520; 18 U.S.C. 546, 19 U.S.C. 1459, 1460, 1594, 1701, 1703-1708)

Subpart D—Procedure When Fine, Penalty, or Forfeiture Incurred

§ 162.31 Notice of fine, penalty, or forfeiture incurred.

(a) Notice. Written notice of any fine or penalty incurred as well as any liability to forfeiture shall be given to each party that the facts of record indicate has an interest in the claim or seized property. The notice shall also inform each interested party of his right to apply for relief under section 618, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1618), or any other applicable statute authorizing mitigation of penalties or remission of forfeitures, in accordance with Part 171 of this chapter. The notice shall inform any interested party in a case involving forfeiture of seized property that unless the petitioner provides an express agreement to defer judicial or administrative forfeiture proceedings until completion of the administrative process, the case will be referred promptly to the U.S. attorney for institution of judicial proceedings, or summary forfeiture proceedings will be begun. [TD 79-160.]

(b) Contents of notice. The notice shall contain the following: [TD 78-38.]

(1) The provisions of law alleged to have been violated;

(2) A description of the specific acts or omissions forming the basis of the alleged violations;

(3) If the alleged violations involve the entry or attempted entry of merchandise,

(i) A description of the merchandise and the circumstances of its entry or attempted entry, and

(ii) The identity of each entry, if specific entries are involved; and

(4) If the alleged violations involve a loss of revenue,

(i) The total loss of revenue and how it was computed, and

(ii) The loss of revenue attributable to each entry, if readily susceptible to calculation.

(c) Demand for deposit in case of smuggled articles of small value. In the case of smuggled articles of small value, demand shall be made for immediate deposit of an amount equivalent to the domestic value of the articles on account of the liability to a penalty incurred as distinct from liability of the goods to forfeiture. Such sum shall be deposited whether or not a petition for relief is filed in accordance with Part 171 of this chapter. A demand for deposit need not be made in connection with any liability incurred by the master of a vessel under the provisions of section 453, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1453).

§ 162.32 Where petition for relief not filed.

(a) Fines, penalties, and forfeitures. If any person who is liable for a fine, penalty, or claim for a monetary amount, or who has an interest in property subject to forfeiture, fails to petition for relief under Part 171 of this chapter, or fails to pay or to arrange to pay the fine or penalty within 60 days from the mailing date of the violation notice provided in § 162.31 (unless additional time is authorized for filing a petition, as specified below), the district director, after required collection action, if appropriate, shall refer the case promptly to the U.S. attorney unless the Commissioner of Customs expressly authorizes other action. If a penalty is assessed under section 592, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C.1592), and fewer than 180 days remain from the date of the penalty notice before the statute of limitations may be asserted as a defense, the district director may specify in the notice a reasonable period of time shorter than 60 days, but not less than 7 days, for the filing of a petition for relief. However, if there is at least 1 year before the statute of limitations may be asserted as a defense, a district director may extend the time for filing a petition, upon the request of the person who is liable for a fine or penalty, or who has an interest in property subject to forfeiture, in the following situations: [TD 79-160.]

(1) The person is seriously ill or is otherwise incapacitated and is unable to prepare or to assist in the preparation of a petition.

(2) The person is absent from the United States or was absent from the United States for 30 days or more during the 60-day filing period.

(3) Necessary evidence or a necessary witness is not available through no fault of the person.

(4) The case involves a complex legal or factual problem other than a classification, appraisement, or similar issue. Examples of the type of problem intended to be covered by this category are the need to examine voluminous records to learn the facts on which to base a petition or the need to determine legal responsibilities in a case involving numerous parties or numerous violations.

(5) The existence of unusual circumstances, such as a fire or other disaster, affecting the business of the person which requires the full attention of that person in order to overcome the effects of the unusual circumstances.

(6) Any other situation in which the district director determines that an extension of time for filing a petition is justified.

(b) Appraised value of seized property exceeds $10,000. If the appraised value of seized property exceeds $10,000 and neither a petition for relief in accordance with Part 171 of this chapter, nor an offer to pay the domestic value as provided for in § 162.44, is made within 60 days (unless additional time has been authorized under § 162.32(a)), the district director shall refer the case promptly to the U.S. attorney for the judicial district in which the seizure was made. (Secs. 603, 610, 46 Stat. 754, as amended, 755, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1603, 1610) [TDs 78-394, 79-160.]

Subpart E—Treatment of Seized Merchandise

§ 162.41 Merchandise entered by false invoice, declaration, other document or statement subject to forfeiture.

(a) Election to proceed against merchandise or value when forfeiture incurred. (1) When merchandise or the value thereof is subject to forfeiture under section 592, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1592), including any article seized under the provisions of section 499, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1499), the district director may elect to proceed against the merchandise or its domestic value. [TD 77-136.]

(2) If the merchandise is in the possession of an innocent purchaser, it shall not be seized. In such cases, or when the merchandise is not available for seizure, the district director shall proceed to recover the domestic value.

(3) In the case of a violation resulting solely in an actual or potential loss of revenue, the merchandise shall only be seized if the district director is satisfied that: [TD 77-148.]

(i) The violator appears to be insolvent or may soon become insolvent;

(ii) The violator or his assets appear to be beyond the jurisdiction of the United States; or

(iii) For some other reason, a claim for the domestic value of the merchandise would not protect the revenue.

(b) Claim for domestic value unpaid. If a claim for domestic value made by the district director is not paid or settled as prescribed in this part or in Part 171 of this chapter, the district director, after required collection action, shall refer the case promptly to the U.S. attorney.

(c) Liability for duties; liquidation of entries. (1)(i) When an entry is the subject of an investigation for possible violation of section 592, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1592), or of a penalty action established under that section, the district director, subject to the provisions of paragraph (c)(1)(ii) of this section, may liquidate the entry and collect duties before the conclusion of the investigation or final dispostion of the penalty action if he determines that liquidation would be in the interest of the Government.

(ii)(A) An entry not liquidated within 1 year from the date of entry or final withdrawal of all merchandise covered by a warehouse entry shall be deemed liquidated at the rate of duty, value, quantity, and amount of duties asserted at the time of entry by the importer, his consignee, or agent unless the time for liquidation is extended by the district director because—

(1) Information needed by Customs for the proper appraisement or classification of the merchandise is not available.

(2) The importer, his consignee, or agent requests an extension and demonstrates good cause why the extension should be granted, or

(3) The 1-year liquidation period is suspended as required by statute or court order.

(B) An entry not liquidated within 4 years from the date of entry or final withdrawal of all merchandise covered by a warehouse entry shall be deemed liquidated at the rate of duty, value, quantity, and amount of duties asserted at the time of entry by the importer, his consignee, or agent unless liquidation continues to be suspended by statute or court order. In that event, the entry shall be liquidated within 90 days after removal of the suspension.

(C) The district director promptly shall notify the importer or consignee concerned and any authorized agent and surety of the importer or consignee in writing of any extension or suspension of the liquidation period.

(2) When merchandise not covered by an entry is subject to section 592, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1592), a demand shall be made on the importer for payment of the duty estimated to be due on such merchandise.

(3) Any applicable internal revenue tax shall also be demanded unless the merchandise is to be, or has been forfeited. (R.S. 251, as amended, sec. 624, 46 Stat. 759 (19 U.S.C. 66, 1624).) [TDs 76-112, 79-160.]

§ 162.42 Proceedings by libel.

If seizure is made under a statute which provides that the property may be seized and proceeded against by libel, the summary forfeiture procedures set forth in §§ 162.45, 162.46, and 162.47 do not apply. Such cases shall be referred to the U.S. attorney. The district director may request the U.S. attorney to seek a decree of forfeiture providing for delivery of the property to the district director for sale or other appropriate disposition, if such property is not to be retained for official use.

(a) Property under seizure and subject to forfeiture. Seized property shall be appraised as required by section 606, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1606). The term "domestic value" as used therein shall mean the price at which such or similar property is freely offered for sale at the time and place of appraisement, in the same quantity or quantities as seized, and in the ordinary course of trade. If there is no market for the seized property at the place of appraisement, such value in the principal market nearest to the place of appraisement shall be reported.

(b) Property not under seizure. The basis for a claim for forfeiture value or for an assessment of a penalty relating to the forfeiture value of property not under seizure is the domestic value as defined in paragraph (a) of this section, except that the value shall be fixed as of the date of the violation. In the case of entered merchandise, the date of the violation shall be the date of the entry, or the date of the filing of the document, or the commission of the act forming the basis of the claim, whichever is later. [TD 79-160.]

(c) Prohibited importation. For the purpose of condemnation or forfeiture only, the value of all seized merchandise the importation of which is prohibited, shall be held not to exceed $10,000. However, seized merchandise, the importation of which is absolutely prohibited, shall be appraised at its foreign-market value, since such merchandise has no domestic value. (Secs. 606, 608, 46 Stat. 754, as amended, 755 as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1606, 1608) [TD 78-394.]

§ 162.44 Released on payment of appraised value.

(a) Value exceeding $50,000. Any offer to pay the appraised domestic value of seized merchandise in order to obtain the immediate release of property which was seized under the Customs laws and exceeding $50,000 in appraised domestic value, or which was seized under the navigation laws, shall be in writing, addressed to the Commissioner of Customs, and signed by the claimant or his attorney. It shall be submitted in duplicate to the district director for the district in which the property was seized. Proof of ownership shall be submitted with the application if the facts in the case make such action necessary. [TD 74-276.]

(b) Value not over $50,000—(1) Authority to accept offer. The district director is authorized to accept a written offer pursuant to section 614, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1614), to pay the appraised domestic value of property seized under the Customs laws and to release such property if:

(i) The appraised domestic value of the seized property does not exceed $50,000;

(ii) The district director is satisfied that the claimant has, in fact, a substantial interest in the property; and [TD 74-276.]

(iii) Entry of the seized property into the commerce of the United States is not prohibited by law. [TD 74-276.]

(2) Referral of offer. The district director shall refer to the Commissioner of Customs any offer where it appears that the claimant does not have a substantial interest in the seized property or where it appears it would not be in the best interest of the United States to accept.

(c) Retention of property. The district director shall retain custody of the property pending payment of the amount of the offer when the application is approved. (Sec. 614, 46 Stat. 757, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1614)

§ 162.45 Summary forfeiture where value not over $10,000: Property other than Schedule I controlled substances. Notice of seizure and sale.

(a) Contents. The notice required by section 607, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1607), of seizure and intent to forfeit and sell or otherwise dispose of according to law property not exceeding $10,000 in value shall: [TD 78-394.]

(1) Describe the property seized and in the case of motor vehicles, specify the motor and serial numbers;

(2) State the time, cause, and place of seizure;

(3) State that any person desiring to claim the property must appear at a designated place and file with the district director within 20 days from the date of the first publication of the notice a claim to such property and a bond in the sum of $250, in default of which the property will be disposed of in accordance with the law; and

(4) State the name and place of residence of the person to whom any vessel or merchandise seized for forfeiture under the navigation laws belongs or is consigned, if that information is known to the district director.

(b) Publication. (1) If the appraised value of any property in one seizure from one person other than Schedule I controlled substances (as defined in 21 U.S.C. 802(6)) exceeds $250, the notice shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation in the Customs district and the judicial district in which the property was seized for at least three successive weeks.

(2) In all other cases, except for Schedule I controlled substances (see § 162.45a), the notice shall be published by posting in a conspicuous place accessible to the public in the customhouse nearest the place of seizure and in the customhouse at the headquarters port for the Customs district, with the date of posting noted thereon, and shall be kept posted for at least three successive weeks. Articles of small value of the same class or kind included in two or more seizures shall be advertised as one unit. [TD 82-89.]

(c) Delay of publication. Publication of the notice of seizure and intent to summarily forfeit and dispose of goods valued not over $10,000 may be delayed for a period not to exceed 60 days in those cases where the district director has reason to believe that a petition for administrative relief in accord with Part 171 of this chapter will be filed.

§ 162.45a Summary forfeiture of Schedule I controlled substances.

The Controlled Substances Act (84 Stat. 1242, 21 U.S.C. 801) provides that all controlled substances in Schedule I (as defined in 21 U.S.C. 802(6) and 812) that are possessed, transferred, sold, or offered for sale in violation of the Act shall be deemed contraband and seized and summarily forfeited to the United States (21 U.S.C. 881(f)). By reference, the Controlled Substances Import and Export Act (21 U.S.C. 951) incorporates this contraband forfeiture provision. See 21 U.S.C. 965. Accordingly, in the case of a seizure of Schedule I controlled substances, the appropriate Regional Commissioner of Customs shall contact the appropriate Drug Enforcement Administration official responsible for issuing permits authorizing the importation of such substances (see 21 CFR 1312). If upon inquiry the Regional Commissioner or his designee is notified that no permit for lawful importation has been issued, he shall declare the seized substances contraband and forfeited pursuant to 21 U.S.C. 881(f). Inasmuch as such substances are deemed contraband, the notice procedures set forth in section 162.45 are inapplicable to the disposition of Schedule I substances.

§ 162.46 Summary forfeiture where value not over $10,000; Disposition of goods.

(a) General. If no petition for relief from the forfeiture is filed in accordance with the provisions of Part 171 of this chapter, or if a petition was filed and has been denied, and the property is not retained for official use, it shall be disposed of in accordance with section 609, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1609) or section 491(b), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1491(b)). [TDs 78-394, 79-159.]

(b) Articles required to be inspected by other Government agencies. Before seized drugs, insecticides, seeds, plants, nursery stock, and other articles required to be inspected by other Government agencies are sold, they shall be inspected by a representative of such agency to ascertain whether or not they meet the requirements of the laws and regulations of that agency, and if found not to meet such requirements, they shall be destroyed forthwith.

(c) Sale—(1) General. If the forfeited property is cleared for sale, it shall be sold in accordance with the applicable provisions of Part 127 of this chapter. The district director may postpone the sale of small seizures until he believes the proceeds of a consolidated sale will pay all expenses. [TD 77-12.]

(2) Transfer to another district for sale. Property shall be moved to and sold in such other Customs district as the Commissioner of Customs may direct pursuant to the provisions of section 611, Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1611), if:

(i) The laws of a State in which property is seized and forfeited prohibit the sale of such property; or

(ii) The Commissioner is of the opinion that the sale of forfeited property may be made more advantageously in another Customs district.

(d) Destruction. If, after summary forfeiture of property is completed, it appears that the proceeds of sale will not be sufficient to pay the costs of sale, the district director may order the destruction of the property. Any vessel or vehicle summarily forfeited for violation of any law respecting the Customs revenue may be destroyed in lieu of the sale thereof when such destruction is authorized by the Commissioner of Customs to protect the revenue.

(e) Disposition of distilled spirits, wines, and malt liquor. In addition to disposition by sale or destruction as provided for by this section, distilled spirits, wines, and malt liquor may be delivered:

(1) To any Government agency the Commissioner of Customs or his designee determines has a need for these articles for medical, scientific, or mechanical purposes, or for any other official purpose for which appropriated funds may be expended by a Government agency, or

(2) By gift to any charitable institution the Commissioner of Customs or his designee determines has a need for the articles for medical purposes. (Secs. 609, 611, 46 Stat. 755, as amended, sec. 5, 49 Stat. 519; 19 U.S.C. 1609, 1611, 1705 (R.S. 251, as amended, sec. 624, 46 Stat. 759 (19 U.S.C. 66, 1624))

§ 162.47 Claim for property subject to summary forfeiture.

(a) Filing of claim. Any person desiring to claim under the provisions of section 608, Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1608), seized property not exceeding $10,000 in value and subject to summary forfeiture, shall file a claim to such property with the district director within 20 days from the date of the first publication of the notice prescribed in section 162.45. [TD 78-394]

(b) Bond for costs. Except as provided in paragraph (e) of this section, the bond in the penal sum of $250 required by section 608, Tariff Act of 1930, to be filed with a claim for seized property shall be on Customs Form 4615. There shall be endorsed on the bond a list or schedule in substantially the following form which shall be signed by the claimant in the presence of the witnesses to the bond, and attested by the witnesses:

List or schedule containing a particular description of seized article, claim for which is covered by the within bond, to wit:

(c) Claimant not entitled to possession. The filing of a claim and the giving of a bond if required, pursuant to section 608, Tariff Act of 1930, shall not be construed to entitle the claimant to possession of the property. Such action only stops the summary forfeiture proceeding. [TD 81-1.]

(d) Report to the U.S. attorney. When the claim and bond if required, are filed within the 20-day period, the district director shall report the case to the U.S. attorney for the institution of condemnation proceedings. (Sec. 608, 46 Stat. 755, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1608) [TD 81-1.]

(e) Waiver of bond. Upon satisfactory proof of financial inability to post the bond, the district director shall waive the bond requirement for any person who claims an interest in the seized property. [TD 81-1.]

§ 162.48 Summary sale of perishable and other property valued not over $10,000.

Seized property which is perishable or otherwise enumerated in section 612, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1612), and is valued at not over $10,000 shall be advertised for sale and sold at public auction at the earliest possible date. The district director shall proceed to give notice by advertisement of the summary sale for such time as he considers reasonable. This notice shall be of sale only and not notice of seizure and intent to forfeit. The proceeds of the sale shall be held subject to the claims of parties in interest in the same manner as the seized property would have been subject to such claims. (Sec. 612, 46 Stat. 756, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1612) [TD 78-394]

§ 162.49 Forfeiture by court decree.

(a) Report to the U.S. attorney. When it is necessary to institute legal proceedings in order to forfeit seized property, or to forfeit the value of property subject to forfeiture, the district director or the special agent in charge of the area involved shall furnish a report to the U.S. attorney in accordance with the provisions of section 603, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1603).

(b) Bonding of seized property. When a claimant desires to file a bond for the release of seized property which is the subject of a court proceeding, he shall be referred to the U.S. attorney. The Government is entitled to recover the penal sum of the bond if forfeiture is then decreed. (Sec. 201, 72 Stat. 1412; 26 U.S.C. 5688(c))

§ 162.50 Forfeiture by court decree: Disposition.

(a) Sale. Forfeited property decreed by the court for sale or disposition by the district director shall be disposed of in the same manner as property summarily forfeited. (See § 162.46.)

(b) Transfer to other districts for sale. If the laws of the State in which property is seized and forfeited prohibit the sale of such property, or if the Commissioner of Customs is of the opinion that the sale of forfeited property may be made more advantageously in another Customs district, application may be made to the court to permit disposition in accordance with the provisions of section 611, Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1611). If the court permits such disposition, the property shall be moved to and sold in such other district as the Commissioner may direct provided it has been cleared for sale.

(c) Destruction—(1) Proceeds of sale not sufficient. Property forfeited under a decree of any court may be destroyed if it is provided in the decree of forfeiture that the property shall be delivered to the Secretary of the Treasury or the Commissioner of Customs for disposition in accordance with section 611, Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1611).

(2) For protection of the revenue. Any vessel or vehicle forfeited under a decree of any court for violation of any law respecting the Customs revenue may be destroyed in lieu of sale when such destruction is authorized by the Commissioner of Customs to protect the revenue if it is provided in the decree of forfeiture that the property shall be delivered to the Secretary of the Treasury or Commissioner of Customs for disposition under the provisions of 19 U.S.C. 1705. (Sec. 611, 46 Stat. 755, sec. 5, 49 Stat. 519; 19 U.S.C. 1611, 1705)

§ 162.51 Disposition of proceeds of sale of property seized and forfeited other than under 19 U.S.C. 1592.

(a) Order of payment of expenses incurred. (1) When application for remission and restoration is filed and approved. Section 613 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1613), and § 171.41 of this chapter authorize the filing of an application for remission of the forfeiture and restoration of the proceeds from the sale of seized and forfeited property. If the application is filed within 3 months after the date of sale and is approved, the proceeds of the sale, or any part thereof, shall be restored to the applicant after deducting the following charges in the order named:

(i) Internal revenue taxes.

(ii) Marshal's fees and court costs.

(iii) Expenses of advertising and sale.

(iv) Expenses of cartage, storage, and labor. When the proceeds are insufficient to pay these expenses fully, they shall be paid pro rata.

(v) Duties.

(vi) Any sum due to satisfy a lien for freight, charges, or contributions in general average, provided notice of the lien has been given in the manner prescribed by law.

(2) When no application for remission and restoration is filed or the application is denied. If no application for remission and restoration is filed within 3 months after the date of sale of seized and forfeited property, of if the application is denied, the proceeds of the sale shall be disbursed in the following order:

(i) Internal revenue taxes.

(ii) Marshal's fees and court costs.

(iii) Expenses of advertising and sale.

(iv) Expenses of cartage, storage, and labor, except that expenses incurred for Government labor and storage on Government-owned or leased property shall not be included. When the proceeds are insufficient to pay expenses of cartage, storage, and labor fully, they shall be paid pro rata.

(v) Any sum due to satisfy a lien for freight, charges, or contributions in general average, provided notice of the lien has been given in the manner prescribed by law.

(vi) The residue, if any, shall be deposited with the Treasurer of the United States as a customs or navigation fine. [TD 79-160.]

(b) Transfer of seized and forfeited property to another Federal agency. In the event that the seized and forfeited property has been authorized for transfer to another Federal agency for official use, the receiving agency shall reimburse Customs for the costs incurred in moving and storing the property from the date of seizure to the date of delivery. [TD 79-160.]

§ 162.52 Disposition of proceeds of sale of property seized and forfeited under 19 U.S.C. 1592.

(a) Order of disposition of proceeds. Section 613 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1613), provides for the disposition of the proceeds from the sale of property seized and forfeited under section 592, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1592), as provided for in § 162.75 of this part. Distribution shall be made in the following order:

(1) Internal revenue taxes.

(2) Marshal's fees and court costs.

(3) Expenses of advertising and sale.

(4) Expenses of cartage, storage, and labor. When proceeds are insufficient to pay these expenses fully, they shall be paid pro rata.

(5) Duties.

(6) Any sum due to satisfy a lien for freight, charges, or contributions in general average, provided notice of the lien has been given in the manner prescribed by law.

(7) The monetary penalty assessed under 19 U.S.C. 1592.

(8) The remaining proceeds, if any, shall be paid to the appropriate party-in-interest as provided in paragraph (b).

(b) Determination of appropriate party-in-interest. (1) If the property is subject to a judicial forfeiture proceeding and if it appears at the time of this proceeding that 2 or more parties claim an interest in the remaining proceeds referred to in paragraph (a)(8), each of the parties shall be joined in the proceeding so that the issue of proper distribution may be determined by the court.

(2) If the property is sold under the summary forfeiture procedure, or if the court has not specified the manner of distribution, the district director shall hold the excess proceeds for 3 months from the date of the sale to allow any party-in-interest to claim the proceeds.

(3) If there is one alleged violator and no petition has been filed for the excess proceeds by another person, the excess proceeds shall be disbursed to the person against whom the penalty was assessed.

(4) If there are 2 or more persons with claims or possible claims to the excess proceeds, the district director shall attempt to obtain a written agreement from the parties as to the distribution. If an agreement cannot be reached, the matter shall be referred to Customs Headquarters for determination.

(c) Official use of seized and forfeited property. If the seized and forfeited property has been authorized for official use, its retention or delivery shall be regarded as a "sale" for the purposes of section 613, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1613). The appropriation available to the receiving agency for the purchase, hire, operation, maintenance, and repair of the type of property involved shall be distributed as provided in paragraphs (a) and (b). [TD 79-160.]

Subpart F—Controlled Substances, Narcotics, and Marihuana

§ 162.61 Importing and exporting controlled substances.

It shall be unlawful to import to or export from the United States any controlled substance or narcotic drug listed in schedules I through V of the Controlled Substances Act (Sec. 202, 84 Stat. 1247; 21 U.S.C. 812), unless there has been compliance with the provisions of said Act, the Controlled Substances Import and Export Act and the regulations of the Drug Enforcement Administration. (Secs. 1002, 1003, 1007, 84 Stat. 1285, 1286, 1288; 21 U.S.C. 952, 953, 957) [TD 78-99.]

§ 162.62 Permissible controlled substances on vessels, aircraft, and individuals.

Upon compliance with the provisions of the Controlled Substances Act (84 Stat. 1242; 21 U.S.C. 801), the Controlled Substances Import and Export Act (84 Stat. 1285; 21 U.S.C. 951), and the regulations of the Drug Enforcement Administration (21 CFR 1301.28, 1311.27), controlled substances listed in schedules I through V of the Controlled Substances Act may be held: [TD 78-99.]

(a) On vessels engaged in international trade in medicine chests and dispensaries.

(b) In aircraft operated by an air carrier under a certificate or permit issued by the Federal Aviation Administration for stocking in medicine chests and first aid packets.

(c) By an individual where lawfully obtained for personal medical use or for administration to an animal accompanying him to enter or depart the United States. (Secs. 1002, 1006, 84 Stat. 1285, 1288; 21 U.S.C. 952, 956)

§ 162.63 Arrests and seizures.

Arrests and seizures under the Controlled Substances Act (84 Stat. 1242, 21 U.S.C. 801) and the Controlled Substances Import and Export Act (84 Stat. 1285, 21 U.S.C. 951), shall be handled in the same manner as other Customs arrests and seizures. However, Schedule I controlled substances (as defined in 21 U.S.C. 802(6) and 812) imported contrary to law shall be seized and forfeited in the manner provided in the Controlled Substances Act (21 U.S.C. 881(f)). See § 162.45a. (Sec. 511(d), 1016, 84 Stat. 1277, 1291; 21 U.S.C. 881(d), 966) [TD 82-89.]

§ 162.64 Custody of controlled substances.

All controlled substances seized by a Customs officer shall be delivered immediately into the custody of the district director in whose district the seizure is made, together with a full report of the circumstances of the seizure. (Sec. 511(d), 1016, 84 Stat. 1277, 1291; 21 U.S.C. 881(d), 966)

§ 162.65 Penalties for failure to manifest narcotic drugs or marihuana.

(a) Cargo or baggage containing unmanifested narcotic drugs or marihuana. When a package of regular cargo or a passenger's baggage otherwise properly manifested is found to contain any narcotic drug or marihuana imported for sale or other commercial purpose and not shown as such on the manifest, the penalties prescribed in section 584, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1584), shall be assessed with respect to such narcotic drug or marihuana.

(b) Unmanifested narcotic drugs. When an unmanifested narcotic drug is found on board of, or after having been unladen from, a vessel or vehicle the penalties prescribed in section 584, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1584), shall be assessed. The penalty shall be applied without exception and without regard to any question of negligence or responsibility.

(c) Notice and demand for payment of penalty. A written notice and demand for payment of the penalty for failure to manifest incurred under section 584, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1584), shall be sent to the master of the vessel, or commander of the aircraft, or the person in charge of the vehicle and to the owner of the vessel, aircraft, or vehicle, or any person directly or indirectly responsible. In the case of a vessel, if bond has been given, the notice also shall be sent to each surety. When a petition for relief from such penalty has been filed in accordance with Part 171 of this chapter, and a decision has been made thereon, the district director shall send notice of such decision to the interested persons together with a demand for any payment required under the terms of such decision. [TD 79-160.]

(d) Referral to the U.S. attorney. If the penalty incurred under section 584, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, is not paid, or a petition is not filed as provided in Part 171 of this chapter, or if payment is not made in accordance with the decision on a petition or a supplemental petition, the district director, after required collection action, shall refer the case to the U.S. attorney. [TD 79-160.]

(e) Withholding clearance of vessel. Where a penalty has been incurred under section 584, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, for failure to manifest narcotic drugs, clearance of the vessel involved shall be withheld until the penalty is paid or a bond satisfactory to the district director is given for the payment thereof unless

(1) The narcotics were discovered in a passenger's baggage and the district director is satisfied that neither the master nor any of the officers nor the owner of the vessel knew or had any reason to know or suspect that the narcotics had been on board the vessel, or

(2) Prior authority for the clearance without payment of the penalty or the furnishing of the bond is obtained from the Bureau. (Sec. 584, 46 Stat. 748, as amended, secs. 1010, 1011, 84 Stat. 1290; 19 U.S.C. 1584, 21 U.S.C. 960, 961)

§ 162.66 Penalties for unlading narcotic drugs or marihuana without a permit.

In every case where a narcotic drug or marihuana is unladen without a permit, the penalties prescribed in section 453, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1453), shall be assessed. Penalties shall be assessed under this section when a package of regular cargo or a passenger's baggage otherwise covered by a permit to unlade is found to contain any narcotic drug or marihuana imported for sale or other commercial purpose and not specifically covered by a permit to unlade.

Subpart G—Special Procedures for Certain Violations

§ 162.70 Applicability.

(a) The provisions of this subpart apply only to fines, penalties, or forfeitures incurred for the following violations of the customs laws:

(1) Violations of sections 466 and 584(a)(1), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1466, 1584(a)(1)), that occur after October 3, 1978, and

(2) Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, violations of section 592, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1592), with respect to which proceedings have commenced after December 31, 1978. For purposes of this subparagraph, a proceeding commences with the issuance of a prepenalty notice or, if no prepenalty notice is issued, with the issuance of a notice of a claim for a monetary penalty.

(b) The provisions of this subpart do not apply to alleged intentional violations of 19 U.S.C. 1592 if the alleged violation—

(1) Involves television receivers that are the products of Japan and were or are the subject of antidumping proceedings (see § 153.46 of this chapter),

(2) Occurred before October 3, 1978, and

(3) Was the subject of a Customs investigation begun before October 3, 1978.

(c) The provisions of Subparts A through F of this part shall apply to the violations referred to in paragraph (a) of this section unless this subpart specifically provides otherwise. [TD 79-160.]

§ 162.71 Definitions.

When used in this subpart, the following terms shall have the meanings indicated:

(a) Loss of duties. "Loss of duties" means the duties of which the Government is or may be deprived by reason of the violation and includes both actual and potential loss of duties.

(1) Actual loss of duties. "Actual loss of duties" means the duties of which the Government has been deprived by reason of the violation in respect of entries on which liquidation had become final.

(2) Potential loss of duties. "Potential loss of duties" means the duties of which the Government tentatively was deprived by reason of the violation in respect of entries on which liquidation had not become final.

(b) Noncommercial importation. "Noncommercial importation" means merchandise imported by a traveler for an individual's personal or household use, or as a gift, but not imported for sale or other commercial purposes.

(c) Clerical error. "Clerical error" means an error in the preparation, assembly, or submission of a document which results when a person intends to do one thing but does something else. It includes, for example, errors in transcribing numbers, errors in arithmetic, and the failure to assemble all the documents in a record.

(d) Mistake of fact. "Mistake of fact" means an action based upon a belief by a person that the material facts are other than they really are; it can be that a fact exists but is unknown to the person, or that he believes something is a fact when in reality it is not. An action is not a mistake of fact if the erroneous belief is caused by the neglect of a legal duty. [TD 79-160.]

§ 162.72 Penalties under sections 466 and 584(a)(1), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.

(a) Foreign repairs and equipment purchases; election to proceed. If the district director has reasonable cause to believe that a violation of section 466, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1466), has occurred, he may elect to proceed against the vessel or aircraft, or against the violator for forfeiture of a monetary amount up to the domestic value of the vessel or aircraft.

(b) Lack of manifest or discrepancy in manifest. The penalties for violation of section 584(a)(1), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1584(a)(1)), are as follows:

(1) A penalty of $500 against the master of a vessel, the commander of an aircraft, or the person in charge of a vehicle bound to the United States who does not produce the manifest on demand.

(2) A penalty of $500 against the master of a vessel, the commander of an aircraft, the person in charge of a vehicle, or the owner of the vessel, aircraft, or vehicle, or any person directly or indirectly responsible for the discrepancy, if any merchandise described in the manifest is not found on board (a "shortage").

(3)(i) A penalty equal to the lesser of $10,000 or the domestic value of merchandise found on board of or after having been unladen from a vessel or vehicle, or

(ii) A penalty of $500 (see § 6.11, Customs Regulations) if merchandise is found on board of or after having been unladen from an aircraft—if the merchandise is not included or described in the manifest or does not agree with the manifest (an "overage").

(iii) Unmanifested merchandise beonging to or consigned to the master or crew of the vessel, the commander or crew of the aircraft, or to the owner or person in charge of the vehicle, also shall be subject to forfeiture.

The appropriate of these penalties may be assessed against the master or crew of the vessel, the commander or crew of the aircraft, the person in charge of the vehicle, the owner of the vessel, aircraft, or vehicle, or any person directly or indirectly responsible for the discrepancy.

(c) Exception. There is no violation, and consequently no penalty incurred under paragraph (b), in the circumstances described in §§ 4.12(a)(5) and 6.7(h)(5) of this chapter. [TD 79-160.]

§ 162.73 Penalties under section 592, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.

(a) Maximum penalty without prior disclosure. If the person concerned has not made a prior disclosure as provided in section 162.74, the monetary penalty under section 592, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1592), shall not exceed:

(1) For fraudulent violations, the domestic value of the merchandise;

(2) For grossly negligent violations,

(i) The lesser of the domestic value of the merchandise or four times the loss of duties, or

(ii) If there is no loss of duties, 40 percent of the dutiable value of the merchandise; and

(3) For negligent violations,

(i) The lesser of the domestic value of the merchandise or two times the loss of duties, or

(ii) If there is no loss of duties, 20 percent of the dutiable value of the merchandise.

(b) Maximum penalty with prior disclosure. If the person concerned has made a prior disclosure, the monetary penalty shall not exceed:

(1) For fraudulent violations,

(i) One times the loss of duties, or

(ii) If there is no loss of duties, 10 percent of the dutiable value of the merchandise; and

(2) For grossly negligent and negligent violations, the interest on any loss of duties. The interest shall be computed from the date of liquidation at the prevailing rate of interest applied under section 6621, Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended (26 U.S.C. 6621).

(c) Exception; clerical error or mistake of fact. There is no violation and, consequently, no penalty incurred, if the falsity or omission is due solely to clerical error or mistake of fact, unless the error or mistake is part of the pattern of negligent conduct. [TD 79-160.]

§ 162.74 Prior disclosure.

(a) In general. A prior disclosure is made if the person concerned discloses the circumstances of a violation of section 592, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1592), before, or without knowledge of, the commencement of a formal investigation of that violation, and makes a tender of any actual loss of duties in accordance with paragraph (e) of this section. If a prior disclosure is made, the maximum penalties shall be as set forth in § 162.73(b).

(b) Referral for investigation. Any disclosure of a violation shall be referred immediately by the district director to the appropriate field office of the Office of Investigations. Upon completion of its investigation, the field office immediately shall return the disclosure, together with its report, to the district director for appropriate action.

(c) Commencement of formal investigation. A formal investigation of a violation is considered to be commenced:

(1) In the case of a referral by an import specialist or other Customs officer of a matter involving the disclosing party and the disclosed information for investigation of a possible violation of 19 U.S.C. 1592 on the date the matter was referred to the Office of Investigations;

(2) In the case of referral by an import specialist or other Customs officer of a request for value, classification or other technical investigation, on the date recorded in writing by an investigating agent as the date on which he discovered facts and circumstances which caused him to believe that the possibility of a violation of 19 U.S.C. 1592 existed with respect to the disclosing party and the disclosed information;

(3) In the case of an investigation prompted by an individual other than a Customs officer with regard to the disclosing party and the disclosed information, on the date recorded on the Memorandum of Information Received, Customs Form 4621, by the Office of Investigations as the date on which the information was received;

(4) In the case of an ongoing investigation of a possible violation of 19 U.S.C. 1592 not involving the disclosing party and the information disclosed, on the date recorded in writing by an investigating agent as the date on which he discovered facts and circumstances which caused him to believe that the possibility of a violation of 19 U.S.C. 1592 existed with respect to the disclosing party and the disclosed information;

(5) In the case of a general ongoing investigation of a specific class of goods or industry, on the date recorded by the Office of Investigations as the date on which it determined to direct its investigation specifically to the disclosing party and the disclosed information; and

(6) In all other cases, on the date recorded in a Report of Investigation, Customs Form 23, as the date on which an investigator was assigned to investigate possible violations of 19 U.S.C. 1592 by the disclosing party with respect to the disclosed information.

(d) Proof of lack of knowledge. A person who claims a lack of knowledge of the commencement of a formal investigation has the burden to prove that lack of knowledge.

(e) Tender of actual loss of duties. A person who discloses the circumstances of the violation shall tender any actual loss of duties at the time of disclosure, or within 30 days after the district director notifies the person in writing of his calculation of the actual loss of duties. The district director may extend the period if he determines there is good cause to do so.

(f) Undisclosed violations. Undisclosed violations discovered by Customs as the result of an investigation of a prior disclosure of another violation shall not be entitled to treatment under the prior disclosure provisions.

(g) Minor violations. The district director shall not refer a disclosed violation for investigation or establish a penalty case if:

(1) The disclosed violation involves a loss of duties of $500 or less,

(2) Any actual loss of duties has been deposited,

(3) There is no evidence that the violation was fraudulent, and

(4) There are no other compelling reasons for a penalty proceeding, such as a history of similar violations. [TD 79-160.]

§ 162.75 Seizures limited under section 592, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.

(a) When authorized. Merchandise may be seized for violation of section 592, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1592) only if the district director has reasonable cause to believe that a person has violated the statute and that:

(1) The person is insolvent,

(2) The person is beyond the jurisdiction of the United States,

(3) Seizure otherwise is essential to protect the revenue, or

(4) Seizure is essential to prevent the introduction of prohibited or restricted merchandise into the Customs territory of the United States.

(b) No seizure if prior disclosure. Under no circumstances shall merchandise be seized under the authority of 19 U.S.C. 1592 if there has been a prior disclosure of the violation. This paragraph does not limit seizures under the authority of any other applicable law or regulation.

(c) Seizure notice. If merchandise is seized, the district director shall promptly issue a written notice of seizure to the person concerned and to any other person the facts of record indicate has an interest in the merchandise. The seizure notice shall contain the information required by § 162.31 and shall state why the seizure was necessary.

(d) Release of seized merchandise—(1) To person from whom seized. The district director shall return seized merchandise to the person from whom seized upon the deposit of security, in a form acceptable to the district director, equal to the maximum penalty which may be assessed, if the entry of the merchandise into the commerce of the United States is not prohibited or restricted.

(2) To others. The district director may release seized merchandise to any other person upon the deposit of adequate security, in a form acceptable to the district director, if the entry of the merchandise into the commerce of the United States is not prohibited or restricted, and if:

(i) The district director is satisfied that the person has a substantial interest in the merchandise, and

(ii) The person submits either an agreement to hold the United States and its officers and employees harmless, or a release from the owner and/or the person from whom the merchandise was seized.

(3) Forfeiture. If neither a petition for relief is filed in accordance with Part 171 of this chapter, nor the monetary penalty paid within the time provided by law, the district director immediately shall:

(1) Report the facts to the U.S. attorney for the judicial district in which the seizure was made, if the appraised value of the seized merchandise exceeds $10,000 or

(2) Proceed under the summary forfeiture provisions of Subpart E of this part, if the appraised value does not exceed $10,000. [TD 79-160.]

§ 162.76 Prepenalty notice for violations of sections 466 or 584(a)(1), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.

(a) When required. If the district director has reasonable cause to believe that a violation of section 466 or 584(a)(1), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1466, 1584(a)(1)), has occurred and determines that further proceedings are warranted, he shall issue to the person concerned a written notice of his intent to issue a penalty claim or a claim of forfeiture, as appropriate.

(b) Contents—(1) Facts of violation. The prepenalty notice shall:

(i) Describe the merchandise, if applicable,

(ii) Set forth the details of the error in the manifest, if applicable,

(iii) Specify all laws and regulations allegedly violated,

(iv) Describe all material facts and circumstances which establish the alleged violation, and

(v) State the estimated loss of duties, if any, and, taking into account all circumstances, the amount of the proposed penalty claim or claim of forfeiture, as appropriate.

(2) Right to make presentation. The prepenalty notice also shall inform the person of his right to make a written and an oral presentation within 30 days of the mailing of the notice (or such shorter period as may be prescribed under § 162.78) as to why a penalty claim or claim of forfeiture should not be issued or, if issued and it involves a monetary amount, why it should be in a lesser amount than proposed.

(c) Exception. No prepenalty notice shall be issued if the proposed penalty for an alleged violation of 19 U.S.C. 1584(a)(1) is $500 or less. [TD 79-160.]

§ 162.77 Prepenalty notice for violations of section 592, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.

(a) When required. If the district director has reasonable cause to believe that a violation of section 592, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1592), has occurred, and determines that further proceedings are warranted, he shall issue to the person concerned a notice of his intent to issue a claim for a monetary penalty. The prepenalty notice shall be issued whether or not a seizure has been made.

(b) Contents—(1) Facts of violation. The prepenalty notice shall:

(i) Describe the merchandise,

(ii) Set forth the details of the entry or introduction, the attempted entry or introduction, or the aiding or abetting of the entry, introduction, or attempt,

(iii) Specify all laws and regulations allegedly violated,

(iv) Disclose all material facts which establish the alleged violation,

(v) State whether the alleged violation occurred as the result of fraud, gross negligence, or negligence, and

(vi) State the estimated loss of duties, if any, and, taking into account all circumstances, the amount of the proposed monetary penalty.

(2) Right to make presentations. The prepenalty notice also shall inform the person of his right to make an oral and a written presentation within 30 days of the mailing of the notice (or such shorter period as may be prescribed under § 162.78) as to why a claim for a monetary penalty should not be issued or, if issued, why it should be in a lesser amount than proposed.

(c) Exceptions. A prepenalty notice shall not be issued if:

(1) The claim is for $1,000 or less, or

(2) The violation occurred with respect to a noncommercial importation. [TD 79-160.]

§ 162.78 Presentations responding to prepenalty notice.

(a) Time within which to respond. Unless a shorter period is specified in the prepenalty notice or an extension is given in accordance with paragraph (b) of this section, the named person shall have 30 days from the date of mailing of the prepenalty notice to make a written and an oral presentation. The district director may specify a shorter reasonable period of time, but not less than 7 days, if less than 1 year remains before the statute of limitations may be asserted as a defense. If a period of fewer than 30 days is specified, the district director, if possible, shall inform the named person of the prepenalty notice and its contents by telephone at or about the time of issuance.

(b) Extensions. If at least 1 year remains before the statute of limitations may be asserted as a defense, the district director, upon written request, may extend the time for filing a written presentation, or making an oral presentation, or both, for any of the reasons given in § 162.32(a) relating to extensions of time for filing petitions for relief. Other extensions may be authorized only by Headquarters.

(c) Form and contents of written presentation. The written presentation need not be in any particular form, but shall contain information sufficient to indicate that it is the written presentation in response to the prepenalty notice. It should contain answers to the allegations in the prepenalty notice and set forth the reasons why the person believes the claim should not be issued or, if issued, why it should be in a lesser amount than proposed.

§ 162.79 Determination as to violation.

(a) No violation. If, after considering any presentations made in response to the prepenalty notice, the district director determines that there was no violation by the person named in the prepenalty notice, he promptly shall notify the person in writing of that determination and that no claim for a monetary penalty will be issued.

(b) Violation—(1) Written notice of claim. If, after considering any presentations made in response to the prepenalty notice, the district director determines that there was a violation by the person named in the prepenalty notice, he promptly shall issue a written notice of a claim for a monetary penalty to that person.

(2) Contents. The notice of a claim for a monetary penalty shall contain any changes in the information provided in the prepenalty notice, and shall inform the person of his right to apply for relief under section 618, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1618), in accordance with Part 171 of this chapter. If the person to whom the notice is issued is liable for any actual loss of duties recoverable under § 162.79b, the notice shall identify the entries involved, state the amount of duties payable and how it was calculated, and require the person to deposit or arrange for payment of the duties within 30 days of the date of the notice. [TD 79-160.]

§ 162.79a Other notice.

If no prepenalty notice is issued, a written notice of any monetary penalty incurred shall contain the information required under § 162.76(b)(1) or § 162.77(b)(1), except that the notice shall state the amount of the claim for a monetary penalty. The notice also shall inform the person of his right to apply for relief under section 618, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1618), in accordance with Part 171 of this chapter. [TD 79-160.]

§ 162.79b Recovery of actual loss of duties.

Whether or not a monetary penalty is assessed under this subpart, the district director shall require the deposit of any actual loss of duties resulting from a violation of section 592, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1592), notwithstanding that the liquidation of the entry to which the loss is attributable has become final. If a person is liable for the payment of actual loss of duties in any case in which a monetary penalty is not assessed or a written notice of claim of monetary penalty is not issued, the district director shall issue a written notice to the person of the liability for the actual loss of duties. The notice shall identify the merchandise and entries involved, state the loss of duties and how it was calculated, and require the person to deposit or arrange for payment of the duties within 30 days from the date of the notice. Any determination of actual loss of duties under this section is subject to review upon written application to the Commissioner of Customs. [TD 79-160.]

This part contains provisions relating to filing of petitions and action upon petitions for relief from fines, penalties, and forfeitures incurred, and petitions for the restoration of proceeds from sale of seized and forfeited property. [70-249.]

Subpart A—General Provisions

§ 171.1 Special procedures for certain liabilities incurred under section 592, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.

(a) Voluntary disclosure. Any voluntary disclosure of violations of Customs laws which may result in a loss of revenue and which would subject either the merchandise involved or its value to forfeiture under section 592, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1592), accompanied by a tender of the loss of revenue, (except as provided in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph), shall be immediately referred by the district director to the appropriate field office of the Office of Investigations. Upon the completion of its invesitgation, the field office shall immediately return the disclosure, together with its report, to the district director for appropriate action. [TDs 75-21, 78-151.]

(1) Mitigation of statutory liability. If appropriate investigation establishes that no Customs investigation had been initiated with respect to the disclosed information prior to such disclosure, the disclosure shall be treated as voluntary for purposes of this paragraph. For purposes of this subparagraph an investigation is considered to be initiated with respect to disclosed information: [TDs 75-21, 75-234.]

(i) In the case of a referral by an import specialist or other Customs officer of a matter involving the disclosing party and the disclosed information for investigation of a possible violation of 19 U.S.C. 1592, on the date such matter was referred to the Office of Investigations; [TD 75-234.]

(ii) In the case of a referral by an import specialist or other Customs officer of a request for value, classification or other technical investigation, on the date recorded in writing by an investigating agent as the date on which he discovered facts and circumstances which caused him to believe that the possibility of a violation of 19 U.S.C. 1592 existed with respect to the disclosing party and the disclosed information; [TD 75-234.]

(iii) In the case of an investigation prompted by an individual other than a Customs officer with regard to the disclosing party and the disclosed information, on the date recorded on the Memorandum of Information Received by the Office of Investigations as the date on which such information was received; [TD 75-234.]

(iv) In the case of an ongoing investigation of a possible violation of 19 U.S.C. 1592 not involving the disclosing party and the information disclosed, on the date recorded in writing by an investigating agent as the date on which he discovered facts and circumstances which caused him to believe that the possibility of a violation of 19 U.S.C. 1592 existed with respect to the disclosing party and the disclosed information; [TD 75-234.]

(v) In the case of a general ongoing investigation of a specific class of goods or industry, on the date recorded by the Office of Investigations as the date on which it determined to direct its investigation specifically to the disclosing party and the disclosed information; and [TD 75-234.]

(vi) In all other cases, on the date recorded in a Report of Investigation as the date on which an investigator was assigned to investigate possible violations of 19 U.S.C. 1592 by the disclosing party with respect to the disclosed information. [TD 75-234.]

Although a notice of penalty shall be issued with respect to a disclosed violation, as required by law, it shall be the established policy of the Customs Service, upon the filing of a petition for relief from such penalty, to mitigate the statutory liability to an amount not to exceed one time the total loss of revenue, provided the actual loss of revenue is deposited as withheld duties, regardless of whether the disclosed violation was intentional when committed. Further mitigation beyond the foregoing maximum may be justified in individual cases on the basis of relevant circumstances, such as diligence in disclosing a violation following its discovery.

(2) Detection of undisclosed violations resulting from a voluntary disclosure. Undisclosed violations discovered by Customs as a result of the investigation of a voluntary disclosure will be treated in the same manner as set forth above unless it is determined that such other violations were intentional when committed. [TDs 75-21, 78-151.]

(3) Voluntary disclosures unaccompanied by tender of loss of revenue. Any voluntary disclosure of violations of Customs laws which may result in a loss of revenue and which would subject the merchandise involved or its value to forfeiture under 19 U.S.C. 1592 will be accepted and processed under the provisions of this paragraph when unaccompanied by a tender of the loss of revenue, provided (1) the disclosing party alleges that the loss of revenue cannot be ascertained at the time of the disclosure, and (2) the disclosing party agrees to ascertain the loss of revenue and to tender the same to the district director at the earliest possible date. The loss of revenue must be tendered prior to any mitigation of the statutory liability incurred for the violations. [TD 78-151.]

(4) Inapplicability of voluntary disclosure procedure.

(i) If the district director determines that a voluntarily-disclosed revenue loss is attributable to inadvertent errors or circumstances such as technical or petty violations not amounting to negligence and that the establishment of a penalty case under 19 U.S.C. 1592 would be inappropriate, the district director shall not refer the matter under the voluntary disclosure program or establish a penalty case, provided any duties due and withheld duties have been deposited. [TD 78-151, 78-212.]

(ii) Where the district director determines that the voluntarily disclosed violation involves a loss of revenue of $250 or less, that any duties due and withheld duties have been deposited and that the violation disclosed either does not extend to other ports or has already been disclosed at other ports, the district director shall not refer the matter under the voluntary disclosure program or establish a penalty case, unless there are compelling reasons for doing so, such as similar violations.

(b) Prepenalty notice procedure. (1) Issuance of prepenalty notice. Prior to the issuance of a claim for forfeiture value under § 162.31 of this chapter in excess of $25,000 for violation of section 592, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1592), with respect to the entry, or attempted entry, of merchandise the district director shall notify the owner, importer, consignee, agent, or other person entering, or attempting to enter, the merchandise, in writing, of his intention to issue such a claim. The notice shall set forth the information required by section 162.31(b) of this chapter. In the event one year or less remains prior to the expiration of the 5-year statute of limitations with respect to such an alleged violation, the prepenalty notice procedure shall not be utilized. [TD 78-38.]

(2) Reply to prepenalty notice. The person to whom the district director's prepenalty notice is addressed shall have a period of 30 days from the date of its issuance to file a written reply with the district director showing why the claim for forfeiture value should not be issued. The reply should answer the allegations made in the prepenalty notice and should set forth evidence either refuting the allegations or establishing that reasonable cause existed for believing that the acts or omissions described in the allegations were proper. In addition to a written reply, the district director may, upon request, allow an oral presentation of arguments as to why a claim for forfeiture value should not be issued. Absent a showing of extraordinary circumstances, an extension of time to reply beyond the 30-day period shall not be granted.

(3) Action on reply. Each reply to a prepenalty notice shall be carefully considered by the district director. In those cases in which the district director determines that the allegations set forth in the prepenalty notice have been disproved or that the issuance of a claim for forfeiture value would otherwise be inappropriate, he shall notify the person to whom the prepenalty notice was addressed that the issuance of the claim for forfeiture value is no longer contemplated. In all other cases, including those in which no reply is received, the claim shall be issued. [TD 75-21.]

(4) Exception to prepenalty notice procedure. The procedure described in this paragraph does not apply in any case in which criminal prosecution is under consideration.

(c) Exceptions. The provisions of this section do not apply to violations referred to in § 162.70(a)(2) of this chapter. (R.S. 251, as amended, secs. 592, 618, 624, 46 Stat. 750, as amended, 757, as amended, 759 (5 U.S.C. 301, 19 U.S.C. 66, 1592, 1618, 1624)) [TDs 75-21, 79-160.]

§ 171.2 Limitations on consideration of petitions.

(a) Case referred for institution of legal proceedings. No action shall be taken on any petition if the civil liability has been referred to the United States attorney for institution of legal proceedings. The petition shall be forwarded to the United States attorney. [TD 75-21.]

(b) Vessel or vehicle awarded for official use. When a vessel or vehicle is awarded for official use, a petition shall not be considered unless:

(1) It is filed before final disposition of the property is made; or

(2) It is a petition for restoration of proceeds of sale filed in accordance with Subpart E of this part.

Subpart B—Application for Relief

§ 171.11 Petition for relief.

(a) To whom addressed. Petitions for the remission or mitigation of a fine, penalty, or forfeiture incurred under any law administered by Customs shall be addressed to the Commissioner of Customs.

(b) Signature. The petition for remission or mitigation shall be signed by the petitioner, his attorney at law, or a customhouse broker representing the petitioner. If the petitioner is a corporation, the petition may be signed by an officer or responsible supervisory employee thereof, an attorney at law, or a customhouse broker representing the corporation. [TDs 72-107, 73-141.]

(c) Form. The petition for remission or mitigation need not be in any particular form. It shall set forth the following:

(1) A description of the property involved;

(2) The date and place of the violation or seizure; and

(3) The facts and circumstances relied upon by the petitioner to justify the remission or mitigation.

(d) Petition for relief from forfeiture. When the petition is for relief from a forfeiture, it shall show the interest of the petitioner in the property and in appropriate cases shall be supported by bills of sale, contracts, mortgages, or other satisfactory evidence. The notice shall inform any interested party in a case involving forfeiture of seized property that unless the petitioner provides an express agreement to defer judicial or administrative forfeiture proceedings until completion of the administrative process, the case will be referred promptly to the United States attorney for institution of judicial proceedings, or summary forfeiture proceedings will be begun. [TD 79-160.]

(e) False statement in petition. A false statement contained in a petition may subject the petitioner to prosecution under the provisions of 18 U.S.C. 1001.

§ 171.12 Filing of petition.

(a) Where filed. A petition for relief shall be filed with the district director for the district in which the property was seized or the fine or penalty imposed.

(b) When filed. Petitions for relief shall be filed within 60 days from the date of mailing of the notice of fine, penalty, or forfeiture incurred, unless additional time has been authorized as provided in § 162.32(a) of this chapter. [TD 75-232.]

(c) Number of copies. The petition shall be filed in triplicate.

§ 171.13 Additional evidence required with certain petitions.

(a) Seized property in possession of another responsible for act. If the seized property was in the possession of another who was responsible for or caused the act which resulted in the seizure, evidence shall be produced by the petitioner as to the manner in which the property came into the possession of such other person. The petitioner shall also submit evidence that prior to parting with the property he did not know, nor have reasonable cause to believe, that the property would be used to violate Customs or other laws, and that he did not know or have reason to believe that the violator had a criminal record or general reputation for commercial crime. In the case of a family member having an interest in property seized while in possession of another family member, evidence shall be submitted that the petitioning family member did not know or have reason to know that the property was likely to be used in the act which resulted in the seizure.

(b) Petitioner holding chattel mortgage or conditional sales contract. A petitioner holding a chattel mortgage or conditional sales contract covering the seized property shall submit with his petition evidence showing that: [TD 72-67.]

(1) He has an interest in such property, as owner or otherwise, which he acquired in good faith; and [TD 72-67.]

(2) He had at no time any knowledge or reason to believe that the property was being or would be used in violation of Customs or other laws of the United States. [TD 72-67.]

§ 171.14 Oral presentations seeking relief.

(a) For certain violations.—(1) Right to make oral presentation. If the penalty incurred is for a violation of section 592, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1592), for which proceedings commenced after December 31, 1978, the person named in the notice also may make an oral presentation seeking relief in accordance with this paragraph. For purposes of this paragraph, a proceeding commences with the issuance of a prepenalty notice or, if no prepenalty notice is issued, with the issuance of a notice of a claim for a monetary penalty.

(2) Prerequisites. The person shall be given a reasonable opportunity to make an oral presentation provided that a petition has been filed under § 171.12, and that the petition contains a request to present orally the reasons for remission or mitigation of the penalty.

(b) Other oral presentations. Oral presentations other than those provided in paragraph (a) of this section may be allowed in the discretion of any official of the Customs Service or Department of the Treasury authorized to act on a petition or supplemental petition. [TDs 79-160, 79-305.]

§ 171.21 Petitions acted on by district director.

The district director may mitigate or remit fines, penalties, and forfeitures incurred under any law administered by the United States Customs Service on such terms and conditions as, under the law and in view of the circumstances, he shall deem appropriate, when the total amount of the fines and penalties incurred with respect to any one offense, together with the total value of any merchandise or other article subject to forfeiture or to a claim for forfeiture value, does not exceed $25,000. [TD 73-308.]

(a) Merchandise illegally transported coastwise. A forfeiture of merchandise or a claim for forfeiture of a monetary amount under title 48, United States Code, section 883, for illegally transporting merchandise coastwise, may be remitted by the district director, regardless of the value of the merchandise or the amount of the penalty, if the petition for relief establishes to the satisfaction of the district director that the violation occurred as a direct result of an arrival of the transporting vessel in distress. [TD 79-160.]

(b) Forfeiture of imported liquor or compound. When any package of or package containing any spirituous, vinous, malted, or other fermented liquor, or any compound containing any spirituous, vinous, malted, or other fermented liquor fit for use for beverage purposes, or any vessel or vehicle in which the same has been transported has become subject to forfeiture under the provisions of 18 U.S.C. 3615, for noncompliance with 18 U.S.C. 1263, and the U.S. attorney has advised the district director that there is not sufficient evidence of intent to violate the law to warrant criminal prosecution thereunder, the forfeiture incurred shall be remitted pursuant to the authority of section 7327, Internal Revenue Code of 1954 (26 U.S.C. 7327), and section 618, Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1618), upon the condition that the expenses of seizure, if any, shall be paid.

(c) Claim for property stolen in Canada and seized by U.S. Customs. Under the provisions of Executive Order 4306, dated September 19, 1925 (T.D. 41110), any person claiming to be the owner of property stolen in Canada, brought into the United States and seized by Customs authorities for violation of law, may file with the district director having custody of the property a petition for its release, addressed to the Secretary of the Treasury. The petition shall be supported by evidence of ownership in the claimant and shall contain a waiver and release of all possible claims against the United States or any officer thereof for compensation or damages incident to the seizure and detention of the property. If the district director is satisfied that the claimant is the owner of the property and that it was brought into the United States without collusion on the part of the claimant, the district director may release the property for return to Canada upon the payment of all expenses incident to its seizure and detention. In the event of conflicting claims for the property or any doubt as to the claimant's interest in or right to the property, the district director shall submit the matter to the Commissioner of Customs for decision.

§ 171.23 Availability of mitigation guidelines for monetary penalties assessed pursuant to section 592, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.

The guidelines used by the Customs Service for the mitigation of claims for monetary penalties assessed pursuant to section 592, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, are available upon written request to the Commissioner of Customs, Attention: Office of Regulations and Rulings, 1301 Constitution Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20229. [TD 80-16C.]

Subpart D—Disposition of Petitions

§ 171.31 Act or omission did not occur.

If it is definitely determined that the act or omission forming the basis of a penalty or forfeiture claim did not in fact occur, the claim shall be canceled by the district director. When the determination of whether or not the claim was erroneously made depends upon a construction of law, the claim shall not be canceled without the approval of the Commissioner of Customs unless there is in force a ruling by the Commissioner of Customs decisive of the issue.

§ 171.31a Written decision.

If a petition or supplemental petition (see section 171.33) for relief relates to a violation of section 592, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1592), for which proceedings commenced after December 31, 1978, the petitioner shall be provided with a written statement setting forth the decision on the matter and the findings of fact and conclusions of law upon which the decision is based. Decisions on initial or supplemental petitions which are considered to be precedential in nature or otherwise significant will be published in the weekly CUSTOMS BULLETIN with appropriate deletion of information exempt from disclosure under Part 103 of this chapter. For purposes of this section, a proceeding commences with the issuance of a prepenalty notice or, if no prepenalty notice is issued, with the issuance of a notice of a claim for a monetary penalty. [TD 79-160.]

§ 171.32 Limitation on time decision effective.

A decision to mitigate a penalty or to remit a forfeiture upon condition that a stated amount is paid shall be effective for not more than 60 days from the date of notice to the petitioner of such decision, unless the decision itself prescribes a different effective period or the decision is later amended to change the effective period. If payment of the stated amount is not made, or arrangements made for delayed payment or installment payments, or a supplemental petition filed, within the effective period, the full penalty or claim of forfeiture shall be deemed applicable and shall be enforced by promptly referring the matter, after required collection action, if appropriate, to the U.S. attorney unless other action has been directed by the Commissioner of Customs. [TD 79-160.]

§ 171.33 Supplemental petitions for relief.

(a) Time and place of filing. If the petitioner is not satisfied with a decision of the district director or the Commissioner of Customs, a supplemental petition may be filed with the district director. Such a petition shall be filed either:

(1) Within 60 days from the date of notice to the petitioner of the decision on the initial petition for relief if no effective period is prescribed in the decision; or

(2) Within the time prescribed in the decision on the initial petition for relief as the effective period of the decision.

(b) Consideration—(1) Decisions of the district director. Where the district director has the authority to grant relief in accordance with the provisions of §§ 171.21 and 171.22, he may grant additional relief if he believes it is warranted. If there has been a specific request on the part of the petitioner for review by the regional commissioner, or if the district director believes no additional relief is warranted, or if the petitioner is not satisfied with the additional relief granted by the district director, the supplemental petition, together with all pertinent documents, shall be forwarded to the regional commissioner of the region in which the district lies for reconsideration and disposition of the case, except as provided in § 171.22(c). [TDs 73-308, 75-36.]

(2) Decisions of the Commissioner of Customs. A supplemental petition appealing a decision of the Commissioner of Customs shall be filed, together with all pertinent documents, with the district director who initiated the case for transmittal to the Commissioner of Customs for reconsideration. [TD 75-36.]

Subpart E—Restoration of Proceeds of Sale

§ 171.41 Application of provisions for petitions for relief.

The general provisions of Subpart B of this part on filing and content of petitions for relief apply to petitions for restoration of proceeds of sale except insofar as modified by this subpart.

§ 171.42 Time limit for filing petition for restoration.

A petition for the restoration of proceeds of sale under section 613, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C.

1613), shall be filed within 3 months after the date of the sale.

§ 171.43 Evidence required.

In addition to such other evidence as may be required under the provisions of Subpart B of this part, the petition for restoration of proceeds of sale under section 613, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1613), shall show the interest of the petitioner in the property, supported in appropriate cases by bills of sale, contracts, mortgages, or other satisfactory documentary evidence. The petition shall be supported by satisfactory proof that the petitioner did not know of the seizure prior to the declaration or decree of forfeiture and was in such circumstances as prevented him from knowing of it.

If forfeited property the subject of a claim under section 613, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1613), has been authorized for official use, retention or delivery shall be regarded as the sale thereof for the purposes of section 613. The appropriation available to the receiving agency for the purchase, hire, operation, maintenance, and repair of property of the kind so received is available for the granting of relief to the claimant and for the satisfaction of liens for freight charges and contributions in general average that may have been filed. § 172.0 Scope.

This part contains provisions relating to the giving of notice of liquidated damages incurred under the terms of any bond posted with Customs, the filing of petitions for relief from liquidated damages incurred, and the consideration of such petitions. [TD 70-249.]

§ 172.1 Notice of liquidated damages incurred and right to petition for relief.

(a) Notice of liquidated damages incurred. When there is a failure to meet the conditions of any bond posted with Customs, the principal shall be notified in writing of any liability for liquidated damages incurred by him and a demand shall be made for payment. The sureties on such bond shall also be advised in writing, at the same time as the principal, of the liability for liquidated damages incurred by the principal.

(b) Notice of right to petition for relief. The notice shall also inform the principal and his sureties on the bond that application may be made for relief from payment of liquidated damages under section 623(c), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1623(c)), or any other applicable statute authorizing the cancellation of any bond or of any bond charge that may have been made against such bond.

§ 172.2 Failure to petition for relief.

(a) Referral of claim to U.S. attorney. If any party liable for liquidated damages fails to petition for relief or to pay or make arrangements to pay the liquidated damages within 60 days from the date of mailing of the notice of the liquidated damages incurred, as provided in section 172.1, or within such additional time as may have been granted, the district director of Customs, after required collection action, shall refer the claim promptly to the United States attorney. [TD 79-160.]

(b) Absence from the United States. If it appears that the parties liable for liquidated damages are absent from the United States or during the 60-day period referred to in paragraph (a) of this section were absent for more than 30 days, the district director may withhold such referral for a reasonable time unless other action is expressly authorized by the Commissioner of Customs.

§ 172.11 Petition for relief.

(a) To whom addressed. Petitions for relief shall be addressed to the Commissioner of Customs.

(b) Form. A petition for relief need not be in any particular form. Such petition shall set forth the facts relied upon by the petitioner to justify cancellation of the claim for liquidated damages, and shall be signed by the petitioner, his attorney at law, or a customhouse broker representing the petitioner. If the petitioner is a corporation, the petition may be signed by an officer or responsible supervisory employee thereof, an attorney at law, or a customhouse broker representing the corporation. [TDs 72-107, 73-141.]

§ 172.12 Filing of petition for relief.

(a) Where filed. A petition for relief shall be filed with the district director of Customs for the district in which the liability for liquidated damage is incurred.

(b) When filed. A petition for relief shall be filed within 60 days from the date of mailing of the notice of the liability for liquidated damages incurred unless an extension of such period has been granted by the district director.

(c) Number of copies. The petition for relief shall be filed in triplicate.

§ 172.21 Petitions acted on by district director of Customs.

The district director may cancel any claim for liquidated damages incurred on such terms and conditions as, under the law and in view of the circumstances, he shall deem appropriate when the claim is $50,000 or less. [TDs 72-262, 73-140, 73-308.]

§ 172.22 Special cases acted on by district director of Customs.

(a) Nonproduction of documents in general. District directors are hereby authorized to treat any bond charge for the production of a missing document as satisfied upon payment by the principal or surety of the sum of $25 as liquidated damages for each missing declaration of the consignee or other document, except shippers' export declarations and special Customs and commercial invoices, not produced within the time prescribed by law or regulations or any lawful extension of such time. [TD 75-229.]

(b) Nonproduction of Special Customs Invoices or commercial invoices.—If a required Special Customs Invoice, Customs Form 5515, or a commercial invoice is not produced (1) on the date the entry or entry summary is filed, (2) within 6 months after the date the entry or entry summary is required to be filed, or (3) if the invoice is needed for statistical purposes, within 50 days after the date the entry or entry summary is required to be filed, then unless the production is waived under the provisions of section 141.92 of this chapter, the bond charge for the production thereof may be canceled by the district director upon the payment of $25 as liquidated damages, if: [TDs 73-175, 79-221.]

(1) The party who made the entry submits an application for relief explaining in detail why the special Customs or commercial invoice could not be produced within the prescribed period; and

(2) The district director of Customs is satisfied by such application or otherwise that the failure to produce the invoice within the prescribed period was due to causes wholly beyond the control of the party making the entry and not to any purpose of the foreign seller or shipper to withhold information required by law, regulation, or special instruction to be shown on the invoice.

(c) Nonproduction of free-entry or reduced-duty documents. When free entry or the application of a reduced rate of duty is dependent upon the production of a document which the importer fails to produce, or when a conditionally free or reduced duty provision claimed on entry is held to be inapplicable, the claim for free entry or reduced rate of duty shall be treated by the district director as abandoned upon the assessment and payment of duty and the bond (or, in the case of a term bond, the charge against the bond) given for the production of the free-entry or reduced-duty document may be cancelled without the collection of liquidated damages. [TD 77-27.]

(d) Failure to file timely entry summary after release under entry or immediate delivery permit.—If a timely entry summary for merchandise not subject to quota has not been filed after release under an entry or a special permit for immediate delivery, the district director may act upon an application for relief from liquidated damages assessed in accordance with section 142.15 or 142.27, respectively, of this chapter as follows: [TDs 73-175, 79-221.]

(1) If he is satisfied that the delay was not deliberate, the district director may cancel such liquidated damages upon the payment of an appropriate sum which shall not exceed 10 percent of the duty assessed but not less than $25. In general, the district director shall not cancel a claim for liquidated damages upon payment of an amount in the lower range of his discretion if the entry is late by more than 3 working days. In determining the appropriate amount the district director shall take into consideration the following:

(i) The circumstances causing the delay;

(ii) The extent of the lateness;

(iii) The amount of duty involved; and

(iv) The past record of the importer with respect to the timeliness of filing entries.

(2) If he is satisfied that the violation was incurred solely because of a delay in the return by Customs to the importer of documents necessary to make entry, the district director may cancel such liquidated damages without payment.

(3) If collection of an amount greater than that provided by this paragraph appears warranted the case shall be forwarded to the Commissioner of Customs for disposition. (R.S. 251, as amended, sec. 623, 624, 46 Stat. 759, as amended (19 U.S.C. 66, 1623, 1624).)

§ 172.23 Limitations on consideration of petitions.

No action looking to relief from the payment of full liquidated damages shall be taken on any petition, irrespective of the amount involved, if the claim has been referred to the U.S. attorney for collection as provided in § 172.2.

§ 172.31 Act or omission did not occur.

(a) Definite. If it is definitely determined that the act or omission forming the basis for a claim for liquidated damages did not in fact occur, the claim shall be cancelled by the district director. If the liquidated damages have already been paid, they shall be refunded by the regional commissioner of Customs, and an appropriate notation shall be made on Customs Form 5955-A, if the transaction has already been recorded thereon. [TD 74-227.]

(b) Dependent upon a construction of law. When the determination of whether or not the claim was erroneously made depends upon a construction of law, the claim shall not be cancelled without the approval of the Commissioner of Customs, unless there is in force a ruling decisive of the issue.

(c) Doubtful cases. Approval of the Commissioner of Customs shall be requested in all doubtful cases.

§ 172.32 Limitation on time decision effective.

A decision to cancel a claim for liquidated damages on condition that a stated amount be paid shall be effective for not more than 60 days from the date of notice to the parties of such decision, unless the decision itself prescribes a different effective period or the decision is later amended to change the effective period. If payment of the stated amount is not made, or arrangements made for delayed payment or installment payments, or a supplemental petition filed, within the effective period, the full claim for liquidated damages shall be deemed applicable and, after required collection action, shall be referred promptly to the U.S. attorney unless other action has been directed by the Commissioner of Customs. [TD 79-160.]

§ 172.33 Supplemental petitions for relief.

(a) Time and place of filing. If the interested parties are not satisfied with a decision of the district director or the Commissioner of Customs, a supplemental petition may be filed with the district director of Customs by the interested parties. Such a petition shall be filed either:

(1) Within 60 days from the date of notice to the petitioner of the decision on the initial petition for relief if no effective period is prescribed in the decision: or

(2) Within the time prescribed in the decision on the initial petition for relief as the effective period of the decision.

(b) Consideration—(1) Decisions of the district director. Where the district director has authority to grant relief in accordance with the provisions of § § 172.21 and 172.22, he may grant additional relief if he believes it is warranted. If there has been a specific request on the part of the petitioner for reconsideration by the regional commissioner, or if the district director believes no additional relief is warranted, or if the petitioner is not satisfied with the additional relief granted by the district director, the supplemental petition, together with all pertinent documents, shall be forwarded to the regional commissioner of the region in which the district lies for reconsideration and disposition of the case, except as provided in § 172.22(d)(3). [TDs 73-308, 75-36.]

(2) Decisions of the Commissioner of Customs. A supplemental petition appealing a decision of the Commissioner of Customs shall be filed, together with all pertinent documents, with the district director who initiated the case for transmittal to the Commissioner of Customs for reconsideration. [TD 75-36.]

PART 173—ADMINISTRATIVE REVIEW IN GENERAL

Sec.
173.0 Scope.
173.1 Authority to review for error.
173.2 Transactions which may be reviewed and corrected.
173.3 Voluntary reliquidation.
173.4 Correction of clerical error, mistake of fact, or inadvertence.
173.5 Review of entry covering household for personal effects.
173.6 Review of entry for fraud.

Authority: R.S. 251, secs. 501, 624, 46 Stat. 730, as amended, 759; 19 U.S.C. 66, 1501, 1624.

§ 173.0 Scope.

This part deals with the general authority of review, the authority to reliquidate voluntarily, the authority to correct for clerical error, mistake of fact, or other inadvertence under section 520(c)(1), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, the authority to review an entry of household or personal effects, and the power to reliquidate an entry on account of fraud. [TD 70-181.]

§ 173.1 Authority to review for error.

District directors, or in the New York Customs Region, the Regional Commissioner of Customs, have broad responsibility and authority to review transactions to ensure that the rate and amount of duty assessed on imported merchandise is correct and that the transaction is otherwise in accordance with the law. This authority extends to errors in the construction of a law and to errors adverse to the Government as well as the importer. [TD 79-221.]

§ 173.2 Transactions which may be reviewed and corrected.

The district director may review transactions for correctness, and take appropriate action under his general authority to correct errors, including those in appraisement where appropriate, at the time of:

(a) Liquidation of an entry;

(b) Voluntary reliquidation completed within 90 days after liquidation;

(c) Voluntary correction of an exaction within 90 days after the exaction was made;

(d) Reliquidation made pursuant to a valid protest covering the particular merchandise as to which a change is in order; or

(e) Modification, pursuant to a valid protest, of a transaction or decision which is neither a liquidation or reliquidation.

§ 173.3 Voluntary reliquidation.

(a) Authority to reliquidate. The district director within 90 days from the date notice of the original liquidation is given to the importer, consignee, or agent, may reliquidate on his own initiative a liquidation or a reliquidation to correct errors in appraisement, classification, or any other element entering into the liquidation or reliquidation, including errors based on misconstruction of applicable law. A voluntary reliquidation may be made even though a protest has been filed, and whether the error is discovered by the district director or is brought to his attention by an interested party.

(b) Notice of reliquidation. Notice of a voluntary reliquidation shall be given in accordance with the requirements for giving notice of the original liquidation. (Sec. 501, 46 Stat. 730, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1501)

(a) Authority to review and correct. Even though a valid protest was not filed, the district director, upon timely application, may correct pursuant to section 520(c)(1), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1520(c)(1), a clerical error, mistake of fact, or other inadvertence meeting the requirements of paragraph (b) of this section, by reliquidation or other appropriate action.

(b) Transactions which may be corrected. Correction pursuant to section 520(c)(1), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1520(c)(1)), may be made in any entry, liquidation, or other Customs transaction if the clerical error, mistake of fact, or other inadvertence: [TD 79-221.]

(1) Does not amount to an error in the construction of a law;

(2) Is adverse to the importer; and

(3) Is manifest from the record or established by documentary evidence.

(c) Limitation on time for application. A clerical error, mistake of fact, or other inadvertence meeting the requirements of paragraph (b) of this section shall be brought to the attention of the district director at the port of entry, or in the New York Customs Region, the Regional Commissioner of Customs, within 1 year after the date of liquidation or exaction.

(d) "Liquidation" includes reliquidation.—"Liquidation" when used in section 520(c)(1), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1520(c)(1)), and in this section, includes reliquidation of an entry. [TD 79-221.]

§ 173.5 Review of entry covering household or personal effects.

An error in the liquidation of an entry covering household or personal effects may be corrected by the district director even though a timely protest was not filed if an application for refund is filed with the district director within 1 year after the date of the entry and no waiver of compliance with applicable regulations is involved other than a waiver which the district director has authority to grant. Where the district director has no authority to grant the waiver, the application shall be referred to the Commissioner of Customs. (Sec. 520, 46 Stat. 739, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1520)

§ 173.6 Review of entry for fraud.

The district director may review any entry in which fraud is suspected. Where probable cause to believe there is fraud in the case is found by the district director, he may reliquidate an entry within 2 years (exclusive of the time during which a protest is pending) after the date of liquidation or last reliquidation. (Sec. 521, 46 Stat. 739; 19 U.S.C. 1521)

This part deals with the administrative review of decisions of the district director, including the requirements for the filing of protests against such decisions, amendment of protests, review and accelerated disposition, and provisions dealing with further administrative review. [TD 70-181.]

Subpart A—General Provisions

When used in this part, the following terms shall have the meaning indicated:

(a) District director. "District director" means the district director of Customs at a headquarters port other than the port of New York, N.Y., and the regional commissioner of Customs for Customs Region II at the port of New York, N.Y.

(b) Further review. "Further review" means review of the decision which is the subject of the protest by Customs officers on a level higher than the district, and in Region II by Customs officers who did not participate directly in the decision which is the subject of the protest.

§ 174.2 Applicability of provisions.

(a) In general. The provisions of this part shall be applicable to protests against decisions involving:

(1) Articles excluded from entry or entered or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption on or after October 1, 1970;

(2) Articles entered or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption prior to October 1, 1970, for which appraisement has not become final by October 1, 1970;

(3) Articles entered or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption prior to October 1, 1970, for which the appraisement has become final but with respect to which the entry has not been liquidated prior to October 1, 1970;

(4) Articles entered or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption with respect to which the entry has been liquidated prior to October 1, 1970, if

(i) The time for filing a protest has not expired and a protest has not been filed prior to October 1, 1970; or

(ii) A protest has been filed and has not been disallowed in whole or in part before October 1, 1970; or

(5) Articles excluded from entry before October 1, 1970, with respect to which

(i) The time for filing a protest has not expired and a protest has not been filed prior to October 1, 1970; or

(ii) A protest has been filed and has not been disallowed in whole or in part before October 1, 1970.

(b) Limitation—(1) Appraisement not final. When the appraisement of articles entered or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption prior to October 1, 1970, is not final by October 1, 1970, because an appeal for reappraisement was timely filed prior to such date, the provisions of this part relating to protests shall be applicable to a protest filed after the court's decision on the appeal to reappraisement has become final. Such protest shall not include issues which were raised or could have been raised on the appeal for reappraisement.

(2) Appraisement final. When the appraisement of articles entered or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption prior to October 1, 1970, has become final prior to October 1, 1970, but the entry has not been liquidated by such date, a protest filed in accordance with the provisions of this part after such liquidation shall not include issues which were raised or could have been raised on an appeal to reappraisement before the appraisement became final. [TD 71-60.]

(3) Protest not disallowed. When a protest filed prior to October 1, 1970, has not been disallowed in whole or in part before such date, the provisions of this part shall be applicable to such protests. The time within which any action must be taken under the provisions of this part with respect to such a protest shall commence on the date the protest was in fact filed. [TD 71-60.]

§ 174.3 Power of attorney to file protest.

(a) When required. When a protest is filed by a person acting as agent or attorney in fact for the principal, other than an attorney at law or a customhouse broker or his authorized employee acting in his behalf, there shall have been filed or shall be filed with the protest a power of attorney which either specifically authorizes such agent to make, sign, and file the protest or grants unlimited authority to such agent. No power of attorney to file a protest shall be required in the following cases:

(1) Attorney at law. When the protest is filed by an attorney at law as agent or attorney for the principal, the signing of the protest as agent or attorney for the principal by the attorney at law shall be considered a declaration by him that he is currently a member in good standing of the highest court of a State, possession, territory, commonwealth, or the District of Columbia, and has been authorized to sign and file the protest for the principal. [TD 70-244.]

(2) Customhouse broker or his employee. When a protest is filed by a customhouse broker, or an authorized employee acting in his behalf, as agent or attorney in fact for the principal, the signing of the protest by the customhouse broker or an authorized employee in his behalf shall be considered a declaration by the broker that he or the employee signing in his behalf, is authorized to sign and file the protest for the principal. The customhouse broker shall have, however, a general power of attorney to transact Customs business for the principal on Customs Form 5291.

(b) Execution of power of attorney—(1) Corporation. A corporate power of attorney to file protests shall be signed by a duly authorized officer or employee of the corporation. If the district director is otherwise satisfied as to the authority of such corporate officer or employee to grant such power of attorney, compliance with the requirements of § 141.37 of this chapter may be waived with respect to such power. [TD 73-175.]

(2) Partnership. A partnership power of attorney to file protests may be signed by one member in the name of the partnership, provided the power recites the name of all the members.

(c) Duration. Powers of attorney issued by a partnership shall be limited to a period not to exceed 2 years from the date of receipt thereof by the district director. All other powers of attorney may be granted for an unlimited period.

(d) Revocation. Any power of attorney shall be subject to revocation at any time by written notice given to and received by the district director. (Secs. 514, 515, 46 Stat. 734, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1514, 1515)

Subpart B—Protests

§ 174.11 Matters subject to protest.

The following decisions of the district director, including the legality of all orders and findings entering into the same, may be protested under the provisions of section 514, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1514):

(a) The appraised value of merchandise;

(b) The classification and rate and amount of duties chargeable;

(c) All charges or exactions of whatever character within the jurisdiction of the Secretary of the Treasury;

(d) The exclusion of merchandise from entry or delivery under any provision of the Customs laws;

(e) The liquidation or reliquidation of an entry, or any modification thereof;

(f) The refusal to pay a claim for drawback; and

(g) The refusal to reliquidate an entry under section 520(c), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1520(c)).

§ 174.12 Filing of protests.

(a) By whom filed. Protests may be filed by:

(1) The importer or consignee shown on the entry papers, or their sureties;

(2) Any person paying any charge or exaction;

(3) Any person seeking entry or delivery;

(4) Any person filing a claim for drawback; or

(5) Any authorized agent of any of the persons described in paragraphs (a)(1) through (4) of this section, subject to the provisions of § 174.3. [TD 80-271.]

(b) Form and number of copies. Protests against decisions of a district director shall be filed in quadruplicate on Customs Form 19 or a form of the same size clearly labeled "Protest" and setting forth the same content in its entirety, in the same order, addressed to the district director. All schedules or other attachments to a protest (other than samples or similar exhibits) shall also be filed in quadruplicate.

(c) Signature. The protest shall be signed by the person filing the protest, or his agent, or attorney. If the person filing is not the importer of record or consignee, he shall include his address and importer number, if any.

(d) Place of filing. Protests shall be filed with the district director whose decision is protested except that, when the entry underlying the decision protested is filed at a port other than the district headquarters, the protest may be filed with the port director at that port. [TD 71-15.]

(e) Time of filing. Protests shall be filed, in accordance with section 514, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1514), within 90 days after either:

(1) The date of notice of liquidation or reliquidation in accordance with §§ 159.9 or 159.10 of this chapter; [TD 73-175, 80-271.]

(2) The date of the decision, involving neither a liquidation nor reliquidation, as to which the protest is made (e.g., the date of an exaction, the date of written notice excluding merchandise from entry or delivery under any provision of the Customs laws or the date of a refusal to reliquidate under section 520(c)(1) of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended);

(3) The date of mailing of notice of demand for payment against a bond in the case of a surety which has an unsatisfied legal claim under a bond written by the surety. [TD 80-271.]

(f) Date of filing. The date on which a protest is received by the Customs officer with whom it is required to be filed shall be deemed the date on which it is filed.

(g) Return of fifth copy. If a fifth copy of the protest is presented for the purpose of having recorded thereon the date of its receipt and the protest number assigned thereto, such information shall be recorded thereon and the fifth copy shall be returned to the person filing the protest.

§ 174.13 Contents of protest.

(a) Contents, in general. A protest shall contain the following information:

(1) The name and address of the protestant, i.e., the importer of record or consignee, and the name and address of his agent or attorney if signed by one of these;

(2) The importer number of the protestant. If the protestant is represented by an agent having power of attorney, the importer number of the agent shall also be shown;

(3) The number and date of the entry;

(4) The date of liquidation of the entry, or the date of a decision not involving a liquidation or reliquidation;

(5) A specific description of the merchandise affected by the decision as to which protest is made;

(6) The nature of, and justification for the objection set forth distinctly and specifically with respect to each category, payment, claim, decision, or refusal; [TD 80-271.]

(7) The date of receipt and protest number of any protest previously filed that is the subject of a pending application for further review pursuant to Subpart C of this part and that is alleged to involve the same merchandise and the same issues, if the protesting party requests disposition in accordance with the action taken on such previously filed protest.

(b) Multiple entries. A single protest may be filed with respect to more than one entry in any district if all such entries involve the same protesting party, and if the same category of merchandise and a decision or decisions common to all entries are the subject of the protest. In such circumstances, the entry numbers, dates of entry, and dates of liquidation of all such entries, as well as the ports of entry where they may not coincide, should be set forth as an attachment to the protest.

(c) Optional designation for refunds. If desired by the importer/consignee the statement "any refunds with respect to the entry under protest shall be mailed to the importer/consignee in care of ______________ ______________________________"

may be appended to the protest. This designation supersedes any existing designation previously authorized on Customs Form 4811;

(8) If another party has not filed a timely protest, the surety's protest shall certify that the protest is not being filed collusively to extend another authorized person's time to protest. [TD 80-271.]

§ 174.14 Amendment of protests.

(a) Time for filing. A protest may be amended at any time prior to the expiration of the 90-day period within which such protest may be filed determined in accordance with § 174.12(e). The amendment may assert additional claims pertaining to the administrative decision which is the subject of the protest, or may challenge an additional administrative decision relating to the same category of merchandise which is the subject of the protest. For the presentation of additional grounds or arguments in support of a valid protest after the 90-day period has expired see § 174.28.

(b) Form and number of copies of amendment. An amendment to a protest shall be filed in quadruplicate on Customs Form 19 or on a form of the same size, clearly labeled "Amendment to Protest" at the top of the form. Schedules or other attachments (other than samples or similar exhibits) shall also be filed in quadruplicate.

(c) Contents. An amendment to a protest shall contain the following information:

(1) The name, address, and importer number of the protesting party, i.e., the importer of record or consignee, and the name and address of his agent or attorney if filed by one of these;

(2) The number and date of filing of the original protest;

(3) A specific description of the merchandise affected by the decision as to which the amendment to the protest is filed;

(4) The nature of and justification for the objection raised by the amendment set forth distinctly and specifically with respect to each category, payment, claim, decision, or refusal; and

(5) The date of receipt and protest number of any protest previously filed that is the subject of a pending application for further review and that is alleged to involve the same merchandise and the same issues involved in the amendment.

(d) By whom filed and signed. An amendment to a protest may be filed and signed only by the person filing such protest or his agent or attorney subject to the provisions of § 174.3.

(e) Place and date of filing. An amendment to a protest shall be filed with the district director or port director with whom the protest was filed. The amendment shall be deemed filed on the date it is received by the Customs officer with whom it is required to be filed.

(f) Return of fifth copy. If a fifth copy of the amendment is presented for the purpose of having recorded thereon the date of its receipt, such information shall be recorded thereon and the fifth copy shall be returned to the person filing the amendment.

§ 174.15 Consolidation of protests filed by different parties.

Separate protests relating to one category of merchandise covered by an entry shall be considered as a single protest whether filed as a single protest or filed as separate protests relating to the same category by one or more parties in interest or an authorized agent.

§ 174.16 Limitation on protests after reliquidation.

A protest shall not be filed against the decision of the district director on reliquidation upon any question not involved in the reliquidation.

Subpart C—Review and Disposition of Protests

§ 174.21 Time for review of protests.

(a) In general. Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, the district director shall review and act on a protest filed in accordance with section 514, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1514), within 2 years from the date the protest was filed. If several timely filed protests are treated as part of a single protest pursuant to section 174.15, the 2-year period shall be deemed to run from the date the last such protest was filed in accordance with section 514, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1514). [TD 74-37.]

(b) Protest relating to exclusion of merchandise. If the protest relates to an administrative action involving exclusion of merchandise from entry or delivery under any provision of the Customs laws, the district director shall review and act on a protest filed in accordance with section 514, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1514), within 30 days from the date the protest was filed, unless the person filing the protest shall request an additional delay for the purpose of presenting evidence or argument with respect to the matters involved in the protest. In no event shall the district director (or the Commissioner of Customs or his designee if the protest is the subject of further review as provided for in § § 174.25 and 174.26) delay action on the protest beyond 30 days, or such additional time period as may be agreed to by the person filing the protest. Any protest filed pursuant to this paragraph shall clearly so state on its face. [TD 74-37.]

174.22 Accelerated disposition of protest.

(a) Request for accelerated disposition. Accelerated disposition of a protest filed in accordance with section 514, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1514) may be obtained at any time after 90 days from the filing of such protest, by filing by registered or certified mail a written request for accelerated disposition with the district director to whom the protest was addressed.

(b) Contents of request. A request for accelerated disposition of protest shall contain the following information:

(1) The name, address, and importer number of the protestant, i.e., the importer of record or consignee, and the name and address of his agent or attorney if filed by one of these; and

(2) The date of filing and number of the protest for which accelerated disposition is requested.

(c) Review following request. The district director shall review the protest which is the subject of the request within 30 days from the date of mailing of a request for accelerated disposition filed in accordance with the provisions of this section, and may allow or deny the protest in whole or in part.

(d) Failure to allow or deny protest within 30-day period. If the district director fails to allow or deny a protest which is the subject of a request for accelerated disposition within 30 days from the date of mailing of such request, the protest shall be deemed to have been denied at the close of the 30th day following such date of mailing.

(e) Multiple protests. If several protests by different persons are timely filed and treated as part of a single protest pursuant to § 174.15, a request for accelerated disposition filed by any one of the protesting parties shall be treated as a request for accelerated disposition by all the parties.

§ 174.23 Further review of protests.

A protesting party may seek further review of a protest in lieu of review by the district director by filing, on the form prescribed in § 174.25, an application for such review within the time allowed and in the manner prescribed by § 174.12 for the filing of a protest. The filing of an application for further review shall not preclude a preliminary examination by the district director whose decision is the subject of the protest for the purpose of determining whether the protest may be allowed in full. If such preliminary examination indicates that the protest would be denied in whole or in part by the district director in the absence of an application for further review, however, he shall forward the protest and application for consideration in accordance with § 174.26.

§ 174.24 Criteria for further review.

Further review of a protest which would otherwise be denied by the district director shall be accorded a party filing an application for further review which meets the requirements of § 174.25 when the decision against which the protest was filed:

(a) Is alleged to be inconsistent with a ruling of the Commissioner of Customs or his designee, or with a decision made in any district with respect to the same or substantially similar merchandise; [TD 71-123.]

(b) Is alleged to involve questions of law or fact which have not been ruled upon by the Commissioner of Customs or his designee or by the Customs courts; [TD 75-186.]

(c) Involves matters previously ruled upon by the Commissioner of Customs or his designee or by the Customs courts but facts are alleged or legal arguments presented which were not considered at the time of the original ruling; or [TD 75-186.]

(d) Is alleged to involve questions which the Headquarters Office, United States Customs Service, refused to consider in the form of a request for internal advice pursuant to § 177.11(b)(5) of this chapter. [TD 75-186.]

§ 174.25 Application for further review.

(a) Form and number of copies. An application for further review may be filed on the same Customs Form 19 used for filing the protest for which further review is requested, or on a separate Customs Form 19. In either case, the Customs Form 19 shall be filed in quadruplicate. If a fifth copy of the application is presented for the purpose of having recorded thereon the date of its receipt, such information shall be recorded thereon and the fifth copy shall be returned to the person filing the application. [TD 78-99.]

(b) Contents. An application for further review shall contain the following information:

(1) Information identifying the protest to which it applies and the protesting party and his importer number;

(2) Allegations that the protesting party:

(i) Has not previously received an adverse administrative decision from the Commissioner of Customs or his designee nor has presently pending an application for an administrative decision on the same claim with respect to the same category of merchandise; and

(ii) Has not received a final adverse decision from the Customs courts on the same claim with respect to the same category of merchandise and does not have an action involving such a claim pending before the Customs courts.

(3) A statement of any facts or additional legal arguments, not part of the record, upon which the protesting party relies, including the criterion set forth in § 174.24 which justifies further review. A showing of facts that support the allegation of a criterion set forth in § 174.24(c) will constitute a ground for the granting of further review in circumstances where the applicant's inability to affirmatively make the allegations described in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph would otherwise result in its denial.

§ 174.26 Review of protest after application for further review.

(a) Protest allowed. If upon examination of a protest for which an application for further review was filed the district director is satisfied that the claim is valid, he shall allow the protest.

(b) Other protests. If upon examination of a protest for which an application for further review was filed the district director decides that the protest in his judgment should be denied in whole or in part, he shall forward the application together with the protest and appropriate documents to be reviewed as follows:

(1) A protest shall be reviewed by the Commissioner of Customs or his designee under Customs Delegation Order No. 1 (Revision 1), T.D. 69-126 (34 FR 8208), as amended from time to time, if the protest and application for review raise an issue involving either:

(i) Lack of uniformity of treatment;

(ii) The existence of an established and uniform practice;

(iii) The interpretation of a court decision or ruling of the Commissioner of Customs or his designee; or

(iv) Questions which have not been the subject of a Headquarters, U.S. Customs Service ruling or court decision.

(2) All other protests shall be reviewed by the regional commissioner of Customs or his designee for the region in which the district lies. Such designee shall be a Customs officer who did not participate directly in the decision which is the subject of the protest.

§ 174.27 Disposition after further review.

Upon completion of further review, the protest and appropriate documents forwarded for review shall be returned to the district director together with directions for the disposition of the protest.

§ 174.28 Consideration of additional arguments.

In determining whether to allow or deny a protest filed within the time allowed, a reviewing officer may consider alternative claims and additional grounds or arguments submitted in writing by the protesting party with respect to any decision which is the subject of a valid protest at any time prior to disposition of the protest. In any case in which alternative claims or additional grounds or arguments are submitted orally, they shall be considered in the allowance or denial of the protest only if submitted in writing in conjunction with, or no later than 60 days after, such oral submission. (R.S. 251, as amended, secs. 514, 624, 46 Stat. 734, as amended, 759; 19 U.S.C. 66, 1514, 1624)

§ 174.29 Allowance or denial of protests.

The district director shall allow or deny in whole or in part a protest filed in accordance with section 514, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, 19 U.S.C. 1514) within 2 years from the date the protest was filed. If the protest is allowed in whole or in part the district director shall remit or refund any duties, charge, or exaction found to have been collected in excess, or pay any drawback found due. If the protest is denied in whole or in part the district director shall give notice of the denial in the form and manner prescribed in § 174.30.

§ 174.30 Notice of denial of protest.

(a) Issuance of notice. Notice of denial of a protest shall be mailed to any person filing a protest or his agent in all cases other than those in which accelerated disposition was requested and in which no action has been taken within 30 days after the date of mailing of the request. The notice shall include a statement of the reasons for the denial, as well as a statement informing the protesting party of the right to file a civil action contesting the denial of the protest under section 514, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1514). For purposes of section 515(a), Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1515(a)), the date appearing on such notice shall be deemed the date on which such notice was mailed. [TD 80-271.]

(b) Substitution of persons designated to receive notice. The importer of record or consignee may give notice to the district director instructing that notice of denial of any protest involving merchandise imported in his name or on his behalf shall be mailed to a person other than the person filing such protest or the designee of such person. Such notice of substitution shall be filed in quadruplicate and shall identify the protest by number and date of receipt. Notice of denial of a protest shall be mailed to the substituted person so designated only if the notice of substitution is received by the district director prior to a denial by him of such protest.

(c) Notification of payment of increased duties. The district director shall note on the notice of denial of a protest the payment of all liquidated duties, charges, or exactions, if he has actual knowledge of such payment at the time that the protest is denied.

§ 174.31 Judicial review of denial of protest.

Any person whose protest has been denied, in whole or in part, may contest the denial by filing a civil action in the United States Customs Court in accordance with 28 U.S.C. 2632 within 180 days after— [TD 78-17.]

(a) The date of mailing of notice of denial, in whole or in part, of a protest, or

(b) The date a protest, for which accelerated disposition was requested, is deemed to have been denied in accordance with § 174.22(d).

§ 174.32 Publication.

Within 120 days after issuing a protest review decision, the Customs Service shall publish the decision in the Customs Bulletin or otherwise make it available for public inspection. Disclosure is governed by 31 CFR part 1 and 19 CFR part 103.

Source: T.D. 70-181, 35 FR 13432, Aug. 22, 1970, unless otherwise noted.

§ 175.0 Scope

This part sets forth the procedures applicable to requests by domestic interested parties for the classification and rate of duty applicable to designated imported merchandise, and to petitions alleging that the appraised value is too low, that the classification is not correct, or that the proper rate of duty is not being assessed upon designated imported merchandise which is claimed to be similar to the class or kind of merchandise manufactured, produced, or wholesaled by the petitioner. [TD 70-181, 80-271.]

Subpart A—Request for Classification Appraised Value and Rate of Duty

§ 175.1 Submission of request.

Written requests pursuant to section 516, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1516), for information as to the classification and rate of duty imposed upon designated imported merchandise shall be submitted in triplicate to the Commissioner of Customs.

§ 175.2 Contents of request.

The request for information shall contain the following information:

(a) The name of the person making the request, his principal place of business, and the fact that he is a domestic interested party; [TD 80-271.]

(b) A designation of the imported merchandise for which the classification appraised value and rate is requested; and

(c) A showing of the class or kind of merchandise manufactured, produced, or sold by him which is claimed to be similar to the imported merchandise in such detail as will permit the Commissioner to establish the similarity between the domestic and foreign merchandise.

§ 175.3 Domestic interested party.

"Domestic interested party", when used in this Part, means:

(a) A manufacturer, producer, or wholesaler in the United States of a like product,

(b) A certified union or recognized union or group of workers which is representative of an industry engaged in the manufacture, production, or wholesale in the United States of a like product, or

(c) A trade or business association a majority of whose members manufacture, produce, or wholesale a like product in the United States. [TD 80-271.]

Subpart B—Petitions

§ 175.11 Filing of petitions.

(a) Number of copies and where filed. All petitions pursuant to section 516 Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1516), shall be submitted to the Commissioner of Customs in triplicate.

(b) By whom filed. Petitions may be filed by the domestic interested parties themselves, or by duly authorized attorneys or agents on their behalf. A petition filed by a corporation shall be signed by an officer thereof, and a petition filed by a partnership shall be signed by a member thereof. [TD 80-271.]

§ 175.12 Contents of petition.

The petition shall be itemized as to each class or kind of merchandise involved, and shall contain the following:

(a) The name of the petitioner, his principal place of business, and the fact that he is a domestic interested party; [TD 80-271.]

(b) A statement showing the class or kind of merchandise manufactured, produced, or sold by him which is claimed to be similar to the imported merchandise in such detail as will permit the Commissioner of Customs to establish the similarity between the domestic and foreign merchandise; and

(c) A presentation, in detail, of the information required by section 516, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1516).

Subpart C—Procedure Following Petition

§ 175.21 Notice of filing of petition, inspection of petition, and inspection of documents and papers.

(a) Notice of filing of petition. Upon the filing of a petition, a notice shall be published in the Federal Register setting forth that a petition has been filed by a domestic interested party identifying the merchandise which is the subject of the petition, and its present and claimed appraised value or classification or rate of duty. The notice shall invite interested persons to make such written submissions as they desire within such time as is specified in the notice. [TD 74-236, 80-271.]

(b) Inspection of petition; inspection of documents and papers. The petition filed by a domestic interested party will be made available for inspection by interested parties in accordance with the provisions of § 103.11(b) of this chapter. However, neither a petitioner nor other interested parties shall in any case be permitted to inspect documents or papers of the consignee or importer which are exempted from disclosure by section 103.12 of this chapter. (R.S. 251, as amended, secs. 516, 624, 46 Stat.

(a) Incorrect appraised value, classification, or rate of duty. If the appraised value of, classification of, or rate of duty upon imported merchandise of the character which is the subject of a petition is found to be incorrect, the Commissioner of Customs shall so inform the petitioner, and shall cause the proper value, classification, or rate of duty to be published in the Federal Register and the weekly Customs Bulletin. Such merchandise entered for consumption or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption after 30 days after the date of publication of such notice to the petitioner in the Customs Bulletin shall be appraised, classified, or assessed as to rate of duty in accordance with the published decision.

(b) Correct appraised value, classification, or rate of duty. If the appraised value of, classification of, or rate of duty upon the imported merchandise which is the subject of the petition is found to be correct, the Commissioner of Customs shall so notify the petitioner, but the decision shall not be published.

§ 175.23 Notice of desire to contest decision.

If the petitioner is dissatisfied with the decision of the Commissioner that the appraised value, classification, or rate of duty is correct for the merchandise which was the subject of the petition, in accordance with section 516, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1516) he may file with the Commissioner of Customs not later than 30 days after the date of the decision a notice that he desires to contest the appraised value of, classification of, or rate of duty assessed upon the imported merchandise. Such notice shall designate the port or ports at which such merchandise is being imported into the United States, and at which the petitioner desires to protest.

§ 175.24 Publication following notice of desire to contest.

Upon receipt of a properly filed petitioner's notice that he desires to contest the decision as to the appraised value of, classification of, or rate of duty assessed upon the imported merchandise, the Commissioner of Customs shall cause to be published in the Federal Register and the weekly Customs Bulletin a notice of his decision as to the proper appraised value of, classification of, or rate of duty assessed upon the imported merchandise, and of petitioner's desire to contest the decision.

§ 175.25 Procedure at port of entry designated by petitioner.

(a) Information as to character and description of merchandise. All information secured by the district director for the port designated by the petitioner in his notice of desire to contest as to the character and description of merchandise of the kind covered by the petition and entered after publication by the Commissioner of Customs of his decision as to the proper appraised value, classification and rate of duty, and samples of such merchandise, shall be made available to the petitioner upon application by him to the district director.

(b) Notice of liquidation. Notice of liquidation of the first of the entries to be liquidated which would enable the petitioner to present the issue desired shall be given to the petitioner by the district director or the designated port as required by section 516, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1516).

(c) Further notice when issue not presented. If, upon examination of the information and inspection of any sample supplied by the district director, the petitioner believes and the district director agrees that the merchandise or the facts surrounding this importation are not sufficient to raise the issue involved in the petition, the district director shall then give the petitioner notice of the first liquidation thereafter which will permit the framing of the issue covered by the petition. The district director shall, under the same conditions, continue to give notice for so long as he is of the opinion that the petitioner affirmatively intends to contest. When the district director concludes that the petitioner does not intend to contest the decision of the Commissioner of Customs, he shall refer the matter to the Commissioner of Customs for his decision before issuing any further notice of liquidation.

§ 175.31 Publication of notice of court decision.

Notice of a decision of the Customs Court or of the Court of Customs and Patent Appeals which sustains, in whole or in part, a cause of action before the court under the provisions of section 516, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1516), shall be published by the Commissioner of Customs in the Federal Register within 10 days from the date of issuance of the court decision.

This part deals with service of summons and notice of appeal in actions before the Customs Court, the transmission of records to the court, statements of agreed facts, and Customs procedures following a decision by the court. [TD 70-181.]

Subpart A—Service

§ 176.1 Service of summons.

When an action is initiated in the Customs Court a copy of the summons shall be served in the manner prescribed by the Customs Court upon the district director for each Customs district in which a protest cited in the summons was denied, and an additional copy shall be served upon the Assistant Chief Counsel for Customs Court Litigation, United States Customs Service, 26 Federal Plaza, New York, N.Y. 10007. (28 U.S.C. 2632, as amended)

§ 176.2 Service of notice of appeal.

When the United States is an appellee in an appeal taken to the Court of Customs and Patent Appeals, a copy of the notice of appeal shall be served upon the Assistant Chief Counsel for Customs Court Litigation. (28 U.S.C. 2601, as amended)

Subpart B—Transmission of Records

§ 176.11 Transmission of records to Customs Court.

Upon receipt of service of a summons in an action initiated in the Customs Court the following items shall be immediately transmitted to the Customs Court as part of the official record by the Customs officer concerned:

(a) Consumption or other entry;
(b) Commercial invoice;
(c) Special Customs invoice;
(d) Copy of protest and any amendments thereto;
(e) Copy of denial or protest in whole or in part;
(f) Importer's exhibits;
(g) Official samples;
(h) Any official laboratory reports;
(i) The summary sheet;

(j) In any case in which one or more of the items listed in paragraphs (a) through (i) of this section do not exist, the Customs officer shall include a statement to that effect, identifying the items which do not exist. (28 U.S.C. 2632, as amended)

Subpart C—Statement of Agreed Facts

§ 176.21 Referral of statement of agreed facts for certification.

Statements of agreed facts (also referred to as stipulations) to be used by the Department of Justice in submitting cases to the Customs Court may be referred for certification to Customs officials by the office of the Assistant Attorney General, Customs Section, Civil Division, Department of Justice, 26 Federal Plaza, New York, N.Y. 10007.

§ 176.22 Deletion of protest or entry number.

If any protest number or entry number is to be deleted from a schedule of protest numbers or entry numbers attached to or embodied in a statement of agreed facts, a line shall be drawn through the number and the change shall be initiated by the authorized official making and approving the deletion.

§ 176.31 Reliquidation following decision of court.

(a) Decision of U.S. Customs Court. Except as provided in paragraph (c) of this section, an entry which is the subject of a decision of the U.S. Customs Court shall be reliquidated in accordance with the judgment order thereon at the expiration of 60 days from the date of the decision, unless an appeal or motion for a rehearing is filed. However, entries which are the subject of decisions of the court following a decision of the Court of Customs and Patent Appeals which involve the same issue, or which are based on submission of an agreed statement of fact, may be reliquidated immediately upon receipt of the judgment orders from the U.S. Customs Court.

(b) Decision of the Court of Customs and Patent Appeals. Except as provided in paragraph (c) of this section, an entry covering merchandise which is the subject of a decision of the Court of Customs and Patent Appeals shall be reliquidated at the expiration of 90 days from the date of entry of decision by that court and only upon receipt of the judgment order from the U.S. Customs Court. However, no such entry shall be reliquidated pursuant to such order if a petition for certiorari is taken to the Supreme Court.

(c) Waiver of right of appeal. Upon receipt of a letter from the Assistant Attorney General, Civil Division, Department of Justice, signed by the Chief, Customs Section, advising that no appeal will be taken from a decision of the U.S. Customs Court or that it has been determined that no petition for certiorari shall be filed in the Supreme Court to review a decision of the Court of Customs and Patent Appeals, any entry or entries covered by such decision may be reliquidated pursuant to the judgment of the U.S. Customs Court prior to the expiration of the times specified in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section. (Sec. 514, 46 Stat. 734, as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1514)

This part relates to the issuance of rulings to importers and other interested persons by the Headquarters Office of the United States Customs Service or the Regional Commissioner of Customs, Region II, New York ("Regional Commissioner, Region II"). It describes the situations in which a ruling may be requested, the procedures to be followed in requesting a ruling, the conditions under which a ruling will be issued, the effect of a ruling when it is issued, and the publication of rulings in the Customs Bulletin. The rulings issued under the provisions of this part will usually be prospective in application and, consequently, will usually not relate to specific matters or situations presently or previously under consideration by any Customs Service field office. Accordingly, the rulings requested under the provisions of this part should be distinguished from the administrative rulings, determinations, or decisions which may be requested under procedures set forth elsewhere in this chapter, including, but not limited to, those set forth in Part 12 (relating to submissions of proof of admissibility of articles detained under section 307 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (19 U.S.C. 1307)), Part 103 (relating to disclosure of information in Customs files), Part 133 (relating to disputed claims of piratical copying of copyrighted matter), Subpart C of Part 152 (relating to determinations concerning the dutiable value of merchandise by Customs field officers), Part 171 (relating to fines, penalties, and forfeitures), Part 172 (relating to liquidated damages), Part 174 (relating to protests), and Part 175 (relating to petitions filed by domestic interested parties pursuant to section 516 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended). Nor do the provisions of Part 177 apply to requests for decisions of an operational, administrative, or investigative nature which are properly within the cognizance of a Customs Headquarters Office other than the Office of Regulations and Rulings. [TD's 75-186, 80-271, 80-285.]

§ 177.1 General ruling practice and definitions.

(a) The issuance of rulings generally—(1) Prospective transactions. It is in the interest of the sound administration of the Customs and related laws that persons engaging in any transaction affected by those laws fully understand the consequences of that transaction prior to its consummation. For this reason, the Headquarters Office of the United States Customs Service or the Regional Commissioner, Region II, will give full and careful consideration to written requests from importers or other interested parties for rulings or information setting forth, with respect to a specifically described Customs transaction, a definitive interpretation of applicable law, or other appropriate information. Generally, a ruling may be requested under the provisions of this part only with respect to prospective transactions—that is, transactions which are not already pending before a Customs Service office by reason of arrival, entry, or otherwise. [TD 80-285.]

(2) Current or completed transactions—(i) Current transactions. A question arising in connection with a Customs transaction already before a Customs Service office will normally be resolved by that office in accordance with the principles and precedents previously announced by the Headquarters Office. If such a question cannot be resolved on the basis of clearly established rules set forth in the Customs and related laws, or in the regulations thereunder, or in applicable Treasury Decisions, rulings, opinions, or court decisions published in the Customs Bulletin, that office may be requested to forward the question to the Headquarters Office for consideration, as more fully described in § 177.11.

(ii) Completed transactions. A question arising in connection with an entry of merchandise which has been liquidated, or in connection with any other completed Customs transaction, may not be the subject of a ruling request.

(b) Oral advice. The Customs Service will not issue rulings in response to oral requests. Oral opinions or advice of Customs Service personnel are not binding on the Customs Service. However, oral inquiries may be made to Customs Service offices regarding existing rulings, the scope of such rulings, the types of transactions with respect to which the Headquarters Office or the Regional Commissioner, Region II, will issue rulings, the scope of the rulings which may be issued, or the procedures to be followed in submitting ruling requests, as described in this part [TD 80-285.]

(c) Who may request a ruling. A ruling may be requested by any person who, as an importer or exporter of merchandise, or otherwise, has a direct and demonstrable interest in the question or questions presented in the ruling request, or by the authorized agent of such person. A "person" in this context includes an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or other entity or group.

(d) Definitions. (1) A "ruling" is a written statement issued by the Headquarters Office or the Regional Commissioner, Region II, that interprets and applies the provisions of the Customs and related laws to a specific set of facts. A "ruling letter' is a ruling issued in response to a written request therefor and set forth in a letter addressed to the person making the request or his designee. A "published ruling" is a ruling which has been published in the Customs Bulletin.

(2) An "information letter" is a written statement issued by the Headquarters Office or the Regional Commissioner, Region II, that does no more than call attention to a well-established interpretation or principle of Customs law, without applying it to a particular set of facts. An information letter may be issued in response to a request for a ruling when (i) the request suggests that general information, rather than a ruling, is actually being sought, (ii) the request is incomplete or otherwise fails to meet the requirements set forth in this part, or (iii) the ruling requested cannot be issued for any other reason, and (iv) it is believed that general information may be of some benefit to the party making the request. [TD 80-285.]

(3) A "Customs transaction" is an act or activity to which the Customs and related laws apply. A "prospective" Customs transaction is one that is contemplated or is currently being undertaken and has not resulted in any arrival or the filing of any entry or other document, or in any other act to bring the transaction, or any part of it, under the jurisdiction of any Customs Service office. A "current" Customs transaction is one which is presently under consideration by a field office (port, district, or region) of the Customs Service. A "completed" Customs transaction is one which has been acted upon by a Customs Service field office and with respect to which that office has issued a determination which is final in nature, but is (or was) subject to appeal, petition, protest, or other review, as provided in the applicable Customs laws and regulations. In a series of identical, recurring transactions, each transaction shall be considered an individual transaction for purposes of this part.

(4) An "authorized agent" is a person expressly authorized by a principal to act on his behalf. A ruling requested by an attorney or other person acting as an agent must include a statement describing the authority under which the request is made. With the exception of attorneys whose authority to represent is known, any person appearing before the Customs Service as an agent in connection with a ruling request may be required to present evidence of his authority to represent the principal. The foregoing requirements will not apply to an individual representing his full-time employer, or to a bona-fide officer, director, or other qualified representative of a corporation, association, or organized group.

(5) The term "Customs and related laws," as generally used in this part, includes any provision of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (including the Tariff Schedules of the United States), or the Customs Regulations, or any provision contained in other legislation (including the navigation laws), regulations, treaties, orders, proclamations, or other agreements administered by the Customs Service.

(6) The term "Headquarters Office," as used herein, means the Office of Regulations and Rulings at Headquarters, United States Customs Service, Washington, D.C.

§ 177.2 Submission of ruling requests.

(a) Form. A request for a ruling should be in the form of a letter. Requests for Valuation and Carrier rulings should be addressed to the Commissioner of Customs, Attention: Office of Regulations and Rulings, Washington, D.C. 20229. The Division and Branch in the Office of Regulations and Rulings to which the request should be directed may also be indicated, if known. Requests for Tariff Classification rulings should be addressed to the Regional Commissioner of Customs, Region II, Attn: Classification and Ruling Requests, New York, New York, 10048. [TD 80-285.]

(b) Content—(1) Generally. Each request for a ruling must contain a complete statement of all relevant facts relating to the transaction. Such facts include the names, addresses, and other identifying information of all interested parties (if known); the name of the port or place at which any article involved in the transaction will arrive or be entered, or which will otherwise have jurisdiction with respect to the act or activity described in the transaction; and a description of the transaction itself, appropriate in detail to the type of ruling requested.

(2) Description of transaction—(i) Generally. The Customs transaction to which the ruling request relates must be described in sufficient detail to permit the proper application of relevant Customs and related laws.

(ii) Tariff classification rulings.

(A) If the transaction involves the importation of an article for which a ruling as to its proper classification under the provisions of the Tariff Schedules of the United States is requested, the request for a ruling should include a full and complete description of the article and whenever germane to the proper classification of the article, information as to the article's chief use in the United States, its commercial, common, or technical designation, and, where the article is composed of two or more materials, the relative quantity (by weight and by volume) and value of each. The ruling request should also note, whenever germane, the purchase price of the article, and its approximate selling price in the United States.

(B) Ruling letters issued by the Regional Commissioner, Region II, are limited to prospective transactions. The Regional Commissioner, Region II, shall not prepare final decisions under section 177.11 (Requests for Advice by Field Offices), section 174.23 (Further Review of Protests), section 177.10 (Change of Practice), 19 U.S.C. 1516 (petitions under section 516, Tariff Act of 1930), or 14.3(g)(1) Customs Manual ("difference cases").

(C) The requesting party may send the request directly to the Director, Classification and Value Division, U.S. Customs Service, Washington, D.C. 20229. The Headquarters Office retains authority to independently review all tariff classification ruling letters issued by the Regional Commissioner, Region II. If the importer or other person to whom a ruling letter is issued disagrees with the tariff classification set forth, he may petition the Director, Classification and Value Division, U.S. Customs Service, Washington, D.C., for review of the ruling. [TD 80-285.]

(iii) Valuation rulings. If the transaction involves the valuation of an article for Customs purposes, the request for a ruling should include of the applicable information described in subparts C and D of Part 152 of this chapter, and, insofar as is relevant, the information which would be required on a Special Customs Invoice, as described in Subpart F of Part 141 of this chapter. The request should also describe the nature of the transaction (whether f.o.b./c.i.f., ex-factory, or some other arrangement), the relationship (if any) of the parties, whether the transaction was at arm's-length, whether there have been other sales of the same or similar merchandise in the country of exportation, whether an agency relationship exists, or any other information relevant to a determination under section 402 or 402a of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1401a, 1402).

(iv) Carrier rulings. If the transaction involves a vessel, the request for a ruling should include information relating to place of build and nationality of registration and, if to be used in waters under the jurisdiction of the United States, the exact place or places of intended use, if known. If the request for a ruling involves a determination as to whether or not the primary object of a contemplated voyage would be considered to be coastwise transportation in violation of 46 U.S.C. 289 (see § 4.80a of this chapter), the request should completely identify the voyage, including the proposed time of arrival at and departure from every port on the itinerary and any coordination of the voyage with special events at coastwise ports, and should be accompanied by samples, if available, of brochures, advertising, and other information that may be relevant to a determination of the primary object of the proposed voyage.

(3) Samples. Each request for a ruling regarding the status of an article under any Customs or related law affecting the importation or arrival of that article should be accompanied by photographs, drawings, or other pictorial representations of the article and, whenever possible, by a sample article, unless a precise description of the article is not essential to the ruling requested. Any article consisting of materials in chemical or physical combination for which a laboratory analysis has been prepared by or for the manufacturer should include a copy of that analysis. A sample submitted in connection with a request for a ruling becomes a part of the Customs Service file in the matter and will be retained until the ruling is issued or the ruling request is otherwise disposed of. If the return of the sample is desired, the ruling request should so state and should specify the desired means of return. A sample should only be submitted with the understanding that all or a part of it may be damaged or consumed in the course of examination, testing, analysis, or other actions undertaken in connection with the ruling request.

(4) Related documents. If the question or questions presented in the ruling request directly relate to matters set forth in any invoice, contract, agreement, or other document, a copy of the document must be submitted with the request. (Original documents should not be submitted inasmuch as any documents or exhibits furnished with the ruling request become a part of the Customs Service file in the matter and cannot be returned.) The relevant facts reflected in any documents submitted, and an explanation of their bearing on the question or questions presented, must be expressly set forth in the ruling request.

(5) Prior or current transactions. Each request for a ruling must state whether, to the knowledge of the person submitting the request, the same transaction, or one identical to it, has ever been considered, or is currently being considered by any Customs Service office or whether, to the knowledge of the person submitting the request, the issues involved have ever been considered, or are currently being considered, by the United States Customs Court, the United States Court of Customs and Patent Appeals, or any court of appeal therefrom. Where the transaction described in the ruling request is but one of a series of similar and related transactions, that fact must also be stated.

(6) Statement of position. If the request for a ruling asks that a particular determination or conclusion be reached in the ruling letter, a statement must be included in the request setting forth the basis for that determination or conclusion, together with a citation of all relevant supporting authority.

(7) Privileged or confidential information. Information which is claimed to constitute trade secrets or privileged or confidential commercial or financial information regarding the business transactions of private parties the disclosure of which would cause substantial harm to the competitive position of the person making the request (or of another interested party), must be identified clearly and the reasons such information should not be disclosed, including, where applicable, the reasons the disclosure of the information would prejudice the competitive position of the person making the request (or of another interested party) must be set forth. [TD 80-285.]

(c) Signing; instructions as to reply. The request for a ruling must be signed by a person authorized to make the request, as described in § 177.1(c). A ruling requested by a principal or authorized agent may direct that the ruling letter be addressed to the other.

(d) Requests for immediate consideration. The Headquarters Office and the Regional Commissioner, Region II, will normally process requests for rulings in the order they are received and as expeditiously as possible. However, a request that a particular matter be given consideration ahead of its regular order, if made in writing at the time the request is submitted, or subsequent thereto, and showing a clear need for such treatment, will be given consideration as the particular circumstances warrant and permit. Requests for special consideration made by telegram will be treated in the same manner as requests made by letter, but rulings will not ordinarily be issued by telegram. In no event can any assurance be given that a particular request for a ruling will be acted upon by the time requested. However, upon request and where a clear need is shown for such action, a collect telephone call will be made to advise that the ruling letter has been issued and is being mailed. [TD 80-285].

§ 177.3 Nonconforming requests for rulings.

A person submitting a request for a ruling that does not comply with all of the provisions of this part will be so notified in writing, and the requirements that have not been met will be pointed out. Such person will be given a period of 30 days from the date of the notice (or such longer period as the notice may provide) to supply any additional information that is requested or to otherwise conform the ruling request to the requirements referred to in the notice. The Customs Service file with respect to ruling requests which are not brought into compliance with the provisions of this part within the period of time allowed will be administratively closed and the request removed from active consideration until such time as the deficiencies cited in the notice are corrected. A request for a ruling that is removed from active consideration by reason of failing to comply with the provisions of this part may be treated as withdrawn.

§ 177.4 Oral discussion of issues.

(a) Generally. A person submitting a request for a ruling and desiring an opportunity to orally discuss the issue or issues involved should indicate that desire in writing at the time the ruling request is filed. Such a discussion will only be scheduled when, in the opinion of the Customs personnel by whom the ruling request is under consideration, a conference will be helpful in deciding the issue or issues involved or when a determination or conclusion contrary to that advocated in the ruling request is contemplated. Conferences are scheduled for the purpose of affording the parties an opportunity to freely and openly discuss the matters set forth in the ruling request. Accordingly, the parties will not be bound by any argument or position advocated or agreed to, expressly or by implication, during the conference unless either party subsequently agrees to be so bound in writing. The conference will not conclude with the issuance of a ruling letter.

(b) Time, place, and number of conferences. If a request for a conference is granted, the person making the request will be notified of the time and place of the conference. Except under highly unusual circumstances, the conference will be held at the Headquarters Office of the Customs Service in Washington, D.C., or at Region II, New York. No more than one conference with respect to the matters set forth in a ruling request will be scheduled, unless, in the opinion of the Customs personnel by whom the ruling request is under consideration, additional conferences are necessary. [TD 80-285.]

(c) Representation. A person whose request for a conference has been granted may be accompanied at that conference by counsel or other representatives, or may designate such persons to attend the conference in his place.

(d) Additional information presented at conferences. It will be the responsibility of the person submitting the request for a ruling to provide for inclusion in the Customs Service file in the matter a written record setting forth any and all additional information, documents, and exhibits introduced during the conference to the extent that person considers such material relevant to the consideration of the ruling request by the Headquarters Office.

§ 177.5 Change in status of transaction.

Each person submitting a request for a ruling in connection with a Customs transaction shall immediately advise Customs in writing of any change in the status of that transaction, as defined in § 177.1(d)(3). In particular, the Headquarters Office or the Regional Commissioner, Region II, must be advised when any transaction described in the ruling request as prospective becomes current and under the jurisdiction of any Customs Service field office. In addition, any person engaged in a Customs transaction coming under the jurisdiction of a Customs Service field office and having previously requested a ruling with respect to that transaction shall advise the field office of that fact. The field office will normally withhold action with respect to any transaction for which a ruling has previously been requested pending the disposition of the ruling request. [TD 80-285.]

§ 177.6 Withdrawal of ruling requests.

Any request for a ruling may be withdrawn by the person submitting it at any time prior to the issuance of a ruling letter or any other final disposition of the request. All correspondence, documents, and exhibits submitted in connection with the request will be retained in the Customs Service file and will not be returned. In addition, the Headquarters Office may forward to Customs Service field offices which have or may have jurisdiction over the transaction to which the ruling request relates, its views in regard to the transaction or the issues involved therein, as well as appropriate information derived from materials in the Customs Service file. [TD 80-285.]

§ 177.7 Situations in which no ruling will be issued.

(a) Generally. No ruling letter will be issued in response to a request for a ruling which fails to comply with the provisions of this part. Moreover, no ruling letter will be issued with regard to transactions or questions which are essentially hypothetical in nature or in any instance in which it appears contrary to the sound administration of the Customs and related laws to do so. No ruling letter will be issued in regard to a completed transaction.

(b) Pending litigation in the United States Customs Court. No ruling letter will be issued with respect to any issue which is pending before the United States Customs Court, the United States Court of Customs and Patent Appeals, or any court of appeal therefrom. Litigation before any other court will not preclude the issuance of a ruling letter, provided neither the Customs Service nor any of its officers or agents is named as a defendant.

§ 177.8 Issuance of rulings.

(a) Ruling letters—(1) Generally. The Headquarters Office and the Regional Commissioner, Region II, will endeavor to issue ruling letters setting forth their determinations with respect to a specifically-described Customs transaction whenever a request for such a ruling is submitted in accordance with the provisions of this part and it is in the interest of the sound administration of the Customs and related laws to do so. Otherwise, a request for a ruling will be answered by an information letter or, in those situations in which general information is likely to be of little or no value, by a letter stating that no ruling can be issued.

(2) Submission of ruling letters to field offices. Any person engaging in a Customs transaction with respect to which a ruling letter has been issued by the Headquarters Office or the Regional Commissioner, Region II, shall ascertain that a copy of the ruling letter is attached to the documents filed in connection with that transaction with the appropriate Customs Service field office or otherwise bring the ruling to the attention of the appropriate Customs officer. A copy of any ruling letter received after the filing of such documents shall be forwarded immediately to the appropriate Customs Service field office.

(3) Disclosure of ruling letters. The ruling letter shall be based on the information set forth in the ruling request. No part of the ruling letter, including names, addresses, or information relating to the business transactions of private parties, shall be deemed to constitute privileged or confidential commercial or financial information or trade secrets exempt from disclosure pursuant to the Freedom of Information Act, as amended (5 U.S.C. 552), unless, as provided in § 177.2(b)(7), the information claimed to be exempt from disclosure is clearly identified and the reasons for the exemption are set forth. Before the issuance of the ruling letter, the person submitting the ruling request, will be notified of any decision adverse to his claim for exemption from disclosure and will, upon written request to Customs within 10 working days of the date of notification, be permitted to withdraw the ruling request. All ruling letters issued by the Headquarters Office or the Regional Commissioner, Region II, will be available, upon written request, for inspection and copying by any person (with any portions determined to be exempt from disclosure deleted). [TD 80-285.]

(b) Other rulings. The Headquarters Office may from time to time issue other rulings with respect to issues or transactions described or suggested by requests for rulings submitted under the provisions of this part, or with respect to issues or transactions otherwise brought to its attention. These rulings, which are statements of the official position of the Customs Service which are likely to be of widespread interest and application, are published in the Customs Bulletin, as described in § 177.10.

(a) Effect of ruling letters generally. A ruling letter issued by the Headquarters Office or the Regional Commissioner, Region II, under the provisions of this part represents the official position of the Customs Service with respect to the particular transaction or issue described therein and is binding on all Customs Service personnel in accordance with the provisions of this section until modified or revoked. In the absence of a subsequent change of practice or other modification or revocation which affects the principle of the ruling set forth in the ruling letter, that principle may be cited as authority in the disposition of transactions involving the same circumstances. [TD 80-285.]

(b) Application of rulings to transactions—(1) Generally. Each ruling letter is issued on the assumption that all of the information furnished in connection with the ruling request and incorporated in the ruling letter, either directly, by reference, or by implication, is accurate and complete in every material respect. The application of a ruling letter by a Customs Service field office to the transaction to which it is purported to relate is subject to the verification of the facts incorporated in the ruling letter, a comparison of the transaction described therein to the actual transaction, and the satisfaction of any conditions on which the ruling was based. If, in the opinion of any Customs Service field office by whom the transaction is under consideration or review, the ruling letter should be modified or revoked, the findings and recommendations of that office will be forwarded to the Headquarters Office for consideration, as provided in § 177.11(b)(1)(i), prior to any final disposition with respect to the transaction by that office. Otherwise, if the transaction described in the ruling letter and the actual transaction are the same, and any and all conditions set forth in the ruling letter have been satisfied, the ruling will be applied to the transaction.

(2) Tariff classification rulings. Each ruling letter setting forth the proper classification of an article under the provisions of the Tariff Schedules of the United States will be applied only with respect to transactions involving articles identical to the sample submitted with the ruling request or to articles whose description is identical to the description set forth in the ruling letter.

(3) Valuation rulings. Each ruling letter setting forth the proper valuation of an article under the provisions of section 402 or 402a of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1401a, 1402), will be applied only with respect to transactions involving the same merchandise and like facts.

(4) Carrier rulings. Each ruling letter setting forth the applicability of the navigation laws to a vessel will be applied only with respect to transactions involving operations identical to those set forth in the ruling letter. Each ruling letter setting forth a determination as to whether or not the primary object of a contemplated voyage is coastwise transportation in violation of 46 U.S.C. 289 will be binding on the United States Customs Service with respect to any transaction identical to the facts and circumstances described in the ruling request and undertaken in reliance on the ruling letter.

(c) Reliance on ruling letters by others. A ruling letter is subject to modification or revocation without notice to any person, except the person to whom the letter was addressed. Accordingly, no other person should rely on the ruling letter or assume that the principles of that ruling will be applied in connection with any transaction other than the one described in the letter. However, any person eligible to request a ruling under section 177.1(c) may request information as to whether a previously-issued ruling letter has been modified or revoked by writing the Commissioner of Customs, Attention: Office of Regulations and Rulings, Washington, D.C. 20229, and either enclosing a copy of the ruling letter or furnishing other information sufficient to permit the ruling letter in question to be identified.

(d) Modification or revocation of ruling letters—(1) Generally. Any ruling letter found to be in error or not in accordance with the current views of the Customs Service may be modified or revoked. Modification or revocation of a ruling letter shall be effected by Customs Headquarters by giving notice to the person to whom the ruling letter was addressed and, where circumstances warrant, by the publication of a notice or other statement in the Customs Bulletin.

(2) Effect of modification or revocation of ruling letters. The modification or revocation of a ruling letter will not be applied retroactively with respect to the person to whom the ruling was issued, or to any person directly involved in the transaction to which that ruling related, provided (i) The request for a ruling contained no misstatement or omission of material facts,

(ii) The facts subsequently developed are not materially different from the facts on which the ruling was based,

(iii) There has been no change in the applicable law,

(iv) The ruling was originally issued with respect to a prospective transaction, and

(v) All of the parties involved in the transaction acted in good faith in reliance upon the ruling and retroactive modification or revocation would be to their detriment.

Nothing in this subparagraph will prohibit the retroactive modification or revocation of a ruling with respect to a transaction which was not prospective at the time the ruling was issued, inasmuch as such a transaction was not entered into in reliance on a ruling from the Headquarters Office or the Regional Commissioner, Region II. [TD 80-285.]

§ 177.10 Publication of decisions.

(a) Generally.—Within 120 days after issuing any precedential decision under the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, relating to any Customs transaction (prospective, current, or completed), the Customs Service shall publish the decision in the Customs Bulletin or otherwise make it available for public inspection. For purposes of this paragraph, a precedential decision includes any ruling letter, internal advice memorandum, or protest review decision. Disclosure is governed by 31 CFR, part 1, 19 CFR, part 103, and 19 CFR 177.8(a)(3). [TD 78-394]

(b) Rulings regarding a rate of duty or charge. Any ruling regarding a rate of duty or charge which is published in the Customs Bulletin will establish a uniform practice. A published ruling may result in a change of practice, it may limit the application of a court decision, it may otherwise modify an earlier ruling with respect to the classification or valuation of an article or any other action found to be in error or no longer in accordance with the current views of the Customs Service, or it may revoke a previously-published ruling or a previously-issued ruling letter. No ruling published under the provisions of this section will have the effect of changing either an earlier published ruling or a practice established by other means by imposing a higher rate of duty or charge on an article unless the earlier ruling or practice has been determined to be clearly wrong.

(c) Changes of practice or position. (1) Before the publication of a ruling which has the effect of changing a practice and which results in the assessment of a higher rate of duty, notice that the practice (or prior ruling on which the practice is based) is under review will be published in the Federal Register and interested parties given an opportunity to make written submissions with respect to the correctness of the contemplated change. This procedure will also be followed when the contemplated change of practice will result in the assessment of a lower rate of duty and the Headquarters Office determines that the matter is of sufficient importance to involve the interests of domestic industry. No advance notice will be provided with respect to rulings which result in a change of practice but no change in the rate of duty.

(2) Before the publication of a ruling which has the effect of changing a position of the Customs Service and which results in a restriction or prohibition, notice that the position (or prior ruling on which the position is based) is under review will be published in the Federal Register and interested parties given an opportunity to make written submissions with respect to the correctness of the contemplated change. This procedure will also be followed when the change of position will result in a holding that an activity is not restricted or prohibited and the Headquarters Office determines that the matter is of sufficient importance to involve the interests of the general public.

(d) Limiting rulings. A published ruling may limit the application of a court decision to the specific article under litigation, or to an article of a specific class or kind of such merchandise, or to the particular circumstances or entries which were the subject of the litigation.

(e) Effective dates. Except as otherwise provided for in the ruling itself, all rulings published under the provisions of this part shall be applied immediately. If the ruling involves merchandise, it will be applicable to all unliquidated entries, except that a change of practice resulting in the assessment of a higher rate of duty or increased duties shall be effective only as to merchandise entered for consumption or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption on or after the 90th day after publication of the change in the Federal Register. [TD 78-394]

§ 177.11 Requests for advice by field offices.

(a) Generally. Advice or guidance as to the interpretation or proper application of the Customs and related laws with respect to a specific Customs transaction may be requested by Customs Service field offices from the Headquarters Office at any time, whether the transaction is prospective, current, or completed. Advice as to the proper application of the Customs and related laws to a current transaction will be sought by a Customs Service field office whenever that office is requested to do so, pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section, by an imported or other person having an interest in the transaction. Advice or guidance will be furnished by the Headquarters Office as a means of assisting Customs personnel in the orderly processing of Customs transactions under consideration by them and to insure the consistent application of the Customs and related laws in the several Customs districts. Requests for advice received by the Headquarters Office will be processed as expeditiously as possible.

(b) Certain current transactions—(1) When a ruling has been issued—(i) Requests by field offices. If the Headquarters Office, or the Regional Commissioner, Region II, has issued a ruling letter with respect to a particular Customs transaction and the Customs Service field office having jurisdiction over that transaction feels that the ruling should be modified or revoked, the field office will forward to the Headquarters Office, pursuant to § 177.9(b)(1), a request that the ruling be reconsidered. The field office will notify the importer or other person to whom the ruling letter was issued, in writing, that it has requested the Headquarters Office to reconsider the ruling. [TD 80-285.]

(ii) Requests by importers and others. If the importer or other person to whom a ruling letter is issued disagrees with the Customs Service field office having jurisdiction over the transaction to which the ruling relates as to the proper application of the ruling to the transaction, the field office will, upon receipt of a written request submitted in accordance with the procedure set forth in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph, request advice from the Headquarters Office as to the proper application of the ruling to the transaction.

(2) When no ruling has been issued. Internal advice will be sought by a Customs Service field office with respect to a current transaction for which no ruling was requested or issued under the provisions of this part whenever a difference of opinion exists as to the interpretation or proper application of the Customs and related laws to the transaction, and the field office is requested to seek such advice by an importer or other person who would have been entitled, under § 177.1(c), to request a ruling with respect to the transaction, while prospective. The request must be submitted to the field office in writing and in accordance with the provisions of subparagraph (3) of this paragraph.

(3) Form of request by importers and others. An importer or other person requesting that a Customs Service field office seek advice from the Headquarters Office must make such a request, in writing, to the field office having jurisdiction over the transaction in question. The request shall contain a complete statement setting forth a description of the transaction, the specific questions presented, the applicable law, and an argument for the conclusions advocated. The statement must also specify whether, to the knowledge of the person submitting the statement, the same transaction, or one identical to it, has ever been considered, or is currently being considered, by any Customs Service office. In addition, the statement should indicate at which port or ports of entry identical or substantially identical merchandise has been entered.

(4) Review of requests by importers and others. All requests submitted by importers and other persons under subparagraph (3) of this paragraph, will be reviewed by the field office to which they are submitted. In the event a difference of opinion exists as to the description of the transaction or as to the point or points at issue, the person submitting the request will be so advised in writing. If agreement cannot be reached, both the statements of the person submitting the request and the field office will be forwarded to the Headquarters Office for consideration.

(5) Refusal by Headquarters Office to furnish advice. The Headquarters Office may refuse to consider the questions presented to it in the form of a request for internal advice whenever (i) the Headquarters Office determines that the period of time necessary to give adequate consideration to the questions presented would result in a withholding of action with respect to the transaction, or in any other situation, that is inconsistent with the sound administration of the Customs and related laws, and (ii) the questions presented can subsequently be raised by the importer or other interested party in the form of a protest filed in accordance with the provisions of Part 174 of this chapter.

(6) Effect of advice received from the Headquarters Office. Advice furnished by the Headquarters Office in response to a request therefor represents the official position of the Customs Service as to the application of the Customs laws to the facts of a specific transaction. If the field office believes that the advice furnished by the Headquarters Office should be reconsidered, it shall promptly request such reconsideration. Otherwise, the advice furnished by the Headquarters Office will be applied by the field office in its disposition of the Customs transaction in question.

(7) Publication. Within 120 days after issuing an internal advice memorandum, the Customs Service shall publish the decision in the Customs Bulletin or otherwise make it available for public inspection. Disclosure is governed by 31 CFR part 1 and 19 CFR, part 103. [TD 78-394]

APPENDIX TO THE CUSTOMS REGULATIONS

APPENDIX

NOTE

This appendix consists mainly of regulations and statutes under which Customs officers and employees perform services for other agencies. Its primary purpose is to take the place of provisions of previous editions of the regulations that have been omitted from the present edition, and it does not purport to include all regulations and statutes under which Customs officers and employees are required to perform duties for other agencies.

As the regulations herein are subject to amendment at any time by the agencies that issued them and there necessarily will be intervals between the issuance of amendments and their inclusion in the appendix, Customs officers and employees shall continue to check the Federal Register and other available publications to keep themselves informed of such amendments.

NAVAL HARBORS CLOSED TO FOREIGN VESSELS

Executive Order No. 1613, issued on September 23, 1912 (T.D. 32861):

It is hereby ordered that the following-named harbors viz: Tortugas, Florida; Great Harbor, Culebra; Guantanamo Naval Station, Cuba; Pearl Harbor, Hawaii; Guam; Subic Bay, Philippine Islands; Kiska, Aleutian Islands, are not, and that they shall not be made subports of entry for foreign vessels of commerce, and that said harbors shall not be visited by any commercial or privately owned vessel of foreign registry; nor by any foreign national vessel, except by special authority of the United States Navy Department in each case.

II. SHIPMENT AND DISCHARGE OF SEAMEN; MANNING OF VESSELS AND SAFETY REQUIREMENTS

DUTY OF DISTRICT DIRECTOR OF CUSTOMS TO ACT AS SHIPPING COMMISSIONER

United States Code, title 46, section 543:

Sec. 543 When officers of Customs shall act.—In any port in which no coast guard official to perform the duties of shipping commissioner shall have been appointed, the whole or any part of the business of a shipping commissioner shall be conducted by the district director of Customs of such port; and in respect of such business such customhouse shall be deemed a shipping office, and the district director of Customs to whom such business shall be committed, shall, for all purposes, be deemed a coast guard official to whom the duties of shipping commissioner within the meaning of title 53 of the Revised Statutes have been delegated. (R.S. sec. 4503.)

SEAMEN; CONTINUOUS DISCHARGE BOOK AND CERTIFICATE OF IDENTIFICATION

United States Code, title 46, sections 643, 643a:

Sec. 643 Continuous discharge book and certificate of identification—(a) Issuance; form and contents.—Every seaman upon a merchant vessel of the United States of the burden of one hundred gross tons or upward, except vessels employed exclusively in trade on the navigable rivers of the United States, shall be furnished, at the option of the seaman, with a book to be known as a continuous discharge book or with a certificate of identification, which book or certificate shall be retained by the seaman and shall contain the signature of the seaman to whom it is so furnished and a statement of his nationality, age, personal description, photograph, thumbprint, and home address. Such books or certificates shall be issued by the coast guard official to whom the duties of Shipping Commissioner have been delegated, or, at ports where no such coast guard officials have been appointed, by the district directors of Customs, in such manner and form as the Commandant of the Coast Guard shall determine. Any individual, firm, partnership, corporation, or association which shall issue any such book or certificate, or make any statement or endorsement therein, except as authorized by the provisions of this section, or issue any imitation of any such book or certificate, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be imprisoned not less than one month nor more than three months, in the discretion of the court.

* * * * * * *

"(d) Entries. Upon the discharge of any seaman and the payment of his wages, the coast guard official to whom the duties of Shipping Commissioner have been delegated shall enter in the continuous discharge book of such seaman, if the seaman carries such a book, the name and official number of the vessel, the nature of the voyage (foreign, intercoastal, or coastwise), the class to which the vessel belongs (steam, motor, sail, or barge), the date and place of the shipment and of the discharge of such seaman, the rating (capacity in which employed) then held by such seaman, and the signature of the person making such entries and nothing more.

"(e) Certificate of discharge; issuance; form and contents. For the purpose of furnishing evidence of sea service in the case of seamen preferring the certificate of identification instead of the continuous discharge book, the Coast Guard shall provide a certificate of discharge, printed on durable paper, in such form as to specify the name and citizenship of the seaman to whom it is issued, the serial number of his certificate of identification, the name and official number of the vessel, the nature of the voyage (foreign, intercoastal, or coastwise), the class to which the vessel belongs (steam, motor, sail, or barge), the date and place of the shipment and of the discharge of such seaman, and the rating (capacity in which employed) then held by such seaman. Records of service entered in either continuous discharge books or certificates of discharge shall contain no reference to the character or ability of the seaman. The coast guard official to whom the duties of shipping commissioner have been delegated shall issue such certificate of discharge and make the proper entries therein, which certificate shall be signed by the seaman to whom it is issued and the master of the vessel and shall be witnessed by such coast guard official.

"(i) Application to fishing or whaling vessels or yachts. The provisions of this section shall not apply to fishing or whaling vessels or yachts.

* * * * * * *

"(k) Performance of duties by collector, deputies, or masters. Where vessels are required to sign on and discharge the crew before a coast guard official to whom the duties of shipping commissioner have been delegated and no such coast guard official is appointed or is available the functions and duties required by subsections (d) and (e) of this section to be performed by such coast guard official may be performed by a collector or deputy collector of customs; and where vessels are not required to sign on and discharge the crew before a such coast guard official the duties and functions required by subsections (d) and (e) of this section to be performed by the such coast guard official shall be performed by the master of such vessel. Any master who shall fail to perform such duties or functions shall be fined in the sum of $50 for each offense."

* * * * * * *

"Sec. 643a Same; exception as to unrigged vessels.—Provisions of section 643 of this title shall not apply to unrigged vessels except seagoing barges. (June 16, 1938, ch. 467, sec. 3, 52 Stat. 754.)"

CREWS AND CREW LISTS

United States Code, title 46, sections 672, 674, 675, 676, 677:

Sec. 672 Requirements, qualifications, and regulations as to crews—(a) Qualifications. No vessel of one hundred tons gross and upward, except those navigating rivers exclusively and the smaller inland lakes and except as provided in section 569 of this title, shall be permitted to depart from any port of the United States unless she has on board a crew not less than 75 per centum of which, in each department thereof, are able to understand any order given by the officers of such vessel, nor unless 65 per centum of her deck crew, exclusive of licensed officers and apprentices, are of a rating not less than able seamen. Every person shall be rated an able seaman, and qualified for service as such on the seas, who is nineteen years of age or upward, and has had at least three years' service on deck at sea or on the Great Lakes, on a vessel or vessels to which this section applies, including decked fishing vessels, and vessels in United States Government service; and every person shall be rated an able seaman, and qualified to serve as such on the Great Lakes and on the smaller lakes, bays, or sounds who is nineteen years of age or upward and has had at least eighteen months' service on deck at sea or on the Great Lakes or on the smaller lakes, bays, or sounds, on a vessel or vessels to which this section applies, including decked fishing vessels and vessels in the United States Government service; and graduates of school ships approved by and conducted under rules prescribed by the Commandant of the Coast Guard may be rated able seaman upon graduation in good standing from said school ships: Provided, That no boy shall be shipped on any vessel to which this section applies unless he meets the physical qualifications contained in regulations to be prescribed by the Commandant of the Coast Guard and that no boy shall be placed on the lookout or at the wheel except for the purpose of learning, and that in narrow and crowded waters or in low visibility none below the rating of able seaman shall be permitted at the wheel: Provided further, That no deck boy shall be held qualified to fill the place of ordinary seaman until he has had at least six months' service as deck boy: Provided further, That upon examination, under rules prescribed by the Coast Guard as to eyesight, hearing, and physical condition, such persons or graduates are found to be competent: Provided further, That upon examination, under rules prescribed by the Coast Guard as to eyesight, hearing, physical condition, and knowledge of the duties of seamanship, a person found competent may be rated as able seaman after having served on deck twelve months at sea or on the Great Lakes, but seamen examined and rated able seamen under this proviso shall not in any case compose more than one-fourth of the number of able seamen required by this section to be shipped or employed upon any vessel.

* * * * * * *

(d) Muster of the crew on motion or information; rules and regulations; examination of applicant for certificate of service as able seaman; surrender of certificates; new certificates. The collector of customs may, upon his own motion, and shall, upon the sworn information of any reputable citizen of the United States setting forth that this section is not being complied with, cause a muster of the crew of any vessel to be made to determine the fact, at which muster said reputable citizen must be present; and no clearance shall be given to any vessel failing to comply with the provisions of this section: Provided, That the collector of customs shall not be required to cause such muster of the crew to be made unless said sworn information has been filed with him for at least six hours before the vessel departs, or is scheduled to depart: * * *

* * * * * * *

Sec. 674 List of crew to be delivered to collector.—Before a clearance is granted to any vessel bound on a foreign voyage or engaged in the whale fishery, the master thereof shall deliver to the collector of the customs a list containing the names, places of birth and residence, and description of the persons who compose his ship's company; to which list the oath of the captain shall be annexed, that the list contains the names of his crew, together with the places of their birth and residence, as far as he can ascertain them; and the collector shall deliver him a certified copy thereof. (R. S. sec. 4573.)"

Sec. 675 Certificate to list of crew; record.—In all cases of private vessels of the United States sailing from a port in the United States to a foreign port, the list of the crew shall be examined by the collector for the district from which the vessel shall clear, and, if approved of by him, shall be certified accordingly. No person shall be admitted or employed on board of any such vessel unless his name shall have been entered in the list of the crew, approved and certified by the collector for the district from which the vessel shall clear. The collector, before he delivers the list of the crew, approved and certified, to the master or proper officer of the vessel to which the same belongs, shall cause the same to be recorded in a book by him for that purpose to be provided, and the record shall be open for the inspection of all persons, and a certified copy thereof shall be admitted in evidence in any court in which any question may arise under any of the provisions of title 53 of the Revised Statutes. (R. S. sec. 4574.)

Sec. 676 Rules as to list of crew.—The following rules shall be observed with reference to vessels bound on any foreign voyage:

First. The duplicate list of the ship's company required to be made out by the master and delivered to the collector of the customs, under section 674 of this title, shall be a fair copy in one uniform handwriting without erasure or interlineation.

Second. It shall be the duty of the owners of every such vessel to obtain from the collector of the customs of the district from which the clearance is made, a true and certified copy of the shipping articles containing the names of the crew, which shall be written in a uniform hand, without erasures or interlineations.

Third. These documents, which shall be deemed to contain all the conditions of contract with the crew as to their service, pay, voyage, and all other things, shall be produced by the master, and laid before any consul of the United States, whenever he may deem their contents necessary to enable him to discharge the duties imposed upon him by law toward any mariner applying to him for his aid or assistance.

Fourth. All interlineations, erasures, or writing in a hand different from that in which such duplicates were originally made, shall be deemed fraudulent alterations, working no change in such papers, unless satisfactorily explained in a manner consistent with innocent purposes and the provisions of law which guard the rights of mariners.

Fifth. If any master of a vessel shall proceed on a foreign voyage without the documents required, or refuse to produce them when required, or to perform the duties imposed by this section, or shall violate the provisions thereof, he shall be liable to each and every individual injured thereby in damages, to be recovered in any court of the United States in the district where such delinquent may reside or be found, and in addition thereto be punished by a fine of $100 for each offense.

"Sixth. It shall be the duty of the boarding officer to report all violations of this section to the collector of the port where any vessel may arrive, and the collector shall report the same to the Commandant of the Coast Guard and to the United States attorney in his district. (R. S. sec. 4575; Feb. 27, 1877, ch. 69, sec. 1, 19 Stat. 252; Feb. 14, 1903, ch. 552, sec. 10, 32 Stat. 829; Apr. 5, 1906, ch. 1366, sec. 3, 34 Stat. 100; Mar. 4, 1913, ch. 141, sec. 1, 37 Stat. 736.)"

"Sec. 677 Production of copy of list on return of vessel; production of persons named.—The master of every vessel bound on a foreign voyage or engaged in the whale fishery shall exhibit the certified copy of the list of the crew to the first boarding officer at the first port in the United States at which he shall arrive on his return, and also produce the persons named therein to the boarding officer, whose duty it shall be to examine the men with such list and to report the same to the collector; and it shall be the duty of the collector at the port of arrival, where the same is different from the port from which the vessel originally sailed, to transmit a copy of the list so reported to him to the collector of the port from which such vessel originally sailed. For each failure to produce any person on the certified copy of the list of the crew the master and owner shall be severally liable to a penalty of $400, to be sued for, prosecuted, and disposed of in such manner as penalties and forfeitures which may be incurred for offenses against the laws relating to the collection of duties; but such penalties shall not be incurred on account of the master not producing to the first boarding officer any of the persons contained in the list who may have been discharged in a foreign country with the consent of the consul or vice consul there residing, certified in writing, under his hand and official seal, to be produced to the collector with the other persons composing the crew, nor on account of any such person dying or absconding or being forcibly impressed into other service of which satisfactory proof shall also be exhibited to the collector. (R. S. sec. 4576; Mar. 3, 1897, ch. 389, sec. 3, 29 Stat. 688; Apr. 5, 1906, ch. 1366, sec. 3, 34 Stat. 100.)"

CERTIFICATES OF INSPECTION

United States Code, title 46, sections 397, 399, 496:

Sec. 397 Certificate of inspection and equipment of barge required.—A register, enrollment, or license shall not be issued or renewed by any collector or other officer of customs to any such barge unless at the time of issue or renewal such barge has in force the certificate of inspection prescribed by section 395 of this title and on board the equipment prescribed by section 396 of this title. (May 28, 1908, ch. 212, sec. 12, 35 Stat. 428; Mar. 4, 1915, ch. 184, sec. 6, 38 Stat. 1218.)

Sec. 399 Certificate; temporary certificate; completion of voyage after expiration.—When the inspection of a steam vessel is completed and the Coast Guard approves the vessel and her equipment throughout, it shall make and subscribe a certificate, which certificate shall be verified by the oath of the coast guard official signing it, before the chief officer of the customs of the district or any other person competent by law to administer oaths. Such certificate shall be delivered to the master or owner of the vessel to which it relates, and one copy thereof shall be kept on file in the coast guard official's office, and one copy shall be delivered to the collector or other chief officer of the customs of the district in which such inspection has been made, who shall keep the same on file in his office. * * * No vessel required to be inspected * * * shall be navigated without having on board an unexpired regular certificate of inspection or such temporary certificate * * * Provided further, That no such vessel whose certificate of inspection shall expire within fifteen days of the date of her sailing shall proceed upon her voyage to such port of a foreign country not contiguous to the United States without first having procured a new certificate of inspection or the temporary certificate required by this section. (R. S. sec. 4421; Feb. 27, 1877, ch. 69, sec. 1, 19 Stat. 251; June 11, 1906, ch. 3071, 34 Stat. 230; June 25, 1910, ch. 402, 36 Stat. 831; Mar. 4, 1915, ch. 184, sec. 1, 38 Stat. 1216; Proc. No. 2695, 60 Stat. 1352; 1946 Reorg. Plan No. 3, sec. 101-104, 60 Stat. 1097.)

Sec. 496 Registry of enrollment denied to vessels not complying with law.—A register, enrollment, or license shall not be granted, or other papers be issued by any collector or other chief officer of customs to any vessel subject by law to inspection * * * until the copy of the certificate of inspection required by this title for such vessel has been filed with said collector or other chief officer of customs: Provided, That the license granted to any vessel, if presented to any collector of customs at any time within thirty calendar days prior to the date of expiration shown thereon, may be renewed by the endorsement by the collector of customs for a period of one year from the date of expiration shown on the license, if there be on file in the office of the collector at that time a copy of the certificate of inspection * * * which is in force on the date renewal is made. (R. S. sec. 4498; Mar. 3, 1905, ch. 1457, sec. 9, 33 Stat. 1032; Mar. 4, 1915, ch. 184, sec. 5, 38 Stat. 1218; June 2, 1939, ch. 168, 53 Stat. 798.)

LOAD-LINE REQUIREMENTS

United States Code, title 46, sections 85f, 88f:

Sec. 85f Detention of vessels loaded in violation of sections 85–85g.—If any collector of customs or Coast Guard district commander has reason to believe, on compliant or otherwise, that a vessel subject to sections 85–85g of this title and to the regulations established thereunder is about to proceed to sea from a port in the United States or its possessions within his district when loaded in violation of section 85c of this title, or that any vessel exempted pursuant to section 85d of this title is about to proceed to sea from such port when loaded in violation of the laws and regulations of her country with respect to load line, he may by written order served on the master or officer in charge of such vessel detain her provisionally for the purpose of being surveyed. The collector or Coast Guard district commander shall then serve on the master a written statement of the grounds of her detention and shall appoint three disinterested surveyors to examine the vessel and her loading and to report to him, whereupon the said collector or Coast Guard district commander may release or may by written order served on the master or officer in charge of such vessel detain the vessel until she has been reloaded in whole or in part so as to conform to section 85c of this title; or, in case of a vessel exempted pursuant to section 85d of this title, so as to conform to the laws and regulations of her own country with respect to load line. If the vessel be ordered detained, the master may, within five days, appeal to the Commandant of the Coast Guard, who may, if he desires, order a further survey, and may affirm, set aside, or modify the order of the collector or Coast Guard district commander. Clearance shall be refused to any vessel which shall have been ordered detained. The owner and agent of a vessel surveyed and found in violation of this Act or regulations established thereunder shall bear the costs of the survey in addition to any penalty or fine imposed. (Mar. 2, 1929, ch. 508, sec. 7, 45 Stat. 1494, as amended by Public Law 87–620, 87th Congress, 76 Stat. 415, approved August 31, 1962; 1946 Reorg. Plan No. 3, sec. 101–104, 60 Stat. 1097.)

Sec. 88f Detention of vessels loaded in violation of sections 88–88i.—If any collector of customs or Coast Guard district commander has reason to believe on complaint or otherwise that a vessel subject to the provisions of section 88–88i of this title is about to proceed on a voyage from a port in the United States or its possessions within his district without conforming to the provisions of section 88b of this title, or when loaded in violation of section 88c of this title, or that any vessel exempted pursuant to section 88d of this title is about to proceed on a voyage from such port when loaded in violation of the laws and regulations of her country with respect to load line, he may serve on the master or officer in charge of such vessel a written order detaining the vessel for the purpose of being surveyed to determine whether or not the provisions of sections 88–88i of this title are complied with. Where the detention is on the ground that the vessel does not conform to the provisions of section 88b of this title, the collector or Coast Guard district commander shall cause an examination of the vessel to be made, and if from such examination appears that the vessel is not marked with the load line established in conformity with the provisions of sections 88–88i of this title, the collector or Coast Guard district commander shall so notify the master or officer in charge of such vessel and shall detain her until the load line shall have been duly established in accordance with section 88b of this title, provided that in cases of exceptional hardship, subject to regulations issued by the Commandant of the Coast Guard, the collector or Coast Guard district commander may cause a proper load line to be provisionally established by one of the agencies or persons designated under section 88b of this title, which provisional load line shall constitute a compliance with the provisions of sections 88–88i of this title only until completion of the particular voyage in which the vessel is at the time engaged. After such establishment or provisional establishment of a load line the collector or Coast Guard district commander shall appoint three disinterested surveyors to examine the loading of the vessel and to report to him whether such vessel is so loaded as to submerge said provisional load line and if from such report it appears that the vessel is so loaded, the collector or Coast Guard district commander may by written order served on the master or officer in charge of said vessel detain the vessel until she has been reloaded in whole or in part so as not to submerge said provisional load line or lines. Where the detention is on the ground of a supposed violation of section 88c or section 88d of this title, the collector or Coast Guard district commander shall appoint three disinterested surveyors to examine the vessel and her loading and to report to him and if from such report it appears that the vessel is loaded in violation of the provisions of section 88c or section 88d of this title, the collector or Coast Guard district commander shall so notify in writing the master or other officer in charge of such vessel and detain the vessel until she has been reloaded in whole or in part so as to conform to the provisions of section 88c or section 88d of this title. If a vessel is ordered detained by a collector or Coast Guard district commander acting under the provisions of this section, the master may within five days appeal to the Commandant of the Coast Guard, who, if he so desires, may order a further survey and may affirm, set aside, or modify the order of the collector or Coast Guard district commander. Clearance shall be refused to any vessel which shall have been ordered detained. The owner and agent of a vessel surveyed and found in violation of this Act or regulations established thereunder shall bear the costs of the survey in addition to any penalty or fine imposed. (Aug. 27, 1935, ch. 747, sec. 7, 49 Stat. 889, as amended by Public Law 87–620, 87th Congress, 76 Stat. 415, approved August 31, 1962; 1946 Reorg. Plan No. 3, sec. 101–104, 60 Stat. 1097.)

The collector shall not refuse clearance to a vessel for failure to comply with either of the above-quoted provisions of law (46 U.S.C. 85f, 88f) unless such vessel is detained by the Coast Guard.

PUBLICATION OF NORTH ATLANTIC PASSENGER ROUTES

Regulations of the United States Coast Guard relating to North Atlantic passenger routes, Code of Federal Regulations, title 33, sections 105.01–105.40:

Sec. 105.01 Passenger vessel defined.—For the purpose of this part, a vessel shall be deemed to be a passenger vessel if it carries more than twelve passengers.

Sec. 105.05 Filing notice of ship routes.—The owner or operating agent of any passenger vessel of the United States crossing the North Atlantic Ocean shall file with the collector of customs of the home port of such vessel, and, if the United States port from which such vessel sails is different from the home port, with the collector of customs at that port, notice of the ship routes which he proposes such vessel will follow on its east-bound and west-bound crossings. Such notice or notices shall be filed prior to the first sailing of the vessel from a port of the United States after the effective date of this part. Upon any subsequent North Atlantic voyage of such vessel beginning at the same port in the United States, no further notice shall be required if it is proposed that the vessel will follow the same routes, but whenever it is proposed that such vessel, when crossing the North Atlantic Ocean, will sail from a port in the United States other than that specified in the last previous notice, or will follow a route or routes different from the route or routes specified in such last notice, notice of the proposed route or routes shall be filed, as aforesaid, before the vessel sails.

Sec. 105.10 Designation of ship route.—The proposed route of any passenger vessel of the United States crossing the North Atlantic Ocean shall, whenever practicable, be designated in any notice required by this part in the terms used to designate the North Atlantic Lane Routes, as established by the proper authorities. Such route shall avoid, as far as practicable, the fishing banks of Newfoundland, north of latitude forty-three degrees north during the fishing season; and shall, as far as circumstances will permit, pass outside of regions reported or known to be endangered by ice.

Sec. 105.15 Notices deemed public documents; posting of notice in customhouse.—All notices of proposed ship routes filed with collectors of customs shall be considered public documents and copies thereof shall, while effective, be continuously posted by the respective collectors of customs in a place in the customhouse to which the public has free access.

Sec. 105.20 Posting copy of notice on vessel.—The owner or operating agent of any passenger vessel of the United States crossing the North Atlantic Ocean shall cause a copy of the proposed ship routes of the vessel to be continuously posted, while effective, in a public place in the passenger space of the vessel.

Sec. 105.25 Report of deviation from ship route.—If the master of any passenger vessel of the United States crossing the North Atlantic Ocean finds it necessary for any reason during the course of a voyage to deviate more than 20 nautical miles from the proposed ship route of such vessel, he shall be required by the owner or operating agent of such vessel, as soon as he arrives in the United States, to report such deviation to the collector of customs of the home port of such vessel and, if the first United States port from which such vessel sailed is different from the home port, to the collector of customs at that port, together with a written statement explaining the necessity for such deviation.

Sec. 105.30 Penalty for violation of regulation.—For each violation of any provision of section 3(a) of the act of June 25, 1936, or of any provision of sections 105.5, 105.10, or 105.20, the owner, or operating agent, of the passenger vessel involved in such violation shall be liable to a fine of not exceeding $100.

Sec. 105.35 Communication of violation to Coast Guard District Commander.—Information with respect to a violation or possible violation of section 3(a) of the act of June 25, 1936, or of this part coming into the possession of any officer or employee of the Treasury Department shall be communicated promptly to the commander of the Coast Guard district within which the home port of the vessel is located or if the United States port from which the vessel sailed is different from the home port, to the commander of the Coast Guard district within which that port is located.

Sec. 105.40 Procedure on violation.—The district commander receiving information with respect to a violation of section 3 (a) of the act of June 25, 1936, or of this part shall make an investigation to determine the actual facts involved. If after such investigation the district commander determines a prima facie violation of section 3 (a) of the act of June 25, 1936, or of any provision of sections 105.C5, 105.10, or 105.20 has occurred, he shall follow the procedure in 46 CFR 2.50-20.

NUMBERING OF UNDOCUMENTED VESSELS

United States Code, title 46, section 527

Sec. 527(a) Every undocumented vessel propelled by machinery of more than 10 horsepower, whether or not such machinery is the principal source of propulsion, using the navigable water of the United States, its Territories and the District of Columbia, and every such vessel owned in a State and using the high seas, shall be numbered in accordance with this Act, except—

(1) foreign vessels temporarily using the navigable waters of the United States, its Territories and the District of Columbia;

(2) public vessels of the United States;

(3) State and municipal vessels'

(4) ships' lifeboats; and

(5) vessels designated by the Secretary under section 527d(b)of this Act.

(b) The owner of an undocumented vessel required to be numbered under subsection (a) of this section shall secure a number for such vessel in the State in which it is principally used, in accordance with the State numbering system approved by the Secretary in accordance with subsection (c) of this section, or if no such numbering system has been approved by the Secretary for the State where such vessel is principally used, shall secure a number for such vessel in accordance with subsection (d) of this section. * * *

III. CONSULAR SERVICES PERFORMED FOR MASTERS OF VESSELS

United States Code, title 46, section 101:

"Sec. 101 Statement of consular services performed without fee filed.—It shall be the duty of all masters of vessels for whom any official services shall be performed by any consular officer, without the payment of a fee, to require a written statement of such services from such consular officer, and, after certifying as to whether such statement is correct, to furnish it to the collector of the district in which such vessels shall first arrive on their return to the United States; and if any such master of a vessel shall fail to furnish such statement, he shall be liable to a fine of not exceeding $50, unless such master shall state under oath that no such statement was furnished him by said consular officer. And it shall be the duty of every collector to forward to the Secretary of the Treasury all such statements as shall have been furnished to him, and also a statement of all certified invoices which shall have come to his office, giving the dates of the certificates, and the names of the persons for whom and of the consular officer by whom the same were certified. (R. S. sec. 4213; June 26, 1884, ch. 121, sec. 13, 23 Stat. 56.)"

IV. FOREIGN QUARANTINE

Regulations of the United States Public Health Service, Department of Health, Education and Welfare, relating to foreign quarantine, Code of Federal Regulations, 1949 edition, title 42, sections 71.1 (s) (t), 71.11, 71.46, 71.47, 71.48, 71.62, 71.63, 71.72, 71.121, 71.122, 71.123, 71.124, 71.125, 71.126, 71.127, 71.128.

Sec. 71.1 Definitions.—As used in this part, terms shall have the following meaning:

* * * * * * *

(s) Port under the control of the United States.—Any seaport or airport in the United States, its territories or possessions other than the Canal Zone.

(t) Pratique.—A certificate issued by a quarantine officer releasing or provisionally releasing a vessel or aircraft from quarantine.

* * * * * * *

Sec. 71.11 Bills of health.—A vessel or aircraft at any foreign port clearing or departing for any port under the control of the United States shall not be required to obtain or deliver a bill of health.

* * * * * * *

Sec. 71.46 General provisions.—(a) A vessel or aircraft arriving at a port under the control of the United States shall undergo quarantine inspection prior to entry unless:

(1) In the current voyage the vessel or aircraft has been only in areas determined by the Surgeon General to present no significant threat of introduction of communicable disease into the United States or its possessions,[1] or

(2) In the current voyage the vessel or aircraft has received pratique at a port under the control of the United States, and since receiving such pratique has been only in areas determined by the Surgeon General to present no significant threat of introduction of communicable disease into the United States or its possessions,[1] or

(3) The vessel or aircraft possesses a duplicate of a pratique issued at a port in Canada or the Canal Zone, provided that since receiving such pratique the vessel or aircraft has been only in areas determined by the Surgeon General to present no significant threat of introduction of communicable disease into the United States or its possessions.[1]

---

[1] A list of such areas and changes thereto will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER. A current list may be obtained from the Surgeon General of the Public Health Service, Washington 25, D.C. Attention: Chief, Division of Foreign Quarantine; or from Public Health Service quarantine stations at United States ports.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section a vessel or aircraft:

(1) Shall comply with any conditions and carry out any additional measures specified in the pratique.

(2) Shall undergo quarantine inspection prior to entering a port under the control of the United States if:

(i) It has on board, or during the current voyage has had on board, a person infected or suspected of being infected with anthrax, chickenpox, cholera, dengue, diphtheria, hemolytic streptococcal infection, infectious encephalitis, measles, meningococcus meningitis, plague, poliomyelitis, psittacosis, relapsing fever, smallpox, typhoid fever, typhus, or yellow fever, or

(ii) On arrival at its first port under the control of the United States it has on board: A psittacine bird (see sec. 71.152); a dog, cat, or monkey (see sec. 71.154); or an animal or article subject to sec. 71.156 or sec. 71.157 that does not comply with admission requirements therein, or

(iii) On arrival at its first port under the control of the United States it has on board a person who, within 14 days prior to arrival of the vessel or aircraft in the port, has been in an area other than those determined by the Surgeon General to present no significant threat of introduction of communicable disease into the United States or its possessions:[1] Provided, That inspection shall not be required where the Chief of the Division of Foreign Quarantine finds that the entry of the vessel or aircraft would not be likely to cause the introduction of communicable disease. Reports as to whether such persons are on board shall be submitted in accordance with instructions of the Chief of the Division of Foreign Quarantine.

(3) May be required, in accordance with instructions of the Chief of the Division of Foreign Quarantine, to undergo quarantine inspection if the Chief of such Division or the medical officer in charge has reason to believe that the entry of the vessel or aircraft would be likely to cause the introduction of communicable disease.

Sec. 71.47 Vessels and aircraft of armed services.—(a) Vessels and aircraft belonging to or operated by the armed services of the United States may be exempted from quarantine inspection if the medical officer in charge is satisfied that they have complied with regulations of such armed services meeting the requirements of the regulations in this part. (For applicable regulations of the Armed Forces see Army Regulations No. 40-12; Navy Department General Order No. 20; Air Force Regulation No. 161-4.)

(b) Vessels belonging to or operated by the armed services of any foreign nation may, in the discretion of the medical officer in charge, be exempted from quarantine inspection if a commissioned medical officer of such service certifies that:

(1) Any person on board who is infected or suspected of being infected with a communicable disease will be isolated until it is determined whether or not he is infected with a quarantinable disease, and that

(2) The vessel is from a port where at the time of departure there was not present or suspected of being present cholera, plague, relapsing fever, smallpox, typhus, or yellow fever. When it is determined that any person on board such vessel is infected with a quarantinable disease, the vessel and its entire personnel shall be subject to the provisions of Subpart F of this part.

(c) Notwithstanding the exemption from quarantine inspection of a vessel or aircraft under this section, animals or articles aboard shall be required to comply with the applicable requirements of Subpart J of this part.

Sec. 71.48 Exempt vessels and aircraft subject to sanitary regulations.—A vessel or aircraft which has been exempted from quarantine inspection under sections 71.46 or 71.47 shall nevertheless be subject to the provisions of Subpart G of this part.

* * * * * * *

Sec. 71.62 General provisions: Vessels and aircraft; permission for aircraft to discharge persons and cargo—(a) Vessels.—(1) The vessel shall fly a yellow flag. It shall anchor in the quarantine anchorage and await inspection, except as provided in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph.

(2) If the medical officer in charge is of the opinion that proceeding to a designated point would not be likely to cause the introduction of communicable disease, he may direct the vessel to proceed to such a point to await inspection. He shall prescribe necessary measures to ensure that there is no movement of any person or thing onto or from the vessel without his permission, pending quarantine inspection.

(b) Aircraft. When an aircraft subject to quarantine inspection in accordance with this part arrives at the place of first landing (see sec. 71.502) the aircraft commander shall be responsible for the detention of the aircraft, its crew and passengers until they are released by the quarantine officer at the place of first landing. Any baggage, cargo, or other contents on board the aircraft shall be held at such place until released by the quarantine officer. (For procedure in case of emergency or forced landing, see sec. 71.504.)

Sec. 71.63 Persons: Restrictions on boarding and leaving vessels or aircraft, or having contact with persons aboard—(a) Vessels.—Except with the permission of the quarantine officer, no person other than the pilot shall board or be permitted to board any vessel subject to quarantine inspection until after it has been inspected by the quarantine officer and granted pratique. A person boarding such vessel shall be subject to the same restrictions as those imposed on the persons on the vessel. No person shall leave or be permitted to leave any vessel subject to quarantine inspection until after it has been inspected by the quarantine officer and granted pratique, except with the permission of the quarantine officer.

(b) Aircraft. Except with the permission of the quarantine officer, no person shall board or be permitted to board any aircraft subject to quarantine inspection or have contact with the crew or passengers of such aircraft until quarantine inspection of the aircraft, crew, and passengers has been completed. The same restrictions as those imposed on the crew and passengers shall be imposed on a person boarding such aircraft and on a person having contact with a passenger or member of the crew when the quarantine officer considers such contact a possible means of spreading a quarantinable disease.

Sec. 71.72 Disinfection of imports.—When the freight manifest of a vessel or aircraft lists articles which may require disinfection under the provisions of this part, the medical officer in charge shall disinfect them on board or request the collector of customs to keep the articles separated from the other freight pending appropriate disposition.

* * * * * * *

Sec. 71.121 General requirement: Vessels only.—Vessels subject to quarantine inspection pursuant to Subpart D of this part shall not enter a port under the control of the United States to discharge cargo or land passengers unless a certificate of free or provisional pratique has been issued to the master.

Sec. 71.122 Free pratique: Vessels only.—A certificate of free pratique shall signify that the vessel and its master may enter, discharge cargo, and land passengers.

Sec. 71.123 Provisional pratique and remand: Vessels only.—(a) A certificate of provisional pratique shall signify that the vessel may enter, but that additional measures as specified in such certificate must be taken in connection with the discharge of cargo, or the landing of passengers, or the sanitary condition of the vessel. A certificate of free pratique shall be issued after such additional measures have been completed.

(b) The medical officer in charge may remand the vessel to the next port for such additional measures as may be necessary. Vessels arriving at quarantine stations at succeeding ports of call under provisional pratique may, in the discretion of the medical officer in charge at such stations, be directed to proceed under provisional pratique to the next succeeding port for completion of quarantine measures.

(c) Failure to comply with additional measures specified in a certificate of provisional pratique shall constitute a violation of the regulations in this part, and the vessel shall become subject to all measures applicable to vessels first arriving at a port under the control of the United States from a foreign port.

Sec. 71.124 Radio pratique: Vessels only.—The medical officer in charge may grant pratique by radio to a vessel upon the basis of information regarding the vessel, its cargo and persons aboard, received prior to arrival of the vessel, when in his judgment, and in accordance with instructions by the Surgeon General, the entry of the vessel will not result in the introduction, transmission or spread of communicable diseases.

Sec. 71.125 Presentation of pratique: Vessels only.—Vessels which have undergone quarantine inspection shall present to the Collector of Customs at the port of entry the certificate of pratique, or evidence of radio pratique, issued pursuant to the provisions of this subpart.

Sec. 71.126 Pratique and remand: Aircraft only.—When all necessary quarantine and sanitary measures have been applied to the aircraft and persons and things on board, pursuant to the regulations of this part, the quarantine officer shall issue a certificate of free pratique, which may be stamped on a copy or copies of the general declaration, including the traveling general declaration, for presentation to the customs officer in charge. Pending compliance with quarantine requirements the quarantine officer may issue a certificate of provisional pratique for the aircraft, stating the measures to be carried out. When quarantine measures cannot be completed at the place of first landing, the medical officer in charge may remand the aircraft under provisional pratique to the next airport for such additional measures as may be necessary. Aircraft arriving under provisional pratique at succeeding airports may, when quarantine measures cannot be completed there, be directed to proceed under provisional pratique to the next succeeding airport for completion of quarantine measures.

Sec. 71.127 Notification of remands: Vessels and aircraft.—The quarantine officer remanding a vessel or aircraft to another port in accordance with this subpart shall give advance notification to the medical officer in charge and customs officer at the port to which the vessel or aircraft is remanded. The notification should be timed to arrive ahead of the vessel or aircraft, and should be made by telephone in the case of aircraft. The notification shall give complete information regarding measures carried out at the port effecting the remand and measures required at the port to which the vessel or aircraft is remanded.

Sec. 71.128 Vessels and aircraft not submitting to prescribed measures.—When it is desired not to comply with the requirements for a certificate of free or provisional pratique, a vessel or aircraft shall be allowed to depart forthwith, but shall not call at any other place in the United States in connection with the current voyage or flight. The vessel or aircraft shall, however, be permitted to take on fuel, water, and stores in quarantine subject to measures prescribed by the quarantine officer pursuant to the regulations in this part.

V. DELIVERY OF MAIL; SEIZURE OF LETTERS CONVEYED CONTRARY TO LAW

United States Code, title 18, section 1699:

Sec. 1699 Certification of delivery from vessel.—No vessel arriving within a port or collection district of the United States shall be allowed to make entry or break bulk until all letters on board are delivered to the nearest post office, except where waybilled for discharge at other ports in the United States at which the vessel is scheduled to call and the Postmaster General does not determine that unreasonable delay in the mails will occur, and the master or other person having charge or control thereof has signed and sworn to the following declaration before the collector or other proper customs officer:

I, A. B., master________, of the ________, arriving from________________, and now lying in the port of________________, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I have to the best of my knowledge and belief delivered to the post office at________________, every letter and every bag, packet, or parcel of letters on board the said vessel during her last voyage, or in my possession or under my power or control, except where waybilled for discharge at other ports in the United States at which the said vessel is scheduled to call and which the Postmaster General has not determined will be unreasonably delayed by remaining on board the said vessel for delivery at such ports.

Whoever, being the master or other person having charge or control of such vessel, breaks bulk before he has arranged for such delivery or onward carriage, shall be fined not more than $100. (June 25, 1948, ch. 645, 62 Stat. 777; July 3, 1952, ch. 553, 66 Stat. 325.)

United States Code, title 18, section 1724:

Sec. 1724 Postage on mail delivered by foreign vessels.—Except as otherwise provided by treaty or convention the Postmaster General may require the transportation by any steamships of mail between the United States and any foreign port at the compensation fixed under authority of law. Upon refusal by the master or the commander of such steamship or vessel to accept the mail, when tendered by the Postmaster General or his representative, the collector or other officer of the port empowered to grant clearance, on notice of the refusal aforesaid, shall withhold clearance until the collector or other officer of the port is informed by the Postmaster General or his representative that the master or commander of the steamship or vessel has accepted the mail or that conveyance by his steamship or vessel is no longer required by the Postmaster General. As amended Sept. 25, 1951, c. 413, section 1(4), 65 Stat. 336.

United States Code, title 39, sections 904, 905, 906:

Sec. 904. Seizing and detaining letters.—A postal inspector, customs officer, or United States marshal or his deputy, may seize at any time, letters and bags, packets or parcels containing letters which are being carried contrary to law on board any vessel or on any post road. The officer who makes the seizure shall convey the articles seized to the nearest post office; or by direction of the Postmaster General or the Secretary of the Treasury, he may detain them until two months after the final determination of all suits and proceedings which may be brought within six months after the seizure against any person for sending or carrying the letters.

Sec. 905. Searching vessels for letters.—A postal inspector when instructed by the Postmaster General to make examinations and seizures and any customs officer without special instructions shall search vessels for letters which may be on board, or which may have been conveyed contrary to law.

Sec. 906. Disposition of seized mail.—Every package or parcel seized by a postal inspector, customs officer, or United States marshal or his deputies, in which a letter is unlawfully concealed, shall be forfeited to the United States. The same proceedings may be used to enforce forfeitures as are authorized in respect of goods, wares, and merchandise forfeited for violation of the revenue laws. Laws for the benefit and protection of customs officers making seizures for violating revenue laws apply to officers making seizures for violating the postal laws.

VI. IMMIGRATION REGULATIONS

Regulations and procedures concerning admissability of persons to the United States will be found in the Immigration Manual (containing law, regulations, and operation instructions) which is available to all customs employees performing immigrant inspector functions.

PART 231—ARRIVAL—DEPARTURE MANIFESTS AND LISTS; SUPPORTING DOCUMENTS

Sec. 231.1 Arrival manifests for passengers.—(a) Vessels. The master or agent of every vessel arriving in the United States from a foreign place or from an outlying possession of the United States, except one arriving directly from Canada on a voyage originating in that country, must present a manifest of all alien passengers on board to the immigration officer at the first port of arrival. For vessels that are given advance permission to use the procedure, the manifest shall be in the form of a separate arrival-departure card (Form I-94) prepared for and presented by each alien passenger. In addition, a properly completed Form I-92 (Aircraft/Vessel Report) recording the total number of passengers (including U.S. citizens) that embarked at each port en route to the United States shall be presented by the master to the immigrant inspector at the first port of arrival in the United States. For vessels that are not given such advance permission the manifest shall be submitted on a Form I-418, executed in accordance with the instructions on the reverse thereof, with a completely executed set of Forms I-94 prepared for and presented by each alien passenger except an immigrant, a Canadian citizen, or a British subject residing in Canada or Bermuda.

(b) Aircraft. The captain or agent of every aircraft arriving in the United States from a foreign place or from an outlying possession of the United States, except one arriving directly from Canada on a flight originating in that country, must present a manifest in the form of a separate arrival-departure card (Form I-94) prepared for and presented by each alien passenger on board. In addition, a properly completed Form I-92 (Aircraft/Vessel Report) recording the total number of passengers (including U.S. citizens) that embarked at each port en route to the United States shall be presented by the captain to the immigrant inspector at the first port of arrival in the United States. An arrival-departure card is not required for an arriving, through-flight passenger at a U.S. port from which he will depart directly to a foreign place or an outlying possession of the United States on the same flight, provided the number of such through-flight passengers is noted on the Bureau of Customs Form 7507 or on the International Civil Aviation Organization's General Declaration and such passengers remain during the ground time in a separate area under the direction and control of the Service.

(c) Deferred inspection. When inspection of an arriving passenger is deferred at the request of the carrier to another port of debarkation, the manifest relating to any such passenger shall be returned, together with a Form I-92 when the Form I-94 manifest procedure is used, for presentation by the captain, master, or agent at the port where inspection is to be conducted.

(d) Preparation of Arrival-Departure Card, Form I-94. When used either as an attachment to an arrival manifest on Form I-418 or as the basic arrival manifest document, the set of Forms I-94 presented for each alien passenger, except an immigrant, a Canadian citizen, or a British subject residing in Canada or Bermuda, shall be completely executed. For an immigrant, a Canadian citizen, or a British subject residing in Canada or Bermuda, only the first four lines of the Form I-94 shall be completed. The Alien Registration Number shall be substituted for "passport number" on the Form I-94 presented for a returning lawful permanent resident of the United States.

Sec. 231.2 Departure manifests for passengers.—(a) Vessels. The master or agent of every vessel departing from the United States for a foreign place or an outlying possession of the United States, except one departing directly to Canada on a voyage terminating in that country, must present a manifest of all alien passengers on board to the immigration officer at the port of departure. For vessels that are given advance permission to use the procedure, the manifest shall be in the form of a separate arrival-departure card (Form I-94) for each alien passenger. In addition, a properly completed Form I-92 (Aircraft/Vessel Report) setting forth each port of disembarkation and the number of passengers (including U.S. citizens) destined thereto shall be submitted by the carrier to the immigration officer at the last port of departure in the United States. For vessels that are not given such advance permission, the manifest shall be submitted on a Form I-418, executed in accordance with the instructions on the reverse thereof, with a fully executed Form I-94 for each alien passenger except an alien permanent resident of the United States, a Canadian citizen, or a British subject residing in Canada or Bermuda. For departing alien nonimmigrants the Form I-94 given the alien at the time of his last admission to the United States should be utilized. Any alien registration receipt card on Form I-151 surrendered pursuant to Part 264 of this chapter shall be attached to the manifest. The presentation of the departure manifest on vessels making regularly scheduled voyages to and from the United States may be deferred as follows: The Forms I-94 of departing nonimmigrant aliens, together with the name of the vessel and the date and place of departure, shall be presented to the immigration officer at the port of departure within 96 hours from the time of departure, exclusive of Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays. On those vessels using the Form I-94 manifest, the Forms I-94 of all departing passengers, other than United States citizens and nonimmigrant aliens, shall be presented to the immigration officer at the port of departure within 30 calendar days from date of departure. On vessels using the Form I-418 manifest, the Forms I-418, appropriately noted to show prior submission of Forms I-94, shall be presented to the immigration officer at the port of departure within 30 calendar days from date of departure. In the event a Form I-94 for a departing nonimmigrant alien is not submitted within the aforementioned 96 hour period, a completed Form I-94 for that person shall be attached to and shall be submitted with the departure manifest, accompanied by an explanation as to why timely presentation was not made; for good cause shown, such submission shall not be regarded as lack of compliance with section 231(d) of the Act.

(b) Aircraft. The captain or agent of every aircraft departing from the United States for a foreign place or an outlying possession of the United States, except one departing directly to Canada on a flight terminating in that country, must present a manifest of all alien passengers on board. In addition, a properly completed Form I-92 (Aircraft/Vessel Report) setting forth each port of disembarkation and the number of passengers (including U.S. citizens) destined thereto shall be submitted by the carrier to the immigration officer at the last port of departure in the United States. Aircraft departing on regularly scheduled flights from the United States may defer presentation for a period not in excess of 48 hours. The manifest shall be in the form of a Bureau of Customs Form 7507 or the International Civil Aviation Organization's General Declaration, a Form I-92 and a separate arrival-departure card (Form I-94) for each alien passenger, except a through-flight passenger for whom an arrival-departure card was not prepared upon arrival. An alien nonimmigrant departing on an aircraft proceeding directly to Canada on a flight terminating in that country should surrender any Form I-94 in his possession to the airline agent at the port of departure or to the Canadian immigration officer at the port of arrival in that country.

(c) Departure Forms I-94. When used either as an attachment to a departure manifest on Form I-418 or as the basic departure manifest, the Form I-94 executed on its face to reflect the items required by section 231.1(d) for each class of arriving passengers, shall have the "departure record" information endorsed on the reverse by the carrier.

Sec. 231.3 Exemptions for private vessels and aircraft.—The provisions of this part relating to the presentation of arrival and departure manifests shall not apply to a private vessel or private aircraft not engaged directly or indirectly in the carriage of persons or cargo for hire.

PART 251—ARRIVAL MANIFESTS AND LISTS; SUPPORT DOCUMENTS

Sec. 251.1 Arrival manifests and lists.—(a) Vessels. The master or agent of every vessel arriving in the United States from a foreign place or from an outlying possession of the United States shall present to the immigration officer at the port of first arrival a manifest of all crewmen on board on Form I-418 in accordance with the instructions contained thereon. A manifest shall not be required for crewmen aboard a vessel of United States, Canadian, or British registry engaged solely in traffic on the Great Lakes, or the St. Lawrence River, and connecting waterways herewith designated as a Great Lakes vessel, except crewmen of other than United States, Canadian, or British citizenship and, after submission of a manifest on the first voyage of a calendar year, a manifest shall not be required on subsequent arrivals unless there is employed on the vessel at the time of such arrival an alien crewman of other than United States, British, or Canadian citizenship who was not aboard and listed on the occasion of the submission of the last prior manifest.

(b) Aircraft. The captain or agent of every aircraft arriving in the United States from a foreign place or from an outlying possession of the United States, except an aircraft arriving in the United States directly from Canada on a flight originating in that country, shall present to the immigration officer at the port of first arrival a manifest on the Bureau of Customs Form 7507 or on the International Civil Aviation Organization's General Declaration of all the alien crewmen on board, including alien crewmen who are returning to the United States after taking an aircraft of the same line from the United States to a foreign place or alien crewmen who are entering the United States as passengers solely for the purpose of taking an aircraft of the same line from the United States to a foreign port. The surname, given name, and middle initial of each such alien crewman listed shall be shown. In addition, the captain or agent of the aircraft shall indicate in writing immediately below the name of the last alien listed on such form or declaration, the number of U.S. citizen crewmen on board, if any. If there are no alien crewmen aboard, the captain or agent shall indicate in writing on the form or declaration the number of U.S. citizen crewmen, followed by a statement that there are no alien crewmen.

(c) Additional documents. The master, captain, or agent shall prepare as a part of the manifest, when one is required for presentation to an immigration officer, a completely executed set of Forms I-95 for each alien crewman on board, except (1) an alien immigrant crewman in possession of a valid immigrant visa, reentry permit, or alien registration receipt card on Form I-151; (2) a Canadian or British citizen crewman serving on a vessel plying solely between Canada and the United States; or (3) a crewman seeking conditional landing privileges under section 252(a)(1) of the Act who is in possession of an unmutilated alien crewman landing permit and identification card (Form I-184) or an unmutilated conditional landing permit (Form I-95) with space for additional endorsements previously issued to him as a member of the crew of the same vessel or an aircraft of the same line on his last prior arrival in the United States, following which he departed from the United States as a member of the crew of the same vessel or an aircraft of the same line.

(d) Notations on arrival manifests. Upon completion of the examination of each crewman listed on the Form I-418 presented by the master or agent of an arriving vessel, the examining immigration officer shall place one of the following symbols in column (5) of the Form I-418 opposite the name of the crewman: "USC" for a crewman admitted as a United States citizen; "N" for a crewman admitted as a lawful permanent resident; "D-1" for an alien crewman granted a conditional landing permit under section 252(a) (1) of the Act; "D-2" for an alien crewman granted a conditional landing permit under section 252(a)(2) of the Act; "Parolee" for an alien crewman paroled pursuant to section 212(d)(5) of the Act; and "Refused" for an alien crewman whose request for a landing permit has been refused. The examining immigration officer shall sign his name, title and the date of the inspection following the last entry in column (5) of the Form I-418 when the examination of the crew is completed. The master of the vessel shall be furnished Form I-410 as a receipt for the arrival manifest, Form I-418, and the immigration officer shall list on that form the names of all crewmen who have been refused conditional landing permits.

Sec. 251.2 Notification of illegal landings. As soon as discovered, the master or agent of any vessel from which an alien crewman has illegally landed or deserted in the United States shall inform the immigration officer in charge of the port where the illegal landing or desertion occurred, in writing, of the name, nationality, passport number and, if known, the personal description, circumstances and time of such illegal landing or desertion of such alien crewman, and furnish any other information and documents which might aid in his apprehension, including any passport surrendered pursuant to sec. 252.1(d) of this chapter. Failure to file notice of illegal landing or desertion and to furnish any surrendered passport within 24 hours of the time of such landing or desertion becomes known shall be regarded as lack of compliance with section 251(d) of the Act.

Sec. 251.3 Departure manifests and lists for vessels.—(a) Form I-418, Crew List. The master or agent of every vessel departing from the United States shall submit to the immigration officer at the port from which such vessel is to depart directly to some foreign place or outlying possession of the United States, except when a manifest is not required pursuant to sec. 251.1(a), a single Form I-418, Crew List, completed in accordance with the instructions contained herein. Every item in the heading of the Form I-418 must be completed and the following endorsement shall be placed on the first line of the form: "Arrival Crew List, Form I-418, filed at (show United States port of entry)." Submission of a Form I-418 which lacks that endorsement or which lacks other essential information shall be regarded as lack of compliance with section 251(c) of the Act.

(b) Added crewmen. Under a heading "Added Crewmen," list the names of all nonresident alien crewmen who were not members of the crew and manifested on Form I-418 as such on the occasion of the vessel's last arrival in the United States and attach for each name on the list the Form I-95 or Form I-94 given to the alien crewman when he last arrived in the United States. If that form is unavailable, a new Form I-95 shall be prepared and attached to the Form I-418.

(c) Separated crewman. Under a heading "Separated Crewmen," list the names of all alien crewmen, other than alien permanent residents of the United States, who were listed on the arrival Form I-418, as members of the crew on the occasion of the vessel's last arrival in the United States but who for any reason are not departing with the vessel, and for each such separated crewman show his nationality, passport number, specific port and date of separation, and the reasons for failure to depart. The list required by paragraph (b) of this section and this paragraph may be incorporated in a single Form I-418, if space permits. The required lists need not be submitted for Canadian or British citizen crewmen of Great Lakes vessels.

(d) No changes in crew. When there are no added and separated crewmen as described in this section, the Form I-418 shall be endorsed with the notation "No changes in nonresident alien crew upon departure."

Sec. 251.4 Departure manifests and lists for aircraft.—(a) Bureau of Customs Form 7507 or International Civil Aviation Organization's General Declaration. The captain or agent of every aircraft departing from the United States for a foreign place or an outlying possession of the United States, except an aircraft departing from the United States directly to Canada on a flight terminating in that country, shall submit to the immigration officer at the port from which such aircraft is to depart on the Bureau of Customs Form 7507 or on the International Civil Aviation Organization's General Declaration a list of all alien crewmen on board, including alien crewmen who arrived in the United States as crewmen on an aircraft of the same line and who are departing as passengers. The surname, given name, and middle initial of each such alien crewman listed shall be shown. In addition, the captain or agent of the aircraft shall indicate in writing immediately below the name of the last alien listed on such form or declaration, the number of U.S. citizen crewmen on board, if any. If there are no alien crewmen aboard, the captain or agent shall indicate in writing on the form or declaration the number of U.S. citizen crewmen, followed by a statement that there are no alien crewmen.

(b) Notification of changes in employment for aircraft. The agent of the air transportation line shall immediately notify in writing the nearest immigration office of the termination of employment in the United States of each alien employee of the line furnishing the name, birthdate, birthplace, nationality, passport number, and other available information concerning such alien.

Sec. 251.5 Exemptions for private vessels and aircraft.—The provisions of this part relating to submission of arrival and departure manifests and lists shall not apply to a private vessel or a private aircraft not engaged directly or indirectly in the carriage of persons or cargo for hire.

PART 280—IMPOSITION AND COLLECTION OF FINES

Sec. 280.1 Notice of intention to fine; administrative proceedings not exclusive.—Whenever a district director has reason to believe that any person has violated any of the provisions of the Immigration and Nationality Act and has thereby become liable to the imposition of an administrative fine under the Immigration and Nationality Act, he shall cause a Notice of Intention to Fine, Form I-79, to be served as provided in this part. Nothing in this subchapter shall affect, restrict, or prevent the institution of a civil suit, in the discretion of the Attorney General, under the authority contained in section 280 of the Immigration and Nationality Act.

Sec. 280.2 Special provisions relating to aircraft.—In any case in which the imposition of a fine is predicated upon an alleged violation of a regulation promulgated under authority of section 239 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, the procedure prescribed in this part shall be followed, and the aircraft involved shall not be granted clearance pending determination of the question of liability to the payment of any fine, or while the fine remains unpaid; but clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. If the alleged violation was by the owner or person in command of the aircraft, the penalty provided for shall be a lien against the aircraft, which, except as provided in sec. 280.21, shall be seized by the district director, or by an immigration officer designated by the district director and placed in the custody of the customs officer who is in charge of the port of entry or customs station nearest the place of seizure. If the owner or owners of the airport at which such aircraft is located are the owners of the seized aircraft, the aircraft shall be removed to another suitable place for storage if practicable.

Sec. 280.3 Departure of vessel or aircraft prior to denial of clearance.—If any vessel or aircraft which is subject to the imposition of a fine shall have departed from the United States prior to the denial of clearance by the collector of customs and such vessel or aircraft is subsequently found in the United States, a Notice of Intention to Fine, Form I-79, shall be served as provided in this part, if such form has not been previously served for the same violation. Clearance of such vessel or aircraft shall be withheld by the collector of customs, and the procedure prescribed in this part shall be followed to the same extent and in the same manner as though the vessel or aircraft had not departed from the United States. Aircraft subject to the provisions of Sec. 280.2, which shall have departed from the United States prior to the time seizure could be effected, shall be subject to all of the provisions of this part, if subsequently found in the United States, to the same extent as though it had not departed from the United States.

Sec. 280.4 Data concerning cost of transportation.—Within 5 days after request therefor, transportation companies shall furnish to the district director or officer in charge the original transportation contract of all rejected aliens whose cases are within the purview of any of the provisions of the Immigration and Nationality Act relating to refund of passage monies, and shall specify the exact amounts paid for transportation from the initial point of departure (which point shall be indicated) to the foreign port of embarkation, from the latter to the port of arrival in the United States and from the port of arrival to the inland point of destination, respectively, and also the amount paid for headtax, if any.

Sec. 280.5 Mitigation or remission of fines.—If any case in which mitigation or remission of a fine is authorized by the Immigration and Nationality Act, the party served with Notice of Intention to Fine may apply in writing to the district director for such mitigation or remission.

Sec. 280.6 Bond to obtain clearance; forms.—A bond to obtain clearance of a vessel or aircraft under sections 231, 233, 237, 243, 251, 253, 254, 255, 256, 272 or 273 of the Immigration and Nationality Act shall be filed on Form I-310.

Sec. 280.7 Approval of bonds or acceptance of cash deposit to obtain clearance.—The collector of customs is authorized to approve the bond, or accept the sum of money which is being offered for deposit under any provision of the Immigration and Nationality Act or by this chapter for the purpose of obtaining clearance of a vessel or aircraft.

Sec. 280.11 Notice of intention to fine; procedure.—Notice of Intention to Fine, Form I-79, shall be prepared in triplicate, with one additional copy for each additional person on whom the service of such Notice is contemplated. The Notice shall be addressed to any or all of the available persons subject to fine. A copy of the Notice shall be served on each such person by (a) delivering it to him in person, or (b) leaving it at his office, or (c) mailing it to him at his office whenever the district director ascertains that the other two methods of service are inconvenient or impossible. If the Notice is served personally, the person upon whom it is served shall be requested to acknowledge such service by signing his name to the duplicate and triplicate copies. The officer effecting such service shall attest to the service by signing his name thereon and shall indicate thereon the date and place of service. If the person so served refuses to acknowledge service, or if service is made by leaving it at an office or mailing it, the person making such service shall indicate the method and date on the duplicate and triplicate copies of Form I-79, and shall sign his name upon such copies. The duplicate copy shall be retained by the district director and the triplicate copy shall be delivered directly to the collector of customs for the district in which the vessel or aircraft is located, and the collector shall withhold clearance until deposit is made or bond furnished as provided in the Immigration and Nationality Act. If the vessel or aircraft is located in a customs district which is outside the jurisdiction of the office of the Service having jurisdiction over the matter, the triplicate copy shall be forwarded to the office of the Service nearest such customs district for delivery to the collector of customs.

Sec. 280.12 Answer and request or order for interview.—Within 30 days following the service of the Notice of Intention to Fine (which period the district director may extend for an additional period of 30 days upon good cause being shown), any person upon whom a notice under this part has been served may file with the district director a written defense, in duplicate, under oath setting forth the reasons why a fine should not be imposed, or if imposed, why it should be mitigated or remitted if permitted by the Immigration and Nationality Act, and stating whether a personal appearance is desired. Documentary evidence shall be submitted in support of such defense and a brief may be submitted in support of any argument made. If a personal interview is requested, the evidence in opposition to the imposition of the fine and in support of the request for mitigation or remission may be presented at such interview. An interview shall be conducted if requested by the party as provided hereinabove or, if directed at any time by the Board, the Commissioner, or the district director.

Sec. 280.13 Disposition of case—(a) Allegations admitted or no answer filed. If a request for personal appearance is not filed and (a) the answer admits the allegations in the Notice, or (b) no answer is filed, the district director shall enter such order in the case as he deems appropriate and no appeal from his decision may be taken.

(b) Answer filed; personal appearance. Upon receipt of an answer asserting a defense to the allegations in the notice without requesting a personal appearance, or if a personal appearance is requested or directed, the case shall be assigned to an immigration officer. The immigration officer shall prepare a report summarizing the evidence and containing his findings and recommendation. The record, including the report and recommendation of the immigration officer, shall be forwarded to the district director. The district director shall note on the report of the immigration officer whether he approves or disapproves the recommendation of the immigration officer. The person shall be informed in writing of the decision of the district director and, if his decision is that a fine shall be imposed or that the requested mitigation or remission shall not be granted, of the reasons for such decision. From the decision of the district director an appeal may be taken to the Board within 15 days after the mailing of the notification of decision as provided in Part 3 of this chapter.

Sec. 280.14 Record.—The record made under sec. 280.13 shall include the request for the interview or a reference to the order directing the interview; the medical certificate, if any; a copy of any record of hearing before a Board of Special Inquiry, Hearing Examiner, Hearing Officer, or Special Inquiry Officer which is relevant to the fine proceedings; the duplicate copy of the Notice of Intention to Fine; the evidence upon which such Notice was based; the duplicate of any notices to detain, deport, deliver, or remove aliens; notice to pay expenses; evidence as to whether any deposit was made or bond furnished in accordance with the Immigration and Nationality Act; reports of investigations conducted; documentary evidence and testimony adduced at the interview; the original of any affidavit or brief filed in opposition to the imposition of fine; the application for mitigation or remission; and any other relevant matter.

Sec. 280.15 Notice of final decision to collector of customs.—At such time as the decision under this part is final, the regional administrative officer shall be furnished a copy of the decision by the district director. The regional administrative officer shall notify the collector of customs who was furnished a copy of the Notice of Intention to Fine of the final decision made in the case. Such notification need not be made if the regional administrative officer has been previously furnished with a notice of collection of the amount of the penalty by the collector of customs.

Sec. 280.21 Seizure of aircraft.—Seizure of an aircraft under the authority of section 239 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, and sec. 280.2 will not be made if such aircraft is damaged to an extent that its value is less than the amount of the fine which may be imposed. Immediately upon the seizure of an aircraft, or prior thereto, if circumstances permit, a full report of the facts in the case shall be submitted by the district director to the United States Attorney for the district in which the seizure was made. The report shall include the cost incurred in seizing and guarding the aircraft and an estimate of the further additional cost likely to be incurred.

Sec. 280.51 Application for mitigation or remission—(a) When application may be made. An application for mitigation or remission shall be filed (a) within 30 days after the service of the Notice of Intention to Fine and, if an answer is filed as provided in sec. 280.12, with such answer, for consideration in the event a fine is found to have been incurred, or (b) within 30 days after receipt of the final decision with respect to the fine.

(b) Form and contents of application. An application for mitigation or remission shall be filed in duplicate under oath and shall include information, supported by documentary evidence, as to the basis of the claim to mitigation or remission, and as to the action, if any, which may have been taken by the applicant, or as to the circumstances present in the case which, in the opinion of the applicant, justified the granting of his application.

(c) Disposition of application. The application, if filed with the answer, shall be disposed of as provided in sec. 280.13. In any other case, the application shall be considered and decided by the district director from whose decision an appeal may be taken to the board within 15 days after the mailing of the notification of decision, as provided in Part 3 of this chapter.

VII. DEPOSIT OF REFUSE IN NAVIGABLE WATERS AND OIL POLLUTION OF COASTAL WATERS

CORPS OF ENGINEERS REGULATIONS—Oil Pollution Act, 1961

Title 33, Code of Federal Regulations, sections 212.1 to 212.3:

Sec. 212.1 Prohibited zone adjacent to the United States.—(a) These waters shall be those covered by a band 50 miles wide adjacent to the coast line of the United States and will include the area now considered territorial waters of the United States.

(1) In enforcing the Oil Pollution Act, 1961, the officers and agents of the United States in charge of river and harbor improvements and persons employed under them by authority of the Secretary of the Army and officers and employees of the Bureau of Customs and the Coast Guard shall have power and authority and it shall be their duty to swear out process and to arrest and take into custody with or without process any person who may violate any of said provisions: Provided, That no person shall be arrested without process for a violation not committed in the presence of some one of the aforesaid officials: And provided further, That whenever any arrest is made under the provisions of said sections the person so arrested shall be brought forthwith before a commissioner, judge, or court of the United States for examination of the offenses alleged against him; and such commissioner, judge, or court shall proceed in respect thereto as authorized by law in cases of crimes against the United States. Representatives of the Secretary and of the Bureau of Customs and United States Coast Guard may go on board and inspect any foreign ship to which the convention applies while the ship is within the territorial jurisdiction of the United States, and they may also go on board and inspect any United States ship to which the convention applies when in a prohibited zone or in a port of the United States as may be necessary for enforcement of the Oil Pollution Act, 1961, and the regulations of this part.

Information pertaining violations of the Oil Pollution Act, 1961, will be submitted to the Corps of Engineers District Engineer in charge of the locality, directly or through Coast Guard Representatives, where the violation occurred. If the violation is by a vessel of foreign registry, the District Engineer will forward the report to the Chief of Engineers.

(3) Nothing in the regulations of this part or in the Oil Pollution Act, 1961, will be construed to change or modify the provisions of the Oil Pollution Act of 1924.

(b) The Secretary of the Army hereby designates employees of the Corps of Engineers employed on river and harbor works, employees of any Corps of Engineers Harbor Supervisor, Commissioned, Warrant and Petty Officers of the United States Coast Guard and employees of the Bureau of Customs to make the inspections required under the Oil Pollution Act of 1961 and the regulations of this part.

Sec. 212.2 Prohibited zone adjacent to countries other than the United States.—Vessels of the United States to which the convention applies while in a prohibited zone adjacent to countries other than the United States as described in section 12 of the Oil Pollution Act of 1961, or as modified by notices, if any, of extension or reduction issued by the Secretary of the Army, shall comply with the provisions of the International Convention for Prevention of Pollution of the Seas by Oil, 1954.

Sec. 212.3 Oil Record Book.—(a) An "Official Oil Record Book" issued by the Secretary of the Army will be printed by the United States Government and made available without charge to the masters or operators of all vessels subject to the Oil Pollution Act, 1961, through U.S. Coast Guard Marine Inspection Offices located in the coastal and principal Great Lakes ports.

(b) The "Official Oil Record Book" shall contain the record of certain actions in connection with the use or handling of oil or oily mixutre. Each entry shall be made and dated on the day when such actions occur. When any action or operation extends over a period of more than one day the date of entry shall not be later than the date on which the action or operation is completed.

(c) The master of all vessels required to keep the "Official Oil Record Book" shall be responsible for the maintenance of such record and its delivery as required herein.

(d) Upon completion of a foreign voyage the oil record shall be delivered to the U.S. Coast Guard Marine Inspection Office in the port where the voyage is terminated.

(e) The "Official Oil Record Book" maintained on vessels when not engaged on a foreign voyage shall remain on board such vessels for one or more voyages until insufficient space remains for an additional entry. When completed, the books shall be retained on board the vessel, or at the principal office in the United States of the vessels owner for a period of 2 years from the date of the last entry. At the expiration of this period they may be destroyed.

(f) The record-keeping requirements contained herein have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

United States Code, title 33, chapter 9:

Sec. 407 Deposit of refuse in navigable waters generally.—It shall not be lawful to throw, discharge, or deposit, or cause, suffer, or procure to be thrown, discharged, or deposited either from or out of any ship, barge, or other floating craft of any kind, or from the shore, wharf, manufacturing establishment, or mill of any kind, any refuse matter of any kind or description whatever other than that flowing from streets and sewers and passing therefrom in a liquid state, into any navigable water of the United States, or into any tributary of any navigable water from which the same shall float or be washed into such navigable water; and it shall not be lawful to deposit, or cause, suffer, or procure to be deposited material of any kind in any place on the bank of any navigable water, or on the bank of any tributary of any navigable water, where the same shall be liable to be washed into such navigable water, either by ordinary or high tides, or by storms or floods, or otherwise, whereby navigation shall or may be impeded or obstructed: Provided, That nothing herein contained shall extend to, apply to, or prohibit the operations in connection with the improvement of navigable waters or construction of public works, considered necessary and proper by the United States officers supervising such improvement or public work: And provided further, That the Secretary of the Army, whenever in the judgement of the Chief of Engineers anchorage and navigation will not be injured thereby, may permit the deposit of any material above mentioned in navigable waters, within limits to be defined and under conditions to be prescribed by him, provided application is made to him prior to depositing such material; and whenever any permit is so granted the conditions thereof shall be strictly complied with, and any violation thereof shall be unlawful.

Sec. 411 Penalty for wrongful deposit of refuse; use of or injury to harbor improvements, and obstruction of navigable waters generally.—Every person and every corporation that shall violate, or that shall knowingly aid, abet, authorize, or instigate a violation of the provisions of sections 407, 408, and 409 of this title shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $2,500 nor less than $500, or by imprisonment (in the case of a natural person) for not less than thirty days nor more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court, one-half of said fine to be paid to the person or persons giving information which shall lead to conviction.

Sec. 413 Duty of United States attorneys and other Federal officers in enforcement of provisions; arrest of offenders.—The Department of Justice shall conduct the legal proceedings necessary to enforce the provisions of sections 401, 403, 404, 406, 407, 408, 409, 411, 549, 686, and 687 of this title; and it shall be the duty of United States attorneys to vigorously prosecute all offenders against the same whenever requested to do so by the Army or by any of the officials hereinafter designated, and it shall furthermore be the duty of said United States attorneys to report to the Attorney General of the United States the action taken by him against offenders so reported, and a transcript of such reports shall be transmitted to the Secretary of the Army by the Attorney General; and for the better enforcement of the said provisions and to facilitate the detection and bringing to punishment of such offenders, the officers and agents of the United States in charge of river and harbor improvements, and the assistant engineers and inspectors employed under them by authority of the Secretary of the Army, and the United States collectors of customs and other revenue officers shall have power and authority to swear out process, and to arrest and take into custody, with or without process, any person or persons who may commit any of the acts or offenses prohibited by the said sections, or who may violate any of the provisions of the same: Provided, That no person shall be arrested without process for any offense not committed in the presence of some one of the aforesaid officials: And provided further, That whenever any arrest is made under such sections, the person so arrested shall be brought forthwith before a commissioner, judge, or court of the United States for examination of the offenses alleged against him; and such commissioner, judge, or court shall proceed in respect thereto as authorized by law in case of crimes against the United States.

Sec. 431 Short title.—Sections 431–437 of this title may be cited as the 'Oil Pollution Act, 1924.'

Sec. 432 Definitions.—When used in sections 431–437 of this title, unless the context otherwise requires—

(a) The term 'oil' means oil of any kind or in any form, including fuel oil, oil sludge, and oil refuse;

(b) The term 'person' means an individual, partnership, corporation, or association; any owner, master, officer or employee of a vessel, and any officer, agent, or employee of the United States;

(c) The term 'coastal navigable waters of the United States' means all portions of the sea within the territorial jurisdiction of the United States, and all inland waters navigable in fact in which the tide ebbs and flows;

(d) The term 'Secretary' means the Secretary of the Army.

Sec. 433 Prohibition against discharge of oil generally.—Except in case of emergency imperiling life or property or unavoidable accident, collision, or stranding, and except as otherwise permitted by regulations prescribed by the Secretary as in sections 434–437 of this title authorized, it shall be unlawful for any person to discharge, or suffer, or permit the discharge of oil by any method, means, or manner into or upon the coastal navigable waters of the United States from any vessel using oil as fuel for the generation of propulsion power, or any vessel carrying or having oil thereon in excess of that necessary for its lubricating requirements and such as may be required under the laws of the United States and the rules and regulations prescribed thereunder. The Secretary is authorized and empowered to prescribe regulations permitting the discharge of oil from vessels in such quantities, under such conditions, and at such times and places as in his opinion will not be deleterious to health or sea food, or a menace to navigation, or dangerous to persons or property engaged in commerce on such waters, and for the loading, handling, and unloading of oil.

Sec. 434 Penalties for violations; liability of vessel.—Any person who violates section 433 of this title or any regulation prescribed in pursuance thereof, is guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $2,500 nor less than $500, or by imprisonment not exceeding one year nor less than thirty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment, for each offense. And any vessel (other than a vessel owned and operated by the United States) from which oil is discharged in violation of section 433 of this title, or any regulation prescribed in pursuance thereof, shall be liable for the pecuniary penalty specified in this section, and clearance of such vessel from a port of the United States may be withheld until the penalty is paid, and said penalty shall constitute a lien on such vessel which may be recovered in proceedings by libel in rem in the district court of the United States for any district within which the vessel may be.

Sec. 435 Revocation or suspension of license of officers of offending vessels.—The Coast Guard may, subject to the provisions of section 239 of Title 46, suspend or revoke a license issued to the master or other licensed officer of any vessel found violating the provisions of section 433 of this title.

Sec. 436 Personnel for enforcement of provisions; arrest of offenders and procedure.—In the administration of sections 431-437 of this title, the Secretary may make use of the organization, equipment, and agencies, including engineering, clerical, and other personnel, employed under his direction in the improvement of rivers and harbors, and in the enforcement of laws for the preservation and protection of navigable waters. And for the better enforcement of the provisions of the said sections, the officers and agents of the United States in charge of river and harbor improvements, and the assistant engineers and inspectors employed under them by authority of the Secretary, and officers of the Customs and Coast Guard of the United States, shall have power and authority and it shall be their duty to swear out process and to arrest and take into custody, with or without process, any person who may violate any of said provisions: Provided, That no person shall be arrested without process for a violation not committed in the presence of some one of the aforesaid officials: And provided further, That whenever any arrest is made under the provisions of the said sections the person so arrested shall be brought forthwith before a commissioner, judge, or court of the United States for examination of the offenses alleged against him; and such commissioner, judge, or court shall proceed in respect thereto as authorized by law in cases of crimes against the United States.

Sec. 437 Other statutes for preservation and protection of navigable waters unaffected.—Sections 431-436 of this title shall be in addition to the laws existing prior to June 7, 1924, for the preservation and protection of navigable waters and shall not be construed as repealing, modifying, or in any manner affecting the provisions of those laws.

VIII. TOBACCO MATERIALS AND TOBACCO PRODUCTS

IMPORTATION OF TOBACCO PRODUCTS AND MATERIALS

Part 275—Importation of Tobacco Materials, Tobacco Products, and Cigarette Papers and Tubes (Effective October 1, 1961)

Sec. 275.1 Importation of cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes.—This part contains the regulations relating to cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes, imported into the United States from a foreign country or brought into the United States from Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, or a possession of the United States; the removal of cigars from a customs bonded manufacturing warehouse, class 6; and the release of cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes from customs custody, without payment of internal revenue tax or cutsoms duty attributable to the internal revenue tax.

Sec. 275.25 Disposal of forfeited, condemned, and abandoned cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes.—When any Federal, State, or local officer having custody of forfeited, condemned, or abandoned cigars, cigarettes, or cigarette papers or tubes, upon which the Federal tax has not been paid, is of the opinion that the sale thereof will not bring a price equal to the tax due and payable thereon, and the expenses incident to the sale thereof, he shall not sell, nor cause to be sold, such articles for consumption in the United States. Where the articles are not sold, the officer may deliver them to a Federal or State hospital or institution (if they are fit for consumption) or cause their destruction by burning completely or by rendering them unfit for consumption. Where such articles are sold, they shall not be released by the officer having custody thereof until they are properly packaged and taxpaid, which tax shall be considered as a portion of the sales price. Except where the tax is to be paid to collectors of customs in accordance with Part 20, Customs Regulations (19 CFR Part 20), on sales of articles by customs officers, the payment of tax on such articles shall be evidenced by presentation, to the officer having custody of the articles, of a receipt from the district director showing such payment. In the case of such articles held by or for the Federal Government, the sale thereof shall be subject to the applicable provisions of the Regulations of the General Services Administration, Title 1, Personal Property Management.

Subpart D—Taxes

Tax Rates

Sec. 275.31 Cigars.—On cigars imported or brought into the United States, the following internal revenue taxes are imposed by law:

(a) Small cigars. 75 cents per thousand.

(b) Large cigars. (1) If removed to retail at not more than 2-1/2 cents each, $2.50 per thousand;

(2) If removed to retail at more than 2-1/2 cents each and not more than 4 cents each, $3 per thousand;

(3) If removed to retail at more than 4 cents each and not more than 6 cents each, $4 per thousand;

(4) If removed to retail at more than 6 cents each and not more than 8 cents each, $7 per thousand;

(5) If removed to retail at more than 8 cents each and not more than 15 cents each, $10 per thousand;

(6) If removed to retail at more than 15 cents each and not more than 20 cents each, $15 per thousand; and

(7) If removed to retail at more than 20 cents each, $20 per thousand.

Cigars not exempt from tax under this part which are removed but not intended for sale shall be taxed at the same rate as similar cigars removed for sale. (68A Stat. 907, 72 Stat. 1414; 26 U.S.C. 7652, 5701)

Sec. 275.32 Cigarettes.—On cigarettes imported or brought into the United States, the following internal revenue taxes are imposed by law:

(a) Small cigarettes. $4 per thousand.

(b) Large cigarettes. $8.40 per thousand; except that where such cigarettes are more than 6-1/2 inches in length, the rate of tax is $4 per thousand, counting each 2-3/4 inches, or fraction thereof, of the length of each as one cigarette.

Sec. 275.33 [Deleted]

Sec. 275.34 Cigarette papers.—On each book or set of cigarette papers containing more than 25 papers imported or brought into the United States, the law imposes an internal revenue tax of 1/2 cent for each 50 papers or fractional part thereof; except that where cigarette papers measure more than 6-1/2 inches in length, they shall be taxable at the rate prescribed, counting each 2-3/4 inches, or fraction thereof, of the length of each as one cigarette paper.

Sec. 275.35 Cigarette tubes.—On cigarette tubes imported or brought into the United States, the law imposes an internal revenue tax of 1 cent for each 50 tubes or fractional part thereof; except that where cigarette tubes measure more than 6-1/2 inches in length, they shall be taxable at the rate prescribed, counting each 2-3/4 inches, or fraction thereof, of the length of each as one cigarette tube.

Tax Classification of Large Cigars and of Cigarettes

Sec. 275.37 Large cigars.—Large cigars are divided into seven classes, for internal revenue tax purposes, corresponding with the rates of tax imposed by section 5701(a)(2), I.R.C., and based on the retail price intended by the importer for such cigars. The classes are designated, from the lowest to the highest rate of tax, as Class A, Class B, Class C, Class D, Class E, Class F, and Class G, respectively. In establishing the retail price, for tax purposes, regard shall be had to the ordinary retail price of a single cigar in its principal market, exclusive of any State or local taxes imposed on cigars as a commodity. Where there is more than one price for the same cigar in its principal market, the tax to be paid shall be determined, at the time of removal, according to the price at which the majority are sold therein. Subsequent retail sale at a price in excess of the maximum for the class at which taxpaid will not, in itself, cause the importer to incur any additional tax liability.

Sec. 275.38 Cigarettes.—For internal revenue tax purposes, small cigarettes are designated Class A and large cigarettes are designated Class B.

Liability for an Payment of Taxes

Sec. 275.40 Persons liable for tax.—The importer of cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes shall be liable for the internal revenue taxes imposed thereon by section 5701 or 7652, I.R.C.: Provided, That when cigars, cigarettes, or cigarette papers or tubes are released in bond from customs custody for transfer to the bonded premises of a manufacturer of tobacco products or of a manufacturer of cigarette papers and tubes, the transferee shall become liable for the internal revenue tax on such articles upon release from customs custody and the importer shall thereupon be relieved of his liability for such tax.

Sec. 275.41 Determination of tax and method of payment.—Cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes, imported or brought into the United States, on which internal revenue taxes are due and payable, shall not be released from customs custody until such taxes have been determined and paid. The taxes on such articles which are determined to be due shall be paid on the basis of a return in accordance with the provisions of this part.

Exemptions from Taxes

Sec. 275.45 Tobacco products and cigarette papers and tubes imported by consular officers and employees of foreign states.—No internal revenue tax shall be imposed with respect to tobacco products and cigarette papers and tubes imported by a consular officer of a foreign state, or by an employee of a consulate of a foreign state, whether such articles accompany the officer or employee to his post in the United States, or are imported by him at any time during the exercise of his functions therein, if:

(a) Such officer or employee is a national of the state appointing him and is not engaged in any profession, business, or trade within the territory specified in this section;

(b) The tobacco products and cigarette papers and tubes are imported by the officer or employee for his personal or official use; and

(c) The foreign state grants an equivalent exemption to corresponding officers or employees of the Government of the United States stationed in such foreign state, as certified by the Secretary of State.

Sec. 275.46 Samples of cigars and cigarettes.—Samples of cigars and cigarettes, to be used in the United States by persons importing tobacco products in commercial quantities, are, subject to the limitations in this section, exempt from payment of any internal revenue tax imposed on, or by reason of, importation. This exemption applies only to samples to be used for soliciting orders for products of foreign countries. Only one sample of cigars and cigarettes of the same brand, blend, size, shape, and weight, and having the same kind of wrapper, filter, mouthpiece, etc., shall be so admitted during any calendar quarter for the use of each such person. No such sample shall contain more than 3 cigars or 3 cigarettes.

Sec. 275.47 Samples of manufactured tobacco.—Samples of manufactured tobacco, to be used in the United States by persons importing tobacco products in commercial quantities, are, subject to the limitations in this section, exempt from payment of any internal revenue tax imposed on, or by reason of, importation. This exemption applies only to samples to be used for soliciting orders for products of foreign countries. Only one sample of manufactured tobacco of the same kind, brand, blend, form, flavor, cut, grind, etc., shall be so admitted during any calendar quarter for the use of each such person. No such sample shall contain more than one-eighth of an ounce of manufactured tobacco.

Sec. 275.48 Samples of cigarette tubes.—Samples of cigarette tubes, to be used in the United States by persons importing cigarette papers or tubes in commercial quantities, are, subject to the limitations in this section, exempt from payment of any internal revenue tax imposed on, or by reason, of importation. This exemption applies only to samples to be used for soliciting orders for cigarette tubes manufactured in foreign countries. Only one sample of cigarette tubes of the same brand, size, shape, color, weight, and burning characteristics, and having the same kind of tip, filter, mouthpiece, etc., shall be so admitted during any calendar quarter for the use of each such person. No such sample shall contain more than 3 cigarette tubes.

Sec. 475.49 Tobacco products and cigarette papers and tubes for exhibition at trade fairs.—Tobacco products and cigarette papers and tubes may be imported into the United States, without payment of internal revenue tax, for the purpose of exhibition at a trade fair, exhibition, or exposition pursuant to the Trade Fair Act of 1959 (73 Stat. 18; 19 U.S.C. 1751), in accordance with Customs Regulations, 19 CFR Part 32. Such tobacco products and cigarette papers and tubes imported into the United States must be disposed of in accordance with 19 CFR Part 32. However, if such products are sold or otherwise disposed of for consumption within, or removed from, the area of such fairs pursuant to 19 U.S.C. 1753(a), and regulations thereunder, they shall be in packages which bear the notice and shall be taxpaid, in accordance with the applicable provisions of this part, prior to release from customs custody.

Sec. 275.50 Exemptions.—The Tariff Schedules of the United States (19 U.S.C. 1202) and Customs Regulations, 19 CFR, Chapter I, provide for certain exemptions from internal revenue taxes with respect to cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes imported into the United States. These exemptions include, but are not limited to, certain importations in passengers' baggage, for use of crew members, and by foreign officials.

Customs' Collection of Taxes

Sec. 275.62 Customs' collection of internal revenue taxes on cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes, imported or brought into the United States.—Internal revenue taxes on cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes, imported or brought into the United States, which are to be paid to a collector of customs, in accordance with this part, shall be collected, accounted for, and deposited as internal revenue collections by the collector of customs, in accordance with customs procedures and regulations: Provided, That the collector of customs shall deposit the taxes collected on cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes brought into the United States from Puerto Rico or the Virgin Islands in the internal revenue account designated for the deposit of taxes collected on articles of Puerto Rican manufacture, or the deposit of taxes collected on articles coming from the Virgin Islands, as the case may be.

Subpart E—Packages

Sec. 275.71 Package.—All cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes, except as provided in Sec. 275.75, shall, before removal subject to internal revenue tax, be put up in packages which shall be of such construction as will securely contain the articles therein and maintain the notice thereon as required by this subpart. No package of cigars, cigarettes, or cigarette papers or tubes shall have contained in, attached to, or stamped, marked, written, or printed thereon (a) any certificate, coupon, or other device purporting to be or to represent a ticket, chance, share, or an interest in, or dependent on, the event of a lottery, (b) any indecent or immoral picture, print, or representation, or (c) any statement or indication that United States tax has been paid.

Sec. 275.72 [Deleted]

Sec. 275.73 Notice for cigars.—Every package of cigars, except as provided in Sec. 275.75, shall, before removal subject to internal revenue tax, have adequately imprinted thereon, or on a label securely affixed thereto, the designation "cigars," the quantity of such product contained therein, and the classification of the product for tax purposes, i.e., for small cigars, either "small" or "little," and for large cigars, the appropriate following class designation corresponding with the rate of tax imposed by section 5701(a)(2), I.R.C.:

(a) "A. The ordinary retail price of the cigars herein contained is intended by the importer to be not more than 2-1/2 cents each";

(b) "B. The ordinary retail price of the cigars herein contained is intended by the importer to be more than 2-1/2 cents each and not more than 4 cents each";

(c) "C. The ordinary retail price of the cigars herein contained is intended by the importer to be more than 4 cents each and not more than 6 cents each";

(d) "D. The ordinary retail price of the cigars herein contained is intended by the importer to be more than 6 cents each and not more than 8 cents each";

(e) "E. The ordinary retail price of the cigars herein contained is intended by the importer to be more than 8 cents each and not more than 15 cents each";

(f) "F. The ordinary retail price of the cigars herein contained is intended by the importer to be more than 15 cents each and not more than 20 cents each"; or

(g) "G. The ordinary retail price of the cigars herein contained is intended by the importer to be more than 20 cents each."

Sec. 275.74 Notice for cigarettes.—Every package of cigarettes, except as provided in Sec. 275.75, shall, before removal subject to internal revenue tax, have adequately imprinted thereon, or on a label securely affixed thereto, the designation "cigarettes", the quantity of such product contained therein; and the classification for tax purposes, i.e., for small cigarettes either "small" or "Class A", and for large cigarettes, either "large" or "Class B".

Sec. 275.75 Exemptions.—The provisions of this subpart requiring that cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes be put up in packages and that proper notice be placed on such packages shall not apply to imported cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes authorized to be released from customs custody, without payment of internal revenue tax, pursuant to Sec. 275.50, and shall not apply to cigars and cigarettes imported in passengers' baggage, or by mail where the value does not exceed $250, where such products are solely for the personal consumption of the importer or for disposition as his bona fide gift.

Subpart F—Tobacco Materials, Tobacco Products, and Cigarette Papers and Tubes, Imported or Brought Into the United States

Sec. 275.81 Taxpayment.—Except as otherwise provided in this part, any internal revenue tax payable on cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes, imported into the United States from a foreign country or brought into the United States from Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, or a possession of the United States, shall be determined and paid to the collector of customs before removal on the basis of a return made on the customs form by which release from customs custody is to be effected. There shall be set forth on such customs form at the time of entry for consumption or for warehousing and at the time of withdrawal from warehouse for consumption, in addition to any information required for customs purposes, the quantity and kinds of cigars and cigarettes and class of large cigars, or the number of books or sets of cigarette papers of each different numerical content, or the number of cigarette tubes, to be removed on payment of tax, the applicable rate of tax, and the amount of tax due, substantially in the form as shown in the example below:

Quantity	Article and tax class	Rate of tax	Amount
20,000	Small cigars	$0.75 per thousand	$15.00
5,000	Large cigars—Class D	$7 per thousand	35.00
1,000	Large cigars—Class E	$10 per thousand	10.00
500	Large cigars—Class G	$20 per thousand	10.00
10,000	Small cigarettes	$4 per thousand	40.00
5,000	Large cigarettes	$8.40 per thousand	42.00
2,000 sets	Cigarette papers—50 each set	$0.005 per set	10.00
1,000 sets	Cigarette papers—100 each set	$0.01 per set	10.00
1,000	Cigarette tubes	$0.01 per 50 tubes	.20
Total			172.20

An extra copy of the customs form shall be prepared by the importer, marked "For internal revenue purposes," and filed with the collector of customs who will transmit it to the assistant regional commissioner of the region wherein the customs collection headquarters is located. (For provisions relating to the prepayment or deferred payment of internal revenue tax in Puerto Rico on cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes brought into the United States, see Subpart G of this part.)

Release of Tobacco Products and Cigarette Papers and Tubes from Customs Custody, without Payment of Tax

Sec. 275.85 Release from customs custody of imported articles.—Cigars and cigarettes manufactured in a foreign country, the Virgin Islands, or a possession of the United States may be released by the collector of customs from customs custody, without payment of internal revenue tax, for transfer to the factory of a manufacturer of tobacco products under the bond of such manufacturer. Cigarette papers and tubes manufactured in a foreign country, the Virgin Islands, or a possession of the United States may be released by the collector of customs from customs custody, without payment of internal revenue tax, for transfer, under the bond of the manufacturer to whom such articles are released, to the factory of (a) a manufacturer of cigarette papers and tubes; or (b) a manufacturer of tobacco products solely for use in the manufacture of cigarettes. Releases under this section shall be in accordance with Sec. 275.86: Provided, however, That a manufacturer of tobacco products or a manufacturer of cigarette papers and tubes who desires to obtain the release of Virgin Islands cigars, cigarettes, or cigarette papers or tubes from customs custody, without payment of internal revenue tax, under his bond, shall, in addition, file an extension of coverage of his bond on Form 2105 in the same manner and form as prescribed for Puerto Rican articles in Sec. 275.136. Articles received into the factory of a manufacturer under the provisions of this section are subject to the provisions of Part 270 and Part 285 of this chapter. (For provisions relating to release of Puerto Rican cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes from customs custody, without payment of internal revenue tax, see Subpart G of this part.)

Sec. 275.85a Release from customs custody of returned articles.—Domestically produced cigars and cigarettes (classifiable under item 804.00 of the Tariff Schedules of the United States, 19 U.S.C. 1202) exported from and returned unchanged to the United States may if entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption after June 30, 1964, be released from customs custody without payment of that part of the duty attributable to the internal revenue tax for delivery to the factory of a manufacturer of tobacco products under his bond. Domestically produced cigarette papers and tubes (classifiable under item 804.00 of the Tariff Schedules of the United States, 19 U.S.C. 1202) exported from and returned unchanged to the United States may if entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption after June 30, 1964, be released from customs custody without payment of that part of the duty attributable to the internal revenue tax for delivery, under the bond of the manufacturer to whom such articles are released, to the factory of (a) a manufacturer of cigarette papers and tubes; or (b) a manufacturer of tobacco products solely for use in the manufacture of cigarettes. Releases under this section shall be in accordance with the procedures set forth in Sec. 275.86. Upon such release, the cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes shall be subject to the tax and all other provisions of Chapter 52, I.R.C., and, as applicable, subject to the provisions of the regulations in Part 270 or Part 285 of this chapter as if they had not been exported or otherwise removed from internal revenue bond.

Sec. 275.86 Procedure for release.—Every manufacturer of tobacco products and cigarette papers and tubes who desires to obtain the release of cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes from customs custody, without payment of internal revenue tax, under his bond, as provided in Sec. 275.85, shall prepare a notice of release, Form 2145, in triplicate, and file the three copies of the form with the assistant regional commissioner for the region wherein the manufacturer is located. The assistant regional commissioner will not certify Form 2145 covering the release of cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes unless the manufacturer is authorized, under Parts 270 and 285 of this chapter, to receive, without payment of tax, the kinds of articles set forth in the form. After certification by the assistant regional commissioner, all copies shall be presented by the manufacturer to the collector of customs having custody of the cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes prior to release thereof. The collector of customs may release such articles upon completion of the notice of release and, after release, he will retain one copy of the form, transmit one copy to the assistant regional commissioner shown thereon, and return one copy to the manufacturer, which shall be retained by the manufacturer.

Sec. 275.91 [Deleted]

Subpart G—Puerto Rican Tobacco Materials, Tobacco Products, and Cigarette Papers and Tubes, Brought Into the United States

Prepayment of Tax in Puerto Rico on Tobacco Products and Cigarette Papers and Tubes

Sec. 275.105 Prepayment of tax.—To prepay, in Puerto Rico, the internal revenue tax imposed by section 7652(a), I.R.C., on cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes of Puerto Rican manufacture which are to be shipped to the United States, the shipper shall file, or cause to be filed, with the Officer-in-Charge, a tax return, Form 3073, in triplicate, with full remittance of tax which will become due on such cigars, cigarettes, or cigarette papers or tubes. The Officer-in-Charge will present a receipted copy of the return to the person filing the return and paying the tax, retain one copy, and forward the remaining copy to the Assistant Regional Commissioner, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax, New York, N.Y. The person who filed the return and prepaid the tax shall present the receipted copy of the return to the internal revenue officer assigned by the Supervisor in Charge, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax, Puerto Rico, to inspect the cigars, cigarettes, or cigarette papers or tubes to be shipped to the United States. Such officer will endorse the receipted copy of the return to show release of the cigars, cigarettes, or cigarette papers or tubes, or, if less than the quantity of cigars, cigarettes, or cigarette papers or tubes covered by the return is released, to show the quantity and kind of cigars and cigarettes and class of large cigars, or the number of books or sets of cigarette papers of each different numerical content, or the number of cigarette tubes, in fact released and will return such copy to the taxpayer.

Sec. 275.106 Inspection of shipment and certification of prepayment by internal revenue officer.—The internal revenue officer, assigned to inspect Puerto Rican cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes to be shipped to the United States in accordance with Sec. 275.105, will prepare for each shipping container, a statement on Form 3074 that the tax has been prepaid, and show the name and address of the shipper, date of prepayment, and the quantity and kind of cigars and cigarettes and class of large cigars, or the number of books or sets of cigarette papers of each different numerical content, or the number of cigarette tubes. The shipper shall affix the completed Form 3074 to the outside of each shipping container in which the articles are packed. Such statement, Form 3074, shall be affixed to the outer container used in the shipment of freight in bulk (crate, packing box, van, trailer, etc.) and not on the individual cartons, cases, etc., included in such outer container. In addition, such officer will prepare Form 3075, in quintuplicate, identifying the cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes released in each shipment and certifying that the tax has been prepaid thereon, and will (a) present one copy to the taxpayer for attachment to the bill of lading to accompany the shipment (in custody of the carrier) for presentation to the collector of customs at the port of entry; (b) promptly mail two copies to the collector of customs at the port of entry; (c) mail one copy to the assistant regional commissioner of the region wherein the customs collection headquarters is located; and (d) retain the remaining copy. Noncommercial mail shipment of cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes to the United States are exempt from the provisions of this section, except that the internal revenue officer in Puerto Rico receiving a payment of internal revenue tax on mail shipments of such articles will prepare a certificate to be affixed to the container stating that the United States internal revenue tax has been prepaid on the articles contained therein.

Sec. 275.107 Procedure at port of entry.—The collector of customs at the port of entry will inspect the shipment to determine whether the quantity specified on the Form 3075 is contained in the shipment. He will then execute his certificate on the three copies of the Form 3075, in his possession, and indicate on each copy any exceptions found at the time of release. The statement of exceptions shall identify each shipping container which sustained a loss, the cigars, cigarettes, or cigarette papers or tubes reported shipped in such container, and the cigars, cigarettes, or cigarette papers or tubes lost from such container. Losses occurring as the result of missing packages, cases, or shipping containers shall be listed separately from losses caused by damage. Where the statement is made on the basis of cigars, cigarettes, or cigarette papers or tubes missing or damaged, the quantity and kind of cigars and cigarettes and class of large cigars, or the number of books or sets of cigarette papers of each different numerical content, or the number of cigarette tubes shall be shown. If the collector of customs finds that the full amount of the tax has not been prepaid, he will require the difference due to be paid to him prior to release of the cigars, cigarettes, or cigarette papers or tubes. When the inspection of the shipment has been effected, and any additional tax found to be due has been paid to the collector of customs, the shipment may be released.

Sec. 275.108 Disposition of forms by collector of customs.—One copy of the Form 3075 will be forwarded to the Assistant Regional Commissioner, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax, New York, New York, one copy will be furnished the consignee, and one copy of this form will be retained by the collector of customs.

Deferred Payment of Tax in Puerto Rico on Tobacco Products

Sec. 275.111 Inspection of shipment and certification by internal revenue officer.—On receipt of the original and six copies of the Form 2987 completed and executed by the bonded manufacturer in accordance with Sec. 275.110, an internal revenue officer will inspect the cigars and cigarettes covered by the form, verify the tax calculation made with respect to such products, date and execute the certification on such form, and release the cigars and cigarettes for shipment to the United States. Such officer will then promptly distribute the certified Form 2987 by (a) mailing the original to the Officer-in-Charge; (b) mailing two copies to the collector of customs at the port of entry; (c) mailing one copy to the assistant regional commissioner of the region wherein the customs collection headquarters is located; (d) returning two copies to the bonded manufacturer who will attach one copy to the bill of lading to accompany the shipment (in custody of the carrier) for presentation to the collector of customs at the port of entry; and (e) submitting one copy to the Supervisor in Charge, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax, Puerto Rico. Such officer will also prepare, for each shipping container, a statement on Form 2989 that the tax on the cigars and cigarettes to be shipped to the United States has been computed and show the name and address of the bonded manufacturer, date of tax computation, and the quantity and kind of cigars and cigarettes and class of large cigars. The bonded manufacturer shall affix the completed Form 2989 to the outside of each shipping container in which the products are packed. Such statement, Form 2989, shall be affixed to the outer container used in the shipment of freight in bulk (crate, packing box, van, trailer, etc.) and not on the individual cartons, cases, etc., included in such outer container.

Sec. 275.117 Procedure at port of entry.—The collector of customs at the port of entry will inspect the shipment to determine whether the quantity specified on the Form 2987 is contained in the shipment. He will then execute his certificate on the three copies of the Form 2987, in his possession, and indicate on each copy any exceptions found at the time of release. The statement of exceptions shall identify each shipping container which sustained a loss, the cigars and cigarettes reported shipped in such container, and the cigars and cigarettes lost from such container. Losses occurring as the result of missing packages, cases, or shipping containers shall be listed separately from losses caused by damage. Where the statement is made on the basis of cigars and cigarettes missing or damaged, the quantity and kind of cigars and cigarettes and class of large cigars shall be shown. If the collector of customs finds that the full amount of tax due has not been computed, he will require the difference due to be paid to him prior to release of the cigars and cigarettes. When the inspection of the shipment has been effected, and any additional tax found to be due has been paid to the collector of customs, the shipment may be released.

Sec. 275.118 Disposition of forms by collector of customs.—One copy of the form 2987 will be forwarded to the Assistant Regional Commissioner, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax, New York, New York, one copy will be furnished the consignee, and one copy of this form will be retained by the collector of customs.

Release of Puerto Rican Tobacco Products and Cigarette Papers and Tubes from Customs Custody, without Payment of Tax

Sec. 275.137 Notice of release.—Every manufacturer of tobacco products and cigarette papers and tubes in the United States who desires under the provisions of this subpart to obtain the release of Puerto Rican cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes from customs custody, without payment of internal revenue tax, under his bond, shall prepare a notice of release, Form 3072, in quintuplicate, and file the five copies of the form with the assistant regional commissioner for the region wherein the manufacturer is located. The assistant regional commissioner will not certify Form 3072 covering the release of cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes unless the manufacturer is authorized, under Parts 270 and 285 of this chapter, to receive, without payment of tax, the kinds of articles set forth in the form. After certification by the assistant regional commissioner, the manufacturer shall forward all five copies of the form to the shipper in Puerto Rico. The shipper in Puerto Rico shall execute Part I on all copies of the form, forward four copies to the Supervisor in Charge, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax, Puerto Rico, and retain the remaining copy for his records. The internal revenue officer assigned to inspect the cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes to be shipped, after determining that the shipment has been correctly described in Part I, will execute Part II on all four copies of the form, and will (a) present one copy to the shipper for attachment to the bill of lading to accompany the shipment (in custody of the carrier) for presentation to the collector of customs at the port of entry; (b) promptly mail two copies to the collector of customs at the port of entry in the United States; and (c) retain the remaining copy.

Sec. 275.138 Action by collector of customs.—The collector of customs at the port of entry will note in Part III, on the three copies of the notice of release, Form 3072, in his possession, any exceptions found, showing the numbers and marks on each shipping container from which a loss was sustained, the quantity of cigars, cigarettes, or cigarette papers or tubes reported shipped in such shipping container, and the quantity of the articles lost. The collector of customs will execute the Notice of Release on each such copy of the form, release the shipment with one copy to the consignee, and mail one copy to the assistant regional commissioner shown on the form, and retain the remaining copy for his records.

Release of Puerto Rican Tobacco Materials from Customs Custody, without Payment of Tax

Sec. 275.145 [Deleted]

Subpart H—Taxpayment of Cigars Produced in Customs Bonded Manufacturing Warehouses, Class 6

Sec. 275.151 Taxpayment.—A proprietor of a customs bonded manufacturing warehouse, class 6, who removes cigars for sale or consumption in the United States shall pay the tax on such cigars on the basis of a return to the collector of customs in accordance with customs procedures and regulations. The tax shall be accounted for and deposited as internal revenue collections by the collector of customs.

Sec. 275.152 Packaging requirements.—Cigars removed from a customs bonded manufacturing warehouse, class 6, for sale or consumption in the United States shall be put in packages and bear the notice for cigars, in accordance with Secs. 275.71 and 275.73.

Tobacco Products and Cigarette Papers and Tubes withdrawn from the Market

Sec. 275.172 Return to nontaxpaid status, action by taxpayer.—Where cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes which have been imported or brought into the United States are withdrawn from the market and the taxpayer desires to file a claim for refund of the tax on such articles and return such articles to a nontaxpaid status, he shall, in addition to the requirements of Sec. 275.163, assemble the articles in or adjacent to the factory in which such articles are to be retained or received in a nontaxpaid status. The taxpayer shall group the articles according to the rate of tax applicable thereto, and shall prepare a schedule of the articles, on Form 3069, in triplicate. All copies of the schedule shall be forwarded to the assistant regional commissioner for the region in which the cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes are assembled.

Sec. 275.173 Return to nontaxpaid status, action by assistant regional commissioner.—Upon receipt of a schedule of cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes which have been imported or brought into the United States and which are withdrawn from the market by a taxpayer who desires to return such articles to a nontaxpaid status, the assistant regional commissioner may assign an internal revenue officer to verify the schedule and supervise disposition of the articles (and destruction of the stamps, if any) or the assistant regional commissioner may authorize the receiving manufacturer to verify the schedule and disposition of the articles (and destruction of the stamps, if any) covered therein, without supervision, by so stating on the original and one copy of the schedule returned to the manufacturer. Where the receipt in a factory of cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes has been verified, such articles shall be treated by the receiving manufacturer as nontaxpaid and shall be covered by the manufacturer's bond.

Sec. 275.174 Disposition of cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes, and schedule.—When an internal revenue officer is assigned to verify the schedule and supervise destruction or other disposition of cigars, cigarette and cigarette papers and tubes which have been imported or brought into the United States, such officer shall, upon completion of his assignment, execute a certificate on all copies of the schedule to show the disposition and the date of disposition of such articles. The internal revenue officer shall return the original and one copy of the certified schedule to the taxpayer. When a taxpayer destroys such articles (and stamps, if any) or reduces cigars and cigarettes to tobacco, or a receiving manufacturer verifies the schedule and disposition of such articles (and stamps, if any), he shall execute a certificate on the original and the copy of the schedule returned to him, to show the disposition and the date of disposition of the articles. The taxpayer shall attach the original of the certified schedule to his claim for refund.

Exportation of Tobacco Products and Materials

Part 290—Exportation of Tobacco Materials, Tobacco Products, and Cigarette Papers and Tubes, without Payment of Tax, or with Drawback of Tax (Effective July 1, 1960)

Sec. 290.61 Removals, withdrawals, and shipments authorized.—Cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes may be removed from a factory or an export warehouse, and cigars may be withdrawn from a customs warehouse, without payment of tax, for direct exportation or for delivery for subsequent exportation, in accordance with the provisions of this part.

Sec. 290.61a Deliveries to foreign-trade zones—export status.—Cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes may be removed from a factory or an export warehouse and cigars may be withdrawn from a customs warehouse, without payment of tax, for delivery to a foreign-trade zone for exportation or storage pending exportation in accordance with the provisions of this part. Such articles delivered to a foreign-trade zone under this part shall be considered to be exported for the purpose of the statutes and bonds under which removed and for the purposes of the internal revenue laws generally and the regulations thereunder. However, export status is not acquired until an application on zone Form D for admission of the articles into the zone with zone restricted status has been approved by the collector of customs pursuant to the appropriate provisions of 19 CFR Chapter I, and the required certificate of receipt of the articles in the zone has been made on Forms 2149 or 2150 as prescribed in this part.

Sec. 290.62 Restrictions on deliveries of cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes to vessels and aircraft, as supplies.—Cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes may be removed from a factory or an export warehouse and cigars may be withdrawn from a customs warehouse, without payment of tax, for delivery to vessels and aircraft, as supplies, for consumption beyond the jurisdiction of the internal revenue laws of the United States, subject to the applicable provisions of this part. Deliveries may be made to vessels actually engaged in foreign, intercoastal, or noncontiguous territory trade (i.e., vessels operating on a regular schedule in trade or actually transporting passengers and/or cargo (a) between a port in the United States and a foreign port; (b) between the Atlantic and Pacific ports of the United States; or (c) between a port on the mainland of the United States and a port in Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, or a possession of the United States; between a port in Alaska and a port in Hawaii; or between a port in Alaska or Hawaii and a port in Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, or a possession of the United States); to vessels clearing through customs for a port beyond the jurisdiction of the internal revenue laws of the United States; to vessels of war or other governmental activity; or to vessels of the United States documented to engage in the fishing business (including the whaling business), and foreign fishing (including whaling) vessels of 5 net tons or over. Such deliveries to vessels shall be subject to lading under customs supervision as provided in Secs. 290.207 and 290.263. As a condition to the lading of the cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes, the customs authorities at the port of lading may, if they deem it necessary in order to protect the revenue, require assurances, satisfactory to them, from the master of the receiving vessel that the quantities to be laden are reasonable, considering the number of persons to be carried, the vessel's itinerary, the duration of its intended voyage, etc., and that such articles are to be used exclusively as supplies on the voyage. For this purpose, the customs authorities may require the master of the receiving vessel to submit for their approval, prior to lading, an application on Customs Form 5127 for permission to lade the articles. Where the customs authorities allow only a portion of a shipment to be laden, the remainder of the shipment shall be returned to the bonded premises of the manufacturer, export warehouse proprietor, or customs warehouse proprietor making the shipment, or otherwise disposed of as approved by the assistant regional commissioner for the region from which the articles were shipped. Deliveries may be made to aircraft clearing through customs en route to a place or places beyond the jurisdiction of the internal revenue laws of the United States, and to aircraft operating on a regular schedule between U.S. customs areas (as defined in the Air Commerce Regulations (19 CFR Part 6) of the Bureau of Customs). Deliveries may not be made to a vessel or aircraft stationed in the United States for an indefinite period and where its schedule does not include operations outside such jurisdiction.

Sec. 290.63 Restrictions on disposal of cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes on vessels and aircraft.—Cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes delivered to a vessel or aircraft, without payment of tax, pursuant to Sec. 290.62, shall not be sold, offered for sale, or otherwise disposed of until the vessel or aircraft is outside the jurisdiction of the internal revenue laws of the United States, i.e., outside the 3-mile limit or international boundary, as the case may be, of the United States. Where the vessel or aircraft returns within the jurisdiction of the internal revenue laws with such articles on board, the articles shall be subject to treatment under the tariff laws of the United States.

Subpart I—Shipments of Tobacco Materials by Dealers in Tobacco Materials

Sec. 290.171 [Deleted]

Subpart J—Removal of Shipments of Tobacco Materials by Manufacturers and Removal of Tobacco Products and Cigarette Papers and Tubes by Manufacturers and Export Warehouse Proprietors

Sec. 290.181 Packages.—All cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes shall, before removal, be put up by the manufacturer in packages which shall bear the label or notice, class designation, and mark, as required by this subpart.

Sec. 290.182 Lottery features.—No certificate, coupon, or other device purporting to be or to represent a ticket, chance, share, or an interest in, or dependent on, the event of a lottery shall be contained in, attached to, or stamped, marked, written, or printed on any package of cigars, cigarettes, or cigarette papers or tubes.

Sec. 290.183 Indecent or immoral material.—No indecent or immoral picture, print, or representation shall be contained in, attached to, or stamped, marked, written, or printed on any package of cigars, cigarettes, or cigarette papers or tubes.

Sec. 290.184 Mark.—Every package of cigars and cigarettes shall, before removal from the factory under this subpart, have adequately imprinted thereon, or on a label securely affixed thereto, a mark as specified in this section. The mark may consist of the name of the manufacturer removing the product and the location (by city and State) of the factory from which the products are to be so removed, or may consist of the permit number of the factory from which the products are to be so removed. (Any trade name of the manufacturer approved as provided in Sec. 270.65 of this chapter may be used in the mark as the name of the manufacturer.) As an alternative, where cigars and cigarettes are both packaged and removed by the same manufacturer, either at the same or different factories, the mark may consist of the name of such manufacturer if the factory where packaged is identified on or in the package by a means approved by the Director. Before using the alternative, the manufacturer shall notify the Director in writing of the name to be used as the name of the manufacturer and the means to be used for identifying the factory where packaged. If approved by him the Director shall return approved copies of the notice to the manufacturer. A copy of the approved notice shall be retained as part of the factory records at each of the factories operated by the manufacturer.

Sec. 290.185 Label or notice.—Every package of cigars or cigarettes shall, before removal from the factory under this subpart, have adequately imprinted thereon, or on a label securely affixed thereto, the words "Tax-exempt. For use outside U.S." or the words "U.S. Tax-exempt. For use outside U.S." except where a stamp, sticker, or notice, required by a foreign country or a possession of the United States, which identifies such country or possession, is so imprinted or affixed.

Sec. 290.186 Class designation for large cigars.—Every package of large cigars shall, before removal from the factory under this subpart, have adequately imprinted thereon, or on a label securely affixed thereto, a class designation corresponding with the rate of tax under section 5701(a)(2), I.R.C., applicable to similar cigars removed for taxable purposes. The appropriate class designation shall be stated in the following manner:

Class A. The ordinary retail price of the cigars herein contained is intended by the manufacturer to be not more than 2-1/2 cents each;

Class B. The ordinary retail price of the cigars herein contained is intended by the manufacturer to be more than 2-1/2 cents each and not more than 4 cents each;

Class C. The ordinary retail price of the cigars herein contained is intended by the manufacturer to be more than 4 cents each and not more than 6 cents each;

Class D. The ordinary retail price of the cigars herein contained is intended by the manufacturer to be more than 6 cents each and not more than 8 cents each;

Class E. The ordinary retail price of the cigars herein contained is intended by the manufacturer to be more than 8 cents each and not more than 15 cents each;

Class F. The ordinary retail price of the cigars herein contained is intended by the manufacturer to be more than 15 cents each and not more than 20 cents each; or

Class G. The ordinary retail price of the cigars herein contained is intended by the manufacturer to be more than 20 cents each.

Sec. 290.187 Shipping containers.—Each shipping case, crate, or other container in which cigars, cigarettes, or cigarette papers or tubes are to be shipped or removed, under this part, shall bear a distinguishing number, such number to be assigned by the manufacturer or export warehouse proprietor. Removals of cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes from an export warehouse shall be made, insofar as practicable, in the same containers in which they were received from the factory.

Consignment of Shipment

Sec. 290.188 General.—Cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes transferred or removed from a factory or an export warehouse, under this part, without payment of tax, shall be consigned as required by this subpart.

Sec. 290.190 Return of shipment to a manufacturer or customs warehouse proprietor.—Where cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes are returned by an export warehouse proprietor to a manufacturer or where cigars are so returned to a customs warehouse proprietor, such articles shall be consigned to the manufacturer or customs warehouse proprietor to whom the shipment is to be returned.

Sec. 290.192 To vessels and aircraft for shipment to noncontiguous foreign countries and possessions of the United States.—Where cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes are removed from a factory or an export warehouse, for direct delivery to a vessel or aircraft for transportation to a noncontiguous foreign country, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, or a possession of the United States, the manufacturer or export warehouse proprietor shall consign the shipment directly to the vessel or aircraft, or to his agent at the port for delivery to the vessel or aircraft.

Sec. 290.194 To collector of customs for shipment to contiguous foreign countries.—Where cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes are removed from a factory or an export warehouse, for export to a person in a contiguous foreign country, the manufacturer or export warehouse proprietor shall consign the shipment to the collector of customs at the border or other port of exit.

Sec. 290.196 To collector of customs for consumption as supplies on commercial vessels and aircraft.—Where cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes are removed from a factory or an export warehouse for consumption as supplies beyond the jurisdiction of the internal revenue laws of the United States, the manufacturer or export warehouse proprietor shall consign the shipment to the collector of customs at the port at which the shipment is to be laden.

Sec. 290.196a To a foreign-trade zone.—Where cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes are removed from a factory or an export warehouse for delivery to a foreign-trade zone, under zone restricted status for the purpose of exportation or storage, the manufacturer or export warehouse proprietor shall consign the shipment to the Zone Operator in care of the customs officer in charge of the zone.

Notice of Removal of Shipment

Sec. 290.198 Preparation.—For each shipment of cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes transferred or removed from his factory, under bond and this part, the manufacturer shall prepare a notice of removal, Form 2149, and for each shipment of cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes transferred or removed from his export warehouse, under bond and this part, the export warehouse proprietor shall prepare a notice of removal, Form 2150. Each such notice shall be given a serial number by the manufacturer or export warehouse proprietor in a series beginning with number 1, with respect to the first shipment removed from the factory or export warehouse under this part and commencing again with number 1 on January 1 of each year thereafter.

Sec. 290.201 Return to manufacturer or customs warehouse proprietor.—Where cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes are removed from an export warehouse for return to the factory, or cigars are removed from such a warehouse for return to a customs warehouse, the export warehouse proprietor making the shipment shall forward two copies of the notice of removal, Form 2150, to the manufacturer or customs warehouse proprietor to whom the shipment is consigned. Immediately upon receipt of the shipment at his factory or warehouse, the manufacturer or customs warehouse proprietor shall properly execute the certificate of receipt on both copies of the notice of removal, noting thereon any discrepancy, and return one copy to the export warehouse proprietor making the shipment for filing with his assistant regional commissioner. The other copy of the notice of removal shall be retained by the manufacturer or customs warehouse proprietor, as a part of his records, for two years following the close of the calendar year in which the shipment was received and shall be made available for inspection by any internal revenue officer upon his request.

Sec. 290.203 To noncontiguous foreign countries and possessions of the United States.—Where cigars, cigarette papers and tubes are removed from a factory or an export warehouse, for direct delivery to a vessel or aircraft for transportation to a noncontiguous foreign country, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, or a possession of the United States, the manufacturer or export warehouse proprietor making the shipment shall file two copies of the notice of removal, Form 2149 or 2150, with the office of the collector of customs at the port where the shipment is to be laden. Such copies of the notice of removal should be filed with the related shipper's export declaration, Commerce Form 7525-V. In the event the copies of the notice of removal are not filed with the shipper's export declaration, when the copies of the notice of removal are filed with the collector of customs they shall show all particulars necessary to enable the collector to identify the shipment with the related shipper's export declaration and any other documents filed with his office in connection with the shipment. After the vessel or aircraft on which the shipment has been laden clears or departs from his port, the collector of customs shall execute the certificate of exportation on each copy of the notice of removal, retain one copy for his records, and deliver or transmit the other copy to the manufacturer or export warehouse proprietor making the shipment for filing with his assistant regional commissioner.

Sec. 290.205 To contiguous foreign countries.—Where cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes are removed from a factory or an export warehouse, and consigned to a person in a contiguous foreign country, the manufacturer or export warehouse proprietor making the shipment shall furnish to the collector of customs at the border or other port of exit of the shipment from the United States, through which the shipment will be routed, two copies of the notice of removal, Form 2149 or 2150, together with the related shipper's export declaration, Commerce Form 7525-V. In the event the copies of the notice of removal are not filed with the shipper's export declaration or, in the case of a shipment for the armed forces of the United States in the contiguous foreign country, where no shipper's export declaration is required, the copies of the notice of removal when filed with the collector of customs shall show all particulars necessary to enable the collector to identify the shipment with the related shipper's export declaration, if any, and any other documents filed with his office in connection with the shipment. After the shipment has been cleared by customs from the United States, the customs authorities at the port of exit will complete the certificate of exportation on each copy of the Form 2149 or 2150, retain one copy thereof, and transmit the other copy to the manufacturer or export warehouse proprietor making the shipment for filing with his assistant regional commissioner.

Sec. 290.207 To commercial vessels and aircraft for consumption as supplies.—Where cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes are removed from a factory or an export warehouse for delivery to a vessel or aircraft entitled to receive such articles for consumption as supplies beyond the jurisdiction of the internal revenue laws of the United States, the manufacturer or export warehouse proprietor making the shipment shall file two copies of the notice of removal, Form 2149 or 2150, with the collector of customs at the port where the shipment is to be laden in sufficient time to permit delivery of the two copies of the notice of removal to the inspector of customs who will inspect the shipment and supervise its lading. After inspection and lading of the shipment the inspector of customs shall note on the copies of the notice of removal any discrepancy between the shipment inspected and laden under his supervision and that described on the notice of removal or any limitation on the quantity to be laden; complete and sign the certificate of inspection and lading; and return both copies of the notice of removal to the collector of customs. The collector of customs shall execute the certificate of clearance on the copies of the notice of removal, retain one copy for his records, and forward the other copy to the manufacturer or export warehouse proprietor making the shipment for filing with his assistant regional commissioner. Where the vessel or aircraft does not clear from the port at which the shipment is laden, the customs inspector supervising the lading of the shipment shall require the person on board the vessel or aircraft authorized to receive the shipment to execute the certificate of receipt on both copies of the notice of removal to indicate the trade or activity in which the vessel or aircraft is engated.

Sec. 290.207a To a foreign-trade zone.—Where cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes are removed from a factory or an export warehouse for delivery to a foreign-trade zone, under zone restricted status for the purpose of exportation or storage, the manufacturer or export warehouse proprietor making the shipment shall forward two copies of the notice of removal, Form 2149 or 2150, to the customs officer in charge of the zone. Upon receipt of the shipment, the customs officer shall execute the certificate of receipt on each copy of the form, noting thereon any discrepancy, retain one copy for his records, and forward the other copy to the manufacturer or export warehouse proprietor making the shipment for filing with his assistant regional commissioner.

Sec. 290.211 Shipments to foreign-trade zones.—A manufacturer or export warehouse proprietor may remove tobacco products and cigarette papers and tubes, under his bond, without payment of tax, for shipment to a foreign-trade zone, in accordance with the applicable provisions of Part 253 of this subchapter.

Sec. 290.212 Delay in lading at port of exportation.—If, on arrival of cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes at the port of exportation, the vessel or aircraft for which they are intended is not prepared to receive the articles, they may be properly stored at the port for not more than 30 days. In the event of any further delay, the facts shall be reported by the manufacturer or export warehouse proprietor to his assistant regional commissioner and unless he approves an extension of time in which to effect lading and clearance of the shipment it must be returned to the factory or export warehouse.

Subpart K—Drawback of Tax

Sec. 290.221 Application of drawback of tax.—Allowance of drawback of tax shall apply only to cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes, on which tax has been paid, when such articles are shipped to a foreign country, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, or a possession of the United States. Such drawback shall be allowed only to the person who paid the tax on such articles and who files claim and otherwise complies with the provisions of this subpart.

Sec. 290.225 Delivery of cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes for export other than by parcel post.—The claimant, upon release of the cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes by the internal revenue officer for exportation with benefit of drawback of tax, under this subpart, shall be responsible for delivery of such articles to the port of exportation for customs inspection, supervision of lading, and clearance of the articles. The claimant, or his agent at said port, shall file with the collector of customs at the port of exportation in sufficient time, prior to lading, to permit his inspection and supervision of lading of the cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes, the two copies of the Form 2147 returned to the claimant by the internal revenue officer, in accordance with Sec. 290.224.

Sec. 290.227 Customs procedure.—The inspector of customs shall satisfy himself that the cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes described on the Form 2147 and those inspected by him are the same, and shall note on the form any discrepancy. After having inspected the articles and supervised the lading thereof on the export carrier, the inspector shall complete and sign the certificate of inspection and lading on each copy of the Form 2147, and then deliver or transmit such copies of the form to the office of his collector of customs for further processing. After clearance from the port of the export carrier on which the articles are laden, the collector of customs shall execute the certificate of exportation on both copies of Form 2147. The collector shall retain one copy of the form for his record and transmit the other copy to the assistant regional commissioner of the region from which the articles were shipped.

Subpart L—Withdrawal of Cigars from Customs Warehouses

Sec. 290.241 Shipment restricted.—Cigars produced in a customs warehouse in accordance with customs laws and regulations may be withdrawn under this subpart, without payment of tax, for export or for delivery for subsequent exportation. Duties paid on the tobacco used in the manufacture of such cigars may not be recovered on the exportation of the cigars under this subpart.

Sec. 290.248 Packages.—Cigars shall, before withdrawal under this part, be put up by the customs warehouse proprietor in packages which shall bear the label or notice, class designation, and mark, as required by this subpart.

Sec. 290.249 Lottery features.—No certificate, coupon, or other device purporting to be or to represent a ticket, chance, share, or an interest in, or dependent on, the event of a lottery shall be contained in, attached to, or stamped, marked, written, or printed on any package of cigars withdrawn under this subpart.

Sec. 290.250 Indecent or immoral material.—No indecent or immoral picture, print, or representation shall be contained in, attached to, or stamped, marked, written, or printed on any package of cigars withdrawn under this subpart.

Sec. 290.251 Mark.—Every package of cigars shall, before withdrawal from the customs warehouse under this subpart, have adequately imprinted thereon, or on a label securely affixed thereto, the name and location of the manufacturer. There shall also be adequately stated on each such package the number of cigars contained in the package.

Sec. 290.252 Label or notice.—Every package of cigars shall, before withdrawal from the customs warehouse under this subpart, have adequately imprinted thereon, or on a label securely affixed thereto, the words "Tax-exempt. For use outside U.S." or the words "U.S. Tax-exempt. For use outside U.S.", except where a stamp, sticker, or notice, required by a foreign country or a possession of the United States, which identifies such country or possession, is so imprinted or affixed.

Sec. 290.253 Class designation for large cigars.—Every package of large cigars shall, before withdrawal from the customs warehouse under this subpart, have adequately imprinted thereon, or on a label securely affixed thereto, a class designation corresponding with the rate of tax under section 5701(a)(2), I.R.C., applicable to similar cigars withdrawn for taxable purposes. The appropriate class designation shall be stated in the following manner:

Class A. The ordinary retail price of the cigars herein contained is intended by the manufacturer to be not more than 2-1/2 cents each;

Class B. The ordinary retail price of the cigars herein contained is intended by the manufacturer to be more than 2-1/2 cents each and not more than 4 cents each;

Class C. The ordinary retail price of the cigars herein contained is intended by the manufacturer to be more than 4 cents each and not more than 6 cents each;

Class D. The ordinary retail price of the cigars herein contained is intended by the manufacturer to be more than 6 cents each and not more than 8 cents each;

Class E. The ordinary retail price of the cigars herein contained is intended by the manufacturer to be more than 8 cents each and not more than 15 cents each;

Class F. The ordinary retail price of the cigars herein contained is intended by the manufacturer to be more than 15 cents each and not more than 20 cents each; or

Class G. The ordinary retail price of the cigars herein contained is intended by the manufacturer to be more than 20 cents each.

Sec. 290.254 Shipping containers.—Each shipping case, crate, or other container, in which cigars are to be withdrawn, under this subpart, shall bear a distinguishing number, such number to be assigned by the customs warehouse proprietor.

Consignment of Shipment

Sec. 290.255 Consignment of cigars.—Cigars withdrawn from a customs warehouse, without payment of tax, under internal revenue bond and this part, shall be consigned in the same manner as provided by Subpart J of this part with respect to the removal of cigars, cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes from a factory or an export warehouse.

Sec. 290.259 To noncontiguous foreign countries and possessions of the United States.—Where cigars are withdrawn from a customs warehouse for direct delivery to a vessel or aircraft for transportation to a noncontiguous foreign country, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, or a possession of the United States, the customs warehouse proprietor making the withdrawal shall file two copies of the notice of removal, Form 2149, with the office of the collector of customs at the port where the shipment is to be laden. Such copies of the notice of removal should be filed with the related shipper's export declaration, Commerce Form 7525-V. In the event the copies of the notice of removal are not filed with the shipper's export declaration, when the copies of the notice of removal are filed with the collector of customs they shall show all particulars necessary to enable the collector to identify the shipment with the related shipper's export declaration and any other documents filed with his office in connection with the shipment. After the vessel or aircraft on which the shipment has been laden clears or departs from his port, the collector of customs shall execute the certificate of exportation on each copy of the notice of removal, retain one copy for his records, and deliver or transmit the other copy to the customs warehouse proprietor making the shipment for filing with the appropriate assistant regional commissioner.

Sec. 290.261 To contiguous foreign countries.—Where cigars are withdrawn from a customs warehouse and consigned to a person in a contiguous foreign country, the customs warehouse proprietor making the shipment shall furnish to the collector of customs at the border or other port of exit of the shipment from the United States, through which the shipment will be routed, two copies of the notice of removal, Form 2149, together with the related shipper's export declaration, Commerce Form 7525-V. In the event the copies of the notice of removal are not filed with the shipper's export declaration or, in the case of a shipment for the armed forces of the United States in the contiguous foreign country, where no shipper's export declaration is required, the copies of the notice of removal when filed with the collector of customs shall show all particulars necessary to enable the collector to identify the shipment with the related shipper's export declaration, if any, and any other documents filed with his office in connection with the shipment. After the shipment has been cleared by customs from the United States, the customs authorities at the port of exit will complete the certificate of exportation on each copy of the Form 2149, retain one copy thereof, and transmit the other copy to the customs warehouse proprietor making the shipment for filing with the appropriate assistant regional commissioner.

Sec. 290.263 To commercial vessels and aircraft for consumption as supplies.—Where cigars are withdrawn from a customs warehouse for delivery to a vessel or aircraft entitled to receive such articles for consumption as supplies beyond the jurisdiction of the internal revenue laws of the United States, the customs warehouse proprietor making the shipment shall file two copies of the notice of removal, Form 2149, with the collector of customs at the port where the shipment is to be laden in sufficient time to permit delivery of the two copies of the notice of removal to the inspector of customs who will inspect the shipment and supervise its lading. After inspection and lading of the shipment the inspector of customs shall note on the copies of the notice of removal any discrepancy between the shipment inspected and laden under his supervision and that described on the notice of removal or any limitation on the quantity to be laden; complete and sign the certificate of inspection and lading; and return both copies of the notice of removal to the collector of customs. The collector of customs shall execute the certificate of clearance on the copies of the notice of removal, retain one copy for his records, and forward the other copy to the customs warehouse proprietor making the shipment for filing with the appropriate assistant regional commissioner. Where the vessel or aircraft does not clear from the port at which the shipment is laden, the customs inspector supervising the lading of the shipment shall require the person on board the vessel or aircraft authorized to receive the shipment to execute the certificate of receipt on both copies of the notice of removal to indicate the trade or activity in which the vessel or aircraft is engaged.

Return of Shipment

Sec. 290.266 Return of cigars from internal revenue export warehouses.—Where cigars are returned to a customs warehouse from an internal revenue export warehouse, the officer in charge of the customs warehouse shall execute the certificate of receipt on each of the copies of the related Form 2150 received from the export warehouse proprietor, after checking the containers to determine whether all the cigars described on the notice have been received. Thereafter, both copies of the Form 2150 shall be turned over to the proprietor of the customs warehouse who shall return one copy to the export warehouse proprietor for disposition as provided in Sec. 290.201. The customs warehouse proprietor shall retain the other copy of the notice of removal, as a part of his records, for two years following the close of the calendar year in which the shipment was received. Such copy shall be made available for inspection by any internal revenue officer upon his request.

Sec. 290.267 Return of cigars from other sources.—A customs warehouse proprietor may return to his warehouse cigars previously withdrawn therefrom, under this subpart, provided he promptly files with the appropriate assistant regional commissioner a copy of the Form 2149 under which the cigars were originally withdrawn, with the certificate of receipt properly modified and executed by the customs officer in charge of the warehouse to show return of the shipment. If less than the entire shipment is returned to the warehouse, the form shall state what disposition was made of the remainder of the original shipment and any other facts pertinent to such shipment. The customs warehouse proprietor shall retain a copy of such form as a part of his records for two years after the close of the calendar year in which the shipment was returned. Such copy shall be made available for inspection by any internal revenue officer upon request.

IX. ARMS, AMMUNITION, AND IMPLEMENTS OF WAR, INCLUDING TECHNICAL DATA RELATING THERETO

See regulations of the Secretary of State governing the importation and exportation of arms, ammunition, and implements of war, including technical data relating thereto (International Traffic in Arms Regulations); Code of Federal Regulations, title 22, Parts 121-128.

X. IMPORTATION AND EXPORTATION OF ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES AND CONTAINERS OF DISTILLED SPIRITS

EXCERPTS FROM THE REGULATIONS IN 26 CFR PART 175, "TRAFFIC IN CONTAINERS OF DISTILLED SPIRITS."

Subpart B—Definitions

Sec. 175.11 Container.—"Container" shall mean a vessel of a capacity of not more than 5 wine gallons designed or intended for use for the sale of distilled spirits for other than industrial use.

Sec. 175.13 Distilled spirits or spirits.—That substance known as ethyl alcohol, ethanol, or spirits of wine, including all dilutions and mixtures thereof, from whatever source or by whatever process produced, and shall include whisky, brandy, rum, gin, and vodka, and products of rectification not classified as wine.

Sec. 175.14 Importer.—"Importer" shall mean any person authorized to import distilled spirits into the United States.

Sec. 175.16 Kind.—"Kind" shall have the respective meanings given to such term by the "Standards of identity for distilled spirits," set forth in 27 CFR Part 5, and shall be stated in the manner provided in said part.

Sec. 175.17 Liquor bottle.—"Liquor bottle" shall mean a container (as defined by sec. 175.11) made of glass, or earthenware, or other suitable material approved by the Director, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division.

Subpart G—Imports and Exports

Importation of Empty Liquor Bottles

Sec. 175.85 General.—Distilled spirits packaged for sale in imported containers (as defined by sec. 175.11) shall be packaged only in liquor bottles which conform to the requirements of this part, and which conform to the standards of fill provided in Subpart H of 27 CFR Part 5 (with due regard for the exceptions provided in sec. 5.74 of that subpart).

Sec. 175.86 Permit required.—Empty liquor bottles may be imported into the United States only pursuant to a permit issued in accordance with the provisions of secs. 175.87, 175.89, and 175.90: Provided, That, where a permit has been issued covering the importation of liquor bottles through one port of entry, an additional permit for importation of such liquor bottles through another port will not be required if the importer furnishes photographic copies of the original permit to the collector of customs of each such other port and to the assistant regional commissioner (if the permit was not originally issued by him) of the region in which such other port is located.

Sec. 175.87 Indicia for empty liquor bottles.—Upon application (Form 98) by any importer or bottler, the assistant regional commissioner of the region in which the applicant is situated may, by the issuance of an appropriate permit, authorize the importation, for the packaging of either domestic or imported distilled spirits, of empty liquor bottles. The assistant regional commissioner issuing the permit will furnish a copy to the assistant regional commissioner of the region in which the port of entry is situated. There shall be legibly blown, etched, sand-blasted, marked by underglaze coloring, or otherwise permanently marked by any method approved by the Director, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division, either in the bottom or in the body of each such bottle imported under this provision, the name, and the name of the city or country of address, of the manufacturer, and the permit symbol and number of the bottler: Provided, That liquor bottles which are authorized by the Director, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division, under secs. 175.89 and 175.90 may be imported, as excepted from the markings required by this section.

Sec. 175.89 Empty distinctive liquor bottles (costly).—Upon application (Form 98) by any importers or bottler, the assistant regional commissioner of the region in which the applicant is situated may, by the issuance of an appropriate permit, authorize the importation by such applicant of empty liquor bottles (for the packaging of any distilled spirits), not marked as required by sec. 175.87, which, because of their unique design and cost to the applicant are found by the Director, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division, not to afford a jeopardy to the revenue.

Sec. 175.90 Empty distinctive liquor bottles for liqueurs and cordials.—Upon application (Form 98) by any importer or bottler, the assistant regional commissioner of the region in which the applicant is situated may, by the issuance of an appropriate permit, authorize the importation by such applicant of empty liquor bottles which are found by the Director, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division, to be of distinctive shape or design for the packaging of liqueurs, cordials, bitters, cocktails, gin fizzes, and such other specialties as may be specified from time to time by the Director, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division, not marked as required by sec. 175.87.

Importation of Filled Liquor Bottles

Sec. 175.92 General.—Distilled spirits imported into the United States for sale in containers (as defined by sec. 175.11) shall be imported only in liquor bottles which conform to the requirements of this part and to the provisions relating to the size and filling of bottles of 27 CFR Part 5.

Sec. 175.93 Permit required.—Liquor bottles containing distilled spirits, other than bottles conforming to the provisions of sec. 175.94, may be imported into the United States only pursuant to a permit issued in accordance with the provisions of secs. 175.96 to 175.98 and sec. 175.100: Provided, That, where a permit has been issued covering the importation of filled liquor bottles through one port of entry, an additional permit for importation of such liquor bottles through another port will not be required if the importer furnishes photographic copies of the original permit to the collector of customs at each such other port and to the assistant regional commissioner (if the permit was not originally issued by him) of the region in which such other port is located.

Sec. 175.94 Indicia.—There shall be legibly blown, etched, sand-blasted, marked by underglaze coloring, or otherwise permanently marked by any method approved by the Director, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division, either in the bottom or in the body of all liquor bottles containing distilled spirits imported from foreign countries the name, and the name of the city or country of address, of the manufacturer of the spirits, or of the exporter abroad, or the name, and the name of the city of address, of the importer in the United States, except as provided in secs. 175.96 to 175.98 and sec. 175.100.

Sec. 175.96 Distinctive liquor bottles (costly).—Upon application (Form 98) the assistant regional commissioner of the region in which the port of entry is situated may issue a permit authorizing the importation of any distilled spirits in liquor bottles not marked as required by sec. 175.94 which, because of their unique or distinctive shape or design and cost to the importer, are found by the Director, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division, not to afford a jeopardy to the revenue.

Sec. 175.97 Distinctive liquor bottles for liqueurs and cordials.—Upon application (Form 98) the assistant regional commissioner of the region in which the port of entry is situated may issue a permit authorizing the importation of liqueurs, cordials, bitters, cocktails, gin fizzes, and such other specialties as may be specified from time to time by the Director, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division, in bottles which are found by the Director, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division, to be of distinctive shape or design, not marked as required by sec. 175.94.

Sec. 175.98 Vintage spirits.—Upon application (Form 98), the assistant regional commissioner of the region in which the port of entry is situated may issue a permit authorizing the importation, in bottles not marked as provided by sec. 175.94 of vintage spirits, if accompanied by authenticated certificates of origin establishing such spirits to be as defined in sec. 175.22.

Sec. 175.99 Approval of distinctive liquor bottles.—Approval of distinctive liquor bottles shall be procured in accordance with the procedure prescribed by sec. 175.59.

Sec. 175.100 Liquor bottles denied entry.—Liquor bottles, whether filled or empty, imported in violation of the provisions of this subpart shall be denied entry into the United States: Provided, That upon application (Form 98) the assistant regional commissioner of the region in which the port of entry is situated may, in nonrecurring cases, authorize the release from customs custody of distilled spirits in liquor bottles which, through unintentional error, are not marked completely in accordance with the provisions of this part, if the Director, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division, finds that such release will not afford a jeopardy to the revenue.

Exports

Sec. 175.101 Exports.—Containers in which distilled spirits are to be exported shall not be subject to the indicia requirements of this part and the procurement and use of containers other than liquor bottles for this purpose may be authorized under permit upon application (Form 98) to the assistant regional commissioner of the region in which the bottler is located. The manufacture and exportation of empty liquor bottles for bottling distilled spirits abroad for importation into the United States may be authorized under permit upon application (Form 98) to the assistant regional commissioner of the region in which the bottles are to be manufactured; similarly the exportation of used liquor bottles for reuse by the original bottler abroad for packaging distilled spirits for importation into the United States may be authorized under permit issued by the assistant regional commissioner of the region in which such used bottles are stored, pursuant to an application (Form 98) filed by the importer. The exportation of empty liquor bottles for use abroad may be authorized under permit upon application (Form 98) to the assistant regional commissioner of the region from which the bottles will be exported.

Sec. 175.102 Language of indicia.—Wherever in this part the name of any city or country is required to be legibly marked in any bottle, the name may be either in the language of such country or in English.

Section 5205, Internal Revenue Code, 1954 (72 Stat. 1358; 26 U.S.C. 5205).

Section 5205. Stamps.

(a)(2) CONTAINERS OF OTHER DISTILLED SPIRITS.—No person shall transport, possess, buy, sell, or transfer any distilled spirits, unless the immediate container thereof is stamped by a stamp evidencing the determination of the tax or indicating compliance with the provisions of this chapter. The provisions of this paragraph shall not apply to—

(A) distilled spirits, lawfully withdrawn from bond, placed in containers for immediate consumption on the premises or for preparation for such consumption;

(B) distilled spirits in bond or in customs custody;

(C) distilled spirits, lawfully withdrawn from bond, in immediate containers stamped under other provisions of internal revenue or customs law or regulations issued pursuant thereto;

(D) distilled spirits, lawfully withdrawn from bond, in actual process of rectification, blending, or bottling, or in actual use in processes of manufacture;

(E) distilled spirits on which no internal revenue tax is required to be paid;

(F) distilled spirits lawfully withdrawn from bond and not intended for sale or for use in the manufacture or production of any article intended for sale; or

(G) any regularly established common carrier receiving, transporting, delivering, or holding for transportation or delivery distilled spirits in the ordinary course of its business as a common carrier.

* * * * * * *

(f) ACCOUNTABILITY.—All stamps relating to distilled spirits shall be used and accounted for under such regulations as the Secretary or his delegate may prescribe.

TITLE 27—ALCOHOL, TOBACCO PRODUCTS AND FIREARMS

CHAPTER I—BUREAU OF ALCOHOL, TOBACCO AND FIREARMS, DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY

Subchapter M—Alcohol, Tobacco and Other Excise Taxes

[T.D. ATF-56]

PART 170—MISCELLANEOUS REGULATIONS RELATING TO LIQUOR

Disaster Claims

AGENCY: Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms.

ACTION: Final rule; Treasury decision.

SUMMARY: This rule amends Subpart 0 of 27 CFR Part 170 (Miscellaneous Regulations Relating to Liquor) to implement Public Law 95-423, signed October 6, 1978. Pub. L. 95-423 extends the provisions in 26 U.S.C. 5064 for refund of internal revenue tax and customs duties on distilled spirits, wines, rectified products, and beer to include losses due to (1) fire, flood, casualty, or other disaster, or (2) damage (excluding theft) from vandalism or malicious mischief. Previously, claims for refund were limited to products damaged only as the result of a Presidentially declared major disaster.

EFFECTIVE DATE: February 1, 1979.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Dorene F. Erhard, Research and Regulations Branch, Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms, Washington, D.C. 20226 (202-566-7626).

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Public Law 95-423, dated October 6, 1978 and effective February 1, 1979, amends 26 U.S.C. 5064 to provide for refund of internal revenue taxes earlier paid or determined and customs duties paid on distilled spirits, wines, rectified products, and beer which are lost, made unmarketable, or condemned due to—

(1) Fire, flood, casualty, or other disaster; or

(2) Breakage, destruction, or other damage (but not theft) resulting from vandalism or malicious mischief.

Background

The excise taxes and customs duties on distilled spirits, wines, rectified products, and beer are paid or determined before these products enter marketing channels. Prepaid excise taxes constitute a high proportion of the cost of alcoholic beverages as compared with excise taxes on other products. Thus, if alcoholic products held for sale are destroyed after taxes and duties have been paid, a large portion of the loss will be attributable to prepaid taxes which cannot be passed on to consumers.

Previously, 26 U.S.C. 5064 allowed refund of these taxes and duties earlier paid only if the loss was the result of a Presidentially declared major disaster. Congress felt that certain other circumstances, although not considered "major disasters", could result in substantial losses of alcoholic products and concluded that these losses should be treated in the same manner as losses caused by Presidentially declared major disasters. Thus, Public Law 95-423 extends the law to also allow refund of taxes and duties on alcoholic products that are lost or ruined as the result of other types of disasters or as the result of damage or destruction (except theft) from vandalism or malicious mischief.

$250 Minimum Claim

Before the change in the law, no minimum amount was prescribed for a claim for refund of taxes, or taxes and duties, allowable under the Presidentially declared major disaster provision. Public Law 95-423 makes no change on this point and claims arising from "major disasters" are not affected.

However, the new law does impose a minimum amount of $250 on a claim resulting from a disaster or damage other than a major disaster declared by the President. The $250 minimum applies to each single disaster or damage event. In other words, the taxes or duties lost from a series of events cannot be totaled or averaged. Furthermore, any loss other than the amount for taxes and duties cannot be attributed to the $250 minimum, even if that loss is the result of the same event.

Additional Provisions of Law

In order for a claim to be allowable under 26 U.S.C. 5064, the disaster or damage must have occurred in the United States and the distilled spirits, wines, rectified products, or beer must have been damaged while being held for sale at the wholesale or retail level. Refund is not available for losses of taxes or duties which were indemnified by insurance or otherwise. The law also disallows refund on Puerto Rican products brought into the United States.

Claims for refund under this law must be filed within 6 months after the date of the loss, except that in the case of claims filed under the Presidentially declared major disaster provision, the claim period is not to expire before the day which is 6 months after the date on which the President determined the disaster occurred. Thus, in some cases, a longer claim period is provided than was available under the previous law.

Other Changes to the Regulations

In addition to implementing the new law, several miscellaneous amendments are being made to Subpart O of Part 170.

(1) Three public use forms (a) Form 2606, Inventory of Spirits Lost by Disaster, (b) Form 2606A, Inventory of Wine Lost by Disaster, and (c) Form 2606B, Inventory of Beer Lost by Disaster, are being eliminated. The purpose of these forms is to support disaster claims for taxes and duties on alcoholic products that were lost, became unmerchantable, or were condemned by an authorized official.

In most cases, claimants are required to submit the same documentation to state and local governments for refund of excise taxes. This documentation is prepared in the form of commercial records and may not be kept in the same format as the inventory forms required by ATF. Since commercial records are sufficient for Bureau auditing purposes, as long as certain minimum information is recorded, we are eliminating the burden of duplicate reporting on ATF forms and simply allowing commercial records to be submitted in support of disaster claims.

(2) A number of title and definition changes are made to reflect reorganization changes that have affected the Bureau over the past several years and to update statutory citations and references to other agencies.

(3) This Treasury decision also clarifies and simplifies the regulatory language in Subpart O, in keeping with our aim of writing improved regulations for easy public understanding.

Drafting Information

The principal author of this regulation is Dorene F. Erhard, Research and Regulations Branch, Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms. However, personnel from other offices in the Bureau and from the Treasury Department participated in developing the regulation in matters of substance and style.

Authority and Issuance

Since this Treasury decision is liberalizing in nature and implements Public Law 95-423, effective February 1, 1979, it is found unnecessary and contrary to public interest to issue this regulation according to public rulemaking and effective date requirements in 5 U.S.C. 553(b) and (d).

This Treasury decision is issued under the authority contained in 26 U.S.C. 7805 (68A Stat. 917).

Specific Changes to the Regulations

In consideration of the foregoing, we are amending Subpart O of 27 CFR Part 170 to read as follows:

Subpart O—Losses Resulting from Disaster, Vandalism, or Malicious Mischief

AUTHORITY: The provisions of this Subpart O contained in Sec. 201, Pub. L. 85-859, 72 Stat. 1337, as amended by Pub. L. 95-423, 92 Stat. 935; 26 U.S.C. 5064, unless otherwise noted.

General

§ 170.301 Scope of subpart.

(a) This subpart implements 26 U.S.C. 5064, which permits payments to be made by the United States for amounts equal to the internal revenue taxes paid or determined and customs duties paid on distilled spirits, wines, rectified products, and beer, previously withdrawn, that were lost, made unmarketable, or condemned by a duly authorized official as the result of disaster, vandalism, or malicious mischief.

(b) This subpart applies to disasters or other specified causes of loss, occurring on or after February 1, 1979.

(c) This subpart does not apply to distilled spirits, wines, rectified products, and beer manufactured in Puerto Rico and brought into the United States.

§ 170.302 Forms prescribed.

The Director is authorized to prescribe all forms required by this part, including applications, claims, records, and reports. Information called for shall be furnished in accordance with the instructions on the forms.

Definitions

§ 170.303 Meaning of terms.

When used in this subpart, terms are defined as follows in this section. Words in the plural shall include the singular, and vice versa, and words indicating the masculine gender shall include the feminine. The terms "includes" and "including" do not exclude other things not named which are in the same general class or are otherwise within the scope of the term defined.

Alcoholic liquors, or liquors. Distilled spirits, wines, rectified products, and beer, lost, made unmarketable, or condemned, as provided in this subpart.

Beer. Beer, ale, porter, stout, and other similar fermented beverages (including sake or other similar products) of any name or description containing one-half of 1 percent or more of alcohol by volume on which the internal revenue tax has been paid or determined, and, if imported, on which duties have been paid.

Claimant. The person who held the liquors for sale at the time of the disaster or other specified cause of loss and who files a claim under this subpart.

Commissioner of Customs. The Commissioner of Customs, U.S. Customs Service, the Department of the Treasury, Washington, D.C.

Director. The Director, Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms, the Department of the Treasury, Washington, D.C.

Distilled spirits, or spirits. Ethyl alcohol and other distillates, such as whisky, brandy, rum, gin, and vodka, on which the internal revenue tax has been paid or determined, and, if imported, on which duties have been paid.

Duly authorized official. Any Federal, State, or local government official who is authorized to condemn liquors on which a claim is filed under this subpart.

Duty or duties. Any duty or duties paid under the customs laws of the United States.

Major disaster. A flood, fire, hurricane, earthquake, storm, or other catastrophe defined as a "major disaster" under the Disaster Relief Act (42 U.S.C. 5122(2)), which occurs in any part of the United States and which the President has determined causes sufficient damage to warrant "major disaster" assistance under that Act.

Rectified products. Liquors manufactured by rectifying, purifying, refining, mixing, or blending distilled spirits or wines and on which tax has been paid or determined, and, if imported, on which duty has been paid.

Region. A Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms region.

Regional regulatory administrator. The principal ATF regional official responsible for administering regulations in this part.

Tax. (a) With respect to unrectified distilled spirits, "tax" means the internal revenue distilled spirits tax that is paid or determined on the spirits.

(b) With respect to wines, "tax" means the internal revenue wine tax that is paid or determined on the wine.

(c) With respect to rectified products, "tax" means the internal revenue distilled spirits tax, the rectified tax (if any), the cordial tax (if any), and the wine tax (if any), that is paid or determined on the products.

(d) With respect to beer, "tax" means the internal revenue beer tax that is paid or determined on the beer.

United States. When used in a geographical sense includes only the States and the District of Columbia.

Wines. All still wines, effervescent wines, and flavored wines, on which internal revenue wine tax has been paid or determined, and, if imported, on which duty has been paid.

Payments

§ 170.304 Circumstances under which payment may be made.

(a) Major disasters. Regional regulatory administrators shall allow payment (without interest) of an amount equal to the tax paid or determined, and the Commissioner of Customs shall allow payment (without interest) of an amount equal to the duty paid, on distilled spirits, wines, rectified products, and beer previously withdrawn, if the liquors are lost, made unmarketable, or condemned by a duly authorized official as the result of a major disaster (as defined in § 170.303).

(b) Other causes of loss.

(1) Payment. Regional regulatory administrators shall allow payment (without interest) of an amount equal to the tax paid or determined, and the Commissioner of Customs shall allow payment (without interest) of an amount equal to the duty paid, on distilled spirits, wines, rectified products, and beer previously withdrawn, if the liquors are lost, made unmarketable, or condemned by a duly authorized official as the result of (i) fire, flood, casualty, or other disaster, or (ii) breakage, destruction, or other damage (excluding theft) resulting from vandalism or malicious mischief.

(2) Minimum claim. No claim of less than $250 will be allowed for losses resulting from any disaster or damage described in paragraph (b)(1) of this section.

(c) General. Payment under this section may be made only if—

(1) The disaster or other specified cause of loss occurred in the United States;

(2) At the time of the disaster or other specified cause of loss, the liquors were being held for sale by the claimant;

(3) Refund or credit of the amount claimed, or any part of the amount claimed, has not or will not be claimed for the same liquors under any other law or regulations; and

(4) The claimant was not indemnified by any valid claim of insurance or otherwise for the tax, or tax and duty, on the liquors covered by the claim.

Claims Procedures

§ 170.305 Execution and filing of claim.

(a) General. (1) Claims under this subpart shall be filed on IRS Form 843, in original only, with the regional regulatory administrator of the region in which the liquors were lost, became unmarketable, or were condemned.

(2) The claim shall include all the facts on which the claim is based, and be accompanied by a record of inventory of the liquors lost, made unmarketable, or condemned. (See § 170.305a.)

(3) The claim shall contain a statement that no other claim for refund or credit of the amount claimed, or for any part of the amount claimed, has been or will be filed under any other law or regulations.

(b) Major disasters. Claims for refund of tax, or tax and duty, on liquors which were lost, became unmarketable, or were condemned as the result of a major disaster must be filed not later than 6 months from the day on which the President determines that a major disaster has occurred.

(c) Other causes of loss. Claims for amounts of $250 or more for refund of tax, or tax and duty, on liquors which were lost, became unmarketable, or were condemned as the result of (1) fire, flood, casualty, or other disaster, or (2) damage (excluding theft) resulting from vandalism or malicious mischief, must be filed within 6 months after the date on which the disaster or damage occurred. Claims for amounts less than $250 will not be allowed.

§ 170.305a Record of inventory to support claims.

(a) Claims relating to distilled spirits. The record of inventory of distilled spirits lost, made unmarketable, or condemned, which is required to support claims filed under § 170.305, shall show the following information:

(1) Name and business address of claimant (as shown on claim, IRS Form 843).

(2) Address where the spirits were lost, became unmarketable, or were condemned, if different from the business address.

(3) Kind of spirits.

(4) Brand name.

(5) For full cases, show—
  (i) Number of cases;
  (ii) Serial numbers;
  (iii) Bottles per case;
  (iv) Size of bottles;
  (v) Wine gallons per case;
  (vi) Proof; and
  (vii) Proof gallons.

(6) For bottles not in cases, show—
  (i) Total number;
  (ii) Size of bottles;
  (iii) Wine gallons;
  (iv) Proof; and
  (v) Total proof gallons.

(7) Total proof gallons for all items.

(b) Claims relating to wines. The record of inventory of wines lost, made unmarketable, or condemned, which is required to support claims filed under § 170.305, shall show the following information:

(1) Name and business address of claimant (as shown on claim, IRS Form 843).

(2) Address where the wines were lost, became unmarketable, or were condemned, if different from the business address.

(3) Kind of wine.

(4) Percent of alcohol by volume.

(5) Number of barrels or kegs.

(6) Kind and number of other bulk containers.

(7) Number of full cases and bottles per case.

(8) Size of bottles.

(9) Number of bottles not in cases and wine gallons.

(10) Total wine gallons.

(c) Claims relating to beer. The record of inventory of beer lost, made unmarketable, or condemned, which is required to support claims filed under § 170.305, shall show the following information:

(1) Name and business address of claimant (as shown on claim, IRS Form 843).

(2) Address where the beer was lost, became unmarketable, or was condemned, if different from the business address.

(3) Number and size of barrels.

(4) For full cases, show—

(i) Number of cases

(ii) Bottles or cans per case; and

(iii) Size (in ounces) of bottles or cans.

(5) Number and size of bottles and cans not in cases.

(6) Quantity in terms of 31-gallon barrels.

(7) Total quantity.

(1) Inventories of domestic liquors, imported liquors, and liquors manufactured in the Virgin Islands shall be reported separately.

(2) Liquors manufactured in Puerto Rico may not be included in claims filed under this subpart. Claims for losses of Puerto Rican liquors shall be filed with the Secretary of the Treasury of Puerto Rico under the laws of Puerto Rico.

§ 170.306 Claims relating to imported, domestic, and Virgin Islands liquors.

(a) Claims involving taxes on domestic liquors, imported liquors, and liquors manufactured in the Virgin Islands must show the quantities of each separately in the claim.

(b) A separate claim on IRS Form 843 must be filed for customs duties.

§ 170.307 Claimant to furnish proof.

The claimant shall furnish proof to the satisfaction of the regional regulatory administrator regarding the following:

(a) That the tax on the liquors, or the tax and duty if imported, was fully paid; or the tax, if not paid, was fully determined.

(b) That the liquors were lost, made unmarketable, or condemned by a duly authorized official, by reason of damage sustained as a result of a disaster or other cause of loss specified in this subpart.

(c) The type and date of occurrence of the disaster or other specified cause of loss, and the location of the liquors at that time.

(d) That the claimant was not indemnified by a valid claim of insurance or otherwise for the tax, or tax and duty, on the liquors covered by the claim.

(e) That the claimant is entitled to payment under this subpart.

§ 170.308 Supporting evidence.

(a) The claimant shall support his claim with any evidence (such as inventories, statements, invoices, bills, records, labels, formulas, stamps) that he is able to submit, relating to the quantities and identities of the liquors, on which duty has been paid or tax has been paid or determined, that were on-hand at the time of the disaster or other specified cause of loss and alleged to have been lost, made unmarketable, or condemned as a result of it.

(b) If the claim is for refund of duty, the claimant shall furnish, if possible—

(1) The customs number;

(2) The date of entry; and

(3) The name of the port of entry.

§ 170.309 Action on claims.

The regional regulatory administrator shall date stamp and examine each claim filed under this subpart and will determine the validity of the claim. Claims and supporting data involving customs duties will be forwarded to the Commissioner of Customs with a summary statement by the regional regulatory administrator regarding his findings.

Destruction of Liquors

§ 170.310 Supervision.

When allowance has been made under this subpart for the tax, or tax and duty, on liquors condemned by a duly authorized official or made unmarketable, the liquors shall be destroyed by payments made under this subpart the same as if the payments were actual refunds of internal taxes on liquors.

EXCERPTS FROM THE REGULATIONS IN 26 CFR PART 250, "LIQUORS AND ARTICLES FROM PUERTO RICO AND THE VIRGIN ISLANDS"

Subpart B—Definitions

Sec. 250.11 Meaning of terms.—When used in this part and in forms prescribed under this part, where not otherwise distinctly expressed or manifestly incompatible with the intent thereof, terms shall have the meaning ascribed in this section. Words in the plural form shall include the singular, and vice versa, and words importing the masculine gender shall include the feminine. The terms "includes" and "including" do not exclude things not enumerated which are in the same general class.

Article. Any preparation unfit for beverage use, made with or containing:

(1) Wine or beer;

(2) Distilled spirits or industrial spirits; or

(3) Denatured spirits when such preparation is not manufactured under the provisions of this subchapter.

Industrial spirits. As to products of Puerto Rico, distilled spirits produced and warehoused at and withdrawn from distilled spirits plants established and operated under the provisions of this subchapter relating to the establishment of such plants and the production, bonded warehousing, and withdrawal from bond of distilled spirits in the United States, or as to products of the Virgin Islands, distilled spirits produced, warehoused, and withdrawn under Virgin Islands regulations.

I.R.C. The Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended.

Liquors. Industrial spirits, distilled spirits, liqueurs, cordials and similar compounds, wines, and beer or any alcoholic preparation fit for beverage use.

Subpart C—Products Coming into the United States from Puerto Rico

Sec. 250.35 Taxable status.—Liquors coming into the United States from Puerto Rico except, as provided in sec. 250.36, are subject to a tax equal to the internal revenue tax imposed on the production in the United States of like liquors. Articles coming into the United States from Puerto Rico, except as provided in sec. 250.36, are subject to tax on the liquors contained therein at the rates imposed in the United States on like liquors of domestic production.

Sec. 250.36 Products exempt from tax.—Subject to the provisions of this part, the following products may be brought into the United States from Puerto Rico without incurring liability to any tax imposed by section 5001(a)(10) or section 7652(a) of the internal Revenue Code:

(a) Industrial spirits for the purposes authorized in section 5214(a) (2) and (3), I.R.C.,

(b) Denatured spirits, and

(c) Products manufactured from denatured spirits under the provisions of section 250.36a.

Sec. 250.36a Production in Puerto Rico for tax-free shipment to United States.—(a) Regulations applicable to industrial spirits. The provisions of this subchapter relating to the production, bonded warehousing, and the withdrawal from bond of spirits in the United States shall extend to and apply in Puerto Rico in respect of the production, bonded warehousing, and withdrawal of industrial spirits for shipment to the United States free of tax for the purposes authorized in section 5214(a) (2) and (3), I.R.C.

(b) Regulations applicable to denatured spirits and products manufactured with denatured spirits.—The provisions of this subchapter relating to the production, bonded warehousing, and denaturation of spirits, and the withdrawal from bond of denatured spirits in the United States shall extend to and apply in Puerto Rico in respect of the production, bonded warehousing, and denaturation of spirits, and to the withdrawal of denatured spirits, where the denatured spirits are to be shipped to the United States free of tax, or are to be used in the manufacture of products containing such denatured spirits for shipment to the United States free of tax. The provisions of this subchapter relating to the withdrawal and use of denatured spirits in the manufacture of products in the United States shall extend to and apply in Puerto Rico in respect of the withdrawal and use, in Puerto Rico, of denatured spirits in the manufacture of products containing such denatured spirits for shipment to the United States free of tax.

Sec. 250.36b Tax-free shipments to the United States.—The provisions of subpart Ia shall apply to:

(a) Industrial spirits coming into the United States from Puerto Rico free of tax for the purposes authorized in section 5214(a) (2) and (3), I.R.C., and

(b) Denatured spirits and products containing denatured spirits coming into the United States from Puerto Rico free of tax.

The law does not authorize the transfer of spirits from the bonded premises of a plant in Puerto Rico to the bonded premises of a plant in the United States.

Subpart E—Taxpayment in Puerto Rico

Permit to Ship Liquors and Articles

Sec. 250.114 Permit to ship required.—Before liquors and articles of Puerto Rican manufacture, upon which all internal revenue taxes have been paid or deferred as prescribed in this subpart, may be shipped to the United States, a permit to ship, Form 487B, must be obtained from the Secretary as provided in secs. 250.115 and 250.116.

Sec. 250.115 Application, Form 487B.—Application for permit to ship to the United States liquors and articles of Puerto Rican manufacture on which all taxes have been paid or deferred as prescribed in this subpart shall be made by the shipper on Form 487B, in sextuple. Each Form 487B will be given a serial number, by the applicant, beginning with "1" for the first day of January of each year and running consecutively thereafter to December 31, inclusive. This serial number will be prefixed by the last two digits of the calendar year, e.g. "61-1." All copies of the form shall be delivered to the revenue agent for execution of his certification thereon and forwarding of all copies to the Secretary within sufficient time to allow for the issuance of the permit and customs inspection as provided in sec. 250.116.

Sec. 250.116 Issuance of permit, Form 487B, and customs inspection.—If the application has been properly executed and the Secretary, or his delegate, finds that all internal revenue taxes imposed under section 7652(a), I.R.C., have been computed under the provisions of this part and have been paid or, pursuant to a sufficient bond, have been deferred under the applicable provisions of this part, he will execute his permit on all copies thereof, retain one copy of the form, return two copies to the shipper, and send three copies to the collector of customs in Puerto Rico. The shipper will submit the two copies of the Form 487B to the collector at least six hours prior to the intended lading of the merchandise. The collector will then inspect the merchandise covered by the Form 487B after which he will execute his certificate on each copy of Form 487B indicating all exceptions. If discrepancies appear indicating differences between the quantity covered by Form 487B and the quantity actually contained in the shipment or the improper taxpayment of the merchandise, he will withhold release of the shipment and notify the Secretary of such discrepancies. Thereupon, such discrepancies must be corrected in the shipping documents and additional tax paid, if required, prior to release of the merchandise. The collector, upon release of the merchandise for shipment, will retain one copy of the Form 487B, return two copies to the shipper, and send two copies to the collector of customs at the port of arrival in the United States, one of which should be mailed and the other dispatched on the vessel concerned for the guidance of the inspector who will handle the cargo. After the shipment has been cleared by the collector of customs in Puerto Rico, the shipper shall retain one copy of the Form 487B and send one copy thereof, with other shipping documents, to the collector of customs at the port of arrival.

Procedure at Port of Arrival

Sec. 250.117 Action by carrier.—The carrier of the merchandise specified on the Form 487B shall, at the time of unlading at the port of arrival in the United States, segregate and arrange the cases of liquors or articles for convenient customs examination and will assume any expense incurred in connection therewith.

Sec. 250.118 Inspection by collector of Customs at port of arrival.—On receipt of properly executed Form 487B from the shipper and the copies of Form 487B from the collector of customs in Puerto Rico, the collector of customs at the port of arrival shall inspect the merchandise to determine whether the quantity specified on the Form 487B is contained in the shipment. He will then execute his certificate on each copy of Form 487B received and indicate thereon any exceptions found at the time of discharge. The statement of exceptions should show the serial number of each case or other shipping container which sustained a loss, the quantity of liquor reported shipped in such container and the quantity lost. Losses occurring as the result of missing bottles, cases, or other containers should be listed separately from empty containers and containers which have sustained losses due to breakage. Where the statement is made on the basis of bottles missing or lost due to other cause, the number and size of bottles lost should be shown. If the collector finds that the full amount of the taxes due has not been paid, he will require the difference due to be paid prior to release of the merchandise in accordance with the applicable provisions of this part. When the proper inspection of the merchandise has been effected, and any additional taxes found to be due on the liquors or articles collected, the merchandise will be released.

Sec. 250.119 Disposition of forms by collector of customs.—Two copies of the Form 487B will be forwarded to the United States Internal Revenue Service office, and one copy of the form will be retained by the collector of customs and be available for inspection by internal revenue officers. If the taxpayer files a claim for refund of tax on losses, the Officer-in-Charge will forward to the assistant regional commissioner of the region in which the port of arrival is located a copy of the completed Form 487B with the claim for refund.

Subpart F—Liquors and Articles Purchased by Tourists in Puerto Rico

Sec. 250.125 Taxable.—When liquors and articles subject to tax are brought into the United States by tourists, the tax thereon shall be paid as provided in this subpart.

Sec. 250.126 Taxpayment in Puerto Rico.—Liquors upon which all Federal internal revenue taxes have been paid in Puerto Rico may be brought into the United States for personal consumption without payment of additional taxes thereon. Containers of spirits taxpaid and bottled for sale to tourists shall have red strip stamps affixed by the distiller, bottler, or rectifier who paid the tax, and such stamps on bottles in possession of tourists shall be evidence to customs authorities at the port of departure and at the port of arrival that the tax on the spirits has been paid. When distilled spirits not bearing such stamps, or when wines, or beer, are purchased by a tourist for consumption in the United States, the internal revenue tax due thereon may be paid to the United States Internal Revenue Service office, and an internal revenue receipt obtained, or the tax may be paid to the U.S. Customs authorities, who will issue a customs receipt. The tax on articles purchased by tourists may be paid in the same manner. The receipt received from the United States Internal Revenue Service office or from the customs officer shall be presented, as required, as evidence that the tax has been paid.

Sec. 250.127 Report of red strip stamps used.—The insular internal revenue agent will record and report the use of red strip stamps on taxpaid spirits bottled for sale to tourists in Puerto Rico as provided in sec. 250.146.

Sec. 250.128 Taxpayment at port of arrival.—If the internal revenue tax on liquors and articles is not paid in Puerto Rico, it shall be paid by the tourists at the port of arrival prior to release of the liquors or articles from customs custody. The tax may be paid to the district director of internal revenue, and an internal revenue receipt obtained, or the tax may be paid to the collector of customs, who will issue a customs receipt. If payment is to be made to the district director, the collector of customs will notify the district director of the amount of tax due. On payment of the tax to the collector of customs, or on submission to him of the internal revenue receipt for the tax, the collector of customs will release the liquors or articles. Liquors brought into the United States by tourists for personal consumption are not required to be strip stamped when taxpaid by the tourist, whether at the port of departure in Puerto Rico or on arrival in the United States.

(Note: Customs has made arrangements with the Internal Revenue Service at ports where travelers from Puerto Rico generally arrive to accept such taxpayments directly from the tourist.)

Subpart G—Procurement and Use of Red Strip Stamps for Distilled Spirits from Puerto Rico

Sec. 250.135 Containers of distilled spirits to bear red strip stamps.—Immediate containers of 1 gallon or less of distilled spirits, upon which all Federal internal revenue taxes have been paid or deferred in Puerto Rico under the provisions of this part, shall have red strip stamps affixed thereto in accordance with the provisions of this subpart, prior to shipment to the United States. Except as provided in sec. 250.185, containers having a capacity of 1 gallon or less, containing distilled spirits which have not been taxpaid in Puerto Rico, may not be red strip stamped.

Sec. 250.137 Size of red strip stamps.—Red strip stamps shall be issued in a standard size, serially numbered, for bottles or containers of 1/2 pint capacity or more, and in a small size for bottles or containers of less than 1/2 pint capacity.

Sec. 250.145 Marking of cases.—The distiller, rectifier, or bottler shall plainly and legibly mark upon each case containing bottles of distilled spirits to which red strip stamps are attached, the following legend:

The red strip stamps required by section 5202, Internal Revenue Code, are affixed to the ________ , ________ , containers of distilled spirits in this case.
(Number) (Size)

(Name of distiller, rectifier, or bottler)

This legend when stamped on the case may be accepted by customs officers as evidence that the containers bear the stamps as indicated by the certification.

Subpart 1—Taxpayment in Puerto Rico upon Withdrawal after Rectification or Bottling

Sec. 250.186 Withdrawal for shipment to United States.—Withdrawal of liquors for shipment to the United States may be made only after taxpayment.

Subpart 1a—Tax-Free Shipments to the United States from Puerto Rico

Sec. 250.191 Samples and analysis.—Whenever completely denatured spirits, produced and denatured under the provisions of this subchapter, or proprietary or special industrial solvents, proprietary antifreeze solutions, and toilet preparations (bay rum, hair lotions, skin lotions, and similar products) manufactured under the provisions of this subchapter with denatured spirits produced and denatured under the provisions of this subchapter are shipped in containers larger than 5 wine gallons from Puerto Rico to the United States exempt from tax under the provisions of sec. 250.36, the shipper shall notify the chemist in charge in Puerto Rico, who will have representative samples taken from each shipment for examination. Such samples must definitely represent the products which are to be shipped. It will not be necessary to sample every container, as samples taken at random from large shipments will be considered as representative of the entire lot. The samples will be examined promptly by the chemist who will forward a copy of his chemical report to the assistant regional commissioner of the region where the port of arrival is located. The report will show whether the product conforms to authorized formulas for completely denatured spirits, or to the formulas on approved Form 1479A for such products, and must contain sufficient data to definitely identify the particular shipment involved.

Sec. 250.192 Action by assistant regional commissioner.—If the chemical report discloses to the assistant regional commissioner that the product conforms to an approved formula, he will promptly advise the collector of customs at the port of arrival that the shipment may be released free of tax. If the report discloses that the product does not conform to an approved formula, the assistant regional commissioner will request the collector of customs to detain the product and will forward a copy of the report to the Director, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division, for advice as to the disposition of the product.

Sec. 250.193 Certificate.—Every person shipping into the United States from Puerto Rico free of tax, pursuant to secs. 250.36 and 250.36a, (a) industrial spirits produced and withdrawn in Puerto Rico in accordance with the provisions of this subchapter relating to the production, bonded warehousing, and the withdrawal from bond of spirits in the United States, (b) distilled spirits produced, warehoused (if applicable), denatured, and withdrawn in Puerto Rico in accordance with the applicable provisions of this subchapter relating to the production, bonded warehousing, denaturation, and the withdrawal from bond of denatured spirits in the United States, and (c) products containing such denatured spirits and manufactured in accordance with the provisions of this subchapter relating to the use of denatured spirits in the United States, shall certify, in the English language, to such fact on the face of the shipper's waybill. Where the product is made pursuant to approved Form 1479-A, the shipper shall also certify as follows:

Made with ____________________ denatured spirits,
(Completely or specially)
Formula No. ________, pursuant to Form 1479-A, approved
________________, 19______.

Sec. 250.194 Marking containers.—In addition to such other data as may be required by Part 211 of this chapter to be marked on packages of products containing denatured spirits, the name, address, and permit number of the manufacturer shall appear on each shipping container of such products shipped from Puerto Rico to the United States free of tax.

Sec. 250.195 Arrival in the United States.—When industrial spirits, denatured spirits, and products containing denatured spirits, coming into this country from Puerto Rico, are covered by shipper's documents bearing the manufacturer's certificate prescribed in sec. 250.193, the collector of customs will inspect and verify the consignment. If no discrepancies are found, the products may be released free of tax: Provided, That in the case of products required to be examined by the chemist in charge in Puerto Rico in accordance with sec. 250.191, release shall be withheld until advice is received from the assistant regional commissioner that the shipment may be released free of tax, as provided in sec. 250.192.

Subpart J—Products Coming into the United States from the Virgin Islands

Sec. 250.200 Taxable status.—Liquors coming into the United States from the Virgin Islands are subject to a tax equal to the internal revenue tax imposed upon the production in the United States of like liquors. Articles coming into the United States from the Virgin Islands, except as provided in sec. 250.201, are subject to tax on the liquors contained therein at the rates imposed in the United States on like liquors of domestic production.

Sec. 250.201 Products exempt from tax.—Subject to the provisions of this part, the following products may be brought into the United States from the Virgin Islands without incurring liability to the tax imposed by sec. 7652(b) (1) of the Internal Revenue Code:

(a) Industrial spirits for the purposes authorized in sec. 5214(a) (2) and (3), I.R.C.,

(b) Denatured spirits manufactured in the Virgin Islands, and

(c) Products manufactured in the Virgin Islands with denatured spirits under the provisions of sec. 250.201a.

Sec. 250.201a Production in the Virgin Islands for tax-free shipment to the United States.—(a) Authority of the Governor to issue regulations.—The Governor of the Virgin Islands, or his duly authorized agents, are authorized to issue or adopt such regulations (and to approve such bonds, and to issue, suspend, or revoke such permits, as may be required by such regulations) as are necessary to insure that.

(1) Industrial spirits produced or manufactured in the Virgin Islands and shipped to the United States free of tax for the purposes authorized in section 5214(a) (2) and (3), I.R.C.,

(2) Denatured spirits manufactured in the Virgin Islands for shipment to the United States free of tax, and

(3) Products manufactured in the Virgin Islands with denatured spirits, for shipment to the United States free of tax, conform in all respects to the requirements of law and this chapter imposed on like products of domestic manufacture.

(b) Law and regulations applicable.—Regulations having been issued by the Governor of the Virgin Islands and concurred in by the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States to govern the production, warehousing, and denaturation of spirits and the use of denatured spirits in the manufacture of products for shipment to the United States free of tax, such regulations are applicable in the Virgin Islands and the Virgin Islands are hereby exempted from

(1) All provisions of chapter 51, I.R.C., with the exception of section 5314(b) and section 5687, I.R.C., and

(2) The provisions of this subchapter in respect of the production, bonded warehousing, denaturation, and withdrawal of distilled spirits and the use of denatured spirits in the United States: Provided, That such exemption shall be effective only to the extent that any amendments or revisions of the regulations issued by the Governor of the Virgin Islands, or his duly authorized agents, are concurred in by the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States or his delegate. Otherwise, all provisions of law as provided in section 5314(b), I.R.C., and the provisions of this subchapter in respect of the production, bonded warehousing, denaturation, and withdrawal from bond of distilled spirits and denatured spirits and the use of denatured spirits in the manufacture of products shall extend to and apply in the Virgin Islands (1) in respect of the production, bonded warehousing, and withdrawal of spirits for shipment to the United States free of tax for the purposes authorized in section 5214(a) (2) and (3), I.R.C., and (2) in respect of the production, bonded warehousing, and denaturation of spirits and to the withdrawal and use of denatured spirits, where the denatured spirits or products containing denatured spirits are to be shipped to the United States free of tax.

Sec. 250.201b Tax-free shipment to the United States.—The provisions of Subpart O shall apply to:

(a) Industrial spirits coming into the United States from the Virgin Islands free of tax for the purposes authorized in section 5214(a) (2) and (3), I.R.C., and

(b) Denatured spirits and products containing denatured spirits coming into the United States from the Virgin Islands free of tax. The law does not authorize the transfer of spirits from the bonded premises of a plant in the Virgin Islands to the bonded premises of a plant in the United States.

Sec. 250.202 Requirements of the Federal Alcohol Administration Act.—Every person, except an agency of a State or a political subdivision thereof or any officer or employee of any such agency, bringing liquors into the United States from the Virgin Islands for non-industrial use must obtain an importer's basic permit therefor and file with the collector of customs at the port of entry a certified or photostatic copy thereof, and every person and any agency of a State or political subdivision thereof or any officer or employee of such agency, bringing liquors into the United States from the Virgin Islands for nonindustrial use must file with the collector of customs at the port of entry a certificate of label approval, in accordance with the requirements of the Federal Alcohol Administration Act and regulations issued pursuant thereto. Tourists bringing liquors into the United States for personal or other noncommercial use are not subject to the provisions of the Federal Alcohol Administration Act or regulations issued pursuant thereto. (27 CFR Parts 1, 4, 5, 7)

Sec. 250.203 Containers of 1 gallon or less.—Containers of distilled spirits brought into the United States from the Virgin Islands, having a capacity of not less than one-half pint and not more than 1 gallon, shall conform to the requirements of Part 175 of this chapter.

Sec. 250.203a Containers in excess of 1 gallon.—Containers of distilled spirits brought into the United States from the Virgin Islands, having a capacity in excess of 1 gallon, are required to be marked and stamped in accordance with customs regulations (19 CFR Chapter 1).

Sec. 250.204 Regauge.—Distilled spirits withdrawn from insular bonded warehouses for bottling without rectification or for rectification and bottling and shipment to the United States may be guaged at the time of withdrawal by an insular gauger. A report of gauge shall be prepared by the insular gauger showing the name of the distiller, the serial number, the proof of the spirits, and the wine and proof gallon contents of each package gauged. The report of gauge shall be attached to the certificate prescribed in sec. 250.205.

Sec. 250.205 Certificate.—Every person bringing liquors or articles under this part into the United States from the Virgin Islands, except tourists, shall obtain a certificate in the English language from the manufacturer showing, for each shipment, the following information:

(a) The name and address of the consignee;

(b) The kind and brand name;

(c) The quantity thereof as follows:

(1) If distilled spirits, the wine and proof gallons.

(2) If beer, the gallons, liquid measure, and the percent of alcohol by volume.

(3) If articles, the kind, quantity, and proof of liquors used therein.

(d) The number and date of the approved formula;

(e) A declaration that it has been manufactured in accordance with the formula;

(f) The name and address of the person filing such formula;

(g) A certification by the insular gauger that the spirits covered by such certificate were or were not regauged by him when withdrawn from the insular bonded warehouse and, if regauged, were at that time at the proofs indicated on the attached report of gauge.

The consignee shall file the certificate and report of gauge with the collector of customs at the port of entry, as provided in sec. 250.260.

Subpart K—Formulae and Processes for Products from the Virgin Islands

Sec. 250.226 Disposition.—When the formula and process have been examined, the rate of tax applicable thereto will be indicated on each copy of Form 27-B Supplemental, one copy each will be forwarded to the collector of customs at each designated port of entry, to the Governor of the Virgin Islands, to the assistant regional commissioner of the region in which such port is located, and to the manufacturer, and one copy will be retained in the files of the Director, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division.

Subpart L—Red Strip Stamps for Distilled Spirits from the Virgin Islands

General

Sec. 250.230 Containers of distilled spirits to bear red strip stamps.—No person shall transport, possess, buy, sell, or transfer any distilled spirits brought into the United States from the Virgin Islands unless the immediate container thereof is stamped with a red strip stamp evidencing the determination or payment of all internal revenue taxes thereon. The provisions of this section shall not apply to:

(a) Distilled spirits in customs custody;

(b) Distilled spirits not intended for sale or for use in the manufacture or production of any article intended for sale;

(c) Distilled spirits on which no internal revenue tax is required to be paid;

(d) Distilled spirits in immediate containers stamped under other provisions of internal revenue or customs law or regulations issued pursuant thereto; or

(e) Any regularly established common carrier, receiving, transporting, delivering, or holding for transportation or delivery distilled spirits in the ordinary course of its business as a common carrier.

Sec. 250.231 Persons authorized to affix red strip stamps.—Red strip stamps shall be affixed to containers of distilled spirits as follows:

(a) By the bottler or exporter in the Virgin Islands; or

(b) By the importer or owner under customs supervision.

Sec. 250.232 Size of red strip stamps.—Red strip stamps shall be issued in a standard size, serially numbered, for bottles or containers of 1/2 pint capacity or more, and in a small size for bottles or containers of less than 1/2 pint capacity.

Red Strip Stamps to be Affixed in the Virgin Islands

Sec. 250.236 Conditions.—Red strip stamps may be procured by an importer, or his duly authorized agent, to be affixed to containers of distilled spirits by the bottler or exporter in the Virgin Islands as provided in this subpart.

Sec. 250.237 Requisition, Form 428.—Requisition for red strip stamps shall be made by the importer, or his duly authorized agent, or by the subsequent purchaser of the distilled spirits, on Form 428, in triplicate. The local address of the importer, or his agent, shall be given on Form 428. At the time the importer presents his first Form 428 for approval, he shall present and file (if he has not already done so) with the collector of customs a certified or photostatic copy of his importer's permit issued pursuant to the Federal Alcohol Administration Act and regulations promulgated thereunder. All Forms 428 shall be submitted to the collector of customs of the district in which the place of business of the importer, or his duly authorized agent, or the subsequent purchaser of the distilled spirits, as the case may be, is located. Collectors of customs shall refuse to approve requisitions, Form 428, submitted by any person or his agent when the collector has knowledge that such person or his agent has, because of failure to account for stamps, been denied approval of a requisition, Form 428, and has not yet accounted for such stamps. All strip stamps issued on Form 428 shall be accounted for, in the manner prescribed in this part, within 18 months from the date of requisition, or within such additional extension of time as may be granted under sec. 250.239.

Sec. 250.238 Statement, Form 1627.—The importer, or his duly authorized agent, shall submit, with Form 428 for stamps to be sent to the Virgin Islands, a statement on Form 1627, executed under the penalties of perjury:

(a) That the stamps are requisitioned for sending to the Virgin Islands and are required to supply existing orders and/or represent a reasonable anticipation of current requirements;

(b) That a complete accounting for such stamps will be made within eighteen months from the date of requisition (or within such additional extension of time as may be granted under sec. 250.239) in accordance with the provisions of this part;

(c) Either that no Form 428 from the importer or his duly authorized agent is and has been open beyond eighteen months, or, if any Forms 428 are open, specifying those that are open beyond eighteen months; and

(d) That the requisitionist understands that failure to account for the strip stamps will be grounds for rejection of subsequent requisitions for red strip stamps.

Sec. 250.239 Extension of time for final accounting of strip stamps.—Where an importer is not able, within the eighteen-month period prescribed in sec. 250.237, or within any extension period which might be granted in this section, to give a complete accounting for all strip stamps issued with respect to any requisition on Form 428 in the manner prescribed in this part, he shall notify the collector of customs, in writing, prior to the expiration of the eighteen-month period or any extension period granted under this section, setting forth all pertinent facts and requesting an extension of time wherein to make his final accounting. If satisfied that the circumstances warrant an extension of time, the collector of customs may grant an extension or extensions, not to exceed a total of twelve months. If any application is made for a further extension of time, the collector of customs shall submit it, with his recommendation, to the Commissioner of Customs who may, when the circumstances warrant, grant an additional extension of time. Where the collector of customs is not satisfied with the reasons given for requesting an extension of time, he shall proceed as prescribed in sec. 250.235.

Sec. 250.240 Approval of requisition.—The collector of customs will approve Form 428 if he—

(a) Is satisfied:

(1) That the importer is the holder of an importer's permit issued under the Federal Alcohol Administration Act and the regulations in 27 CFR Part 1;

(2) That the quantity requisitioned is reasonable and necessary for distilled spirits to be brought into the United States from the Virgin Islands to supply existing orders and/or anticipated requirements, or to be removed from customs custody, as provided in this part; and

(3) That his records show that all strip stamps which may have been previously issued to the importer have been properly and timely accounted for as provided in this part; and

(b) Has not been informed that the importer or his agent has been denied approval of a requisition and has not accounted for the stamps on account of which such denial was given.

When satisfied that Form 428 may be approved, the collector of customs shall signify his approval on all copies of Form 428, retain Form 1627 (if any) and one copy of Form 428, and return the original and remaining copy of Form 428 to the applicant for submission to the proper district director of internal revenue.

Sec. 250.241 Procurement of red strip stamps.—Red strip stamps shall be procured by the importer, or his duly authorized agent, or the subsequent purchaser of the distilled spirits, as the case may be, from the district director of internal revenue of the district in which the place of business of such applicant is located. The applicant shall forward to the district director of internal revenue the original and copy of the approved Form 428. The district director of internal revenue may issue the exact number of stamps requisitioned thereon even though it is necessary to use portions of sheets. The district director of internal revenue shall enter the serial numbers of the stamps issued and stamp the date of issue on both copies of Form 428, retain the original copy, and send the remaining copy to the collector of customs who approved it.

Sec. 250.242 Overprinting of red strip stamps.—The importer, or his duly authorized agent, or the subsequent purchaser of the distilled spirits, as the case may be, shall have the red strip stamps overprinted with the importer's real name and/or one of his approved trade names, consistent with the name of the importer as shown on the labels of the imported spirits to which the red strip stamps are to be applied. He shall submit the stamps to the collector of customs, who will verify the overprinting and make an endorsement showing the verification on Form 428 or on the retained original of Form 1627 where such form is submitted: Provided, That the collector of customs may so endorse the Form 428 or Form 1627 on presentation of other evidence satisfactory to him that the stamps have been properly overprinted when, in his opinion, physical submission of the stamps is impractical. The collector of customs will then authorize the importer or his duly authorized agent to send the stamps to the bottler or exporter in the Virgin Islands.

Sec. 250.243 Marking of cases.—Where red strip stamps are affixed in the Virgin Islands, the bottler or exporter will plainly and legibly mark the following legend on each case of distilled spirits so stamped:

The red strip stamps required by section 5202, I.R.C., are affixed to the ________ (Number), ________ (Size), containers of distilled spirits in this case.

________ (Name of bottler or exporter)

Sec. 250.244 Endorsement of entries.—Upon arrival of the distilled spirits in this country, entries required to be filed under Customs Regulations (19 CFR Ch. I) shall have endorsed thereon by the importer, or his duly authorized agent, the following legend:

The red strip stamps required by section 5205, I.R.C., were affixed abroad. These stamps were procured by ________ (Name of importer) on a requisition, Form 428, Importer's No. ________, approved by the collector of customs at ________ (Port where Form 428 was approved)

on ________ (Date of approval of Form 428)

Sec. 250.245 Request for credit of red strip stamps on distilled spirits deposited in a foreign-trade zone at specified port.—When red strip stamps are affixed in the Virgin Islands to containers of distilled spirits and, on arrival in the United States, the spirits are stored in a foreign-trade zone located at the port specified in the requisition, the importer may obtain credit of the red strip stamps against the appropriate requisition. In such cases, the zone application shall have endorsed thereon, by the importer or his duly authorized agent, the legend required by sec. 250.244. In addition, and as a condition of obtaining approval from the collector of customs for admission of the spirits to the zone, the importer or his duly authorized agent and the zone grantee shall state on the zone application that if such spirits are subsequently exported from the zone the red strip stamps will be effectively destroyed under customs supervision prior to exportation. The collector of customs will not approve such exportation and will not execute a permit of delivery until the red strip stamps have been effectively destroyed as provided in sec. 250.252.

Sec. 250.246 Credit of red strip stamps against requisition on arrival of distilled spirits at specified port.—Where entries required to be filed under Customs Regulations (19 CFR Chapter I) are filed at the port where the requisition was approved, the collector of customs who approved the requisition will credit the Form 428 described in the endorsement on the entry referred to in sec. 250.244 with the number and size of red strip stamps shown by the usual customs examination to have been attached to the containers. When distilled spirits are placed in a foreign-trade zone at the port of requisition and where the zone application complies with the provisions of sec. 250.245, the collector of customs shall credit the appropriate strip stamp record with the number and size of red strip stamps shown by the usual customs examination to have been affixed to the containers.

Sec. 250.247 Credit of red strip stamps against requisition on diversion of spirits to other than specified port.—In the event of diversion of all or part of the spirits to a port or ports, or to a foreign-trade zone at a port, other than the port specified in Form 1627 filed with the Form 428, the importer who requisitioned the stamps, or the importer at the port of diversion, or the duly authorized agent of either, shall prepare Form 1627A, in triplicate, for each such diversion. One copy of Form 1627A shall be promptly sent to the collector of customs at the port of requisition, and the original and remaining copy shall be filed with the collector of customs at the port of diversion at the time the required entry, or zone application, is filed. The corresponding entry or zone application at the port of entry shall be marked with the requisition and diversion numbers, and the name of the port of requisition, as shown on the Form 1627A. The provisions of sec. 250.245 shall, as applicable, cover stamps on spirits diverted to a foreign-trade zone located at a port other than the port specified in Form 1627. Such diverted spirits may not be released from customs custody or admitted into a foreign-trade zone until the required Form 1627A has been filed. The collector of customs at the port of diversion shall certify on both copies of Form 1627A as to the disposition of the spirits and of the stamps shown by the usual customs examination to have been affixed to the containers, and forward the original Form 1627A to the collector of customs at the port of requisition. He shall retain the copy of Form 1627A as a record copy in a separate file. On receipt of Form 1627A from the collector of customs at the port of diversion, the collector of customs at the port of requisition shall enter the appropriate credit on his strip stamp record, stamp "Strip stamps used and credited except as noted" on the Copy of Form 1627A originally received by him for such diversion, and send such copy to the importer, or importer's agent, who requisitioned the stamps. Such importer or agent may then take credit for the stamps on his strip stamp record.

Sec. 250.248 Follow-up procedure for Forms 1627A.—When the importer, or importer's agent, who requisitioned the stamps on Form 428 has not, within two months from the date of arrival of the spirits, received from the collector of customs the copy of Form 1627A noted as to credit of strip stamps by the collector, as provided for in sec. 250.247, he shall inquire of the collector of customs who approved the requisition, Form 428, whether the required report on Form 1627A has been received from the collector of customs at the port of diversion. If the collector of customs reports the nonreceipt of Form 1627A from the collector at the port of diversion, the importer, or the importer's agent, shall make a written inquiry, either directly or through the importer at the port of diversion, of the collector of customs at the port of diversion whether such collector has reported on the diversion. The inquiry shall show the entry number or identify the zone application, and shall be accompanied by two copies of the original Form 1627A marked "Follow-up: Prepared________." On receipt of the inquiry, the collector of customs of the port of diversion will compare the "Follow-up" copies with his file of record copies of Form 1627A. If he has a record copy showing that he forwarded the original Form 1627A, he shall insert any stamp data on the "Follow-up" copies, return one copy to the party who presented it, and forward the other copy to the collector of customs at the port of requisition. If the collector of customs at the port of diversion finds no corresponding record copy of Form 1627A, he shall use the "Follow-up" copies as original copies. In such case, he shall strike out the words "Follow-up," enter the stamp data thereon, retain one copy as his record copy, and forward the other copy to the collector of customs at the port of requisition. On receipt of the copy by the collector of customs at the port of requisition, the copy will be compared with the records. If the original Form 1627A has been received and the triplicate copy has already been forwarded to the importer, or to the importer's agent, the "Follow-up" copy shall also be sent to him without further action. If the collector of customs at the port of requisition finds that he has not received the original Form 1627A from the port of diversion, he shall use the "Follow-up" copy as the original of Form 1627A, and process it in accordance with sec. 250.247. On receipt of the copy of Form 1627A, the importer, or the importer's agent, may, unless he has already received his copy of Form 1627A, take credit for the stamps on his strip stamp record.

Sec. 250.249 Irregularities or discrepancies in shipments.—In case any irregularities or discrepancies are found, the collector of customs at the port of entry will make demand for redelivery of unexamined packages, and will not release examined or redelivered packages until satisfactory explanation and/or proper corrections have been made.

Sec. 250.250 Transfer of red strip stamps in the Virgin Islands.—Where an importer has shipped red strip stamps to a Virgin Islands bottler or exporter to be affixed to containers of distilled spirits to be brought into the United States, and he desires to transfer all or a part of these stamps to a bottler or exporter in the Virgin Islands other than the one named on the initial Form 1627, he shall first submit a written application in duplicate to the collector of customs who approved the requisition, Form 428. The application shall show:

(a) The serial number and date of the requisition, Form 428, covering issuance of the stamps;

(b) The name of the Virgin Islands bottler or exporter holding the stamps;

(c) The number and size of the stamps desired to be transferred; and

(d) The name and address of the bottler or exporter to whom the stamps are to be transferred.

If the collector of customs has no reason to believe that the transfer would constitute a jeopardy to the revenue, he shall indicate his approval on the copy of the application, return the copy to the importer, and retain the original for filing with the requisition, Form 428. On receipt of the approved copy, the importer shall effect the requested transfer of strip stamps.

Sec. 250.251 Unused red strip stamps.—Unused red strip stamps returned to the importer by the Virgin Islands bottler or exporter shall be submitted to the collector of customs who approved the original requisition, Form 428, for noting of such fact on the requisition and on the Form 1627 covering such stamps on file with the collector. After such notation has been made, the collector of customs shall return the stamps to the importer. If subsequently the importer desires to send all or part of the returned stamps to a bottler or exporter abroad, he shall submit them with Form 1627, properly modified and in duplicate, to the collector of customs who shall note approval on the copy of the modified Form 1627 and return it with the stamps to the importer. The collector of customs shall retain the original Form 1627. The importer shall make appropriate entries on his strip stamp record and in his report, Form 96, of the receipt and disposition of unused stamps covered by this section.

Sec. 250.252 Destruction of red strip stamps.—When for any reason a Virgin Islands bottler or exporter has on hand a quantity of red strip stamps which are not to be affixed to containers for shipment to the United States, and it is impractical to return such stamps to the importer from whom they were received, the collector of customs who approved the requisition, Form 428, may, on application, in triplicate, by the importer, authorize the destruction of the stamps in the Virgin Islands. The application shall show the size, quantity, and serial numbers of the stamps, the name and address of the Virgin Islands bottler or exporter who has possession of the stamps, and the reasons why destruction in the Virgin Islands is requested. If the collector of customs approves the application for destruction he will return the original and one copy of the application to the importer who will forward both to the Virgin Islands bottler or exporter. On receipt of the approved application, the stamps may be destroyed provided such destruction is under the supervision of an authorized representative of the Governor of the Virgin Islands (including an officer of the Board of Control of Alcoholic Beverages) and such representative certifies to the destruction of the stamps on the approved application. After destruction, the original of the application bearing the required certificate of destruction will be returned, through the Virgin Islands bottler or exporter and the importer, to the collector of customs. The collector of customs will credit the Form 428 accordingly, stamp on the copy of the application "strip stamps credited", and send the copy to the importer who filed the application. Such importer may then take credit for the stamps on his strip stamp record. Red strip stamps affixed to (a) imported distilled spirits prior to arrival in the United States which spirits are diverted by the importer for exportation purposes, and (b) spirits withdrawn from customs custody free of tax for entry into the United States shall be effectively destroyed under customs supervision, prior to exportation or withdrawal for entry into the United States.

Sec. 250.253 Credit for red strip stamps affixed to containers returned to a bottler or exporter in the Virgin Islands.—When for any reason containers of distilled spirits bearing red strip stamps are returned from customs custody to the Virgin Islands bottler or exporter, the importer may be given credit for such stamps, provided he obtains an affidavit from an authorized representative of the Governor of the Virgin Islands (including an officer of the Board of Control of Alcoholic Beverages) to the effect that the stamps were removed from the containers and destroyed under his supervision. The importer shall submit such affidavit to the collector of customs who shall credit the original requisition accordingly. The importer shall make appropriate entries on his strip stamp record.

Sec. 250.254 Credit for red strip stamps affixed to containers diverted by the importer for exportation.—The importer may be given credit for red strip stamps which were affixed to distilled spirits, brought into the United States from the Virgin Islands, diverted by the importer for exportation purposes and which were effectively destroyed by the exporter under customs supervision, provided he obtains a certificate from the customs officer to the effect that the stamps were removed from the containers and destroyed under his supervision. The importer shall submit such certificate to the collector of customs who shall credit the original requisition accordingly. The importer shall make appropriate entries on his strip stamp record.

Red Strip Stamps to be Affixed at Port of Entry under Customs Supervision

Sec. 250.255 Conditions.—Distilled spirits in containers coming into the United States from the Virgin Islands without having red strip stamps attached may not be released from customs custody until a stamp has been affixed to each container, under the supervision of a customs officer. Stamps procured for such containers but not affixed within 48 hours after entry shall be placed in the custody of the collector of customs until such time as they are to be affixed to containers prior to removal from customs custody.

Sec. 250.256 Requisition, Form 428.—Requisition for red strip stamps shall be made by the original importer, or his duly authorized agent: Provided, That if the importer has gone out of business the requisition shall be made by the person having title to the distilled spirits. The requisition shall be submitted in accordance with sec. 250.237. Approval of the requisition shall be subject to the provisions of sec. 250.240.

Sec. 250.257 Procurement and overprinting of red strip stamps.—The importer, or his duly authorized agent, shall procure red strip stamps from the district director of internal revenue as provided by sec. 250.241, have them overprinted and such overprinting verified under the provisions of sec. 250.242, and such verification endorsed on Form 428. After verification of the overprinting and the prescribed endorsement on Form 428, the collector of customs will deliver the stamps to their procurer for affixing to containers under customs supervision.

Sec. 250.258 Expense of affixing red strip stamps.—Expenses of cartage, storage, repacking, handling, or other labor connected with the opening of cases and affixing of red strip stamps to the containers shall be borne by the importer, or by the person having title to the distilled spirits, as the case may be.

Sec. 250.259 Marking of cases.—There shall be indelibly stamped upon each case by the customs officer supervising the affixing of red strip stamps to containers the following legend:

Port of ________________________
__________________, 19____
(Month) (Day)

This is to certify that on this date the red strip stamps required by section 5205, I.R.C., were affixed, under my supervision, to the __________, ______, containers of distilled spirits

Subpart M—Procedure at Port of Entry from the Virgin Islands

Sec. 250.260 Conditions.—The importer shall file the report of gauge provided for in sec. 250.204 and the certificate provided for in sec. 250.205 with the collector of customs at the port of entry in the United States.

Sec. 250.261 Action by collector of customs.—The collector of customs will direct the proper customs gauger to determine the taxable quantity of liquors contained in the consignment by regauge or inspection and report the result thereof to the collector of customs. Upon receipt of such report the collector of customs will refer to the approved formula covering the product to determine the rate of internal revenue tax applicable thereto. When the rate of tax applicable to the product has been ascertained, the tax due on the consignment will be determined according to secs. 250.262 through 250.265.

Sec. 250.262 Determination of tax on distilled spirits.—If the certificate is accompanied by a report of gauge made by an insular gauger in accordance with Sec. 250.204 and bears the insular gauger's certification, as prescribed in Sec. 250.205, showing that the spirits covered thereby were 100 degrees or more in proof at the time of withdrawal from the insular bonded warehouse, the internal revenue tax at the distilled spirits rate will be collected on the proof-gallon contents of the packages, or cases, regardless of the proof of the spirits at the time of their entry into the United States. If the certification of the insular gauger and the accompanying report of gauge show that the spirits were less than 100 degrees in proof at the time of withdrawal thereof from the insular bonded warehouse, the internal revenue tax at the distilled spirits rate will be collected on the wine-gallon contents of the packages or cases as determined by the customs gauger. If the certificate does not bear the certification of the insular gauger and is not accompanied by a report of gauge made by an insular gauger showing the proof of the spirits at the time of their withdrawal from the insular bonded warehouse, the proof of the spirits at the time of regauge or inspection at the port of entry in the United States will be the basis for determining the internal revenue tax due thereon, i.e., if the spirits are less than 100 degrees in proof, the distilled spirits tax will be collected on the wine gallons, whereas if the spirits are 100 degrees or more in proof, the distilled spirits tax will be collected on the proof gallons. The rectification tax on taxable rectified spirits will be collected on the proof gallons contained in the consignment regardless of the proof of the spirits at the time of their withdrawal from the insular bonded warehouse or at the time of their entry into the United States.

Sec. 250.263 Determination of tax on beer.—If the certificate prescribed in Sec. 250.205 covers beer, the beer tax will be collected on the basis of the number of barrels of 31 gallons each, or fractional parts thereof, contained in the shipment.

Sec. 250.264 Determination of tax on wine.—If the certificate prescribed in Sec. 250.205 covers wine, the wine tax will be collected at the rates imposed by section 5041, Internal Revenue Code, as amended.

Sec. 250.265 Determination of tax on articles.—Where articles contain liquors, the tax will be collected at the rates prescribed by law on the liquor contained therein as shown by the certificate prescribed in Sec. 250.205.

Sec. 250.266 Taxpayment.—The internal revenue tax on liquors and articles coming into the United States from the Virgin Islands shall be paid to the collector of customs at the port of entry, as provided by customs regulations. (19 CFR Ch. I)

Subpart N-Records and Reports of Liquors from the Virgin Islands

Record and Report of Red Strip Stamps

Sec. 250.271 Report of strip stamps, Form 96.—Every importer shall prepare on Form 96, in triplicate, an annual report of all strip stamps procured, used, lost, mutilated, destroyed, or otherwise disposed of during each fiscal year (July 1 through June 30, following), a report of the balances on hand at the beginning and end of the fiscal year, and an accounting for any balances outstanding against each requisition at the end of the fiscal year. Where an importer has more than one place of business, a separate report on Form 96 shall be rendered for each place of business. Where an agent procures stamps for several importers, he shall render a separate report on Form 96 in the name of each importer. An original and one copy of Form 96 shall be filed on or before July 10 with the collector of customs who approved the importer's requisitions on Form 428: Provided, That where the collector of customs finds it necessary, in order to reconcile his accounts with those of the importer, he may require the importer, in addition to the annual report on Form 96, to file Form 96 at more frequent intervals, but not more often than once a month, completed in whole or in part, as the collector may designate. Such additional reports on Form 96 shall be prepared in duplicate and the original shall be filed with the collector of customs at the time designated by such collector. The importer shall keep one copy of Form 96 for his files. The collector of customs shall, on or before July 20, forward one copy of each annual report on Form 96 to the assistant regional commissioner of the region in which the customs collection district is located.

Report of Disposition of Red Strip Stamps on Discontinuance of Business

Sec. 250.277 Procedure.—The importer who discontinues or sells his business shall recall from his agents in the Virgin Islands all unused stamps in their custody. He shall submit his entire stock of unused stamps, accompanied by a report, in duplicate, of inventory, by size, serial numbers, and quantity, to the collector of customs for crediting of the respective Forms 428. The collector of customs shall then destroy the stamps and, after such destruction, note the action taken on both copies of the inventory. He shall retain the original and return the copy of the inventory to the importer. Within five days of the receipt of the returned copy of the inventory, the importer shall note the disposition of the stamps on Form 96, mark the report "Final", and submit it, in duplicate, to the collector of customs. The collector of customs shall forward one copy of the final Form 96 to the assistant regional commissioner.

Subpart O-Tax-Free Shipments to the United States from the Virgin Islands

Sec. 250.291 Certificate.—Every person shipping into the United States from the Virgin Islands free of tax, pursuant to Secs. 250.201 and 250.201a, (a) industrial spirits produced and withdrawn in the Virgin Islands in accordance with the provisions of the Virgin Islands regulations relating thereto, (b) distilled spirits produced, warehoused (if applicable), denatured, and withdrawn in the Virgin Islands in accordance with the applicable provisions of the Virgin Islands regulations relating thereto, and (c) products containing such denatured spirits and manufactured in accordance with the provisions of the Virgin Islands regulations relating thereto, shall certify, in the English language, to such fact on the face of the shipper's waybill. Where the product is made pursuant to Form 1479-A, approved as provided in the Virgin Islands regulations, the shipper shall also certify as follows:

Made with ______________ denatured spirits,
(Completely or specially)
Formula No. ________, pursuant to Form 1479-A, approved ________, 19____

Sec. 250.292 Marking containers.—The name, address, and permit number of the manufacturer shall appear on each shipping container of products containing denatured spirits shipped from the Virgin Islands to the United States free of tax.

Sec. 250.293 Arrival in the United States.—When industrial spirits, denatured spirits, and products containing denatured spirits, coming into this country from the Virgin Islands, are covered by shipper's documents bearing the manufacturer's certificate prescribed in Sec. 250.291, the collector of customs will inspect and verify the consignment. If no discrepancies are found, the products may be released free of tax.

EXCERPTS FROM THE REGULATIONS IN 26 CFR PART 251, "IMPORTATION OF DISTILLED SPIRITS, WINES, AND BEER".

Subpart D-Tax on Imported Distilled Spirits, Wines, Beer, and Imported Perfumes Containing Distilled Spirits

Sec. 251.40 Distilled spirits.—A tax is imposed by section 5001, I.R.C., on all distilled spirits in customs bonded warehouses or imported into the United States at the rate prescribed in such section on each proof gallon or wine gallon when below 100 degrees of proof and a proportionate tax at a like rate on all fractional parts of such proof or wine gallon. The tax shall be determined at the time of importation, or, if entered into bond, at the time of withdrawal therefrom.

Sec. 251.41 Perfumes containing distilled spirits.—Perfumes imported into the United States containing distilled spirits are subject to the internal revenue tax at the rate prescribed by section 5001, I.R.C., per wine gallon, and a proportionate tax at a like rate on all fractional parts of such wine gallon.

Sec. 251.42 Wines.—All wines (including imitation, substandard, or artificial wine, and compounds sold as wine) having not in excess of 24 percent of alcohol by volume, in customs bonded warehouse or imported into the United States are subject to an internal revenue tax at the rates prescribed by law; such tax to be determined at the time of removal from customs custody for consumption or sale. The tax is imposed on each wine gallon and at a like rate on fractional parts of a wine gallon. Fractions of less than one-tenth gallon shall be converted to the nearest one-tenth gallon, and five-hundredths gallon shall be converted to the next full one-tenth gallon. All wines containing more than 24 percent of alcohol by volume shall be classed as distilled spirits and shall be taxed accordingly.

Sec. 251.43 Liqueurs, cordials, and similar compounds.—A tax is imposed by section 5001, I.R.C., on all liqueurs, cordials, and similar compounds, containing distilled spirits, in customs bonded warehouse or imported into the United States at the rate prescribed in such section on each proof gallon, or wine gallon when below 100 degrees of proof, and a proportionate tax at a like rate on all fractional parts of such proof gallon or wine gallon. The tax shall be determined at the time of importation, or, if entered into bond, at the time of withdrawal therefrom. Fortified or unfortified wines, containing not over 24 percent alcohol by volume, to which sweetening or flavoring materials, but no distilled spirits, have been added are not classified as liqueurs, cordials, or similar compounds, but are considered to be flavored wines only and are subject to internal revenue tax at the rates applicable to wines.

Sec. 251.44 Other compounds and preparations.—Compounds and preparations, other than those specified in sec. 251.43 containing distilled spirits, which are fit for beverage purposes, in customs bonded warehouse or imported into the United States are subject to internal revenue tax at the rates applicable to distilled spirits. Compounds and preparations, containing fortified or unfortified wine, but no distilled spirits, which are fit for beverage purposes and which are sold as wine, are subject to internal revenue tax at the rates applicable to wines.

Sec. 251.45 Rate of tax.—A tax is imposed by section 5051, I.R.C., on all beer imported into the United States, at the rate prescribed in such section, for every barrel containing not more than 31 gallons, and at a like rate for any other quantity or for fractional parts of a barrel. The tax on beer shall be determined at the time of importation, or, if entered into customs custody, at the time of removal from such custody.

Sec. 251.46 Computation of tax.—The tax on imported beer shall be computed on the basis of the actual quantity in a container, at the rate prescribed by law.

Collection of Internal Revenue Taxes

Sec. 251.48 Imported distilled spirits, wines, and beer.—Internal revenue taxes payable on imported distilled spirits, including perfumes containing distilled spirits, and on wines and beer, are collected, accounted for, and deposited as internal revenue collections by collectors of customs in accordance with customs requirements.

Exemption of Certain Samples from Internal Revenue Taxes

Sec. 251.49 Commercial samples of alcoholic beverages.—Samples of distilled spirits, beer, and wine, to be used in the United States by persons importing alcoholic beverages in commercial quantities, are, subject to the limitations in this section, exempt from the payment of any internal revenue tax imposed on, or by reason of, importation. This exemption applies only to samples to be used for soliciting orders for products of foreign countries. In no case shall this exemption apply to more than one sample of each alcoholic beverage product admitted during any calendar quarter for the use of each such person. No sample of beer shall contain more than 8 ounces, no sample of wine shall contain more than 4 ounces, and no sample of distilled spirits shall contain more than 2 ounces.

Packaging, Marking and Stamping of Distilled Spirits

Sec. 251.56 Containers of 1 gallon or less.—Imported containers of distilled spirits of 1 gallon or less, and empty containers imported for the bottling of imported distilled spirits of 1 gallon or less, are required to be marked in accordance with the Customs Regulations (19 CFR Parts 11, 12). Containers of 1 gallon or less of distilled spirits must conform to the requirements of 27 CFR Part 5, and be stamped in accordance with this part. Also, distilled spirits containers of a capacity of one-half pint to 1 gallon, inclusive, must conform to the requirements of 26 CFR Part 175.

Sec. 251.57 Containers in excess of 1 gallon.—Imported containers of distilled spirits in excess of 1 gallon are required to be marked and stamped in accordance with customs regulations (19 CFR Parts 11 and 12).

Labeling of Distilled Spirits

Sec. 251.58 Containers of 1 gallon or less.—Lables on imported containers of distilled spirits, and on containers of imported distilled spirits bottled in customs custody, for sale at retail, are required to be covered by a certificate of label approval (Form 1649) issued pursuant to the Federal Alcohol Administration Act and regulations promulgated thereunder (Regulations 5, 27 CFR Part 5). Containers of imported distilled spirits bottled after taxpayment and withdrawal from customs custody are required to be covered by a certificate of label approval (Form 1649) or a certificate of exemption from label approval (Form 1650) issued pursuant to the Federal Alcohol Administration Act and regulations promulgated thereunder (Regulations 5, 27 CFR Part 5). When distilled spirits are to be labeled under a certificate of exemption from label approval, the labels affixed to containers are required to conform to Part 175 of this subchapter.

Marking and Labeling of Wines and Beer

Sec. 251.59 Wines.—All imported wines containing not less than 7 percent and not more than 24 percent of alcohol by volume are required to be packaged, marked, branded, and labeled in conformity with the Federal Alcohol Administration Act and regulations promulgated thereunder (Regulations 4, 27 CFR Part 4), prior to their removal from customs custody. Containers of imported wine bottled or packaged after taxpayment and withdrawal from customs custody are required to be covered by a certificate of label approval (Form 1649) or a certificate of exemption from label approval (Form 1650) issued pursuant to the Federal Alcohol Administration Act and regulations promulgated thereunder (Regulations 4, 27 CFR Part 4). Imported containers of wine are required also to be marked, branded and labeled in accordance with customs regulations (19 CFR Parts 11 and 12).

Sec. 251.60 Beer.—All imported beer is required to be released from customs custody in conformity with the Federal Alcohol Administration Act and regulations thereunder. The attention of all concerned is directed, in this connection, to the provisions of Regulations 7 (27 CFR Part 7) relating to the labeling and advertising of malt beverages, issued under the Federal Alcohol Administration Act. Imported containers of beer are required to be marked and labeled in accordance with customs regulations (19 CFR Parts 11 and 12).

Red Strip Stamps for Containers of Distilled Spirits

Sec. 251.61 Containers of distilled spirits to bear red strip stamps.—No person shall transport, buy, possess, sell, or transfer any imported distilled spirits, unless the immediate container thereof is stamped with a red strip stamp evidencing the determination or payment of all internal revenue taxes thereon. The provisions of this section shall not apply to—

(a) Distilled spirits in bond or in customs custody;

(b) Distilled spirits lawfully withdrawn from bond and not intended for sale or for use in the manufacture or production of any article intended for sale;

(c) Distilled spirits on which no internal revenue tax is required to be paid;

(d) Distilled spirits, lawfully withdrawn from bond, in immediate containers stamped under other provisions of internal revenue or customs law or regulations issued pursuant thereto; or

(e) Any regularly established common carrier receiving, transporting, delivering, or holding for transportation or delivery distilled spirits in the ordinary course of its business as a common carrier.

Sec. 251.62 Persons authorized to affix red strip stamps.—Red strip stamps shall be affixed to imported containers of distilled spirits as follows: (a) By the bottler or exporter in a foreign country, as prescribed by Subpart F; or (b) by the importer or owner under customs supervision as prescribed by Subpart G. The bottler of distilled spirits imported in bulk shall affix stamps to the containers, as prescribed by Subpart H of this part.

Sec. 251.63 Size of red strip stamps.—Red strip stamps shall be issued in a standard size, serially numbered, for bottles or containers of 1/2 pint capacity or more, and in a small size for bottles or containers of less than 1/2 pint capacity.

Sec. 251.64 Requisition, Form 428.—Requisition for red strip stamps shall be made by the importer, or his duly authorized agent, or by the subsequent purchaser of the distilled spirits, on Form 428, in triplicate. The local address of the importer, or his agent, shall be given on Form 428. At the time the importer presents his first Form 428 for approval, he shall present and file (if he has not already done so) with the collector of customs a certified or photostatic copy of his importer's permit issued pursuant to the Federal Alcohol Administration Act and regulations promulgated thereunder. All Forms 428 shall be submitted to the collector of customs of the district in which the place of business of the importer or his duly authorized agent, or the subsequent purchaser of the distilled spirits, as the case may be, is located. Collectors of customs shall refuse to approve requisitions, Form 428, submitted by any person or his agent when the collector has knowledge that such person or his agent has, because of failure to account for stamps, been denied approval of a requisition, Form 428, and has not yet accounted for such stamps. All strip stamps issued on Form 428 shall be accounted for, in the manner prescribed in this part, within eighteen months from the date of requisition, or within such additional extension of time as may be granted under Sec. 251.65a.

Sec. 251.64a Power of attorney.—Where an importer gives power of attorney to another person to sign Form 96, Form 428, Form 1627, or Form 1627A, such power of attorney shall be filed with the collector of customs who approves the issuance of the red strip stamps and shall be in such form as is required by Customs Regulations (19 CFR Chapter I). Where any of the above forms are signed by a duly authorized agent, the name of the importer shall be given, followed by the signature of the agent and the words "Attorney in Fact."

Sec. 251.65 Statement, Form 1627.—The importer, or his duly authorized agent, shall submit, with Form 428 for strip stamps to be sent to a foreign country, a statement on Form 1627, executed under the penalties of perjury;

(a) That the stamps are requisitioned for sending abroad and are required to supply existing orders and/or represent a reasonable anticipation of current requirements;

(b) That a complete accounting for such stamps will be made within eighteen months from the date of requisition (or within such additional extension of time as may be granted under sec. 251.65a) in accordance with the provisions of this part;

(c) Either that no Form 428 from the importer or his duly authorized agent is and has been open beyond eighteen months, or, if any Forms 428 are open, specifying those that are open beyond eighteen months; and

(d) That the requisitionist understands that failure to properly account for the strip stamps will be grounds for rejection of subsequent requisitions for red strip stamps.

Sec. 251.65a Extension of time for final accounting of strip stamps.—Where an importer is not able, within the eighteen-month period prescribed in secs. 251.64 and 251.65, or within any extension period which might be granted in this section, to give a complete accounting for all strip stamps issued with respect to any requisition on Form 428 in the manner prescribed in this part, he shall notify the collector of customs, in writing, prior to the expiration of the eighteen-month period or any extension period granted under this section, setting forth all pertinent facts and requesting an extension of time wherein to make his final accounting. If satisfied that the circumstances warrant an extension of time, the collector of customs may grant an extension, or extensions, not to exceed a total of twelve months. If any application is made for a further extension of time, the collector of customs shall submit it, with his recommendation, to the Commissioner of Customs, who may, when the circumstances warrant, grant an additional extension of time. Where the collector of customs is not satisfied with the reasons given for requesting an extension of time, he shall proceed as prescribed in sec. 251.92.

Sec. 251.66 Approval of requisition.—The collector of customs will approve Form 428 if he—

(a) Is satisfied:

(1) That the importer is the holder of an importer's permit issued under the Federal Alcohol Administration Act and the regulations in 27 CFR Part 1;

(2) That the quantity requisitioned is reasonable and necessary for distilled spirits to be imported to supply existing orders and/or anticipated requirements, or to be removed from customs custody, as provided in this part; and

(3) That his records show that all strip stamps which may have been previously issued to the importer have been properly and timely accounted for as provided in this part; and

(b) Has not been informed that the importer or his agent has been denied approval of a requisition at any port and has not accounted for the stamps on account of which such denial was given. When satisfied that Form 428 may be approved, the collector of customs shall signify his approval on all copies of Form 428, retain Form 1627 (if any) and one copy of Form 428, and return the original and remaining copy of Form 428 to the applicant for submission to the proper district director of internal revenue.

Sec. 251.68 Overprinting of red strip stamps.—The importer, or his duly authorized agent, or the subsequent purchaser of the distilled spirits, as the case may be, shall have indelibly overprinted in plain and legible letters on each of the red strip stamps, at his expense, the name and address of the importer, which shall, for example, be as follows: "John Doe & Co., Baltimore, Md."

An importer holding an importer's permit to do business under one or more trade names shall have the red strip stamps overprinted with his real name and/or one of his approved trade names, consistent with the name of the importer as shown on the labels of the imported spirits to which the red strip stamps are to be applied. He shall submit the stamps to the collector of customs who will verify the overprinting and make an endorsement showing the verification on Form 428, or on the retained original of Form 1627 where such form is submitted: Provided, That the collector of customs may so endorse the Form 428 or Form 1627 on presentation of other evidence satisfactory to him that the stamps have been properly overprinted when, in his opinion, physical submission of the stamps is impractical. The collector of customs will then authorize the importer or his duly authorized agent to send the stamps to the bottler or exporter abroad, as provided in Subpart F of this part; or authorize the importer or his duly authorized agent, or the subsequent purchaser of the distilled spirits, as the case may be, to affix the stamps to containers under customs supervision, as prescribed in Subparts G and H of this part.

Sec. 251.69 Affixing strip stamps.—Strip stamps shall be securely affixed to the container with a strong adhesive, and shall be affixed in such a manner that on opening the container the stamp will be broken and a portion thereof, sufficient to identify the kind of stamp placed thereon, will remain attached to the container or to a cap or seal which is permanently affixed thereto. Strip stamps affixed to containers shall not be concealed or obscured in any manner except that any such stamp may be covered by a cup, cap, seal, carton, wrapping, or other device which can be readily removed without injury to the stamp or which is sufficiently transparent to permit all data on the stamp to be read. If a cup, cap, or seal is placed over a stamp, a portion of the stamp must remain plainly visible. If containers are enclosed in sealed opaque cartons, such cartons or wrappings on such cartons must bear the words, "This package may be opened for examination by Internal Revenue Officers." Internal revenue and customs officers have the right to open such cartons or wrappings and examine the container. Where there is doubt as to the propriety of the use of any cup, cap, or seal, the closure and container should be submitted to the Director for approval.

Sec. 251.72 Exportation of imported distilled spirits; red strip stamps.—When imported distilled spirits to which red strip stamps were affixed prior to arrival in the United States are diverted for exportation purposes by the importer, the strip stamps shall be effectively destroyed by the importer under customs supervision, prior to exportation: Provided, That the collector of customs may authorize the importer to void, rather than destroy, such strip stamps under customs supervision. When voiding of red strip stamps has been authorized, they shall be voided by legibly stamping thereon, with indelible ink and in bold face capital letters no smaller than 10-point type, the word "VOIDED" or the word "CANCELLED." Red strip stamps affixed to distilled spirits originating in the United States, evidencing the tax or indicating compliance with the provisions of chapter 51, I.R.C., shall not be removed at or prior to the time of exportation.

Sec. 251.73 Withdrawal without payment of tax: red strip stamps.—Red strip stamps affixed to imported distilled spirits to be withdrawn from customs custody free of tax for entry into the United States shall be effectively destroyed by the importer, his agent, or the subsequent purchaser, under customs supervision, prior to such tax-free withdrawal.

Exemptions

Sec. 251.74 Exemption from stamping, marking, bottling, and labeling requirements.—The provisions of this part relating to the affixing of red strip stamps, the indicia requirements of containers prescribed by Part 175 of this subchapter, and the labeling of containers as prescribed by regulations promulgated under the Federal Alcohol Administration Act (Regulations 5, 27 CFR Part 5) are not applicable to imported distilled spirits (a) not for sale or for any other commercial purpose whatever; (b) on which no internal revenue tax is required to be paid on or before withdrawal from customs custody; (c) for use as ship stores; or (d) for personal use. Samples of distilled spirits, other than those provided for in sec. 251.49, imported for any purpose are not exempt from the stamping, marking, bottling, and labeling requirements. Samples of beer and wine brought into the United States pursuant to sec. 251.49 are exempt from the labeling requirements of the Federal Alcohol Administration Act and regulations issued thereunder. Exemptions from the requirement that imported distilled spirits, wines and beer be marked to indicate the country of origin are set forth in customs regulations (19 CFR Part 11).

Subpart F—Red Strip Stamps to be Affixed in a Foreign Country

Sec. 251.80 Conditions.—Red strip stamps to be affixed to containers of distilled spirits may, in accordance with the procedure prescribed in this subpart, be procured by importers to be affixed to the containers by the bottler or exporter in a foreign country.

Sec. 251.81 Requisition, Form 428.—The importer, or his duly authorized agent, shall make requisition on Form 428, in accordance with sec. 251.64, and submit a sworn statement on Form 1627, as prescribed by sec. 251.65, for red strip stamps to be sent to the foreign bottler or exporter.

Sec. 251.82 Approval of requisition.—The collector of customs shall approve Form 428 and dispose of Form 428 and Form 1627 in accordance with and subject to the applicable provisions of sec. 251.66.

Sec. 251.83 Procurement and overprinting of red strip stamps.—The importer, or his duly authorized agent, shall procure the red strip stamps from the district director of internal revenue as provided by sec. 251.67 and have them overprinted and verified as provided by sec. 251.68. After verification of the overprinting and the prescribed endorsement on Form 1627, the collector of customs will deliver the stamps to the importer, or his duly authorized agent, for transmission to the bottler or exporter abroad.

Sec. 251.84 Marking of cases.—The foreign bottler or exporter will plainly and legibly mark the following legend on each case of containers of distilled spirits to which red strip stamps are attached:

> The red strip stamps required by section 5205, I.R.C., are affixed to the __________ (Number), ______ (Size) containers of distilled spirits in this case.
> ______________________________
> (Name of bottler or exporter)

Sec. 251.85 Endorsement of warehouse and consumption entries.—Upon arrival of the distilled spirits in this country, warehouse entries and consumption entries shall have endorsed thereon by the importer, or his duly authorized agent, the following legend:

> Red strip stamps required by section 5205 I.R.C., were affixed abroad. These stamps were procured by ______________ (Name of importer) requisition Form 428, Importer's No. ______, approved by the Collector of Customs at ______________________ (Port where Form 428 was approved) on ______________________ (Date of approval of Form 428)

Sec. 251.85a Request for credit of red strip stamps on distilled spirits deposited in a foreign-trade zone at specified port.—When red strip stamps are affixed abroad to containers of imported distilled spirits and, on arrival in the United States, the spirits are stored in a foreign-trade zone located at the port specified in the requisition, the importer may obtain credit of the red strip stamps against the appropriate requisition. In such cases, the zone application shall have endorsed thereon, by the importer or his duly authorized agent, the legend required by sec. 251.85. In addition, and as a condition of obtaining approval from the collector of customs for admission of the spirits to the zone, the importer or his duly authorized agent and the zone grantee shall state on the zone application that if such spirits are subsequently exported from the zone the red strip stamps will be effectively destroyed under customs supervision prior to exportation. The collector of customs will not approve such exportation and will not execute a permit of delivery until the red strip stamps have been effectively destroyed as provided in sec. 251.72.

Sec. 251.86 Credit of red strip stamps against requisition on arrival of distilled spirits at specified port.—Where warehouse and consumption entries are filed at the port where the requisition was approved, the collector of customs who approved the requisition will credit the Form 428 described in the endorsement on the entry referred to in sec. 251.85 with the number and size of red strip stamps shown by the usual customs examination to have been attached to the container. When distilled spirits are placed in a foreign-trade zone at the port of requisition and where the zone application conforms with the provisions of sec. 251.85a, the collector of customs shall credit the appropriate strip stamp record with the number and size of red strip stamps shown by the usual customs examination to have been affixed by the containers.

Sec. 251.87 Credit of red strip stamps against requisition on diversion of spirits to other than specified port.—In the event of diversion of all or part of the spirits to a port or ports, or to a foreign-trade zone at a port, other than the port specified in Form 1627 filed with the Form 428, the importer who requisitioned the stamps, or the importer at the port of diversion, or the duly authorized agent of either, shall prepare Form 1627A, in triplicate, for each such diversion. One copy of Form 1627A shall be promptly sent to the collector of customs at the port of requisition, and the original and remaining copy shall be filed with the collector of customs at the port of diversion at the time the warehouse or consumption entry, or zone application, is filed. The corresponding entry or zone application at the port of entry shall be marked with the requisition and diversion numbers, and the name of the port of requisition, as shown on the Form 1627A. The provisions of sec. 251.85a shall, as applicable, cover stamps on spirits diverted to a foreign-trade zone located at a port other than the port specified in Form 1627. Such diverted spirits may not be released from customs custody or admitted into a foreign-trade zone until the required Form 1627A has been filed. The collector of customs at the port of diversion shall certify on both copies of Form 1627A as to the disposition of the spirits and of the stamps shown by the usual customs examination to have been affixed to the containers, and forward the original Form 1627A to the collector of customs at the port of requisition. He shall retain the copy of Form 1627A as a record copy in a separate file. On receipt of Form 1627A from the collector of customs at the port of diversion, the collector of customs at the port of requisition shall enter the appropriate credit on his strip stamp record, stamp "Strip stamps used and credited except as noted" on the copy of Form 1627A originally received by him for such diversion, and send such copy to the importer, or importer's agent, who requisitioned the stamps. Such importer or agent may then take credit for the stamps on his strip stamp record.

Sec. 251.87a Follow-up procedure for Forms 1627A.—When the importer, or importer's agent, who requisitioned the stamps on Form 428 has not, within two months from the date of arrival of the spirits, received from the collector of customs the copy of Form 1627A noted as to credit of strip stamps by the collector, as provided for in sec. 251.87, he shall inquire of the collector of customs who approved the requisition Form 428 whether the required report on Form 1627A has been received from the collector of customs at the port of diversion. If the collector of customs reports the non-receipt of Form 1627A from the collector at the port of diversion, the importer, or the importer's agent, shall make a written inquiry, either directly or through the importer at the port of diversion, of the collector of customs at the port of diversion whether such collector has reported on the diversion. The inquiry shall show the entry number, or identify the zone application, and shall be accompanied by two copies of the original Form 1627A marked "Follow-up: Prepared ________ (Date)." On receipt of the inquiry, the collector of customs of the port of diversion will compare the "Follow-up" copies with his file of record copies of Form 1627A. If he has a record copy showing that he forwarded the original Form 1627A, he shall insert any stamp data on the "Follow-up" copies, return one copy to the party who presented it, and forward the other copy to the collector of customs at the port of requisition. If the collector of customs at the port of diversion finds no corresponding record copy of Form 1627A, he shall use the "Follow-up" copies as original copies. In such case, he shall strike out the words "Follow-up", enter the stamp data thereon, retain one copy as his record copy, and forward the other copy to the collector of customs at the port of requisition. On receipt of the copy by the collector of customs at the port of requisition, the copy will be compared with the records. If the original Form 1627A has been received and the triplicate copy has already been forwarded to the importer, or to the importer's agent, the "Follow-up" copy shall also be sent to him without further action. If the collector of customs at the port of requisition finds that he has not received the original Form 1627A from the port of diversion, he shall use the "Follow-up" copy as the original of Form 1627A, and process it in accordance with sec. 251.87. On receipt of the copy of Form 1627A, the importer, or the importer's agent, may, unless he has already received his copy of Form 1627A, take credit for the stamps on his strip stamp record.

Sec. 251.88 Irregularities or discrepancies in shipments.—In case any irregularities or discrepancies are found, the collector of customs at the port of entry will make demand for redelivery of unexamined packages, and will not release examined or redelivered packages until satisfactory explanation and/or proper corrections have been made.

Sec. 251.88a Transfer of red strip stamps in foreign country.—Where an importer has shipped red strip stamps to a foreign bottler or exporter, to be affixed to containers of distilled spirits to be shipped to the United States, and he desires to transfer all or a part of these stamps to another foreign bottler or exporter, he shall first submit a written application, in duplicate, to the collector of customs who approved the requisition, Form 428. The application shall show: (a) the serial number and date of the requisition, Form 428, covering issuance of the stamps; (b) the name and country of the foreign bottler or exporter holding the stamps; (c) the number and size of the stamps desired to be transferred; and (d) the name and country of the foreign bottler or exporter to whom the stamps are to be transferred. If the collector of customs has no reason to believe that the transfer would constitute a jeopardy to the revenue, he shall indicate his approval on the copy of the application, return the copy to the importer, and retain the original for filing with the requisition, Form 428. On receipt of the approved copy, the importer shall effect the requested transfer of strip stamps.

Sec. 251.89 Unused red strip stamps.—Unused red strip stamps returned to the importer by the bottler or exporter abroad, shall be submitted to the collector of customs who approved the original requisition, Form 428, for noting of such fact on the requisition and on the Form 1627 covering such stamps on file with the collector. After such notation has been made, the collector of customs shall return the stamps to the importer. If subsequently the importer desires to send all or part of the returned stamps to a bottler or exporter abroad, he shall submit them with Form 1627, properly modified and in duplicate, to the collector of customs who shall note approval on the copy of the modified Form 1627 and return it with the stamps to the importer. The collector of customs shall retain the original Form 1627. The importer shall make appropriate entries on his strip stamp record and in his report, Form 96, of the receipt and disposition of unused stamps covered by this section.

Sec. 251.89a Destruction of red strip stamps abroad.—When for any reason a foreign bottler or exporter has on hand a quantity of red strip stamps which are not to be affixed to containers for export to the United States, and it is impractical to return such stamps to the importer from whom they were received, the collector of customs who approved the requisition, Form 428, may, on application (in triplicate) by the importer, authorize the destruction of the stamps abroad. The application shall show the size, quantity, and serial numbers of the stamps, the name and address of the foreign bottler or exporter who has possession of the stamps, and the reasons why destruction abroad is requested. If the collector of customs approves the application for destruction he will return the original and one copy of the application to the importer who will forward both to the foreign bottler or exporter abroad. On receipt of the approved application, the stamps may be destroyed provided such destruction is under the supervision of a Foreign Service officer of the United States of America, or of a Treasury Department officer stationed abroad, or of an excise official of the foreign government concerned, and such officer certifies to the destruction of the stamps on the approved application. After destruction, the original of the application bearing the required certificate of destruction will be returned, through the foreign bottler or exporter and the importer, to the collector of customs. The collector of customs will credit the Form 428 accordingly, stamp on the copy of the application "strip stamps credited", and send the copy to the importer who filed the application. Such importer may then take credit for the stamps on Form 96.

Sec. 251.90 Credit for red strip stamps affixed to containers returned to a foreign bottler or exporter.—When for any reason containers of distilled spirits bearing red strip stamps are returned from customs custody to the foreign bottler or exporter, the importer may be given credit for such stamps, provided he obtains an affidavit from an excise official of the foreign government concerned to the effect that the stamps were removed from the containers and destroyed under his supervision. The importer shall submit such affidavit to the collector of customs who shall credit the original requisition accordingly. The importer shall make appropriate entries on his strip stamp record.

Sec. 251.91 Credit for red strip stamps affixed to containers diverted by the importer for exportation.—When red strip stamps are destroyed or voided under the provisions of sec. 251.72, the importer may be given credit for such stamps if he obtains from the supervising customs officer a certificate regarding the destruction or voiding and submits the certificate to the collector of customs. The collector of customs shall, on receipt of the certificate, credit the original application for the stamps and the importer shall make appropriate entries on his strip stamp record.

Sec. 251.92 Breach of regulations, or failure to properly account for strip stamps.—Where an importer fails to render a proper accounting for strip stamps as prescribed in this part, or where the collector of customs is not able to reconcile his records with those of the importer and is not satisfied with the accounting as rendered by the importer, or where there has been any breach of the provisions of this part by the importer, or use of stamps for a purpose other than that for which they were procured, the collector of customs shall refuse to approve any further requisition, Form 428, submitted by the importer. The collector of customs may also require of the importer an immediate accounting of all strip stamps outstanding in the name of the importer. Such accounting shall be made at a time and place to be specified by the collector of customs, and shall be of such a nature as to satisfy the collector of customs that there has been no unlawful diversion or use of said stamps. If deemed necessary, the collector of customs may require the importer to call in all unused strip stamps, wherever they may be, and deliver them so that they may be counted. Where the collector of customs has evidence that any of the provisions of this part have been wilfully violated, he shall refer the matter to the Director for appropriate action.

Subpart G—Red Strip Stamps Affixed Under Customs Supervision

Sec. 251.110 Conditions.—Distilled spirits in containers imported without having red strip stamps attached may not be released from customs custody until a stamp has been affixed to each container, under the supervision of a customs officer. Stamps procured for such containers but not affixed within 48 hours after entry shall be placed in the custody of the collector of customs until such time as they are to be affixed to containers prior to removal from customs custody.

Sec. 251.111 Requisition, Form 428.—Requisition for red strip stamps shall be made by the original importer or his duly authorized agent: Provided, That if the importer has gone out of business the requisition shall be made by the person having title to the distilled spirits. The requisition shall be submitted in accordance with sec. 251.64. Subsequent procedure shall conform to applicable provisions of secs. 251.66, 251.67, and 251.68.

Sec. 251.112 Expense of affixing red strip stamps.—Expenses of cartage, storage, repacking, handling, or other labor connected with the opening of cases and affixing of red strip stamps to the containers, shall be borne by the importer, or by the subsequent purchaser of the distilled spirits referred to in sec. 251.111, as the case may be.

Sec. 251.113 Marking of cases.—There shall be indelibly stamped upon each case by the customs officer supervising the affixing of red strip stamps to containers, the following legend:

Port of ____________ 19____ This is to certify
(Month) (Day)
that on this date, the red strip stamps required by section 5205, I.R.C., were affixed, under my supervision, to the ______, ______ containers of distilled spirits in this case.
(Number)

(Official designation)

Subpart H—Importation of Distilled Spirits in Bulk

Sec. 251.120 Persons authorized to receive distilled spirits imported in bulk.—Distilled spirits imported in bulk (i.e., in containers having a capacity in excess of 1 gallon) may be entered into a class 8 customs bonded warehouse for bottling, or may be withdrawn from customs custody only if entered for exportation or if withdrawn by a person to whom it is lawful to sell or otherwise dispose of distilled spirits in bulk pursuant to the Federal Alcohol Administration Act (49 Stat. 985, as amended; 27 U.S.C., 206) and Regulations 3 (27 CFR Part 3). The importation and disposition of distilled spirits imported in bulk shall be reported as prescribed by secs. 251.133 and 251.134.

Sec. 251.121 Containers.—Imported distilled spirits may be bottled in either domestic or imported containers conforming to the provisions of Part 175 of this subchapter.

Sec. 251.122 Red strip stamps.—Red strip stamps overprinted with the name and address of the original importer as prescribed by sec. 251.68 or stamps without any overprinting prescribed for domestic use (Part 230 of this subchapter), may be affixed to containers of imported distilled spirits bottled in a class 8 customs bonded warehouse. Stamps without any overprinting prescribed for domestic use (Part 230 of this subchapter) shall be affixed by the bottler to containers of imported distilled spirits bottled after withdrawal from customs custody.

Subpart K—Disposition of Red Strip Stamps

Sec. 251.160 Disposition of strip stamps.—The importer who discontinues or sells his business shall recall from his agents abroad all unused stamps in their custody. He shall submit his entire stock of unused stamps, accompanied by a report, in duplicate, of inventory, by size, serial numbers and quantity, to the collector of customs for crediting of the respective Forms 428. The collector of customs shall then destroy the stamps and, after such destruction, note the action taken on both copies of the inventory. He shall retain the original of the inventory and return the copy to the importer. Within five days of the receipt of the returned copy of the inventory, the importer shall note the disposition of the stamps on Form 96, mark the report "Final", and submit it, in duplicate, to the collector of customs. The collector of customs shall forward one copy of the final Form 96 to the assistant regional commissioner.

Subpart L—Transfer of Distilled Spirits From Customs Custody to Bonded Premises of Distilled Spirits Plant

Sec. 251.171 General provisions.—Imported distilled spirits, other than whisky, brandy, rum, or similar beverage spirits, of 185 degrees or more of proof may, under the provisions of this subpart, be withdrawn by the proprietor of a distilled spirits plant from customs custody and transferred to the bonded premises of his plant for nonbeverage use, without payment of the internal revenue tax imposed on imported spirits by section 5001, I.R.C. Spirits of any proof, imported for any purpose incident to the requirements of national defense, may also be withdrawn from customs custody and be transferred to the bonded premises of a distilled spirits plant without payment of such tax. Spirits so withdrawn and transferred to a distilled spirits plant may be redistilled or denatured and may, without redistillation or denaturation, be withdrawn from internal revenue bond for any purpose authorized by chapter 51, Internal Revenue Code, in the same manner as domestic distilled spirits. Imported distilled spirits transferred from customs custody to the bonded premises of a distilled spirits plant under the provisions of this subpart shall be received and stored thereat, and withdrawn or transferred therefrom, subject to the applicable provisions of Part 201 of this chapter.

Sec. 251.172 Application, Form 2609.—The proprietor of a distilled spirits plant desiring to withdraw distilled spirits as authorized in sec. 251.171, shall, for each withdrawal, submit an application on Form 2609, in triplicate, to the internal revenue officer in charge. The application shall appropriately identify the distilled spirits to be withdrawn, and shall be modified by the applicant to cover the transfer of distilled spirits from customs custody, by naming the port of entry through which the distilled spirits are to be withdrawn, and by inserting in the "Remarks" item the name and address of the assistant regional commissioner for the region in which is located the plant to which the spirits are to be transferred. The internal revenue officer shall, if the proprietor's bond on Form 2601 is sufficient, approve all copies of Form 2609, forward one copy to the assistant regional commissioner, and return the original and remaining copy to the proprietor. The proprietor shall forward the original of Form 2609 to the collector of customs at the port of entry named therein from whose custody it is proposed to withdraw the distilled spirits, and retain the remaining copy for his files.

Sec. 251.173 Customs gauge and release.—The collector of customs will not release distilled spirits without payment of internal revenue tax until the approved Form 2609 has been received from the proprietor of the distilled spirits plant. Prior to release from customs custody, the customs officer shall prepare Form 236 (in quadruplicate, when the spirits are in packages; in quintuplicate, when the spirits are in bulk) appropriately modified to show:

(a) Serial number and date of the Form 2609,
(b) Customs port of entry,
(c) The consignee,
(d) Kind of spirits,
(e) Country from which spirits were exported,
(f) Method of transfer,
(g) Elements of bulk gauge (if any),
(h) Quantity to be transferred,
(i) Customs seals used (if any),
(j) Date of release, and
(k) Signature and title of the customs officer in lieu of the proprietor.

When shipments are made in tank cars or tank trucks, the details of the gauge of each tank car or tank truck shall be reported separately. In the case of barrels, drums, or similar portable containers, the details of the gauge shall be shown on Form 2630, in triplicate. In addition, the customs officer shall ascertain and enter on each copy of Form 236 the rate of customs duty paid on the distilled spirits and the rate of customs duty which would have been applicable had such spirits been imported for beverage purposes. On compliance with the requirements of customs regulations (including determination of duties due), and on completion of Form 236 (and Form 2630, where required), the customs officer shall release the spirits for transfer, retain one copy of Form 236 (and Form 2630, if any), forward one copy of Form 236 to the assistant regional commissioner (alcohol and tobacco tax) at the address shown on Form 2609, and forward the original and remaining copy (or copies) of Form 236 (and Form 2630, if any) to the internal revenue officer at the distilled spirits plant.

Sec. 251.174 Tank cars and tank trucks to be sealed.—Where a shipment of distilled spirits from customs custody to the distilled spirits plant is made in a tank car or tank truck, all openings affording access to the spirits shall be sealed by the customs officer with customs seals in such manner as will prevent unauthorized removal of spirits through such openings without detection.

Sec. 251.175 Transfer by pipeline at dock.—Where the distilled spirits plant is equipped with suitable dock facilities, the distilled spirits may, subject to all requirements of the customs laws and regulations, be transferred by pipeline from the importing vessel or barge through weighing tanks or other suitable measuring tanks into locked empty storage tanks on the bonded premises of the distilled spirits plant, or directly into locked storage tanks on such premises provided such storage tanks are equipped with suitable measuring devices for correctly indicating the actual contents and the outlets thereof are locked. In all such cases of pipeline transfers, the distilled spirits shall be transferred under customs supervision, gauged immediately by a customs officer, and thereupon released for deposit in the distilled spirits plant. The details of the gauge shall be reported on Form 236, and distribution of the form made, as provided in sec. 251.173.

Subpart M—Withdrawal of Imported Distilled Spirits From Customs Custody Free of Tax for Use of the United States

Sec. 251.181 General.—On filing of proper customs entry, imported distilled spirits may, under the provisions of this subpart, be withdrawn free of tax from customs custody by the United States or any governmental agency thereof for its own use for nonbeverage purposes.

Sec. 251.182 Application and permit, Form 1444.—Application on Form 1444, in duplicate, appropriately modified to show the customs port of entry, shall be filed with the Director by the United States or governmental agency thereof for a permit to procure and withdraw imported distilled spirits free of tax for nonbeverage purposes. If it is desired to procure distilled spirits from more than one customs port of entry, a separate application for permit must be filed for each port. Each location to which the distilled spirits are to be shipped shall be shown on the application. The application shall be signed by the head of the department or independent bureau or agency to which such spirits are to be shipped, or by some person duly authorized by such head of a department or independent bureau or agency. Evidence of authority to sign for the head of a department, or independent bureau or agency, shall be furnished the Director. Permits on Form 1444 to procure distilled spirits free of tax from customs custody will not limit the quantity of distilled spirits authorized to be procured, and all such permits shall remain in force until surrendered or canceled. Every appropriate precaution shall be taken by the agency to insure that the tax-free spirits so procured will be used only for governmental purposes.

Sec. 251.183 Use of permit, Form 1444.—On receipt of the permit, Form 1444, from the Director, the department, bureau, or other agency of the United States, in order to procure distilled spirits from customs custody, shall forward the permit to the collector of customs at the port named therein. The collector of customs may retain such permit to cover future withdrawals pursuant to appropriate customs entry in each case.

Sec. 251.184 Customs gauge and release.—Where the appropriate permit, Form 1444, is on file and on receipt of entry for release of distilled spirits, the spirits shall be gauged by a customs officer, who shall prepare a report of gauge on Form 2629, in triplicate. The distilled spirits may then be released free of tax for shipment to the United States or governmental agency thereof named in the permit, Form 1444. The customs officer shall state on each copy of Form 2629 the permit number of Form 1444 under which the distilled spirits were withdrawn. The original of Form 2629 shall be retained by the collector of customs, one copy shall be forwarded to the governmental agency to whom the distilled spirits are consigned, and one copy shall be forwarded to the Director.

Sec. 251.185 Tank cars and tank trucks to be sealed.—When a shipment of distilled spirits from customs custody is made in a tank car or tank truck, all openings affording access to the spirits shall be sealed by the customs officer with customs seals in such manner as will prevent unauthorized removal of spirits through such openings without detection.

Sec. 251.186 Receipt on Form 1473.—At the time of shipping distilled spirits free of tax to the United States or governmental agency thereof, the collector of customs shall prepare Form 1473, appropriately modified, forward the original and one copy to the Government officer to whom the distilled spirits are to be delivered at destination, and retain one copy for his files. The Government officer, on receiving the shipment, shall execute the certificate of receipt, forward the original to the Director and retain the copy for his files.

EXCERPTS FROM THE REGULATIONS IN 26 CFR PART 252, "EXPORTATION OF LIQUORS"

Subpart B—Definitions

Sec. 252.11 Meaning of terms.—When used in this part and in forms prescribed under this part, where not otherwise distinctly expressed or manifestly incompatible with the intent thereof, terms shall have the meaning ascribed in this section. Words in the plural form shall include the singular, and vice versa, and words importing the masculine gender shall include the feminine. The terms "includes" and "including" do not exclude things not enumerated which are in the same general class.

Beer.—Beer, ale, porter, stout, and other similar fermented beverages (including sake or similar products) of any name or description containing one-half of 1 percent or more of alcohol by volume, brewed or produced from malt, wholly or in part, or from any substitute therefor.

Distilled spirits or spirits.—That substance known as ethyl alcohol, ethanol, or spirits of wine, and all dilutions and mixtures thereof, from whatever source or by whatever process produced, including whisky, brandy, rum, gin, vodka, and products of rectification (other than products classed as wine), but not denatured spirits.

Exportation.—A severance of goods from the mass of things belonging to the United States with the intention of uniting them to the mass of things belonging to some foreign country. The export character of any shipment shall be determined by the intention with which it is made, and it assumes an export character only when destined for use in a foreign country. For the purposes of this part, shipments to Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, American Samoa, Guam, and the Panama Canal Zone shall be treated as exportations. Shipments to Kingman's Reef, the Midway Islands, or Wake Island are not exportations within the meaning of this part.

Liquor.—Distilled spirits, wines, and/or beer.

Manufacturing bonded warehouse.—A manufacturing bonded warehouse, class six, established under the provisions of Customs Regulations (19 CFR Ch. I).

Package.—Any cask, keg, barrel, drum, or similar portable container.

Proprietor.—The person who operates the brewery, distilled spirits plant, bonded wine cellar, taxpaid wine bottling house, manufacturing bonded warehouse, or export storage, as the case may be, referred to in this part.

Specially denatured spirits.—Alcohol or rum, as defined in Part 212 of this chapter, denatured pursuant to the formulas authorized in Part 212 for specially denatured alcohol or rum.

Wine.—All kinds and types of wine having not in excess of 24 percent of alcohol by volume.

Subpart C—Miscellaneous Provisions

Withdrawal or Lading for Use on Certain Vessels and Aircraft

Sec. 252.22 Vessels employed in the fisheries.—Liquors may be withdrawn or laden under the provisions of paragraphs (b) and (e) of sec. 252.21 relating to vessels employed in the fisheries, only for use on vessels of the United States documented to engage in the fisheries and foreign fishing vessels of 5 net tons or over if the collector of customs is satisfied by reason of the quantity requested in the light of (a) whether the vessel is employed in substantially continuous fishing activities, and (b) the vessel's complement, that none of the liquors to be withdrawn or laden are intended to be removed from the vessel in, or otherwise returned to, the United States. Such withdrawal or lading shall be conditioned upon compliance with the applicable provisions of this part. Lading of such liquors for use on such vessels shall be subject to approval by the collector of customs of a special written application by the withdrawer or the vessel's master on customs Form 5125 (in duplicate) and a statement by the withdrawer in his application or notice on the required Form 206, 1582, 1582-A, 1582-B, or 1689, as the case may be, that the liquors are to be laden for use as supplies on a vessel employed in the fisheries. The original application on customs Form 5125, after approval, shall be stamped with the serial number of the Form 206, 1582, 1582-A, 1582-B, or 1689, as the case may be, and the date thereof, and shall be returned by the collector of customs to the withdrawer or vessel's master for use as prescribed below. Approval of each such application shall be subject to the condition that the original shall be presented thereafter by the withdrawer or the vessel's master to the collector of customs within 24 hours (excluding Saturday, Sunday, and holidays) after each subsequent arrival of the vessel at a customs port or station and that an accounting shall be made at the time of such presentation of the disposition of the liquors until the collector of customs is satisfied that they have been consumed on board, or landed under customs supervision, and takes up the authorization. The approval of customs Form 5125 shall be subject to the further condition that any such liquors remaining on board while the vessel is in port shall be safeguarded in the manner and to such extent as the collector of the port or place of arrival shall deem necessary. When such liquors have been accounted for to the satisfaction of the collector of customs, he shall execute his certificate of lading and use on both copies of the Form 206, 1582, 1582-A, 1582-B, or 1689, as the case may be, and forward the original of the form to the assistant regional commissioner designated thereon. In the event of a failure on the part of the withdrawer or the master of the vessel to comply with the conditions of this section or upon receipt of evidence that the liquors were not lawfully used as supplies on the vessel, the collector of customs shall advise the assistant regional commissioner of all the facts in the case for determination of any liability incurred. In the case of liquors withdrawn without payment of tax, assessment of tax liability found to have been incurred shall be made against the principal on the bond. In the case of taxpaid or tax determined liquors, the assistant regional commissioner shall determine as to whether to make demand upon the principal and the surety on the bond or to disallow the claim as the case may be.

Note: As used in this section, the word "withdrawer" shall mean the person executing the application or notice, Form 206, 1582, 1582-A, 1582-B, or 1689, as the case may be.

Manufacturing Bonded Warehouses

Sec.252.25 General.—Any manufacturer who manufactures the products designated in section 5522, I.R.C., at a duly constituted manufacturing bonded warehouse, established in accordance with law and the regulations in 19 CFR Ch. I, may withdraw distilled spirits or wines from any distilled spirits plant or bonded wine cellar, as the case may be, without payment of tax for use in the manufacture of such products for export, or for rectification and export, or shipment in bond to Puerto Rico. The proprietor of the manufacturing bonded warehouse shall furnish bond in accordance with the provisions of secs. 252.63 and 252.64.

Foreign-Trade Zones

Sec. 252.30 Export status.—Liquors may be transferred to a foreign-trade zone for the sole purpose of exportation, or storage pending exportation. Liquors of domestic manufacture deposited in a foreign-trade zone under this part shall be considered to be exported for the purpose of the statutes and bonds exacted for the payment of drawback, refund, or exemption from liability for internal revenue taxes and for the purposes of the internal revenue laws generally and the regulations thereunder. Export status is not acquired until application on Zone Form D for admission of the liquors into the zone has been approved by the collector of customs pursuant to the appropriate provisions of 19 CFR Chapter I, and the required certification of deposit of the liquors in the zone has been made on the Internal Revenue Service form prescribed in this part. For the purpose of section 309 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended by section 11 of the Customs Simplification Act of 1953 (Pub. Law 243, 83d Congress), liquors removed to foreign-trade zones under the provisions of this part may be removed, pursuant to the provisions of 19 CFR Ch. I, for use as supplies on vessels and aircraft.

Voluntary Destruction of Liquors after Receipt in a Foreign-Trade Zone

Sec. 252.35 General.—Liquors may not, under the law, be transferred to a foreign-trade zone for the purpose of destruction. However, liquors transported to and deposited in a foreign-trade zone for exportation or for storage pending exportation may be destroyed under the supervision of the collector of customs, where it is shown to the satisfaction of the assistant regional commissioner of the region in which the zone is located that the liquors, after deposit in a zone, have become unmerchantable or unfit for export.

Sec. 252.36 Application.—Application, addressed to the assistant regional commissioner of the region in which the zone is located and filed as hereinafter provided, for authority to destroy domestic distilled spirits (including alcohol), wines, or beer on storage in a foreign-trade zone shall be made by the exporter on letter-size paper, in duplicate, showing the name and address of the claimant and setting forth the following information:

(a) The kind and quantity of the liquor, the serial numbers, if any, of the containers thereof, and identification of the zone in which the liquor is stored;

(b) The name and address of the producer of the liquor, and the name, registry number, if any, and location of the plant, warehouse or other establishment from which such liquors were withdrawn for transportation to and deposit in the foreign-trade zone;

(c) The date, form, and serial number of the Form 206, 1582, 1582-A, 1582-B, 1629, or 1689, as the case may be; and, in the case of liquors on which drawback of internal revenue tax has been allowed, the claim number assigned thereto by the assistant regional commissioner;

(d) Whether the liquor has become unmerchantable or unfit for export after deposit in the zone, together with all the known facts relating thereto; and

(e) Whether the unmerchantable or unfit liquor is covered by valid insurance in excess of the market value thereof, exclusive of tax. If the liquor is insured, the application shall show its market value, the amount and date of each and every policy of insurance, the name and location of the company by which each and every policy was issued, the name and address of the bona fide owner of the liquor, and to the best of the affiant's knowledge, whether any other person or party is indemnified against the loss of the liquor by reason of its spoilage or destruction.

Such application shall be signed by the exporter or his authorized agent and be executed under the penalties of perjury. The assistant regional commissioner may require any further evidence as is deemed necessary. The operator of the foreign-trade zone shall countersign the application or otherwise indicate thereon his knowledge of and concurrence in the application to destroy the liquor. The exporter shall file the application with the collector of customs in whose district the foreign-trade zone is located; at the same time the exporter shall likewise file Zone Form E in accordance with Customs Regulations (19 CFR Ch. I). On receipt of the application the collector of customs shall determine the completeness thereof and shall report any facts relating to the condition of the liquor of which he may have knowledge. The original application shall be forwarded to the assistant regional commissioner and the collector of customs shall retain the copy for his files.

Sec. 252.37 Action by assistant regional commissioner.—The assistant regional commissioner shall carefully examine the application to see that all the required information has been furnished and shall cause such investigation to be made or require such additional evidence, including samples, to be submitted as he may deem necessary. If the assistant regional commissioner finds that the domestic distilled spirits (including alcohol), wines, or beer were transported to and deposited in a foreign-trade zone in good faith for the purpose of exportation or storage pending exportation, and that such liquors, after deposit in the zone, have become unmerchantable or unfit for export, he may approve the application and authorize the destruction of the liquor described therein under the supervision of the collector of customs. On approval or disapproval of the application, the assistant regional commissioner shall advise the collector of customs of his action.

Sec. 252.38 Action by collector of customs.—On receipt of the assistant regional commissioner's authorization for destruction of the liquor, or his disapproval of the application for destruction, the collector of customs shall act upon the exporter's application on Zone Form E and dispose of it in accordance with the applicable provisions of Customs Regulations (19 CFR Ch. I). Where the assistant regional commissioner has authorized the destruction of the liquor, such destruction shall be accomplished under customs supervision.

Subpart E—Withdrawal of Distilled Spirits Without Payment of Tax for Exportation, Use on Vessels and Aircraft, Transfer to a Foreign-Trade Zone, or Transportation to a Manufacturing Bonded Warehouse

Return of Spirits to Bonded Premises

Sec. 252.115 General.—On application of the proprietor of a distilled spirits plant, spirits which have been lawfully withdrawn without payment of tax under the provisions of this subpart for exportation, or for deposit in a foreign-trade zone, or for deposit in a manufacturing bonded warehouse, or for use on vessels and aircraft may, for good cause, be returned:

(a) To the bonded premises of any distilled spirits plant authorized to produce distilled spirits, for redistillation; or

(b) To the bonded premises from which withdrawn, for storage pending subsequent removal for lawful purposes: Provided, That such spirits are returned before they are exported, deposited in a foreign-trade zone, deposited in a manufacturing bonded warehouse, or laden as supplies upon or used on vessels or aircraft, as the case may be.

Sec. 252.116 Application for return of spirits withdrawn without payment of tax.—Where a proprietor of a distilled spirits plant desires to return spirits to his plant as provided in sec. 252.115, he shall submit a written application, in quintuplicate, to the assistant regional commissioner for the region in which his plant is located, for approval of the return of the spirits. The application shall show:

(a) Name, address, and plant number of the distilled spirits plant to which the spirits are to be returned.

(b) Name, address, and plant number of the distilled spirits plant which packaged or bottled the spirits.

(c) Name, address, and plant number of the distilled spirits plant from which the spirits were withdrawn.

(d) Name and address of the principal on the bond under which the spirits were withdrawn.

(e) Serial number of the Form 206 and the date withdrawn.

(f) Present location of spirits to be returned.

(g) Kind of spirits to be returned.

(h) Number, kind, and serial numbers of the containers to be returned. In case of bottled spirits, the number and size of the bottles in each case.

(i) Total quantity in proof gallons of spirits to be returned.

(j) Reason for return of spirits.

(k) Disposition to be made of returned spirits, i.e., redistillation or return to bonded storage.

The application shall be executed under the penalties of perjury. On approval of the application the assistant regional commissioner shall forward the original and two copies to the internal revenue officer in charge of the plant, and return two copies to the proprietor, who, in turn, shall deliver them to the exporter.

Sec. 252.117 Responsibility for return of spirits.—The principal on the bond under which the spirits were withdrawn without payment of tax shall be responsible for arranging the return of the spirits to the distilled spirits plant authorized to receive them. In case of emergency, the principal on the bond may arrange the return of spirits to bonded premises without an approved application, but such spirits shall be kept separate at the bonded premises and shall not be gauged (if required) or recorded in the records and reports of the proprietor until an approved application for such return has been obtained as provided in sec. 252.115. Such principal or his agent shall present to the appropriate customs official the two copies of the approved application authorizing the return unless the spirits are returned before the Form 206 has been filed with the customs official. The customs officer shall, if he finds that the spirits are eligible for return under sec. 252.115, accept the approved application as authority for the return of the spirits to the distilled spirits plant noted on the application and shall mark each copy of Form 206 "Canceled", note the date thereon, affix a copy of the approved application to each set of the canceled Form 206, return both sets to such principal, and, where the spirits are in his custody, release them for return. The canceled sets of Form 206 with attachments, shall be delivered by such principal or his agent to the internal revenue officer at the distilled spirits plant. When spirits have been returned before the withdrawal forms were filed with customs officials, the two copies of the approved application shall be submitted, by the principal or his agent, to the internal revenue officer who shall cancel and date each copy of Form 206 and affix copies of the approved application thereto.

Subpart F—Withdrawal of Wine Without Payment of Tax for Exportation, Use on Vessels and Aircraft, Transfer to a Foreign-Trade Zone, or Transportation to a Manufacturing Bonded Warehouse

Return of Wines to Bonded Wine Cellar

Sec. 252.130 General.—On application of the proprietor of a bonded wine cellar, wines which have been lawfully withdrawn without payment of tax under the provisions of this subpart for exportation, or for use on vessels and aircraft, or for deposit in a foreign-trade zone, or for deposit in a manufacturing bonded warehouse may, for good cause, be returned to the bonded wine cellar from which withdrawn, for storage pending subsequent removal for lawful purposes: Provided, That such wines are returned before they are exported, laden as supplies upon or used on vessels or aircraft, deposited in a foreign-trade zone, or deposited in a manufacturing bonded warehouse, as the case may be.

Sec. 252.131 Application for return of wines withdrawn without payment of tax.—Where a proprietor of a bonded wine cellar desires to return wines to his bonded wine cellar as provided in sec. 252.130, he shall submit a written application, in duplicate, to the assistant regional commissioner for the region in which his premises are located, for approval of the return of the wines. The application shall show:

(a) Name, address, and registry number of the bonded wine cellar.

(b) Name and address of the principal on the bond under which the wines were withdrawn.

(c) Serial number of the Form 206 and the date withdrawn.

(d) Present location of wines to be returned.

(e) Kind of wines to be returned.

(f) Number, kind, and serial numbers of the containers to be returned. In the case of bottled wines, the number and size of the bottles in each case.

(g) Total quantity in wine gallons for each separate tax class of wines to be returned.

(h) Reason for return of the wines.

The application shall be executed under the penalties of perjury. On approval of the application the assistant regional commissioner shall return both copies to the proprietor, who, in turn, shall deliver them to the exporter.

Sec. 252.132 Responsibility for return of wine.—The principal on the bond under which the wines were withdrawn without payment of tax shall be responsible for arranging the return of the wines to the bonded wine cellar from which they were withdrawn. In case of emergency, the principal on the bond may arrange the return of wines to bonded premises without an approved application, but such wines shall be kept separate at the bonded premises and shall not be recorded in the records and reports of the proprietor until an approved application for such return has been obtained as provided in sec. 252.131. Such principal or his agent shall present to the appropriate customs official the two copies of the approved application authorizing the return unless the wines are returned before the Form 206 has been filed with the customs official. The customs officer shall, if he finds that the wines are eligible for return under sec. 252.130, accept the approved application as authority for the return of the wines to the bonded wine cellar noted on the application and shall mark each copy of Form 206 "Canceled", note the date thereon, affix a copy of the approved application to each of the canceled Forms 206, return both Forms 206 to the principal, and, where the wines are in his custody, release them for return. The canceled Forms 206, with attachments, shall be delivered by such principal or his agent to the proprietor of the bonded wine cellar. When wines have been returned before the Forms 206 were filed with customs officials, the two copies of the approved application shall be submitted, by the principal or his agent, to the proprietor of the bonded wine cellar who shall cancel and date each copy of Form 206 and affix copies of the approved application thereto.

Subpart G—Removal of Beer Without Payment of Tax for Exportation, Use as Supplies on Vessels and Aircraft, or Transfers to a Foreign-Trade Zone

Sec. 252.146 Return of beer.—Beer removed without payment of tax under the provisions of this subpart may be returned to the brewery from which removed if lading of the beer is delayed more than the period provided in sec. 252.262 or where the brewer has other good cause for such return. The brewer shall request the collector of customs to release the beer for return to the brewery and, on such release, the collector of customs shall endorse both copies of the appropriate Form 1689 to show his release of the beer, and return the forms to the brewer. On return of the beer to the brewery, the brewer shall record the quantity in his daily records, mark the two copies of Form 1689 returned by the collector of customs, "Canceled—returned to brewery", and forward one copy to the assistant regional commissioner. The total quantity of beer involved in all export shipments returned during any calendar month shall be reported as a special entry on Form 103.

Subpart Ga—Removal Without Payment of Tax for Exportation or Transfer to a Foreign-Trade Zone of Concentrate Produced From Beer

Sec. 252.150a General.—Concentrate, produced from beer by the removal of water therefrom under the provisions of Subpart BB of Part 245 of this chapter, may, subject to this subpart, be removed from the brewery without payment of tax, for:

(a) Export to a foreign country; or

(b) Transfer to and deposit in a foreign-trade zone for exportation or for storage pending exportation.

All such removals shall be made by the brewer under the provisions of his bond, Form 1566, as extended by consent of surety under the provisions of sec. 245.240 or sec. 245.241.

Sec. 252.150b Notice, Form 3021.—(a) Whenever a brewer intends to remove concentrate without payment of tax from the brewery for exportation from the United States or for transportation to and deposit in a foreign-trade zone, he shall prepare a notice for each such removal on Form 3021, in quadruplicate.

(b) The brewer shall execute on each copy of Form 3021 his agreement to pay on demand from the assistant regional commissioner, an amount equal to the tax which would be due on removal for consumption or sale, including penalties and interest, on all beer used to produce the concentrate removed for the stated purpose and for which proper evidence of exportation or transfer to a foreign-trade zone, as the case may be, has not been furnished as prescribed by this part.

Sec. 252.150c Containers.—Concentrate may not be removed for export, or for transfer to and deposit in a foreign-trade zone, in containers of the kind ordinarily used by brewers for the removal of beer for consumption or sale.

Sec. 252.150d Procedures applicable to concentrate removed without payment of tax.—The provisions of §§ 252.30, 252.35 to 252.38, 252.241, 252.245 to 252.247, 252.250 to 252.253, and 252.262 are applicable to concentrate removed under this subpart for exportation or for transfer to and deposit in a foreign-trade zone to the same extent that such provisions are applicable to beer removed for such purposes.

Sec. 252.150e Marks and brands.—In addition to the marks and brands prescribed in Part 245 of this chapter, each container of concentrate to be removed without payment of tax under this subpart shall be marked as specified below:

(a) "Beer Concentrate For Export—Without Payment of Tax", where the concentrate is to be removed for export from the United States; or

(b) "Beer Concentrate For Export—Without Payment of Tax Via FTZ No." followed by the number of the zone—where the concentrate is removed for deposit in a foreign-trade zone.

All such markings shall be placed on the containers in the same manner as is prescribed by the regulations in Part 245 of this chapter for the affixing of the original marks.

Sec. 252.150f Disposition of forms.—On removal of concentrate from the brewery under this subpart, the brewer shall forward one copy of Form 3021 to the assistant regional commissioner, retain one copy in his files, and deliver the original and remaining copy to the officer to whom the shipment is consigned.

Sec. 252.150g Return of concentrate.—Concentrate removed without payment of tax under this subpart may be returned to the brewery from which removed if lading of the concentrate is delayed for more than the period provided in section 252.262 or where the brewer has other good cause for such return. The brewer shall request the collector of customs to release the concentrate for return to the brewery and, on such release, the collector of customs shall endorse both copies of the appropriate Form 3021 to show his release of the concentrate to the brewery, the brewer shall record the quantity in his daily records, mark the two copies of Form 3021 returned by the collector of customs, "Canceled—Returned to Brewery", and forward one copy to the assistant regional commissioner.

Sec. 252.150h Brewer's report.—The brewer's records shall reflect the quantity of concentrate removed without payment of tax or returned to the brewery under this subpart, and he shall report the quantity of concentrate so removed or returned on Form 103, in accordance with the provisions of Subpart BB of Part 245 of this chapter.

Sec. 252.150i Processing of Form 3021.—The processing of Form 3021 by customs officers shall be in accordance with the procedures prescribed in sections 252.261, 252.264 to 252.267, 252.269 (a) and (c), and 252.290, as the case may be, for the processing of forms prescribed for use for the exportation of beer.

Sec. 252.150j Charges and credits on bond.—The removal of concentrate from the brewery without payment of tax under this subpart shall constitute a charge against the brewer's bond, Form 1566, of an amount equal to the tax which would be due on removal for consumption or sale, including penalties and interest, on all beer used to produce the concentrate which is removed. Conversely, the satisfactory accounting for concentrate so removed shall constitute a credit to the bond.

Sec. 252.150k Loss of concentrate in transit.—When the certifying officer's report on Form 3021 discloses that there has been a loss of concentrate after removal from the brewery and while in transit to the port of export or to the foreign-trade zone, and that such loss was a normal one caused by casualty, leakage, or spillage, the assistant regional commissioner will allow the loss. Where the report discloses that the loss is large or unusual, the assistant regional commissioner shall conduct an investigation of the loss and, if he finds that it occurred by reason of casualty, leakage, or spillage, credit for the loss will be allowed. Where the investigation discloses evidence indicating that the loss in transit resulted from theft or from fraud, the assistant regional commissioner will afford the brewer opportunity to submit a written explanation with respect to the causes of such loss before taking further action. The assistant regional commissioner shall make demand on the brewer for an amount equal to the tax which would be due on removal for consumption or sale, including penalties and interest, on all beer used to produce the quantity of concentrate which is not satisfactorily accounted for.

Subpart H—Withdrawal of Specially Denatured Spirits, Free of Tax, for Exportation or Transfer to a Foreign-Trade Zone

Return of Specially Denatured Spirits to Bonded Premises

Sec. 252.160 General.—On application of the proprietor of a distilled spirits plant, specially denatured spirits, which have been lawfully withdrawn free of tax under the provisions of this part for exportation, or for deposit in a foreign-trade zone, may be returned—

(a) To the bonded premises of any distilled spirits plant authorized to produce distilled spirits, for redistillation; or

(b) To the bonded premises of any distilled spirits plant for storage pending subsequent lawful withdrawal free of tax: Provided, That such specially denatured spirits are returned before they are exported, or deposited in a foreign-trade zone, as the case may be.

Where the specially denatured spirits are to be returned to bonded premises for storage, without redistillation, the proprietor shall also execute a consent of surety on Form 1533 to extend the terms of his bond, Form 2601, to cover the return and storage of such specially denatured spirits.

Sec. 252.161 Application for return of specially denatured spirits.—Where a proprietor of a distilled spirits plant desires to return specially denatured spirits to his plant as provided in sec. 252.160, he shall submit a written application, in quintuplicate, to the assistant regional commissioner for the region in which his plant is located, for approval of the return of the spirits. The application shall show:

(a) Name, address, and plant number of the distilled spirits plant to which the specially denatured spirits are to be returned.

(b) Name, address, and plant number of the distilled spirits plant from which the specially denatured spirits were withdrawn.

(c) Serial number of the Form 206 and the date withdrawn.

(d) Present location of specially denatured spirits to be returned.

(e) Description of the specially denatred spirits—kind, serial numbers of containers, and quantity in wine gallons.

(f) Reason for return of the specially denatured spirits.

(g) Disposition to be made of returned specially denatured spirits, i.e., redistillation or return to bonded premises for storage.

The application shall be executed under the penalties of perjury. On approval of the application, the assistant regional commissioner shall forward the original and two copies to the internal revenue officer in charge of the plant, and return two copies to the proprietor, who, in turn, shall deliver them to the exporter.

Sec. 252.162 Responsibility for return of specially denatured spirits.—The principal on the bond under which the specially denatured spirits were withdrawn free of tax shall be responsible for arranging the return of such spirits to the distilled spirits plants authorized to receive them. In case of emergency, the principal on the bond may arrange the return of the specially denatured spirits to bonded premises without an approved application, but such spirits shall be kept separate at the bonded premises and shall not be gauged or recorded in the records and reports of the proprietor until an approved application for such return has been obtained. Such principal or his agent shall present to the appropriate customs official the two copies of the approved application authorizing the return unless the specially denatured spirits are returned before the Form 206 has been filed with the customs officials. The customs officer shall, if he finds that the specially denatured spirits are eligible for return under sec. 252.160, accept the approved application as authority for the return of the specially denatured spirits to the distilled spirits plant noted on the application and shall mark each copy of Form 206 "Canceled", note the date thereon, affix a copy of the approved application to each set of the canceled Forms 206, return both sets to the principal, and, where the spirits are in his custody, release them for return. The canceled sets of Form 206, with attachments, shall be delivered by the principal or his agent to the internal revenue officer at the distilled spirits plant. When specially denatured spirits have been returned before the Form 206 was filed with customs officials, the two copies of the approved application together with the two sets of Form 206 shall be submitted, by the principal or his agent, to the internal revenue officer who shall cancel and date each copy of Form 206 and affix copies of the approved application thereto.

Subpart I—Exportation of Distilled Spirits Bottled or Packaged, or Restamped and Marked, Especially for Export With Benefit of Drawback

Evidence of Tax Payment of Imported Spirits and Wines

Sec. 252.175 Customs certification on Form 1583.—Where distilled spirits bottled or packaged, or restamped and marked, especially for export with benefit of drawback are manufactured (rectified) in the United States with the use of imported spirits or wines, the collector of customs at the port where the entry or withdrawal for consumption was made shall, on application in writing by the rectifier, execute a certificate on Form 1583, in triplicate, showing that the internal revenue tax has been collected on the imported spirits or wines described in the application. The collector will forward the original of Form 1583 to the assistant regional commissioner designated in the application, forward one copy to the rectifier, and retain one copy for his files.

Sec. 252.176 Application for certificate.—The rectifier shall set forth in his application for the issuance of the certificate, Form 1583, the address of the assistant regional commissioner to whom the form is to be sent, together with sufficient information to enable the collector of customs to identify the importation, such as:

(a) The port of entry,
(b) The entry number,
(c) The name of the importing vessel or other carrier,
(d) The date of importation,
(e) The name of the importer,
(f) The marks and numbers of packages, and
(g) A description of the spirits or wines.

Subpart J—Exportation, With Benefit of Drawback, of Distilled Spirits in Casks or Packages Filled in Internal Revenue Bond

Sec. 252.201 General.—On the exportation, or deposit in a foreign-trade zone for exportation or for storage pending exportation, of distilled spirits in casks or packages filled in internal revenue bond and containing not less than 20 wine gallons each, on which all taxes have been paid or determined, drawback of the internal revenue tax paid or determined may be allowed, subject to compliance with the provisions of this subpart.

Sec. 252.202 Application, Form 1629.—Any person desiring to claim drawback under the provisions of sec. 252.201, shall make application on Form 1629, in triplicate. Where the spirits are to be exported, all copies of the form shall be presented to the collector of customs for the port from which the exportation is to be made in sufficient time for inspection, gauge, and supervision of lading to be made by customs officers. Where the spirits are to be deposited in a foreign-trade zone for exportation or for storage pending exportation, all copies of the form shall be presented to the customs officer in charge of the zone.

Sec. 252.203 Customs procedure.—(a) At port of export.—On receipt of Form 1629, the collector of customs shall deliver all copies to a customs officer. The customs officer shall inspect and gauge the packages, prepare a gauge thereof on Form 696, in triplicate, and completely obliterate the stamps affixed thereto. He shall then cause each package to be marked "Export—Drawback Claimed," and permit the lading of the packages aboard the exporting conveyance. The customs officer shall then execute his certificate on all copies of Form 1629, forward one copy of Form 1629 and Form 696 to the exporter, and return the original and remaining copy of each form to the collector of customs. On clearance of the exporting conveyance, the collector of customs shall execute his certificate on both copies of Form 1629, forward the originals of Form 1629 and 696 to the assistant regional commissioner of the region in which the exporter is located and retain the remaining copy of each form for his files.

(b) At foreign-trade zone.—On receipt of Form 1629, the customs officer in charge of the foreign-trade zone shall inspect and gauge the packages, prepare a gauge thereof on Form 696, in triplicate, and completely obliterate the stamps affixed thereto. He shall then cause each package to be marked "Export—Drawback Claimed—Via F.T.Z. No." followed by the number of the zone. The customs officer shall then execute his certificate on all copies of Form 1629, forward one copy of Form 1629 and Form 696 to the exporter, and forward the originals of Form 1629 and Form 696 to the assistant regional commissioner of the region in which the exporter is located, and shall retain one copy of each form for his own record.

Subpart M—Shipment or Delivery for Export

Consignment

Sec. 252.241 Shipment for export, or for use on vessels.—All liquors and specially denatured spirits intended for export or liquors intended for use as supplies on vessels shall be consigned to the collector of customs at the port of exportation, or port of lading for supplies on vessels, except that when the shipment is for export to a contiguous foreign territory it shall be consigned to the foreign consignee at destination in care of the collector of customs or deputy collector of customs at the port of export.

Sec. 252.242 Shipment for use on aircraft.—(a) Distilled spirits and wine.—All distilled spirits and wines intended for use on aircraft shall be consigned to the airline at the airport from which the aircraft will depart in international travel, in care of the collector of customs. On receipt of the distilled spirits or wines they shall be stored at the airport under customs custody until laden on aircraft.

(b) Beer. Beer intended for use on aircraft shall be consigned to the collector of customs at the port of lading.

Sec. 252.244 Shipment to manufacturing bonded warehouse.—Distilled spirits and wines withdrawn for shipment to a manufacturing bonded warehouse shall be consigned to the proprietor of such warehouse in care of the customs officer in charge of the warehouse.

Sec. 252.245 Shipment to foreign-trade zone.—Where distilled spirits (including specially denatured spirits), wines, or beer, are transferred to a foreign-trade zone for exportation or for storage pending exportation, the shipment shall be consigned to the Zone Operator in care of the customs officer in charge of the zone.

Sec. 252.247 Change in consignee.—Where a change of consignee is desired after the liquors (including specially denatured spirits) have been removed from the shipping premises, the exporter shall notify the appropriate officer to whom the shipment is required by secs. 252.241-252.245 to be consigned or in whose care it is required to be shipped, and forward a copy of such notification to the appropriate assistant regional commissioner. Such notice shall identify the withdrawal or claim form, as the case may be, covering the shipment.

Subpart N—Proceedings at Ports of Export

Sec. 252.261 Notice to collector of customs.—On arrival at the port of exportation, of distilled spirits (including specially denatured spirits), wines, or beer, withdrawn or shipped for exportation or for use on vessels or aircraft, the exporter or his agent shall immediately notify the collector of the port. At the same time, or prior thereto, the exporter or his agent shall file with the collector two copies of the application, claim, or notice, Form 206, 1582, 1582-A, 1582-B, or 1689, as the case may be, covering the shipment: Provided, That where the shipment is for direct exportation, such forms shall be filed at least six hours prior to lading.

Sec. 252.262 Delay in lading at port.—If, on arrival of a shipment withdrawn for export without payment of tax or free of tax, the exporting vessel is not prepared to receive the shipment, the collector of customs may permit such shipment to remain in possession of a carrier for period not exceeding 30 days. Storage elsewhere for a like cause, and not exceeding the same period, may be approved by the collector of customs. In the event of further delay, the facts shall be reported to the assistant regional commissioner of the region from which the shipment was made, who shall issue appropriate instructions concerning the disposition of the shipment.

Sec. 252.263 Duties of customs officer to be performed by an internal revenue officer.—Where authorized by the collector of customs at the interior port of entry in the case of paragraph (a) of this section, or at the port in which is located the manufacturing bonded warehouse in the case of paragraph (b) of this section, the internal revenue officer at a distilled spirits plant shall perform the duties required, by this subpart, to be performed by a customs officer, in the following instances only:

(a) Where distilled spirits withdrawn without payment of tax, or where distilled spirits bottled or packaged for export with benefit of drawback, are laden at an interior port for exportation through another port; and

(b) Where distilled spirits withdrawn without payment of tax are to be transferred for deposit in a manufacturing bonded warehouse which is contiguous to the distilled spirits plant.

Sec. 252.264 Lading for exportation.—On receipt of the notification required in sec. 252.261, the collector of customs shall deliver both copies of the application, claim, or notice, Form 206, 1582, 1582-A, 1582-B, or 1689, as the case may be, covering the shipment, together with any forms which may be attached thereto, to a customs officer for inspection and supervision of lading. Such shipment shall be subject to the same requirements for inspection and supervision of lading at the port of exportation as may be required by Customs Regulations (19 CFR Ch. I) in the case of similar shipments of imported merchandise to be exported in customs bond. When an inspection of the shipment is made before it is laden on board the exporting carrier and such inspection discloses any discrepancy, the customs officer shall make note of the nature and extent of the discrepancy on each copy of the application, claim, or notice, Form 206, 1582, 1582-A, 1582-B, or 1689, as the case may be, and where the discrepancy involves one or more packages of distilled spirits, he shall make a gauge of each such package on Form 696.

Sec. 252.265 Evidence of fraud.—If the customs inspection discloses evidence of fraud, the customs officer shall detain the merchandise and notify the collector of customs who shall report the facts forthwith to the assistant regional commissioner within whose region the port of export is located. The assistant regional commissioner shall make investigation and take such action as the facts may warrant. Where the detained merchandise has been withdrawn for transfer and deposit in a manufacturing bonded warehouse, the merchandise shall be deemed not to have been deposited in said warehouse, and the designated officer shall hold in abeyance the progressing of Form 206 until advised by the collector of customs that the detained merchandise may be entered for deposit. Where the detained merchandise has been withdrawn or entered for deposit in a foreign-trade zone, it shall be deemed to not have been deposited in the zone and the customs officer shall hold in abeyance the processing of the application, notice, or claim, Form 206, 1582, 1582-A, 1582-B, or 1689, as the case may be, and Zone Form D, until advised by the collector of customs that the detained merchandise may be entered for deposit.

Sec. 252.266 Release of detained merchandise.—When any merchandise has been detained under the provisions of sec. 252.265, the collector of customs shall not release such merchandise until he is advised so to do by the assistant regional commissioner.

Sec. 252.267 Exportation from interior port.—Where a shipment made under this part is to be exported to a contiguous foreign country through a frontier port, and it is desired to avoid the delay of customs inspection at such port, the shipment may be entered for exportation at an interior customs port. The inspection and supervision of lading, and the affixing of customs seals, shall be done by a customs officer in accordance with the provisions of Customs Regulations (19 CFR Ch. I): Provided, That, where, under the provisions of sec. 252.263, an internal revenue officer has been authorized to perform such duties, the internal revenue officer shall perform the duties of the customs officer. On completion of the lading, the designated officer shall affix the seals, execute the certificate of lading on both copies of the application, notice, or claim, Form 206, 1582, 1582-A, 1582-B, or 1689, as the case may be, and forward them, with attachments (if any), to the collector of customs at the interior port of entry. The collector shall forward both copies of the form, with attachments (if any), to the customs officer at the frontier port. When the customs officer at the frontier port is satisfied that the shipment as described on the appropriate form has been exported, he shall execute his certificate on both copies of the form and return them with attachments (if any), to the collector of customs at the interior port of entry.

Sec. 252.268 Receipt for liquors for use on vessels or aircraft.—Where liquors are withdrawn or removed for use on vessels or aircraft, the exporter shall procure and forward to the assistant regional commissioner a receipt executed under the penalties of perjury by the master or other authorized officer of the vessel, steamship company, or airline, as the case may be. The receipt shall give the number of containers, the serial numbers of the containers (if any), and the quantity received, and shall show that the liquors are in customs custody and have been or will be laden on board the vessel or aircraft, that they will be lawfully used on board the vessel or aircraft, and that no portion of the shipment has been or will be unladen in the United States or any of its territories or possessions. A receipt is not required, in the case of any shipment for use on vessels, when the liquors are laden on vessels of war, or, in cases other than supplies for vessels employed in the fisheries, where the amount of the tax on the liquors does not exceed $200. In the case of supplies for vessels employed in the fisheries, compliance with the provisions of sec. 252.22 is also required.

Sec. 252.269 Certification by collector of customs.—(a) Exportation.—When the collector of customs is satisfied that merchandise described on the application, notice, or claim, Form 206, 1582, 1582-A, 1582-B, or 1689, as the case may be, has been laden and cleared for export, he shall execute his certificate of lading and clearance on both copies of the form.

(b) Distilled spirits and wines as supplies on vessels and aircraft.—When the collector of customs is satisfied that the distilled spirits and wines described on Form 206, 1582, or 1582-A, as the case may be, have been duly laden for use on vessels and aircraft, and that proper accounting for such spirits or wines has been submitted to him as required by this part, he shall execute his certificate of lading for use on both copies of the form.

(c) Disposition of forms.—After executing his certificate, the collector of customs shall forward the original of Form 206, 1582, 1582-A, 1582-B, or 1689, as the case may be, with attachments (if any), to the assistant regional commissioner designated on the form, and retain the remaining copy, with any attached forms, for his files.

Lading for Use on Aircraft

Sec. 252.280 Distilled spirits and wines.—When an airline desires to withdraw distilled spirits or wines from its stock being held at the airport under customs custody, for use on a particular aircraft, a requisition in triplicate shall be prepared for presentation to the customs officer. The requisition shall show the flight number, the registry number of the aircraft on which the distilled spirits or wines are to be laden, the country for which the aircraft is to be cleared, the date of departure of the aircraft, and the brand, kind, and quantity of distilled spirits or wines. Where the distilled spirits or wines are contained in kits which have been previously prepared while under customs custody, the kit number shall also be shown on the requisition. Where the kits are not prepared and the distilled spirits or wines are withdrawn for direct lading on aircraft, the requisition shall be serially numbered in lieu of the insertion of the kit number. When the distilled spirits or wines are withdrawn and laden aboard the aircraft, the lading shall be verified by the customs officer by an appropriate stamp or notation on the requisition. One copy of the requisition shall be retained by the customs officer who certifies to the lading for attachment to the outgoing manifest. The other two copies shall be delivered to the airline which shall retain both copies until the return of the flight. In case any of the distilled spirits or wines are removed from the aircraft on its return, they shall be returned to customs custody, appropriate notation made on both copies of the requisition retained by the airline and one copy shall be delivered to the customs officer for attachment to the incoming manifest. The remaining copy shall be retained by the airline.

Sec. 252.281 Certificate of use for distilled spirits and wines.—When all of the distilled spirits or wines represented by a single application, notice, or claim, Form 206, 1582, or 1582-A, as the case may be, have been withdrawn from customs custody and laden and used on aircraft, the airline shall prepare a certificate of use on which are itemized all the requisitions pertaining to such distilled spirits or wines. The certificate shall be executed under the penalties of perjury by an officer of the airline and shall show the name of the exporter, the entry number, the brand and kind of distilled spirits or wines, and the number of bottles to be accounted for; and, as to each requisition, the requisition (or kit) number, the date laden, the registry number of the aircraft, the country for which the aircraft was cleared, and the number of bottles used. When completed, the certificate shall be presented to the customs officer at the airport who shall then execute his certificate on both copies of the appropriate application, notice, or claim, Form 206, 1582, or 1582-A, as the case may be, noting thereon any exception, such as shortages or breakage. The customs officer shall then attach the certificate of use to the copy of the appropriate form and forward both copies of the form to the collector of customs.

Sec. 252.282 Beer.—When beer has been laden on board the aircraft for use as supplies, the customs officer shall execute his certificate on both copies of the Form 1582-B or Form 1689, as the case may be, forward the original to the assistant regional commissioner designated on the form, and retain the copy for his files.

Receipt in Manufacturing Bonded Warehouse

Sec. 252.285 Receipt in manufacturing bonded warehouse.—On receipt of the distilled spirits or wines and the related Form 206 (and Form 2630, if any), the customs officer in charge of the manufacturing bonded warehouse shall make such inspection as is necessary to establish to his satisfaction that the shipment corresponds with the description thereof on Form 206 (and Form 2630, if any), and shall make a report of his gauge on Form 696, in duplicate: Provided, That where, under the provisions of sec. 252.263, an internal revenue officer has been authorized to perform the duties of the customs officer, the internal revenue officer shall make note of such discrepancy on each copy of Form 206. Where the officer is satisfied that the shipment corresponds with the description on Form 206 (and Form 2630, if any), he shall execute his certificate of deposit on both copies of Form 206, and forward the original of Forms 206 and 696, and a copy of Form 2630 (if any), to the assistant regional commissioner. He shall retain the remaining copies for his files.

Receipt in Foreign-Trade Zone

Sec. 252.290 Receipt in foreign-trade zone.—On receipt at the zone, the shipment shall be inspected by the customs officer in charge of the zone who shall determine if the shipment agrees with the description thereof on the application, notice, or claim, Form 206, 1582, 1582-A, 1582-B, or 1689, as the case may be. Where, with respect to distilled spirits or wines, the customs officer deems it necessary to make a regauge of such spirits or wines, he shall make such regauge on Form 696, in duplicate. The customs officer shall note on both copies of the Form 206, 1582, 1582-A, 1582-B, or 1689, as the case may be, any deficiency in quantity or discrepancy between the merchandise inspected or gauged and that described in the form. Where the inspection or gauge discloses no loss, or where a loss is disclosed by such inspection or gauge and there is no evidence to indicate fraud, the officer shall execute his certificate on both copies of the form covering the deposit, and forward to the assistant regional commissioner the following:

(a) Original of the deposit form;
(b) Original of Form 696, if any; and
(c) Copy of Form 2630, if any.

The remaining copy of the deposit form, and of any other form, shall be retained by the customs officer for his files.

LABELING REQUIREMENTS FOR WINE

* * * * * * *

Sec. 4.37 Net contents.—(a) The net contents of wine for which a standard of fill is prescribed in secs. 4.70–4.72 shall be stated in the same manner and form in which such standard of fill is set forth in said article.

(b) The net contents of wine for which no standard of fill is prescribed in secs. 4.70–4.72 shall be stated as follows, except that net contents may be expressed in the metric system of measure for containers of 1/2 liter, 1 liter, and 1-1/2 liter:

(1) If 1 pint, 1 quart, or 1 gallon, the net contents shall be stated.

(2) If less than a pint, the net contents shall be stated in fractions of a pint, or in fluid ounces.

(3) If more than a pint, but less than a quart, the net contents shall be stated in fractions of a quart, or in pints and fluid ounces.

(4) If more than a quart, but less than a gallon, the net contents shall be stated in fractions of a gallon, or in quarts, pints, and fluid ounces.

(5) If more than a gallon, the net contents shall be stated in gallons and fractions thereof.

(c) All fractions shall be expressed in their lowest denomination.

(d) The net contents need not be stated on any label if the net contents are displayed by having the same blown, etched, sand-blasted, marked by underglaze coloring, or otherwise permanently marked by any method approved by the Director, in the sides, front, or back of the bottle, in letters and figures in such manner as to be plainly legible under ordinary circumstances, and such statement is not obscured in any manner in whole or in part.

(e) Statement of net contents shall indicate exactly the volume of wine within the container, except the following tolerances shall be allowed:

(1) Discrepancies due exclusively to errors in measuring which occur in filling conducted in compliance with good commercial practice.

(2) Discrepancies due exclusively to differences in the capacities of containers, resulting solely from unavoidable difficulties in manufacturing such containers so as to be of uniform capacity: Provided, That no greater tolerance shall be allowed in case of containers which, because of their design, cannot be made of aporoximately uniform capacity than is allowed in case of containers which can be manufactured so as to be of approximately uniform capacity.

(3) Discrepancies in measure due to differences in atmosphere conditions in various places and which unavoidably result from the ordinary and customary exposure of alcoholic beverages in containers to evaporation. The reasonableness of discrepancies under this paragraph shall be determined on the facts in each case.

(f) Unreasonable shortages in certain of the containers in any shipment shall not be compensated by overages in other containers in the same shipment.

Requirements for Withdrawal of Wine from Customs Custody

Sec. 4.40 Label approval and release.—(a) Application.—On or after December 15, 1936, imported wine shall not be released from customs custody for consumption, except pursuant to procedure and forms prescribed in this section.

(b) Certificate of Label Approval.—No imported wine shall be released from customs custody unless there shall have been deposited with the appropriate customs officer at the port of entry the original or a photostatic copy of a "Certificate of Label Approval under the Federal Alcohol Administration Act" (Form 1649). Such certificate shall be issued by the Director upon application made on the form designated "Application for Certificate of Label Approval under the Federal Alcohol Administration Act" (Form 1647), properly filled out and certified to by the importer or transferee in bond.

(c) Release.—If the original or photostatic copy of the "Certificate of Label Approval under the Federal Alcohol Administration Act" (Form 1649) bears the signature of the Director, then the brand or lot of imported wine bearing labels identical with those shown thereon may be released from customs custody.

Sec. 4.45 Certificates of origin and identity.—Imported wine shall not be released from customs custody for consumption unless the invoice is accompanied by a certificate of origin issued by a duly authorized official of the appropriate foreign government, if the issuance of such certificates with respect to such wine has been authorized by the foreign government concerned, certifying as to the identity of the wine and that the wine has been produced in compliance with the laws of the respective foreign government regulating the production of such wine for home consumption.

Standards of Fill for Wine

Sec. 4.70 Application.—(a) Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, no person engaged in business as a producer, rectifier, blender, importer, or wholesaler of wine, directly or indirectly or through an affiliate, shall sell or ship or deliver for sale or shipment, or otherwise introduce in interstate or foreign commerce, or receive therein, or remove from customs custody, any wine unless such wine is bottled or packed in the standard wine containers herein prescribed.

(b) Sections 4.70–4.72 shall not apply (1) to sake, or (2) to wine packed in containers of 5 gallons or more, or (3) to imported wine in the original containers in which entered in customs custody, or (4) to wine domestically bottled or packed, either in or out of customs custody, prior to the effective date of this article, if the container, or the label on the container, bears a conspicuous statement of the net contents thereof, and if the actual capacity of the container is not substantially less than the apparent capacity upon visual examination under ordinary conditions of purchase or use.

Sec. 4.71 Standard wine containers.—(a) A standard wine container shall be made, formed and filled to meet the following specifications:

(1) Design.—It shall be so made and formed as not to mislead the purchaser. Wine containers shall be held (irrespective of the correctness of the net contents specified on the label) to be so made and formed as to mislead the purchaser if the actual capacity is substantially less than the apparent capacity upon visual examination under ordinary conditions of purchase or use; and

(2) Fill.—It shall be so filled as to contain the quantity of wine specified in one of the standards of fill prescribed in sec. 4.72; and

(3) Headspace.—It shall be so made and filled as to have a headspace not in excess of 6 percent of its total capacity after closure of the net contents of the container is 2/5 pint or more, and a headspace not in excess of 10 percent of such capacity in the case of all other containers.

Sec. 4.72 Standards of fill.—(a) The standards of fill for wine shall be the following, subject to the tolerances hereinafter allowed:

(1) For all wines:

4.9 gallons
3 gallons
1 gallon
4/5 gallon
1/2 gallon
2/5 gallon
1 quart
4/5 quart
1 pint
4/5 pint
1/2 pint
2/5 pint
4 ounces
3 ounces
2 ounces

(2) In addition, for aperitif wines only:

15/16 quart

Provided, however, That the standards of fill for the 4/5 and 2/5 gallon shall be applicable only to wine contained in bottles of the traditional bordeaux or burgundy shapes, and the 1/2 pint standard shall be applicable only to wine in bottles of traditional chianti or round shapes.

(b) The tolerances in fill shall be the same as are allowed by sec. 4.37 in respect to statement of net contents upon labels.

General Provisions

Sec. 4.80 Exports.—The regulations in this part shall not apply to wine exported in bond.

Requirements for Withdrawal from Customs Custody of Bottled Imported Distilled Spirits

Sec. 5.45 Label approval and release.—(a) On or after August 15, 1936, bottled distilled spirits shall not be released from customs custody for consumption, except pursuant to procedure and form prescribed by this article.

(b) Certificate of label approval.—No bottled distilled spirits shall be released from customs custody unless there shall have been deposited with the appropriate customs officer at the port of entry the original or a photostatic copy of a "Certificate of Label Approval under the Federal Alcohol Administration Act" (Form 1649). Such certificate shall be issued by the Director upon application made on the form designated "Application for Certificate of Label Approval under the Federal Alcohol Administration Act" (Form 1647), properly filled out and certified to by the importer or transferee in bond.

(c) Release.—If the original or photostatic copy of the "Certificate of Label Approval under the Federal Alcohol Administration Act" (Form 1649) bears the signature of the Director, then the brand or lot of bottled distilled spirits bearing labels identical with those shown thereon may be released from customs custody.

(d) Relabeling.—Distilled spirits in customs custody which are not labeled in conformity with certificates of label approval issued by the Director, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division, must be relabeled prior to release, under the supervision and direction of the customs officers of the port at which such distilled spirits are located.

Sec. 5.46 Certificates of origin and age.—(a) Scotch, Irish, and Canadian whiskies, in bottles, whether blended or unblended, imported on or after August 15, 1936, shall not be released from customs custody for consumption unless the invoice is accompanied by a certificate of origin issued by a duly authorized official of the British, Irish, or Canadian Governments, certifying (1) that the particular distilled spirits are Scotch, Irish, or Canadian whisky, as the case may be, (2) that the distilled spirits have been manufactured in compliance with the laws of the respective foreign governments regulating the manufacture of the whisky for home consumption, and (3) that the product conforms to the requirements of the Immature Spirits Act of such foreign government for spirits intended for home consumption.

(b) If the label of any Scotch, Irish, or Canadian whisky, whether blended or unblended, imported in bottles on or after August 15, 1936, contains any statement of age for Scotch or Irish whisky in excess of 3 years, or Canadian whisky in excess of 2 years, the whisky shall not be released from customs custody unless accompanied by a certificate issued by a duly authorized official of the appropriate foreign government certifying that none of the distilled spirits in the bottle are of an age less than that stated on the label. The age certified shall be the period during which, after distillation and before bottling, the distilled spirits have been kept in oak containers.

(c) If the label of any rum, brandy, or Cognac, imported in bottles on or after August 15, 1936, contains any statement of age, the rum, brandy, or Cognac shall not be released from customs custody unless accompanied by a certificate issued by a duly authorized official of the Government of the foreign country in which the rum, brandy, or Cognac was produced, certifying that none of the distilled spirits in the product are of an age less than that stated on the label. The age certified shall be the period during which, after distillation and before bottling, the distilled spirits have been kept in oak containers. Cognac in bottles, imported on or after August 15, 1936, shall not be released from customs custody unless the invoice is accompanied by a certificate issued by a duly authorized official of the appropriate foreign government, certifying that the product is grape brandy distilled in the Cognac region of France and entitled to be designated as "Cognac" by the laws and regulations of the French Government.

In case of straight whisky: (1) The class and type (such as straight whisky, straight rye whisky, straight bourbon whisky, etc.) thereof; (2) the American proof at which distilled; (3) that no neutral spirits or other whisky has been added as a part thereof or included therein, whether or not for the purpose of replacing outage; (4) the age of the whisky; and (5) the type of container in which such age was acquired (whether new or reused, also whether charred or uncharred);

In case of whisky and the distinctive types of whisky: (1) The class and type (such as whisky, rye whisky, bourbon whisky, etc.); (2) the American proof at which distilled; (3) that no neutral spirits has been added as a part thereof or included therein, whether or not for the purpose of replacing outage; (4) the age of the whisky; and (5) the type of container in which such age was acquired (whether new or reused, also whether charred or uncharred);

In case of blended whisky: (1) The class and type (such as blended whisky, blended rye whisky, blended bourbon whisky, etc.); (2) the percentage of straight whisky, or any distinctive type thereof, used in the blend; (3) the American proof at which the straight whisky was distilled; (4) the percentage of other whisky, if any, in the blend; (5) the percentage of neutral spirits, if any, in the blend, and the name of the commodity from which distilled; (6) the age of the straight whisky and the age of the other whisky, if any, in the blend; and (7) the type of containers in which such age or ages were acquired (whether new or reused, also whether charred or uncharred).

(e) Distilled spirits (other than Scotch, Irish and Canadian whiskies, and Cognac) in bottles shall not be released from customs custody for consumption unless the invoice is accompanied by a certificate of origin issued by a duly authorized official of the appropriate foreign government, if the issuance of such certificates with respect to such distilled spirits has been authorized by the foreign government concerned, certifying as to the identity of the distilled spirits and that the distilled spirits have been manufactured in compliance with the laws of the respective foreign government regulating the manufacture of such distilled spirits for home consumption.

' Standards of Fill for Bottled Distilled Spirits

Sec. 5.70 Application of this article.—No person engaged in business as a distiller, rectifier, importer, wholesaler, or warehouseman and bottler, directly or indirectly, or through an affiliate, shall sell or ship or deliver for sale or shipment, or otherwise introduce in interstate or foreign commerce, or receive therein or remove from customs custody any distilled spirits in bottles unless such distilled spirits are bottled in conformity with this article. Distilled spirits domestically bottled prior to January 1, 1935, and imported distilled spirits entered in customs bond in bottles prior to March 1, 1935, shall be regarded as being in conformity with this article (1) if the bottle, or the label on the bottle, contains a conspicuous statement of the net contents thereof, and (2) if the actual capacity of the bottle is not substantially less than the capacity it appears to have upon visual examination under ordinary conditions of purchase or use.

Sec. 5.71 Misbranding.—(a) Distilled spirits shall be deemed to be misbranded—

(1) If the bottle is not a standard liquor bottle as prescribed by section 72 for such distilled spirits.

(2) If the amount of the distilled spirits contained in the bottle does not conform to one of the standards of fill in effect therefor under section 73.

(3) If the bottle is in an individual carton or other container and the carton or other container is so made or formed as to mislead purchasers as to the size of the bottle.

Sec. 5.72 Standard liquor bottles.—(a) General.—A standard liquor bottle shall be one so made, formed, and filled as not to mislead the purchaser.

(b) Size.—A liquor bottle shall be held to be so filled as to mislead the purchaser if the bottle holds distilled spirits in an amount other than one of the standards of fill in effect therefor under section 73.

(c) Headspace.—A liquor bottle of a capacity of one-half pint or more shall be held to be so filled as to mislead the purchaser if it has a headspace in excess of 8 percent of the total capacity of the bottle after closure.

(d) Design.—A liquor bottle shall be held (irrespective of the correctness of the net contents specified on the label) to be so made and formed as to mislead the purchaser, if its actual capacity is substantially less than the capacity it appears to have upon visual examination under ordinary conditions of purchase or use.

Sec. 5.73 Standards of fill.—(a) The standards of fill for distilled spirits in liquor bottles shall be the following, subject to the tolerances hereinafter allowed:

(1) For all distilled spirits, whether domestically manufactured, domestically bottled, or imported:

1 gallon.
1/2 gallon.
1 quart.
4/5 quart.
1 pint.
1/2 pint.
1/8 pint.
1/10 pint.

(2) In addition, for brandy, whether domestically manufactured, domestically bottled, or imported:

1/16 pint.

(3) In addition, for Scotch and Irish whisky and Scotch and Irish type whisky, and for brandy and rum:

4/5 pint.

(CAUTION: Sec. 5.73(a)(3) is amended, effective April 3, 1961, by deleting the words "and Scotch and Irish type whisky."—T.D. 6288, published April 3, 1958)

(b) The following tolerances shall be allowed:

(1) Discrepancies due exclusively to errors in measuring which occur in filling conducted in compliance with good commercial practice.

(2) Discrepancies due exclusively to differences in the capacity of bottles, resulting solely from unavoidable difficulties in manufacturing such bottles so as to be of uniform capacity: Provided, That no greater tolerance shall be allowed in case of bottles which, because of their design, cannot be made of approximately uniform capacity than is allowed in case of bottles which can be manufactured so as to be of approximately uniform capacity.

(3) Discrepancies in measure due exclusively to differences in atmospheric conditions in various places and which unavoidably result from the ordinary and customary exposure of alcoholic beverages in bottles to evaporation. The reasonableness of discrepancies under this paragraph shall be determined on the facts in each case.

(c) Unreasonable shortages in certain of the bottles in any shipment shall not be compensated by overages in other bottles in the same shipment.

General Provisions

Sec. 5.80 Exports.—These regulations shall not apply to distilled spirits for export.

EXCERPTS FROM THE REGULATIONS IN 27 CFR PART 7, "LABELING AND ADVERTISING OF MALT BEVERAGE."

* * * * * * *

Requirements for Withdrawal of Imported Malt Beverages from Customs Custody

Sec. 7.30 Application.—Sections 7.30 and 7.31 shall apply to withdrawals of malt beverages from customs custody only in the event that the laws or regulations of the State in which such malt beverages are withdrawn for consumption require that all malt beverages sold or otherwise disposed of in such State be labeled in conformity with the requirements of sections 7.20–7.29.

Sec. 7.31 Label approval and release.—(a) Application.—On or after December 15, 1936, imported malt beverages shall not be released from customs custody for consumption, except pursuant to the procedure and forms prescribed by sections 7.30 and 7.31.

(b) Certificate of label approval.—No imported malt beverages shall be released from customs custody unless there shall have been deposited with the appropriate customs officer at the port of entry the original or a photostatic copy of a "Certificate of Label Approval under the Federal Alcohol Administration Act" (Form 1649). Such certificate shall be issued by the Director upon application made on the form designated "Application for Certificate of Label Approval under the Federal Alcohol Administration Act" (Form 1647), properly filled out and certified to by the importer or transferee in bond.

(c) Release.—If the original or photostatic copy of the "Certificate of Label Approval under the Federal Alcohol Administration Act" (Form 1649) bears the signature of the Director, then the brand or lot of imported malt beverages bearing labels identical with those shown thereon may be released from customs custody.

(d) Relabeling.—Imported malt beverages in customs custody, which are not labeled in conformity with certificates of label approval issued by the Director, Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division, must be relabeled, prior to release, under the supervision and direction of the customs officers of the port at which such malt beverages are located.

General Provisions

Sec. 7.60 Exports.—This part shall not apply to malt beverages exported in bond.

XI. FOODS, DRUGS, AND COSMETICS: INSECTICIDES, FUNGICIDES, AND RODENTICIDES; DANGEROUS CAUSTIC OR CORROSIVE SUBSTANCES

SECTION 801 OF THE FEDERAL FOOD, DRUG, AND COSMETIC ACT AND REGULATIONS THEREUNDER

United States Code, title 21, section 381 (sec. 801 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, as amended):

Sec. 381. Imports and exports.—(a) Imports; list of registered foreign establishments; samples from unregistered foreign establishments; examination and refusal of admission. The Secretary of the Treasury shall deliver to the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare, upon his request, samples of food, drugs, devices, and cosmetics which are being imported or offered for import into the United States, giving notice thereof to the owner or consignee, who may appear before the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare and have the right to introduce testimony. The Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare shall furnish to the Secretary of the Treasury a list of establishments registered pursuant to section 360(i) of this title and shall request that if any drugs manufactured, prepared, propagated, compounded, or processed in an establishment not so registered are imported or offered for import into the United States, samples of such drugs to be delivered to the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare, with notice of such delivery to the owner or consignee, who may appear before the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare and have the right to introduce testimony. If it appears from the examination of such samples or otherwise that (1) such article has been manufactured, processed, or packed under insanitary conditions, or (2) such article is forbidden or restricted in sale in the country in which it was produced or from which it was exported, or (3) such article is adulterated, misbranded, or in violation of section 355 of this title, then such article shall be refused admission, except as provided in subsection (b) of this section. The Secretary of the Treasury shall cause the destruction of any such article refused admission unless such article is exported, under regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury, within ninety days of the date of notice of such refusal or within such additional time as may be permitted pursuant to such regulations. This subsection shall not be construed to prohibit the admission of narcotic drugs the importation of which is permitted under section 173 of this title.

(b) Same; disposition of refused articles.—Pending decision as to the admission of an article being imported or offered for import, the Secretary of the Treasury may authorize delivery of such article to the owner or consignee upon the execution by him of a good and sufficient bond providing for the payment of such liquidated damages in the event of default as may be required pursuant to regulations of the Secretary of the Treasury. If it appears to the Secretary that an article included within the provisions of clause (3) of subsection (a) of this section can, by relabeling or other action, be brought into compliance with this chapter or rendered other than a food, drug, device, or cosmetic, final determination as to admission of such article may be deferred and, upon filing of timely written application by the owner or consignee and the execution by him of a bond as provided in the preceding provisions of this subsection, the Secretary may, in accordance with regulations, authorize the applicant to perform such relabeling or other action specified in such authorization (including destruction or export of rejected articles or portions thereof, as may be specified in the Secretary's authorization). All such relabeling or other action pursuant to such authorization shall in accordance with regulations be under the supervision of an officer or employee of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare designated by the Secretary, or an officer or employee of the Department of the Treasury designated by the Secretary of the Treasury.

(c) Same; charges concerning refused articles.—All expenses (including travel, per diem or subsistence, and salaries of officers or employees of the United States) in connection with the destruction provided for in subsection (a) of this section and the supervision of the relabeling or other action authorized under the provisions of subsection (b) of this section, the amount of such expenses to be determined in accordance with regulations, and all expenses in connection with the storage, cartage, or labor with respect to any article refused admission under subsection (a) of this section, shall be paid by the owner or consignee and, in default of such payment, shall constitute a lien against any future importations made by such owner or consignee.

The following joint regulations were issued by the Treasury Department and the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare for the enforcement of the import provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (16 F.R. 4929):

1.315 Definitions.—For the purposes of the regulations prescribed under section 801 (a), (b), and (c) of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act:

(a) The term "owner" or "consignee" means the person who has the rights of a consignee under the provisions of sections 483, 484, and 485 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1483, 1484, 1485).

(b) The term "chief of district" means the chief of the district of the Food and Drug Administration having jurisdiction over the port of entry through which an article is imported or offered for import, or such officer of the district as he may designate to act in his behalf in administering and enforcing the provisions of section 801 (a), (b), and (c).[1]

[1] For a list of districts of the Food and Drug Administration, see the FEDERAL REGISTER of July 2, 1952 (17 F.R. 5972).

1.316 Notice of sampling.—When a sample of an article offered for import has been requested by the chief of district, the collector of customs having jurisdiction over the article shall give to the owner or consignee prompt notice of delivery of, or intention to deliver, such sample. Upon receipt of the notice, the owner or consignee shall hold such article and not distribute it until further notice from the chief of district or the collector of customs of the results of examination of the sample.

1.317 Payment for samples.—The Food and Drug Administration will pay for all import samples which are found to be in compliance with the requirements of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act. Billing for reimbursement should be made by the owner or consignee to the Food and Drug Administration district headquarters in whose territory the shipment was offered for import. Payment for samples will not be made if the article is found to be in violation of the act, even though subsequently brought into compliance under the terms of an authorization to bring the article into compliance or rendered not a food, drug, device, or cosmetic as set forth in section 1.319.

1.318 Hearing.—(a) If it appears that the article may be subject to refusal of admission, the chief of district shall give the owner or consignee a written notice to that effect, stating the reasons therefor. The notice shall specify a place and a period of time during which the owner or consignee shall have an opportunity to introduce testimony. Upon timely request, giving reasonable grounds therefor, such time and place may be changed. Such testimony shall be confined to matters relevant to the admissibility of the article, and may be introduced orally or in writing.

(b) If such owner or consignee submits or indicates his intention to submit an application for authorization to relabel or perform other action to bring the article into compliance with the act or to render it other than a food, drug, device, or cosmetic, such testimony shall include evidence in support of such application. If such application is not submitted at or prior to the hearing, the chief of district shall specify a time limit, reasonable in the light of the circumstances, for filing such application.

1.319 Application for authorization.—Application for authorization to relabel or perform other action to bring the article into compliance with the act or to render it other than a food, drug, device, or cosmetic may be filed only by the owner or consignee, and shall:

(a) Contain detailed proposals for bringing the article into compliance with the act or rendering it other than a food, drug, device, or cosmetic.

(b) Specify the time and place where such operations will be carried out and the approximate time for their completion.

1.320 Granting of authorization.—(a) When authorization contemplated by section 1.319 is granted, the chief of district shall notify the applicant in writing, specifying:

(1) The procedure to be followed;

(2) The disposition of the rejected articles or portions thereof;

(3) That the operations are to be carried out under the supervision of an officer of the Food and Drug Administration or the Bureau of Customs, as the case may be;

(4) A time limit, reasonable in the light of the circumstances, for completion of the operations; and

(5) Such other conditions as are necessary to maintain adequate supervision and control over the article.

(b) Upon receipt of a written request for extension of time to complete such operations, containing reasonable grounds therefor, the chief of district may grant such additional time as he deems necessary.

(c) An authorization may be amended upon showing of reasonable grounds therefor and the filing of an amended application for authorization with the chief of district.

(d) If ownership of an article covered by an authorization changes before the operations specified in the authorization have been completed, the original owner will be held responsible, unless the new owner has executed a bond and obtained a new authorization. Any authorization granted under this section shall supersede and nullify any previously granted authorization with respect to the article.

1.321 Bonds.—(a) The bonds required under section 801 (b) of the act may be executed by the owner or consignee on the appropriate form of a customs single-entry or term bond, containing a condition for the redelivery of the merchandise or any part thereof upon demand of the collector of customs and containing a provision for the performance of conditions as may legally be imposed for the relabeling or other action necessary to bring the article into compliance with the act or rendering it other than a food, drug, device, or cosmetic, in such manner as is prescribed for such bond in the customs regulations in force on the date of request for authorization. The bond shall be filed with the collector of customs.

(b) The collector of customs may cancel the liability for liquidated damages incurred under the above-mentioned provisions of such a bond, if he receives an application for relief therefrom, upon the payment of a lesser amount or upon such other terms and conditions as shall be deemed appropriate under the law and in view of the circumstances, but the collector shall not act under this regulation in any case unless the chief of district is in full agreement with the action.

1.322 Costs chargeable in connection with relabeling and reconditioning inadmissible imports.—The cost of supervising the relabeling or other action in connection with an import of food, drugs, devices, or cosmetics which fails to comply with the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act shall be paid by the owner or consignee who files an application requesting such action and executes a bond, pursuant to section 801 (b) of the act, as amended. The cost of such supervision shall include, but not be restricted to, the following:

(a) Travel expenses of the supervising officer.

(b) Per diem in lieu of subsistence of the supervising officer when away from his home station, as provided by law.

(c) Services of the supervising officer, to be calculated at a flat rate of $8 per hour (which shall include administrative expense), except that such services performed by a customs officer and subject to the provisions of the Act of February 13, 1911, as amended (sec. 5, 36 Stat. 901 as amended; 19 U.S.C. 267), shall be calculated as provided in that act.

(d) Services of analyst, to be calculated at a flat rate of $10.00 per hour (which shall include the use of the chemical laboratories and equipment of the Food and Drug Administration).

(e) The minimum charge for services of supervising officers and of analysts shall be not less than the charge for 1 hour, and time after the first hour shall be computed in multiples of 1 hour, disregarding fractional parts less than 1/2 hour.

REGULATIONS UNDER THE FEDERAL INSECTICIDE, FUNGICIDE, AND RODENTICIDE ACT

The following joint regulations of the Secretary of Agriculture and the Secretary of the Treasury (7 CFR 362.30-362.36) were issued for the enforcement of section 10 of the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act (7 U.S.C., Supp. II, 135h):

362.30 Definitions.—All terms used in the regulations in this part shall have the meaning set forth for such terms in the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act, and section 362.2 of the regulations promulgated by the Secretary of Agriculture thereunder. In addition the term "Collector of Customs" means any person authorized under the customs laws and regulations to perform the duties of a collector of customs.

362.31 Registration.—All economic poisons are required to be registered under the provisions of section 4 of the act, and section 362.10 of the regulations promulgated by the Secretary of Agriculture thereunder before being permitted entry into the United States.

362.32 Declaration.—All invoices of economic poisons and devices imported into the United States shall be accompanied by a declaration of the shipper as follows:

I, ____,
(Name in full)
the undersigned, do hereby declare that I am the ______________________ ______________________ of the (Manufacturer or shipper) merchandise herein mentioned, which consists of economic poisons or devices or both. None of this merchandise is adulterated or misbranded or otherwise violates the prohibitions set forth in the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act in any respect, or is dangerous to the health of the people of the United States, or is of a kind forbidden entry into, or forbidden to be sold or restricted in sale in the country in which it is made, or from which it is exported. The merchandise was manufactured in ____ (Country)
by ________ ______________________________________ (Name of manufacturer)
and is exported from ______________________________ (City)
consigned to ______________________________________ (City)
Dated at ______________ this ______________ date of ______________, 19______

362.33 Notice of shipments for importation.—The Collector of Customs shall notify the Director of all shipments of economic poisons and devices being imported into the United States and shall detain all such shipments until notified by the Director that the shipment may be released.

362.34 Drawing of samples of import shipments.—The Collector of Customs shall, upon request by the Director, draw samples of import shipments of economic poisons and devices, and deliver them together with a copy of the labeling, and all accompanying circulars and advertising matter pertaining to such merchandise to the designated laboratory of the Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture.

362.35 Bond for release of imports pending examination.—Consignments of economic poisons and devices offered for importation into the United States may be detained pending examination to determine whether or not they comply with the requirements of the act, or they may be released to the consignee prior to such examination upon the execution of a customs single-entry or term bond in the appropriate form and in the amount prescribed in regulations of the United States Customs Service, United States Treasury Department, in force on the date of entry, and containing a provision for the redelivery of the merchandise or any part thereof upon the demand of the Collector of Customs at any time. The bond shall be filed with the Collector of Customs, who, in case of default, shall take appropriate action to effect the collection of all liquidated damages provided for in the bond.

362.36 Procedure after examination.—(a) If, upon examination or analysis of a sample from an import consignment of economic poisons or devices, such sample is found not to be in violation of the act, the Director shall notify the Collector of Customs that the shipment may be released. However, if, upon examination or analysis of the sample and consideration of other evidence in the case such sample is found to be in violation of the act, the owner or consignee shall be notified promptly by the Director of the nature of the violation and be given a reasonable time, not to exceed sixty days, to submit written material or, at his option, to appear before the Director and introduce testimony, to show cause why the shipment should not be destroyed or refused entry.

(b) If, after consideration of all of the evidence in the case, it still appears that the consignment may not lawfully be admitted into the United States, the Director shall notify the Collector of Customs that the merchandise is in violation of the act and the nature of the violation, and thereupon the Secretary of the Treasury (1) shall refuse delivery to the consignee and, under such regulations as he may prescribe, shall cause the destruction of any merchandise not exported by the consignee within 3 months from the date of notice of such refusal of entry or (2) if the shipment has been released to the consignee under bond, shall take action to enforce the terms of said bond.

SECTION 14 OF THE FEDERAL HAZARDOUS SUBSTANCES ACT AND REGULATIONS THEREUNDER

United States Code, title 15, section 1273 (section 14, Federal Hazardous Substances Act) 21 CFR 191.265-272.]

Imports

Sec. 14. (a) The Secretary of the Treasury shall deliver to the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare, upon his request, samples of hazardous substances which are being imported or offered for import into the United States, giving notice thereof to the owner or consignee, who may appear before the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare and have the right to introduce testimony. If it appears from the examination of such samples or otherwise that such hazardous substance is a misbranded hazardous substance or banned hazardous substance or in violation of section 4(f), then such hazardous substance shall be refused admission, except as provided in subsection (b) of this section. The Secretary of the Treasury shall cause the destruction of any such hazardous substance refused admission unless such hazardous substance is exported, under regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury, within ninety days of the date of notice of such refusal or within such additional time as may be permitted pursuant to such regulations.

(b) Pending decision as to the admission of a hazardous substance being imported or offered for import, the Secretary of the Treasury may authorize delivery of such hazardous substance to the owner or consignee upon the execution by him of a good and sufficient bond providing for the payment of such liquidated damages in the event of default as may be required pursuant to regulations of the Secretary of the Treasury. If it appears to the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare that the hazardous substance can, by relabeling or other action, be brought into compliance with this Act, final determination as to admission of such hazardous substance may be deferred and, upon filing of timely written application by the owner or consignee and the execution by him of a bond as provided in the preceding provisions of this subsection, the Secretary may, in accordance with regulations, authorize the applicant to perform such relabeling or other action specified in such authorization (including destruction or export of rejected hazardous substances or portions thereof, as may be specified in the Secretary's authorization). All such relabeling or other action pursuant to such authorization shall, in accordance with regulations, be under the supervision of an officer or employee of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare designated by the Secretary, or an officer or employee of the Department of the Treasury designated by the Secretary of the Treasury.

(c) All expenses (including travel, per diem, or subsistence, and salaries of officers or employees of the United States) in connection with the destruction provided for in subsection (a) of this section and the supervision of the relabeling or other action authorized under the provisions of subsection (b) of this section, the amount of such expenses to be determined in accordance with regulations, and all expenses in connection with the storage, cartage, or labor with respect to any hazardous substance refused admission under subsection (a) of this section, shall be paid by the owner or consignee and, in default of such payment, shall constitute a lien against any future importations made by such owner or consignee.

Sec. 191.265 Imports; definitions.—For the purposes of the regulations prescribed under section 14 of the act:

(a) The term "owner or consignee" means the person who has the rights of a consignee under the provisions of the Tariff Act of 1930 (secs. 483, 484, 485, 46 Stat. 721 as amended; 19 U.S.C. 1483, 1484, 1485).

(b) The term "director of district" means the director of the district of the Food and Drug Administration having jurisdiction over the port of entry through which a hazardous substance is imported or offered for import, or such officer of the district as he may designate to act in his behalf in administering and enforcing the provisions of section 14 of the act.

Sec. 191.266 Notice of sampling.—When a sample of a hazardous substance offered for import has been requested by the director of the district, the district director of Customs having jurisdiction over the hazardous substance shall give to the owner or consignee prompt notice of delivery of, or intention to deliver, such sample. Upon receipt of the notice, the owner or consignee shall hold such hazardous substance and not distribute it until further notice from the director of district or the district director of Customs of the results of examination of the sample.

Sec. 191.267 Payment for samples.—The Food and Drug Administration will pay for all import samples that are found to be in compliance with the requirements of the act. Billing for reimbursement should be made by the owner or consignee to the Food and Drug Administration district headquarters in whose territory the shipment was offered for import. Payment for samples will not be made if the hazardous substance is found to be in violation of the act, even though subsequently brought into compliance under the terms of an authorization to bring the article into compliance.

Sec. 191.268 Hearing.—(a) If it appears that the hazardous substance may be subject to refusal of admission, the director of district shall give the owner or consignee a written notice to that effect, stating the reasons therefor. The notice shall specify a place and a period of time during which the owner or consignee shall have an opportunity to introduce testimony. Upon timely request, giving reasonable grounds therefor, such time and place may be changed. Such testimony shall be confined to matters relevant to the admissibility of the hazardous substance, and may be introduced orally or in writing.

(b) If such owner or consignee submits or indicates his intention to submit an application for authorization to relabel or perform other action to bring the hazardous substance into compliance with the act, such testimony shall include evidence in support of such application. If such application is not submitted at or prior to the hearing, the director of district shall specify a time limit, reasonable in the light of the circumstances, for filing such application.

Sec. 191.269 Application for authorization.—Application for authorization to relabel or perform other action to bring the hazardous substance into compliance with the act may be filed only by the owner or consignee and shall:

(a) Contain detailed proposals for bringing the article into compliance with the act.

(b) Specify the time and place where such operations will be carried out and the approximate time for their completion.

Sec. 191.270 Granting of authorization.—(a) When authorization contemplated by sec. 191.269 is granted, director of district shall notify the applicant in writing, specifying:

(1) The procedure to be followed;

(2) That the operations are to be carried out under the supervision of an officer of the Food and Drug Administration or the United States Customs Service, as the case may be.

(3) A time limit, reasonable in the light of the circumstances, for completion of the operations; and

(4) Such other conditions as are necessary to maintain adequate supervision and control over the article.

(b) Upon receipt of a written request for extension of time to complete such operations, containing reasonable grounds therefor, the director of district may grant such additional time as he deems necessary.

(c) An authorization may be amended upon a showing of reasonable grounds therefor and the filing of an amended application for authorization with the director of district.

(d) If ownership of a hazardous substance covered by an authorization changes before the operations specified in the authorization have been completed, the original owner will be held responsible, unless the new owner has executed a bond and obtained a new authorization. Any authorization granted under this section shall supersede and nullify any previously granted authorization with respect to the article.

Sec. 191.271 Bonds.—(a) The bonds required under section 14(b) of the act may be executed by the owner or consignee on the appropriate form of a Customs single-entry or term bond, containing a condition for the redelivery of the merchandise or any part thereof upon demand of the district director of Customs and containing a provision for the performance of conditions as may legally be imposed for the relabeling or other action necessary to bring the hazardous substance into compliance with the act in such manner as is prescribed for such bond in the Customs regulations in force on the date of request for authorization. The bond shall be filed with the district director of Customs.

(b) The district director of Customs may cancel the liability for liquidated damages incurred under the abovementioned provisions of such a bond, if he receives an application for relief therefrom, upon the payment of a lesser amount or upon such other terms and conditions as shall be deemed appropriate under the law and in view of the circumstances, but the district director shall not act under this regulation in any case unless the director of district is in full agreement with the action.

Sec. 191.272 Costs chargeable in connection with relabeling and reconditioning inadmissible imports.—The cost of supervising the relabeling or other action necessary in connection with an import of a hazardous substance that fails to comply with the act shall be paid by the owner or consignee who files an application requesting such action and executes a bond, pursuant to section 14(b) of the act. The cost of such supervision shall include, but not be restricted to, the following:

(a) Travel expenses of the supervising officer.

(b) Per diem in lieu of subsistence of the supervising officer when away from his home station, as provided by law.

(c) Services of the supervising officer, to be calculated at a flat rate of $8.00 per hour (which will include administrative expense), except that such services performed by a Customs officer and subject to the provisions of section 5 of the Act of February 13, 1911, as amended (19 U.S.C. 267), shall be calculated as provided in that act.

(d) Services of analyst, to be calculated at a flat rate of $10.00 per hour (which shall include the use of the chemical laboratories and equipment of the Food and Drug Administration).

(e) The minimum charge for services of supervising officers and of analysts shall be not less than the charge for 1 hour, and time after the first hour shall be computed in multiples of 1 hour, disregarding fractional parts less than 1/2 hour.

IMPORTED POULTRY PRODUCTS

Regulations under the Poultry Products Inspection Act (71 Stat. 441, as amended (21 U.S.C. 451 et seq.))

Regulations of the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, Department of Agriculture, relating to the importation of poultry products, Code of Federal Regulations, Title 9, sections 381.195-381.209.

Sec. 381.195 Requirements for importation into United States.—(a) No slaughtered poultry, or parts or products thereof, shall be imported into the United States unless they are healthful, wholesome, fit for human food, not adulterated, and contain no dye, chemical, preservative, or ingredient which renders them unhealthful, unwholesome, adulterated, or unfit for human food and they also comply with the regulations prescribed in this subpart to assure that they comply with the standards provided for in the Act: Provided, That the provisions of this subpart apply to such articles only if they are capable of use as human food.

(b) Except as provided in section 381.207, slaughtered poultry and other poultry products may be imported only if they were processed solely in countries listed in section 381.196(b). Slaughtered poultry may be imported only if it qualifies as ready-to-cook or dressed poultry. Dressed poultry may be imported into the United States only if it is consigned to an offical establishment for evisceration under the Act.

Sec. 381.196 Eligibility of foreign countries for importation of poultry products into the United States.—(a) (1) Whenever it shall be determined by the Administrator that the system of poultry inspection maintained by any foreign country, with respect to establishments preparing products in such country for export to the United States, insures compliance of such establishments and their poultry products, with requirements at least equal to all the provisions of the Act and the regulations in this part which are applied to official establishments in the United States, and their poultry products, and that reliance can be placed upon certificates required under this subpart from authorities of such foreign country, notice of that fact will be given by including the name of such foreign country in paragraph (b) of this section. Thereafter, poultry products processed in such establishments which are certified and approved in accordance with subparagraph (3) of this paragraph shall be eligible, so far as the regulations in this part are concerned, for importation into the United States from such foreign country after applicable requirements of this part have not been met.

(2) The determination of acceptability of a foreign poultry inspection system for purposes of this section shall be based on an evaluation of the foreign program in accordance with the following requirements and procedures:

(i) The system shall have a program organized and administered by the national government of the foreign country. The system as implemented must provide standards at least equal to those of the Federal system of poultry inspection in the United States with respect to:

(a) Organizational structure and staffing, so as to insure uniform enforcement of the requisite laws and regulations in all establishments throughout the system at which poultry products are processed for export to the United States;

(b) Ultimate control and supervision by the national government over the official activities of all employees or licensees of the system;

(c) The assignment of competent qualified inspectors;

(d) Authority and responsibility of national inspection officials to enforce the requisite laws and regulations governing poultry inspection and to certify poultry products intended for export;

(e) Adequate administrative and technical support;

(f) Other requirements of adequate inspection service as required by the regulations.

(ii) The legal authority for the system and the regulations thereunder shall impose requirements at least equal to those governing the system of poultry inspection organized and maintained in the United States with respect to:

(a) Ante mortem inspection of poultry for slaughter, which shall be performed by veterinarians or by other employees or licensees of the system under the direct supervision of veterinarians;

(b) Post mortem inspection of carcasses and parts thereof at time of slaughter, performed by veterinarians or other employees or licensees of the system under the direct supervision of veterinarians;

(c) Official controls by the national government over establishment construction, facilities, and equipment;

(d) Direct and continuous official supervision of slaughtering of poultry and processing of poultry products, by the assignment of inspectors to establishments certified under subparagraph (3) of this paragraph to assure that adulterated or misbranded poultry products are not processed for export to the United States Government;

(e) Complete separation of establishments certified under subparagraph (3) of this paragraph from establishments not certified, and the maintenance of a single standard of inspection and sanitation throughout all certified establishments;

(f) Requirements for sanitation at certified establishments and for sanitary handling of poultry products;

(g) Official controls over condemned material until destroyed or removed and thereafter excluded from the establishment;

(h) Other matters for which requirements are contained in the act or the regulations in this part.

(iii) Countries desiring to establish eligibility for importation of poultry products into the United States may request a determination of eligibility by presenting copies of the laws and regulations on which the foreign poultry inspection system is based and such other information as the Administrator may require with respect to matters enumerated in subdivisions (i) and (ii) of ths subparagraph (2). Determination of eligibility is based on a study of the documents and other information presented and an initial review of the system in operation by a representative of the Department using the criteria listed in subdivisions (i) and (ii) of this subparagraph (2). Maintenance of eligibility of a country for importation of poultry products into the United States depends on the results of periodic reviews of the foreign poultry inspection system in operation by a representative of the Department, and the timely submission of such documents and other information related to the conduct of the foreign inspection system as the Administrator may find pertinent to and necessary for the determinations required by this section.

(iv) The foreign inspection system must maintain a program of periodic supervisory visits to each official establishment certified in accordance with subparagraph (3) of this paragraph to assure that requirements referred to in (a) through (h) of subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph (2), at least equal to those of the Federal system of poultry inspection in the United States are being met. A representative of the foreign inspection system shall make at least one such supervisory visit each month to each such establishment and prepare a written report of his findings in respect to the requirements referred to in (a) through (h) of subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph (2), copies of which shall be available to the representative of the Department at the time of his review upon request by said representative to a responsible foreign inspection official: Provided, That such visits and reports are not required with respect to any establishment during a period when the establishment is not operating or is not engaged in producing products for exportation to the United States.

(3) Only those establishments that are determined and certified to the Department by a responsible official of the foreign poultry inspection system as fully meeting the requirements of subparagraphs (2) (i) and (ii) of this paragraph are eligible to have their products imported into the United States. Eligibility of certified establishments is subject to review by the Department (including observations of the establishments by Program representatives at times prearranged with the officials of the foreign inspection system). Certifications of establishments must be renewed annually. Notwithstanding certification by a foreign official, the Administrator may, at his discretion, terminate the eligibility of any foreign establishment for importation of its poultry products into the United States if he has information that such establishment does not comply with the requirements listed in subparagraphs (2) (i) and (ii) of this paragraph or if he cannot obtain current information concerning such establishment. The Administrator will provide reasonable notice to the foreign government of the proposed termination of eligibility of any foreign establishment for importation of its poultry products into the United States unless, in his judgment, delay in terminating its eligibility could result in the importation of any adulterated or misbranded poultry products. Certifications of official establishments by the responsible official of the foreign poultry inspection system shall be in the following form:

(4) Poultry products from foreign countries not listed in paragraph (b) of this section are not eligible for importation into the United States, except as provided by sections 381.207 and 381.209. The listing of any foreign country under this section may be withdrawn whenever it shall be determined by the Administrator that the system of poultry inspection maintained by such foreign country does not assure compliance with requirements at least equal to all the requirements of the Act and the regulations as applied to official establishments in the United States; or that reliance cannot be placed upon certificates required under this subpart from authorities of such foreign country; or that, for lack of current information concerning the system of poultry inspection being maintained by such foreign country, such foreign country should be required to reestablish its eligibility for listing.

(b) It has been determined that poultry products from the following countries, covered by foreign poultry inspection certificates of the country of origin as required by section 381.197, are eligible under the regulations in this subpart for importation into the United States, after inspection and marking as required by the applicable provisions of this subpart:[1]

Canada. France. Hong Kong.

Sec. 381.197 Imported products; foreign inspection certificates required.—(a) Except as provided in sections 381.207 and 381.209, each consignment containing any slaughtered poultry or other poultry products consigned to the United States from a foreign country shall be accompanied with a foreign inspection certificate substantially in the form illustrated in paragraph (c) of this section if it covers dressed poultry or other uneviscerated slaughtered poultry, and substantially in the form illustrated in paragraph (b) of this section if it covers any other poultry product.

(b) The form of foreign poultry product inspection certificate shall be as follows:

Sec. 381.198 Importer to make application for inspection of imported poultry products.—Each person who wishes to import any slaughtered poultry or other poultry product shall make application for inspection to the inspector in charge of the import inspection office at the port where the poultry product is to be offered for entry, or to the Administrator, Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250, as long as possible in advance of the anticipated arrival of each consignment of such product, except in the case of poultry product exempted from inspection by sections 381.207 or 381.209. Each application shall state the approximate date on which the consignment is due to arrive in the United States, the name of the ship or other carrier transporting it, the name of the country where the product was processed, the name of the country from which the product was shipped, the place of destination, the quantity and kind of product, whether fresh, frozen, cured, or canned, and the point of first arrival in the United States.

Sec. 381.199 Inspection of imported poultry products.—(a) Except as provided in section 381.209, and paragraph (c) of this section, all slaughtered poultry and poultry products imported from any foreign country listed in section 381.196(b) shall be inspected in accordance with inspection procedures prescribed by the Administrator, including the examination of the labeling information on the containers, by an inspector, before the same shall be allowed entry into the United States. Importers will be advised of the point where inspection will be made, and in case of small shipments (less than carload lots) the importer may be required to move the product to the location of the nearest inspector.

(b) Inspectors may take, without cost to the United States, from each consignment of imported poultry products, such samples of the products as are deemed necessary to determine the eligibility of the products for entry into the commerce of the United States.

(c) Poultry products imported under section 381.207 shall not be sampled and inspected under this section unless there is reason for suspecting the presence therein of a substance in violation of that section, and in such case they shall be sampled and inspected in accordance with paragraph (a) of this section.

Sec. 381.200 Imported poultry products, retention in Customs custody; delivery under bond; movement prior to inspection; sealing; handling; facilities and assistance.—(a) No slaughtered poultry or other poultry product required by this subpart to be inspected shall be released from Customs custody prior to inspection, but such product may be delivered to the consignee, or his agent, prior to inspection, if the consignee shall furnish a bond, in form prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury, conditioned that the product shall be returned, if demanded, to the district director of the port where the same is offered for clearance through the Customs.

(b) Except as provided in paragraph (a) of this section, no product required by this subpart to be inspected shall be moved, prior to inspection, from the port of arrival where first unloaded, and if arriving by water, from the wharf where first unloaded at such port, to any place other than the place designated in accordance with this subpart as the place where the same shall be inspected, and no product shall be conveyed in any manner other than in compliance with this subpart.

(c) Means of conveyance or outside containers in which any imported poultry product is moved, prior to inspection from the port or wharf where first unloaded in the United States, shall be sealed with official seals of the Department of Agriculture as prescribed in section 381.98 or otherwise identified as provided in this paragraph unless already sealed with Customs or consular seals in accordance with the Customs regulations. The containers shall be securely tied before being offered for sealing. Such seals shall be affixed by inspectors, or, if there is no inspector at such port, then by a Customs officer. In lieu of tying and sealing containers, the carrier or importer may furnish and attach to each outside container of product a warning notice on bright green paper, not less than 5 × 8 inches in size, containing the following legend in black type of a conspicuous size:

Notice

This container of poultry product must be delivered intact to an inspector of the Meat and Poultry Inspection Program, U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Warning

Failure to comply with these instructions will result in penalty action being taken against the holder of the Customs entry bond.

If the product is found to be acceptable upon inspection, the package will be marked "U.S. Inspected and Passed" and this warning notice defaced.

(d) No person shall affix, alter, detach, deface, or destroy any official seal of the Department of Agriculture except Customs officers or inspectors or as provided for in paragraph (f) of this section.

(e) No poultry product shall be removed from any means of conveyance or container sealed with an official seal of the Department of Agriculture, or bearing the official warning notice prescribed in this section, except under the supervision of an inspector or a Customs officer, or as provided for in paragraph (f) of this section.

(f) In case of a wreck or similar extraordinary emergency, the official seal of the Department of Agriculture on a car, truck, or other means of conveyance, may be broken by the carrier, and, if necessary, the articles may be reloaded into another means of conveyance for transportation to destination. In all such cases, the carrier shall immediately report the facts by telegraph to the Administration, Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.

(g) The consignee, or his agent, shall furnish such facilities and shall provide such assistance for handling and marking poultry products offered for entry as the inspector may require.

Sec. 381.201 Means of conveyance and equipment used in handling imported poultry products to be maintained in sanitary condition.—Compartments of steamships, railroad cars, and other means of conveyance transporting any poultry product to the United States, and all chutes, platforms, racks, tables, tools, utensils, and all other devices used in moving and handling any poultry product offered for entry into the United States, shall be maintained in a sanitary condition.

Sec. 381.202 Poultry products offered for entry; reporting of findings to Customs; handling of articles refused entry.—(a) Inspectors shall report their findings to the district director of Customs at the port where poultry products are offered for entry, and shall request the district director to refuse entry to all products which are marked or designated "U.S. Refused Entry" or otherwise are not in compliance with the regulations in this subpart. Unless such products shall be exported by the consignee within a time to be specified by the district director of Customs (usually 30 days), the consignee, within such specified time, shall cause the destruction of such products for human food purposes under the supervision of an inspector. If products are destroyed for human food purposes under the supervision of an inspector, he shall give prompt notice thereof to the district director.

(b) Consignees shall, at their own expense, return immediately, to the district director of Customs, in means of conveyance or containers sealed with the official seal of the Department of Agriculture, any product received by them under this subpart which is marked or designated "U.S. Refused Entry," or which in any respect does not comply with this subpart.

(c) Except as provided in section 381.200 (a) or (b), no person shall remove or cause to be removed from any place designated as the place of inspection, any poultry product which the regulations in this subpart require to be marked in any way, unless the same has been clearly and legibly marked in compliance with this subpart.

Sec. 381.203 Imported products; charges for storage, cartage and labor with respect to products which are refused entry.—All charges for storage, cartage, and labor with respect to any imported product which is refused entry pursuant to the regulations shall be paid by the owner or consignee, and, in default of such payment, shall constitute a lien against any other products imported thereafter by or for such owner or consignee.

Sec. 381.204 Marking of poultry products offered for entry.—Poultry products which upon inspection are found to be acceptable for entry into the United States shall be marked with the official inspection legend shown in section 381.102. Poultry products which are inspected and rejected shall be marked "U.S. Refused Entry" as shown in section 381.102. Such marks shall be applied to the shipping containers.

Sec. 381.205 Labeling of immediate containers of imported poultry products.—(a) Immediate containers of poultry products imported into the United States shall bear a label, printed in English showing in accordance with Subpart N of this part all information required by that section (except that the inspection mark and establishment number assigned by the foreign poultry inspection system and certified to the Inspection Service shall be shown instead of the official dressed poultry identification mark or other official inspection legend, and official establishment number); and in addition the label shall show the name of the country of origin preceded by the words "Product of," which statement shall appear immediately under the name of the product.

(b) The labels shall not be false or misleading in any respect.

(c) Labels for immediate containers of imported poultry products shall be submitted for approval in sketch form to the Labels and Packaging Staff, Meat and Poultry Inspection, Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, USDA, Washington, D.C. 20250. Sketch labels shall be submitted with sufficient copies to provide two copies for the Washington office. After approval of the sketch labels, finished labels shall be submitted with sufficient copies to provide two copies for the Washington office, one copy for each port of entry and one copy for the foreign plant requesting the approval.

Sec. 381.206 Labeling of shipping containers of imported poultry products.—Shipping containers in which imported poultry products are shipped to the United States are required to bear in a prominent and legible manner the name of the product, the name of the country of origin, the foreign inspection system establishment number of the establishment in which the product was processed, and the inspection mark of the country of origin. Labeling on shipping containers shall be examined at the time of inspection in the United States and if found to be false or misleading, the product shall be refused entry.

Sec. 381.207 Small importations for consignee's personal use, display, or laboratory analysis.—Any poultry product (other than one which is forbidden entry by other Federal law or regulation) which is imported from any country in quantities of less than 50 pounds net weight, exclusively for the personal use of the consignee, or for display or laboratory analysis by the consignee, and not for sale or distribution; which is sound, healthful, wholesome, and fit for human food; and which is not adulterated and contains no substance not permitted by the Act or regulations may be allowed entry into the United States without a foreign inspection certificate, and such product is not required to be inspected upon arrival in the United States and may be shipped to the consignee without further restriction under this part, except as provided in section 381.199(c): And provided, That the Department may with respect to any specific importation, require that the consignee certify that such product is exclusively for the personal use of said consignee, or for display or laboratory analysis by said consignee, and not for sale or distribution.

Sec. 381.208 Imported poultry products to be handled and transported as domestic; entry into official establishments; transportation.—(a) All imported poultry products, after entry into the United States in compliance with this subpart, shall be deemed and treated and, except as provided in sections 381.207, shall be handled and transported as domestic products, and shall be subject to the provisions of this part and to the provisions of the Poultry Products Inspection Act and the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act.

(b) Imported poultry products inspected, passed, and marked in accordance with this subpart may, subject to the provisions of the regulations, be taken into official establishments and be mixed with or added to poultry products that are inspected and passed or exempted from inspection in such establishments.

(c) Imported poultry products which have been inspected, passed, and marked under this subpart may be transported in commerce, only upon compliance with the applicable regulations.

Sec. 381.209 Returned United States inspected and marked poultry products; exemption.—Poultry products which have been inspected and passed by the U.S. Department of Agriculture and are so marked, and are returned from foreign countries, may be imported if they are not adulterated or misbranded at the time of such return. Such products are exempted from further requirements under this part. Such returned shipments shall be reported to the Administrator by letter prior to arrival at the United States port of entry.

INSPECTION CERTIFICATE REQUIRED FOR CLEARANCE OF ANY VESSEL HAVING ON BOARD CATTLE, SHEEP, SWINE, OR GOATS FOR EXPORT

United States Code, title 21, section 82:

Sec. 82 No clearance to vessels carrying cattle for export without inspector's certificate.—No clearance shall be given to any vessel having on board cattle, sheep, swine, or goats for export to a foreign country until the owner or shipper of such cattle, sheep, swine, or goats has a certificate from the inspector authorized to be appointed, stating that the cattle, sheep, swine, or goats are sound and healthy, or unless the Secretary of Agriculture shall have waived the requirement of such certificate for export to the particular country to which such cattle, sheep, swine, or goats are to be exported. (Mar. 4, 1907, ch. 2907, 34 Stat. 1263.)

IMPORTATION OF CERTAIN ANIMALS AND POULTRY AND CERTAIN ANIMAL AND POULTRY PRODUCTS

Regulations of the Animal Inspection and Quarantine Division, Agricultural Research Service, Department of Agriculture, relating to the importation of livestock and other animals into the United States, Code of Federal Regulations, title 9, sections 92.1-92.40 as amended:

General Provisions

Sec. 92.1 Definitions.—Whenever in this part the following terms are used unless the context otherwise requires, they shall be construed, respectively, to mean:

(a) Department. The United States Department of Agriculture.

(b) Division. The Animal Inspection and Quarantine Division.

(c) Director of Division, Director.

(d) Inspector. An inspector of the Division.

(e) Animals. Cattle, sheep, goats, other ruminants, swine, horses, asses, mules, zebras, dogs, and poultry.

(f) Cattle. Animals of the bovine species.

(j) Poultry. Chickens, ducks, geese, swans, turkeys, pigeons, doves, pheasants, grouse, partridges, quail, guinea fowl, and pea fowl of all ages, including eggs for hatching.

(k) Accredited areas. Areas in Canada in which the percentage of cattle infected with tuberculosis is officially declared by the Canadian Government to be less than one-half of 1 percent.

(l) Restricted areas. Areas in Canada that are in process of becoming accredited as defined in paragraph (k) of this section.

(m) Recognized slaughtering center. Any point where slaughtering operations are regularly carried on and where Federal, State, or local inspection approved by the Bureau, is maintained.

(n) Immediate slaughter. Consignment from the port of entry to some recognized slaughtering center and slaughter thereat within 2 weeks from the date of entry.

(o) Communicable disease. Any contagious, infectious, or communicable disease of domestic livestock, poultry or other animals.

(p) Fever tick. Boophilus annulatus, including, but not limited to, the varieties Americana and Australis.

(q) Permitted dip. A dip permitted by the Bureau to be used in the official dipping of cattle and horses for fever ticks and for dipping cattle and sheep for scabies.

(r) Brucellosis-certified areas. Areas in Canada in which the percentage of cattle affected with brucellosis has been officially determined by the Canadian Government not to exceed one percent and the percentage of herds in which brucellosis is present has been similarly determined not to exceed five percent.

(s) Western provinces of Canada. Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta, and British Columbia.

Sec. 92.2 General prohibition.—No animal or product subject to the provisions of this part shall be imported or brought into the United States except in accordance with the provisions of this part and Part 94 of this subchapter; nor shall any such animal or product be handled or moved after physical entry into the United States and before final release from quarantine or any other form of governmental detention except in compliance with such regulations: Provided, however, That the provisions of this section, secs. 92.3 through 92.5, 92.7 through 92.9, 92.11 through 92.13, 92.15, and 92.16 shall not apply to importations of poultry into the United States Virgin Islands.

Sec. 92.3 Ports designated for the importation of animals.—(a) Ocean ports. The following ports are hereby designated as quarantine stations and all animals shall be entered through said stations, except as provided in paragraphs (b), (c), and (d) of this section, viz: Boston, Massachusetts; New York, New York; Baltimore, Maryland; Jacksonville, Miami, and Tampa, Florida; San Juan, Puerto Rico; New Orleans, Louisiana; Galveston, Texas; San Diego, Los Angles, and San Francisco, California; Portland, Oregon; Tacoma and Seattle, Washington; and Honolulu, Hawaii.

(b) Canadian border ports. The following ports in addition to those specified in paragraph (a) of this section are designated as quarantine stations for the entry of animals from Canada: Eastport, Calais, Vanceboro, Houlton, Monticello, Bridgewater, Fort Fairfield, Limestone, Van Buren, Madawaska, Fort Kent, Jackman and Holeb, Maine; Beecher Falls (Canaan), Island Pond, Derby Line, North Troy, Newport, Richford, St. Albans, Highgate Springs, and Alburg, Vermont; Rouses Point, Mooers Junction, Chateaugay, Malone, Fort Covington, Hogansburg, Rooseveltown, Waddington, Ogdensburg, Morristown, Alexandria Bay, Charlotte, Niagara Falls, and Buffalo, New York; Detroit, Port Huron, and Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan; Noyes, Minnesota; Pembina and Portal, North Dakota; Sweetgrass, Montana; Eastport and Porthill, Idaho; Spokane, Laurier, Oroville, Nighthawk, Sumas, Blaine, and Lynden, Washington; and Juneau and Skagway, Alaska.

(c) Mexican border ports. The following ports in addition to those specified in paragraph (a) of this section are designated as quarantine stations for the entry of animals from Mexico: Brownsville, Hidalgo, Rio Grande City, Roma, Laredo, Eagle Pass, Del Rio, Presidio, and El Paso, Texas; Douglas, Naco, Nogales, and San Luis, Arizona; and Calexico and San Ysidro, California.

(d) Special ports. Charlotte Amalie, St. Thomas, and Christiansted, St. Croix, in the United States Virgin Islands, are hereby designated as quarantine stations for the entry of ruminants and swine from the British Virgin Islands into the United States Virgin Islands for immediate slaughter.

(e) Designation of other ports. The Secretary of the Treasury has approved the designation as quarantine stations of the ports specified in this section. In special cases other ports may be designated as quarantine stations under this section by the Director of Division with the concurrence of the Secretary of the Treasury.

Sec. 92.4 Import permits for ruminants, swine, and poultry and for animal semen.—(a) Application for permit. (1) For ruminants, swine, poultry, and animal semen intended for importation from any part of the world, except as otherwise provided in secs. 92.19, 92.27, and 92.31, the importer shall first apply for and obtain from the Division an import permit. The application shall specify the name and address of the importer, the species, breed, number or quantity, purpose of importation, the country of origin, the port of embarkation in the foreign country, the mode of transportation, route of travel, the port of entry in the United States, and the proposed date of arrival of the animals or animal semen to be imported, and the name of the person to whom the animals or animal semen will be delivered and the location of the place in the United States to which delivery will be made from the port of entry. Additional information may be required in the form of certificates concerning specific diseases to which the animals are susceptible, as well as vaccinations or other precautionary treatments to which the animals or animal semen have been subjected. Notice of any such requirement will be given to the applicant in each case.

(2) An application for permit to import will be denied for domestic ruminants or swine, or semen from ruminants or swine, from any country where it has been declared, under section 306 of the Act of June 17, 1930, that foot-and-mouth disease or rinderpest has been determined to exist, except as provided in paragraph (d) of this section.

(3) An application for permit to import ruminants, swine, poultry, or animal semen may also be denied because of: Communicable disease conditions in the area or country of origin, or in a country where the shipment has been or will be held or through which the shipment has been or will be transported; deficiencies in the regulatory programs for the control or eradication of animal diseases and the unavailability of veterinary services in the above mentioned countries; the importer's failure to provide satisfactory evidence concerning the origin, history, and health status of the animals or animal semen; the lack of satisfactory information necessary to determine that the importation will not be likely to transmit any communicable disease to livestock or poultry of the United States; or any other circumstances which the Director believes require such denial to prevent the dissemination of any communicable disease of livestock or poultry into the United States.

(b) Permit. When a permit is issued, the original and two copies will be sent to the importer. It shall be the responsibility of the importer to forward the original permit and one copy to the shipper in the country of origin, and it shall also be the responsibility of the importer to insure that the shipper presents the copy of the permit to the carrier and makes proper arrangements for the original permit to accompany the shipment to the specified U.S. port of entry for presentation to the collector of customs. Animals and animal semen for which a permit has been issued will be received at the specified port of entry within the 14-day period prescribed in the permit, after which time the permit shall be void. Ruminants, swine, poultry, and animal semen for which a permit is required by these regulations will not be eligible for entry if a permit has not been issued; if shipment is from any port other than the one designated in the permit; if arrival in the United States is at any port other than the one designated in the permit; or if the animals or semen are not handled as outlined in the application for the permit and as specified in the permit issued.

(c) Wild ruminants and wild swine from countries where foot-and-mouth disease or rinderpest exists. (1) Wild ruminants and wild swine originating in the countries designated in Part 94 of this subchapter as countries in which foot-and-mouth disease or rinderpest exists may be carriers of such diseases even though the animals do not show clinical evidence of the diseases. In view of these circumstances and in order to prevent the introduction and disemination of foot-and-mouth disease or rinderpest and protect the livestock of the United States, permits for the importation of wild ruminants, such as, but not limited to, giraffes, deer, and antelopes, and of wild swine, will be issued only if such animals are intended for exhibition purposes in a zoological park previously approved by the Director of Division in accordance with the standards specified in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph and if the operator of such approved zoological park and the importer, if such operator and importer are different parties, have entered into the agreement set forth in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph with the Division for the maintenance and handling of such wild ruminants and wild swine in the manner specified in the agreement to prevent the introduction and dissemination of communicable diseases. For purposes of this paragraph "zoological park" means a zoo, park or other place maintained for the exhibition of live animals for recreational or educational purposes. The New York port of entry is the only port at which facilities are available which are adequate for the quarantining of wild ruminants and wild swine. Accordingly, permits issued for the importation of such wild animals will require that the animals be imported through the port of New York and quarantined at that port. The Director of Division may cancel such a permit when he finds that any provision of this section or any other provision of the regulations has not been or is not being complied with.

(2) Approval of a zoological park for the receipt and maintenance of imported animals as described in this paragraph, shall be on the basis of an inspection, by an authorized representative of the Department, of the physical facilities of the establishment and its methods of operation. Standards for acceptable physical facilities shall include satisfactory pens, cages, or enclosures in which the animals can be maintained so as not to be in contact with the general public and free from contact with domestic livestock; natural or established drainage from the zoological park which will avoid contamination of land areas where domestic livestock are kept or with which domestic livestock may otherwise come in contact; provision for the disposition of manure, other wastes, and dead ruminants and swine within the zoological park; and other reasonable facilities considered necessary to prevent the dissemination of diseases from the zoological park. The operator of the zoological park shall have available the services of a full-time or part-time veterinarian, or a veterinarian on a retainer basis, who shall make periodic examinations of all animals maintained at the zoological park for evidence of disease; who shall make a post-mortem examination of each animal that dies; and who shall make a prompt report of suspected cases of contagious or communicable diseases to appropriate state or federal livestock sanitary officials.

(3) Prior to the issuance of an import permit under this section, the operator of the approved zoological park to which the animals are to be consigned, and the importer of the animals, if such operator and importer are different parties, shall execute an agreement covering each animal or group of animals for which the import permit is requested. The agreement shall be in the following form:

AGREEMENT FOR THE IMPORTATION, QUARANTINE AND EXHIBITION OF CERTAIN WILD RUMINANTS AND WILD SWINE

________, operator(s) of the zoological park known as ________ located at ________ and (Name) (City and state) ________ hereby request a permit for the (Importer)
importation of ________ for exhibition
(Number and kinds of animals)
purposes at the said zoological park, said foot-and-mouth disease or rinderpest exists and being subject to restrictions under regulations contained in Part 92, Title 9, Code of Federal Regulations.

In making this request, it is understood and agreed that:

1. The animals for which an import permit is requested will be held in isolation at a port of embarkation in the country of origin, approved by the Director of Division as a port having facilities which are adequate for maintaining wild animals in isolation from all other animals and having veterinary supervision by officials of the country of origin of the animals. Such animals will be held in such isolation for not less than 60 days under the supervision of the veterinary service of that country to determine whether the animals show any clinical evidence of foot-and-mouth disease, rinderpest, or other communicable disease and to assure that the animals will not have been exposed to such a disease within the 60 days next before their exportation from that country.

2. Shipment will be made direct from such port of embarkation to the port of New York as the port of entry in this country. If shipment is made by ocean vessel the animals will not be unloaded in any foreign port en route. If shipment is made by air, the animals will not be unloaded at any port or other place of landing except at a port approved by the Director of Division as a port not located in a country where rinderpest or foot-and-mouth disease exists or as a port in such a country having facilities and inspection adequate for maintaining wild animals in isolation from all other animals.

3. No ruminants or swine will be aboard the transporting vehicle, vessel or aircraft except those for which an import permit has been issued.

4. The animals will be quarantined for not less than 30 days in the Department's Animal Quarantine Station in Clifton, New Jersey.

5. Upon release from quarantine the animals will be delivered to the zoological park named in this agreement to become the property of the park and they will not be sold, exchanged or removed from the premises without the prior consent of the Animal Inspection and Quarantine Division.

(d) Animal semen from countries where rinderpest or foot-and-mouth disease exists. Importation of semen of ruminants or swine, originating in any country designated in paragraph (a) of section 94.1 of this subchapter as a country where rinderpest or foot-and-mouth disease is determined to exist, is prohibited, except that semen from ruminants or swine originating in such a country may be offered for entry into the United States at the port of New York and later released from such port provided the following conditions have been fulfilled:

(1) The importer has applied for and obtained an import permit for the semen in accordance with the provisions of this section and related requirements concerning application therefor, which permit is in effect at the time of importation, and has deposited with the Department prior to the issuance of the permit sufficient funds so as to be available for defraying estimated expenses to be incurred in connection with the proposed semen importation and following the issuance of the permit has deposited such other amounts as may be required from time to time to defray unanticipated costs or increased expenses. Such an import permit may be denied for the reasons specified in subparagraph (a) (3) of this section. Furthermore, an import permit will be revoked unless the following conditions have been complied with:

(i) The donor animal shall have been inspected on the farm of origin by a veterinarian of the United States Department of Agriculture who, in cooperation with the veterinary service of the country of origin of the donor animal, shall have determined, insofar as possible, that the donor animal was never infected with rinderpest or foot-and-mouth disease; that the donor animal was never on a farm or other premise where rinderpest or foot-and-mouth disease then existed; that no animal on the farm of origin which was susceptible to the virus of rinderpest or foot-and-mouth disease was exposed to either disease during the 12 months immediately prior to the date of inspection of the donor animal; that the donor animal has never been vaccinated against rinderpest or foot-and-mouth disease; and that the donor animal was free from evidence of other communicable disease;

(ii) The donor animal shall have been permanently identified in a manner satisfactory to a veterinarian of this Department; blood samples from such donor animal for virus neutralization and fluorescent antibody tests or other tests shall have been collected by a veterinarian of the United States Department of Agriculture and transported by air to the New York Port Veterinarian for delivery to the Plum Island Animal Disease Laboratory of the United States Department of Agriculture in containers approved by a veterinarian of this Department, sealed in the country of origin by a veterinarian of this Department; and pending the results of the tests, the donor animal shall have been kept in isolation on the farm of origin or other acceptable location under the supervision of a veterinarian of this Department, and during such isolation period no animal susceptible to rinderpest or foot-and-mouth disease shall have been permitted to enter such farm or location and no other source of exposure to rinderpest or foot-and-mouth disease shall have been present;

(iii) The blood samples from the donor animal shall have been negative to the virus neutralization and fluorescent antibody tests made at the Plum Island Animal Disease Laboratory of the United States Department of Agriculture and to any other test for rinderpest, foot-and-mouth disease or other communicable disease prescribed by the Director of Division;

(iv) Following isolation, preliminary veterinary inspection, and testing while the donor animal was on the farm of origin or other acceptable location, the donor animal shall have been transported, under such conditions as the Department veterinarian prescribed to prevent exposure of the animal to the virus of rinderpest or foot-and-mouth disease, to an isolation facility properly equipped for the necessary care and maintenance of the donor animal and for the proper collection and handling of semen, approved by a veterinarian of this Department and under the direct supervision of such veterinarian;

(v) The semen of the donor animal shall have been collected at the appoved isolation facility under the direct supervision of a veterinarian of this Department; and all handling procedures, such as examination, dilution, refrigeration, and preparation of the semen for shipment, shall have been under the direct supervision of a veterinarian of this Department.

(2) The semen collected at the approved isolation facility shall have been at all times, except during air transportation to New York, in the custody of a veterinarian of this Department.

(3) The semen for which an import permit has been issued shall have been transported by air to the port of New York in liquid nitrogen containers approved by a veterinarian of this Department; sealed in the country of origin by a veterinarian of this Department; and accompanied by a statement by such veterinarian showing the identification of the donor animal and the dates the semen was collected, along with a certificate regarding the health status of the donor animal as of the date of shipment of the semen to the port of New York. All semen received at the port of New York shall be held under quarantine in liquid nitrogen storage at such port in the custody of the Animal Inspection and Quarantine Division until released or otherwise disposed of as provided in this section. Quarantine of the semen at the port of New York shall be for a minimum period of 60 days in facilities and under conditions prescribed by the Director of Division, during which time additional tests shall be conducted as provided in subparagraphs (4), (5), and (6) of this paragraph.

(4) The donor animal shall have been retained at the approved isolation facility in the country where the semen was collected for at least 60 days after such collection; and after such 60-day retention period, blood samples shall have been collected from the donor animal by a veterinarian of this Department for virus neutralization and fluorescent antibody tests at the Plum Island Animal Disease Laboratory of the United States Department of Agriculture, and any other tests as required by the Director of Division.

(5) While the imported semen is in storage under quarantine at the port of New York, a sample of each lot of semen collected from the donor animal shall have been tested at the Plum Island Laboratory. Such test shall consist of injecting not less than 10 percent of the volume of each lot of semen into test animals which are susceptible to rinderpest or foot-and-mouth disease. The Director of Division may also require such other tests as he deems necessary to determine whether the semen harbors the virus of rinderpest or foot-and-mouth disease, or any other communicable disease.

(6) If it is determined that the requirements set forth in this paragraph have been complied with and there are no indications that the donor animal or the semen from the donor animal harbors the virus of rinderpest or foot-and-mouth disease or any other communicable disease and if the donor animal, blood samples from the donor animal, and semen samples from the donor animal are negative to all other tests required, the semen shall be released for shipment to the consignee listed by the importer; otherwise the semen shall be destroyed or disposed of as the Director of Division may direct.

Sec. 92.5 Certificate for ruminants, swine, and poultry.—(a) Ruminants and swine. (1) All ruminants and swine offered for importation from any part of the world except as provided in sections 92.20, 92.21, 92.22, 92.28, 92.29, 92.35, 92.36, 92.37, and 92.40 shall be accompanied by a certificate of a salaried veterinary officer of the national government of the country of origin stating that such animals have been kept in said country at least 60 days immediately preceding the date of movement therefrom and that said country during such period has been entirely free from foot-and-mouth disease, rinderpest, contagious pleuro-pneumonia, and surra: Provided, however, That certificates for wild ruminants or wild swine for exhibition purposes need specify freedom from the said diseases of the district of origin only: And provided further, That in the case of sheep, goats, and swine the certificate, as far as it relates to contagious pleuro-pneumonia, may specify freedom from such disease of the district of origin only. For domestic swine the certificate shall also show that for 60 days immediately preceding the date of movement from the premises of origin no hog cholera, swine plague, or erysipelas has existed on such premises or on adjoining premises.

(2) The certificate accompanying sheep and goats offered for importation from any part of the world, except as provided in sections 92.21, 92.28, and 92.36, shall, in addition to the statements required by subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, state: (i) That the said salaried veterinary officer has inspected such sheep and goats on the premises of origin and found them free of evidence of the disease known as scrapie, and of any other communicable disease; (ii) that, as far as it has been possible to determine, such animals have not been exposed to any such disease during the preceding 60 days; (iii) that, as far as can be determined, the disease known as scrapie has not existed in any district in which such sheep or goats were located during the three years immediately prior to shipment to the United States; and (iv) that each of such animals is not the progeny of a sire or dam that has been affected with scrapie.

(3) If ruminants or swine are unaccompanied by the certificate as required by subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph, or if such animals are found upon inspection at the port of entry to be affected with a communicable disease or to have been exposed thereto, they shall be refused entry and shall be handled thereafter in accordance with the provisions of section 8 of the act of August 30, 1890 (26 Stat. 416; 21 U.S.C. 103), or quarantined, or otherwise disposed of as the Director of Division may direct.

(b) Poultry. All poultry, except eggs for hatching, offered for importation from any country of the world except as provided in sections 92.26, 92.38, and 92.40, shall be accompanied by a certificate of a salaried veterinary officer of the national government of the country of origin stating that such poultry and thie flock or flocks of origin were inspected on the premises of origin immediately before the date of movement from such country and that they were then found to be free of evidence of pullorum disease (bacillary white diarrhea) and other communicable diseases; and that, as far as it has been possible to determine, they were not exposed to any such disease common to poultry during the 60 days immediately preceding the date of such movement. Certificates for such poultry 60 days of age or older shall also state that the poultry have been kept in the country from which they are offered for importation for at least 60 days immediately preceding the date of movement therefrom and that, as far as it has been possible to determine, no case of European fowl nest (fowl plague) or Newcastle disease (avian pneumoencephalitis) occurred in the locality or localities where the poultry were kept during such period. All eggs for hatching offered for importation from any part of the world except as provided in sections 92.26 and 92.38 shall be accompanied by a certificate of a salaried veterinary officer of the national government of the country of origin stating that the flock or flocks of origin were found upon inspection to be free from evidence of pullorum disease (bacillary white diarrhea) and other communicable disease and that as far as it has been possible to determine such flock or flocks were not exposed to any such disease common to poultry during the preceding 60 days.

Sec. 92.6 Diagnostic tests.—(a) Tuberculosis and brucellosis tests of cattle. Except as provided in sections 92.20 and 92.35 (b) and (c) all cattle offered for importation from any part of the world, except for immediate slaughter, shall be accompanied by a satisfactory certificate of a salaried veterinary officer of the national government of the country of origin showing that the animals have been tested for tuberculosis and brucellosis with negative results within 30 days of the date of their exportation: Provided, That the brucellosis test will not be required for steers, spayed heifers, or any cattle less than 6 months old. The said certificates shall give the dates and places of testing, names of the consignor and consignee, and a description of the cattle, with breed, ages, and markings.

(b) Tuberculosis and brucellosis tests of goats. Except as provided in sections 92.21 and 92.36 (b), all goats offered for importation, except for immediate slaughter, shall be accompanied by a satisfactory certificate of a salaried veterinary officer of the national government of the country of origin showing that the animals have been tested for tuberculosis and brucellosis with negative results within 30 days of the date of their exportation. The said certificate shall give the dates and places of testing, method of testing, names of consignor and consignee, and a description of the animals, including breed, ages, markings, and tattoo and eartag numbers.

(c) Further tests during quarantine. Animals that have been tested as prescribed in the paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section and that are subject to quarantine at the port of entry as provided in sec. 92.11, shall be retested during the last 10 days of the quarantine period under the supervision of a veterinary inspector, by one or more of the methods approved by the Director of Division.

Sec. 92.7 Declaration and other documents for animals and animal semen.—(a) The certificates, declarations, and affidavits required by the regulations in this part shall be presented by the importer or his agent to the collector of customs at the port of entry, upon arrival of animals or animal semen at such port, for the use of the veterinary inspector at the port of entry.

(b) For all animals and animal semen offered for importation, the importer or his agent shall first present two copies of a declaration which shall list the port of entry, the name and address of the importer, the name and address of the broker, the origin of the animals or animal semen, the number, breed, species, and purpose of the importation, the name of the person to whom the animals or animal semen will be delivered, and the location of the place to which such delivery will be made.

Sec. 92.8 Inspection at port of entry. Inspection shall be made at the port of entry of all horses, ruminants, swine, and poultry offered for importation from any part of the world except as provided in sections 92.24, 92.25, 92.30, and 92.33. However, the Director of Division, when he finds that such action may be taken without endangering the poultry industry of the United States, may waive inspection at the port of entry or provide for inspection at some other point with respect to importations from Canada of eggs for hatching, newly hatched poultry and poultry consigned for immediate slaughter. All animals found to be free from communicable disease and not to have been exposed thereto within 60 days prior to the offer for importation shall be admitted subject to the other provisions in this part. Animals found to be affected with a communicable disease or to have been exposed thereto within 60 days prior to the offer for importation shall be refused entry, except as provided in sec. 92.28 (c). Ruminants and swine refused entry shall be handled thereafter in accordance with the provisions of section 8 of the act of August 30, 1890 (26 Stat. 416; 21 U.S.C. 103), or quarantined or otherwise disposed of as the Director of Division may direct. Horses and poultry refused entry, unless exported within a time fixed in each case by the Director of Division, shall be disposed of as said Director may direct. Such portions of the transporting vessel, and of its cargo, as have been exposed to any such animals or their emanations shall be disinfected in such manner as may be considered necessary by the inspector in charge at the port of entry, before the cargo is allowed to land.

Sec. 92.9 Articles accompanying animals. No litter or manure, fodder or other aliment, nor any equipment such as boxes, buckets, ropes, chains, blankets, or other things used for or about animals governed by the regulations in this part, shall be landed from any conveyance except under such restrictions as the inspector in charge at the port of entry shall direct.

Sec. 92.10 Movement from conveyances to quarantine station. Platforms and chutes used for handling imported ruminants or swine shall be cleaned and disinfected under Division supervision after being so used. The said animals shall not be unnecessarily moved over any highways nor allowed to come in contact with other animals, but shall be transferred from the conveyance to the quarantine grounds in boats, cars, or vehicles approved by the inspector in charge at the port of entry. Such cars, boats, or vehicles shall be cleaned and disinfected under Division supervision immediately after such use, by the carrier moving the same. The railway cars so used shall be either cars reserved for this exclusive use or box cars not otherwise employed in the transportation of animals or their fresh products. When movement of the aforesaid animals upon or across a public highway is unavoidable, it shall be under such careful supervision and restrictions as the inspector in charge at the port of entry and the local authorities may direct.

Sec. 92.11 Periods of quarantine.—(a) Cattle. (1) Cattle imported from any part of the world except Canada, countries of Central America and the West Indies, and Mexico shall be quarrantined for not less than 30 days, counting from the date of arrival at the port of entry.

(2) Cattle imported from Canada, countries of Central America and the West Indies, and Mexico shall be subject to the provisions of sections 92.20, 92.28, 92.34, and 92.35, respectively.

(b) Other ruminants and swine. (1) Swine and ruminants other than cattle imported from any part of the world except Canada, countries of Central America and the West Indies, and Mexico shall be quarantined for not less then 15 days counting from the date of arrival at the port of entry. During their quarantine, wild ruminants and wild swine shall be subject to such inspections, disinfections, blood tests, or other tests as may be required by the Director of Division to determine their freedom from disease and the infection of disease.

(2) Sheep and goats, and swine imported from Canada shall be subject to the provisions of sections 92.21 and 92.22, respectively. Ruminants and swine imported from countries of Central America and the West Indies shall be subject to the provisions of sections 92.28 and 92.29, respectively. Swine and ruminants other than cattle imported from Mexico shall be subject to the provisions of sections 92.34, 92.36, and 92.37.

(c) Poultry. Poultry 60 days of age or older imported from any part of the world except Canada and except as provided in sec. 92.34 (b) shall be quarantined for not less than 15 days, counting from the date of arrival at the port of entry. During their quarantine such poultry shall be subject to such inspections, disinfections, blood tests or other tests as may be required by the Director of Division to determine their freedom from disease or the infection of disease. Any other poultry may be quarantined at the port of entry for such period as the Director of Division may require.

Sec. 92.12 Feed and attendants for animals in quarantine.—(a) Importers of animals subject to quarantine under the regulations in this part shall arrange for their care, feed, and handling from the time of unloading at the port of entry to the time of release from quarantine. At ports where facilities are not maintained by the Branch, importers shall provide suitable facilities for the quarantine of such animals, subject in all cases to the approval of the inspector in charge at the port of entry. Each owner, or his agent, shall give satisfactory assurance to the inspector prior to the time of quarantine that such provision will be made. Owners shall keep clean, to the satisfaction of such inspector, the sheds and yards occupied by their animals. If for any cause owners of animals refuse or neglect to arrange for their care, feed, and handling, the service may be furnished by the branch in the same manner as though the owner, or his agent, had made arrangements for such service as provided by paragraph (b) of this section, or the animals may be disposed of as the Director of Division may direct.

(b) At a port where quarantine facilities are maintained by the branch, the importer, or his agent, may arrange with the inspector in charge for care, feed, and handling of animals from the time they arrive at the quarantine station for the port until the time of release from quarantine. The importer, or his agent, must request such service in writing and agree to reimburse the branch or pay in advance for the cost thereof, as may be required, and waive all claim against the branch or any employee of the branch for damages which may arise from such service. The Director of Division may prescribe reasonable rates for the service provided under this paragraph.

(c) Amounts collected from importers for service rendered shall be deposited so as to be available for defraying the expenses involved in this service.

Sec. 92.13 Quarantine stations, visiting restricted; sales prohibited.—Visitors shall not be admitted to the quarantine enclosure during any time that animals are in quarantine except that an importer (or his accredited agent or veterinarian) may be admitted to the yards and buildings containing his quarantined animals at such intervals as may be deemed necessary, and under such conditions and restrictions as may be imposed, by the inspector in charge of the quarantine station. On the last day of the quarantine period, owners, officers or registry societies, and others having official business or whose services may be necessary in the removal of the animals may be admitted upon written permission from the said inspector. No exhibition or sale shall be allowed within the quarantine grounds.

Sec. 92.15 Milk from quarantined animals.—Milk or cream from animals quarantined under the provisions of this part shall not be used by any person other than those in charge of such animals, nor be fed to any animals other than those within the same enclosure, without permission of the inspector in charge of the quarantine station and subject to such restrictions as he may consider necessary in each instance. No milk or cream shall be removed from the quarantine premises except in compliance with all State and local regulations.

Sec. 92.15 Manure from quarantined animals.—No manure shall be removed from the quarantine premises until the release of the animals producing same.

Sec. 92.16 Appearance of disease among animals in quarantine.—If any contagious disease appears among animals during the quarantine period special precautions shall be taken to prevent spead of the infection to other animals in the quarantine station or to those outside the grounds. The affected animals shall be disposed of as the Chief of Branch may direct, depending upon the nature of the disease.

Sec. 92.17 Horses; accompanying forage and equipment.—Horses offered for importation from any part of the world except Mexico, and countries of Central America and the West Indies and except as provided in sec. 92.24 shall be accompanied by a certificate of a salaried veterinary officer of the national government of the country of origin showing that the animals described in the certificate have been in the said country during the preceding 60 days, and that as far as it has been possible to ascertain no case of dourine, glanders, surra, or epizootic or ulcerative lymphangitis has occurred in the locality or localities where the horse or horses have been kept during such period. Horses arriving at a port of entry unaccompanied by the aforesaid certificate, if otherwise eligible for importation, may upon permission first secured from the Director of Division be landed subject to such quarantine and blood tests or other tests as he may direct. Even though accompanied by said certificate they may be so quarantined and tested when deemed necessary by the Director of Division. Upon inspecting horses at the port of entry and before permitting them to land, the inspector may require their disinfection and the disinfection of their accompanying equipment as a precautionary measure against the introduction of foot-and-mouth disease or any other disease dangerous to the livestock of the United States. When no disease is discoverable in an importation of horses, the hay, straw, or other forage accompanying them may remain on board the ship to be returned: Provided, That in the case of a vessel carrying cattle, sheep, other ruminants, or swine from the United States on the return voyage, such material shall be stored in the vessel in a place and manner approved by the said inspector and shall not be used in the feeding or bedding of animals exported.

Sec. 92.18 Dogs for handling livestock. Collie, Shepherd, and other dogs imported from any part of the world except Canada, Mexico, and countries of Central America and the West Indies which are to be used in the handling of sheep or other livestock, shall be inspected and quarantined at the port of entry for a sufficient time to determine their freedom from the tapeworm, Taenia coenurus. If found to be infested with such tapeworm they shall be properly treated under the supervision of a veterinary inspector at the port of entry until they are free from the infestation.

Canada[1]

Sec. 92.19 Import permit and declaration for animals and animal semen.—(a) For ruminants, swine, poultry, and animal semen intended for importation from Canada, the importer shall first apply for and obtain from the Division an import permit as provided in sec. 92.4: Provided, That an import permit is not required for poultry offered for entry at a land border port designated in sec. 92.3(b); and Provided further, That an import permit is not required for a ruminant or swine offered for entry at a land border port designated in sec. 92.3(b) if such animal: (1) Was born in Canada or the United States, and (2) has been in no country other than Canada or the United States, and (3) has not, during the preceding 60 days, been corralled, pastured, or held with, or bred by, on inseminated with semen from, any ruminants or swine for which a permit would be required under this part, and (4) is not pregnant as a result of having been bred by, or artificially inseminated with semen from, a ruminant or swine for which a permit would be required under this part.

[1] Importations from Canada shall be subject to Sections 92.19 to 92.26, inclusive, in addition to other sections in this part which are in terms applicable to such importations.

(b) For all animals and animal semen offered for importation from Canada, the importer or his agent shall present two copies of a declaration as provided in sec. 92.7.

Sec. 92.20 Cattle from Canada.—(a) Health certificates; detention at port of entry.—Cattle offered for importation from Canada shall be accompanied by a certificate issued or endorsed by a salaried veterinarian of the Canadian Government showing that said cattle have been inspected and found to be free from any evidence of communicable disease and that, as far as can be determined, they have not been exposed to any such disease during the preceding 60 days. Any such cattle may be detained at the port of entry and there subjected to such tests as may be required by the Director of Division and the importer shall be responsible for the care, feeding, and handling of such cattle during the period of detention.

(b) Tuberculin-test certificates. Importations of cattle from Canada, for purposes other than immediate slaughter as provided in sec. 92.33, shall be in compliance with the following conditions and requirements:

(1) Cattle from Canadian-listed tuberculosis-free accredited herds shall be accompanied by a certificate issued or endorsed by a salaried veterinarian of the Canadian Government showing them to be from such herds and that said herds have been tuberculin tested within 1 year of the date of importation. The date of such tuberculin test shall be shown on the certificate.

(2) Cattle from herds in accredited areas in Canada, other than accredited herds, shall be accompanied by a certificate issued or endorsed by a salaried veterinarian of the Canadian Government showing them to be from herds in such areas and that the animals offered for entry have been tuberculin tested with negative results within 30 days preceding their offer for entry. However, cattle from herds in such areas—other than range herds—in which one or more reactors to the tuberculin test have been disclosed shall not be imported until the said herds have reached full tuberculosis-free status under Canadian regulations.

(3) Cattle from herds in restricted areas in Canada—other than range cattle and cattle from accredited herds—shall be accompanied by a certificate issued or endorsed by a salaried veterinarian of the Canadian Government showing (i) that they have been tuberculin tested with negative results within 30 days preceding their offer for entry, (ii) that all cattle in the herd or herds from which the animals proceed have been tuberculin tested with negative results not more than 12 months nor less than 90 days before the date of the offer for entry, and (iii) that the animals presented for entry, excepting only the natural increase in the herd, were included in the herd or herds of origin at the time of said herd tests. However, cattle from herds in such areas—other than range herds—in which one or more reactors to the tuberculin test have been disclosed shall not be imported until the said herds have reached full tuberculosis-free status under Canadian regulations.

(4) Range cattle[2] shall be accompanied by a certificate issued or endorsed by a salaried veterinarian of the Canadian Government showing them to be range cattle and that they have been tuberculin tested with negative results within 30 days preceding their offer for entry.

(5) No cattle other than range cattle or those from accredited herds shall be imported from areas in Canada that are neither restricted nor accredited under Canadian regulations, except for immediate slaughter as provided in sec. 92.23.

(c) Brucellosis test or vaccination certificates.—Importations from Canada of cattle six months or older, except steers and all cattle for immediate slaughter, shall be in compliance with the following conditions and requirements:

(1) Cattle from herds designated as brucellosis-free listed herds by the Canadian Government or cattle from herds not known to be affected in brucellosis-certified areas in Canada, except as provided in subparagraph (2) or (4), shall be accompanied by a certificate issued or endorsed by a salaried veterinarian of the Canadian Government showing them to be from such herds and that the cattle offered for entry have been tested for brucellosis with negative results within 30 days preceding their offer for entry. If one or more reactors or suspects are disclosed in such a herd as a result of a brucellosis test at any time, cattle from such herd shall not be imported into the United States unless after such test the cattle offered for entry, and the herd, have been tested and such cattle are accompanied by a certificate in accordance with subparagraph (3) or the herd has reached full status as a brucellosis-free herd under Canadian regulations.

(2) Cattle of the beef breeds raised under range conditions in the western provinces of Canada, except as provided in subparagraph (4), shall be accompanied by a certificate issued or endorsed by a salaried veterinarian of the Canadian Government showing them to be such range cattle of the beef breeds and that they have been tested for brucellosis with negative results within 30 days preceding their offer for entry.

(3) All other cattle from Canada, except as provided in subparagraph (4), shall be accompanied by a certificate issued or endorsed by a salaried veterinarian of the Canadian Government showing:

(i) that all cattle in the herd or herds from which the animals originate (except steers, other cattle under six months of age, and official vaccinates under 30 months of age) have been tested for brucellosis with negative results not more than three months preceding the offer for entry;

[2] Cattle of the beef breeds raised under range conditions in the western provinces of Canada.

(ii) that the cattle offered for entry, except the natural increase, were included in the herd or herds of origin at the time of said herd tests; and

(iii) that the cattle offered for entry (except steers, and other cattle under six months of age and official vaccinates under 30 months of age at the time of their offer for entry) have been tested for brucellosis with negative results within 30 days preceding their offer for entry in addition to and at least 15 days after the herd test specified in (i).

(4) Bulls and female cattle under 30 months of age need not meet the requirements of subparagraph (1), (2), or (3) provided they are accompanied by a certificate issued or endorsed by a salaried veterinarian of the Canadian Government showing that they were officially vaccinated against brucellosis as calves between the ages of four through eight months for dairy breeds or four months through the day they become eleven months for beef breeds and provided, except for cattle of the beef breeds raised under range conditions in the western provinces of Canada, such animals originate in a herd not known to contain any animals affected with brucellosis. The certificate accompanying such officially-vaccinated cattle shall comply with paragraph (d) of this section except that it shall show, in lieu of the date and place of testing, the date of vaccination and shall also show the age of the animal at the time of vaccination.

(d) Certificates; information required. The certificates prescribed in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section shall give the date and places of testing, names of the consignor and consignee, and descriptions of the cattle, including breed, ages, markings, and tattoo and eartag numbers.

Sec. 92.21 Sheep and goats from Canada.—(a) Sheep and goats offered for importation from Canada shall be accompanied by a certificate issued by a salaried veterinarian of the Canadian Government stating: (1) That such animals have been inspected on the premises of origin and found free of evidence of scrapie, and of any other communicable disease; (2) that, as far as it has been possible to determine, such animals have not been exposed to any such disease during the preceding 60 days; (3) that, as far as can be determined, scrapie has not existed on any premises on which such sheep or goats were located during the 42 months immediately prior to shipment to the United States; (4) that each of such animals is not the progeny of a sire or dam that has been affected with screapie; and (5) that, as far as it has been possible to determine, each of such animals is not a sheep or goat that would have been slaughtered under the current Canadian scrapie eradication program had that program been in effect since April 1957.

(b) If sheep or goats are unaccompanied by the certificate required by paragraph (a) of this section, or if they are found upon inspection at the port of entry to be affected with a communicable disease or to have been exposed thereto, they shall be refused entry and shall be handled thereafter in accordance with the provisions of section 8 of the act of August 30, 1890 (26 Stat. 416; 21 U.S.C. 103), or quarantined, or otherwise disposed of as the Director of Division may direct.

Sec. 92.22 Swine from Canada.—(a) For purposes other than immediate slaughter. Swine offered for importation from Canada for purposes other than immediate slaughter shall be accompanied by a certificate issued or endorsed by a salaried veterinarian of the Canadian Government showing that said swine have been inspected on the premises of origin immediately before the date of movement therefrom and found to be free of evidence of communicable disease and that, as far as it has been possible to determine, they were not exposed to any such disease during the preceding 60 days; in addition, the certificate shall show that no hog cholera or swine plague has existed on the premises of origin or on adjoining premises for such 60 days.

(b) For immediate slaughter. Swine for immediate slaughter may be imported from Canada without certification as prescribed in paragraph (a) of this section but shall be subject to the provisions of sections 92.8, 92.19, and 92.23.

Sec. 92.23 Animals from Canada for immediate slaughter.—Cattle and swine imported from Canada for immediate slaughter shall be consigned from the port of entry to some recognized slaughtering center and there slaughtered within two weeks from the date of entry, or upon special permission obtained from the Director of Division they may be reconsigned to other points and there slaughtered within the aforesaid period.

Sec. 92.24 Horses from Canada.—(a) All horses from Canada shall be inspected as provided in sec. 92.8: Provided, however, That the Director of Division may waive inspection of such horses at the port of entry or provide for their inspection at some other point when he finds that such action may be taken without endangering the livestock industry of the United States.

(b) When so ordered by the Director of Division, horses from Canada shall be accompanied by a certificate issued or endorsed by a salaried veterinarian of the Canadian government showing that said horses have been inspected on the premises of origin in Canada and found free from evidence of any contagious, infectious, or communicable disease and, as far as it has been possible to determine, they have not been exposed to any such disease common to animals of their kind, and that said horses have been mallein tested with negative results within 30 days preceding their offer for entry.

(c) Any horse from Canada may be detained at the port of entry and there subjected to such tests as may be required by the Director of Division to determine freedom from disease.

Sec. 92.25 Special provisions.—(a) In-bond Shipments from Canada. Cattle, sheep, goats, swine, horses, and poultry from Canada transported in bond through the United States for immediate export shall be inspected at the border port of entry and shall otherwise meet the requirements of this Part in the same manner as similar animals destined to points in the United States, except that the Director of Division may permit their inspection at some other point when he finds that such action may be taken without endangering the livestock or poultry of the United States.

(b) Exhibition animals. (1) Animals, including poultry, from the United States which have been exhibited at the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair at Toronto or other publicly recognized exposition in Canada and have not been in that country more than 30 days are eligible for return to the United States within 10 days from the close of such fair or exposition without Canadian health or test certificates, if they are accompanied by copies of the health certificates properly issued and endorsed in accordance with the export regulations in Part 91 of this Chapter at the time of entry into Canada, and it is shown to the satisfaction of the veterinary inspector at the United States port of entry that they are the identical animals covered by said certificates, or, in the case of poultry, if they otherwise qualified for entry into Canada under the Canadian regulations, and in any case if they are found by the inspector to be free of communicable disease and exposure thereto.

(2) Ruminants, swine, horses, and poultry from the United States used for rodeo, circus, or stage exhibitions in Canada are eligible for return to the United States without Canadian health or test certificates, if they are accompanied by copies of the health certificates properly issued and endorsed, within the preceding three months, in accordance with the export regulations in Part 91 of this Chapter for entry into Canada, and if it is shown to the satisfaction of the veterinary inspector at the United States port of entry that they are the identical animals covered by said certificates, or, in the case of poultry, if they otherwise qualified for entry into Canada under the Canadian regulations, and, in any case, if they are found by the inspector to be free of communicable disease and exposure thereto.

Sec. 92.26 Poultry from Canada.—All poultry offered for importation from Canada shall be accompanied by a certificate issued or endorsed by a salaried veterinarian of the Canadian Government showing that such poultry have been inspected on the premises of origin and that, as far as it has been possible to determine, such poultry are free of evidence of any communicable disease or exposure thereto. However, the Director of Division, when he finds that such action may be taken without endangering the poultry industry of the United States, may authorize the importation from Canada, without such certification, of eggs for hatching, newly hatched poultry, and poultry consigned for immediate slaughter.

Countries of Central America and West Indies[3]

Sec. 92.27 import permit and declaration for animals and animal semen.—(a) For ruminants, swine, poultry, and animal semen intended for importation from countries of Central America or of the West Indies, the importer shall first apply for and obtain from the Division an import permit as provided in sec. 92.4: Provided, That the Director of the Division, when he finds that such action may be taken without endangering the livestock or poultry industry of the United States, may, upon request by any person, authorize the importation by such person, without such application or permit, from the British Virgin Islands into the Virigin Islands of the United States, of animals consigned for immediate slaughter, and such authorization may be limited to a particular shipment or extend to all shipments under this paragraph by such person during a specified period of time. The importation of cattle from any area infested with cattle fever ticks is prohibited except as provided in paragraph (c) of sec. 92.28.

(b) For all animals and animal semen offered for importation from countries of Central America or of the West Indies, the importer or his agent shall present two copies of a declaration as provided in sec. 92.7.

Sec. 92.28 Ruminants from Central America and the West Indies.—(a) Ruminants offered for importation from countries of Central America and the West Indies, except as provided in paragraph (c) of this section, shall be accompanied by a certificate of a salaried veterinarian of the national government of the country of origin stating that such animals have been in said country at least 60 days immediately preceding the date of shipment therefrom; that he has inspected such animals on the premises of origin and found them free from evidence of any communicable disease; and that, as far as it has been possible to determine, such animals have not been exposed to any such disease during the preceding 60 days. If no such veterinary officer is available in the country of origin, ruminants, other than sheep and goats, may be accompanied by an affidavit of the owner or importer stating that such animals have been in the country from which they were directly shipped to the United States for a period of at least 60 days immediately preceding the date of shipment therefrom, and that during such period no communicable disease has existed among them or among animals of their kind with which they have come in contact. Ruminants for which such affidavit is presented, unless imported for immediate slaughter, shall be quarantined at the port of entry at least seven days and during that time shall be subjected to such dipping, blood tests or other tests, as may be required by the Director of Division to determine their freedom from communicable diseases. If imported for immediate slaughter, such animals shall be handled as provided in sec. 92.23.

(b) The certificate accompanying sheep and goats offered for importation from countries of Central America and the West Indies shall, in addition to the statements required by paragraph (a) of this section, state: (1) That the said veterinary officer has inspected such sheep and goats on the premises of origin and found them free of evidence of the disease known as scrapie; (2) that as far as can be determined, scrapie has not existed in any district in which such sheep or goats were located during the three years immediately prior to shipment to the United States; and (3) that each of such animals is not the progeny of a sire or dam that has been affected with scrapie.

(c) Cattle, which have been infested with or exposed to fever ticks, may be imported from the British Virgin Islands into the United States Virgin Islands, for immediate slaughter only, if they are free from fever ticks at the time of such importation; if they are entered through one of the ports designated in sec. 92.3(d) and are consigned to a recognized slaughtering center with facilities approved by the Director of Division for holding the animals in isolation until slaughtered, which shall be within 14 days after the date of entry into the United States Virgin Islands; and if they are accompanied by a certificate of a responsible official of the government of the British Virgin Islands certifying that the cattle originated in and are being shipped directly from the British Virgin Islands, that they are free of fever ticks, and that, as far as it has been possible to determine, such cattle are free from evidence of communicable disease and have not been exposed to any such disease common to animals of their kind, other than splenetic, southern, or tick fever, during the 60 days preceding their movement to the United States Virgin Islands.

[3] Importations from countries of Central America and the West Indies shall be subject to sections 92.27 to 92.30, inclusive, in addition to other sections in this part which are in terms applicable to such importations.

(d) If ruminants are unaccompanied by the certificate or affidavits as required by paragraphs (a), (b), or (c) of this section, or if they are found upon inspection at the port of entry to be affected with a communicable disease or to have been exposed thereto, they shall be refused entry, except as provided in paragraph (c) of this section. Ruminants refused entry shall be handled thereafter in accordance with the provisions of section 8 of the act of August 30, 1890 (26 Stat. 416; 21 U.S.C. 103), or quarantined, or otherwise disposed of as the Director of Division.

Sec. 92.29 Swine from Central America and the West Indies.—Swine offered for importation from countries of Central America and the West Indies shall be accompanied by an affidavit of the owner or importer stating that the said animals have been in the country from which they were directly shipped to the United States for a period of at least 60 days immediately preceding the date of shipment therefrom and that during such time no communicable disease has existed among them or among animals of their kind with which they have come in contact. Unless imported for immediate slaughter, said swine shall be quarantined at the port of entry for not less than 1 week, and in the absence of said affidavit shall be quarantined for not less than 2 weeks. While under quarantine the said swine, with the exception of wild swine, shall be immunized against hog cholera under the supervision of a veterinary inspector, at the owner's expense, by one of the methods recognized by the Department. Wild swine shall be subjected to such blood tests or other tests as may be ordered by the Director of Division in each instance to determine their freedom from communicable disease. Swine imported for immediate slaughter shall be handled as provided in sec. 92.23.

Sec. 92.30 Horses from Central America and the West Indies.—When so ordered by the Director of Division, horses from countries of Central America and the West Indies shall be subjected to such quarantine and blood tests or other tests as he may deem necessary to determine their freedom from communicable disease. Any such horses that are found to be infested with fever ticks, Boophilus annulatus, shall not be permitted entry until they have been freed therefrom by dipping in a permitted arsenical solution or by other treatment approved by the Director of Division. In lieu of inspection at the port of entry as prescribed in sec. 92.8, race horses returning from the West Indies may be inspected at such points as the Director of Division may direct.

Sec. 92.31 Import permit and application for inspection for animals and animal semen.—(a) For ruminants, swine, poultry, and animal semen intended for importation from Mexico, the importer shall first apply for and obtain from the Division an import permit as provided in sec. 92.4: Provided, That an import permit is not required for a ruminant or swine offered for entry at a land border port designated in sec. 92.3(c) if such animal: (1) Was born in the Mexican States of Tamaulipas, Nuevo Leon, Coahuila, Chihuahua, Sonora, Durango, or Baja California, or the United States, and (2) has been in no country other than the United States or Mexico, and in no Mexican State other than those specified above, and (3) has not, during the preceding 60 days, been corralled, pastured, or held with, or bred by, or inseminated with semen from, any ruminants or swine for which a permit would be required under this part, and (4) is not pregnant as a result of having been bred by, or artificially inseminated with semen from, a ruminant or swine for which a permit would be required under this part.

(b) For ruminants, swine, horses, and poultry potentially eligible for importation into the United States from Mexico, the importer or his agent shall deliver to the veterinary inspector at the port of entry an application, in writing, for inspection, so that the veterinary inspector and customs representatives may make mutually satisfactory arrangements for the orderly inspection of the animals. The veterinary inspector at the port of entry will provide the importer or his agent with a written statement assigning a date when the animals may be presented for import inspection.

Sec. 92.32 Declaration for animals and animal semen.—For all animals and animal semen offered for importation from Mexico, the importer or his agent shall present two copies of a declaration as provided in sec. 92.7.

Sec. 92.33 Inspection at port of entry.—(a) All horses, ruminants, swine, and poultry offered for entry from Mexico, including such animals intended for movement through the United States in bond for immediate return to Mexico, shall be inspected at the port of entry, and all such animals found to be free from communicable disease and fever tick infestation, and not to have been exposed thereto, shall be admitted into the United States subject to the other applicable provisions of this part. Animals found to be affected with or to have been exposed to a communicable disease, or infested with fever ticks, shall be refused entry except as provided in sec. 92.35(a)(2). Ruminants and swine refused entry shall be handled thereafter in accordance with provisions of section 8 of the act of August 30, 1890 (26 Stat. 416; 21 U.S.C. 103) or quarantined or otherwise disposed of as the Director of Division may direct. Horses and poultry refused entry, unless exported within a time fixed in each case by the Director of Division, shall be disposed of as said Director may direct.

[4] Importations from Mexico shall be subject to sections 92.31 to 92.40, inclusive, in addition to other sections in this part which are applicable for such importations.

(b) Animals covered by paragraph (a) of this section shall be imported through ports, designated in sec. 92.3, which are equipped with facilities necessary for proper chute inspection, dipping, and testing, as provided in this part.

Sec. 92.34 Detention at port of entry and periods of quarantine.—(a) Cattle, other ruminants, and swine imported from Mexico and originating in the Mexican States of Tamaulipas, Nuevo Leon, Coahuila, Chihuahua, Sonora, Durango, and Baja California, except animals being transported in bond for immediate return to Mexico and except animals imported for immediate slaughter, may be detained at the port of entry and there subjected to such disinfection, blood tests, other tests, and dipping as may be required by the Director of Division to determine their freedom from any communicable disease or infection with such disease and the importer shall be responsible for the care, feed, and handling of the animals during the period of detention.

(b) Cattle, other ruminants, and swine originating in States of Mexico, other than those listed in paragraph (a) of this section, and all poultry, imported from mexico, except animals being transported in bond for immediate return to Mexico and eggs for hatching, shall be quarantined at the port of entry for not less than 15 days, counting from the date of arrival at such port. During their quarantine cattle, other ruminants, swine, and poultry shall be subjected to such disinfection, blood tests, other tests, and dipping as may be required by the Director of Division to determine their freedom from any communicable disease or infection with such disease. Any offering for entry from Mexico of cattle, other ruminants, and swine which includes any such animals from Mexican States other than those listed in paragraph (a) of this section; shall be subject to the provisions of this paragraph rather than to the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section.

Sec. 92.35 Cattle from Mexico—(a) Fever ticks. (1) Except as provided in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, all cattle offered for importation from Mexico, for purposes other than immediate slaughter, shall be accompanied by a certificate of a salaried veterinarian of the Mexican Government showing that he inspected the said cattle at the time of movement to the port of entry and found them free from any evidence of communicable disease and that, as far as it has been possible to determine, they have not been exposed to any such disease, including splenetic, southern, or tick fever, during the preceding 60 days and if shipped by rail or truck the certificate shall further specify that the cattle were loaded into clean and disinfected cars or trucks for transportation direct to the port of entry. They shall also be accompanied by a certificate of the importer, or his agent supervising the shipment, stating that while en route to the port of entry they have not been trailed or driven through any district or area infested with fever ticks. Notwithstanding such certificates, such cattle shall be detained or quarantined as provided in sec. 92.34 and shall be dipped at least once, under supervision of an inspector, in an arsenical solution containing a minimum of 0.22 percent of arsenious oxide in solution, or in a permitted scabies dip, depending on the origin of the animals and subject to the discretion of the inspector. The owner or his agent shall first execute an application for inspection and dipping as provided in paragraph (a) (2) (iii) of this section.

(2) Cattle which have been infested with or exposed to fever ticks may be imported from Mexico into the State of Texas, provided the following conditions are strictly observed and complied with:

(i) The cattle shall be accompanied by a certificate of a salaried veterinarian of the Mexican Government showing that he has inspected the cattle and found them free from fever ticks and any evidence of communicable disease, and that, as far as it has been possible to determine, they have not been exposed to any such disease except splenetic, southern, or tick fever, during the 60 days preceding their movement to the port of entry.

(ii) The cattle shall be shown by a certificate of a salaried veterinarian of the Mexican Government to have been dipped in an arsenical solution containing a minimum of 0.22 percent of arsenious oxide in solution within 7 to 12 days before being offered for entry.

(iii) The importer, or his duly authorized agent, shall first execute and deliver to an inspector at the port of entry an application for inspection and supervised dipping wherein he shall agree to waive all claims against the United States for any loss or damage to the cattle occasioned by or resulting from dipping, or resulting from the fact that they are later found to be still tick infested; and also for all subsequent loss or damage to any other cattle in the possession or control of such importer which may come into contact with the cattle so dipped.

(iv) The cattle when offered for entry shall receive a chute inspection by an inspector. If found free from ticks they shall be given one dipping in a permitted dip under the supervision of an inspector 7 to 14 days after the dipping required by subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph. If found to be infested with fever ticks, the entire lot of cattle shall be rejected and will not be again inspected for entry until 10 to 14 days after they have again been dipped in the manner provided by subdivision (ii) of this paragraph.

(v) The conditions at the port of entry shall be such that the subsequent movement of the cattle can be made without exposure to fever ticks.

(b) Tuberculosis. All cattle offered for importation from Mexico, except strictly range cattle[5] and those offered for immediate slaughter, shall be accompanied by a satisfactory certificate of a salaried veterinarian of the Mexican Government showing that the animals have been tested for tuberculosis with negative results within 30 days preceding their being offered for entry. The said certificate shall give the date and place of such testing, names of the consignor and consignee, and a description of the cattle, including breed, ages, markings, and tattoo and eartag numbers.

(c) Brucellosis. (1) All bulls and female cattle for entry into the United States from Mexico shall be detained or quarantined at the port of entry, and, except as provided in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, a blood sample shall be obtained from each animal and an agglutination test made for brucellosis. Animals not negative to the test shall be refused entry.

[5] It has been determined that the incidence of tuberculosis is much less than one-half of 1 percent among range cattle in the northern states of Mexico, where importations of this class of cattle originate. Such cattle, however, will be subject to the turberculin-test requirements of the state of destination.

(2) The following classes of animals shall not be required to be tested under the provisions of subparagraph (1) of this paragraph:

(i) Cattle for immediate slaughter;

(ii)Animals under six months of age; and

(iii) Female calves which are officially vaccinated against brucellosis at the port of entry by a veterinarian at no expense to the Department, under supervision of the inspector, with a vaccine approved by the Agricultural Research Service of the Department, and which are permanently identified by a tattoo in the right ear or a "V" fire brand on the right jaw as approved by the Agricultural Research Service.

Sec. 92.36 Sheep and goats and wild ruminants from Mexico.—(a) Sheep and goats offered for importation from Mexico shall be accompanied by a certificate of a salaried veterinarian of the Mexican Government stating: (1) That he has inspected such sheep and goats on the premises of origin and found them free of evidence of the disease known as scrapie, and of any other communicable disease; (2) that, as far as it has been possible to determine, such animals have not been exposed to any such disease during the preceding 60 days; (3) that, as far as can be determined, the disease known as scrapie has not existed in any district in which such sheep or goats were located during the three years immediately prior to shipment to the United States; and (4) that each of such animals is not the progeny of a sire or dam that has been affected with scrapie. If such sheep or goats are shipped by rail or truck the certificate shall further specify that such animals were loaded into cleaned and disinfected cars or trucks for transportation direct to the port of entry. Notwithstanding such certificate, such sheep and goats shall be detained or quarantined as provided in sec. 92.34 and shall be dipped at least once in a permitted scabies dip under supervision of an inspector.

(b) The certificate accompanying goats offered for importation from Mexico shall, in addition to the statements required by paragraph (a) of this section, state that such goats have been tested for tuberculosis and brucellosis with negative results within 30 days preceding their being offered for entry, and give the date and method of testing, the name of the consignor and of the consignee, and a description of the animals including breed, ages, markings, and tattoo and eartag numbers. Notwithstanding such certification such goats shall be detained or quarantined as provided in sec. 92.34 and retested for brucellosis.

(c) If sheep or goats are unaccompanied by the certificate as required by paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, or if they are found upon inspection or retesting, as provided for in this part, to be affected with a communicable disease or to have been exposed thereto, they shall be refused entry and shall be handled thereafter in accordance with the provisions of section 8 of the act of August 30, 1890 (26 Stat. 416; 21 U.S.C. 103), or quarantined, or otherwise disposed of as the Director of Division may direct.

(d) Certificates will not be required for wild ruminants, other than sheep and goats, originating in and shipped direct from Mexico, but such animals are subject to inspection at the port of entry as provided in sec. 92.33.

Sec. 92.37 Swine from Mexico.—(a) Except as provided for in paragraph (b) of this section, all swine offered for importation from Mexico for purposes other than immediate slaughter, shall be accompanied by a certificate signed by a salaried veterinarian of the Mexican Government showing that for a period of 60 days prior to their movement from the premises on which they were kept no swine plague or hog cholera has existed within a radius of 5 miles therefrom. In addition, all such swine shall be immunized against hog cholera under the supervision of an inspector at the port of entry at the owner's expense in accordance with one of the methods recognized by the Department for preventing the spread of this disease. In the absence of the certificate as herein specified, such swine shall be detained or quarantined as provided in sec. 92.34 and, in addition to immunization against hog cholera, shall be subjected to such inspections and tests as may be deemed necessary by the Director of Division to determine their freedom from communicable disease.

(b) A certificate as specified in this section will not be required for wild swine for exhibition purposes, and such animals will not be required to undergo immunization against hog cholera but are subject to inspection at the port of entry as provided in sec. 92.33.

Sec. 92.38 Poultry from Mexico.—Poultry, except eggs for hatching, offered for entry from Mexico, for purposes other than immediate slaughter, shall be accompanied by a certificate of a salaried veterinarian of the Mexican Government stating that such poultry and their flock or flocks of origin were inspected on the premises of origin immediately before the date of movement therefrom; that they were then found to be free of evidence of communicable diseases of poultry; and that, as far as it has been possible to determine, they were not exposed to any such diseases during the 60 days immediately preceding the date of movement therefrom or since they were hatched; that, in so far as it has been possible to determine, no case of European fowl pest (fowl plague) or Newcastle disease (avian pneumoencephalitis), occurred in the localities where the poultry were kept during such period. Eggs for hatching offered for importation from Mexico shall be accompanied by a certificate of a salaried veterinarian of the Mexican Government stating that the flock or flocks or origin of such eggs were inspected on the premises of origin immediately before the date of movement of the eggs therefrom, and found to be free from evidence of communicable diseases of poultry; and that, as far as it has been possible to determine, such flock or flocks were not exposed to any such diseases during the preceding 60 days.

Sec. 92.39 Horses from Mexico.—(a) Horses offered for importation from Mexico shall be accompanied by a certificate issued or endorsed by a salaried veterinarian of the Mexican Government showing that said horses have been inspected on the premises of origin in Mexico and found free from evidence of any contagious, infectious, or communicable disease, and, as far as it has been possible to determine, they have not been exposed to any such disease common to animals of their kind during the preceding 60 days: Provided, however, That the Director of Division may waive the certificate requirement with respect to any or all horses from Mexico when he finds that such action may be taken without endangering the livestock industry of the United States.

(b) Horses offered for importation from tick-infested areas of Mexico shall be chute inspected, unless in the judgment of the inspector a satisfactory inspection can be made otherwise. If they are found to be apparently free from fever ticks, before entering the United States they shall be dipped once in a permitted arsenical solution or be otherwise treated in a manner approved by the Director of Disivion. If they are found to be infested with fever ticks they shall be refused entry but may be reoffered for importation after being handled as prescribed in sec. 92.35 (a) (2) (ii) for cattle from tick-infested areas.

(c) Any horse from Mexico may be detained or quarantined at the port of entry and there subjected to such tests as may be required by the Director of Division to determine freedom from disease, and the importer shall be responsible for the care, feed, and handling of such horses during the period of detention or quarantine.

Sec. 92.40 Animals for immediate slaughter.—Swine and ruminants, other than sheep and goats, from the Mexican states of Tamaulipas, Nuevo Leon, Coahuila, Chihuahua, Sonora, Durango, and Baja California, and horses and poultry from any part of Mexico, may be imported, subject to the applicable provisions of sections 92.31, 92.32, 92.33, 92.35 (a) (2) and 92.39 (a), for immediate slaughter if accompanied by a certificate of a salaried veterinarian of the Mexican Government stating that he has inspected such animals on the premises of origin and found them free of evidence of communicable disease, and that, so far as it has been possible to determine, they have not been exposed to any such disease common to animals of their kind during the preceding 60 days, and if the animals are shipped by rail or truck, the certificate shall further specify that the animals were loaded into cleaned and disinfected cars or trucks for transportation directly to the port of entry. Such animals shall be consigned from the port of entry to some recognized slaughtering center and there slaughtered within 2 weeks from the date of entry. Such animals shall be moved from the port of entry in conveyances sealed with seals of the United States Government. Swine and ruminants from Mexican States other than those designated above and sheep and goats from any part of Mexico may be imported only in compliance with other applicable sections in this part.

RINDERPEST, FOOT-AND-MOUTH DISEASE, FOWL PEST (FOWL PLAGUE), NEWCASTLE DISEASE (AVIAN PNEUMOENCEPHALITIS), AFRICAN SWINE FEVER, AND HOG CHOLERA; PROHIBITED AND RESTRICTED IMPORTATIONS

Regulations of the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, Department of Agriculture, relating to the importation of products from countries where rinderpest and other diseases have been designated to exist, Code of Federal Regulations, Title 9, sections 94.1-94.16.

Authority: Secs. 94.1-94.16 issued under sec. 2, 32 Stat. 792, as amended; sec. 306, 46 Stat. 689 (19 U.S.C. 1306, 21 U.S.C. 111))

Sec. 94.1 Designation of countries where rinderpest or foot-and-mouth disease exists; importations prohibited. (a) Notice is hereby given that, in accordance with section 306 of the Act of June 17, 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1306), it has been determined, and official notice has been given to the Secretary of the Treasury that:

(1) Rinderpest or foot-and-mouth disease exists in all countries of the world, except those listed in paragraph (a)(2) of this section;

(2) The following countries are declared to be free of both rinderpest and foot-and-mouth disease: Australia, Bahama Islands, Barbados, Bermuda, British Honduras (Belize), Canada, Finland, Great Britain (England, Scotland, Wales, and Isle of Man), Greenland, Guatemala, Haiti, Honduras, Iceland, Ireland, Jamaica, Japan, Costa Rica, Dominican Republic, El Salvador, Fiji, Mexico, New Zealand, Nicaragua, Northern Ireland, Norway, Panama, Panama Canal Zone, Territory of St. Pierre and Miquelon, and Sweden, Tobago, Trinidad, and Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands.

(b) The bringing within the territorial limits of the United States of cattle, sheep, or other ruminants, or swine, or of fresh, chilled, or frozen meat of such animals (including such animals or meat on board a vessel or other means of conveyance for use as sea stores or otherwise), which originate in or are shipped from a country designated in paragraph (a) of this section as a country infected with rinderpest or foot-and-mouth disease or which enter a port in or otherwise transit such a country, is prohibited, except as provided in Part 92 of this chapter for wild ruminants and wild swine, and except as provided in paragraph (c) of this section for meat.

(c) Except as otherwise provided in this part, fresh, chilled, or frozen meat of ruminants or swine which originates in and is shipped from a country other than those designated in paragraph (a) of this section as infected with rinderpest or foot-and-mouth disease and which enters any port of such an infected country or otherwise transits such an infected country en route to the United States, may be imported into the United States insofar as the restrictions of this part are concerned, if:

(1) The meat is accompanied by the foreign meat inspection certificate or certificates required under section 327.6 of Chapter III of this title;

(2) The hold or compartment of the transporting carrier into which the meat was loaded was sealed in the country of origin by an official of such country with seals approved by the Veterinary Services unit of the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, so as to prevent contamination, and the loading of any cargo into and the removal of any cargo from such sealed hold or compartment, en route to the United States;

(3) The seals used to seal such hold or compartment of such carrier are serially numbered and recorded on the certificate or certificates, referred to in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph accompanying the shipment;

(4) Upon arrival of the carrier in the United States port of entry the seals are found by a representative of Veterinary Services of this Department to be intact and such representative finds that there is no evidence indicating that the seals were tampered with; and

(5) Such meat is found by a representative of this Department to be as represented in the certificate or certificates referred to in (1) above.

Sec. 94.1a Criteria for determining the separate status of a territory or possession as to rinderpest and foot-and-mouth disease.—(a) The Secretary of Agriculture will make a determination as to whether a territory or possession may be deemed separate from the mother country, in which rinderpest or foot-and-mouth disease has been determined to exist, for the purposes of section 306(a) of the act of June 17, 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1306(a)), only if:

(1) The official authority of that territory or possession, having responsibility for animal health matters, has declared such territory or possession free of rinderpest and foot-and-mouth disease;

(2) The territory or possession is geographically separate from the mother country and has full autonomy from the mother country in all animal health matters, including import and export;

(3) The territory or possession has a veterinary service which is capable of speedily detecting rinderpest or foot-and-mouth disease and which is comprised of veterinarians who:

(i) are employed as officials of the government of the territory or possession,

(ii) are graduates of a recognized school of veterinary medicine, and

(iii) are assigned in sufficient numbers and are so distributed, with respect to the livestock population, to be able to promptly recognize the existence of rinderpest and foot-and-mouth disease;

(4) A laboratory capable of diagnosing rinderpest and foot-and-mouth disease is available to the veterinary service of the territory or possession;

(5) Vaccinations for foot-and-mouth disease or rinderpest are not permitted in the territory or possession;

(6) The reporting of rinderpest or foot-and-mouth disease to the veterinary authorities of the territory or possession is required by anyone who has notice of the existence of these diseases;

(7) Laws and regulations are in effect and are administered in such manner as to insure against the introduction of foot-and-mouth disease or rinderpest through the importation of animals, meat, and animal products from countries, including the mother country, declared by the United States Secretary of Agriculture to be countries where foot-and-mouth disease or rinderpest exist;

(8) Animals introduced into the territory or possession from rinderpest or foot-and-mouth disease infected countries, including the mother country, are imported through a quarantine station and under conditions acceptable to the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States, and such conditions include, but are not restricted to:

(i) Tests deemed necessary for the detection of rinderpest and foot-and-mouth disease.

(ii) quarantine deemed necessary for the detection of rinderpest and foot-and-mouth disease, and

(iii) opportunity for observation by a United States Department of Agriculture veterinarian during all phases of the import procedures;

(b) An on-site inspection by a veterinary representative of the United States Department of Agriculture to determine whether the criteria in this section are met shall be made of the territory or possession before any final determination is made as to its status.

Sec. 94.2 Fresh, chilled, or frozen products (other than meat), and milk and milk products of ruminants and swine.—(a) The importation of fresh, chilled, or frozen products (other than meat and milk and milk products) derived from ruminants or swine, originating in, shipped from, or transiting any country designated in section 94.1(a) as a country infected with rinderpest or foot-and-mouth disease is prohibited, except as provided in section 94.3 and Parts 95 and 96 of this chapter.

(b) The importation of milk and milk products of ruminants and swine originating in, shipped from, or transiting any country designated in section 94.1(a) as a country infected with rinderpest or foot-and-mouth disease is prohibited, except as provided in section 94.16.

Sec. 94.3 Organs, glands, extracts, or secretions of ruminants or swine.—The importation of fresh, chilled, or frozen organs, glands, extracts, or secretions derived from ruminants or swine, originating in any country designated in section 94.1 except for pharmaceutical or biological purposes under conditions prescribed by the Deputy Administrator, Veterinary Services in each instance, is prohibited.

Sec. 94.4 Foreign dured or cooked meats[1] from countries where rinderpest or foot-and-mouth disease exists.—(a) The importation of cured meats derived from ruminants or swine, originating in any country designated in section 94.1 is prohibited unless the following conditions have been fulfilled:

(1) All bones shall have been completely removed in the country of origin.

(2) The meat shall have been held in an unfrozen, fresh condition for at least 3 days immediately following the slaughter of the animals from which it was derived.

(3) (i) The meat shall have been thoroughly cured and fully dried in such manner that it may be stored and handled without refrigeration, as in the case of salami and other summer sausages, tasajo, xarque, or jerked beef, bouillon cubes, dried beef, and Westphalia, Italian and similar type hams. The term "fully dried" as used in this subparagraph means dried to the extent that the water-protein ratio in the wettest portion of the product does not exceed 2.25 to 1.

(ii) Laboratory analysis of samples to determine the water-protein ratios will not be made in the case of all shipments of cured and dried meats. However, in any case in which the inspector is uncertain whether the meat complies with the requirements of subparagraph (i) he will send a sample of the meat representative of the wettest portion to the Meat Inspection Division for analysis of the water-protein ratio. Pending such analysis the meat shall not be released or removed from the port of entry.

[1] This does not include any meat that has been sterilized by heat in hermetically sealed containers.

(b) The importation of cooked meats derived from ruminants or swine originating in any country designated in section 94.1 is prohibited unless the following conditions shall have been fulfilled:

(1) All bones shall have been completely removed in the country of origin.

(2) The meat shall have been heated to such an extent that, upon inspection, the meat will have a thoroughly cooked appearance throughout.

(3) When so directed by the Deputy Administrator, Veterinary Services, such meat shall be consigned directly from the port of entry to a meat-processing establishment operating under Federal meat inspection that has been approved by him for the further processing of such meat. Such meat shall be shipped from the port of entry to the approved establishment under Customs seals or seals of Veterinary Services and shall be otherwise handled as the said Deputy Administrator, Veterinary Services may direct. Seals applied under authority of this section shall not be broken except by persons authorized to do so by the said Deputy Administrator, Veterinary Services.

Sec. 94.5 Garbage; regulations on storage and movement on certain means of conveyance.—(a) Garbage on or unloaded from any means of conveyance arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof (except garbage that has not been outside the territorial limits of the United States and Canada), or arriving in the continental United States from Hawaii or any Territory or possession, or arriving in any Territory or possession from any other Territory or possession or from Hawaii, or arriving in Hawaii from any Territory or possession, shall be subject to general surveillance by Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service inspectors and to such disposal measures as are authorized by section 105 of the Federal Plant Pest Act (7 U.S.C. 150dd), Section 10 of the Plant Quarantine Act of 1912, as amended (7 U.S.C. 164a), section 2 of the Act of February 2, 1903, as amended (21 U.S.C. 111), and section 306 of the Act of June 17, 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1306), to prevent the dissemination of plant pests and livestock or poultry diseases.[2]

(b) (1) All garbage regulated in paragraph (a) of this section shall be contained in tight, leak-proof covered receptacles (inside the guard rail on vessels) during storage on board such means of conveyance while in the territorial waters or otherwise within the territory of the United States. Such garbage shall not be unloaded from such means of conveyance in the United States unless such garbage is removed in tight, leakproof receptacles under the direction of an Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service inspector to an approved facility for incineration, sterilization, or grinding into an approved sewage system, under supervision by such an inspector, or such garbage is removed for other handling in such manner and under such supervision as may, upon request in specific cases, be approved by the Administrator as complying with the applicable laws for environmental prote[illegible]on and as adequate to prevent the dissemination into or within the United States of plant pests and livestock or poultry diseases.

(2) Application for approval of a facility or sewage system may be made in writing by the authorized representative of any carrier or by the official having jurisdiction over the port or place of arrival of the means of conveyance, to the Administrator, Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250. The application shall be endorsed by the operator of the facility or sewage system. Approval will be granted if the Administrator determines that the requirements set forth in this section are met. Approval may be denied or withdrawn at any time, if the Administrator determines that such requirements are not met, after notice of the proposed denial or withdrawal of the approval and the reasons therefor, and an opportunity to demonstrate or achieve compliance with such requirements, has been afforded to the operator of the facility or sewage system and to the applicant for approval. However, approval may also be withdrawn without such prior procedure in any case in which the public health, interest or safety requires immediate action, and in such case, the operator of the facility or sewage system and the applicant for appoval shall promptly thereafter be given notice of the withdrawal and the reasons therefor and an opportunity to show cause why the approval should be reinstated.

(c) The Plant Protection and Quarantine Programs and Veterinary Services, Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, will cooperate with other Federal, State, and local agencies responsible for enforcing other statutes and regulations governing disposal of garbage to the end that such disposal shall be adequate to prevent the dissemination of plant pests and livestock or poultry diseases and comply with applicable laws for environmental protection. The inspectors, in maintaining surveillance over garbage movements and disposal, shall coordinate their activities with the activities of representatives of the Environmental Protection Agency and other Federal, State, and local agencies also having jurisdiction over such garbage.

(d) As used in this section:

(1) "Garbage" means all waste material derived in whole or in part from fruits, vegetables, meats or other plant or animal (including poultry) material, and other refuse of any character whatsoever that has been associated with any such material on board any means of conveyance, and including food scraps, table refuse, galley refuse, food wrappers or packaging materials, and other waste material from stores, food preparation areas, passengers' or crews' quarters, dining rooms, or any other areas on vessels, aircraft, or other means of conveyance.

(2) "Sterilization" means cooking garbage at 212° F. for 30 minutes and disposal of the residue by burying.

(3) "Incineration" means to reduce the garbage to ash by burning.

(4) "Approved sewage system" means a sewage system approved by the Administrator, Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, upon his determination that the system is designed and operated in such a way as to preclude the discharge of sewage effluents onto land surfaces or into lagoons or other stationary waters, and otherwise is adequate to prevent the dissemination of plant pests and livestock or poultry diseases, and that it is certified by an appropriate government official as currently complying with the applicable laws for environmental protection.

[2] The provisions of this section for handling of garbage do not relieve any prohibition or restriction elsewhere in this title on bringing any meat or other product or article into the United States or on the interstate movement of any product or article.

(5) "Approved facility" means a facility approved by the Administrator, Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, upon his determination that it has equipment and uses procedures that are adequate to prevent the dissemination of plant pests and livestock or poultry diseases, and that it is certified by an appropriate government official as currently complying with the applicable laws for environmental protection.

(6) "Carrier" means the principal operator of a means of conveyance.

(7) "United States" means the States, District of Columbia, Guam, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands of the United States.

(8) "Territories or possessions" means Guam, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands of the United States.

Sec. 94.6 Carcasses of poultry, game birds, and other birds, parts or products thereof, and eggs other than hatching eggs; restrictions, exceptions.—(a)(1) Viscerotropic velogenic Newcastle disease is considered to exist in all countries of the world except those listed in paragraph (a)(2) of this section.

(2) The following countries are considered to be free of viscerotropic velogenic Newcastle disease: Australia, Canada, Denmark, Finland, Iceland, New Zealand, Northern Ireland, Norway, Republic of Ireland and Sweden.

(b) For the purposes of this section, the following terms shall mean:

(1) Infected country. Any country not listed in paragraph (a)(2) of this section as free of viscerotropic velogenic Newcastle disease.

(2) Poultry. Chickens, turkeys, swans, pheasants, grouse, partridges, quail, guinea fowl, pea fowl, and the non-migratory types of ducks, gesse, pigeons and doves.

(3) Birds. All members of the class Aves (other than poultry or game birds).

(4) Game Birds. Migratory types of ducks, geese, pigeons, and doves. ("Migratory" refers to flight to and from the United States in accordance with a seasonal pattern.)

(c) Any carcasses of poultry, game birds, and other birds, or parts or products thereof, which originated in and were shipped directly from a country listed in paragraph (a)(2) of this Section are exempt from the requirements of this section.

(d) Any carcasses of poultry, game birds, and other birds, or parts or products thereof, which originated in any infected country or which transited any such country may be imported only in accordance with the following requirements:

(1) Carcasses of game birds may be imported if they have been eviscerated and the heads and feet removed.

(2) Carcasses, or parts or products of carcasses, of poultry, game birds, and other birds may be imported for consignment to any museum, educational institution or other establishment which has provided the Deputy Administrator, Veterinary Services, with evidence that it has the equipment, facilities, and capabilities to store, handle, process, or disinfect such articles so as to prevent the introduction or dissemination of viscerotropic velogenic Newcastle disease into the United States, and which is approved by him.[3]

(3) Carcasses, or parts or products of carcasses, of poultry, game birds, and other birds, may be imported if packed in hermetically sealed containers and if cooked by a commercial method after such packing to produce articles which are shelf stable without refrigeration.

(e) Carcasses or parts or products of carcasses, of poultry, game birds, and other birds which do not qualify for importation under paragraph (c) or (d) of this section may be imported only if the importer applies to, and is granted a permit by, the Deputy Administrator, Veterinary Services authorizing such importation. Permission will be given only when the Deputy Administrator determines that such importation will not constitute a risk of introduction or dissemination of viscerotropic velogenic Newcastle disease into the United States.

(f) Eggs, other than hatching eggs,[4] of poultry, game birds, and other birds, originating in and shipped directly from a country listed in paragraph (a)(2) of this section are exempt from the requirements of this section.

(g) Except as provided in paragraph (h) of this section, eggs, other than hatching eggs[4] of poultry, game birds, and other birds, originating in or transiting an infected country may be imported only if:

(1) The eggs are accompanied by a certificate signed by a salaried veterinary officer of the national government of the country of origin stating:

(i) That the flock or flocks of origin were found upon inspection to be free from evidence of communicable disease of poultry;

(ii) That no Newcastle disease has occurred on the premises of origin or on adjoining premises during the 90 days immediately preceding the date of movement of the eggs from such country.

(iii) That insofar as it has been possible to determine, the flock or flocks of origin were not exposed to Newcastle disease during the 90 days immediately preceding the date of movement of the eggs from such country;

(iv) That the eggs have been washed and sanitized in a hypochlorite solution of from 100 p.p.m. to 200 p.p.m. of available chlorine and are packed in new, unused packing materials.

(v) That the eggs are from flocks determined to be free of Newcastle disease and other communicable diseases of poultry as demonstrated through a surveillance program in effect for not less than 60 days before such eggs are certified for exports to the United States, with such surveillance maintained during the period in which the eggs being certified were laid.

[3] Information as to the identity of approved establishments may be obtained from, and request for approval of any establishment may be made to, the Deputy Administrator, Veterinary Services, Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250. Establishments will be approved only if the Deputy Administrator, Veterinary Services, determines that the imported articles will be so handled at the establishments as to prevent the introduction or dissemination of viscerotropic velogenic Newcastle disease into the United States. Approval of any establishment may be refused or withdrawn only after the operator thereof has been given notice of the proposed action and has had an opportunity to present his views thereon.

[4] The requirements for the importation of hatching eggs are stated in Part 92 of this chapter.

(2) The surveillance program required under paragraph (g)(1)(v) of this section shall be one of the following:

(i) Placement of Newcastle disease susceptible sentinel birds[5] in the flock or flocks of origin at a rate of not less than one sentinel bird per thousand, with a minimum of 30 sentinel birds per house, with the sentinels remaining free of clinical and immunological evidence of Newcastle disease as demonstrated by negative hemagglutination inhibition tests conducted on samples drawn at 10-day intervals throughout the surveillance period; or

(ii) Once weekly collection of carcasses of all birds in the flock or flocks of origin, dying during the surveillance period, with laboratory examination of such carcasses including use of the embryonated egg inoculation technique,[6] to detect Newcastle disease virus; and once monthly collection of tracheal and cloacal swabs from not less than 10 percent of the birds in the flock or flocks of origin, for laboratory testing.[6] All examinations and tests shall be negative for evidence of Newcastle disease.

The laboratory conducting the examinations and testing required in this paragraph shall be a facility located in the country of origin of the eggs being certified, and shall be approved by the national government of said country for this purpose in accordance with criteria acceptable to the Deputy Administrator, Veterinary Services.[7]

(h) Eggs, other than hatching eggs, of poultry, game birds, and other birds, which do not qualify for importation under paragraph (f) or (g) of this section may be permitted entry in specific cases by the Deputy Administrator, Veterinary Services, upon application to him, if:

(1) Such eggs are transported under U.S. Government seal to a processing establishment approved by the Deputy Administrator for breaking and pasteurization, and the Deputy Administrator determines that such handling and use of the eggs does not involve a risk of the introduction or dissemination of visceratropic velogenic Newcastle disease into the United States. Shells of such eggs, cases, and other packing materials used in the importation shall be disposed of under the supervision of a Department inspector in a manner approved by the Deputy Administrator as adequate to effectuate the purposes of this section; or

(2) Such eggs are imported for scientific, educational or research purposes and the importer has provided to the Deputy Administrator, Veterinary Services, evidence, satisfactory to the Deputy Administrator, that he has the equipment, facilities, and capability to store, handle, process, or disinfect the eggs in a manner adequate to prevent the introduction or dissemination of visceratropic velogenic Newcastle disease into the United States; or

(3) Such eggs do not qualify for importation under paragraph (h)(1) or (2) of this section and the Deputy Administrator, Veterinary Services, authorizes such importation. Permission will be given only when the Deputy Administrator determines that such importation will not constitute a risk of introduction or dissemination of visceratropic velogenic Newcastle disease into the United States.

Sec. 94.7 Disposal of animals, meats, and other articles ineligible for importation.—(a) Ruminants and swine, and fresh, chilled, or frozen meats, prohibited importation under section 94.1, which come into the United States by ocean vessel and are offered for entry and refused admission into this country shall be destroyed or otherwise disposed of as the Deputy Administrator, Veterinary Services, may direct pursuant to section 306 of the Act of June 17, 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1306), unless they are exported by the consignee within 48 hours, and meanwhile are retained under such isolation and other safeguards as the Deputy Administrator, Veterinary Services, may require to prevent the introduction or dissemination of livestock or poultry diseases into the United States.

(b) Ruminants and swine, and fresh, chilled, or frozen meats, prohibited importation under section 94.1, which come into the United States aboard an airplane or railroad car and are offered for entry and refused admission into this country shall be destroyed or otherwise disposed of as the Deputy Administrator, Veterinary Services, may direct pursuant to section 306 of the Act of June 17, 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1306), unless they are exported by the consignee within 24 hours and meanwhile are retained under such isolation and other safeguards as the Deputy Administrator, Veterinary Services, may require to prevent the introduction or dissemination of livestock or poultry diseases into the United States.

(c) Ruminants and swine, and fresh, chilled, or frozen meats, prohibited importation under section 94.1, which come into the United States by any means other than ocean vessel, airplane, or railroad car and are offered for entry and refused admission into this country shall be destroyed or otherwise disposed of as the Deputy Administrator, Veterinary Services, may direct pursuant to section 306 of the Act of June 17, 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1306), unless they are exported by the consignee within 8 hours on the same means of conveyance and meanwhile are retained under such isolation and other safeguards as the Deputy Administrator, Veterinary Services, may require to prevent the introduction or dissemination of livestock or poultry diseases into the United States.

(d) Ruminants and swine, and fresh, chilled, or frozen meats, prohibited importation under section 94.1, which come into the United States by any means but are not offered for entry into this country; and other animals, meats, and other articles prohibited importation under other sections of this part which come into the United States by any means, whether they are offered for entry into this country or not, shall be immediately destroyed or otherwise disposed of as the Deputy Administrator, Veterinary Services, may direct at any time in accordance with section 2 of the Act of February 2, 1903, as amended, or section 2 of the Act of July 2, 1962 (21 U.S.C. 111, 134a).

[5] A sentinel bird is a specimen pathogen-free chicken which has not been infected with, exposed to, or immunized with any strain of Newcastle disease virus and is therefore susceptible to Newcastle disease. Information regarding sources of sentinel birds may be obtained from the Deputy Administrator, Veterinary Services, Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.

[6] Technical information on laboratory methods and procedures may be obtained from the Deputy Administrator, Veterinary Services, Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.

[7] Information regarding the identity of such approved laboratory facilities and other criteria for such approval may be obtained from the Deputy Administrator, Veterinary Services, Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.

Sec. 94.8 Pork and pork products from countries where African swine fever exists.—African swine fever is potentially the most dangerous and destructive of all communicable swine diseases. The causative virus is highly virulent and may be present in pork and pork products originating in countries where the disease exists. The only known practical method of destroying the contagion of the disease in pork and pork products is by heat treatment. In view of these circumstances and in order to prevent the introduction and dissemination of the contagion of African swine fever, the regulations in this section are promulgated with respect to the importation of pork and pork products from the following countries where the disease exists:

All countries of Africa.
Cuba.
France.
Portugal.
Spain.

(a) No pork or pork product will be permitted entry into the United States from any country where African swine fever exists unless:

(1) Such pork or pork product has been fully cooked in a can which was promptly sealed so that such cooking and sealing produced a fully sterilized product in a hermetically sealed can that is shelf stable without refrigeration; or

(2) Such pork or pork product is not otherwise prohibited importation under this part and is consigned directly from the port of entry in the United States to a meat processing establishment operating under Federal meat inspection, approved by the Deputy Administrator, Veterinary Services for further processing of such pork or pork product by heat.

(b) Pork or pork products consigned from the port of entry to an approved establishment under the provisions of subparagraph (2) of paragraph (a) of this section shall be moved from the port of entry to the approved establishment under Customs seals or seals of the Deputy Administrator, Veterinary Services and shall be otherwise handled as the Deputy Administrator, Veterinary Services may direct in order to guard against the introduction and dissemination of the contagion of African swine fever. Seals applied under this section shall not be broken except by persons authorized to do so by the Deputy Administrator, Veterinary Services.

(c) Pork or pork products imported into the United States from a country where African swine fever exists which do not meet the requirements specified in this section shall be seized, quarantined, and disposed of as the Deputy Administrator, Veterinary Services may direct in order to guard against the introduction and dissemination of the contagion of the disease.

Sec. 94.9 Pork and pork products from countries where hog cholera exists.—(a) Hog cholera is one of the most dangerous and destructive of all swine diseases. The causative virus is highly virulent and is likely to be present in pork and pork products originating in countries where the disease exists. The disease is known to exist in all countries of the world except Australia, Canada, Denmark, Great Britain (England, Scotland, Wales, and Isle of Man), Iceland, Northern Ireland, the Republic of Ireland, Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands, and New Zealand. The only known practical methods of destroying the contagion of the disease in pork and pork products are by a treatment as prescribed in this section. In view of these circumstances and in order to prevent the introduction and dissemination of the contagion of hog cholera, the regulations in this section are promulgated with respect to the importation of pork and pork products from all countries of the world except: Australia, Canada, Denmark, Great Britain (England, Scotland, Wales, and Isle of Man), Iceland, Northern Ireland, the Republic of Ireland, Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands and New Zealand.[8]

(b) No pork or pork product will be permitted entry into the United States from any country where hog cholera is known to exist unless it complies with the following requirements:

(1) Such pork or pork product has been treated in accordance with one of the following procedures:

(i) Such pork or pork product has been fully cooked by a commercial method in a rigid can which was sealed promptly after filling and before such cooking, so that such cooking and sealing produced a fully sterilized product which is in a hermetically sealed can and is shelf stable without refrigeration;

(ii) Such pork or pork product is in compliance with the following requirements:

(a) All bones have been completely removed in the country of origin, and

(b) Such article has received heat treatment producing an internal temperature of 156° F.; or

(iii) Such pork or pork product is in compliance with the following requirements:

(a) All bones have been completely removed in the country of origin, and

(b) The meat has been held in an unfrozen, fresh condition for a least 3 days immediately following the slaughter of the animals from which it was derived, and

(c) The meat has been thoroughly cured and fully dried for a period of not less than 90 days so that the product is shelf stable without refrigeration. Provided, That the period of curing and drying shall be 45 days if the pork or pork product is accompanied to the processing establishment by a certificate of an official of the national government of a hog cholera free country which specifies that:

(1) The pork involved originated in that country and the pork or pork product was consigned to a processing establishment in ______ (a country not listed in paragraph (a) of this section as free of hog cholera), in a closed container sealed by the national veterinary authorities of the hog cholera free country by seals of a serially numbered type; and

[8] See also other provisions of this part and Parts 92, 95, 96, and 327 of this chapter for other prohibitions and restrictions upon importation of swine and their products.

(2) The numbers of the seals used were entered on the meat inspection certificate of the hog cholera free country which accompanied the shipment from such free country: And, provided further, That the certificate required by paragraph (b)(1)(iii)(c)(3) of this section also states that: The container seals specified in paragraph (b)(1)(iii)(c)(1) of this section were found intact and free of any evidence of tampering on arrival at the processing establishment by a national veterinary inspector; and the processing establishment from which the pork or pork product is shipped to the United States does not receive or process any live swine, and uses only pork or pork product which originates in countries listed in paragraph (a) of this section as free of hog cholera and processes all such pork or pork products in accordance with paragraph (b)(1), (i), (ii), or (iii) of this section.

(3) In addition to the certificate required by section 327.4 of this title, the article is accompanied by a certificate stating the facts specified in subdivision (i) or (ii) or (iii) of subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, and issued by an official of the national government of the country of origin who is authorized to issue the certificates required by section 327.4[9] of this title.

(2) The article was prepared in an inspected establishment that is eligible to have its products imported into the United States under the Federal Meat Inspection Act and the regulations in section 327.2 in Chapter III of this title; and

(c) Thoroughly cured and fully dried pork and pork products from countries where both hog cholera and swine vesicular disease are known or considered to exist need not comply with the requirements of section 94.9(b)(1)(iii) if they are in compliance with the provisions of section 94.12(b)(1)(iii).

Sec. 94.10 Swine from countries where hog cholera exists; importations prohibited.—Whereas it has been determined that hog cholera exists in all countries of the world except Australia, Canada, Denmark, Great Britain (England, Scotland, Wales, and Isle of Man), Iceland, Northern Ireland, the Republic of Ireland, Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands and New Zealand, and that swine which originate in or are shipped from or transit any country except those listed, would, if brought into the United States, be likely to introduce or disseminate hog cholera into the United States, it is hereby further determined that, in order to protect the livestock of the United States, it is necessary to prohibit the movement of such swine into the United States and such movement is hereby prohibited except for wild swine which may be allowed importation by the Deputy Administrator upon request in specific cases under section 92.4(c) or section 92.2 of this chapter.

Sec. 94.11 Restrictions on importation of meat and other animal products from specified countries.—(a) Bahama Islands, Finland, Great Britain (England, Scotland, Wales, Isle of Man), Japan, Norway, and Sweden, which are declared in section 94.1 to be free of rinderpest and foot-and-mouth disease, supplement their national meat supply by the importation of fresh, chilled, or frozen meat of ruminants or swine from countries that are designated in section 94.1(a) to be infected with rinderpest or foot-and-mouth disease; or have a common land border with countries designated as infected with rinderpest or foot-and-mouth disease; or import ruminants or swine from countries designated as infected with rinderpest or foot-and-mouth disease under conditions less restrictive than would be acceptable for importation into the United States. Thus, even though this Department has declared such countries to be free of rinderpest and foot-and-mouth disease, the meat and other animal products produced in such free countries may be commingled with the fresh, chilled, or frozen meat of animals from an infected country, resulting in an undue risk of introducing rinderpest or foot-and-mouth disease into the United States. Therefore, meat of ruminants or swine, and other animal products, and ship stores, airplane meals, and baggage containing such meat or animal products originating in the free countries listed in this section shall not be imported into the United States unless the following requirements in addition to other applicable requirements of this Chapter III are met. As used in this section the term "other animal product" means all parts of the carcass of any ruminant or swine, other than meat and articles regulated under Part 95 or 96 of this chapter.

(b) All meat or other animal product from such countries, whether in personal-use amounts or commercial lots (except that which has been fully cooked by a commercial method in a rigid can which was sealed promptly after filling and before such cooking and sealing so as to result in a fully sterilized product in a hermetically sealed can which is shelf stable without refrigeration) shall have been prepared only in an inspected establishment that is eligible to have its products imported into the United States under the Federal Meat Inspection Act (21 U.S.C. 601 et seq.) and the regulations in section 327.2, Chapter III of this title, issued thereunder, and shall be accompanied by a Department-approved meat inspection certificate prescribed in section 327.4 in Chapter III of this title, or similar certificate approved by the Deputy Administrator, Veterinary Services, as adequate to effectuate the purposes of this section, regardless of the purpose or amount of product in the shipment.

(c) Shipments of such meat or other animal product must be accompanied by an additional certificate signed by a full-time salaried veterinary official of the agency in the National Government having responsibility for the health of animals within that country, giving the name and official establishment number of the establishment where the animals involved were slaughtered and stating that:

(1) The slaughtering establishment is not permitted to receive animals that originated in, or have ever been in, or that have been aboard a means of conveyance at the time such means of conveyance called at or landed at a port in, a country listed in section 94.1(a) as a country infected with rinderpest or foot-and-mouth disease;

(2) The slaughtering establishment is not permitted to receive meat or other animal products derived from ruminants or swine which originated in such a rinderpest or foot-and-mouth disease infected country, or meat or other animal products from a rinderpest and foot-and-mouth disease free country transported through a rinderpest or foot-and-mouth disease infected country except in containers sealed with serially numbered seals of the National Government of the noninfected country of origin;

(3) The meat or other animal product covered by the certificate was derived from animals born and raised in a country listed in section 94.1(a)(2) as free of rinderpest and foot-and-mouth disease and the meat or other animal product has never been in any country in which rinderpest or foot-and-mouth disease existed;

(4) The meat or other animal product has been processed, stored, and transported to the means of conveyance that will bring the article to the United States in a manner to preclude its being commingled or otherwise in contact with meat or other animal products that do not comply with the conditions contained in this certificate.

Sec. 94.12 Pork and pork products from countries where swine vesicular disease exists.—(a) Swine vesicular disease is considered to exist in all countries of the world except Australia, Bahama Islands, Canada, Central American countries and Panama, Haiti, Dominican Republic, Denmark, Sweden, Norway, Finland, Iceland, Greenland, Mexico, Netherlands, Northern Ireland, the Republic of Ireland, New Zealand, Hungary, Yugoslavia, Bulgaria, Belgium, Luxembourg, Rumania, and Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands.

(b) No pork or pork products shall be permitted entry into the United States from any country where swine vesicular disease is considered to exist unless it complies with the following requirements and it is not otherwise prohibited importation under this part:

(1) Such pork or pork product has been treated in accordance with one of the following procedures:

(i) Such pork or pork product has been fully cooked by a commercial method in a rigid can which was sealed promptly after filling, and before such cooking, so that such cooking and sealing produced a fully sterilized product which is in a hermetically sealed can and is shelf stable without refrigeration; or

(ii) Such pork or pork product is in compliance with the following requirements:

(A) All bones have been completely removed in the country of origin, and

(B) Such article has received heat treatment in a commercially accepted manner used for perishable canned pork products that produces an internal temperature of 156° F.; or

(iii) Such pork or pork product if cured and dried is in compliance with the following requirements:

(A) All bones have been completely removed in the country of origin, and

(B) Such pork or pork products shall be consigned directly from the port of entry in the United States to a meat processing establishment operating under Federal meat inspection and approved by the Deputy Administrator, Veterinary Services[10] for heating to an internal temperature of 166° F, or

(iv) Such pork or pork product, if it originated in a swine vesicular disease free country, has been cured and dried and is in compliance with the following requirements:

(A) All bones have been completely removed in the country of origin, and

(B) (1) Such pork or pork product is accompanied from the swine vesicular disease free country of origin to the processing establishment in the swine vesicular disease infected country by a certificate signed by an official of the National Government of the swine vesicular disease free country of origin specifying that the pork or pork product involved originated in that country and the pork or pork product was consigned to a processing establishment in ________ (a country not listed in paragraph (a) of this section as free of swine vesicular disease), in a closed container sealed by the national veterinary authorities of the swine vesicular disease free country of origin by seals of a serially numbered type. The numbers of these seals shall be entered on this certificate; and

(2) The certificate required by paragraph (b)(3) of this section shall also state that:

(i) the container seals specified in paragraph (b)(1)(iv)(B)(1) of this section were found intact and free of any evidence of tampering on arrival at the processing establishment in the swine vesicular disease infected country by a national veterinary inspector of that country,

(ii) the processing establishment from which the pork or pork product was shipped to the United States does not receive or process any live swine, and uses only pork or pork products which originate in countries listed in paragraph (a) of this section as free of swine vesicular disease; and

(iii) that such establishment processes all such pork or pork products in accordance with paragraph (b)(1)(i), (ii), (iii) or (iv) of this section.

(2) The article was prepared in an establishment that is eligible to have its products imported into the United States under the Federal Meat Inspection Act and the regulations in section 327.2 in Chapter III of this title; and

(3) In addition to the certificate required in section 327.4 of this title, the article is accompanied by a certificate stating the facts specified in paragraphs (b)(1) (i), (ii), (iii) (A) or (iv) (B) (2) of this section. The certificate shall be issued by an official of the National Government of the country of origin who is authorized to issue the certificates required by section 327.4 of this title.[11]

Sec. 94.13 Restrictions on importation of pork or pork products from specified countries.—Bahama Islands, Belgium, Luxembourg, the Netherlands, Hungary, Yugoslavia, and Bulgaria which are declared to be free of swine vesicular disease in section 94.12(a); are countries which either supplement their national pork supply by the importation of fresh, chilled, or frozen pork from countries where swine vesicular disease is considered to exist; or which have a common border with such countries; or which have certain trade practices that are less restrictive than are acceptable to the United States. Thus, the pork or pork products produced in such countries may be commingled with fresh, chilled, or frozen meat of animals from a country where swine vesicular disease is considered to exist resulting in an undue risk of swine vesicular disease introduction into the United States. Therefore, pork or pork products and shipstores, airplane meals, and baggage containing such pork, other than those articles regulated under Part 95 or Part 96 of this chapter, produced in such countries shall not be brought into the United States unless the following requirements are met in addition to other applicable requirements of Part 327, Subchapter A, Chapter III of this title:

[10] Information as to the identity of approved establishments may be obtained from, and request for approval of any establishment may be made to, the Deputy Administrator, Veterinary Services, Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250. Establishments will be approved only if the Deputy Administrator, Veterinary Services, determines that the imported articles will be so handled at the establishments as to prevent the introduction and dissemination of livestock or poultry diseases into the United States. Approval of any establishment may be refused or withdrawn only after the operator thereof has been given notice of the proposed action and has had an opportunity to present his views thereon.

[11] The certification required may be placed on the certificate prescribed by section 327.4 or may be contained in a separate document.

(a) All such pork produced shall have been prepared only in establishments that are eligible to have their products imported into the United States under the Federal Meat Inspection Act (21 U.S.C. 601 et. seq.) and the regulations in section 327.2, Chapter III of this title which are issued thereunder, and shall be accompanied by a Department approved meat inspection certificate prescribed in section 327.4 in Chapter III of this title.

(b) Shipments of such pork or other pork products consigned to the United States, unless they are in compliance with applicable provisions of section 94.12(b), must be accompanied by an additional certificate signed by a full-time salaried veterinary official of the agency in the National Government having responsibility for the health of animals within that country, stating the name and official establishment number of the establishment where the swine involved were slaughtered and the pork was processed and also stating that:

(1) The slaughtering establishment is not permitted to receive animals that originated in, or have ever been in a country listed in section 94.12(a) as a country in which swine vesicular disease is considered to exist:

(2) The slaughtering establishment is not permitted to receive pork derived from swine which originated in such a country or pork from swine from a swine vesicular disease free country which has been transported through a country where swine vesicular disease is considered to exist except pork which was transported in containers sealed with serially numbered seals of the National Government of a country of origin listed in section 94.12 as a country considered free of the disease.

(3) The pork has been processed, stored, and transported to the means of conveyance that will bring the article to the United States in a manner that precludes its being commingled or otherwise coming in contact with pork or pork products that have not been handled in accordance with the requirements of this section 94.13.

Sec. 94.14 Swine from countries where swine vesicular disease exists; importations prohibited.—Whereas it is considered that swine vesicular disease exists in all countries of the world except those listed in section 94.12(a), and that swine which originate in or are shipped from or transit any country except those listed, would, if brought into the United States, be likely to introduce or disseminate swine vesicular disease into the United States, it is hereby further determined that, in order to protect the livestock of the United States, it is necessary to prohibit the movement of such swine into the United States and such movement is hereby prohibited: Provided, That wild swine may be brought into the United States in accordance with the provisions of section 92.2 or section 92.4(c) of this chapter upon request to the Deputy Administrator, Veterinary Services, in specific cases.

Sec. 94.15 [Reserved]

Sec. 94.16 Milk and milk products.—(a) The following milk products are exempt from the provisions of this Part: cheese, butter, and butteroil.

(b) Milk and milk products originating in, or shipped from, any country designated in section 94.1(a) as a country infected with rinderpest or foot-and-mouth disease may be imported into the United States if they meet the requirements of paragraph (b) (1), (2), or (3) of this section:

(1) They are in a concentrated liquid form and have been processed by heat by a commercial method in a container hermetically sealed promptly after filling but before such heating, so as to be shelf stable without refrigeration.

(2) They are dry milk or dry milk products, including dry whole milk, nonfat dry milk, dried whey, dried buttermilk, and formulations which contain any such dry milk products, and are consigned directly to an approved establishment[12] for further processing for human food in a manner approved by the Deputy Administrator, Veterinary Services as adequate to prevent the introduction or dissemination of livestock diseases into the United States. However, in specific cases, upon request by the importer to the Deputy Administrator, Veterinary Services, and approval by the Deputy Administrator, they may be stored for a temporary period in an approved warehouse[12] under the supervision of an inspector of the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service pending movement to an approved establishment. Such products shall be transported from the United States port of first arrival to an approved establishment[12] or an approved warehouse,[12] and from an approved warehouse[12] to an approved establishment[12] only under Department seals or seals of the U.S. Customs Service. Such seals shall be broken only by such an inspector or other person authorized to do so by the Deputy Administrator, Veterinary Services. Such products shall not be removed from the approved warehouse[12] or approved establishment[12] except upon special permission by the Deputy Administrator, Veterinary Services, and upon compliance with all the conditions and requirements specified by him for such movement in each specific case.

[12] Information as to the identity of approved establishments, warehouses or manner of processing may be obtained from, and request for approval of any such establishment, warehouse or manner of processing may be made to the Deputy Administrator, Veterinary Services, Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Hyattsville, Maryland 20782. Any establishment or warehouse will be approved for the purpose of this section only if the operator has provided the Deputy Administrator, Veterinary Services, with satisfactory evidence that the establishment or warehouse has the equipment, facilities, and capability to store, handle and process the imported dry milk or dry milk product subject to section 94.16(b)(2) in a manner which will prevent the introduction or dissemination of livestock diseases into the United States. Similarly, processing methods will be approved only if the Deputy Administrator determines they are adequate to prevent the introduction or dissemination of such diseases into the United States. Approval of any establishment or warehouse or processing method may be refused or withdrawn by the Deputy Administrator only after the operator thereof has been given notice of the proposed action and has had an opportunity to present his views thereon, and upon a determination by the Deputy Administrator that the conditions for approval are not met. Approval of an establishment or warehouse may also be withdrawn after such notice and opportunity if the Deputy Administrator determines that such imported dry milk or milk products have been stored, handled, or processed by the operator thereof other than at an approved establishment or warehouse or other than in an approved manner.

(3) Milk and milk products not exempted under paragraph (a) and not of classes included within the provisions of paragraphs (b) (1) or (2) of this section may be imported if the importer first applies to and receives written permission from the Deputy Administrator, Veterinary Services, authorizing such importation. Permission will be granted only when the Deputy Administrator determines that such action will not endanger the health of the livestock of the United States. Products subject to this provision include but are not limited to condensed milk, long-life milks such as sterilized milk, casein and caseinates, lactose, and lactalbumin.

(4) Small amounts of milk and milk products subject to the restrictions of this Part may in specific cases be imported for purposes of examination, testing, or analysis, if the importer applies to and receives written approval for such importation from the Deputy Administrator, Veterinary Services. Approval will be granted only when the Deputy Administrator determines that such action will not endanger the health of the livestock of the United States.

(c) Milk and milk products originating in and shipped from countries listed in section 94.1(a) (2) as free of rinderpest and foot-and-mouth disease but which have entered a port or otherwise transited any country designated in section 94.1(a)(1) as a country infected with rinderpest or foot-and-mouth disease shall not be imported into the United States unless:

(1) The product was transported under serially numbered official seals applied at the point of origin of the shipment by an authorized representative of the country of such origin.

(2) The numbers of such seals are listed on, or are on a list attached to, the bill of lading or similar document accompanying the shipment.

(3) Upon arrival of the carrier at the United States port, an inspector of the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service determines that the seals are intact and that their numbers are in agreement with the numbers appearing on the accompanying document.

ANIMAL BYPRODUCTS; HAY AND STRAW

Regulations of the Animal Inspection and Quarantine Division, Agricultural Research Service, Department of Agriculture, relating to animal byproducts and hay and grain, Code of Federal Regulations, 1939 Sup., title 9, sections 95.1-95.23, 95.25, 95.27:

Sec. 95.1 Definitions.—Wherever in these regulations the following words, names, or terms are used they shall be construed, respectively, to mean:

(a) Department.—United States Department of Agriculture.

(b) Division.—The Animal Inspection and Quarantine Division, United States Department of Agriculture.

(c) Director of Division.—Director of the Animal Inspection and Quarantine Division.

(d) Inspector.—An inspector of the Animal Inspection and Quarantine Division.

(f) Approved establishment.—An establishment approved by the Division for the receipt and handling of restricted import animal byproducts.

(g) Approved warehouse.—A warehouse having facilities approved by the Division for the handling and storage, apart from other merchandise, of restricted import products.

(h) Approved chlorinating equipment.—An equipment approved by the Division as efficient for the disinfection of effluents against the contagions of foot-and-mouth disease and rinderpest.

(i) Approved sewerage system.—A drainage system equipped and operated so as to carry and dispose of sewage without endangering livestock through the contamination of streams or fields and approved by the Division.

(j) Animal byproducts.—Hides, skins, hair, wool, glue stock, bones, hoofs, horns, bone meal, hoof meal, horn meal, blood meal, meat meal, tankage, glands, organs, or other parts or products of ruminants and swine unsuitable for human consumption.

(k) Glue stock.—Fleshings, hide cuttings and parings, tendons, or other collagenous parts of animal carcasses.

(l) Bone meal.—"Bone meal" means ground animal bones and hoof meal and horn meal.

(m) Blood meal.—Dried blood of animals.

(n) Meat meal or tankage.—The rendered and dried carcasses or parts of the carcasses of animals.

(o) Hay and straw.—Dried grasses, clovers, legumes, and similar materials or stalks or stems of various grains, such as barley, oats, rice, rye, and wheat.

Sec. 95.2 Country of origin.—No products or materials specified in the regulations in this part shall be imported unless there be shown upon the commercial invoice, or in some other manner satisfactory to the Director of Division, the name of the country of origin of such product or material, provided that the country of origin shall be construed to mean (a) in the case of an animal byproduct, the country in which such product was taken from an animal or animals, and (b) in the case of other materials the country in which such materials were produced.

Sec. 95.3 Byproducts from diseased animals prohibited.—The importation of any animal byproduct taken or removed from an animal affected with anthrax, foot-and-mouth disease, or rinderpest is prohibited.

Sec. 95.5 Untanned hides and skins; requirements for unrestricted entry.—Untanned hides and/or skins of cattle, buffalo, sheep, goats, other ruminants, and swine which do not meet the conditions or requirements specified in any one of paragraphs (a) to (e) following shall not be imported except subject to handling and treatment in accordance with section 95.6 after arrival at the port of entry:

(a) Hides or skins originating in and shipped directly from a country not declared by the Secretary of Agriculture to be infected with foot-and-mouth disease or rinderpest may be imported without further restriction.

(b) Hides or skins may be imported without other restriction if found upon inspection by an inspector or by certificate of the shipper of importer satisfactory to said inspector, to be hard-dried hides or skins.

(c) Abattoir hides or skins taken from animals slaughtered under national government inspections in a country and in an abattoir in which is maintained an inspection service determined by the Secretary of Agriculture to be adequate to assure that they have been removed from animals found at time of slaughter to be free from anthrax, foot-and-mouth disease, and rinderpest, and to assure further the identity of such materials until loaded upon the transporting vessel, may be imported without other restriction if accompanied by a certificate bearing the seal of the proper department of such national government and signed by an official veterinary inspector of such country showing that the therein described hides or skins were taken from animals slaughtered in such specified abattoir and found free from anthrax, foot-and-mouth disease, and rinderpest.

(d) Hides or skins may be imported without other restriction if shown upon inspection by an inspector, or by certificate of the shipper or importer satisfactory to said inspector, to have been pickled in a solution of salt containing mineral acid and packed in barrels, casks, or tight cases while still wet with such solution.

(e) Hides or skins may be imported without other restriction if shown upon inspection by an inspector, or by certificate of the shipper or importer satisfactory to said inspector, to have been treated with lime in such manner and for such period as to have become dehaired and to have reached the stage of preparation for immediate manufacture into products ordinarily made from rawhide.

Sec. 95.6 Untanned hides and skins; importations permitted subject to restrictions.—Hides or skins offered for importation which do not meet the conditions or requirements of section 95.5 shall be handled and treated in the following manner after arrival at the port of entry:

(a) They shall be consigned from the coast or border port of arrival to an approved establishment and shall be subject to disinfection by such method or methods as the Director of Division may prescribe unless the said establishment discharges drainage into an approved sewerage system or has an approved chlorinating equipment adequate for the proper disinfection of effluents: Provided, however, That upon permission of the Director of Division such hides or skins may be stored for a temporary period in approved warehouses under bond, and under the supervision of an inspector: And provided further, That I.T. or in-bond shipments of hides or skins may go forward under customs seals from a coast or border port of arrival, with the approval of an inspector at said port, to another port in the United States for consumption entry subject to the other provisions of this section.

(b) They shall be moved from the coast or border port of arrival, or in cases of I.T. or in-bond shipments from the interior port to the approved establishment in cars or trucks or in vessel compartments with no other materials contained therein, sealed with seals of the department, which shall not be broken except by inspectors or other persons authorized by the Director of Division so to do, or without sealing as aforesaid and with other freight when packed in tight cases or casks acceptable to the inspector in charge at the port of entry.

(c) They shall be handled at the approved establishment under the direction of an inspector in a manner approved by the Director of Division to guard against the dissemination of foot-and-mouth disease and rinderpest. They shall not be removed therefrom except upon special permission of the Director of Division and upon compliance with all the conditions and requirements of this section relative to the movement of the said hides and skins from the port of arrival to the said establishment.

Sec. 95.7 Wool, hair, and bristles; requirements for unrestricted entry.—Wool, hair, or bristles derived from ruminants and/or swine which do not meet the conditions or requirements specified in any one of paragraphs (a) to (d) following shall not be imported except subject to handling and treatment in accordance with section 95.8 after their arrival at the port of entry: Provided, however, That no blood-stained wool, hair, or bristles shall be imported under any conditions:

(a) Such wool, hair, or bristles may be imported without other restriction if originating in and shipped directly from a country not declared by the Secretary of Agriculture to be infected with foot-and-mouth disease or rinderpest.

(b) Wool or hair clipped from live animals or pulled wool or hair may be imported without other restriction if the said wool or hair is reasonably free from animal manure in the form of dung locks or otherwise.

(c) Wool, hair, or bristles taken from sheep, goats, cattle or swine, when such animals have been slaughtered under national government inspection in a country and in an abattoir in which is maintained an inspection service determined by the Secretary of Agriculture to be adequate to assure that such materials have been removed from animals found at time of slaughter to be free from anthrax, foot-and-mouth disease, and rinderpest, and to assure further the identity of such materials until loaded upon the transporting vessel, may be imported without other restriction if accompanied by a certificate bearing the seal of the proper department of said national government and signed by an official veterinary inspector of such country showing that the therein described wool, hair, or bristles were taken from animals slaughtered in such specified abattoir and found free from anthrax, foot-and-mouth disease, and rinderpest.

(d) Wool, hair, or bristles which have been scoured, thoroughly washed, or dyed may be imported without other restriction.

Sec. 95.8 Wool, hair, and bristles; importations permitted subject to restrictions.—Wool, hair, or bristles offered for importation which do not meet the conditions or requirements of section 95.7 shall be handled and treated in the following manner after arrival at the port of entry:

(a) Such wool, hair, or bristles shall be consigned from the coast or border port of arrival to an approved establishment: Provided, however, That upon permission by the Director of Division such wool, hair, or bristles may be stored for a temporary period in approved warehouses under bond and under the supervision of an inspector: And provided further, That I.T. or in-bond shipments of wool, hair, or bristles may go forward under customs seals from a coast or border port of arrival, with the approval of an inspector at said port, to another port for consumption entry, subject to the other provisions of this section.

(b) Such wool, hair, or bristles shall be moved from the coast or border port of arrival or, in the case of I.T. or in-bond shipments, from the interior port to the establishment in cars or trucks or in vessel compartments with no other materials contained therein, sealed with seals of the Department, which shall not be broken except by inspectors or other persons authorized by the Director of Division so to do, or without sealing as aforesaid and with other freight when packed in tight cases acceptable to an inspector.

(c) Such wool, hair, or bristles shall be handled at the establishment under the direction of an inspector in a manner approved by the Director of Division to guard against the dissemination of foot-and-mouth disease and rinderpest. Such products shall not be removed therefrom except upon special permission of the Director of Division and upon compliance with all the conditions and requirements of this section relative to the movement of the said wool, hair, or bristles from the port of arrival to the said establishment.

Sec. 95.9 Glue stock; requirements for unrestricted entry.—Glue stock which does not meet the conditions or requirements specified in any one of paragraphs (a) to (c) following shall not be imported except subject to handling and treatment in accordance with section 95.10 after arrival at the port of entry:

(a) Glue stock originating in and shipped directly from a country not declared by the Secretary of Agriculture to be infected with foot-and-mouth disease or rinderpest may be imported without other restriction.

(b) Glue stock may be imported without other restriction if found upon inspection by an inspector, or by certificate of the shipper or importer satisfactory to said inspector, to have been properly treated by acidulation or by soaking in milk of lime or a lime paste, or to have been dried so as to render each piece of the hardness of a sun-dried hide.

(c) Glue stock taken from cattle, sheep, goats, or swine slaughtered under national government inspection in a country and in an abattoir in which is maintained an inspection service determined by the Secretary of Agriculture to be adequate to assure that such materials have been removed from animals found at time of slaughter to be free from anthrax, foot-and-mouth disease, and rinderpest, and to assure further the identity of such materials until loaded upon the transporting vessel, may be imported without other restriction if accompanied by a certificate bearing the seal of the proper department of said national government and signed by an official veterinary inspector of such country showing that the therein described glue stock was taken from animals slaughtered in such specified abattoir and found free from anthrax, foot-and-mouth disease, and rinderpest.

Sec. 95.10 Glue stock; importations permitted subject to restrictions.—Glue stock offered for importation which does not meet the conditions or requirements of section 95.9 shall be handled and treated in the following manner after arrival at the port of entry.

(a) It shall be consigned from the coast or border port of arrival to an approved establishment and shall be subject to disinfection by such method or methods as the Director of Division may prescribe unless the said establishment discharges drainage into an approved sewerage system or has an approved chlorinating equipment adequate for the proper disinfection of effluents: Provided, however, That upon permission by the Director of Division glue stock may be stored for a temporary period in approved warehouses under bond and under the supervision of an inspector: And provided further, That I.T. or in-bond shipments of glue stock may go forward under customs seals from a coast or border port of arrival with the approval of an inspector at said port to another port for consumption entry, subject, after arrival at the latter port, to the other provisions of this section.

(b) It shall be moved from the coast or border port of arrival or, in case of I.T. or in-bond shipments, from the interior port to the establishment in cars or trucks or in vessel compartments with no other materials contained therein, sealed with seals of the Department, which shall not be broken except by inspectors or other persons authorized by the Director of Division so to do, or without sealing as aforesaid and with other freight when packed in tight cases or casks acceptable to an inspector at port of entry.

(c) It shall be handled at the establishment under the direction of an inspector in a manner approved by the Director of Division to guard against the dissemination of foot-and-mouth disease and rinderpest. It shall not be removed therefrom except upon special permission of the Director of Division and upon compliance with all the conditions and requirements of this section relative to the movement of the said glue stock from the port of arrival to the said establishment.

Sec. 95.11 Bones, horns, and hoofs for trophies or museums.—Clean, dry bones, horns, and hoofs, that are free from undried pieces of hide, flesh, and sinew and are offered for entry as trophies or for consignment to museums may be imported without other restrictions.

Sec. 95.12 Bones, horns, and hoofs; importations permitted subject to restrictions.—Bones, horns, and hoofs offered for importation which do not meet the conditions or requirements of section 95.11 shall be handled and treated in the following manner after arrival at the port of entry:

(a) They shall be consigned from the coast or border port of arrival to an approved establishment having facilities for their disinfection or their conversion into products customarily made from bones, horns, or hoofs: Provided, however, That I.T. or in-bond shipments of bones, horns, or hoofs may go forward under customs seals from a coast or border port of arrival, with the approval of an inspector at said port, to another port for consumption entry subject to the other provisions of this section.

(b) They shall be moved from the coast or border port of arrival or, in case of I.T. or in-bond shipments, from the interior port to the establishment in cars or trucks with no other materials contained therein, sealed with seals of the Department, which shall not be broken except by inspectors or other persons authorized by the Director of Division so to do, or without sealing as aforesaid and with other freight when packed in tight cases or casks acceptable to an inspector at the port of entry.

(c) They shall be handled at the establishment under the direction of an inspector in a manner to guard against the dissemination of anthrax, foot-and-mouth disease and rinderpest, and the bags, burlap, or other containers thereof, before leaving the establishment, shall be disinfected by heat or otherwise, as directed by the Director of Division or burned at the establishment. They shall not be removed therefrom except upon special permission of the Director of Division and upon compliance with all the conditions and requirements of this section relative to the movement of the said bones, horns, and hoofs.

Sec. 95.13 Bone meal for use as fertilizer or as feed for domestic animals; requirements for entry.—Steamed or degelatinized or special steamed bone meal, which, in the normal process of manufacture, has been prepared by heating bone under a minimum of 20 pounds steam pressure for at least one hour at a temperature of not less than 250° Fahrenheit (121° Centigrade), may be imported without further restrictions for use as fertilizer or as feed for domestic animals if such products are free from pieces of bone, hide, flesh, and sinew and contain no more than traces of hair and wool. Bone meal for use as fertilizer or as feed for domestic animals which does not meet these requirements will not be eligible for entry.

Sec. 94.14 Blood meal, tankage, meat meal, and similar products, for use as fertilizer or animal feed; requirements for entry.—Dried blood or blood meal, lungs or other organs, tankage, meat meal, wool waste, wool manure, and similar products, for use as fertilizer or as feed for domestic animals, shall not be imported except subject to handling and treatment in accordance with paragraphs (a), (b), and (c) of sec. 95.16, unless:

(a) Such products originated in and were shipped directly from a country not declared by the Secretary of Agriculture to be infected with foot-and-mouth disease or rinderpest; or

(b) The inspector at the port of entry finds that such products have been fully processed by tanking under live steam or by dry rendering.

Sec. 95.15 Blood meal, blood albumin, intestines, and other animal byproducts for industrial use; requirements for unrestricted entry.—Blood meal, blood albumin, bone meal, intestines, or other animal materials intended for use in the industrial arts shall not be imported except subject to handling and treatment in accordance with sec. 95.16, unless such products originated in and were shipped directly from a country not declared by the Secretary of Agriculture to be infected with foot-and-mouth disease or rinderpest.

Sec. 95.16 Blood meal, blood albumin, intestines, and other animal byproducts for industrial use; importations permitted subject to restrictions.—Blood meal, blood albumin, bone meal, intestines, or other animal materials intended for use in the industrial arts, which do not meet the conditions or requirements of section 95.15 shall be handled and treated in the following manner after arrival at the port of entry:

(a) They shall be consigned from the coast or border port of arrival to an approved establishment: Provided, however, That upon permission by the Director of Division they may be stored for a temporary period in approved warehouses under bond and under the supervision of an inspector: And provided further, That I.T. or in-bond shipments of such products may go forward under customs seals from a coast or border port of arrival, with the approval of an inspector at said port, to another port for consumption entry, subject after arrival at the latter port to the other provisions of this section.

(b) They shall be moved from the coast or border port of arrival or, in the case of I.T. or in-bond shipments, from the interior port to the establishment in cars or trucks or in vessel compartments with no other materials contained therein, sealed with seals of the Department, which shall not be broken except by Division inspectors or other persons authorized by the Director of Division so to do, or without sealing as aforesaid and with other freight when packed in tight cases or casks, acceptable to an inspector at the port of entry.

(c) They shall be handled at the establishment under the direction of an inspector in a manner to guard against the dissemination of foot-and-mouth disease and rinderpest. They shall not be removed therefrom except upon special permission of the Director of Division and upon compliance with the conditions and requirements of this section relative to the movement of the said products from the port of arrival to the said establishment.

Sec. 95.17 Glands, organs, ox gall, and like materials; requirements for unrestricted entry—Glands, organs, ox gall or bile, bone marrow, and various like materials derived from domestic ruminants or swine, intended for use in the manufacture of pharmaceutical products shall not be imported except subject to handling and treatment in accordance with sec. 95.18, unless such glands, organs, or materials originated in and were shipped directly from a country not declared by the Secretary of Agriculture to be infected with foot-and-mouth disease or rinderpest.

Sec. 95.18 Glands, organs, ox gall, and like materials; importations permitted subject to restrictions.—Glands, organs, ox gall or bile, bone marrow, and various like materials derived from domestic ruminants or swine, which do not meet the requirements of section 95.17 of this order may be imported for pharmaceutical purposes if in tight containers and consigned to an approved establishment: Provided, however, That upon special permission of the Director of Division they may be stored for a temporary period in approved warehouses under bond and under the supervision of an inspector. They shall be handled and processed at the said establishment in a manner approved by the Director of Division and the containers shall be destroyed or disinfected as prescribed by him. They shall not be removed therefrom except special permission of the Director of Division and upon compliance with all the conditions and requirements of this section relative to the movement of the said glands, organs, ox gall, and like materials from the port of arrival to the said establishment.

Sec. 95.19 Animal stomachs.—Stomachs or portions of the stomachs of ruminants or swine, other than those imported for food purposes under the meat-inspection regulations of the Department, shall not be imported without permission from the Director of Division. Importations permitted shall be subject to such restrictions as the Director of Division may deem necessary in each instance.

Sec. 95.20 Animal manure.—Manure of horses, cattle, sheep, other ruminants, and swine shall not be imported except upon permission from the Director of Division. Importations permitted shall be subject to such restrictions as he may deem necessary in each instance: Provided, however, That manure produced by animals while in transit to the United States shall be subject only to the requirements of the Department regulations governing the importation of domestic livestock and other animals.

Sec. 95.21 Hay and straw; requirements for unrestricted entry.—Except as provided in sec. 95.28, hay or straw shall not be imported except subject to handling and treatment in accordance with sec. 95.22 after arrival at the port of entry, unless such hay or straw originated in and was shipped directly from a country not declared by the Secretary of Agriculture to be infected with foot-and-mouth disease or rinderpest.

Sec. 95.22 Hay and straw; importations permitted subject to restrictions.—Except as provided in sec. 95.28, hay or straw which does not meet the conditions or requirements of sec. 95.21 shall be handled and treated in the following manner upon arrival at the port of entry.

(a) Hay or straw packing materials shall be burned or disinfected at the expense of the importer or consignee in the manner and at the time directed by the Director of Division.

(b) Hay or staw for use as feeding material, bedding, or similar purposes shall be stored and held in quarantine for a period of not less than 90 days in an approved warehouse at the port of entry and shall be otherwise handled as directed by the Director of Division.

Sec. 95.23 Previously used meat covers; importations permitted subject to restrictions.—Cloth or burlap which has been used to cover fresh or frozen meats originating in any country designated in sec. 94.1 of this subchapter as a country in which rinderpest or foot-and-mouth disease exists, shall not be imported except under the following conditions:

(a) The cloth or burlap shall be consigned from the coast or border port of arrival to an establishment specifically approved for the purpose by the Director of Division.

(b) The cloth or burlap shall be immediately moved from the coast or border port of arrival, or in case of I.T. or in-bond shipments from the interior port, to the establishment, in railroad cars or trucks, or in vessel compartments, with no other material contained therein, sealed with seals of the Department, which shall not be broken except by inspectors or other persons authorized by the Director of Division: Provided, however, That upon permission of the Director of Division, such cloth or burlap may be stored for a temporary period in approved warehouses at the port of arrival under bond and under the supervision of an inspector.

(c) The material shall be disinfected and otherwise handled at the establishment under the direction of an inspector in a manner approved by the Director of Division to guard against the dissemination of foot-and-mouth disease and rinderpest, and the material shall not be removed therefrom, except upon special permission of the Director of Division, until all of the conditions and requirements of this section have been complied with.

Sec. 95.25 Transportation of restricted import products; placarding cars and marking billing; unloading en route.—'(a) Transportation companies or other operators of cars, trucks, or other vehicles carrying import products or materials moving under restriction, other than those in tight cases or casks, shall affix to and maintain on both sides of all such vehicles durable placards not less than 5 1/2 by 6 inches in size, on which shall be printed with permanent black ink and in boldface letters not less than 1 1/2 inches in height, the words 'Restricted import product.' These placards shall also bear the words 'Clean and disinfect this car or truck'. Each of the waybills, conductors' manifests, memoranda, and bills of lading pertaining to such shipments shall have the words 'Restricted import product, clean and disinfect car or truck', plainly written or stamped upon its face. If for any reason the placards required by this regulation have not been affixed to each car, or the billing has not been marked by the initial or the connecting carrier, or the placards have been removed, destroyed, or rendered illegible, the placards shall be immediately affixed or replaced and the billing marked by the initial or connecting carrier, the intention being that the billing accompanying the shipment shall be marked and each car, truck or other vehicle placarded as herein specified from the time such shipment leaves the port of entry until it is unloaded at final destination and the cars, trucks, or other vehicles are cleaned and disinfected as required by section 95.26.

(b) If it is necessary to unload en route any of the materials or products transported in a placarded car, truck or other vehicle as hereinbefore provided in this section, the car, truck, or other vehicle from which the transfer is made and any part of the premises in or upon which the product or material may have been placed in the course of unloading or reloading shall be cleaned and disinfected by the carrier, in accordance with the provisions of section 95.26 and the said carrier shall immediately report the matter, by telegraph, to the Director of Animal Inspection and Quarantine Division, Washington, D.C. Such report shall include the following information: Nature of emergency; place where product or material was unloaded; original points of shipment and destination; number and initials of the original car or truck; and number and initials of the car, truck, or other vehicle into which the product or material is reloaded in case the original car or truck is not used.

Sec. 95.27 Regulations applicable to products from territorial possessions.—The regulations in this part shall be applicable to all the products and materials specified in this part which are offered for entry into the United States from any place under the jurisdiction of the United States to which the animal-quarantine laws of this country do not apply.

Sec. 95.28 Hay or straw, and similar material from tick-infested areas.—Hay or straw, grass, or similar material from tick-infested pastures, ranges, or premises may disseminate the contagion of splenetic, Southern or Texas fever when imported for animal feed or bedding; therefore, such hay or straw, grass, or similar material shall not be imported unless such material is first disinfected with a disinfectant specified in sec. 95.26 (d).

IMPORTATION OF FOREIGN ANIMAL CASINGS RESTRICTED

Regulations of the Animal Inspection and Quarantine Division of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, restricting the importation of foreign animal casings, Code of Federal Regulations, title 9, sections 96.1, 96.2 (BAI Order 305):

Sec. 96.1 Form of certificate.—It is hereby ordered that no animal casings shall be admitted into the United States from any foreign country unless and until they are accompanied by a certificate bearing the signature of the national government official having jurisdiction over the health of animals in the country in which the casings originated. The certificate shall be in the following form:

FOREIGN OFFICIAL CERTIFICATE FOR ANIMAL CASINGS

Sec. 96.2 Uncertified animal casings; disposition.—Animal casings which are unaccompanied by the required certificate, and those found upon inspection to be unclean or unsound when offered for importation into the United States, shall be kept in Customs custody until exported or destroyed, or until disinfected and denatured as prescribed by the Director of the Animal Inspection and Quarantine Division in section 96.3-96.15. (Sec. 2, 32 Stat. 792; 21 U.S.C. 11) [BAI Order 305, Mar. 7, 1927.]

XIII. IMPORTATION OF MEAT AND MEAT-FOOD PRODUCTS

Regulations of the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, Department of Agriculture, relating to the importation of meat and meat-food products, Code of Federal Regulations, Title 9, Part 327.

Sec. 327.1 Application of provisions.—The provisions of this part shall apply to products derived from cattle, sheep, swine, goats, horses, mules, and other equines, if capable of use as human food. Compliance with the conditions for importation of products under this part does not excuse the need for compliance with applicable requirements under other laws, including the provisions in Parts 94, 95, and 96 of Chapter I of this title.

Sec. 327.2 Eligibility of foreign countries for importation of products into the United States.—(a)(1) Whenever it shall be determined by the Administrator that the system of meat inspection maintained by any foreign country, with respect to establishments preparing products in such country for export to the United States, insures compliance of such establishments and their products with requirements at least equal to all the inspection, building construction standards, and all other provisions of the Act and the regulations in this subchapter which are applied to official establishments in the United States, and their products, and that reliance can be placed upon certificates required under this part from authorities of such foreign country, notice of that fact will be given by including the name of such foreign country in paragraph (b) of this section. Thereafter, products prepared in such establishments which are certified and approved in accordance with subparagraph (3) of this paragraph, shall be eligible so far as this subchapter is concerned for importation into the United States from such foreign country after applicable requirements of this subchapter have been met.

(2) The determination of acceptability of a foreign meat inspection system for purposes of this section shall be based on an evaluation of the foreign program in accordance with the following requirements and procedures:

(i) The system shall have a program organized and administered by the national government of the foreign country. The system as implemented must provide standards at least equal to those of the Federal system of meat inspection in the United States with respect to:

(a) Organizational structure and staffing, so as to insure uniform enforcement of the requisite laws and regulations in all establishments throughout the system at which products are prepared for export to the United States;

(b) Ultimate control and supervision by the national government over the official activities of all employees or licensees of the system;

(c) The assignment of competent, qualified inspectors;

(d) Authority and responsibility of national inspection officials to enforce the requisite laws and regulations governing meat inspection and to certify or refuse to certify products intended for export;

(e) Adequate administrative and technical support;

(f) Other requirements of adequate inspection service as required by the regulations in this subchapter.

(ii) The legal authority for the system and the regulations thereunder shall impose requirements at least equal to those governing the system of meat inspection organized and maintained in the United States with respect to:

(a) Ante-mortem inspection of animals for slaughter, which shall be performed by veterinarians or by other employees or licensees of the system under the direct supervision of veterinarians;

(b) Post-mortem inspection of carcasses and parts thereof at time of slaughter, performed by veterinarians or other employees or licensees of the system under the direct supervision of veterinarians;

(c) Official controls by the national government over establishment construction, facilities, and equipment;

(d) Direct and continuous official supervision of slaughtering and preparation of product, by the assignment of inspectors to establishments certified under subparagraph (3) of this paragraph, to assure that adulterated or misbranded product is not prepared for export to the United States;

(e) Complete separation of establishments certified under subparagraph (3) of this paragraph from establishments not certified and the maintenance of a single standard of inspection and sanitation throughout all certified establishments;

(f) Requirements for sanitation at certified establishments and for sanitary handling of product;

(g) Official controls over condemned material until destroyed or removed and thereafter excluded from the establishment;

(h) Other matters for which requirements are contained in the Act or regulations in this subchapter.

(iii) Countries desiring to establish eligibility for importation of product into the United States may request a determination of eligibility by presenting copies of the laws and regulations on which the foreign meat inspection system is based and such other information as the Administrator may require with respect to matters enumerated in subdivisions (i) and (ii) of this subparagraph. Determination of eligibility is based on a study of the documents and other information presented and an initial review of the system in operation by a representative of the Department using the criteria listed in subdivisions (i) and (ii) of this subparagraph. Maintenance of eligibility of a country for importation of products into the United States depends on the results of periodic reviews of the foreign meat inspection system in operation by a representative of the Department, and the timely submission of such documents and other information related to the conduct of the foreign inspection system, including information required by paragraph (e) of section 20 of the Act, as the Administrator may find pertinent to and necessary for the determinations required by this section of the regulations.

(iv) The foreign inspection system must maintain a program of periodic supervisory visits to each establishment certified in accordance with subparagraph (3) of this paragraph to assure that requirements referred to in (a) through (h) of subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph, at least equal to those of the Federal system of meat inspection of the United States, are being met. A representative of the foreign inspection system shall make at least one such supervisory visit each month to each such establishment and prepare a written report of his findings in respect to the requirements referred to in (a) through (h) of subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph, copies of which shall be available to the representative of the Department at the time of his review upon request by said representative to a responsible foreign meat inspection official: Provided, That such visits and reports are not required with respect to any establishment during a period when the establishment is not operating or is not engaged in producing products for exportation to the United States.

(3) Only those establishments that are determined and certified to the Department by a responsible official of the foreign meat inspection system as fully meeting the requirements of subparagraphs (2) (i) and (ii) of this paragraph are eligible to have their products imported into the United States. Eligibility of certified establishments is subject to review by the Department (including observations of the establishments by Program representatives at times prearranged with the officials of the foreign meat inspection system). Certifications of establishments must be renewed annually. Notwithstanding certification by a foreign official, the Administrator may, at his discretion, terminate the eligibility of any foreign establishment for importation of its products into the United States if he has information that such establishment does not comply with the requirements listed in subparagraphs (2) (i) and (ii) of this paragraph or if he cannot obtain current information concerning such establishment. The Administrator will provide reasonable notice to the foreign government of the proposed termination of eligibility of any foreign establishment for importation of its products into the United States unless, in his judgment, delay in terminating its eligibility could result in the importation of adulterated or misbranded product. Certifications of official establishments by the responsible official of the foreign meat inspection system shall be in the following form:

FOREIGN OFFICIAL MEAT ESTABLISHMENT CERTIFICATE

I hereby certify that the establishment(s) listed below fully comply (complies) with requirements of (specify foreign country) at least equal to all the inspection, building construction standards, and other requirements for the slaughter and preparation of the carcasses, parts thereof, meat and meat food products of cattle, sheep, swine, goats, and equines applied to official establishments in the United States under the Federal Meat Inspection Act and otherwise meet (meets) the requirements of sec. 327.2(a) of the regulations governing meat inspection of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

(4) Product of cattle, sheep, swine, and goats from foreign countries not listed in paragraph (b) of this section and product of equines from countries not listed in paragraph (c) of this section is not eligible for importation into the United States, except as provided by section 327.16 or section 327.17. The listing of any foreign country under this section may be withdrawn whenever it shall be determined by the Administrator that the system of meat inspection maintained by such foreign country does not assure compliance with requirements at least equal to all the inspection, building construction standards, and other requirements of the Act and the regulations in this subchapter as applied to official establishments in the United States; or that reliance cannot be placed upon certificates required under this part from authorities of such foreign country; or that, for lack of current information concerning the system of meat inspection being maintained by such foreign country, such foreign country should be required to reestablish its eligibility for listing.

(b) It has been determined that product of cattle, sheep, swine, and goats from the following countries, covered by foreign meat inspection certificates of the country of origin as required by section 327.4, except fresh, chilled, or frozen or other product ineligible for importation into the United States from countries in which the contagious and communicable disease of rinderpest, or of foot-and-mouth disease, or of African swine fever exists as provided in Part 94 of this title, is eligible under the regulations in this subchapter for importation into the United States after inspection and marking as required by the applicable provisions of this part.

Sec. 327.3 No product to be imported without compliance with applicable regulations.—(a) No product offered for importation from any foreign country shall be admitted into the United States if it is adulterated or misbranded or does not comply with all the requirements of this subchapter that would apply to it if it were a domestic product.

(b) No fresh or cured meat or meat trimmings in pieces too small to permit adequate inspection upon arrival shall be admitted into the United States. Individual pieces or trimmings must not be smaller than 2-inch cubes or pieces comparable in size. Except as provided in paragraph (c) of this section, processed meat food products prepared with meat pieces smaller than 2-inch cubes or pieces comparable in size shall not be permitted entry except under the following conditions:

(1) Ground or comminuted meats may be imported in labeled containers of not more than 3 pounds net weight.

(2) Chopped steaks, meat patties, meat loaves, sectioned and formed or ground and formed meat products and products of similar type may be imported in labeled containers of not more than 10 pounds net weight.

(3) Sausages and canned meat products may be imported in labeled containers of a size suitable for retail sale and distribution to consumers.

(4) Meat extracts may be imported in labeled containers of any size.

(c) No cooked or partially cooked meat or meat trimmings, either in separable pieces or molded into larger forms, shall be permitted entry except under the following conditions:

(1) A complete procedure for preparing and handling the product in the foreign country and en route to the United States shall be submitted by the exporter or his authorized agent to the Administrator and determined by the Administrator to be adequate to assure that the product will not be adulterated or misbranded at the time of offer for entry.

(2) A system acceptable to the Administrator (upon his determination that the system will provide a reliable indication of the kinds and numbers of microorganisms present) for the microbiological testing of the finished product shall be installed by the processor, the product is subjected to such testing, and the results thereof are furnished to the Administrator and are acceptable to him as showing that the product has been prepared and handled in a sanitary manner.

(d) Further, no carcasses or parts of carcasses of livestock offered for importation from which naturally associated tissues such as the peritoneum, pleura, body lymph glands, or the portal glands of the liver have been removed, shall be admitted into the United States.

Sec. 327.4 Imported products; foreign certificates required.—(a) Except as provided in section 327.16, each consignment containing any fresh meat or fresh meat byproducts consigned to the United States from a foreign country shall be accompanied by a foreign meat-inspection certificate for fresh meat and meat byproducts in the following form:

(c) Each foreign meat-inspection certificate shall bear the official seal of the national government agency responsible for the inspection of the product and be signed and issued by an official authorized to sign and issue such certificates by the national government of the foreign country in which the product is inspected.

(d) Each foreign meat-inspection certificate shall be in both the English language and the language of the foreign country of origin.

(e) The foreign meat-inspection certificate required by this section to accompany each consignment containing any product shall be delivered by the consignee, or his agent, in the United States to the Program inspector at the place of inspection, and inspection of the product will not be commenced prior to such delivery.

Sec. 327.5 Importer to make application for inspection of products for importation; information required.—(a) Each importer shall apply for inspection of any product for importation to the officer in charge, if one is stationed at the port where such product is to be offered for entry. Otherwise, application for inspection shall be made to the Administrator, "Animal and Plant Health Inpsection Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.

(b) The application should be made as long as possible in advance of the anticipated arrival of each consignment, except in case of consignments of products expressly exempted from inspection by sections 327.16 and 327.17.

(c) Each application shall state the approximate date on which the consignment is due to arrive at such port in the United States, the name of the ship or other carrier transporting it, the name of the country from which the product was, or is to be, shipped, the place where inspection is desired in accordance with section 327.6, the quantity and kind of product, and whether it is fresh, cured, canned or otherwise prepared. In case of consignments arriving in the United States by water, the application shall also state the port of first arrival in the United States.

Sec. 327.6 Products for importation; program inspection, time and place; application for approval of facilities as official import inspection establishment; refusal or withdrawal of approval; official numbers.—(a) Except as provided in sections 327.16 and 327.17, all products offered for importation from any foreign country shall be inspected by a Program inspector before they shall be admitted into the United States.

(b) All products, required by this part to be inspected, shall be inspected only at an official establishment or at an official import inspection establishment approved by the Administrator as provided in this section. Such approved official import inspection establishments will be listed in the Directory of Meat and Poultry Inspection Program Establishments, Circuits and Officials, published by the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service. The listing will categorize the kind or kinds of product[2] which may be inspected at each official import inspection establishment, based on the adequacy of the facilities for making such inspections and handling such products in a sanitary manner.

(c) Owners or operators of facilities, other than official establishments, who want to have import inspections made at their facilities, shall apply to the Administrator for approval of their facilities for such purpose. Application shall be made on a form furnished by the Program, Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C., and shall include all information called for by that form.

(d) Each applicant seeking approval of his facilities for import inspections shall submit to the Administrator necessary drawings with specifications to determine compliance with the requirements of this section. Approval shall be sought in accordance with section 304.2(a) of this subchapter. Submission of drawings is not required if the applicant's facilities are operated under a State inspection program in a State not listed in section 331.2 of this subchapter.

(e) Owners or operators of establishments at which import inspections of product are to be made shall furnish adequate sanitary facilities and equipment for examination of such product. The requirements of sections 304.2(e), 307.1, 307.2(b), (d), (f), (h), ([illegible]), and (l) and 308.3, 308.4, 308.5, 308.6, 308.7, 308.8, 308.9, 308.11, 308.13, 308.14, and 308.15 of this subchapter shall apply as conditions for approval of facilities as official import inspection establishments to the same extent and in the same manner as they apply with respect to official establishments.

(f) The Administrator is authorized to approve any facility as an official import inspection establishment provided that an application has been filed and drawings have been submitted in accordance with the requirements of paragraphs (c) and (d) of this section and he determines that such facility meets the requirements under paragraph (e) of this section. If it is determined that the facility does not meet such requirements, approval of the facility as an official import inspection establishment may be refused in accordance with the applicable rules of practice. A written notice, specifying the premises to which the approval applies, shall be given to each applicant granted approval. When approval is refused for any such reason, the applicant shall be informed of the action and the reason therefor. Approval may also be refused in accordance with section 401 of the act and applicable rules of practice.

(g) Approval of an official import inspection establishment may be withdrawn in accordance with applicable rules of practice if it is determined that the sanitary conditions are such that the product is rendered adulterated, that such action is authorized by section 21(b) of the Federal Water Pollution Control Act, as amended (84 Stat. 91), or that the requirements of paragraph (e) of this section were not complied with. Approval may also be withdrawn in accordance with section 401 of the Act and applicable rules of practice.

(h) A special official number shall be assigned to each official import inspection establishment. Such number shall be used to identify all products inspected and passed for entry at the establishment.

(i) A sufficient sampling inspection shall be made of each consignment of foreign chilled fresh or frozen fresh meat, including defrosting if necessary, to determine its condition. Inspection standards for foreign chilled fresh or frozen fresh meat shall be the same as those used for domestic chilled fresh or frozen fresh meat. (See section 327.21).

(j) Foreign canned products are required to be sound, healthful, wholesome, and otherwise not adulterated at the time they are offered for importation into the United States. Provided other requirements of this part are met, the determination of the acceptability of the product and the condition of the containers shall be based on the results of an examination of a statistical sample drawn from the consignment in accordance with instructions to Program inspectors. If the examination of the sample discloses that the product or the containers do not meet the acceptance level prescribed in the instructions, the consignment shall be refused entry. However, a consignment rejected for container defects but otherwise acceptable may be reoffered for inspection under the following conditions: (1) If the number and kinds of container defects found in the original sample do not exceed limits specified for this purpose in such instructions; and (2) if the defective cans in the consignment have been sorted out and reexported or destroyed under supervision of an inspector.

(k) Program inspectors or Customs officers at border or seaboard ports shall report the sealing of cars, trucks, or other means of conveyance, and the sealing or identification of containers of foreign product on Form MP-410 to Program area supervisors at points where such product is to be inspected.

(1) Representative samples of canned product designated by the Administrator in instructions to Program inspectors shall be incubated under supervision of such inspectors by holding the samples for no less than 10 days at 95 ± 2° F. The necessary incubation facilities shall be provided by the importers or their agents.

(m) Pamphlets detailing the sampling plans, acceptance levels, and other requirements in connection with inspection of imported products as set forth in the instructions to inspectors under paragraphs (1) and (n) of this section will be furnished to interested persons upon request.

Sec. 327.7 Products for importation; movement prior to inspection; sealing; handling; bond; assistance.—(a)(1) No product required by this part to be inspected shall be moved, prior to inspection, from the port of first arrival in the United States, or, if arriving by water, from the wharf where unloaded, unless it is conveyed in cars, trucks, or other means of conveyance, sealed in compliance with this section or in containers corded and sealed or otherwise identified in accordance with this section, except when such sealing and identification are deemed not to be necessary by the area supervisor because other equally adequate controls are used.

[2] For example: Canned product, boneless meat, carcasses and cuts.

(2) Cars, trucks, other means of conveyance, or containers in which any product is conveyed in accordance with this part, prior to inspection, from the port of first arrival in the United States, or, if arriving by water, from the wharf where unloaded, shall be sealed with Customs seals or official import meat seals of the Department as prescribed in section 312.5(b) of this subchapter or, in the case of containers, otherwise identified as provided for in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph, except when such sealing and identification are deemed not to be necessary by the officer in charge because other equally adequate controls are used. Containers shall be securely corded before being offered for sealing. Official import meat seals shall be affixed by Program inspectors unless there is no Program inspector assigned to such port or wharf where the product is entered, in which case the seals shall be affixed by Customs officers.

(3) In lieu of cording and sealing containers, the carrier or importer may furnish and attach to each outside container of product a warning notice on bright yellow paper, not less than 5 by 8 inches in size, containing the following legend in black type of a conspicuous size:

(Name of Truck Line or Carrier)

Notice

This container of meat or meat product must be delivered intact to an inspector of the Meat and Poultry Inspection Programs, U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Warning

Failure to comply with these instructions will result in penalty action being taken against the holder of the Customs entry bond. If the product is found to be acceptable upon inspection the container will be marked as U.S. inspected and passed and this warning notice defaced.

(b) No person shall affix, break, alter, deface, mutilate, remove, or destroy any official import meat seal of the Department, except Customs officers or Program inspectors or as provided for in paragraph (h) of this section.

(c) No product shall be removed from any car, wagon, other means of conveyance, or container sealed with an official import meat seal of the Department except under the supervision of a Program inspector or a Customs officer, or as provided for in paragraph (h) of this section.

(d) No product required by this part to be inspected shall be moved, prior to inspection from any port, or, if arriving by water from the wharf where first unloaded, to any place other than the place designated by, or in accordance with, this part as the place where the same shall be inspected.

(e) No product required by this part to be inspected shall be conveyed, prior to inspection, from any port, or, if arriving by water, from the wharf where first unloaded, in any manner other than in compliance with this part.

(f) No product required by this part to be inspected shall be delivered to the consignee or his agent prior to inspection, unless the consignee shall furnish a bond, in form prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury, conditioned that the product shall be returned, if demanded, to the district director of the port where the same is offered for clearance through the Customs.

(g) The consignee or his agent shall provide such assistance as Program inspectors may require for the handling and marking of product offered for entry.

(h) In case of a wreck or similar extraordinary emergency, the official import meat seal of the Department on a car, truck, or other means of conveyance may be broken by the carrier, and, if necessary, the articles may be reloaded into another means of conveyance for transportation to destination. In all such cases, the carrier shall immediately report the facts by telegraph to the Administrator, Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250. Such report shall include the following information:

(1) Nature of the emergency.

(2) Place where seals were broken.

(3) Points of shipment and destination.

(4) Identity of the means of conveyance, such as the initials and number of the car.

(5) Identity of the means of conveyance into which the articles are loaded.

(6) Kind and quantity of articles.

Sec. 327.8 Import products; equipment and means of conveyance used in handling to be maintained in sanitary condition.—Compartments of steamships, sailing vessels, railroad cars, and other means of conveyance transporting any product to the United States, and all trucks, chutes, platforms, racks, tables, tools, utensils, and all other devices used in moving and handling any product offered for importation into the United States shall be maintained in a sanitary condition.

Sec. 327.9 Burlap wrapping for foreign meat.—Burlap shall not be used as a wrapping for foreign meat unless the meat is first wrapped with a good grade of paper or cloth of a kind which will prevent contamination with lint or other foreign material.

Sec. 327.10 Samples; inspection of consignments; refusal of entry; marking.—(a) Program inspectors may take, without cost to the United States, for laboratory examination, samples of any product which is subject to analysis, from each consignment offered for importation, except that such samples shall not be taken of any product offered for importation under section 327.16.

(b) The outside containers of all products offered for importation from any foreign country and accompanied with a foreign inspection certificate as required by this part, which, upon inspection by Program inspectors, are found not to be adulterated or misbranded and to be otherwise eligible for entry into the United States under this part, or the products themselves if not in containers, shall be marked with the official inspection legend prescribed in section 312.7 of this subchapter. All products so marked, in compliance with this part, shall be admitted into the United States, insofar as such admittance is regulated under the Act.

(c) If the inspection of the portion of product withdrawn from a consignment indicates that the consignment is adulterated or misbranded or otherwise is not eligible for entry under this part, the consignment shall be identified as "U.S. Refused Entry" and handled as prescribed in section 327.13(a). The consignments refused entry may be marked "U.S. Refused Entry" if the area supervisor deems such marking necessary to maintain their identity.

Sec. 327.11 Receipts to importers for import product samples.—In order that importers may be assured that samples of foreign products collected for laboratory examination are to be used exclusively for that purpose, official receipts shall be issued and delivered to importers, or their agents, by inspectors for all samples of foreign products collected. The official receipt shall be prepared in duplicate, over the signature of the inspector who collects the samples, and shall show the name of the importer, country of origin, quantity and kind of product collected, date of collection, and that the sample was collected for laboratory examination. The duplicate copy of the receipt shall be retained by inspectors in charge as their office record.

Sec. 327.12 Foreign canned or packaged products bearing trade labels; sampling and inspection.—(a) Samples of foreign canned or packaged products bearing on their immediate containers trade labels which have not been approved under section 317.3 of this subchapter shall be collected and forwarded to the laboratory by the Program inspector for examination, and the products shall be held pending receipt of the report of the laboratory findings and the results of the examination of trade labels and the marks on shipping containers.

(b) Foreign canned or packaged products bearing trade labels and other markings which have been approved under section 317.3 of this subchapter shall be inspected for soundness and checked for net weight. Samples may be collected for laboratory examination, but the products may be released under Customs' bond pending the report of laboratory findings.

(c) A sample shall be taken from each consignment of foreign canned products or packaged products. The method of sample selection and the sample size shall be prescribed in instructions to Program employees.[1]

Sec. 327.13 Foreign products offered for importation; reporting of findings to Customs; handling of articles refused entry.—(a) Program inspectors shall report their findings as to any product which has been inspected in accordance with this part, to the Director of Customs at the port where the same is offered for clearance through the Customs, and shall request the Director to refuse admission to any product which is designated as "U.S. refused entry", and to direct that the same be exported by the consignee within the time specified in this section, unless the consignee, within such specified time shall cause the destruction thereof for human food purposes under the supervision of a Program Inspector: Provided, That in the case of product refused entry solely because of misbranding, in lieu of exportation or destruction the product may be brought into compliance with the requirements of this part, under supervision of an authorized representative of the Administrator. Such specified time shall be 30 days after such notice is given to the Customs officer, unless a different time is fixed by the Administrator upon application to him. If any such product is destroyed for human food purposes or misbranded product is brought into compliance under this paragraph, under the supervision of a Program inspector, he shall give prompt notice thereof to the Director.

(b) Upon the request of the Director of Customs at the port where a product is offered for clearance through the Customs, the consignee of the product shall, at his own expense, immediately return to the Director any product which has been delivered to consignee under section 327.7 and subsequently designated "U.S. refused entry" or found in any respect not to comply with the requirements in this part. All such product shall be returned in cars, trucks, or other means of conveyance, or in corded containers, sealed with the official import meat seal of the Department unless such sealing is deemed not to be necessary by the area supervisor because other equally adequate controls are used.

(c) All charges for storage, cartage, and labor with respect to any product which was imported contrary to the Act shall be paid by the owner or consignee, and in default of such payment shall constitute a lien against such product and any other product thereafter imported by or for such owner or consignee.

Sec. 327.14 Marking of products and labeling of immediate containers thereof for importation.—(a) Product which is offered for importation, and which is susceptible of marking, shall, whether or not enclosed in an immediate container, bear the name of the country of origin, preceded by the words "product of"; the establishment number assigned by the foreign meat inspection system and certified to the Program; and such other markings as are necessary for compliance with Part 316 of this subchapter. When such markings are imprints of stamps or brands made with branding ink, such ink shall be harmless and shall create permanent imprints. In case the name of the country of origin appears as part of an official mark of the national foreign government and such name is prominently and legibly displayed, the words "product of" may be omitted.

(b) In addition to the marking of products required under paragraph (a) of this section, the immediate container of any product offered for importation:

(1) Shall bear a label showing in accordance with section 317.2 of this subchapter all information required by that section (except that the establishment number assigned by the foreign meat inspection system and certified to the Program and the official inspection mark of the foreign meat inspection system shall be shown instead of the official inspection legend of the United States) and in addition the name of the country of origin preceded by the words "product of," immediately under the name or descriptive designation of the product as required by section 317.2: Provided, That such establishment number may be omitted from a label lithographed directly on a can if said number is lithographed or embossed elsewhere on the can; and

(2) Shall, if such immediate container is a sealed metal container, have the establishment number assigned by the foreign meat inspection authority and certified by the Program embossed or lithographed on the sealed metal container, and such establishment number shall not be covered or obscured by any label or other means.

(c) All marks, and other labelings for use on or with immediate containers, as well as private brands on carcasses or parts of carcasses shall be submitted for approval, to the Labels and Packaging Staff, Meat and Poultry Inspection, Animal and Plant Inspection Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250, and approved as provided in Part 317 of this subchapter, before products bearing such marks, labeling or brands will be admitted into the United States: Provided, That the marks of inspection of foreign systems embossed on metal containers or branded on carcasses or parts thereof need not be submitted for approval; and stencils, box dies, labels, and brands may be used on such immediate containers as tierces, barrels, drums, boxes, crates, and large-size fiberboard containers of foreign products provided the markings made by such articles are applicable to the product and are not false or misleading and are used with the approval of the inspector in charge.

Sec. 327.15 Outside containers of foreign products; marking and labeling; application of official inspection legend.—(a) The outside container in which any immediate container of foreign product is shipped to the United States shall bear, in English, in a prominent and legible manner:

(1) The name or descriptive designation of the product in accordance with section 317.2 of this subchapter;

(2) The name of the country of origin; and

(3) The establishment number assigned by the foreign meat inspection system and certified to the Program.

(b) All labeling used with an outside container of foreign product must be approved in accordance with Part 317 of this subchapter.

(c) All outside containers of products which have been inspected and passed in accordance with this part shall be marked by a Program employee or under his supervision with the official import meat inspection mark prescribed in section 312.7.

Sec. 327.16 Small importations for importer's own consumption; requirements.—Any product offered for importation in a quantity of 50 pounds or less which was purchased by the importer outside the United States for his own consumption, is eligible for importation into the United States from any country without compliance with the provisions in other sections of this part but subject to applicable requirements under other laws, including the regulations in Part 94 of this title. However, Program employees may inspect any product offered for importation under this section to determine whether it is within the class eligible for importation under this paragraph. Products imported in compliance with this paragraph may be transported to their destination in the course of importation or subsequently in commerce if covered by a certificate as required by section 325.12 of this subchapter.

Sec. 327.17 Returned U.S. inspected and marked products.—U.S. inspected and passed and so marked products exported to and returned from foreign countries will be admitted into the United States without compliance with this part upon notification to and approval of the Deputy Administrator, Meat and Poultry Inspection Field Operations, Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250, in specific cases.

Sec. 327.18 Imported products to be handled and transported as domestic; entry into official establishments; exception.—(a) All imported products, after entry into the United States, shall be deemed and treated as domestic products and shall be subject to the applicable provisions of the Act and the regulations in this subchapter and the applicable requirements under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, except that products imported under section 327.16 are required to comply only with the requirements of that Act and sections 327.16 and 325.12 of this subchapter.

(b) Imported products inspected, passed, and marked in accordance with this part may, subject to the provisions of Part 318 of this subchapter, be taken into official establishments and be mixed with or added to any product in such establishments which has been inspected and passed therein.

(c) Imported product which has been inspected, passed, and marked under this part may be transported in the course of importation or subsequently in commerce only upon compliance with Part 325 of this subchapter.

Sec. 327.19 Specimens for laboratory examination and similar purposes.—The provisions in this part do not apply to specimens of products for laboratory examination, research, or similar purposes when authorized importation by the Administrator under conditions specified by him in specific cases, including requirements of denaturing or other identification to deter their use for human food. Authorization will not be given for the importation of any products contrary to the provisions of Part 94 of this chapter.

Sec. 327.20 Importation of foreign inedible fats.—No inedible grease, inedible tallow, or other inedible rendered fat shall be admitted into the United States unless it has been first denatured as prescribed in section 325.13 of this subchapter and the containers marked as prescribed by section 316.15 of this subchapter or unless it is identified and handled as prescribed by section 325.11 (c) or (d) of this subchapter.

Sec. 327.21 Special inspection procedures for chilled fresh or frozen boneless manufacturing meat.—(a) Definitions; sampling; standards. (1) Frozen boneless manufacturing meat is meat, frozen in the fresh state from cattle, sheep, swine, goats, horses, mules, or other equines that has all bone removed and is cut into pieces or trimmings, frozen into a compact block of any shape and suitable for slicing or chopping in the manufacturing of meat food products. Individual pieces or trimmings must not be smaller than a 2-inch cube or a piece comparable in size. As used in this section, the term "frozen" includes "chilled fresh," and "lot" means any amount of frozen boneless manufacturing meat of one species, similarly packaged, shipped from one establishment, and offered for import inspection under one or more foreign inspection certificates.

(2) All lots of imported frozen boneless manufacturing meat will be sampled and such samples defrosted for inspection in accordance with this paragraph. The inspector will select from each lot the appropriate number of cartons specified by the table of sampling plans contained in the current U.S. Department of Agriculture Manual of Meat Inspection Procedures.[1] The total sample for inspection will consist of the necessary number of 12-pound units drawn from these cartons. The 12-pound units selected will be completely defrosted and subjected to a thorough examination.

(b) Lots refused entry. Reinspection (including resampling) will be provided for any lot of frozen boneless manufacturing meat which was refused entry under this section on the basis of the original evaluation of the sample thereof, only if there is reason to question the judgment of the inspector in making the evaluation. If, in other cases, any portion of any lot refused entry is identified by markings as consisting of any particular type of meat (e.g., as made from beef trimmings or from chucks or rounds) which differs from all other types of meat in the lot or is identified by a production date or shift mark which distinguishes it from all other meat in the lot, the eligibility of each such portion of the lot for importation will be evaluated upon the basis of the original inspection findings and in accordance with standards specified for this purpose in instructions issued to the inspectors.[2] Portions of the lot so found eligible for entry will be admitted and the remainder of the lot will be refused entry.

(c) Certain lots found to qualify as lots for entry. If it is found upon initial evaluation of the sample of any lot of frozen boneless manufacturing meat that the lot as a whole meets the inspection standard for entry but such lot includes any portion identified by markings as consisting of any particular type of meat different than all other types of meat in the lot or identified by a different production date or shift mark than the remainder of the lot, the eligibilty for importation of such portion of the lot shall be evaluated, upon the basis of the original inspection findings and in accordance with standards specified for this purpose in instructions issued to the inspectors.[2] Any portion of the lot found ineligible for entry upon such evaluation will be refused entry and the remainder of the lot will be admitted.

(d) Lots for which unloading is delayed. If a portion of a lot is unloaded from a ship on any day and the unloading of the remainder of the lot is being delayed beyond the following day, the eligibility for importation of each portion which is identified by markings as consisting of any particular type of meat different than all other types of meat in the lot or identified by a different production date or shift mark than the remainder of the lot, may be evaluated at the importer's request separately in accordance with standards specified for this purpose in instructions issued to the inspectors.[2]

Sec. 327.22 Official import meat inspection marks and seals.—The official import meat inspection mark and official import meat seal are those described in sections 312.5(b) and 312.7 of this subchapter.

INSPECTION AND HANDLING OF HORSE MEAT AND PRODUCTS THEREOF

Regulations of the Meat Inspection Division of the United States Department of Agriculture, relating to the inspection and handling of horse meat and products thereof, Code of Federal Regulations, title 9, sections 29.10–29.13.

Sec. 29.10 Eligibility of foreign countries for importation of horse meat and horse meat food products into the United States.—(a) Whenever it shall be determined that the system of horse meat inspection maintained by any foreign country is the substantial equivalent of, or is as efficient as, the system established and maintained by the United States, and that reliance can be placed upon certificates required under this part from authorities of such foreign country, notice of that fact will be given by including the name of such foreign country in paragraph (b) of this section, and thereafter horse meat and horse meat food products as to which the foreign inspection and certification is determined to be sufficient shall be eligible for importation into the United States from such foreign country, as provided in paragraph (b) of this section. Horse meat and horse meat food products from foreign countries not listed in paragraph (b) of this section are not eligible for importation into the United States. The listing of any foreign country under this section may be withdrawn whenever it shall be determined (1) that the system of horse meat inspection maintained by such foreign country is not the substantial equivalent of, or is not as efficient as, the system established and maintained by the United States, or that reliance cannot be placed upon certificates required under this part from authorities of such foreign country; or (2) that, for lack of current information concerning the system of horse meat inspection being maintained by such foreign country or for any other reason, such foreign country should reestablish its eligibility for listing.

(b) It has been determined that horse meat and horse meat food products from the following foreign countries covered by foreign horse meat inspection certificates of the country of origin as required by section 29.11 are eligible for importation into the United States after inspection and marking as required by the applicable provisions of Parts 1 through 29 of this subchapter and upon compliance with any requirements of the Animal Inspection and Quarantine Division of the Agricultural Research Service:

Argentina
Canada
Mexico
New Zealand
Paraguay

Sec. 29.11 Imported horse meat and horse meat food products; foreign certificates required.—Except as provided in section 27.6(e) of this subchapter, each consignment containing any horse meat or horse meat food products capable of being used as food for man, consigned to the United States from a foreign country shall be accompanied with a foreign horse meat inspection certificate in the following form:

---

[1] Copies of such table are available, upon request, from the Technical Services, Meat and Poultry Inspection, Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.

Sec. 29.12 Applicability of meat inspection regulations to importation of horse meat and horse meat food products.—In addition to other sections of this part which apply to the importation of horse meat and horse meat food products, capable of being used as food for man, section 29.4, all of the provisions of Part 27 of this subchapter (except sections 27.1; 27.2; 27.6(a), (f), (g), and (h); 27.18; and 27.20(a) and (c), and all of the provisions of other parts of this subchapter as specified in said Part 27 which are applicable to horse meat and horse meat food products under section 29.9, are hereby made applicable to the importation of such horse meat and horse meat food products.

Sec. 29.13 Imported horse meat and horse meat food products to be handled and transported as domestic.—All imported horse meat and horse meat food products, capable of being used as food for man, after admission into the United States in compliance with this part shall be deemed and treated and shall be handled and transported as domestic horse meat and horse meat food products, and shall be subject to the provisions of Parts 1 through 29 of this subchapter which are applicable to domestic horse meat and horse meat food products, and to the provisions, prohibitions, and penalties of the Horse Meat Act and the Meat Inspection Act as made applicable to horse meat and horse meat food products. Imported horse meat and horse meat food products which have been inspected, passed, and marked under this part may be transported from one State or Territory or the District of Columbia to another State or Territory or the District of Columbia, or to any place under the jurisdiction of the United States, or to a foreign country, only upon compliance with all of the provisions of Part 25 of this subchapter, except sections 25.10 and 25.11, as if said provisions referred to horses, horse meat and horse meat food products.

XIV FEDERAL SEED ACT

The following joint regulations have been prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury and the Secretary of Agriculture for the enforcement of the Federal Seed Act, Code of Federal Regulations, title 7, sections 201.201-201.231.

Definitions

Sec. 201.201 Agricultural seeds.—The term 'agricultural seeds' means those seeds so defined in the regulations of the Secretary of Agriculture.

Sec. 201.202 Vegetable seeds.—The term 'vegetable seeds' means those seeds so defined in the regulations of the Secretary of Agriculture.

Sec. 201.203 Screenings.—The term 'screenings' means chaff, sterile florets, immature seed, weed seed, inert matter, and any other materials removed in any way from any seeds in any kind of cleaning or processing and which contains less than 25 percent of live agricultural or vegetable seeds.

Sec. 201.204 Agricultural Marketing Service.—The term "Agricultural Marketing Service" means the Agricultural Marketing Service of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Sec. 201.205 Collector of customs.—The term 'collector of customs' includes any person authorized under the customs laws and regulations to perform the duties of a collector of customs.

Sec. 201.206 Pure live seed.—The term 'pure live seed' means the product of the percentage of germination plus the hard seed and the percentage of pure seed, divided by 100.

Sec. 201.207 Other definitions.—The definitions for the purposes of Title III of the Federal Seed Act shall include all other definitions in the Regulations of the Secretary of Agriculture under the Act.

Samplings

Sec. 201.208 Seed.—(a) Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, the collector of customs shall draw and forward samples of all seed imported or offered for importation into the United States except the following kinds which he shall sample only when imported for seeding purposes and when declared for seeding purposes:

Barley.
Bean, adzuki.
Bean, field.
Bean, lima.
Bean, mung.
Broadbean.
Buckwheat, common.
Canary grass.
Castorbean.
Celery.
Chickpea.
Corn, field.
Cowpea.
Flax.
Guar.
Hemp.
Lentil.
Lettuce.
Lupine.
Millet, foxtail.
Millet, proso.
Mustard, India.
Oat.
Parsley.
Pea.
Pea, field.
Peanut.
Pepper.
Pumpkin.
Rape, annual.
Rape, bird.
Rape, turnip.
Rape, winter.
Rice.
Rye.
Safflower.
Sesame.
Sorghum.
Soybean.
Sunflower.
Vetch.
Watermelon.
Wheat.

(b) It is not ordinarily practical to sample and test small lots in importations of seed. The size of lots not ordinarily sampled is shown in table 3 in sec. 201.221a. No release by the United States Department of Agriculture will be necessary for seed not sampled.

Sec. 201.209 Screenings.—The collector of customs shall upon request received prior to importation from the Deputy Administrator for Marketing Services, Agricultural Marketing Service, draw and forward samples of all screenings imported or offered for importation into the United States.

Sec. 201.210 Method of sampling.—(a) In order to secure a representative sample, equal portions shall be taken from evenly distributed parts of the quantity of seed or screenings to be sampled. Access shall be had to all parts of that quantity. When more than one trierful of seed is drawn from a bag, different paths shall be followed. When more than handful is taken from a bag, the handfuls shall be taken from well-separated points.

(b) For free-flowing seed in bags or bulk, a probe or trier shall be used. For small free-flowing seed in bags a probe or trier long enough to sample all portions of the bag should be used.

(c) Non-free-flowing seed, such as grass seed, uncleaned seed or screenings, difficult to sample with a probe or trier, shall be sampled by thrusting the hand into the bulk and withdrawing representative portions. The hand shall be inserted in an open position and the fingers shall be held closely together while the hand is being inserted and the portion withdrawn.

(d) The portions shall be combined into a composite sample except that if the quantity represented to be a lot does not appear to be of uniform quality as required in paragraph (e) of this section, the separate portions shall be forwarded together but without being combined into a composite sample.

(e) A quantity of seed designated as one lot shall be regarded as such for sampling only if every portion or bag of seed in the quantity is uniform within permitted tolerances as to percentage of pure seed, percentage of germination and hard seed, percentage of weed seed, and rate of occurrence of noxious weed seeds.

(f) When an importation consists of more than one lot, each lot shall be sampled separately.

(g) Sampling shall not proceed unless (1) each container is stencilled or otherwise labeled to show the lot designation and the name of the kind, or kind and variety, appearing on the invoice and other entry papers and (2) a "Declaration of Labeling" has been filed by the importer of record as required under sec. 201.228a.

Sec. 201.211 Bulk.—Bulk seeds or screenings shall be sampled by inserting a long probe or thrusting the hand into the bulk as circumstances require. At least as many trierfuls or handfuls as the minimum required for the same quantity of seed or screenings in bags of a size customarily used for such seed or screenings shall be taken.

Sec. 201.212 Bags.—(a) For lots of six bags or less, each bag shall be sampled. A total of at least five trierfuls shall be taken.

(b) For lots of more than six bags, five bags plus at least 10 percent of the number of bags in the lot shall be sampled. (Round off numbers with decimals to the nearest whole number, raising 0.5 to the next whole number.) Regardless of the lot size, it is not necessary that more than 30 bags be sampled.

(c) When sampling seed in small containers which it is not practical to sample as required in paragraph (a) or (b) of this section, entire unopened containers may be taken in sufficient number to supply a minimum size sample as required in sec. 201.213. The sample may consist of the contents of one container, or two or more containers when combined.

Sec. 201.213 Size of sample.—Samples of agricultural seed shall be not less than one quart. Samples of screenings shall be not less than two quarts. Samples of vegetable seed shall not be less than one pint, except that samples of one-fourth pint will be sufficient from importations of five pounds or less. Unused portions of samples of rare or expensive seeds with be returned by the Agricultural Marketing Service upon request of the importer.

Sec. 201.214 Sealing and identifying samples.—Before being forwarded for analysis, test, or examination, the container of each sample shall be properly sealed, and identified in accordance with sec. 201.215.

Sec. 201.215 Statements to accompany samples.—All samples shall be accompanied by (1) a description of the lot of seed offered for importation, on a form provided for this purpose by the Department of Agriculture and (2) the declaration of labeling required in sec. 201.228a.

Sec. 201.216 Forwarding samples.—Samples from the various ports shall be forwarded to seed laboratories in accordance with instructions of the Agricultural Marketing Service to be furnished to customs officers from time to time. [As amended Aug. 1, 1941, 6 F.R. 3961; T.D. 50458.]

Sec. 201.217 Notice to consignee.—The collector of customs shall immediately notify the owner or consignee that samples of seed or screenings have been drawn and that the shipment shall be held intact pending a decision of the Agricultural Marketing Service in the matter.

Sec. 201.218 Delivery under bond.—After samples of seed or screenings offered for importation into the United States from any foreign country have been drawn, such seed or screenings shall be admitted into the commerce of the United States only after the seed or screenings have been found to meet the requirements of the Act and these regulations, except for those lots not tested for pure live seed due to application of statistical inspection techniques as provided in section 302(a) of the Act, provided however, that if each container of such seed or screenings is stenciled or labeled to show the name of the kind, or the kind and variety, and a lot number or other designation identifying the lot of seed, collectors of customs may release from customs custody for delivery to the owner or consignee shipments which have been sampled, pending examination and decision in the matter, upon the execution on the appropriate form of either a customs single-entry bond or a customs term bond in such amount as is prescribed for such bond in customs regulations in force on date of entry, which bond shall contain a condition for the redelivery of the seed or screenings or any part thereof upon demand of the collector of customs at any time. Prior to being so admitted, the seed or screenings shall be kept intact and not tampered with in any way, or removed from the containers except under supervision as provided by regulation. The bond shall be filed with the collector of customs, who, in case of default, shall take appropriate action to effect the collection of liquidated damages equal to the value of the entire shipment as set forth in the entry plus the estimated duty thereon, if any. [As amended Aug. 1, 1941, 6 F.R. 3961, T.D. 50458.]

Sec. 201.219 Notice of removal.—The owner or consignee shall keep the Agricultural Marketing Service informed as to the location of seed or screenings subject to the Act, after sampling by the collector of customs but before being finally admitted into the commerce of the United States.

Evidence as to Country or Region Where Seed was Grown

Sec. 201.220 Certificate or declaration of origin.—(a) A certificate, attached to the invoice, of the properly authorized official of the foreign country in which the seed was grown, to the effect that the seed of alfalfa or red clover or any mixture of seeds containing 10 percent or more of either or both of such seeds was grown in that country, will be regarded as prima facie evidence of such fact. This certificate shall be in the following form:

Certificate of origin by foreign official

City ______________________, country ______________________,
date ______________________

I, ______________________ hereby certify that
(Name of Official)
the seed contained in ______________________ bags, marked ______________________, described in invoice ______________________,
(Number or date)
to which this certificate is attached, was grown
in ______________________
(Name of country or countries or part thereof)

(Name of official)

(Official title)

(b) A declaration of the shipper attached to the invoice stating the country in which the seed of alfalfa or the seed of red clover or any mixture of seeds containing 10 percent or more of either or both of such seeds was grown will be regarded as prima facie evidence of such fact. The declaration shall be in the following form:

Declaration of origin by shipper

City ______________________, country ______________________,
date ______________________

I, the undersigned ______________________,
the shipper of the seed contained in ______________________ bags,
marked ______________________, described in invoice ______________________
(Number or date)
to which this declaration is attached, do hereby certify that such seed was grown in ______________________
(Name of country or countries or part thereof)

(Signature)

(c) If the information contained in the certificate or declaration provided for in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this regulation is not sufficient to establish the country or region of origin of the seed, or if the consular invoice is not accompanied by such certificate or declaration, other evidence as to the origin may be considered, or the seed may be permitted entry after being stained 10 percent red.

Exemptions, Declarations and Labeling

Sec. 201.221 Exemptions.—(a) Shipments through the United States. Seed shipped in bond through the United States is not subject to the import requirements of the act.

(b) United States seed returned. Seed which has been grown in the United States, exported, and returned from a foreign country, is not subject to the prohibition against the importations of seed that is adulterated or unfit for seeding purposes: Provided, That proof in the form of statements or other documents, furnished by the United States importer to the Seed Branch, Agricultural Marketing Service, United States Department of Agriculture, establishes that (1) the seed was grown in the United States and was exported, (2) the seed was not admitted into the commerce of a foreign country, and (3) the seed was not commingled with other seed after being exported. The information required ins subparagraph (1) of this paragraph shall include the quantity of seed and number of containers, the date of exportation from the United States, the distinguishing marks on the containers at the time of exportation, and the name and address of the United States exporter. The information required in subparagraphs (2) and (3) of this paragraph shall be contained in a statement or document issued by a customs or other Government official of the foreign country.

(c) Seed for experimental or breeding purposes. Any lot of seed imported for sowing for experimental or breeding purposes and not for sale is not subject to the prohibition against the importation of seed that is adulterated or unfit for seeding purposes: Provided, That (1) a declaration is filed by the importer with the Seed Branch, Agricultural Marketing Service, United States Department of Agriculture, as specified in this paragraph, and (2) the quantity of seed in the lot will not exceed that shown in table 3 in sec. 201.221a for such seed. Seed imported for increase purposes only will not be considered to be imported for experimental or breeding purposes. The declaration required to be filed shall be substantially as shown in paragraph (d) of this section.

(d) Seed for seed production only. Any lot of seed imported for sowing for seed production only, by or for the importer or consignee, and not to be sold within the United States is not subject to the prohibition against the importation of seed that is (1) adulterated or unfit for seeding purposes because of low pure live seed, or (2) required to be stained: Provided, That a declaration is filed by the importer with the Seed Branch, Grain Division, Consumer and Marketing Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, substantially as specified below:

shall contain a statement by the importer setting forth the use for which imported. When imported for seeding purposes such seed is subject to the import provisions of the Act.

(b) Deleted.

(c) If any seed enumerated in section 201.222 is declared for seeding purposes and is found upon examination by the Agricultural Marketing Service not to meet the requirements of the Federal Seed Act, the importer shall be permitted to withdraw his declaration made under section 201.222 upon notification from the Agricultural Marketing Service that the seed may be released for feeding or manufacturing purposes. In this event, the importer shall be required to file a new declaration that no part of the importation will be used for seeding purposes.

(d) The collector of customs shall notify the Department of Agriculture of any change in the nature of a declaration made under this section. [As amended Aug. 1, 1941, 6 F.R. 3961, T.D. 50458, Aug. 4, 1945, 10 F.R. 9949, Oct. 26, 1945, 10 F.R. 13489, T.D. 51363.]

(e) The invoice and any other labeling pertaining to agricultural or vegetable seed offered for importation shall bear the lot identification, the name of each kind and variety of vegetable seed present, or kind and variety of agricultural seed present, in excess of 5 percent of the whole, and the designation "hybrid" when it is hybrid seed as defined under Sec. 201.2(y).

(f) Any agricultural seed or mixture thereof or any vegetable seed or mixture thereof offered for importation for seeding purposes that has been treated shall be labeled as provided in Sec. 201.31(a) of the regulations of the Secretary of Agriculture.

Screenings

Sec. 201.223 Screenings consisting prohibited entry.—Screenings of all seed subject to the Federal Seed Act are prohibited entry into the United States except as provided under Section 201.224.

Sec. 201.224 Screenings permitted entry.—Screenings consisted of wheat, oats, rye, barley, buckwheat, field corn, sorghum including broom corn, flaz, millet, Proso, soybeans, cowpeas, field peas, and field beans may be imported, provided such screenings are not imported for seeding purposes and are so declared by the words 'screenings for processing, not for seeding', in the invoice or other paper required to be presented to the collector of customs.

Seed Adulterated or Unfit for Seeding Purposes

Sec. 201.225 Cleaning or processing.—Seed which is found under the provisions of the Act to be adulterated or unfit for seeding purposes may be cleaned or processed under the supervision of an employee or authorized agent of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. The cleaning or processing shall be at the expense of the owner or consignee who shall reimburse the Government for all expenses incurred in connection with such supervision, including travel, per diem or subsistence, and salaries of officers or employees of the United States. Travel and per diem or subsistence expenses shall be reimbursed at the rate allowed for employees of the United States in accordance with Standardized Government Travel Regulations. Salary shall be reimbursed at the average rate paid to employees engaged in supervision activities plus average related costs. The identity of the seed shall be maintained at all times to the satisfaction of the persons supervising the cleaning or processing. The refuse from such cleaning shall be placed in containers and securely sealed and identified. If upon analysis, test or examination of a representative sample of the cleaned seed, it is found that the requirements of the Act have been met, that portion of the seed may be admitted.

Sec. 201.226 Destruction of refuse.—The refuse from such cleaning shall be destroyed under the supervision of an employee authorized agent of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The destruction of refuse shall be at the expense of the owner or consignee who shall reimburse the Government for all expenses incurred in connection with such supervision, including travel, per diem or subsistence, and salaries of officers or employees of the United States. Travel and per diem or subsistence expenses shall be reimbursed at the rate allowed for employees of the United States in accordance with Standardized Government Travel Regulations. Salary shall be reimbursed at the average rate paid to employees engaged in supervision activities plus average related costs.

Sec. 201.227 Report to collector of customs.—A report of the cleaning and processing and the destruction of the refuse, stating the amount of weight in each instance, shall be submitted to the collector of customs at the port of entry of such seed by the Agricultural Marketing Service.

Misbranded Seed

Sec. 201.228 Correction of labeling.—Seed being imported or offered for importation, the labeling of which is false or misleading in any respect, shall be refused admission into the commerce of the United States until such labeling has been corrected to meet the requirements of the Act and the Rules and Regulations. Any correction of the labeling upon the containers shall be done under the supervision of the U.S. Department of Agriculture at the expense of the owner or consignee, who shall reimburse the Government for all expenses incurred in connection with such supervision, including travel, per diem or subsistence, and salaries of officers or employees of the United States. Travel and per diem or subsistence expenses shall be reimbursed at the rate allowed for employees of the United States in accordance with Standardized Government Travel Regulations. Salary shall be reimbursed at the average rate paid to employees engaged in supervision activities plus average related costs. When a representative of the Department of Agriculture finds upon examination of seed that it is incorrectly described on the invoice presented at the time of entry, a finding of 'false labeling' under the Federal Seed Act of August 9, 1939, will be made. The seed will be refused admission until after the importer has given satisfactory assurance to the Department of Agriculture that he has taken appropriate steps to file with the district director of Customs at the port of entry a corrected Customs invoice describing the seed in terms which will not constitute 'false labeling.' Upon receipt of such assurance, the Department of Agriculture will notify the district director of the nature of the 'false labeling' and that the seed may be granted admission under the Federal Seed Act. The importer will be liable for the payment of liquidated damages under the bond filed in connection with the entry unless a corrected Customs invoice is produced within the time provided for by law or regulations.

Sec. 201.228a Declaration of labeling.—For each importation of seed the importer shall submit with the entry papers and identify by the heading "Declaration of Labeling" a copy of the commercial invoice, accurately showing thereon any information on or attached to the containers of the seed regarding the kind or kind and variety; distinguishing marks; origin; percentages of pure seed, weed seed; inert matter, other crop seed, pure live seed, germination, and hard seeds; the date of test; the name and rate of occurrence of noxious-weed seeds; and the name of any substance or process used in treating the seed.

Mixing Seed

Sec. 201.229 Prohibition against and exception.—Mixing any seed or screenings with a lot or shipment of seed or screenings offered for entry which has been found to be in violation of the Act or these regulations is prohibited, except that in cases where it shall appear to the satisfaction of the Deputy Administrator of the Marketing Service, that two or more such lots or shipments of seed or screenings offered for entry are of substantially the same quality and origin, they may be mixed for the purpose of recleaning upon a written permit from the Deputy Administrator of the Marketing Service.

Rejected Seed or Screenings

Sec. 201.230 Exportation or destruction.—(a) Seed or screenings refused admission into the commerce of the United States shall be exported under Customs supervision by the owner or consignee within 12 months of the date of notice of such refusal or at the expiration of such 12-month period the rejected seed or screenings shall be destroyed under the supervision of an employee or authorized agent of the United States Department of Agriculture in such manner as may be determined by the United States Department of Agriculture.

(b) When seed or screenings which have been refused admission into the commerce of the United States are exported the district director of Customs shall notify the office of the United States Department of Agriculture that issued the notice of rejection and shall also submit to said office a sample drawn from the seed at the time of exportation.

(c) The destruction of seed or screenings refused admission shall be at the expense of the owner or consignee who shall reimburse the Government for all expenses incurred in connection with such supervision, including travel, per diem or subsistence, and salaries of officers and employees of the United States. Travel and per diem or subsistence expenses shall be reimbursed at the rate allowed for employees of the United States in accordance with Standardized Government Travel Regulations. Salary shall be reimbursed at the average rate paid to employees engaged in supervision activities plus average related costs. The United States Department of Agriculture shall make a report of such destruction giving the amount by weight to the district director of Customs at the port of entry of such seed or screenings.

Procedure as to Public Hearings

Sec. 201.231 Notice and hearing prior to promulgation of rules and regulations.—Prior to the promulgation of any rule or regulation contemplated by Section 402(b) of the Act, notice shall be given by publication in the Federal Register of intention to promulgate such rule or regulation and of the time and place of a public hearing to be held with reference thereto. Such hearing shall be conducted by the Secretary of the Treasury and the Secretary of Agriculture, acting jointly or severally, or by such employee or employees of the Department of Agriculture or of the Department of the Treasury, as the case may be, as may be designated to preside thereat. The presiding officer shall conduct the hearing in an orderly and informal manner, according to such procedure as he may announce at the commencement of the hearing. Any rule or regulation promulgated under Section 402(b) of the Act shall become effective on the date fixed in the promulgation, which date shall be not less than 30 days after publication in the Federal Register. Any rule or regulation may be amended or revoked in the same manner as is provided for its promulgation.

XV. IMPORTATION OF TEAS

Regulations of the Food and Drug Administration, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare (formerly of the Department of Agriculture for the enforcement of the Act of March 2, 1897, as amended (21 U.S.C. 41-50)), relating to the importation of teas, Code of Federal Regulations, title 21, Part 1220.

Subpart A—General Provisions

Sec. 1220.5 Importation of inferior goods prohibited.—The importation of any merchandise as tea which is inferior in purity, quality, and fitness for consumption to the standards fixed and established by the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, in accordance with section 3 of the Tea Importation Act (29 Stat. 605; 21 U.S.C. 43), is prohibited.

Sec. 1220.6 Importation without appraisement.—Importations of tea may be entered for consumption, for transit to foreign countries, or for immediate transportation without appraisement. All entries must be on the regular forms, and the regular serial numbers, for both bonds and entries should be used.

Sec. 1220.7 Bonding of tea for consumption.—Tea entered for consumption must be stored as provided in section 1220.15, pending examination, and bond must be taken by the district director of Customs, as provided in section 4 of the Tea Importation Act (29 Stat. 605; 21 U.S.C. 44), on Customs Form No. 7551 or 7553. This bond shall be canceled upon the issuance of a permit for release, as the consumption entry bond includes provisions for the redelivery, the exportation, the destruction, and the holding of the merchandise for Customs examination.

Sec. 1220.8 Tea packages and contents shall constitute a unit.—Tea packages and contents shall be treated as a unit, and no separation of tea from its covering can be allowed, for either exportation or destruction, except under the two following conditions:

(a) In cases of importations of tea containing an excessive quantity of dust and siftings, the tea may be sifted and admitted to entry if found up to the standard, and the dust and siftings may also be admitted if found up to the standard or, if no standard exists, if found up to the respective leaf standard. If not up to the standard, or respective leaf standard when no standard exists, the dust and siftings must be exported or destroyed under Government supervision.

(b) If, by reason of damage, a tea otherwise equal in quality to the standard has been rejected, the damaged portion may be removed and exported or destroyed under Custom's supervision, and the sound remainder resubmitted for examination and admitted to entry if found up to the standard.

Sec. 1220.9 Duties of supervising tea examiner.—(a) The supervising tea examiner is charged with the immediate supervision of all matters relating to the enforcement of the Tea importation Act, and particularly the securing of uniformity in the treatment of imported teas at all the points of examination. He is also to perform such duties in connection with tea under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act as may be assigned to him.

(b) For the purpose of securing uniformity in the treatment of teas each tea examiner will send to the supervising tea examiner one-half pound samples of the teas rejected by him, also such other samples of teas as the supervising tax examiner may direct. To each sample a label (T.I.S. Cat. No. 2) shall be affixed.

(c) The examiner of tea at each port where a qualified tea examiner is stationed shall prepare and forward to the supervising tea examiner and to the chairman of the United States Board of Tea Appeals, as soon as practicable after the close of each month, a report (T.I.S. Cat. No. 3), showing details as to every shipment of tea examined by the tea examiner. This information the tea examiner should compile from his report of "Teas Imported and Examined" (T.I.S. Cat. No. 4) which should always be kept up to date.

Subpart B—Shipment and Storage

Sec. 1220.10 Teas destined for interior ports.—Imported teas entered at an exterior port destined for immediate transportation to an interior port shall be forwarded without detention.

Sec. 1220.15 Warehouse for storage of tea.—(a) Warehouses for the storage of tea will be designated by the district director of Customs and the proprietor thereof will be required to give a bond in the form prescribed (Customs Form No. 3581). Teas not stored in such designated warehouses will be placed in general order store or in public store pending examination and release on proper permit. In the absence of proper storage facilities at customhouses, teas may be retained in locked cars as constructive warehouses, under proper supervision, pending examination.

(b) The importer's premises may be designated as warehouses for the storage of tea on the filing of the bond provided for by the regulation in this part, but whenever, in the discretion of the district director of Customs, it shall be considered desirable, a storekeeper shall be assigned to the supervision of such premises at the importer's expense while the teas shall remain under bond therein.

Sec. 1220.16 Method of storing in warehouse.—(a) When tea under examination is stored in any warehouse it must be so placed as to be separate from other merchandise and so as to allow convenient supervision by Customs officers and officers of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare. At ports where there are no bonded warehouses, class 2 or 3, the chief Customs officer of the port will, when necessary, procure suitable premises for the temporary storage of any tea reaching his port. The repacking of tea in warehouse for export purposes is not allowed.

(b) All expenses of storage, cartage, and labor must be paid by the importer.

Sec. 1220.17 Removal of tea from warehouse.—No tea shall be delivered to the importer or removed from warehouse for any purpose before the examination required by the Tea Importation Act.

Subpart C—Customs Requirements

Sec. 1220.20 Examination of packages.—Chief officers of Customs may order such an examination of packages containing tea as will satisfy them that no dutiable goods are packed therein. For this purpose the customary designation should be made of packages for examination in public store.

Sec. 1220.21 Tea blended, mixed and repacked for export.—Tea importers desiring to import teas into the United States to be blended, mixed, and repacked for export can do so by bonding a warehouse under the provisions of section 311 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (46 Stat. 691; 19 U.S.C. 1311), upon compliance with sections 19.13 to 19.15, inclusive, of the Customs Regulation of 1943 (19 CFR 19.13-19.15), giving bond on Customs Form No. 3583. All teas placed in bonded manufacturing warehouses must be exported.

> CROSS REFERENCE: For Customs Regulations governing manufacturing warehouses, see 19 CFR 19.13-19.16.

Sec. 1220.22 Unclaimed teas.—Unclaimed teas should be taken possession of by district director of Customs the same as other unclaimed goods and placed in "general order", but not sold at the expiration of the year unless declared fit for consumption by a designated tea examiner.

> CROSS REFERENCE: For U.S. Customs Service regulations governing disposition of merchandise unclaimed or in warehouse beyond the time fixed by law, see 19 CFR Part 20.

Subpart D—Sampling Procedures

Sec. 1220.30 Taking of samples at port where tea examiner is stationed.—the examination of teas at ports where a duly qualified tea examiner is stationed shall be made by means of samples drawn by the sampler from packages designated by the tea examiner. The importer, when his teas are ready for sampling, shall submit in duplicate to the tea examiner a chop list and release permit (T.I.S. Cat. No. 1) of the several lines included in the invoice, and the tea examiner shall select for examination packages representing the different lines.

Sec. 1220.31 Taking of samples at ports where there is no tea examiner.—(a) in case an entry of imported tea shall be made at a port or subport where no tea examiner is stationed the importer should prepare the chop list and release permit (T.I.S. Cat. No. 1) in triplicate and forward them the the chief officer of the Customs at the port of entry.

(b) Samples shall be obtained by such officers, together with the original and one copy of the chop list and release permit (T.I.S. Cat. No. 1), and shall be forwarded to the nearest qualified tea examiner for his report and return. Samples sent for the purpose of examination from ports of importation to ports where tea examiners are located shall be packed in clean tin cans, free from odor, fitted with tight covers, and of a capacity to hold about 4 ounces avoirdupois of tea. Each can shall be properly labeled (T.I.S. Cat. No. 5).

Sec. 1220.32 Result of examination; form of report.—(a) The examination and report upon such samples shall be made in accordance with the provisions of section 7 of the Tea Importation Act (29 Stat. 606; 21 U.S.C. 46), and the result of this examination shall be noted on the invoice by the tea examiner before he returns the invoice to the district director of Customs. The tea examiner at the same time should make his returns on the original copy of the chop list and release permit (T.I.S. Cat. No. 1), which, after being duly signed by him, should be forwarded by him to the importer or consignee.

(b) In case the tea coverings are dutiable and appraised at a value or rate higher than the entered value or rate, the tea examiner shall follow the same procedure as above, except that the chop list and release permit shall be returned to the district director of Customs for such action as he sees fit to take.

(c) In case a partial release is desired the importer shall furnish an additional chop list and release permit (T.I.S. Cat. No. 1) of the goods that he desires, the original chop list and release permit being retained by the tea examiner until action on all the teas in the entry has been taken.

Sec. 1220.33 Chop list.—(a) In all cases the importer shall indicate on the chop list and release permit where the goods are to be sampled, whether on the dock or in warehouse. If the consular invoice has not been received the importer may prepare an additional copy of the chop list and release permit as a pro forma invoice, marking across the face thereof "Pro Forma Invoice."

(b) Importers may print their chop list and release permit forms, provided they conform strictly with the official form (T.I.S. Cat. No. 1). Otherwise, they can be obtained free from the United States tea examiner at ports where tea examiners are stationed, or from the chief officer of Customs at ports, or subports, where no tea examiners are stationed.

Sec. 1220.34 Surplus samples.—(a) Surplus samples drawn from importations for purposes of examination, and which represent pure tea as declared by the examiner, shall be returned to the importer after examination is completed, if so requested by the importer, but if no request is made for the return of samples they shall be disposed of as provided in section 1220.43 for unused standard samples.

(b) Surplus samples representing tea which has been finally rejected should be destroyed, or, after being denatured, should be sold for manufacturing purposes under the Tea Importation Act (35 Stat. 163; 21 U.S.C. 41).

Sec. 1220.37 Exemption of sample packages from examination.—Where tea is put up in packages of not over 2 pounds in weight, imported by mail, express, or otherwise from the country of production, and the fact is established that the packages are samples for distribution, or for use in soliciting orders and not for sale, no examination should be made under the Tea Importation Act (29 Stat. 604; 21 U.S.C. 41-50), and they may be delivered at once to the importer.

Sec. 1220.38 Tea brought in by passengers.—Packages of tea not exceeding 5 pounds in weight brought by passengers may be delivered without examination under the Tea Importation Act (29 Stat. 604; 21 U.S.C. 41-50).

Subpart E—Establishment of Standards

Sec. 1220.40 Tea standards.—(a) Samples for standards of the following teas prepared, identified, and submitted by the Broad of Tea Experts on March 4, 1975, are hereby fixed and established as the standards of purity, quality, and fitness for consumption under the Tea Importation Act for the year beginning May 1, 1975, and ending April 30, 1976:

(1) Formosa Oolong.

(2) Black Tea other then China, Formosa, Japan Type (to be used for all black teas except those from China, Formosa, and Japan).

(3) Black Tea, China, Formosa, Japan Type (to be used for black teas from China, Formosa, and Japan).

(4) Green Tea (to be used for all green teas).

(5) Canton Oolong Type (to be used for all Canton type teas of Formosa or China origin).

(6) Scented Black Tea.

(7) Spiced Tea.

These standards apply to tea shipped from abroad on or after May 1, 1975. Tea shipped prior to May 1, 1975 will be governed by the standards that became effective on May 1, 1974.

(b) The Board of Tea Experts shall prepare duplicate samples of the standards for teas.

Sec. 1220.41 Effective date of tea standards.—The standards prepared and submitted to the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare by the Board of Tea Experts, appointed by him on or before February 15 of each year, shall be fixed and established as standards under the act and shall be in effect from the 1st day of May of each year until April 30, inclusive, of the following year, except that tea shipped from abroad prior to May 1 of any year shall be governed by the standards in effect at the time of shipment. Such standards for each year will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Sec. 1220.42 To whom standards will be furnished.—(a) A quantity of tea of the approved standards will be repacked in half-pound tin containers by competent tea packers under the constant supervision of an officer of the Food and Drug Administration and full sets will be furnished the Board of Tea Appeals, the supervising tea examiner, and the examiners of tea at all the tea examining stations.

(b) Standards will be furnished to actual importers and regular tea brokers on application to the supervising tea examiner, at the actual cost of the same.

Sec. 1220.43 Disposition of obsolete standards.—After standard samples have served their purpose and new season samples have been submitted, the old samples may be included in quarterly sales of unclaimed goods, and the proceeds paid into the Treasury, after deducting expenses of advertisement and sale, the designation on the packages showing such teas to have been used as Government standards to be obliterated before delivery to purchaser.

Subpart F—Individual Standards

Sec. 1220.50 Macao or Canton congou and brick tea standards.—Macao or Canton congou and brick tea should be compared with the standards for China congou. The mustiness or damaged flavor exhibited in certain Canton teas would be just cause for rejection.

Sec. 1220.51 Teas imitating China green teas.—Whenever Japans, Ceylons, Indias, or any other teas are made up to imitate the green teas of China, they are to be examined in comparison with the China green standards.

Sec. 1220.52 Powchong Formosa oolong teas.—All Powchong (scented) Formosa oolong teas should be examined in comparison with the Formosa standard.

Subpart G—Inspection, Testing, and Grounds for Rejection

Sec. 1220.60 Instructions to examiners.—(a) Examiners are instructed not to pass upon samples representing importations of tea imported separately from the importation; neither shall they give nonofficial opinions concerning samples.

(b) The examination of tea in comparison with the standards under this act shall be made according to the usages and customs of the tea trade, including the testing of an infusion in boiling water and, if necessary, chemical analysis; and examiners are advised, inasmuch as they must not under the law admit any tea inferior to the standards in purity, quality, and fitness for consumption, to emply the present methods of determining the presence of artificial coloring and other impurities. (See section 1220.64).

Sec. 1220.61 Testing of teas.—(a) In comparing with standards, examiners are to test all the teas for quality, for impurity consisting of artificial coloring or facing matter, and other impurity, and for quality of infused leaf. Quality shall be ascertained by drawing, according to the custom of the tea trade, with the weight of a silver half dime to the cup. The quality must be equal to standard, but the flavor may be that of a different district, as long as it is equally fit for consumption. As an illustration, a Teenkai may be equal to a Moyune, but a distinctly smoky or rank Fychow or Wenchow of sour character is not considered equal to the first two mentioned.

(b) Tea dust, fannings, siftings, and offgrades, including broken tea (BT), broken mix (BM), and Bohea when so marked and for which there is no specific standard, should be tested for quality, purity, and fitness for consumption in comparison with their respective leaf standards.

Sec. 1220.62 Testing quality of infused leaf.—In order to test the quality of the infused leaf in comparison with the standard, a second drawing should be made of double weight. Before pouring off the water, examine for an excess of "floaters" (woody stems which remain floating after the leaf is thoroughly infused) to determine whether they are in sufficient quantity to reduce the quality of the infusion below that of the standard. after pouring off the water in the infused leaf should be taken out so as to exhibit the lower side which rested against the cup. Should the mass show a larger quantity of exhausted or decayed leaf then the standard, it affords sufficient evidence to be judged inferior in quality and consequently to be rejected.

Sec. 1220.63 Test for paraffin and similar substances.—If the examiner suspects the presence of paraffin or any similar substance, he should make the following test in comparison with the standard: Spread the tea between two sheets of unglazed white paper. Place thereon a hot iron. The greasy substance, if any, will appear on the paper, and if not equal to the standard the tea would justly be rejected.

Sec. 1220.64 Tests for impurities.—(a) To examine for impurities the following tests may be used in comparison with the standard:

(1) Read test, with additions and modifications, and the cup test, double-weight.—Place 2 ounces of tea in a sieve 5 or 6 inches in diameter, having 60 meshes to the inch and provided with a top. Sift a small quantity of the dust onto a semiglazed white paper about 8 by 10 inches. The amount of dust placed on the paper should be approximately 1 grain. To get the requisite amount of dust it is sometimes necessary to rub the leaf gently against the bottom of the sieve, but this must not be done until the sieve has been well shaken over the test paper. Pour the dust thus collected from the paper into the scales, weight out 1 grain, and return this quantity to the same paper, distributing it well over the surface of the paper. Then place the paper on a plain, firm surface, preferably glass or marble, and crush the dust by pushing over it, with considerable pressure, a flat steel spatula about 5 inches long. Do this repeatedly until the tea dust is ground almost to a powder and the particles of coloring matter or other impurities, if any, are spread or streaked on the paper, so as to become more apparent. Brush off the loose dust and examine the paper by means of a simple lens magnifying 7 1/2 diameters. In distinguishing these particles and streaks bright light is essential.

(2) The crushed leaf in either black or green tea appears in such quantity that there is no chance of mistaking the leaf for artificial coloring, facing material, or other impurities.

(3) The test is performed in comparison with the standard, and, if the tea is clearly equal to the standard with respect to artificial coloring, facing matter, or other impurities, the operation need not be repeated. If particles of artificial coloring, facing, or other impurities are found in the sample under comparison with the standard repeat this operation a sufficient number of times to be sure whether or not the tea contains impurities in excess of the standard.

(4) Repeat the operation, using semiglazed black paper instead of the white paper. This black-paper test shows the presence of facing and other impurities, such as talc, gypsum, barium sulfate, clay, and kaolin.

(5) If the tea under examination is found, by the foregoing tests, to contain more impurities than the standard, draw samples from packages representing at least 5 percent of the line in question, and subject each sample to the tests to ascertain whether or not the majority contain impurities in excess of the standard.

(6) The foregoing tests may be applied to tea of all varieties.

(b) Should the examination of the sample by the cup test, double-weight, for scum, sediment, etc., or the Read test, or both, disclose the presence of more impurities that the standard, a pound sample should be sent to the nearest district of the Food and Drug Administration and an analysis made in comparison with the standard to determine whether it contains more impurities than the standard. If the tea in question is found to contain more impurities then the standard, it would properly be rejected as not being equal to the standard in purity.

(c) All extraneous substances are impurities, and the presence of any may be detected in any way found efficient.

Sec. 1220.65 Tea dust.—Tea dust or broken leaf mixed with other teas or separate, made to imitate gunpowder or other teas, with the use of paste or gum, or any other substance, would justly be rejected.

Sec. 1220.66 Tolerance for fine tea particles.—Except for teas listed under section 1220.61(b), the amount by weight of fine tea particles that will pass through a wire sieve have 30 openings per linear inch in either direction and made of wire with a diameter of 0.01 inch, must not exceed 4 percent. Before condemning any tea for fine particles in excess of 4 percent, examiners shall sieve at least 4 representative samples, each taken from a differnet package in a shipment containing four or more packages, or where a lesser number of packages is involved, examiners shall sieve a representative sample for each package.

Sec. 1220.67 Tea inferior to the standard in any requisite is justly rejected.—Should a tea prove on examination to be inferior to the standard in any one of the requisites—namely, quality, quality of infused leaf, or purity—it would justly be rejected, notwithstanding the fact that it may be superior to the standards in some of the qualifications. No consideration shall be given to the appearance or so-called style of the dry leaf.

Subpart H—Administrative Procedures Based on Examination

Sec. 1220.70 Action based on result of examination.—(a) If, after examination, the tea is found not be prohibited under the act, a release permit shall at once be granted to the importer, declaring that the tea is not within the prohibition of the Tea Importation Act; but, if, on examination, such tea, or merchandise described as tea, is found in the opinion of the examiner, to come within the prohibitions of the law and of the regulations in this part, the importer shall be immediately notified (T.I.S. Cat. No. 6), and the tea, or merchandise described as tea, so returned, shall not be released by the customhouse authorities, unless on a reexamination called for by the importer the return of the examiner shall be found erroneous. Should a portion only of the invoice be passed by the examiner as correct, a permit of delivery shall be granted for that portion and the remainer held as provided in section 6 of the act (29 Stat. 606; 21 U.S.C. 47).

(b) In all cases of rejections by examiners the importer should be notified of the reason for rejection; that is, whether it be on the ground of quality, character of infused leaf, dust, or admixture with foreign substance.

Sec. 1220.71 Procedure for protest against findings.—In case the district director of Customs, importer, or consignee shall protest against the finding of the examiner, the matter in dispute shall be referred for decision to the United States Board of Tea Appeals, designated by the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare, and if such board shall, after due examination, find the tea in question to be equal in purity, quality, and fitness for consumption, as compared with the proper standards, a permit shall be issued by the district director of Customs for its release and delivery to the importer; but if, upon such final re-examination by such board, the tea shall be found to be inferior in purity, quality, and fitness for consumption, as compared with the said standards, the importer or consignee shall give a bond, unless he has previously done so, with security satisfactory to the district director of Customs, to export said tea out of the limits of the United States within a period of 6 months after such final re-examination; and if the same shall not have been exported within the time specified, the district director of Customs, at the expiration of that time, shall cause the same to be destroyed.

Sec. 1220.72 Procedure by importer for review.—(a) If the importer desires teas rejected by the examiner to be reviewed by the United States Board of Tea Appeals, as provided in section 6 of the said act, he shall, within 30 days after he has been notified of such return, file a written application with the district director in the form T.I.S. Cat. No. 20. The district director of Customs will thereupon forward such application to the United States Board of Tea Appeals, designated by the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare for review of the matter in dispute, and the proceedings shall be according to section 8 of the act.

(b) The re-examination of the tea samples must be restricted to the samples put up and sealed by the examiner at ports where qualified tea examiners are stationed, or by the chief officer of the Customs, if there is no qualified tea examiner so stationed, in the presence of the importer or consignee, if he so desires. In either case the samples should be transmitted to the United States Board of Tea Appeals by the tea examiner, together with a copy of the finding of the examiner, setting forth the cause of condemnation.

(c) These samples for re-examination should weigh at least 1 pound, and should be put up in tins securely labeled (T.I.S. Cat. No. 21) and well wiped and seasoned. Half of such samples shall be utilized for the examination by the Board of Tea Appeals and for return to the port of entry with the decision, as heretofore, and the remaining half pound, if the tea be rejected by said board, shall be distributed among the various examiners for their information and guidance.

(d) Teas rejected by team examiners and rejections affirmed by the United States Board of Tea Appeals cannot be re-examined.

Sec. 1220.73 Rejected tea.—Rejected tea can only be released or withdrawn for exportation, for transportation and exportation, or for manufacturing purposes under Tea Importation Act (35 Stat. 163; 21 U.S.C. 41), as the case may be.

Sec. 1220.74 Exportation of rejected teas.—(a) Teas to be exported for the reason that they are within the prohibition of the statute will be entered for exportation on Customs Form No. 7515, and bond on Customs Form No. 7557 shall be given for their exportation in a penal sum equal to double the value of the tea, provided consumption entry bond (Form No. 7551 or Form No. 7553) was not previously given.

(b) Whenever a bond is given to export any condemned tea in pursuance of the act, it will be canceled upon the filing of an outward bill of lading and a duly authenticated certificate of clearance from the Customs officer supervising the lading thereof, as in the case of rejected foods and drugs (T.D. 28841), and all accrued charges must be paid before issuance of permit for exportation.

(c) At interior ports the export entry shall be made for transportation and immediate exportation in bond.

Sec. 1220.75 Reimportation of exported teas forbidden.—(a) No imported teas which have been rejected by an examiner, or by the United States Board of Tea Appeals, and exported under the provisions of this act, shall be reimported into the United States under the penalty of forfeiture for a violation of this prohibition.

(b) Customs officers will make seizure of any tea so imported.

Sec. 1220.76 Destruction of condemned tea.—Whenever condemned tea is to be destroyed it must be conveyed to some suitable place, and proper means, to be prescribed by the examniner, must be used for its effectual destruction, which shall be effected in the presence of an officer of Customs, detailed by the district director of Customs for the purpose. Before the tea is destroyed a particular description or statement of the same must be prepared containing the name of the importer or owner, the date of importation, the name of the vessel, and the place from which imported, with the character and quantity of the tea and the invoice value. The fact of its destruction must be certified on said statement by the officer detailed as aforesaid, which statement must be filed in the customhouse.

XVI. NARCOTIC DRUGS AND MARIHUANA

STATUTORY PROVISIONS

Internal Revenue Code of 1954, section 4731(a) (26 U.S.C. 473(a)):

Sec. 4731 Definitions.—(a) Narcotic Drugs.—The words "narcotic drugs" as used in this part shall mean any of the following, whether produced directly or indirectly by extraction from substances of vegetable origin, or independently by means of chemical synthesis, or by a combination of extraction and chemical synthesis:

(1) Opium, isonipecaine, coca leaves, and opiate;

(2) Any compound, manufacture, salt, derivative, or preparation of opium, isonipecaine, coca leaves, or opiate;

(3) Any substance (and any compound, manufacture, salt, derivative, or preparation thereof) which is chemically identical with any of the subtances referred to in clauses (1) and (2); except that the words "narcotic drugs" as used in this part shall not include decocainized coca leaves or extracts of coca leaves, which extracts do not contain cocaine or ecgonine.

* * * * * * *

(f) Isonipecaine.—The word "isonipecaine", as used in this part shall mean any substance identified chemically as 1-methyl-4-phenylpiperidine-4-carboxylic acid ethyl ester, or any salt thereof, by whatever trade name designated.

(g) Opiate.—(1) In general.—The word "opiate" as used in this part shall mean any drug (as defined in the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (52 Stat. 1041, sec. 201(g); 21 U.S.C. 321)) or other substance found by the Secretary or his delegate and proclaimed by the Secretary or his delegate (after considering the technical advice of the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare, or his delegate, on the subject) to have been so found in the Federal Register, after due notice and opportunity for public hearing, to have an addiction-forming or addiction-sustaining liability similar to morphine or cocaine or to be capable of conversion into a drug having such addiction-forming or addiction-sustaining liability, where, in the judgment of the Secretary or his delegate, the relative technical simplicity and degree of yield of such conversion create a risk of improper use of the drug or other substance.

Food and Drugs, Importation or Exportation, United States Code, title 21, sections 171, 173, 173a, 180 and 182:

Sec. 171 Narcotic drugs; definitions.—When used in sections 173, 174, 176-184, and 185 of this title—(a) The term "narcotic drug" shall have the meaning ascribed to the term "narcotic drugs" by section 4731(a) of Title 26; the term "isonipecaine" shall have the meaning ascribed to that term by section 4731(f) of Title 26; and the term "opiate" shall have the meaning ascribed to that term by section 4731(g) of Title 26.

(b) The term "United States," when used in a geographical sense, includes the several States and Territories, and the District of Columbia;

(d) The term "person" means individual, partnership, corporation, or association.

Sec. 173 Importation of narcotic drugs prohibited; exceptions; crude opium for manufacture of heroin; forfeitures.—It is unlawful to import or bring any narcotic drug into the United States or any territory under its control or jurisdiction; except that such amounts of crude opium and coca leaves as the Commissioner of Narcotics finds to be necessary to provide for medical and legitimate uses only may be imported and brought into the United States or such territory under such regulations as the Commissioner of Narcotics shall prescribe, but no crude opium may be imported or brought in for the purpose of manufacturing heroin. All narcotic drugs imported under such regulations shall be subject to the duties which are now or may hereafter be imposed upon such drugs when imported.

Any narcotic drug imported or brought into the United States or any territory under its control or jurisdiction, contrary to law, shall (1) if smoking opium or opium prepared for smoking, be seized and summarily forfeited to the United States Government without the necessity of instituting forfeiture proceedings of any character; or (2) if any other narcotic drug be seized and forfeited to the United States Government, without regard to its value, in the manner provided by sections 1607 and 1608 of Title 19, or the provisions of law hereafter enacted which are amendatory of, or in substitution for, such sections. Any narcotic drug which is forfeited in a proceeding for condemnation or not claimed under such sections, or which is summarily forfeited as provided in this subdivision, shall be placed in the custody of the Commissioner of Narcotics and in his discretion be destroyed or delivered to some agency of the United States Government for use for medical or scientific purposes.

Sec. 173a Same; importation of coca leaves; additional quantity authorized; destruction of cocaine and ecgonine obtained therefrom; duties on imported coca leaves.—In addition to the amount of coca leaves which may be imported under the first paragraph of section 173 of this title, the Commssioner of Narcotics is authorized to permit, in accordance with regulations issued by him, the importation of additional amounts of coca leaves: Provided, That after the entry thereof into the United States all cocaine, ecgonine, and all salts, derivatives, and preparations from which cocaine or ecgonine may be synthesized or made, contained in such additional amounts of coca leaves, shall be destroyed under the supervision of an authorized representative of the Commissioner of Narcotics. All coca leaves imported under this section shall be subject to the duties which are now or may hereafter be imposed upon such coca leaves when imported.

Sec. 180 Smoking opium not admitted for transportation to another country nor transferred from one vessel to another; other narcotic drugs.—No smoking opium prepared for smoking shall be admitted into the United States or into any territory under its control or jurisdiction for transportation to another country, or be transferred or transshipped from one vessel to another vessel within any waters of the United States for immediate exportation or for any other purpose; and except with the approval of the Commissioner of Narcotics, no other narcotic drug may be so admitted, transferred, or transshipped.

Sec. 182. Exportation of narcotic drugs.—(a) Exportation to countries which have ratified and become parties to Conventions and supplementing protocols; conditions.—No person subject to the jurisdiction of the United States Government shall export or cause to be exported from the United States, or from territory under its control or jurisdiction, any narcotic drug to any other country except—

(1) to a country which has ratified and become a party to the International Opium Convention of 1912 for the Suppression of the abuses of Opium, Morphine, Cocaine, and Derivative Drugs, or to the International Opium Convention signed at Geneva on February 19, 1925, any narcotic drugs derived directly or indirectly from crude opium or coca leaves; or

(2) to a country which has ratified and become a party to the Convention for Limiting the Manufacture and Regulating the Distribution of Narcotic Drugs concluded at Geneva, July 13, 1931, and enterd into force with respect to the United States of America, July 9, 1933, as amended by the protocol signed at Lake Success on December 11, 1946, and the protocol bringing under international control drugs outside the scope of the convention of July 13, 1931, for limiting the manufacture and regulating the distribution of narcotic drugs (as amended by the protocol signed at Lake Success on December 11, 1946) signed at Paris November 19, 1948, and entered into force with respect to the United States of America, September 11, 1950, any narcotic drugs not derived directly or indirectly from crude opium or coca leaves; and in the instance of (1) and (2) then only if—

(A) such country has instituted and maintains, in conformity with the respective conventions, a system which the Secretary of the Treasury or his delegate deems adequate, for the control of imports of narcotic drugs;

(B) the narcotic drug is consigned to a holder of such permits or licenses as may be required under the laws of the country of import; and

(C) there is furnished to the Secretary or his delegate proof deemed adequate by him that the narcotic drug is to be applied exclusively to medical and scientific uses within the country to which exported, that it will not be reexported from such country, and that there is an actual need for the narcotic drug for medical and scientific uses within such country.

(b) Smoking opium or opium prepared for smoking.—The exceptions contained in subsection (a) of this section shall not apply to smoking opium or opium prepared for smoking, the exportation of which is absolutely prohibited.

(c) Drugs applied to special scientific purpose in country of destination.—Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (a) of this section, the Secretary or his delegate may authorize the exportation of any narcotic drug (including crude opium and coca leaves) to a country which has ratified and become a party either to the 1912 convention, the 1925 convention, or the 1931 convention and supplementing protocols of 1946 and 1948, if the particular drug is to be applied to a special scientific purpose in the country of destination and the authorities of such country will permit the importation of the particular drug for such purpose.

REGULATIONS

Regulation No. 2 of the Bureau of Narcotics relating to the importation, exportation, and transshipment of opium or coca leaves or any compound, manufacture, salt, derivative, or preparation thereof, Code of Federal Regulations, title 21, part 302:

Subpart A—Imports

Sec. 302.1 Importation.—Crude opium and coca leaves may only be imported under formal permit issued by the Commissioner of Narcotics (referred to in this part as the Commissioner) pursuant to a duly executed application therefor, and after a determination by said Commissioner that the quantity of crude opium or coca leaves requested in the application is necessary to provide for, and will be applied to, medical and legitimate uses only. An exception to so much of this rule as requires a formal permit may be made in the case of an emergency which, in the judgment of the Commissioner, so affects the welfare of all or a large proportion of the population as to justify such extraordinary action. No permit shall be granted for the importation of opium to be manufactured into heroin, its salts, derivatives, or preparations. No permit shall be granted for the importation of opium unless such opium has been produced in a country permitted such production by, and which has become a Party to, the 1953 Opium Protocol. No importation by mail shall be permitted.

Sec. 302.2 Who may import.—In exercising the powers and discharging the duties conferred and imposed upon him by the act with respect to the importation of crude opium and coca leaves, the Commissioner shall take such action as in his opinion will effectuate the intent and purpose of the act; and pursuant to this policy, in determining whether any applicant shall be permitted to import such crude opium and coca leaves, the Commissioner shall consider the character and standing of the applicant, his production facilities and trade connections, whether there is reasonable probability that he will apply all crude opium and coca leaves imported and narcotic drugs manufactured by him to medical and legitimate purposes, whether he may serve the public interests by lowering costs or improving quality of narcotic drugs by the use of improved methods, or any other factors which the Commissioner deems appropriate to consider in carrying out the policy mentioned. In the case of new applicants the Commissioner shall also consider whether the allotments to them of shares in the amount of crude opium and coca leaves determined by him to be necessary for medical and legitimate uses would probably have the effect of so reducing or rendering uncertain the supply of crude opium and coca leaves available from year to year to manufacturers already engaged in the manufacture of narcotic drugs as to endanger the efficient administration of the Narcotic Drugs Import and Export Act.

Sec. 302.3 Application for permission to import.—Application for permission to import crude opium or coca leaves shall be made under oath on a form provided by the Treasury Department and forwarded to the Commissioner of Narcotics, Treasury Department, Washington, D.C. 20226. The application shall show, in the spaces provided thereon, the name of the crude material desired to be imported (i.e., crude opium or coca leaves), the number of bales or cases of such crude material, the maximum total pounds of such material, the total tentative allotment to the importer of such crude material for the current calendar year, the total number of pounds of said allotment for which permits have previously been issued, and the total quantity of crude material actually imported during the current year to date. Information under the three subheads last mentioned need only be shown with respect to the particular crude drug for which application for permission to import is being made. The application shall also show the following: The name and address of the consignor, if known at the time application is submitted, but if unknown at that time, the fact should be indicated and the name and address afterwards furnished to the Commissioner as soon as ascertained by the importer; the foreign port of exportation (i.e., the place where the article will begin its journey of exportation to the United States); the port of entry into the United States; the latest date said shipment will leave said foreign port; and the stock on hand of the kind of crude drug desired to be imported under the respective subheads provided. If the application is executed and forwarded before the 15th day of a given month the stock on hand may be shown as of the last day of the penultimate preceding month, but if the application is executed and forwarded on or after the 15th day of a given month the stock on hand must be shown as of the last day of the month immediately preceding.

Sec. 302.4 Alternative foreign ports.—If desired, alternative foreign ports of exportation within the same country may be indicated upon the application, thus, (a) Calcutta, (b) Bombay. If a formal permit is issued pursuant to such application it will bear the names of the two ports in the order given in the application and will authorize shipment from either port. Alternate ports in different countries will not be authorized in the same permit.

Sec. 302.5 Import permit.—The import permit shall be prepared in quintuplicate upon a form which has been approved by the Commissioner, but such permit shall not be valid unless signed by the Commissioner.

Sec. 302.6 Preparation of import permit.—Import permits shall be serially numbered, the five copies of a given permit all to bear the serial number of that permit. Each copy of the permit shall have printed or stamped thereon the disposition to be made thereof. Each permit shall bear a notation to the effect that the Commissioner is satisfied that the consignment proposed to be imported is required for legitimate purposes. Each permit shall also be dated and shall certify that the importer named thereon is thereby permitted under the provisions of the Narcotic Drugs Import and Export Act, as amended, to import, through the port named, one shipment of not to exceed the specified quantity of crude opium or coca leaves, as the case may be, shipment to be made from a stated port before a specified date. All copies of import permits shall bear the signature of the Commissioner, and facsimiles of signatures shall not be used. All permits issued shall be entered in a register kept by the Commissioner for that purpose. No permit shall be altered or changed by any person after being signed by the Commissioner, and any change or alteration upon the face of any permit, after it shall have been signed by the Commissioner, shall render it void and of no effect. Permits are not transferable.

Sec. 302.7 Effect of permit.—A permit duly signed and issued shall be authority to import, by the importer named thereon, one shipment only of not to exceed the maximum quantity of crude opium or coca leaves, as the case may be, specified on the permit, from a specified foreign port of export (see Sections 302.3, 302.4), said shipment to be made on or before the date indicated for that purpose upon the permit. This date may, in the discretion of the Commissioner correspond with the date given on the application on the line labeled "Latest date shipment will leave above foreign port," but such date shall not be later than four months from the date permit is issued unless, for good cause shown, the Commissioner allows a longer period within which to make the shipment and so specifies on the permit. The maximum quantity of crude opium or coca leaves shall be stated on the permit in terms of pounds.

Sec. 302.8 Shipments in greater or less amount than that authorized.—(a) If the shipment made under the permit is greater than the maximum amount authorized to be imported under the permit as determined at the weighing by the customs officer, such differences shall be seized and forfeited to the Government.

(b) If the shipment made under the permit is less than the maximum amount authorized to be imported under the permit as determined at the weighing by the customs officer, such difference, when ascertained by the Commissioner shall be recredited to the tentative allotment against which the quantity covered by the permit was charged, and the balance of any such tentative allotment with any such recredits will remain available to the importer to whom made (unless previously revoked in whole or in part) for importations pursuant to such permit or permits as are requested and issued during the remainder of the calendar year to which the allotment is applicable. No permit shall be issued for importation of a quantity of crude opium or coca leaves as a charge against the tentative allotment for a given calendar year, after the close of such calendar year, unless for good cause shown, the Commissioner decides to make an exception in a proper case.

Sec. 302.9 Cancellation of permit.—A permit may be canceled after being issued at the request of the importer, provided no shipment has been made thereunder. In the event that a permit is lost, the Commissioner may upon the production by the importer of satisfactory proof, by affidavit or otherwise, issue a duplicate permit. Nothing in this subpart shall affect the right, hereby reserved by the Commissioner, to cancel a permit at any time for proper cause.

Sec. 302.10 Disposition of copies of permit.—If it is decided to approve an application for permission to import crude opium or coca leaves, an import permit shall be prepared in quintuplicate, each copy of which shall be signed by the Commissioner. The five copies of each permit are designated respectively as original, duplicate, triplicate, quadruplicate, quintuplicate. After being signed these copies shall be distributed and shall serve purposes as follows:

(a) The original copy, together with the quintuplicate copy, shall be transmitted to the importer, who will retain the quintuplicate copy on file as his record of authority for the importation, and he shall transmit the original copy of the permit to the foreign exporter. The foreign exporter will submit the original copy of the permit to the proper governmental authority in the exporting country, if required as a prerequisite to the issuance of an export authorization. This copy of the permit will accompany the shipment. Upon arrival of the imported merchandise the collector of customs at the port of entry will forward the original copy of the permit with the bill of lading to the appraiser for the port, who, after appraising the merchandise, will return the original copy of the permit to the Commssioner with a report on the reverse side of such original copy, showing the name of the port of importation, date prepared, net quantity and kind, and report of analysis of the merchandise entered.

(b) The duplicate copy shall be forwarded to the proper governmental authorities of the exporting country.

(c) An additional copy shall be forwarded to the collector of customs at the United States port of entry, which shall be the customs port of destination in the case of shipments transported under immediate transportation entries, in order that said collector may compare it with the original copy and the bill of lading upon arrival of the merchandise.

(d) The other copy of the permit shall be retained on file in the office of the Commissioner.

If a discrepancy is noted between corresponding items upon different copies of a permit bearing the same serial number when compared by the United States collector of customs, the officer shall refuse to permit entry of the importation until the facts are communicated to the Commissioner and further instructions are received.

Sec. 302.12 Examination of shipment by customs officer.—Immediately upon the unlading of crude opium from the importing vessel, the customs officer shall carefully examine the cases or packages, note their condition, seal the packages; and if the port of importation as shown on the permit covering the shipment is the same as the port of first arrival, shall cause the cases or packages to be transported under customs guard and by bonded cartmen to the appraiser's stores, where they shall be placed in a separate and specially protected inclosure. If the shipment is destined to a port of entry other than the port of first arrival, it shall be entered for immediate transportation without appraisement, by bonded carrier, to the port of entry to which destined after examination, notation of condition and sealing by the customs officer at the port of first arrival. Upon arrival of the shipment at the port of entry to which destined, the customs officer shall observe the same procedure as to examination, notation of condition, and sealing as required at the port of first arrival, shall compare the original copy of the permit accompanying the shipping documents with the copy theretofore furnished to the collector of the port in the manner hereinbefore provided, and shall cause the shipment to be transported under customs guard and by bonded cartman to the appraiser's stores, where it shall be placed in a separate and specially protected inclosure.

Sec. 302.13 Duties of appraiser.—(a) The original copy of the permit, with the bill of lading for the shipment shall be forwarded to the appropriate appraiser, who shall take action thereon as provided in Sec. 302.10.

(b) The appraiser shall cause such arrangements to be made as will insure the safe-keeping of the crude opium while in the appraiser's stores.

(c) No delivery of crude opium to the importer from the appraiser's stores shall be permitted until the collector or his representative and the appraiser or his representative shall be satisfied and so note on the delivery permit, after personal examination, that the importer has taken all proper precautions for the safe transportation of the crude opium from the appraiser's stores to the importer's premises or to the premises of the common carrier if shipment is to be made.

(d) Except as specially provided in the regulations in this part, the procedure in the case of coca leaves shall be the same as in the case of other dutiable merchandise.

Sec. 302.14 Purposes for which crude opium and coca leaves may be entered.—(a) Except as otherwise specifically authorized by the Secretary of the Treasury and arranged by the Commissioner, crude opium may be entered only for consumption or for transportation in bond between the port of first arrival and the port of entry specified upon the import permit. No entry of either crude opium or coca leaves shall be permitted except upon an import permit duly issued by the Commissioner, and any quantity of crude opium or coca leaves imported or attempted to be imported not in accordance with such permit and the regulations in this part shall be subject to forfeiture under the act.

(b) Coca leaves may be entered either for consumption or warehouse or for transportation in bond between the port of first arrival and the port of entry specified on the permit covering the shipment.

Sec. 302.15 Foreign trade zones.—No narcotic drug as defined in the act of May 26, 1922, (42 Stat. 596; 21 U.S.C. ch. 6) as amended, shall be permitted to be introduced into a foreign trade zone, established under the act approved June 18, 1934, (48 Stat. 998; 19 U.S.C. 81a-81u), except that such quantities of narcotic drugs as are required for direct emergency medical needs within a zone may be admitted into said zone from customs territory of the United States subject to the requirements of the act of December 17, 1914, (68A Stat. 549; 26 U.S.C. 4701-4707, 4731-4735, 4771-4774, 4721-4726, 4731-4736), as amended, and regulations thereunder. Any narcotic drugs, not admissible into a zone as provided in this section, found within a zone shall be seized and disposed of according to law.

Sec. 302.16 Statements rendered by importers.—Whenever required by the Commissioner, importers shall render to him not later than thirty days after receipt of the request therefor a statement under oath of the stocks of narcotic drugs on hand as of the date specified by the Commissioner in his request, and, if desired by the Commissioner, an estimate of the probable requirements for medical and legitimate uses of the importer for any subsequent period that may be designated by the Commissioner. In lieu of any special statement that may be considered necessary, the Commissioner may accept the figures given upon the monthly return or returns submitted by said importer under the act of December 17, 1914, as amended, and regulations thereunder.

Subpart B—Exports

Sec. 302.17 Exportation.—(a) Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (b) of this section, no person shall in any manner export from or take out of the United States, or cause to be exported or taken out of the United Sates any narcotic drug, nor shall any carrier receive for exportation, or export, or carry out of the United States any narcotic drug, unless and until a permit, in due form to export the narcotic drug in each instance shall have been issued by the Commissioner.

(b) A pharmaceutical preparation, containing a narcotic drug, conforming to the standards set forth in 26 CFR 151.422 as a Class "M" product may be exported or taken out of the United States without compliance with requirements set forth in secs. 302.17-302.27.

Sec. 302.18 Application for export permit.—A separate permit must be obtained for each consignment of narcotic drugs to be exported. Applications for permission to export narcotic drugs shall be made under oath on an approved form provided by the Treasury Department for the purpose, and such application shall be transmitted to the Commissioner of Narcotics, Bureau of Narcotics, Treasury Department, Washington, D.C. 20226. Each application shall show the date of execution, the exporter's internal-revenue registry number, and shall show in the space provided the name and detailed description of the narcotic drug or preparation desired to be exported, the net quantity thereof, the number and size of packages or containers, the name and quantity of the narcotic drug contained in any preparation being stated and the quantity of any solids being given in grams. The application shall contain a printed statement to the effect that the application is made for permission to export the narcotics listed therein, pursuant to the provisions of the Narcotic Drugs Import and Export Act, as amended, and the regulations thereunder. The application shall include the name, address, and business of the consignee, the foreign port of entry, the port of exportation, the approximate date of exportation, the name of the exporting carrier or vessel (if known, or if unknown it should be stated whether shipment will be made by express, freight, or otherwise, exports of narcotic drugs by mail being prohibited), the date and number, if any, of the supporting foreign import license or permit accompanying the application, and the authority by whom such foreign license or permit was issued. The application shall also contain an averment that the packages are marked according to the regulations, and to the best of affiant's knowledge and belief the narcotics therein are to be applied exclusively to medical and legitimate uses within the country to which exported, will not be reexported therefrom, and are needed therein because there is an actual shortage thereof and a demand therefor for medical and legitimate uses within such country. The application shall be signed by the exporter, or by his duly appointed agent whose title shall be given in the space provided therefor, and shall contain the address from which the drugs will be shipped for exportation.

Sec. 302.19 Foreign import license or permit to be submitted.—There shall also be submitted with the application any import license or permit (and a translation thereof if in a foreign language) or a certified copy of any such license or permit issued by competent authorities in the country of destination, or other documentary evidence deemed adequate by the Commissioner showing that the merchandise is consigned to an authorized permittee, that it is to be applied exclusively to medical and scientific uses within the country of destination, that it will not be reexported from such country, and that there is an actual shortage of and a demand for the merchandise for medical and scientific uses within such country. Verification by an American consular officer of signatures on foreign import licenses will be necessary if such licenses do not bear the seal of the officer signing them.

Sec. 302.20 Additional information.—If after careful consideration of the application it is found that approval cannot be given, such fact and the reasons therefor will be communicated to the applicant by the Commissioner. If additional information is required, or other action is necessary to correct any mistake or irregularity in the application or accompanying documents, opportunity will be afforded the prospective exporter by the Commissioner to furnish such additional information or to correct such mistake or irregularity before the application is finally disapproved.

Sec. 302.21 Disposition of copies of export permit.—If, from the facts presented in the application, the Commissioner finds it proper to permit the requested exportation, an export permit shall be prepared in sextuplet in the office of the Commissioner. Each of the six copies of the export permit shall be marked as to disposition and shall be distributed and serve purposes as follows:

(a) The original copy, together with the duplicate and triplicate copies, shall be transmitted to the exporter who will retain the triplicate copy on file as his record of authority for the exportation. The exporter shall present to the customs authorities, at the port of export, except when the shipment is to proceed from an interior port, and then at such interior port, at the time of shipment, the original and duplicate copies. The shipper's export declaration shall be presented to the customs authorities at the port of exportation from the United States. After customs endorsement by export in the space provided on the reverse side of the export permit, the collector of customs shall forward the endorsed original copy of the export permit with the shipment, and return the endorsed duplicate copy to the office of the Commissioner.

(b) The quadruplicate copy of the export permit shall be forwarded to the collector of customs at the port of export for comparison with the original and to be retained for the customs record.

(c) The quintuplicate copy of the export permit shall be sent to the officer in the country of destination who issued the import certificate, or other documentary evidence upon which the export permit is founded.

(d) The sextuple copy of the export permit shall be retained on file in the office of the Commissioner.

Sec. 302.22 Shipment from interior port.—In the event the consignment shall proceed from an interior port, the collector of customs at the interior port, after endorsing the original and duplicate copies of the export permit, shall forward the original copy with the shipment and shall transmit the duplicate copy of the export permit to the collector of customs at the port of lading on the export vessel or conveyance, and the latter collector of customs, after endorsing the duplicate copy shall transmit it to the office of the Commissioner.

Sec. 302.23 Special conditions relative to export permits.—Each export permit shall be serially numbered, and shall be predicated upon a separate import certificate or other documentary evidence, and not more than one shipment shall be made thereon. All export permits shall be entered in a register kept for that purpose in the office of the Commissioner. Export permits are not transferable.

Sec. 302.24 Expiration date.—An export permit shall not be valid after the date specified therein, which date shall conform to the expiration date specified in the supporting import certificate or other documentary evidence upon which the export permit is founded, but in no event shall the date be subsequent to three months after the date the permit is issued. Any unused export permit shall be returned by the permittee to the office of the Commissioner for cancellation.

Sec. 302.25 Who may export.—No export permit will be issued unless and until the applicant shall be duly registered or qualified as an exempt official in accordance with the act of December 17, 1914, as amended, and the regulations thereunder.

Sec. 302.26 Exportation to countries which have exceeded estimate.—No export permit shall be issued for the exportation of any narcotic drug to any country when the Commissioner has information to show that the estimates submitted with respect to that country for the current period, under Article 5 of the Narcotics Limitation Convention of 1931 have been, or, considering the quantity proposed to be imported, will be exceeded. If it shall appear, through subsequent advice received from the Permanent Central Opium Board, that the estimates of the country of destination have been adjusted to permit further importation of the narcotic drug, an export permit may then be issued if otherwise permissible.

Sec. 302.27 Records required for exporter.—The exporter shall keep a record of any serial numbers that might appear on packages of narcotic drugs in quantities of one ounce or more in such a manner as will identify the foreign consignee.

Subpart C—In-Transit Shipments

Sec. 302.28 In-transit shipments.—(a) Each in-transit shipment under section 2 of the act [42 Stat. 597; 21 U.S.C. 180] will be considered by the Commissioner on its individual merits, but in general the regulations governing exports (Sections 302.17-302.27) will be applied so far as practicable.

(b) Articles in transit manifested merely as drugs, medicines, or chemicals, without evidence to satisfy the collector of customs that they are nonnarcotic, shall be detained and subjected at the carrier's risk and expesne to such examination as may be necessary to satisfy the collector whether they are of a narcotic character. With a view to avoiding such inconvenience, the carrier should not accept in-transit shipments of such articles unless accompanied by properly verified certificates of the shippers, specifying the items in the shipment and stating whether narcotic or not.

Subpart D—Special Coca Leaves

Sec. 302.29 Importation of special coca leaves.—Additional amounts of coca leaves (hereinafter designated as special coca leaves) may be imported only under formal permit issued pursuant to Sec. 302.33, by persons authorized to import in accordance with the regulations in this part. Applications for such authority shall be made in writing to the Commissioner and shall include an estimate of the quantity of leaves required by the applicant for the calendar year to which the application relates.

Subpart E—General

Sec. 302.52 Importation or exportation by mail prohibited.—Neither importation or exportation of narcotic drugs shall be made by means of the regular mails or by parcel post.

Sec. 302.53 Medical stores on vessels.—Collectors of customs may permit narcotic drugs in reasonable quantities and properly listed as medical stores of vessels to remain on such vessels if satisfied that such drugs are adequately safeguarded and used only for medical purposes. Smoking opium or opium prepared for smoking shall be seized, however, whenever and wherever found within the jurisidiction of the United States.

Sec. 302.54 Drugs seized to be delivered to collector of customs.—All narcotic drugs seized under the Narcotic Drugs Import and Export Act, as amended, by any Federal officer, other than a customs officer, shall be immediately delivered into the custody of the collector of customs in whose district the seizure was made, with a full report of the circumstances of the seizure, provided that where the seizure is made by a narcotic inspector or agent in connection with an investigation which such inspector or agent considers may result in criminal prosecution under any Federal narcotic law, the drugs so seized shall not be delivered into the custody of the collector of customs, but custody of such drugs shall be retained by the appropriate narcotic officer until it is determined that same will not, or will no longer, be required as evidence, whereupon disposition thereof shall be made as provided by law.

Sec. 302.55 Forwarding drugs to Drugs Disposal Committee.—All narcotic drugs which have been forfeited to the Government, and are no longer required for purposes of evidence, shall immediately be forwarded to the Commissioner of Narcotics (Drugs Disposal Committee) for proper disposition.

Sec. 302.56 Disposition of forfeited drugs.—Narcotic drugs forfeited to the United States under the provisions of law may be delivered to any department, bureau, or other agency of the United States Government upon proper application addressed to the Commissioner of Narcotics. The application shall show the name, address, and official title, bureau, or agency, and department, of the person to whom the narcotic drugs are to be delivered, the kind and quantity of narcotics desired, and the purpose for which intended. The delivery of such narcotic drugs shall be ordered by the Commissioner of Narcotics if, in his opinion, there exists a medical or scientific need therefor. The order will be filled by the Drugs Disposal Committee which will obtain a receipt for narcotic drugs delivered.

Sec. 302.57 Penalties.—(a) Persons who fraudulently or knowingly import or bring into the United States or any territory under its control or jurisdiction, any narcotic drug, in violation of the act, or assist in so doing, or receive, conceal, buy, sell, or in any manner facilitate the transportation, concealment, or sale, of any such narcotic drug after being imported or brought in, knowing the same to have been imported in violation of the act, shall be liable to a fine of not more than $5,000 and imprisonment, for not more than ten years.

(b) Persons who export or cause to be exported any narcotic drug in violation of the act are liable to punishment, the maximum liability being to a fine in any sum not exceeding $5,000 nor less than $50, or imprisonment for any time not exceeding two years, or both.

However, attention is invited to the provisions of the act of November 2, 1951 (65 Stat. 767; 21 U.S.C. 174), which provides for additional punishment for second, third, and subsequent offenders in certain cases.

Sec. 302.58 Permits issued prior to effective date of regulations.—Permits to import or export narcotic drugs which shall have been issued by the Commissioner prior to the effective date of the regulations in this part shall continue in force and effect under the laws and regulations in effect when such authorizations were issued, unless specifically revoked by the Commissioner.

Sec. 302.59 Regulations subject to provisions of other pertinent laws and regulations.—The regulations in this part shall be subject to the provisions of the customs, internal-revenue, and other pertinent laws of the United States and regulations promulgated thereunder.

MARIHUANA

Statutory Provisions

Internal Revenue Code of 1954, sections 4745, 4755, and 4761 (26 U.S.C. 4745, 4755, and 4761):

Sec. 4761 Definitions—

(a) Marihuana. The term "marihuana" means all parts of the plant Cannabis sativa L., whether growing or not; the seeds thereof; the resin extracted from any part of such plant; and every compound, manufacture, salt, derivative, mixture, or preparation of such plant, its seeds, or resin; but shall not include the mature stalks of such plant, fiber produced from such stalks, oil or cake made from the seeds of such plant, any other compound, manufacture, salt, derivative, mixture, or preparation of such mature stalks (except the resin extracted therefrom), fiber, oil, or cake, or the sterilized seed of such plant which is incapable of germination.

Sec. 4755 Unlawful acts in case of failure to register and pay special tax—

(a) Trafficking.—(1) Liability. It shall be unlawful for any person required to register and pay the special tax under the provisions of sections 4751 to 4753, inclusive, to import, manufacture, produce, compound, sell, deal in, dispense, distribute, prescribe, administer, or give away marihuana without having so registered and paid such tax.

* * * * * * *

Sec. 4745 Forfeitures.

(a) Ownership by Violators.—Any marihuana which may be seized by the United States Government from any person or persons charged with any violation of this part shall upon conviction of the person or persons from whom seized be confiscated by and forfeited to the United States.

(b) Unknown Ownership.—Any marihuana seized or coming into possession of the United States in the enforcement of this part, the owner or owners of which are unknown, shall be confiscated by and forfeited to the United States.

Regulations

Regulations No. 1 of the Bureau of Narcotics and the Internal Revenue Service relating to the importation, manufacture, production, compounding, sale, dealing in, dispensing, prescribing, administering, and giving away of marihuana, Code of Federal Regulations, title 26, sections 152.71, 152.86:

Sec. 152.71 Importations.—A district director of internal revenue issuing an order form for the procurement of marihuana from a foreign country shall prepare and issue to the transferee (importer) a document reciting that an order form has been issued. The document shall show the serial number of the order form, the name and address of the transferee, the name and address of the transferor, and the kind and quantity of marihuana covered by the order form. The transferee, in order to obtain release of the marihuana from customs' custody, shall present the document to the collector of customs at the port of entry. No importation of marihuana shall be released from customs' custody until the aforesaid document has been presented to the collector of customs. Seeds may be imported by a registered importer without payment of transfer tax or procurement of order forms (see section 4742(b)(5)). A registered importer desiring to import seeds without the use of order forms shall obtain from the district director of internal revenue for the district in which he is registered a certificate of registration (see sec. 152.88), and no importation of seeds shall be released from customs' custody without evidence of issuance of an order form or presentation of a certificate of registration.

Sec. 152.86 Exportations.—Any person desiring to export marihuana to a country which regulates importations thereof shall present to the nearest collector of customs an application on Form 161a, for authorization to make such exportation, which application shall be accompanied by an import permit issued by the government of the country of destination or other evidence which shall be satisfactory to the Commissioner of Narcotics that the applicant has complied with the requirements of the laws and regulations of the country of destination with respect to such proposed exportation thereto. Such application will be forwarded by the collector of customs to the Commissioner of Narcotics who, if satisfied that the applicant has complied with such laws and regulations of the country of destination, shall approve the application, which approval will authorize the collector of customs at the port of export to clear the shipment for exportation without the use of order forms or payment of the transfer tax.

XVII. ETIOLOGICAL AGENTS AND VECTORS

FOREIGN QUARANTINE REGULATIONS, PUBLIC HEALTH SERVICE

Regulations of the United States Public Health Service, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, relating to the importation of etiological agents and vectors, Code of Federal Regulations, title 42, section 71.156:

Sec. 71.156 Etiological agents and vectors.—(a) A person shall not import into any place under the control of the United States, nor distribute after importation, any etiological agent or insect, animal or plant vector of human disease or any exotic living insect, animal or plant capable of being a vector of human disease unless accompanied by a permit issued by the Surgeon General.

(b) An article or thing coming within the provisions of this section shall not be released from customs custody prior to the receipt by the Collector of Customs of a permit therefor issued by the Surgeon General.

REGULATIONS OF THE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Regulations of the Animal Inspection and Quarantine Division, Department of Agriculture, relating to disease organisms and vectors, Code of Federal Regulations, 1949 Supp., title 9, sections 101.1, 122.1, 122.2:

Sec. 101.1 Definitions.—

* * * * * * *

(d) Organisms. All cultures or collections of organisms or their derivatives, which may introduce or disseminate any contagious or infectious disease of animals (including poultry).

(e) Vectors. All animals (including poultry) such as mice, pigeons, guinea pigs, rats, ferrets, rabbits, chickens, dogs, and the like, which have been treated or inoculated with organisms, or which are diseased or infected with any contagious, infectious, or communicable disease of animals or poultry or which have been exposed to any such disease. (Sec. 2, 32 Stat. 792, 37 Stat. 832-833; 21 U.S.C. 111, 151-158) [BAI Order 381, March 1, 1949, 9 CFR Part 101]

Sec. 122.1 Permits required.—No organisms or vectors, as defined in section 101.1 (d) and (e) shall be imported into the United States or transported from one State or Territory or the District of Columbia to another State or Territory or the District of Columbia, without a permit issued by the Secretary of Agriculture and in compliance with the terms thereof. (Sec. 2, 32 Stat. 792, 37 Stat. 832-833; 21 U.S.C. 111, 151-158). [BAI Order 381, Mar. 1, 1949, 9 CFR Part 122.]

Sec. 122.2 Application for permits.—The Secretary of Agriculture may issue, at his discretion a permit as specified in section 122.1 when proper safeguards are set up to protect the public. Application for such a permit shall be made in advance of shipment and each permit shall specify the name and address of the consignee, the true name and character of each of the organisms or vectors involved, and the use to which each will be put. (Sec. 2, 32 Stat. 792, 37 Stat. 832-33; 21 U.S.C., 111, 151-158) [BAI Order 381, Mar. 1, 1949; 9 CFR Part 122.]

XVIII. FOREIGN QUARANTINE: IMPORTATION OF CERTAIN THINGS

Regulations of the United States Public Health Service, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, relating to the importation of certain things, code of Federal Regulations, title 42, section 71.151, 71.154-71.155, 71.157, 71.161-71.166.

Sec. 71.151 Lather brushes.—(a) Lather brushes made from animal hair or bristles shall not be permitted entry into any port or place under the control of the United States unless (1) such brushes are permanently marked with the name of the manufacturer or other identifying mark, registered with the Suregon General, (2) and have been determined by the medical officer in charge, in accordance with the following quarantine procedures, to be free from anthrax spores.

(b) The medical officer in charge shall select samples from each shipment of lather brushes and shall subject such samples to laboratory examinations to determine the presence or absence of anthrax spores. If such examinations indicate that the shipment is free from anthrax spores, the medical officer in charge shall furnish the Collector of Customs a certificate to that effect. If such examinations demonstrate that the shipment is not free from anthrax spores, the medical officer in charge shall notify the Collector of Customs that the shipment shall not be permitted entry.

Sec. 71.154 Dogs, cats, and monkeys.—(a) Defintions. As used in this section and sec. 71.155, the term:

(1) "Confinement" means restriction of an animal by the owner or his agent to a building or other enclosure in isolation from other animals and from persons except for contact necessary for its care, or, if it is allowed out of such enclosure, muzzling the animal and keeping it on a leash.

(2) "Dog" includes all domestic and wild members of the dog family (Canidae).

(3) "Cat" includes all domestic and wild members of the cat family (Felidae).

(4) "Monkey" includes all monkeys and such other Primates as lemurs, baboons, and chimpanzees.

(5) "United States" means the continental United States, its territories, and possessions (other than the Canal Zone).

(6) "Zoological park" means a place, premises, or an establishment maintained for the exhibition of live animals for recreational or educational purposes.

(b) General requirements. (1) Inspection by quarantine officer. All dogs, cats, and monkeys brought into the United States from any foreign country shall be inspected by the quarantine officer at the port of arrival. Only animals in which no evidence of communicable disease (see sec. 71.1(b)) is revealed shall be admitted.

(2) Examination by veterinarian; detention of animals. When a dog, cat, or monkey does not appear to be in good health on arrival (i.e., it has such symptoms as emaciation, lesions of the skin, nervous system disturbances, jaundice, or diarrhea), the medical officer in charge may give the owner or his agent an opportunity to call in a licensed veterinarian to examine the animal and give or arrange for any tests or treatment indicated. The medical officer in charge will consider the findings of any such examination and tests in determining whether the animal may have a communicable disease. The owner shall bear the expense of such examination, tests, and treatment. When it is necessary to detain an animal pending determination of its admissability, the owner or his agent shall provide satisfactory detention facilities which in the judgment of the medical officer in charge will afford protection against the existence of a health hazard. The owner or his agent shall bear the expense of such detention. Detention shall be accomplished at the port of arrival, except that the Chief of the Division of Foreign Quarantine of the Public Health Service may issue instructions specifying control measures under which animals may be shipped to their destination pending determination of their admissibility.

(3) Report of sickness or death; exposed animals. (i) A record of sickness or death of dogs, cats, or monkeys en route to the United States shall be made by the person responsible for care of the animals, and shall be submitted to the quarantine officer at the port of arrival. Animals sick or dead while en route or on arrival shall be separated from other animals as soon as discovered, and held pending any necessary examination as determined by the medical officer in charge.

(ii) When a dog, cat, or monkey appears healthy but, during shipment, has been exposed to a sick or dead animal suspected of having a communicable disease, the exposed animal shall be admitted only if tests or other examination, made at a time when infection with communicable disease could be determined, reveals no evidence that the animal may be infected with such disease. The provisions of subparagaph (2) of this paragraph shall be applicable to such tests or other examination.

(4) Sanitation. When the quarantine officer finds that the cages or other containers of dogs, cats, or monkeys arriving in the United States are in an insanitary condition that may constitute a health hazard:

(i) The animals shall not be admitted in such containers unless the owner or his agent has the containers cleaned; and

(ii) The quarantine officer shall report the matter to the customs officer for investigation pursuant to customs regulations regarding importation of animals under inhumane or unhealthful conditions (19 CFR 12.26 (k)).

(c) Dogs only; rabies vaccination. (1) Rabies vaccination is required for a dog that is brought into the United States, unless:

(i) The animal is a wild member of the dog family, in which case it may be admitted but for at least six months after admission the owner or his agent shall restrict it to a building or other enclosure in isolation from other animals and from persons except for contact necessary for its care, or

(ii) For the six months before arrival the dog has been only in a country determined by the Public Health Service to be rabies-free;[1] or

(iii) The owner submits evidence satisfactory the the quarantine officer that the dog is destined for a zoological park, or that it is destined for a research establishment and vaccination would seriously interfere with its use for scientific investigation; or

(iv) The dog on arrival is less than three months of age, in which case it may be admitted but shall be placed in confinement, and the owner shall certify that the dog will be vaccinated at three months of age and remain in confinement for at least one month following vaccination.

(2) Vaccination shall be accomplished with nervous-tissue vaccine more than one month but not more than 12 months before the dog's arrival, or with chicken-embryo vaccine more than one month but not more than 36 months before arrival.

(3) Where vaccination is required, the dog shall be accompanied by a valid certificate of rabies vaccination. This certificate shall: (i) Identify the dog, (ii) be signed by a licensed veterinarian, and (iii) specify that such veterinarian vaccinated the dog with "nervous-tissue" vaccine or with "chicken-embryo" vaccine, on a stated date within the respective time limits provided in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph.

(4) If a dog that is subject to vaccination arrives without a valid certificate of rabies vaccination, it shall not be admitted until it has been vaccinated (except as provided in subparagraph (5) of this paragraph). The owner shall arrange for and bear the expense of this vaccination. Upon admission the dog shall be placed in confinement for at least 30 days.

(5) If a dog arrives with a certificate which is valid except that vaccination was received less than one month before arrival, the dog may be admitted but shall be placed in confinement until at least 30 days have elapsed since vaccination.

[1] The following countries are presently considered rabies-free. (This list may be changed at any time)

Australia
The Bahama Islands
The Bermuda Islands
Denmark
Fiji
Iceland
Ireland (Eire)
Jamaica
New Zealand
Norway
Sweden
United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland

(6) In no case will vaccination be recognized if performed on a dog less than three months of age.

(d) Dogs and cats; special provisions. Notwithstanding other provisions of this section, if a dog or cat comes from a locality having a high incidence of rabies and under conditions otherwise indicating that a special hazard of rabies introduction is present, it shall be subject to such additional requirements, or to exclusion, as may be found necessary by the medical officer in charge, and approved by the Chief of the Division of Foreign Quarantine of the Public Health Service, to prevent the introduction of rabies. However, any such dog that has been vaccinated after the age of 3 months as provided in paragraph (c) of this section shall be admitted after 30 days have elapsed since vaccination, if inspection of the animal following this period has revealed no evidence of communicable disease.

(e) Monkeys only; measures regarding yellow fever. (1) Monkeys arriving from or having passed through a yellow fever infected local area, or an area in which there is reason to suspect the existence of yellow fever virus, shall be admitted only if inspection of the animals reveals no sign of yellow fever, and there is evidence satisfactory to the medical officer in charge that:

(i) At least nine days have elapsed following their departure from the last such area contacted, or

(ii) They arrive in a mosquito-proof structure, and have been kept in such a structure for at least nine days immediately before arrival, or

(iii) They have an effective immunization against yellow fever.

(2) All openings of the structure referred to in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph shall have either:

(i) Coverings of mosquito-proof material in two layers at least one inch apart, or

(ii) An outer covering of mosquito-proof material and an inner covering or barrier with sufficiently small openings, and sufficiently offset from the outer covering, to prevent monkeys from extending any part of the body to within less than one inch of the outer covering.

For purposes of this paragraph "mosquito-proof material" shall be wire screen or other material substantially as resistant to mechanical injury. It shall have not less than 18 wires or strands per inch each way or substantially the equivalent thereof as specified in instructions issued by the Chief of the Division of Foreign Quarantine.

(f) Dogs, cats, and monkeys in transit. The provisions of this section shall apply to dogs, cats, and monkeys shipped through the United States from one foreign country to another, except as provided below:

(1) Animals that appear healthy, but have been exposed to a sick or dead animal suspected of having a communicable disease, need not undergo tests or other examination as provided in paragraph (b) (3) of this section if conditions of their transportation will afford adequate protection to the United States against introduction of communicable disease.

(2) Rabies vaccination is not required for dogs that are shipped by airplane or ship and are retained in custody of the carrier under conditions preventing introduction of rabies.

Sec. 71.155 Dogs, cats, and monkeys; disposal of excluded animals.—A dog, cat, or monkey excluded from the United States under the regulations in this part shall be exported or destroyed. Pending exportation it shall be detained under customs' custody at the port of arrival at the owner's expense. In an area where Aedes aegypti is present, monkeys not meeting requirements of paragraph (e) of sec. 71.154 shall be detained in a mosquito-proof structure as described in that paragraph, pending disposal.

Sec. 71.157 Dead bodies.—The remains of a person dead from a quarantinable disease shall not be brought into a port under the control of the United States unless it is (a) properly embalmed and placed in a hermetically sealed casket, or (b) cremated.

Sec. 71.161 Definitions.—As used in this subpart, the term: (a) "Psittacine birds" includes birds commonly known as parrots, Amazons, African grays, cockatoos, macaws, parotlets, beebees, parakeets, lovebirds, lories, lorikeets, and all other birds of the order Psittaciformes.

(b) "United States" means the United States, its territories, and possessions (other than the Canal Zone).

Sec. 71.162 Requests for information.—All requests for instructions, application forms, and other information relating to the regulations in this part should be addressed to the Chief, Foreign Quarantine Program, National Communicable Disease Center, U.S. Public Health Service, Atlanta, Ga. 30333, or to Public Health Service quarantine stations at U.S. ports of entry.

Sec. 71.163 Psittacine bird treatment centers.—(a) Approval of treatment centers—(1) Minimum standards for approval. To be eligible for approval, psittacine bird treatment centers shall meet the following minimum standards and such other requirements as shall be determined by the Surgeon General as necessary for the proper care and treatment of psittacine birds.

(i) They will be located outside of the United States.

(ii) They will be so constructed as to provide adequate sanitation.

(iii) They will be under the direction and supervision of a director approved by the Surgeon General as qualified by experience, education, and training to supervise and direct the operations of the center.

(iv) They will provide access to the treatment center and to books and records thereof, to authorized representatives of the Surgeon General for inspection purposes.

(v) They will, upon request of the Surgeon General, provide samples of psittacine birds and specimens of psittacine bird blood, food, feces, medication, and related material which the Surgeon General deems necessary to ascertain the compliance of the center with procedures and medication approved by the Surgeon General for psittacine bird treatment.

(vi) They will maintain complete records of all birds received, treated, and shipped including date of each shipment, and name and address of consignee.

(2) Application for approval. Application for approval of a treatment center shall be addressed to: Chief, Foreign Quarantine Program, National Communicable Disease Center, U.S. Public Health Service, Atlanta, Ga. 30333. The application shall be made on a form prescribed by the Surgeon General and shall provide the following information and any other information which the Surgeon General may deem necessary in determining that satisfactory disease prevention measures will be provided in the care, treatment, shipment, and handling of psittacine birds.

(i) The name and address of the treatment center.

(ii) A detailed description of the treatment center including:

(a) A plan showing location of the treatment center building(s) with respect to other adjacent buildings and structures;

(b) Floor plans of the treatment center building(s); and

(c) A description of the type of building construction.

(iii) A statement of measures that will be used to maintain good sanitation and protect the health of the birds.

(iv) A statement of the method to be used for assaying the medication used in the treatment of the birds, and the name and address of the laboratory that will make the assays.

(v) Evidence satisfactory to the Surgeon General that the treatment center director meets the requisites of subparagraph (1) (iii) of this paragraph.

(3) Issuance of certificate of approval. If the Surgeon General finds that the treatment center meets the requisites of approval as established by subparagraph (1) and (2) of this paragraph, he will issue a certificate of approval which will be valid until suspended or revoked.

(b) Suspension of certificate of approval, and opportunity for hearing. Whenever the Surgeon General has reasonable ground to believe that a treatment center is not conforming to the requirements of this subpart, he may, upon notice to the treatment center, suspend the certificate of approval, and provide reasonable opportunity for a hearing thereon. The hearing will be within the United States at a place designated by the Surgeon General.

(c) Revocation of certificate of approval. The Surgeon General shall revoke a certificate of approval whenever a treatment center whose certificate of approval has been suspended, fails to avail itself of the hearing opportunity; or when after such hearing, the Surgeon General determines that any of the reasons for suspension remain uncorrected and warrant revocation.

(d) Reinstatement of certificate of approval. A certificate of approval which has been suspended may be reinstated upon a showing of compliance with required standards and upon such inspection, examination and assurance of continued compliance as may be considered necessary by the Surgeon General.

Sec. 71.164 Entry restrictions.—(a) Health of birds—(1) Disease-free appearance. Except for birds brought in under the special provisions of subparagraph (3) of this paragrpah, and of paragraph (c) of this section, psittacine birds shall be permitted entry into the United States only if all birds in the shipment appear to the quarantine officer at the port of entry to be free from evidence of communicable disease.

(2) Specimens for study by Public Health Service. Upon arrival at a U.S. port of entry, of a shipment of psittacine birds from an approved psittacine bird treatment center, the quarantine officer may take specimens of psittacine bird blood, feces, medication, and related material from such shipment, for laboratory study. If the owner or his representative refuses permission for the taking of such specimens, the shipment shall be denied entry.

(3) Admission of birds not appearing to be disease-free and of exposed birds. When a bird, upon arrival at a U.S. port of entry, shows symptoms suggestive of communicable disease (but other entry requirements are met), the medical officer in charge may authorize its admission and admission of healthy appearing birds in the shipment if he is satisfied that adequate protection against introduction of communicable disease will be provided by measures arranged and paid for by the owner. Such measures shall include immediate isolation of the birds and immediate care by a specific licensed veterinarian who shall provide necessary treatment with approved medication and report the birds' condition to the medical officer in charge before the birds are released from isolation.

(b) Entry document for birds from treatment centers. Each shipment of psittacine birds from an approved treatment center shall be accompanied by an entry document prescribed by the Surgeon General. This document shall show the treatment center certificate of approval number, shall identify the birds by quantity and kind, shall show the name and address of the consignee, shall be subscribed and sworn to by the treatment center director, before a U.S. Consular or Embassy official in the country where the treatment center is located; and shall contain a certification by said director as to the following points:

(1) Certification of treatment at treatment center. That for a minimum of 45 consecutive days immediately before shipment to the United States the birds have been confined in said treatment center and treated with chlortetracycline, or other approved medication, prepared and administered in accordance with procedures approved by the Surgeon General for psittacosis control.

(2) Certification of treatment and segregation of birds during shipment to the United States. That arrangements have been made whereby such medication will be continued during shipment of psittacine birds to the United States, that during such shipment said birds will be confined in different cages from any other birds, and that said cages and any outer containers therefor will be so constructed as to permit easy observation of the birds.

(c) Birds imported for medical research. Psittacine birds intended for use in medical research may be permitted entry into the United States without prior confinement and treatment if the following conditions are met.

(1) Permit. They are accompanied by a permit issued by the Surgeon General. Application for the permit shall be submitted by the person seeking to import the birds for medical research purposes, and shall contain such information and assurances as the Surgeon General may require concerning use of the birds in the proposed research.

(2) Scientific use. The scientific basis for the use of untreated birds is established to the satisfaction of the Surgeon General.

(3) Protection against disease. The birds are imported under conditions prescribed by the Surgeon General to minimize the risk of introduction of communicable disease into the United States.

(4) Disease-free appearance. They appear to the quarantine officer at the port of entry to be free from evidence of communicable disease, unless otherwise specified in the permit, or admission is authorized pursuant to paragraph (a) (3) of this section.

(d) Certain birds imported by a zoological park. Psittacine birds which, in the opinion of the Surgeon General, cannot be treated satisfactorily as specified in paragraph (b) (1) of this section at an approved treatment center outside the United States, may be imported by a zoological park without prior confinement and medication if the following conditions are met.

(1) Permit. They are accompanied by a special permit issued by the Surgeon General, pursuant to an application made therefor.

(2) Restriction on disposition of birds. Assurance is given that the birds will not be sold or given, either directly or indirectly, to any private individual or dealer in birds.

(3) Disease-free appearance. They appear to the quarantine officer at the port of entry to be free from evidence of communicable disease, unless admission is authorized pursuant to paragraph (a) (3) of this section.

(4) Treatment facilities and staff. The zoological park has a staff veterinarian and facilities for isolating psittacine birds, and has been approved by the Surgeon General for purposes of the regulations in this part.

(5) Isolation and treatment. On arrival at the zoological park the birds will be isolated for at least 45 days, and throughout that period will be treated with approved medication under conditions satisfactory to the Surgeon General.

(e) Birds imported as pets. Psittacine birds intended as pets may be imported by the persons who intend to keep them as pets, without prior confinement and treatment, if the following conditions are met.

(1) Disease-free appearance. The birds appear to the quarantine officer at the port of entry to be free from evidence of communicable disease, unless admission is authorized pursuant to paragraph (a) (3) of this section.

(2) Certificate. The owner submits a written statement certifying the following points.

(i) That not more than a total of two (2) birds are imported under this paragraph in any 12-month period by members of a family comprising a single household.

(ii) That the birds are not intended for sale or trade in the United States.

(iii) That the requirements of (a) or (b) and of (c) of this subparagraph, will be met.

(a) If the birds have been in the owner's possession and personal custody for at least 90 days immediately before arrival, except for any period occasioned by arrival of the owner and birds on separate conveyances, the owner shall submit a written certification that upon admission, the birds will be treated for 45 days with chlortetracycline or other approved medication. Medication may be administered on the premises of the owner of the birds, but must be under the supervision of a licensed veterinarian, and at the owner's expense. If the owner has not made the necessary arrangements with a licensed veterinarian before arrival of the birds, they shall be excluded unless he arranges for such supervision promptly upon their arrival at the port of entry. Pending such arrangements, the owner shall have the birds held in such a manner that the quarantine officer is satisfied that they do not present a serious health hazard.

(b) If the birds have been in the owner's possession and personal custody immediately before arrival, but for less than 90 days, the owner shall certify in writing that upon admission, the birds will be confined and treated with chlortetracycline or other approved medication for 45 days, in detention facilities on the premises of and under immediate care of a licensed veterinarian. Detention and medication will be accomplished at the owner's expense. Such veterinarian's detention facilities may be located either at the port of arrival or elsewhere in the United States. If the owner has not made the necessary arrangements with a veterinarian before arrival of the birds, they shall be excluded unless he promptly makes such arrangements with a veterinarian on whose premises the required detention and medication will be accomplished. Pending the making of such arrangements, the owner shall provide for having the birds held in such a manner that the quarantine officer is satisfied that they do not present a significant health hazard.

(c) The owner or the veterinarian shall report promptly to the quarantine officer at the port of entry any sickness or death of the birds during the required period of medication and follow the quarantine officer's instructions concerning measures to prevent the spread of infection.

(f) Birds being returned to the United States. When psittacine birds have been taken out of the United States and the requirements of parapgraph (e) of this section are not fully complied with upon their return, they may be admitted provided the following conditions are met.

(1) Disease-free appearance. They appear to the quarantine officer at the port of entry to be free from evidence of communicable disease, unless admission is authorized pursuant to paragraph (a) (3) of this section.

(2) Permit. They are accompanied by a permit for return issued by the Surgeon General. Application for such permit may be denied unless the owner of the birds applies for the permit before their departure from the United States and the application includes a statement as to the itinerary, the number and description of the birds, and such other information as the Surgeon General may require.

(3) Required information and certification. At the port of entry the owner furnishes any information that may be required by the Surgeon General, and submits a written statement certifying the following.

(i) That he has complied with the terms of the permit.

(ii) That upon admission the birds will be treated for 45 days with chlortetracycline or other approved medication. The medication may be administered on the premises of the owner of the birds, but must be under the supervision of a licensed veterinarian, and at the owner's expense.

(iii) That the owner has arranged with a licensed veterinarian for such supervision. If the owner has not made the necessary arrangements before arrival of the birds, they shall be excluded unless he arranges for such supervision promptly upon their arrival at the port of entry. Pending the making of such arrangements, the owner shall provide for having the birds held in such a manner that the quarantine officer is satisfied that they do not present a significant health hazard.

(iv) That the owner or the veterinarian will report promptly to the quarantine officer at the port of entry any sickness or death of the birds during the required period of medication, and follow the quarantine officer's instructions concerning measures to prevent the spread of infection.

(g) Permits: Terms and cancellation. Any permit issued under paragraph (c), (d), or (f) of this section may contain such conditions and safeguards as the Surgeon General may deem advisable. The permit shall be subject to cancellation if procured or used in a manner inconsistent with this section.

Sec. 71.165 Disposal of excluded birds.—(a) Birds with healthy appearance. Healthy appearing psittacine birds which are excluded from admission under these regulations shall, at the owner's option, be exported or destroyed or given to a research facility or zoological park under arrangements approved by the quarantine officer for preventing the spread of infection. Exportation shall be permitted only if the owner exports the birds within a reasonable time as determined by the medical officer in charge. Pending disposal, the birds shall be detained at the port of entry at the owner's expense.

(b) Birds with symptoms suggestive of psittacosis. Psittacine birds which show symptoms suggestive of psittacosis on arrival shall be destroyed promptly unless admission is authorized pursuant to paragraph (a) (3) of § 71.164. Psittacine birds which develop symptoms suggestive of psittacosis while detained pending disposal shall be destroyed promptly unless the medical officer in charge is satisfied that measures arranged and paid for by the owner will provide adequate protection against introduction of communicable disease into the United States.

Sec. 71.166 Penalties.—Any person violating any provision of §§ 71.161 through 71.165 shall be subject to punishment by fine of not more than $1,000 or imprisonment for not more than 1 year, or both, as provided in section 368(a) of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 271(a)).

Note: The term "Customs Director" or "District Director of Customs" as used in this Part 30 means the Regional Commissioner of Customs if the transaction is at the port of New York City; the district director of Customs if at the headquarters port of a Customs district other than New York City; and the Customs officer in charge of the port if at a nonheadquarters port.

Subpart A—General Requirements—Exporters

Sec. 30.1 General statement of requirement for Shipper's Export Declarations.—(a) Shipper's Export Declarations shall be filed by exporters or their agents in accordance with the definitions, specifications, and requirements of these regulations for all commodities, gold and silver, except as specifically exempted herein, shipped as follows:

(1) To foreign countries or areas (including the Canal Zone and Trust Territories under U.S. administration, and including Foreign Trade Zones in foreign countries or areas) from any of the following:

(i) The United States, including the 50 States and the District of Columbia.

(ii) Puerto Rico.

(iii) Foreign Trade Zones in the United States or Puerto Rico.

(iv) The Virgin Islands of the United States.

(2) Between nonforeign areas as specified below:[1]

(i) To Puerto Rico from the United States.

(ii) To the United States from Puerto Rico.

(iii) To the Virgin Islands of the United States from the United States or Puerto Rico.

(b) Shipper's Export Declarations shall be filed for merchandise moving as described above regardless of the method of transportation. Instructions for the filing of Shipper's Export Declarations for vessels, aircraft, railway cars, etc., when sold foreign appear in section 30.33. Exemptions from these requirements and exceptions to some of the provisions of these regulations for particular types of transactions will be found in subparts C and D of this part.

Sec. 30.2 Related Export Control Requirements.—(a) Under the provisions of the Export Administration Regulations of the Office of Export Administration in the Bureau of East-West Trade, U.S. Department of Commerce (15 C.F.R. Parts 368-399)[2], Shipper's Export Declarations are also required for shipments of merchandise from U.S. Possessions to foreign countries or areas. In these regulations, the term U.S. Possessions includes the Virgin Islands of the United States, Guam Island, American Samoa, Wake Island, Midway Island, and Canton and Enderbury Islands.

(b) For all shipments to foreign countries or areas, the Shipper's Export Declaration is an export control document. In preparing and filing export declarations for shipments to foreign countries and areas, therefore, the shipper must comply with all pertinent export control regulations as well as the requirements of the statistical regulations of this part. For convenience, a few provisions of the Export Administration Regulations and of the Customs regulations closely related to statistical requirements have been incorporated in these regulations. Information concerning export control regulations and information concerning agencies other than the Department of Commerce exercising export control authority for particular types of commodities may be obtained from the Office of Export Administration, Bureau of East-West Trade, Washington, D.C. 20230, or from Department of Commerce District Offices.

Sec. 30.3 Shipper's Export Declaration forms.—(a) Official forms, or privately printed forms conforming in every respect to the official forms, shall be used in complying with requirements for Shipper's Export Declarations as follows:

(1) Except for shipments for which the Shipper's Export Declaration for Intransit Goods (Commerce Form 7513) is required as specified below, the Shipper's Export Declaration shall be prepared on Commerce Form 7525-V or on Commerce Form 7525-V-Alternate (Intermodal). The arrangement of Form 7525-V-Alternate (Intermodal) conforms to and is designed for simultaneous prepara-

[1] Shipper's Export Declarations are not required for shipments from the United States or Puerto Rico to the United States Possessions, except to the Virgin Islands of the United States, or from a U.S. Possession destined to the United States, Puerto Rico, or another U.S. Possession.

[2] See also the Export Administration Regulations of the Office of Export Administration, which may be purchased from the Government Printing Office or Department of Commerce District Offices.

tion with various other shipping documents commonly used, such as the dock receipt, short form bill of lading, etc. Form 7525-V-Alternate (Intermodal) is acceptable in lieu of Form 7525-V without limitation.

(2) For merchandise shipped in transit through the United States, Puerto Rico, or the Virgin Islands of the United States from one foreign country or area to another, including such merchandise destined from one foreign place to another and transshipped in ports of the United States, Puerto Rico, or the Virgin Islands of the United States, and for foreign merchandise exported from General Order Warehouses or from Foreign Trade Zones, the Shipper's Export Declaration for Intransit Goods (Commerce Form 7513) shall be filed. Form 7513 shall also be filed for merchandise subject to government inspection, examination, or permit arriving from a foreign country which is rejected and exported. (Although Form 7513 provides that it is to be used for foreign merchandise, it should be used also for U.S. merchandise which after having been exported has been returned to or through the United States and is again being exported under any of the conditions described in this paragraph. Except for rejected merchandise, Form 7513 is not to be used for the reexportation of goods for which entry has been made on Customs Forms 7501 or 7502.)

(b) The Shipper's Export Declaration and the Continuation Sheet[3] to the Shipper's Export Declaration (both forms designated Commerce Form 7525-V), and the Shipper's Export Declaration for Intransit Goods (Commerce Form 7513) may be purchased for a nominal price from Customs Directors, Department of Commerce District Offices, and the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402, or they may be privately printed. Supplies of the Alternate Intermodal Shipper's Export Declaration and the Continuation Sheet to the Alternate Intermodal Shipper's Export Declaration are not available from Government sales offices but must be privately printed. Sample official Alternate Intermodal Forms and their Continuation Sheets may be obtained from the Foreign Trade Division, Bureau of the Census, Washington, D.C. 20233. Privately printed Shipper's Export Declaration forms must conform strictly to the respective official form in size, wording, color, quality (weight of paper stock), and arrangement, including the instructions printed on the reverse side and also the Office of Management and Budget Approval Number printed in the upper right-hand corner of the face of the form. The quality (weight) of paper stock used in printing the Shipper's Export Declaration form is not less than 16 nor more than 20 pounds commercial substance. Occasional shippers may obtain copies of Shipper's Export Declarations free of charge from local Customs Directors, Post Offices, and Department of Commerce District Offices.

Sec. 30.4 Preparation and signature of Shipper's Export Declarations.—(a) The Shipper's Export Declaration shall be prepared and signed by the shipper, owner, or consignor, or his properly authorized agent. For shipments to foreign countries, if the Shipper's Export Declaration is prepared by an agent his authority to sign such declaration shall be in the form of a properly executed power of attorney, signed by the shipper, owner, or consignor, or in the less formal written authorization printed on the export declaration. The power-of-attorney shall be on file in the agent's office and available for inspection on demand. In every event the data required in the Shipper's Export Declaration shall be complete and correct and shall be based on personal knowledge of the facts stated, or on invoices or information furnished by the principal. Exporters who authorize the preparation of their export declarations by an agent shall provide the agent with information for this purpose which will in every respect meet the specifications in section 30.7. Particular attention is called to the fact that invoices and other commercial documents furnished to the agent for other purposes may not necessarily contain all of the particular types of information needed for the preparation of the export declaration, and special arrangements should be made so that the information needed for the export declaration is noted upon or accompanies the commercial documents furnished to the agent, if he is to prepare the Shipper's Export Declaration.

(b) Shipper's Export Declarations shall be typewritten or prepared in ink or other permanent medium (except indelible pencil). The use of ditto, hectograph, or other duplicating process, as well as the overprinting of selected items of information, is acceptable.

(c) All copies of the Shipper's Export Declaration shall contain all of the information called for in the signature space as to name of firm, address, name of signer, capacity of signer, etc. The original Shipper's Export Declaration shall be signed in ink, but signature of other copies is not required. The use of signature stamps is acceptable as signature in ink. A duly signed legible carbon or other copy of the export declaration is acceptable as an "original" of the Shipper's Export Declaration.

Sec. 30.5 Number of copies of Shipper's Export Declaration required.—(a) Except as provided elsewhere in these regulations the Shipper's Export Declaration shall be delivered to the carrier or postmasters, as specified in sections 30.12 and 30.15, in the following number of copies:

(1) In duplicate for shipments, except by mail, destined to all foreign countries except Canada.

(2) One copy only for shipments to Canada and nonforeign areas.

(3) One copy only for mail shipments to all destinations.

(b) In addition to the standard requirements set forth in paragraph (a) of this section, additional copies of Shipper's Export Declarations may be required for export control purposes by the regulations of the Office of Export Administration or other Government agencies or in particular circumstances by the Customs Director or by the postmaster.

Sec. 30.6 Requirements as to separate Shipper's Export Declarations.—Except as specifically provided in Subpart C, a separate Shipper's Export Declaration (in the required number of copies—see section 30.5) is required for each shipment (consisting of one or more kinds of merchandise) from one consignor to one consignee on a single carrier. In addition, more than one declaration is required for an individual shipment as follows:

[3] See section 30.10 for instructions as to use of the Continuation Sheet.

(a) For consignments by rail, truck, or other vehicle, requiring more than one rail car, truck, or other vehicle, a separate export declaration is required for the merchandise carried in each such rail car, truck, or other vehicle. However, Customs Directors are authorized to waive this requirement where multiple car shipments are made under a single bill of lading or other loading document and are cleared simultaneously.

(b) Commodities requiring a validated export license shall not be reported on the same export declaration with commodities moving under general license.

Sec. 30.7 Information required on Shipper's Export Declarations.—The following information shall be furnished in the appropriate spaces provided on the Shipper's Export Declaration and shall conform to the requirements set forth in this section. (See section 30.92 for information as to the statistical classification Schedules B, C, D, and P referred to in this section. Also, see section 30.8 for information required on Form 7513 in addition to these requirements.)

(a) Port of export. The name of the U.S. Customs port of exportation shall be entered in terms of Schedule D, Classification of Customs Districts and Ports. (See section 30.20(c) for definition of port of exportation.) (The boxes for District and Port codes in the upper portion of the form are to be completed by Customs except where the Customs Director requests that they be completed by the person preparing the declaration.) For shipments by mail, the name of the Post Office where the package is mailed shall be inserted in the space for U.S. port of export.

(b) Method of transportation. Except on Commerce Form 7513, the method of transportation by which the goods are exported (or shipped to a nonforeign area where the declaration covers such a shipment) i.e., vessel (including ferry), air, or other, shall be indicated by check mark in the appropriate space. For shipments by means of transportation other than vessel or air the specific method of transportation (rail, truck, pipeline, etc.) used should be entered. "Other" should be checked for exported aircraft being flown away, vessels exported under their own power or afloat, or for other vehicles exported other than aboard another carrier, and the manner in which exported should be specified; e.g., "flown away," "in tow," etc.

(c) Exporting carrier. Information concerning the specific exporting carrier shall be reported as follows

(1) For shipments by vessel, the name and flag nationality of the ship and the number or name of the pier at which the goods were laden shall be shown.

(2) For shipments by air, the name of the airline shall be reported.

(3) For shipments by other than vessel or air, the carrier shall be identified by name and number or other available designation.

In all cases, the information shall be furnished as to the carrier which transports the merchandise to a foreign country or to an ultimate destination in a nonforeign area, and not as to a different carrier which may have transported the goods to the seaport, airport, or border port of export for final shipment.

(d) Exporter. In general, the exporter named on the export declaration shall be the principal or seller in the export transaction. For exports moving under validated license, the exporter named on the Shipper's Export Declaration shall be the licensee named on the validated export license. The address of the exporter (number, street, place, state) shall be shown. (On Form 7513, if an authorized agent is representing the exporter, the name of the exporter as defined herein should be shown on the line labeled "For account of," where "Principal or seller" is indicated below the line on the form.)

(e) Agent of exporter (forwarding agent). The name and address of the duly autorized forwarding agent (if any) of the exporter shall be stated. (See section 30.4.) (On Form 7513, the information as to agent (if any) should be shown on the line labeled "Exporter," where "Actual shipper or agent" is indicated below the line on the form.)

(f) Ultimate consignee. The name and address (place, country) of the ultimate consignee whether by sale in the United States or abroad or by consignment shall be stated on the export declaration. For exports to foreign countries, the ultimate consignee shall be the same person so designated in the validated export license or authorized to be ultimate consignee under the applicable general license in conformity with Export Administration Regulations.

(g) Intermediate consignee. The name and address of the intermediate consignee (if any) shall be stated. For exports to foreign countries, the intermediate consignee shall be the person named as such in the validated export license or authorized to act as such under the applicable general license and in conformity with the Export Administration Regulations. If there is no intermediate consignee, the word "none" shall be entered on the Shipper's Export Declaration. (On Form 7513 the name and address of the intermediate consignee (if any) in a foreign country must be shown below the description of commodities across columns 1 through 6.)

(h) Foreign port of unloading. For shipments by vessel and by air the foreign port and country of unloading (i.e., the foreign port and country at which the merchandise will be unladen from the exporting carrier) shall be shown on the Shipper's Export Declaration in addition to the country of ultimate destination. The reporting of "optional" ports of unloading is not permissible except as provided in the Export Administration Regulations.[4] Where optional ports of unloading are named on the Shipper's Export Declaration under the permissible conditions, a Shipper's Export Declaration Correction Form (Form FT-7403) indicating the actual port of unloading shall be filed by the exporter or his agent with the Customs Director as soon as the actual port of unloading is known to the exporter. Information as to port of unloading is required for shipments by vessel and air only.

(i) Place and country of destination. Country of destination shall be reported on the Shipper's Export Declaration in terms of the names designated in Schedule C, Classification of Country Designations for U.S. Foreign Trade Statistics, as follows:

(1) For shipments under validated export licenses, the place (city) and country of ultimate destination shown on the export declaration shall conform to the country of ultimate destination as shown on the license.

[4] See Export Administration Regulations. (See footnote 2 above.)

(2) For shipments not moving under validated export license, the final place (city) and country of ultimate destination as known to the exporter at the time of exportation shall be shown on the export declaration. "Country of ultimate destination" means the country in which the goods are to be consumed or further processed or manufactured. The country to which the goods are being shipped is not the country of ultimate destination for purposes of preparing the Shipper's Export Declaration if the exporter has knowledge at the time the goods leave the United States that they are intended for reexport or transshipment in their present form to another known country. For goods shipped to Canada, Panama, Hong Kong, Belgium or The Netherlands for example, special care should be exercised before reporting these countries as the ultimate destination, since these are countries through which merchandise from the United States is frequently transshipped. If the shipper does not know the ultimate destination of the goods, the country of destination to be shown on the export declaration is the last country, as known to the exporter at the time of shipment from the United States, to which the goods are to be shipped in their present form. (For instructions as to the reporting of country of destination for vessels sold or transferred from the United States to foreign ownership, see section 30.33.)

(j) Marks and numbers. For purposes of identification of the export declaration with the merchandise it covers, the marks, numbers, or other identification shown on the packages should be inserted. This information is not required for shipments by mail inasmuch as the declaration is presented to the Postmaster with the packages being mailed.

(k) Number and kind of packages. The number and kind of packages (i.e., boxes, barrels, baskets, bales, etc.) shall be stated.

(1) The correct commodity number as provided in Schedule B, Statistical Classification of Domestic and Foreign Commodities Exported from the United States, shall be entered in the space provided on the Shipper's Export Declaration form, and a description of the merchandise shall be supplied in the "Description of Commodities" column in sufficient detail to permit the verification of the Schedule B commodity number. (For shipments from Puerto Rico to the United States, Schedule P, Commodity Classification for Reporting Shipment from Puerto Rico to the United States, is substituted for Schedule B.) The name of the commodity, in terms which can be identified or associated with the language used in Schedule B (usually the commercial name of the commodity), and any and all characteristics of the commodity which distinguish it from commodities of the same name covered by other Schedule B classifications shall be clearly and fully stated. Careful reference to the Schedule B classification scheme for related commodities as well as for the commodity being shipped, is necessary in order to establish which particular characteristics must be stated in the description to permit verification of the correct Schedule B commodity number and to eliminate any question that some other commodity number might apply. A description of commodities in the kind of detail specified above is a separate requirement, and the furnishing of the correct Schedule B commodity number does not relieve the exporter of furnishing, in addition, a complete and accurate commodity description in accordance with this requirement. If the shipment is moving under a validated license, the description shown on the export declaration shall conform with that shown on the validated export license. However, where the description on the license does not state all of the characteristics of the commodity which are needed to completely verify the commodity number, as described above, the missing characteristics, as well as the description shown on the license, shall be stated in the commodity description on the Shipper's Export Declaration.

(2) For schedule B commodity numbers for which the classification description in Schedule B is followed by instructions such as "Specify by name," "State species," etc., the specific name of the item or a further identifying description of the item, in addition to the information required by subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, shall be shown. Where a single Shipper's Export Declaration covers more than one item classifiable under a single one of the classifications carrying the "Specify by name" or similar requirement, separate quantities, values, and shipping weights, for the individual items are not required by this part. However, each item should be separately enumerated in the column for commodity description, except that if more than five items are involved, all classifiable under one Schedule B number, only the five items of greatest value in the classification are required to be separately enumerated.

(3) Further explanations regarding the description of commodities and Schedule B number requirements are furnished on the reverse side of the export declaration, in the introduction to Schedule B, and in the pamphlet "Correct Way to Fill Out the Shipper's Export Declaration."

(4) Directions for locating the correct Schedule B commodity number will be found in the introduction to Schedule B. The introduction to Schedule B also contains an explanation regarding use of trade names on Shipper's Export Declarations and a description of special provisions for the classification of certain types of commodities, such as items of mixed materials, used or secondhand items, parts for machinery and equipment, filled metal shipping containers of particular types, toys, military equipment, relief and charity shipments, and shipments valued less than $250. Shippers may consult their local Customs Director, Department of Commerce District Offices (located in principal cities), or write to the Foreign Trade Division, Bureau of the Census, for assistance in determining the correct Schedule B commodity numbers for their shipments.

(m) Export license number and expiration date (or general license symbol). For exports to foreign countries the export license number and expiration date, or the general license symbol shall be shown below the description of the commodity.

(n) Net quantity. Where a unit of quantity is specified in Schedule B for the commodity number in which the item is classified, net quantity is required to be reported in the specified unit, and the unit in which reported should be indicated on the declaration following the net quantity figure. Where the unit of quantity specified in Schedule B is "No." (number), "Each" or the abbreviation "Ea." may be indicated on the declaration as the unit of quantity. If no unit of quantity is specified in Schedule B for a numbered classification, but a validated export license for the item specifies a unit of quantity, the net quantity shall be reported on the declaration in terms of the unit of quantity specified in the validated license. If neither Schedule B nor an applicable validated license specifies a unit of quantity for the item, net quantity is not required to be reported, and a dash (—) should be entered in the "net quantity" column on the Shipper's Export Declaration. Where Schedule B calls for two units of quantity, net quantity shall be reported in terms of both units. Where the specified unit is in terms of weight (ounces, pounds, etc.) the net quantity should reflect the net weight, exclusive of the weight of barrels, boxes, or other bulky coverings, and exclusive of salt or pickle in the case of salted or pickled fish or meats. Note, however, that for a few commodities where "content lb.," "dry weight," or some similar weight unit is specified in Schedule B, the net quantity to be reported on the Shipper's Export Declaration may be less than the net weight. In the expression of net quantities, fractions of one-half unit or upward will be counted as a whole unit, and fractions of less than one-half unit will be ignored, except that where the total net quantity is less than one-half of the unit prescribed for the commodity in Schedule B "Less than one-half (unit)" should be reported. (For example, where the unit for a given commodity is in terms of "M board feet," a net quantity of 8,400 board feet would be reported as "8 M bd. ft." and a net quantity of 900 board feet would be reported as "1 M bd. ft."; however, a total net quantity of 450 board feet should not be ignored but should be reported as "less than one-half M bd. ft.".)

(o) Gross (shipping) weight. In addition to specifying the net quantity in the units required by Schedule B, the gross shipping weight in pounds, including the weight of containers, shall be shown for all shipments by vessel and air. However, for containerized cargo in lift vans, cargo vans, or similar substantial outer containers, the weight of such containers should not be included in the gross weight of the commodities. If gross shipping weight information is not available for individual Schedule B items for the reason that commodities covered by more than one Schedule B number are contained in the same shipping container, approximate shipping weight, estimated as accurately as is practicable, may be shown on the Shipper's Export Declarations for each Schedule B item in the container. The total of the estimated weights must equal the actual shipping weight of the entire container or containers and contents. Gross shipping weight is not required for shipments by mail or for shipments by methods of transportation other than vessel or air.

(p) "D" (Domestic) or "F" (Foreign).

(1) The export declaration covering exports to foreign countries shall show foreign goods separately from goods of domestic production. Exports of foreign merchandise include those commodities which are the growth, produce, or manufacture of foreign countries which entered the United States as imports and which at the time of exportation have undergone no change in form or condition or enhancement in value by further manufacture in the United States, Puerto Rico, or U.S. Possessions.

(2) Exports of domestic merchandise include those commodities which are the growth, produce, or manufacture of the United States, Puerto Rico, or U.S. Possessions (including commodities incorporating foreign components), and those articles of foreign origin which have been enhanced in value or changed from the form in which imported by further manufacture or processing in the United States, Puerto Rico, or U.S. Possessions.

(3) The above distinction between domestic and foreign merchandise is intended only for use in reporting on the Shipper's Export Declaration and is intended for statistical purposes only.

(4) On the Shipper's Export Declaration in the column headed "Specify 'D' or 'F'," domestic merchandise shall be identified by the designation "D" and foreign merchandise shall be identified by the designation "F." On the Shipper's Export Declaration for In-Transit Goods, Form 7513, one of the following statements, whichever is appropriate, shall be shown across the body of the form within columns 1 through 6: (i) for in-transit shipments of domestic (U.S.) merchandise, "The merchandise described herein is of the growth, production or manufacture of the United States;" and (ii) for in-transit shipments of foreign merchandise, "The merchandise described herein is of foreign origin."

(q) Value.

(1) In general, value shall be reported on the Shipper's Export Declaration in accordance with the definition at the top of the value column on the regular Shipper's Export Declaration (Commerce Form 7525-V): "Value at U.S. Port of Export (Selling price or cost if not sold, including inland freight, insurance and other charges to U.S. port of export) (nearest whole dollar; omit cents figures)." "Selling price" for goods exported pursuant to sale is the exporter's price to his customer net of any unconditional discounts from list price, but without deducting any discounts which are conditional upon a particular act or performance on the part of the customer. Commissions to be paid by a U.S. exporter to his agent abroad, or to be deducted from the selling price by the exporter's agent abroad should be excluded. For goods shipped on consignment without a sale actually having been made at the time of export, the "selling price" to be reported on the Shipper's Export Declaration is the market value at the time of export at the United States port from which exported.

(2) The value reported on the Shipper's Export Declaration shall exclude: the cost of loading on the exporting vessel, aircraft, car or vehicle at the port of exportation; freight, insurance, and any other charges or transportation costs beyond the port of export; and any duties, taxes, or other assessments imposed by foreign countries. The value reported shall include inland or domestic freight or other charges to the seaport, airport, or border port of exportation.

(3) The value to be reported as defined above is (or is equivalent to) an f.a.s. (Free alongside ship) value. Therefore, where goods are sold f.o.b. a U.S. point other than the port of exportation, freight, insurance, and other costs to the border, sea, or airport of exportation shall be added to the selling price (as defined above) for purposes of reporting value on the Shipper's Export Declaration. If the actual amount of such domestic costs is not available, an estimate of the domestic costs shall be added. Where goods are sold at a "delivered" price, c.i.f. foreign destination, the cost of loading on the exporting carrier at the port of exportation, if any, and freight, insurance, and other costs beyond the port of exportation should be subtracted from the price for purposes of reporting value on the Shipper's Export Declaration. If the actual amount of such costs is not available, an estimate of the costs should be subtracted. Costs added to or subtracted from the selling price in accordance with the above instructions should not be itemized or shown separately on the Shipper's Export Declaration, but the value reported should be the value after the making of such adjustments, where they are required to arrive at "value at U.S. port of export." In the expression of values in export declarations, fractions of a dollar less than 50 cents should be ignored, and fractions of 50 cents or upward should be counted as $1.

(4) For definitions of the value to be shown on the Shipper's Export Declaration for special types of transactions where the commodities are not being exported pursuant to commercial sales, or where subsidies, Government financing or participation, or other unusual conditions are involved, see section 30.30.

(r) Date of exportation. Information as to date of exportation is not required to be reported for shipments by vessel or by mail. For other shipments, the date of departure (or date of clearance, if date of departure is not known) shall be shown on the Shipper's Export Declaration as the date of exportation.

(s) Designation of agent and signature. For information regarding the use of the space provided on Form 7525-V and 7525-V-Alternate (Intermodal) for authorization of agent, and for requirements as to signature, see section 30.4.

Sec. 30.8 Additional information required on Shipper's Export Declaration for In-Transit Goods (Form 7513).—In addition to the information required under section 30.7, the following information shall be shown on the Shipper's Export Declaration for In-Transit Goods, Form 7513.

(a) U.S. port of arrival. The U.S. port at which the merchandise covered by the declaration arrived from a foreign country shall be shown.

(b) Country from which shipped. The name of the foreign country where the goods were loaded on the carrier which transported the merchandise to the United States from a foreign country shall be indicated.

(c) Date of arrival. The date on which the merchandise arrived in the United States shall be entered.

(d) Country of origin. The name of the country of origin as defined in section 30.70(f) shall be indicated.

Sec. 30.9 Requirements for separation and alignment of Items on Shipper's Export Declaration.—For each Schedule B classification (see section 30.7(l)) for which merchandise is included in the shipment, a separate item shall be shown on the Shipper's Export Declaration and the separate description of commodities, shipping weight, "D" or "F" designation, Schedule B commodity number, net quantity and value for the item shall be correctly aligned horizontally, and clearly distinguishable from information applying to other Schedule B items on the same declaration. However, where merchandise covered by a single Schedule B classification is moving under more than one general license, under more than one validated export license, or under a validated export license which shows two or more listings for the same Schedule B number, a separate item shall be shown on the Shipper's Export Declaration for each license or for each listing on the license.[5] For merchandise moving under validated license, information required by export control regulations as to export license number and expiration date, and information as to whether the export is a partial or complete shipment against the license, shall be shown immediately below the corresponding description of commodities on the Shipper's Export Declaration. Where two or more items are classified under the same Schedule B number and moving under the same general license, or where no license is required, the quantities, values and shipping weights of such invoice items, wherever practical, should be combined and the information shown on a single horizontal line of the Shipper's Export Declaration. Commodities of U.S. manufacture incorporating foreign components shall be reported under the Schedule B number for the exported commodity, and a separate item shall not be shown for the imported components. If the exporter desires to record the imported components separately on the export declaration for purposes of identification with a temporary import bond, a notation may be made in column 10 as to the imported components which have been incorporated in the exported commodity. In the preparation of the export declaration, shippers shall conform to the line spacing on all copies.

Sec. 30.10 Continuation sheets for Shipper's Export Declaration.—When more horizontal lines than the number provided on the Shipper's Export Declaration form are required to list all of the merchandise covered by the declaration, Continuation Sheets should be utilized.[6] In lieu of official Continuation Sheets, additional copies of the Shipper's Export Declaration form with no portion torn off or removed, may be used as continuation sheets. All continuation sheets shall be numbered in proper seqence and securely stapled to the first sheet, which must be the export declaration itself. Each continuation sheet shall show the Customs port of exportation and the country of ultimate destination for the shipment. The following statement with the blank filled in as appropriate, shall be inserted on the last line of the Shipper's Export Declaration itself between columns 9 and 15:

"This declaration consists of this sheet and ______ continuation sheets."
No.

[5] See section 30.6 for prohibition against reporting general license commodities on the same Shipper's Export Declaration with commodities moving under a validated license.

[6] See section 30.3(b).

Sec. 30.11 Authority to Require Production of Documents.—For purposes of verifying the completeness and accuracy of the information reported as required under sections 30.7 and 30.8, and for other purposes under the regulations in this part, Customs is authorized to require the owners and operators of exporting carriers, as well as the exporters or their agents, either at the time of exportation or within a period of 3 years subsequent thereto, to produce for inspection or copying shipping documents, invoices, orders, packing lists, correspondence, as well as any other relevant documents and to furnish other information bearing upon a particular exportation. The Bureau of the Census is similarly authorized to require the production of such documents. Customs shall refuse to accept Shipper's Export Declarations containing known errors and omissions, and may require their correction, but acceptance by the Customs Director shall not be construed as evidence that all requirements have been met, and such acceptance shall not relieve the exporter of the responsibility to furnish complete and correct information at a later time if all requirements have in fact been properly met.

Sec. 30.12 Time and Place Shipper's Export Declarations Required to be Presented.—For shipments by mail, the Shipper's Export Declaration as required in section 30.1 shall be presented to the postmaster with the packages at the time of mailing. For shipments other than by mail, except as otherwise provided, the Shipper's Export Declaration in the number of copies required by section 30.5 shall be delivered to the exporting carrier prior to exportation. It is the duty of the exporter (or his agent) to deliver the required number of copies of the Shipper's Export Declaration to the exporting carrier prior to exportation; failure of the exporter (or his agent) to do so constitutes a violation of the provisions of these regulations, and renders such exporter (or his agent) subject to the penalties provided for in section 30.95. For shipments by pipeline, the Shipper's Export Declaration is not required to be presented prior to exportation, and exportation will be permitted upon the understanding that the exporter or his agent, within 4 working days after the end of each calendar month, will file with the Customs Director having jurisdiction for the pipeline, a Shipper's Export Declaration in the number of copies specified in section 30.5 to cover exports to each consignee during the calendar month.

Sec. 30.13 [Reserved]

Sec. 30.14 [Reserved]

Sec. 30.15 Procedure for Presentation of Declarations Covering Shipments from an Interior Point.—For shipments from an interior point, the Shipper's Export Declaration in the number of copies required in section 30.5 may be prepared and delivered by the exporter or his agent to the inland carrier to accompany the merchandise to the exporting carrier at the seaport, airport, or border port of exportation, or it may be otherwise delivered directly to the exporting carrier. In either case, the Shipper's Export Declaration must be in the exporting carriers' possession prior to exportation. (See section 30.6 for requirements for a separate set of Shipper's Export Declarations for each car, truck, or other vehicle, covering only the merchandise exported in that car, truck, or vehicle.)

Sec. 30.16 Corrections to Shipper's Export Declarations.—Exporters (or their agents) shall report corrections, cancellations, or amendments to information reported on Shipper's Export Declarations to the Customs Director at the port of exportation (or, in the case of mail shipments, to the Postmaster at the post office where the shipment was mailed) as soon as the need for such correction, cancellation, or amendment is determined. Such corrections, cancellations, or amendments may be made directly onto the originally filed Shipper's Export Declarations if the originally filed declarations have not already been mailed to the Bureau of the Census. If the originally filed Shipper's Export Declarations have already been mailed to the Bureau of the Census, a photocopy, carbon, or other legible copy of the originally filed Shipper's Export Declaration, on which the incorrect data are neatly lined out and the corrected data entered hereon, shall be promptly filed with the Customs Director at the port of exportation (or, in the case of mail shipments, with the Postmaster at the post office where the shipment was mailed). Such correction copies should have the words "CORRECTION COPY" conspicuously shown in the upper right portion of the form. The provisions of this paragraph relating to the reporting of corrections, amendments, or cancellations of information, shall not be construed as a relaxation of the requirements of the laws and regulations pertaining to the preparation and filing of Shipper's Export Declarations.

Subpart B—General Requirements—Exporting Carriers

Sec. 30.20 General statement of requirement for the filing of manifests and Shipper's Export Declaration by carriers.—(a) Carriers transporting merchandise from the United States, Puerto Rico, or U.S. Possessions to foreign countries; from the United States or Puerto Rico to the Virgin Islands of the United States; or between Puerto Rico and the United States; shall not be granted clearance, where clearance is required, and shall not depart, where clearance is not required, until manifests (for vessels, aircraft, and rail carriers) and Shipper's Export Declarations have been filed with the Customs Director as specified below, except as provided in section 30.24. Where for reasons beyond the control of the exporting carrier, a given declaration (or declarations) has not been received prior to exportation or departure, and the merchandise has been laden, such carrier shall not as a result of this circumstance be required to offload the merchandise, or to delay its clearance (where clearance is required) or departure (if clearance is not required). However, the provisions of section 30.24 remain applicable.

(b) Except as otherwise specifically provided, declarations should not be filed at the place where the shipment originates if it is to be transshipped within the United States area before being dispatched to a foreign country or to its final destination in a nonforeign area. This applies to shipments originating in Puerto Rico or the Virgin Islands of the United States being forwarded to the United States for transshipment to another destination, and to shipments originating in the United States and being forwarded to Puerto Rico or the Virgin Islands of the United States for transshipment, as well as to merchandise being transshipped in Customs Districts within the States of the United States. In such cases, the declarations should be filed only with the Customs Director at the actual port of exportation.

(c) For purposes of these regulations, the port of exportation is defined as the Customs port at which or nearest to which the land surface carrier transporting the merchandise crosses the border of the United States into foreign territory, or, in the case of exportation by vessel or air, the Customs port where the merchandise is loaded on the vessel or aircraft which is to carry the merchandise to a foreign country or to a nonforeign area of ultimate destination.

Sec. 30.21 Requirements for the filing of manifests. — (a) Vessels. Vessels transporting merchandise as specified in section 30.20 (except vessels exempted by paragraph (d) of this section) shall file a complete manifest on Customs Form 1374 or similar form approved by the Customs Director. The manifest shall be filed with the Customs Director at the respective ports where the merchandise is laden, and shall show the destination of the vessel and list all the cargo so laden. For each item of cargo, the manifest shall show the marks and numbers of the packages; and a description of the articles, contents, quantities, and values, shall be shown; however, a notation on the manifest that values are as stated on the Shipper's Export Declaration, copies of which are attached to such manifest, will be accepted. There shall also be shown for each item of cargo the bill of lading number shown on the declaration covering the item, except that bill of lading numbers are not required on manifests covering cargo destined for Canada or a nonforeign area. If an item on a manifest is one for which a Shipper's Export Declaration is not required under the regulations in this part, a notation shall be inserted on the manifest as to the basis for the exemption. In lieu of a listing of cargo on Customs Form 1374, the list of cargo may be shown on bills of lading, cargo lists, or other similar commercial forms, attached to the manifest: Provided, that the manifest is completely executed on Customs Form 1374 or similar form approved by the Customs Director, except for particulars as to cargo: And provided also, That the bills of lading, cargo lists, or other commercial forms are securely attached to that form in such manner as to constitute one document; that they are incorporated by suitable reference on the face of the form such as "Cargo as per bills of lading attached," or "Cargo as per commercial forms attached," and that there is shown on the face of each bill the information required by Customs Form 1374 for the cargo covered by that document. The manifest of vessels clearing for foreign countries shall also show the quantities and values of bunker fuel taken aboard at that port for fueling use of the vessel, apart from such quantities as may have been laden on vessels as cargo. The quantity of coal shall be reported in tons, and the quantity of fuel oil shall be reported in barrels of 42 gallons. Fuel oil shall be described in such manner as to identify diesel oil as distinguished from other types of fuel oil.

(b) Aircraft. Aircraft transporting merchandise as specified in section 30.20 shall file a complete manifest on Customs Form 7509. Such manifest shall be filed with the Customs Director at the respective ports where the merchandise is laden aboard the aircraft which is to carry the merchandise to the foreign country or to its ultimate destination in a nonforeign area, and shall list all the cargo so laden and show, for each item, the air waybill number or marks and numbers on packages, the number of packages, and the nature of the goods, except as otherwise provided in this paragraph (b). In addition, for any item for which a Shipper's Export Declaration is not required under the regulations in this part, a notation as to the basis for the exemption shall be inserted on the manifest, or on the waybill filed in lieu of listing on the manifest as provided below. In lieu of listing the cargo on the manifest, (1) in the case of shipments on an air waybill, a copy of each document may be attached to the cargo manifest, the numbers of such air waybills listed in the body of the manifest, and the statement "Cargo as per Air Waybills Attached" noted on the manifest, or (2) on direct departures only, for shipments requiring a Shipper's Export Declaration a copy of each export declaration may be attached to the cargo manifest. In such case the Air Waybill numbers of such declaration shall be listed on the cargo manifest in the column for air waybill numbers, and the statement "Cargo as per Export Declarations Attached" noted on the manifest. Under this alternative procedure, any shipments not requiring a Shipper's Export Declaration shall be listed on the manifest, and a notation as to the basis for the exemption shall be shown. For aircraft carrying merchandise on direct flights between the United States and Puerto Rico, where the conditions of 19 C.F.R. 6.8(e) of the Customs Regulations are met and complied with, a cargo manifest shall be required only for any merchandise transported as cargo which is excepted from the filing of Shipper's Export Declarations or for any cargo for which Shipper's Export Declarations cannot be timely filed. For cargo requiring Shipper's Export Declarations, a declaration shall be made on the general declaration required by Customs Regulations (on the cargo manifest if one is required by the preceding sentence). This declaration shall state either "Attached Shipper's Export Declarations represent a full and complete enumeration and description of the cargo carried on this flight except that listed on the cargo manifests" or "All required cargo documents will be filed within the 4-day bond period." If the latter declaration is used, when the Shipper's Export Declarations and any required cargo manifest are in fact filed they shall be accompanied by the following declaration:

> Attached Shipper's Export Declarations represent a full and complete enumeration and description of the cargo carried on aircraft No. ________ flight No. ________ cleared direct for ________ on ________ except cargo listed on any cargo manifest required to be filed for such flight.
> Airline ________________
> Authorized Agent ________________

(c) Rail carriers. Rail carriers transporting merchandise as specified in section 30.20 shall file a car manifest. Such manifest shall be filed with the Customs Director at the border port of exportation, giving the marks and numbers, the name of the shipper or consignor, description of the goods and the destination thereof. The manifest may be a waybill, or a copy thereof, or a copy of the manifest prepared for foreign customs. For any item for which a Shipper's Export Declaration is not required by these regulations, a notation on the manifest, or an oral declaration to the Customs Director, shall be made by the carrier as to the basis for the exemption.

(d) Carriers not required to file manifests. These regulations do not require the filing of manifests by carriers other than vessels, aircraft and rail carriers, nor by vessels under 5 net tons engaged in trade with a foreign country otherwise than by sea, nor by vessels specifically exempted from entry by section 441, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.

Sec. 30.22 Requirements for the filing of Shipper's Export Declarations by departing carriers.—(a) To meet the requirements of section 30.20 for the filing of Shipper's Export Declarations, every departing carrier transporting merchandise as specified in section 30.20, including vessels, aircraft, rail carriers, trucks and other vehicles, ferries, and every other carrier shall deliver to the District Director of Customs at the port of exportation, with the manifest of the carrier, if a manifest is required by the regulations in this part, Shipper's Export Declarations prepared and signed by the exporters or their agents covering all the cargo for which such Shipper's Export Declarations are required by the regulations in this part.

(b) The exporting carrier shall be responsible for the accuracy of the following items of information (where required) on the declaration: Name of carrier (including flag, if vessel carrier), foreign port of unloading, and the bill of lading or air waybill number.

(c) Except as provided in paragraph (d) of this section, when a transportation company finds, prior to the filing of declarations and manifest as provided in (a) of this section, that due to circumstances beyond the control of the transportation company or to inadvertence, a portion of the merchandise covered by an individual Shipper's Export Declaration has not been exported on the intended carrier, the transportation company shall correct the descriptions and the quantity, value and shipping weight (if any) amounts shown on the declaration to reflect the amount actually exported on the carrier named in the Shipper's Export Declaration. If a short shipment of this type is discovered by the carrier after the Shipper's Export Declaration in question has been delivered to the District Director of Customs, the transportation company will immediately notify the District Director of Customs so that a correction can be made by the Director on all copies of the declaration if it is still in his possession. If the statistical copy of the declaration has been transmitted by the Director to the Bureau of the Census at the time of such notification, the Director will require the filing of a correction form, Form FT-7403, by the exporter or his agent, to effect the correction of the export declaration. If the balance of the short-shipped merchandise is subsequently exported, a new Shipper's Export Declaration, complete in all detail, will be required. If the short-shipped merchandise is exported on a carrier of the transportation company named in the original declaration, and if such exportation is made within a reasonable period, the District Director of Customs may accept a declaration executed by such transportation company; otherwise the new declaration shall be executed by the exporter or his agent. In any event, the new declaration shall contain the following statement:

These commodities or technical data were included, but not shipped, on a Shipper's Exports Declaration filed at ______________ on ______________.
(Port) (Date)

(d) When a shipment by air covered by a single Shipper's Export Declaration is divided by the transportation company and exported in more than one aircraft of the transportation company, the "split shipment" procedure provided in section 30.41 shall be followed by the transportation company in delivering manifests and Shipper's Export Declarations to the District Director of Customs.

(e) Exporting carriers are authorized to amend incorrect shipping weights reported on Shipper's Export Declarations, and to prorate total shipping weights among the individual commodities where such carriers are able to do so based upon information in their possession.

Sec. 30.23 Requirements for the filing of Shipper's Export Declarations by pipeline carriers.—The operator of a pipeline may transport merchandise to a foreign country without prior filing of Shipper's Export Declarations, on the condition that within 4 days following the end of each calendar month the pipeline operator will deliver to the Customs Director Shipper's Export Declarations prepared by the exporter or his agent covering all exportations through the pipeline to each consignee during the month.

Sec. 30.24 Clearance or departure of carriers under bond on incomplete manifest or Shipper's Export Declarations.—(a) For purposes of the regulations in this part, clearance (where clearance is required) or permission to depart (where clearance is not required) may be granted to any carrier by the Customs Director prior to the filing of a complete manifest as required under the regulations in this part, or prior to the filing by the carrier of all required Shipper's Export Declarations, provided that a bond as specified in paragraph (b) of this section is filed with the Customs Director. The condition of the bond shall be that a complete manifest, where a manifest is required by the regulations in this part, and all required Shipper's Export Declarations, shall be filed by the carrier not later than the fourth business day after clearance (where clearance is required) or departure (where clearance is not required) of the carrier for all carriers except as otherwise specifically provided in subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph.

(1) For shipments aboard a U.S. flag carrier between the United States and Puerto Rico, or from the United States or Puerto Rico to the Virgin Islands of the United States, the condition of the bond shall be that a complete manifest (where a manifest is required) and all required Shipper's Export Declarations shall be filed by the carrier not later than the seventh business day after departure.

(2) For rail carriers to Canada, the condition of the bond shall be that the manifest and all required Shipper's Export Declarations shall be filed not later than the 15th business day after departure.

In the event that any required manifest and all required Shipper's Export Declarations are not filed by the carrier within the period provided by the bond, then a penalty of $50 shall be exacted for each day's delinquency beyond the allowed period of 4 days, 7 days, or 15 days, as appropriate; and if the completed manifest, where required, and all required Shipper's Export Declarations are not filed within 3 days following the period of 4 days, 7 days, or 15 days, allowed under the bond, then for each succeeding day of delinquency a penalty of $100 shall be exacted, but no penalty shall exceed $1,000 in total. Remission or mitigation of the penalties provided herein may be granted in those cases where, in the judgment of the administering authority provided in paragraph (b) of this section, the penalties were incurred without willful negligence or fraud, or other circumstances justify a remission or mitigation.

(b) Bonds filed in accordance with the provisions of this section 30.24 may take the form of a single entry bond on Customs Form 7567 in the amount of $1,000 or of a term or blanket bond on Customs Form 7569 in the amount of $10,000 or such larger amount as the Secretary of the Treasury may prescribe or in other approved form. Except as provided below in this paragraph, there shall be shown on the bond, or on a separate listing which refers to and is made a part of the bond, a pro forma list of shipments on board the departing carrier for which Shipper's Export Declarations have not been filed with the Customs Director. The list shall show for each such shipment the name of the shipper, the country to which exported, marks and numbers of the packages, the number and kind of packages, a description of the goods and the value (or estimated value). However, where such waiver will not interfere with the ability of the Customs Director to check on performance under the bond, or with the identification of the shipment for purposes of obtaining statistical information in the event of failure of performance under the bond, the Customs Director may waive the requirement for the pro forma list of shipments for which declarations are missing, or may accept a list containing less than the items of information enumerated above. Approval of bonds and administration of the provisions of the regulations in this part relating to performance by carriers under such bonds, including remission and mitigation of penalties incurred by the carriers, are hereby delegated to the Commissioner of Customs or his delegate to be carried out in accordance with the provisions of section 623 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, and the regulations of the U.S. Customs Service issued pursuant thereto.

Subpart C—Special Provisions Applicable Under Particular Circumstances

Sec. 30.30 Values for certain types of transactions.--The following special arrangements govern the values to be reported for shipments of the following unusual types:

(a) Subsidized exports of agricultural products. Where provision is made for the payment of an export subsidy to the exporter for the exportation of agricultural commodities under a program of the Department of Agriculture, the value required to be shown on the export declaration is the f.a.s. value as defined in section 30.7 (q), based on the selling price paid by the foreign importer, excluding the amount of the subsidy.

(b) GSA exports of excess personal property.—For exports of General Services Administration excess personal property, the value to be shown on the Shipper's Export Declaration will be the total of the estimated "fair value," if any, at which the property was transferred to GSA by the holding agency, plus charges, when applicable, to the port of export, such as packing, rehabilitation, inland freight or drayage. The estimated "fair value" may be zero, or it may be a percentage of the original or estimated acquisition costs. (Export declarations for such shipments will bear the notation "Excess Personal Property, GSA Regulations 1-III, 303.03.")

Sec. 30.31 Identification of certain nonstatistical and other unusal transactions.—In order to enable the Bureau of the Census to make a judgment as to the statistical or other status of certain export transactions, Shipper's Export Declarations covering the following types of transactions should carry a statement beneath the commodity description clearly identifying the transactions as such:

(a) Merchandise exported for repair only, and other temporary exports to be returned to the United States which are not sold and do not enter the trade of the country to which shipped, e.g., merchandise for exhibition (not for exhibition and possible sale), horses or other animals for breeding or grazing, etc.

(b) The return of merchandise previously imported for repair only and other returns to the foreign shipper or temporarily imported merchandise (declared as such on importation) on which no alteration or processing has been performed; e.g., foreign merchandise being returned to the country of origin after importation into the United States for exhibition only.

(c) Shipments of material in connection with construction, maintenance, and related work being done on projects for the U.S. Armed Forces. Equipment and other material shipped for temporary use on such projects and intended for return to the United States should be identified separately from construction material or other goods which will become a part of or which will be consumed in the construction or maintenance work.

Sec. 30.32 Exports of complete machines or other complete units in partial shipment lots.—Unassembled machines or other units shall be classified as complete machines or units, and not as parts thereof, even when the integral components are not shipped simultaneously, or are shipped through more than one port. When more than one shipment is involved in the exportation of one or more complete machines or units, the components actually included in each shipment shall be reported in column 10 of the Shipper's Export Declaration (column 18 of the Alternate-Intermodal declaration) with the value (or estimated value) and, where required, shipping weight, of these components only shown in columns 15 and 11 (columns 24 and 19 of the Alternate-Intermodal declaration), respectively. In each case the Schedule B number for the complete machine shall be reported in column 13 of the Shipper's Export Declaration (column 22 of the Alternate-Intermodal declaration), and a statement shall be entered beneath the commodity description to the effect that the declaration represents the first, second, third, etc., partial shipment of integral components to comprise one (or other number) complete machine (and the machine should be completely described in terms of Schedule B). The statement should also include the total value and, where required, shipping weight for the entire consignment. The declaration covering the final shipment shall be conspicuously labeled "Final Shipment," in addition to being appropriately numbered in the series of declarations.

Sec. 30.33 Vessels, planes, cargo vans, and other carriers and containers sold foreign.—(a) Vessels, locomotives, rail cars, ferries, trucks, other vehicles, trailers, pallets, cargo vans, lift vans, or similar shipping containers are not considered "shipped" in terms of these regulations in this part when they are moving, either loaded or empty, without transfer of ownership or title, in their capacity as carriers of merchandise or as instruments of such carriers, and Shipper's Export Declarations are not required therefor when so moving.

(b) However, Shipper's Export Declarations shall be filed for such items, when moving as merchandise pursuant to sale or other transfer from ownership in the United States to ownership abroad. When a new vessel built in the United States for foreign account clears under a certificate of record (Commerce Form 1316) a Shipper's Export Declaration must be furnished by the agents or prepared by Customs for statistical purposes. If a vessel, car, vehicle, or container, whether in service or newly built or manufactured, is sold or transferred to foreign ownership while in the Customs area of the United States or at a port in such area, Shipper's Export Declarations shall be filed in accordance with the general requirements of the regulations in this part, at the port through or from which the vessel, car, vehicle, or container first leaves the United States after sale or transfer. If the vessel, car, vehicle, or shipping container is outside the Customs area of the United States at the time of sale or transfer to foreign ownership, Shipper's Export Declaration shall be filed at the last port of clearance or departure from the United States prior to sale or transfer. The country of destination to be shown on the Shipper's Export Declaration for vessels sold foreign is the country of new ownership. The country for which the vessel clears, or the country of registry of the vessel, should not be reported as the country of destination on the Shipper's Export Declaration unless such country is the country of new ownership.

Sec. 30.34 Return of exported cargo to the United States prior to reaching its final destination.—(a) When a vessel carrying cargo which cleared from a port in the U.S. Customs area returns to the U.S. Customs area before it reaches its destination and discharges any or all of its cargo in the United States, the Customs Director at the port of unlading shall notify the Foreign Trade Division, Bureau of the Census, of this fact. The letter of notification shall contain the following information: Name of the carrier, dates of clearance, manifest numbers assigned at the various Customs ports at which cargo was laden and the final disposition of all cargo. If the vessel returns to the port at which the cargo was originally laden, the letter of notification shall also include the bill of lading numbers shown on each export declaration filed at the time of clearance.

(b) For shipments by air where the Shipper's Export Declarations are filed at the port of lading, if it becomes necessary because of an emergency to unload part or all of the cargo at another port in the U.S. Customs area (other than the port in Puerto Rico or U.S. Possession which is its final destination), the Shipper's Export Declarations filed at the port of lading need not be cancelled if the merchandise is reladen on another plane at the second port within a reasonable time and proceeds to its country of destination. If there is unreasonable delay in reloading, the originally filed declarations should be cancelled and new declarations should be filed at the second port of lading. If for any reason the merchandise remains permanently in the United States, the Customs Director at the first port of lading must be notified to cancel the Shipper's Export Declarations which have been filed. This provision is not intended as an exception from the requirements of section 30.12 as to the place at which Shipper's Export Declarations are required to be filed; it is intended only for cases where an emergency requires an unintended unloading after the requirements of section 30.12 have been met.

Sec. 30.35 Shipments between U.S. points in transit through Canada diverted to Canada.—When commodities being shipped in transit through Canada to other United States ports without the filing of a Shipper's Export Declaration (as provided in section 30.55) are diverted after leaving the United States, for import into Canada, Shipper's Export Declarations in accordance with the requirements of these regulations shall be filed with the Customs Director at the port of exportation by the exporter or his agent promptly upon such diversion.

Sec. 30.36 [Reserved]

Sec. 30.37 Exceptions from the requirement for reporting complete commodity detail on the Shipper's Export Declaration.—(a) Where it can be determined that particular types of U.S. Government shipments, or shipments for Government projects, are of such nature that they should not be included in the export statistics, and further, where no detriment to the export control program would be involved, special arrangements can sometimes be made to waive compliance with specific portions of the requirements of section 30.7 with respect to the reporting of detailed information on the Shipper's Export Declaration. Such exceptions will be made only upon application by the exporter and specific authorization to the Customs Director and the exporter for the particular project or shipment, approved by both the Bureau of the Census and the Office of Export Administration, and will be conditioned upon a prescribed identification which must appear upon the declarations. The particular types of shipments for which such exceptions may be possible are as follows:

(1) Shipments to a contractor under a Department of Defense or other armed service contract for the construction of facilities for the use of the U.S. armed services.

(2) Temporary exports by or to U.S. Government agencies.

(3) Shipments of supplies and material to contractors in the Panama Canal Zone for the construction and/or maintenance of the Panama Canal Zone and its facilities.

(b) Special exemptions to specific portions of the requirements of section 30.7 with respect to the reporting of detailed information on the Shipper's Export Declaration may also be granted by the Bureau of the Census with the concurrence of the Office of Export Administration for certain Department of Defense shipments, or shipments made on behalf of the Department of Defense, to foreign governments under the cash reimbursable provisions of the Mutual Defense Assistance Program (military sales), if and when arrangements have been made for the Bureau of the Census to obtain the desired statistical information other than through the reporting of complete commodity detail on the Shipper's Export Declaration.

Sec. 30.38 [Reserved]

Sec. 30.39 Authorization for reporting statistical information other than by means of individual Shipper's Export Declarations filed for each shipment.—(a) A Customs Director, if he finds that no administrative difficulties are involved, may authorize the filing of one Shipper's Export Declaration per month, in lieu of a declaration for each shipment as required by section 30.6, for the following types of frequently recurring shipments by air from a single consignor from one U.S. airport to one country of destination and one port of unlading via a single airline:

(1) Newspapers and magazines.

(2) Newsreel films, mats, proofs, etc.

(3) Airline timetables being shipped by the airline.

(4) Shipments of registered carrier stores by a United States or Canadian airline to each of its installations or agents abroad which are exported under General License RCS of the Export Administration Regulations set forth in section 371.12(d) of Chapter III of this title.

Such authorization will be subject to the requirement that a declaration covering all such shipments made during the month named on the declaration will be filed by the consignor with the Customs Director no later than the fifth working day of the month following the month covered, and also, except for shipments under subparagraph (4) of this paragraph, subject to the requirement that a Continuation Sheet or other attachment filed with the declaration will list the names of the individual consignees and the number of items shipped to each.

(b) In addition to the procedures authorized in paragraph (a) of this section, the Bureau of the Census, with the concurrence of the Office of Export Administration, may, on an individual case basis, authorize exemption from the requirement of section 30.6 that an export declaration be filed for each shipment, the exemption to be conditioned upon the filing, after the close of each month, of a single export declaration or other statistical report, in an approved format including punch cards, computer tapes, etc., covering shipments made during the month to all destinations except countries in country groups S and Z, as defined in the Export Administration Regulations of the Office of Export Administration (Parts 368-399 of this title),[7] as follows:

(1) Application for permission to file export information on a monthly basis may be made directly to the Foreign Trade Division, Bureau of the Census, Washington, D.C. 20233, with a copy sent to the Office of Export Administration, Bureau of East-West Trade, Washington, D.C. 20230.

(2) Authorization will be issued only when in the judgment of the Bureau of the Census complete and accurate information will be available on a monthly basis from the records of the applicant, and where the exemption from the filing of a Shipper's Export Declaration for individual shipments represents a reduction of reporting procedure in the individual case. (In general, these special reporting procedures will be limited to shippers who, on a continuing basis, make at least twenty (20) shipments per month out of an individual port by each of any one or more methods of transportation, and who are able to furnish summary data each month in all the detail required for statistical processing in terms of the various classifications and cross-classifications now required for statistical purposes, such as commodity data by port, by method of transportation and/or by name of carrier.) Where export control is a consideration, such authorizations will be granted when in the judgment of the Office of Export Administration the applicant also has demonstrated that it has established adequate internal operating procedures and has taken other satisfactory safeguards to assure compliance with Export Administration Regulations without government review of individual declarations.

(3) (i) Procedures for clearing individual shipments through Customs without the presentation of a declaration, and the exact type of monthly or other report to be delivered, will be discussed and specifications developed in connection with each application.

(ii) Such authorizations will be subject to the requirement that declarations or other approved summarizations containing the necessary statistical information for all such shipments made during a given month will be submitted no later than the fifth working day of the month following the month of export. Moreover, records must be maintained in such a manner that the Bureau of the Census, the Office of Export Administration, or the U.S. Customs Service may, if desired, verify that a given shipment was, in fact, included in a particular monthly report.

(c) Authorization for the filing of monthly declarations or other summarizations under paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section may be terminated at any time.

(d) Part 386 of the Department of Commerce Export Administration Regulations contains complete information on the requirements of the Office of Export Administration in connection with the granting of authorizations for the filing of monthly summaries of export shipments.

Sec. 30.40 Single declaration for multiple consignees.—As a further exception to the requirements of section 30.6, shippers are authorized, subject to the approval of the Customs Director, to file one Shipper's Export Declaration (in duplicate) for all shipments, other than those made to U.S. Government agencies, offices, establishments, or representatives of any of these, which are laden on one vessel or aircraft and destined to go to one port in Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands of the United States, or the Canal Zone. For such shipments no consignee information need be furnished whether such shipments are made to one or several consignees.

[7] Country groups are established and maintained by the Office of Export Administration. See Export Administration Regulations (15 C.F.R. Parts 368-399) for lists of countries included in each country group.

Sec. 30.41 "Split shipments" by air.—When a shipment by air covered by a single Shipper's Export Declaration is divided by the exporting transportation company at the port where the declaration is filed, and part of the shipment is exported on one aircraft and part on another aircraft of the same transportation company, the following procedure shall apply:

(a) The carrier will deliver the manifest copy of the declaration to the District Director of Customs with the manifest covering the flight on which the first part of the split shipment is exported, and will make no changes on the declaration. However, the manifest will show in the "number of packages" column the actual portion of the declared total quantity being carried and will carry a notation to indicate "Split Shipment."

(b) On each subsequent manifest covering a flight on which any part of a split shipment is exported, a prominent notation "SPLIT SHIPMENT" will be made adjacent to the item on the manifest for ready identification. For the last shipment the notation will read "SPLIT SHIPMENT, FINAL."

Each subsequent manifest covering a part of a split shipment shall also show in the "number of packages" column only the merchandise carried on that particular flight and a reference to the total amount originally declared for export, e.g., 5 of 11, or 5/11; and immediately following the line showing the portion of the split shipment carried on that flight, a notation will be made showing the air waybill number shown on the original Shipper's Export Declaration and the portions of the originally declared total carried on each previous flight together with the number and date of each such previous flight, e.g., original Shipper's Export Declaration AWB 123; 2 of 11 flight 36A, June 6; 4 of 11, flight 40X, June 10.

(c) Export declarations will not be required for these subsequent shipments.

Subpart D—Exemptions From the Requirements for the Filing of Shipper's Export Declarations

Sec. 30.50 Procedure for shipments exempt from the requirements for Shipper's Export Declarations.—Except as provided below, where an exemption from the requirement for the filing of a Shipper's Export Declaration is provided in this subpart, a notation describing the basis for the exemption shall be made on the bill of lading, air waybill, or other loading document for carrier use, with a reference to the number of the section in this part where the particular exemption is provided so that the carrier at the time of lading, and the Customs Director at the time of exportation, may verify that no declaration is required. If none of the above named documents is used, the person transporting the merchandise must be prepared to identify to the Customs Director at the port of exportation, at the time of exportation but prior to departure, any merchandise which is exempt from the requirement for the filing of a Shipper's Export Declaration and explain to the Customs Director the basis for the exemption. Where shipments are exempt from the requirement for Shipper's Export Declarations on the basis of value and destination, the appearance of the value and destination on the bill of lading, air waybill, or other loading document for carrier use, shall be acceptable as evidence of the exemption, and no reference need be made to the particular section of these regulations where the exemption is provided.

Sec. 30.51 Government shipments not generally exempt.—Except as provided below in this subpart, Shipper's Export Declarations are required for exports by or to U.S. Government agencies, whether or not shipped on a Government bill of lading. No general exemption is provided for Government shipments, as such.

Sec. 30.52 Special exemptions for shipments to the U.S. armed services.—Shipper's Export Declarations are not required for the following types of shipments to the U.S. armed services:

(a) All commodities, whether shipped commercially or through Government channels, consigned to the U.S. armed services for their exclusive use, including shipments to armed services exchange systems. (This exemption does not apply to shipments which are for the ultimate use of the U.S. armed services but which are not consigned to the U.S. armed services. However, special exceptions to the requirements of these regulations which may in some circumstances apply to shipments for the ultimate use of the U.S. armed services but not so consigned are provided in section 30.37.)

(b) Department of Defense Military Assistance Program Grant-Aid shipments being transported as Department of Defense cargo under the provisions of Customs Circular Letters VES-5-MA, March 8, 1954 (MC 133), VES-5-MA, June 17, 1954 (MC 133 S.1), VES-5-MA, May 24, 1956 (MC 133 S.2) and RES-20-MC, January 25, 1960 (CC 76). Under arrangements with the Department of Defense, information on these shipments for inclusion in U.S. export statistics will be furnished directly to the Bureau of the Census by the Department of Defense. This exception from the filing of Shipper's Export Declarations does not apply to Military Assistance Program Grant-Aid shipments to which a foreign government has taken title before exportation or to any Grant-Aid Military-Aid Program shipment moving in any manner other than as Department of Defense cargo. (See section 30.37 for possible exceptions to the full reporting requirements of section 30.7 for certain military sales shipments not exempt from the requirement for the Shipper's Export Declaration.)

Sec. 30.53 Special exemptions for certain shipments to U.S. Government agencies and employees.—Shipper's Export Declarations are not required for the following types of shipments to U.S. Government agencies and employees:

(a) Office furniture, office equipment, and office supplies shipped to and for the exclusive use of U.S. Government offices.

(b) Household goods and personal property shipped to and for the exclusive and personal use of U.S. Government employees.

(c) Food, medicines, and related items and other commissary supplies shipped to U.S. Government offices or employees for the exclusive use of such employees, or to U.S. Government employee cooperative or other associations for subsequent sale or other distribution to such employees.

(d) Books, maps, charts, pamphlets, and similar articles shipped by U.S. Government offices to U.S. or foreign libraries, Government establishments or similar institutions.

(e) All commodities shipped to and for the exclusive use of the Panama Canal Zone Government or the Panama Canal Company.

Sec. 30.54 Special exemptions for mail shipments.—Shipper's Export Declarations are not required for the following kinds of shipments by mail:

(a) Shipments (except shipments requiring a validated export license) where one or more of the following conditions are present:

(1) Either the consignor or the consignee is not a business concern.

(2) The shipment is valued at $250 or under.

(3) The goods are not mailed for commercial consideration.

(b) Technical data regardless of value, licensing requirements, and the other criteria set forth in paragraph (a) of this section.

Sec. 30.55 Miscellaneous exemptions.—Shipper's Export Declarations are not required for the following kinds of shipments:

(a) Diplomatic pouches and their contents.

(b) Human remains and accompanying appropriate receptacles and flowers.

(c) Shipments from one point in the United States to another thereof by routes passing through Mexico or Canada.

(d) Shipments from one point in Canada or Mexico to another point thereof by routes through the United States.

(e) Shipments, other than by vessel, of merchandise for which no validated export licenses are required, transported in bond through the United States, and exported from another U.S. port, or transshipped and exported directly from the port of arrival.

(f) Shipments to foreign libraries, Government establishments, or similar institutions, as provided in section 30.53(d).

(g) Shipments of single gift parcels as encompassed by Office of Export Administration General License GIFT.

(h) Shipments (except shipments requiring a validated export license) between the United States and Puerto Rico, to the Virgin Islands of the United States, and to all countries except countries included in country groups S, W, Y, and Z, as defined in the Export Administration Regulations of the Office of Export Administration (15 CFR Parts 368-399),[8] where the value of the commodities classified under a single Schedule B number and shipped on the same exporting carrier from one exporter to one importer is $250 or under: Provided, however, that this exemption shall be conditioned upon the filing of such reports as the Bureau of the Census shall periodically require to compile statistics on $250-and-under shipments.

(i) Shipments of interplant correspondence, executed invoices and other documents, and other shipments of company business records from a U.S. firm to its subsidiary or affiliate.

(j) Shipments of pets as baggage, accompanied or unaccompanied, of persons leaving the United States, including members of crews on vessels and aircraft.

(k) Shipments for use in connection with NASA tracking systems under Office of Export Administration Project License DL-5355-S.

(l) Shipments of aircraft parts and equipment, and food, saloon, slop chest, and related stores, provisions, and supplies for use on aircraft, by a U.S. airline to its own installations, aircraft, and agents abroad, under Department of Commerce, Office of Export Administration General License RCS.

Sec. 30.56 Conditional Exemptions.—Shipper's Export Declarations are not required for the following classes of commodities when they are not shipped as cargo under a bill of lading or an air waybill and do not require a validated export license, but the exporter should be prepared to make oral declaration to the Customs Director, if required:

(a) Baggage and personal effects, accompanied or unaccompanied, of persons leaving the United States, including members of crews on vessels and aircraft, such as:

(1) Usual and reasonable kinds and quantities of wearing apparel, articles of personal adornment, toilet articles, medicinal supplies, food, souvenirs, games, and similar personal effects and their containers.

(2) Usual and reasonable kinds and quantities of furniture, household effects, household furnishings, and their containers.

(3) Usual and reasonable kinds and quantities of vehicles, such as passenger cars, station wagons, trucks, trailers, motorcycles, bicycles, tricycles, perambulators, and their containers. Provided, that the above-indicated baggage and personal effects (i) shall include only such articles as are owned by such person or members of his immediate family; (ii) shall be in his possession at the time of or prior to his departure from the United States for the foreign country; (iii) are necessary and appropriate for the use of such person or his immediate family; (iv) are intended for his use or the use of his immediate family; and (v) are not intended for sale.

(b) Tools of trade of persons leaving the United States covering usual and reasonable kinds and quantities of implements, instruments and tools of trade, occupation, or employment and their containers. Provided, that the above-indicated tools of trade (1) shall include only such articles as are owned by such persons; (2) shall be in his possession at the time of or prior to his departure from the United States for a foreign country; (3) are necessary and appropriate and intended for the personal use of such person; and (4) are not intended for sale.

(c) Carriers' stores (including merchandise carried in shops aboard carriers for sale to passengers), supplies, and equipment for departing vessels, planes, or other carriers, including usual and reasonable kinds and quantities of bunker fuel, deck engine and steward department stores, provisions and supplies, medicinal and surgical supplies, food stores, slop chest articles, and saloon stores or supplies for use or consumption on board and not intended for unlading in a foreign country, and including usual and reasonable kinds and quantities of equipment and spare parts for permanent use on the carrier when necessary for proper operation of such carrier and not intended for unlading in a foreign country. Hay, straw, feed, and other appurtenances necessary to the care and feeding of livestock while enroute to a foreign destination are considered part of carriers' stores of carrying vessels, trains, planes, etc.

[8] Country groups are established and maintained by the Office of Export Administration. See Export Administration Regulations (15 C.F.R. Parts 368-399) for lists of countries included in each country group.

(d) Dunnage of usual and reasonable kinds and quantities necessary and appropriate to stow or secure cargo on the outgoing or any immediate return voyage of an exporting carrier, when exported solely for use as dunnage and not intended for unlading in a foreign country.

Sec. 30.57 Information on export declarations for shipments of types of goods covered by section 30.56 not conditionally exempt.—(a) In those cases where Shipper's Export Declarations are required for articles enumerated in section 30.56 (a) through (d) only by virtue of their being shipped under a bill of lading or an air waybill (no validated license is required) the export declaration should clearly show in the column for commodity description, in lieu of the complete commodity description a statement that the shipment consists of baggage, personal effects, household effects, ship's stores, crew's effects, or as appropriate. In such cases, Schedule B commodity numbers should not be shown on the declarations.

(b) In those cases where the articles enumerated in section 30.56(a) through (d) require a validated export license, (whether or not shipped under a bill of lading or an air waybill) the Shipper's Export Declaration must identify the shipment as baggage, personal effects, etc., and must contain all the information normally required for any exportation made under a validated export license, i.e. complete commodity description, license number, Schedule B number, quantity, value, etc.

Subpart E—General Requirements—Importers

Sec. 30.70 Statistical information required on import entries.—Information for statistics on merchandise entering the United States from foreign countries, from the Virgin Islands of the United States, and from U.S. Foreign Trade Zones is required to be reported by importers on the following Customs entry and withdrawal forms respectively required by U.S. Customs regulations for individual transactions: Customs Forms 7500, 7501, 7502, 7505, 7506, 7519, 7521, and 7535, and Customs Form 7512 when used to document withdrawal for exportation, transportation and exportation, withdrawal for transportation and exportation, and immediate export. The following items of information for statistics shall be reported on the respective forms:[9]

(a) District and Port Code. (All forms.) The Customs district code number and the port code number (as shown in Schedule D, Classification of Customs Districts and Ports) for the Customs port of entry or filing shall be supplied. (Where Customs does not require that the District and Port codes be inserted by importers, the codes will be filled in by Customs so that all entries and withdrawals received by the Bureau of the Census will bear these codes.)

(b) Importing vessel or carrier.

(1) (Customs Forms 7501, 7502, 7512, and 7521.) Information is required as to the carrier or means of transportation by which the merchandise was transported from a foreign country to the first port of unloading in the United States. If the merchandise has been further transported in bond between ports in the United States after having been unladen from the carrier on which it arrived in the United States, the name of the domestic carrier shall not be substituted, and the information furnished shall reflect the name of the carrier or means of transportation by which the merchandise arrived in the first U.S. port of unlading.

(2) For merchandise arriving in the United States by vessel, the name of the importing vessel is required. The importing vessel is the vessel which transported the merchandise from the foreign port of lading to the first U.S. port of unlading.

(3) For merchandise arriving in the United States by air, the name and nationality of the importing airline is required. The importing airline is the airline which carried the merchandise from the foreign port of lading to the first U.S. port of unlading, and not a domestic airline carrying the merchandise after the initial unlading in the United States.

(4) For merchandise arriving in the United States by means of transportation other than vessel or air, the means of transportation from the foreign country is required, in such terms as "parcel post," "registered mail," "railroad," "trucks," "pipeline," etc.

(c) Foreign port of lading.

(1) (Customs Forms 7501, 7502, 7512, and 7521.) For merchandise arriving in the United States by vessel or air, the name and country of the foreign port at which the merchandise was actually loaded on the vessel or aircraft that carried the merchandise to the United States is required. For shipments originating in either Canada or Mexico, and arriving in the United States from Canada or Mexico by rail, truck, pipeline, or other nonvessel/nonair mode of transportation, supply the name of the province (Canada) or state (Mexico) where the merchandise was first loaded for exportation to the United States.

(2) For merchandise transshipped overseas in the course of shipment to the United States, whether or not covered by a through bill of lading, the information furnished shall reflect only the foreign port at which the merchandise was loaded on the vessel, aircraft, or other carrier which transported it to the first U.S. port of unlading. Neither the foreign port of original lading nor any port of lading other than the last foreign port of lading shall be substituted. When a single Customs form covers merchandise loaded at more than one foreign port, the foreign port of lading shall be indicated separately above

[9] The information required for statistical purposes is in most cases also required by Customs regulations for other purposes. (See section 30.80 for special reporting instructions for merchandise entering United States Customs Territory from United States Foreign Trade Zones.)

each item (or group of items) for the merchandise loaded at each foreign port.

(1) (Customs Forms 7501, 7502, 7512, and 7521.) For merchandise arriving in the United States by vessel or air, the U.S. port (as listed in Schedule D) at which the merchandise was unloaded from the importing vessel or aircraft is required, whether or not such port is a Customs port of entry. (For example, if entry is filed at the Port of Los Angeles for merchandise unloaded from the importing vessel at Long Beach, California, the entry should show Long Beach as the port of unlading.)

(2) When merchandise is transported in bond from the U.S. port where unladen from the importing vessel or carrier to another U.S. port or ports to be entered for consumption or warehouse, the port of unlading required to be shown on the consumption or warehouse entry is the port or point where the merchandise was unladen from the importing vessel or carrier before transportation in bond.

(e) Date of importation. (All forms.) For merchandise arriving in the United States by vessel, the month, day, and year on which the importing vessel transporting the merchandise from the foreign country arrived within the limits of the U.S. port at which the merchandise was or is to be unladen is required. The date of importation to be reported for merchandise arriving in the United States other than by vessel is the date on which the merchandise arrives within the limits of the United States.

(f) Country of origin.

(1) (All forms.) Country of origin shall be in the "marks and numbers and country of origin" column on entry and withdrawal forms (in the "marks and numbers" column on Forms 7512 and 7500) the "country of origin" space on the Special Customs Invoice form, and in a conspicuous place on commercial invoices supplied to Customs where the Special Customs Invoice form is not required. On multipage entries, country of origin should be shown on each page.

(2) Country of origin shall be reported in terms of the names designated in Schedule C, Classification of Country Designations For U.S. Foreign Trade Statistics, unless a more specific geographic area is required to be shown for other purposes. The country of origin is defined as the country in which the product was mined, grown or manufactured. Further labor, work or material added to an article in another foreign country or the Virgin Islands of the United States must effect a substantial transformation in order to render such other country the "country of origin." Such substantial transformations include smelting of ores, refining of crude products, and the like. The country of origin is not changed when the merchandise is subjected in another country merely to minor manipulations, such as sorting, grading, and the like. When the merchandise is invoiced in or exported from a country other than that in which it originated, the actual country of origin shall be specified rather than the country of invoice or exportation. The country of origin for imports of scrap and waste is the country in which the merchandise was reduced to scrap or waste. In the case of such commodities as industrial diamonds or antiques, if the origin of the merchandise is not known or cannot be ascertained with reasonable effort, the country from which the merchandise has been shipped shall be shown and shall be indicated as the "Country of Shipment."

(3) Except as provided below, the country of origin shown on import entries and withdrawals should be based on information furnished by the foreign supplier on import invoices. The importer should inform his foreign supplier of the requirements and definitions of this section and instruct the foreign supplier to furnish information on the invoice as to country of origin in accordance with the above definition. If an invoice from the foreign supplier is not available at the time of entry, the importer shall enter the correct country of origin according to his best knowledge. In any case where the importer has reliable knowledge that the country of origin shown on the invoice is incorrect, he shall enter on the form the correct country of origin according to his best knowledge, indicating that it is a correction.

(4) When a single Customs form covers merchandise from more than one country of origin, the country of origin shall be indicated separately against each item (or group of items).

(g) Description of merchandise. (All forms.) Except on Customs Form 7512 when used as a Transportation and Exportation (T and E) or Immediate Exportation (I E) entry, the description of merchandise shall be in terms of the Tariff Act in accordance with the Tariff Schedules of the United States Annotated for Statistical Reporting (TSUSA) and in sufficient detail to permit the identification of the TSUSA statistical reporting number to which each commodity properly belongs. The name of the commodity and any and all characteristics of the commodity which distinguish it from commodities of the same name covered by other TSUSA statistical reporting numbers shall be clearly and fully stated. For merchandise classified in TSUSA classifications for which the instruction "specify by name" is shown in TSUSA the specific name of the commodity or a further identifying description in addition to the description in the more general terms of the commodity classification definition is required. When Customs Form 7512 is used as a Transportation and Exportation or Immediate Exportation entry importers need only report in terms of the first five digits of TSUSA (i.e., in terms of TSUS).

(h) Gross weight in pounds. (Customs Forms 7501, 7502, 7512, and 7521, for merchandise transported to the United States by vessel or air only.) Gross shipping weight in pounds shall be reported in column (2a) immediately below the description of merchandise (in "Gross Weight in Pounds" column on Form 7512 on the same horizontal line with value). Separate gross weight information is required for the merchandise covered by each reporting number, but if gross weight is not available for each reporting number included in one or more packages, approximate shipping weight for each item shall be estimated and reported. The total of these estimated weights should equal the actual gross shipping weight of the entire package or packages. However, for containerized cargo carried in lift vans, cargo vans, or similar substantial outer containers, the weight of such containers should not be included in the gross shipping weight of the merchandise covered by each reporting number.

(i) Net quantity. (All forms except 7535.) When a unit of quantity is specified in TSUSA for the reporting number under which the item is reported, net quantity shall be reported in the specified unit, and (except where the unit is "No." (number)) the unit in which reported shall also be shown on the entry following the net quantity figure. In cases where two units of quantity are shown for the commodity in TSUSA, net quantity shall be reported on the import entry in each of the specified units with the unit indicated in each case. The quantity in terms of the unit marked with a superior "v" in TSUSA should be shown on the entry on the same horizontal line with the value. The quantity in terms of any other units specified in TSUSA should be shown below the first quantity and should be enclosed in parentheses. If no unit of quantity is specified in TSUSA for the reporting number under which the item is reported, net quantity is not required to be reported on the import entry, and an "X" shall be entered in the "net quantity" column. Where the unit of quantity specified in TSUSA is "tons," long tons of 2,240 pounds shall be reported unless short tons of 2,000 pounds are specified in TSUSA. Quantities shall be shown in whole units unless fractions of units are required for Customs purposes.

(j) Value. (All forms.) The dollar value shall be reported on the forms in accordance with the definitions set forth in the Tariff Schedules of the United States Annotated (TSUSA) and sections 402 and 402a of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended. Moreover, the value shall be reported in accordance with the format prescribed in the U.S. Customs Regulations.

(k) TSUSA reporting number. (All forms.) Except on Customs Form 7512 when used as an intransit entry, the reporting number according to the current edition of the Tariff Schedules of the United States Annotated shall be shown in the column provided on the form. The reporting number assigned shall reflect the correct TSUSA classification of the merchandise and be consistent with the rate of duty applicable to the commodity. Where correct reporting as indicated in TSUSA requires the use of more than one TSUSA commodity number, all required reporting numbers will be shown for an item on the Customs form. On Customs Form 7512 when used as a Transportation and Exportation or Immediate Exportation entry, the reporting number, the first five digits of TSUSA (TSUS), is required to be shown in the column provided on the form for "Description and Quantity of Merchandise." This code should appear to the right of that column, on the same line as the reported gross weight and value.

Subpart F—Special Provisions for Particular Types of Import Transactions

Sec. 30.80 Merchandise entering U.S. Customs Territory from U.S. Foreign Trade Zones.—The information for statistics on merchandise entering U.S. Customs Territory from U.S. Foreign Trade Zones to be reported on the Customs entry and withdrawal forms required by U.S. Customs Regulations is the same as that required to be reported for merchandise entering the United States directly from foreign countries, except as provided or more fully explained below.

(a) Importing vessel or carrier. (Customs Forms 7500, 7501, 7502, 7505, 7506, 7512[10] and 7521.) Information is required as to the carrier (name of vessel or airline) or means of transportation by which the merchandise was transported from the foreign country to the U.S. Foreign Trade Zone. If an import entry covers merchandise which arrived at the Foreign Trade Zone in more than one vessel or aircraft, the name of the vessel or airline shall be indicated separately against each item (or group of items) comprising the cargo of each different vessel or aircraft.

(b) Foreign port of lading. (Customs Forms 7501 and 7502.) For merchandise which arrived by vessel or air, the name and country of the foreign port at which the merchandise was loaded on the vessel or aircraft that carried it to the U.S. Foreign Trade Zone or to the first U.S. port of unlading prior to entry into the Zone is required. For shipments originating in either Canada or Mexico and arriving from Canada or Mexico by rail, truck, pipeline, or other nonvessel/nonair mode of transportation, the name of the province (Canada) or state (Mexico) where the merchandise was first loaded onto the carrier for exportation to the United States Foreign Trade Zone or to the United States prior to entry into the Zone is required.

(c) U.S. port of unlading. (Customs Forms 7501 and 7502.) For merchandise which arrived by vessel or air, the name of the U.S. Foreign Trade Zone where the merchandise was unloaded from the vessel or aircraft or the first U.S. port of unlading where it was unloaded prior to entry into the Zone, as the case may be, is required.

(d) Date of importation. (All forms.) The month, day and year on which the importing vessel or carrier which transported the merchandise from the foreign country arrived at the U.S. Foreign Trade Zone at which it was unladen is required to be shown immediately following the name of the vessel or carrier. In such cases, the date required to be shown as the date of importation is the date the merchandise entered U.S. Customs Territory from the U.S. Foreign Trade Zone. For "privileged foreign merchandise" the date required to be shown as date of importation is the date Customs Form 7502 was filed in application for privileged status.

Sec. 30.81 Imports of Merchandise into Guam.—(a) Carriers of merchandise to Guam shall not be permitted to unload cargo in Guam until the master or other person in charge of the carrier shall deliver to the Government of Guam at the place of unloading a manifest, cargo list, freight list or equivalent document showing a detailed account of merchandise destined for Guam on board such carrier, with the numbers and description of the packages according to their usual name or designation.

(b) For each shipment imported into Guam except as listed in paragraph (d) below, the importer in Guam shall furnish to the Government of Guam at the port of entry of the merchandise at the time of or prior to taking possession of such merchandise, the commercial invoice covering the shipment attached to a copy of the bill of lading or air waybill signed by the carrier. (Where the shipment is one for which no bill of lading (or air waybill) is utilized only a copy of the commercial invoice need be furnished.) In individual cases, where warranted in the opinion of the Government of Guam, the Government of Guam may release merchandise to the consignee prior to receipt of the commercial invoice and/or bill of lading or air waybill in the case of perishable articles or other merchandise, the immediate delivery of which is necessary.

[10] Not required on Customs Form 7512 for merchandise being shipped in transit through the United States from a U.S. Foreign Trade Zone to a foreign country.

(c) Information concerning individual transactions furnished to the Government of Guam pursuant to these regulations may not be disclosed by those having possession of or access to any copies of such information for official purposes, to anyone other than the exporter or importer except as specifically directed by the Bureau of the Census.

(d) The following kinds of shipments are not to be included in the statistics on shipments from the United States to Guam and the documentation prescribed in paragraphs (a) and (b) above shall not be required for statistical purposes:

(1) Shipments to the U.S. Armed Forces;

(2) Shipments of office furniture, office equipment, and office supplies, to and for the exclusive use of U.S. Government offices;

(3) Baggage and personal effects, accompanied or unaccompanied, of persons leaving the U.S., and tools of trade, as described in Section 30.56 (a) and (b).

Sec. 30.82 Identification of U.S. merchandise returned for repair and reexport.—Import entries covering U.S. merchandise imported temporarily for repair or alteration and reexport are required to show the following statement: "Imported for Repair and Reexport."

Sec. 30.83 Statistical copy of mail and informal entries.—A legible copy of all mail and informal entries is required for statistical purposes. In addition to the information required to be shown for Customs purposes, the value is also required to be shown for all merchandise including that not subject to duty.

Subpart G—General Administrative Provisions

Sec. 30.90 Confidential information, import entries and withdrawals.—The contents of the statistical copies of import entries and withdrawals on file with the Bureau of the Census are treated as confidential and will not be released without authorization by the U.S. Customs Service, in accordance with the policy set forth in 19 C.F.R. 103.4 (Customs Regulations) relating to the copies on file in Customs offices.

Sec. 30.91 Confidential information, Shipper's Export Declarations.—(a) Confidential status. The Shipper's Export Declaration is an official Department of Commerce form, prescribed jointly by the Bureau of the Census and the Bureau of East-West Trade. Information supplied thereon is confidential, for use solely for official purposes authorized by the Secretary of Commerce. Use for unauthorized purposes is not permitted. Information on Shipper's Export Declarations may not be disclosed to anyone except the exporter or his agent by those having possession of or access to any copy for official purposes, except as provided in paragraph (e) of this section.

(b) Copying of information to manifests not permitted. Since certain types of information from the outward manifests of ocean carriers can be made public under the provisions of the Customs Regulations, carriers are not permitted to copy information to manifests (or to bills of lading used in lieu of a listing of cargo on a manifest) from Shipper's Export Declarations in their possession for official purposes, except for (1) the bill of lading number on the declaration, (2) information on the declaration which is identical with bills of lading or other sources of information available to the carrier, and (3) items of information which are required by Export Administration Regulations to be identical or consistent on both documents.

(c) Supplying of copies by exporters for unofficial purposes not permitted. The regulations in this part spell out precise definitions to be followed in reporting information on Shipper's Export Declarations. Strict adherence to these definitions is necessary if the official purposes for which the forms are required are to be effectively accomplished. Because of the possibility that for other purposes different definitions would be appropriate, the supplying by exporters of any copies (or of the information from copies) for any unofficial purpose is considered detrimental to official objectives and is not permitted.

(d) Limitations on issuance and reproduction of copies. Consistent with the policy stated in paragraph (c) of this section, and with the confidential status of the document generally, the following limitations are placed upon the issuance of copies to exporters or their agents:

(1) A copy of a Shipper's Export Declaration may be supplied to exporters or their agents only when such a copy is needed by the exporter to comply with: (i) official requirements for presentation of a copy to the exporting carrier as authorization for export, (ii) export control requirements, or (iii) U.S. Department of Agriculture requirements for proof of export in connection with subsidy payments. Copies issued to exporters or their agents under subdivisions (ii) or (iii) of this subparagraph will be stamped as follows by the Customs Director:

> Certified pursuant to the Export Administration Regulations or to fulfill the requirements of a Federal AGency and not for any other purpose. May not be reproduced in any form.

(2) Use of copies of the Shipper's Export Declaration in connection with claims for exemption from internal revenue taxes or state taxes is not permitted.

(e) Determination by the Secretary of Commerce. When the Secretary of Commerce determines that the withholding of information provided by an individual Shipper's Export Declaration is contrary to the national interest, he may make such information available, taking such safeguards and precautions to limit dissemination as he deems appropriate under the circumstances. In recommendations regarding such actions, the Bureau of the Census will, in general, consider that it is not contrary to the national interest to withhold information on Shipper's Export Declaration from private individuals or business (except the exporter or his agent) or from state or local government agencies or officials, regardless of the purposes for which the information may be requested. In recommendations regarding any other requests for access to official copies, a judgment in the light of circumstances will be made as to whether it is contrary to the national interest to withhold the information, keeping in view that the maintenance of confidentiality has itself an important element of national interest.

Sec. 30.92 Statistical classification schedule.—The following statistical classification schedules referred to in the regulations in this part are hereby incorporated by reference. Information as to where copies may be obtained is indicated. Copies are available for public inspection at the offices of local Customs Directors and Department of Commerce District Offices.

TSUSA—Tariff Schedules of the United States Annotated for Statistical Reporting, as currently revised, shows the 7-digit statistical reporting number to be used in preparing import entries and withdrawal forms. TSUSA may be purchased from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402, local Customs Directors, or Department of Commerce District Offices located in principal cities. Purchase price includes the basic schedule plus revisions as currently issued for an indefinite period.

Schedule B—Statistical Classification of Domestic and Foreign Commodities Exported from the United States, as currently revised, shows the detailed commodity classification requirements and 7-digit statistical reporting numbers to be used in preparing Shipper's Export Declarations, as required by these regulations. Schedule B may be purchased from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402, local Customs Directors, or Department of Commerce District Offices located in principal cities. Purchase price includes the basic schedules and supplements issued irregularly, covering revisions in the schedule for an indefinite period.

Schedule C—Classification of Country Designations For U.S. Foreign Trade Statistics. Free from the Bureau of the Census, Washington, D.C. 20233.

Schedule D—Classification of Customs Districts and Ports. Free from the Bureau of the Census, Washington, D.C. 20233.

Schedule P—Commodity Classification for Reporting Shipments from Puerto Rico to the United States. Free from the Bureau of the Census, Washington, D.C. 20233.

Sec. 30.93 Emergency exceptions.—In individual cases of emergency, where strict enforcement of the regulations in this part would create undue hardship, the Foreign Trade Division of the Bureau of the Census, with the concurrence of the Office of Export Administration in cases where export control requirements are also involved, may authorize such postponements of or exceptions to the requirements of the regulations in this part as are warranted by the circumstances and not inconsistent with the aims of this chapter.

Sec. 30.94 Instructions to Customs.—Instructions of a continuing nature to Customs with respect to the forwarding of statistical copies of forms and the preparation of special statistical reports not involving requirements upon the public will not be included in the regulations in this part, but will, instead be transmitted to Customs through appropriate administrative channels.

Sec. 30.95 Penalties for violations.—Any person who violates any provisions of this part, except for violations of the provisions relating to delayed filing of documents under bond as provided by section 30.24, shall be liable to the United States in civil penalty not exceeding $1,000 for each violation, as authorized by section 305 of chapter 9 of title 13 of the United States Code.

XX. EXPORT CONTROL REGULATIONS

Export control regulations of the Bureau of International Commerce will be found in the "Comprehensive Export Schedule". Additional instructions and information is published in "Supplementary Instructions for district directors of Customs". A "Commodity Identification Manual" is also available to assist in identifying merchandise subject to physical examination. The export control regulations are also contained in Chapter III, Title 15, Code of Federal Regulations. Part 386, stating the general export clearance requirements, is of most interest to Customs officers, and reads as follows:

Sec. 386.1 General export clearance requirements.—(a) Responsibility of licensee and agent. Under the Export Control Regulations, the exporter to whom a validated license is issued or who undertakes to export under a general license is legally responsible for the proper use of that license and for the due performance of all its terms and provisions. This responsibility continues even when he acts through a freight forwarder or other forwarding agent.

(b) Exports by mail—(1) Validated license shipments. No export under a validated license may be made by mail, including surface and air parcel post, until the sender (exporter) has entered the complete validated license number on the address side of the parcel and on a duly executed Shipper's Export Declaration covering the commodity to be mailed, whether or not a declaration is required by the United States Customs Service.[1]

(2) General license shipments and shipments without an export license—(i) Declaration required. Unless otherwise set forth specifically by the Export Control Regulations or by the Bureau of Census Foreign Trade Statistics Regulations (see Subpart D), the sender shall present to the post office at the place of mailing, a duly executed Declaration for each shipment to any destination under a general license (or to Canada or any other destination for which an export license is not required), from one business concern to another business concern when the shipment consists of a commodity(ies) valued at more than $250. A declaration is not required for noncommercial shipments.

(ii) Designation on declaration and parcel. The sender shall enter on the declaration the symbol of the applicable general license. Regardless of whether a declaration is required, the general license symbol shall also be written on the address side of the parcel followed by the phrase "Export License Not Required." No notation need be made on the package if the export is made under General License GTDA or GTDR. In addition, for a gift parcel exported under General License GIFT, the word "GIFT" shall be entered on the Customs declaration tag. The general license symbol and phrase constitute a certification by the sender to the post office and to the Office of Export Control that the shipment is made under the authority of the general license indicated.

(c) Exports by means other than mail—(1) Presentation of declaration. Except as provided in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, the exporter or his agent must present a duly executed Shipper's Export Declaration to the exporting carrier before the vessel, aircraft, or overland transport departs. The exporting carrier is responsible for the completeness and accuracy of the information on the declaration regarding the name of the exporting carrier (and flag for shipments by vessel), foreign port of unloading, and bill of lading or air waybill number. If the carrier is required to file a cargo manifest with the United States Customs Service, the declaration shall be submitted with the manifest. If the carrier is not required to file a cargo manifest with the United States Customs Service, the declaration must be submitted before the carrier departs.

[1] Shipper's Export Declaration, Form 7525-V, may be obtained from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402, local customs offices, and U.S. Department of Commerce Field Offices (see list on page 1 under Field Office Addresses). Price of the form is $1 for a pad of 100.

(2) Exceptions. A declaration is not required for:

(i) Any shipment, other than a shipment made under a validated export license, to Country Group T, V, or X if the shipment is valued at $250 or less. (As used here "shipment" means all commodities classified under a single seven-digit Schedule B Number, shipped on the same carrier, from one exporter to one importer.);

(ii) Any shipment reported under the provisions of the Monthly Rep Procedure (section 386.3(r)) or

(iii) Any shipment made under any other exception provided elsewhere in this part or in Part 371 of this chapter. (A complete list of such exceptions is set forth in Subpart D of the Census Bureau Foreign Trade Statistics Regulations.)

(3) Exports not requiring a license. Unless otherwise set forth in the Export Control Regulations or in the Bureau of the Census Foreign Trade Statistics Regulations (see Subpart D), a declaration is required for exports to Canada or to any other destination not requiring either a validated or a general license.

Sec. 386.2 Use of a validated license.[2]—(a) License valid for shipment from any port. A license may authorize exports from the United States from any port of export, or port of origin. Commodities or technical data which leave the United States at one port, cross adjacent foreign territory, and reenter the United States at another port before final export to a foreign country will be treated as an export from the last U.S. port of export.

(b) Shipments against expiring license—(1) Commodities ready for loading or laden. (i) Commodities which are (a) laden aboard the exporting carrier, or (b) ready for lading and located on a pier for lading, and not for storage, prior to midnight of the expiration date of a license, may depart with the vessel even though the vessel does not clear until after the expiration date of the license.

(ii) Further, where the vessel is expected to be available at the pier for loading before the license expires, but exceptional and unforeseen circumstances delay it, the commodities may be exported without an extension of the license, if in the judgment of the customs office undue hardship would otherwise result.

(2) Other shipments. A shipment not coming within the above provisions may not be exported against an expiring license, unless the license is extended by the Office of Export Control.

(c) Reshipment of undelivered shipments. A shipment cleared under a validated export license may not be received by the ultimate consignee because the exporting carrier failed to deliver it. In such cases, the same, or an identical commodity, in the quantity or value shipped may be exported under the same license to the same consignee and destination, if satisfactory evidence of the original export and of the failure to deliver the shipment, together with a satisfactory explanation of the delivery failure, is submitted to the Office of Export Control. If a commodity is to be reexported to any person other than the original consignee, the shipment is deemed to be a new export and is subject to all current Export Control Regulations regarding the specific commodity and destination.

(d) Records of validated license shipments—(1) Entries on reverse side of license. The exporter or his agent shall maintain complete records of all shipments made against each validated license by recording each shipment on the reverse side of the license document in accordance with the following instructions:

(i) Quantity. Enter total quantity shipped in units shown on the license, including any amounts shipped under the tolerance provisions of section 386.7;

(ii) Description. Enter Export Control Commodity Number (including the italicized digit(s) in parentheses) and an abbreviated description of the commodity as shown on the license. Where the license covers two or more commodities, indicate clearly which commodity(ies) is being shipped;

(iii) Value. Enter total value of the commodities (selling price, or cost if not sold, including inland freight, insurance, and other costs to U.S. port of export, to the nearest whole dollar);

(iv) Name of exporting carrier. Enter name of vessel or airline on which shipment is exported. If other type of transportation is used, specify; e.g., truck, ferry, rail;

(v) Port of export or post office of mailing. Enter name of the port from which the shipment leaves the United States or the post office where the shipment is mailed;

(vi) Date. Enter date the shipment leaves the United States (if exact date not known, enter approximate date); and

(vii) Customs officer or postmaster. Enter the initials of the person recording the shipment data.

(2) Export clearance continuation sheet. If the reverse side of the export license is filled before shipments are completed, other shipments shall be recorded on a continuation sheet conforming to the format of the license. Continuation sheets shall be affixed to the license and numbered consecutively, and the export license number shall be entered on the top of each sheet. Continuation sheets become part of the license and shall be returned with the license to the Office of Export Control.

(3) Periodic Requirements (PRL) License. Shipments under a periodic requirements license shall be recorded in accordance with the terms of the license. For example, if the license breaks down the quantity and/or value by Export Control Commodity Number, records shall be kept according to Export Control Commodity Number. If the consignee list shows quantities or values for individual consignees, shipments shall be recorded accordingly. In the absence of any of these breakdowns, shipment data shall be recorded as provided in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph.

(4) Return of licenses. When the full quantity authorized for export under a validated license has been exported, or when it is otherwise determined that the license will not be further used, the license shall be forwarded promptly to the Office of Export Control (Attention: 854) U.S. Department of Commerce, Washington, D.C. 20230. Until forwarded, these licenses as well as all other export records shall be made available for inspection by the U.S. Government promptly upon demand.

Sec. 386.3 Shipper's export declaration.—(a) Presentation requirement. All copies of Shipper's Export Declarations that are required to be presented to a customs office shall be presented at the port of export.

(b) Declaration as export control document. Under the Export Control Regulations a Shipper's Export Declaration is a statement declaring the existence of a validated export license or permission for an export under an applicable general license. Such document may be used only by the exporter or his duly authorized forwarding agent for the purpose of exporting, facilitating, or effecting the export of a commodity(ies) requiring a validated or general license under the Export Control Regulations issued pursuant to the Export Administration Act.

(c) Limitation of effective period of declaration. No declaration shall be used to export, or facilitate or effect an export, after the expiration of the applicable validated license or after the termination of the applicable general license, except as provided in sections 372.9(d) of this chapter and 386.2(b). The validity period of an export license includes any extension provided by any saving clause or regulation.

(d) Who may submit declaration. A declaration may be submitted to the customs office only by the exporter or his carrier or the duly authorized forwarding agent of the exporter. A carrier, not otherwise acting as a forwarding agent, may deliver an executed declaration to the customs office without specific authorization from the exporter.

(e) Forwarding agent—(1) Definition of "forwarding agent." For the purpose of this part, a "forwarding agent" means a person authorized by an exporter to perform for the exporter actual services which facilitate the export of the commodities or technical data described in the declaration. These services include, but are not limited to, preparing the declaration and clearing the shipment by submission of documents to the customs officers or export control officers. A "forwarding agent" need not be a person regularly engaged in the freight forwarding business. A "forwarding agent" shall be designated by the exporter in writing in the power of attorney set forth on the declaration or in a general power of attorney, or other written form, subscribed and sworn to by a duly authorized officer or employee of the exporter.

(2) Forwarding agent as true agent. Unless the exporter states otherwise in the power of attorney or other written form, the forwarding agent named by the exporter shall be deemed the true agent of the exporter for export control and customs purposes. However, the power of attorney or other authorization designating a forwarding agent does not make such agent the sole and exclusive forwarding agent of the exporter for all exports. Where a forwarding agent is suggested by the foreign buyer in a transaction (rather than by the seller in the United States) a form of designation on the declaration which limits the authority granted to the particular transaction involved would be appropriate. The seller may, however, insist that the agent for the foreign buyer apply for the license. (See section 372.3(b)(1) of this chapter.)

(3) Form of powers of attorney. The sample form "Power-of-Attorney—Designation of Forwarding Agent" (see Supplement S-17 for facsimile) fixes responsibility of the exporter for exports made through a forwarding agent. This suggested form conforms to usual business practice in establishing agency relationship, but its use is not mandatory. The exporter may use any written form of designation, provided it is subscribed and sworn to by a duly authorized officer or employee of the exporter, before a notary public, or other person authorized to administer oaths. Such authorization shall clearly indicate that the party named is authorized to represent the exporter for export control and customs purposes. The extent of the authority, as in the power of attorney, may be restricted with respect to time, country, commodity, specific license, or other matter. Such documents may also be used to designate one or more employees, or other persons, such as an export manager or agent, to in turn appoint as many forwarding agents as may be required.

(4) Redelegation of agent's authority. If a forwarding agent signs and swears to a declaration for clearance of an export through a port where he has no office, he shall furnish an authorization in writing to the person who will actually present the declaration to the customs office. He may also redelegate to another forwarding agent his authority to sign, swear to, and present declarations at such port: Provided, That the authorization from the exporter permits such redelegation or he obtains other written evidence of consent from the exporter. Proof of the authority of any person signing a power of attorney, or other authorization may be required. In general, however, such proof will be required only when there is some reason to doubt the authority of the person involved.

(5) Record and proof of agent's authority. The power of attorney or other authorization from the exporter shall be retained on file in the forwarding agent's office while the authorization is in force and for a period of 2 years after the last action taken by the forwarding agent under the authority. During this retention period, the forwarding agent shall make his delegation of authority from the exporter available for inspection on demand, in accordance with the provisions of section 387.11(f) of this chapter. This recordkeeping and inspection requirement also applies to any redelegation of the forwarding agent's authority and to any person to whom the forwarding agent redelegates his authority. (For further recordkeeping requirements see section 387.11 of this chapter.)

(f) Number of copies required. When a declaration is required, it shall be presented to the customs office at the port of export, or to the postmaster at the post office from which the shipment is mailed, in the number of copies specified below.

(1) Exports by means other than mail. Two copies of the declaration are required by the customs office at the port of export, except (i) only one copy is required for shipments to Canada and shipments between the United States and its territories and possessions, or (ii) an additional copy may be required by subparagraph (3) of this paragraph.

(2) Mail shipments—(i) General. For a mail shipment, one copy of the declaration shall be presented to the postmaster at the place of mailing when the shipment: (a) Is under a validated license, or (b) is of a commercial nature and its value is more than $250. Two copies shall be presented when an additional copy is required by subparagraph (3) of this paragraph.

(ii) Partial shipment against a validated license. In addition, when making a partial shipment by mail against a license, the sender (exporter) shall present to the postmaster a declaration.

(3) Additional copies of declaration. For export control purposes, the Office of Export Control, the customs office, or the postmaster may require additional copies of the declaration for exports under a validated license that contain special requirements for additional documents or information. (See paragraph (o) of this section.)

(g) Statements on declaration. Where a declaration is presented to a customs office or postmaster, the exporter represents that:

(1) All statements and information in the declaration have been furnished by him or on his behalf for the purpose of effecting an export under the Export Control Regulations;

(2) Export of the commodity(ies) described in the declaration is authorized under the general or validated export license therein identified;

(3) Statements contained in the declaration are identical in all respects with the contents of the validated license or the terms, provisions, and conditions of the applicable general license; and

(4) All other terms, provisions, and conditions of the Export Control Regulations applicable to the export have been met.

(h) Separate declarations required for general license and validated license commodities in same shipment—(1) General. Separate declarations are required for general license commodities and validated license commodities in the same shipment. They may not be combined on one declaration. However, a shipment made under two or more general licenses or two or more validated licenses may be combined on the same declaration.

(2) Exception. For a shipment consisting of commodities and the containers therefor, where either the commodities only, or the containers only, require a validated license, both the commodities and the containers shall be entered on the same declaration.

(i) Schedule B number and commodity description—(1) Schedule B number. The seven-digit Schedule B number, as shown in Schedule B, Statistical Classification of Domestic and Foreign Commodities Exported from the United States, shall be entered in the designated column of the declaration regardless of whether the shipment is moving under a validated or general license.

(2) Commodity description for validated license shipment—(i) General. The commodity description on the declaration for a shipment under a validated license shall be that shown on the related validated license. However, where part of the description on the license is underlined, only the underlined portions need be included on the declaration. The commodity description on the license will be stated in Commodity Control List terms, which may be inadequate to meet Census Bureau requirements. In this event, the commodity description on the declaration shall give enough additional detail to permit verification of the Schedule B number (e.g., size, material, or degree of fabrication).

(ii) Distinguishing characteristics or specifications. If a commodity classification in Schedule B has instructions such as "specify by name," "state species," etc., that information shall be furnished in the column of the declaration provided for the commodity description. When a single Shipper's Export Declaration covers more than one item classifiable under a single classification carrying the "specify by name" or similar requirement, each item shall be entered separately in this column. However, if more than five items are involved, all classifiable under one Schedule B number, only the five items of greatest value in the classification need be shown separately. Separate quantities, values, and shipping weights for individual items are not required in either case.

(3) Commodity description for general license shipments. The commodity description on the declaration for a shipment under a general license shall be in sufficient detail to permit verification of the seven-digit Schedule B number entered on the declaration.

(j) Validated license number or general license designation—(1) Exports under a validated license. The license number, as well as the commodity description, shall be shown in the commodity description column of a declaration covering an export under a validated license. In addition, the italicized digit(s) in parentheses at the end of the Export Control Commodity Number shall be added directly below the Schedule B Number.

(2) Exports under a general license. In addition to the commodity description, the general license designation shall be shown in the commodity description column of each declaration covering a shipment under a general license. If the commodity is to be exported under the provisions of General License GLV, the parenthetical digit shall also be shown immediately below the Schedule B Number.

(k) Optional ports of unlading—(1) Applicability. If, prior to the departure of the exporting carrier, the exporter does not know at what port the shipment will be unloaded, he may designate optional ports of unlading on the declaration and bill of lading or air waybill in accordance with this paragraph. In no case does this procedure apply to any shipment destined directly or indirectly to Country Group S, X, Y, or Z. (For shipments to other destinations via Hong Kong, see section 370.8 of this chapter.)

(2) General license shipments. (i) For exports under General License G-DEST, if the exporter does not know which of several countries in Country Groups T, V, and W is the country of ultimate destination, he may name optional ports of unlading in one or more of these countries.

(ii) When an export under any general license is shipped in transit through a country other than the country of ultimate destination, the exporter may designate optional ports of unlading in one or more countries, together with the name and address of the intermediate consignee in each country designated.

(iii) Optional ports of unlading, in all cases, shall be in a country to which the commodity or technical data may be shipped directly from the United States under the same or another applicable general license.

(3) Validated license shipments. For exports under a validated license, optional ports of unlading are restricted to the country of ultimate destination, unless the export license or amendment designates intermediate consignees in one or more other countries. In the latter case, the optional ports of unlading must be designated as optional intransit points on the declaration and bill of lading or air waybill.

(4) Correcting the declaration. As soon as the exporter learns at which port the commodities are to be unloaded—whether in the country of ultimate destination or in a country of transit—an Export Declaration Correction Form, Form FT-7403, should be filed with the customs office at the port of export where the original declaration was filed. The correction form shall specify the actual port of unlading and the name and address of the intermediate consignee, if any, to whom delivery is made. An intermediate consignee must be specified if the port of unlading is located in a country other than the country of ultimate destination. If the export is unloaded at more than one port, the quantity and value unloaded at each port and the name and address of each intermediate consignee should be given. (See paragraph (q) of this section for procedure to file a Form FT-7403.)

These commodities are foreign excess property disposed of by the U.S. Government.

(m) Signature on declaration. The signature on the declaration of the person making the declaration shall be that of the exporter or the forwarding agent named in the declaration, or a duly authorized officer or employee of either. In general, it will be deemed that the requisite authority rests with employees who, by their official titles, are apparently vested with power to deal with exports; such as export managers or such corporate officers as the president, vice president, treasurer, and secretary of a corporation, any partner of a partnership, and any responsible head of any other form of private or quasi-governmental organization, and assistance officers. The signature of such person, whether or not that of the exporter or employee, constitutes a representation by the exporter that all statements and information in the declaration are true and correct. In addition, if the signature is that of the forwarding agent, or his duly authorized officer or employee, such signature constitutes a like representation by the forwarding agent.

(n) Attachment to declaration. Additional copies of the declaration or copies of the continuation sheet form may be used where more space is required. In such cases, only one declaration form need be signed. The additional sheets shall be numbered in sequence and securely attached to the executed declaration form; and the following statement shall be inserted between the column provided for marks and numbers of the shipment and the column provided for its value:

This declaration consists of this sheet and ________ continuation sheets.

No portion of any form attached as a continuation sheet shall be torn off or removed.

(o) Special requirements for additional information and documents. (1) A validated license may bear on its face a requirement for specified documents (or information) in addition to that furnished when the application was filed. The licensee shall furnish these to the Office of Export Control (Attention: 848), U.S. Department of Commerce, Washington, D.C. 20230, as follows:

(i) Prepare one copy of the declaration in addition to the number of copies otherwise required.

(ii) Enter the required additional information in the space between the column provided for marks and numbers of the shipment and the column provided for its value on all copies of the declaration.

(iii) Unless otherwise specified on the license, attach the required documents (either original or certified copy) to the extra copy of the declaration.

(2) All such statements and documents will be deemed to constitute representations of material facts within the purview of the regulations prohibiting the making of false representations to the Office of Export Control in any export control matter (see section 387.5(b) of this chapter).

(p) Declaration for shipments moving in transit—(1) Applicability. The Shipper's Export Declaration for In-transit Goods, Commerce Form 7513,[3] should be used for the following types of transactions:

(i) Commodities shipped by vessel in transit through the United States from one foreign country or area to another, including merchandise destined from one foreign country to another and transshipped in U.S. ports; or

(ii) Foreign merchandise exported from a General Order Warehouse or a Foreign Trade Zone (unless, in the case of a Foreign Trade Zone, the customs office specifically permits the use of the Shipper's Export Declaration, Commerce Form 7525-V[3]).

Shipments in bond transiting the United States by means of any carrier other than a vessel may be cleared for export without presenting a Form 7513, unless a validated license is required for the export.

(2) Additional information. The following additional information shall be entered on a Shipper's Export Declaration for In-transit Goods:

(i) The name and address of the intermediate consignee in a foreign destination, if any, shall be shown below the description of the commodities;

(ii) Underneath the name and address of the intermediate consignee, one of the following statements shall be made, whichever is appropriate:

(a) For intransit shipments of foreign-origin merchandise (for definition of "foreign origin," see section 371.4(a) of this chapter):

The mechandise described herein is of foreign origin.

(b) For intransit shipments of domestic (U.S.) merchandise:

[3] Forms 7525-V and 7513 may be obtained from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402, and from local customs offices. Form 7525-V may also be obtained from U.S. Department of Commerce Field Offices (see list on page i under Field Office Addresses).

> The merchandise described herein is of the growth, production, or manufacture of the United States.

(c) For intransit shipments of commodities of U.S. origin excepted under section 371.4(a)(2) of this chapter:

> The merchandise described herein is of the growth, production, or manufacture of the United States, but comes within the exception granted by section 371.4(a)(2) of this chapter of the Export Control Regulations.

(iii) The commodities shall be described in terms of Schedule B, including the appropriate Schedule B number.

(q) Change, alteration and amendment of declaration. The declaration should not show evidence of change, alteration, or amendment, but shall be a clean copy. However, the exporter's duly authorized forwarding agent or the carrier shall insert or correct on declarations, required items of information peculiarly within his knowledge: U.S. port of export, method of transportation, exporting carrier, foreign port of unloading, pier or airport, and bill of lading or air waybill number. The forwarding agent or carrier making the insertion or correction must specifically identify the same in writing on the face of the declaration. Nothing herein shall relieve such forwarding agent or carrier from liability for any misrepresentation of facts inserted or corrected.

(r) Summary monthly reports in lieu of individual Shipper's Export Declarations—(1) Scope. An alternate procedure for reporting exports to Canada and to Country Groups Q, T, V, W, X, and Y is established under which qualified exporters may be authorized to file at the end of each month typewritten or handwritten Shipper's Summary Export Declarations (Form 7525-M), or computer tapes compatible with equipment of the Bureau of the Census, punched cards, etc., in lieu of individual Shipper's Export Declarations. Details of the procedure are set forth in section 30.39 of the Foreign Trade Statistics Regulations of the Bureau of the Census of this title. Exporters interested in the procedure should consult section 30.39 of this title to ascertain qualifications, how to apply for the privilege of participating, how to file a monthly report after approval is given, and other pertinent facts. This paragraph contains only basic information about the procedure and specific requirements relating exclusively to export controls.

(2) Certification required in application. A request for the privilege of participating should be forwarded to the Foreign Trade Division, Bureau of the Census, Washington, D.C. 20230, with a copy to the Office of Export Control (Attention: 852), Bureau of International Commerce, U.S. Department of Commerce, Washington, D.C. 20230. It shall include a certification by the exporter as follows:

> I (We) certify that I (We) have established adequate internal procedures and safeguards to assure compliance with the requirements set forth in the U.S. Department of Commerce Export Control Regulation and Foreign Trade Statistics Regulations. Among other things, these procedures and safeguards assure:
> (i) A proper determination as to whether a validated license is required for a particular export;
> (ii) Actual receipt of the validated license, if required, before the shipment is exported;
> (iii) Compliance with all the terms of the validated license or general license, as applicable;
> (iv) Return of validated licenses to the Office of Export Control, as provided in subparagraph (7) of this paragraph;
> (v) Compliance with the destination control statement provisions of sections 386.5 and 386.6;
> (vi) Compliance with the prohibition against export transactions that involve parties who have been denied U.S. export privileges; and
> (vii) Compliance with the recordkeeping requirements of section 387.11 of this chapter; and, in addition, I (We) agree that my (our) office records will be made available for inspection by the Bureau of the Census, the Office of Export Control, or the Bureau of Customs, upon request, to verify that a given shipment was properly included in a particular monthly report.

(3) Exporter's agent. Where the exporter intends to authorize a forwarding agent to file monthly reports on his behalf, the exporter's request shall include the name and address of each such forwarding agent.

(4) Authorization by Census to use monthly reporting procedure. Authorization to file monthly reports in lieu of individual declarations under this procedure will be granted by the Bureau of the Census with the concurrence of the Office of Export Control.

(5) Validated license. Persons or firms authorized to file monthly reports in lieu of individual declarations shall sign the license on the reverse side, as provided in section 386.2(d), fill in the information required by subparagraph (6) of this paragraph, and hold it until time to return it to the Office of Export Control as required by subparagraph (7) of this paragraph.

(6) Recording shipment on the reverse side of Export License (Form FC-628). The licensee or his forwarding agent shall record each shipment on the reversed side of the Export License (see Supplement S-3, page 2, for facsimile), as explained in section 386.2(d), and include a statement that shipments were made under the "Monthly Shipper's Export Declaration procedure."

(7) Return of licenses. Validated export licenses shall be returned to the Office of Export Control promptly after shipment is completed, when no further shipments are to be made, or when the license has been revoked or canceled, or has expired.

(8) Export clearance—(i) Destination control statement. In addition to his responsibility for assuring that the proper destination control statement is placed on the commercial invoice as required by section 386.6, the exporter or his forwarding agent is responsible for assuring that the carrier places the proper destination control statement on the related bill of lading or air waybill.

(ii) Detention and examination. Shipments being reported under this procedure are subject to detention and examination, as provided in section 386.8, whenever the customs office or postmaster deems such action necessary to assure compliance with the Export Control Regulations.

(9) Revocation of authorization. An authorization to file monthly reports in lieu of individual declarations, granted under section 30.39 of the Foreign Trade Statistics Regulations of this title and this paragraph, may be revoked, suspended, or revised at any time.

(10) Effect of other provisions. Insofar as consistent with the provisions of this paragraph that relate specifically to filing monthly reports in lieu of individual declarations, the other provisions of this part shall apply to exports reported under this procedure.

Sec. 386.4 Conformity of documents for validated license shipments.—(a) Applicability. The following rules of conformity apply to any shipment under a validated export license, except those under a consolidated "master" air waybill (other than airmail or air parcel post). However, these rules do apply to any individual air waybill issued by a consolidator (indirect carrier) for an export included in a consolidated shipment and to any air waybill issued by a carrier or other person covering an export not included in a consolidated shipment.

(b) Rules of conformity—(1) General. The validated export license, the declaration, and the outbound bill of lading (including a railroad through bill of lading) covering the same export shipment must be consistent with one another. The bill of lading, whether in negotiable or nonnegotiable form, is not consistent if:

(i) It does not provide for delivery of the shipment (cargo) at a port located in the country of either the ultimate or intermediate consignee named in the declaration.

(ii) It contains any indication that the shipment is in transit to a country of ultimate destination different from that named in the declaration, if there is reason to believe that the shipment is not for consumption in the country of ultimate destination. For example, it would be inconsistent to consign such a shipment to the ultimate destination with a qualifying phrase indicating the shipment is "in transit" at that destination, or to consign the shipment to a free zone or free port.

(iii) It names as shipper any person other than the licensee or his duly authorized forwarding agent. Where shipments from more than one licensee are consolidated on a single bill of lading, the shipper named on the bill of lading must also appear as the authorized forwarding agent for each exporter on each declaration.

(iv) The name and address of the ultimate consignee are not shown either in the space provided for "consignee" or in the body of the bill of lading under the caption "ultimate consignee and notify party" or, in the case of the air waybill, under the caption "also notify." However, where shipments to more than one ultimate consignee are consolidated on one bill of lading and not all are shown in the body of the bill of lading, the name of the intermediate consignee (customs broker or consolidator's agent in the foreign country) who will receive and distribute the commodities to the ultimate consignees must appear on the bill of lading, the validated license(s), and the declaration(s). Where the name of the intermediate consignee in such a consolidated shipment differs from that shown on each validated license or does not appear on each license, an amendment of the license(s) is necessary even though the intermediate consignee is in the same country as the ultimate consignees.

(2) Negotiable bill of lading. For a negotiable bill of lading ("order" bill of lading), the bill of lading is deemed consistent only if the consignee or order party named therein is also named in the declaration. An "order" bill of lading may consign the commodities or technical data covered thereby to the order of the shipper, to the order of an intermediate consignee (whether bank, foreign freight forwarder, or other intermediary), or to the order of the purchaser (if not the same as the ultimate consignee). An "order" bill of lading issued in any of these forms constitutes a representation by the shipper that (i) the commodities or technical data covered by the validated license, declaration, and bill of lading are ultimately destined to such ultimate consignee; (ii) the document has not been used for the purpose of evading the terms and conditions of the validated license; and (iii) pursuant to the contract of carriage, the commodities or technical data will be delivered at a port located in the country of the ultimate consignee or of the intermediate consignee named in the declaration.

(3) Commodity description. On a bill of lading the commodities or technical data may be described in terms of the freight tariff classification or other type of classification, but may not be inconsistent with the description shown in the declaration and validated export license. On the declaration the commodity description shall include the same commodity description as shown on the related validated license, and, in addition, it shall include more detailed information where required by the Census Bureau.

(4) Commodity numbers. The one-to-five digit Export Control Commodity Number shown on the export license shall be the same as the initial digits of the seven-digit Schedule B number entered on the declaration.

(5) Carrier's manifest. If the carrier's outward foreign manifest filed with the U.S. customs office contains the names of shippers or consignees, these names must not be inconsistent with the names shown on the bill of lading or the declaration.

(c) Compliance. No carrier shall issue, and no licensee, shipper, consignor, exporter, or consignee, or their agents, or any other person, shall prepare or procure a bill of lading that is contrary to the provisions of this section. Customs offices are authorized to require any document or to use any other appropriate methods to insure compliance with these provisions.

Sec. 386.5 General destination control requirements.—(a) Applicability to validated license shipments. The following provisions apply to all shipments under a validated license:

(1) Destination on bill of lading or air waybill. No carrier (nor any other person on behalf of any carrier) shall issue a bill of lading or air waybill providing for delivery of cargo at any foreign port not in the country of (i) the ultimate consignee, or (ii) the intermediate consignee, named in the Shipper's Export Declaration.

(2) Delivery of cargo. No carrier shall deliver cargo to any other country at the request or option of the shipper, consignor, exporter, purchaser, or ultimate consignee, or their agents, or any other person having custody or control of the shipment, without prior written authorization from the Office of Export Control to the carrier or its agent.

(3) Diversion. No shipper, consignor, exporter, purchaser, or ultimate consignee, or their agents, or any other person, shall, without prior written authorization from the Office of Export Control to the carrier or its agent:

(i) Divert any cargo to any country of ultimate destination other than that named in the declaration or in the bill of lading or air waybill as described in section 386.6; or

(ii) Request or demand that any carrier or its agent divert cargo from the country of ultimate destination named in any such document. In addition, no agent of any carrier shall instruct or authorize the master of the vessel to divert any cargo to any other country of ultimate destination without prior written authorization from the Office of Export Control.

(4) Optional ports on bill of lading or air waybill. No carrier shall issue a bill of lading or air waybill providing for delivery of cargo to the ultimate consignee named in the declaration at optional ports, where one of such optional ports is not in the country of ultimate destination named on the license or declaration, without prior written authorization from the Office of Export Control. However, where the declaration provides for delivery of cargo to optional intermediate consignees located in ports in different countries, the carrier may issue a bill of lading or air waybill providing for delivery at such optional ports.

(b) Unloading of cargo at a Port in other than intermediate or ultimate country of destination—(1) Reasons beyond carrier's control. Nothing contained in the Export Control Regulations shall be deemed to prohibit a carrier from unloading cargo at a port outside the intermediate or ultimate country of destination shown on the declaration where, for reasons beyond the control of the carrier (as set forth in the standard provisions of the carrier's bill of lading or air waybill, such as act of God, perils of the sea, damage to the carrier, strikes, war, political disturbances, or insurrections), it is not feasible to deliver the cargo at the licensed port of destination.

(2) Required actions for unscheduled loading. Whenever cargo is unloaded at a port in any country other than the intermediate or ultimate destination shown on the declaration, except where the cargo may be exported under a general license directly from the United States to such country:

(i) The carrier shall, within 10 days after the date of unloading, report the facts to the nearest American Consul and to the agent of the carrier located in the United States. Within 10 days after receipt of such report, the agent shall send a copy of the report to the Office of Export Control. This report shall consist of (a) a copy of the manifest of such diverted cargo, (b) a statement of the place of unloading, and (c) the name and address of the person in whose custody the commodities or technical data were delivered.

(ii) The exporter of such cargo shall, within 10 days of receiving notice of such diversion from the Office of Export Control notify the Office of Export Control of the proposed disposition of the commodities or technical data.

(iii) No person, including the exporter, licensee, consignee, carrier, or any person acting on the carrier's behalf, shall take any steps to effect delivery or entry of the commodities or technical data into the commerce of the country where unloaded without prior approval of the Office of Export Control. The carrier shall take steps to assure that such commodities or technical data are placed in custody under the bond or other guaranty not to enter the commerce of such country or any country other than the countries of the ultimate and intermediate consignees shown on the declaration without such prior approval.

Sec. 386.6 Destination control statements.—(a) Requirement for destination control statement. An appropriate destination control statement shall be entered on the bill of lading, the air waybill, and the commercial invoice, for any export under:

(1) A validated license;

(2) General License GLV, GMS, GTF-US, GTE, or GLR; or

(3) General License D-DEST if:

(i) The value of the shipment exceeds $250; and

(ii) The commodity exported is identified by the symbol "Y" in the "Validated License Required" column of the Commodity Control List.

A destination control statement is mandatory for the exports described above. The same statement shall appear on all copies of all such shipping documents that apply to the same shipment. At the discretion of the exporter or his agent, a destination control statement may also be entered on the shipping documents covering any other exports.

(b) [Reserved]

(c) Statement to be used. There are three destination control statements (see paragraph (d) of this section), any one of which may be used, as follows:

(1) Shipments under General License GMS. For a shipment under General License GMS, Statement 1 only shall be used.

(2) Shipments under a general license other than GMS. For a shipment under any general license other than General License GMS, any of the three statements may be used.

(3) Validated license shipments. For a shipment under a validated license, either Statement 1 or Statement 2 shall be used. Statement 1 should be used where the license shows that the commodities or technical data are licensed for export to the country of ultimate destination only. Statement 2 should be used where the license specifically shows that the commodities or technical data may be distributed or resold to other specified countries.

These (commodities) (technical data) licensed by the United States for ultimate destination (name of country). Diversion contrary to U.S. law prohibited.

The country of ultimate destination[4] [5] named on the declaration, and if applicable on the validated license, shall be entered in the blank country space.

(2) Statement 2.

These (commodities) (technical data) licensed by the United States for ultimate destination (name of country) and for distribution or resale in (name of country(ies)). Diversion contrary to U.S. law prohibited.

The country spaces shall be completed as follows:

(i) General license shipments. For a shipment under a general license other than General License GMS:

[4] Where the country of ultimate destination is Vietnam, the destination control statement shall be completed as required by section 385.4(d) of this chapter regardless of the country designation shown on the declaration and regardless of whether the shipment is under a validated or general license.

[5] On bills of lading, air waybills, and invoices, preprinted destination control statements may be used in which the country of ultimate destination is clearly and unambiguously indicated by reference to a designated entry elsewhere on the same document.

(a) The country of ultimate destination[4] named on the declaration shall be entered in the first space; and

(b) The following shall be entered in the last space:

> Any destination except Soviet Bloc,[6] the People's Republic of China, North Korea, Macao, Hong Kong, Communist controlled areas of Vietnam, Cuba, or Southern Rhodesia, unless otherwise authorized by the United States.

If the export requires a validated license for Poland or Romania, these countries shall be included in the last space. If the export does not require a validated license for a country in the prohibited list, that country may be deleted.

(ii) Validated license shipments. For a validated license shipment:

(a) The country of ultimate destination named on the license shall be entered in the first space; and

(b) The country(ies) shown on the license as approved for distribution or resale shall be entered in the last space. If no such country is shown on the license, the word "none" shall be entered in the last place.

(3) Statement 3.

> U.S. law prohibits disposition of these commodities to the Soviet Bloc,[6] the People's Republic of China, North Korea, Macao, Hong Kong, Communist controlled areas of Vietnam, Cuba, or Southern Rhodesia, unless otherwise authorized by the United States.

Statement 3 permits distribution or resale to any country in the world other than those specifically excepted. If the export does not require a validated license for an excepted country, that country may be deleted. If the export requires a validated license for Poland and Romania, add these countries to the prohibited destination listed in this statement.

(e) Preprinted statement. A destination control statement may be preprinted on bills of lading, air waybills, or commercial invoices. But in this case, only one of the three destination control statements above may be shown on any one of these documents.

(f) Permissive reexports. If an exporter or his agent uses a more restrictive destination control statement than is necessary, the reexport provisions of section 374.2 of this chapter may nevertheless authorize reexport to certain destinations. Where reexport is authorized, the exporter may so advise his foreign importer without obtaining further authorization from the Office of Export Control. In all other instances, specific authorization shall be obtained from the Office of Export Control (see section 374.3 of this chapter).

(g) Responsibility for use of statement—(1) Primary responsibility—(i) General. The exporter has the primary responsibility for assuring entry of an appropriate destination control statement on the commercial invoice, regardless of whether he prepares this document. If a forwarder, a carrier acting as a forwarder, or any other party prepares, presents, and/or executes this document, the forwarder, carrier, or other party is also responsible for assuring that an appropriate statement is entered on the document. The carrier, as the party that issues the bill of lading or air waybill, has the primary responsibility for assuring that the same statement appearing on the corresponding invoice also appears on the bill of lading or air waybill. Any other party who prepares a bill of lading or air waybill is also responsible for assuring that an appropriate statement is placed on the document.

(ii) Appropriate statement. For a general license shipment, an understanding must be reached between the exporter and forwarder, carrier, or other agent as to which statement shall be used. For a validated license shipment, if a forwarder, carrier, or other agent does not have a copy of the commercial invoice, he can determine the appropriate destination control statement from the export license.

(2) Statement on bill of lading or air waybill—(i) General. No carrier shall issue (and no exporter, licensee, shipper, consignor, consignee, agent, or any other person, shall prepare or procure) a bill of lading covering an export for which a destination control statement is required under the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section, unless all copies of such bill of lading (including all nonnegotiable and office copies) contain the same statement in clearly legible form.

(ii) Air waybill. In the case of shipments by air (other than airmail or air parcel post), this requirement applies to any air waybill, including one issued by a consolidator (direct carrier) for an export included in a consolidated shipment. However, these provisions do not apply to a "master" air waybill issued by a carrier to cover a consolidated shipment.

(iii) More than one statement applicable to bill of lading. If one bill of lading is issued for two or more individual shipments to which different destination control statements apply, the applicable statement shall be entered beneath each shipment or group of shipments. However, if the bill of lading shows a single freight tariff classification to describe several commodities which require the use of more than one statement, and it is impracticable to separate the commodities on the bill of lading, the most restrictive statement applicable to any of the groups shall be used. The commercial invoice should, nevertheless, segregate the commodity groups and show the proper statement for each group.

(3) Statement on commercial invoice—(i) General. No licensee, shipper, consignor, exporter, agent, or any other person shall prepare or issue a commercial invoice for a shipment for which a destination control statement is required under the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section, unless all copies of the invoice(s) contain the same destination control statement in clearly legible form. This statement shall be an applicable statement as set forth in paragraph (d) of this section.

(ii) Distribution of copies of statement. Whenever a commercial invoice is issued containing the prescribed destination control statement, the shipper or other person issuing such invoice shall promptly send copies to:

(a) The ultimate consignee and the purchaser named in the declaration;

(b) The intermediate consignee; and

[6] As used in the destination control statement, the term "Soviet Bloc" means all countries in Country Group Y, except the People's Republic of China. Neither Poland, Romania, nor Yugoslavia are Y countries.

(c) Any other persons named in the invoice who are located in a foreign country. Nothing contained herein shall be construed to limit the persons or classes of persons to whom such invoices, bills of lading or air waybills are usually and customarily sent in the course of export trade. The shipper or other person issuing the commercial invoice may omit all reference to price or sales commission from the copy of the invoice sent to any of the above-mentioned persons: Provided, Such invoice otherwise adequately identifies the shipment. As an alternative, in lieu of a copy of the commercial invoice, such person may send a copy of the bill of lading or air waybill containing the destination control statement.

(iii) Commercial invoices not containing a statement. If the forwarding agent receives from the exporter a copy of a commercial invoice without the correct destination control statement, he shall:

(a) Notify the exporter in writing;

(b) Request written assurance from the exporter that (1) the destination control statement has been properly entered on all other copies of the commercial invoice, and (2) any person who received an invoice without the statement has been informed in writing of the restrictions set forth in the statement;

(c) Either (1) enter the appropriate statement on his copy of the invoice, or (2) return it to the exporter for proper completion; and

(d) Keep and make available for inspection, in accordance with section 387.11 of this chapter, a copy of his notification to the exporter and the original of the exporter's assurance to him. (For further recordkeeping requirements, see section 387.11 of this chapter.)

(h) Release of custody by carrier. No carrier shall release custody of a shipment covered by the provisions of this section to any party without surrender by that party, to the carrier, of a copy of the bill of lading or air waybill bearing on its face the applicable destination control statement, unless either:

(1) Simultaneously with the release, the carrier delivers to such party a written copy of the destination control statement, contained in the carrier's copy of the bill of lading or air waybill for the shipment. The written copy shall identify the shipment by bill of lading or air waybill number, name of carrier, voyage or flight number, date, and port of arrival. The carrier shall also secure either a signed receipted copy of the written statement or other equivalent written evidence that the statement has been delivered by the carrier; or,

(2) The regulations of the importing country require the carrier to deliver the commodities directly into the physical possession and control of customs or other government agency for delivery to the consignee or his agent. In this case, the carrier need not give to, or receive from, the customs or other government agency, or the consignee or his agent, any document bearing the destination control statement.

(i) Notice and prohibition against diversion—(1) Conduct after receiving notice. After receiving an invoice, bill of lading, air waybill, or any other document containing notice of the prohibition against diversion set forth in a destination control statement, or after receiving oral notice of such prohibition, no person so notified including the ultimate consignee, intermediate consignee, or on forwarding carrier shall divert, transship or reexport (or cause to be diverted, transshipped, or reexported) any shipment described in the written or oral notice to any country not authorized in such notice.

(2) Proof of notice. In any administrative compliance proceeding brought by the Office of Export Control, evidence of the sending of such invoice, bill of lading, air waybill, or other form of notice of the prohibition against diversion to any person, shall constitute prima facie proof of that person's receipt thereof. This shall also constitute notice that the commodities have been licensed for a particular country of ultimate destination and may not be lawfully diverted to any other country. In addition, proof of the sending of such notice to the intermediate consignee shall be deemed notification of such prohibition to the ultimate consignee and purchaser.

(j) Effect of foreign laws. Reexport authority contained in a destination control statement does not relieve any person from complying with foreign laws. (See section 374.9 of this chapter.)

Sec. 386.7 Shipping tolerance.[7]—(a) When tolerance allowed. A shipping tolerance is allowed over the quantity specified on a validated export license, unless such tolerance is limited or prohibited by the terms of the license or by the following provisions of this section 386.7.

(b) Amount of tolerance allowed—(1) Ten percent tolerance. A shipping tolerance of 10 percent is allowed when the quantity on the license is in the terms set forth below. If no quantity is specified on the license, the tolerance will be allowed on the total price shown for each entry on the license:

Avoirdupois ounce
Bale
Barrel
Bushel
Content pound
Cubic foot
Gallon
Gram
Hundred weight (100 pounds)
Linear foot
Linear yard
Long ton (2,240 pounds)
M (1,000) board feet
Milligram
Oxford unit
Pound
Proof gallon
Short ton (2,000) pounds)
Square foot
Square yard
Troy ounce
U.S.P. unit

(2) Tolerance inapplicable. The tolerance provisions of this section shall not apply to the following units of quantity:

Carat
Cell
Dozen

[7] Also see section 372.11 of this chapter for amendment procedure if the increase does not fall within allowable tolerances.

Gross
Number
Pack
Pair
Pencil gross
Piece
Ream
Roll Round
Square
Set

(c) Partial shipments. Whenever one or more partial shipments of the licensed commodity has been made, the tolerance applies only to the unshipped balance, except that for iron and steel products and tin plate, the tolerance is allowed on the basis of the actual quantity approved on the license.

(d) Tolerance inapplicable after total shipped. Where the quantity (or total price if applicable) stated on the license has been shipped, no further shipment may be made under the license.

Sec. 386.8 Authority of customs offices and postmasters in clearing shipments.—(a) Delegation of authority to customs offices and postmasters. Customs offices and postmasters, including all customs and post office officials, are authorized and directed to take appropriate action to assure observance of the provisions of the Export Control Regulations and of general and validated licenses issued thereunder. This includes, but is not limited to, inspection of commodities and technical data being exported or about to be exported. The functions delegated to customs offices and postmasters by this section 386.8(a) may also be carried out by officials of the Office of Export Control.

(b) Types of actions which may be taken by customs offices. The following types of actions, among others, are authorized to be taken by customs offices:

(1) Examination of commodities—(i) Purpose of examination. All commodities and technical data declared for export are subject to examination by customs officials for the purpose of verifying the commodity or technical data specified in the Shipper's Export Declaration, and the value and quantity thereof, and to assure observance of the other provisions of the Export Control Regulations. This authority applies to exports under either a general or a validated export license and also to exports to Canada. This examination may include, but is not limited to, commodity identification, technical appraisal (analysis), or both.

(ii) Place of examination. Examination shall be made at the place of lading or where customs officials are stationed for that purpose.

(iii) Technical identification. Where, in the judgment of the customs office, the commodity or technical data cannot be properly identified, a sample may be taken for more detailed examination or for laboratory analysis. The shipment will not be delayed after sampling for completion of the analysis.

(a) Obtaining samples. The sample will be obtained by the customs official in accordance with the provisions for sampling imported merchandise. The size of the sample shall be the minimum representative amount necessary for identification or analysis. This will depend on such factors as the physical condition of the material (whether solid, liquid, or gas) and the size and shape of the container.

(b) Notification to exporter and consignee. When a sample is taken, the exporter (or his agent) and ultimate consignee shall be notified on Notice of Retained Samples, Form IT-915 (see Supplement S-16 for facsimile). The customs official shall prepare this form in triplicate, showing the name of the port of export, date of sampling, declaration number, license number (if any), mark and case numbers, amount of sample, manufacturer's number, and description of the commodity. The original Form IT-915 shall be placed in the opened container, the duplicate sent to the exporter or his agent, and the triplicate retained by the customs office.

(c) Disposal of samples. Samples will be disposed of in accordance with the customs office procedure for imported commodities.

(2) Inspection of documents—(i) General. The customs office is authorized to require exporters or their agents, and owners and operators of exporting carriers or their agents, to produce for inspection or copying: invoices, orders, letters of credit, inspection reports, packing lists, shipping documents and instructions, correspondence, and any other relevant documents; as well as furnish other information bearing upon a particular shipment intended for export or removal from the United States and the identity and relationships of all participants therein.

(ii) Cartridge and shell case scrap. When cartridge or shell cases are being exported as scrap (whether or not they have been heated, flame-treated, mangled, crushed, or cut) the customs office is authorized to require the exporter to produce a copy of the bid offer by the armed services in order to assure that the terms of the Export Control Regulations are being met and that the material being shipped is scrap.

(3) Questioning of individuals. The customs office is authorized to question the owner or operator of an exporting carrier and his agent(s), as well as the exporter and his agent(s), concerning a particular shipment exported or intended to be exported.

(4) Prohibiting lading. The customs office is authorized to prevent the lading of commodities or technical data on an exporting carrier whenever the customs office has reasonable cause to believe that the export or removal from the United States is contrary to the Export Control Regulations.

(5) Inspection of exporting carrier. The customs office is authorized to inspect and search any exporting carrier at any time to determine whether commodities or technical data are intended to be, or are being, exported or removed from the United States contrary to the Export Control Regulations.

(6) Seizure. The customs office is authorized, under title 22 of the United States Code, section 401, et seq., to seize and detain any commodities or technical data whenever an attempt is made to export them in violation of the Export Control Regulations, or whenever it knows or has probable cause to believe that commodities or technical data are being, or have been exported in violation of the Export Control Regulations. Seized commodities or technical data are subject to forfeiture.

(7) Preventing departure of carrier. The customs office is authorized under title 22 of the United States Code, section 401, et seq., to seize and detain, either before or after clearance, any vessel or vehicle or air carrier which has been or is being used in exporting or attempting to export any commodity or technical data intended to be, being, or having been exported in violation of the Export Control Regulations.

(8) Ordering the unloading. The customs office is authorized to unload, or to order the unloading of commodities or technical data from any exporting carrier, whenever the customs office has reasonable cause to believe such commodities or technical data are intended to be, or are being, exported or removed from the United States contrary to the Export Control Regulations.

(9) Ordering the return of commodities. If, after notice that an inspection of a shipment is to be made, a carrier departs without affording the customs office or Office of Export Control personnel an adequate opportunity to examine the shipment, the owner or operator of the exporting carrier and his agent(s) may be ordered to return commodities or technical data exported on such exporting carrier and make them available for inspection.

(10) Designating time and place for clearance. The U.S. Bureau of Customs is authorized to designate times and places at which U.S. exports may move by land transportation to countries contiguous to the United States.

Sec. 386.9 Return or unloading of cargo at direction of U.S. Department of Commerce.—(a) Exporting carrier. As used in this section 386.9, the term "exporting carrier" includes a connecting or on-forwarding carrier, as well as the owner, charterer, agent, master, or any other person in charge of the vessel, aircraft, or other kind of carrier, whether such person is located in the United States or in a foreign country.

(b) Ordering return or unloading of shipment. Where there are resonable grounds to believe that a violation of the Export Control Regulations has occurred or will occur with respect to a particular export from the United States, the Office of Export Control or any U.S. customs officer may order any person in possession or control of such shipment, including the exporting carrier, to return or unload the shipment. Such person shall, as ordered, either (1) return the shipment to the United States or cause it to be returned, or (2) unload the shipment at a port of call and take steps to assure that it is placed in custody under bond or other guaranty not to enter the commerce of any foreign country without prior approval of the Office of Export Control. For the purpose of this section, the furnishing of a copy of the order to any person included within the definition of exporting carrier shall be sufficient notice of the order to the exporting carrier.

(c) Requirements regarding shipment to be unloaded. The provisions of section 386.5(b), relating to reporting, notification to the Office of Export Control, and the prohibition against unauthorized delivery or entry of the commodity or technical data into a foreign country, shall apply also to commodities or technical data directed to be unloaded at a port of call, as provided in this section.

(d) Notification. Upon discovery by any person included within the term "exporting carrier," as defined in this section 386.9, that a violation of the Export Control Regulations has occurred or will occur with respect to a shipment on board, or otherwise in the possession or control of the carrier, such person shall immediately notify both (1) the Director, Compliance Division, Office of Export Control (Attention: 848), U.S. Department of Commerce, Washington, D.C. 20230; and (2) the person in actual possession or control of the shipment.

Sec. 386.10 Other applicable laws and regulations.— The Export Control Regulations contained in this part apply only to exports regulated by the Office of Export Control, U.S. Department of Commerce. Nothing contained in this Part 386 shall relieve any person from complying with any other law of the United States or rules and regulations issued thereunder, including those governing declarations and manifests, or any applicable rules and regulations of the Bureau of Customs.

XXI. FEDERAL IMPORT MILK ACT

Regulations of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare relating to the enforcement of the Federal Import Milk Act, Code of Federal Regulations, title 21, sections 290.2-290.4, 290.8, 290.11, 290.27-290.29.

Sec. 290.2 Scope of the Act.—The provisions of the act apply to all milk and cream offered for import into the continental United States.

Sec. 290.3 Milk.—For the purposes of the act and of the regulations in this part: Milk is the whole, clean, lacteal secretion obtained by the complete milking of one or more healthy cows, properly fed and kept, excluding that obtained within 15 days before and 5 days after calving, or such longer period as may be necessary to render the milk practically colostrum free.

Sec. 290.4 Cream.—Cream is that portion of milk, rich in milk fat, which rises to the surface of milk on standing or is separated from it by centrifugal force.

Sec. 290.8 Pasteurization.—Pasteurization is the process of heating every particle of milk or cream to at least 143° F, and holding it at such temperature continuously for at least 30 minutes, or to at least 161° F, and holding it at such temperature continuously for at least 15 seconds.

Sec. 290.9 Shipper.—A shipper is anyone, other than a common carrier, who ships, transports, or causes to be shipped or transported into the United States milk or cream owned by him.

Sec. 290.10 Secretary.—Secretary means the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare.

Sec. 290.11 Commissioner.—Commissioner means the Commissioner of Food and Drugs.

Sec. 290.27 Application for Permit.—Application for permit to ship or transport milk or cream into the United States shall be made by the actual shipper upon forms prescribed by the Secretary. The request for forms of applications for permits should be addressed to Commissioner of Food and Drugs, Food and Drug Administration, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, Washington, D.C. 20230.

Sec. 290.28 Permit Number.—Each permit issued under the Import Milk Act, including each temporary permit, shall bear an individual number. The right to the use of such number is restricted solely to the permittee.

Sec. 290.29 Form of Tag.—Each container of milk or cream shipped or transported into the United States by such permittee shall have firmly attached thereto a tag in the following form, bearing the required information in clear and legible type:

Product ______________________________
(State whether raw milk, pasteurized milk, raw cream, or pasturized cream)

Permit number ________________________
Federal Import Milk Act.
Department of Health,
Education, and Welfare.

Shipper ______________________________
Address of shipper ____________________

Provided, That in case of unit shipments consisting of milk only or cream only under one permit number, in lieu of each container being so marked, the vehicle of transportation, if sealed, may be tagged with the above tag, which should in addition show the number of containers and the quantity of contents of each.

XXII. REGULATIONS OF THE MARITIME ADMINISTRATION, UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

Regulations of the Maritime Administration, United States Department of Commerce, relating to certain matters handled by customs officers, Code of Federal Regulations (revised as of January 1, 1965), title 46, sections 221.4-221.7, 221.11, 221.12, 221.14-221.16, 221.21-221.30, 222.2-222.5.

APPROVAL OF CERTAIN TRANSFERS OF VESSELS TO ALIEN OWNERSHIP, CONTROL, OR REGISTRY, ETC.

Sec. 221.4 Approval of certain transactions covered by section 37, Shipping Act, 1916, as amended.—The Department of Commerce, Maritime Administration, hereby grants approval under section 37 of the Shipping Act, 1916, as amended (40 Stat. 901; 46 U.S.C. 835) to the following transactions:

(a) The sale, mortgage, lease, charter, delivery, or transfer and agreement for the sale, mortgage, lease, charter, delivery, or transfer to any person not a citizen of the United States of vessels having an overall length of 65 feet or less, or any interest therein, owned in whole or in part by any person a citizen of the United States, or of any State, territory, district, or possession, thereof, and which are not documented under the laws of the United States, or the last documentation of which was not under the laws of the United States; and the transfer to or placing under foreign registry or flag of any such vessel;

(b) The making of agreements or the effecting of understandings whereby there is vested in or for the benefit of any person not a citizen of the United States, the controlling interest in or the majority of the voting power in a corporation which is organized under the laws of the United States or any State, territory, district, or possession thereof, and which owns a vessel covered by paragraph (a) of this section;

(c) The entrance into any contract, agreement, or understanding to construct any vessel of any size within the United States for, or to be delivered to, a person not a citizen of the United States; and the transfer to or placing under foreign registry or flag of any such vessel;

(d) The departure from any port of the United States of any vessel which was constructed in whole or in part within the United States, has not been documented under the laws of the United States, and has never been cleared for any foreign port.

(e) The approvals hereby granted shall not apply if a transaction involves a national of Southern Rhodesia, North Korea, Cuba, or the Communist-controlled area of Vietnam (unless (1) such national has been lawfully admitted into, and resides in, the United States and (2) such national does not remove the vessel from the territorial limits of the United States); nor shall they apply if the vessel is to be transferred to or placed under the registry or flag of any such country.

(f) The approvals hereby granted do not supersede the requirements of (1) the Department of State, 22 CFR Part 121 et seq. pertaining to articles enumerated in the U.S. munitions list and (2) the Bureau of International Commerce, Office of Export Control as to any navigational apparatus requiring a validated license.

Sections 221.5, 221.6 [Reserved]

Sec. 221.7 Approval of charters of certain vessels to aliens.—(a) The Department of Commerce Maritime Administration, hereby approves under sections 9 and 37 of the Shipping Act, 1916, as amended (52 Stat. 964; 40 Stat. 901; 46 U.S.C. 808 and 835) the charter to a person not a citizen of the United States of any vessel (including space in such vessel) documented under the laws of the United States, or the last documentation of which was under the laws of the United States, or owned in whole or in part by any person a citizen of the United States, or by a corporation organized under the laws of the United States or of any State, Territory, District or possession thereof, for a period not more than six (6) months, or for a voyage or voyages the duration of which will probably not exceed six (6) months, except:

(1) Demise or bareboat charters;

(2) For the carriage of cargoes of any kind to or from the Soviet Union, Latvia, Lithuania, Estonia, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Rumania, Bulgaria, Albania, North Korea, the Soviet Zone of Germany, Manchuria, Communist China, the Communist-controlled area of Viet Nam, or Cuba;

(3) For use in the fisheries.

(b) A copy of any such charter, as executed, which is approved by this section shall be filed with the Secretary of the Maritime Administration as soon as may be practicable but in any event not later than twenty (20) days after the beginning of the charter period or within such further time as may be permitted by the Maritime Administration.

(c) When any charter, subcharter, contract of affreightment, lease or contract for the chartering of space with a non-citizen declares, states or provides that the duration thereof is to be, or may be, for a period in excess of six (6) months, such charter, subcharter, contract of affreightment, lease or contract, shall be deemed to be for the entire period of time specifically declared therein, notwithstanding the inclusion of a special provision or provisions therein that the period of the duration in excess of six (6) months is to be subject to the approval of the Maritime Administration, or the inclusion therein of a provision permitting the substitution of another vessel other than a vessel of United States registry. To become effective such charter, subcharter, contract of affreightment, lease or contract will require the prior approval of the Maritime Administration prior to the date of the commencement of the first six (6) months.

(d) The duration or period of time of any new charter, lease or contract with the same non-citizen charterer, or with any non-citizen charterer, which is an affiliate, or associate, or subsidiary, or related company, or holding company of the original non-citizen charterer, covering the same vessel and entered into and executed within thirty (30) days after the termination of any charter, lease or contract or consecutive voyages, approval to which is granted by the blanket approval provided for hereinabove, is to be added to the duration or period of time covered by the previous charter, lease or contract, and, if the duration of the two charters, leases or contracts, when added together, cover a period in excess of six (6) months, such new charter, lease or contract shall be construed as a renewal or extension of the old charter, lease or contract and will require the prior approval of the Maritime Administration before it can become effective, notwithstanding the inclusion in said new charter, lease or contract of a provision permitting the substitution of another vessel other than a vessel of United States registry.

This General Order 59, Revised (Sec. 221.7) shall be effective as to all charters entered into on and after January 24, 1951.

OATHS OF CITIZENSHIP

Sec. 221.11 Citizenship declarations by owners or mortgagees of vessels of the United States as required by section 40 of the Shipping Act, 1916, as amended.—Whenever any bill of sale, mortgage, hypothecation, or conveyance of any vessel, or part thereof, or interest therein, is presented to any collector of customs to be recorded, the vendee, mortgagee, or transferee shall file therewith, as provided by section 40 of the Shipping Act, 1916, as amended (sec. 4, 40 Stat. 902; 46 U.S.C. 838), a declaration or declarations as prescribed by this sec. 221.11.

[1] Copies of the Forms and Instructions currently in use and those to be used beginning January 1, 1957, are filed with the Federal Register Division as a part of the original document, and may be obtained from the Statistics and Special Studies Office, Maritime Administration, Washington, D.C. 20235

(c) An application for approval of a mortgage of a vessel to an alien shall be accompanied by the sum of $25.00;

(d) An application for approval of a charter of a vessel to an alien shall be accompanied by the sum of $25.00;

(e) All fees set forth in this section will be retained to recover the cost of processing the applications;

(f) Applications for such approvals as set forth in this section should be made to the Foreign Transfer Branch, Office of Ship Operations, Maritime Administration, Washington, D.C. 20235, on forms which may be obtained from said Branch.

Sec. 221.15 Fee for processing applications for approval of surrender of marine documents of vessels under sec. 30, subsection 0(a), Merchant Marine Act, 1920, as amended.—An application for approval of the surrender of the marine documents of a vessel shall be accompanied by the sum of $15.00, which sum will be retained to recover the cost of processing the application. Such application should be made to the Foreign Transfer Branch, Office of Ship Operations, Maritime Administration, Washington, D.C. 20235, on forms which may be obtained from said Branch.

Sec. 221.16 Fee for processing applications to transfer vessels, subject to mortgage outstanding in favor of the United States of America.—(a) Application for permission to transfer title to a vessel, subject to a mortgage in favor of the United States of America pursuant to the provisions of the 1936 Act and related Acts, or special legislation, and to have the mortgage assumed by a new mortgagor, may be made by the mortgagor joined by the proposed transferee, to the Secretary, Maritime Administration, Washington, D.C. 20235.

(b) Fee: Such application shall be accompanied by the sum of $400, which sum will be retained to recover the cost of processing the application.

Sec. 221.21 Purpose.—The purpose of secs. 221.21-221.30 is to provide for the approval and disapproval by the Secretary of Commerce of banks and trust companies as trustees under Public Law 89-346 (amending secs. 9 and 37 of the Shipping Act, 1916, and subsec. 0 of the Ship Mortgage Act, 1920, and providing a procedure for assuring the validity of certain bonds, notes and other evidence of indebtedness, including the issuance, transfer and assignment thereof, and the validity and preferred status of certain mortgages of vessels). The functions of the Secretary of Commerce under Public Law 89-346 have been delegated to the Maritime Administrator pursuent to sec. 3.03 of Department Order 117 (Revised) (27 F.R. 3637, April 27, 1962).

Sec. 221.22 Definitions.—As used in secs. 221.21 to 221.30, including the forms referred to in sec. 221.30, the term "vessel" means a vessel the transfer of which to a person not a citizen of the United States is prohibited by sections 9 or 37 of the Shipping Act, 1916, as amended, and for the purpose of section 9 also means a vessel under construction for documentation under the laws of the United States and owned in whole or in part by a citizen of the United States; the term "shipyard, drydock, or ship-building or ship-repairing plant or facilities" means those the transfer of which to a person not a citizen of the United States is prohibited by section 37 of the Shipping Act, 1916, as amended; and the term "Vessel or Shipyard Financing Trust" means each trust under which a bank or trust company acts as trustee in connection with a bond, note or other evidence of indebtedness which is secured by a mortgage of a vessel to the trustee or by an assignment to the trustee of the owner's right, title or interest in a vessel under construction, or by a mortgage to the trustee on a shipyard, drydock, or ship-building or ship-repairing plant or facilities (irrespective of the number of such bonds, notes or other evidence of indebtedness, mortgages or assignments, vessels, or shipyards, drydocks, or ship-building or ship-repairing plants or facilities involved in the particular Vessel or Shipyard Financing Trust).

Sec. 221.23 Applications.—(a) Any qualified bank or trust company, acting or proposing to act as trustee under a Vessel or Shipyard Financing Trust may apply for approval as trustee pursuant to Public Law 89-346 and secs. 221.21 to 221.30.

(b) Applications may be made at any time after the effective date of secs. 221.21 to 221.30. Applications shall be submitted to the Secretary, Maritime Administration, Washington, D.C. 20235.

(c) Applications shall be made in triplicate on the form of Application for Approval as Trustee set forth in sec. 221.30 with only such changes therein as may be approved by the Maritime Administrator. Each copy of the application shall be completed by the insertion of appropriate and full information as indicated on the form; shall be executed by a duly authorized official of the applicant; and shall be accompanied by an affidavit of citizenship and the most recent published report of condition of the applicant, unless (with the concurrence of the Maritime Administrator) reference is made to an affidavit or report previously filed. The form of affidavit of citizenship to be used in connection with applications is that prescribed in 32A CFR AGE-2 with only such changes therein as may be approved by the Maritime Administrator.

(d) A single application will suffice for requesting approval of a single bank or trust company as trustee under all Vessel or Shipyard Financing Trusts under which the bank or trust company is then or may thereafter be acting as trustee.

(e) If upon a merger, consolidation or other organizational change the bank or trust company approved as trustee ceases to be the continuing entity, a new application for the continuing entity will be required if it has not already been approved as trustee.

Sec. 221.24 Agreements of applicants.—Each applicant shall be bound by the agreements contained in its application, which agreements shall survive the approval of the applicant as trustee.

Sec. 221.25 Approval of applicants.—(a) Applicants meeting the standards for trustees specified in Public Law 89-346 will be eligible for approval as trustees. National banks, although designated national banking associations, will be eligible for approval as corporations organized and doing business under the laws of the United States. The Maritime Administrator, or his duly authorized representative, will indicate the approval of the Secretary of Commerce of an applicant as trustee by signing the Secretary's Approval appearing at the end of the application form and returning a duplicate signed copy to the applicant, but no approval shall be construed to alter retroactively any rights which were the subject matter of litigation pending on the date of enactment of Public Law 89-346.

(b) Upon approval, a Notice of Approval of Applicant as Trustee will be published. Upon receipt of notice of a change of name of an approved trustee (not requiring the filing of a new application pursuant to sec. 221.23) a Notice of Change of Name of Approved Trustee will be published.

Sec. 221.26 Roster of approved trustees.—Upon approval, each applicant will be placed on a Roster of Approved Trustees to be maintained by the Maritime Administrator according to trustee's name, address, and date of approval. Upon receipt of notice of a change of name or address of an approved trustee (not requiring the filing of a new application pursuant to sec. 221.23), an appropriate endorsement will be made on the Roster to show the new name or address of the approved trustee. The Roster of Approved Trustees will be available for public inspection in the office of the Secretary, Maritime Administration, Washington, D.C. 20235, during official business hours.

Sec. 221.27 Disapproval of trustees.—(a) Approved trustees shall be subject to disapproval if they cease to meet the standards for trustees specified in Public Law 89-346. Disapproval of a trustee shall become effective upon the date of publication of Notice of Disapproval of Trustee. A written notice of any proposed finding of lack of qualification of the trustee (which may include lack of qualification which will be inferred from the trustee's failure to furnish information relating to its qualification pursuant to the agreements contained in its application referred to in sec. 221.24) will first be mailed to the trustee. If the trustee satisfactorily demonstrates that no lck of qualification exists, a written notice of withdrawal of the proposed finding will be mailed to the trustee; otherwise a Notice of Proposed Finding of Lack of Qualification of Trustee will be published not less than 10 days after the date of said written notice to the trustee. If it is thereafter satisfactorily demonstrated that no lack of qualification exists a Notice of Withdrawal of Proposed Finding of Lack of Qualification of Trustee will be published; otherwise a Notice of Disapproval of Trustee will be published not less than 120 days after publication of the Notice of Proposed Finding of Lack of Qualification of Trustee.

(b) Copies of notices published pursuant to this section will be mailed to the trustee and to the borrowers under the trusts listed in the List of Vessel or Shipyard Financing Trusts (Executed) annexed to the Trustee's Application for Approval as Trustee, as from time to time supplemented and amended.

(c) Upon publication of a Notice of Disapproval of Trustee, the name of the trustee will be removed from the Roster of Approved Trustees.

Sec. 221.28 Removal without disapproval.—(a) Any approved trustee may request removal from the Roster of Approved Trustees without disapproval. Removal of a trustee shall become effective upon the date of publication of a Notice of Approval of Request for Removal from Roster of Approved Trustees. The trustee shall certify in its request for removal that it is no longer acting or proposing to act as trustee under a Vessel or Shipyard Financing Trust. A Notice of Request for Removal from Roster of Approved Trustees will first be published together with a statement of the trustee's aforesaid certification. If the approved trustee requests a withdrawal of its request for removal or if it is found that the trustee's certification is not correct based on information furnished to or otherwise available to the Maritime Administrator, a Notice of Withdrawal or Rejection of Request for Removal from Roster of Approved Trustees will be published; otherwise a Notice of Approval of Request for Removal from Roster of Approved Trustees will be published not less than 30 days after publication of the Notice of Request for Removal from Roster of Approved Trustees.

(b) Copies of notices published pursuant to this section will be mailed to the trustee and to the borrowers under the trusts listed in the List of Vessel or Shipyard Financing Trusts (Executed) annexed to the Trustee's Application for Approval as Trustee, as from time to time supplemented and amended.

(c) Upon publication of a Notice of Approval of Request for Withdrawal from Roster of Approved Trustees, the name of the trustee will be removed from the Roster of Approved Trustees.

Sec. 221.29 Publication of notices.—Whenever in secs. 221.21 to 221.30 reference is made to the publication of a notice or to a notice as having been published it means publication in the Federal Register by the Maritime Administrator.

Sec. 221.30 Forms.—The forms of Application for Approval as Trustee referred to in sec. 221.23 and the Trustee's Annual Supplemental Certification referred to in said Application as follows: * * *[2]

CARGO AND PASSENGER REPORTS

Sec. 222.2 Forms of vessel utilization and performance reports prescribed.—(a) Pursuant to authority of section 212(A) of the Merchant Marine Act, 1936, as amended by Public Law 612, 84th Congress; 70 Stat. 332; 46 U.S.C. 1122a, the Secretary of Commerce has determined that it is necessary and desirable in order to carry out the purposes and provisions of the Merchant Marine Act, 1936, as amended (49 Stat. 1985, et seq.; 46 U.S.C.

[2] Copies of the Forms and Instructions currently in use are filed with the Federal Register Division as a part of the original document, and may be obtained from the Statistics and Special Studies Office, Maritime Administration, Washington, D.C. 20235.

1101, et seq.) to require an operator of a vessel in waterborne foreign commerce of the United States to file accurate reports on Forms MA-721 and MA-722 with respect to passenger and dry cargo vessels, on Form MA-578A with respect to vessels carrying certain containerized cargo; such forms and instructions for the preparation thereof are hereby prescribed and approved.[1]

(1) An accurate report on Form MA-721, Vessel Utilization and Performance Report—Inbound or Form MA-722, Vessel Utilization and Performance Report—Outbound, as the case may be, shall be filed in duplicate with the appropriate District Director of Customs for transmittal to the Maritime Administration by the operator of every self-propelled dry cargo and passenger vessel of 1,000 or more gross registered tons before midnight of the 30th calendar day after entry into the first U.S. port and before midnight of the 30th calendar day after clearing the last U.S. port.

(2) In addition, and subject to the same qualifying and filing requirements set forth above, an accurate report on Form MA-578A, Supplemental Unitized Cargo Container Report, shall be filed by such operator when, on any one voyage, a vessel carried 10 or more (i) 8 x 8 x 10 feet or larger containers, or (ii) half-height containers 8 feet in width and 10 or more feet in length, or (iii) flatbeds 8 feet in width and 20 or more feet in length.

(3) Forms MA-721, MA-722 and MA-578A are required to be filed also for all voyages of merchant vessels operated by or for the account of the Department of Defense except vessels of the Military Sea Transportation Service (MSTS) nucleus fleet.

(b) By agreement with the United States Customs Service, District Directors of Customs will be responsible for policing receipt of dry cargo and passenger vessel inbound and outbound reports on Form MA-721 and Form MA-722.

Sec. 222.3 Penalty.—Section 212(A) of the Merchant Marine Act, 1936, as amended (Public Law 612, 84th Congress; 70 Stat. 332; 46 U.S.C. 1122a), provides:

> Sec. 212(A). The operator of a vessel in waterborne foreign commerce of the United Sttes shall file at such time and in such manner as the Secretary of Commerce may prescribe by regulations, such report, account, record, or memorandum relating to the utilization and performance of such vessel in commerce of the United States, as the Secretary may determine to be necessary or desirable in order to carry out the purposes and provisions of this Act, as amended. Such report, account, record or memorandum shall be signed and verified in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Secretary. An operator who does not file the report, account, record, or memorandum as required by this section and the regulations issued hereunder, shall be liable to the United States in a penalty of $50 for each day of such violation. The amount of any penalty imposed for any violation of this section upon the operator of any vessel shall constitute a lien upon the vessel involved in the violation, and such vessel may be libeled therefor in the district court of the United States for the district in which it may be found. The Secretary of Commerce may, in his discretion, remit or mitigate any penalty imposed under this section on such terms as he may deem proper.

Sec. 222.4 Notice of failure to comply herewith and that petition for relief may be filed.—(a) Every offender under the regulations in this part shall be advised by the District Director of Customs as defined in 19 CFR 1.1(d) of any penalty incurred by him and of his right to apply for relief under section 222.5. If the offender fails to petition for relief or pay the penalty within 60 days from the date of mailing of the notice of violation as provided for herein, the case shall be referred immediately to the United States attorney for appropriate action, unless it appears that the person liable for the penalty is absent from the United States or during the said period was absent for more than 30 days, in which event the collector may withhold such action for a further reasonable time, or unless other action is expressly authorized by the Maritime Administrator. When a penalty is mitigated, and the mitigated penalty is not paid nor a supplemental petition filed within 60 days from the date a notice of the settlement is mailed to the petitioner, the matter shall be referred immediately to the United States attorney for appropriate attention, unless other action has been directed by the Maritime Administrator.

(b) No action looking to the remission or mitigation of a penalty shall be taken on any petition, irrespective of the amount involved, if the case has been referred to the Department of Justice for the institution of legal proceedings.

Sec. 222.5 Petition for relief.—(a) Any petition for relief from a penalty incurred under these regulations shall be addressed to the Maritime Administrator, signed by the petitioner, and filed with the collector of customs of the district in which the penalty was imposed. It shall set forth the facts relied upon by the petitioner to justify his request for relief.

(b) Upon receipt of a petition, the collector shall cause such investigation to be made as the facts in the case may warrant. In forwarding the petition to the Maritime Administrator, he shall forward with it a copy of the report of the investigation, if any, a statement of all other facts which may have come to his knowledge, and his recommendation as to the final action to be taken. If the petition involves a matter which has been referred to the Department of Justice for the institution of court proceedings, the collector shall transmit the petition immediately upon receipt to the appropriate United States attorney and notify the petitioner of such action.

(c) The decision of the Maritime Administrator will be forwarded to the collector for delivery to the petitioner.

XXIII. IMPORTATION OF WILDLIFE OR EGGS THEREOF

Regulations of the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, Fish and Wildlife Service, Department of the Interior, relating to the importation of wildlife or eggs thereof, Code of Federal Regulations, Title 50, Part 13.

[1] Copy each of the Forms MA-721, MA-722 and MA-578A (3-21-67), together with instructions for their use, respectively, are on file in the Office of the Federal Register. These forms and instructions may be obtained from the Marine Section, District Director of Customs at U.S. ports.

Subchapter B—Hunting and Possession of Wildlife

Part 13—Importation of Wildlife or Eggs Thereof

Sec.
13.1 Meaning of terms.
13.2 General restrictions.
13.3 Importation of natural-history specimens.
13.4 Importation by Federal agencies.
13.5 Importation of live wild mammals.
13.6 Importation of live wild birds or their eggs.
13.7 Importation of live or dead fish, mollusks, and crustaceans, or their eggs.
13.8 Importation of live amphibians or their eggs.
13.9 Importation of live reptiles or their eggs.
13.10 Permits.
13.11 General permit provisions.
13.12 Declaration required to be filed upon entry.
13.13 Compliance with other laws and regulations.

Authority: The provisions of this Part 13 issued under sec. 43, 62 Stat. 667, as amended, 18 U.S.C. 42; 77A Stat. 29, 19 U.S.C. 1202 (Schedule 1, part 3, headnote 1-4, 4E, headnote 1).

Sec. 13.1 Meaning of terms.—As used in this part, terms shall have the meaning ascribed in this section.

(a) "Director" refers to the Director, Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, Washington, D.C. 20240, or his authorized representative.

(b) "Wild" refers to all creatures that, whether raised in captivity or not, normally are found in a wild state.

(c) "Wildlife" refers to all species of mammals, birds, fish, mollusks, crustaceans, amphibians, reptiles, or their progeny or eggs that, whether raised in captivity or not, normally are found in a wild state.

(d) "Migratory birds" refers to those species of wild birds and their eggs which: (1) are indigenous to the United States, (2) belong to one of the Families of birds listed under Sec. 1.11 of this chapter, and (3) are afforded protection under the Migratory Bird Treaty Act of July 3, 1918, as amended (40 Stat. 755; 16 U.S.C. 703).

(e) "Game birds" refers to those species of wild birds belonging to the following Families of birds:

(1) Anatidae (wild ducks, geese, brant, and swans).
(2) Cariamidae (cariamas).
(3) Charadriidae (plovers, turnstones, killdeer, and surfbirds).
(4) Columbidae (wild doves and pigeons).
(5) Cracidae (curassows, guans, and chachalacas).
(6) Eurypygidae (sunbitterns).
(7) Gruidae (cranes).
(8) Haematopodidae (oystercatchers).
(9) Meleagrididae (wild turkeys).
(10) Numididae (guineafowls).
(11) Otidae (bustards and floricans).
(12) Pedionomidae (collared quail).
(13) Phalaropodidae (phalaropes).
(14) Phasianidae (quail, partridge, pheasants, and peafowl).
(15) Pteroclidae (sandgrouse).
(16) Rallidae (rails, gallinules, and coots).
(17) Recurvirostridae (avocets and stilts).
(18) Rostratulidae (painted snipe).
(19) Scolopacidae (woodcock, snipe, yellowlegs, curlews, willets, godwits, dowitchers, knots, sandpipers, and sanderlings).
(20) Tetraonidae (grouse and ptarmigan).
(21) Thinocoridae (seed snipe).
(22) Tinamidae (tinamous).
(23) Turnicidae (hemipode quail).

(f) "Non-game birds" refers to all other species of wild birds not considered as game birds under paragraph (e) of this section.

(g) "State" refers to any State, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, and the territories and possessions of the United States.

Sec. 13.2 General restrictions.—Any importation or transportation of live wildlife or eggs thereof, or dead fish or eggs of salmonids of the fish family Salmonidae into the United States or its territories or possessions is deemed to be injurious or potentially injurious to the health and welfare of human beings, to the interest of forestry, agriculture, and horticulture, and to the welfare and survival of the wildlife or wildlife resources of the United States; and any such importation into or the transportation of live wildlife or eggs thereof between the continental United States, the District of Columbia, Hawaii, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, or any territory or possession of the United States, by any means whatsoever, is prohibited except for certain purposes and under certain conditions as hereinafter provided in this part: PROVIDED, That the provisions of this section shall not apply to game mammals imported from Mexico or to migratory birds, psittacine birds, and bald and golden eagles, the importation of which is governed by other Federal regulations.

Sec. 13.3 Importation of natural-history specimens.—Nothing in this part shall restrict the importation and transportation, without a permit, of dead natural-history specimens of wildlife or their eggs for museum or scientific collection purposes: PROVIDED, That the provisions of this section shall not apply to dead migratory birds, the importation of which is governed by regulations under Parts 10 and 16 of this chapter; to dead game mammals from Mexico, the importation of which is governed by regulations under Part 15 of this chapter; or to dead bald and golden eagles or their eggs, the importation of which is governed by regulations under Part 11 of this chapter.

Sec. 13.4 Importation by Federal agencies.—Nothing in this part shall restrict the importation and transportation, without a permit, of any live wildlife by Federal agencies solely for their own use, upon the filing of a written declaration with the District Director of Customs at the port of entry as required under Sec. 13.12: PROVIDED, That the provisions of this section shall not apply to bald and golden eagles or their eggs, or to migratory birds or their eggs, the importations of which are governed by regulations under Parts 11 and 16 of this chapter, respectively.

Sec. 13.5 Importation of live wild mammals.—(a) The importation, transportation, or acquisition is prohibited of live specimens of (1) any species of so-called "flying fox" or fruit bat of the genus Pteropus; (2) any species of mongoose or meerkat of the genera Atilax, Cynictis, Helogale, Herpestes, Ichneumia, Mungos, and Suricata; (3) any species of European rabbit of the genus Oryctolagus; (4) any species of Indian wild dog, red dog, or dhole of the genus Cuon; and (5) any species of multimammate rat, or mouse of the genus Mastomys: PROVIDED, That the Director shall issue permits authorizing the importation, transportation, and possession of such mammals under the terms and conditions set forth in Secs. 13.10 through 13.11.

(b) Upon the filing of a written declaration with the District Director of Customs at the port of entry as required under Sec. 13.12, all other species of live wild mammals may be imported, transported, and possessed in captivity, without a permit, for scientific, medical, educational, exhibition, or propagating purposes, but no such live wild mammals or any progeny thereof may be released into the wild except by the State wildlife conservation agency having jurisdiction over the area of release or by persons having prior written permission for release from such agency: PROVIDED, That the provisions of this paragraph shall not apply to live game mammals from Mexico, the importation of which is governed by regulations under Part 15 of this chapter.

Sec. 13.6 Importation of live wild birds or their eggs.—(a) The importation, transportation, or acquisition is prohibited of any live specimen or egg of (1) the species of so-called "pink starling" or "rosy pastor" Sturnus roseus; (2) the species of dioch (including the subspecies black-fronted, red-billed, or Sudan dioch) Quelea quelea; (3) any species of Java sparrow, Padda oryzivora; (4) the species of red-whiskered bulbul, Pycnonotus jocosus: PROVIDED, That the Director shall issue permits authorizing the importation, transportation, and possession of such live birds under the terms and conditions set forth in Secs. 13.10 through 13.11.

(b) Upon the filing of a written declaration with the District Director of Customs at the port of entry as required under Sec. 13.12, all species of live wild game birds may be imported, transported, and possessed in captivity, without a permit, for scientific, medical, educational, exhibition, or propagating purposes, and the eggs of such birds may be imported, transported, and possessed, without a permit, for propagating or scientific collection purposes, but no such live wild game birds or any progeny thereof may be released into the wild except by the State wildlife conservation agency having jurisdiction over the area of release or by persons having prior written permission for release from such agency.

(c) Upon the filing of a written declaration with the District Director of Customs at the port of entry as required under Sec. 13.12, all species of live, wild nongame birds (other than those listed in paragraph (a) of this section may be imported, transported, and possessed in captivity, without a permit, for scientific, medical, educational, exhibition, or propagating purposes, but no such live, wild nongame birds or any progeny thereof may be released into the wild except by or under the direction of State wildlife conservation agencies when such agencies have received prior written permission from the Director for such release: PROVIDED, That the provisions of this paragraph shall not apply to live bald and golden eagles or to live migratory birds, the importation of which is governed by regulations under 50 CFR 11 and 16, respectively, or to birds of the Family Psittacidae (parrots, macaws, cockatoos, parakeets, lories, lovebirds, etc.), the importation and transportation of which is governed by U.S. Public Health Service regulations under 42 CFR 71 and 72.

(d) The importation of the eggs of wild non-game birds is prohibited except as permitted under Sec. 13.3.

Sec. 13.7 Importation of live or dead fish, mollusks, and crustaceans or their eggs.—(a) Except for the salmonids of the fish family Salmonidae, all species of live fish, live mollusks, and live crustaceans, or their live eggs, may be imported, transported, and possessed in captivity without a permit, for scientific, medical, educational, sale or exhibition, or propagational purposes upon the filing of a written declaration with the District Director of Customs at the port of entry as required under Sec. 13.12. No such live fish, live mollusks, live crustaceans, or any progeny, or live eggs thereof, may be released into the wild except by the State wildlife conservation agency having jurisdiction over the area of release or by persons having prior written permission from such agency.

(b) Notwithstanding authority granted Federal agencies in Sec. 13.4, all live or dead fish or eggs or salmonids of the fish family Salmonidae are prohibited entry into the United States for any purpose unless such importations are by direct shipment, accompanied by a certification that the importation is free of the protozoan Myxosoma cerebralis, the causative agent of so-called "whirling disease," and the virus causing viral hemorrhagic septicemia or "Egtved disease." The certification shall be signed in the country of origin by a designated official acceptable to the Secretary of the Interior, as being qualified in fish pathology, or in the United States, by a qualified fish pathologist designated for this purpose by the Secretary of the Interior.

The time requirements described in "Fisheries Disease Leaflet 9, I. C.2 and II. C.2," as a basis for certification would impose an embargo on all shipments of market-sized fish and eggs until July 1, 1969.

Therefore, certifying officers may, until July 1, 1969, on the basis of a single, comprehensive inspection using methods described in Fisheries Disease Leaflet 9, certify any shipment of market-sized fish or eggs as complying with the regulation at which time, the span of inspection time required in I. C.2 and II. C.2 will also become a mandatory provision of the regulation.

The certificate required by this section shall consist of a statement in the English language, printed or typewritten, stating that this shipment of fish or eggs is free from these two diseases by the methods outlined in Fish Disease Leaflet 9, and will contain (1) the date and port of export in the country of origin and the anticipated United States date of arrival and port of entry, (2) surface or air carrier and flight number, or vessel name or number, (3) bill of lading number or airway bill number, and (4) the handwritten signature, in ink, of the authorized certifying officer, and may be substantially in the following form:

I, ________________, approved by the Secretary of the U.S. Department of the Interior, on __________ as a

(c) Nothing in this part shall restrict the importation and transportation of dead fish or dead eggs of salmonids of the fish family Salmonidae when such fish or eggs have been processed by canning, pickling, smoking, or otherwise prepared in a manner whereby all spores of the protozoan Myxosoma cerebralis, the causative agent of so-called "whirling disease," and the virus causing viral hemorrhagic septicemia or so-called "Egtved disease" have been killed. Salmon landed in North America and brought into the United States for processing or sale, or any salmonid caught in the wild in North America under a sport or a commercial fishing license shall be exempt from the requirement for certification.

Sec. 13.8 Importation of live amphibians or their eggs.—Upon the filing of a written declaration with the District Director of Customs at the port of entry as required under Sec. 13.12, all species of live amphibians or their eggs may be imported, transported, and possessed in captivity, without a permit, for scientific, medical, educational, exhibition, or propagating purposes, but no such live amphibians or any progeny or eggs thereof may be released into the wild except by the State wildlife conservation agency having jurisdiction over the area of release or by persons having prior written permission for release from such agency.

Sec. 13.9 Importation of live reptiles or their eggs.—Upon the filing of a written declaration with the District Director of Customs at the port of entry as required under Sec. 13.12, all species of live reptiles or their eggs may be imported, transported, and possessed in captivity, without a permit, for scientific, medical, educational, exhibition, or propagating purposes, but no such live reptiles or any progeny or eggs thereof may be released into the wild except by the State wildlife conservation agency having jurisdiction over the area of release or by persons having prior written permission for release from such agency.

Sec. 13.10 Permits.—(a) Applications for permits issued pursuant to this part shall be made by letter addressed to the Director, Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, Washington, D.C. 20240, and shall contain the following information:

(1) The name, address, and age of the applicant;

(2) The number of specimens and the common and scientific names (genus and species) of each species of live wildlife proposed to be imported or otherwise acquired, transported, and possessed;

(3) The purpose of such importation or other acquisition, transportation, and possession;

(4) The address of the premises where such live wildlife will be kept in captivity;

(5) The name and address of the consignor or other person from whom such wildlife will be acquired; and

(6) A statement of applicant's qualifications and previous experience in caring for and handling captive wildlife.

(b) No permit will be issued unless the Director has determined that:

(1) The wildlife is being imported or otherwise acquired for a bona fide scientific, medical, educational, or zoological exhibition purpose;

(2) The facilities for holding the wildlife in captivity have been inspected and approved, and consist of a basic cage or structure of a design and material adequate to prevent escape which is maintained inside a building or other facility of such structure that the wildlife could not escape from the building or other facility after escaping from the cage or structure maintained therein;

(3) The applicant is a responsible person who is aware of the potential dangers to public interests posed by such wildlife, and who by reason of his knowledge, experience, and facilities reasonably can be expected to provide adequate protection for such public interests; and

(4) If such wildlife is to be imported or otherwise acquired for zoological or aquarium exhibition purposes, such exhibition or display will be open to the public during regular, appropriate hours.

Sec. 13.11 General permit provisions.—All permits issued pursuant to this part shall be subject to the following conditions:

(a) All live wildlife acquired under permit and all progeny thereof, must be confined in the approved facilities on the premises authorized in the permit.

(b) No live wildlife, acquired under permit, or any eggs or progeny thereof, may be sold, donated, traded, loaned, or transferred to any other person unless such person has a permit issued by the Director under Sec. 13.10 authorizing him to acquire and possess such wildlife or the eggs or progeny thereof.

(c) Permittees shall comply with any special terms, conditions, or restrictions prescribed in the permit.

(d) Permittees shall allow, at all reasonable times, any person authorized to enforce the provisions of this part, free and unrestricted access to the premises where wildlife will be, is, or has been confined.

(e) Permittees shall submit a report of all live wildlife acquired under authority of a permit to the Director within 10 days following the date of such acquisition.

(f) Permittees must notify the Director by letter within 10 days following the death and by telephone or telegraph within 24 hours following the escape of any wildlife or their progeny possessed under authority of a permit, unless specifically exempted from either requirement by special terms of his permit.

(g) Permits issued pursuant to this part shall not be construed to authorize the importation or other acquisition, possession, transportation, or disposal of any live wildlife contrary to any applicable laws or regulations of any State concerned and unless the permittee also possesses whatever State permit may be required for such activities.

Sec. 13.12 Declaration required to be filed upon entry.—With respect to any authorized importation of live wildlife, or dead salmonids of the fish family Salmonidae, without a permit, pursuant to provisions of Secs. 13.4 through 13.9, the importer or his broker must file a Declaration for importation of Wildlife (Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife Form 3-177 available through Customs at ports of entry) with the District Director of Customs at the port of entry where actual Customs inspection for clearance or release occurs. Such declaration must list the name and address of the importer and the broker if any; the name and address of the consignor; and the number of specimens and the common and scientific names of each species imported: PROVIDED, That no such declaration shall be required for the importation of domesticated canaries and psittacine birds.

Sec. 13.13 Compliance with other laws and regulations.—Any importation or other acquisition, transportation, and possession of wildlife permitted by this part does not relieve or eliminate responsibility for complying with any applicable health, quarantine, agriculture, customs, permit, or other requirements imposed by the laws or regulations of other duly authorized Federal and State agencies.

XXIV. RESERVED. (6/23/75)

XXV. FOREIGN ASSETS CONTROL REGULATIONS

Foreign Assets Control Regulations, Treasury Department, Code of Federal Regulations, title 31, sections 500.101-500.808. These regulations are also contained in pamphlets entitled "Foreign Assets Control Regulations and Related Documents" and "Commodity Supplement" thereto, both dated May 5, 1964. The Office of Foreign Assets Control also issues cumulative lists of changes of certifiable commodities when changes are made. Such changes are initially published in the Federal Register. The Supplement sets forth the sections of the regulations and other Foreign Assets Control documents which contain or relate to import restrictions on merchandise of Communist Chinese, North Korean, and North Viet-Namese origin and certain specified types of merchandise. See also the Foreign Assets Control Manual for Customs Personnel.

Cuban Assets Control Regulations

Cuban Assets Control Regulations, Treasury Department, Code of Federal Regulations, title 31, sections 515.101-515.808. These regulations are also contained in a pamphlet entitled "Cuban Assets Control Regulations and Related Documents," July 8, 1963, issued by the Office of Foreign Assets Control. The quotations are from the sections of the regulations containing import restrictions on merchandise of Cuban origin:

Sec. 515.204 Importation of and dealings in certain merchandise.—(a) Except as specifically authorized by the Secretary of the Treasury (or any person, agency, or instrumentality designated by him) by means of regulations, rulings, instructions, licenses or otherwise, no person subject to the jurisdiction of the United States may purchase, transport, import, or otherwise deal in or engage in any transaction with respect to any merchandise outside the United States if such merchandise:

(1) Is of Cuban origin; or

(2) Is or has been located in or transported from or through Cuba; or

(3) Is made or derived in whole or in part of any article which is the growth, produce or manufacture of Cuba.

Sec. 515.808 Customs procedures; merchandise specified in section 515.204.—(a) With respect to merchandise specified in section 515.204, whether or not such merchandise has been imported into the United States, district directors of Customs shall not accept or allow any:

(1) Entry for consumption (including any appraisement entry, any entry of goods imported in the mails, regardless of value, and any other informal entries);

(2) Entry for immediate exportation;

(3) Entry for transportation and exportation;

(4) Withdrawal from warehouse;

(5) Transfer or withdrawal from a foreign-trade zone; or

(6) Manipulation or manufacture in a warehouse or in a foreign-trade zone, unless either:

(i) The merchandise was imported prior to 12:01 a.m., February 7, 1962, or

(ii) A specific license pursuant to this part is presented, or

(iii) Instructions from the Foreign Assets Control, either directly or through the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, authorizing the transaction are received.

(b) Whenever a specific license is presented to a district director of Customs in accordance with this section, one additional legible copy of the entry, withdrawal or other appropriate document with respect to the merchandise involved shall be filed with the district director of Customs at the port where the transaction is to take place. Each copy of any such entry, withdrawal or other appropriate document, including the additional copy, shall bear plainly on its face the number of the license pursuant to which it is filed. The original copy of the specific license shall be presented to the district director in respect of each such transaction and shall bear a notation in ink by the licensee or person presenting the license showing the description, quantity, and value of the merchandise to be entered, withdrawn or otherwise dealt with. This notation should be so placed and so written that there will exist no possibility of confusing it with anything placed on the license at the time of its issuance. If the license in fact authorizes the entry, withdrawal or other transaction with regard to the merchandise the district director, or other authorized Customs employee, shall verify the notation by signing or initialing it after first assuring himself that it accurately describes the merchandise it purports to represent. The license shall thereafter be returned to the person presenting it and the additional copy of the entry, withdrawal or other appropriate document shall be forwarded by the district director to the Foreign Assets Control.

(c) Whenever a person shall present an entry, withdrawal or other appropriate document affected by this section and shall assert that no specific Foreign Assets Control license is required in connection therewith, the district director of Customs shall withhold action, thereon and shall advise such person to communicate directly with the Federal Reserve Bank of New York to request that instructions be issued to the district director to authorize him to take action with regard thereto.

XXVI. ATOMIC ENERGY COMMISSION REGULATIONS

The commodities subject to Atomic Energy Commission import and export licensing requirements are divided into four categories by AEC: (a) byproduct material; (b) source material; (c) production and utilization facilities; and (d) special nuclear material. Each of these categories is treated separately in one of the four parts of this appendix. The following instructions are sufficiently comprehensive to enable customs officers to act in most situations when confronted with importations or exportations of merchandise subject to Atomic Energy Commission Regulations. Additional material may be found in 10 CFR 30, 40, 50, and 70, and in Bureau circular letters which are issued occasionally to explain special procedures not covered in this appendix.

Part A—Importation and Exportation of Radioactive Byproduct Material (10 CFR 30)

1. Definition—Byproduct material is defined as any radioactive material (except special nuclear material) yielded in or made radioactive by exposure to the radiation incident to the process of producing or utilizing special nuclear material (10 CFR 30.4(b)). Byproduct material does not include cyclotron-produced or naturally-occurring radioactive materials, such as radium.

2. License Requirements:

a. Imports—No person subject to the regulations shall import byproduct material except as authorized in a specific or general license (10 CFR 30).

(1) A general license established in section 30.21(a)(2) authorizes the importation of the quantities of byproduct material specifically listed in section 30.72. The amount of material which may be imported or possessed under a general license varies according to whether it is contained in a sealed source. "Sealed source" means any byproduct material that is encased in a capsule designed to prevent leakage or escape of the byproduct material (10 CFR 30.4(1)). Section 30.72 contains the following listing:

Byproduct Material	Column No. 1 Not as a sealed source (microcurics)	Column No. 11 As a sealed source (microcurics)
Antimony (Sb 124)	1	10
Arsenic 76 (As 76)	10	10

(2) Specific License—A person must possess a specific license to import byproduct material in excess of the quantities listed above. However, in this conection, 10 CFR 30.32(c) provides that "Except as otherwise provided in the license, a license [authorizing domestic activities] issued pursuant to the regulations in this port shall carry with it the right to import byproduct material. . . ."

(3) Special Procedures for the Importation of Certain Byproduct Materials—Bureau Circular Letter RES-3-PEN, February 1, 1960 (SC X-351) prescribes special procedures to be followed with respect to the importation of watches and clocks with luminescent faces, containing strontium 90.

b. Exports—Except for the exemptions and general licenses set out below, 10 CFR 30 requires that any person exporting byproduct material be specifically licensed by the AEC.

(1) An exemption in section 30.10 authorizes the export to any destination of tritium contained in luminous timepieces or contained in hands or dials for timepieces.

(2) An exemption in section 30.12 authorizes the export to any destination of lock illuminators, each containing not more than 15 millicuries of tritium, installed in automobile locks.

(3) A general license established in section 30.33(b) authorizes any domestic licensee of the AEC to export from the United States any byproduct material covered by his license and having an atomic number from 3 to 83, inclusive, and tritium when contained in luminous safety devices installed in aircraft and distributed domestically as a generally licensed item pursuant to section 30.24(j) to any foreign country except Cuba or Subgroup A countries or destinations listed in section 371.3 of the Comprehensive Export Schedule of the U.S. Department of Commerce (15 CFR 371.3).

(4) A general license established in section 30.33(c) authorizes any domestic licensee of the AEC to export from the United States byproduct material (having an atomic number from 3 to 83, inclusive) to Cuba to the extent that the byproduct material is contained in medicinal or pharmaceutical preparations or in devices, applicators, or appliances designed for use in medical diagnosis or therapy.

(5) A general license established in section 30.33(d) authorizes any person to export from the United States to any country or destination not listed in section 30.75 (Schedule E) 5,000 curies of tritium and 5,000 curies of polonium 210 in a calendar quarter. Not more than 1,000 curies of tritium may be exported by any person to any one country or destination in a calendar quarter and not more than 100 curies of tritium may be exported by any person in a single shipment under this general license. Exports under this general license may be in one or more of the following forms or products only:

(a) tritium-activated luminous paint;
(b) tritium-labeled organic compounds;
(c) tritiated accelerator targets;
(d) polonium 210 static eliminators;
(e) polonium 210 neutron sources;
(f) tritium or polonium 210 calibration standards;
(g) luminescent light sources;
(h) tritium sources for chromatography instruments;
(i) electron tubes; or
(j) tritium as a contaminant of Helium 3 in a concentration not to exceed 2.5 millicuries of tritium per liter of Helium 3. (Export shipments of helium gas are subject to the licensing authority and regulations of the Department of State. Issuance of a specific or general license by the Atomic Energy Commission for tritium contained in Helium 3 does not relieve any person from complying with the licensing requirements and regulations of the Department of State applicable to the export of Helium 3.)

Each person exporting byproduct material pursuant to this general license shall file with the collector of customs or the postmaster one copy, in addition to those otherwise required, of the shipper's export declaration covering each export, and mark such copy for transmittal to the Division of Licensing and Regulation of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission, Washington, D.C. 20545.

Section 30.75 (Schedule E) of 10 CFR 30 lists the following countries and destinations:

Albania
Bulgaria
China, including Manchuria (and excluding Taiwan (Formosa)) (includes Inner Mongolia; the provinces of Tsinghai and Sikang; Sinkiang; Tibet; the former Kwantung Leased Territory, the present Port Arthur Naval Base Area and Liaoning Province)
Commnist-controlled area of Viet Nam
Cuba
Czechoslovakia
East Germany (Soviet Zone of Germany and the Soviet Sector of Berlin)
Estonia
Hungary
Latvia
Lithuania
North Korea
Outer Mongolia
Poland
Rumania
Union of Soviet Socialist Republics

(6) Special Instructions Concerning Shipments Exported Under a General License:

(a) Licensees have been informed by AEC to place the symbol "AEC-GRO-10 CFR 30.33(b)" in the appropriate column on the shipper's export declaration whenever an export shipment is made under the provisions of the general license established in section 30.33(b), "AEC-GRO-10 CFR 30.33(c)" whenever the shipment is made under section 30.33(c), . . . and "AEC-GRO-10 CFR 30.33(d)" whenever the shipment is made under section 30.33(d).

(b) Customs officers should not presume that the showing of a domestic AEC license number, as well as the symbol "AEC-GRO-10 CFR 30.33(b)", "AEC-GRO-10 CFR 30.33(c)" . . . , or "AEC-GRO-10 CFR 30.33(d)" indicates that a specific license to export the material has been issued or was required. The atomic number of the material or the destination determines whether a specific license is required.

(c) The "atomic weight" of a radioactive byproduct material should not be confused with the "atomic number" of the same material. For example, an export declaration may describe an exportation of radioactive barium as "Barium 131". The atomic number of barium is 56. The figure 131 is the atomic weight or mass. Below is a list of the majority of those byproduct materials of atomic number 3-83 in common use today.

Byproduct Material	Symbol	Atomic Weight or Mass	Atomic Number

Part B—Importation and Exportation of Radioactive Source Material (10 CFR 40)

1. Source Material is defined as (1) uranium or thorium, or any combination thereof, in any physical or chemical form; or (2) ores which contain by weight one-twentieth of one percent (0.05%) or more of (i) uranium, (ii) thorium or (iii) any combination thereof. Source materials does not include special nuclear material. (10 CFR 40.4(h))

Some of the more common ores, compounds, alloys, and products containing source material are as follows:

Ammonium di-uranate
Magnesium di-uranate
Magnesium uranyl acetate
Sodium di-uranate
Sodium uranate
Uranium dioxide (UO_2)
Uranium hexafluoride (UF_6)
Uranium metal
Uranium-nickel wire
Uranium oxide (U_3O_8)
Uranium sulphate
Uranium tetrafluoride (UF_4)
Uranium trioxide (UO_3)
Yellowcake (Uranium oxide)
Zinc uranyl acetate

Thorium chloride
Thorium fluoride
Thorium hydroxide
Thorium metal
Thorium nitrate
Thorium oxalate
Thorium oxide
Thorium powder
Thorium sulphate
Thorium tetrafluoride
Thorium-magnesium alloy
Thoriated tungsten wire
Thoriated tungsten electrodes
Thorotrast (medical preparation trade name)
Umbrathor (medical preparation trade name)
Incandescent gas mantles, containing thorium

Autonite
Brannerite
Carnotite
Monazite Sand
Pitchblende
Thorianite
Thorite
Torbornite
Uraninite

2. License Requirements:

a. Imports—10 CFR 40 povides that no person subject to the regulations shall import source material except as authorized in a specific or general license, or an exemption, issued by the AEC.

(1) A general license established in 10 CFR 40.22 (as amplified by 40.41(c) authorizes the importation at any one time of up to 15 pounds of source material by pharmacists, physicians, commercial and industrial firms, research institutions, educational institutions, or medical institutions.

(2) Exemptions established in 10 CFR 40 authorize any person to import:

(a) source material in any chemical mixture, compound, solution, or alloy in which the source material is by weight less than 1/20 of 1 percent (0.05 percent) of the mixture, compound, solution, or alloy. (10 CFR 40.13(a))

(b) unrefined and unprocessed ore containing source material. (10 CFR 40.13(b))

(c) any quantity of thorium contained in (i) incandescent gas mantles; (ii) vacuum tubes; (iii) welding rods; or (iv) rare earth metals and compounds, mixtures and products containing not more than 0.25% by weight thorium, uranium or any combination of these. (10 CFR 40.13(c)(1))

(d) source material contained in the following products (i) glazed ceramic tableware, provided that the glaze contains not more than 20 percent source material; (ii) glassware containing not more than 10 percent source material; but not including glass brick, pane glass, ceramic tile or other glass or ceramic used in construction. (10 CFR 40.13(c)(2))

(e) photographic film, negatives, and prints containing uranium or thorium. (10 CFR 40.13(a)(3))

(f) any finished product or part fabricated of, or containing tungsten or magnesium-thorium alloys: Provided, that the thorium content of the alloy does not exceed 4 percent by weight. (10 CFR 40.13(c)(4))

(g) uranium contained in aircraft counterweights installed in aircraft, . . . rockets, projectiles, or missiles; provided that any such counterweight has been impressed with a statement, clearly legible after plating, which states, "Caution - Radioactive Material - Uranium". (10 CFR 40.13(c))5))

(h) uranium used as shielding constituting part of any shipping container which is conspicuously and legibly impressed with the legend "CAUTION—RADIOACTIVE SHIELDING—URANIUM", and which meets the specifications for containers for radioactive materials prescribed by section 78.250, Specification 55, Part 78 of the regulations of the Interstate Commerce Commission (49 CFR 78.250).

Further, section 40.41(c) provides that ". . . except as otherwise provided in the license, a license (authorizing domestic activities) issued pursuant to the regulations in this part shall carry with it the right to . . . import source material. . . ."

b. Exports—10 CFR 40 provides that no person subject to the regulations shall export source material except as authorized in a specific or general license issued by AEC.

(1) A general license, established in section 40.23(a), designated AEC-GRO-SMA, authorizes the export at any one time of up to three (3) pounds of source material from the United States to any foreign country or destination except Cuba or countries or areas listed in section 40.90 of 10 CFR 40. Each person exporting source material pursuant to this general license shall file with the collector of customs or the postmaster one copy, in addition to those otherwise required, of the shipper's export declaration covering each export, and mark such copy for transmittal to the Division of Licensing and Regulations of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission, Washington, D.C. 20545.

(2) A general license, established in section 40.23(b), designated AEC-GRO-SMB, authorizes the export of incandescent gas mantles containing thorium, without regard to quantity, from the United States to any foreign country or destination except Cuba or countries or destinations listed in section 40.90 of 10 CFR 40.

(3) A general license, established in 40.23(c), designated AEC-GRO-SMC, authorizes the export from the United States to any foreign country or destination, except countries or destinations listed in section 40.90, of uranium in the form of counterweights installed in aircraft,

. . . rockets, projectiles, or missiles, provided that such counterweights have been manufactured under a specific license issued by the Commission and have been impressed with a statement, clearly legible after plating, which states: "CAUTION—RADIOACTIVE MATERIAL—URANIUM."

(4) An exemption, established in 10 CFR 40, authorizes any person to export source material in any chemical mixture, compound, solution, or alloy in which the source material is by weight less than 1/20 of 1 percent (0.05%) of the mixture, compound, solution or alloy. (10 CFR 40.13(a))

(5) Specific Licenses—In those cases where a specific license is required for the exportation of source material, the procedure set forth below will be followed:

(a) A prospective exporter must file an application for a specific license to export source material on AEC Form 7 (license application). If approved, a license on AEC Form 250 will be issued.

(b) The export license must be presented to the collector of customs at the port of exit from the United States, or in the event that the items licensed are mailed, to the postmaster at the post office of mailing. The exporter must also present a shipper's export declaration (Department of Commerce Form 7525-V) in the number of copies required under current Department of Commerce instructions.

(c) The export license shall not be accepted unless signed by the licensee in the space provided on the reverse side of AEC Form 250.

(d) Before permitting lading for export, customs officers shall in all cases when feasible, check numbers and symbols appearing on the containers against the export declaration. If discrepancies are found and on the basis of information received or circumstances attending the transaction, the collector believes that opening of the containers and verification of the contents is desirable, such action shall be taken in accordance with Bureau Circular TEC-3-TS, July 22, 1959 (BCL X-220) Subject: Examination and safehandling of radioactive material, and TEC-3-TS, November 23, 1959 (BCL X-220 S1).

(e) After permission to lade the shipment for export has been granted, the collector of customs or the postmaster shall indicate on the reverse side of AEC Form 250 whether complete or partial shipment of the items licensed was made. If a complete shipment was made the collector of customs or the postmaster shall sign the export license in the space provided on the reverse side and return the license to Atomic Energy Commission, Washington, D.C. 20545.

It is not necessary to forward a copy of the shipper's export declaration for shipments of source materials under a specific license to the AEC. In these cases the export declaration is distributed in accordance with instructions on the reverse side of the form.

(f) In the event a partial shipment is made and the licensee wishes to complete shipment of the unshipped balance, the collector of customs should retain the export license until shipment is complete or the license has expired, whichever is earlier. It should then be returned to Atomic Energy Commission, Washington, D.C. 20545.

Part C—Importation and Exportation of Facilities for the Production and Utilization of Fissionable Material (10 CFR 50)

1. Definitions:

a. Production facility is defined as:

(1) any nuclear reactor designed or used primarily for the formation of plutonium or uranium 233;

(2) any facility designed or used for the separation of the isotopes of uranium or the isotopes of plutonium, except laboratory scale facilities designed or used for experimental or analytical purposes only; or

(3) any facility designed or used for the processing of irradiated materials containing special nuclear material, except (a) laboratory scale facilities designed or used for experimental or analytical purposes, and (b) facilities in which the only special nuclear materials contained in the irradiated material to be processed are uranium enriched in the isotope U-235 and plutonium produced by the irradiation, if the material processed contains not more than 10-6 grams of plutonium per gram of U-235 and the fission product activity is not in excess of 0.25 millicuries of fission products per gram of U-235.

b. A utilization facility is defined as any nuclear reactor other than one designed or used primarily for the formation of plutonium or V-233.

c. Radiation detection devices, instruments and meters are not included in the definitions of either production or utilization facilities. The importation or exportation of such items is controlled by current regulations of the Bureau of Foreign Commerce and not by AEC.

2. Licensing Requirements:

a. Imports—10 CFR 50 provides that no person subject to the regulations shall import a production or utilization facility except as authorized in a specific license issued by AEC.

b. Exports:

(1) General License—10 CFR 50 provides that no person subject to the regulations shall export a production or utilization facility except as authorized in a specific license.

(2) Specific Licenses—With respect to exportation of production or utilization facilities the following procedure will be followed:

(a) A prospective exporter must file an application, by letter, for a specific license to export production or utilization facilities. If approved, a license on AEC-250 will be issued.

(b) The export license must be presented to the collector of customs at the port of exit of the United States. The exporter must also present a shipper's export declaration (Department of Commerce Form 7525-V) in the number of copies required under current Department of Commerce instructions.

(c) The export license shall not be accepted unless signed by the licensee in the space provided on the reverse of AEC Form 250.

(d) Before permitting lading for exportation, customs officers shall in all cases, when feasible, check numbers and symbols appearing on the containers against the export declaration. If discrepancies are found and on the basis of information received or circumstances attending the transaction, the collector believes that opening of the containers and verification of the contents is desirable, such action should be taken. We have been assured that no physical danger to individuals is involved in the examination of production or utilization facilities unless the containers are specifically so marked. If the containers are marked to indicate that radioactive materials are present, Bureau Circular TEC-3-TS, July 22, 1959 (BCL X-220), Subject: Examination and Handling of Radioactive Material, and TEC-3-TS, November 23, 1959 (BCL X-220) S1), should be followed if the containers are opened.

(e) After permission to lade the shipment for export has been granted, the collector of customs shall indicate on the reverse side of AEC Form 250 whether complete or partial shipment of the items licensed was made. If a complete shipment was made the collector of customs shall sign the export license in the space provided on the reverse side and return the license to Atomic Energy Commission, Washington, D.C. 20545.

It is not necessary to forward a copy of the shipper's export declaration for shipments of production or utilization facilities to the AEC. In these cases the export declaration is distributed in accordance with instructions on the reverse side of Department of Commerce Form 7525-V.

(f) In the event a partial shipment is made and the licensee wishes to complete shipment of the unshipped balance, the collector of customs should retain the export license until shipment is complete or the license has expired, whichever is earlier. It should then be returned to Atomic Energy Commission, Washington, D.C. 20545.

Part D—Importation and Exportation of Special Nuclear Material (10 CFR 70)

1. Definitions:

a. Special nuclear material is defined as (1) plutonium, uranium 233, uranium enriched in the isotope 233 or in the isotope 235, and any other material which the AEC, pursuant to the provisions of section 51 of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, determines to be special nuclear material; or (2) any material artificially enriched by any of the foregoing. (10 CFR 70.4(m))

b. An agreement for cooperation is an agreement between the United States and a foreign nation, a group of nations, or regional defense organization, which establishes a framework within which cooperation in the atomic energy field may take place.

2. AEC Licensing Requirements:

a. Both the importation and exportation of special nuclear material is prohibited except under an Agreement for Cooperation. Imports and exports are accomplished on a government to government basis. No import or export licenses are issued.

b. Any attempt to import or export special nuclear material, other than under an agreement for cooperation, should be immediately reported to the Atomic Energy Commission.

c. Special instructions for customs officers concerning the importation or exportation of government-to-government shipments of special nuclear material can be found in Bureau Circular RES-3-MI, March 20, 1962.

XXVII. NATIONAL DEFENSE, APPENDIX REGULATIONS—TRANSPORTATION ORDERS OF UNDER SECRETARY OF COMMERCE FOR TRANSPORTATION (32A CFR, Ch. VII)

T-1 (Amended)—Shipping Restrictions; Subgroup A, Hong Kong, Macao, and Cuba

Transportation Order T-1 (15 F.R. 8777, Dec. 8, 1950), as amended (26 F.R. 2711, March 31, 1961; 26 F.R. 5927, July 1, 1961; 27 F.R. 9102, Sept. 13, 1962), is hereby amended to read as follows:

This order as amended is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense and is issued pursuant to the authority granted by section 101 of the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended. Consultation with industry in advance of the issuance of this order has been rendered impracticable by the need for immediate issuance.

Sec.
1. Prohibited Transportation and discharge.
2. Applications for adjustment or exceptions.
3. Reports.
4. Records.
5. Defense against claims for damages.
6. Violations.

AUTHORITY: Secs. 1 to 6 issued under sec. 704, 64 Stat. 816, as amended; 50 U.S.C. App. 2154, as amended; Interpret or apply secs. 101, 705, 64 Stat. 799, as amended; 50 U.S.C. App. 2071; E.O. 10480, 18 F.R. 4939, 3 CFR, 1953 Supp.

Sec. 1. Prohibited transportation and discharge.—No person shall transport in any ship documented under the laws of the United States or in any aircraft registered under the laws of the United States any commodity at the time on the Positive List (as amended from time to time) of the Comprehensive Export Schedule of the Bureau of International Commerce, Department of Commerce (15 CFR Parts 368-399), any article designated as arms, ammunition, and implements of war in the United States Munitions List (22 CFR Parts 121-128), or any commodity, including fissionable materials controlled for export under the Atomic Energy Act of 1954 (10 CFR Parts 40 and 50), to any destination at the time in Subgroup A of the Comprehensive Export Schedule (15 CFR 371.3(a)), to Hong Kong, Macao, or Cuba, and no person shall discharge from any such ship or any such aircraft any such commodity or article at any such port or place or at any other port or place in transit to any such destination, unless a validated export license under the Export Control Act of 1949, as amended, under section 414 of the Mutual Security Act of 1954, as amended, or under the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended, has been obtained for the shipment, or unless authorization for the shipment has been obtained from the Under Secretary for Transportation. This prohibition applies to the owner of the ship or aircraft, the master of the ship or aircraft, or any other officer, employee or agent of the owner of the ship or aircraft who participates in the transportation. The consular officers of the United States are furnished with current information as to commodities on the Positive List and will advise whether commodities are currently on that List.

Sec. 2. Applications for adjustment or exceptions.—Any person affected by any provisions of this order may file an application for an adjustment or exception upon the ground that such provision works an exceptional hardship upon him, not suffered by others, or that its enforcement against him would not be in the interest of the national defense program. Such an application may be made by letter or telegram addressed to the Under Secretary for Transportation, Washington, D.C. 20230, reference T-1. If authorization is requested, any such application should specify in detail the material to be shipped, the name and address of the shipper and of the recipient of the shipment, the ports or places from which and to which the shipment is being made and the use to which the material shipped will be put. The application should also specify in detail the facts which support the applicant's claim for an exception.

Sec. 3. Reports.—Persons subject to this order shall submit such reports to the Under Secretary for Transportation as he shall require, subject to the terms of the Federal Reports Act.

Sec. 4. Records.—Each person participating in any transaction covered by this order shall retain in his possession, for at least two yers, records of shipments in sufficient detail to permit an audit that determines for each transaction that the provisions of this order have been met. This does not specify any particular accounting method and does not require alteration of the system of records customarily maintained, provided such records supply an adequate basis for audit. Records may be retained in the form of microfilm or other photographic copies instead of the originals.

Sec. 5. Defense against claims for damages.—No person shall be held liable for damages or penalties for any default under any contract or order which shall result directly or indirectly from compliance with this order or any provision thereof, notwithstanding that this order or such provision shall thereafter be declared by judicial or other competent authority to be invalid.

Sec. 6. Violations.—Any person who wilfully violates any provisions of this order or wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information in the course of operation under this order is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment or both. In addition, administrative action may be taken against any such person, denying him the privileges generally accorded under this order.

This order shall be effective on the date of its publication in the Federal Register.

T-2—Shipping Restrictions; North Korea and the Communist-Controlled Area of Viet Nam

Sec.
1. Prohibition of movement of American carriers to North Korea or to the Communist-controlled area of Viet Nam.
2. Prohibition on transportation of goods destined for North Korea or the Communist-controlled area of Viet Nam.
3. Persons affected.
4. Reports.
5. Records.
6. Defense against claims for damages.
7. Violations.

AUTHORITY: Secs. 1 to 7 issued under sec. 704, 64 Stat. 816, as amended; 50 U.S.C. App. 2154[1] Interpret or apply sec. 101, 64 Stat. 799, as amended; 50 U.S.C. App. 2071; E.O. 10480, 18 F.R. 4939, CFR, 1953. Supp., and sec. 4(a) Public Law 89-670, 80 Stat. 933; 49 U.S.C. 1653.

SOURCE: Sections 1 to 7 contained in Transportation Order T-2 (Amended), 37 FR 25040, Nov. 25, 1972, unless otherwise noted.

Sec. 1. Prohibition of movement of American carriers to North Korea or to the Communist-controlled area of Viet Nam.—No person shall sail, fly, navigate, or otherwise take any ship documented under the laws of the United States or any aircraft registered under the laws of the United States to North Korea or to the Communist-controlled area of Viet Nam.

Sec. 2. Prohibition on transportation of goods destined for North Korea or the Communist-controlled area of Viet Nam.—No person shall transport, in any ship documented under the laws of the United States, or in any aircraft registered under the laws of the United States, to North Korea or to the Communist-controlled area of Viet Nam, any material, commodity, or cargo of any kind. No person shall take on board any ship documented under the laws of the United States or any aircraft registered under the laws of the United States any material, commodity, or cargo of any kind if he knows or has reason to believe that the material, commodity, or cargo is destined, directly or indirectly for North Korea or for the Communist-controlled area of Viet Nam. No person shall discharge from any ship documented under the laws of the United States or from any aircraft registered under the laws of the United States, at any place other than the port where the cargo was loaded, or within territory under the jurisdiction of the United States any material, commodity, or cargo of any kind which he knows or has reason to believe is destined for North Korea or for the Communist-controlled area of Viet Nam.

Sec. 3. Persons affected.—The prohibitions of this order apply to the owner of the ship or aircraft, to the master of the ship or aircraft, and to any other officer, employee, or agent of the owner of the ship or to any other person who participates in the prohibited activities.

Sec. 4. Reports.—Persons subject to this order shall submit such reports to either the Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Domestic and International Business, Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Maritime Affairs, or the Assistant Secretary of Transportation for Policy and International Affairs, for, respectively, cargoes, vessels or aircraft as shall be required, subject to the terms of the Federal Reports Act.

Sec. 5. Records.—Each person participating in any transaction covered by this order shall retain in his possession, for at least 2 years, records of voyages and shipments in sufficient detail to permit an audit that will determine for each transaction that the provisions of this order have been met. This provision does not require any particular accounting method and does not require alteration of the system customarily maintained, provided such records supply an adequate basis for audit. Records may be retained in the form of microfilm or other photographic copies instead of the originals.

[1] P.L. 92-325, approved June 30, 1972, extended the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, to June 30, 1974.

Sec. 6. Defense against claims for damages.—No person shall be held liable for damages or penalties for any default under any contract or order which shall result directly or indirectly from compliance with this order or any provision, thereof, notwithstanding that this order or such provision shall thereafter be declared by judicial or other competent authority to be invalid.

Sec. 7. Violations.—Any person who willfully violates any provisions of this order, or willfully conceals a material fact, or furnishes false information in the course of operation under this order, shall, upon conviction, be punished by fine or imprisonment, or both. In addition, administrative action may be taken against any such person, denying him the privileges generally accorded under this order.

XXVIII. BONA FIDE MOTOR-VEHICLE MANUFACTURERS

Regulations of the Department of Commerce, under the Automotive Products Trade Act of 1965 (Public Law 89-283, 79 Stat. 1016) relating to determinations of Bona Fide Motor-Vehicle Manufacturers (15 CFR 315.1-315.5).

Sec. 315.1 Scope and purpose.—The purpose of this part is to set forth regulations implementing headnote 2 to subpart B, part 6, schedule 6 of the Tariff Schedules of the United States as proclaimed by Proclamation No. 3682 of October 21, 1965 (3 CFR 140 (1964-65 Comp.)), issued pursuant to the Automotive Products Trade Act of 1965 (19 U.S.C. sec. 2031), by establishing a procedure under which a person may apply to be determined a bona fide motor-vehicle manufacturer. Under headnote 2 to Subpart B, part 6, schedule 6 of the Tariff Schedules of the United States, whenever the Secretary of Commerce has determined a person to be a bona fide motor-vehicle manufacturer, such person is eligible to obtain duty-free importation of certain Canadian articles and to issue certain orders, contracts, or letters of intent under or pursuant to which other persons, not themselves bona fide motor-vehicle manufacturers, may obtain duty-free treatment for such Canadian articles. The responsibilities of Secretary of Commerce relating to the development, maintenance and publication of a list of bona fide motor-vehicle manufacturers and the authority to promulgate rules and regulations pertaining thereto, have been delegated to the Deputy Assistant Secretary for Domestic Commerce, Department of Commerce, with power of redelegation.

Sec. 315.2 Definitions.—For the purposes of the regulations in this part and the forms issued to implement it:

(a) "Act" means the Automotive Products Trade Act of 1965 (79 Stat. 1016, 19 U.s.C. secs. 2001-2033).

(b) Deputy Assistant Secretary means the Deputy Assistant Secretary for Domestic Commerce of the Department of Commerce, or such official as may be designated by him to act in his behalf.

(c) "Motor vehicle" means a motor vehicle of a kind described in item 692.05 or 692.10 of subpart B, part 6, schedule 6 of the Tariff Schedules of the United States (excluding an electric trolley bus and a three-wheeled vehicle) or an automobile truck tractor.

(d) "Bona fide motor-vehicle manufacturer" means a person who, upon application to the Deputy Assistant Secretary under this part is determined by the Deputy Assistant Secretary to have produced no fewer than 15 complete motor vehicles in the United States during the 12-month period preceding the date certified in the application, and to have had as of such date installed capacity in the United States to produce 10 or more complete motor vehicles per 40-hour week. A person shall only be regarded as having had the capacity to produce a complete motor vehicle if his operations included the assembly of two or more major components (e.g., the attachment of a body to a chassis) to create a new motor vehicle ready for use.

(e) "Person" includes any individual, corporation, partnership, association, company, or any other kind of organization.

(f) "United States" includes only the States, the District of Columbia, and Puerto Rico.

Sec. 315.3 Application.—Any person in the United States desiring to be determined a bona fide motor-vehicle manufacturer shall apply to the Deputy Assistant Secretary by filing two copies of Form DIB-964 in accordance with the instructions set forth in the form and in this part. Application forms may be obtained from the Deputy Assistant Secretary, field offices of the U.S. Department of Commerce, or from U.S. District Directors of Customs, and should be mailed or delivered to the:

Transportation and Capital Equipment Division, OBRA
Bureau of Domestic Commerce U.S. Department of Commerce, Washington, D.C. 20230.

Sec. 315.4 Determination by the Deputy Assistant Secretary for Domestic Commerce.—(a) As soon as practicable after receipt of the application, the Deputy Assistant Secretary shall determine whether an applicant has produced no fewer than 15 complete motor vehicles in the United States during the 12-month period preceding the date certified in the application and as of such date, had installed capacity in the United States to produce 10 or more complete motor vehicles per 40-hour week. The Deputy Assistant Secretary may request such additional data from an applicant as he may deem appropriate to establish whether the applicant has satisfied the requirements of this part.

(b) A determination by the Deputy Assistant Secretary under this part shall be effective for a 12-month period to begin on the date as of which the Deputy Assistant Secretary determines that the applicant qualified under this part. Within 60 days prior to the termination of such period, a bona fide motor-vehicle manufacturer may apply for another determination under this part.

(c) The Deputy Assistant Secretary will promptly notify each applicant in writing of the final action taken on his application.

Sec. 315.5 Maintenance and publication of a list of bona fide motor-vehicle manufacturers.—The Deputy Assistant Secretary shall maintain, and publish from time to time in the FEDERAL REGISTER, a list of the names and addresses of bona fide motor-vehicle manufacturers, and the effective dates for each determination.

XXIX. POLITICAL ITEMS, COINS, AND OTHER NUMISMATIC ITEMS—HOBBY PROTECTION ACT (87 STAT. 686; 15 U.S.C. 2101 ET SEQ.)

Regulations of the Federal Trade Commission relating to the importation of political items, coins, and other numismatic items, Code of Federal Regulations, Title 16, Sections 304.1-304.6.

Sec. 304.1 Terms defined.—(a) "Act" means the Hobby Protection Act (approved November 29, 1973; Pub. L. 93-167, 87 Stat. 686, (15 U.S.C. 2101, et seq.)).

(b) "Commerce" has the same meanings as such term has under the Federal Trade Commission Act.

(c) "Commission" means the Federal Trade Commission.

(d) "Imitation numismatic item" means an item which purports to be, but in fact is not, an original numismatic item or which is a reproduction, copy, or counterfeit of an original numismatic item. Such term includes an original numismatic item which has been altered or modified in such a manner that it could reasonably purport to be an original numismatic item other than the one which was altered or modified. The term shall not include any reissue or re-strike of any original numismatic item by the United States or any foreign government.

(e) "Imitation political item" means an item which purports to be, but in fact is not, an original political item, or which is a reproduction, copy or counterfeit of an original item.

(f) "Original numismatic item" means anything which has been a part of a coinage or issue which has been used in exchange or has been used to commemorate a person, object, place, or event. Such term includes coins, tokens, paper money, and commemorative medals.

(g) "Original political item" means any political button, poster, literature, sticker, or any advertisement produced for use in any political cause.

(h) "Person" means any individual, group, association, partnership, or any other business entity.

(i) "Regulations" means any or all regulations prescribed by the Federal Trade Commission pursuant to the Act.

(j) "United States" means the States, the District of Columbia, and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.

Sec. 304.2 General requirement.—Imitation political or numismatic items subject to the Act shall be marked in conformity with the requirements of the Act and the regulations promulgated thereunder. Any violation of these regulations shall constitute a violation of the Act and of the Federal Trade Commission Act.

Sec. 304.3 Applicability.—Any person engaged in the manufacturing, or importation into the United States for introduction into or distribution in commerce, of imitation political or imitation numismatic items shall be subject to the requirements of the Act and the regulations promulgated thereunder.

Sec. 304.4 Application of other law or regulation.—The provisions of these regulations are in addition to, and not in substitution for or limitation of, the provisions of any other law or regulation of the United States (including the existing statutes and regulations prohibiting the reproduction of genuine currency) or of the law or regulation of any State.

Sec. 304.5 Marking requirements for imitation political items.—(a) An imitation political item which is manufactured in the United States, or imported into the United States for introduction into or distribution in commerce, shall be plainly and permanently marked with the calendar year in which such item was manufactured.

(b) The calendar year shall be marked upon the item legibly, conspicuously and nondeceptively, and in accordance with the further requirements of these regulations.

(1) The calendar year shall appear in arabic numerals, shall be based upon the Gregorian calendar and shall consist of four digits.

(2) The calendar year shall be marked on either the obverse or the reverse surface of the item. It shall not be marked on the edge of the item.

(3) An imitation political item of incusable material shall be incused with the calendar year in sans-serif numerals. Each numeral shall have a vertical dimension of not less than two millimeters (2.0 mm) and a minimum depth of three-tenths of one millimeter (0.3 mm) or one-half (1/2) the thickness of the reproduction whichever is the lesser. The minimum total horizontal dimension for the four numerals composing the calendar year shall be six millimeters (6.0 mm).

(4) An imitation political button, poster, literature, sticker, or advertisement composed of nonincusable material shall be imprinted with the calendar year in sans-serif numerals. Each numeral shall have a vertical dimension of not less than two millimeters (2.0 mm). The minimum total horizontal dimension of the four numerals composing the calendar year shall be six millimeters (6.0 mm).

Sec. 304.6 Marking requirements for imitation numismatic items.—(a) An imitation numismatic item which is manufactured in the United States, or imported into the United States for introduction into or distribution in commerce, shall be plainly and permanently marked "COPY".

(b) The word "COPY" shall be marked upon the item legibly, conspicuously, and nondeceptively, and in accordance with the further requirements of these regulations.

(1) The word "COPY" shall apper in capital letters, in the English language.

(2) The word "COPY" shall be marked on either the obverse or the reverse surface of the item. It shall not be marked on the edge of the item.

(3) An imitation numismatic item of incusable material shall be incused with the word "COPY" in sans-serif letters having a vertical dimension of not less than two millimeters (2.0 mm) and a minimum depth of three-tenths of one millimeter (0.3 mm) or to one-half (1/2) the thickness of the reproduction, whichever is the lesser. The minimum total horizontal dimension of the word "COPY" shall be six millimeters (6.0 mm).

(4) An imitation numismatic item composed of nonincusable material shall be imprinted with the word "COPY" in sans-serif letters having a vertical dimension of not less than two millimeters (2.0 mm). The minimum total horizontal dimension of the word "COPY" shall be six millimeters (6.0 mm).

XXX. IMPORTATION OF EXPLOSIVE MATERIALS

Regulations of the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms relating to the importation of explosive materials, Code of Federal Regulations, Title 26, Sections 181.1-181.163.

Subpart A—Introduction

Sec. 181.1 Scope of regulations.—(a) In general. The regulations contained in this part relate to commerce in explosives and are promulgated to implement title XI, Regulation of Explosives (18 U.S.C. chapter 40; 84 Stat. 952), of the Organized Crime Control Act of 1970 (84 Stat. 922).

(b) Procedural and substantive requirements. This part contains the procedural and substantive requirements relative to:

(1) The interstate or foreign commerce in explosive materials;

(2) The licensing of manufacturers and importers of, and dealers in, explosive materials;

(3) The issuance of user permits;

(4) The conduct of business by licensees and operations by permittees;

(5) The storage of explosive materials;

(6) The records and reports required of licensees and permittees;

(7) Relief from disabilities under this part; and

(8) Exemptions, unlawful acts, penalties, seizures, and forfeitures.

(c) Persons engaged in business or operations on October 15, 1970. This part fully applies to persons engaged on October 15, 1970, in business or operations requiring a license or permit under this part who have filed an application for such license or permit prior to February 12, 1971, and who are continuing such business or operations pending final action on such application pursuant to section 1105(c) of the Organized Crime Control Act of 1970 (84 Stat. 960).

Sec. 181.2 Relation to other provisions of law.—The provisions in this part are in addition to, and are not in lieu of, any other provisions of law, or regulations, respecting commerce in explosive materials. For regulations applicable to commerce in firearms and ammunition, see Part 178 of this chapter. For regulations applicable to traffic in machine guns, destructive devices, and certain other firearms, see Part 179 of this chapter. For statutes applicable to the registration and licensing of persons engaged in the business of manufacturing, importing or exporting arms, ammunition, or implements of war, see section 414 of the Mutual Security Act of 1954 (22 U.S.C. 1934), and regulations in Part 180 of this chapter and in Parts 121-128 of Title 22, Code of Federal Regulations. For statutes applicable to nonmailable materials, see 18 U.S.C. 1716 and regulations thereunder. For statutes applicable to water quality standards, see 33 U.S.C. 1171(b).

Subpart B—Definitions

Sec. 181.11 Meaning of terms.—When used in this part and in forms prescribed under this part, where not otherwise distinctly expressed or manifestly incompatible with the intent thereof, terms shall have the meanings ascribed in this section. Words in the plural form shall include the singular, and vice versa, and words importing the masculine gender shall include the feminine. The term "includes" and "including" do not exclude other things not enumerated which are in the same general class or are otherwise within the scope thereof.

State. A State of the United States. The term shall include the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, and the possessions of the United States (not including the Canal Zone).

State of residence. The State in which an individual regularly resides or maintains his home. Temporary sojourn in a State does not make the State of temporary sojourn the State of residence.

U.S.C. The United States Code.

User-limited permit. A user permit valid only for a single purchase transaction, a new permit being required for a subsequent purchase transaction.

User permit. A permit issued to a person authorizing him (1) to acquire for his own use explosive materials from a licensee in a State other than the State in which he resides or from a foreign country, and (2) to transport explosive materials so acquired in interstate or foreign commerce.

Sec. 181.41 General.—(a) Each person intending to engage in business as an importer or manufacturer of, or a dealer in, explosive materials shall, before commencing such business, obtain the license required by this subpart for the business to be operated. Each person who intends to acquire for use explosive materials from a licensee in a

State other than the State in which he resides, or from a foreign country, or who intends to transport explosive materials in interstate or foreign commerce, shall obtain a permit under the provisions of this subpart: Provided, That it is not necessary to obtain such permit if the user intends to lawfully purchase explosive materials from a licensee in a State contiguous to the user's State of residence and the user's State of residence has enacted legislation, currently in force, specifically authorizing a resident of that State to purchase explosive materials in a contiguous State.

(b) Each person intending to engage in business as an explosive materials importer, manufacturer, or dealer shall file an application, with the required fee (see section 181.42), with the Service Center Director for the internal revenue district in which his business premises are to be located. A separate license must be obtained for each business premises at which the applicant is to manufacture, import, or distribute explosive materials: Provided, That a seprate license shall not be required for storage facilities operated by the licensee as an integral part of one business premises or to cover a location used by the licensee solely for maintaining the records required by this part: Provided further, That a separate license shall not be required of a licensed manufacturer with respect to his on site manufacturing. A license shall, subject to the provisions of law, entitle the licensee to transport, ship, and receive explosive materials in interstate or foreign commerce, and to engage in the business specified by the license, at the location described on the license (and in the case of a licensed manufacturer, on site within the same internal revenue region), for the period stated on the license: Provided, That it shall not be necessary for a licensed importer or a licensed manufacturer (for purposes of sale or distribution) to also obtain a dealer's license in order to engage in business on his licensed premises as a dealer in explosive materials.

(c) Except as provided in paragraph (a) of this section, each person intending to acquire explosive materials from a licensee in a State other than a State in which he resides, or from a foreign country, or who intends to transport explosive materials in interstate or foreign commerce, shall file an application, with the required fee (see section 181.43), with the Service Center Director for the internal revenue district in which is located his legal residence or principal place of business. A permit shall, subject to the provisions of the Act and other applicable provisions of law, entitle the permittee to acquire, transport, ship, and receive in interstate or foreign commerce explosive materials of the class authorized by his permit. Only one permit is required under the provisions of this part.

Sec. 181.104 Certified copy of license or permit.—Except as provided in section 181.49(a), each person issued a license or permit under the provisions of this part shall be furnished together with his license or permit a copy thereof for his certification. If such a person desires an additional copy of his license or permit for certification and for use pursuant to section 181.103, he shall:

(a) Make a reproduction of the copy of his license or permit and execute the certification thereon, or

(b) Make a reproduction of his license or permit, enter upon such reproduction the statement: "I certify that this ia a true copy of a (insert the word license or permit) issued to me to engage in the business or operations specified in Item 5" and sign his name adjacent thereto, or

(c) Submit a request, in writing, for certified copies of his license or permit to the Assistant Regional Commissioner for the Internal Revenue region in which the license or permit was issued. The request shall set forth the name, trade name (if any), and address of the licensee or permittee and the number of copies of the license or permit desired. There shall be imposed a fee of $1 for each copy of a license or permit issued by the Assistant Regional Commissioner under the provisions of this paragraph. Fee payment shall accompany each such request for additional copies of a license or permit. Such fee shall be paid by (1) cash, or (2) money order or check made payable to the Internal Revenue Service.

Sec. 181.105 Distributions to nonlicensees and nonpermittees.—(a) The provisions of this section shall apply in any case where distribution of explosive materials to the distributee is not otherwise prohibited by the Act or this part.

(b) Except as provided in paragraph (c) of this section, a licensed importer, licensed manufacturer, or licensed dealer may distribute explosive materials to a nonlicensee or nonpermittee if the nonlicensee or nonpermittee is a resident of the same State in which the licensee's business premises are located, and the nonlicensee or nonpermittee furnishes to the licensee the explosives transaction record, Form 4710, required by section 181.126. Disposition of Form 4710 shall be made in accordance with the provisions of section 181.126(c).

(c) A licensed importer, licensed manufacturer, or licensed dealer may sell or distribute explosive materials to a resident of a State contiguous to the State in which the licensee's place of business is located if the purchaser's State of residence has enacted legislation, currently in force, specifically authorizing a resident of that State to purchase explosive materials in a contiguous State and the purchaser and the licensee have, prior to the distribution of the explosive materials, complied with all the requirements of paragraphs (b), (e), and (f) of this section applicable to intrastate transactions occurring on the licensee's business premises.

(d) A licensed manufacturer-limited or a permittee may dispose of surplus stocks of explosive materials to a nonlicensee or nonpermittee if the nonlicensee or nonpermittee is a resident of the same State in which such licensee's or permittee's business premises or operations are located, or is a resident of a State contiguous to the State in which the licensee's or permittee's place of business or operations are located, and if the requirements of paragraphs (b), (c), (e), and (f) of this section are fully met.

(e) A licensed importer, licensed manufacturer, or licensed dealer selling or otherwise distributing explosive materials to a business entity shall verify the identity of the representative or agent of the business entity who is authorized to acquire explosive materials on behalf of such business entity. Each business entity acquiring explosive materials shall furnish the licensed importer, licensed manufacturer, or licensed dealer with a current certified list of the names of representatives or agents authorized to acquire explosive materials on behalf of such business entity. A licensed importer, licensed manufacturer, or licensed dealer shall not distribute explosive materials to a business entity on the order of a person whose name does not appear on such list.

(f) Where the possession of explosive materials is transferred at the distributor's premises, the distributor shall in all instances verify the identity of the person accepting possession on behalf of the distributee before relinquishing such possession. Prior to the delivery at the distributor's premises of explosive materials to an employee of a nonlicensee or nonpermittee, or to an employee of a carrier transporting explosive materials to a nonlicensee or nonpermittee, the distributor so delivering explosive materials shall obtain an executed Form 4721 from such employee before releasing the explosive materials. The Form 4721 shall contain all of the information as indicated by the headings on the form and the instructions thereon or issued in respect thereto, and as required by this part.

Sec. 181.106 Certain prohibited distributions.—(a) A licensed importer, licensed manufacturer, licensed manufacturer-limited, or licensed dealer shall not distribute explosive materials to any person not licensed or holding a permit under this part, who the licensee knows or has reason to believe does not reside in the State in which the licensee's place of business is located: Provided, That the foregoing provisions of this paragraph shall not apply to the distribution of explosive materials to a resident of a State contiguous to the State in which the licensee's place of business is located if the requirements of section 181.105(c) are fully met.

(b) A licensed importer, licensed manufacturer, licensed manufacturer-limited, or licensed dealer shall not distribute any explosive material to any person (1) who the importer, manufacturer, or dealer knows is less than 21 years of age, or (2) in any State where the purchase, possession, or use by such person of such explosive materials would be in violation of any State law or any published ordinance applicable at the place of distribution, or (3) who the importer, manufacturer, or dealer has reason to believe intends to transport such explosive materials into a State where the purchase, possession, or use of explosive materials is prohibited or which does not permit its residents to transport or ship explosive materials into such State or to receive explosive materials in such State, or (4) who the importer, manufacturer, or dealer has reasonable cause to believe intends to use such explosive materials for other than a lawful purpose.

(c) A licensed importer, licensed manufacturer, licensed manufacturer-limited, or licensed dealer shall not distribute any explosive materials to any person knowing or having reason to believe that such person (1) is, except as provided under section 181.142 (d) and (e), under indictment for, or has been convicted in any court of, a crime punishable by imprisonment for a term exceeding 1 year, (2) is a fugitive from justice, (3) is an unlawful user of marihuana (as defined in section 4761 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954; 26 U.S.C. 4761) or any depressant or stimulant drug (as defined in section 201 (v) of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act; 21 U.S.C. 321(v)), or narcotic drug (as defined in section 4731(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954; 26 U.S.C. 4731(a)), or (4) has been adjudicated as a mental defective or has been committed to a mental institution.

Sec. 181.107 Record of transactions.—Every licensee and permittee shall maintain records of explosive materials in such form and manner as is prescribed by Subpart G of this part.

Sec. 181.108 Importation.—Explosive materials imported or brought into the United States by a licensed importer or permittee may be released from Customs custody to the licensed importer or permittee upon proof of his status as a licensed importer or permittee. Such status shall be established by the licensed importer or permittee furnishing to the Customs officer a certified copy of his license or permit (see section 181.104). The provisions of this section are in addition to, and are not in lieu of, any applicable requirement under Part 180 of this chapter.

Sec. 181.109 Identification of explosive materials.—Each licensed manufacturer of explosive materials on or after February 12, 1971, shall legibly identify by marking all explosive materials he manufactures for sale or distribution. The marks required by this section shall identify the manufacturer and the location, date, and shift of manufacture. The licensed manufacturer shall place on each cartridge, bag, or other immediate container of explosive materials manufactured for sale or distribution the required mark which shall also be placed on the outside container, if any, used for their packaging: Provided, That with respect to explosive materials of small size not suitable for marking on the individual item (for example, blasting caps), it shall only be necessary to place such identification marks on the containers used for their packaging.

Subpart G—Records and Reports

Sec. 181.121 General.—(a) The records pertaining to explosive materials prescribed by this part shall be in permanent form, and shall be retained on the licensed or permit premises in the manner prescribed by this subpart for a period of not less than 5 years from the date the transaction occurs or until discontinuance of business or operations by the licensee or permittee. (See also section 181.128.)

(b) Internal revenue officers may enter the premises of any licensed importer, licensed manufacturer, licensed manufacturer-limited, licensed dealer, or permittee for the purpose of examining or inspecting any record or document required by or obtained under this part (see section 181.24). Section 843(f) of the Act requires licensed importers, licensed manufacturers, licensed manufacturers-limited, licensed dealers, and permittees to make such records available for such examination or inspection at all reasonable times. Section 843(f) of the Act also requires licensed importers, licensed manufacturers, licensed manufacturers-limited, licensed dealers and permittees to submit such reports and information with respect to such records and the contents thereof as the regulations contained in this part prescribe.

(c) Each licensed importer, licensed manufacturer, licensed manufacturer-limited, licensed dealer, and permittee shall maintain such records of importation, production, shipment, receipt, sale, or other disposition, whether temporary or permanent, of explosive materials as the regulations contained in this part prescribe. Section 842(g) of the Act makes it unlawful for any licensed importer, licensed manufacturer, licensed manufacturer-limited, licensed dealer, or permittee knowingly to make any false entry in any record required to be maintained pursuant to the Act and the regulations contained in this part.

Sec. 181.122 Records maintained by importers.—(a) Each licensed importer of explosive materials shall take true and accurate inventories which shall include all explosive materials on hand required to be accounted for in the records kept under this part. The licensed importer shall take such an inventory as of February 12, 1971, or at the time of commencing business subsequent thereto, which shall be the effective date of the license issued upon original qualification under this part; at the time of changing the location of his premises to another region; at the time of discontinuing business, and at such other times as the Assistant Regional Commissioner may in writing require. Each inventory shall be prepared in duplicate, the original of which shall be submitted to the Assistant Regional Commissioner, and the duplicate shall be retained by the licensed importer. (See also section 181.127.)

(b) Each licensed importer shall not later than the close of the next business day following the date of importation or other acquisition, record the quantity and class of explosive materials, as prescribed in the Explosives List, manufacturer, manufcturers' marks of identification (if any), and country of manufacture of explosive materials he imports or otherwise acquires, and the date such importation or other acquisition was made.

(c) A record of explosive materials distributed by a licensed importer to another licensee or permittee shall be maintained by the licensed importer on hs licensed premises and shall show the quantity, class (as prescribed in the Explosives List), manufacturer, manufacturers' marks of identification (if any), country of manufacture, and license or permit number of the licensee or permittee to whom the explosive materials were distributed, and the date of the transaction. The information required by section 181.103(b), (c) and (d) shall also be maintained as part of the records of the licensed importer. The information required by this paragraph shall be entered in the proper record book not later than the close of the next business day following the date of the transaction.

(d) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (c) of this section, the Assistant Regional Commissioner may authorize alternate records to be maintained by a licensed importer to record his distribution of explosive materials when it is shown by the licensed importer that such alternate records will accurately and readily disclose the information required by paragraph (c) of this section. A licensed importer who proposes to use alternate records shall submit a letter application, in duplicate, to the Assistant Regional Commissioner and shall describe the proposed alternate records and the need therefor. Such alternate records shall not be employed by the licensed importer until approval in such regard is received from the Assistant Regional Commissioner.

(e) Each licensed importer shall maintain separate records of the sales or other distribution made of explosive materials to nonlicensees or nonpermittees. Such records shall be maintained in the form and manner as prescribed by section 181.126.

Subpart H—Exemptions

Sec. 181.141 General.—The provisions of this part shall not apply with respect to:

(a) Any aspect of the transportation of explosive materials via railroad, water, highway, or air which are regulated by the U.S. Department of Transportation, and agencies thereof.

(b) The use of explosive materials in medicines and medicinal agents in the forms prescribed by the official United States Pharmacopoeia, or the National Formulary.

(c) The transportation, shipment, receipt, or importation of explosive materials for delivery to any agency of the United States or to any State or political subdivision thereof.

(d) Small arms ammunition and components thereof.

(e) Black powder in quantities not to exceed five pounds.

(f) The manufacture under the regulation of the military department of the United States of explosive materials for, or their distribution to or storage or possession by the military or naval services or other agencies of the United States.

(g) Arsenals, navy yards, depots, or other establishments owned by, or operated by or on behalf of, the United States.

(h) The importation and distribution of fireworks in a finished state, commonly sold at retail for personal use in compliance with State laws or local ordinances.

(i) Gasoline, fertilizers, propellant actuated devices, or propellant actuated industrial tools manufactured, imported, or distributed for their intended purposes.

Subpart I—Unlawful Acts, Penalties, Seizures, and Forfeitures

Sec. 181.161 Engaging in business without a license.—Any person engaging in the business of importing, manufacturing, or dealing in explosive materials without a license issued under the Act, shall be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned not more than 10 years, or both.

Sec. 181.162 False statement or representation.—Any person who knowingly withholds information or makes any false or fictitious oral or written statement or funishes or exhibits any false, fictitious, or misrepresented identification, intended or likely to deceive for the purpose of obtaining explosive materials, or a license, permit, exemption, or relief from disability under the Act, shall be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned not more than 10 years, or both.

Sec. 181.163 False entry in record.—Any licensed importer, licensed manufacturer, licensed manufacturer-limited, licensed dealer, or permittee who knowingly makes any false entry in any record required to be kept pursuant to Subpart G of this part, shall be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned not more than 10 years, or both.

XXXI. SAFETY STANDARDS FOR IMPORTED PLEASURE BOATS AND EQUIPMENT

Regulations of the Coast Guard, under the Federal Boat Safety Act of 1971 (Public Law 92-75, 46 U.S.C. 1451-1489), relating to safety standards for foreign-made pleasure boats and equipment imported into the United States after November 1, 1972, Code of Federal Regulations, Title 33, Parts 181 and 183.

Authority: Secs. 5, 7, and 39, 85 Stat. 213, 215, 216, 228; 46 U.S.C. 1454, 1456, 1488; 49 CFR 1.46(o)(1).

Subpart A—General

Sec. 181.1 Purpose and applicability.—This part prescribes requirements for the certification of boats and associated equipment and identification of boats to which section 4 of the Federal Boat Safety Act of 1971 applies.

Sec. 181.3 Definitions.—As used in this part—(a) "Manufacturer" means any person engaged in—

(1) The manufacture, construction, or assembly of boats or associated equipment; or

(2) The importation into the United States for sale of boats, associated equipment, or components thereof.

(b) "Boat" means any vessel manufactured or used primarily for noncommercial use; leased, or rented, or chartered to another for the latter's noncommercial use; or engaged in the carrying of six or fewer passengers.

(c) "Associated equipment" means—

(1) Any system, part, or component of a boat as originally manufactured or any similar part or component manufactured or sold for replacement, repair, or improvement of such system, part, or component;

(2) Any accessory or equipment for, or appurtenance to, a boat; and

(3) Any marine safety article, accessory, or equipment intended for use by a person on board a boat; but

(4) Excluding radio equipment.

(d) "Date of certification" means the date on which a boat or item of associated equipment is certified to comply with all applicable U.S. Coast Guard safety standards in effect on that date.

(e) "Date of manufacture" means the month and year during which construction or assembly of a boat or item of associated equipment begins.

(f) "Model year" means the period beginning August 1 of any year and ending on July 31 of the following year. Each model year is designated by the year in which it ends.

(g) "Private label merchandiser" means any person engaged in the business of selling or distributing, under his own trade name, boats or items of associated equipment manufactured by another.

Subpart B—Manufacturer Certification of Compliance

Sec. 181.5 Purpose and applicability.—This subpart prescribes requirements for the certification of boats and associated equipment to which section 4 of the Federal Boat Safety Act of 1971 applies and to which a safety standard in Part 183 of this chapter applies.

Sec. 181.7 Compliance certification label required.—Unless there is affixed to it a certification label that contains the information required by section 181.15—

(a) No person who manufactures, constructs, or assembles a boat or associated equipment may deliver that boat or equipment for the purpose of sale;

(b) No person may import into the United States any boat or associated equipment; and

(c) No person engaged in the business of selling or distributing boats or associated equipment may sell or offer for sale any boat or associated equipment.

Sec. 181.9 Affixing labels.—(a) Each manufacturer of a boat or item of associted equipment to which a standard or regulation prescribed in Part 183 of this chapter applies shall affix a certification label that contains the information required by section 181.15 to that boat or equipment before it—

(1) Leaves the place of manufacture for the purpose of sale; or

(2) Is imported.

(b) The manufacturer of a boat or item of associated equipment that is sold to a private label merchandiser may, at the option of the private label merchandiser, affix a certification label identifying the private label merchandiser as the manufacturer before the boat or item of associated equipment leaves the place of manufacture.

Sec. 181.11 Exceptions to labeling requirement.—(a) This part does not apply to boats or associated equipment intended solely for export, and so labeled, tagged, or marked on the boat or equipment and on the outside of the container, if any, which is exported.

(b) If an item of associated equipment is so small that a certification label that meets the requirements in section 181.15 cannot be affixed to it, a certification label that contains the information required by section 181.15 may be printed on the smallest container in which the item is packed or on a slip packed with the item.

Sec. 181.13 Removal of labels.—No person may remove a label required by this part or remove or alter any information on a label required by this part, unless authorized by the Commandant.

Sec. 181.15 Contents of labels.—(a) Each label required by section 181.7 must contain—

(1) The name and address of the manufacturer or private label merchandiser who certifies that the boat or item of associated equipment complies with the standards prescribed in Part 183 of this subchapter; and

(2) Except as provided in paragraph (c) of this section, the words—

(i) "This (insert "Boat" or "Equipment") Complies With U.S. Coast Guard Safety Standards In Effect On (insert date of certification as prescribed in paragraph (b) of this section)"; or

(ii) If the item being certified is a boat or boat hull, the label may show the words, "This Boat Complies with U.S. Coast Guard Safety Standards In Effect On The Date of Certification."

(b) Date of certification must be no earlier than the date on which construction or assembly began and no later than the date on which the boat or item of associated equipment leaves the place of manufacture or assembly or import for the purposes of sale.

(c) If a boat displays the stability warning label required by section 183.23 of this subchapter, the words "Except Load Capacity" must be inserted after the words "Safety Standards" and before "In Effect" in the statement prescribed by paragraph (a)(2) of this section.

(d) Except as provided in paragraph (e) of this section, the manufacturer may, in addition to the information required by paragraphs (a), (b), and (c) of this section display on the certification label any or all of the following items of information:

(1) Model name or designation.

(2) Hull identification number (if a boat) or serial number (if an item of associated equipment).

(3) Model year.

(e) Display of the hull identification number on the certification label does not satisfy the display requirements of section 181.29.

Sec. 181.17 Label numbers and letters.—Letters and numbers on each label must—

(a) Be no less than one-eighth of an inch in height; and

(b) Contrast with the basic color of the label, except that the date of certification may be permanently stamped, engraved, or embossed on the label.

Sec. 181.19 Construction of labels.—(a) Each label must be made of material that can withstand exposure to water, oil, salt spray, direct sunlight, heat, cold, and wear expected in norml use of the boat or item of associated equipment without deterioration of legibility.

(b) Each label must be made of material that shows visible traces of the alteration or removal of information on the label.

Subpart C—Identification of Hulls

Sec. 181.21 Purpose and applicability.—This subpart prescribes the requirements for identification of hulls of boats to which section 4 of the Federal Boat Safety Act of 1971 applies.

Sec. 181.23 Hull identification numbers required.—Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section—

(a) Each manufacturer of a boat hull shall identify that hull with a hull identification number that meets the requirements of this subpart;

(b) Each person who imports a boat or boat hull shall identify that hull with a hull identification number that meets the requirements of this subpart, unless the manufacturer of that hull or boat has already identified the hull with a hull identification that meets the requirements of this part; and

(c) No person may assign the same first eight characters of a hull identification number to more than one boat hull.

Sec. 181.25 Hull identification number format.—Each hull identification number required by section 181.23 must consist of 12 characters as follows:

(a) The first three characters must consist of a manufacturer identification assigned under section 181.31.

(b) Characters 4 through 8 must be assigned by the manufacturer and must be letters of the English alphabet or Arabic numerals or both, except the letters I, O, and Q.

(c) Characters 9 through 12 must indicate the date of certification. The characters must be either—

(1) Arabic numerals with characters 9 and 10 indicating the month and characters 11 and 12 indicating the last two numerals of the year; or

(2) A combination of Arabic numerals and letters of the English alphabet with character 9 indicated as "M," characters 10 and 11 the last two numerals of the model year, and character 12 the month of the model year. The first month of the model year, August, must be designated by the letter "A," the second month, September, by the letter "B," and so on until the last month of the model year, July.

Sec. 181.27 Additional characters in hull identification number.—A manufacturer may display additional characters after the 12 characters required by section 181.25 if they are separated from the hull identification number by a hyphen.

Sec. 181.29 Hull identification number display.—(a) The hull identification nmber must be carved, burned, stamped, embossed, or otherwise permanently affixed to the outboard side of the transom or, if there is no transom, to the outermost starboard side at the end of the hull that bears the rudder or other steering mechanism, above the waterline of the boat in such a way that alteration, removal, or replacement would be obvious and evident.

(b) The characters of the hull identification number must be no less than one-fourth of an inch in height.

Sec. 181.31 Manufacturer identification assigned.—(a) Each person required by section 181.23 to affix a hull identification number may request a manufacturer identification from the Commandment (GBBC), 400 Seventh Street SW., Washington, DC 20590. There is no charge for the assignment.

Part 183—BOATS AND ASSOCIATED EQUIPMENT

Subpart A—General

Sec.
183.1 Purpose and applicability.
183.3 Definitions.

Subpart B--Display of Capacity Information
183.21 Applicability.
183.23 Capacity marking required.
183.25 Display of markings.
183.27 Construction of markings.

Subpart C—Safe Loading
183.31 Applicability.
183.33 Maximum weight capacity: Inboard and inboard-outdrive boats.

183.35 Maximum weight capacity: Outboard boats.
183.37 Maximum weight capacity: Boats without mechanical propulsion.
183.39 Persons capacity: Inboard and inboard-outdrive boats.
183.41 Persons capacity: Outboard boats.
183.43 Persons capacity: Boats without mechanical propulsion.

Subpart D—Safe Powering

183.51 Applicability.
183.53 Horsepower capacity.

Subpart E—Flotation

183.61 Applicability.
183.63 Quantity of flotation required.
183.65 Flotation materials.
183.67 Method for determioning quantity of flotation.

Authority: The provisions of this Part 183 issued under secs. 5, 7, and 39, 85 Stat. 213, 215, 216, 228 (46 U.s.C. 1454, 1456, 1488; 49 CFR 1.46(o)(1).

Subpart A—General

Sec. 183.1 Purpose and applicability.—This part prescribes standards and regulations for boats and associated equipment to which section 12 of the Federal Boat Safety Act of 1971 applies and to which certification requirements in Part 181 of this subchapter apply.

Sec. 183.3 Definitions.—(a) "Beam" means the maximum transverse distance between the outer sides of the hull excluding fenders, joiner strips, and other extensions.

(b) "Boat" means any vessel manufactured or used primarily for noncommercial use; leased, rented, or chartered to another for the latter's noncommercial use; or engaged in the carrying of six or fewer passengers.

(c) "Length" means the straight line horizontal distance between the intersection of the stem and stern profiles with the sheer excluding fenders or other extensions.

(d) "Monohull boat" means a boat on which the line of intersection of the water surface and the boat at any operating draft forms a single closed curve. For example, a catamaran, trimaran, or pontoon boat is not a monohull boat.

(e) "Sailboat" means a boat designed or intended to use sails as the primary means of propulsion.

(f) "Sheer" means the fore-and-aft curve in a vertical plane of the topmost line in a vessel's side.

(g) "Vessel" includes every description of watercraft, other than a seaplane on the water, used or capable of being used as a means of transportation on the water.

Subpart B—Display of Capacity Information

Sec. 183.21 Applicability.—This subpart applies to monohull boats less than 20 feet in length, except sailboats, canoes, kayaks, and inflatable boats.

Sec. 183.23 Capacity marking required.—(a) Except as provided in paragraph (b), each boat must be marked in the manner prescribed in sections 183.25 and 183.27 with the maximum weight capacity, maximum persons capacity determined under sections 183.33 through 183.43, and maximum horsepower capacity determined under section 183.53.

(b) Any boat, the construction or assembly of which begins before August 1, 1973, may have displayed thereon a maximum perons capacity greater than that determined in sections 183.39 through 183.43 if the maximum persons capacity displayed does not exceed the maximum weight capacity and the boat displays at least two stability warning labels prescribed in paragraph (c) of this section.

(c) Each of the stability warning labels required by paragraph (b) of this section must—

(1) Be waterproof;

(2) Be displayed at normal boarding positions; and

Sec. 183.25 Display of markings.—(a) Each marking required by section 183.23(a) must be permanently displayed in a legible manner where it is clearly visible to the operator when he is getting the boat underway.

(b) The information required to be marked by section 183.23(a) must be displayed in the following manner—

(1) For outboard boats:

U.S. Coast Guard Capacity Information

Maximum horsepower	XXX
Maximum persons capacity (pounds)	XXX
Maximum weight capacity (persons, motor, and gear) (pounds)	XXX

(2) For inboard boats, inboard-out-drive boats, and boats without mechanical propulsion:

U.S. Coast Guard Capacity Information

Maximum persons capacity (pounds)	XXX
Maximum weight capacity (persons and gear) (pounds)	XXX

Sec. 183.27 Construction of markings.—Each marking required by section 183.23(a) must be—

(a) Capable of withstanding the combined effects of exposure to water, oil, salt spray, direct sunlight, heat, cold, and wear expected in normal operation of the boat, without loss of legibility; and

(b) Resistant to efforts to remove or alter the information without leaving some obvious sign of such efforts.

Subpart C—Safe Loading

Sec. 183.31 Applicability.—This subpart applies to monohull boats less than 20 feet in length except sailboats, canoes, kayaks, and inflatable boats.

Sec. 183.33 Maximum weight capacity: Inboard and inboard-outdrive boats.—(a) The maximum weight capacity marked on a boat that has one or more inboard or inboard-outdrive units for propulsion must not exceed W in the formula:

$$W = \frac{\text{(Maximum displacement)}}{5} - \frac{\text{Boat weight}}{5} - \frac{\text{4 (Machinery weight)}}{5}$$

(b) For the purposes of paragraph (a) of this section—

(1) "Maximum displacement" is the weight of volume of water displaced by the boat at its maximum level immersion in calm water without water coming aboard. For the purpose of this paragraph, a boat is level when it is transversely level and the points where the sheer intersects the stem and the stern (or transom) are equidistant above the water surface.

(2) "Boat weight" is the combined weight of the boat hull and all its permanent appurtenances, including machinery weight.

(3) "Machinery weight" is the combined weight of installed engines or motors, full fuel system and tanks, control equipment, drive units and batteries.

Sec. 183.35 Maximum weight capacity: Outboard boats.—(a) The maximum weight capacity marked on a boat that is designed or intended to use one or more outboard motors for propulsion must be a number that does not exceed one-fifth of the difference between its maximum displacement and boat weight.

(b) For the purposes of paragraph (a) of this section—

(1) "Maximum displacement" is the weight of the volume of water displaced by the boat at its maximum level immersion in calm water without water coming aboard except for water coming through one opening in the motor well with its greatest dimension not over 3 inches for outboard motor controls or fuel lines. For the purpose of this paragraph, a boat is level when it is transversely level and the points where the sheer intersects the stem and the stern (transom) are equidistant above the water surface.

(2) "Boat weight" is the combined weight of the boat hull and all its permanent appurtenances. For the purposes of this paragraph, outboard motors are not permanent appurtenances.

Sec. 183.37 Maximum weight capacity: Boats without mechanical propulsion.—(a) The maximum weight capacity marked on a boat that is not designed intended to have mechanical propulsion must not exceed one-fifth of the difference between the boat's maximum displacement and the boat weight.

(b) For the purposes of paragraph (a) of this section—

(1) "Maximum displacement" is the weight of the volume of water displaced by the boat at its maximum level immersion in calm water without water coming aboard. For the purpose of this paragraph, a boat is level when it is transversely level and the points where the sheer intersects the stem and the stern (transom) are equidistant above the water surface.

(2) "Boat weight" is the combined weight of the boat and all its permanent appurtenances.

Sec. 183.39 Persons capacity: Inboard and inboard-outdrive boats.—The persons capacity marked on a boat that is designed or intended to use one or more inboard engines or inboard-outdrive units must not exceed the lesser of the maximum weight capacity determined under section 183.33 for the boat or the maximum persons capacity determined by the following test in calm water:

(a) Float the boat, with all its permanent appurtenances, including installed engines, full fuel system and tanks, control equipment, drive units, and batteries.

(b) Gradually add weights along one outboard extremity of each passenger carrying area, at the height of the seat nearest the center of that area and distributed equally forward and aft of that center in a plane parallel to the floorboards, until the boat assumes the maximum list or trim, or both without water coming aboard.

(c) Compute the persons capacity in the following formula:

Persons capacity $= \frac{A}{0.6}$ where A is the total of the weights added in paragraph (b) of this section.

Sec. 183.41 Persons capacity: Outboard boats.—The persons capacity marked on a boat that is designed or intended to use one or more outboard motors for propulsion must not exceed the lesser of the maximum weight capacity determined under section 183.35 for the boat or the live load capacity determined by the following test in calm water:

(a) Float the boat with all its permanent appurtenances.

(b) Add, in normal operating positions, the dry motor and control weight, battery weight, and portable tank weight, if any, shown in Table 183.67(a) for the maximum horsepower capacity marked on the boat. For permanently installed fuel tanks, add 6 pounds of weight for each gallon of fuel capacity.

(c) Gradually add weights along one outboard extremity of each passenger carrying area, at the height of the seat nearest the center of that area and distributed equally forward and aft of that center in a plane parallel to the floorboards until the boat assumes the maximum list or trim, or both, without water coming aboard.

(d) Compute the persons capacity in the following formula:

Persons capacity $= \frac{A}{0.6}$ where A is the total of the weights added in paragraph (c) of this section.

Sec. 183.43 Persons capacity: Boats without mechanical propulsion.—The persons capacity marked on a boat that is not designed or intended to have mechanical propulsion must not exceed the lesser of the maximum weight capacity determined under section 183.37 for the boat or the live load capacity determined by the following test in calm water:

(a) Float the boat, with all its permanent appurtenances.

(b) Gradually add weights along one outboard extremity of each passenger carrying area at the height of the seat nearest the center of that area and distributed equally forward and aft of that center in a plane parallel to the floorboards until the boat assumes the maximum list or trim, or both, without water coming aboard.

(c) Compute the persons capacity in the following formula:

Persons capacity $= \frac{A}{0.6}$ where A is the total of the weights added in paragraph (b) of this section.

Subpart D—Safe Powering

Sec. 183.51 Applicability.—This subpart applies to monohull boats less than 20 feet in length, except sailboats, canoes, kayaks, and inflatable boats, that are designed or intended to use one or more outboard motors for propulsion.

Sec. 183.53 Horsepower capacity.—The maximum horsepower marked on a boat must not exceed the horsepower capacity determined as follows:

(a) Compute a factor by multiplying the boat length in feet by the maximum transom width in feet including spray rails if spray rails act as chines or part of the planning surface. If the boat does not have a full transom, the transom width is the broadest beam in the aftermost quarter length of the boat.

(b) Locate horsepower capacity corresponding to the factor in Table 183.53.

(c) If the horsepower capacity in Table 183.53 is not an even multiple of 5, it may be raised to the next even multiple of 5.

(d) For flat bottom hard chine boats with a factor of 52 or less, the horsepower capacity must be reduced by one horsepower capacity increment in Table 183.53.

Subpart E—Flotation

Sec. 183.61 Applicability.—This subpart applies to monohull boats the construction or assembly of which is begun after July 31, 1973, and which are less than 20 feet in length, except sailboats, canoes, kayaks, and inflatable boats.

Sec. 183.63 Quantity of flotation required.—Each boat must have—

(a) At least the quantity of flotation prescribed in section 183.67; or

(b) Enough flotation to keep any portion of the boat above the surface of the water when the boat is filled with water and loaded with—

(1) A weight that, when submerged, equals two-fifteenths of the persons capacity marked on the boat; and

(2) A weight that, when submerged, equals 25 percent of the dead weight; and

(3) A weight in pounds that, when submerged, equals 62.4 times the volume of the two largest air chambers, if air chambers are used for flotation; and

(4) For outboard motor boats, a weight that, when submerged, equals the submerged motor and control weight from Table 183.67(a).

(c) For the purpose of this section, "dead weight" means—

(1) For outboard boats and boats without mechanical propulsion, the maximum weight capacity marked on the boat minus the sum of—

(i) Motor and control weight, and battery weight (dry) from Table 183.67(a); and

(ii) The persons capacity determined under section 183.41 for the boat, and

(2) For inboard boats, the maximum weight capacity marked on the boat minus the persons capacity determined under section 183.39 for the boat.

Sec. 183.65 Flotation materials.—(a) The flotation required by section 183.63 must be made of materials that are—

(1) Capable of withstanding the combined effects of contact with oil, oil products, or other liquids or compounds with which the material may be expected to come in contact during normal use, including fuel oil, gasoline, grease, lubricating oil, common bilge solvents, and salt and fresh water;

(2) Capable of withstanding combined exposure to sunlight, vibration, shock, and temperature variations which may be expected during normal use;

(3) Installed in such a manner that the flotation is fully effective when the boat is flooded or capsized.

(b) Any air chamber used for flotation must not be an integral part of the hull.

Sec. 183.67 Method for determining quantity of flotation.—The minimum quantity of flotation required by section 183.63(a) must be determined by the following method:

(a) Step 1: Determine the Submerged Weight of Boat (W_s) in the formula:

$$W_s = W_h K_1 W_d K_2 0.69W_e$$

Where:

W_s = Submerged weight of boat.
W_h = Dry weight of hull.
W_d = Dry weight of deck and superstructure.
W_e = Dry weight of permanent appurtenances except motor and control weight, battery weight, and portable tank weight.
K_1 and K_2 = Conversion factors for materials used from Table 183.67(b).

(b) Step 2: Determine submerged weight of engine and related equipment (G) as follows:

(1) For outboard boats, G equals the sum of the submerged motor and control weight, battery weight, and full fuel tank weight from Table 183.67(a) for maximum horsepower capacity marked on the boat in accordance with section 183.53.

(2) For inboard boats G equals 75 percent of the installed weight of engine, drive, and fuel system.

(c) Step 3: Determine dry weight of load (C) as follows:

(1) For outboard boats, C equals the maximum weight capacity as determined in section 183.35 minus the sum of dry motor and control weight, battery weight, and full fuel tank weight from Table 183.67(a).

(2) For inboard boats, C equals the maximum weight capacity as determined in section 183.33.

(d) Step 4: Determine flotation required (W) in the formula:

$$W = W_s \text{ (Step 1) } G \text{ (Step 2) } 0.25 C \text{ (Step 3).}$$

(e) Step 5: Determine the volume of flotation materil (F) needed in the formula:

$$F = \frac{\text{Flotation required (W)}}{\text{Buoyancy of flotation material}} + \text{Chamber volume (V)}$$

where: "Flotation required" is that value of W determined in Step 4; "Chamber volume" is the volume of the two largest air chambers, if air chambers are used for flotation; and "Buoyancy of flotation material" is determined by subtracting from the density of fresh water the density of the flotation material. The density of the flotation material must be determined after the material has been immersed in fresh water for one-half hour. When air chambers are used, the "Buoyancy of flotation material" is 62.4 lbs./ft.^{2}

§ 353.0 Scope.

This part sets forth procedures and rules applicable to proceedings under Title VII of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1673 et seq.) (hereinafter referred to as "the Act"), relating to the imposition of antidumping duties. Determinations by the Secretary under the Act shall not be considered major federal actions significantly affecting the environment within the meaning of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969, as amended (42 U.S.C. 4321 et seq.) and Executive Order 11514, March 5, 1970, as amended by Executive Order 11991, May 24, 1977; and Executive Order 12114, January 9, 1979.

Subpart A—Definitions

§ 353.1 Relationship of fair value to foreign market value.

Fair value, used during the investigative phase of a proceeding, is intended to be an estimate of foreign market value. Except where specifically noted, all references in this subpart to "foreign market value" should be considered to apply to "fair value" as well; on the other hand, specific references to "fair value" in this subpart should not be considered to refer to "foreign market value."

§ 353.2 Definition of foreign market value.

For purposes of the Act, the foreign market value of imported merchandise shall be determined in accordance with §§ 353.3 through 353.9 of this part.

§ 353.3 Foreign market value based on price in the country of exportation.

(a) In general. (1) The foreign market value of merchandise imported into the United States shall ordinarily be determined by the price, at the time of exportation of such merchandise to the United States, at which such or similar merchandise is sold or, in the absence of sales, offered for sale in the principal markets of the country from which exported, in the usual wholesale quantities and in the ordinary course of trade for home consumption, plus, when not included in such price, the cost of all containers and coverings and all other costs, charges, and expenses incident to placing the merchandise in condition packed ready for shipment to the United States, except that in the case of merchandise purchased or agreed to be purchased by the person by whom or for whose account the merchandise is imported, prior to the time of importation, the foreign market value shall be ascertained as of the date of such purchase or agreement to purchase.

(2) In determining the ordinary course of trade, conditions and practices which, for a reasonable time prior to the exportation of the merchandise which is the subject of an investigation, have been normal in the trade under consideration with respect to merchandise of the same class or kind shall be applicable.

(b) Restricted sales. When home market sales form the basis of comparison to the United States price, they may be used for this purpose whether or not they are restricted, provided however, that appropriate adjustment for the home market price will be made for such restrictions that affect the value of the merchandise to the purchaser.

§ 353.4 Foreign market value where sales in the country of exportation are inadequate.

(a) In general. If it is established, in a situation other than that provided for in § 353.9, that during the representative period chosen for investigation the quantity of such or similar merchandise sold for consumption in the country of exportation is so small in relation to the quantity sold for exportation to countries other than the United States (normally, less than five percent of the amount sold to third countries) as to be an inadequate basis for determining the foreign market value of the merchandise imported into the United States, the foreign market value of the imported merchandise shall be determined either by reference to the price at which such or similar merchandise is sold or offered for sale for exportation to countries other than the United States or by reference to its constructed value.

(b) Preference for third country sale. Foreign market value based on sales to a third country generally will be preferred to foreign market value based on constructed value if adequate information is available and can be verified within the time required.

§ 353.5 Foreign market value based on sales to a third country.

(a) In general. Where based on sales to a third country, foreign market value shall be determined by the price, at the time of exportation of the merchandise under investigation, at which such or similar merchandise is sold or offered for sale to countries other than the United States, plus, when not included in such price, the cost of all containers and coverings and all other costs, charges, and expenses incident to placing the merchandise in condition packed ready for shipment to the United States, except that in the case of merchandise purchased or agreed to be purchased by the person by whom or for whose account the merchandise is imported, prior to the time of importation, the foreign market value shall be ascertained as of the date of such purchase or agreement to purchase.

(b) Restricted sales. When third country sales form the basis of comparison to United States price, they may be used for this purpose whether or not they are restricted, provided however, that appropriate adjustment of the third country price will be made for such restrictions that affect the value of the merchandise to the purchaser.

(c) The third country selected for such purposes will generally be that single country meeting, in order of preference, the following criteria:

(1) The product exported to such country has a greater degree of similarity to the product exported to the United States than does the product exported to other countries, provided the volume of sales to such country is deemed adequate;

(2) The volme of sales to such country is the largest sales volume to any country outside the home market or the United States; and

(3) The market in such country is, in terms of organization and development, most like the United States market.

(d) If sales to a single country selected under paragraph (c) of this section do not provide an adequate sample, sales to additional countries selected using such criteria may be aggregated.

§ 353.6 Foreign market value determined by constructed value.

(a) Method of determining constructed value. Where based on constructed value, foreign market value shall be determined, from the best available information, by adding—

(1) The cost of materials (exclusive of any internal tax applicable in the country of exportation directly to such materials or their disposition, but remitted or refunded upon the exportation of the article in the production of which such materials are used) and of fabrication or other processing of any kind employed in producing such or similar merchandise, at a time preceding the date of exportation of the merchandise under consideration, which would ordinarily permit the production of that particular merchandise in the ordinary course of business;

(2) An amount for general expenses and profit equal to that usually reflected in sales of merchandise of the same general class or kind as the merchandise under consideration which are made by producers in the country of exportation, in the usual wholesale quantities and in the ordinary course of trade, except that the amount for general expenses shall be be less than 10 percent of the cost as defined in paragraph (a)(1) of this section and the amount for profit shall not be less than 8 percent of the sum of such general expenses and cost; and

(3) The cost of all containers and coverings of whatever nature, and all other expenses incidental to placing the merchandise under consideration in condition packed ready for shipment to the United States.

(b) Transactions with related parties. Direct or indirect transactions between related parties (as defined in section 773(e)(3) of the Act) may be disregarded if, in the case of any element of value required to be considered pursuant to paragraphs (a)(1), (a)(2), and (a)(3) of this section, the amount representing that element does not fairly reflect the amount usually reflected in sales in the market under consideration of the merchandise subject of the investigation. If a transaction is disregarded under the preceding sentence and there are no other transactions available for consideration, the determination of the amount required to be considered shall be based on the best evidence available as to what the amount would have been if the transaction had occurred between non-related parties.

§ 353.7 Foreign market value where sales are made at less than the cost of production

(a) Method for determining whether sales are at less than cost. Whenever the Secretary has reasonable grounds to believe or suspect that the price at which such or similar merchandise is sold for consumption in the country of exportation as determined under § 353.3, or as appropriate, the price at which such or similar merchandise is sold for exportation to countries other than the United States as determined under § 353.5, or the price at which such or similar merchandise is sold by facilities outside the country of exportation by a related company as determined under § 353.9, represents a price which is less than the cost of producing the merchandise, the Secretary shall disregard such sales in the determination of foreign market value if such sales:

(1) Have been made over an extended period and in substantial quantities, and

(2) Are not at prices which permit recovery of all costs within a reasonable period in the normal course of trade.

(b) Use of constructed value where above cost sales are inadequate. Whenever sales are disregarded by virtue of having been made at less than the cost of production, and the remaining sales in the home market or, as appropriate, to third countries or by facilities outside the country of exportation by a related company, made at not less than the cost of production, are determined to be inadequate as a basis for the determination of foreign market value, the Secretary shall determine foreign market value on the basis of the constructed value as determined under § 353.6. The cost of production will be computed on the basis of the best available information of costs of materials, labor and general expenses, excluding profit, incurred in producing such or similar merchandise.

§ 353.8 Foreign market value of merchandise from state-controlled-economy countries

(a) In general. If, on the basis of the information available, it is determined that the economy of the country from which the merchandise is exported is state-controlled to an extent that sales or offers of sales of such or similar merchandise in that country or to countries other than the United States do not permit a determination of foreign market value under §§ 353.3. 353.5, or 353.9, foreign market value shall be determined on the basis of the normal costs, expenses, and profits as reflected in order of preference by either:

(1) The prices, determined in accordance with § 353.3 or § 353.5, at which similar merchandise produced in a non-state-controlled-economy country or countries is sold either: (i) For consumption in the home market of that country or countries, or (ii) to other countries, including the United States; or

(2) The constructed value of such or similar merchandise in a non-state-controlled-economy country, determined in accordance with § 353.6.

(b) Comparability of economies. (1) The prices as determined under paragraph (a)(1), or the constructed value as determined under paragraph (a)(2), shall be determined, to the extent possible, from the prices or costs in a non-state-controlled-economy country or countries at a stage of economic developent comparable to the state-controlled-economy country from which the merchandise is exported. Comparability of economic development shall be determined from generally recognized criteria, including per capita gross national product and infrastructure development (particularly in the industry producing such or similar merchandise).

(2) If no non-state-controlled-economy country of comparable economic development can be identified, then the prices or constructed value as determined from another non-state-constrolled-economy country or countries other than the United States shall be used, suitably adjusted for known differences in the costs of material and labor.

(3) If neither paragraph (b)(1) nor (b)(2) provides an adequate basis for determining the price or constructed value of such or similar merchandise, then the prices or constructed value, as determined from the sales or production of such or similar merchandise in the United States, shall be used.

(c) Use of constructed value. If such or similar merchandise is not produced in a non-state-controlled-economy country which is concluded to be comparable in terms of economic development to the state-controlled-economy country from which the merchandise is exported, the constructed value of such or similar merchandise may be determined from the costs of specific objective components or factors of production incurred in producing the merchandise in question, including, but not limited to, hours of labor required, quantities of raw materials employed, and amounts of energy consumed, if such information is obtained from the producer of the merchandise in the state-controlled-economy country under investigation, and verfication of such information in the state-controlled-economy country is concluded to the satisfaction of the Secretary. Such components or factors shall be valued and such values verified in a non-state-controlled-economy country determined to be reasonably comparable in economic development to the state-controlled-economy country under investigation. To the values thus obtained, there shall be added an amount for general expenses and profit, as required by section 773(e)(1)(B) of the Act, and the cost of all containers and coverings and other expenses, as required by section 773(e)(1)(C) of the Act.

§ 353.9 Foreign market value based on sales in a third country by a related company.

The determination of foreign market value of merchandise sold by those multinational corporations described in section 773(d) of the Act shall be made in accordance with provisions of that section.

§ 353.10 Definition of "United States price."

(a) In general. For purposes of this part, the term "United States price" means the purchase price or the exporter's sales price of the merchandise under investigation, as appropriate.

(b) Purchase price. "Purchase price" means the price at which the merchandise under investigation is purchased, or agreed to be purchased, prior to the date of importation, from the manufacturer or producer of the merchandise for exportation to the United States. Appropriate adjustments for costs and expenses under paragraph (d) of this section shall be made if they are not reflected in the price paid by the person by whom, or for whose account, the merchandise is imported.
Whenever purchase price is used and there is reason to believe that the price to the person by whom or for whose account the merchandise is imported does not reflect the costs and expenses incident to bringing the merchandise from the country of exportation, then appropriate adjustments for such costs and expenses shall be made under paragraph (d) of this section.

(c) Exporter's sales price. "Exporter's sales price" means the price at which merchandise under investigation is sold or agreed to be sold in the United States, before or after the time of importation, by or for the account of the exporter, as adjusted under paragraphs (d) and (e) of this section.

(d) Adjustments to purchase price and exporter's sales price. Purchase price and exporter's sales price shall be adjusted by being—

(1) Increased by:

(i) When not included in such price, the cost of all containers and coverings and all other costs, charges, and expenses incident to placing the merchandise in condition packed ready for shipment to the United States;

(ii) The amount of any import duties imposed by the country of exportation which have been rebated, or which have not been collected, by reason of the exportation of the merchandise to the United States;

(iii) The amount of any taxes imposed in the country of exportation directly upon the exported merchandise or components thereof, which have been rebated, or which have not been collected, by reason of the exportation of the merchandise to the United States, but only to the extent that such taxes are added to or included in the price of such or similar merchandise when sold in the country of exportation; and

(iv) The amount of any countervailing duty imposed on the merchandise to offset an export subsidy; and

(2) Reduced by:

(i) Except as provided in paragraph (d)(1)(iv) this section, the amount, if any, included in such price, attributable to any additional costs, charges, and expenses, and United States import duties, incident to bringing the merchandise from the place of shipment in the country of exportation to the place of delivery in the United States; and

(ii) The amount, if included in such price, of any export tax, duty, or other charge imposed by the country of exportation on the exportation of the merchandise to the United States other than an export tax, duty, or other charge described in section 771(6)(C) of the Act.

(e) Additional adjustments to exporter's sales price. For purposes of this section, the exporter's sales price shall also be adjusted by being reduced by the amount, if any, of—

(1) Commissions for selling in the United States the particular merchandise under consideration,

(2) Expenses generally incurred by or for the account of the exporter in the United States in selling identical or substantially identical merchandise, and attributable under generally accepted accounting principles to the particular merchandise under consideration; and

(3) Any increased value resulting from a process of manufacture or assembly performed on the imported merchandise after the importation of the merchandise and before its sale to a person who is not the exporter of the merchandise, which value generally will be determined from the costs of material, labor and other expenses incurred in such manufacture or assembly.

§ 353.11 Definitions of antidumping duty "proceeding," "investigation," "determination" and "Order."

(a) A "proceeding" refers to that time from the filing of a petition (or publication of a notice of self-initiation under section 732(a) of the Act) until the publication of the earliest of: (1) A notice of termination, (2) a negative determination that has the effect of terminating the administrative proceedings; or (3) a notice of revocation of an Order.

(b) An "investigation" refers to that time between the publication of a notice of initiation and the publication of the earliest of (1) a notice of termination, (2) a negative determination that has the effect of terminating the administrative proceedings, or (3) an Order.

(c) A "determination" is an official decision in the course of a proceeding.

(d) An "Order" is a notice issued following final determinations of sales at less than fair value and injury, which provides for the imposition of antidumping duties.

§ 353.12 Other definitions.

(a) Country. "Country" means a foreign country, a political subdivision, dependent territory, or possession of a foreign country.

(b) Industry. "Industry" means the domestic producers as a whole of a like product, or those producers whose collective output of the like product constitutes a major proportion of the total domestic production of that product as provided in section 771(4) of the Act. An "industry" may also include domestic producers in a particular market in the United States where such producers sell all or almost all of their production of the like product in question in that market and where the demand for the like product in that market is not supplied to any substantial degree by producers of the product located elsewhere in the United States.

(c) Interest party. "Interested party" means—

(1) A foreign manufacturer, producer, or exporter, or the United States importer, of merchandise which is the subject of an investigation under this part or a trade or business association a majority of the members of which are importers of such merchandise;

(2) The government of a country in which such merchandise is produced or manufactured;

(3) A manufacturer, producer, or wholesaler in the United States of a like product;

(4) A certified union or recognized union or group of workers which is representative of an industry engaged in the manufacture, production, or wholesale in the United States of a like product; or

(5) A trade or business association, a majority of whose members manufacture, produce, or wholesale a like product in the United States.

(d) Person. "Person" includes all "interested parties" as well as the other individuals, enterprises or entities, as appropriate to the context.

(e) Secretary. "Secretary" means the Secretary of Commerce or his designee.

(f) Commission. "Commission" means the U.S. International Trade Commission.

(g) Customs Service. "Customs Service" means the United States Customs Service of the Treasury Department.

(h) Department. "Department" means the Department of Commerce.

(i) Party to the proceeding. "Party to the proceeding" means: (1) The petitioner; (2) the government of the country in which the merchandise subject to the investigation is manufactured or produced, or from which it is exported; (3) foreign manufacturers, producers and exporters of the merchandise subject to the investigation; and (4) any other interested party, within the meaning of paragraph (c) of this section, who informs the Secretary in writing of his intent to become a party to the proceeding within 20 days after the preliminary determination or who demonstrates to the satisfaction of the Secretary good cause for intervention.

(j) Act. "Act" means the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.

§ 353.13 Determination of foreign market value.

In determining foreign market value, the criteria in §§ 353.14 through 353.23 shall apply. The person who alleges entitlement to any adjustment pursuant to §§ 353.14 through 353.19 must establish entitlement thereto to the satisfaction of the Secretary.

§ 353.14 Differences in quantities.

(a) In general. In comparing the United States price with such applicable criteria as sales or offers, on which a determination of foreign market value is to be based, comparisons normally will be made on sales of comparable quantities of the merchandise under consideration. Further, reasonable allowances will be made for differences in quantities, to the extent that it is established to the satisfaction of the Secretary that the amount of any price differential is wholly or partly due to such differences in the quantities sold. In determining allowances for differences in quantity, consideration will be given, among other things, to the practice of the industry in the country of exportation with respect to affording in the home market (or third country markets, where sales to third countries are the basis for comparison) discounts for quantity sales which are available to those who purchase in the ordinary course of trade.

(b) Criteria for allowances. Allowances for price discounts based on quantitative differences in sales ordinarily will not be made unless:

(1) Six month rule. The exporter during the period covered by the antidumping investigation as established under § 353.38 (or during such other period as investigation shows is more representative) had been granting quantity discounts of at least the same magnitude with respect to 20 percent or more of such or similar merchandise sold in the home market (or in third country markets when sales to third countries are the basis for comparison) in the ordinary course of trade; or

(2) Cost justification. The exporter can demonstrate that the discounts are warranted on the basis of savings which are specifically attributable to the production of the different quantities involved.

(3) Use in determining foreign market value. If the exporter satisfies the conditions in paragraph (b) of this section the price of such or similar merchandise sold at a discount in the home market (or in third country markets when third countries are the basis for comparison) will ordinarily be used as the basis for determining the foreign market value of merchandise for comparison with comparable quantities sold in the United States. If the exporter does not satisfy the conditions in paragraph (b) of this section, any sales of such or similar merchandise in the home market (or in third country markets when third countries are the basis for comparison) which are made at a discount will be used in caculating a weighted average in accordance with § 353.20.

(c) Price lists. In determining whether a discount has been given, the existence of a published price list reflecting such a discount will not be controlling. A price list ordinarily will be accepted only if, in the line of trade and market under consideration, the exporter demonstrates that it has adhered to its price list.

§ 353.15 Differences in circumstances of sale.

(a) In general. In comparing the United States price with the sales, or other criteria applicable, on which a determination of foreign market value is to be based, reasonable allowances will be made for bona fide differences in the circumstances of the sales compared to the extent that it is established to the satisfaction of the Secretary that the amount of any price differential is wholly or partly due to such differences. Differences in circumstances of sale for which such allowances will be made are limited, in general, to those circumstances which bear a direct relationship to the sales which are under consideration.

(b) Examples. Examples of differences in circumstances of sale for which reasonable allowances generally will be made are those involving differences in credit terms, gurantees, warranties, technical assistance, servicing, and assumption by a seller of a purchaser's advertising or other selling costs. Reasonable allowances also generally will be made for differences in commissions. Allowances generally will not be made for differences in advertising and other selling costs of a seller, unless such costs are attributable to a later sale of the merchandise by a purchaser.

(c) Special rule. Notwithstanding the criteria for adjustments for differences in circumstances of sale set forth in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, reasonable allowances for other selling expenses generally will be made in cases where a reasonable allowance is made for commissions in one of the markets under consideration and no commission is paid in the other market under consideration, the amount of such allowance being limited to the actual other selling expenses incurred in the one market, or the total amount of the commission allowed in such other market, whichever is less. In making comparisons using exporter's sales price, reasonable allowance will be made for all actual selling expenses incurred in the home market up to the amount of the selling expenses incurred in the United States market.

(d) Determination of allowances. In determining the amount of the reasonable allowances for any differences in circumstances of sale, the Secretary will be guided primarily by the cost of such differences to the seller, but, where appropriate, he may also consider the effect of such differences upon the market value of the merchandise.

§ 353.16 Differences in physical characteristics.

In comparing the United States price with the selling price in the home market, or for exportation to countries other than the United States in the case of similar merchandise, due allowance shall be made for differences in the physical characteristics of the merchandise in the markets being compared. In this regard, the Secretary will be guided primarily by the differences in cost of production, to the extent that it is established to his satisfaction that the amount of any price differential is wholly or partly due to such differences, but, when appropriate, the effect of such differences upon the market value of the merchandise may also be considered. In the case of merchandise which does not lend itself to comparison with other merchandise for the purpose of this section, any method reasonably calculated to reflect the impact on cost or value of any differences in the merchandise under consideration may be used. Differences in costs of producing merchandise with identical physical characteristics as end products will not be considered appropriate adjustments.

§ 353.17 Offering price.

In determining foreign market value, offers generally will be considered only in the absence of sales. An offer the acceptance of which is not reasonably expected shall not be deemed an offer.

§ 353.18 Fictitious sales

In determining foreign market value, no pretended sale or offer for sale, and no sale or offer for sale intended to establish a fictitious market, will be taken into account.

§ 353.19 Level of trade.

The comparison of the United States price with the applicable price in the market of the country of exportation (or, as the case may be, the price to or in third country markets) generally will be made at the same commercial level of trade. However, if it is found that the sales of the merchandise to the United States or in the applicable foreign market at the same commercial level of trade are insufficient in number to permit an adequate comparison, the comparison will be made at the nearest comparable commercial level of trade and appropriate adjustments will be made for differences affecting price comparability.

§ 353.20 Sales at varying prices.

(a) Where the prices of the sales which are being examinated for a determination of foreign market value vary (after allowances provided for in §§ 353.14, 353.15, 353.16, and 353.19), the determination of foreign market value normally will be based upon the weighted average of the sales prices of all merchandise used to determine foreign market value; provided that where sales are made at different levels of trade, the calculation of foreign market value, in accordance with § 353.19, will be on the basis of sales made at the same or nearest comparable level of trade as those at which the sales in question to the United States are made.

(b) If not less than 80 percent of all sales in the home market (or to third countries, if appropriate) during the period of investigation were made at the same price, weighted averages of all sales will not be used and foreign market value will be based upon the sales at that price.

(c) If the provisions of paragraph (b) of this section do not apply and weighted averages of the prices are determined to be inappropriate, the Secretary will use any other method for determining value which he deems appropriate.

(d) No sales disregarded pursuant to § 353.7 shall be used for purposes of this section.

§ 353.21 Shipments from intermediate countries.

If the merchandise which is the subject of the investigation is not imported directly from the country of origin, but is merely transshipped through the country of shipment, the price at which such or similar merchandise is sold in the country of origin will be used in the determination of foreign market value.

§ 353.22 Transactions between related persons.

(a) Sales agencies. If such or similar merchandise is sold or, in the absence of sales, offered for sale through a sales agency or other organization related to the seller in any of the respects described in section 771(13) of the Act, the price at which such or similar merchandise is sold or, in the absence of sales, offered for sale by such sales agency or other organization may be used in the determination of foreign market value.

(b) Sales to related persons. If such or similar merchandise is sold, or in the absence of sales, offered for sale in the home market or, as appropriate, to third countries, to a person related to the seller of the merchandise in any of the respects described in section 771(13) of the Act, the price at which such or similar merchandise is sold or, in the absence of sales, offered for sale to such person ordinarily will not be used in the determination of foreign market value unless such sales are demonstrated to the satisfaction of the Secretary to be at prices comparable to those at which such or similar merchandise is sold to persons unrelated to the seller.

§ 353.23 Disregarding insignificant adjustments; use of averaging or sampling techniques.

(a) Insignificant adjustments. In determining the adjustments to be made to foreign market value pursuant to §§ 353.14 to 353.22, adjustments which are insignificant in relation to the price or value of the affected transactions may be disregarded. Ordinarily, individual adjustments having an ad valorem effect of less than 0.33 percent or any group of adjustments having an ad valorem effect of less than 1.0 percent will be disregarded. For purposes of this section, the groups of adjustments consist of: differences in the quantities sold, differences in circumstances of sale, differences in the physical characteristics of the merchandise, and differences in the levels of trade in the markets being compared. However, even when any adjustment or group of adjustments may be disregarded under this section, such adjustment or group of adjustments shall not be disregarded if it is determined that such disregarding would significantly affect the results of the calculations.

(b) Averaging or sampling techniques. The Secretary may use averaging or generally recognized sampling techniques in determining foreign market value in any proceeding in which either a significant volume of sales is involved or a significant number of adjustments to prices is required.

§ 353.24 [Reserved]

Subpart B—Access to Information

§ 353.25 Information generally available.

(a) Duty to maintain material in record. The Department shall maintain the official record of all proceedings. The record shall consist of a copy of all information presented to or obtained by the Secretary during the course of the proceeding, including all governmental memoranda pertaining to the proceeding, memoranda of ex parte meetings, all determinations and notices thereof published in the Federal Register, and all transcripts or records of conferences or hearings. (See Section 516A(b)(2) of the Act.) The record will contain three types of materials:

(1) Materials protected from disclosure;

(2) Non-confidential material submitted by any person other than an employee or officer of the United States Government; and

(3) Non-confidential and non-privileged material submitted or developed by an employee or officer of the United States Government.

(b) Examination and copying of information. In general, all information in subparagraphs (2) and (3) of the record described in paragraph (a) will be available for inspection or copying at the Department by any person during business hours. With respect to documents prepared by an officer or employee of the United States Government, factual matters, as distinguished from advice, recommendations, opinions, and evaluations, contained in any such documents will be made available by summary or otherwise on the same basis as information contained in documents submitted by other persons. The fees charged for providing copies of documents shall be the same as for providing copies of documents pursuant to requests made under the Freedom of Information Act (5 U.S.C. 552). (See 15 CFR 4.9.)

(c) Reports of progress of investigation. The Department shall, from time to time upon request, inform any party to the proceeding of the progress of an investigation. Ordinarily, no such report shall be provided until 60 days after the petition is filed. Such progress reports shall not contain privileged or confidential information and, if in written form, shall be included in the official record.

(d) Protection of the record. Unless otherwise ordered in a particular case by the Secretary, the record shall not be removed from the Department. A certified copy of such record shall be made available to any court before which any aspects of a proceeding is under review, with appropriate safeguards to prevent disclosure of confidential or privileged information that may be included therein.

§ 353.26 Ex parte meetings.

A written memorandum will be prepared of any ex parte meeting between (a) any interested party or other person providing factual information relating to a determination in the proceeding and (b) the person to whom the authority to make determinations under the Act has been delegated (the Assistant Secretary for Trade Administration) or the person making a final recommendation for decision to such person (the Deputy Assistant Secretary for Import Administration). Such memorandum shall be prepared as expeditiously as possible. It shall be included in the official record. The memorandum of such ex parte meeting shall include the date, time and place of the meeting, the identity of all persons present, and a non-confidential summary of the matters discussed or then submitted. Normally this memorandum shall be prepared by one of the Government participants at the meeting. If the Assistant Secretary or Deputy Assistant Secretary directs that the memorandum be prepared by a non-government participant, the Assistant Secretary or Deputy Assistant Secretary (whichever directs preparation by a non-goverment participant) shall act expeditiously to approve and include in the record such memorandum.

§ 353.27 Confidentiality maintained.

Except as provided in § 353.30, information submitted to the Department which is designated as confidential by the person submitting it shall not be disclosed to any person (other than an officer or employee of the United States Government who is directly concerned with carrying out the investigation in connection with which the information is submitted) without the consent of the person submitting it. (§ 353.28(e) sets forth the procedures followed where a request for confidential treatment is denied, in whole or in part.)

§ 353.28 Requests for confidential treatment of information.

(a) Submission and contents of requests. Any person who submits information in connection with a proceeding may request that such information, or any specified part thereof, be treated as confidential. Any information submitted which is not designated as confidential by the person submitting it normally shall not be treated as confidential. Information which is subject to a request for confidential treatment shall be set forth on separate pages and each such page shall be clearly marked "Confidential Treatment Requested." Each separate request for confidential treatment of information, other than information submitted in confidence by a foreign government which is restricted from disclosure pursuant to statute or Executive Order, shall be accompanied by a full statement of the reason or reasons why the submitting party believes that each piece of information subject to such request is entitled to confidential treatment within the guidelines set forth in § 353.29. All requests for confidential treatment shall be accompanied by one of the following:

(1) A summary or approximated presentation of all information which may be disclosed to the public and which is sufficiently full and descriptive of the confidential information (generally, data in numerical form relating to prices and costs of individual firms shall be considered adequately summarized and not incapable of summary—if presented—or capable of being presented—in terms of indices or in figures within 10 percent of the actual figure);

(2) A statement by the person submitting the information that the information is not susceptible to such a summary or presentation, accompanied by a full statement of the reasons supporting this conclusion; or

(3) An agreement to permit disclosure under protective order, accompanied by a brief non-confidential statement describing the confidential data submitted, which need not be as detailed as the summary provided under paragraph (a)(1) of this section. Should the information concerned not be released under an administrative protective order, the person submitting the information must, unless he requests that the information be returned and not considered in the proceeding, submit either a summary or approximated presentation conforming to paragraph (a)(1) of this section or a statement under paragraph (a)(2) of this section within the time period specified in the denial of the request for an administrative protective order. The requirements of the preceding sentence do not apply where the Secretary, because of unusual circumstances determines that a less detailed non-confidential summary is appropriate. In such unusual circumstances such less detailed summary as deemed appropriate by the Secretary must be submitted.

(b) Return of information as a result of non-conforming requests. Any information for which confidential treatment is requested which does not conform to the requirements of paragraph (a) of this section (including the requirement that any summary or approximated presentation be sufficiently full and descriptive) may be returned to the submitting person, together with an explanation of the reasons it is non-conforming, and will not be considered in connection with the proceeding. Information so returned may be resubmitted with a new request for confidential treatment which complies with the requirements of this section, and will be dealt with in the same manner as an original submission of information accompanied by a request in acceptable form, if received within the time for the original submission. Belated submissions may be rejected.

(c) Consideration of requests. While a determination as to whether to grant a request for confidential treatment is pending, the information for which confidential treatment is requested shall be treated as confidential by the Department. A determination normally shall be made within 10 business days after the receipt of information accompanied by a conforming request for confidential treatment, whether, and, if so, to what extent, the request for confidential treatment shall be granted and whether claims submitted under paragraph (a)(2) of this section are justified.

(d) Treatment of information where request for confidential treatment is granted. (1) If a request for confidential treatment of information is granted, the information covered thereby will not be made available, except pursuant to § 353.30, for inspection or copying:

(i) By any person other than an officer or employee of the United States Government directly involved with carrying out the investigation in connection with which the information is submitted, or

(ii) By a person who has been specifically authorized to receive such information by the person who requests the confidential treatment.

(2) Information for which confidential treatment is granted shall be made available to officers and employees of the Commission only upon confirmation that the confidentiality of such information will be maintained and that it will not be disclosed, either publicly or under an administrative protective order, without the express written consent of the Secretary.

(3) Information submitted in confidence by a foreign government shall be made available only to the extent, and under the procedures, provided in Executive Order 12065 of June 28, 1978 (43 FR 28949), or any superseding or amending Order.

(e) Treatment of information where request for confidential treatment is denied. Should it be determined that any part of the material for which confidential treatment has been requested (1) does not warrant confidential treatment in whole or in part, (2) is in a form which cannot reasonably be associated with, or otherwise used to identify, the operations of a particular person and thus should not be treated as confidential, or (3) that information claimed not susceptible to a non-confidential summary is in fact capable of such treatment, the Department shall notify the person who submitted the information. Unless the person submitting the information thereafter agrees that the information (including any summarized or approximated presentation thereof) may be treated as non-confidential information, or provides a summary of matters found to be capable of such treatment, such information (including any summarized or approximated presentation thereof) shall be returned to the submitting person and not considered in the proceeding.

§ 353.29 Standards for determining confidentiality of information.

(a) In general. Information ordinarily will be considered to be privileged or confidential only if its disclosure would be likely:

(1) To cause substantial harm to the competitive position of the person submitting the information;

(2) To have a substantial adverse effect upon the person supplying the information or upon the person from whom the information was obtained; or

(3) To impair the ability of the United States Government to obtain in the future necessary information, not required by law to be provided, from the same person or others similarly situated.

(b) Information ordinarily regarded as appropriate for disclosure. Except as provided in paragraph (c) of this section information ordinarily will be regarded as appropriate for disclosure if it relates to:

(1) Prices, market conditions, terms of sale or similar information that is published or otherwise available to the public;

(2) Laws, regulations, Executive Orders, or other official documents which are published in the country by which adopted, as well as translations thereof; or

(3) Information submitted by the petitioner or other domestic interested party concerning the operations of a foreign interested party, except to the extent that it might disclose the identity of confidential sources.

(c) Information ordinarily regarded as privileged or confidential. Information ordinarily will be regarded as privileged or confidential if it would disclose:

(1) Business or trade secrets;

(2) Production costs;

(3) Distribution costs;

(4) Prices of actual transactions or offers;

(5) The names of particular customers or suppliers; or

(6) The names of particular persons from whom confidential information was obtained, if nondisclosure of the names has been requested and approved by the Secretary.

§ 353.30 Limited disclosure of certain confidential information under an administrative protective order.

(a) In general. (1) Any confidential information (other than information submitted in confidence by a foreign government which is restricted from disclosure pursuant to statute or Executive Order), including some or all of the information described in § 353.29(c), may be made available to an attorney or other representative under a protective order as described in paragraph (b) of this section. Forms for submitting requests for disclosure pursuant to a protective order incorporating the terms of this regulation will be made available. The application for disclosure pursuant to protective order filed by an attorney or other representative of a party to the proceeding must:

(i) Describe with particularity the information requested and set forth the reasons for the request;

(ii) Indicate the procedures to be followed to avoid unauthorized disclosure of the information requested; and

(iii) Demonstrate good cause for release of such information.

(2) Upon receipt of an application for disclosure of confidential information under a protective order, the Secretary will inform the person from whom the information was obtained of the request and provide an opportunity for such person to comment thereon.

(3) In determining whether to release information under a protective order, the Secretary shall weigh whether the need of the person requesting the information outweighs the need of the person submitting it for continued confidential treatment. Account also shall be taken of the probable effectiveness of the sanctions described under paragraph (e) of this section, or other sanctions as may be prescribed for breach of the order. Generally, disclosure under a protective order will be made only to attorneys who are subject to disbarment from practice in the event of a violation of the order.

(4) Should it be determined to release information under a protective order, the person submitting the information will be so notified. If the person submitting the information does not agree to the release of the information under protective order, such information shall be returned to the submitted person and not considered in the proceeding.

(b) Protective order. The protective order under which information is made available to the attorney or other representative of a party to the proceeding shall require that attorney or representative to submit a personal sworn statement that he will:

(1) Not divulge any of the information so obtained and not otherwise available to him to any other person other than:

(i) Personnel of agencies of the United States Government directly responsible for conducting the proceeding in question who are involved in such proceeding;

(ii) The person from whom the information was obtained;

(iii) An attorney in good standing employed on behalf of the party requesting the disclosure who has furnished an appropriate, similar statement; or

(iv) Those persons other than attorneys employed by or supervised by the attorney or representative (but in no case including officers, partners, associates and employees of the party represented or any other domestic competitor of the foreign firm whose information is involved) having a need therefore in connection with preparing oral or written statements in the proceeding, who shall have furnished a similar statement;

(2) Use such information solely for the purposes of the proceeding then in progress;

(3) Not consult with any person other than a person described in paragraph (b)(1)(i) or (ii) of this section concerning such confidential information without obtaining the approval of the Department and the party (or the attorney for the party) from whom such confidential information was obtained;

(4) Take adequate precautions to ensure the security of the confidential materials and the information contained therein subject to the protective order; and

(5) Promptly report any breach of such agreement to the Secretary.

(c) Acknowledgement of sanctions for breach of protective order. The sworn statement referred to in paragraph (b) of this section shall include an acknowledgement by the person providing it that breach thereof:

(1) May subject the following persons to disbarment from practice before any constituent agency of the Department for up to seven years following publication of a determination that the order has been breached:

(i) The person submitting the statement;

(ii) Any firm of which such person is a partner, associate, or employee; and

(iii) Such person's partners, associates, employer and employees;

(2) Shall, in the case of an attorney, lead to referral of such breach to the ethics panel of the appropriate bar associations; and

(3) Shall subject the offender and the party he represents to such other administrative sanctions determined to be appropriate, including striking from the record any information or briefs submitted by, or on behalf of, the party represented by the offender, terminating any investigation then in progress, or revoking any Order then in effect.

(d) Final disposition of materials released under protective order. Upon completion of a proceeding, or at such earlier date as may be determined appropriate for particular data, the security of confidential information shall be protected by requiring each attorney or other representative to return all copies of materials released to them pursuant to this section and all other materials containing the confidential information (such as notes or charts based on any such information received under protective order), accompanied by a certificate from the attorney or representative to whom the material was delivered or disclosed and each person specified in paragraph (b)(1)(iii) or (iv) of this section, attesting to his personal, good faith effort to determine that no other copies of such materials have been made available to or retained by the party he represents or any other person to whom disclosure was not specifically authorized.

(e) Sanctions for breach of protective order. (1) The Secretary shall determine whether any person has violated a protective order, and, as a sanction, may:

(i) Bar any such person and any firm of which such person is a partner, associate, or employee, or any partner, associate, employer, or employee of such person, from representing any other person's interest before any constituent agency of the Department in any capacity for a period of up to seven years from the date of publication in the Federal Register of a notice that the existence of a breach has been determined to exist;

(ii) In the case of a violation of this section by an attorney, refer such breach to the ethics panel of the appropriate bar associations; and

(iii) Subject the offender and the party he represents to such other administrative sanctions as are determined by the Secretary to be appropriate, including striking from the record any information or briefs submitted by, or on behalf of, the party represented by the offender, terminating any investigation then in progress, or revoking any Order then in effect.

(2) Any person to whom such sanctions are proposed to be applied shall be afforded a reasonable opportunity to be heard before the determination is made.

§ 353.31 Information exempt from disclosure

Information which might otherwise be available under this subpart shall be exempt from disclosure if it relates to any matter which is required to be kept confidential pursuant to privilege, statute or Executive Order. This includes information that has been provided to the United States in confidence by a foreign government or international organization of governments. Such information currently is restricted from disclosure pursuant to Executive Order No. 12065 of June 28, 1978 (43 FR 28949).

Subpart C—Antidumping Procedures and Determinations

§ 353.35 Procedure for self-initiation.

(a) In general. Whenever the Secretary determines, from information available to him, that an antidumping investigation is warranted into the question of whether the antidumping duty imposed by section 731 of the Act should be imposed with respect to a particular class or kind of merchandise imported into the United States, he shall, after providing an opportunity for consultation to the signatory or signatories to the Agreement on Antidumping which may be affected by any affirmative determination, publish in the Federal Register a "Notice of Initiation of Antidumping Investigation." The Notice is to include:

(1) A description of the merchandise involved;

(2) The name of the country of exportation to the United States and, if the merchandise is produced in a country other than that from which it is exported, the name of the country in which the merchandise is produced;

(3) A summary of the information received that would, if found to be accurate, require the imposition of antidumping duties pursuant to section 731 of the Act; and

(4) A statement that the investigation will be terminated without further notice upon publication of a notice of a preliminary or final negative injury determination by the Commission.

(b) Information provided to the Commission. Upon initiation of the investigation, the Commission will be notified promptly and will be provided with such information as is available relating to the matter under investigation, including any available information on the amount by which the foreign market value exceeds United States price and the volume of trade. Information for which confidential treatment has been granted by the Secretary shall be made available to the Commission only upon confirmation that the confidentiality of such information will be maintained and that it will not be disclosed, either publicly or under an administrative protective order, without the express written consent of the Secretary.

§ 353.36 Procedures for initiation by petition.

(a) Contents of petition. Any interested party, as defined in subparagraph (C), (D), or (E) of section 771(9) of the Act, who has reason to believe that merchandise imported into the United States is being, or is likely to be, sold at less than fair value, by reason of which an industry in the United States is being or is likely to be materially injured or its establishment is being materially retarded, may file a petition on behalf of an industry pursuant to section 731 of the Act with the Secretary, Attention: Assistant Secretary for Trade Administration, Room 3826, Department of Commerce, Washington, D.C. 20230, requesting the imposition of additional duties in an amount equal to the amount by which the foreign market value exceeds the United States price. The petition shall contain, or be accompanied by, information, to the extent reasonably available to the petitioner, in substantially the following form:

(1) The name and address of the petitioner and any other person, firm, or association the petitioner represents, if appropriate;

(2) The industry on whose behalf the petition is filed, including the names of other enterprises included in such industry;

(3) A statement indicating whether the applicant has filed, or is filing, for import relief pursuant to section 201 of the Trade Act of 1974 (19 U.S.C. 2251), or has initiated proceedings pursuant to section 337 or 702 of the Act (19 U.S.C. 1337, 1671a), section 232 of the Trade Expansion Act of 1962 (19 U.S.C. 1862), or section 301 of the Trade Act of 1974 (19 U.S.C. 2411) with respect to the merchandise which is the subject of the proceeding;

(4) A detailed description of the imported merchandise in question, including its technical characteristics and uses, and, where appropriate, its tariff classification under the Tariff Schedules of the United States;

(5) The name of the country or countries from which the merchandise is being or is likely to be, exported to the United States and, if the merchandise is produced in a country other than that from which it is exported, the name of the country in which it is produced;

(6) The names and addresses of all known foreign enterprises believed to be manufacturing, producing or exporting the merchandise in question;

(7) All pertinent facts as to the price at which the foreign merchandise is sold or offered for sale in the United States and in the home market in which produced or from which exported, including information concerning transportation and insurance charges, and if appropriate, information regarding sales in third countries or the cost of producing the merchandise. Petitioners unable to furnish information on foreign sales or costs may present information concerning U.S. domestic producers' costs adjusted for differences in the foreign country in question from information publicly available;

(8) If the merchandise is being exported from a country which is considered to be a state-controlled-economy-country, any information pertaining to the price or prices at which such or similar merchandise of a non-state-controlled-economy-country or countries, considered to be comparable in terms of economic development to the state-controlled-economy-country, is sold for consumption in the home market of that country or countries or to other countries (including the United States), or the constructed value of such or similar merchandise in a non-state-controlled-economy-country, determined in accordance with § 353.8;

(9) Evidence, if any, that sales in the home market are being made at a price which represents less than the cost of production of the merchandise, and the circumstances under which such sales are made;

(10) The volume and value of imports of the merchandise from the country in question in the most recent two-year period, and also other periods if the petitioner believes such other periods to be more representative, or, if the merchandise is not presently imported into the United States or is not imported in significant quantities, information as to the likelihood of its importation;

(11) The names and addresses of enterprises believed to be importing the merchandise;

(12) The names and addresses of other enterprises in the United States engaged in the production, manufacture or sale of like merchandise. If numerous, information need not be provided with respect to any enterprises that accounted for less than 2 percent of domestic production, manufacture or sale of such merchandise during the most recent 12-month period;

(13) Information as to the material injury or threat thereof to, or the material retardation of the establishment of, a United States industry by reason of the imported merchandise alleged to be sold at less than fair value, as described in 19 CFR 207.11 and 207.26;

(14) If "critical circumstances" are alleged, information should be presented—(A) as to a history of dumping or (B) that the importer knew or should have known the exporter was selling at less than fair value, and (C) that injury which is difficult to repair is caused by reason of massive imports in a relatively short period; and

(15) Any documentation on which petitioner relies in making its petition.

Forms for the submission of petitions may be adopted from time to time. The use of such forms shall not be mandatory, provided the information required thereby and reasonably available to the petitioner is otherwise included in the petition.

(b) Translations to English. Unless such requirement is waived in individual cases, any information submitted in the petition or in support thereof, which is in a foreign language, must be accompanied by an English translation.

(c) Simultaneous filing with Commission. The Petitioner shall file a copy of the petition with the Commission on the same day as the petition is filed with the Secretary and shall so certify in submitting the petition to the Secretary.

(d) Confidentiality of information. Any petition which contains information for which confidential treatment has been requested and which is essential to support the petition will not be considered to have been received in acceptable form unless the requirements of § 353.28(a) are met.

(e) Amendment of petition. Upon timely receipt of additional information, the Secretary shall allow amendment of the petition. Any such amendments must be filed with the Commission on the same day as they are filed with the Secretary.

(f) Form and number of copies. The petition and, to the extent feasible, all supporting information, shall be submitted on letter-size paper, double spaced, typewritten or printed, in at least 10 copies.

(g) Notification of affected country's representative. Upon receipt of a petition, a non-confidential copy with a non-confidential summary of confidential data contained in the petition shall promptly be delivered to a representative in Washington, D.C. of the affected country or countries in which merchandise subject to the investigation is manufactured or produced.

(h) Additional information concerning requirements for petitions. Additional information concerning requirements for petitions may be obtained by contacting the office of the Assistant Secretary for Trade Administration, Room 3850, Department of Commerce, Washington, D.C. 20230; (202) 377-2867.

§ 353.37 Determination of sufficiency of petition.

(a) Determination of sufficiency. Within 20 days after a petition is filed under § 353.36, a determination shall be made by the Secretary on the sufficiency of the petition. A petition is considered to be filed at the time it is received by the Secretary.

(b) Notice. If a petition properly alleges the basis on which antidumping duties may be imposed under section 731 of the Act, contains information reasonably available to the petitioner supporting the allegations, and is filed by an interested party described in section 771(9)(C), (D) or (E) of the Act, an investigation shall be initiated and a notice of "Initiation of Antidumping Investigation" shall be published in the Federal Register. Unless otherwise stated in the notice, the investigation will relate to all merchandise of the class or kind in question from the exporting country. The notice shall contain a description of the merchandise subject to the investigation, based on consultation between the Secretary and the Commission.

(c) Insufficiency of petition. If it is determined that a petition does not properly allege the basis on which antidumping duties may be imposed under section 731 of the Act, does not contain information deemed reasonably available to the petitioner supporting the allegations, or is not filed by an interested party described in section 771(9) (C), (D) or (E) of the Act, the petition shall be dismissed and the proceeding terminated. The petitioner shall be notified in writing of the reasons for dismissal, and a notice of "Dismissal of Antidumping Petition" shall be published in the Federal Register, which shall summarize the reasons for dismissal of the petition.

(d) Notice to Commission. A copy of any determination hereunder shall be furnished promptly to the Commission. If the investigation is initiated, such information as has been received relating to the matter under investigation shall be made available to the Commission. Information for which confidential treatment has been granted by the Secretary shall be made available to the Commission only upon confirmation that the confidentiality of such information will be maintained and that it will not be disclosed, either publicly or under an administrative protective order, without the express written consent of the Secretary.

§ 353.38 Full-scale investigation.

(a) Upon publication of the notice of "Initiation of Antidumping Investigation," the Secretary shall proceed promptly to obtain such information as may be necessary for preliminary and final determinations of sales at less than fair value. The Secretary normally will examine at least 60 percent of the dollar volume of exports to the United States from any country subject to an antidumping investigation. Ordinarily the Secretary will require a foreign manufacturer, producer, or exporter subject to the investigation to submit pricing information covering a period of at least 150 days prior to, and 30 days after, the first day of the month during which the petition was received in acceptable form. The Secretary may, however, require the submission of pricing information for such other period as he deems necessary and he may also require the submission of pricing information on a current basis during the course of an investigation. Where appropriate, cost information also will be required.

(b) When the Secretary examines less than 85 percent by dollar volume of the exports to the United States of the merchandise subject to the investigation, the Secretary will inform interested exporters of such merchandise of which exporters and what percentage of total exports to the United States are being examined.

§ 353.39 Preliminary determinations.

(a) In general. Within 160 days after the date on which a petition is filed under section 732(b) of the Act, or an investigation is commenced under section 732(a) of the Act, but not before an affirmative preliminary determination by the Commission under section 733(a) of the Act.

(1) A preliminary determination shall be made, based upon the best information available at the time of the determination, as to whether there is a reasonable basis to believe or suspect that foreign merchandise which is the subject of the investigation is being sold or is likely to be sold at less than fair value; and

(2) If the determination is affirmative, the amount by which the foreign market value exceeds the United States price shall be estimated and stated.

Notice of the determination, the parties affected, and the estimated amount by which the foreign market value exceeds the United States price shall published in the Federal Register. The determination shall be mailed or otherwise delivered to all parties to the proceeding and the Commission.

(b) Request for extension by petitioner. If a request for an extension, stating the reasons for the request, is received from the petitioner no later than 25 days before the preliminary determination would otherwise be required under section 733(b) of the Act, the preliminary determination may be postponed until not later than the 210th day after the date on which the petition is filed. Upon acting on such a request, a notice of "Postponement of Preliminary Determination" shall be published in the Federal Register, stating that it has been made at the petitioner's request.

(c) Extraordinarily complicated cases. (1) If a case is determined to be extraordinarily complicated, the preliminary determination shall be made no later than the 210th day after the petition is filed under section 732(b) of the Act, or an investigation is commenced under section 732(a) of the Act.

(2) Any determination that a case is "extraordinarily complicated" shall be based on express findings that:

(i) The importing and exporting parties are cooperating with the investigation;

(ii) The case is extraordinarily complicated by reason of (A) the number and complexity of the transactions under investigation or the adjustments to be considered, (B) the novelty of the issues presented, or (C) the number of firms whose activities must be investigated; and

(iii) Additional time is needed to make the preliminary determination.

(3) All parties to the proceeding shall be notified in writing of any determination to treat the case as "extraordinarily complicated" not later than 20 days before the date on which the preliminary determination would otherwise be required under section 733(b) of the Act. Upon making such a determination, a notice of "Postponement of Preliminary Determination" shall be published in the Federal Register, which notice shall summarize the reasons for the postponement.

(d) Waiver of verification. Within 75 days after the initiation of an investigation, an official designated for such purpose by the Secretary shall review the information received during the first 60 days of the investigation. If this official (who shall not be the official responsible for making the preliminary determination) concludes that there appears to be sufficient information available upon which the preliminary determination can reasonably be based, all nonconfidential information and all other information available under section 777 of the Act shall be disclosed to the petitioner and any other party to the proceeding that requests such disclosure. Within 3 working days after such disclosure, the petitioner and each domestic party to whom such disclosure was made may furnish an irrevocable written waiver of verification of the information received by the Secretary and an agreement that it is willing to have a preliminary determination made on the basis of the record then available to the Secretary. If a timely waiver and agreement have been received from the petitioner and each domestic party to whom the disclosure was made, and the Secretary finds that sufficient information is then available upon which the preliminary determination can reasonably be based, a preliminary determination shall be made within 90 days after the commencement of the investigation on the basis of the record established during the first 60 days after the investigation was commenced.

(e) Contents of preliminary determination. The preliminary determination shall include conclusions with regard to all facts and issues of law considered material to the determination, the name of the petitioner and of the industry on whose behalf the petition was filed, a description of the merchandise involved, the name of the country of exportation, and, if practicable, the names of the foreign manufacturers, producers, or exporters. If affirmative, the determination shall:

(1) Order the suspension of liquidation of all entries of merchandise subject to the determination which is entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption on or after the date of publication of the notice of the determination in the Federal Register; and

(2) Impose provisional measures by requiring a case deposit, or the posting of a bond or other security for each entry of the merchandise concerned equal to the estimated amount by which the foreign market value exceeds the United States price. The posting of a bond or other security will be deemed adequate unless the revenue will not be sufficiently protected.

(f) Commission access to information. All information upon which the determination was based and which the Commission may consider relevant to its injury determination shall be made available to the Commission. Information for which confidential treatment has been granted by the Secretary shall be made available to the Commission only upon confirmation that the confidentiality of such information will be maintained and that it will not be disclosed, either publicly or under an administrative protective order, without the express written consent of the Secretary.

§ 353.40 Critical circumstances determinations.

(a) Determination. If, not less than 30 days before the date on which a final determination is due, a petitioner alleges critical circumstances, then at the time the preliminary determination is made or, if such determination is due within 20 days or has already been made, then within 1 month after the allegation is received, a determination shall be made, on the basis of the best information available at the time, whether there is a reasonable basis to believe or suspect that:

(1)(i) There is a history of dumping in the United States or elsewhere of the class or kind of merchandise which is the subject of the investigation; or

(ii) The person by whom, or for whose account, the merchandise was imported knew or should have known that the exporter was selling the merchandise which is the subject of the investigation at less than fair value; and

(2) There have been massive imports of the class or kind of merchandise which is the subject of the investigation over a relatively short period.

If, not more than 30 but not less than 20 days before the date on which a final determination is due, a petitioner alleges critical circumstances, then no preliminary determination as to critical circumstances shall be made. A finding as to critical circumstances shall be included pursuant to § 353.44(c) in the Affirmative Final Determination. In making such determination, account shall be taken of departures in the ratio of import penetration of the subject merchandise and historical patterns of importation.

(b) Notification of Commission. The Commission shall be notified promptly of any determination under this section.

(c) Suspension of liquidation. Upon an affirmative preliminary determination of critical circumstances, any suspension of liquidation ordered under section 733(d)(1) of the Act shall apply, or if notice of suspension of liquidation has already been published, such suspension shall be amended to apply, to unliquidated entries of merchandise entered, or withdrawn from warehouse for consumption on or after the date which is 90 days before the date on which suspension of liquidation was first ordered.

(d) Publication of notice. Upon an affirmative preliminary determination of critical circumstances, notice thereof shall be published in the Federal Register, either as part of the notice of preliminary determination, or, if the preliminary determination already has been published, as a separate notice of "Preliminary Determination of Critical Circumstances."

§ 353.41 Termination of investigation.

(a) Termination upon withdrawal of petition. An antidumping investigation may be terminated at any time upon withdrawal by the petitioner of the petition on which the investigation was initiated, after notice to all other parties to the proceeding and consultation with the Commission. No investigation shall be terminated unless it is determined such termination is in the public interest. Notice of any termination shall be published in the Federal Register, together, where appropriate, with a copy of any correspondence exchanged with the petitioner on the basis of which the petitioner withdrew the petition and the investigation was terminated.

(b) Termination upon negative determination. An investigation shall be deemed terminated, without further comment or action, upon publication of any negative final determination, or a negative preliminary or final determination by the Commission on the issue of injury.

§ 353.42 Suspension of investigation.

(a) Agreements to eliminate completely sales at less than fair value or to cease exports. An investigation may be suspended at any time before a final determination if the exporters of the merchandise which is the subject of the investigation who account for substantially all of the imports of the merchandise which is the subject of the investigation agree:

(1) To cease exports of the merchandise to the United States within 6 months after the date on which the investigation is suspended, or

(2) To revise their prices promptly to eliminate completely any amount by which the foreign market value of the merchandise which is the subject of the agreement exceeds the United States price of that merchandise.

(b) Agreements eliminating injurious effect—(1) Generally. An investigation may be suspended at any time before a final determination upon acceptance of an agreement to revise prices from exporters accounting for substantially all of the imports of the merchandise which is the subject of the investigation, if it is determined:

(i) Extraordinary circumstances are present; and

(ii) The agreement will eliminate completely the injurious effect of the exports to the United States of the merchandise which is the subject of the investigation.

(2) Additional requirements. No agreement under this subsection may be accepted unless:

(i) The suppression or undercutting of price levels of like domestic products by imports of the merchandise will be prevented; and

(ii) For each entry of each exporter the amount by which the estimated foreign market value exceeds the United States price will not exceed 15 precent of the weighted average amount by which the estimated foreign market value exceeded the United States price for all less-than-fair-value entries of the exporter examined during the course of the investigation.

(c) Definition of "substantially all." For purposes of section 734(b) and (c) of the Act, exporters who account for "substantially all" of the imports in question shall mean exporters who have accounted for no less than 85 percent by volume of the subject merchandise imported into the United States during the period of investigation, or such other recent, representative period determined appropriate. The number and identity of affected exporters shall be considered no less frequently than once annually in connection with the determination required under section 751 of the Act, and, if appropriate, additional or different exporters may be required to furnish assurances to ensure continued applicability of the assurance to the requisite percentage of the affected trade.

(d) Definition of "extraordinary circumstances." For purposes of section 734(c) of the Act, "extraordinary circumstances" shall mean circumstances in which: (1) Suspension of the investigation will be more beneficial to the domestic industry than continuation of the investigation, and (2) the investigation is complex. For purposes of this section, "complex" shall mean there are a large number of transactions to be investigated or adjustments to be considered, the issues raised are novel, or the number of firms involved is large.

(e) Monitoring of agreements. No agreement under section 734 of the Act shall be accepted unless effective monitoring of the agreement is practicable. In accepting assurances and in monitoring compliance therewith, the Secretary shall not be obliged to ascertain on a continuing basis the level of domestic prices of merchandise like that covered by the agreement.

(f) Public interest. No agreement under section 734 of the Act shall be accepted unless the agreement is determined to be in the public interest.

(g) Exports not to increase during interim period. No agreement to cease exports to the United States under section 734(b)(1) of the Act shall be accepted unless that agreement provides an adequate means of ensuring that the quantity of the merchandise covered by that agreement and exported to the United States during the period provided for cessation of exports does not exceed the quantity of such merchandise exported to the United States during the most recent representative period determined to be approprriate to the case. In ordinary circumstances, the representative period shall refer either to the six months preceding the month in which the petition was filed or the comparable six month period of a year earlier, whichever more accurately reflects the historical level of importation absent import surges. If the level of exports to the United States exceeds the volume exported during the period determined most representative, then the agreement may be deemed violated and the provisions of § 353.43 will be applicable.

(h) Procedures for suspension of investigations. Prior to accepting any agreement under section 734:

(1) The petitioner shall be notified and consulted with concerning the Secretary's intention to suspend the investigation. A copy of the proposed agreement shall be furnished to the petitioner no less than 30 days prior to the proposed suspension of the investigation. Any such agreement shall contain the procedures to be followed to monitor compliance, and a statement of the compatibility of the agreement with the requirements of subsections (b) and (d) or (c) and (d) of section 734 of the Act;

(2) All parties to the proceeding shall be notified of the proposed suspension not less than 30 days prior thereto; and

(3) All parties to the proceeding and other government agencies which may have an interest in the effects of the agreement shall be afforded an opportunity to submit written comments and information for the record with respect to the proposed suspension.

(i) Issuance of an affirmative preliminary determination. Upon acceptance of an agreement to suspend an investigation, a "Notice of Suspension of Antidumping Investigation" shall be published in the Federal Register, including a summary of the principal provisions of the agreement on the basis of which the investigation was suspended. Unless an Affirmative Preliminary Determination has already been issued, an "Affirmative Preliminary Determination" shall be published together with the notice suspending the proceeding.

(j) Suspension of liquidation—(1) Cessation of exports; complete elimination of dumping margin. If an agreement is accepted which provides for the cessation of exports or complete elemination of a dumping margin of merchandise exported to the United States, pursuant to section 734(b) of the Act, then, notwithstanding the issuance of an Affirmative Preliminary Determination, the liquidation of entries of merchandise covered by the agreement shall not be suspended. If liquidation has previously been suspended in the investigation, such suspension shall, without further comment or action, terminate on the date the notice is published and estimated antidumping duties shall be refunded, or appropriate bonds or other security shall be released.

(2) Other suspension agreements. Agreements to suspend an investigation other than those described in paragraph (j)(1) of this section shall not affect the suspension of liquidation of entries of merchandise (except that the security required may be adjusted to reflect the effect of the agreement) until the Commission has completed its review of the suspension agrement, if such review is requested. If no request for review of suspension is received by the Commission within 20 days after the "Notice of Suspension of Antidumping Investigation" is published, the suspension of liquidation shall, without further comment or action, terminate on the 21st day after such publication.

(k) Commission review. Where the Commission, having undertaken a review of an agreement to suspend an investigation other than one described in paragraph (j)(1) of this section, makes a negative determination, the Secretary shall resume his investigation on the date of publication of such determination as if the affirmative preliminary determination under § 353.39 had been made on that date. Where the Commission makes an affirmative determination in such a case, the Secretary shall continue the suspension of the investigation and terminate any suspension of liquidation which may then be in effect, and all estimated antidumping duties shall be refunded and all appropriate bonds or other security shall be released.

(1) Continuation of investigation. By filing a request with both the Secretary and the Commission on the same date, exporters accounting for a significant proportion of exports to the United Statts of the merchandise which is the subject of the investigation, or the petitioner or any other domestic interested party (within the meaning of subparagraph (C), (D) or (E) of section 771(9) of the Act), which is a party to the proceeding, may, during the 20-day period following the date of publication of the notice of suspension, request a continuation of the investigation. Upon receiving such a request, the Secretary and Commission shall continue the investigation. If, as a result of such continued investigation, a Final Negative Determination is made or the Commission makes a negative injury determination, the investigation shall be terminated, without further comment or action, and notice thereof published in the Federal Register. If an Affirmative Final Determination is made and the Commission makes an affirmative injury determination, the suspension shall remain in effect in accordance with its terms. The provisions of paragraph (j) of this section regarding the suspension of liquidation of entries of merchandise covered by the agreement are unaffected by this subsection.

§ 353.43 Violations of agreements

(a) In general. If it is determined that an agreement on the basis of which an investigation was suspended is being, or has been violated, or no longer meets the requirements of subsections (b) and (d) or (c) and (d) of section 734 of the Act:

(1) Liquidation of the unliquidated entries of merchandise shall be suspended effective as of the later of the date which the 90 days before the date of publication of the notice of suspension of liquidation, or the date on which the merchandise, the sale or export to the United States of which was in violation of the agreement, was first entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption;

(2) If the investigation was not completed, the investigation shall be resumed as if the Affirmative Preliminary Determination was made on the day on which the investigation is resumed;

(3) If the investigation was completed, an Antidumping Duty Order shall be issued, effective with respect to entries the liquidation of which was suspended upon the determination that the agreement had been violated; and

(4) The petitioner, interested parties who are or were party to the proceeding, and the Commission shall be notified and notice of the determination shall be published in the Federal Register, including a summary of the reasons therefor.

(b) Notice of possible breach. If there is reason to believe that an agreement no longer meets the requirements of the Act or that an agreement is being breached and the breach involves a violation of the agreement other than that described in paragraph (c) of this section, each party to the agreement shall be notified at the earliest moment, so that alternative or amended agreements may be considered before the agreement is deemed violated.

(c) Intentional violations. The intentional violation of any agreement entered into under this section shall subject any person who is party to the agreement and is determined to have intentionally violated it to the same penalties as for a fraudulent violation of section 592 of the Act (19 U.S.C. 1592). The procedural requirements of section 592 shall be applicable to any action to collect penalties.

§ 353.44 Final determinations.

(a) In general. Within 75 days after the date of a preliminary determination, a final determination shall be made whether merchandise which is the subject of the investigation is being, or is likely to be, sold in the United States at less than fair value.

(b) Extension of period. The final determination may be postponed until not later than 135 days after the date of a preliminary determination where a written request for such a postponement is received, prior to the time the final determination otherwise would be due, from either the exporters who account for a significant proportion of the merchandise which is the subject of the investigation (in proceedings in which the preliminary determination was affirmative) or the petitioner (in proceedings in which the preliminary determination was negative).

(c) Critical circumstances. If critical circumstances have been alleged and an affirmative final determination reached, then it shall include a finding of whether:

(1)(i) There is a history of dumping in the United States or elsewhere of the class or kind of merchandise which is the subject of the investigation, or

(ii) The person by whom, or for whose account, the merchandise was imported knew or should have known that the exporter was selling the merchandise which is the subject of the investigation at less than its fair value, and

(2) There have been massive imports of the merchandise which is the subject of the investigation over a relatively short period.

(d) Disclosure of information. Promptly after making the preliminary determination, there shall be disclosed, to each interested party then a party to the proceedings who requests such disclosure, all non-confidential information and, if made available under § 353.30, confidential information, on the basis of which the preliminary determination was made.

(e) Opportunity of parties to present views. Prior to the final determination, an opportunity shall be provided for all parties to be heard orally in person or by counsel before a designated official pursuant to § 353.47. Written views will be received from any person at any time, provided that, unless the Secretary or the officer presiding at the hearing otherwise provides for good cause, consideration of written views may be declined if received more than 10 days after the transcript of any hearing is available to the public or less than 30 days before the final determination is due, whichever is earlier.

(f) Notice of determination. Notice of the final determination, the parties affected and the estimated margin of dumping, if any, shall be published in the Federal Register. Copies of the determination shall be mailed or otherwise delivered to all parties to the proceeding and the Commission.

(g) Contents of final determinations. The final determination shall include conclusions with regard to all facts and issues of law considered material to the determination. If the determination is affirmative, the amount of the dumping margin shall be estimated and stated.

(h) Effect of negative final determination. If the final determination is negative, the proceeding shall be terminated including any suspension of liquidation which may then be in effect, and all estimated antidumping duties shall be refunded and all appropriate bonds or other security shall be released.

(i) Effect of negative final determination by Commission. If the final determination by the Commission under section 735(b) of the Act is negative, the proceeding shall be terminated including any suspension of liquidation which may then be in effect, and all estimated antidumping duties shall be refunded and all appropriate bonds or other security shall be released.

§ 353.45 Exclusion of particular firms.

The Secretary may exclude one or more foreign manufacturers, producers or exporters from an affirmative preliminary, or an affirmative final, determination if he finds that all examined exports of the merchandise in question to the United States by the manufacturer, producer, or exporter in question during the period under consideration were made at prices not less than the fair value of the merchandise concerned. Usually, information on 100 percent of the exports in question will be required to be submitted to support a request for exclusion. In exceptional cases, the Secretary may determine that examination of a lesser percentage (never less than 75 percent) is adequate. A manufacturer, producer, or exporter requesting exclusion, must submit all relevant sales information to permit consideration of the request and verification of the data on which the request is based, whether or not information concerning such sales has been requested by the Secretary. The Secretary also may exclude a foreign manufacturer, producer or exporter, not excluded from an Affirmative Final Determination, from an Antidumping Duty Order, provided the information necessary to support such exclusion is received, verfied, and analyzed by the Department in time to be considered by the Commission in making its final injury determination. The name of any such company which is determined to have satisfied the requirements for exclusion will be published in the Federal Register. Companies not excluded under this section will become subject to an Antidumping Duty Order, should one be issued, and must thereafter petition for exclusion pursuant to the procedures of § 353.54 in order to be excluded from such Order.

§ 353.46 Submission of information and written views.

(a) Submission of information and written views. Except in situations where it would be manifestly unjust, any information or written views submitted in connection with a proceeding shall be considered only if received within the time established by these regulations or by specific instructions applicable to any request for information; and information or written views received after such time shall not be considered in the proceeding. Any written views intended to be considered in connection with a proceeding shall be submitted on letter-size paper, double spaced, in at least 10 copies, to the Secretary, Attention: Assistant Secretary for Trade Administration, Room 3826, Department of Commerce, Washington, D.C. 20230. Except when the Secretary determines it will be unduly burdensome to the party to the proceeding, in which case the Secretary shall effect the service, a copy shall also be served at the same time, by mail or personal service, on counsel for each party to the proceeding as of the date of such filing, or if not represented by counsel, then the person designated for such purpose by the party. A certificate of such service shall accompany any such filing.

(b) Designation of agent. Every party to the proceeding shall designate a person to receive service of all papers filed in a proceeding. A list of such designated agents shall be made available by the Secretary.

§ 353.47 Hearings.

During the course of an investigation, normally within 30 days after the Preliminary Determination is published, a hearing shall be held, upon the request of any party to the proceeding, to provide interested persons an opportunity to present views orally. Such hearing shall be conducted before a designated official. A verbatim record shall be transcribed and copies of the transcript made available to the public. The hearing shall not be subject to the Administrative Procedure Act, and shall not involve the examination or cross examination of witnesses under oath. At the discretion of the officer conducting the hearing, persons not party to the proceeding, including officials of other agencies or departments of the United States Government, may present views. If not included in the notice of the preliminary determination, notice of such a hearing shall be published in the Federal Register. All requests for hearings shall be accompanied by a statement outlining the issues which the person wishes to discuss. Reasonable notice of the hearing will be given to all parties to the proceeding. One week prior to such a hearing, pre-hearing briefs shall be submitted to the Secretary and exchanged among parties to the proceeding. Persons will be restricted, in their oral presentations, to issues raised in this pre-hearing brief. Any person not submitting such a brief ordinarily will be restricted to rebuttal of points made by other persons. Ordinarily, the presiding officer at a hearing will provide an opportunity for the submission of post-hearing briefs, within the time limits prescribed at the hearing. The Secretary may at any time invite any person to supply him with information or argument.

§ 353.48 Antidumping duty order.

(a) In general. Within seven days of notification that the Commission has made an affirmative determination on the issue of material injury, an Antidumping Duty Order shall be published that:

(1) Directs customs officers to assess an antidumping duty on the merchandise found to be sold at less than fair value, equal to the amount by which the foreign market value of the merchandise exceeds the United States price of the merchandise, such assessment to be made 6 months after the date on which the Secretary has received satisfactory information upon which such assessment may be based, but in no event later than 12 months after the end of the exporter's annual accounting period within which the merchandise is entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption, or in the case of merchandise not sold prior to its importation, 12 months after the end of the annual accounting period of the manufacturer or exporter within which it is sold in the United States to a person who is not the exporter of that merchandise;

(2) Includes a description of the class or kind of merchandise to which if applies, in such detail as is deemed necessary; and

(3) Pending liquidation of entries of the merchandise, requires the deposit of estimated antidumping duties at the same time as estimated normal customs duties on that merchandise are deposited.

(b) Calculation of the amount of the estimated duty to be deposited. The deposit of estimated antidumping duties for each manufacturer, producer or exporter shall be equal to the amount by which the foreign market value of the merchandise exceeds the United States price of the merchandise, as determined in the affirmative final determination of the Secretary or the latest administrative review of such determination under § 353.53, or, if appropriate, under § 353.49.

§ 353.49 Security in lieu of estimated duty pending early determination of duty.

(a) Conditions for use. The Secretary may allow, for no more than 90 days after the date of publication of an Antidumping Duty Order under § 353.48, the posting of a bond or other security in lieu of the deposit of estimated antidumping duties required under § 353.48(c) if, on the basis of information presented to it by any manufacturer, producer, or exporter within seven days after publication of the Antidumping Duty Order, the Secretary is satisfied that within 90 days after the date of publication of an Order under § 353.48, a determination can be made concerning the foreign market value and the United States price for all merchandise of such manufacturer, producer, or exporter described in that Order which was entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption on or after the date of publication of—

(1) An affirmative preliminary determination as to sales at less than fair value; or

(2) If the determination under paragraph (a)(1) of this section was negative, an affirmative final determination as to sales at less than fair value; and before the date of publication of the affirmative final determination by the Commission.

(b) Notice and hearing. The Secretary shall publish notice of any determination to allow the posting of security in lieu of the deposit of estimated antidumping duties, and shall, upon the request of any party to the proceeding, hold a hearing before determining the United States price and foreign market value of the merchandise of the foreign manufacturer, producer or exporter.

(c) Determination used as basis of duty. The Secretary shall publish notice of the results of the determination of United States price and foreign market value, and that determination shall be the basis for the assessment of antidumping duties on entries of merchandise to which the notice under this section applies and shall also be the basis for the deposit of estimated antidumping duties on future entries of merchandise of manufacturers, producers or exporters described in paragraph (a) of this section to which the Order issued under § 353.48 applies.

§ 353.50 Differences in determined and estimated antidumping duties.

If the amount of the estimated antidumping duty deposited pursuant to the Preliminary Affirmative Determination is different from the amount of the antidumping duty to be assessed pursuant to an Antidumping Duty Order, the difference with respect to merchandise entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption before publication of notice of the Commission's affirmative Final Determination shall be:

(a) Disregarded, to the extent that the estimated duty is less than the duty determined to be assessable under the Order, or

(b) Refunded, to the extent that estimated duties collected were more than the duty determined to be assessable under the Order.

§ 353.51 Verification of information; use of best information available.

(a) Information upon which a final determination is based shall be verified. The methods and procedures used to verify information in a particular case shall be published in the Federal Register in the "Notice of Affirmative Final Antidumping Determination" or "Notice of Negative Final Antidumping Determination," as appropriate.

(b) Whenever information cannot be satisfactorily verified, or is not submitted in a timely fashion or in the form required, the submitter of the information will be notified and the affected determination will be made on the basis of the best information then otherwise available which may include the information submitted in support of the petition. An opportunity to correct inadequate submissions will be provided if the correct submission is received in time to permit proper analysis and verification of the information concerned; otherwise no corrected submission will be taken into account. Where a party to the proceeding refuses to provide requested information, that fact may be taken into account in determining what is the best available information.

(c) In verifying information under this section, access to files, records and personnel may be requested by appropriate officers of the Secretary as part of the verification process. Failure to permit such access may prevent satisfactory verification and require the application of paragraph (b) of this section.

(d) All responses to requests for information must be in English and in the form requested unless such requirement is waived. Failure to supply information in the form requested may require the application of paragraph (b) of this section.

(e) Responses to all questionnaires directed to foreign parties shall be forwarded by air mail or faster means simultaneously to the Secretary and to the U.S. Embassy in the country in question and shall be deemed timely received if received at either office within the time required by any specific request, order or regulation.

§ 353.52 Interest on certain overpayments and underpayments.

Interest shall be payable, at the rate in effect under section 6621 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 on the date on which the rate or amount of duty is finally payable, or 8 percent, whichever is higher, on overpayments and underpayments of amounts deposited on merchandise entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption on or after the date on which notice of an affirmative determination by the Commission with respect to that merchandise is published.

§ 353.53 Administrative review of determinations.

(a) In general. At least once during each 12-month period beginning on the anniversary of the date an Antidumping Duty Order or notice of suspension of an investigation is published, the Secretary shall determine:

(1) The foreign market value and United States price of each entry of merchandise subject to the Antidumping Duty Order and included within that determination, and the amount, if any, by which the foreign market value of each such entry exceeds the United States price of the entry; or

(2) The status of, and compliance with, any agreement by reason of which an investigation was suspended.

(b) Changed circumstances. (1) Whenever the Secretary receives information concerning, or a request for the review of, an Antidumping Duty Order or Finding or an agreement on the basis of which an investigation was suspended, which shows changed circumstances sufficient to warrant review of such Order, Finding or agreement he shall, before conducting such review, publish a "Notice of Intention to Review Antidumping Duty Order" or "Notice of Intention to Review Suspension Agreement" in the Federal Register. Such Notice shall indicate the merchandise concerned, and any changed circumstances or other significant issues then known which will be considered during the review.

(2) In the absence of good cause shown, no review based on allegations of changed circumstances shall be conducted within 24 months after the date of an Affirmative Final Determination or a determination to suspend an investigation.

(c) Procedures. Written views on proposed revisions of an Antidumping Duty Order, including new facts for examination, will be accepted at any time, but unless changed circumstances are alleged, normally will not be processed sooner than 90 days before such redetermination is due for publication. Questionnaires requesting current relevant data normally will be sent 85 days before such date, requesting reply within 30 days of receipt.

(d) Disclosure and hearings. A disclosure may be made, generally about 30 days prior to the date the redetermination is due for publication, on request by interested parties then party to the proceeding, to such parties of all nonconfidential information and, where appropriate, pursuant to a protective order, confidential information, on the basis of which the redetermination will be made. Written views may be presented, and an opportunity to present oral views may be requested, by any party to whom disclosure was made. After providing an opportunity for comment by interested parties on the proposed determination, a revised Antidumping Duty Order, including any revised bases for the assessment of duties on the merchandise, shall be published in the Federal Register.

(e) Investigations which were discontinued prior to January 1, 1980. With respect to each investigation which was concluded with a discontinuance prior to January 1, 1980, the discontinuance will be reviewed according to the procedures of section 751 of the Act and continued, modified, or terminated, as appropriate. Until modified or terminated each discontinuance will remain in effect.

§ 353.54 Revocation of antidumping duty orders and termination of suspended investigations.

(a) In general. Whenever the Secretary determines that sales of merchandise subject to an Antidumping Finding or Order or a suspended investigation are no longer being made at less than fair value within the meaning of section 731 of the Act and is satisfied that there is no likelihood of resumption of sales at less than fair value, he may act to revoke or terminate, in whole or in part, such Order or Finding or suspended investigation. Ordinarily, consideration of such revocation or termination will be made only subsequent to a review as described in § 353.53 of this part.

(b) Application to revoke or terminate. An application for the revocation of any Finding or Order or the termination of a suspended investigation, premised upon the absence of sales at less than fair value, may be submitted in writing by a party to the proceeding to the Secretary together with detailed information demonstrating that the imported merchandise is no longer being sold at less than fair value. Ordinarily, such an application will be considered only if there have been no sales at less than fair value for at least a two-year period following the date of publication in the Federal Register of an Antidumping Duty Finding or Order or notice of suspension of investigation; provided, however, that where a firm can demonstrate that it has not sold the merchandise at less than fair value during the period of or immediately prior to the investigation (but the firm did not file a timely application for exclusion under § 353.45), the two-year period shall begin on the date of the preliminary determination regardless of whether that determination was affirmative or negative.

(c) Revocation or termination by the Secretary. The Secretary may on his own initiative revoke a Finding or Order or terminate a suspended investigation after three years if he is satisfied that (1) there is no likelihood of resumption of imports of the merchandise to the United States the sale of which has been made at less than fair value, or (2) the sales at less than fair value have been eliminated, or (3) other changed circumstances warrant a revocation of the Finding or Order or the termination of a suspended investigation.

(d) Revocation or termination based upon injury reconsideration. [Reserved]

(e) Notice of revocation or termination. If it appears to the Secretary from his review under section 751 of the Act and on application filed pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section (or from his own determination under paragraph (b) of this section) that a revocation or termination may be appropriate, he will publish a " Notice of Tentative Determination to Revoke or Terminate." Before the Secretary may tentatively revoke a Finding or an Order or terminate a suspended investigation pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section, the parties who are subject to the revocation or the termination must agree in writing to an immediate suspension of liquidation and reinstatement of the Finding or Order or continuation of the investigation, as appropriate, if circumstances develop which indicate that the merchandise thereafter imported into the United States is being sold at less than fair value. Opportunity for interested parties to present views with respect to the tentative revocation will be provided.

(f) Final determination. As soon as possible after publication of a "Notice of Tentative Determination to Revoke or Terminate" the Secretary will determine whether final revocation or termination is warranted. In cases where an application for a revocation or termination is based on the absence of sales at less than fair value with respect to the imported merchandise and the dispositive date for establishing a two-year period of no sales at less than fair value is the date of publication of the Finding or Order, the Secretary may determine that a final revocation or termination is warranted only if the firm involved provides information showing no sales at less than fair value with respect to the subject merchandise up to the date of publication of the "Notice of Tentative Determination to Revoke or Terminate." Ordinarily, a revocation or termination will be effective with respect to all merchandise which is the subject of the revocation or termination, entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption on or after the date on which the "Notice of Tentative Determination to Revoke or Terminate" is published in the Federal Register. The liquidation of all merchandise which is the subject of a tentative revocation or termination and which is entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption on or after the date of publication of the "Notice of Tentative Determination to Revoke or Terminate," will be ordered suspended pending the final determination on revocation or termination.

§ 353.55 Reimbursement of antidumping duties.

(a) General. In calculating the United States price there shall be deducted the amount of any antidumping duties which are, or will be, paid by the manufacturer, producer, seller, or exporter, or which are, or will be, refunded to the importer by the manufacturer, producer, seller, or exporter, either directly or indirectly, but a warranty of nonapplicability of antidumping duties entered into before the initiation of the investigation, will not be regarded as affecting United States price if it was granted to an importer with respect to merchandise which was:

(1) Purchased, or agreed to be purchased, before publication of a notice in which liquidation was suspended with respect to such merchandise; and

(2) Exported before a final determination of sales at less than fair value is made.

Ordinarily, the deduction for reimbursement of antidumping duties shall be made only once in the calculation of the United States price of any entry of merchandise subject to an Antidumpting Duty Order.

(b) Certificate. A certificate in the form set forth below shall be filed by any importer of merchandise subject to an Antidumping Duty Order with the district director of Customs in the district in which such merchandise is, or is intended to be, imported within 30 days after the earlier of (1) publication of the Order or any administrative review thereof pursuant to § 353.53, or, if appropriate, § 353.49, or (2) importation of the merchandise in a district in which not previously imported:

I hereby certify that I (have) (have not) entered into any agreement or understanding for the payment or for the refunding to me, by the manufacturer, producer, seller or exporter of all or any part of the antidumping duties assessed upon the following importation of _____ (commodity) from _____ (country): (List entry numbers) which have been purchased on or after _____ (date of publication of notice suspending liquidation in Federal Register) or purchased before _____ (same date) but exported on or after _____ (date of final determination of sales at less than fair value).

(c) Presumption. The failure to file the certificate required in paragraph (b) may result in a presumption of reimbursement.

§ 353.56 Conversion of currencies.

(a) Rule for conversion. In determining the existence and amount of any difference between the United States price and the fair value or foreign market value for the purposes of this part or of the Act, any necessary conversion of a foreign currency into its equivalent in United States currency shall be made in accordance with the provisions of section 522 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (31 U.S.C. 372):

(1) As of the date of purchase or agreement to purchase, if the purchase price is an element of the comparison; or

(2) As of the date of exportation, if the exporter's sales price is an element of the comparison.

(b) Special rules for fair value investigations. For purposes of fair value investigations, manufacturers, exporters, and importers concerned will be expected to act within a reasonable period of time to take into account price differences resulting from sustained changes in prevailing exchange rates. Where prices under consideration are affected by temporary exchange rate fluctuations, no differences between the prices being compared resulting solely from such exchange rate fluctuations will be taken into account in fair value investigations.

§ 353.57 Entered value not controlling.

The fact that the importer has indicated, on entry, the difference between the United States price and the foreign market value and the district director of Customs has approved the resulting entered value shall not prevent the assessment of the antidumping duty.

§ 355.0 Scope.

This part sets forth procedures and rules applicable to proceedings under section 303 and Title VII of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U.S.C. 1303 et seq.) (hereinafter referred to as "the Act") relating to the imposition of countervailing duties. The regulations established in this part shall be applicable under section 303 of the Act except that in the case of any imported article or merchandise which is dutiable—

(a) No determination by the Commission under sections 703(a), 704, or 705(b)(1) of the Act shall be required;

(b) No investigation may be suspended under section 704(c) of the Act, and § 355.31(b) and related sections hereof shall be inapplicable;

(c) No determination of critical circumstances shall be made, and § 355.29 hereof shall be inapplicable;

(d) No injury information need be contained in the petition as would otherwise be required by §§ 355.26(a)(12) and (a)(13); and

(e) Wherever the regulations require that allegations or information with respect to the issues of injury and subsidy contained in section 701(a) of the Act be provided, only information or allegations with respect to the question of subsidy in section 701(a)(1) shall be required.

Determinations by the Secretary under the Act shall not be considered major federal actions significantly affecting the environment within the meaning of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969, as amended (42 U.S.C. 4321 et seq.) and Executive Order 11514, March 5, 1970, as amended by Executive Order 11991, May 24, 1977; and Executive Order 12114, January 4, 1979.

Subpart A—Definitions

§ 355.6 Definitions of countervailing duty "proceeding," "investigation," "determination" and "Order."

(a) A "proceeding" refers to that time from the filing of a petition (or publication of a notice of self-initiation under section 702(a) of the Act) until the publication of the earliest of (1) a notice of termination, (2) a negative determination that has the effect of terminating the administrative proceedings; or (3) a notice of revocation of an Order.

(b) An "investigation" refers to that time between the publication of a notice of initiation and the publication of the earliest of (1) a notice of termination, (2) a negative determination that has the effect of terminating the administrative proceedings; or (3) an Order.

(c) A "determination" is an official decision in the course of a proceeding.

(d) An "Order" is a notice issued following final determinations of subsidy and, when applicable, injury, which provides for the imposition of countervailing duties.

§ 355.7 Other definitions.

(a) Country. "Country" means a foreign country, a political subdivision, dependent territory, or possession of a foreign country, and may include an association of two or more foreign countries, political subdivisions, dependent territories, or possessions of countries into a customs union outside the United States.

(b) Industry. "Industry" means the domestic producers as a whole of a like product, or those producers whose collective output of the like product constitutes a major proportion of the total domestic production of that product as provided in section 771(4) of the Act.

An "industry" may also include domestic producers in a particular market in the United States where such producers sell all or almost all of their production of the like product in question in that market and where the demand for the like product in that market is not supplied to any substantial degree by producers of the product located elsewhere in the United States.

(c) Interested Party. "Interested party" means—

(1) A foreign manufacturer, producer, or exporter, or the United States importer, of merchandise which is the subject of an investigation under section 303 of Title VII of the Act or a trade or business association a majority of the members of which are importers of such merchandise;

(2) The government of a country in which such merchandise is produced or manufactured;

(3) A manufacturer, producer, or wholesaler in the United States of a like product;

(4) A certified union or recognized union or group of workers which is representative of an industry engaged in the manufacture, production, or wholesale in the United States of a like product; or

(5) A trade or business association, a majority of whose members manufacture, produce, or wholesale a like product in the United States.

(d) Person. "Person" includes all "interested parties" as well as other individuals, enterprises or entities, as appropriate to the context.

(e) Secretary. "Secretary" means the Secretary of Commerce or his designee.

(f) Commission. "Commission" means the U.S. International Trade Commissions.

(g) Customs Service. "Customs Service" means the United States Customs Service of the Treasury Department.

(h) Department. "Department" means the Department of Commerce.

(i) Party to the proceeding. "Party to the proceeding" means:

(1) The petitioner;

(2) The government of the country in which the merchandise subject to the investigation is manufactured or produced, or from which it is exported;

(3) Foreign manufacturers, producers and exporters of the merchandise subject to the investigation; and

(4) Any other interested party, within the meaning of paragraph (c), who informs the Secretary in writing of his intent to become a party to the proceeding within 20 days after the preliminary determination or who demonstrates to the satisfaction of the Secretary good cause for intervention.

(j) Agreement. "Agreement" means the "Agreement on Interpretation and Application of Articles VI, XVI, and XXIII of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (Relating to Subsidies and Countervailing Measures), approved under section 2(a) of the Trade Agreements Act of 1979, as the same may be amended, and as such amendments are approved, or otherwise accepted by or for the United States from time to time.

(k) Act. "Act" means the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.

Subpart B—Access to Information

§ 355.15 Information generally available.

(a) Duty to maintain material in record. The Department shall maintain the official record of all proceedings. The record shall consist of a copy of all information presented to or obtained by the Secretary during the course of the proceeding, including all governmental memoranda pertaining to the proceeding, memoranda of ex parte meetings, all determinations and notices thereof published in the Federal Register, and all transcripts or records of conferences or hearings. (See section 516A(b)(2) of the Act.) The record will contain three types of materials:

(1) Materials protected from disclosure;

(2) Non-confidential material submitted by any person other than an employee or officer of the United States Government; and

(3) Non-confidential and non-privileged material submitted or developed by an employee or officer of the United States Government.

(b) Examination and copying of information. In general, all information in subparagraphs (2) and (3) of the record described in paragraph (a) will be available for inspection or copying at the Department by any person during business hours. With respect to documents prepared by an officer or employee of the United States Government, factual matters, as distinguished from advice, recommendations, opinions and evaluations, contained in any such documents will be made available by summary or otherwise on the same basis as information contained in documents submitted by other persons. The fees charged for providing copies of documents shall be the same as for providing copies of documents pursuant to requests made under the Freedom of Information Act (5 U.S.C. 552). (See 15 CFR 4.9).

(c) Reports of progress of investigation. The Department shall, from time to time upon request, inform any party to the proceeding of the progress of an investigation. Ordinarily, no such report shall be provided until 60 days after the petition is filed. Such progress reports shall not contain privileged or confidential information and, if in written form, shall be included in the official record.

(d) Protection of the record. Unless otherwise ordered in a particular case by the Secretary, the record shall not be removed from the Department. A certified copy of such record shall be made available to any court before which any aspect of a proceeding is under review, with appropriate safeguards to prevent disclosure of confidential or privileged information that may be included therein.

§ 355.16 Ex parte meetings.

A written memorandum will be prepared of any ex parte meeting between (a) any interested party or other person providing factual information material to a determination in the proceeding and (b) the person to whom the authority to make determinations under Act has been delegated (the Assistant Secretary for Trade Administration) or the person making a final recommendation for decision to such person (the Deputy Assistant Secretary for Import Administration). Such memorandum shall be prepared as expeditiously as possible. It shall be included in the official record. The memorandum of such ex parte meeting shall include the date, time and place of the meeting, the identity of all persons present, and a non-confidential summary of the matters discussed or then submitted. Normally this memorandum shall be prepared by one of the Government participants at the meeting. If the Assistant Secretary or Deputy Assistant Secretary directs that the memorandum be prepared by a non-government participant, the Assistant Secretary or Deputy Assistant Secretary (whichever directs preparation by a non-government participant) shall act expeditiously to review, approve and include in the record such memorandum.

§ 355.17 Confidentiality maintained.

Except as provided in § 355.20, information submitted to the Department which is designated as confidential by the person submitting it shall not be disclosed to any person (other than an officer or employee of the United States Government who is directly concerned with carrying out the investigation in connection with which the information is submitted) without the consent of the person submitting it. (§ 355.18(e) sets forth the procedures followed where a request for confidential treatment is denied, in whole or in part.)

355.18 Requests for confidential treatment of information.

(a) Submission and contents of requests. Any person who submits information in connection with a proceeding may request that such information, or any specified part thereof, be treated as confidential. Any information submitted which is not designated as confidential by the person submitting it normally shall not be treated as confidential. Information which is subject to a request for confidential treatment shall be set forth on separate pages and each such page shall be clearly marked "Confidential Treatment Requested." Each separate request for confidential treatment of information, other than information submitted in confidence by a foreign government which is restricted from disclosure pursuant to statute or Executive Order, shall be accompanied by a full statement of the reason or reasons why the submitting party believes that each piece of information subject to such request is entitled to confidential treatment within the guidelines set forth in § 355.19. All requests for confidential treatment shall be accompanied by one of the following:

(1) A summary or approximated presentation of all information which may be disclosed to the public and which is sufficiently full and descriptive of the confidential information (generally, data in numerical form relating to prices and costs of individual forms shall be considered adequately summarized and not incapable of summary—if presented—or capable of being presented—in terms of indices or in figures within 10% of the actual figure);

(2) A statement by the person submitting the information that the information is not susceptible to such a summary or presentation, accompanied by a full statement of the reasons supporting this conclusion; or

(3) An agreement to permit disclosure under protective order, accompanied by a brief nonconfidential statement describing the confidential data submitted, which need not be as detailed as the summary provided under (1) above. Should the information concerned not be released under an administrative protective order, the person submitting the information must, unless he requests that the information be returned and not considered in the proceeding, submit either a summary or approximated presentation conforming to paragraph (a)(1) of this section or a statement under paragraph (a)(2) of this section within the time period specified in the denial of the request for an administrative protective order. The requirements of the preceding sentence do not apply where the Secretary, because of unusual circumstances, determines that a less detailed non-confidential summary is appropriate. In such unusual circumstances such less detailed summary as deemed appropriate by the Secretary must be submitted.

(b) Return of information as a result of non-conforming requests. Any information for which confidential treatment is requested which does not conform to the requirements of paragraph (a) (including the requirement that any summary or approximated presentation be sufficiently full and descriptive) may be returned to the submitting person, together with an explanation of the reasons it is nonconforming, and will not be considered in connection with the proceeding. Information so returned may be resubmitted with a new request for confidential treatment which complies with the requirements of this section, and will be dealt with in the same manner as an original submission of information accompanied by a request in acceptable form, if received within the time for the original submission. Belated submissions may be rejected.

(c) Consideration of requests. While a determination as to whether to grant a request for confidential treatment is pending, the information for which confidential treatment is requested shall be treated as confidential by the Department. A determination normally shall be made within 10 business days after the receipt of information accompanied by a conforming request for confidential treatment, whether, and, if so, to what extent, the request for confidential treatment shall be granted and whether claims submitted under paragraph (a)(2) are justified.

(d) Treatment of information where request for confidential treatment is granted. (1) If a request for confidential treatment of information is granted, the information covered thereby will not be made available, except pursuant to § 355.20, for inspection or copying,

(i) By any person other than an officer or employee of the United States Government directly involved with carrying out the investigation in connection with which the information is submitted, or

(ii) by a person who has been specifically authorized to receive such information by the person who requests the confidential treatment.

(2) Information for which confidential treatment is granted shall be made available to officers and employees of the Commission only upon confirmation that the confidentiality of such information will be maintained and that it will not be disclosed, either publicly or under an administrative protective order, without the express, written consent of the Secretary.

(3) Information submitted in confidence by a foreign government shall be made available only to the extent, and under the procedures, provided in Executive Order 12065 of June 28, 1978 (43 FR 28949), or any superseding or amending Order.

(e) Treatment of information where request for confidential treatment is denied. Should it be determined that any part of the material for which confidential treatment has been requested (1) does not warrant confidential treatment in whole or in part, (2) is in a form which cannot reasonably be associated with, or otherwise used to identify, the operations of a particular person and thus should not be treated as confidential, or (3) that information claimed not susceptible to a non-confidential summary is in fact capable of such treatment, the Department shall notify the person who submitted the information. Unless the person submitting the information thereafter agrees that the information (including any summarized or approximated presentation thereof) may be treated as non-confidential information or provides a summary of matters found to be capable of such treatment, such information (including any summarized or approximated presentation thereof) shall be returned to the submitting person and not considered in the proceeding.

355.19 Standards for determining confidentiality of information.

(a) In general. Information ordinarily will be considered to be privileged or confidential only if its disclosure would be likely:

(1) To cause substantial harm to the competitive position of the person submitting the information;

(2) To have a substantial adverse effect upon the person supplying the information or upon the person from whom the information was obtained; or

(3) To impair the ability of the United States Government to obtain in the future necessary information, not required by law to be provided, from the same person or others similarly situated.

(b) Information ordinarily regarded as appropriate for disclosure. Except as provided in paragraph (c), information ordinarily will be regarded as appropriate for disclosure if it relates to:

(1) Prices, market conditions, terms of sale or similar information, that is published or otherwise available to the public;

(2) Laws, regulations, Executive Orders, or other official documents which are published in the country by which adopted, as well as translations thereof; or

(3) Information submitted by the petitioner or other domestic interested party concerning the operations of a foreign interested party, except to the extent that it might disclose the identity of confidential sources.

(c) Information ordinarily regarded as privileged or confidential. Information will ordinarily be regarded as privileged or confidential if it would disclose:

(1) Business or trade secrets;

(2) Production costs;

(3) Distribution costs;

(4) Prices of actual transactions or offers;

(5) The names of particular customers or suppliers;

(6) The exact amounts of the gross subsidies received and used by an enterprise; or

(7) The names of particular persons from whom confidential information was obtained, if nondisclosure of the names has been requested and approved by the Secretary.

§ 355.20 Limited disclosure of certain confidential information under an administrative protective order.

(a) In General. (1) Any confidential information (other than information submitted in confidence by a foreign government which is restricted from disclosure pursuant to statute or Executive Order), including some or all of the information described in § 355.19(c), may be made available to an attorney or other representative under a protective order as described in paragraph (b). Forms for submitting requests for disclosure pursuant to a protective order incorporating the terms of this regulation will be made available. The application for disclosure pursuant to protective order filed by an attorney or other representative of a party to the proceeding must (i) describe with particularity the information requested and set forth the reasons for the request, (ii) indicate the procedures to be followed to avoid unauthorized disclosure of the information requested, and (iii) demonstrate good cause for release of such information.

(2) Upon receipt of an application for disclosure of confidential information under a protective order, the Secretary will inform the person from whom the information was obtained of the request and provide an opportunity for such person to comment thereon.

(3) In determining whether to release information under a protective order, the Secretary shall weigh whether the need of the person requesting the information outweighs the need of the person submitting it for continued confidential treatment. Account also shall be taken of the probable effectiveness of the sanctions described under paragraph (e) of this section, or other sanctions as may be prescribed for breach of the order. Generally, disclosure under a protective order will be made only to attorneys who are subject to disbarment from practice in the event of a violation of the order.

(4) Should it be determined to release information under a protective order, the person submitting the information will be so notified. If the person submitting the information does not agree to the release of the information under protective order, such information shall be returned to the submitting person and not considered in the proceeding.

(b) Protective Order. The protective order under which information is made available to the attorney or other representative of a party to the proceeding shall require that attorney or representative to submit a personal sworn statement that he/she will:

(1) Not divulge any of the information so obtained and not otherwise available to him to any other person other than:

(i) Personnel of agencies of the United States Government directly responsible for conducting the proceeding in question who are involved in such proceeding;

(ii) The person from whom the information was obtained;

(iii) An attorney in good standing employed on behalf of the party requesting the disclosure who has furnished an appropriate, similar statement; or

(iv) Those persons other than attorneys employed by or supervised by the attorney or representative (but in no case including officers, partners, associates and employees of the party represented or any other domestic competitor of the foreign firm whose information is involved) having a need therefore in connection with preparing oral or written statements in the proceeding, who shall have furnished a similiar statement;

(2) Use such information solely for the purposes of the proceeding then in progress;

(3) Not consult with any person other than a person described in paragraph (b)(1)(i) or (ii) concerning such confidential information without obtaining the approval of the Department and the party (or the attorney for the party) from whom such confidential information was obtained;

(4) Take adequate precautions to ensure the security of the confidential materials and the information contained therein subject to the protective order; and

(5) Promptly report any breach of such agreement to the Secretary.

(c) Acknowedgement of sanctions for breach of protective order. The sworn statement referred to in paragraph (b) shall include an acknowledgement by the person providing it that breach thereof:

(1) May subject the following persons to disbarment from practice before any constituent agency of the Department for up to seven years following publication of a determination that the order has been breached:

(i) The person submitting the statement;

(ii) Any firm of which such person is a partner, associate, or employee; and

(iii) Such person's partners, associates, employer and employees;

(2) Shall, in the case of an attorney, lead to referral of such breach at the ethics panel of the appropriate bar associations; and

(3) Shall subject the offender and the party he represents to such other administrative sanctions determined to be appropriate, including striking from the record any information or briefs submitted by, or on behalf of, the party represented by the offender, terminating any investigation then in progress, or revoking any Order then in effect.

(d) Final disposition of materials released under protective order. Upon completion of a proceeding, or at such earlier date as may be determined appropriate for particular data, the security of confidential information shall be protected by requiring each attorney or other representative to return all copies of materials released to them pursuant to this section and all other materials containing the confidential information (such as notes or charts based on any such information received under protective order), accompanied by a certificate from the attorney or other representative to whom the material was delivered or disclosed and each person specified in paragraphs (b)(1)(C) or (D) of this section, attesting to his/her personal, good faith effort to determine that no other copies of such materials have been made available to or retained by the party he represents or any other person to whom disclosure was not specifically authorized.

(e) Sanctions for breach of protective Order. (1) The Secretary shall determine whether any person has violated a protective order, and, as a sanction, may:

(i) Bar any such person and any firm of which such person is a partner, associate, or employee, or any partner, associate, employer, or employee of such person, from representing any other person's interest before any constituent agency of the Department in any capacity for a period of up to seven years from the date of publication in the Federal Register of a notice that the existence of a breach has been determined to exist;

(ii) In the case of a violation of this section by an attorney, refer such breach to the ethics panel of the appropriate bar associations; and

(iii) Subject the offender and the party he represents to such other administrative sanctions as are determined by the Secretary to be appropriate, including striking from the record any information or briefs submitted by, or on behalf of, the party represented by the offender, terminating any investigation then in progress, or revoking any Order then in effect.

(2) Any person to whom such sanctions are proposed to be applied shall be afforded a reasonable opportunity to be heard before the determination is made.

§ 355.21 Information exempt from disclosure.

Information which might otherwise be available under this subpart shall be exempt from disclosure if it relates to any matter which is required to be kept confidential pursuant to privilege, statute or Executive Order. This includes information that has been provided to the United States in confidence by a foreign government or international organization of governments. Such information currently is restricted from disclosure pursuant to Executive Order No. 12065 of June 28, 1978 (43 FR 28949).

Subpart C—Countervailing Duty Procedures and Determinations

§ 355.25 Procedures for self-initiation.

(a) General. Whenever the Secretary determines, from information available to him, that a countervailing duty investigation is warranted into the question of whether the duty imposed by section 701(a) of the Act should be imposed with respect to a particular class or kind of merchandise imported into the United States, he shall publish in the Federal Register a "Notice of Initiation of countervailing duty Investigation," provided that if such merchandise is produced or exported from a country which is a country under the Agreement, such notice shall be published only after giving such country an opportunity for consultation. The notice is to include:

(1) A description of the merchandise involved;

(2) The name of the country of exportation to the United States and, if the merchandise is produced in a country other than that from which it is exported, the country in which the merchandise is produced;

(3) A summary of the information received that would, if found to be accurate, require the imposition of duties pursuant to section 701(a) of the Act; and

(4) A statement that the investigation will be terminated without further notice upon publication of notice of a preliminary of final negative injury determination by the Commission.

(b) Information provided to the Commission. Upon initiation of the investigation, the Commission will be notified promptly, and will be provided with such information as is available relating to the matter under investigation, including any available information on the amount of the net subsidy and the volume of trade. Information for which confidential treatment has been granted by the Secretary shall be made available to the Commission only upon confirmation that the confidentiality of such information will be maintained and that it will not be disclosed, either publicly or under an administrative protective order, without the express written consent of the Secretary.

§ 355.26 Procedures for initiation by petition.

(a) Contents of petition. Any interested party, as defined in subparagraph (C), (D), or (E) of section 771(9) of the Act, who has reason to believe that a subsidy is being provided with respect to merchandise imported into the United States and, except for dutiable merchandise of a country which is not a country under the Agreement (hereinafter "non-agreement country"), that an industry in the U.S. is being or is likely to be materially injured or its establishment is materially retarded by reason of imports of that merchandise may file a petition on behalf or an industry pursuant to section 701(a) of the Act with the Secretary, Attention: Assistant Secretary for Trade Administration, Room 3850, Department of Commerce, Washington, D.C. 20230, requesting the imposition of additional duties in an amount equal to the alleged subsidy.

The petition shall contain, or be accompanied by, information, to the extent reasonably available to the petitioner, in subsantially the following form:

(1) The name and address of the petitioner and any other person, firm, or association the petitioner represents, if appropriate;

(2) The industry on whose behalf the petition is filed, including the names of other enterprises included in such industry;

(3) A statement indicating whether the applicant has initiated proceedings pursuant to sections 337 and 732 of the Act (19 U.S.C. 1337, 1673a) or section 301 of the Trade Act of 1974 (19 U.S.C. 2411), or has filed, or is filing, for import relief pursuant to section 201 of the Trade Act of 1974 (19 U.S.C. 2251), or has initiated proceedings pursuant to section 232 of the Trade Expansion Act of 1962 (19 U.S.C. 1862), with respect to the merchandise which is the subject of the proceeding.

(4) A detailed description of the imported merchandise in question, including its technical characteristics and uses, and, where appropriate, its tariff classification under the Tariff Schedules of the United States;

(5) The name of the country or countries from which the merchandise is being, or is likely to be, exported to the United States and, if the merchandise is produced in a country other than that from which it is exported, the name of the country in which it is produced;

(6) The names and addresses of enterprises believed to be benefitting from the subsidy and exporting the merchandise so benefitted to the United States;

(7) All pertinent facts with regard to the alleged subsidy including, if known, the statutory or other authority under which it is provided, the manner in which it is paid and the value of such subsidy when received and used by producers or sellers of the merchandise;

(8) In addition to information concerning alleged subsidies, information as to individual sales (including customers) and prices thereof on sales by foreign manufacturers, producers or exporters to the United States during the period to be investigated;

(9) The volume and value of imports of the merchandise from the country in question in the most recent two-year period, and also other periods if the petitioner believes such other periods to be more representative, or, if the merchandise is not presently imported into the United States or is not imported in significant quantities, information as to the likelihood of its importation;

(10) The names and addresses of enterprises believed to be importing the merchandise;

(11) The names and addresses of the other enterprises in the United States engaged in the production, manufacture or sale of like merchandise. If numerous, information need not be provided with respect to any enterprises that accounted for less than 2% of domestic production, manufacture or sale of like merchandise during the most recent 12-month period;

(12) Information as to the material injury or threat thereof to, or the material retardation of the establishment of, a United States industry by reason of the imported merchandise alleged to be subsidized, as described in 19 CFR 207.11 and 207.26.

(13) If "critical circumstances" are alleged, information as to:

(i) Material injury which is difficult to repair;

(ii) Massive imports in a relatively short period; and

(iii) How the product benefits from an export subsidy which is inconsistent with the Agreement; and

(14) Any other documentation on which petitioner relies in making its petition. Forms for the submission of petitions may be adopted from time to time. The use of such forms shall not be mandatory, provided the information required thereby and reasonably available to the petitioner is otherwise included in the petition.

(b) Translations to English. Unless such requirement is waived in individual cases, any information submitted in the petition or in support thereof, which is in a foreign language, must be accompanied by an English translation.

(c) Simultaneous filing with Commission. Except for petitions with respect to dutiable merchandise from non-agreement countries, the petitioner shall file a copy of the petition with the Commission on the same day as the petition is filed with the Secretary and shall so certify in submitting the petition to the Secretary.

(d) Confidentiality of information. Any petition which contains information for which confidential treatment has been requested and which is essential to support the petition will not be considered to have been received in acceptable form unless the requirements of § 355.18(a) of this part are met.

(e) Amendment of petition. Upon timely receipt of additional information, the Secretary shall allow amendment of the petition. Except for petitions with respect to dutiable merchandise from non-agreement countries, any such amendment must be filed with the Commission on the same day as they are filed with the Secretary.

(f) Form and number of copies. The petition and, to the extent feasible, all supporting information, shall be submitted on letter-size paper, double spaced type written or printed, in at least 10 copies.

(g) Notification of affected country's representative. Upon receipt of a petition, a non-confidential copy with a non-confidential summary of confidential data contained in the petition shall promptly be delivered to a representative in Washington, D.C. of the affected country or countries in which merchandise subject to the investigation is manufactured or produced.

(h) Additional information concerning requirements for petitions. Additional information concerning requirements for petitions may be obtained by contacting the office of the Assistant Secretary for Trade Administration, Room 3850, Department of Commerce, Washington, D.C. 20230; (202) 377-2867.

§ 355.27 Determination of sufficiency of petition.

(a) Determination of sufficiency. Within 20 days after a petition is filed under § 355.26 a determination shall be made by the Secretary on the sufficiency of the petition. A petition is considered to be filed at the time it is received by the Secretary.

(b) Notice. If that petition properly alleges the basis on which a countervailing duty may be imposed under section 701(a) of the Act, contains information reasonably available to the petitioner supporting the allegations, and is filed by an interested party described in subsection (C), (D), or (E) of section 771(9) of the Act, an investigation shall be initiated and a notice of "Initiation of Countervailing Duty Investigation" shall be published in the Federal Register. The notice shall contain a description of the merchandise subject to the investigation, based upon consultation between the Secretary and the Commission.

(c) Insufficiency of petition. If it is determined that a petition does not properly allege the basis on which a countervailing duty may be imposed under section 701(a) of the Act, does not contain information deemed reasonably available to the petitioner supporting the allegations, or is not filed by an interested party described in subsection (C), (D), or (E) of section 771(9) of the Act, the petition shall be dismissed and the proceeding terminated. The petitioner shall be notified in writing of the reasons for dismissal, and a notice of "Dismissal of Countervailing Duty Petition" shall be published in the Federal Register, which shall summarize the reasons for dismissal of the petition.

(d) Notice to Commission. A copy of any determination hereunder shall be furnished promptly to the Commission. If the investigation is initiated, such information as has been received relating to the matter under investigation shall be made available to the Commission. Information for which confidential treatment has been granted by the Secretary shall be made available to the Commission only upon confirmation that the confidentiality of such information will be maintained and that it will not be disclosed, either publicly or under an administrative protective order, without the express written consent of the Secretary.

§ 355.28 Preliminary determinations.

(a) In general. Within 85 days after the date on which a petition is filed under section 702(b) of the Act, or an investigation is commenced under section 702(a) of the Act, (1) A preliminary determination shall be made, based upon the best information available at the time of the determination, as to whether there is a reasonable basis to believe or suspect that a subsidy is being provided with respect to the merchandise which is the subject of the investigation; except that where merchandise from either a country under the Agreement or duty-free merchandise is involved, such determination shall not be made before an affirmative preliminary determination by the Commission under section 703(a) of the Act.

(2) If the determination is affirmative, the amount of the net subsidy shall be estimated and stated.

(3) If separate enterprises have received materially different benefits, such differences shall also be estimated and stated.

(4) Notice of the determination, the parties affected, and the estimated net subsidy shall be published in the Federal Register. The determination, which shall contain a statement of the facts and conclusions of law upon which it is based, shall be mailed or otherwise delivered to all parties to the proceeding and the Commission.

(b) Extraordinarily complicated cases. (1) If a case is determined to be extraordinarily complicated, the preliminary determination shall be made no later than the 150th day after the petition is filed under section 702(b) of the Act, or an investigation is commenced under section 702(a) of the Act.

(2) Any determination that a case is "extraordinarily complicated" shall be based on express findings that:

(i) The importing and exporting parties are cooperating with the investigation;

(ii) The case is extraordinarily complicated by reason of (A) the number and complexity of the alleged subsidy practices under investigation, (B) the novelty of the issues presented, (C) the need to determine the extent to which particular subsidies are used by individual manufacturers, producers, exporters, or (D) the number of firms whose activities must be investigated; and

(iii) Additional time is needed to make the preliminary determination.

(3) All parties to the proceeding shall be notified in writing of any determination to treat the case as "extraordinarily complicated," not later than 20 days before the date on which the preliminary determination would otherwise be required under section 703(b) of the Act. Upon making such a determination, a notice of "Postponement of Preliminary Determination" shall be published in the Federal Register, which notice shall summarize the reasons for the postponement.

(c) Request for extension by petitioner. If a request for an extension, stating the reasons for the request, is received from the petitioner no later than 25 days before the preliminary determination would otherwise be required under section 703(b) of the Act, the preliminary determination may be postponed until not later than the 150th day after the date on which the petition is filed. Upon acting on such a request a notice of "Postponement of Preliminary Determination" shall be published in the Federal Register, stating it has been made at the petitioner's request.

(d) Contents of preliminary determination. The preliminary determination shall include conclusions with regard to all facts and issues of law considered material to the determination, and shall, if affirmative:

(1) Order the suspension of liquidation of all entries of merchandise subject to the determination which is entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption on or after the date of publication of the notice of the determination in the Federal Register; and

(2) Impose provisional measures by requiring a cash deposit, or the posting of a bond or other security for each entry of the merchandise concerned equal to the estimated amount of the net subsidy applicable to such merchandise. The posting of a bond or other security will be deemed adequate unless the revenue will not be sufficiently protected.

(e) Commission access to information. All information upon which the determination was based and which the Commission may consider relevant to its injury determination shall be made available to the Commission. Information for which confidential treatment has been granted by the Secretary shall be made available to the Commission only upon confirmation that the confidentiality of such information will be maintained and that it will not be disclosed, either publicly or under an administrative protective order, without the express written consent of the Secretary.

§ 355.29 Critical circumstances determinations.

(a) Determination. If, not less than 30 days before the date on which a final determination is due, a petitioner alleges critical circumstances, then at the time the preliminary determination is made or, if such determination is due within 20 days or has already been made, then within 1 month after the allegation is received, a determination shall be made whether there is a reasonable basis to believe or suspect that there have been massive imports of the merchandise subject to the investigation over a relatively short period, and if so, whether the alleged subsidy is an export subsidy inconsistent with the Agreement. If, not more than 30 but not less than 20 days before the date on which a final determination is due, a petitioner alleges critical circumstances, then no preliminary determination as to critical circumstances shall be made. A finding as to critical circumstances shall be included pursuant to § 355.33(b) in the affirmative final determination. In making such determination, account shall be taken of such factors as the import penetration of the subject merchandise and historic patterns of importation.

(b) Notification of Commission. The Commission shall be notified promptly of any determination under this section.

(c) Suspension of liquidation. Upon an affirmative preliminary determination of critical circumstances, any suspension of liquidation ordered under Section 703(d)(1) of the Act shall apply, or if notice of suspension of liquidation has already been published, such suspension shall be amended to apply, to unliquidated entries of merchandise entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption on or after the date which is 90 days before the date on which suspension of liquidation was first ordered.

(d) Publication of notice. Upon an affirmative preliminary determination of critical circumstances, a notice thereof shall be published in the Federal Register, either as part of the notice of preliminary determination, or, if occurring later, as a separate notice of "Preliminary Determination of Critical Circumstances."

§ 355.30 Termination of investigation.

(a) Termination upon withdrawal of petition. A countervailing duty investigation may be terminated by the Secretary at any time upon withdrawal by the petitioner of the petition on which the investigation was initiated, after notice to all other parties to the investigation and consultation with the Commission. No investigation shall be terminated unless it is determined such termination is in the public interest. Notice of any termination shall be published in the Federal Register, together, where appropriate, with a copy of any correspondence exchanged with the petitioner on the basis of which the petitioner withdrew the petition and the investigation was terminated.

(b) Termination upon negative determination. An investigation shall be deemed terminated, without further comment or action, upon publication of any negative final determination or a negative preliminary or final determination by the Commission on the issue of injury.

§ 355.31 Suspension of investigation.

(a) Agreements to eliminate or completely offset a subsidy or to cease exports. An investigation may be suspended at any time before a final determination if the government of the country in which the subsidy practice allegedly occurs agrees, or exporters who account for substantially all of the imports of the merchandise which is the subject of the investigation agree:

(1) To eliminate completely the subsidy or to offset completely the amount of the net subsidy, with respect to the merchandise exported directly or indirectly to the United States; or

(2) To cease exports of that merchandise to the United States, within 6 months after the date on which the proceeding is suspended.

(b) Agreements eliminating injurious effect—(1) Generally. An investigation may be suspended at any time before a final determination upon acceptance of an agreement from a government of the country in which the subsidy practice exists, or from exporters accounting for substantially all of the imports of the merchandise which is the subject of the investigation, if it is determined:

(i) Extraordinary circumstances are present; and

(ii) The agreement will eliminate completely the injurious effect of the exports to the United States of the merchandise which is the subject of the investigation.

(2) Additional requirements. Except for the case of an agreement by a foreign government to restrict the volume of imports of merchandise into the United States which is the subject of the investigation, no agreement under paragraph (b) of this section may be accepted unless:

(i) The suppression or undercutting of prices of like domestic products by imports of the merchandise will be prevented; and

(ii) At least 85 percent of the net subsidy will be eliminated or offset with respect to each exporter subject to the agreement.

(3) Quantitative restrictions agreements. An agreement to restrict the volume of imports of merchandise which is the subject of the investigation may be accepted only from the government of the country from which such merchandise is exported.

(c) Definition of "substantially all." For purposes of section 704(b) and (c) of the Act, exporters who account for "substantially all" of the imports in question shall mean exporters who have accounted for no less than 85 percent by volume of the subject merchandise imported into the United States during the period of investigation, or such other recent, representative period determined appropriate. The number and identity of affected exporters shall be considered no less frequently than once annually in connection with the determination required under section 751 of the Act, and, if appropriate, additional or different exporters may be required to furnish assurances to ensure continued applicability of the assurance to the requisite percentage of the affected trade.

(d) Definition of "extraordinary circumstances." For purposes of section 704(c) of the Act, "extraordinary circumstances" shall mean circumstances in which: (1) Suspension of the investigation will be more beneficial to the domestic industry than continuation of the investigation, and (2) the investigation is complex. For purposes of this section, "complex" shall mean there are a large number of alleged subsidy practices which are complicated, the issues raised are novel, or the number of exporters involved is large.

(e) Monitoring of agreements. No agreement under section 704 of the Act shall be accepted unless effective monitoring of the agreement is practicable. In accepting assurances and in monitoring compliance therewith, the Secretary shall not be obliged to ascertain on a continuing basis the level of domestic prices of merchandise like that covered by the agreement.

(f) Public interest. No agreement under section 704 of the Act shall accepted unless the agreement is determinated to be in the public interest.

(g) Exports not to increase during interim period. No agreement under section 704(b) of the Act shall be accepted unless that agreement provides an adequate means of ensuring that the quantity of the merchandise covered by that agreement and exported to the United States during the period provided for the elimination or offset of the subsidy or cessation of exports does not exceed the quantity of such merchandise exported to the United States during the most recent representative period determined to be appropriate to the case. In ordinary circumstances, the representative period shall refer either to the six months preceding the month in which the petition was filed or the comparable six-month period of a year earlier, whichever more accurately reflects the historical level of importation absent import surges. If deemed necessary and appropriate, an order excluding from entry, or withdrawal from warehouse, for consumption, any entries of the subject merchandise in excess of the quantity exported to the U.S. during the period determined to be representative may be issued by the Secretary.

(h) Procedures for suspension of investigtaions. Prior to accepting any agreement under section 704:

(1) The petitioner shall be notified and consulted with concerning the Secretary's intention to suspend the investigation. A copy of the proposed agreement shall be furnished to the petitioner no less than 30 days prior to the proposed suspension of the investigation. Any such agreement shall contain the procedures to be followed to monitor compliance, and a statement of the compatability of the agreement with the requirements of subsections (b) and (d) or (c) and (d) of section 704 of the Act;

(2) All parties to the proceeding shall be notified of the proposed suspension not less than 30 days prior thereto; and

(3) All parties to the proceeding and other government agencies which may have an interest in the effects of the agreement shall be afforded an opportunity to submit written comments and information for the record with respect to the prospposed suspension.

(i) Issuance of an Affirmative Preliminary Determination. Upon acceptance of an agreement to suspend an investigation, a "Notice of Suspension of Countervailing Duty Investigation" shall be published in the Federal Register, including a summary of the principal provisions of the agreement on the basis of which the investigation was suspended. Unless an Affirmative Preliminary Determination has already been issued, an "Affirmative Preliminary Determination" shall be published together with the notice suspending the investigation.

(j) Suspension of liquidation—(1) Elimination of subsidy; complete offset of net subsidy or cessation of exports. If an agreement is accepted which provides for the elimination of a subsidy, complete offset of the net subsidy, or cessation of exports of the subsidized merchandise to the United States pursuant to section 704(b) of the Act, then, notwithstanding the issuance of an Affirmative Preliminary Determination, the liquidation of entries of merchandise covered by the agreement shall not be suspended. If liquidation has previously been suspended in the investigation, such suspension shall, without further comment or action, terminate on the date the notice is published and estimated countervailing duties shall be refunded, or other appropriate bonds or security shall be released.

(2) Other suspension agreements. Agreements to suspend an investigation other than those described in paragraph (j)(1) of this section shall not affect the suspension of liquidation of entries of merchandise (except that the security required may be adjusted to reflect the effect of the agreement) until the Commission has completed its review of the suspension agreement, if such review is requested. If no request for review of suspension is received by the Commission within 20 days after the "Notice of Suspension of Countervailing Duty Investigation" is published, the suspension of liquidation shall, without further comment or action, terminate on the 21st day after such publication.

(k) Commission review. Where the Commission, having undertaken a review of an agreement to suspend an investigation other than one described in paragraph (j)(1) of this section, makes a negative determination, the Secretary shall resume his investigation on the date of publication of such determination as if the affirmative preliminary determination under § 355.28 had been made on that date. Where the Commission makes an affirmative determination in such a case, the Secretary shall continue the suspension of the investigation and terminate any suspension of liquidation which may then be in effect, and all estimated countervailing duties shall be refunded and all appropriate bonds or other security shall be released.

(l) Continuation of investigation. By filing a request with both the Secretary and, where the investigation involves merchandise from a country under the Agreement or duty-free merchandise, with the Commission on the same date, the foreign government of the country, the products of which are the subject of an agreement to suspend an investigation, or the petitioner or any other domestic interested party (within the meaning of subparagraph (C), (D), or (E) of Section 771(9) of the Act), which is a party to the proceeding, may during the 20-day period following the date of publication of the notice of suspension, request a continuation of the investigation. Upon receiving such a request, the Secretary and Commission shall continue the investigation. If, as a result of such continued investigation, a Final Negatve Determination is made or the Commission makes a negative injury determination, the investigation shall be terminated, without further comment or action, and notice thereof published in the Federal Register. If an Affirmative Final Determination is made and the Commission makes an affirmative injury determination, the suspension shall remain in effect in accordance with its terms. The provisions of paragraph (j) of this section regarding the suspension of liquidation of entries of merchandise covered by the agreement are unaffected by this subsection.

§ 355.32 Violations of agreements.

(a) In general. If it is determined that an agreement on the basis of which an investigation was suspended is being, or has been, violated, or no longer meets the requirements of subsections (b) and (d) or (c) and (d) of section 704 of the Act:

(1) Liquidation of unliquidated entries of merchandise shall be suspended effective as of the later of the date which is 90 days before the date of publication of the notice of suspension of liquidation, or the date on which the merchandise, the sale or export to the United States of which was in violation of the agreement, was first entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption;

(2) If the investigation was not completed, the investigation shall be resumed as if an Affirmative Preliminary Determination was made on the day on which the investigation is resumed;

(3) If the investigation was completed, a Countervailing Duty Order shall be issued, effective with respect to entries the liquidation of which was suspended upon the determination that the agreement had been violated; and

(4) The petitioner, interested parties who are or were party to the proceedings, and the Commission shall be notified and notice of the determination shall be published in the Federal Register, including a summary of the reasons therefor.

(b) Notice of possible breach. If there is reason to believe that an agreement no longer meets the requirements of the Act or that an agreement is being breached, and the breach involves a violation of the agreement other than that described in paragraph (c), each party to the agreement shall be notified at the earliest moment, so that alternative or amended agreements may be considered before the agreement is deemed violated.

(c) Intentional violations. The intentional violation of any agreement entered into under section 734 of the Act shall subject any person who is party to the agreement and is determined to have intentionally violated it to the same penalties as for a fraudulent violation of section 592 of the Act (19 U.S.C. 1592). The procedural requirements of section 592 shall be applicable to any action to collect penalties.

§ 355.33 Final determinations.

(a) In general. Within 75 days after the date of a Preliminary Determination, a Final Determination shall be made whether a subsidy is being provided with respect to the merchandise subject to the investigation.

(b) Critical circumstances. If critical circumstances have been alleged and an Affirmative Final Determination reached, then it shall include a finding of whether the subsidy is inconsistent with the Agreement, and whether there have been massive imports of the class or kind of merchandise involved over a relatively short period.

(c) Disclosure of information. Promptly after making the Preliminary Determination, there shall be disclosed to each interested party then a party to the proceedings who requests such disclosure, all non-confidential information and, if made available under § 355.20, confidential information, on the basis of which the preliminary determination was made.

(d) Opportunity of parties to present views. Prior to the Final Determination, an opportunity shall be provided for all parties to be heard orally in person or by counsel before a designated official pursuant to § 355.35. Written views will be received from any person at any time, provided that, unless the Secretary or the officer presiding at the hearing otherwise provides for good cause, consideration of written views may be declined if received more than 10 days after the transcript of any hearing is available to the public or less than 30 days before the Final Determination is due, whichever is earlier.

(e) Notice of Determination. Notice of the Final Determination, the parties affected and the estimated net subsidy, if any, shall be published in the Federal Register. Copies of the determination shall be mailed or otherwise delevered to all parties to the proceeding and the Commission.

(f) Contents of Final Determinations. The Final Determination shall include conclusions with regard to all facts and issues of law considered material to the Determination. If the Determination is affirmative, the amount of the net subsidy shall be estimated and stated, and the nature of the subsidy determined. If separate enterprises have received materially different benefits, such differences shall be estimated and stated.

(g) Effect of Negative Final Determination. If the Final Determination is negative, the proceeding shall be terminated including any suspension of liquidation which may then be in effect, and all estimated countervailing duties refunded and all appropriate bonds or other security released.

(h) Effect of Negative Final Determination by Commission. If the Final Determination by the Commission under section 735(b) of the Acts is negative, the proceeding shall be terminated including any suspension of liquidation which may then be in effect, and all estimated countervailing duties refunded and all appropriate bonds or other security released.

§ 355.34 Submission of information and written views.

(a) Submission of information and written views. Except in situations where it would be manifestly unjust, any information or written views submitted in connection with a proceeding shall be considered only if received within the time established by these regulations or specific instructions applicable to such submission; any information or written views received after such time shall not be considered in the proceeding. Any written views intended to be considered in connection with a proceeding shall be submitted on letter-size paper, double spaced, in at least 10 copies, to the Secretary, Attention: Assistant Secretary for Trade Administration, Room 3850, Department of Commerce, Washington, D.C. 20230. Except when the Secretary determines it will be unduly burdensome to the party to the proceeding, in which case the Secretary shall effect the service, a copy shall also be served at the same time, by mail or personal service, on counsel for each party to the proceeding as of the date of such filing or if not represented by counsel, then the person designated for such purpose by the party. A certificate of such service shall accompany any such filing.

(b) Designation of agent. Every party to the proceeding shall designate a person to receive service of all papers filed in a proceeding. A list of such designated agents shall be made available by the Secretary.

§ 355.35 Hearings.

During the course of an investigation, normally within 30 days after the Preliminary Determination is published, a hearing shall be held, upon the request of any party to the proceeding, to provide interested persons an opportunity to present views orally. Such hearing shall be conducted before a designated official. A verbatim record shall be transcribed and copies of the transcript made available to the public. The hearing shall not be subject to the Administrative Procedure Act, and shall not involve the examination or cross examination of witnesses under oath. At the discretion of the officer conducting the hearing, persons not parties to the proceeding, including officials of other agencies, or departments of the United States Government, may present views. If not included in the notice of the preliminary determination, notice of such a hearing shall be published in the Federal Register. All requests for hearings shall be accompanied by a statement outlining the issues which the person wishes to discuss. Reasonable notice of the hearing will be given to all parties to the proceeding. One week prior to such a hearing, pre-hearing briefs shall be submitted to the Secretary and exchanged among parties to the proceeding. Persons will be restricted, in their oral presentations, to issues raised in this pre-hearing brief. Any person not submitting such a brief ordinarily will be restricted to rebuttal of points made by other persons. Ordinarily, the presiding officer at a hearing will provide an opportunity for the submission of post-hearing briefs, within the time limits prescribed at the hearing. The Secretary may at any time invite any person to supply him with information or argument.

§ 355.36 Countervailing duty order.

Within seven days of notification by the Commission that it has made an affirmative determination on the issue of injury, except for an affirmative determination of injury made pursuant to a request that the investigation be continued under section 704(g) of the Act, or simultaneously with the publication of a final affirmative determination in an investigation involving dutiable merchandise from a non-agreement country, a countervailing Duty Order shall be published that:

(a) Directs customs officers to assess a countervailing duty on the merchandise found to be benefitting from a subsidy, equal to the amount of the net subsidy determined or estimated to exist, such assessment to be made within 6 months after the date on which the Secretary has received satisfactory information upon which such assessment may be based, but in no event later than 12 months after the end of the exporter's annual accounting period within which the merchandise is entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption;

(b) Includes a description of the class or kind of merchandise to which it applies, in such detail as is deemed necessary;

(c) Pending liquidation of entries of the merchandise, requires the deposit of estimated countervailing duties in an amount equal to the amount of the net subsidy found to exist, at the same time as estimated normal customs duties on that merchandise are deposited; and

(d) Includes information concerning "critical circumstances," if found to exist.

§ 355.37 Differences in determined and estimated countervailing duties.

If the amount of the estimated countervailing duty deposited pursuant to a Preliminary Affirmative Determination is different from the amount of the countervailing duty to be assessed pursuant to a Countervailing Duty Order, the difference with respect to merchandise entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption before publication of notice of the Commission's affirmative final determination or, in those investigations involving dutiable merchandise from non-agreement countries, the Secretary's final determination shall be:

(a) Disregarded, to the extent that the estimated duty is less than the duty determined to be assessable under the Order; or

(b) Refunded, to the extent that estimated duties collected were more than the duty determined to be assessable under the Order.

§ 355.38 Effect on firms not benefitting from subsidy.

Any firm which does not benefit from a subsidy alleged or found to have been granted to other firms producing or exporting the merchandise subject to the investigation shall, on timely application therefor, be excluded from a Countervailing Duty Order. An application shall be considered timely if made within 30 days after publication of a "Notice of Initiation of Countervailing Duty Investigation." The name of any such firm which is determined to have satisfied the requirements for exclusion will be published in the Federal Register.

§ 355.39 Verification of information; use of best information available.

(a) Information upon which a Final Determination is based shall be verified. The methods and procedures used to verify information in a particular case shall be published in the Federal Register in the "Notice of Affirmative Final Countervailing Duty Determination," or "Notice of Negative Final Countervailing Duty Determination," as appropriate.

(b) Whenever information cannot be satisfactorily verified, or is not submitted in timely fashion or in the form required, the submitter of the information will be notified and the affected determination will be made on the basis of the best information then otherwise available, which may include the information submitted in support of the petition. An opportunity to correct inadequate submissions will be provided if the corrected submission is received in time to permit proper analysis and verification of the information concerned; otherwise no corrected submission will be taken into account. Where a party to the proceeding unreasonably refuses to provide requested information, that fact may be taken into account in determining what is the best available information.

(c) In verifying information under this section, access to files, records and personnel with relevant information may be requested by appropriate officers of the Secretary as a part of the verification process. In addition to information relating to alleged subsidies, information as to sales (including customers) and prices thereof on sales to the United States during the period of investigation by foreign manufacturers, producers or exporters shall be requested. Failure to permit such access may prevent satisfactory verification and require the application of paragraph (b).

(d) All responses to requests for information must be in English and in the form requested unless such requirement is waived. Failure to supply information in the form requested may require the application of paragraph (b).

(e) Responses to all questionnaires directed to foreign parties shall be forwarded by airmail or faster means simultaneously to the Secretary and to the U.S. Embassy in the country in question and shall be deemed timely received if received at either office within the time required by any specific request, order or regulation.

§ 355.40 Interest on certain overpayments and underpayments.

Interest shall be payable, at the rate in effect under section 6621 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 on the date on which the rate or amount of duty is finally payable, or 8 percent, whichever is higher, on overpayments and underpayments of amounts deposited on merchandise entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption on or after the date on which notice of an affirmative determination by the Commission with respect to that merchandise is published.

§ 355.41 Administrative review of determinations.

(a) In general. At least once during each 12-month period beginning on the anniversary of the date a Countervailing Duty Order or notice of the suspension of an investigation is published, the amount of any net subsidy or the status of, and compliance with, any agreement by reason of which an investigation was suspended, shall be redetermined.

(b) Changed circumstances. (1) Whenever the Secretary receives information concerning, or a request for the review of a Countervailing Duty Order or an agreement on the basis of which an investigation was suspended which shows changed circumstances sufficient to warrant review of such Order or agreement, he shall, before conducting such review, publish a "Notice of Intention to Review Suspension Agreement" or "Notice of Intention to Review Countervailing Duty Order" in the Federal Register. Such Notice shall indicate the merchandise concerned and any changed circumstances or other significant issues then known which will be considered during the review.

(2) In the absence of good cause shown, no review based on allegations of changed circumstances shall be conducted within 24 months after the date of an Affirmative Final Determination or a determination to suspend an investigation.

(c) Procedures. Written views on proposed revisions of a Countervailing Duty Order, including new facts for examination, will be accepted at any time, but unless changed circumstances are alleged, normally will not be processed sooner than 90 days before such redetermination is due for publication. Questionnaires requesting current relevant data will normally be sent 85 days before such date, requesting reply within 30 days of receipt.

(d) Disclosure and hearings. A disclosure may be made, generally about 30 days prior to the date the redetermination is due for publication, on request by parties then party to the proceeding, to such interested parties of all non-confidential information and, where appropriate, pursuant to a protective order, confidential information, on the basis of which the redetermination will be made. Written views may be presented, and an opportunity to present oral views may be requested, by any party to whom disclosure was made. After providing an opportunity for comment by interested parties on the proposed determination, a revised Countervailing Duty Order, including any revised basis for the assessment of duties on the merchandise, shall be published in the Federal Register.

§ 355.42 Revocation of Countervailing Duty Order and termination of suspended investigation.

(a) In general. Whenever the Secretary determines that a subsidy within the meaning of section 771(5) of the Act is no longer being bestowed upon the manufacture, production or exportation of merchandise which is the subject of a Countervailing Duty Order and is satisfied that there is no likelihood of resumption of the subsidy, he may act to revoke or terminate, in whole or in part, such order or suspended investigation. Ordinarily, consideration of such revocation or termination will be made only subsequent to a review as described in § 355.41.

(b) Application to revoke or terminate. An application for the revocation of any Order or the termination of a suspended investigation, premised upon the lack of a legal basis for the imposition of countervailing duties, may be submitted in writing by an interested party to the Secretary together with detailed information detmonstrating that the imported merchandise no longer benefits from a net subsidy. Ordinarily, such an application will be considered only if the production, manufacture, or exportation of the merchandise has been without benefit of a net subsidy for at least a two-year period following the date of publication in the Federal Register of a Countervailing Duty Order or notice of suspension of investigation; provided, however, that where a firm can demonstrate that neither the production nor exportation of the merchandise had benefitted from a net subsidy during the period of or immediately prior to the investigation (but the firm did not file a timely application for exclusion under § 355.38), the two-year period shall begin on the date of the preliminary determination regardless of whether that determination was affirmative or negative.

(c) Revocation or termination by the Secretary. The Secretary may on his own initiative revoke an Order or terminate a suspended investigation after three years if he is satisfied that (1) there is no likelihood of resumption of imports of the merchandise to the United States, the production, manufacture or export of which benefitted from a net subsidy, or (2) the subsidy itself, has been eliminated or (3) other changed circumstances which exist warrant a revocation of an Order or the termination of a suspended investigation.

(d) Revocation or termination based upon injury reconsideration. [Reserved]

(e) Notice of revocation or termination. If it appears to the Secretary from his review under section 751 of the Act and an application filed pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section (or from his own determination under paragraph (b) of this section) that a revocation or termination may be appropriate, he will publish a "Notice of Tentative Determination to Revoke or Terminate." Before the Secretary may tentatively revoke an Order or terminate a suspended investigation pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section the parties who are subject to the revocation or the termination must agree in writing to an immediate suspension of liquidation and reinstatement of the Order or continuation of the investigation, as appropriate, if circumstances develop which indicate that the merchandise thereafter imported into the United States is benefitting from a net subsidy on its manufacture, production or exportation. Opportunity for interested parties to present views with respect to the tentative revocation will be provided.

(f) Final determination. As soon as possible after publication of a "Notice of Tentative Determination to Revoke or Terminate" the Secretary will determine whether final revocation or termination is warranted. In cases where an application for a revocation or termination is based on the absence of a net subsidy with respect to the imported merchandise and the dispositive date for establishing a two-year period of no net subsidy is the date of publication of the Order, the Secretary may determine that a final revocation or termination is warranted only if the firm involved provides information showing no receipt of a net subsidy with respect to the subject merchandise up to the date of publication of the "Notice of Tentative Determination to Revoke or Terminate." Ordinarily, a revocation or termination will be effective with respect to all merchandise, which is the subject of the revocation or termination, entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption on or after the date on which the "Notice of Tentative Determination to Revoke or Terminate" is published in the Federal Register. The liquidation of all merchandise which is the subject of a tentative revocation or termination and which is entered or withdrawn from warehouse, for consumption on or after the date of publication or the "Notice of Tentative Determination to Revoke or Terminate," will be ordered suspended pending the final determination on revocation or termination.

§ 355.43 Subsidy practices discovered during an investigation.

If, during an investigation, a practice is discovered which appears to be a subsidy with respect to the merchandise under investigation, which practice was not included in the allegations in the petition, that practice shall be included in the scope of the investigation if the Secretary determines it is practicable in light of the time limits applicable to such investigation. If not practicable, the Secretary shall either (a) allow the petitioner to withdraw the petition and resubmit it including any newly discovered subsidy practice or (b) initiate a separate investigation of the newly discovered subsidy practice. In all cases, the parties to the proceeding shall be notified of any practice discovered and whether it will be included in the investigation. Failure to include any practice so discovered in a pending investigation is without prejudice to its consideration pursuant to § 355.41.

§ 355.44 Library of foreign subsidy practices and countervailing measures.

(a) The Secretary shall establish a library of information relating to foreign subsidy practices and countervailing measures. Copies of material in the library shall be made available to the public upon payment of the costs of preparing such copies. The fees charged for providing copies shall be the same as for providing copies pursuant to requests made under the Freedom of Information Act (5 U.S.C. 552) (see 15 CFR 4.9).

(b) Information on subsidy practices which are the subject of an investigation or are discovered during an investigation with respect to merchandise not the subject of the investigation (other than confidential information) shall be transferred to the library.

ANNEX I—ADMINISTRATIVE AND INTERPRETATIVE GUIDELINES FOR DETERMINATION AND CALCULATION OF SUBSIDIES

1. The physical incorporation test: The non-excessive rebate or remission of indirect taxes (sales, value-added, and consumption taxes) is not regarded as a subsidy. However, when a system of indirect taxation operates in such a manner that the full amount of the tax is not directly assesed on the product in question, at a time when it is in substantially the condition in which it would be exported, the physical incorporation test is applied. Under that test, the rebate or remission of fiscal charges on items physically incorporated in the exported product is not considered a subsidy. Rebated taxes on services, catalysts and other items (e.g. energy) not incorporated in the product (or necessary waste), however, directly related to the production and exportation of the merchandise, would be treated as an excessive rebate and, therefore, a subsidy.

2. Export payments as an estimate of indirect taxes paid: Generally the payment to an exporter, of a lump sum calculated and identified as a non-excessive rebate of the indirect tax incidence on the exported product, and its components, will not be treated as a subsidy if the government has reasonably calculated and documented the actual tax experience of the product under investigation.

3. Drawback of duties: The drawback, rebate or remission of Customs duties not in excess of the actual duties due or paid, on imported items physically incorporated in the final product is not regarded as a subsidy. The drawback remission or drawback of duties on imported capital goods or other items involved in the production but not physically incorporated in the exported merchandise would be counteravailable.

4. Income and social security taxes: The rebate of or reduction in the amount of direct taxes imposed on an exported product is generally regarded as a subsidy. Similarly, special (industry specific) income tax provisions which apply irrespective of export performance may constitute a subsidy to the extent that the provisions deviate from the normal tax provisions of the country in question. For purposes of assessing a countervailing duty, the savings derived from this benefit ordinarily would be allocated over the recipient company's production of the merchandise during the most recent business year.

215. Effect of inflation or devaluation on the value of the net subsidy: The value of a subsidy may be diminished in certain circumstances because of delayed payment during a period of inflation or currency devaluation. Allowance for the reduction in value of the subsidy will be made only where the Government of the exporting country specifically provides by decree or regulation that the payment of the subsidy amount be delayed.

Administrative delays in payment are not regarded as "mandated" within the meaning of section 771(6)(B) of the Act. The loss of value is calculated on the basis of the potential interest earned in the country of exportation during the period of delayed payment.
